CHARGE, HE RANG A FALSE ALARM

But Evidence Against George Crawford Was Not Strong Enough to Convict Him and the Case was Dismissed---Reward Seekers Disappointed.

THERE IS NO LOVE LOST BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN

Bishop Potter, of New York, on His Return from the Continent Expresses this Opinion---Says Much Of It Is Gush---Great Britain's Splendid Work in Egypt.

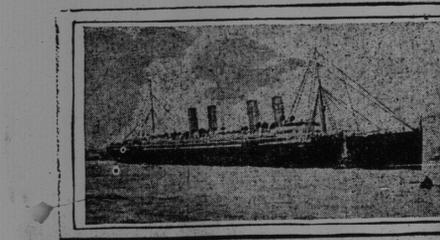

NEW YORK, June 11--The Times says: After a prolonged visit to England, the Continent and Egypt, Bishop Potter arrived on the White Star liner Celtic yesterday. He appeared to be in excellent health and talked freely on his stay abroad to the reporters who met him down the bay, and at the pier.

Then the Bishop explained "the eagle with his tail between his legs" remark. "I think the idea in my mind on that occasion," he said, "was a condition in Cairo that irritated other Americans also, namely the advertising of quite many of the things of the same order with the use of our flag for advertising purposes, in contrast to the splendid achievements of the British government in Egypt that I mention."

TO FIGHT REMOVAL OF OLD SHADE TREES

There is said to be some difference of opinion regarding the line of the proposed double track of the street railway in Lancaster. A resident of that section informed the Times today that the line as formed the Times would necessitate the removal of a number of large shade trees from in front of the Cushing property and that, the residents think, should not be as shade trees are not too plentiful in St. John.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

A WORD OF WARNING. THEY SPEAK A PARABLE. Under a tree in front of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, just before service yesterday morning some sparrows were hopping about, chirping at a great rate. A man stood up and tried to pounce upon one of the birds. It flew into the air and the cat leaped after it, but missed. At that moment a dog ran up and the man at once stepped back. The dog leaped, but fell back. A man with a cat appeared and the dog ran away. The man and the cat stared at each other. The expression of the man seemed to say: "Don't you know that this is Sunday?" The expression of the cat seemed to reply: "Don't you know that I have had breakfast this morning?"

FOR THE CHILDREN

The womanhood of St. John, voiced by the Women's Council, appeals to the citizens to aid in providing the children of the city with proper playgrounds.

The Council has had the needed work in mind for years, but until the present time has not been in a position to take it up in a practical way.

For it is not alone the appeal of the ladies of the Council. It is never that alone in any case where they appeal to the people for aid and sympathy.

The death of Premier Seddon of New Zealand removes the most pronounced Socialist who ever rose to a position of such power to enforce his views regarding Socialism.

Richard J. Seddon was born in Lancashire in 1845 and went to Melbourne, Australia, in 1863, going thence to New Zealand.

Regarding crops and the stock market a New York Journal observes: "As the present bull movement is based on the expectation of good crops, more reports of damage from reliable sources will not be so easily overlooked."

When King Peter was called to the throne of Serbia he was anxious to know the world's opinion about him, and instructed an agency to collect all press cuttings.

These men would represent the financial interests, the corporations and a high tariff, and that therefore neither of them would be an ideal candidate as matters now stand.

"There are," it says, "three distinct lines of division in the public opinion of today. One line represents the ultra conservatives, the stand-patters, the men who are opposed to any interference by the government in the regulation of the corporations."

Naturally, such a summing up points to Roosevelt as the most effective republican opponent of Bryan. But Mr. Roosevelt has openly and emphatically pledged himself not to be a candidate again.

It really seems at this stage that the problem of getting a desirable candidate presents greater difficulties to the republicans than to the democrats.

The city has three ferry steamers. Two of them are partially dismantled, and undergoing repairs. If anything happens to the third one the patrons of the ferry will be back again to primitive conditions.

KILLED BY BLOW OVER THE HEART
Michael Livingstone Met Violent Death While Driving on Saturday Night.
Michael Livingstone, of 33 Marsh Bridge, received injuries on Saturday evening that terminated in his death. On the night in question he was driving with Stephen McGuire down Brasenose street at a rapid rate, when the carriage collided with a sloven owned by Henry Jones, that happened to be standing by the sidewalk. The horse attached to the sloven reared and the shaft came in violent contact with Mr. Livingstone's breast, directly over the heart. The injured man was conveyed to the hospital, where he expired inside of five minutes. An inquest will be held.

