Norman Moore Tells How Name of Hi-Heat Coal Was Born—Hottest Coal They Ever Saw—$1,000 Paid Over By Consumers Coal Co., Ltd.

"We got a ton of that Welsh Coal the Consumers Co. sell. First we tried it in the kitchen range. Whew! What a heat! It got red all over with the draft shut."

"Next I shovelled some into the furnace, we never saw such a high heat." "Back came the wife's suggestion like a flash; 'That's it—High Heat. Then call it High Heat Coal. Put that name in the contract.'"

"Well, it took no time to work this out at it now—High Heat. And this particular Welsh Coal sure is that—high heat. And long lasting." The thousand dollar check has been handed over to Mr. Moore by President N. Y. Stetson of the Consumers Coal Co., Ltd. Hereafter the public will be able to distinguish this hottest of hard coals by the above name that won the thousand dollar prize—"Hi-Heat." Hi-Heat Coal is sold only by the Consumers Coal Co., Ltd. SUGAR PRICES RISE 10 CENTS PER CWT. HERE; EGG QUOTATIONS DROP

Beef and Pork Values Firmer; Western Steers Advance One-half Point a Pound; Poultry Costs Unchanged; Winter Apples in Fair Supply

THE first advance in sugar prices for some time was announced this week and quotations went up ten cents on the 100-pound price. Beef and pork prices also were firmer, and the continued decline in egg prices was the chief of the price reductions. The market was quiet on the whole and there were very few variations in the quotations.

In the wholesale country market western steers made a half cent advance on the price per pound at 13 1/2 to 14 cents. Western cows were up half a cent on the lower quotation at 10 to 11 cents a pound. Small pork made a one cent advance at 18 to 19 cents a pound. Heavy pork was unchanged at 12 to 14 cents a pound. Poultry was in good supply, but prices had not changed. New prices for eggs showed fresh extras at 43 cents a drop of three cents, and fresh firsts at 42 cents, a drop of one cent. Storage firsts at 33 cents were down three cents, and storage seconds at 33 cents lost two cents. Mutton was priced at 12 to 14 cents a pound, and lamb was quoted at 22 to 25 cents a pound. Dairy butter brought 43 to 46 cents a pound at wholesale.

Winter apples, native produce, were offering in fair supply and were of good quality. Prices varied from 90 to 70 cents a peck at retail. There were few changes in retail green goods. Spinach at 30 cents a pound was five cents cheaper and more plentiful. Native rhubarb at 25 cents a pound was in good supply and had a fair demand.

The advance in sugar prices was the only change in the wholesale grocery price list. Granulated was listed at 86.55 and yellow at 86.05, showing a ten cent advance on both prices. The only change in hide prices was a half cent reduction in salt hides at 8 to 8 1/2 cents a pound. The drop was due to poor quality.

GIRLS BECOME DRUG SLAVES OF CHINESE

Problem's Solution is to Strike at Root, Says B. C. Woman

TORONTO, Jan. 28.—I have seen young white girls who are slaves of the Chinese, just so that they may get drugs," Mrs. D. M. McKay, of Vancouver, told the Social Service Council during a discussion on the dangers of narcotic drugs at the closing session of the 19th annual meeting here.

"I have also known of a white boy who introduced his sister to Chinese in order to get the drug," Mrs. McKay added, in discussing the situation in British Columbia. "The only solution to the problem, she said, was to strike at the source of the difficulty, to deal with the actual growing of poppy and the manufacture of drugs."

"I don't know how had the Government control of opium in India," Mrs. McKay said, "but if it is worse than Government control of liquor here, the situation is pretty bad."

Dean Norman Tucker, of London, Ont., was re-elected president of the council and Rev. J. Phillips Jones was appointed general secretary.

DRYS START BUREAU

Plan to Help Prohibition Move by Propaganda, Speakers, Etc.

TORONTO, Jan. 28.—The Canadian Prohibition Bureau, an organization planned by Rev. Spence and others and having as its object the aiding of temperance workers and organizations to put the "dry" side of the prohibition question before the people of Canada, was launched here at a meeting attended by prominent prohibitionists.

Rev. Mr. Spence is managing director of the new organization and Prof. J. H. Gibson is its president.

Besides furnishing news articles, posters, leaflets and other mediums of publicity, the bureau will engage in study and research work not only in regard to scientific temperance, but the actual effects of liquor regulations and prohibitory enactments upon business, social and moral conditions. A speakers' bureau from which speakers will be furnished for temperance meetings will be conducted in connection with the bureau.

Poems That Live

THE MEETING OF THE WATERS

There is not in the wide world a valley so sweet As that vale in whose bosom the bright waters meet;

Yet it was not that nature had shed o'er the scene Her purest of crystal and brightest of green;

'Twas that friends, the beloved of my bosom, were here, Who made every dear tear of enchantment more dear,

Sweet vale of Avoca! how calm could I rest In thy bosom of shade, with the friends I love best,

And where the storms that we feel in this cold world could cease, And our hearts, like thy waters, be mingled in peace.

—Thomas Moore.

The Best of Advice

BY CLARK KINNAIRD HOW TO GET RICH

ECONOMY is not sufficiently appreciated in the United States. Americans work hard and make good incomes; they put more money in banks and buy more life insurance than other peoples; but other nations excel us in thrift.

APART from any question of being rich, it is wise and right to save, so as to provide for future needs.

OBVIOUSLY, the first rule of thrift is to live within your income.

THE world, said Cobden, the great English economist "has always been divided into two classes—those who have saved, and those who have spent—the thrifty and the extravagant."

J. WARREN KEIFER, famous war fighter and prominent politician of a past generation, is preparing to celebrate at his home in Springfield, O., on January 30, his nineteenth birthday anniversary.

KEIFER is the only living major-general who served in the Civil war. He is the only Ohioan, excepting Nicholas Longworth, who has ever been chosen Speaker of the national House of Representatives, having been presiding officer over that body from 1881 to 1883.

HE was in Congress ten years. Though several months older than Uncle Joe Cannon, Gen. Keifer is in better health than the veteran Illinoisan. He continues the practice of law and appears regularly at his desk. Gen. Keifer attributes his longevity to careful diet and plenty of physical exercise.

DR. C. G. SHAW, a prominent physician, is the author of a new book on "The Psychology of the Nervous System."

EDWARDS CALLS GRAIN GROWERS UNSCRUPULOUS

Conservative Speaker Terms Company Cold-Blooded and Profiteering Body

FIVE OFFICERS PAID $49,000 PER ANNUM

Average Profits in 3 Years 42.4 Per Cent Yearly, He Charges

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—Opening his speech in the House of Commons this afternoon in the debate on the address Hon. J. W. Edwards, Conservative leader, declared that "the most unscrupulous and cold-blooded profiteering concern that ever existed in this or any other country is represented by the United Grain Growers."

Dr. Edwards resented the reference made by John Evans, Progressive, to the manufacturers, in which he described them as "parasites." Mr. Evans was a member of the Progressive Party once led by Hon. T. A. Cress, connected with the United Grain Growers' Association. The evidence given by Mr. Jones, of that company showed that it had been paying five officers of its company a total salary of $49,000 per year. Further evidence adduced by Mr. Jones showed that the company had made an average profit during a three-year period of 42.4 per cent annually.

PROFIT ON BINDERS

This company was also engaged in the sale of binders and evidence produced had shown that it had made a very large profit on the sale of them to farmers. Surely a concern denouncing profiteering as Mr. Evans had done yesterday, should have sold these binders to agriculturists without profiting by their sales.

