The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

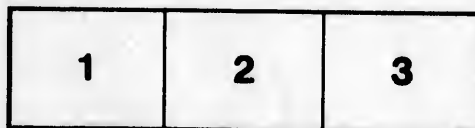

Library Division
Provincial Archives of British Columbia

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol → (meaning "CONTINUED") or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

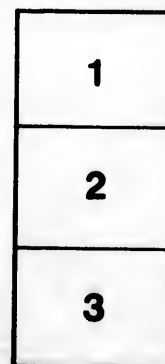

Library Division
Provincial Archives of British Columbia

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole → signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

Cushing, Essex-Street, Salem. | 1798. | 8vo, pp. 43.

AAS., B., BA., C., JCB., H., HEH., NYH., NYP., P., UTS., WLC., Y. 92276

STORY. A Sermon, preached February 19, 1795. See a Discourse delivered February 15, 1795, above.

[STORY (Isaac)], b. 1774, d. 1803. All the World's a Stage. | A | Poem, | in | Three Parts. | . . . | The Stranger. | Newburyport: | Printed by William Barrett. | 1796. | 8vo, pp. 11, (1), 14-15.

AAS., H., NYP. 92277

On the title of the NYP. copy, below the words "The Stranger," the name "I. Storey" is written in a contemporary hand. Attributed by Wegelin to Isaac Story, Jr. The recto of the leaf following p. [12] is numbered 14.

[STORY]. Consolatory Odes, dedicated with Christian piety to those unfortunate beings who labor under the malignant influence of the Democratic mania. New York. 1799. 12mo. 92278

Title from Duyckinck. A copy is listed in the catalogue of the New York State Library, 1855, the title including the words "By Peter Quince."

[STORY], supposed author. Epistle from Yarico to Inkle. See Yarico to Inkle.

STORY. An | Eulogy | on the | Glorious Virtues | of the illustrious | Gen. George Washington: | who died at Mount Vernon, December 14th, 1799, in the 68th year of | his age—ripe in honor and full of glory. | Written at the Request of the | Inhabitants of Sterling, | and delivered before them, | on Saturday the 22d of February, 1800. | By Isaac Story, A.M. | . . . | Worcester. | Printed by Isaiah Thomas, Jun. | April—1800. | 8vo, pp. 23.

AAS., B., BA., BU., C., JCB., H., HEH., NYP. 92279

[STORY.] Liberty, | a | Poem, | delivered on the Fourth of July. | . . . | The Stranger. | Newburyport: | Printed by William Barrett, | Market-Square—M.DCC,XCV. | 8vo, pp. 10. E., HEH. 92280

The title of the H. copy contains a contemporary ms. attribution to Isaac Story, Jr. Wegelin also attributes to him.

STORY. An Oration, on the Anniversary of the Independence of the United States of America. Pronounced at Worcester, July 4, 1801. By Isaac Story, A.M. . . . Worcester, Massachusetts: Printed at the Press of Isaiah Thomas, Jun. July—1801. 8vo, pp. 32.

AAS., BA., BM., C., H., HEH., M., NYH., NYP. 92281

[Story.] A Parnassian Shop, opened in the Pindaric Stile; by Peter Quince, Esq. . . . Boston, Printed by Russell and Cutler. 1801. 12mo, pp. 155, and "apologetical" note pasted on verso of last leaf, or elsewhere.

AAS., B., BA., CU., H., HEH., M., NYH., NYP., UTEX., Y. 92282

On the recto of the second leaf is a humorous introduction entitled "Sign-board." According to Duyckinck, some of the verses had been previously published in the "Political Gazette" of Newburyport. An earlier version of the "Duet, or Collin and Delia," appeared in the number for December 8, 1795, under the pseudonym of "Country Boy." The "Pindaric stile" is an allusion to that of John Wolcot, who wrote under the name of "Peter Pindar."

[STORY], supposed author. Yarico to Inkle. See under title.

Though this poem is usually attributed to Isaac Story, it is a reprint of the poem with the same title, printed in London in 1736.

PUB.REC.OFF. 92349

Ten copies were reproduced by photostat at the Massachusetts Historical Society in February, 1923, from the original in the Public Record Office, London. AAS, C., HEH., JCB., M., NEWBERRY, NYP., WHS., WLC., Y. This was the fourth of a group of photostats from originals in the Public Record Office, including "His Excellency, the Earl of Bellomont's Speech," "The Answer of the House of Representatives," and "A Congratulatory Address of the House of Representatives," all printed in 1699, by Bartholomew Green and John Allen, the photostats issued with title, "Bellomont Addresses," as no. 84 of the Americana Series.

[STOUGHTON.] A | Narrative | of | The Proceedings | of | Sir Edmond Androsse | and his Complices, | Who Acted by an Illegal and Arbitrary com- | mission from the Late K. James, during | his Government in | New England. | By several Gentlemen who were of his Council. | [Boston.] Printed in the Year 1691. | 4to, pp. 12. [A] in four, B in 2. B., BA., BM., H., HEH., JCB., M., NYP. 92350

Dated at end: "Boston in New England, Jan. 27, 1690." Signed by William Stoughton, and four others.

A number of copies are found bound with "The Revolution in New England justified," 1691, our no. 46731, vol. 11, erroneously entered under Increase Mather. The address "to the Reader" in that work is signed by E. R. and S. S., probably Edward Rawson and Samuel Sewall, who may have been the authors. The Narrative was apparently issued as an appendix, and the two works were reprinted together in 1773. See no. 46732, vol. 11, where our date is wrongly given as 1783. AAS., BA., C., NYP.

Also reprinted in Force's "Tracts," vol. 4, 1846, no. 9, pp. 51-59; by the Prince Society in its "Andros Tracts," vol. 1, 1868, pp. 125-147; and in Andrews' "Narratives of the Insurrections," 1915, pp. 237-249.

A facsimile of the title page of the 1691 edition of the Narrative is in the Church Catalogue.

STOUGHTON. New-Englands | True Interest; | not to lie: | Or, |
A Treatise declaring from the Word of Truth the | Terms on which we stand, and the Tenure by which | we hold our hitherto-continued | Precious and Pleasant Things. | Shewing | What the blessed
God expecteth from his People, and what | they may rationally look for from him. | Delivered in a Sermon Preached in Boston | in New-England, April 29. 1668. being the | Day of Election | there. | By
Mr. W. Stoughton, Preacher of the Gospel in Dorchester. | . . . |
Cambridge: | Printed by S. G[reen] and M. J[ohnson]. 1670. |
4to, pp. (4), 38, (1). A-E in fours, F in two. H., M. + [Same imprint and date.] 4to, pp. 40. A-E in fours.

AAS., B., BA., C., H., HEH., M., NYP. 92351

This sermon contains the well-known sentence: "God sifted a whole Nation that he might send choice grain over into this wilderness."

According to Sibley's Harvard Graduates, vol. 1, 1873, p. 207, the "title-pages of these two editions are precisely the same, being printed from the same form; but for all the other pages the types were set up twice." On account of the scarcity of paper, a signature was saved in the second edition by compressing in smaller type on pp. 39-40 the text contained on pp. 36-38 in the first edition.

An abridgement was included in "Elijah's Mantle." See [Mitchel (Jonathan)], nos. 49657, vol. 12, B., M., NYP., and 49658, AAS., B., NYP.

Passages from this sermon are also found in Thomas Prince's election sermon, 1730, no. 65607, vol. 15.

STOUT (Benjamin). Interesting Particulars of the Loss of the American Ship Hercules, Capt. William [i. e. Benjamin] Stout, on the Coast of Caffraria, June 16, 1796; the consequent sufferings and subsequent adventures of the Crew, during a long and painful Journey over the Southern Regions of Africa, to the Cape of Good Hope. London: Printed for Thomas Tegg, 111, Cheapside. . .
[Colophon:] Plummer, Printer, Seething Lane. [1810?] 12mo,
pp. (2), 7-28. Folded frontispiece. BM., NYP. 92352

STOUT. Narrative | of the | Loss of the Ship Hercules, | commanded by | Captain Benjamin Stout, | on | the Coast of Caffraria, | the | 16th of June, 1796; | also, | A Circumstantial Detail of his Travels | through the | Southern Deserts of Africa, | and | the
Colonies, | to | the Cape of Good Hope. | With an Introductory
Address | to | The Rt. Honourable John Adams, | President of the Continental Congress | of | America. | London: | Printed for J.

Johnson, St. Paul's Church-Yard. | 1798. | 8vo, pp. (2), v, verso blank, xlvii, 112. BA., C., H. 92353

Written by Stout in the first person. The Hercules was an American ship and Stout a "native American."

STOUT. Narrative | of the | Loss of the Ship Hercules, | commanded by | Captain Benjamin Stout, | on | the Coast of Caffraria, | the | 16th of June, 1796; | also | a circumstantial detail of his travels | through the | Southern Deserts of Africa, | and | the colonies, | to | the Cape of Good Hope. | With an introductory address | to | the Rt. Hon. John Adams, | President of the Continental Congress | of America. | New-York: | Printed for James Chevalier. | [1798?] 12mo, pp. liii, 43, 43-113. AAS., C., NYH. + London, Printed: Hudson, Re-printed by Ashbel Stoddard. 1800. 12mo, pp. xxxviii, 118. HEH. 92354

The dedication is dated: London, 20th November, 1797.

For a New Bedford edition, see Narrative, no. 51813, vol. 12. H., NYP. It is probable that the entries for two New York editions under title both refer to the undated edition described above.

[STOUT.] The Total Loss of the American Ship Hercules, Captain Benjamin Stout, on the Coast of Caffraria in South Africa, on the 16th of June, 1796; with an Accurate Narrative of the Sufferings and Disasters of the Crew, in their long and painful journey over the Southern Regions of Africa to the Cape of Good Hope. London: Printed for Champante & Whitrow, Jewry-Street, Aldgate, Evans & Son, Long-Lane; Hughes, Ludgate-Street, &c. &c. (Price Sixpence.) [18—?] 12mo, pp. 36. Folded frontispiece.

H. 92355

The firm of Champante and Whitrow is listed in the London directories for 1790, 1800 and 1813, but not in that for 1821, so the above must have been published prior to the latter date.

An account of Stout's shipwreck is also included in "Shipwrecks and Disasters at Sea," Edinburgh, 1812, BA., BM., C.; "Wonderful Escapes," Dublin, 1819, BM., C.; and "Cape of Good Hope and its dependencies. An Accurate description of those . . . regions . . . Likewise a . . . detail of Captain Stout's travels through the deserts of Caffraria . . . to the Cape," London, 1820, BM.

First issued serially in the "Atlantic Monthly," December, 1858 to December, 1859.

According to McCray's "Life Work of the Author of Uncle Tom's Cabin," 1889, p. 286, the novel was "issued by Phillips, Sampson & Co. [publishers of the Atlantic Monthly], in book form in October, 1859, two months previous to its completion in the magazine." However, the "American Publishers' Circular" lists no edition from this company in 1859, and announces in its issue for October 22, that published by Derby and Jackson.

Copies of one or other of the New York, 1859, issues are located also at M. and HSP.

STOWE. The Minister's Wooing. By H. Beecher Stowe . . . With Illustrations by Phiz [i.e. H. K. Browne]. London: Sampson Low, Son, & Co., 47 Ludgate Hill. 1859. . . BM. 92455 Announced in the "Publishers' Circular" for October 15, 1852, no. 4080.

"Uncle Tim" was first issued as "Prize Tale. A New England Sketch," see above. It was later included in the Mayflower, and in Tales and Sketches, also entered above. "Uncle Tim" is incorrectly printed as "Uncle Tom" in the BM. catalogue.

STOWE. Uncle Tim and Uncle Jaw. By Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe. Two Tales for ripper youth. Leipzig: Baumgärtner. 1853. 16mo, pp. 126. 92456

Issued as vol. 8 of the "Little English Library." Information from Hinrichs' catalogue for July-December, 1853.

STOWE. Uncle Tom's Cabin.

The first edition was published in Boston. The following list of editions published in the English language is arranged alphabetically, first according to the place of publication, and the London editions secondarily by publishers. This arrangement permits the briefer entries of similar issues. It will be noted that the larger part of the editions published before 1860 were issued in 1852.

Following the editions of the original work, the adaptations, dramatizations, etc. in the English language, are arranged alphabetically by title.

After these, the translations are arranged alphabetically by languages.

At the end are the titles of a number of works relating to Uncle Tom's Cabin, and references to similar works entered elsewhere.

STOWE. Uncle Tom's Cabin; or, Life among the Lowly. By Harriet Beecher Stowe. . . . Boston: John P. Jewett & Company. Cleveland, Ohio: Jewett, Proctor & Worthington. 1852. [Verso of title:] Stereotyped by Hobart & Robbins, New England Type and Stereotype Foundry, Boston. 2 vols., 12mo, pp. (2), v-x, 13-312, 3 plates; 322, 3 plates.

AAS., B., C., DERENNE, H., NYP., Y. 92457

The account of the death of Uncle Tom was written by Mrs. Stowe in February, 1851, and the book was developed from this nucleus. It was first published serially in the "National Era," from June 5, 1851, to April 1, 1852. This first edition in book form appeared on March 20, 1852, in an edition of 5000 copies. "Three thousand copies were sold the very first day, a second edition [i. e. issue] was issued the following week, a third on the first of April . . ." See the "Life" of Mrs. Stowe by her son, 1889, pp. 148, 159-160. During the year there were numerous reissues from the plates of the first edition, also in two volumes, with the addition of the words "Tenth" to "One Hundred and Twentieth Thousand" on their title pages. Besides the imprints given above, on the verso of title of the reissues is added the imprint of Geo. C. Rand or of Geo. C. Rand & Co. It should also be noted that the name of the publishers was printed on the original binding of the first issue as "J. P. Jewett & Co.," and on that of later issues as "Jewett & Co."

Copies of Boston issues of 1852 are located at AAS., BA., BM., C., H., M., NYH., NYP., UP., UTEX., and WHS. Some of these may be copies of issues of the two following editions.

STOWE. Uncle Tom's Cabin; or, Life among the Lowly. By Harriet Beecher Stowe. 153,000 copies,—306,000 volumes. Boston: John P. Jewett and Company. Cleveland, Ohio: Jewett, Proctor & Worthington. 1852. [Verso of title:] Stereotyped by Hobart & Robbins, New England Type and Stereotype Foundry, Boston. Printed by Geo. C. Rand, Cornhill. 8vo, pp. 166, advertisements. (2). AAS. 92458

On printed paper covers: An Edition for the Million!

The success of the work led to the publication of this edition sold for 37½ cents. According to an article in "Putnam's Monthly Magazine," Jan. 1853, vol. 1, p. 98, 50,000 copies of this one volume edition had already been sold by December 1, 1852. The latest issue of the edition which we have located is of the "Two Hundred and Ninety-fifth Thousand," issued without date on the title page, but with paper covers still dated 1852. AAS. Earlier issues have the date 1853 on their titles.

London: Salisbury and Co., Printer, Primrose Hill and Bouverie Street, Fleet Street. 8vo, added engraved title, and pp. vi, (1), x-xii, 380. 49 plates.

BM., H. 92471

First English edition, announced in the "Publishers' Circular" for May 1, 1852, no. 2074.

A statement by Clarke & Co. in October, 1852, quoted in C. E. Stowe's "Life" of his mother, 1889, pp. 190-192, reveals that a copy was sent from America in April to Bogue, the publisher, who offered it to Gilpin. On the latter's declining it, Bogue offered it to Henry Vizetelly, who eventually purchased it for Clarke & Co. It was printed by Salisbury of Bouverie Street, the following week, in an edition of 7,000 copies. According to the publishers, they had in October "about 400 people employed in getting out the book, and seventeen printing machines besides hand presses. Already about 150,000 copies of the book are in the hands of the people, and still the returns of the sales show no decline."

Mr. Stowe also quotes a slightly different account from a statement by Sampson Low, who says that Vizetelly brought out the first issue on his own account under the "nominal agency of Clarke & Co." He continues: "Mr. Vizetelly disposed of his interest . . . to the printer and agent, who joined with Mr. Beeton and at once began to issue monster editions . . . The discovery was soon made that any one was at liberty to reprint the book . . . From April to December, 1852, twelve different editions (not reissues) were published, and within the twelve months of its first appearance eighteen different London publishing houses were engaged in supplying the . . . demand . . . the total number of editions being forty . . ." Low added that, after analyzing these editions he was able "pretty confidently to say that the aggregate number of copies circulated in Great Britain and the colonies exceeds one and a half millions."

In the second and third issues listed, the preface is signed "G."

The fourth and fifth of the issues listed were announced in the "Publishers' Circular" for Sept. 1, 1852, no. 3605, and Oct. 1, 1852, no. 3948.

The last of the Clarke & Co. issues entered above has the heading "The People's Illustrated Edition." It was first issued in penny parts, and was announced in the Circular for Nov. 15, 1852, no. 4568.

The name of C. H. Clarke & Co. appears in the imprints of the earliest of the Routledge issues entered below. According to William Talbot in the "American Book Collector," vol. 3, p. 295, Clarke & Co. produced for the trade the Piper and Co. edition, no. 92490, below.

[STOWE.] . . . Uncle Tom's Cabin; or, Life among the Lowly. A Domestic Drama, in Six Acts. Dramatized by George L. Aiken. To which are added a description of the costume—cast of the characters—entrances and exits—relative positions of the performers on the stage, and the whole of the stage business. As performed at the principal English and American theaters. New York: Samuel French, 122 Nassau Street, (Up Stairs.) [On cover:] French & Wheat, Printers, 18 Ann Street, New York. [1860?] 12mo, pp. 60. BM., NYP., P., Y. 92513

With heading: French's Standard Drama. The Acting Edition. No. ccxvii.

In the New York City directories, French and Wheat are located at 18 Ann St. from 1858/9 to 1865/6.

Another undated issue, with the same collation, has a similar publishers' imprint on the title, and on the cover: New York: Samuel French & Son, Publishers, No. 122 Nassau Street. London: Samuel French, Publisher, 89 Strand. NYP. It is possible that some of the copies located are of this issue.

As Mrs. Stowe had not reserved her dramatic rights, there were a number of versions brought out on the American, British, and French stage. As early as August, 1852, an unsuccessful play by C. W. Taylor was given at Purdy's National Theatre in New York. Aiken's play was first put on at the Museum in Troy, N. Y., in September of that year, and had a run of 100 nights. During the following year it had a great success at Purdy's National Theatre. See Quinn's "History of the American Drama," 1923, pp. 288-289.

The version was reprinted in M. J. Moses' "Representative Plays by American Dramatists," vol. 2, 1925.

A dramatization was also published in London, with a separate undated title page, in "Lacy's Acting Edition of Plays," vol. 12. BM., NYP., V.

TRANSLATIONS.

In preparing the list of translations of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," we have found helpful the bibliography compiled by George Bullen, keeper of the printed books in the British Museum, first published in 1878 with Houghton, Mifflin and Company's edition of the work. It was later revised for inclusion in Kate B. Knight's "History of the Work of Connecticut Women at the World's Columbian Exposition," 1898, pp. 104-123.

Acknowledgment should also be made of the assistance received from Grace Edith MacLean's "Uncle Tom's Cabin in Germany," 1910, published by the University of Pennsylvania as no. 10 of the new series of "Americana Germanica." The work includes information as to the literature relating to the novel published in that century.

The translations are arranged in the following order: Armenian, Bohemian, Danish, Dutch and Flemish, Finnish, French, German, Greek, Hungarian, Italian, Norwegian, Polish, Portuguese, Roumanian, Russian, Serbian, Slovenian, Spanish, Swedish, and Welsh.

The arrangement within each group is the same as that of the English editions, with the exception of the French titles, which are entered alphabetically by the name of the translator.

BM., C. + [Same imprint.] 1854. 4to. + [Same imprint.] 1859. 4to, pp. 112. + Paris, Publié par Gustave Barba, libraire-éditeur, Rue de Seine, 31. 20. [Colophon:] Paris—Impr. Lacour et Cie, rue Soufflot, 16. [185-?] 4to, pp. (2), 112 including illustrations in the text. AAS., BIB.NAT., BM. 92531

Titles, of all except the last edition listed, from "Bibliographie de la France," 1852, nos. 6969, 6970 and 7188; 1853, no. 501; 1854, no. 4212; and 1859, no. 6090. In each case Plon is given as the printer.

All of the issues except the first of those listed have the title changed to read, "La Case du père Tom."

The 1852 edition in 4to, and that of 1854, were issued in the tenth series of the "Panthéon populaire." BIB.NAT. has another undated edition in 4to, which was issued in this series. The 1859 edition listed in "Bibliographie de la France" was issued in the series, "Romans populaires illustrés."

In addition to the above editions published in 1852, Lucas lists an edition in large 8vo without vignettes. He also gives the date of publication of the 8vo edition with 48 vignettes as 1852, but that is probably an error as the announcement of the work in the "Bibliographie de la France" for Dec. 4, 1852, no. 6970, states that it is to be published in 1853. See Lucas' bibliography of Mrs. Stowe included in his "La littérature anti-esclavagiste," 1930.

STOWE. La Cabane de l'oncle Tom, ou la Vie des nègres en Amérique. Par M<sup>me</sup> Henriette Stowe. Traduction complète par Alfred Michiels. Paris: Garnier frères. 1852. 18mo. The first edition was published in fourteen parts.

