Shots in the Air Failed to Disperse Them After Arrests Made. WARDER KIDNAPPED Londonderry, Oct. 11.—Following a raid by the police and military on Hamrook Hills, Bogside, a Nationalist district, Sunday night in which two men were arrested, charged with having seditious literature in their possession, lively scenes took place. A large and threatening crowd followed the police, and their captives to the station. Shots in the air failed to disperse the gathering, and the police and military charged with clubs and bayonets driving the Nationalists back to their quarters.

REGINA, SASK., Oct. 11.—(Special.) Before the tariff commission here in the capital of the great free trade province, the provincial government formulated its policy to prevent the active opposition of the farmers' party at the next provincial contest. This province differs from others of the Dominion in that the last three provincial contests have been decided on the federal fiscal policy. It is shrewd politics securing a popular issue and blinding the electorate to the (over the shoulders of the administration) The provincial government lives on the sufferance of the farmers' party, whose leaders are all strong Liberals and intimate associates of the provincial premier and his cabinet colleagues. The farmers' leaders would protect the government against the farmers' organization and may do so, also there is considerable dissatisfaction among the grain growers that they are not permitted to measure their strength against the party in power. Premier Martin has announced his neutrality in federal affairs, but not so his colleagues.

REDS OFFER PEACE TO GEN. WRANGLER London, Oct. 11.—The Russian Soviet government has sent a delegate with peace proposals to the headquarters of General Wrangel, commander of the anti-Bolshevik army in southern Russia, according to a Warsaw report received here by wireless from Berlin.

TERMS OF AGREEMENT Riga, Oct. 11.—The Russo-Polish armistice and preliminary peace treaty were not signed tonight. It was announced that a delay until Tuesday afternoon was made necessary because of the impossibility of getting the Ukrainian text prepared. There are many unverified rumors of late disagreements in the delegations. It is known that Secretary Lorenz, of the Bolshevik delegation, telephoned to the Poles shortly before nine o'clock tonight and apologized for inability to complete the Ukrainian text for signature tonight. He explained that it would be ready Tuesday afternoon. It contains seventeen articles and two annexes, one on the armistice and the other a map. The preliminary treaty must be ratified within fifteen days after its signature, and the formal exchange of ratification papers must take place at Lwow within six days after ratification. Failure to do this will constitute an abrogation of the armistice within 48 hours after the time limit expires. Under the armistice terms, both armies will remain in the positions held by them until the moment of ceasing operations, provided the Russian and Ukrainian troops are not nearer than 15 kilometers from the determined Polish front line. A strip of 15 kilometers between the two fronts will constitute a neutral zone in the military sense, which will remain under the administration of the side to which the territory goes under the preliminary peace terms.

MAJOR A. C. LEWIS Major Alex C. Lewis was last night selected at a Liberal-Conservative convention held in the Foresters' Hall, College street, to be the party candidate for election to the legislature on Nov. 8. Kelly Evans had a fairly hard fight thru two ballots before obtaining a decision in his favor. The first ballot was on three names—those of Major Lewis, Col. Kelly Evans and Col. G. Nasmith. Three hundred and sixty votes were cast, and the result was as follows: Lewis 173 Nasmith 104 Kelly Evans 83 As Major Lewis had not obtained the necessary majority a second ballot became necessary. Col. Kelly Evans dropping out. By the time the second venture was reached, many delegates had left the hall, and only 299 votes were cast. The result, which gave Major Lewis a clear majority of 160 votes, was as follows: Lewis 160 Nasmith 139

HEARING AT KINGSTON Kingston, Ont., Oct. 12.—(Special.) The proposed scheme of the deepening of the St. Lawrence River for navigation and power purposes was given the endorsement of a large gathering representing the district from Belleville to Cornwall before a session of the International Joint Waterways Commission held here this afternoon. Sir Adam Beck attended, and as chairman of the Hydro-Electric Commission submitted a report from the Hydro Commission on behalf of the province of Ontario and the municipalities thereon setting forth certain views in respect of the beneficial use of the waters of the St. Lawrence between Montreal and Lake Ontario. Owing to the fact that he was feeling unwell, Sir Adam Beck did not address the meeting. He submitted his report, which was read by C. A. MacCraith, the chairman of the commission, and it was greeted with loud applause and met with the approval of the various speakers.

WARDER KIDNAPPED Londonderry, Oct. 11.—Following a raid by the police and military on Hamrook Hills, Bogside, a Nationalist district, Sunday night in which two men were arrested, charged with having seditious literature in their possession, lively scenes took place. A large and threatening crowd followed the police, and their captives to the station. Shots in the air failed to disperse the gathering, and the police and military charged with clubs and bayonets driving the Nationalists back to their quarters. The prisoners in the Londonderry jail, Sunday night, again wrecked their cells. There were continued disturbances until early this morning. Jailor is Kidnapped. Cork, Ireland, Oct. 11.—The first case so far as is known, of an attack on an Irish prison official occurred yesterday afternoon, when Thomas Griffin, a warder of Cork Jail, was kidnapped while on the way to his home. No trace of him has been found, and the jail authorities expressed the fear today that they would never see him again.

FINDING OF CANOE INDICATES TORONTO BOYS LOST LIVES Capsized Craft Picked Up Fifty Miles to East in Lake. MISSING A WEEK The canoe in which Forbes Nicholl, aged 15, of 229 Spadina avenue, and William Duke, aged 15, of 24 Howard street, left Orr's bathhouse, Kew Beach, a week ago, was recovered yesterday about fifty miles east of Toronto at a distance of 15 miles from the shore, by the steamer City of Ottawa. The craft was capsized when it struck up and practically confirms the belief held in many quarters, that the boys had been drowned. When the lads did not return to their homes, their parents reported them missing to the police, and the 110-savers were notified. All day Tuesday and the following days the life-saving boats have been out in search of the missing lads, and the aid of the Youngstown, U.S.A. patrol was requested. The boys nor their canoe were found. The boys were both expert swimmers, but were inexperienced in the use of small water craft, it is said.

AVIATORS ARE FOUND FROZEN ON MOUNTAIN Geneva, Oct. 11.—The mystery surrounding the fate of a Finnish army officer and an Italian pilot flying in a Savoia biplane from Milan to Finland, who have been missing since September 1, was solved yesterday when the bodies of the two men were found frozen stiff near the summit of Toedl Mountain, at an altitude of nearly 12,000 feet. The machine, which was the property of the Finnish government, was badly smashed. It had apparently struck the peak of the snow and was partially buried in it.