Yet, notwithstanding the source of the Progressive platform, Mr. Evans "looks down from the mountain-tops of his own self-esteem" to criticize "two old parties which have done so much for progress in this country."

Dr. Edwards referred to the appointment of Hon. G. H. Bolvin, as Minister of Customs. He recalled that, after the 1917 election and after denouncing Sir Robert Borden, Mr. Bolvin had not been adverse to accepting an honorable position under that government.

Dr. Edwards believed that Mr. Bolvin would "be true and loyal to the Liberal party, at least as long as that party remains in power."

FISHERMEN'S RACE RENEWAL IS LIKELY

Gloucester Vessel's Bad Luck Blamed Over Failure to Defy

GLoucester, Mass., Jan. 28.—The misfortune attending Gloucester fishing vessels which have competed in the international races with Nova Scotia fishermen has become proverbial here. The latest instance was the recent forced auction sale of the Columbia to meet a mortgage.

After the builder's lien had been satisfied, however, the Columbia was turned back to her managing owner, Captain Ben Pine, and his associates, and now there is renewed discussion of the possibility of another international contest next fall. The last of these series was held off Halifax in 1923 with the Columbia as the American representative.

This ended in a fiasco when the race committee ruled that Captain Angus Walker, of the Canadian entry, Bluenose, had forfeited an apparent victory by sailing on the wrong side of a course buoy and Walters refused to sail an extra race to decide the series. Captain Pine refused to accept the cup by default and since then it has been held by the trustees.

Efforts were made in 1924 and 1925 to renew the competition but Gloucester and Halifax could not get together on the conditions. The last exchange of communications indicated that the

DISAPPEARANCE OF HOME LIFE COMING?

Woman Will Be Almost Civilized in Fifty Years Time, Scientists Say

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 29.—That fifty years hence home life will have disappeared and people will virtually live in restaurants and hotels, is the prediction of Professor A. M. Low. He prophesies that in 197 present-day types of ships will be replaced by giant hydroplanes which will skim along the surface of the water at tremendous speed.

Passengers wishing to cross the Atlantic will use airplanes and keep in touch with their homes by wireless. Regarding clothes, the professor is of the belief that fifty years from now cotton, silk and woollens will be replaced by cheaper and more durable forms of vegetable fibre. The wardrobe of women will not be so large as now "because women, being by that time almost civilized, will not be swayed by every passing wave of fashion."

Professor Low also envisages an era of ugly factories built underground. There will be no more chimneys belching forth smoke, and factory hands will be more polished and better educated, as all the rough work of them will be done by machinery.

Toronto Will Buy Coal From West

TORONTO, Jan. 28.—The City of Toronto will purchase one thousand tons of Alberta coal immediately according to a decision arrived at by the Board of Control today.

Watch Your Step, Mr. Man, and Don't Get Tangled Up in a Long Engagement—Don't Make Love When You're Lonesome—Beware of Calf Love, and Above All, Never Marry a Girl Simply Because She's in Love With You.

THERE are four particularly dangerous hairpin turns in a young man's sentimental journey, and if he can negotiate these without adding over the brink into the pit of domestic misery he is fairly certain to make the trip safely to the Land of Heart's Desire of a happy marriage.

The first danger is that of his getting entangled in a long engagement.

THIS peril is peculiarly apt to befall the young man who is the architect of his own fate, and the psychological moment in which the catastrophe is most likely to take place is when he starts forth to seek his fortune.

Then, just because he feels sentimental and emotional and sad at leaving home and old friends, and because some girl weeps at parting from him, young chap is apt to fancy himself in love and ask some girl to wait for him. She, no wiser than his foolishly agrees to do the patience-on-the-moment act, and so he starts forth fettered and bound to fight the world.

DOROTHY DIX

THE IDEA of a woman loving him and keeping herself for him appeals to all that is gallant and romantic in his nature, and at first when he thinks about the girl she seems to him a seraph from the skies. But as time goes on, as absence and distance come between them and as he is shaped by the influences of his new life, the picture dims and the maiden ceases to look like a seraph. She appears more like a Sheriff who is waiting to collect a promissory note that he signed under the influence of the going-away-from-home brand of dope and that he has come to regret bitterly.

Nearly always by the time the youth has made enough money to marry the girl back home he has lost his taste for her. He has outgrown her. His affection for her is dead as a door nail, but he feels that he has to make good on his promise because she has kept her from marrying the prosperous butcher or baker she might have married. You can't take the medicine and cast out of a lady's mouth without substituting chocolate creams for them.

WE HAVE all seen the tragedy of the long engagement over and over again, for it is a tragedy no less for the girl than the boy. We have seen Mamie and Susie grow old and faded and haggard waiting for John and Tommy to come back and marry them, and we have mingled our tears with theirs when John and Tom didn't come back at all. And mostly when they did come back we have looked at John's and Tom's set white faces and have known that all they needed was a crepe band on their sleeves to give a realistic imitation of being the chief mourners at their own funerals.

The next danger a young man runs is of marrying some unsuitable girl just because he happened to board in the same house with her or worked in the same office with her. Proximity is the very demon of matchmakers.

Sometimes the very nearness to the people with whom we live every day keeps us from getting a perspective on their faults and disabilities. Habit dulls us to their vulgarities so that we cease to notice them, and so we drift into mismatched marriages that keep the divorce courts busy and the world salted down with the brine of the tears of the unhappily married.

ALL of us know dozens of men who are the victims of these metallances. We see Smith, who is an intellectual giant, married to a little dumb Dora and wonder at his choice. We see Jones, who has the manners of a Chesterfield and the police that comes of aristocratic breeding, married to a common little wife who is as awkward in society as a bull in a china shop, and we marvel at the combination. We see Perkins, who is big and broad and genial and generous, with his ignorant, narrow, prejudiced wife, and we cannot understand the madness that possessed him to pick out such an unbecoming mate.

Ninety-nine times out of a hundred if you will ask Messrs. Smith, Jones and Perkins who they met their wives they will say that it was in some boarding house when they first came to the city or that they worked alongside the ladies. They married the women next to them just because they were next.

THEY were lonesome. They liked women's society. They liked to go out with women and they didn't have any way of getting acquainted with men of their own rank in life, so they made friends with the Mamies and Sadies and Carries with whom they were thrown. Also because they were at the time of life when a man is in love with love and bound to talk sentiment to some woman, they whispered sweet nothings into the ears that were handy, and the end thereof was a marriage that let both parties in for lifelong misery.

The third great danger to a man is calf love. Every boy is as sure to have an attack of it as he is of the measles. Fortunately, neither complaint is necessarily fatal, but they are always hazardous because you can never tell what the after effects are going to be.

MANY a boy goes into tuberculosis from the measles and many a case of calf love ends in a youth trying himself up for life with some unsuitable petticoat that has caught his immature and crude fancy. In all the world there is nothing more pathetic than a married boy—a boy who has taken a wife before he knows what he wants; before his tastes are formed; before he has enjoyed life; before he is financially able to support a family, and who is burdened down in the heyday of his youth when he ought to be spreading his wings in freedom and having the whole world from which to choose.

The spectacle of a slim young chap, with tired lines in his face and weary eyes, pushing a baby buggy must make his guardian angel turn his face to the wall and weep. Besides this, the young man married for marriage cuts a man off from a thousand sources of opportunity and often nails him to a small job that he is afraid to give up when he has wife and children depending upon him.

BOY marriage is a disaster so complete that the State ought to furnish asylums with padded cells, where boys who are suffering from acute attacks of calf love could be imprisoned until they came to their senses.