Information concerning the first, fourth, fifth and sixth editions listed, supplied from "Bibliographie de la France," 1852, no. 7187; 1853, nos. 20 and 2478; and 1856, no. 10265, and concerning the second from Bartlett, no. 4764.

A "deuxième édition" in 8vo is listed in the "Bibliographie," 1853, no. 195, and is probably the edition described by Bartlett.

The "Bibliographie" says of the first edition published by Grimaux, "Publication du journal Le Siècle," and of the second Grimaux edition, "Partie de la 15<sup>e</sup> série du Musée littéraire du Siècle."

STRACHEY. The Historie of Travaile into Virginia Britannia; expressing the Cosmographie and Comodities of the Country, together with the Manners and Customes of the People. Gathered and observed as well by those who went first thither as collected by William Strachey, Gent., the first Secretary of the Colony. Now first edited from the Original Manuscript, in the British Museum, by R. H. Major, Esq., of the British Museum. London: Printed for the Hakluyt Society. M.DCCC.XLIX. [Verso of title:] Richards, 100, St. Martin's Lane. 8vo, pp. viii, xxxvi, (4), 203. 5 plates, folded map, and facsimile. AAS., B., BA., BM., C., CU., H., HEH., M., MINNHS., NYH., NYP., P., PEAB., WHS., Y. 92664

With series title: Works issued by the Hakluyt Society. . . .

The above is printed from the Sloane ms. 1622 in the British Museum, which is dedicated to Sir Francis Bacon. This is one of three known contemporary copies of the narrative, the others being the Ashmole ms. 1758 in the Bodleian Library, dedicated to Sir Allen Apsley, and a third dedicated to Henry Percy, ninth Earl of Northumberland, sold at the sale of his descendant, Lord Leconfield, at Sotheby's April 24th, 1928, which is described fully in the catalogue of that sale, lot no. 142. The BM. copy was evidently presented the latest of the three as it is dedicated to Bacon as Lord High Chancellor, an office to which he was appointed in 1618, and erasures are made in statements in the text to make them apply to a later date. The others were probably both written in 1612, the discovery of Columbus being alluded to as "since 120 yeares," Prince Henry being still alive, i. e. before November 6, 1612. In the Sotheby catalogue it is stated that "all three mss. are in the same handwriting, undoubtedly that of a professional scribe, and not of Strachey himself, as was believed by the Hakluyt editor." See also Brown's "Genesis," vol. 2, 1891, pp. 562-568.

Passages in the work are the same as some in Captain John Smith's "Map of Virginia," 1612. The second part of that work was revised by "W. S." It was reprinted in Smith's "Generall Historie of Virginia," 1624, with the statement that it was prepared by "William Simons" i. e. Simmonds. Possibly Strachey's narrative was one of those "of divers other diligent observers" used by Simmonds though his name was not mentioned specifically in the list of authorities.

"A Dictionarie of the Indian Language" forms pp. 181-196. This is from the Bodleian manuscript evidently, as Brown states that it is not included in the British Museum copy.

The map is a lithograph based on the third state of Captain John Smith's map of Virginia, but with some omissions. The plates are from etchings by Mrs. Sarah E. Major of "Powhatan surrounded by his wives" taken from Smith's map but not included in the lithograph, and of Indian figures and scenes from De Bry. The facsimile is of the signatures to a letter from Lord Delaware to the patentees including that of Strachey.

Chapters 5-10 of the Second Book were reprinted in Mass. Hist. Soc. "Collections," 4th ser., vol. 1, 1852, pp. 219-246, and chapters 7-10 in the Maine Hist. Soc. "Collections," vol. 3, 1853, pp. 279-309.

STRACHEY. Proceedings of the English Colonie in Virginia. See Smith (John), Map of Virginia, no. 82832, vol. 20. B., NYP.

The W. S. whose initials appear as reviser of the Proceedings was Rev. William Symonds, not William Strachey. Mention of this is made because of a cross reference from S. (W.).

STRADANUS (Joannes). Americae | Retectio, | [At foot of first plate:] *Joannes Stradan. inven. | Adrianus Collaert scalp. [sic] | Phls Galle excudit. | [Antwerp. 1585?] Oblong folio, 4 plates (1, 3, and 4 numbered), 8¼ by 11 inches. C.S.BRIGHAM. + [A later impression, cross hatchings having been added in the background of the portraits in the upper part of the first plate, and the number "2" in the lower right hand corner of the second. Antwerp. 159-?] Oblong folio, 4 numbered plates. AMER.TYPE FOUNDERS CO., NYP. + [A much later impression, with the first plate in still another state, the letters "aa" having been added in the upper right hand corner, and in the inscriptions, scalp. corrected to sculp. and the name of Phls Galle changed to that of his grandson, *Ioan. Galle. Antwerp. 16-?] Oblong folio, 4 numbered plates. C.S.BRIGHAM. 92665

From the dates of birth and death of Stradanus, 1523? or 1536?-1605, Adrian Collaert, 1560-1618, and Philip Galle, 1537-1612, it is evident that the first, and probably the second impression, must have been made about the end of the 16th or beginning of the 17th century, and at Antwerp where Collaert and Galle were engravers, the latter a printseller as well. Jan Galle was born in 1600, and died in 1676, so that the third would hardly have been published until after 1620. See Nagler's "Neues allgemeines Künstler-Lexikon," vol. 19, 1912, Thieme and Becker's "Allgemeines Lexikon," vol. 7, 1912, vol. 13, 1920, and Wurzbach's "Niederländisches Künstler-Lexikon," vol. 2, 1910.

The first plate has the heading described above, below which are vignette portraits of "Americvs Vespucivs Florentinvs," and "Christophorvs Colymbvs Genvensis." The centre of the engraving is a representation of the globe showing Europe, Africa, the West Indies, and the eastern coast of North and South America. This is supported on the recumbent form of Oceanus, while Flora and Janus stand on either side. Below is shown part of Italy, especially the Mediterranean coast, with the representations of several towns and cities, including Florence and Genoa. At the foot, beside the names of artist, engraver, and publisher, as given above, are the following inscriptions: Qvis potis est dignvm pollenti pectore carmen | Condere pro rerum maiestate, hisqve repertis? | Lvdoxico, et Aloyzio | Almanij fratrib. nobil. Flor. | Joannes Strada, inven. v.d. |

The letters "aa" added in the left hand upper corner of the latest state of the first plate suggest that this impression of the plates may have been used to illustrate some larger work. This state shows faint traces of the name "Phls" erased to be replaced by the name of the grandson, "Ioan." Galle.

The other three plates represent in turn Columbus, Vespuccius and Magellan, standing or sitting in the prows of their vessels, and surrounded in the sea or air by mythological and allegorical figures. At the foot of the respective plates are the following inscriptions:

Christophorus Colymbus Ligvr terroribus Oceani superatis alterius paene Orbis regiones à se inventas Hispanis regibus addixit. An. salutis m.viii. | (In the later impressions the number "2" has been added in the lower right hand corner.)

Americus Vespuccius Florentinus portentosa navigatione ad Occasum atque ad Austrum duas Orbis terrarum partes, nostris oris quas | incolimus maiores, et nullis antea nobis notas sæculis, aperuit. quarum alteram de suo nomine Americam mortaliu consensus nominavit. An. sal. m. iiii. |

Ferdinandus Magalanes Lvsitanvs anfractuoso euripo superato, et telluri ad Austrum nomen dedit, | eiusque navis omnium prima atque novissima Solis cursum in terris æmulata, terræ totius globum circumijit. An. sal. m.d.xxi. |

A few slight changes have been made in the above inscriptions in order to conform to modern typography.

In the Stokes collection at N.Y.P. is what may be either an earlier engraving or a re-engraving of plate 3. Easily noted differences are as follows: the inscription, "Ameri. Vespuccius," directly beneath the figure of Vespuccius is omitted; the tassel hanging from the quadrant in his right hand is lacking; the implement held by the nereid at the left of the ship is thrust through the wrist of the human arm she impales, while in the other engraving the implement passes only through the upper part of the arm. There are also perceptible differences in the engraving of the inscription below the picture.

The set of the plates in the library of the American Type Founders Company, Jersey City, N. J., is mounted on one leaf in a large volume of about 300 mounted plates engraved after Stradanus.

Wilberforce Eames calls attention to the fact that in the series of Tross's catalogues for 1873, no. 9, lot no. 4396, the four original copper plates from which these prints were made, in oblong folio, were offered for sale at 500 francs. The description of the set was accompanied by a reproduction from the Vespucci plate. It is possible that modern impressions from the plates may appear upon the market.

The four plates were reengraved, reversed and on a smaller scale, for part 4 of De Bry's Great Voyages, first printed, Frankfurt, 1594, two being found above the text on the third and fourth preliminary leaves, and the others as nos. vi and xv of the plates bound at the end of the part. The title, Americæ Retectio, and the names of Columbus and Vespuccius on the vignette portraits are repeated, but the other inscriptions are omitted. The name of Stradanus does not appear. These engravings appear in other editions of De Bry, and reproductions of the fourth plate in the abridgment of 1617, and in Gottfried's "Historia Antipodum," 1631, another abridgment.

Most of the above information regarding the various states of the plates of the "Americæ Retectio" supplied by C. S. Brigham and Wilberforce Eames.

STRADANUS. Nova Reperta. | [At foot of first plate:] Ioan. Stradanus inuent. C. de Mallery excu. | Aloysio Alamannio Flor<sup>no</sup> | I. Strad. invent. DD. | [Antwerp. 1600?] Oblong 4to, engraved title and 9 numbered plates, 8 by 10½ inches.

AMER. TYPE FOUNDERS CO., BM. 92666

The approximate date is assigned from the dates of birth and death of Stradanus, 1523? or 1536?–1605, Philippe Galle, 1537–1612, Theodore Galle, 1571–1633, Carel de Mallery, 1571–1635, and Ioan. Collaert (probably the second), 1566–1628. See Thieme and Becker's and Nagler's compilations cited above.

A series of nine plates depicting recent discoveries and inventions. For a second series with ten plates, see below. The American Type Founders Company copy of the sets is mounted in the volume of engravings after Stradanus mentioned above.

In the first set only the title and plate 1 have American interest, and in the second, only plate 18.

The title, which is unnumbered, contains small numbered pictures of the inventions and discoveries which are depicted in more detail in the nine plates of the first series which follow. A key at the foot of the title explains what each number represents. The representation of plate 1 on the title is a map of North and South America, encircled by the inscription: "Americvs Vespucius Florent. rector et denominator. Christopher Colymbvs Genvens. inuentor."

Plate 1 has the following inscription at the foot: America. | Americus Americus rexit, et Semel vocavit inde semper excitam. | Ioan. Stradanus inuent. | Theodor. Galle sculp. C. de Mallery excud. |

Vespuccius is shown landing on American shores and being greeted by an Indian woman sitting on a rope hammock hung between two trees. In the background a native family are sitting around an open fire roasting a human leg on a spit. At the left is the ocean and one ship not far from shore. A small boat is drawn up to the shore.

Plates 2-9 of the series have the inscriptions: Ioan. Stradanus inuent. Phls. Galle excud. Their titles are as follows:

Plate 2. "Lapis Polaris, Magnes."

Plate 3. "Pvlvis Pyrius."

Plate 4. "Impressio Librorvm."

Plate 5. "Horologia Ferrea."

Plate 6. "Hyacvm, et lues venerea."

Plate 7. "Distillatio."

Plate 8. "Ser, sive sericus vermis."

Plate 9. "Staphæ, sive stapedes."

Quaritch's "General Catalogue," vol. 1, 1887, p. 70, describes a collection of sixty original drawings of sports, etc., by Stradanus, among which is "a portrait of 'Americus Vespuccius Florent, 1497,' landing in the New World, his ship in the background, America in the shape of an Indian woman receiving him." This is probably the original drawing of plate 1 of "Nova Reperta."

STRADANUS. [Nova Reperta. Second series. Antwerp. 1600?] Oblong 4to, 10 plates numbered 10-19. 8 by 10½ inches.

AMER. TYPE FOUNDERS CO., BM. 92667

This series issued in continuation was apparently an afterthought, as plates 10-19 were not described on the title page of the first series entered above. Probably no separate title was issued as there is none with the set belonging to the American Type Founders Company, and the BM. printed catalogue describes the 19 plates as a single series.

Plate 18 alone has American interest.

Plates 10-14, 16, and 19, have the inscriptions: Ioan. Stradanus inuent. Phls. Galle excud. Plates 15 and 17: Ioan. Stradanus inuent. Ioan. Collaert sculp. Phls Galle excud. Plate 18 as described below.

Their titles are as follows:

Plate 10. "Mola Aquaria."

Plate 11. Mola alata."

Plate 12. "Oleum alivavni."

Plate 13. "Saccharvm."

Plate 14. "Color olivi."

Plate 15. "Conspicilla."

Plate 16. "Orbis Longitvdines repertæ è magnetis à polo declinati ne."

Plate 17. "Politvra Armorvm."

Plate 18 has the following lines at the foot: Astrolabium. | Americus Vespuccius, cum quattuor Stellis crucem silente nocte repperit. | [At foot of insert:] Ioan. Stradanus invent. Ioan. Collaert sculp. | C. de Mallery scudit.

Vespuccius is shown at night standing on shore by a small table, taking observations from the stars. Near him are three sleeping companions. At the right is a small boat tied to a stake on the shore. Not far out at sea are two ships.

At the left is an insert containing a portrait of Dante, with the following inscription on the left side: Danthes | Augerius | Florentinus | Poëta, Anno | Sal. m.ccc. | descripsit | 1111. stellas | Antarcticæ | cap: pr<sup>o</sup> purg. | [And on the right side, the following:] His verbis | ab Americo | Vespuccio | in suis | Epistolis | adductis.

Beneath the portrait are six lines in Italian, followed by a Latin translation, from the first canto of Dante's Purgatory, beginning "Io mi volsi a man destra . . ."

Plate 19. "Scvltptva in æs."

Plates 4, 5 and 19 are reproduced on a small scale in "Feest-Bundel Dr. Abraham Bredius," vol. 2, [1915], leaves 85 and 86, nvr. Plate 4 is also reproduced on a small scale in the catalogue of the Morgner sale at the Anderson Galleries, March 4-5, 1925, no. 415. The Morgner copy of the two series of "Nova Reperta," which apparently lacked one plate, was bought by Walter M. Hill of Chicago.

[STRANG]. The Book of the Law of the Lord. Saint James [Beaver Island, Mich.]? 1850? Pp. 80.

No copy of the first edition has been located.

The c. copy of the second edition has the following ms. note on a page preceding a title page and preliminary pages supplied in ms.: "Lansing, Mich., Sept. 21, 1895.
 The following title page and testimony were published in a first edition of the Book of the Law. The title and introduction was not completed for the last edition at the time of the murder of James J. Strang and the dispersion of his followers in June, 1856." [Signed:] Chas. J. Strang.

The title was given as follows:

VOL. XXIV.

The book of the Law of the Lord consisting of an inspired translation of some of the most important parts of the Law given to Moses and a very few additional commandments, with brief notes and references. Printed by command of the King At the Royal Press Saint James A. R. I.

The testimony in ms. is signed: "Samuel Graham, Albert N. Hosmer, Samuel P. Bacon." Information from Ernest Kletsch.

James Jesse Strang (originally called Jesse James Strang), was a Mormon leader, who in 1844 was living in Wisconsin at a place afterward called by him Voree. He, on the assassination of Joseph Smith, produced a letter purporting to have been written by the latter before his death, prophesying his own end and appointing Strang as his successor. Strang's claims being rejected in favor of Brigham Young by the main body of the Latter-Day Saints, he retired to Voree, organized his own church, and set up a printing press. The seat of the church and of the printing press was later moved to "Saint James," Beaver Island, Michigan. It is possible that the above may have been printed before the removal.

Following the precedent of Smith, Strang had visions in support of his pretensions. He also, together with witnesses, most of whom, however, later repudiated their testimony, discovered in the ground metallic plates. These he claimed to be an "authorized copy" of the Book of the Law of the Lord, kept by the Jews in the Ark of the Covenant, which had been "taken by Nephi from Laban, in Jerusalem, (R. of M., 1st Nephi i,) and brought to America, in the time of Zedekiah, King of Judah." See Strang's Book of the Law of the Lord, 1856, p. 43. See also, M. M. Quaife's "The Kingdom of Saint James," 1930. The latter states on p. 188 that in "April, 1849, we find Alden Hale writing to the Prophet concerning plans and procedure for publishing the 'new translations.' The letter discusses the procuring of paper, type, and implements for binding the publication . . . No copy of this edition is known to be in existence, although Wingfield Watson informed the writer that he had owned one which some time before the conversation he had loaned to a fellow Saint in Tennessee, by whom it had not been returned." According to Charles J. Strang's explanatory note prefixed to the copy of the Book of the Law of the Lord in the Detroit Public Library, the first edition was without the very full notes included in that of 1856.

For what is probably a reprint of this first edition, see the following title:

[STRANG]. The | Book of the Law | of | The Lord | consisting of an inspired translation of | some of the most important parts of | the law given to Moses, and a very | few additional commandments, | with brief notes and | references. | Printed by command of the King | at the Royal Press, | Saint James, | A. R. I. | [Kansas City, Mo. Ben T. Short. 1930?] 8vo, pp. 80. wbs. 92676

Apparently a reprint of the first edition. Nine of the chapters found in the second edition are omitted, and the chapter on Baptism for the Dead is different.

The notes and references are few and brief as compared with those in the second edition, entered below.

On the verso of the title is an announcement, signed by Ben T. Short, 222½ Independence Avenue, Kansas City, Mo., that "we will be able to supply those who desire to investigate our claims, with copies of the Book of the Lord, together with the pamphlets which we hope to be able to publish in the future in defense of said book . . . Price Book, small edition $1.00."

Legler in his article on "King Strang's Press" in the "Literary Collector," vol. 8, 1904, p. 39, states that the "final letters, 'A. R. I.' are doubtless meant to represent the words Anno Regis Primo, 'in the first year of the king.'"

The testimony on the verso of the title is signed by seven witnesses as in the last reissue of the second edition, and pp. [7]-[8] contain the same matter as those pages in that reissue.

The preface, pp. iii-vi, reads the same as in all of the reissues of the second edition.

Another copy is on deposit at wms.

Title from heading of p. 17. No title page was printed in 1856.

Advertised in the "Daily Northern Islander," June 20, 1856, to consist of 350 pp.

Quaife in his "Kingdom of Saint James," 1930, pp. 189-190, states that the publication of this edition was begun in Strang's paper, the "Northern Islander," in the issue for January 24, 1856. The book was printed from the type of the instalments in the newspaper, 320 copies being struck off. The sheets were still unbound in June of that year, when Strang was assassinated, and were saved by his followers when a mob destroyed his printing office. The sheets were sent to Racine, where Benjamin Wright, an apostle in the Church, and a father-in-law of Strang took charge of them.

The NYP. copy, which is bound, has the following ms. note by William Berrian on the verso of the third fly-leaf: "(Complete) Same as J. J. Strang own Copy in possession of one of his Wives Jany 1887. W. B. There was no Title page to even his own copy."

Issues of the sheets of this edition preceded by modern title pages have appeared as follows:

[STRANG]. The | Book of the Law | of | the Lord | consisting of | An Inspired Translation of some of the | Most Important Parts of the Law | given to Moses, and a very few | Additional Commandments, | with Brief Notes and | References. | *Printed by command of the King | at the Royal Press | Saint James | A. DETROIT PL., MICH.S.L. 92678

On the leaf facing th. title is the following "Explanatory" note, signed by Strang's son, Chas. J. Strang, at Lansing, Mich. This is not found in either of the issues described below.

"This book, except the title-page, testimony, and preface, was printed under the direct supervision of the editor, James Jesse Strang, at his publishing house in St. James, Beaver Island, Michigan, during the winter of 1855-6, and was nearly ready for the book-binder at the time of his assassination and the dispersion of his people in June, 1856. The title-page, testimony and preface are copied from an earlier pamphlet edition of the "Law," which was published without the extensive "notes" which appear in this edition.

"The greater portion of the edition was destroyed by the mob which plundered the publishing house and the stores, offices and homes of all connected with the society.

"About thirty years after the dispersion, a number of complete copies of the book came into my possession through the efforts and care of friends of the family, who had gathered them up during the tumultuous reign of the mob, and had carefully preserved them during the wanderings of subsequent years, to be finally given to some member of the family who would preserve them for the benefit of posterity."

On the verso of the title is the testimony of three witnesses that they have seen and handled the plates from which the "translations" were made. This is followed by a preface, pp. 3-7, and the sheets of the work printed in 1856.

Title supplied by M. M. Quaife, who quotes an authority for the approximate date in his "Kingdom of Saint James," p. 190.

In this issue the testimony on verso of title is signed by four additional witnesses, this is followed by the preface, pp. 3-6, and table of contents, 7-8. After the contents is a list of the portions of the work, which Strang claimed to have written, or which were revealed to him, the rest being from the "plates taken from Laban." The text consists of the sheets of the edition printed in 1856. Mr. Eames states that the preliminary pages were apparently printed about 1920. A copy of the book sold at the Anderson Galleries, at a sale November 28-29, 1921, is said to have a newly printed title-page and contents.

[STRANG]? Catholic Controversy.