ACCUSES LLOYD GEORGE OF MISREPRESENTATION London, Oct. 11.—Arthur Griffith, leader of the Sinn Fein, thus comments on Premier Lloyd George's Carnarvon speech: "The premier is the master of misrepresentation. ORDER SPEEDS UP SHIPMENTS OF COAL U. S. Railways Must Give Preference to Requirements of Mines. Ottawa, Oct. 11.—(By Canadian Press)—Telegrams received by the railway commission from J. H. Maden, representative of the W. M. Trade board at Washington today stated that the interstate commerce commission had issued orders to all railways to furnish coal cars to mines in preference to any other use. The order also cancels all outstanding permits for coal cars for the transport of other freight. These orders are expected to have a salutary effect on the shipments of coal to Canada.

MEET TO IMPROVE COMMUNICATIONS First Sessions of Delegates of Great Powers Began Yesterday. Washington, Oct. 11.—First sessions of the sub-committees made up of delegates of the five allied and associated powers to the International Communication Commission began today at the navy department. Some details will be required, it was said, in perfect organization. The first general meeting, Oct. 8, decided that most of the work should be done thru committees, rather than in general sessions. Five committees were constituted. No decision has been announced as yet on the question of opening general sessions to the public, for which the United States delegates have contended.

FOUR INJURED IN MOTOR ACCIDENTS Second Day of Safety Week Passes With No Fatalities Recorded. With the second day of "safety week" passed and gone, no fatal motor car accidents have taken place. Yesterday there were seven minor accidents on the city streets, although only four persons were injured, and none of these seriously. Ethna Bentley, aged 23, 2 Grange avenue, received a fracture of the right thigh when struck by an auto driven by Holmes Maddock, 651 Bathurst street, near her home yesterday afternoon. She was removed to the Western Hospital in the police ambulance. The driver reported the accident to the police and was not detained.

Gen. Budyenny, also has informed Gen. Wrangel, the anti-Bolshevik leader in the south, that Semshin considers himself Wrangel's subordinate, and has requested orders from him.

REFINERS AND SPECULATORS WHO HAVE BEEN AMASSING SUDDEN WEALTH, MAKE DETERMINED EFFORT TO GET GOVERNMENT PROTECTION—FLIGHT AROUSES SYMPATHY OF SECTION OF PRESS. Ottawa, Oct. 11.—There is a lot of talk here today of the efforts made by sugar refiners and speculators in sugar to get the government to come to their relief—to use the law against dumping and the pure food laws, to prevent the importation of American sugar, which is several cents cheaper than the price demanded by Canadian refiners and jobbers. These refiners and speculators wanted to make the Canadian consumers pay the big price and win out for them the profits they had counted on from high prices.

SLUMP IN PRICE OF WOOLLEN YARN Montreal, Oct. 11.—The retail price of Canadian woollen yarn made a sensational drop this week, when the price of the cheapest grade came down from $3.25 a pound to $1.85. This is the first manufactured article to reflect the very low values of raw wool, although it is thought by woollen manufacturers here, that goods by the yard will soon be brought down also by the action of the American manufacturers. Drugs are also following the downward trend, and camphor, which during the war cost $5 a pound, can now be bought for $1.25. Turpentine has dropped a dollar and a quarter a gallon wholesale, while cocaine is now only $5 a pound.

MAY RESUBMIT RADIAL BYLAW

Hamilton Ratepayers May Again Be Asked to Vote on Line to Port Credit.

Hamilton, Oct. 11.—Contending that if conditions in London called for a resubmission of the Hydro radial by-law there, civic officials said a demand would be made by Hamilton to have the provincial Hydro Commission resubmit the by-law on the Port Credit, St. Catharines radial to local ratepayers.

While I have no desire at all to embarrass Hydro enterprises, said Controller Juttin, "I certainly feel that if present high prices have knocked the estimates of the Hydro radials as low, Hamilton ratepayers should know where they are getting off at before anything further is done with the project.

SASKATCHEWAN ASKS FREE TRADE

Turgeon quoted from the interim report of the 11-starred board of commerce to substantiate his contention that the duty enhanced the price. This report was made just previous to the resignations of Messrs. O'Connor and Murdock, and it states that the abnormal profits were due in a considerable degree to the high protection given the textile trade.

Hon. Geo. Langley gave the commission a splendid example of Hyde Park oratory. He is shrewd and witty, powerful with the farmers, unpopular with his cabinet colleagues, but they dare not lose his support. He has been in the legislature since 1905, and, besides politics, has been engaged in farming. He claims that neither wheat nor corn has paid for four years would more than compensate for the high cost of labor and of living, he admitted, but he feared for the future, as dark days were in sight. In fact, he claimed that the war had saved the western farmer from disaster.

His remedy for all the evils of agriculture was freedom of trade and direct taxation. Mr. Langley was opposed to any tariff commission, administrative advisory. J. W. J. Orchard, president of the political section of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' association, said that the general Turgeon, he had not given any protection to comparative prices in Canada and the United States. He said that the essentials of living, and also the price of wheat, had advanced against cheap German labor, and was doubtful whether the wheat which much protection against Japanese labor, suffering from such evils as the locust, cutworm, grasshoppers, drought, hail and frost, but the worst of these was the tariff.

Question of Twine. The question of twine is agitating the west. The Canadian farmer pays 20 cents per pound and the American farmer only 15 cents. It is said the difference in cost is due to the exchange, but as the increase is 25 per cent, against a change rate of 10 per cent, the farmer thinks something is wrong. There is also the knowledge that the cost of twine to the consumer is higher this year than while the cost to the manufacturer is half the cost this year compared with what he paid in 1919. It is said that the cost of twine to the farmer at the mercy of the powerful American combines is the cause of the binder twine. The reverse of this condition is the farmer's complaint against the Ford river. Here the price is 1200 more than across the line. North Dakota is continuing to export wheat. Both are hard wheat growing areas. North Dakota in the United States has a large stock of wheat, but the rest is in the hands of the American farmer.

Class Movements. Here the farmers are agitating against what they call tariff extortion, while there with no tariff advantages they organize against the extortion by the big interests of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Chicago. It is a class movement in both countries, carefully nourished on prejudice. In Saskatchewan and Alberta in many sections agricultural conditions are very bad. For four years there have been many crop failures and many only partial crops. Climatic conditions have been very bad and climate is the main factor. Ten years ago land was much more valuable at Weyburn than Regina. Now land sells in Regina district for $100 to $140 per acre, and around Weyburn at $30. For some years climatic conditions have favored Regina district and been unfavorable to Weyburn. Similar conditions prevail throughout the prairie. Where there has been ample rainfall at the existing rate the country is prosperous and land values enhanced, and the opposite is true in the unlucky areas. Many settlers in the heartland and in their stoom will not accept reasonable and moderate tariff increases, and this added to repeated failures has disheartened and demoralized the farmers. The falling price of wheat and increase in freight rates have not added to the joy of the farming community.

Affect Political Views. These conditions all affect the political situation. The tariff in Canada is a bankers and manufacturers are all looking upon as enemies of the western farmer. The farmers wanted free trade and Saskatchewan would decide the next election the way they have. They claim that Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King would secure a single constituency. They do not want to continue of complete victory over the government. After re-election, when Saskatchewan may have twenty members they would elect a government more than a chance in six seats.