The fourth danger a man runs is in marrying a girl simply because she is in love with him. This is a more imminent peril than you imagine, because while it disgusts a man to see a woman chase after other men, it flatters him for her to chase him.

HE FEELS that he would be a brute to be cold when she looks at him with adoring eyes or to withhold the tender speech when the word of careless sentiment makes her flush with happiness, and before he knows it finds himself being led to the altar by a woman for whom he has no real affection.

These four are the sentimental pits into which men oftentimes fall. Hence these red lanterns. DOROTHY DIX. Copyright by Public Ledger.

You Don't Say So

IN NEW YORK SEE-SAWING UP and DOWN BROADWAY

AS THE newspaper reading world now knows by heart, Irving Berlin got his start as a singing waiter at Nigger Mike's on New York's East Side. . . . But Berlin wasn't the only singing waiter in town, by a long shot, and some of his singing pals of yesteryear are still singing waiters.

There's JoJo, for instance, who was Berlin's singing partner. JoJo still sings around town. And some of the "gangs" included names like Mike the Harp, and Jack the Mutt.

AND the tale is told on Broadway of how, after trying to dodge reporters for two hours after his wedding to Ellen Mackay, Berlin decided that one of the old Bowery haunts would be a good place to hide out. . . . The place mentioned is Fat Hung's, and it is further pointed out that the news spread rapidly and members of the "gang" felt they should give Berlin and his bride a send-off.

The story goes of how they all appeared at the cafe, just as the wedding dinner was arriving in the form of appetizers and sauerkraut.

Mickey the Harp, who holds down a job as doorkeeper at a Chinatown theatre, is pictured as making a toast-master of high order, and Ellen Mackay is said to have had the time of her life.

So much for a round-up of the varying reports.

There still is JoJo—the other singing waiter.

He also married—quite a long time ago. And it may be that when he hears of Berlin's fame and millions he stops to ponder how such things come about.

But JoJo has six kids, healthy, lively youngsters, each one. He has a fond wife and probably is buying her a fur coat. And his goings and comings are not trailed by reporters and cameras.

And he wouldn't trade places with anyone.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

Katharine MacDonald.

THE American Beauty is coming back to the screen. Katharine MacDonald, whose pulchritude made her one of the biggest stars in the movies, before she went into voluntary retirement following her marriage to a millionaire non-professional, is starting her comeback in "The Desert Healer," a Marion Fairfax production.

She takes the place of Nita Naldi in the cast.

Miss MacDonald got her start in bits when her sister, known as Mary McLan, was a Universal star. From leading lady for William S. Hart, she graduated into a star.

Who are the movies' biggest stars? The public, which makes the stars and breaks them, is the best judge.

The "biggest stars" then, are the players with the highest "box office value."

New statements of the various releasing organizations as to the relative box office value of their various players are interesting, and in some cases, surprising. For instance, Colleen Moore is a bigger box office asset to First National than Norma Talmadge.

In which no attempt is made to compare the drawing power of the stars of various companies, the first named player in each company plays to the most money of that group, with the others following in drawing-power in the order in which they are listed:

Paramount—Gloria Swanson, Pola Negri, Thomas Meighan, Raymond Griffith, Richard Dix, Adolphe Menjou, Babe Daniels, Fatty Bronson, Douglas McLean.

Metro—Lillian Gish, Norma Shearer, Marion Davies, Jack Gilbert, Jackie Coogan, Buster Keaton, Ramon Novarro, Len Chaney, Charles Ray.

First National—Colleen Moore, Norma Talmadge, Richard Barthelmess, Milton Sills, Corinne Griffith.

United Artists—Charlie Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Rudolph Valentino, William S. Hart.

Warner Brothers—Monte Blue, Irene Rich, Marie Prevost, Matt Moore, John Barrymore, Rin Tin Tin.

Fox—Tom Mix, George O'Brien, Buck Jones, Alma Rubens, Madge Bellamy, Jacqueline Logan.

Universal—Reginald Denny, Hoot Gibson, House Peters, Mary Philbin, Norman Kerry, Laura La Plante, Virginia Valli.

Pathé—"Our Gang," the comedy makers.

Menus for the Family

- Breakfast: Sliced Bananas and Oranges, Bacon, Buckwheat Cakes with Syrup, Coffee, Luncheon. Dinner: Baked Potatoes, Creamed Codfish, Fruit Gelatine, Whipped Cream, French Stew, Squash, Pickled Beets, Buttercrunch Pie, Coffee or Tea.

TODAY'S RECIPES: French Stew—One tablespoon beef or chicken fat, three-quarters pound beef, one-half pound veal, one medium sized onion, one small piece of garlic, one teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon pepper, one-quarter teaspoon paprika, one-quarter cup uncooked rice, one-half cup tomatoes, four or five carrots. Enough potatoes to suit your individual needs. Melt the fat in an iron pot over a small flame. When the fat is hot add the beef and veal cut up in small pieces. Over this spread a layer of the onion and garlic cut up in very small pieces and sprinkle with the seasonings. Let all this cook slowly for three hours, then add a layer of the tomatoes, a layer of carrots cut in thin slices, and a layer of the uncooked rice. If necessary add a little water to prevent sticking to bottom of pot or to afford moisture for the cooking of the rice, depending on the consistency of the tomatoes. Last add the potatoes and sufficient salt and pepper to season them properly. Some Worcestershire sauce will sharpen the flavor of the stew. Simmer this together until everything is tender, taking about four hours in all for the cooking.

A Thought: That thou givest them they gather; thou openest thine hand, they are filled with good.—Pr. 104:23.

A GIVING hand, though foul, shall have fair praise.—Shakespeare.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

ON THE HIDE GO LAND EXPRESS "Hurry up!" cried the Gingersbread Man engineer of the Hide Go Land Express. "All aboard for Tin Can City." "How can I get on when you haven't a car long enough to hold me?" Limber Long Legs wanted to know. "Take two cars," offered the little brown engineer quickly. "Or three if necessary."

"A very good idea indeed," said Mister Havalook. "No doubt a good baking in a hot oven is good for brains. I should never have thought of such a thing myself."

"Yes," complained Limber Legs. "It's all very well, if you don't turn corners. There's the rub."

"I suppose you could bend a bit," said the Gingersbread Man crustily. "But do hurry. I have to be there and back before Tin neseed." And again he tooted his whistle impatiently.

All the Hide Go Landers started to crowd in at this, the Crinoline Doll pushing her way with two sharp elbows, in quite an inelegant manner for so elegant a lady.

But then fine manners go on with fine dresses sometimes and you can't blame the poor thing for being rude. Her nice stiff crinoline skirt that Black Dinah had so kindly starched, had been stolen off the wash line, and she looked most ordinary in her plain straight underslip without a smidgen of lace on it even.

"She climbed on and sat down in the car behind the one Limber Legs occupied. "Now will the rest of you please hurry," she remarked. "The Rag Doll is getting further away every minute and if we don't get started we'll never catch her. If we don't catch her soon I shall faint again, I know I shall."

"Couldn't we go in a boat?" said Sailor Sam. "I'm afraid I shall get land-sick on a train. I only have one kind of legs and they are sea legs."

This reminded poor Mister Havalook of something. "Oh, I say," he cried. "We forgot the poor tin soldier. He's still lying at the bottom of the water mill where he went to get the stifface soaked out of him."

"I'll go back and get him," said Nick. "I'll dry him off and bring him along."

"Do, please," remarked Mister Havalook. "There!" he thought to himself. "That sounded well. I shall remember to say it often! Do please! Do please!" he kept muttering over and over to himself. "It shows my authority and yet it is not unkind. With a little practice I shall learn to control these people very nicely."