HE DRANK SULPHURIC
Five-year-old Lorne McKenzie, son of William McKenzie, of 294 Waterloo street, was terribly, perhaps fatally, burned on Wednesday last, with sulphuric acid. The little lad is also suffering from bronchial pneumonia, and his temperature ranges between 104 and 106. Mr. McKenzie says that the doctor holds out no hopes of recovery.
Mrs. McKenzie was in a room just above and accidentally upset a bottle containing sulphuric acid, spilling part of it on her hand, which made her cry out. The bottle rolled down the steps as Lorne was coming up, throwing the remainder in his face.
Dr. Scammell was summoned and rendered medical assistance. Nurses from the hospital have been in attendance on the little boy. Both Mrs. McKenzie and Lorne have been in bed since getting burned. Mrs. McKenzie's hand is very badly burned and is very painful.

STMR. ETOLIA HARD ASHORE
She Went On Southwest ledge Near Cape Sable Yesterday Morning.
The steamship Etolia, Captain Jones, which vessel sailed out of this port Saturday for Barry via Sydney, C., went ashore on the Southwest ledge of Cape Sable during a thick fog at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. The tugboat F. W. Robbing left Halifax for the scene in hope of being able to render assistance. The crew have landed on the island, but Captain Jones did not leave the ship.
The Etolia had a large cargo of deals, shipped by George McKean for Barry, G. B. She is owned by the Elder-Dempster Company, and has a tonnage of 2078 net, and was built at Belfast in 1887.
On account of the steamer having a heavy list the port-wardens made a survey on the vessel Saturday morning and ordered part of her deck load off, which was done, but when the vessel went to sea she still had a bad list to starboard.
Word about the disaster came in a wireless message from the lighthouse keeper at Cape Sable to the Marine and Fisheries department at Halifax. News was also received by Messrs. William Thomson & Co., her agents, dated at Cape Sable, as follows:
"Went on Cape ledge at 9 a. m., all well; all saved. Capt. Jones still aboard. Inform owners."
Further particulars are expected this evening from the vessel by Messrs. William Thomson & Co.

THE BIG LEAGUE RACE.

The runaway race which the New York Giants are expected to make in the National League and the hot race of the Philadelphia Athletics in the American League have been checked. The long race for baseball supremacy finds the western teams factors for the pennant, and the fans are being treated to a battle royal.

Neither the east nor the west claim any superiority so far as the major league diamonds. In the American League, New York and Athletics, of the east, are being pressed hard by Cleveland, with St. Louis another western club well up. In the National, Chicago and New York are fighting it out for first place, with Pittsburgh, good third, and the Phillies within close range of the thick of the battle.

Thus, on the showing to date, four eastern and four western clubs have a look in for the pennant. These clubs represent six cities, Philadelphia and New York each has two leaders. Of the other cities which have two teams in the major league (Boston is apparently entirely out of the championship struggle this season, and Chicago and St. Louis each has one representative making good).

No season since the American League invaded the east in 1901 has been so interesting as the present one. There have been surprises unnumbered, more young players than ever before have come to the front, there have been winning and losing by different teams, and the clubs have shifted about in a gloriously uncertain manner. One bright spot about it all is that there appears to be fewer weak teams than last season, and no club in either league can now look for a season when it will have easy picking.

This, indeed, promises to be a memorable season. The one big surprise so far was the awful slump of the once champion Boston team in the American League. Columbia men who were not to be denied in the fighting on prospecting grounds, the defeat of the Boston team was a shock. Then they took a sudden turn, displaying form which leads to the belief that they will still reach the top.

Chicago has a good lead on New York now in the National, with Pittsburgh a long way third. Philadelphia must also be counted right in running.

LOCAL GAMES.

The Charlotte Street Stars defeated the Armistongs in a five inning game, score 10-0 on the West side. Saturday. Batteries: M. Brown, C. Barrett. The most interesting feature of the game was the home runs by McLeod and the batting of Brown out of the box.