SUGAR CROWD IN FEAR OF LOSING BIG PROFITS

The World's article of Sunday was answered by special editorials in behalf of the refiners and speculators in sugar. They were well informed, profilers, and not a word for the Canadian consumer who had been unmercifully treated in the way of high prices.

The Globe yesterday, for instance, had this to say in its editorial: "The people of this country are not anxious to see any Canadian business carried on at a loss, and do not wish to deprive the sugar refiners of a fair profit. But they have suffered so long from the high prices of necessities that they regard with suspicion anything that looks like an attempt to keep those prices up by artificial means." The Star was equally weak—not a word for the public. The Telegram blamed the government for inducing the refiners to over-import high-priced raw sugar. No one blames the refiners or the speculators. The Mail is much more open in its plea to save the refiners and the speculators in sugar.

The Star also says that Mr. Robertson, the confectionery manufacturer, feels for the refiners and the speculators. The same paper says the best-root sugar from the beet crop of the Canadian farmers will be on the market in a week, and the price must come down as a consequence.

Why should all these papers, including the Telegram, make such a plea for the protection of the refiners, the speculators, the sugar men (big and little)? The Telegram says the refiners made big profits of raw sugar at the special request of the government. The World imagines its article in the Sunday World brought havoc to the speculators and refiners, and that the government intimated speedy action might come from that quarter in the interest of the consumer. But the drop in prices will be more pronounced than ever today, and the banks will force the speculators to unload.

The N. P. and Profits. Here is what one householder said to The World last night: "Never before in this country has any necessity for general use been so shamefully exploited as the commodity of sugar. Refiners who have made profits far beyond their dreams are still clamoring for more protection. In New York, sugar is being hawked about the streets at half the price asked in Toronto. Sugar profiteers who plead for more protection deserve no consideration from the government. It may also be observed here that the old N.P. was never intended as a weapon in the hands of rapacious greed to hold up the consumer."

The Moratorium in Cuba. A Toronto banker said yesterday that the moratorium just passed in Cuba for the relief of business was instigated by over-speculation in sugar and extravagance in its wake.

Sharp Drop Coming. That white granulated sugar will drop to at least 17 cents a pound, wholesale price, by October 20, when the Canadian beet sugar crop will come on the market, was the prediction yesterday of William Robertson, president of the wholesale confectioners. He said the estimate for this crop was about 2,500 carloads, which the refiners were under contract to take. American sugar prices to get rid of their refined stock so that they can handle the beet crop, which was already started to come in, and should be in the region of 40 cents, by the end of this month," said Mr. Robertson.

The refiners are said to have a stock of 55,000 tons of sugar, and Mr. Robertson figured that they stood to lose at least $2,500,000 in the next two weeks. At the same time, Canadian growers of the peace treaty provisions for the right of transit for Poland thru Russia and Ukraine and for Russia and Ukraine thru Poland.

DELAY THE SIGNING OF PEACE TREATY

Compulsory sale of all goods and requisitions are forbidden. Preserve Territorial Integrity. Each of the belligerent parties assure each other complete respect for their state of sovereignty and agree to refrain from any kind of intervention in the internal affairs of the others. Moreover, both agree to include in the treaty obligations, and neither to create or support organizations which have for their purpose an armed struggle against the other contracting party nor to seek the destruction of the existing state and social order of the other.

Article 15—An agreement to begin immediate negotiations for a final peace treaty. The parties agree that the ratification and ratification documents shall be exchanged within six days after ratification. Both parties agree to ratify within fifteen days after signature. The parties agree that the preliminary peace terms are not ratified in the prescribed time. But military operations cannot be resumed until six hours after the expiration of the time for ratification.

CHARGE CRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE. Gordon B. Smith, Keele street, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of criminal negligence. Smith, the police officer, was driving his auto south on Jarvis street on the wrong side of the street on Saturday afternoon when it collided with a motor car, injuring Mrs. Stokes, 180 Beaton street, who was in the car.

FALLS OFF FREIGHT CAR. Jarrod off the top of a freight car at the West Canadian siding, West Toronto, yesterday afternoon, William Morrison, 2780 Jarvis street, a brakeman on the G.T.R., received a fractured skull. Morrison was attended by Dr. Griffith, the police surgeon, at the Grace Hospital in the police ambulance.

LABRADOR CAMPAIGN FUND RECEIVES $5,000

Subscriptions Counted by Committee Last Night Give Promise for Work.

The Labrador fund for the perpetuation of the hospital and missionary work established in Canada's most eastern dominion by Dr. Wilfrid T. Grenfell, received last night at the big meeting in Massey Hall, subscriptions to which amount to approximately $5,000. This represents the actual return as counted by the committee last night, excluding straggling pledges yet to be collected. Dr. Grenfell attended at the hall, as he stood in the centre of the platform, almost exclusively in the form of sincerity behind the welcoming applause. Robert Falconer, chairman for the evening, had a long and interesting speech. Here and there through the address by Dr. Grenfell and those that followed there came the occasional words of cheering from the audience. Every available seat in the hall was taken.

Equimaux Moving to Batfin. The Equimaux, Dr. Grenfell said that in a very few years, he thought these people would all have to cross the water to Batfin Land, because they could not live in the white. Prof. George M. Wrong called for a vote on the Labrador question. He said that the Labrador and Dr. Grenfell personally. The audience clapped its hardest.

PRICE OF SUGAR MUST DECLINE (Continued From Page 1). There was a wild orgy of speculation in sugar, big consignments being bought and sold at a profit half a dozen times in one day. Had the refiners got the price of sugar to 40 cents, they would have sold to the public at 40 cents, no matter how little the raws cost them.

CONSERVATIVES PICK MAJOR A. C. LEWIS

(Continued From Page 1). Major Lewis was nominated by Capt. J. Thompson and J. Chambers. Colonel Nasmith was nominated by Messrs. Allen and F. Shilton, and Col. Kelly, Mr. J. A. Drummond and J. W. G. Boyd. Other nominations were: Mr. Russell Nesbitt, William Simpson, Mr. Van, ex-M.L.A., and J. M. Skelton. With the exception of the first three gentlemen, all the others nominated withdrew their names.

Major Lewis pledged himself to support the Hydro-Electric Commission on the months back, said, the party would have had no issue to fight, but now that the government had appointed a member to the platform and he would make an issue of it, he said. Hydro matters, they had an issue which was most important to the Dominion. He said he would support the Hydro-Electric Commission, and he would support the Hydro-Electric Commission, and he would support the Hydro-Electric Commission.

Colonel Nasmith's Position. Colonel Nasmith in a humorous and over speech stated his attitude towards the Hydro-Electric Commission. He said he was not politically wise in expressing his views, but he would support the Hydro-Electric Commission, and he would support the Hydro-Electric Commission, and he would support the Hydro-Electric Commission.