"I shan't move a step!" roared the Tin Soldier indignantly when Nick dried him off. "Not a step. I've lost every drop of paint I ever owned and my eyes into the bargain."

"The only way to shut him up was to paint him, so Nick took him back to the tinkering room and did the best he could. His sun was pink, and his uniform green, and his boots red, while his pint-pot hat was a rich purple with a yellow cockade. But he was rather pleased with himself, the Tin Soldier was, which is a matter for thought. Are soldiers soldiers because they are brave, or because—well, just because—

But there! At last all the Hide Go people were on board, everybody from Miss Fithers, the farm lady, to Teddy Bear and the Twins. Quite a magnificent party, in the caboose. "Do please," he was saying over and over to himself with a chuckle. "I must remember."

FROM Mrs. H. Hawkins, Main street, widow of Captain H. Hawkins, of the tug Hiram Perry Junior, the Natural History Society has received a welcome gift for its marine room. The gift is a handsomely framed copy of the drawing by the Saint John artist, E. J. Russell, showing the incident of the rescue of the tug Xanthus by the tug Hiram Perry, Jr., off Saint John on Dec. 5, 1875.

The picture itself is a fine piece of work and the incident it depicts is one of splendid heroism. The Xanthus had gone to the rescue of a barque in distress and was herself disabled and at the mercy of the breakers when Captain Hawkins made the gallant rescue. The barque remained at anchor throughout the night of Dec. 5 and was able to ride the storm and was brought in the next day. Captain Hawkins died about two years ago at his summer home in Grand Bay. Beneath the picture the account of the incident is printed in an extract from The Saint John Telegraph as follows:

"The barque Harmony was in distress and after 8 p. m. the tug Xanthus, belonging to Messrs. Scammell Brothers, ran out beyond the Ballast Wharf and the lifeboat put off and was taken in tow. The Xanthus then steamed up the harbor to the North Market Wharf where she took on board a large coil of one inch manila rope and left about 10 p. m. for the rescue of the Beacon and it was with great difficulty that the life boat conveyed one end of the manila rope to the barque. The feat was accomplished, however, and by the time a new 10-inch warp was hauled from the Harmony to the tug and was made fast the latter had got down about the starboard beam of the others. The engine was set going and as the tug in turning worked away from the barque, the warp was brought across her stern and in contact with the propeller in which it became entangled.

ON DEAD CENTRE. "In vain the engineer and others endeavored to work the warp clear. First the engine got the shaft crank over the centre and it was only after some minutes of hard labor that the machinery was again set revolving. The propeller took only one or two turns more when it again stopped and a subsequent method only resulted in a similar manner and the engine could not be moved afterwards. The tug held for a time by the stern to the barque but was soon let go.

"Pilot Mulhern had meantime summoned the lifeboat and the tug went drifting on the waters of Countess Bay. The only anchor on board was let go and fortunately held.

ROWED TO CITY. "The tugs Hiram Perry Junior and Relief had appeared on the scene soon after the accident to the Xanthus, the Hiram being quite close at one time. Those on board signalled to those boats for aid by beckoning and blowing the steam whistle. Efforts were also made to get the lifeboat down to the unfortunate tug but without avail and those who were waiting anxiously on board the tug were surprised to see her rowed away to the city as if nothing whatever had happened to the steamer which had towed her out.

RISK OF COLLISION. "To the credit of those on board the Hiram Perry, that tug responded to the call of distress, running a short distance to the windward of the Xanthus, she headed out of the way and allowed the Xanthus to pass. The Xanthus was a great risk, for a collision in such a wind and sea must have destroyed both.

"Even when only a few fathoms apart nearly every mountain wave hid them from each other and dozens of the waves shot up to crests as if about to break as they passed under the two tugs. The Xanthus was dragging very slowly and, as the line was now being, the outside line of breakers off Courtney Bay was creeping out slowly to meet her.

There were but two men on the deck of the Perry, Captain Harry Hawkins and his mate, Eugene Divort, but they did the work of six men in their brave endeavor to rescue and tow the Xanthus to a safe harbor. Mr. Divort succeeded in throwing a line to the Xanthus and he and Captain Hawkins hauled a warp board their vessel and made it fast.

A new difficulty now presented itself on board the Xanthus. It was found impossible to get the chain out from the locker below in which it was fastened and as one of the men on deck was endeavoring to break a link with a sledge hammer the warp parted and the unlucky tug fell back and held by her anchor.

WARP HAULED ABOARD. Would the Perry return was now the question, and after a time she was seen again surging down the great waves towards the Xanthus. The breakers were now approaching nearer with the ebbing tide, the cabin had been got clear of the fastening in the lower locker and after two or three dangerous runs around the anchor but apparently doomed tug, a second line, thrown by Mr. Divort, was caught on board the latter vessel and the warp which had before broken was hauled on board the Perry as before.

The question among the dozen men on the Xanthus now was whether they should slip their chain and run the risk of the warp breaking again. If the warp would break again and it were possible to hold on for an hour or two longer she then must be taken from her anchorage by the breakers and soon overturn with all on board. In such a case the probabilities were that those on board would never reach shore alive.

PERRY MOVES AWAY. There did not seem to be any hope from the lifeboat and it was wisely decided to slip the chain and trust to the Hiram Perry and the warp, for it was thought the chances for saving the lives of those on board were better in the breakers at high water than low. To the great relief of all, the warp held as the Perry moved off, at first casting and then increasing her propeller's revolutions. As the Xanthus passed the Harmony another severe wind and snow squall came spitefully down on the Xanthus and the barque shouted "When are you coming again to help us?"

The reply went first from a brutal young fellow on the Xanthus who had just been taken from almost certain death himself: "Go to h— and find out."

UNKNOWN MAN. Inquiry as to who the brute was resulted only in our ascertaining that no one on board knew him and that he had got on board at the wharf without leave just as the tug was going out to the barque.

Captain Ellis of the Xanthus assured those on board the barque that the tugs would be sent to his rescue as soon as possible and then the Harmony was left to the fierce winds, the snowstorms and darkness. Holding by one chain, we trust, has saved her and those on board until the morning.

As the two tugs passed up towards the harbor they were met by the lifeboat which had been despatched by Messrs. Scammell to bring those on board the Xanthus to shore if possible but possibly the crew of the lifeboat were saved the trouble of doing so.

THOSE ON BOARD. The Hiram Perry Junior and her officers and men deserve honorable mention and a more tangible recognition of their services than is usually accorded in our port to those who risk their own lives and property in making humane efforts to save those of others. The Perry is owned by Mr. W. T. Pratt. She is manned as follows: Harry Hawkins, captain; Eugene Divort, mate; William Pratt, son of the owner, engineer, and Bernard McQuill-

Many Nice Costumes Gave Judges Difficult Task Making Choice of Winners

The first ice carnival of the season, timed to be the closing event of a wonderful week in the winter sporting history of this city, was held in the Arena last night under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Association and was fairly well attended. No doubt the blustery storm of the early part of the evening prevented many from being present.

A program of 15 bands was played and the whirl of costumed boys and girls, youths and maidens, men and women was kaleidoscopic in its mass of color and fantasy.

The judges were Mrs. E. C. Weyman, Mrs. J. P. Byrne, Mrs. George Bishop, Mrs. F. J. Longley, Commissioner Wigmore, Walter R. Pearce and Walter H. Gidding.

THOSE SELECTED. After considerable deliberation the whole assembly of competitors were paraded around the rink and the following selected as winners:

Best lady's costume, representation of a French doll, worn by Miss Edith Mitchell.

