Discussing the military situation, Trotsky declared that "on the front against White Poland our Red troops have fulfilled the fundamental part of their task. THOROLD SKEPTICAL OVER TRAMP'S STORY REGARDING TRAGEDY

Discuss Mob-Leaders' Prosecution—Chance of McNeal Trial in Toronto.

BRANTFORD ARREST

St. Catharines, Ont., Aug. 18.—(By Canadian Press)—There is considerable skepticism in the minds of Chief of Police Collins and Constable Dunin of Thorold over the story told by the tramp taken into custody by the Brantford police today in regard to David McNeal. The man is said to have stated that he knew McNeal in Thorold 12 years ago. As a matter of fact, the prisoner had never been in the town until a considerable time afterwards. However, the two Thorold officers intend to visit Brantford tomorrow and interview the man.

Driver Badly Hurt.

Charles Campaign, driver of the motor truck, which drew the hose reel to the town hall, which was set on fire in order that McNeal would fall into the hands of several stones with which he was hit while answering the alarm. The radiator of the truck was punctured in several places. Complete secrecy surrounds the special session of the Thorold town council, which is being held tonight, at which plans are being talked over for bringing the ring leaders of the mob to justice.

Sympathy for McNeal

In the meantime sympathy for McNeal is growing. Several St. Catharines businessmen today offered to contribute to a fund for his defence should one be opened. When this was reported to Geo. F. Peterson of this city, who is handling McNeal's case, Mr. Peterson said: "My client is only a poor man. I don't believe he has a dollar to spare. He is going to be defended to the best of my ability, the same as if he were wealthy." Word from the Welland jail tonight states that McNeal is recovering from his injuries inflicted by the mob Monday night. The councillors feel keenly the damage to the municipal building upon which considerable time and money (Continued on Page 2, Column 8).

SUFFRAGE TO WOMEN VOTED BY TENNESSEE

Unless House Rescinds Action Millions of Women in U. S. Will Vote in Presidential Election.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 18.—The amendment extending equal suffrage to women of the United States was ratified today for inclusion in the federal constitution, the lower house of the Tennessee legislature voting 59 to 48 to concur in the senate resolution adopted Friday, 25 to 4.

Action of the house made Tennessee the 38th state to approve the amendment, which suffrage forces, only formal verification by Secretary Colby of the United States state department to complete its acceptance by the country at large.

There is still a possibility that the house may rescind the action. At the moment Speaker Walker, leader of the anti-suffrage forces, changed his vote from no to yes, paving the way for a motion to reconsider. Under house rules he can present such a motion to reconsider within the next two legislative days. Should today's vote be confirmed by the house, the action will be final. The amendment will be free under the amendment to vote in the presidential election next November. Only successful litigation contesting the legal right of that legislature to ratify the section could prevent them. Steps for such a test of the provision of the Tennessee constitution involved already have been taken by the Constitution in the senate's action, two members changed their votes, and the measure was carried by a majority of four.

Outragists launched an uproarious demonstration before the clerk announced the vote, for there was no question that they had won. Women screamed at the top of their voices, socialist placards were waved, the necks of those nearest them and danced, so far as it was possible to do so, in the mass of humanity. Hundreds of suffrage banners were waved wildly and many removed the yellow flowers they had been wearing and threw them upward to meet a similar shower from the gallery.

FOUR AMENDMENTS TO THE COVENANT

Scandinavia Proposes Changes For Consideration at First League Meeting.

London, Aug. 18.—Headquarters of the League of Nations announced today that four important amendments to the covenant have been suggested by Denmark, Norway and Sweden for consideration at the first meeting of the league assembly on November 15.

The four proposed amendments were announced as follows: (1) Providing for a fixed annual meeting of the assembly and proposing that ten members of the league can demand and secure a special meeting at any time at the seat of the league.

(2) Seeking to regularize the method of selecting the four non-permanent members of the council. It is proposed to accomplish this by providing that the assembly, after making the first selection of four to serve respectively three, four, five and six years, shall name a new state yearly after the third year to serve four years and not subject to re-election for the following period. It is suggested that this method would secure successive representation on the council of a large number of states and would maintain continuity in the composition of the council.