Title from H. E. Legler's "Moses of the Mormons" in Parkman Club "Publications," nos. 15-16, 1897, p. 178, where it is listed without imprint or date, though said to be from Strang's press. Legler states that he has been unable to obtain a copy.

[STRANG]? Collection of Sacred Hymns adopted [sic] to the faith and views of the Church of Jesus Christ, of Latter-Day Saints. Voree: Gospel Press. 1850.

Title from H. E. Legler's "Moses of the Mormons" in Parkman Club "Publications," nos. 15-16, 1897, p. 177.

[STRANG]. . . . The Diamond: being the law of Prophetic Succession and a defense of the calling of James J. Strang as successor to Joseph Smith, and a full exposition of the law of God touching the succession of prophets holding the presidency of the true church, and the proof that this succession has been kept up. Voree, Wis., 1848. [St. James? 185-?] 8vo, pp. 16 NYP., WHS. + [St. James? 185-?] 8vo, pp. 15. NYP., WHS. 92683

Both editions have caption titles only with the heading: "Gospel Tract No. IV.—First published by the Church of Latter Day Saints at Voree, Wis. 1848." The 15 pp. edition is printed in double columns.

Signed at the end, James J. Strang.

The beginning of the Diamond, pp. 1-11 of the 16 pp. edition, was first issued at Voree in the "Gospel Herald," April 27, 1848, stopping in the middle of the "First Pastoral Letter" of Strang, with the note "(To be continued)." The remainder of this letter and Chapter 5, pp. 12-16 in the above reprint, were probably issued in the following number of the Herald since Chapter 5 is dated at the end, "Voree, May 1st, 1848."

[STRANG]. . . The Diamond: A full exposition of the law of God touching the succession of prophets holding the presidency of the true church and the proof that this succession has been kept up. Voree, Wis., 1848. [St. James. 1856?] 8vo, pp. 20. c. 92684

Caption title. With heading: "Gospel Tracts.—No. IV." Quaife, "Kingdom of Saint James," p. 187, says that a 20 pp. edition was advertised in the last issue of the Daily Northern Islander, which was published at St. James, June 20, 1856.

Title supplied by Ernest Kletsch.

An issue of the Diamond, with the supplied date, 1878, is listed as no. 2188 of the catalogue of part 2 of the Paullin sale at the American Art Association, April 29, etc., 1929.

STRANG. The Prophetic Controversy. A Letter from James J. Strang to Mrs. Corey. [St. James? 1855?] 8vo, pp. 49, errata [sic] (1). H., NYP., WHS. 92685

Caption title. The letter itself is dated "Saint James, Sep. 26, 1854." In a footnote on p. 34: "Now (1885) they [Strang and his followers] occupy and have the exclusive control of the counties of Manitowish and Emmet, and the township of Drummond, in Chippewa county, Michigan . . ."

Reprinted without date, probably before 1900, in an edition of 35 pp. with a plate, H., WHS. and again in an edition of 38 pp. without the plate, H., WHS.

After Strang's death a series of pamphlets was published in continuation of his tract, with title, "Prophetic Controversy," no. 2[-13], consisting of letters dated from 1887-1918, and signed either Wingfield Watson, or W. W. H. No. 2 contained extracts from the writings of John E. Page, James J. Strang, William Marks, and Hyrum P. Brown, with notes by Watson.

[STRANG]? The Prophetick Discussion. [St. James? 1856?] 4to, pp. 44. 92686

Canvassing the claims of Strang and Brigham Young. Title supplied from an advertisement in the "Daily Northern Islander," June 20, 1856, quoted by Quaife, "Kingdom of Saint James," p. 187.

STRANG. Warning to all People. By James J. Strang, Successor Prophet to Joseph Smith. [Voree? 1846.] H. 92687

Caption title.

The H. copy was apparently a narrow broadside, which has been mounted on four pages. It contains a proclamation of the appointment of Ebenezer Page as Presiding High Priest of the Black River District of the state of New York. Following it are several "revelations" of J. J. Strang received in 1846, 1845, and 1844.

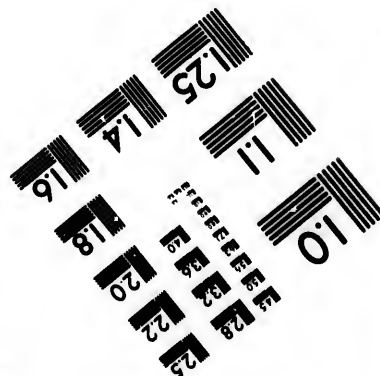

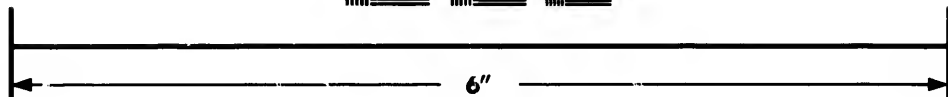

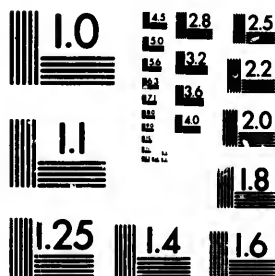

Dated and signed: Voree, July 9th, 1846. James J. Strang, Pres. of the C. of J. C. of L. D. S.

Also: The Revelations of James J. Strang. [Boyne? 1885?] 8vo, pp. 22. Plate. c., NYP. Caption title. A list of "Tracts for Sale" on p. 22 has the printed signature, "Wingfield Watson, Boyne, Charlevoix Co., Mich." and is dated in apparently contemporary ms., "Feb. 1885."

Strang contributed "Some Remarks on the Natural History of Beaver Islands" to the Smithsonian Institution's Annual Report for 1854, 1855, pp. 282-288.

While his group was in Wisconsin, Strang published the "Voree Herald," January, 1846, to June 6, 1850, which for about a year was issued with some irregularity as a monthly, and then became a weekly. In January, 1847, or earlier, the title was changed to "Zion's Reveille," and with the issue of September 23, 1847, again changed to "Gospel Herald." According to Quaife, "Kingdom of Saint James," p. 185, "The early issues . . . were printed at different places—at Voree, Elkhorn, and Southport, Wisconsin, at Ottawa, Illinois, and at New York City. In all . . . one hundred eighty numbers were issued." NVP. and WMA. have the best of the known files of the paper, no complete one having been located.

After the Herald had been discontinued, and the press had been moved to St. James, i. e. Beaver Island, Mich., Strang began the publication of the "Northern Islander," an irregularly issued weekly. According to Quaife, "Kingdom of Saint James," p. 186, "The first number was published December 12, 1850, twelve numbers appeared in 1851, twenty-six in 1852, three in 1853, twenty-five in 1854, and sixteen in 1855. The issue of January 24, 1856, which summarizes this information, announces that both weekly and daily editions will be published in future. Therefore seven numbers of the weekly were published, and thirty-three of the daily, the last appearing on June 20, 1856. This issue contains an account of the shooting of Strang, and a short note stating that because of it and of the general confusion of affairs, further publication will be suspended. Of the thirty-three issues published [of the daily], copies of only one or two are known still to exist." Quaife also states that no complete file of the weekly has been located, though a "considerable run" of it was formerly in the possession of Wingfield Watson. Photostatic reproductions from this file are in the Burton Historical Collection of the Detroit Public Library, and at WMA.

The following pamphlet contains important source material:—A Few Historical Facts concerning the Murderous Assault at Pine River also the Life, Ministry, Ancestry and Childhood of James J. Strang. The Strange and Dangerous Voyage of Captaine Thomas Iames. See James (T.), no. 35711, vol. 9. BM., C., H., NYP.

The following errors in our previous entry should be noted:

The date should be "1633," not "1663."

There should be line ends after "Voyage of," and after "Wherein," in the upper part of the title, and in the latter part the line end after "Longitude," should be omitted.

"Mathematical" should be spelled "Mathematicall," and the typographical error "Autho'rs" should not have been corrected to "Author's" as in our entry.

The collation should include twelve leaves instead of eleven, pp. (22), Q4 being blank.

There are two issues of the work, which may be called A and B.

In Issue A the "Adviser concerning the Philosophy of these late Discoueries," at the end, which was written by William Watts, is signed, "x.z." BM., C., H., NYP.

In Issue B the same section is signed, "William Watts." NYP.

The map which is frequently missing is found in the H. and NYP. copies of Issue A, but is lacking in the C. copy of that issue, and in the NYP. copy of Issue B. A second H. copy lacks the map also, and all after p. 112.

From 1821–1826 Streeter was the editor of the "Christian Intelligencer," published in Portland, and which, according to Williamson, was the first Universalist organ issued in Maine. In 1827 the place of publication was changed to Gardiner.

A few other works, religious in character, are listed in Gilman.

For a collection of hymns compiled by Russell and Sabastian Streeter, see final note on the latter.

An attack upon Streeter in doggerel verse, was published together with a number of similar rhymes, under the title:

Steward's Thoughts upon Streeter's (Isms.). Addressed to Saints and Sinners. [n. p. 182-?] 12mo, pp. 12. AAS. Caption title. The author was probably Dr. Wil-Strength out of Weakness, London. 1652.

Because of the difficulties involved in differentiating the issues of the tract, it seems preferable to give some general notes before entering the titles. Special acknowledgment should be made of the assistance of L. C. Wroth in furnishing descriptions as to the jcm. copies, many of which contain ms. notes of G. P. Winship relating to variations; also of that of Ernest Kletsch in giving information as to the c. copies.

The work is considered the sixth of a series commonly called the "Eliot Indian Tracts," the first, according to this reckoning, being "New England's First Fruits," 1643, our no. 52758, vol. 13. However, in the second prefatory section of the tract itself, it is stated that "This is the fifth Treatise hath been published to the world in this kinde (but the first by the Corporation)," i. e. the "Corporation in England . . . by the name of the President and Society for Propagation of the Gospel in New England," chartered in 1649. See our vol. 21, p. 463, note 2. "New England's First Fruits," dealing with the "Colledge at Cambridge," etc. as well as with the Indian work, was evidently not counted at the time as one of the series. For the four other preceding tracts, see [Shepard (T.)], "The Day-Breaking, if not the Sun-Rising of the Gospell with the Indians in New-England," 1647, no. 80207, vol. 19, and his "The Clear Sun-shine of the Gospel breaking forth upon the Indians in New-England," 1648, no. 80205; Eliot (J.), "The Glorious Progress of the Gospel amongst the Indians," no. 22152, vol. 6; and [Whitfield (Henry)], "The Light appearing . . . or, A farther Discovery of the present state of the Indians," 1651. For the later tracts, see Eliot (J.), nos. 22166, 22162, 22149, 22151, and 22142, vol. 6.

Because of the prominence of the name of Whitfield on the titles, see below, the tract is frequently entered under his name. However, the titles merely state that the "last Treatise to that effect" was published or "set forth" by Henry Whitfield.

The preliminaries of the work include a dedication to Parliament, and two prefaces, the first addressed "To the Reader," and the second, in some copies similarly addressed "To the Christian Reader," and in others headed "Strength out of Weaknesse." The second preface evidently explains the title, mentioning the discouragements to the Corporation in the criticisms and scepticism of even some from New England, but also the encouragements, in the growth of the work, in contributions, and in the willingness of members to contribute their services.

The text contains two letters from John Eliot, the first dated "Roxbury the 28th: of the 2d: 1651"; letters from John Wilson, William Leverich, Anthony Bessey, Thomas Mayhew, John Endecott, William French, and Thomas Allen, describing the progress of the work during 1651, or vouching for its existence and importance; also a concluding paragraph, signed for the Corporation by the President, William Steele.

An examination of a large number of copies has led to the conclusion, first that there is an edition with collation, pp. (12), 33, (1), which is quite independent, and easily distinguishable; also secondly, that of the issues with collation, pp. (15), verso blank, 40, there were two or more printings of sections of the book which were frequently confused in making up copies. In later printings of the latter group the same fonts of type were used for the most part, and the general set up of the pages of the earlier printing was followed, the greater number of line ends and catchwords corresponding. Copies with the same title page may have different combinations of the printings of the preliminaries and text, yet certain combinations have been found to be more usual with each.

That the edition with fewer pages preceded the issues with 40 pages of text is possible since remainders of the sheets of one of the latter were reissued in London in 1657, with a new title, "The Banners of Grace and Love displayed," our no. 3213, vol. 1.

A description of varying details of sections of the tract is found in the Church Catalogue, no. 519. In that analysis features of the edition with 33, (1), pages of text are described together with those of the issues with 40 pages of text. As sheets of the former have not been found in combination with these of the latter, the characteristics of the edition with fewer pages will be described here under the title always found with it.

The number of varying title pages has been estimated as high as six or seven. A comparison of many copies of the work, and photostats of titles of other copies leads us to the belief there were but four altogether, and only three found with 40 pages of text. It is probable that other variations in printed descriptions of the work, as for instance in Stevens's "Historical Nuggets," are the result of error. Alterations in course of printing have been noted and possibly other variations due to this may exist.

In the Church Catalogue the description of variations in sections of the tract is taken up under five main heads, the title, the dedication, the first preface "To the Reader," the second preface "To the Christian Reader," and the text. To prevent confusion, in the following scheme the combinations of letters and numbers standing for certain variations will agree with those used in the Church Catalogue to denote the same ones. Our descriptions will be briefer, only enough being included to differentiate the printings. Additional points which have been noted will be included.

1. Title. A1

- (a) Title in which the typographical error, "Pulished" for "Published," occurs in the 15th line.
- (b) Title described in Church from no. 32 of the collection of Americana included in the Tower Catalogue. A photostat of the title from this copy now at HSP. shows that it corresponds to the following : (c).
- (c) Title in part from the same type as 1 (a), but with the three lines above the quotation arranged as four lines, and "formerly set forth" substituted for "Pulished." A photo-facsimile is in Church, no. 519.
- (d) Title of the edition with collation, (12), 33, (1). A noticeable characteristic is that "Weaknesse" in the third line has "VV" instead of "W". In Church this is said to have "Cant. 8. 8." followed by two lines before the imprint. The ycm. copy and HSP. (Tower no. 33), the latter mentioned in Church, have three lines before the imprint.
- (e) Title with words "Strength out of Weakness" all on one line, and in lower case letters except for the initial capital "S" and "W." In Church there are said to be four lines between the line, "Published by the aforesaid Corporation," and the imprint, but in all the copies we have examined there are but three. A photostat of one of the Tower copies mentioned in Church has but three.

2. Epistle dedicatory. A2-3

Headings and signatures as follows:

- (a) TO THE | SUPREAME AUTHORITY | OF THIS NATION, | The Parliament of the Common- | Wealth of ENGLAND. |
Signed by John Owen and eleven others.
In Church the fifth line is said to begin "wealth," but in all the copies we have examined it begins "Wealth," with a capital.

- (b) Heading as above.

Signed by William Steele, President.

In Church this variation is said to have a large capital "N" in Nation, but in the detailed description of Church 519, it is not noted. In all the copies we have examined "Nation" is all in small capitals. The beginning of this variation of the dedication is from the same setting of type as the preceding.

- (c) See below, note under edition with pp. (12), 33, (1).

The dedication to Parliament as the supreme authority makes prominent the fact that the work was published in the turbulent period between the execution of Charles I. and the beginning of the protectorate of Cromwell. The twelve men whose names were signed to the dedication in the form 2 (a) were a group of prominent puritan and independent divines. William Steele, on the other hand, was a layman, later lord chancellor of Ireland.

3. First preface, "To the Reader." A<sub>4</sub> and A<sub>1-2</sub>

Headings and signatures as follows:

- (a) To the READER. | Christian Reader; | pp. (5).

Signed by W. Gouge and 13 others.

- (b) Heading as above. pp. (5).

Signed by William Gouge and 17 others.

The first leaf is from the same setting of type as the preceding variation, but the two last leaves are from a different setting.

- (c) See below, note under edition with pp. (12), 33, (1).

4. Second preface. B<sub>1-2</sub>

Heading as follows: [No variation signed.]

- (a) To the Christian Reader. CHRISTIAN READER; pp. (3), verso blank.

- (b) STRENGTH | OUT OF | WEAKNESSE; | ... pp. (4).

The wording of the two issues of the second preface is practically the same, but they are from different settings of type. At the end a reference is made to a letter of John Eliot, following in the text, dated, "Roxbury the 28th of the 2<sup>d</sup>: 1651." In 4 (a) the second month is given as February, and (b) as April, according as Eliot was considered as following the new or the old calendar.

- (c) See below, note under edition with pp. (12), 33, (1).

5. Last page c. text.

- (a) With heading: "The Corporation to the Reader." The statement is signed in behalf of that body by "William Steele Esquire, President."

- (b) Text the same but without the heading.

- (c) See below, note under edition with pp. (12), 33, (1).

ADDITIONAL POINTS NOT NOTED IN THE CHURCH DESCRIPTION.

Issues with 40 pages of text.

6. Editions of the text, pp. 1-4. B<sub>3-4</sub>

These pages are part of the same sheet as the second preface. There are accordingly two printings corresponding to the two printings of the second preface. These are not always bound with the same printings of sheets C-F.

- (a) Ornamental headline on p. 1.

- (b) Without the line of ornament.

7. Editions of the text, pp. 5-40. C-G.

There are two different settings of type, with line ends and catchwords most frequently corresponding, so that at first sight the two editions are not strikingly different. Though copies of one or other of these printings usually correspond quite closely throughout there are a few changes made during the course of printing. A few of the many variations which mark the two editions may be noted.

Title 1 (d).

It seems possible that this edition with fewer pages preceded the issues with pp. 40 in the main text, because the edition with title, "The Banners of Grace and Love displayed," published in London in 1657, five years later, was an issue of the sheets of one of the 40 page tracts with a new title page prefixed. However the following substantial reasons have been advanced for its being a later issue: first, the tendency of compositors setting up from copy already in type to compress; secondly, the date of Eliot's letter. see above, note 4 (b), is given as "April" which is probably the more correct rendering of his "2d." month; and lastly because in one or two instances a modernized spelling is used.

Though there are minor variations in the text, the material is the same as that included in the editions with more pages.

Possibly the edition was not large, as we have located but two copies in this country.

Dedication signed by "William Steele, President," pp. 4. 2 (c)

Title 1 (a). AAS., B., C., H., HSP., JCB., M., NYP., UTS. 92798

This edition of the title page is the only one in which the preceding Eliot Tract is said to have been "Pu[b]lished" by Whitfield, rather than "set forth." In some bibliographies, e.g. Stevens' "Historical Nuggets," no. 1978, and in the note in Sabin's reprint of the tract the typographical error is not noted, but it is found in all the copies we have examined. The probable date of publication of this issue is fixed by the fact that in the Thomason Catalogue, 1908, under date of Aug. 4, 1652, is a short entry of the title including the words, "since the last treatise published by Mr. Henry Whitfield."

The most usual combination of variations in groups of pages, as described above, is as follows: 2 (a), 3 (a), 4 (a), 5 (a), 6 (a), 7 (b). However, the Bass copy at AAS. has the following: 2 (a), 3 (b), 4 (b), 5 (b), 6 (b), 7 (a).

In most copies p. 36 of the text is without a floriated initial and line 17 reads "word of English," but one of the JCB. copies, the NYP. and UTS. copies have the floriated initial, line 17 reading "derstand one word of English," and the AAS. Bass copy has a floriated initial, and line 17, "stand one word of English."

Title 1 (c).

Sheet A as found with this title shows signs of alteration during the course of printing. It is in large part from the type of the same sheet in the preceding issue, most copies having the same form of the dedication, 2 (a), but others, 2 (b).

The most usual combination of variations in groups of pages, as described above, is as follows: 2 (a), 3 (a), 4 (a), 5 (a), 6 (a), 7 (b). The variations, 2 (b), 4 (b), 6 (b), 7 (a), have also been found in some copies. In most copies there is no floriated initial on p. 36, and line 17 reads "word of English," but several copies have been found with the floriated initial, and line 17 reading "derstand one word of English."

Strength out of Weakness. | Or a Glorious | Manifestation | Of the further Progresse of the | Gospel | amongst | the Indians | in | New-England. | Held forth in sundry Letters | from divers Ministers and others to the | Corporation established by Parliament for | promoting the Gospel among the Hea- | then in New-England; and to particular | Members thereof since the last Trea- | tise to that effect, formerly set | forth by M<sup>r</sup> Henry Whitfield | late Pastor of Gilford in | New-England. | Published by the aforesaid Corporation. | [3 lines.] | London, Printed by M. Simmons for John Blague and Samuel Howes, and are to be sold at their | Shop in Popes Head Alley. 1652. | 4to, pp. (15), verso blank, 40. A in four, a in two, B-F in fours, F [or G] in two.

Title 1 (e). B., C. (2 copies), H., JCB. (2 copies), NYP., Y. 92800
This title is from a different setting of type from the two preceding.

In some copies a hyphen is distinguished between Head and Alley in the imprint.

The most usual combination of variations in groups of pages, as described above, is as follows: 2 (b), 3 (b), 4 (b), 5 (b), 6 (b), 7 (a). The variations 3 (a), 4 (a), 5 (a), 6 (a), 7 (b), have also been found in some copies. Most copies have a floriated initial on p. 36, and line 17 reads "stand one word of English," but two copies located have the initial floriated, and the line reading "derstand one word of English."

The Banners of Grace and Love displayed in the farther Conversion of the Indians in New-England, 1657. See our no. 3213, vol. I. BODLEIAN, H.