ORIGIN OF SPORT

Our game of golf, or goff, as it was formerly called, was a popular sport in England and Scotland about the beginning of the 17th century. It was played by the nobility, and was the favorite pastime of Prince Henry, son of James I. Golf sticks were then called "bandies" and golf balls were made of leather and stuffed with feathers. The principle of the game was practically the same then as it is now.

GOLF

The lady golfers of the St. John Golf Club have mapped out an interesting schedule for the season. The club has been organized for some time, and has a fine course on the edge of the city. The ladies are expected to play a large part in the development of the game in this city.

LADY GOLFERS' FEAT.

NEW YORK, June 8.—It has remained for Mrs. Caleb F. Fox, a woman fifty years of age, to perform one of the greatest feats ever recorded by a feminine golfer in this country. In addition to leading the Philadelphia team to a 9 to 6 victory over the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association at the Nassau Country Club, in the decisive match for the Clement A. Oakeson trophy, she has broken the record by no less than ten strokes.

BEST CANADIAN RECORD.

In accomplishing this performance, Mrs. Fox defeated Miss Georgiana Bishop, a former national champion, by four up and two to play. The winner went out in 42 strokes, and in 40, which is only two strokes more than the men's bogey for the links. Professionals and amateurs alike agree that Mrs. Fox's feat is one of the most remarkable ever achieved in this country. Mrs. Fox makes a full swing that would credit any expert with the name of champion to a young girl, and her long drive hole is something rarely equaled by the men. To do this she had to run down a fairly long putt.

YACHTING

BERLIN, June 8.—The number of entries for the Kiel regatta number 98, which is smaller than for last year. The United States, England, France, Russia, and Belgium are entirely unrepresented.

FOOTBALL

PIELGRIMS TO VISIT CANADA. VANCOUVER, June 8.—The Pilgrims are coming—the famous Pilgrims Association football team of England—one of the best amateur soccer organizations in the Old Country. They will visit Vancouver next October and naturally local soccer enthusiasts are much elated in consequence, for they will have a chance to compare the work of local teams with the best of the world.

Last year both the Pilgrims and the Canadian team visited America; this season the Pilgrims have decided to include British Columbia in their itinerary, and matches will be played with all the local teams if satisfactory arrangements can be made.

The news of the forthcoming visit of the famous Old Country eleven was received in a telegram to J. W. Wallis, of Toronto, who has charge of the tour.

Mr. Wallis expects to receive definite word regarding dates of the club within the next few days.

An effort was made to have the Continentals visit British Columbia this season, but they demanded too much money for expenses. The Pilgrims have decided to include the whole of Canada in their itinerary, which will be good news for Old Countrymen in the city, who will no doubt be delighted to learn of the forthcoming visit of the crack English eleven, which is composed of men selected from a number of clubs in England.

THE OAR

DURMAN WILL ROW AGAIN. TORONTO, June 8.—Referring to a Canadian Associated Press cable from London announcing that Thomas and Sturges, N. S. W., on July 28, three miles, 30 yards, for $500 a side, P. J. Malgouren, Louis Durman's backer, said that Durman will challenge the winner for a side bet of $500. Durman would like to make a match for September next, either in Toronto Bay, or in England. In the event of the latter place being decided upon each contestant would pay his own expenses.

Mrs. Thomas—They say Jackson is living beyond his means. Mr. Thomas—He's lucky. I get the same salary as he does, but I can't live beyond my means.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Improve Your Complexion

Give up Cosmetics and Seek the Cause of Your Bad Color. When it's so easy to bring back the bloom of youth, to remove the blemishes and fill the hollows, isn't it foolish to plaster on cosmetics?

Remove the cause—correct the condition that keeps you from looking as you ought. Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills and very soon you'll have a complexion to be proud of.

Just imagine how much happier you will feel when those pimples and murky look have gone. Today my skin is clear and my complexion is so good.

My friends all admit that I have a very delightful complexion. This I owe positively to Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I used to look so yellow I thought it might be jaundice. There was simply no color in my cheeks at all.

Today my skin is clear and my complexion is so good. I have also given me a good appetite and improved my general health also.