(3) Making the obligation of arbitration more absolute by omitting the word "general" from Article XIII in the paragraph beginning "disputed" and ending "submission to arbitration." Permitting the council to authorize a state in the vicinity of a state against which an economic blockade is in force, to maintain a degree of intercourse with the latter, provided the council considers this necessary in order to prevent the blockaded state from attacking its neighbor.

The Truth About Telephone Profits

IN 1879 the telephone business in Canada was disjointed.

In 1880 a number of men determined to link up the scattered companies, improve their equipment, standardize their methods and give better telephone service. This was the Bell Telephone Company of Canada.

Like Christopher Columbus in his quest of a new road to Cathay, like most leaders of great enterprises, the new company was moved by the ancient and honorable desire for profit.

And it made a profit.

But the venture was new, the future so uncertain, that the company decided that adequate provision must be made for replacements, for emergencies and the requirements of an ever changing art.

Surplus earnings were re-invested in the business and a margin of safety built up.

The wisdom of creating this fund was soon apparent. The constant demands for replacements and extensions were met without too frequent appeals for new capital.

Not unnaturally the shareholders expected—and with good enough reason—that the earnings of these new extensions of service would be added to their own profits—that their self restraint would bear fruit.

But as a matter of fact the benefit did not go to the shareholder but to the subscriber. The increasing costs of operating the telephone system ate up all the profit there might have been on the newly extended plant. The re-investment merely enabled the company to continue its moderate dividends on the shareholders' initial investment without any increase in telephone rates commensurate with the increase in costs.

That is the story of the Bell Telephone Company's profits. Every cent of its surplus and reserve amounting to over $20,000,000 is re-invested in the business.

This then is the answer to those who say, "Let the Company use its Surplus and Reserve if it wants new capital!"

It has already used these funds!

The only hope of obtaining such sums as the $10,000,000 essential this year for extensions, lies in the sale of new securities.

These cannot be sold unless they bear a good interest rate.

Last year telephone rates yielded barely enough to earn 4% on the company's telephone property. This year they will earn even less!

BRANTFORD STORY.

Ross Takes Exception to Paying Out Grant on Ground of Illegality.

Finance Commissioner Ross had his first clash with the board of control yesterday about the payment of $3,500 to a soldiers' committee to entertain visiting V.C. men which had been authorized by the board at the last meeting. Mr. Ross took the stand that he had no authority to pay the money until approved by the board. The committee to entertain visiting V.C. men which had been authorized by the board at the last meeting. Getting Over Difficulty.
"We are elected to do the city's business, not the solicitor," declared the mayor with some heat, after hearing the solicitor's opinion. Commissioner Ross said something about having no desire to do something that wasn't legal, to which the mayor replied:
"If am responsible, not you; I am not going to take advice from anyone about this. You have your instructions to issue the cheque and it will be issued."
Mr. Ross then withdrew and later a representative of the auditing department appeared on the scene and asked that the auditing department be protected in the matter. At the suggestion of Controller Maguire the word "notwithstanding" was added to the new resolution and the burden of which was that the commissioner be ordered to pay out the money, notwithstanding legal advice against paying it.

WILL GIVE PREFERENCE TO RETURNED SOLDIERS

The report of the committee on behalf of the veterans employed in the civil service has now been made public by the G.W.V.A. The commission points out that temporary employees can only be paid the minimum salary prevailing in their particular branches, irrespective of their classification. The commission, however, points out that employees should not be considered temporary after being in the service six months.
There is an express stipulation that the reclassified temporary employees released prior to the date of classification shall have their claims to participation in the higher rates made retroactive. The commission further states that it has no power to give returned soldiers preference in the order of their release, and that all appeals against classification for inside and outside service must be made to the commission thru the respective deputy ministers.
The commission further states that returned men when warned of their release owing to a reduction of the staff, should immediately register with the commission and they will receive preference when assignments are made to vacancies in other branches.

WANT GOVERNMENT TO CLOSE UP FISHERIES

Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of public works, is leaving for Lake Nipigon to make an inspection of the government's fishing outfit there. The province has some $400,000 invested in wharves, in houses and equipment. Considerable pressure is being brought to bear on the government to get out of the fish business. Recently a petition signed by eight hundred fishermen and others, was received asking the government to discontinue the business and allow it to fall back into private hands. This is what will probably be done.