This edition is a reissue of earlier sheets of "Strength out of Weaknesse," with a new title page prefixed. The combination of variations of groups of pages included is as follows: 2 (a), 3 (a), 4 (a), 5 (a), 6 (a), 7 (b). The second paragraph on p. 36 begins with the floriated initial, and line 17 reads "derstand one word of English."

The variations described correspond most closely with those most frequently found with title 1 (a), but as we have located but one copy in this country it is impossible to say that other issues of the title may not have been bound with other combinations. If all copies were found to be made up as described above it would suggest that title 1 (a) was the latest rather than the earliest of the issues with 40 pages of text. In that case 1 (e) would probably be the first of these issues, and 1 (c) which appears to be a transitional issue between the two would be the second.

Strength out of Weakness: or A Glorious Manifestation of the Further Progress of the Gospel among the Indians in New England. By Henry Whitfield. New York: Reprinted for Joseph Sabin. 1865. [Verso of title:] Munsell, Printer. 4to, pp. (2), 4, (18), 59.
B., BA., C., H., NYP., Y. 92801

Half title: Sabin's Reprints, Quarto Series. No. V.

On verso of title: Edition 250 Copies, of which 50 are on large paper.

Following the title is a "Notice" signed by Joseph Sabin, stating that there are two other editions, and giving full titles and collations. These appear to be taken from titles 1 (a), and 1 (c), but there are typographical differences which may be due to error. It is possible that such variations may exist but we have not located copies with them.

The reprint appears to have been made from a copy in which the combination of variations in groups of pages was as follows: 2 (b), 3 (b), 4 (a), 5 (b), 6 (a), 7 (a).

Another reprint taken from the Bass copy at AAs, title 1 (a), appears in Mass. Hist. Soc. "Collections," 3d ser., vol. 4, 1834, pp. 149-196.

Caption title. Eight articles signed by "Hamden," attacking Henry Lee's "An Exposition of Evidence," 1832, our no. 39753, vol. 10, which had urged the repeal of the sugar duty. Hamden makes a plea for its being retained for the sake of the sugar growing state of Louisiana.

Attributed doubtfully to Mathew Carey in Finotti's "Bibliographia catholica americana," 1872. Also attributed to him in note on our no. 10889, vol. 3. It is possible that this attribution was made from a confusion of the pseudonym with Carey's pseudonym, "Hamilton." According to Cushing, Isaac Orr used the pseudonym, "Hamden."

Improved title of no. 11881, vol. 3, entered under T. B. Chandler. The Philadelphia, 1775, edition there located at P. is evidently an error as pointed out by Hildeburn, for we have located no copy, nor has Evans in his no. 13865. Our no. 3684, vol. 1, is probably also an error for the above.

Evans under Chandler, no. 13864, lists without location a New-London, 1775, edition, pp. 16, which may be a mistake for the edition of Lee's "Strictures" with corresponding imprint and collation.

work resembles that of McKean's Inaugural Address, printed by W. & R. Dickson at Lancaster, [1800], and which has an appended address by Tench Coxe and others.

Signed, "Greene." By Tench Coxe. According to Johnston's "Contribution to a Bibliography of Thomas Jefferson" in the "Writings," vol. 20, 1905, p. 27, the c.
copy, formerly Jefferson's, has the author's name supplied in Jefferson's hand.

Jefferson's "letter . . . dated April 24, 1796, was written to Mr. Philip Mazzei, an Italian by birth, but who had been for a long time a resident of Virginia, and a neighbor and intimate friend of Jefferson's. Upon the reception of the letter by Mr.
Mazzei, then in Florence, he, without permission, published a translation of it in the Florentine Gazette. It was translated into French, and printed in the Moniteur, the official paper of the French government. From thence it was translated into English.
Naturally some changes from the original was the result of these translations. The letter created quite a stir at the time, and was severely commented upon by the Fed-

[STRONG (Alexander)]. A Prospectus of the Quipola, or an Explanation of the Quipoes, now open for Public Opinion. London: Printed by J. Phair, 69 Great Peter Street, Westminster. 1827. 64mo, pp. 18. 92882

Title from the "Westminster Review," vol. 11, 1829, where the pamphlet is reviewed, pp. 228-253. According to this article, a "ship-carpenter named Alexander Strong, in the employment of Messrs. Bennett and Hunt of Wapping, declares that in June 1823 he purchased the Quipos and box in question from the mate of a merchant-brig . . . and that he (Strong) was induced to purchase them, from an idea that ... he might obtain both reputation and profit by explaining them." According to Locke's "Ancient Quipu," 1923, p. 75, the article in the Review was written by General T. Perronet Thompson. For a separate, see Thompson (T. P.), History of the Quipos, or Peruvian knot-records. LeClerc, no. 2413, and Palau, incorrectly attribute this separate from the "Westminster Review" to Strong.

Locke, p. 66, states that Strong's specimen of quipu was spurious.

Title from a list of uncatalogued material at c. not now available.

The above, though of a later period than that now covered by this Dictionary, is included because of a cross reference from title.

The reports were by Henry K. Strong, according to information supplied by Ernest Kletsch. Although our author had a son of the same name, born in 1827, it seems probable that this was a posthumous publication of reports by the father. On p. 5 of a prospectus of the Somerset Coal and Iron Company, 1864, a geological report made by Strong in 1855 is mentioned.

ALMANACS.

Strong was the calculator of a number of series of almanacs. In some he is designated as the author on the title page, or elsewhere in the almanac, as "Professor of Mathematics in Yale-College," by his initials, or by his full name. Others were published pseudonymously or anonymously. He was also troubled by plagiarists, who used his name fraudulently or copied his calculations in their publications.

In compiling the following list, Bates' "Check List of Connecticut Almanacs," reprinted from Amer. Antiq. Soc. "Proceedings," for April, 1914, was of the greatest assistance.

The almanacs entered below are arranged as follows:

(1) General chronological list of almanacs, either definitely connected with Strong in later issues, or bearing his name, the latter group including a few spurious editions.

(2) Almanacs in which the pseudonym, "Hosea Stafford," is used. As these form a single series, all printed by the Green press in New Haven, they are entered separately. It will be noted that the issue for 1806 of this New Haven series contains the author's name on the title, with the statement that he was the author of the almanacs published under the signature of Hosea Stafford.

(3) Middlesex almanacs. Bates quotes an advertisement in the "Middlesex Gazette" of Dec. 21, 1793, as follows: "Stafford's Almanack for 1794 which has formerly been published under the title of The Middlesex Almanack, To be sold at this Office." As the series published under the name of Stafford is known to be by Strong, it would seem probable that the Middletown series may also be attributed to him.

(4) Almanacs in which the pseudonym, "Isaac Bickerstaff," frequently employed by other almanac makers, is used, but in which the calculations are by Strong. Bates quotes a statement by Strong in the "Connecticut Journal," for Oct. 27, 1784, disavowing the authorship of previously printed almanacs bearing the name of Bickerstaff, but thinks Strong must have decided that if a Bickerstaff series were to be published at Hartford, he might as well be the author. Bates judges that such was the case in the issues printed at Hartford, by or for Nathaniel Patten, for the years from 1785-1797, because of the similarity of the earlier issues to Strong's almanacs, of the fact that the issue for 1787 contains a reprint of Strong's calculations for that year, and because later issues were in part printed from the same type forms as Strong almanacs for the same years. It also seems possible that some of them may have been issued without Strong's consent. See Bates, pp. 11-17, and 46-47.

(1) GENERAL CHRONOLOGICAL LIST.

[STRONG.] Watson's | Register, | and | Connecticut | Almanack, | For . . . | 1775; | [16 lines.] | Hartford: Printed and Sold by Eben. Watson, near the G. Bridge. | [1774.] 12mo, pp. (32).

AAS., B., CHS., Y. 92980

On the verso of the title of the Connecticut Almanack for 1778, see below, it is stated that the composer of that issue is the "Professor of Mathematics and natural Philosophy a[t] Yale College, who likewise is the Author of the former Registers that have come from this Press." In the issue for 1775 it is merely stated that it was "done by an astronomer skilful as any in New-England," but that the gentleman's assistance had not been procured without a promise of secrecy.

[STRONG.] Watson's | Register, | and | Connecticut | Almanack, | For . . . | 1776. | [28 lines.] | Hartford: Printed and Sold by Eben. Watson, near the Great Bridge. | [1775.] 12mo, pp. (24).

AAS., CHS., H., Y. 92981

[STRONG.] Watson's | Connecticut | Almanack, | For . . . | 1777, | [22 lines.] | Hartford: Printed and Sold by Ebenezer Watson. | [1776.] 12mo, pp. (24). AAS., B., CHS., Y. 92982

[STRONG.] The Connecticut | Almanack, | For . . . | 1778; | [17 lines.] | Hartford: Printed and Sold by Hannah Watson, near the | Great-Bridge, MDCCLXXVIII. | 12mo, pp. (16).

AAS., CHS., Y. 92983

On verso of title: "The Reader is advertised that this Almanack was composed by the Professor of Mathematics and natural Philosophy at Yale College . . ."

Improved title of no. 15661, vol. 4.

[STRONG.] The | Connecticut | Almanack, | For . . . | 1779. | [13 lines.] | By the Professor of Mathematics, | In Yale College. | Hartford: Printed and Sold by Watson and Goodwin, near | the Great-Bridge. | [1778.] 12mo, pp. (16).

[STRONG.] The | Connecticut | Almanack, | For . . . | 1780. | [10 lines.] | The Calculations performed by the Professor | of Mathematics, in Yale College. | [8 lines.] | Hartford: Printed and Sold by | Hudson and Goodwin, near the Great- | Bridge. | [1779.] 12mo, pp. (24).

AAS., CHS., NYP., Y. 92985

[STRONG.] The | Connecticut | Almanack, | For . . . | 1781. | [10 lines.] | The Astronomical Parts performed by the | Professor of Mathematics, in Yale-College. | [8 lines.] | Hartford: Printed and Sold by Hudson and Goodwin. | [1780.] 12mo, pp. (24).

AAS., CHS. 92986

Another issue at AAS. has a few of the pages differently imposed. This does not have the words "and Sold" in the imprint.

[STRONG]. The | New-England | Almanack, | For . . . | 1781. |
[ 10 lines.] | The Astronomical Parts performed by the | Professor of Mathematics, in Yale-College. | [ 8 lines.] | Worcester: | Printed
by Anthony Haswell. | [ 1780.] 8vo, pp. (24). AAS. 92987

Bates points out that this almanac is printed from the same type forms as the Connecticut Almanack for the same year printed by Hudson and Goodwin, and hence must have come from their press in Hartford. The poetry and miscellaneous material as well as the tables are the same.

An imperfect copy of "An Astronomical Diary . . . or Almanac" for 1801, located at Yale, is believed by Bates to be by Strong and to have been printed at Hartford. No copy of an issue for 1802 with his name on the title has been located. An issue of "An Astronomical Diary . . ." by Strong was printed by Elisha Babcock at Hartford, for the year 1803, AAS., BM., NYP., Y.; also one for 1804, CHS.

Babcock in the advertisement of his issue of "Sanford's Astronomical Diary" for 1805, stated that Strong had declined to furnish any more copies and had recommended David Sanford in his place. See quotation from the "American Mercury," for Nov. 22, 1804, Bates, p. 78.

However, the following issues by Strong were printed by Babcock at Hartford: for 1806, AAS., B., CHS., M., NYP.; for 1807, AAS., CHS., NYP.; and for 1808, AAS.

An issue for 1809, also printed by Babcock, at Hartford, was "Mostly calculated by Nehemiah Strong . . . And the remainder finished by Elijah Middlebrook." AAS., CHS.

For issues of "An Astronomical Diary . . ." for the years 1806-1808, with Strong's name on the title, printed by Thomas Green and Son at New Haven, see the final note on the series published under the pseudonym of Hosea Stafford.

AAS., B., CHS., NYP. 93034

NYP. has two issues, the difference being only in pp. [20]–[23]. The text on these pages is rearranged, so that the same articles are on different pages, but from the same type.

In issue A, p. [20] contains as the first item, "Necessary Hints to those that would be Rich," p. [21], "Instances of the Effects of sudden Joy," p. [22], "Advice from a Clock," p. [23], "The Old and New-Testament dissected."

In issue 2, p. [20] contains as the first item, "The Old and New Testament dissected," p. [21], "Advice from a Clock," p. [22], "Necessary Hints to those that would be Rich," p. [23], "Instances of the Effects of sudden Joy."

P. [24] in both issues contains "A Return of the Number of Inhabitants in ... Connecticut."

AAS., B., CHS., NYP. 93051

Strong's series of almanacs published under the pseudonym of Stafford, was continued with this title, through the issue for 1804, printed by Thomas Green and Son at New Haven. Copies are located as follows: for 1801, AAS., B., BM., CHS., M.; for 1802, AAS., B., BM., CHS.; for 1803, AAS., B., M., NYP., V.; for 1804, AAS., B., BM., CHS., NYP.

No copy has been located of an issue for 1805, published under the pseudonym of Stafford, but Thomas Green and Son evidently published in its place "An Astronomical Diary . . ." prepared by J. Sanford.

The title for the following year reads: An Astronomical Diary, Calendar, or Almanack, for . . . 1806 . . . By Nehemiah Strong, Formerly Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy in Yale-College, and Author of the Almanacks which have been formerly published under the signature of Hosea Stafford. . . . New-Haven: Printed by Thomas Green and Son. AAS., B., BM., CHS.

The series ends with the issues both bearing Strong's name, located as follows: for 1807, AAS., C., CHS., Y.; for 1808, AAS., CHS., V.

Almanacs issued under the name of Hosea Stafford at New Haven and Bridgeport, for the years 1818 and 1823, respectively, have no connection with Strong, who died in 1807.

See preliminary note, (4), above, for Strong's connection with this series, which is not to be confused with another published under the pseudonym of Isaac Bickerstaff, and which is generally credited to Benjamin West. Issues of the latter were also reprinted in Hartford for the years 1782, 1783, and 1785, but were chiefly published in Norwich, Providence, Boston, and elsewhere.

AAS., CHS. 93055

Woodcut illustration and briefer title on first leaf, followed by title page.

Bates notes that the tables are a reprint from Strong's Astronomical Diary for 1787, printed by Elisha Babcock. He also suggests that Evans no. 20133 is taken from an advertisement of the above and is a duplication of his 20132.

AAS., CHS. 93062

[STRONG]. An Astronomical Diary, Kalendar, or, Almanack, for 1794. By Isaac Bickerstaff. Hartford: Nathaniel Patten. [1793.] 93063

"Advertised in the American Mercury of Nov. 4, 1793, as 'Just published By Nathaniel Patten.' This and any subsequent issues published by Patten must have been printed for him, as after 1792 he appears not to have had a printing office in Hartford." Information from Bates, p. 62.

[STRONG]. An | Astronomical Diary: | or | Almanack, | For ... | 1795. | [20 lines.] | By Isaac Bickerstaff. | [6 lines.] | Hartford: Printed by Elisha Babcock. | [1794.] 12mo, pp. (24). AAS., CHS., UTS. 93064

Trumbull lists an issue for this year published by Patten, but Bates, p. 63, doubts that there was such an issue.

[STRONG]. An Astronomical Diary: or Almanack, for 1796. By Isaac Bickerstaff. Hartford: Nathaniel Patten. [1795.] + For 1797. [Same imprint. 1796.] 93065

Advertised in the American Mercury of Nov. 16, 1795, and Nov. 14, 1796, respectively. Information from Bates, pp. 65-66. See note on Bickerstaff's almanac for 1794, above.

Bates suggests that various sheet almanacs published at Hartford and New Haven for a number of the years between 1787 and 1808, and known only by newspaper advertisements, were probably prepared by Strong.

Caption title.

STRONG (Thomas M[orris]). The History of the Town of Flatbush, in Kings County, Long-Island, by Thomas M. Strong, D.D., pastor of the Reformed Dutch Church, of Flatbush. . . . New-York: Thomas R. Mercein, Jr., Printer, 240 Pearl street, cor. Burling-slip. 1842. 12mo, pp. 178, postscript. (1). Frontispiece folded map and 5 plates. AAS., B., BM., C., CU., HEH., HSP., MINNHS., NYH., NYP., WHS., Y. 93073

According to the preface, the work "was prepared as a part of a course of Lectures by the Flatbush Literary Association," during the winter of 1841-2.

Reprinted, with two additional plates and an index, pp. 181-188, with the title page bearing the same date, 1842. C., M., NYP. There is nothing in the book itself stating that it is a reprint. An advertising leaflet laid in the NYP. copy reads: "Almost as it appeared sixty-six years ago, Strong's 'History of Flatbush' has been published . . . by Frederick Loeser & Company," dry goods merchants of Brooklyn, so the reprint was evidently issued in 1908. In ms. on the front fly leaf of the NYP. copy: "This reprint presented to New York Public Library by the publisher—Henry B. Davenport Flatbush, N. Y. Nov. 7, 1911."

The woodcut illustrations which give the interest to this almanac are largely by Hoppin. Others are signed: "P L H." and "J McL."

Copies have also been located of "Strong's American Almanac" for 1847, AAS., Strong's "New York Comic Almanac" for 1847, B., "Strong's Comic Almanac" for 1856, AAS., and the same for 1857, B. The comic almanac for 1850 located by Wall at AAS., on close examination proves to be that for 1856, the figure "6" being almost indistinguishable from "0."

Title supplied by Anne S. Pratt.

"The author indicates, without saying so directly, that he is a student at Yale and dedicates his almanac to 'his Fellow Students.' It seems not improbable that Noah Atwater of New Haven, a graduate of Yale in the class of 1774, was the author of this almanac. He is the only student in the College at this time who is known to have been 'distinguished for his attainments in natural philosophy and astronomy.' It seems improbable that Prof. Nehemiah Strong would have thus masqueraded as a student and issued an almanac, and much more likely that it was the work of an actual student, done under the Professor's instruction."—Bates' Connecticut Almanacs, pp. 35-36.

See also, above, Student at Yale College.

Miss Pratt states that the Yale library has no record of an almanac with this title between the issues for 1762 and 1773.

B., BA., H., HEH. 93265

Caption title.

A confession and apology signed by Sturgeon, and dated at Boston in New-England, March 23, 1724, 5. He regrets having offended the New England churches, and having been the instrument of publishing a pamphlet in which they and also Dr. Increase Mather were calumniated. In a postscript dated April 27, 1725, he says that he has written of his own free will, and that he hopes that the churches of Watertown will also become reconciled with the other churches of the neighborhood. On p. 4 is a statement, dated April 27, and signed by Cotton Mather as moderator, accepting these "Penitential Addresses" as sufficient.

An attempt to rehabilitate the memory of García Hurtado de Mendoza, whose achievements in the Araucanian war had been belittled in Ercilla's "La Araucana," see our nos. 22718-22727, vol. 6. Don García was appointed by his father, then the viceroy of Peru, as governor of Chile, and was in command of the forces sent against the Araucanian Indians. The work treats of that campaign, of Hurtado de Mendoza's rule over Peru when he succeeded to the vicerealty, of Mendana's expedition to the Solomon Islands, and of the later years of Don García's life. It includes some account of Drake, Cavendish and Hawkins, and encounters with them. See Moses' "Spanish Colonial Literature in South America," published by the Hispanic Society of America, 1922, pp. 162 and 185-186.

Except for the title and the second preliminary leaf, the above is from the same sheets as the edition of 1613. The second leaf contains an address to the reader by Gabriel Caruajal de Ulloa on the recto, and an address to Juan Andres Hurtado de Mendoza signed by the author on the verso. Ulloa's address to the reader is repeated on the verso of the fourth leaf, which has on the recto the author's dedication to the Duque de Lerma, Marques de Denia. This leaf is also found in the 1613 edition. See the new JCB. printed catalogue.

According to the catalogue of the Bibliothèque nationale, the pseudonym, "Victor de Féréal," was used by Mme. de Suberwick. The above work, which is an abridged translation of her "Mystères de l'Inquisition," Paris, 1845, has American interest because of an added appendix which contains the following items: Establecimiento de la Inquisicion en el Nuevo Mundo, pp. 299-306; Autos de Fe, celebrados por la Inquisicion de Mexico, pp. 65; table of contents for the complete work and list of plates, pp. (4); Juicio critico de los misterios de la Inquisicion, por un viajero, pp. xx; Defensa del editor de la obra titulada Los misterios de la Inquisicion, pp. 59. The last two items have separate title pages.

The NYP. copy has 25 plates lacking five mentioned in the list of plates, but including two which are not listed.

[SULLIVAN]. Biographical Sketch . . . of . . . Governor Hancock. See Hancock (J.), b. 1737, d. 1793, no. 30180, vol. 8. AAS., BA., C., H.

On the wrapper of the H. copy is the MS. note on the authority of Dr. Belknap, "Supposed to be written by James Sullivan Esq Attorney General of this Commonwealth."

Amory undoubtedly refers to this pamphlet in vol. 1, p. 276, of his "Life" of Sullivan, when he states that a "few days after the funeral, Sullivan published in the Chronicle an obituary of Hancock, which was also printed in separate form."

AAS., B., BA., BM., C., CU., H., HSP., JCB., M., MINNHS., NYH., NYP., P., PEAB., PRINCETON, WHS., Y. 93499

The printers having offered the author two hundred dollars for the copyright, which was issued in their names March 24, 1795, he "concluded to assign it over to the [Massachusetts] Historical Society," of which he was an original member. See letter from Sullivan quoted in Williamson's Maine, no. 9608, and Evans no. 29589.