TO COMPLETE THE ALL-WHITE COSTUME

The fascination of white for the average summer girl was never more noticeable than at the present time. She is not content with a white dress, but she is also interested in the accessories and novelties of spotless whiteness, and she may scrimp in every other direction, but she will not economize on her holiday lingerie. She refuses to appear in it unless from shoes to the tip of her hat she wears sanitary and effective effect is created out.

Hand-Racing.

Horse racing originated in England in the reign of King Henry II. Our forefathers were captivated by this pastime and large wagers were often won and lost on favorite horses.

Hand-Ball.

Hand-ball is among the oldest of games. According to Homer, it originated about the time of the fall of Troy, and though it has passed through many changes, its principles are much the same as when it was played by the ancients.

SHUFFLE-BOARD.

The game of shuffle-board which seems to be losing its popularity is an old pastime. It was followed enthusiastically by the nobility of the court of James I.

POLO.

The game of polo was played centuries ago in Persia and India. Even the natives of Bokhara play a similar game of ball on horseback.

BOWLING.

Bowling is one of our games that originated in the Middle Ages. The exact date of its introduction is obscure, but it has been clearly traced to the 13th century.

COCK-FIGHTING.

The sport of cock-fighting seems to have originated with the Persians. It was introduced into England by the Persians who noted two cocks in a desperate battle.

DICE-THROWING.

With the exception of chess, dice-throwing is said to be the oldest game still in existence. The ancient Egyptians indulged in games of dice and often not only risked their fortunes but their liberty on a single throw. In 1667 there were over 100 different kinds of games of dice in England.

FOOTBALL.

A kind of football was first played about the time of Edward III. in England. Shortly after its advent, however, it was prohibited.

WHEN LONG BREATHS HURT

You can know that trouble exists which needs quick attention. Proper action consists in a vigorous rub of the chest and side with Nerville's, which sinks into the tissues where the pain is seated and gives relief in few minutes.

BEEF TRUST MUST GO

The beef trust must be broken. It is maintained in defiance of the statutes. Its present immunity from immediate prosecution is due to a slip in the cog of the judicial machine. It has been again reared. Now it stands accused of something worse than defiance of the statute, which is akin to manslaughter, through the practice of violence to the health and lives of millions of people.

FOR THE CHILDREN

I say that that father or mother who has so little regard for the rights of his or her children as to send them to work at mill, at factory or at shop before they are hardly able to read or write, depriving them of education and recreation, stunting their bodies by long hours of work and because of their immaturity exposing them to grave social dangers, is unworthy the sacred name of father or mother, and that employer who hires children because they are cheap and grows rich on the sweat, the blood drops of helpless children, though he be a member of a Christian church and contributes thousands to benevolent and educational objects and be regarded as a paragon of orthodoxy and piety, is in the eyes of just God guilty of a crime against children and is among such men as Jesus spoke—"It were better for him that a millstone be hung around his neck and he be cast into the sea, rather than he should offend one of these little ones."

The above is an extract from the sermon delivered by Rev. P. J. Stackhouse, on "The Rights of Children," at the Tabernacle Church last evening by Rev. P. J. Stackhouse, on "The Rights of Children."

"A Child left to himself bringeth his mother shame."—Proverbs 29: 15. He contemns the rights of children a most important subject. Much had been heard of the rights of women and of the laboring man, but he pleased for neither woman nor the laboring man. The average woman, he said, could twist a wrench around her finger, but could not know her rights and were apt to be imposed upon. SAYS HUSBAND IS AT OAK POINT

Mrs. Willard Flewelling in an Interview Claims to Know Husband's Whereabouts.

Mrs. Willard Flewelling, wife of the former proprietor of a north end restaurant, informed the Times that her husband who she says disappeared suddenly on May 15, 1905, returned to St. John last Wednesday and is with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Flewelling at Oak Point.

According to her story the action of her husband's parents is inexplicable especially in view of her idea that they are trying to conceal their movements from her.

Talking with the Times Mrs. Flewelling said that just before coming here her husband had been working in Brookline, Mass. with a man named Health, the proprietor of a meat market, and boarding with his uncle, Nelson Pidgeon at the corner of Essex and Austin streets. He must have been expected the early part of last week, she added, for on Monday and Tuesday a resident of Oak Point drove to the city to meet him, but he failed to arrive. A third journey to town was made on Wednesday and Mr. Flewelling arrived and was driven to Oak Point, to the home of his parents who until recently lived in Adelaide street, north end.