This, defendant denied, and claimed that although he had given the order for the goods he did so with the proviso that they must be safely shipped to his house. THEATRICAL MEN TO FIGHT FOR HEVEY

Withdrawal of Another Delegate Requested by Labor Council—Labor Notes.

The Toronto local of the Theatrical Employees' International Alliance has refused compliance with a letter from the Toronto District Labor Council, requesting, in view of his affiliation with the Labor Leader, the withdrawal of Charlie O'Donnell as its delegate to the council. The letter came as the result of a decision of the district council that in order to be consistent, the withdrawal of all delegates connected with the Labor Leader should be requested following the refusal of the credentials committee to admit W. J. Hevey.

The theatrical employees are, according to the statement of Mr. O'Donnell, determined to support the Stage Clearers' Union in their fight for the seating of Hevey and the recognition of the rights of the laborer to freedom of choice in the matter of delegates. The autonomy in this matter is unquestionably, in his opinion, with the local and not with the district council.

James Simpson, commenting upon Hevey's exclusion, stated emphatically that the district council appreciated fully its position in the controversy and was satisfied that its course of action was quite constitutional. The credentials committee, he stated, empowered by virtue of its position to refuse credentials which failed to fulfill purely formal requirements, but could also report adversely in the case of any individual who was not qualified to represent organized labor. The most determined fights in the American conventions, he declared, were those of the laborer against the employers and had finally confirmed the power of the credentials committee. Labor officials were unable to speculate as to the probability of the council proceeding further in the O'Donnell case, and stated that in any case no action could be taken until the council's next meeting.

New Wage Agreement. The new wage agreement for the year 1921 has been drafted by the permanent committee of the Painters and Decorators' Union, and will be presented to the members at their meeting on Tuesday next. The proposed schedule is believed to provide increases to cover the heightened cost of living, and it is planned to present it to the employers immediately that it is ratified, in order that they may have a definite basis upon which to estimate their labor charges in next year's contracts.

ELWOOD GIVES UP TO TORONTO POLICE

Declares He Was Not in City When Rosenthal Store Was Robbed.

Declaring that he was not in Toronto when the Rosenthal jewelry store, King and York street was robbed of over $50,000 worth of diamonds a few months ago, D. C. Elwood, of Miami, Fla., walked into the office of Inspector of Detectives Guthrie and surrendered himself. Elwood was seated amongst a number of men and Al Rosenthal was asked if he could pick out the man who he suspected was one of the gang who assaulted and robbed him. Rosenthal was unable to identify Elwood and the latter was released on condition that he would report at the city hall if he saw him this morning.

Elwood was arrested several weeks ago in Miami, Fla. He consented to return to Toronto and clear himself of the charges. He arrived in Toronto on the Niagara boat shortly after noon yesterday accompanied by his counsel, Bart A. Riley, Capt. Vickery of the Washington detective bureau and Fred Fine, prosecuting attorney of Babcock county, Florida. Elwood walked to the Moxop Hotel and after making reservation proceeded to the city hall to give himself up.

There are no marks or scars on Elwood's face. The man who attacked Rosenthal had his lip badly torn by Rosenthal during the struggle. To Inspector Guthrie, Elwood made the following statement, to substantiate his story that he was not in Toronto on June 18, when the Rosenthal robbery was committed.

"I have my customs receipts for my car. I garage my car at the Chevrolet Garage, 99 West Richmond, but was only in Toronto two days. I was in Ryrie's and Ellis' looking over a diamond, but never in Rosenthal's. I had two other companions with me on my trip to Toronto. They were Carl Dutton of Youngstown, N.Y., and F. Parker Taylor, paying and receiving teller of the Bank of Niagara, Niagara Falls, N.Y. We stopped at the Prince George and motored about the city.

"After leaving Toronto I stayed at Niagara Falls, N.Y., for ten days and went to St. Thomas to visit relatives. "I then went to Cleveland, went back to St. Thomas, then back to Cleveland and from there I went to Indianapolis and from there home to Miami. I sold my car in Cleveland as I had another machine in Miami. The chap I sold my car to in Cleveland was Louis Long of the Packard Co. He was arrested at the time, but later was able to prove his identity. The reason I sold the car was that I had another machine down home.