G. W. V. A. CHIEFS ARE INVITED

J. F. Marsh, general organizer for the G.W.V.A. in Ontario, stated to The World last night that the World War Veterans' Association is in need of a new general organizer for the province. He stated that the association had a meeting last night at the G.W.V.A. headquarters, and that the meeting was a success.

possibilities as a basic factor of industrial progress. The huge quantities of electric power used in the manufacture of chemicals and other war materials have unquestionably led to a much wider use of electrical power in peaceful industry. It is this condition which has brought about the possibility of developing a power on the St. Lawrence within a reasonable distance of realization.

Limitations at Niagara. Sir Adam stated that an idea is generally held that the waters of Niagara are current in the waters of Niagara can be used for industrial purposes is governing the falls of Niagara and its environs. It is this condition which has brought about the possibility of developing a power on the St. Lawrence within a reasonable distance of realization.

Such being the case and apart from any limitation in the matter of scenic effect, there would remain only about 100,000 second feet of water jointly available to both countries for power purposes at mean stage of flow in the Niagara river. This mean stage can be artificially regulated by the level of Lake Erie. These figures make apparent the possible future status of the power development at Niagara and indicate that by the end of 1921, when the first units of the Queenston-Chippawa project will be in operation, 55,000 second feet, or 56 per cent, will have been absorbed and only 44 per cent will remain for the future needs of the two nations. More than half of the available potentiality of these waters has been absorbed in 25 years in view of the constantly accelerating use of Hydro-Electric power for domestic and industrial purposes. It is not unreasonable to predict that in the near future the power possibilities of Niagara will be exhausted. At least insofar as continuous service is concerned, this prediction proves to be even approximately correct. The conclusion to be drawn is obviously beyond the possibility of an argument.

Canada and the United States must provide for developing the immense latent power resources of the St. Lawrence and they must formulate their policy of addressing the commission in view of the constantly accelerating industrial development of the Dominion. The meeting was most enthusiastic and those who addressed the commission in support of the Hydro-Electric Commission included Francis King, John M. Campbell, Capt. John Donnelly, James Mayor R. P. Elliott, of Kingston; Irwin Hilliard, Morrisburg; A. J. Richardson, Belleville; Mayor Lewis, Brockville; George P. Graham, Brockville; Sydney

SWEEPING CHANGES IN POSTAL AFFAIRS

International Payment for Mails to Be Made on Gold Dollar Basis.

Madrid, Oct. 11.—Changes of sweeping importance in the postal relations of the world will be effected as a result of the deliberations of the international postal union congress during the past week.

The notable items upon which the committee reported favorably are: 1. The establishment of international payments for the transit of mails on a gold dollar basis.

2. The fixing of an increased maximum rate for postage on international mail, but with the proviso that the various countries may retain the present rates or fix their rates according to their own ideas, as long as they do not exceed the maximum accepted by the union.

3. In future congresses, only parent countries will have voting power, colonies being excluded from voting, although they may send delegates.

4. The creation of a pan-American postal federation.

There was a long discussion over the question of payment for the transit of mails, owing to the extreme variation in money values in European countries since the war, but all the delegates eventually agreed that some basis must be chosen, and the gold dollar was adopted as the most stable.

The eastern and western hemispheres were sharply divided on the question of an increase in international postal rates, the Americans opposing augmentation on the ground that such a measure was calculated to injure commercial interests greatly, and was unnecessary for revenue purposes.

The question of voting power for colonies was hotly debated, Germany joining the eastern hemisphere in declaring that colonies should form part of the mother countries, although they should be empowered to send delegates without votes.

EMPLOYMENT GOOD IN EASTERN ONTARIO

W. E. Turley, provincial secretary of the G.A.W.A. for Ontario, who returned on Sunday from a trip thru eastern Ontario, stated to The World yesterday afternoon that employment was good in that part of the province, in fact, the demand was far in excess of the supply.

Mr. Turley's idea is to have the government immigration authorities take in hand those immigrants with no real home address or work in view for the immediate future, and place them with men who need help the worst way, thus serving both immigrants and employers.

BUILDING FOR LEASE TO MOTOR COMPANY

Old Presbyterian Church Disposed of—Permits Issued by City Architect.

A building to cost $150,000 will be erected at 181 West King street by Lt.-Col. G. Peuchen, for lease to the Ford Motor Car Co. of Canada at $17,000 a year.

The Luxfer Prison Company has purchased thru the Realty Service Company and Robins Ltd., the 313 South Side Presbyterian Church, on the west side of Parliament street, south of Queen street.

The purchasers are vacating the Cowan building to make way for the Lorraine Candy Company.

The St. Gilda Presbyterian congregation, now on Oak street, are the vendors. South Side Church was established in 1880.

The city architect's department issued the following building permits yesterday:

Welsmeller & Mackenzie, two pairs semi-detached dwellings, south side of Berwick avenue, near Duplex avenue, $18,000.

Robt. Oakley, pair semi-detached dwellings, east side Donlands avenue, near Baltic avenue, $7,200.

Thos. H. White, dwelling, 267 Dalhousie street, near Mt. Pleasant road, $3,500.

NEW PROFESSOR FOR TORONTO UNIVERSITY

A strong addition to the staff of the School of Practical Science arrived yesterday in the person of Professor Adrian Berrington, who is to take up the duties of associate professor of architecture, specializing in the studio portion of architecture, in which he has had wide experience both at Paris, France, and in many sections of England.

"Professor Berrington" said Dean Mitchell yesterday, "is not only a noted architect, who comes direct from Paris, but he was a distinguished soldier in the war, serving five years, less two months, and being wounded twice."

BEQUEST IN WILL TO MAINTAIN DOG

Book debts and notes in Ontario valued at $10,817 are included in the estate of Mary Louise Hepton, of Leeds, England, who died November 16, leaving $14,627. B. W. Keer has been granted ancillary probate to the will in the Toronto surrogate court.

A daughter, Dorothy M. Hepton, receives the bulk of the estate. One clause of the will leaves $50 annually for maintenance of a dog called Bogey.

SLIGHT DECREASE IN ONTARIO PLACEMENTS

Reports from the Ontario offices of the employment service of Canada show a slight decrease in placements. Positions being found for 2,438 men and 170 women, while during the preceding week 2,455 men and 181 women were placed.

The past two months show a decline in vacancies to the extent of 500 jobs while during the same period the applications were increased by 339.

The greatest demand at the present time is for laborers, lumbermen, agricultural workers and manufacturers of metals. The supply of laborers was 222 in excess of the demand.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS OF NAVY LEAGUE DRIVE

Most encouraging reports are being received by the executive committee of the Ontario branch of the Navy League of Canada, in connection with the forthcoming campaign to raise $760,000, $10,769 having been received already.