Best gentleman's costume, Young Mandarin, worn by Harvey Bishop.

Most original costume, Lecher, Enemy of the Sailor, Mrs. W. O. Sullivan.

Funniest characterization, Tramp from Fincher Creek, E. F. Jamieson.

Best combination, Dutch Boy and Girl, Margaret Tilley and Arnold Macdonald.

Honorable mention was made of Phantom of the Opera, a costume worn by Miss Dorothy Campbell, of Fairville; Two Fairy Tale Princesses, Elsie Vincent and May Miles, and the Country Doctor, represented by Lewis A. MacDonald.

After announcement of the prize winners had been made the group was photographed.

Countless Women Suffering

There are countless women suffering from ailments which are dragging them down to despair—headaches—backache—pains in the side—nervousness and mental depression, all of which may be quickly relieved by Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If such women would only be guided by the experience of thousands of others who have been restored to health by this old-fashioned root and herb remedy, much suffering might be avoided.

$50,000 FIRE PUT OUT

MAHONE, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Fire, which for 4 times threatened to wipe out the village of Mahone, was brought under control at noon today through the efforts of firefighters from Malone, Eraser and Windsor. The loss is estimated at $50,000. Four buildings were destroyed including the post office.

NOT everything began in the Garden.

"There's the Borrowing Habit," lan, fireman. These four men have laid a dozen others whom they were in the Xanthus under a debt of gratitude which, it is to be hoped, the latter will take steps to suitably acknowledge.

YEAR IS REVIEWED

Excellent Program Enjoyed at Meeting of Eclectic Club Last Evening

The events of 1925 were very interestingly reviewed in the excellent program given last night at the meeting of the Eclectic Club at the residence of Mrs. H. A. Powell, Queen Square. The subject of the program, which was in charge of Rev. Dr. W. R. Hibbard, was "The Year that is Past."

Dr. Hibbard gave the paper covering the outstanding events of the year and readings were given by various members of the club. Mrs. Fred Foster read extracts from volume three of Walter Page's letters. Mrs. Cortlandt Robinson read two extracts from Lord Grey's Memoirs, and Rev. Canon A. W. Daniel read articles dealing with the Locarno treaty. Fred T. Short read selections from Halliburton's "Sam Slick."

The readings from Sam Slick dealt with the seeming lack of initiative of the lower provinces and were a commentary on the campaign for Maritime rights conducted in 1925.

NORTON, Jan. 28.—The annual meeting of the Parish of Christ church, Norton, was held this week, the rector, Rev. Thomas Parker, in the chair. The vestry clerk's report showed the finances to be in a prosperous condition.

The Great Economy in Home Cooking

When Grandmother was a girl, it wasn't much of a hardship to live well on little money. A dinner of fried chicken, four vegetables and custard dessert meant very little outlay.

In the good old days when eggs were 5c. a dozen, milk 3c. a quart and chickens 12c. each — when maids received $30 a year instead of $30 a month, and coal was NOT $16 a ton — housewives did not have to look after the pennies as they do today.

With such former prices doubled and doubled and doubled again, one of the chief problems in the kitchen is to make economical dishes more attractive and to utilize the left-overs.

Making Every Penny Count

Fortunately, the woman of today has an invaluable ally in "OXO" Beef Cubes. With these to supply the rich flavor and the food elements of prime fresh beef, she makes every penny count in buying and preparing meals.

The less expensive cuts of meat become as tasty as porterhouse when a couple of "OXO" Cubes are added to the gravy.

Stews, croquettes, meat pies and baked hash have the fresh beef flavour when "OXO" Cubes are added.

Any sauce for meat or fish, or dressing for poultry, is much more delicious when made with an "OXO" Cube or two.

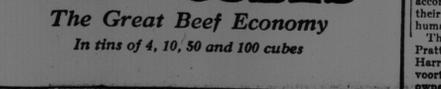

Vegetable soup of any kind, is vastly improved by the tasty flavour which "OXO" Cubes give.

Because "OXO" CUBES are the concentrated flavour and nourishment of the choicest beef—they give flavour and strength to dozens of dishes; they help you to make meals more attractive, and are soundly economical.

EXCHANGE TO HANDLE MORE EGGS, POULTRY IN '26, SAYS MANAGER

Jones Expects Increase in Number of Circles—Declares Total Production in New Brunswick is Only Half of Consumption

BY A. R. JONES (Manager of the New Brunswick Poultry Exchange)

THE year 1925 just ended saw the New Brunswick Poultry Exchange organized and established with 35 egg circles affiliated. Organized at Sussex in January, last, the first eggs were received by the exchange in April.

While the volume of business might have been larger, nevertheless, under the circumstances, it was good. During 1926 it is expected that many times more eggs will be handled and considerably larger quantities of poultry. Not only that, but the exchange looks for an increase in the number of egg circles operating. Already, several new circles have been organized, one at Rollington, another at Shippegan Gully, one at Middleton, N. S., and others are under way. Enquiries for information and assistance in organization have been frequent, showing the widespread interest throughout the province in this co-operative method of handling eggs.

GIVES STATISTICS. There are many signs to indicate that New Brunswick is on the threshold of a big development of the poultry business. At present, poultry production is extremely low. According to the census figures, there are approximately 34,000 farms in the province keeping an average of only 30 hens or less. The total number of eggs produced in the province is approximately 4,000,000 dozen, whereas the consumption of eggs is approximately 8,000,000. In other words, 4,000,000 dozen or one half the eggs consumed in the province have to be imported.

SEES MARKET NEAR. In view of these figures, it will be apparent to all that the farmers of New Brunswick have at their door a market for double the amount of eggs and poultry which they are producing. It is recognized that the home market is the best, but if there was any fear of over-stocking the home market, there are excellent outlets for eggs in Montreal, Halifax, Great Britain and, at certain seasons, the Boston market.

THE ability to speak several languages is valuable, but the ability to keep your mouth shut in one language is priceless.

HALF the world is pouring over Florida advertisements and the other half pouring into the state.

INCREASE EXPECTED. In many districts, farmers are going in for poultry as never before. New poultry houses are being built, incubators and breeding stock are being purchased and there is a general seeking of information relating to poultry.

SAINT JOHN SKATERS WIN FOUR OF SEVEN WORLD'S TITLES

GORMAN'S SENSATIONAL WIN OF 5-MILE EVENT GAVE WORLD MEET A SMASHING WINDUP

Gorman Clinched Title By Taking 440 Yards As Well—Willie Logan's Great Work—Tommy Tebo and Landry Win Titles

CHAMPIONSHIP calibre of the purest ray serene never was given a more flawless demonstration in the history of speed skating on this continent than here yesterday afternoon at Lily Lake, when Charles Ingham Gorman, 26-year-old Saint John boy, skating in the teeth of a blizzard, with the mercury hovering about the zero mark, won the gruelling five-mile event as darkness set in from a field of 27 starters, while a crowd of 20,000 people went frantic with excitement. Gorman had practically clinched the title of "World's Amateur Champion" about an hour previous by taking the 440-yard event handily, while his nearest competitor, O'Neill Farrell, 19-year-old Chicago lad, failed to place in the final, but despite his lead of 30 points, the Canadian champion smashed all doubts to his right to the title when he captured the bitter event of the entire meet with another Saint John lad, Willie Logan, chasing him to the tape. It was a smashing climax to the greatest meet of all time on this continent. 10,000 people swarmed on the ice as Gorman collapsed at the finish, to do homage to the new champion, while 10,000 more stood up and thundered their acclaim.