The map has the following title: "A Map of the District of Maine, Drawn from the latest Surveys and other best Authorities by Osgood Carleton. Doolittle Sc. New-haven." There is also inset: "A Map of those parts of the Country most famous for being harrassed by the Indians, on and long after their first settlement; and more particularly treated of in Judge Sullivan's History of the District of Maine." At the top is the imprint: Engraved for Judge Sullivan's History of the District of Maine. Published by Thomas & Andrews. Boston, 1795.

The following index was probably published about the year 1915, the date when the AAS. copy was acquired by purchase from the publishers:

Index of Names and Places in Sullivan's District of Maine. The manuscript of this index was found in a copy of the above work formerly the property of John Wingate Thornton. Published by A. J. Huston—Portland, Maine. [n. d.] AAS., C., HEH., NYH., NYP., Y.

The MA. copy has an attribution to James Sullivan written in what is probably a contemporary hand.

Amory in vol. 1, p. 398, of his "Life" of Sullivan, states that the latter heartily approved of the French Revolution and contributed articles to the press on that subject over the signatures of Junius and Americanus.

Information regarding the 1785 edition supplied by George B. Utley.

Sullivan contributed the "Topographical Description of Georgetown in the County of Lincoln" to the Mass. Hist. Soc. "Collections," first ser., vol. 1, 1792, pp. 251-256; and, "Topographical Description of Thomaston, in the County of Lincoln, and District of Maine, 1794," to the same series, vol. 4, 1795, pp. 20-25; and, "History of the Penobscott Indians" to the same series, vol. 9, 1804, pp. 207-232. The first two articles are attributed to Sullivan in Amory, vol. 1, p. 395.

Sullivan and Tudor were counsel for the plaintiffs in an action instituted by the Society of Christian Independents, congregating in Gloucester, which was tried before the Supreme Judicial Court held at Ipswich, June, 1785, and it seems probable that Sullivan may have written the "Appeal" to the public published by that body, see our no. 27591, vol. 7. "Publick" in that entry should have been spelled "Public."

J. S. J. Gardiner's anonymous "Epistle to Zenas," [1786], AAS., NYP., note following no. 26624, vol. 7, was directed against Sullivan.

"Thoughts on the Political Situation," 1788, has been attributed to Sullivan. This is correctly entered under Jackson (Jonathan), no. 35441, vol. 9. AAS., B., BA., C., H., JCB., M., NYP. The NYP. copy has a presentation inscription of Jackson.

A Summarie and Trve Discovrse of Sir Frances Drakes West Indian Voyage. See Drake (Sir F.). Editions are located as follows: no. 20841, vol. 5, *London, R. For another issue of Field's edition, 1589, see the following:

pp. (4), 52, a list of errata forming the last line on p. 52. 4 folded maps. [A] in two, B-G in fours, H in two. 93588

Title from one of ten photostatic reproductions of the Christie-Miller copy of the work prepared for W. L. Clements, AAS, NYP.

On verso of title: "... this Discourse was dedicated, and intended to haue bene imprinted somewhat before the comming of the Spanish Fleete vpon our coast of England: but by casualtie the same was forgotten and slacked for a time of some better leasure."

The issue of the edition printed by Field entered as our no. 20842, omits the lines of the title relating to the maps and is without the line of errata on p. 52. Although in the Church Catalogue, no. 136, the errors are said to be corrected in the Church copy of the issue, now HEH., this is not the case in either the HEH. or NYP. copies. The HEH. copy includes the four maps, but the NYP. copy is without them. The Huth and Church catalogues consider the issue which has the lines relating to the maps the earlier of the two issues printed by Field, but as the errata had been noted in this issue it was probably later. Winsor, vol. 3, p. 82, thinks the issue without the maps the earlier, and he is followed by Henry Stevens, Son and Stiles, in their "Rare Americana," no. 5, p. 21. As the same plates were used as in the "Expedition," Leyden, 1588, see note below, they could very well have been ready for the first of the issues, and have been insufficient for all copies of the second issue, so that a new title page leaving out the reference to the maps might have been printed when the supply was running short. A few copies with the new title page might have been bound up with the remaining maps.

According to the dedication to the Earl of Essex which is signed by the editor, Thomas Cates, the work was begun by Captain Walter Bigges, and after his death was finished by "his Lieutenant Maister Croftes, or some other ..." It was entered at Stationers' Hall, Nov. 26, 1588. See Arber's "Transcript," vol. 2.

The account was first published in Latin, as "Expeditione Francisci Draki," Leyden, 1588, our no. 20828, vol. 5.

The maps accompanying the editions printed by both Field and Ward are from the plates of those included in the "Expedition," and in some cases have printed descriptions in English pasted at the foot. There are two editions of this letter press, one in five columns, and one in six. A fifth map not in the Leyden publication is sometimes bound with copies of the work, and is laid in the Lenox copy, being a mappemonde showing "The Famous West Indian voyage." Wilberforce Eames suggests that this may have been issued as an afterthought by one of the London publishers.

Copies of issues of the Field edition are located by the Short-Title Catalogue at BM., BODLEIAN, and the library of Sir R. L. Harmsworth.

For a German version, see our no. 20837.

Pasted on the verso of the title is a slip referring to the foregoing Summary Declaration of Faith.

A Summary description manifesting that greater profits are to be done in the hot than in the cold parts of the coast of America, Ternaux no. 786. See A Summary Description, our no. 86845, vol. 22. BM., HEH., JCB., NYP.

The collation of our entry did not include that of the "Advertissement" mentioned in the note and which was lacking in the NYP. copy there described. There should be twelve leaves in all, one leaf without signature, A in four, B in three, A (repeated) in four. From a statement on the recto of the second leaf of the "Summary Description" it appears that the "Advertissement" was first issued separately and reprinted to accompany this work. Facsimiles of the title pages of both the "Summary Description" and the "Advertissement" are in the Church Catalogue, no. 564.

Listed in the BM. catalogue under "Russian Navigators" with a queried attribution to Daines Barrington. Cushing attributes to Barrington, but it is possible that he confused this pamphlet with Barrington's "Probability of reaching the North Pole discussed," published with two supplements, in London in 1775-1776.

Meusel in his "Bibliotheca historica," vol. 3, pt. 2, 1788, p. 108, states that the author is De Val Travers.

Preface signed: Tribunus [Arthur Lee].

Norfolk edition from Evans, no. 13352.

Jefferson wrote to John W. Campbell, Sept. 3, 1809: "The Summary View was not written for publication. It was a draught I had prepared for a petition to the king, which I meant to propose in my place as member of the convention of 1774. Being stopped on the road by sickness, I sent it on to the Speaker, who laid it on the table for the perusal of the members. It was thought too strong for the times, and to become the act of the convention, but was printed by subscription of the members, with a short preface written by one of them. . . . See Ford's edition of Jefferson's "Writings," vol. 9, 1898, p. 258.

SURINAM.

The works entered below include the following:

I. Official Publications—1799.

II. Miscellaneous Publications, including anonymous works relating to Surinam and a few corporate entries, not elsewhere entered under author or title.

For other works relating to Surinam and Dutch Guiana, see Guiana.

Acknowledgment should be made of the assistance furnished by Mrs. Henri Crommelin in the preparation of the Dutch titles.

OFFICIAL PUBLICATIONS.

I. SOCIETEIT VAN SURINAM.

The Dutch West India Company, which had acquired the colony of Surinam from the commissioners of the States of Zeeland, in order to increase the capital for the enterprise, in 1683, sold one third of its holdings there to the city of Amsterdam, and one to Cornelis van Aessen, lord of Sommelsdijk. The syndicate thus formed was incorporated as the Societeit van Suriname. Later Sommelsdijk's share was bought by the city of Amsterdam. The Societeit went through a process of liquidation in 1791, but the nominal control of Surinam was left to its governor there until 1795, when the dependency was taken over directly by the Netherlands government, actual control under it being vested in a Committee of Twenty-one for the Possessions on the Guinea Coast and in America. Information as to later history supplied by William R. Shepherd, citing the following references: H. D. Benjamins' and J. F.

Snelleman's "Encyclopædie van Nederlandsch West-Indië," pp. 667-668; A. Zimmermann's "Die Kolonialpolitik der Niederländer," p. 167, passim, references, 301; "Dutch Guiana—Handbooks prepared under the direction of the Foreign Office," London, 1920, p. 9 199, references, 78—here the date (13) 1791 refers properly to the defunct new West India Company which till that date had retained one-third share, and not to the Societeit; also O. Van Rees' "Staatshuishoudkunde," vol. 2; and writings of A. J. Van der Meulen, with reference to Van de Spiegel.

AAS., BM., NYP. 93890

As this chap book was not advertised in Thomas's "Massachusetts Spy," in the VOL. XXIV.

year 1795, it seems probable that it was not printed by his firm, by his son, or by Leonard Worcester who was associated with Thomas in business. James R. Hutchins, the only other independent printer in Worcester in that year, was presumably responsible for it.

A Surprising Narrative of a Young Woman, discovered in a Rocky Cave, after having been taken by the savage Indians of the wilderness in the year 1777. New-York: [1787.] 12mo, pp. 9.

Title from Evans, who locates no copy. An edition of this narrative was advertised in the May 21, 1787, issue of the "Middlesex Gazette," printed by Woodward and Green, in Middletown, with title as follows:

An Account of A beautiful Young Lady, who was taken by the Indians and lived in the Woods Nine Years, and then was providentially returned to her Parent, &c.

Either this Middletown issue or the New York edition may have been the first, but in Benjamin West's "Bickerstaff's Almanack, for ... 1788," Norwich: Printed by J. Trumbull, AAS, CHS., NEWBERRY, NYH., NYF., which was probably printed in October, 1787, is a third edition for that year. It forms the last three leaves of the almanac, and is signed, "Abraham Panther," probably a pseudonym. It has the caption:

A surprising account of the Discovery of a Lady who was taken by the Indians in the year 1777, and after making her escape, she retired to a lonely Cave, where she lived nine years.

The narrative is probably fictitious.

For a reprint of the edition printed in "Bickerstaff's Almanack," supplemented by extracts from the Brookfield edition, 1800, and with a bibliographical introduction by R. W. G. Vail, see the "American Book Collector," vol. 2, 1932, pp. 165-172.

The following list of editions with varying titles is arranged chronologically.

A Very | Surprising Narrative, | of a | Young Woman, | discovered in a | Rocky-Cave, | after having been taken by the | Savage Indians of the Wilderness, | in the year 1777, | and seeing no Human Being for the space of nine years. | In a letter from a Gentleman to his Friend. | (Fifth Edition.) | New-York. | Printed for the Purchasers. | [1790?] | 12mo, pp. 11. C., WHS. 93892

Signed, "Abraham Panther." Title supplied by Annie A. Nunns.

A Very | Surprising Narrative | of a | Young Woman, | who was | Discovered in a rocky Cave; | after having been taken by the | Savage Indians of the Wilderness, | in the year 1777, | And seeing no human being for the space of | nine long years. | In a Letter from a gentleman to his friend. | Printed by Alden Spooner | — At his office in Windsor — | M.DCC.XCIV. | 12mo, pp. 11. WHS. 93893

Signed, "Abraham Panther." Title from a copy at the Dauber and Pine Bookshops in New York, June, 1931.

The whs. copy lacks the last leaf.

This is probably the edition described by Evans, no. 27471, with the title: An Extraordinary Account of a Young Woman ...

A Very Surprising Narrative of a Young Woman, discovered in a Rocky-Cave; after having been taken by the Savage Indians of the Wilderness, in the Year 1777, and seeing no human being for the space of nine years. In a Letter from a Gentleman to his Friend. Second Windsor Edition. [Windsor.] Printed by Alden Spooner . . . 1794. 16mo, pp. 12.

F.C.DEERING. 93894

Title from the catalogue of the G. W. Paullin sale at the American Art Association, April 2-3, 1929, lot no. 1293. The same copy apparently was sold at the George Manierre sale at the same auction rooms, Jan. 15-16, 1925, lot no. 311.

A Surprising Narrative of a Young Woman who was discovered in a Cave. After having been taken from her companions by the savage Indians. Second Windsor Edition. Windsor: Printed by Alden Spooner. 1795.

Title from Evans, no. 29276. "Perhaps same as above edition. Entry probably taken from an advertisement published in 1795 for an unsold remainder of the above edition or for a reprint of it with the 1795 date." See Vail's article, referred to above.

A very | Surprising Narrative | of a | Young Woman, | Who was discovered in the gloomy Mansion of a | Rocky Cave! | After having been taken from her Companion by the | Savage Indians of the Wilderness, | in the Year 1787, | And seeing no human Being for the space of 9 Years. | (In a Letter from a Gentleman to his Friend.) | Third Windsor Edition. | [Windsor, Vt.] Printed by Alden Spooner, 1796, and for sale at his Office. | (~~12~~ Price—four cents.) | 12mo, pp. 11.

HEH. 93896

Signed: "Abraham Panther." Title supplied by Willard O. Waters.

The third Windsor edition, 1796, with the same title, is listed in the ms. catalogue in AAS of the library of H. F. DePuy, with the collation: 12mo, pp. 9, and blank (1).

Advertised as "Just published, and now selling at this Office, the 3d Windsor Edition," in "Spooner's Vermont Journal," printed and published by Alden Spooner, in the issue of June 3, 1796. No advertisements of 1794 and 1795 editions, listed by Evans, have been found in the AAS files of Spooner's paper.

A Very surprising narrative of a young woman, who was discovered in a rocky cave; after having been taken by the savage Indians of the wilderness, in the year 1777, and seeing no human being for the space of nine years. Greenfield: Printed by Thomas Dickman. 1796.

Title from Evans, no. 30956, probably taken from an advertisement.

A Very surprising narrative of a young woman discovered in a rocky cave; after having been taken by the Indians, in the year 1777, and seeing no human being for the space of nine years. In a letter from a gentleman to his friend. Putney, (Vermont): Printed [by Cornelius Sturtevant jun. & Co.] for the Purchaser. M,DCC,XCVII. 12mo, pp. 12. + Rutland: Printed by Josiah Fay. 1797.

Titles from Evans, nos. 32637-32638.

The Putney edition is advertised in Sturtevant's Putney "Argus," in the issue for February 19, 1798.

The Rutland edition is advertised in a list of books "just from the Press and for sale at this Office," in the "Rutland Herald," printed by Josiah Fay, the issue for June 12, 1797.

A Very Surprising | Narrative | of [a] | Young Woman | Who was discovered in a rocky Cave, | after having been taken by | The Savage Indians of the Wilderness, | in the year 1777, | And seeing no human being for the space of | nine years. | In a Letter from a Gentleman to his Friend. | Printed and sold at the Printing Office
in Augusta. | [1798?] 12mo, pp. 12. F.C.DEERING. 93899

Signed: Abraham Panther.

Peter Edes, printer of the "Kennebeck Intelligencer," published his paper with the imprint, Hallowell, from 1795 to March 18, 1797. At about this time, the town was divided and the northern part was called Harrington. In June of the same year the name was again changed to Augusta, which name appears in the imprint of the "Intelligencer" beginning with the issue of June 30. In July, 1799, the place of publication is again called Hallowell. See Brigham's "Bibliography of American Newspapers" in Am. Antiq. Soc. "Proceedings," vol. 24, 1914, p. 419.

Title from a facsimile included in the catalogue for the Braislis sale at the Anderson Galleries, March 21-22, 1927, lot no. 1015.

A | Surprising Narrative | of a | Young Woman | discovered | in | a Cave | in the | Wilderness, | after having been taken | by the |
Savage Indians, | and seeing no human being for the | space of nine years. | In a | Letter. | By a Gentleman to his Friend. | Leominster:
Printed for Chapman Whitcomb, | By Charles Prentiss. | [1799?]
12mo, pp. 12. AAS., F.C.DEERING. 93900

Signed: Abraham Panther.

The pamphlet was probably printed between 1795 and 1799. Charles Prentiss began printing in Leominster at the first date, and his second newspaper, the "Political Focus," apparently ceased publication in December, 1799. The last number located is that for Dec. 5. It was succeeded on Jan. 2, 1800, by the "Telescope," published by Adams and Wilder. On Sept. 9, 1801, Prentiss's name appeared on the imprint of the "Washington Federalist," Georgetown, D. C. See Brigham's "Bibliography of American Newspapers," in Am. Antiq. Soc. "Proceedings," vol. 23, 1913, p. 351, and vol. 25, 1915, pp. 419-420. Clark in his "Notes on Chapman Whitcomb," 1911, p. 14, states that except for what appears to be a second edition of the "Narrative of the Captivity of John Vandike," 1801, probably the date of none of the Whitcomb chap-books can be fixed nearer than "about 1800."

A Very Surprising Narrative of a Young Woman who was discovered in a Cave, after having been taken by the Indians in the year 1777, And seeing no Human Being for the space of Nine Years. F.C.DEERING, HEH., NEWBERRY. 93905

Title supplied by Willard O. Waters.

The only printer mentioned in Cutter's "History of the Town of Jaffrey," 1881, is Salmon Wilder. By referring to the card file at NYP. of imprints arranged by place, we find that he could not have carried on his trade there for more than four years. In August, 1812, he printed T. T. Barton's "Fast Sermon" in Leominster, Mass.; in 1813 he printed Samuel Litch's "Concise Treatise of Rhetoric" at Jaffrey; and, in August, 1816, he printed an edition of Noah Worcester's "Solemn Reasons" in New Ipswich, N. H.

Dedication signed: Thos. Sutcliffe.

H., NYH., NYP., WLC., Y. 93946

Contains extracts from several works relating to the islands.

Although called vol. 1 in the table of contents, we have been unable to locate a copy of a second volume. However, in the catalogue for the sale of February 2, 1927, at the American Art Association, lot no. 287, a copy is described as follows: "2 vols. 8vo, Original Printed Wrappers. Manchester, 1843-1844. Scarce in parts." This copy was sold to E. H. Wells, the New York bookseller, but its present location is not known.

The pp. 19-34, viii, (2), at the end are the final pages of the author's "Exposition of Facts relating to the Rise and Progress of the Woollen, Linen and Cotton Manufactures of Great Britain," 1843. Pp. 19-34 contain commendatory notices of Sutcliffe's works; pp. viii, a list of subscribers, and the final unnumbered leaf, which is lacking in the H., NYP. and WLC. copies, an additional list of subscribers.

In some copies the imprint reads Printed by Grant and Co., instead of Printed by P. Grant. NYH.

C. and Y. have copies of another issue with the following collation: 8vo, added engraved title and pp. vi, 207, 7 plates, 2 portraits, and map. The last page is mis-numbered 195. See the C. card for appended matter in that issue.

BM., BODLEIAN and FAC.ADV. have copies of one or other of the issues.

"This would seem to be the earliest account of the United States as seen through the eyes of a Russian." See Yarmolinsky's "Picturesque United States of America 1811, 1812, 1813, being a Memoir on Paul Svinin," 1930, p. 17.

According to Yarmolinsky, p. 18, the second Russian edition differs from the first "only in typography, and in being better proof read."

For German and Dutch translations, see Malerische Reise, above, and Tafereelen, below.

Svin'in published a supplement to the above, dealing mostly with the progress of the arts in this country, in "Otechestvennyya zapiski," of which he was the editor, vol. 38, 1829, pp. 145-164, 289-312, and vol. 39, 1829, pp. 181-193.

BM. attributes a "Sketch of the Internal Condition of the United States," 1826, our no. 63732, vol. 15, to Svin'in. The author is more probably Pierre Poletica, who is known to have expressed to John Quincy Adams an intention of publishing a statistical account of the United States. The dates of the author's residence in this country, which are mentioned in the preface, exactly correspond to the years Poletica spent here. See Adams' "Memoirs," vol. 2, p. 406, vol. 4, 370, and vol. 5, 498.

Title from Evans.

Acknowledgment should be made of assistance furnished by the forthcoming bibliography of James Swan, now being prepared by Howard C. Rice. This includes a number of titles of less historical interest, and others not yet located.

SWAN (James G[ilchrist]). . . . The Haidah Indians of Queen Charlotte's Islands, British Columbia. With a brief description of their carvings, tattoo designs, etc. By James G. Swan, Port Townsend, Washington Territory. (Accepted for publication, January, 1874.) [Verso of title:] Philadelphia: Collins, Printer, 705 Jevne Street. 4to, pp. iii, 18. 7 plates.

With heading, "Smithsonian Contributions to Knowledge. 267," in which collection it forms article 4 of vol. 21, 1876.

This and the following title are included because of cross references from Smithsonian Institution. These works are of a later period than that now covered by this Dictionary. Other later works by this author are not included.

SWAN. . . . The Indians of Cape Flattery, at the entrance to the Strait of Fuca, Washington Territory. By James G. Swan. (Accepted for publication, June 1868.) [Verso of title:] Collins, Printer, Philadelphia. [Colophon:] Published by the Smithsonian Institution Washington City, March, 1870. 4to, pp. ix, 108.

C., NYH., NYP. 94013

In MS. on flyleaf of NYP. copy: "Sam'l Longfellow with the kindest wishes of his friend J. A. S."

The above title, of a later period than that now covered by this Dictionary, is included because of a cross reference from title to Swan (J. R.).