The Victoria County Council made a grant of $2000. Hamilton Council gave $2500, and Dundas $1500. The town of Hespeler has sent in $404; Brockville, $141; Port Carling, $183, and smaller amounts have come from various other places.

ARNEL LOVE WILL NOT FACE TRIAL

Self-Confessed Murderer Said to Be Suffering from Morbid Imagination.

It is announced by the attorney-general that Arnel Love, the young self-confessed murderer of his mother, will not be placed on trial.

"Arnel Love's father, Charles Henry Love, was hanged at Owen Sound in May, 1913, for this murder, and he has thought of the tragedy almost daily ever since. He gave evidence at the trial of his father, and his testimony, although not very important, was a link in the chain against his father. This fact was probably an added cause of mental disturbance."

"Taking the father's confession and the young man's statements into account, and having regard to the rein charge and placed in a reception hospital for observation. He has now been under medical observation for an extended period, and, as a result, the physicians have come to the conclusion that his story is a mixture of truth and imagination, so interwoven that it is impossible to tell where truth stops and imagination begins.

"The main facts leading up to the present situation are as follows: The young man was 14 years of age at the time of the tragedy, physically undeveloped, but mentally a bright boy. His mother was murdered, and his father, to whom he was much attached, hanged. These events gave him little rest and much to think of, and he has thought of the tragedy almost daily ever since. He gave evidence at the trial of his father, and his testimony, although not very important, was a link in the chain against his father. This fact was probably an added cause of mental disturbance."

"Taking the father's confession and the young man's statements into account, and having regard to the report of the alienists who have had him under observation, there is strong reason for believing that Arnel Love's confession is the product of a morbid imagination. At all events, there is no doubt at all that on the facts within the knowledge of the crown no jury would convict him of the crime. He will, therefore, not be placed on trial."

NEW HEAD FOR LIQUOR VENDORS RECOMMENDED

A. H. Birmingham has been recommended as successor to W. J. Cleland as general manager of the Ontario government's dispensaries, the provincial secretary, announced yesterday. Mr. Birmingham is at present connected with the office end of the Front street dispensary.

Rev. J. O. Spracklin will also be recommended to the government to continue his work as license inspector at Windsor for another three months.

CLAIMS APARTMENT HOUSE IS NUISANCE

Many Business Houses Ask Assessment Benefit Fixed for Retailers.

J. F. Austin, 15 Orjole road, is appealing against his assessment of $6,000 on the ground that an apartment house adjoining depreciated the value of the property. He writes: "It is a nuisance in the summer, I have had to go to the city hall twice on account of their burning garbage, the odor and smoke forcing us to keep our windows shut at night as well as during the day—also on account of the tenants throwing things out of the windows and the children climbing over the fence and destroying my garden."

A number of appeals have been registered by business concerns claiming the benefit of the 25 per cent assessment fixed for retailers, instead of the 60 per cent rate for wholesalers.

H. M. Hunt, of Hunts Ltd., confectioners, 245 Avenue road, and William Davies Company, on behalf of their store at 171 Avenue road, are two of this kind.

J. A. McMullen, 90 Pleasant bldg., is appealing an increase in assessment on property at 1512, 1516, 1518, 1524, 1528, 1532, 1534, 1538 and 1538 Yonge street on behalf of the McMullen estate, of which he is executor. The increases are as follows: 1512, $350 per foot to $400; 1516, $225 to $300; 1518, $225 to $275; 1524, $225 to $275; 1526, 215 to $260; 1532, $215 to $260; 1534, $200 to $240; 1536, $190 to $225; and 1538, $180 to $200.

The Human Clock usually Breaks Down Instead of Runs Down

It has long been a favorite idea of mine to compare the human body with my old clock here.

"Without proper attention the old clock gets run down and stops until I wind it up again and then it ticks away just as heartily and regularly as ever."

"And so it is with the human body, but the great difference I find is that the human clock usually breaks down instead of runs down, because people neglect to take proper care of their health."

"Through all these years I have managed to keep well and to keep young by using restorative treatment whenever there are indications of the system becoming run down."

"Fortunately I learned the value some years ago of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and to its use I largely attribute my healthful condition at this age."

"When I hear people talking about being unable to sleep, or of suffering from nervous headaches, indigestion or worn-out feelings, I ask them, 'Why do you not use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to increase your nervous energy?'"

"So many people, as age advances, suffer from a lowering of the vitality, from high blood pressure or hardening of the arteries, but I have found that the use of this restorative treatment, when required, keeps my health at the high water mark."

Before beginning the next series of advertisements to tell people about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, we want you to help us to decide on the style of our advertising.

The use of testimonials has always been favored in medical advertising, but with an effort to make our advertisements more interesting we have during the last few years used attractive illustrations and the conversational style of reading matter.

You will find samples of both styles of advertising on this page. What we want to know is which style appeals most strongly to women, because it is on the wife and mother mostly that rests the responsibility of looking after the health of the family.

If in addition to reporting that such a style of advertising is most interesting to you, you can say, "I have made inquiry among 25 of my friends and find that 16 have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as the result of reading your illustrated advertisements, 7 on account of reading testimonials and the other two have never used it," your answer would be much strengthened.

By adding further particulars as to various cases which have come to your attention your letter would be made more interesting and more likely to win a good prize. Your name will not be used publicly without your permission.

Was Given Few Months to Live Is Now Strong and Well

Miss E. W. Ehman, School Teacher, Libau, Man., writes: "Four years ago, while living in Regina, I was afflicted with fainting spells, nervous headache, and became very thin and pale. I sought medical advice and was treated for consumption, and given only a few months to live. I had to sleep on the verandah and was told not to go to public places for fear of spreading germs."

"A newspaper advertising Dr. Chase's Nerve Food fell into my hands. I bought six boxes and after a few weeks began to increase in weight and feel better. Under this treatment I gradually regained my health and now weigh 165 pounds. I asked advice about."

TESTIMONIAL STYLE.

The Questions to be Answered

1. Which style of advertising interests the most people in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food?
 - A. The use of testimonials?
 - B. Human interest advertisements with illustrations and conversational style of copy?
2. For what ailment do you find that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is most frequently used?

$300.00 in Cash Prizes

$50 for second best letter.
$25 for third best letter.
$5 each for succeeding twenty-five best letters.

For your guidance we would suggest that you clip out this advertisement and start in at once to make an investigation among your friends and neighbors.

The competition closes Nov. 15th, 1920, but in case of two letters being equally good, the first one received will have the preference.

The Railway Rates.

The government has directed the railway commission to revise its recent ruling raising railway rates by determining what the service is reasonably worth without taking into account all the necessities of the Canadian National Railway system. This means that the commission is to decide what are reasonable rates for the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and to establish those rates for both systems, no matter what deficit it may occasion for the time being in the case of the National Railways.

Possibly the government might have gone further and have indicated to the commission whether it should take into account the surplus of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the wasteful financing by which the annual burden of fixed charges was fairly-doubled by replacing four per cent debentures with ten per cent stock.