"I am a Canadian and was born in St. Thomas. I left there five years ago and went to Miami. I served a year in the American army and was gassed at Chateau-Thierry. I have a sister in Strathroy, Ont., and a brother in Vancouver. I have aunts in St. Thomas. My parents are dead. "If I was guilty of the crime I would never come back here. The text explains that the great advance in the cost of labor and material during recent years has made it a difficult problem for the Toronto Electric Commissioners to maintain the low rates for electric service reached by the successive reductions of 1915 and 1916. It also mentions that the legally constituted authority in regard to rates is the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, and in response to the application of the Commissioners the following revised rates for certain classes of service have been authorized by the Commission, to take effect as from the first of August, 1920, so that September bills will be on the new schedule.

The Rate Raising Mania.

The Bell Telephone Company seems to be applying for a raise in rates upon the ground that everybody else is doing the same thing.

The railway commission if it is to continue to fix the rates for the telephone company, should have much closer supervision and more drastic control over the operations of that company.

A great many things the railway commission ought to know about the Bell Telephone Company of Canada may be disclosed during the hearings upon the application of that company for higher rates.

The government will test the sentiment of the country before long in a number of federal by-elections.

The Federal By-Elections.

The government will test the sentiment of the country before long in a number of federal by-elections.

The most important election, and many think more important than all the rest combined, will be held in East Elgin on November 22, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of the late sitting member, David Marshall.

The Farmers' party, however, made a clean sweep in Elgin at the provincial election last October, and defeated the sitting Conservative members, including the provincial minister of public works.

The Farmers are therefore confident that they can carry the federal by-election, and the government, up to date, has shown no great alacrity either in opening the road, or in putting up the candidate.

Canada is Still a Part of the British Empire.

Mr. John W. Dafeo, editor of the Winnipeg Free Press, is a man of letters and usually of politically sound judgement, but he trembles on the verge of a precipice, when he yields to his fondness for discussing the status of Canada as a nation.

eighty was pushed to its logical conclusion. Canada is an autonomous nation, a self-governing dominion, with sovereign powers over her domestic affairs.

At present the King entrusts the foreign policy of the empire to his ministers, who are responsible to the British parliament. Upon their advice he makes war and concludes peace.

OTHER PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

HOUSING QUESTION.

Editor World: Some time ago Mr. Bonar Law, at a meeting in the London Guildhall, stated that "if there be anything that would make the danger of revolution in this country real, it is neglect to improve the social conditions of the people."

Now, that may be applicable here in Canada.

This housing deadlock is a monument to the stupidity and incompetence of the government.

Some months ago they appointed a commission and issued a blue book, and the writer sent in his humble essay, but nothing has been done in the matter.

There need be no difficulty about the building of houses.

Just consider what Canada did during the war!

There must be the same national will, the same determination, the same unwillingness to allow difficulties to obstruct, while admitted these war-time necessities of production.

What is the amount of deposits in the bank of the King?

Why cannot we have national or provincial home-building?

Why should the matter be resigned to private contractors?

Now a large proportion of existing houses ought to be scrapped as soon as they are well advanced.

There are no laws, make them.

Housing is a problem of life and death, but the all-important matter of housing has so far been condemned, alike by our scientific and our class conceptions of life, and the scientific legislation.

Instead of our city officials visiting the States so much, I suggest they visit more often cities in Great Britain.

Go to Birmingham and see the huge undertakings of the London county council, and other big schemes in progress at Manchester, Liverpool, Newcastle, Birmingham, Cardiff, and also ancient and historic Bristol, somewhat smaller than Toronto.

On another occasion he is reported by Lincoln Eyre to have said:

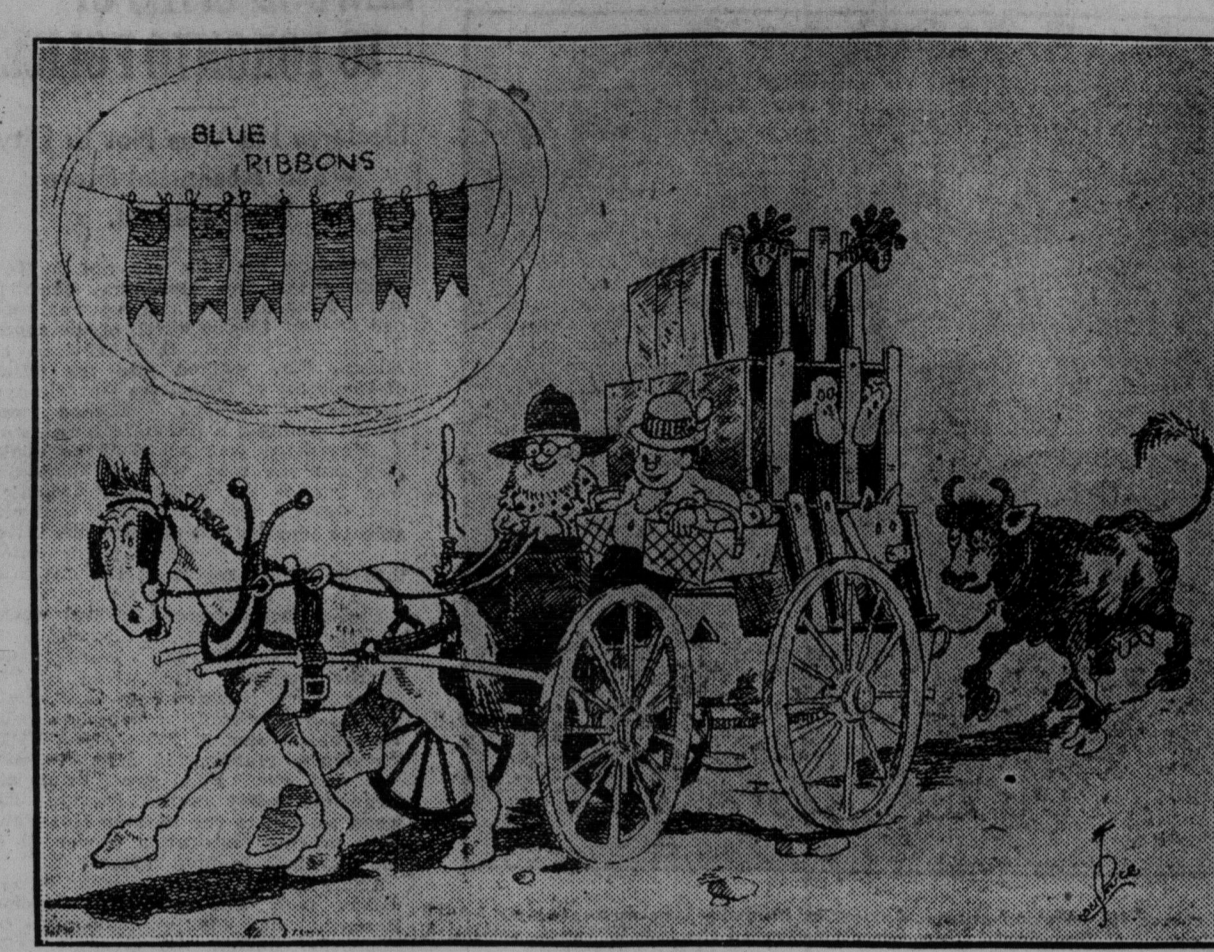

Our propaganda system is as strong and as far reaching as ever. The third international is primarily an instrument of revolution.

All efforts made with a view to bringing about an armistice between Poland and Russia, while avoiding giving the negotiations a character which might result in the recognition of the Bolshevik regime and in the dismemberment of Russia.

By this declaration France was regarded here as joining with the United States in opposing any negotiations with the Bolsheviks such as had been proposed by Great Britain in the once professed London conference.

Mr. Colby also issued a reply to an assertion by Foreign Minister Tchikherin, of the Soviet government, of Russia, that the Bolsheviks have shown that they "strictly adhere to obligations" and that if they promised to protect the United States "against aggression of the Third International, all our representatives will rigidly fulfill this pledge."

"I do not suppose," said Mr. Colby, "that Mr. Tchikherin has superseded Lenin as the authoritative spokesman of Soviet Russia. The actual words of Lenin are in very sharp contrast to the utterances of his foreign minister."

"Said Lenin before the council of the people's commissaries during the negotiations upon the Prinkipko conference:

"I have never hesitated to come to terms with bourgeoisie governments when by so doing I thought I could secure for my country the best possible peace."