Gorman entered the final day favored to win his own distance, the 440 yards, at which he is the world's champion, but about the only person of that vast concourse who conceded him a chance in the five-mile event was Gorman himself. Although his hold on the championship was practically certain, as Farrell had to win the 5-mile in order to tie Gorman and then skate off, the Saint John lad gave another exhibition of gritty determination that made him famous a few years ago when he won the international title by taking the three-mile event. Gorman had very little trouble in the 440 yards, and when he crossed the line a winner, salvo after salvo greeted him, as the crowd realized that practically settled the championship.

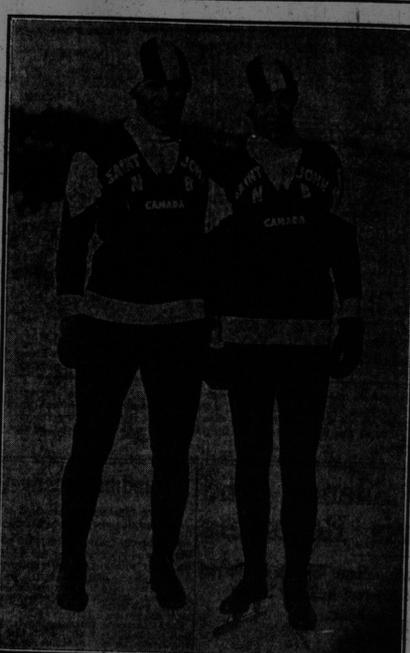

THE FIVE-MILE EPIC
As long as the spirit of speed skating endures throughout the world, Charlie Gorman's win of that heart-breaking five-mile will endure. No later ever cost to winter heights to prove his right to his throne.
Under a dull-banked sky with great shafts of wind whipping fine powder snow into their frolics in the deepening twilight, 27 faced Starter McCormack's pistol with the entire crowd of the grandstand on its feet as his "Go" was heard. The speed skater howled his way over the snow-covered lake and the legs of many nations around the course tore and flapped with the restlessness of the concourse. A world's championship was at stake and the nerves of the spectators were as raw as the wind that bit through the warmest clothing.

A great cheer rolled over the valley as Thunberg and Gorman skated slowly up to the starting line. They took their places well at the back of the pack and when the pistol cracked they content to move into halfway position. Willie Logan jumped near the leaders with Leslie Boyd, New York, leading. There were 80 laps to go. Boyd still was leading. Gorman's strategy was very simple. "Watch Farrell." The Saint John lad had made up his mind to beat Farrell no matter who won. On the day previous in the two-mile event, Gorman had adopted the same tactics in watching the Chicago lad but he delayed his sprint too long when he saw the visitor and he was unable to place in addition to watching Farrell, Gorman kept a weather eye open on the leaders. With 19 to go, Farrell was in fourth position, Gorman right at his heels. Young Frank Howard, Saint John, took the skating easily and maintained up within a few laps to go. With four to go, Roy McWhirter, Chicago conferee of Farrell, deemed the time ripe and sprinted into the lead.

The field hastened its stroke and the pace began to tell. Willie Logan moved up into third place, behind Myers and McWhirter, Gorman still dogging Farrell's tracks. On this lap, Farrell shot his bolt and trailed the field, save one. Gorman, seeing this, with two laps to go, starting moving up. Up past one, up past another, until the great crowd sensing what the black and white streak was doing let loose its voice.
Then, pandemonium broke loose as the field galvanized into life on a desperate sprint. The black phantom from Saint John was leading. Had the heavens opened, no more surprising thing could have happened. Gorman—the sprinter—the last man in the world conceded a chance to win the worst race of all—was actually in front, moving like lightning up the back stretch and into the teeth of the pale moon. Round the turn on one of his famous 440 yard sprints, Gorman held his head with another black and white streak snapping at his heels—Willie Logan. As the bell rang, 20,000 voices shouted frantically to their idol as he moved into the first turn, holding that precious lead by a scant few feet. Logan to dawn on the crowd that the impossible was going to take place. Stroke after stroke—keen steady, with pistonlike regularity—Gorman cut into the final turn for undying fame and glory. The turn over, he gave all he had on the straightaway to home in victory and how that boy did fly, the men and women screamed and

On the right is Willie Logan, also of Saint John, who, skating for the first year in senior company, amassed 60 points.

Offer Dempsey $600,000 For Wills Match
HAYANA, Jan. 29.—Jack Dempsey, arriving here yesterday with his wife, received an offer of $600,000 for a bout with Harry Wills in New York next September. The proposition is said to have been made by a representative of Tom O'Rourke, promoter. The heavyweight champion said he could not accept, as his contract with Floyd Fitzsimmons, of Michigan City, Ind., is still in force.

West Siders Also Win Cup Donated by Premier Baxter For Single Rinks
The Carleton Curling Club rink won the Blair trophy yesterday in the bonspiel here. Carleton Club also carried away the large and beautiful silver cup given by Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, Premier of the province, to the winner of the single rinks competition open to the world. The Carleton Club is being congratulated by the curlers of Thistles and St. Andrew's on account of their wonderful cleanup of the New Brunswick curling championship during the week.

CONGRATULATIONS ARE WIRED SMYTH
MONCTON, Jan. 28.—Junior Mayor Carl Steves, wired Harry Smyth, of this city, at Saint John today, congratulating him on his success in the skating races at Lily Lake. Members of the local council, as well as other friends of young Smyth in Moncton, are delighted to hear of the fine showing by this speedy young skater.

LOGAN DOES WELL
Another Saint John lad of whom his city is proud is Willie Logan, son of Fred Logan, former international champion. Skating in senior competition for his first year Logan was one of the leading point winners of the day. He showed gameness and speed. Yesterday he skated a wonderful race in the five mile event and hung to the champion's shoulder all the way home in the thrilling finish, crossing the line only a few feet behind.

GLASGOW, Jan. 28.—The draw for the second round of the Scottish Football Association cup is as follows: Hibernians vs. Airdrieonians; Boness vs. Bathgate; Falkirk vs. Montrose; Aberdeen vs. Dundee; Morton vs. Raith Rovers; Arthurie vs. Clyde; Celtic vs. Hamilton Academicals; Third Lanark vs. Leith Athletic; Stenhousemuir vs. Rangers; St. Johnstone vs. Queen's Park; Solway Star vs. Brechin; Arbroath vs. St. Mirren; Forfar Athletic vs. Dunbarton; Alloa vs. Montrose; United or Hearts; Partick vs. King's Park; Albion Rovers vs. Peebles Rovers.

DISPLAYS GREAT FORM
Logan displayed great form in the longer events, his heats and final performance in the mile being impressive, and his crowning achievement yesterday was a fitting end to his all round work during the meet. Saint John fans are satisfied that he will uphold the reputation of Saint John as the cradle of skating champions in the coming competitions in the United States.

SNODGRASS IS ANOTHER.
Edgar Snodgrass was also a consistent performer and his good work has gained recognition. Last night it was announced that he had been included in the senior circuit. He left with the other skaters and will compete at Binghampton and Detroit.

MAROONS BEST EASY IN SECOND, SENATORS WON

Maroons, However, Face a Stiff Test in Bruins Tomorrow

MONTEAL, Jan. 29.—Montreal Maroons are resting a little easier in second place in the N. H. L. following Canadian defeat at Ottawa last night, but the Montrealers who return here this morning from their New York-Pittsburg road trip, must still down the Boston Bruins at the Forum tomorrow night, if they are to keep a safe and sound hold on second place. This will be more necessary if the third place Pittsburgh Pirates succeed in downing the St. Pats in their game at Toronto tonight.