Generally speaking, the rule laid down by the government is sound, namely, that rates should be based upon the value of the service rendered, without regard to the wealth or poverty of the carrier. In this country, however, the railways are not public corporations. They are not creatures of the state, endowed with powers of expropriation equivalent to those possessed by the crown, but they have been largely capitalized by huge grants from the public treasury. The Canadian Pacific, for example, received a free gift from the government a large mileage of completed railway, part of it fully equipped, not to mention $25,000,000 in cash and 25,000,000 acres of land. Since then the company has received a government subsidy running from $2,200 to $4,400 per mile for new construction. The primary object of the undertaking was to supply the people of Canada with efficient railway transportation at reasonable rates, and the company does not dispute the right of the government to regulate its passenger and freight rates.

What those rates should be cannot be accurately determined by the value of the service rendered. One must take into consideration the whole history and purpose of the undertaking. The Canadian Pacific is not in a position of an individual owning a factory which he has built at his own expense, who may charge what he pleases or shut down the plant. It is the servant of the public and must perform its functions. The railway commission, however, will have to consider the cost of producing the transportation when it tries to decide what the transportation is reasonably worth, and in this connection take into account what the wages amount to, what the coal cost, and what are the operating expenses, and if reasonable return under all the circumstances upon the private capital actually invested. It would certainly seem, even in the case of the government railways, that the patrons of the road should pay the wages, coal bill and other working expenses, and later on even a partial return upon the capital invested by the government. When the various roads comprising the national system are properly co-ordinated and wasteful duplication eliminated, this will be feasible. Until then the railway situation will not be satisfactory, and the public are naturally chafing under what seems to be the delay in bringing about the necessary co-ordination and the economies in operation which will result therefrom. The problem is evidently too big for the railway commission with its limited powers and for the members of the cabinet sitting merely as an appellate tribunal. Big questions of policy still remain which must be faced and settled before long by parliament.

Getting Out of Politics.

Our provincial governments seem to be getting out of politics, at least so far as the two-party system is concerned. The Brury government in Ontario is composed of representatives of the Farmers' party and the Labor party, but on shy showdown in the legislature it could probably carry on support from either the Conservative wing or the Liberal wing of the opposition. Neither "wing" has much force or initiative, and the strength of the government will depend upon its keeping abreast of public opinion without much regard to politics or politicians. In Manitoba Premier Norris cannot carry on a party government, if he remains in office at all, and Premier Eger finds himself in the same situation after the New Brunswick election on Saturday last. In Saskatchewan and Alberta, Premiers Martin and

Stewart no longer pose as Liberals. They continue in office, and will remain in office just so long as they give satisfaction to the farmers of their respective provinces, and eschew party politics altogether.

The farmers in the country and the labor men in the cities seem to be ignoring the two old parties in provincial affairs, and there is really no good reason why many provincial elections should not be run as our municipal elections are run, without much regard to federal politics. We have more people in Toronto than they have in New Brunswick, but we would not discharge a good park commissioner because of his views on the tariff question or deem it important that the medical health officer should be a man whose father and grandfather alike had supported Sir John Macdonald.

In the Dominion field there is at least one vital issue upon which the people of Canada have been divided for many years, but it is beyond provincial or municipal jurisdiction. In a provincial election or in a municipal election some issue of supreme importance to the people of the province or the municipality may be at stake. But that issue should be decided on its merits and it can be decided without a rigid party system. Taking over the street railway here has been a vital issue in Toronto. Those favoring taking over the road have obtained an unmistakable mandate from the people. To do this it was not necessary to invoke party politics or call upon the shades of Sir John Macdonald and Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

For governing a nation under our British parliamentary system something like party government seems necessary. Is it necessary in the case of the provinces? Some people think they have too many governments and too much politics down by the sea. But the spirit of independence is growing, and one of these provinces may lead the way in adopting something like a commission form of government and getting away from the shadow of Dominion politics. A recent election in Prince Edward Island turned upon a law forbidding the use of automobiles more than three days of the week. It was an important issue but purely a local one, and by no flight of imagination could be tangled up with the National Policy, the Manitoba school question or the construction of the Quebec bridge.

CONFLICTING STORIES ON PLUMBER'S STRIKE

Montreal, Oct. 11.—The plumbers' strike has proceeded most successfully, according to J. R. Blais, business agent of Local 144, who states that in the six days of the strike, 500 of the 600 strikers have returned to work at the new rates of pay of 90 cents per hour for mechanics, and 65 cents for helpers. But at the headquarters of the master plumbers, the builders' exchange, Secretary D. E. Trotter, stated that there was no change in the situation. The masters, he said, were still standing pat.

We found a cat and had it sacrificed. That's all," she said.

THOUSANDS CHEER RETURNED PRINCE

Greatest Welcome of the Kind in the History of the Country.

London, Oct. 11.—The Prince of Wales, who reached Spithead yesterday on the battle cruiser Renown, made a triumphant entry into London today, on his return from his six months' tour of the empire. Hundreds of thousands of persons turned out to give the Prince one of the greatest welcomes of the kind in the history of the country.

From Victoria Station, where he was met by the Royal family, Premier Lloyd George and other dignitaries, all along the route to Buckingham Palace crowds were lined with cheerers, cheering multitudes, eager to catch a glimpse of the Prince.

The Prince traveled from Port Arthur to the royal train with his great-grandfather, several members of the royal family, and his brothers, the Duke of York and Prince Henry, and was tendered ovations by great crowds of British soldiers and Victoria Station, where he arrived, was profusely decorated, and large banners bore the words "Well Done" and "Welcome Home."

The King and Queen, Princess Mary and the Dowager Queen Alexandra, the other members of the royal family, Mr. Lloyd George, several members of the cabinet and many other distinguished personages were at the station. The Prince, with his two brothers, proceeded to Buckingham Palace in a carriage, with a mounted escort along streets blazing with flags and bunting, and accompanied by a crowd of cheering people.

Speaking on landing from the Renown, the Prince of Wales said: "I have visited the most magnificent dominions and British institutions are not, of course, in the same state of development in all parts of the empire, but everywhere, without exception, the people are happy and contented, and the future of the British Empire secure. So firm and clear is this devotion to British ideals and to the King, that my travels from beginning to end have been a profound source of inspiration and confidence. I am looking forward now to my stay at home. We are still, I fear, only at the beginning of the labor necessary to restore our credit and prosperity after the prolonged strain of war, and we are deeply interested in our problem of reconstruction which all parts of the nation must pull together to solve."

The King has sent the following telegram to the government of dominions and states visited by the Prince of Wales on his recent Australasian tour: "On the return home of the Prince of Wales, I ask you to express to my representatives in and peoples of the dominions and colonies he visited my heartfelt appreciation of the universal display of sentiment which binds all hearts towards him through his travels. These warm-hearted and spontaneous manifestations of regard for our eldest son have deeply touched me and myself. We have followed with pride and admiration the triumphant success of his mission and all the noble and selfless opportunities which he has given us to express to my people."