[SWAN (Timothy)]? The Federal Harmony: in three parts. Part I. An introduction to the art of singing. Part II. A large collection of psalm tunes. Part III. Select anthems, &c. Compiled for the use of schools and singing societies. . . . Boston: Printed by John Norman, 1785. Oblong 8vo. 94014

Title from Evans, who has apparently taken it from an advertisement.

Metcalf considers the attribution to Swan of the editions of this work as possible, but mentions Evans as his authority. See his "American Writers and Compilers of Sacred Music," 1925, p. 107. It is quite a different compilation from Swan's New England Harmony, see below.

[SWAN]? The | Federal Harmony. | In Three Parts. | Containing, | I. An Introduction to the Grounds of Musick. | II. A large Collection of celebrated Psalm and Hymn Tunes from the most approved ancient and modern | Authors; together with several new ones, never before published: suited to all Metres usually sung in Churches. | III. Select Anthems &c. &c. | Compiled for the Use of Schools and Singing Societies. | . . . | Boston: Printed for the Editor, and Sold by John Norman at his Office near Oliver's Dock. | [1788?] Oblong 12mo, pp. 17, (1), 18-131.

Engraved music.

AAS., M. 94015

According to Evans, Norman was at this address from 1788-89, only.

[SWAN]? The | Federal Harmony: | In Three Parts. | Containing, | I. An Introduction to the Grounds of Musick. | II. A large Collection of celebrated Psalm and Hymn Tunes from the most approved ancient and modern | Authors: Together with several new ones, never before published: Suited to all Metres usually sung in Churches. | III. Select Anthems, &c. &c. | Compiled for the Use of Schools and Singing Societies. | . . . | Boston: Printed and Sold by John Norman at his Office No. 75, Newbury-street. MDCCXC. | Oblong 12mo, pp. 114. AAS., B., C. 94016

On p. 114: Finis.

Evans locating a copy at RHA. gives the collation as pp. 128.

[SWAN]? The Federal Harmony. [Title and imprint as above.] MDCCXCII. Oblong 12mo, pp. 130. AAS. 94017

Evans lists also a 1794 edition issued by the same publisher, pp. 100, but gives no location.

SWAN. New England Harmony. Containing, A variety of Psalm Tunes, in Three and Four Parts, Adapted to all Metres: Also, a number of Set Pieces, of Several Verses. Together with a number of Anthems. By Timothy Swan. Published According to Act of Congress. Printed at Northampton, Massachusetts, By Andrew Wright: And Sold at his Office:—Sold also at Suffield, in Connecticut, by the Author. 1801. Oblong 12mo, pp. 103, (1). AAS., B., C., H., HEH., M., NYP., Y. 94018

SWAN. The | Songster's Assistant: | Containing | a Variety of the Best Songs, | set to Music in two Parts. | Most of the Music | never before published. | By T. Swan. | [Vignette.] | Suffield. Printed by Swan and Ely. | [1800?] 8vo, pp. 36.

AAS., B., Y. 94019

The vignette is a spiral musical design in the form of a trumpet, containing "A Cannon for two Voices by Swan," A Ely Sculpt.

The book must have been printed between 1797 and 1807 as printing was begun in Suffield at the former date, and Swan moved to Northfield in the latter year. Its appearance warrants the queried date 1800 or an earlier one. See Brigham's "Bibliography of American Newspapers" in Am. Antiq. Soc. "Proceedings," vol. 23, 1913, p. 327, and Metcalf's "American Writers and Compilers of Sacred Music," 1925, p. 105.

The whole work is engraved, Swan's name appearing at the head of the songs composed by him, which form the largest part of the collection.

[SWAN]. The Songster's Museum; or, a Trip to Elysium. A Selection of the most approved Songs, Duets, &c. Now in use, with the notes, many of which were never before Published. . . . Printed at Northampton, Massachusetts. By Andrew Wright. For S. and E. Butler. Sold at their Bookstores. 1803. 12mo, pp. 204.

C., NEWBERRY. 94022

Copyrighted by Christopher C. Dean in 1837. Mrs. Swanton's narrative, which forms pp. 25-48 in the first edition, had previously appeared as an appendix to Cotton Mather's anonymous "Humiliations followed with Deliverances," 1697, and in his "Magnalia," 1702, book 6, pp. 10-14. In both of Mather's works the name appears as "Swarton."

Hannah Swanton's captivity is also included in Henry White's "Indian Battles," New York, cop. 1859. According to the Newberry Library's "Narratives of Captivity," 1912, White's compilation was first published with title: "The Early History of New England," Concord, N. H., 1841.

"This is sometimes erroneously attributed to Matthew Carey; but it is more probably written by John Swanwick, of whom, in a large measure, it is a defence."—Evans.

[SWANWICK]. (Circular.) Philadelphia, September 22, 1797. Sir, Previous to my entering on a detail of what relates to my own transactions, which will form the subject of this letter, it may not be amiss to premise some observations on the state of the commerce of the United States in general in 1796, which will have a tendency to throw light on the causes of the very extraordinary misfortunes which have befallen me in the course of it. . . . [Philadelphia. 1797.] 8vo, pp. 6, 8-13. 2 folded tables. C., HSP., JCB. 94023

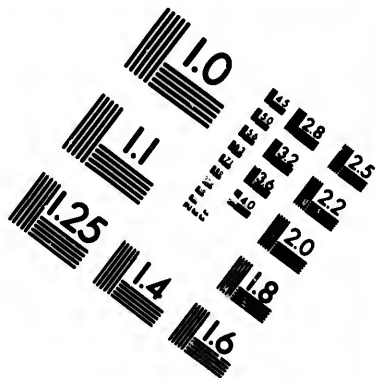

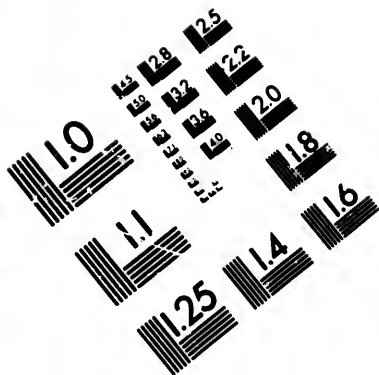

Caption title.

Signed on p. 5: J. Swanwick.

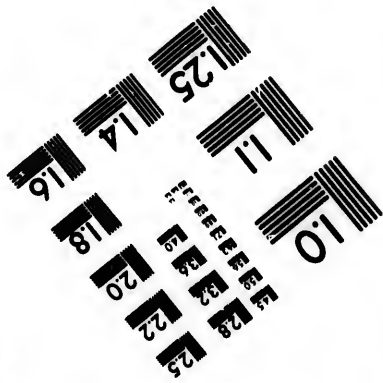

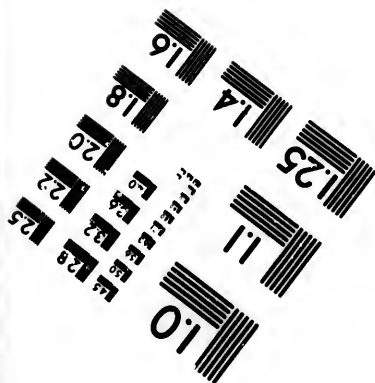

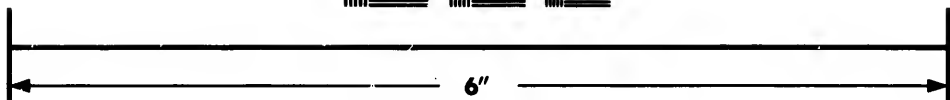

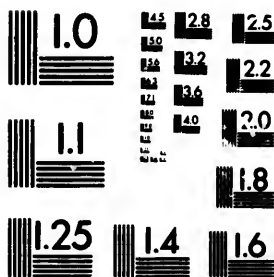

The folded tables follow pp. 6 and 13, and are numbered "7" and "13" respectively.

AAS., BM., BU., H., HEH., HSP., NYH., NYP. 94025

Swanwick was the author of "Thoughts on Education," Philadelphia, 1787. c., CU., HSP., JCB., P.

Evans attributes the authorship of "A Rub from Snub," 1795, no. 85597, vol. 21, AAS., BA., BM., C., HEH., HSP., JCB., NYH., NYP., and "A Roaster," 1796, no. 14031, vol. 4, AAS., C., JCB., NYH., to Swanwick. Cobbett in his "Works," vol. 4, 1801, states that internal evidence shows that the two pamphlets are by the same author, but we have been unable to find any proof that Swanwick wrote them. Cobbett's letter to Swanwick included in Mackenzie's "An Answer to Paine's Rights of Man," 1796, pp. 93-96, would suggest that he thought they were written by a "Scotch Runaway" in Swanwick's pay.

SWEETING (Whiting). The Narrative of Whiting Sweeting, Who was executed at Albany, August 26, 1791. Containing ... [Lansingburgh. Printed by Silvester Tiffany. 1791.] Pp. 72.

Advertised as being prepared for the press in Tiffany's "American Spy" for Sept. 2, 1791, and in this issue called the "Writings of Whiting Sweeting."

The Narrative was also advertised in the Spy for Nov. 4, 1791, as "Now selling at this Office and Webster's Printing-Office in Albany, price 1s3. ... (72 close pages, in small type)." The title is essentially the same as that in the other editions, and is followed by: "Extract from the advertisement annexed to the above narrative. The unfortunate Whiting Sweeting, having confidence in my promise, left with me his narrative, for publication; his injunctions have been strictly adhered to, as will appear on comparing with the copy. No other person has had his writings, nor an opportunity of transcribing therefrom. (Signed) Silvester Tiffany."

The following editions are arranged chronologically, those of the same year being listed alphabetically according to place of printing.

SWETLAND (Luke), b. 1729, d. 1823. A Narrative of the Captivity of Luke Swetland, in 1778 and 1779, among the Seneca Indians. Written by himself. Waterville, N. Y.: James J. Guernsey, Printer, Times Office. 1875. 8vo, pp. 38, (1).

AAS., B., H., NEWBERRY. 94055

Beginning of preface: "The following narrative of Luke Swetland, copied from an original pamphlet, the only one known to the writer, is reprinted for distribution among his kinsman [sic], merely from motives of family interest. This copy and a memorandum book of John Swetland, Luke's father, who lived in Lebanon, Conn., in 1700, have fallen into the possession of the writer as heirlooms, through Benjamin Swetland, son of John, Jr., and the writer's mother, Rosanna Swetland Osborn, Benjamin's second daughter. Most of the original manuscript, from which the printed narrative is copied, is still in possession of Luke's descendant, Caroline M. Swetland, the daughter of the late Hon. William Swetland, and wife of Payne Pettibone, Esq., of Wyoming." Appendix signed on p. 38: A. O. Osborn.

No copy of the earlier edition can at present be located, but according to Charles Miner's "History of Wyoming," 1845, appx. p. 20, it was published at Hartford, a copy being in his own possession.

This edition adds material from another manuscript of Luke Swetland in the possession of the family, also Genealogical Notes by Osborn, the editor, pp. 34-38.

A Reply to J. T. Austin's "Remarks," our no. 2414, vol. 1.

The AAS. copy was presented by the author to J. W. Thornton, and has a ms. inscription by the latter, stating on Col. Swett's authority that the work was originally published in the "Boston Daily Advertiser."

SWETT. Historical and Topographical Sketch of Bunker Hill Battle, with a Plan. By S. Swett. [Boston. 1818.] 12mo, pp. 104. B., BA., C., NYP. 94058

A separate from David Humphreys' "Essay on the Life of ... Israel Putnam," 1818, pp. 173-276.

None of the located copies contains the plan.

For later editions, see History, below.

For remarks on the Sketch, see [Child (D. L.)], no. 12696, vol. 4, AAS., BA., BM., C., CU., H., M., and Fellows (J.), no. 24022, vol. 6, AAS., B., BA.

Folded map.

AAS., B., C., H., HSP., M., NYH., NYP., WLC., Y. 94059

The second issue of the author's "Notes to his Sketch of Bunker-Hill Battle," with separate title page and imprint, is bound with this edition in its original printed covers, forming the last 30 pp. On the inside of the back and front covers, are printed "Fragments of works of which the author wishes the remainder." These are included in the text of the following edition.

SWETT. History of Bunker Hill Battle. With a plan. By S. Swett. Third Edition. With notes and likenesses of the principal officers. Boston: Munroe and Francis, 128 Washington-Street. 1827. 8vo, pp. 58, 34. Folded map. AAS., B., BA., BM., H., HEH., M., MINNHS., NYH., NYP., UTEX., WHS., WLC. 94060

The third issue of the author's "Notes to his Sketch of Bunker-Hill Battle," with separate title page and imprint, is bound with this edition in its original wrappers, forming the 34 pp. at the end. None of the copies examined contained the likenesses. Evidently there were none issued. The H. copy which was the gift of the author has a line drawn through the word, and this is the case in the B. copy which formerly belonged to the author and has ms. alterations.

SWETT. Notes to his Sketch of Bunker-Hill Battle. By S. Swett. Boston: Munroe and Francis, 128 Washington, corner of Water Street. Dec. 1825. 8vo, pp. 24. AAS., B., NYH., NYP. + [Same title, imprint and date]. 8vo, pp. 30. AAS., C., NYH. + [Same title, imprint and date]. 8vo, pp. 34. AAS., M., NYH., NYP. 94061

These editions are, in the main, from the same setting of type. The 24 page issue was published separately. The later issues contain additional material and corrections, and were bound in the original wrappers with the second and third editions respectively of the author's "History of Bunker-Hill Battle."

Issues are located also at BA., HEH., HSP., PRINCETON, UTEX., WBS., Y.

[SWETT]. Return of an Old Man to his Native Place. No. III. [Boston? 1836.] 12mo, pp. (6). B. 94062

The B. copy is included in a small volume with the presentation inscription of S. Swett, which also contains mounted clippings of nos. 1, 2 and 4, either taken from proof, or from a periodical. All four are signed: Senex.

Possibly no. 3 was the only one issued separately.

Swett also published several works with historical interest after 1840.

SWIETEN (Gerard), freiherr van. The | Diseases | incident to | Armies. | With the | Method of Cure. | Translated from the Original of | Baron Van Swieten, | Physician to their Imperial Majesties. | To which are Added; | The Nature and Treatment, | of | Gun-shot Wounds. | By John Ranby, Esquire; Surgeon general | to the British Army. | Likewise, | some brief directions, to be | observed by sea surgeons | in engagements. | Also, | preventatives of the scurvy at sea. | By William Northcote, Surgeon, | many years in the sea-service. | Published, for the Use of Military, and Naval Surgeon[s] | in America. | Philadelphia: | Printed, and Sold, by R. B., BA., C., H., HSP., JCB., NYAM., NYH., NYP., P. 94063

Northcote's work has continuous pagination, pp. 113-164, and signatures, but a separate title page as follows:

Extracts | from the | Marine Practice | of | Physic and Surgery. | with some brief directions to be | observed by sea-surgeons | in engagements, &c. | By Willima Northcote, Surgeon, | many years in the sea-service. | Including, | The Nature and Treatment, | of | Gun-shot Wounds. | By John Ranby, Esquire; surgeon general | to the British Army. | Philadelphia: | Printed and Sold, by R. Bell, in Third-Street. | MDCCLXXVI. |

Another edition was printed in Boston the following year, B., C., CU., JOHNCRERAR, M., NYAM., NYP.

On p. 164 is a notice by the publisher stating that he will shortly bring out a new edition of "Plain Concise Practical Remarks, on the Treatment of Wounds and Fractures," by John Jones, our no. 36524, vol. 9. One of the AAS. copies of van Swieten's work is bound in an apparently original binding, with Jones's treatise following. A copy in AML. is similarly bound.

SWIFT (E[lisha] P[oep]). A Memoir of the Rev. Joseph W. Contains several references to trade with the Spanish West Indies and Peru.

According to Nichols' edition of Swift's "Works," vol. 5, 1812, p. 255, the first edition was published Nov. 27, 1711. Seven English editions and a French and a Spanish translation were issued during 1711 and 1712. Of these all but the third English edition are at BM. NYP. has several editions. Reprinted, Oxford, 1916. Improved title of no. 15200, vol. 4.

[SWIFT]. Some Remarks on the Barrier Treaty, between Her Majesty and the States-General. By the author of The Conduct of the Allies. The FAC.ADV. catalogue lists a London, 1711, edition, but this is probably an error since, according to Nichols' edition of Swift's "Works," vol. 6, 1812, p. 1, the remarks were not written until 1712.

SWINDRAGE (Theodore)], supposed author. Great Probability of a North West Passage. See no. 28460, vol. 7. AAS., C., NYP.

Meusel's "Bibliotheca Historica," vol. 3, pt. 2, 1788, p. 104, attributes the authorship to "Theodori Swindrage." However, this is evidently a garbled form of the name. Rich thinks it probable that the above work and the "Account of a Voyage for the Discovery of a North-West Passage . . . by the Clerk of the California," 1748-1749, no. 20808, vol. 5, c., H., NYP., were written by the same author. Barrow in his "Chronological History of Voyages into the Arctic Regions," 1818, pp. 287-288, and Winsor, vol. 8, p. 111, state that the name of the clerk of the California was Drage. Sabin enters the "Account" under Theodore Swaine Drage, and Allibone both titles under William Drage or Dragge.

A SWISS, pseud. Great Britain's Right to Tax her Colonies. See no. 28437, vol. 7. BM., C., NYH., NYP., P.

Hildeburn, no. 3310, attributes the work to Johann Joachim Zubly on the authority of Miller's Pennsylvanischer Staatsbote, Oct. 20, 1775.

Our previous entry gives two editions, London, 1774, and Philadelphia, n. d. An examination of the three copies of the supposed Philadelphia edition at P. shows them to be identical with the copy of the London edition at the same library, except that they lack the title page. Pp. 1-2, following the London title page, form a half title which is the first leaf of the supposed Philadelphia edition. The C., NYH., and NYP. copies also begin with this half title, and it is probable that copies imported from England were sold in America without the title page.

[SYDNEY (John)], pseud.? . . . [Beginning of text:] According to my Promise I shall now lay before the Reader such Alterations, with respect to the Government of New-York Colony, as may be highly advantageous to all the inhabitants. . . . [New York? Printed by John Peter Zenger? 173-?] Folio, pp. 5. NYH. 94092

A one line quotation from Cicero forms the heading.

Signed: John Sidney.

The following title was probably intended as a preface to this tract. The author concludes in a similar manner: "In this Paper I have express'd my Sentiments with that Freedom which becomes a Briton."

Although not specifically answering Cosby's speech of April 25, 1734, this is probably the tract which Evans, no. 3841, describes as follows:

Reply to the Speech of Governor Cosby. By Sydney. New-York: Printed by John Peter Zenger. 1734.

Written in the handwriting of Henry F. DePuy in the margin of p. 1 in the NYH. copy: "Printed by Zenger."

Not listed in Rutherford's "John Peter Zenger," 1904.

[SYDNEY], pseud.? . . . [New York. Printed by John Peter Zenger. 173-?] Folio, pp. (4). NYP. 94093

On the necessity of changes in government.

A one line quotation from Tertullian, and another from Cicero form the heading. Pp. [2] and [3] are blank.

Signed: John Sydney.

Listed under 1732 in Rutherford's "John Peter Zenger," 1904, p. 144, with the following note: "The above is the description of the only copy [NYP.] known. It is evidently a proof and it was probably the intention to issue the sheet as a single leaf, printed on both sides."

It is undoubtedly proof because there are many ms. corrections, but it seems probable from the following statements in the final paragraph that it was intended for a preface to the tract entered above, rather than for a separate broadside. "In Consequence of these Principles, which I think are undubitably just and true, I shall lay before my Readers such Alterations, as I concieve [sic] may be either necessary or convenient with respect to New-York Colony. This I shall do with all Submission and Deference to Gentlemen of superior Understanding, and at the same Time speak with that Freedom and Impartiality which becomes a Briton."

Copies are also located by Thacher in the Trivulzio Library at Milan, the former Royal Library at Madrid, and the Royal Library of Denmark, see his "Christopher Columbus," vol. 2, p. 215.

In transcribing the title, the abbreviations printed in the original have been spelled out in italics, following the usage of Wilberforce Eames in the reprints included in "The Letter of Columbus ... printed by order of the Trustees of the Lenox Library," 1892.

The dedication to Sforza is dated on the verso of the first leaf: "Ex Papia idibus decembris. 1494." A letter to Alphonso di Cavalleria on the verso of the final leaf bears the same date.

The earliest published account of Columbus' second voyage. James Lenox states, in his introduction to the reprint of the work entered below, that while Niccolò Scillacio was lecturing on philosophy at the University of Pavia in 1494, Guglielmo Coma, "a noble personage, wrote to him from Spain, describing the discoveries recently made by Columbus. These letters he immediately translated into Latin, inserting such other accounts as were then universally current." As Scillacio was living with Giovanni Antonio Birreta at this time, see first line of second page of the dedication, and the latter had printed in connection with Francesco Girardhengi, it is generally supposed that the account was printed by Girardhengi in December, 1494, or in the early part of 1495. Thacher, however, is inclined "From the peculiarities presented by certain letters ... to assign it to the press of Aloysius de Coma and Bartholomæus de Trottis, who printed in partnership at Pavia in the year 1497," op. cit. vol. 2, p. 222. See Harriette's "Bibliotheca Americana Vetustissima," no. 16; Ronchini's "Intorno ad un rarissimo opuscolo," 1856, BM., NVII., NYP.; and his "Niccolò Scillacio," 1875, which also appeared in "Atti e Memorie delle RR. Deputazioni di storia patria per le provincie modenesi e parmensi," vol. 8, 1876, pp. 185-196; Merkel's "L'opuscolo 'De Insulis nuper inventis' del messinese Niccolò Scillacio" in "Memorie del R. Istituto Lombardo di Scienze e Lettere," vol. 20, 1896, pp. 167-253; Fumagalli's "Una novissima riproduzione dell' opuscolo di Niccolò Scillacio" in "Bibliofilia," vol. 2, 1901, pp. 205-216; and Thacher's "Christopher Columbus," vol. 2, 1903, pp. 213-262.