Tomorrow night's game will have interest for hockey fans. To start with Boston is the better not to the Montreal team. The lowly Bruins have twice this season upset the Maroons in games which were generally conceded beforehand as certain Montreal wins. But added to the uncertainty of what the Guerrilla tactics of the Bruins may bring tomorrow, is interest in the appearance of Captain Cleghorn, former leader of the Canadians, who will be making his first bow to his home city in a Boston uniform.

Also Montreal supporters will be keen to witness Frank Carson, former Stratford amateur right wing star, play his first hockey for the Maroons. Carson was signed at the first of the week, and is expected in with the Montreal players this morning.

Ottawa's victory sent the Senators into an even stronger position at the top of the ladder and nothing short of a complete collapse will out the Senators from the play off. The defeat of Canadians leaves the local team still knocking at the door for admission to a first position, a place which is keenly sought by at least two other clubs—New York and St. Pats. Ottawa plays in New York tomorrow night.

What The City Did In Sport This Week
SAINT JOHN can now boast of a galaxy of stars in winter sport champions, since this week native sons have captured four championships in the world's skating meets and local city and local curling exponents have also captured the Blair cup emblematic of provincial honors and have won the single rink curling competition open to the world. The holding of the curling bonspiel and the world skating meet in Saint John in the same week and the splendid success of the local men will make the last week of January, 1926, one remembered in the annals of sport in the city.

EDINBURGH, Jan. 29.—Clare Mussen, of Montreal, joined the teams of visiting Canadian curlers here today and was given a warm welcome. The Canadians won two more games today. They defeated Stirlingshire by 25 shots and Glasgow Province by 43 shots.

WORTHY OF RECOGNITION.
The Carleton Club has the smallest membership roll of the local clubs and the clever and hard work by the rink is most worthy of recognition. After matches had finished last night, the local curlers assembled in the St. Andrew's Club rooms when the prizes were awarded to the victors. The Carleton curlers, who win the Blair Cup for the second consecutive year, also the second beautiful silver punch bowl, were called to the front, and after a short address by C. O. Morris, president of the New Brunswick branch of the Caledonia Club, F. W. Coombs, the secretary, presented the Blair Cup to skip, J. M. Pendreigh, of the Carleton Club.

PRESENTED CUP.
The Carleton rink, skippered by J. M. Wilson, who won the finals from the Thistles last night in the open competition to the world, with his fellow players, were called to the front and presented with a handsome cup, given by Hon. Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, Premier of the province.

Swip J. U. Thomas, of St. Andrew's Club, was called on and presented with the Caledonia bronze medal, which his rink was successful in winning from the Carleton rink, after the latter had defeated Newcastle in the morning play. These were not the only prizes to be awarded, as a valuable pencil, given by Charles F. Sandford, of the St. Andrew's Club, were presented to each Carleton curler, who won the Blair Cup, and Skip Wilson of the Carleton Club, with his mates, received pencils, given by F. W. Coombs.

Following the presentations there were cheers given to Carleton and St. Andrew's Clubs, Mr. Coombs, Mr. Sandford and return cheers to St. Andrew's and Carleton Clubs.

"I Have Been Treated Like A Prince" Says Clas Thunberg

THE man you want to watch is Willie Logan. He is the coming world's champion skater. In the 1928 Olympic games, if he goes there, he will do wonders. This was the statement made last night by Clas Thunberg, of Finland, who won the Olympic championship at Chamonix, France, in 1924, and who until he surrendered the crown to Charles Gorman of Saint John in the 3-day world's championship meet which concluded yesterday was generally regarded as the world's champion.

"Gorman is in better shape physically than any other man against whom I have competed in a long time. He deserved his victory." This was the Finn's tribute to his conqueror and to the people of Saint John he wished to say. "I have been treated like a prince and I appreciate it from the bottom of my heart."

The Finn's sentiments were expressed to the press through Don Cable and Charles Magnusson, who acted as interpreters. They said that Thunberg was of the opinion that it would take two or three months and the experience of two or three big meets to accustom him to the style of skating which prevails on this side of the Atlantic. "But," he said, "the man with the best head usually wins under the style of skating that prevails in the western hemisphere."

Mr. Cable, who is himself a shot putter and discus thrower and who has competed in previous Olympic games, declared that no foreigner has ever better used in any country than was Thunberg in Saint John. Mr. Magnusson declared that he was intensely proud of his adopted country. "One thing Saint John does know how to do and that is to appreciate a good, clean skater."

The skates which the Finn wore yesterday were made by Hagen, of Norway, the firm of the father of the famous skater who defeated Hughie McCormick, of Saint John, for the world's title several years ago.

JOE PAGE HAS DONE MUCH FOR PROVINCE IN SPORTING LINES
Joe Page, for many years in the service of the C. P. R., and a valuable publicity representative of the company, has been in the city during the sport writers' who were guests of the C. P. R. "Joe" needs no introduction to the followers of clean sport in Saint John, who, he has for a number of years past been instrumental in assisting greatly in the promotion of baseball, both professional and amateur, as well as speed skating championship meets.

At the last annual meeting of the International Skating Union held in Pittsburgh he was a representative of the New Brunswick Skating Association with Dr. C. E. Cox, who represents this province on the executive of the mother body of skating in North America.

Mr. Page started out in the athletic field in the early days of baseball in the United States when he was a member of one of the big league teams and since that time has devoted his efforts towards assisting athletic clubs in the provinces of Quebec and New Brunswick, or in fact at any centre where his valuable services were needed.

It is without question that Mr. Page was principally responsible in arranging the visit of the leading sport writers and big league baseball players, who were over the C. P. R. on touring trips to New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, which meant valuable publicity for the Maroons.

"Joe" as he is popularly known, is at all times a most welcome visitor to this city and during the last few days had the pleasure of renewing acquaintance with many old friends and meeting new ones.

LOCAL OUTFIT IS READY FOR COMING TEST

Final League Game of Year Carded Here Next Friday

THE league championship of the southern section of the M. A. H. A. is right in the fire on Monday night at Moncton when Saint John makes its final appearance in the nail-biting game of the season. A win for Moncton will settle the issue beyond all doubt while a loss still gives the locals a mathematical chance of figuring in a play-off. There will not be any game here tonight, the next league game at the Arena being carded for Friday night. The game of the season, the last league game of the season, Exhibition games will be arranged, details to be announced later.

DOPE UPSET.
If Saint John can thank Sussex for practically putting them out of the running by two one-goal defeats this year, Moncton may yet have to regret that 8 to 2 decision they lost to the Colts in Moncton last Wednesday night. That was the biggest upset of the season as it was the first loss for Moncton on its home ice. It put new heart in the locals and they are going up there Monday night prepared to do or die. They have not secured a decision yet over the Atlantics on their home ice.

MORE RECORDS
TOLEDO, O., Jan. 29.—Johnny Weissmuller, Arne Borg and Ethel Lettice, of the Illinois Athletic Club at Chicago, established three new world's swimming records in exhibitions against time at the Toledo Club here last night. Weissmuller clipped one and two fifts record of the world record for the 100 metres backstroke, negotiating the distance in the 75 foot pool in 1:10 2-5. The former record was recently held by Norman Ross, of Cincinnati, Borg, the Swedish star, swam the 1,000 yards free style in one minute and ten seconds better than the record previously held by Norman Ross. The new time is 11:28. Miss Lettice clipped two seconds off her own record for the 100 metres free style, swimming the distance in 1:10.