"May such intercourse create fresh ties of confidence and devotion between the throne and the generations present and future of these great lands, and thus promote the unity, strength and prosperity of the empire."

"To my son this wide and happy experience will ever be a priceless possession."

OTHER PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

The World will gladly print under this head letters written by our readers, dealing with current topics. As space is limited they must not be longer than 200 words and written on one side of the paper only.

THE DEATH OF WILLIE NUTT.
Editor World: What a commentary on our so-called civilization the tragic death of little Willie Nutt presents! Probably many will say that he had no business on the railway. Others may say that the trainmen should have exercised greater care in shunting trains. But what shall be said of that society in which, in this so-called twentieth century, a man, called a boy, is run over and killed, and his body is left to rot in a ditch? We may boast of the almost unlimited resources of Canada, or speak with pride of the marvelous advances of science, but the broken body of this little lad pathetically grasping the little lead, for which he paid such a heavy price, stands as a black stain on the fair name of Canada, and until we have secured our utmost to remove the causes of this and similar tragedies, we shall not be entirely free from blame in the eyes of Eternal Justice. LENIENT WITH MAN WHO BLEW UP FENCE

Record of Fine War Service Saves Ex-Soldier Who Caused Montreal Explosion.

Montreal, Oct. 11.—A record of honorable service in the Canadian expeditionary forces was a considerable factor in the settlement of the case, by sentence, against Walter West of Lyon Mountain, New York, in the criminal court here today. The defendant pleaded guilty to a charge of having blown up a fence, a fence next door to a hotel in Cote St. Paul, this city. No one was hurt, and no damage was done. The defendant was a former soldier, and his motive, and represented simply a lapse into abnormal conditions consequent on West's overseas service.

His family have promised to see that he is confined to an institution for the insane, and on this understanding, and on the record that sentence was suspended.

BANK OF MONTREAL SHARES WILL BE PUT TO TENDER

Montreal, Oct. 11.—The Bank of Montreal is asking for tenders approximately 3800 shares of $100 each, of the stock issue of 1920, part of the increased capital authorized by the shareholders of the bank at the special general meeting held on June 18, 1912.

These shares comprise the unaccepted portion of the fractions which, under section 24 of the bank act, are not allotted.

Tenders must be accompanied by a certified cheque for 10 per cent of the amount and the balance will be payable on allotment. The bank does not bind itself to accept the highest or any tender. The stock will rank for dividend from date of payment.

WOULD SELL EAR FOR $10,000.

Detroit, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Mabel Truckey, 21, mother of two children, wants to sell her left ear to Frank S. Quesada of New York City, Cuban planter, who recently offered her $10,000 for one that could be grafted to his head.

"Vanity goes out of the back door when the world is at the front door," she said. "I can spare my left ear, for with women wearing their hair the way they do now it will never be noticed."

BOYCOTT RESTAURANTS

New York, Oct. 11.—Greenwich village restaurants, where students of New York University said, "the atmosphere is good but prices too high," were boycotted by the student body recently. A "carry your lunch" movement was inaugurated by the students, who said they would refuse to patronize the village restaurants unless prices "are brought to a reasonable level and kept there."

CARIBOO TRAIL PASSES.

Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 11.—The famous old cariboo trail will soon be no more but a memory. On September 29 the new "Great Eastern" "thru service" schedule from Squamish to Williams Lake, a distance of 277 miles, was inaugurated. Cutting out Lillooet and Clinton lay-offs the thru service obviates the historic old stage and sleigh mail routes thru the Cariboo north country.

KING OF GREECE IS WORSE.
Athens, Oct. 11.—The condition of King Alexander, who was bitten by a monkey, took a turn for the worse this evening. His fever is high and his symptoms are considered grave.

THE HOUSE 'ROUND THE CORNER

By GORDON HOLMES

With expressive pantomime she inquired if Percy Whitaker was to share their council, and he replied with a nod. He was loath to deprive his eyes of the perfect picture she offered there, with her elbows resting on the window-sill, her head and shoulders set, as it were, in a frame, and the last rays of the sun brightening her pallid cheeks and weaving strands of spun gold in her brown hair. But the summons from the kitchen was not to be flouted, so he made for the door.

It will be remembered that the hall was lighted directly from the stained-glass window on the half-landing of the stairs. Indirectly, its gloom could be dissipated by any one of three interior doors, but all of them happened to be closed. Thus, when Armathwaite's tall figure appeared in the porch, it effectually withdrew the light gained thru the stained-glass window until the door itself was opened.

He had his hand on the handle when he heard a most weird groaning and shrieking caused by the closing of the bedroom window. Practically in the same instant he caught an affrighted yell from inside the house, and someone shot violently down the stairs and into the hall, falling in a sudden heap on the floor. Armathwaite had the door open in a second, and found Percy Whitaker lying at the foot of the stairs, while Marguerite's voice came in a cry of alarm:

"What is it? What has happened? Percy, is that you?"

By that time Armathwaite had partly raised the fallen man, who did not seem to have an atom of breath left in his body. Mrs. Jackson, too, came from the kitchen with a lamp, and Marguerite appeared on the stairs.

"What's the matter?" she cried again. "Did Percy fall? Is he hurt?"

"I imagine he missed his footing on the stairs," said Armathwaite coolly. "At any rate, he struck the floor with such a thump that he is winded."

"Now, old chap, pull yourself together! Can't you stand? Shall I carry you to a chair?"

In a dazed way, Whitaker endeavored to stand upright. At once he uttered a groan of agony, and would have collapsed once more if Armathwaite were not supporting him.

"By Jove!" exclaimed the other, "I'm afraid he is more damaged than I thought. Show a light here, Mrs. Jackson. Now, go ahead, and open the door of Mr. Whitaker's room if it is closed. I'll take him there, and find out the extent of the mischief."

Even in the confusion of the moment, Armathwaite noticed that Percy went gasping at the wall near the clock with the distended eyes of fear. Mrs. Jackson saw it, too, and with the outspokenness of her class, did not hesitate to put her thought into words.

"Eh, my, but 'poor young man'll have seen 't' ghost," she cried.

"I saw some spook," muttered Whitaker weakly. "Where is it? What was it? I'm sure I saw something."

"Go upstairs," Armathwaite commanded Mrs. Jackson angrily. "Or, better still, hand the lamp to Miss Meg, and stop talking nonsense."

Quickly he had Whitaker stretched on a bed, and soon ascertained that the trouble, whatever it might be, lay in the right ankle. The sufferer had taken off the patient-leather boots, and was wearing felt slippers, so examination of his many years to double those rates in many cases, with an average rate now of forty cents.

In connection with the increased rate many of the proprietors have stimulated the clean towel, formerly thrown in with the night's lodging.