Facsimile reproductions were issued in Florence in 1900, H., NYP., and by Edward Bierstadt in New York in 1903, NYP.

A facsimile reprint from the NYP. copy and Mulligan's English translation, with a translation of Dr. Chanca's letter, appear in Thacher's "Christopher Columbus," vol. 2, 1903, pp. 223-281. Thacher omits the translation of the letter to Cavallarje, which appears on the verso of the last leaf in the original.

SYLLACIUS. Nicolaus Syllacius De Insulis Meridiani atque Indici Maris Nuper Inventis. With a Translation into English by the Rev. John Mulligan, A.M. New York. 1859. 4to, pp. xviii, 105, (1), lxiii. Frontispiece portrait.

AAS., H., M., NYAM., NYH., NYP. 94096

Binder's title: "Opusculum De Insulis Nuper Inventis." On verso of title: "Only 102 copies printed. 2 in folio. 100 in quarto." Edited by James Lenox.

Contents: Introduction; signed by J[ames] L[enox], pp. vii-xviii; ... De Insulis Nuper Inventis, printed in black letter, with a Translation into English, pp. 99; Notes by the English Translator, pp. 101-105; Appendix A., translation of Dr. Chanca's Letter [describing the same voyage], pp. xxxiv; Appendix B., Bibliographical notice of the early accounts of Columbus' Voyages, pp. xxxv-lxii.

In some copies the vignette on the verso of p. 105 is a bunch of fruit, and in others it depicts two female figures blowing trumpets.

Reissued in 1860 with the following on verso of title: "Only 152 copies printed. 2 in folio. 150 in quarto." NYH., NYP. This issue has vignettes of fruit on the verso of the second and third leaves, which do not appear in the 1859 issue. No other differences were noticed. One of the NYP. copies has two title pages, one dated 1859 and the other 1860, and the portrait duplicated.

Mr. Lenox published an account of Columbus' letter to Luis de Santangel in the "Historical Magazine," vol. 8, 1864, pp. 289-290, which was reprinted separately as a supplement to the Lenox edition of Syllacius. See Colombo (Cristoforo), no. 14641, vol. 4.

SYLVIE (Edouard).

Appleton has a biographical sketch of this author, listing four publications by him. According to J. H. Barnhart's "Some Fictitious Botanists [in Appleton]" in the "Journal of the New York Botanical Garden," vol. 20, 1919, pp. 171-181, there was no such author. Barnhart states that Appleton's sketch is a "much garbled account, with changes of names and dates, and distortion of other facts, of the life of Louis Feuillée (1660-1732), of whom a more or less reliable account appears in its proper place in the same cyclopedia."

SYMMEs. Lovewell Lamented. | Or, A | Sermon | Occasion'd by the Fall | Of the Brave | Capt. John Lovewell | And Several of his | Valiant Company, | In the late | Heroic Action | at Piggwacket. | Pronounc'd at Bradford, May 16 1725 | By Thomas Symmes, V.D.M. | . . . | Boston in New-England: | Printed by B. Green Junr. for S. Gerrish, | near the Brick Meeting House in Cornhill. | 1725. | 8vo, pp. (4), xii, 32.

AAS., B., C., EI., H., HEH., M., NYP. 94107

Half title: "Historical Memoirs of the Battle at Piggwacket."

Lovewell had been authorized by the General Court of Massachusetts in November, 1724, to engage in retaliatory warfare against the Indians who had been harrying the settlements in the district of Maine. He with his company started on this his third expedition in the middle of April, 1725, and on the 9th of May, according to the official despatches, engaged in the disastrous battle here described, in which the leader and about a third of his men were killed. Governor Dummer received word on the 13th of the month, and on the 17th the news appeared in the "Boston Gazette." Symmes received information from the stragglers returning to neighboring towns, and preached his sermon on the 16th. See Winsor, vol. 5, 1887, pp. 431-432, and Kidder's "Expeditions of Capt. John Lovewell," 1865.

On June 24th, 1725, Gerrish advertises in the "Boston News-Letter," that "There is now in the Press, and will Speedily be Published, A Sermon by the Rev. Mr. Symmes of Bradford, Occasioned by the much Lamented Death of Capt John Lovewell . . .", and on July 1st it is announced as published on that day. In the "New-England Courant" he again advertises on July 10 without mentioning the earlier edition, "In a few Days will be publish'd, The Rev. Mr. Symmes's Sermon . . ." On July 15th he announces in the "News-Letter" that "The First Impression of the Rev. Mr. Symmes's Sermon . . . being Sold off in a few days: This is to give Notice, That a Second Impression, Corrected & Enlarged, is now just out of the Press." The "Courant" of the 17th also has an advertisement of the "Second Edition enlarged." For bibliographical notes, see S. A. Green in Mass. Hist. Soc. "Proceedings," 2d ser., vol. 11, 1896-97, pp. 179-182.

Contents: An Historical Preface, or Memoirs of the Battle, at Piggwackett, signed by T. Symmes, pp. i-xii, followed on the last page by an attestation signed by three of the members of the company, and a list of the killed and wounded; The Brave Lovewell, and several of his Company Lamented [Symmes's sermon], pp. 32.

AAS. B., BA., EI., HEH., JCB., M., NYP. 94108

Half title: "Historical Memoirs of the Fight at Piggwackett, &c."

This edition is from a different setting of type from that of the first edition. There are a few minor changes, a note being added on p. 2, which should have been numbered ii; and the name of Isaac Lakin being substituted for that of John Gilson in the list of the company, see pp. iv and viii, etc.

SYMMES. The | History | of the | Fight | of the intrepid | Captain John Lovell, | which took place | On the Eighth day of May, 1725, | on the beach of Lovell's Pond, in | Fryeburgh, | In the District of Maine. | Together with the | Commemoration Sermon, | delivered | By the Rev. Mr. T. Symmes. | Published according to Act of Congress. | Printed at Fryeburg, by and for | Elijah Russell. | 1799. | 12mo, pp. 60.

AAS., M., NHHS. 94109

The NHHS. copy lacks the title page and pp. 57-60, and the M. copy lacks pp. 57-60.

This edition contains an Introduction by the printer, pp. iii-viii, in which he sketches the history of the settlement at Fryeburg "in the country, vulgarly called Pigwacket." He also makes a plea for the support of his newly established printing press, and promises "if every Head of a Family in Pigwacket will say, This Press shall have my support, I will take the Newspaper, and now and then buy my children a 'Friendly Monitor,' a 'Lovell's Fight,' or some other little book . . . the Press in Pigwacket should not stop until the owner became blind, or (worse) turn'd Jacobin!" The Introduction is followed by "The Ancient Preface," pp. ix-xii, and "Lovell's Fight," pp. 13-25, both made up from Symmes's "Historical Preface, or Memoirs of the Battle, at Piggwackett," in the 1725 editions, but not following the original exactly in wording or in order, and even introducing a new incident, the slaying of the Indian chief Paugus by John Chamberlain, etc. Calvin W. Lewis in the "Oxford County Advertiser" for June 17, 1898, and in a series of articles published in the "Oxford Democrat" from May, 1899, to December, 1900, shows that this episode is not found in any contemporary accounts of the battle, and doubts its authenticity. The reprint of the sermon, pp. 26-59, is also somewhat inaccurate, omits pp. 29-32 of the earlier editions and adds a new paragraph. On p. 60 are proposals for printing an arithmetic by John M'Millen and Vere Royse of Fryeburg.

SYMM[E]S. A Brief History of the Battle which was fought on the 8th of May, 1725, between Capt. John Lovell, with his associates, and a body of Indians under the command of Paugus, sachem of the Pigwacket tribe. By T. Symms, Pastor of a church in Bradford, Mass. Portland: Printed by A. & J. Shirley. 1818. 12mo, pp. 19.

C., NYH., NYP. 94110

Contents: "Preliminary Remarks," dated "Fryeburg, April 8th, 1818," pp. 3-6, which give an account of the settlement of Fryeburg and a description of the grammar school there; "Preface," pp. 7-8; and "A Brief History of the Battle," pp. 9-19, both of which are apparently based on the Fryeburg, 1799, edition.

SYMMES. Historical Memoirs of the Late Fight at Piggwacket, With extracts from a sermon occasioned by the fall of the brave Captain John Lovewell, and several of his valiant company, in the late heroic action there. Pronounced at Bradford, May 16, 1725. By Thomas Symmes, v.D.M. Boston: Printed for N. Coverly. 1819. 12mo, pp. 24. 94111

A photostat reproduction of the above, lacking pp. 9-12, is at NYP., with no note as to the copy from which it is taken.

Contents: "Preface," p. 2, in which the publisher states that he is trying to cultivate in "the rising generation" a taste for biography; "Historical Memoirs of the Fight at Piggwacket," pp. 3-15, which is a reprint from the second edition of 1725, a few words being modernized; "Extracts from the Sermon," pp. 16-24.

SYMMES. The Original Account of Capt. John Lovewell's "Great Fight" with the Indians, at Pequawket, May 8, 1725; by Rev. Thomas Symmes, of Bradford, Mass. A new edition with notes, by Nathaniel Bouton, Corresponding Secretary of the N. H. Historical Society. Concord, N. H.: P. B. Cogswell, Printer. 1861. 8vo, pp. 48, including map. AAS., B., C., CU., H., M., NYP. 94112

Bouton's edition of the narrative is a fairly close reprint of the inaccurate Fryeburg edition of 1799. Only extracts from the Symmes sermon are given. The editor has added notes and a map from a sketch furnished by George B. Barrows of Fryeburg. Other items reprinted in this volume are: "The Mournful Elegy of Mr. Jonathan Frye, 1725," which had been contributed to the New Eng. Hist. and Gen. Reg., vol. 15, 1861, p. 91, by T. C. Frye of Andover, Mass., who stated that it had been traditionally ascribed to a young girl to whom Jonathan Frye had been engaged; two ballads, previously published in Farmer and Moore's "Collections, Historical and Miscellaneous," vol. 3, 1824, pp. 64-66 and 94-97, both of which Bouton considered contemporary, but G. L. Kittredge ("Bibliographical Essays, a Tribute to Wilberforce Eames," 1924, p. 93-127) while substantiating the claim in the case of the first, shows the second to be the work of Thomas C. Upham; stanzas by Upham on visiting the scenes of Lovewell's fate, also reprinted from Farmer and Moore's "Collections," vol. 1, 1822, p. 35.

An inaccurate reprint of the narrative from the Fryeburg, 1799, edition, with a little material added, appears in Farmer and Moore's "Collections, Historical and Miscellaneous," vol. 1, 1822, pp. 25-35.

A reprint, probably taken from a made-up copy consisting of fragments of the first and second editions of 1725, is included in Kidder's "Expeditions of Capt. John Lovewell," 1865, our no. 37711, vol. 9. It is not likely that it represents a transitional edition not now located. The editor includes historical information in regard to all of Lovewell's expeditions, and biographical notes as to the participants and the author; as well as the poems in Bouton's edition, and a reproduction of the same map. Kidder's "Expeditions" was reprinted in the "Magazine of History," extra no. 5, 1909, pp. 1-102.

AAS., HEH. 94165

The AAS. copy lacks the leaves D<sup>3</sup> and E<sup>4</sup>, the former with a woodcut illustration of a tobacco plant, verso blank, and the latter having woodcut illustration and the colophon. The HEH. has this last leaf bound in place of the title which is missing in that copy.

The first English work on tobacco. In the dedicatory epistle, "To the Heroicall minded Gentleman, Maister Humphrey King," signed "A. I.," and in "The Printer to the Reader," Islip states that he has published the work and dedicated it to King at the last request of the author, now dead. From references in the writings of Gabriel Harvey and Thomas Nashe it has been shown that the author, "A. C.," is undoubtedly Anthony Chute. See Kane's "Anthony Chute, Thomas Nashe, and the First English Work on Tobacco," reprinted from the "Review of English Studies," vol. 7, no. 26, 1931.

"A summary of it appended to Richard Brathwaite's Smoking Age (1617) was based on a copy 'printed for Will Barlow (with Tobacco Armes) then [in 1595] keeping shop in Gracious street.' Moreover, as Mr. Jerome E. Brooks assures me, a work entitled, Een Korte beschrijvinge van het wonderlijcke kruyt Tobacco (Rotterdam, 1623) proves to be a Dutch version of Chute's tract." See Kane's work cited above, p. 3.

TAILFER (Pat[rick]). A | True and Historical | Narrative |

Of the Colony of | Georgia, | In America, | From the First Settlement thereof until | this present Period: | Containing | The most authentick Facts, Matters and | Transactions therein. | Together with | His Majesty's Charter, Representations of the | People, Letters, &c. | And | A Dedication to His Excellency General Oglethorpe. | By | Pat. Tailfer, M.D. | Hugh Anderson, M.A. | Da. Douglas, and others, | Land-holders in Georgia, at present in Charles-Town in | South-Carolina. | . . . | Charles-Town, South-Carolina: | Printed by P. Timothy, for the Authors, 1741. | 8vo, pp. (2), xxiv, 176. C., JCB., NYP. 94215

With a satirical dedication to his Excellency James Oglethorpe, Esq. Before betaking themselves to Charleston, Dr. Tailfer and his associates had formed the nucleus of those dissatisfied with the government of the colony, who used to meet at Jenkins's public house in Savannah. The Narrative was intended to neutralize the effect of William Stephens's "State of the Province of Georgia," which had been prepared by him as the secretary of the Trustees in Georgia, and which gave an optimistic view of the colony. For information as to the authors from the standpoint of the administration party, see Stephens's "Journal" as printed in the "Colonial Records of Georgia," vol. 4, 1906, and Supplement, 1908.

C., GTS., NYH., NYP. 94310

Since Michigan had become a state, and Texas, a republic, before the date of issue, the above was evidently intended to accompany the 1839 edition of Tanner's Map of the United States, which is described in Phillips' "List of Maps of America in the Library of Congress," 1901, p. 892. Phillips on p. 885 lists three earlier editions of the map, 1829, 1830, and 1832.

Tanner. . . . Philadelphia: Published by H. S. Tanner. 1823. Folio, engraved title and pp. (4), 18. 18 maps, sixteen of which are double and two folded.

AAS., C., NYP. 94319

In the index the maps are numbered 1-22, the map of South America being listed as nos. 6-7, and that of North America as nos. 8-11.

TANNER. A New American Atlas . . . [Same imprint and date.] Folio, engraved title and pp. (8), 18. 18 maps. C. 94320

Issued in five parts, dated 1818-1823. Title from Phillips' "List of Geographical Atlases in the Library of Congress," vol. 4, 1920, no. 4462 and 4463, which see for a full description of variant copies in c.

TANNER. A New American Atlas . . . [Same imprint and date.] Folio, pp. (6), ii, (2), 18. 18 maps. C. 94321

Issued in three parts, parts 1 and 2 in 1819, and part 3 in 1822, but the title page is dated 1823. For a full description, see Phillips, no. 4523a, where another c. copy which was issued in three parts is also described, part 1 being issued in 1818, part 2 in 1819, and part 3 in 1823.

TANNER. A New American Atlas . . . [Same imprint.] 1825. Folio, engraved title and pp. (2), 18. 18 maps, sixteen of which are double and two folded. C., NYP. 94322

The c. copy of this edition lacks two maps and has the map of North America dated 1822. The NYP. copy lacks one map and has the map of North America "improved to 1825." For a full description, see Phillips, no. 3669.

TANNER. A New American Atlas . . . [Same imprint and date.] Folio, engraved title, and pp. (2), 18. 18 maps on 42 leaves.

Title from Phillips, no. 1376, which see for a full description. C. 94323
Although still having the title page dated 1825, this issue contains maps of later dates up to 1833.

An issue at AAS. with title dated 1825, has the collation: pp. (6) including engraved title, and 22 double maps. This issue contains later maps up to 1833.

Probably the issues described with only one preliminary leaf beside the engraved title lack a half title present in AAS. issues of 1823 and 1825.

Copies of issues of 1823 are located at B., HSP., P., and PRINCETON; and an issue of 1825 at v.

TANS'UR (William).

The following list of American editions of Tans'ur's collection of psalmody is arranged chronologically. Many of the copies examined are imperfect, and frequently have been rebaked or rebound. The numbering of the pages has often been trimmed off in binding. In some cases signatures have been wrongly imposed, and there are other errors in pagination. For these reasons it is difficult to describe all the variations in the issues.

TANS'UR. The | Royal Melody Complete: | or The | New Harmony of Zion. | Containing | A New & Correct Introduction to the Grounds of Musick. | To which is Added | A New & Complete Body of Church Musick, Consisting of | Psalm Tunes, Chorus's, Hymns, Anthems &c. | By William Tans'ur, Senior Musico Theorico. | Newbury-Port: Printed & sold by Daniel Bayley, near St. Paul's Church; | Sold also by W. M'Alpine at Boston; & M. Williams at Salem. | [1761?] Oblong 12mo. 94333

Apparently the first American edition. It is only represented by an engraved title page with title as above, located at AAS. Evans enters an edition, also published by McAlpine and Bayley, under the year 1761, with a queried date, and without collation or location.

According to Grove, the English compilation was first published in London in 1754 and 1755. BM.

TANS'UR. The | Royal Melody Complete: | or The | New Harmony of Zion. | [9 lines.] | The Third Edition, with Additions. | By William Tans'ur, Senior, Musico Theorico. | [2 lines.] | Boston: Printed and sold by W. M'Alpine, almost Mid-way betwixt the Governor's and Dr. Gardener's, | Marlborough-street; also, sold by D. Bayley at Newbury-Port; and M. Williams at Salem. MDCCCLXVII. | Oblong 12mo, pp. 13, verso blank, (2), 6, blank recto, 7-8, blank verso, 9-14, (2), 112.

AAS., B., C., H., HEH., N.E.CONSERVATORY. 94334

Copies of this edition described as having 96 pp. in the main pagination prove on examination to be incomplete.

See Metcalf's "American Writers and Compilers of Sacred Music," 1925, p. 28, for advertisements of this edition in the "Boston Evening-Post" of October 27, 1766, and January 12, 1767.

Evans describes a fourth edition, [Boston:] Printed for and sold by Daniel Bayley in Newbury-Port, 1768, oblong 8vo, pp—(2), (2), 96. He gives no locations, and we have found no copy of this edition.

TANS'UR (William). The | American Harmony: | or, | Royal Melody Complete. | In two volumes. | Vol. 1. . . . | [7 lines.] | The Fifth Edition, with Additions. | By William Tans'ur, Senior, Musico Theorico. | [2 lines.] | Printed and Sold by Daniel Bayley, at his House next Door to St. Paul's Church, Newbury-Port. 1769. | Sold also by most Booksellers in Boston. | Title of vol. 2:] The | American Harmony, | or | Universal Psalmody. | [6 lines.] | By A. Williams, Teacher of Psalmody, in London. | To which is added, a Variety of Favourite Hymn Tunes and Anthems; Collected from the Latest and most | Celebrated Authors; Carefully set in Score, and neatly Engraved. | Printed and Sold by Daniel Bayley, at his House next Door to St. Paul's Church, Newbury-Port:— | Sold also by the Booksellers in Boston, 1769. | 2 vols. in one, oblong 12mo, pp. 5, (1), 6, blank recto, 7-8, blank verso, 9-12, 96; (4), 96.

AAS., B., C. 94335

Advertisement on verso of title of vol. 2: "I Take this Opportunity to return my sincere Thanks to my Friends and Customers, . . . And I would inform them that I have now added the chief of Mr. Williams's Universal Psalmody:—And as I expect they will be bound mostly with the Royal Melody, I have therefore left out those Tunes which were in it; and as Mr. Tans'ur's Introduction to Musick, is universally approved, I have not added Mr. Williams's . . . From their Humble Servant, Daniel Bayley. Newbury-Port, January 5th, 1769." From this it seems probable that this is the first edition in which the two works are combined. However, later editions have the same notice with later dates.

There are two issues of this edition, both at AAS. The AAS. copy of what is apparently the earlier one lacks the title page at the beginning, but has the title of the Williams part of the book. This issue has "Uppingham Tune" on p. 27 of the Tans'ur part, as in the 1767 edition, and "Tamworth Tune" on p. 30, whereas in the other issue the arrangement is reversed. The B. copy, which is imperfect, also lacks the title of the first part. It belongs to the second issue, with "Uppingham Tune" on p. 30, and "Tamworth Tune" on p. 27.

A copy of either the first or second issue is located at the Essex Institute library.