"We are willing to sign an unfavorable peace with the allies. It only means that we should put no trust whatever in the bit of paper we should sign. We should use the breathing space so obtained in order to gather our strength in order that the mere continued existence of our government would keep up the worldwide propaganda which soviet Russia has been carrying on for more than a year."

"On another occasion he is reported by Lincoln Eyre to have said:

Our propaganda system is as strong and as far reaching as ever. The third international is primarily an instrument of revolution.

SAY HYDRO PROBE ELECTION PROMISE

Nixon, Representing Drury, Addresses Great Lincoln U.F.O. Rally.

St. Catharines, Ont., Aug. 18.—(By Canadian Press).—That the appointment of the special board to enquire into the Hydro radial project was in fulfillment of the pre-election promises of the United Farmers for a more careful financing of the province, was stated by Hon. H. C. Nixon, provincial secretary, this afternoon before a gathering of over 1000 farmers at the joint picnic of the Lincoln County Agricultural Society and Women's Institute at Vineland.

"If the government took the say so of one man to spend $100,000 it would indeed be open to criticism," he said.

The sense of direction which he had lost in those five minutes she had never been given opportunity to regain. She might, even now, be a gunshot from her own ranch; she might be twenty miles from it.

For the greater part of that Saturday night they had ridden; and when trails died under them and rocks rose steeply they walked, she and one man. The other stayed with the horses. Not once did she hear a man's voice; she did not know whether it was Trevors himself, or Quinlon, or some utter stranger who forced her into this hiding.

They had climbed cliffs, now going down into chasms, now following roaring creeks or making their way along the spine of some rocky ridge. The one man with her was masked, his eyes rather gawky than keen, though the slits of his bandanna handkerchief. He had jerked the bandanna from her eyes, since blindfolded she would make such poor progress. But still he guarded his tongue.

JUDITH OF BLUE LAKE RANCH

By JACKSON GREGORY.

CHAPTER XXV.
THE TOOLS WHICH TREVORS USED.

To Judith life had changed from a pleasant game in the sunshine to a hideous nightmare. In a few dragging hours she had come to know incredulity, anxiety, misery, dejection, black hopelessness, and icy terror. She had come to look thru a man's eyes at that which lay in his heart, to feel for the first time in her fearless life that the fortitude was slipping out of her bosom, that the strength was melting in her.

She lay on a rude bed of fir-boughs, an utter, impenetrable blackness like a palpable weight on her eyeballs. When it was silent about her, and for the most part silence reigned with the oppressive gloom, she yearned so for a little sound that she moved her foot along the floor under the bed, or even listened eagerly for the coming of the terrible woman who was her jailer.

Gropingly, again and again she went over in her thoughts the long journey here seeking fruitlessly to know whether she had come north, south or east from the ranch-house. It was one of these three directions, for there were no such mountains as these to the west, no such monster cliffs, no deep cavern reaching into the bowels of the earth. The sense that, even were she freed, she had no slightest idea where she was, which way she must go, stunned her.

"Will I go mad after a while?" she wondered miserably. "Am I already going mad? Oh, God, have mercy on me!"

From the instant when, Saturday night, she had been gripped suddenly in a man's strong arms, when another man had snatched her up, she had known in her heart that Bayne Trevors was taking his desperate chance in the game. But in the darkness she had only the two vague-blurs of their bodies to guess at. They had been masked; her own eyes were covered, a bandage brought tightly over them, her mouth gagged, her hands tied behind her, her body lifted into the saddle—all in a moment. Neither man had spoken. Then, tied in the saddle, she only knew that she was riding, that one man rode in front of her, leading her horse, the other following close behind.

The sense of direction which she had lost in those five minutes she had never been given opportunity to regain. She might, even now, be a gunshot from her own ranch; she might be twenty miles from it.

For the greater part of that Saturday night they had ridden; and when trails died under them and rocks rose steeply they walked, she and one man. The other stayed with the horses. Not once did she hear a man's voice; she did not know whether it was Trevors himself, or Quinlon, or some utter stranger who forced her into this hiding.

They had climbed cliffs, now going down into chasms, now following roaring creeks or making their way along the spine of some rocky ridge. The one man with her was masked, his eyes rather gawky than keen, though the slits of his bandanna handkerchief. He had jerked the bandanna from her eyes, since blindfolded she would make such poor progress. But still he guarded his tongue.