Mrs. Jackson, "and bring me a basin of cold water. You, Meg," he went on, "might tear a sheet, or any piece of strong linen, into strips about three inches wide. Be as quick as you can, please! Every minute saved now may mean a week afterwards."

"What's gone wrong?" whispered Whitaker, when the women had flown. "Is it a spasm?"

"No, thank goodness! You'd not get over a broken ankle in a hurry; but you've collected a very nasty sprain, and possibly lacerated some ligaments as well. Fortunately, I know what to do before the joint has time to swell. How in the world did you contrive to pitch downstairs? The steps are broad, and the grade less than the average."

"I didn't fall. That is, I mean I didn't trip or stumble over anything. I didn't see it. I couldn't be mistaken, I'm crumpled up. I think I must have nearly fainted."

"But, my dear fellow, what you took for a shock was merely the reaction of a painted figure in a stained-glass window."

"It was more than that. I'm not quite a fool. I never saw anything so ghastly in my life. Didn't you say that the man was found hanging in the hall near the clock? Well, I saw him. I tell you, I had turned the corner of the stairs when suddenly the beastly thing loomed up right in front of my eyes. Then it groined most horribly. I couldn't be mistaken. I was thinking of nothing of the sort. In fact, I was wondering whether Meg would make a sensible view of things, and agree that I did right in getting Eddie to send for her mother. Then that cursed vision appeared. If I didn't see it, I'm going dotty. Why, I felt my hair rising, and I dropped, as tho' I'd been shot."

"Of course, I can't convince you now," said Armathwaite, "but when you are able to get about again, I'll show you just what happened."

"Get about again? You don't mean to say I'm crooked for any length of time?"

"For a day or two, at least," came the diplomatic assurance. "As soon as I've tied a couple of bandages, I'll send for a doctor, and he will be able to give you a definite opinion."

Whitaker groaned, and his eyelids closed wearily over the gray-green eyes.

"Oh, d—n this house!" he muttered. "It's bewitched! Why the devil did it ever come here?"

Armathwaite bound the injured limb tightly, and enjoined on Whitaker the necessity of remaining prone till a doctor arrived. There was little call for any such insistence. The unfortunate Percy was suffering enough pain already without adding to it by movement. He was persuaded to appeal to Farmer Burt for further assistance. Farmer Burt was not to be thought of until a messenger went to Dr. Scobie, at Bellevue, and Mrs. and Mr. Jackson remained with Whitaker in the meantime.

While descending the stairs, Armathwaite gave sneaked heed to the shadow cast by the window. It was dimly visible, but it seemed almost unbelievable that any person of ordinary intelligence could mistake it for a ghastly manifestation. Suddenly a figure struck him, and he summoned Betty Jackson.

"Would you mind walking to the front door and standing close to it, so as to block the light which enters thru the upper portion?" he said when she came.

"Continue Tomorrow Morning."

MAN O' WAR LIKELY TO START 2 TO 9 FAVORITE TODAY OVER SIR BARTON

ALL SET FOR TODAY'S TURF CLASSIC, MAN O' WAR V. SIR BARTON AT WINDSOR

Owners and Jockeys Arrive and Look Over the Ground — Both Horses Reported in the Finest Condition.

Windsor, Oct. 11.—Arrangements are all completed for the running of the classic event of the North American turf tomorrow afternoon, when Sam Riddle's Man o' War and Sir Barton will meet on a mile and quarter distance.

The track was remeasured today and was found correct. This was done so as to avoid any disputes at the conclusion of the race as to the relative merits of the contenders.

Both Man o' War and Sir Barton had had their workouts on Sunday, but today they were contented to rest. Sir Barton is in fine condition now, just as he was the day before he defeated Exterminator.

Willard and the Porter at Saratoga, last August, in 2:01 4/5, a new record for the distance, but later equalled by the Riddle colt. Man o' War is also in excellent condition and will be the favorite for the race at 2 to 9.

Sir Barton often beaten. Man o' War, during his racing career, has won 19 races out of 20 starts, while Sir Barton, in three years, has won 13 out of 21.

Man o' War's total record in stakes and purses has been $190,465, while Sir Barton has won for his owner $1,000,000 since he became racing.

The Riddle colt will tomorrow his winnings will approximate a quarter million dollars. Sir Barton has ever finished in front of Man o' War in Whitney's upset, which beat the Riddle colt by a nose in the Sanford Memorial Stakes last season.

Man o' War has since decisively beaten the Whitney colt on four occasions.

Attendance Expected 32,000. The attendance at the big race tomorrow will be the largest ever for a Canadian racing record.

New York sporting writers who have arrived here for the event expect a crowd of 30,000.

It is expected that a crowd of 30,000 will arrive from Toronto, Hamilton and Montreal.

All reservations on sleepers over Canadian roads were made two weeks ago.

The grand stand at Kenilworth Park, it is estimated, will accommodate 4500 people, while the bleachers, old and new, will care for 32,000.

There is room on the quarter stretch for 10,000 standing. The gates will be opened shortly before the race.

This part of the track will accommodate several thousand people. According to approximate figuring by the officials in charge, the attendance Tuesday will exceed 32,000, which according to critics, will be 8000 more than ever witnessed the running of a turf event.

It is pointed out that $125,000 will be spent in staging the big event, including the $25,000 for the $2500 gold cup. This amount should be more than cared for by the increased admission prices.

HAL MAHONE WINS PHOENIX PRIZE

The Feature in Monday's Grand Circuit Races at Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 11.—Hal Mahone, owned by George Brantley of Omaha and driven by Marvin Childs, won the Phoenix Hotel prize for 2:05 pacers this afternoon at the Grand Circuit meeting here.

The first heat went to Royal Earl, an accident causing Hal Mahone to stumble before the eighth pole was reached in the first heat of the race.

Lillian R. finished first in this heat, but after hearing the report of the patrol judges and drivers, the judges announced that she would be placed last for interference on the part of her driver, Thornton.

Princess Mary, second choice with the spectators, was so severely injured that she had to be withdrawn. Hal Mahone won the second and third heats.

Both R. in the 2:05 pacers and Miriam Guy in the 2:10 trot became double winners at the meeting. However, Esther Votter, who had her race in straight heats, did not win her race in straight heats.

The second went to the gelding, Irish Votter, also a heat winner in his previous start here, was third in the summary, Dan Hedgewood pacing a good race, was third in the summary.

Miriam Guy took the 2:13 trot in straight heats, this making her fourth victory in as many weeks.

In the second heat she came near equalling her record of 2:05 1-2, made in her other start, going the mile in 2:05 1-2. The closing race resulted in a victory for Mr. Jefferson, driven by Harry Stokes, the race being the fifth won by this popular driver at the meeting.

The first heat went to Walter R. while the little Canadian-owned mare, Alice Gray, landed third in the summary. Summary: 2:05 pace—Three heats, purse $1,000.