TANS'UR. The | American Harmony: | or, | Royal Melody Complete. | In two volumes. | Vol. I. . . . | [8 lines.] | The Sixth Edition, with Additions. | By William Tans'ur, Senior, Musico Theorico. | [2 lines.] | Printed and Sold by Daniel Bayley, at his House next Door to St. Paul's Church, Newbury-Port. 1771. | Sold also by most Booksellers in Boston. | [Title of vol. 2:] The | American Harmony, | or | Universal Psalmody. | [6 lines.] | By A. Williams, Teacher of Psalmody, in London. | To which is added a Variety of Favourite Hymn Tunes and Anthems; Collected from the Latest and most | Celebrated Authors; Carefully set in Score, and neatly Engraved. | Printed and Sold by Daniel Bayley, at his House next Door to St. Paul's Church, Newbury-Port:— | Sold also by the Booksellers in Boston. 1771. | 2 vols. in one, oblong 12mo, pp. 5, (1), 6, 9-12, 96; (4), 96.

AAS., BM., C., JCB., Y. 94336

The engraved pages numbered 7 and 8, with blank recto and verso respectively, included in the earlier editions, are not found in the copies we have examined, but as they reappear in the following issue it seems probable that the copies are imperfect.

TANS'UR. The | American Harmony: | or, | Royal Melody Complete. | In two volumes. | Vol. I. . . . | [8 lines.] | The Seventh Edition, with Additions. | By William Tans'ur, Senior, Musico Theorico. | [2 lines.] | Printed and Sold by Daniel Bayley, at his *House next Door to St. Paul's Church, Newbury-Port. 1771. | Sold also by most Booksellers in Boston. | [Title of vol. 2:] The American Harmony, | or, | Universal Psalmist. | Vol. II. . . | [5 lines.] | By A. Williams, Teacher of Psalmody, in London. | To which is added a Variety of Favourite Hymn Tunes and Anthems; collected from the Latest and most Celebrated Authors; Carefully set in Score, and neatly Engraved. | Printed and Sold by Daniel Bayley, at his House next Door to St. Paul's Church, Newbury-Port. 1771. | Sold also by most Booksellers in Boston. | 2 vols. in one, oblong 12mo, pp. 5, (1), 6, blank recto, 7-8, blank verso, 7-10, 96; (4), 96. In some copies signatures are wrongly imposed, causing irregularities in the pagination. Most copies are badly worn, have been rebacked or bound with severe trimming in which many of the page numbers have been lost, so that it is difficult to note the variations. The A. copy has signatures properly imposed but the numbering of the tunes changed so that it does not agree with the index. The H. copy of this edition is bound with the 1771 edition of the Williams section.

Contains allusions to the Puritans in New England.

The sketch of this eccentric author in Dict. Nat. Biog. contains a long list of his works.

The earliest known edition of his thumb Bible, Verbum Sempiternum, is that of London, 1614, but as the little book is dedicated to Queen Anne as if still living it is probable that there was an earlier issue. See W. M. Stone's "The Verbum Sempiternum of John Taylor," first published in the "American Collector," vol. 5, 1927, pp. 46-59, and also issued separately. The earliest American edition included in the bibliography is one of about 1760, New York Printed for S. P. [Samuel Parker?] n.

[TAYLOR]? Newes, True Newes, Laudable Newes. See no.
54972, vol. 13.

This work is attributed to Taylor on a clipping apparently cut from an old Puttick and Simpson catalogue.

TAYLOR (Joseph), d. 1816. Oratio Funebris, | in obitum | Edvardi Wigglesworth, S. T. P. | quam, | in Sacello Holdeniano, | apud Collegium Harvardinum, | inter efferendum, | habuit | Josephus Taylor, | Collegii supra nominati alumnus. . . . | [Boston. 1765.] 8vo, pp. 7, verso blank, 3, 4.

AAS., B., BA., M., NYH., UTEX., WHS. 94517

This oration is appended to Nathaniel Appleton's "Discourse occasioned by the . . . Death of the Rev. Edward Wigglesworth," 1765, our no. 1829, vol. 1. Following it are a sketch of Wigglesworth from the "Boston Evening-Post," and a poem from the "Massachusetts Gazette" by a Harvard student, who signs himself "Sympathes." Cushing attributes the poem to Joseph Willard.

Our former entry did not show these items, but the signatures are consecutive, F-G.

The BM. catalogue lists the "Oratio" and the appended matter under Taylor, with the imprint, and date Cambridge, [Mass.], 1775. Under Appleton is listed his "Discourse" on Wigglesworth, Boston, 1765.

TAYLOR (Joseph). Russell? n. d.]* 16mo, pp. 16, including 4 woodcut illustrations.

AAS., NYH. 94521

Cover title: The Wonderful Monitor: or, Memorable Repository. Containing, a curious and most astonishing Account of the Revivication of young J. Taylor. [Woodcut illustration.]

Three of the woodcuts are from the same blocks as those of the edition printed by Russell in Boston in 1788.

The woodcut portrait on p. [4], with the addition of skulls and crossbones in both upper corners, appears in a modern facsimile of an unidentified page probably reproduced from an almanac of the Revolutionary period. The portrait has beneath it an 18 line legend reading in part: "The above is the Effigy of the truly brave and heroic Captain James Mugford, Junior, late Commander of the Franklin Privateer Schooner, lately fitted out from Marblehead, ... who on the seventeenth of May, 1776, valiantly attacked and took a King's Store-ship ... This intrepid and gallant Hero, ... fell a sacrifice in defense ... on the nineteenth of the same May ..." The cut in the present pamphlet was probably reengraved from the unidentified portrait of Captain Mugford.

The Teacher of Common Sense; or, Poor Man's Advocate:
invincibly proving, by one hundred and thirty-three original queries, and a number of extracts from the Scriptures and best authors, that God and good men agree unanimously, that mankind are, by nature, equally free, and lords of this world through all generations; and, that the pleasures, fancies, and whims of a few, ought not to be fulfilled and gratified to the prejudice of the general welfare and happiness of the rest. The whole exhibiting a new system of government, or rather of holding landed property, by which men could enjoy all their rights and privileges in the most extensive and beneficial manner. (Very proper for the use of schools.) . . . By a well-wisher to mankind. Newcastle: Printed for the author, and sold by W. Charnley, R. Dickenson, and W. Scott, Hexham. 1779.
12mo, pp. vi, 74. WLC. 94558

The preface is addressed "To the worthy Am*r*c*ns," and reads in part: "Make sure what you have so bravely won, and leave not to succeeding generations the dire necessity of . . . wading through blood for their lost rights, when you can secure them.

Comprises a series of military reports dated in October, 1812, on the defeat administered to the Mexican patriot priest, José Maria Morélos y Pavon. These were reprinted from the "Gaceta del gobierno de México," one at least from the issue for Oct. 29, 1812. It seems likely that the long delay before the reprint of Dec. 9, was caused by the fact that the periodical was published in continental Spain. Title and information supplied by Catherine C. Quinn.

TENESLES (Nicola). The Indian of New-England, and the North-Eastern Provinces; a Sketch of the Life of an Indian Hunter, Ancient Traditions relating to the Etchemin Tribe, their modes of life, fishing, hunting, &c.: with Vocabularies in the Indian and English, giving the names of the animals, birds, and fish: the most complete that has been given for New-England, in the Languages of the Etchemin and Micmacs. These are now the only Indian Tribes to the North-East, the former inhabitants of New-England, that have preserved their language entire, being the oldest and purest Indian spoken in the Eastern States. Derived from Nicola Tenesles.

By a Citizen of Middletown, Conn. . . . Middletown, Connecticut: Charles H. Pelton, Printer. 1851. Price 25 Cents. 8vo, pp. 24. BM., C., NYP. + [Title as above with the following variation:] Derived from the Indian (Nicola Tenesles,) by Joseph Barratt M.D., Member of several Learned Societies. . . . [Same imprint, date, and collation,] AAS., C., M. + [Third Edition, same imprint, date, and collation, but omitting the price at the end.] C., NYP. 94680

In some copies of the first edition listed, the words "Derived from Nicola Tenesles. By a citizen of Middletown, Conn." on the title, are covered with a printed slip reading "By Joseph Barratt, M.D. Member of several learned societies," as in the later issues. C.

On the verso of the title in the first and second editions, the note "To the Reader" is signed and dated, "J. B. Middletown, Conn., September 18, 1851," and reads in part as follows: ". . . the Indian Key [see below], which was issued only last year, of which five hundred copies were printed, is now re-published, and some additional matter given . . ."

In the third edition, the first portion of the note "To the Reader" appears, dated the same, and is followed by a "Notice to the Third Edition," dated "October 8th, 1851," in which it is stated that "we have unexpectedly been called upon to supervise the printing of 500 copies more of this book, before having time to extend it in the manner we had purposed. The impression therefore will differ but little from the 2d edition."

One of the issues is located at HEH.

TENESLES. Key to the Indian Language of New-Enyland [sic], in the Etchemin, or Passamaquoddy Language, Spoken in Maine and St. Johns New-Brunswick. Derived from Nicola Tenesles. C., HEH., M., NYP., WHS. 94682

No more numbers published.

Apparently during the course of printing this edition some of the typographical errors in the title were corrected. See the entry in Pilling's Algonquian Bibliography, and the c. printed card for issues with fewer errors.

Reprinted with additions in The Indian of New-England, above. In the "Notice to the Third Edition" of that work, Barratt notes that it has also been reprinted in no. 12 of "Copway's American Indian."

The above works, of a later period than that now covered by this Dictionary, are included because of cross references from Barratt, and Indian.

Joseph Barratt also published "Indian Proprietors of Mattebeseck, and their descendants, whose names appear in the town records, from 1673 to 1749." [Middletown. 1850.] 8vo, pp. 4. c. Caption title.

TENNENT (Gilbert).

Because the name of this divine is associated with those of Jonathan Edwards and George Whitefield as a leader in the evangelical movement, whose New England manifestation is known as the Great Awakening, his purely religious works possess a real historical interest. We have not attempted, however, to give a complete list of his sermons, published separately or in groups. For many of these, see Evans, and Hildeburn. A short title list of Tennent's writings is included by Sprague in the biographical sketch in his "Annals," vol. 3, 1858, pp. 38-40.

CONGREG. LIB. 94687

Written in reply to the following:

The Examiner, or Gilbert against Tennent. Containing a Confutation of the Reverend Mr. Gilbert Tennent and his Adherents: Extracted chiefly from his Own Writings, and formed upon his Own Plan of comparing the Moravian Principles, with the Standard of Orthodoxy, in distinct Columns. Together with some Strictures on the Preface to the Rev. Mr. Tennent's Five Sermons and Appendix lately published, and subscribed by Six Reverend Ministers of Boston. The whole being an Essay towards answering three important Queries, viz. 1. What is Truth in the present Religious Commotions in this Land? 2. What is the shortest Method of finding the whole Truth? 3. Whether such as are given to Change, ought not in Conscience to make their publick Retractions, according to St. Austin? The whole Essay is submitted to the Judgment of Common Sense. By Philalethes. . . . Boston; Printed for S. Eliot, in Cornhill. 1743. 8vo, pp. 32. AAS., BA., H., NYH. By Rev. John Hancock. Folio, pp. 8. + Edinburgh Reprinted, Anno 1754. Small 8vo, pp. 16.*

JCB., PRINCETON. 94691

The AAS. copy of the London edition has pp. 7, the verso of the last blank, but with the catchword "Post." at the foot of p. 7, making it evident that the postscript, the eighth page, is on the recto of a following leaf. The above title is from a photolithographic reproduction of the BM. copy prepared by Henry Stevens, Son & Stiles at the expense of William R. Weeks, ten copies only printed. NVH., NVP. The NVP. copy has a presentation inscription dated Oct. 5, 1896.

The postscript in the London edition, dated March 5, 1754, and which reads in part, "they [Tennent and Davies] intend to set out for Scotland some Time in April next," makes it probable that that edition preceded those issued in Edinburgh.

Neither Edinburgh edition has the postscript. In the 16 pp. edition, an abstract of the "Act and Recommendation of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland," and a letter from the Marquis of Lothian are added.

Information supplied by James T. Gerould. See also ms. notes of the late Wm. R. Weeks, which are bound with the nvp. copy of the facsimile of the London edition. In the library of Mr. Weeks were formerly copies of the New York and two Edinburgh editions of the "General Account."

A typewritten transcript of the Edinburgh edition with eight pages is in the library of Princeton University.

TENNESSEE.

The works entered below, are as follows:

1. Public Documents.
2. Miscellaneous publications. Works relating to Tennessee not elsewhere more properly entered under individual or corporate author, or title. These include anonymous works, state society and party publications, and those of other corporate bodies in whose name that of the state appears.

The editor is under obligations to Douglas C. McMurtrie, author of "Early Printing in Tennessee," 1933, for the use of his preliminary notes on Tennessee as well as for the assistance obtained from the printed work. In many cases, in order to save duplication of work, where copies of the books entered were not easily available, titles and collations have been taken from that work. Titles located by McMurtrie in the McClung Collection of the Lawson McGhee Library at Knoxville, have in our list the abbreviated form of location, "McCLUNG."

PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.

Following a brief outline of the different local governments, under which the Tennessee settlers first lived, we give here first, the documents of the territorial government, and secondly, those of the state, through the year 1821 only. Under both territory and state the arrangement is in the main alphabetical under the body, institution, or official responsible. Exceptions to this rule are the titles entered under the headings, Constitution, and Laws, Statutes, etc. Reports of cases, opinions of judges, etc., are arranged under the heading, Courts, the reports having the sub-heading, Reports.

WATAUGA AND OTHER ASSOCIATIONS.

When the region now the state of Tennessee was first settled it fell within the jurisdiction of the state of North Carolina. As, however, no local units of government existed, the settlers formed associations to regulate their own affairs. Haywood states that in 1772 the "settlement on the Watauga . . . formed a written association and articles for their conduct; they appointed five commissioners, a majority of whom was to decide all matters of controversy, and to govern and direct for the common good in other respects . . ." This compact was thus the first public document of the Tennessee country, as well as the first written agreement of the kind west of the Alleghanies. It does not appear to have been printed, and Ramsey was not able to locate the original. Similar compacts were entered into by other groups as in the case of the Cumberland and Clarksville associations. See Haywood's "Civil and Political History," 1823, p. 41, Ramsey's "Annals," 1853, p. 107, and Turner's "Western State-making in the Revolutionary Era," in Am. Hist. Rev., vol. 1, 1895, pp. 77-78.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.

In 1776 the Watauga and Holstein settlements, calling themselves "Washington District," sent a petition to the provincial council of North Carolina, asking to be recognized as part of the province, and in the same year their delegates were seated in the provincial congress. See Col. Rec. of N. C., vol. 10, pp. 702 and 926. Pp. 708-711 contain the petition reprinted from Ramsey, pp. 134-138. It is signed by a committee, elected by the people, consisting of twelve members and a clerk, and 70 others, and contains information as to their government at that time.

WASHINGTON COUNTY.

In 1777 the District was erected into Washington County of North Carolina, and later the counties of Greene and Sullivan were split off from it. A fourth Tennessee county of Davidson was also created. See State Rec. of N. C., vol. 24, pp. 141-142, 300-302, 539-540.

STATE OF FRANKLIN, OR FRANKLAND.

In 1784, by an act of the April session of the Assembly, the state of North Carolina ceded the Tennessee region to the federal government, with the condition that the cession should be accepted by Congress within twelve months. However, not being satisfied with the action of Congress in regard to expenses incurred by North Carolina during the Revolution, the Assembly repealed the act in the October session of the same year. Op. cit. vol. 24, pp. 561-563, 678-679.

The inhabitants of Washington, Greene and Sullivan Counties, fearing that they would be neglected by both the federal and state governments, elected delegates to conventions held in August, November and December, 1784, and November, 1785. They organized a new state of Franklin (at first sometimes called Frankland), and adopted for it a constitution based on that of North Carolina, the first Assembly meeting in 1785. This state was not recognized by the United States nor by the state of North Carolina, and by April, 1788, the Tennessee counties were once more entirely under the jurisdiction of North Carolina. See Alden's "The State of Franklin" in Am. Hist. Rev. vol. 8, 1903, pp. 271-289; State Rec. of N. C., vol. 22, pp. vii, 661-670, etc. passim, including a committee report of a Declaration of Rights, and Constitution, of the State of Franklin, also correspondence.

The only separately printed document of which this state may be considered the author is the following, reported by a committee of a convention of the state but never adopted:

A Declaration of Rights, also, the Constitution, or Form of Government, Agreed to, and resolved upon, by the Representatives of the Freemen of the State of Frankland, Elected and chosen for that particular purpose, in Convention assembled, at Greeneville, the 14th of November, 1785. Philadelphia. Printed by Francis Bailey, at Yorick's Head. M DCC LXXXVI. pp. 24. 94720

Title supplied from the "American Historical Magazine and Tennessee Quarterly," vol. 1, 1896, pp. 50-63, containing a reprint of the pamphlet.

A modified form of the constitution of North Carolina was approved instead of the above. The committee reporting it obtained leave to enter their dissent upon the Journals, and to submit the report to the people. The Rev. Samuel Houston circulated copies of the pamphlet, without effect. See Alden's "The State of Franklin," in Am. Hist. Rev. vol. 8, 1903, pp. 271-289.

TERRITORY OF THE UNITED STATES, SOUTH OF THE RIVER OHIO.

Under a North Carolina act of 1789, State Rec. vol. 25, pp. 3-6, the region was permanently ceded to the United States, in February, 1790, and accepted in the following act, approved by the President, April 2, 1790: "An Act to accept a Cession of the Claims of the State of North-Carolina, to a certain District of Western Territory." No separate issue of the Act is listed in Evans, but it forms pp. 12-15 of the "Acts passed at the Second Session of the Congress of the United States," printed in 1790. A modern reprint is in Thorpe's "Federal and State Constitutions," vol. 6, 1909, pp. 3409-3413, where there is also given a list of organic laws of the colonies of Virginia and Carolina, and of the state of North Carolina, which applied at various times to the Tennessee region.

The new "Territory of the United States, south of the River Ohio" was organized under the act of May 26, 1790. A separate issue of this law has the following title:

Congress of the United States: at the Second Session, Begun and held at the City of New-York, on Monday the fourth of January, one thousand seven hundred and ninety. An Act for the Government of the Territory of the United States, south of the river Ohio. . . . Approved, May twenty-sixth, 1790. George Washington, President of the United States. [New York.] Printed by Francis Childs and John Swaine. [1790.] Folio broadside. AAS., NYP.

The following documents also relate especially to Tennessee:

Congress of the United States: at the Third Session, Begun and held at the city of Philadelphia, on Monday the sixth of December, one thousand seven hundred and ninety. Resolved . . . That the President of the United States be, and he hereby is requested, to cause an estimate to be laid before Congress at their next session, of the quantity and situation of the lands not claimed by the Indians, nor granted to, nor claimed by any of the citizens of the United States, within the territory ceded to the United States, by the state of North Carolina, and within the territory of the United States north-west of the river Ohio. . . . Approved, March the third, 1791. George Washington, President of the United States. [Philadelphia: Printed by Francis Childs and John Swaine. 1791.] Folio broadside. AAS., C., NYP.

Title from the reprint of 1852. This was one of several reprints of early Tennessee documents ordered by the General Assembly of 1851-2, which were published together but paged separately, and without a general title page. In each case the original title page with imprint was apparently reproduced, with the additional imprint: Nashville: Re-printed by McKennie & Brown, True Whig Office. 1852.

A complete copy of one of the original editions, the Journal of the House for the session of March, 1796, located at JCB., has a title page that corresponds closely enough with that of the reprint to make it seem probable that in each case the printer had the original edition before him. McMurtrie points out that the journals themselves contain directions as to the number of copies to be printed, and the manner of distribution.

The first and second sessions of the Second General Assembly were held in September, 1797, and December, 1798. The Journals of the Senate and House for these sessions, including supplementary Journals for the first session, were printed apparently for the first time in 1933, Southern Publishers, Inc. Kingsport, Tennessee, as Publication no. 1 of the Division of Library and Archives of the Department of Education of the State. The Journals of both houses for the first session, and the Senate Journal of the second, were transcribed by R. L. C. White in 1899 and 1903 from the official mss. in the office of the Secretary of State. The supplementary Journal of the first session and the House Journal of the second were transcribed by Mrs. J. T. Moore in 1932 from the official mss. in the State Library. Mrs. Moore also prepared an index for the volume, which was distributed on the exchange lists of the Tennessee State Library and the Tennessee Historical Society.

GOVERNOR, 1803-1809, (John Sevier). Knoxville, May 10th, 1805. Sir, No doubt you have frequently heard the manner in which my enemies have been calumniating my character . . . [Colophon:] George Wilson, Print. [Knoxville. 1805.] 8vo, 2 sheets.

Draper copy signed in ms.: John Sevier. WHS. (DRAPER MSS.). 94757

"Repudiates charges that he had converted to his own use money forwarded by the Secretary of War to enlist troops in the United States service against Fort Washington in 1791 and later to march to Natchez; 'these reports have originated with base, malignant and unprincipled persons designed for electioneering purposes.'" Title and note from McMurtrie.

GOVERNOR, 1809-1815, (Willie Blount). Knoxville, December 10, 1809. Fellow-Citizens, In a government like ours, founded on the will of the people, and formed for their benefit, they have a right to expect information touching their affairs—Under this impression, I shall occasionally, through the medium of the Press, give publicity to executive proceedings. . . . Willie Blount. J. B. Hood, Print. [Knoxville. 1809.] Folio, 2 leaves, the second blank.