"He would speak," she thought.

strange that the Lake Superior C.P.R. division is making the best paying divisions of the C.P.R.

Commissioner McLean compared the Superior division with the west which must be maintained, and Mr. Carvell said that without it production in the west would not amount to much.

The fight through the entire sitting was centred on a statement submitted last week by the C.P.R. and designed to show the need of that company for higher rates if it is to be prevented from having a deficit during the year which will end June 30, 1931.

In that statement it was claimed that the C.P.R. faces a possible deficit of $7,000,000 if the existing scale of rates is continued in force.

Mr. A. C. McMaster, counsel for the Toronto Board of Trade, met the C. P. R. figures with a counter statement designed to establish that the company is likely to have a surplus of at least nine million. Mr. W. W. Mould, the statistical expert for the company, controverted many of Mr. McMaster's figures, declaring that these submitted by the company were well within the mark.

Mr. Symington, counsel for the government of Manitoba, submitted figures to show a natural increase in traffic in 1931 over the preceding year. On this basis he said the total increase for the year would be $24,000,000, of which the C. P. R. would get 44 per cent.

WORLD'S DAILY BRAIN TEST

BY SAM LOYD.
7 Minutes to Answer This. No. 276.

Three old maids went to market to buy a chicken. Arabella said to Betsy and Carrie: "Now, if each of you girls will contribute half of your money, I will have just enough to buy that chicken."

"I will make a better offer," said Carrie, "for if each of you gives one-third of your money, I could just manage to purchase the bird."

"I can make the best offer yet," said Betsy, "for if each of you chips in just one-quarter of your money, I will be able to buy the chicken." The chicken cost less than $4, so what must have been the price paid for it?

TEMPTING BILLS AT TORONTO THEATRES

Gaiety Opens Saturday Afternoon—Chu Chin Chow for Royal Alexandra.

The Messrs. Lee and J. J. Shubert will present McIntyre's "Heartsy" the new spectacular musical extravaganza, "Hello, Alexander," at the Royal Alexandra, commencing next Monday evening. This is the most pretentious production in which these celebrated black-face comedy stars have ever appeared, ran for many weeks at the 44th Street Theatre in New York and at the Gaiety Theatre in Chicago, attracting great audiences and declared an altogether novel and delightful offering. McIntyre and Heath recently celebrated their sixtieth anniversary of their stage partnership, establishing by a wide margin a record unique in the annals of the theatre. The company numbers almost one hundred people, every member of which has been selected with the definite purpose of contributing to what has been declared remarkable and unusual entertainment. Among the principals are Homer Dickinson and Grace Gordon, a Holt, Lillian Rose, Mabel Elaine, Betty Lewis, Dorothy Moore, Dan Quinlan, Edward Scanlon, Dan McNeil, Earl Richards, Phyllis Ray, Newport and Strik. Chic Barrymore and others. Seats are on sale today.

At Low's Next Week.

In its theme "The Perfect Woman," Constance Talmadge's latest photoplay at Low's Yonge Street Theatre and Winter Garden next week, is entirely different from anything that has been used as a subject for humorous photoplays. The Mimic World of the theatre, the foremost agency of entertainers, will be the outstanding feature of the vaudeville. The production is headed by that imitable comedienne, Alice Morley, who plays the role of a property boy. Other members of the company, numbering twenty-five, offer impressions of the leading stars of famous Broadway productions.

Gaiety's Reopening.

A production of rare distinction has been secured for the opening of the Gaiety Theatre, which takes place this afternoon at 8 p.m. "The Girls from Happyland" will usher in a season that promises to be most remarkable in the excellence of its superb offerings. Sam Lewis, the wonderful laugh-provoker, is the principal comedian. He is seen to better advantage in this new show than has ever been the case in the past. There will be two burlettas entitled "Nearly a Husband," and "The Wonder Springs." These musical comedies will be presented in a galaxy of wonderful scenery and by a company noted for its talent, its wonderful wit and the beauty of its large chorus.

Next Week at the Star.