Mrs. Flewelling adds also that during her husband's absence, his parents went to the states to see him and must have known that he was coming home again.

She expressed the opinion that Mr. and Mrs. Henry Flewelling had moved to Oak Point "to get Willard home," and that they are doing their best to keep her in ignorance of their movements.

"Are you sure that he is home?" asked the Times man.

"Yes," was the prompt reply. "My daughter told me she saw him on the Chaudiere a day or two ago, and when at Oak Point, Aubrey Flewelling, the steward, returned to my side and pointing to a man a short distance away asked her if she knew who it was; and Miss Flewelling once recognized her husband. Mrs. Flewelling then went on to relate her husband's adventures since he left her on the 15th of May a year ago. His first visit to her or when he went to Sydney. His next visit was to Eastport, Me., where he was seen by an acquaintance at the State Hotel, and when questioned as to his occupation he said he was travelling for a Chicago house handling canned meats. After that he drifted to various parts of the States and for a while worked on board a yacht. Then he went to Brookline, where he fell in with this man Health."

"What do you know of his plans for the future?"

"I am told that he will return to Brookline and will open a lunch stand at one of the beaches in that vicinity."

"I know what he is doing," she said in conclusion, "but I want more from where I am for the present anyhow."

LAWSON'S SECRETARY HERE BUT WON'T TALK E. A. McSweeney in St. John Today But on Pleasure Trip Only.

E. A. McSweeney, secretary of Thomas W. Lawson, the well known Boston millionaire, is in the city a guest at the Royal. Mr. McSweeney arrived on the Boston train Saturday morning and will return to his "Hub" tonight. To a Times man he said he was here simply on a pleasure visit to spend Sunday and have a rest. Regarding the plans of Mr. Lawson he would say little. The author of Frenzied Finance was busy just now with the Massachusetts bribery cases, and as for his future plans, Mr. McSweeney remarked with a smile that he liked to spring them suddenly.

Mr. McSweeney is a former Moncton man, and has many friends here.

SWEET CLOVER TONIGHT 'Sweet Clover,' which comes to the Opera House tonight, is not exactly a popular rural play, although the title would indicate so. The first act occurs at Farmer Holcombe's Connecticut farm house and the characters which usually prevail in the rural districts are there, with a sprinkling of city folk, who are guests for the summer. However, the scenes of the remaining three acts are laid in New York, and as the action takes place in fashionable drawing rooms, abundant opportunities are afforded and taken advantage of for the very richest of costuming and scenic effects.

Speaking of the company's appearance in Sydney, the Sydney Post says: "The first performance of 'Sweet Clover' in the Lyceum last night delighted a large audience, and satisfied all who saw it that nothing was contained in the advance notices of this company that was not fully deserved. It is one of the strongest companies that have ever appeared on a Sydney stage, as the play is one of the most beautiful seen here or elsewhere."

"The acting of the players appears real, and seems to be moved by the motives and feelings that mark the conduct of real men and women in real life. The play is clean and healthy; pathos and comedy are blended in the right proportion; and several scenes are highly dramatic and hold the audience by the strength of the situations."

EDGERMEN ASK $2.30 Editor of the Times: Sir—Will you give me space in your paper to speak to all of the mill-owners. They say they cannot give the wages, 30 cents a day more to their deal piles and home and get more. Now if the mill-owners want their head edgermen they had better give them 30 cents a day more, or they will go away the first chance, and the mill-owners can't get as good to fill their places. A poor edgerman can't spend in half an hour what would pay the whole mill crew's wages, while a good edgerman can save it. The mill-owners know when their lumber is cut right, and if it is not you will soon hear from them. That is why a good edgerman is worth $3 a day to the mill-owners every day he works for him. Then see the danger a man is in who is shoving in to an edger. He is likely to be killed in a second. He has got to keep his eyes open for he does not know when he will get a rap that will put him into a sleep that will be eternal. No matter how small a piece flies back from the saws you feel it, and if it is a big piece it is either broken bones or sudden death. This is what a head edgerman has to contend with. Everyday he goes to work he does not know if he will eat his dinner or not. Surely the mill-owners will not begrudge the extra 30 cents per day to them.

Yours truly, JOHN McLEOD, Head Edgerman.