RESIN MATTER UP.
NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The matter of re-introducing resin to the baseball will come before the annual session of the board rules officials here today. President Heywiler, of the National League, has recommended that "foreign substances" be made available to pitchers that they may have better control of the ball. Heywiler would have a bag of resin placed within reach of the pitcher during the game, to be dealt out at the discretion of the umpires. Under present conditions when a pitcher throws two or three resin balls in a row, a new ball is called for and the old one, to all intents and purposes goes out of the mayor leagues.

TIE GAME
FREDERICTON, Jan. 28.—Campbell played full time to a three-all tie here tonight and then won the full hour of thirty minutes overtime to a four-all tie.

OFF FOR A WEEK.
The third and last series of matches between the Thistles and St. Andrew's, sixteen rinks aside, will not be curied tomorrow, but on the following Saturday. The six-rink match between Thistles and Carleton, set for tonight, has been cancelled.

ASSESSMENT $51,672 HIGHER FOR THIS YEAR

Total for 1926 Set by Council Today at $1,276,422

SCHOOL MATTERS AGAIN TAKEN UP

Overdraft is Discussed—Sums That Various Departments Want

The assessment for the year 1926, as passed by the Common Council, is $51,672.44 in excess of the assessment for 1925. The council cut $10,000 off the school board estimate, the amount they had included for reduction of the overdraft, and passed the amount for the vocational school, providing that payment should be made by the controller only in the certificate of the vocational committee for actual expenditures.

SCHOOL MATTERS

When the assessment for school was under consideration, Commissioner Frink said he had been looking into the matter and found that in 1920 special legislation had been secured to allow the city to assess $75,000 in three annual instalments to cover an overdraft of the board.

OVERDRAFT CLIMBS

Commissioner Bullock said that in 1925 the overdraft was $1,235, in 1924 it has risen to $37,465 and last year it was $94,021, at the end of the school board's fiscal year. He moved the assessment for this year be reduced to $31,344.50, plus the cost of collecting. This was seconded and carried unanimously.

Commissioner Bullock also suggested the obligation of the school board to obtain the consent of the council before incurring an overdraft.

The vocational school estimate of $46,742.39 was passed, with the provision that payment would be made by the controller only on the certificate of the vocational board that expenditures had actually been made.

The assessment is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: 1925, 1926. Rows include Streets, Lights, Police, Fire, Ferry, Exhibition, Libraries, Surveys and plans, Grants, Discount on bonds, Over and under, Interest and sinking fund, Portland debentures, Indiantown ferry, Vocational school, For amount of judgment and costs in suit J. W. Slocum vs. City, For War Memorial deficit.

FOR SALVAGE CORPS

It was also moved that there be raised, levied and assessed upon the several fire insurance companies doing business and having agents in the city of Saint John in the present year, the sum of $750 towards the cost of maintenance of a Salvage Corps in the City of Saint John, under the provisions of the Act of Assembly 2 Ed. 7, Cap. 47.

And further, that warrants issue to the Board of Assessors of Taxes for the City of Saint John under the common seal to levy and assess the said amounts according to law.

And further, that the estimates and appropriations as amended be approved.

FUNERAL MASS FOR LATE PASTOR AT ST. ROSE'S

Burial Deferred and Body Lies in State in Church

BISHOP LABLANC IS CELEBRANT

He and Very Rev. Dean Carney Speak—New Pastor In Spring

Requiem mass for the repose of the soul of Very Rev. Dean Charles Collins was celebrated by His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc at 10 o'clock this morning in St. Rose's church, where Father Collins had labored so long and steadfastly. Because of the weather being severe, burial was deferred, probably until tomorrow, when it will be in Holy Cross cemetery. Meanwhile the body continues to lie in state in St. Rose's.

Pontifical high mass of requiem was celebrated by Right Reverend E. A. LeBlanc, D. D., assisted by Rev. W. M. Duke, high priest; Rev. Henry Cormier, of Moncton, deacon, and Rev. Michael Murphy, of Milltown, sub-deacon. Rev. Charles Boyd was master of ceremonies. The following priests were in the sanctuary: Reverend Fathers Woods, Alex. MacDonald, A. W. Kinella of Sussex, F. X. Cormier of Fox Creek; T. M. Nichol, Cathedral; Francis Cronin, Holy Trinity; M. O'Brien, Norton; H. L. Coughlan, Loch Leam; J. McDermott, St. John the Baptist church; Raymond McCarthy, Reston; H. Ramage, Assumption; A. P. Allan, Peterborough; E. J. Conway, Devon; F. M. Lecher, Woodstock; W. Donahue, Johnville; Father Cashan, representing St. Joseph's University; C. P. Carleton, Silver Falls; F. P. Walker, Stella Maria, East Saint John; J. J. Butler, of Buctouche.

The choir consisted of Reverend Fathers Joseph Ward of Sussex, Kiljorn of St. Peter's, Joseph Floyd of the Cathedral, Simon Oram of Riverdale, J. N. Holland, St. George's, Gaudet of Shediac, R. McGillivray of Assumption, Francis Gillet, Carleton and Wilfrid Malenfant of St. Rose's.

DEAN CARNEY PREACHES.

The sermon was delivered by Very Reverend Dean E. L. Carney, V. G., of Fredericton. In his opening remarks, Father Carney expressed his regrets at the loss of so dear a friend and brother. He sketched the career of Father Collins, dwelling more at length on his pastorate at St. Rose's which he held for more than 40 years. Father Collins, he said, had been an extraordinary man but a conscientious man who had performed his whole duty. Just as much credit was due to such a man as might be given to others who had greater opportunities for extraordinary services. He had been a plain, simple and humble man and possessed the most most equitable and kindly disposition. His loss would be very keenly felt and a gap had been made in the community which would take long to heal.

Father Collins was born at Lakeville in the parish of French Lake on the shores of French Lake on April 25, 1851, and died in his 75th year. When he was two years old, his father was drowned in French Lake and his mother took the boy with five brothers and sisters to Woodstock, where Father Collins grew up.

Father Carney paid a tribute to Mrs. Collins who had struggled so hard to bring up her family and had succeeded so well. Father Collins was ordained to the priesthood in 1878 and seven years afterward became priest of St. Rose's, which charge he filled until his death. The speaker referred to the esteem in which Father Collins was held by all who knew him and said that the last letter he wrote was to him (Father Carney), and was in reference to work in the propagation of the faith throughout the world. Father Carney completed this address with the words of St. Paul in his Epistle to the Thessalonians, "Know ye those who labor among ye."

BISHOP SPEAKS.

His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc then spoke a few moments, referring to the kindness of Father Collins and to his work in his parish. His Lordship asked the people to pray for the repose of the soul of their late pastor and said that it was a debt of gratitude owing to the deceased from the flock which he had left. His Lordship said that he hoped to be able to assign a pastor to the parish in the early spring.

Because of the state of the weather today it was decided not to inter the body of Father Collins today, but it will lie in state in the church, awaiting change in the weather conditions. The funeral mass was very largely attended, people from all walks of life being there to pay their tribute of respect. Among the congregation were noticed many non-Catholics among whom Father Collins had many friends.

Whale Stranded on Beach Below Lepreau on N.B. Coast

A whale was left stranded and dead on the beach at New River just below Lepreau on Wednesday evening and was found by Thomas Harding, foreman of a mill in that vicinity. He notified police in Saint John city and has offered his find for sale. The whale is stranded in such a position that it is in the way of men hauling logs. Some years ago a whale was found down the bay, and it was sold for quite a substantial sum to a local concern for its oil. Whales were not so numerous around here now, a local shipping man said.