Next week will see the number one show of the American Burlesque Circuit, "The Folies of Pegasus." Mr. Rube Bernstein, owner and producer of the "Folies" first acquired the habit of exposing the year's social and political facts in the year 1908, and it is said that the new 1921 edition of the "Folies" will outdo any of Mr. Bernstein's past efforts. Strictly cast and beauty chorus, Clyde J. Bates, the King of Tramps, and known as "Sum Bum" and "Al. Gold, burlesque's Klassest Kid, head the big list of entertainers, and is assisted by Dorothy Barnes, Lew Rice, Ruth Barbour, Betty Gordon and several other too numerous to mention. Seats are now on sale.

Dorothy Gish at Strand.

"Remodelling Her Husband," the exceptionally fine Paramount Artcraft picture starring Dorothy Gish, which is being presented all this week at the Strand Theatre, is winning golden opinion from the patrons of that popular playhouse. It abounds in the funniest situations imaginable. Its central theme, the reclamation by novel means of a wayward and roving husband, is handled with great skill and delicacy, and with a discretion which, while bringing out all the humor, safeguards it from the least approximation to vulgarity. Dorothy Gish excels herself in the role of the wife who reclaims the straying one. "Dumbbells" Continue at the Grand, "The Dumbbells" will remain at the Grand Opera House one more week, the public demand necessitating an extension of the engagement. Every one knows by this time that the "Dumbbells" are the party of entertainers selected from the Third Division to entertain the soldiers while at rest from the strenuous life in the trenches in France. Over 500 performances were given in France and forty-odd in Belgium, after the armistice. They made a short tour in England, and last year visited all the old home towns in Canada. The reception tendered them were enthusiastic, and their popularity grew to such an extent that they were obliged to play return engagements. "Biff, Bing, Bang," the title of the revue, is a meritorious offering and is classily presented.

Regent Next Week.

It is hard indeed for an affectionate, emotional woman, devoted to her father and deeply in love with her fiancé, to decide which of the two is wrong in a vital matter where both cannot possibly be right. Such is the predicament of Helen Reardon in "The Frey," an Alice Joyce special production, which will be shown at the Regent Theatre next week. The pathetic faith of Helen in her unhappy father, and her grief over what she feels to be the base ingratitude of her fiancé, are admirably displayed by the charming and popular star. "The Frey" is a story of bitter sorrows bravely endured, with an ending far more happy than the circumstances would lead one to expect. Miss Edna Reed, a very accomplished dramatic soprano, has been engaged as the soloist for next week. The overture will be "The Bohemian Girl," and will be played by the Famous Regent Orchestra, under the direction of John Arthur. The program is exceedingly attractive and will be presented under most admirable conditions in regard to ventilation.

"Chu Chin Chow."

The seat sold for the farewell engagement of F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest's production of "Chu Chin Chow" will open at the Royal Alexandra on Thursday, August 28. During the local engagement the evening performances will start at 8 o'clock promptly, and the matinee at two.

He was attended by Dr. Norman, of St. John's road. The accident occurred at St. John's road and Evelyn avenue.

AMALGAMATION IS TOPIC OF VETERANS

The question of amalgamation was one of vital discussion at the meeting of the West Toronto G.W.V.A. at St. Julien Hall last night. "Amalgamation is absolutely essential," said President Payne, and disunion is fatal. We are absolutely divided, but we are not so much divided as are the politicians who have control of our organizations. Certain men are in the hands of the political parties. If the membership of the G.W.V.A. were taken, there is no doubt the power would reflect with us. The G.W.V.A. started the right time and in the right spirit, there would have been no other organization at the present time. There should be one democratic organization.

The following committee: Robt. Wood (chairman), W. Oxley, C. Allan Wood and J. J. Dunn have arranged a good program of games and sports for the joint Danforth Park and Eastdale Ratepayers' Association picnic to be held on Saturday at Westdale and Chisholm avenues.

SUBURBAN NOTES

LONDON AND HAMS DIVIDE THE BILL

Each Scoring a Shut-Out in Closing Series at Hamilton.

Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 18.—London made it three out of four in the series with Hamilton, which ended this afternoon, by taking the first game by 5 to 0, and losing the second by 6 to 0. They hit Behan hard in the first game, but could do nothing at all with Reddy in the seven-innings affair. Corcoran's hitting featured the second game. He cleaned the sacks in the fourth inning, when Hamilton got five of its six runs.

Harper held Hamilton safe in the first game, but Soutpaw Thomas was easy in the second. London errors also helped in his downfall. Neitzke pitched the last two innings.
