ON BOARD TUG MARINE, Accompanying Gertrude Ederle, Aug. 18.—At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon Gertrude Ederle had covered half the distance when her starting point at Cap Gris Nez, and her goal at Dover. She was swimming with great regularity.

A GREAT SWIMMER

"She is the most marvelous swimmer I ever saw," T. W. Burgess, veteran channel swimmer aboard the tug, told correspondents. The endurance of the swimmer was regarded by those accompanying her on the tug as equalled only by her great speed. In the first five hours Miss Ederle broke all records for the distance made in that time by channel swimmers. During the sixth hour her pace slowed down as the influence of the tide began to be felt, but she was compelled to breast the tide rather than to swim with it.

Miss Ederle, 17-year-old New York mermaid, began her attempt to swim the Channel at 7:09 o'clock this morning. Two hours and a half after the start Miss Ederle seemed to be making good progress four miles out. One of those on the tug which accompanied the swimmer was Miss Lillian Harrison, the Argentine swimmer who recently failed in her fourth channel attempt.

Grand Chancellor Refers to Bill Before Federal House at Ottawa

Canadian Press. FREDERICTON, N. B., Aug. 18.—Increased activity along various lines of endeavor throughout the Supreme Domain is everywhere in evidence and the future for Pythianism appears bright indeed, was the hopeful message contained in the annual report of the Grand Keeper of Records and Seals, A. P. Gorbell of Moncton, submitted at the opening session of the 20th annual convention of the Grand Lodges, Knights of Pythias, of the Maritime Provinces, which opened at the Old Gailey building this morning.

Grand Keeper of Records and Seals Gorbell drew attention to the fact that the financial condition of the Grand Lodge shows a very substantial increase, being nearly $10,000 ahead of last year, which he regarded as highly satisfactory, even if the membership has fallen off.

513 FEWER MEMBERS. The reduction in membership was only 113 net, there having been 140 gains against 267 losses, which made 5,301 the total membership of the Grand Lodge of the Maritime Provinces on June 30th, 1925.

The financial statement showed receipts amounting to $41,618.92, of which $24,850.00 came from dues and $16,768.92 from rents, while expenditures of $46,090.55 included $3,817.14 in sick benefits and $2,244.48 in funeral expenses.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Edward W. Browning, whose adoption of "Cinderella" Mary Louise Spang was annulled recently, fled from a roof garden early today when chorus girls kissed him and shouted, "Oh, there's my Cinderella man!"

The millionaire realtor, who was dining on the roof, tried to retreat when two dozen girls circled his table and asked him to adopt them. Then a blonde ingenue circled his neck so strongly that it was a minute before her arms could be pried loose.

Other diners took up her cry, "Won't you adopt me, Mr. Browning?" As he sought to leave, another chorus girl took him by the arm and induced him to dance, but he soon broke away as the orchestra played, "If That's the Kind of a Girl You Are."

Wardell's announcement also said that 294 law enforcement officers had been charged with violating the Volstead Act.

VIENNA, Austria, Aug. 18.—Two are dead and between 50 and 60 persons are suffering injuries received during anti-Semitic riots attendant upon the assembling here of delegates to the fourteenth congress of the World Zionist Organization.

The trouble broke out last night and fierce fighting ensued in the Frelhetplatz between the police and members of the Hakenkreuzer, or Swastika organization.

An anti-Semitic protest meeting, called as a demonstration against the holding of the Zionists' congress here, had been forbidden by the police, but the organizers placarded the city urging resistance. Processions moved through the streets headed by men carrying crosses and including bands of girls in white, with banners proclaiming Vienna a Christian city. The Jews led the streets at the center of the large crowd, and put up their shutters. Rioters clashed with the police guarding the meeting place of the congress. Numbers of policemen were dragged from their horses and trampled under foot.

DELEGATES BEATEN

VIENNA, Aug. 18.—Benjamin and Tobias Burger, Belgian delegates to the Zionist congress, while driving from the station last night, were dragged from their taxicab, stoned and beaten up. Their assailants finally released them, but it was necessary to take both to a hospital.

MANY TRAMPLED.

The police in turn slashed at the rioters with their swords, driving back the large crowds besieging them.

Many women were knocked down and trampled in the melee. A second band of demonstrators, rushed the bridges leading to the Jewish district, but these were amply protected.

Most of the injured receiving hospital treatment are suffering from sabre gashes. Of the two fatalities cases, one suffered a fractured skull and the other was trampled to death.

During the demonstrations the rioters called for the resignation of the government. The big hotels were special objects of attack, but the rioters were successfully barred from them.

Thus far, no injuries of Zionists have been reported. The rioters are threatening to march on the city hall, with reinforcements from the provinces.

Labor M. P. Declares Country Will Face Civil War Next May

Canadian Press. LONDON, Aug. 18.—Declaring that "the forces of reaction are determined to crush the workers into submission" and use the army and navy for that purpose, the British Communist party has sent letters to the National Labor party and the general council of the Trades Union Congress, calling for their help "to prevent such a catastrophe." The letters state that "reaction is driving forward to a 'revolution' in driving forward to the mighty contest for power between the organized forces of capitalism and the organized forces of the workers."

Referring to the recent victory of the miners, they say this check to the "respect" of the Party organization, should be kept "military force," supplied by Fascist organizations, would let in readiness to shoot the workers down like dogs if they show resistance to the dictates of capitalism.

CALL TO LABOR PARTY.

Therefore the communists call upon the Labor Party and the trade unions "immediately to open a campaign to carry the truth to the rank and file of the army and navy."

These must be told "that while the workers—the fathers, mothers, brothers—the soldiers and sailors—starve, the exploiters who would use them for their murderous purpose, squander wealth in every kind of wasteful folly."

The letters appeal for a manifesto to the soldiers and sailors stating the position as seen by the Communist, saying this is "absolutely essential if the workers are to make an effective stand against the offensive of the employers."

WARNS OF TROUBLE.

Some of the newspapers make a great display of the letters. Interest has also been attracted to a speech delivered by James Stewart, Labor member of the House of Commons and Sub-Secretary for Health in the last government. Speaking at Glasgow, he said the Baldwin administration was getting ready for next May, when the recent arrangement with the miners ends.

Then he declared, the country might expect to be confronted with something approaching civil war. Troops were being prepared, he told his listeners and everything would depend on how they acted.

In consequence of an anonymous threatening letter recently sent to A. J. Cook, secretary of the Miners' Federation, allegedly by Fascists, the miners at Ammanford, Wales, who recently rioted, have resolved to form a defense force and are appealing to other miners to join.

SAVY GIBRALTAR LESS VALUABLE

Some in England Would Exchange Famous Rock for Ceuta

Matter of Moment Since Mediterranean Becomes Gravity Centre for Navy.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—A visit by Major-General R. B. Ashmore and Air Vice Marshal J. M. Steele to Gibraltar to investigate the possibilities of its aerial defence draws attention to the question whether, assuming that Spain were willing, Great Britain should surrender the historic rock in exchange for Ceuta, on the African shore of the Straits.

The matter has become crucial since the Mediterranean has replaced the North Sea as the centre of gravity for the British Navy. It is argued that modern weapons greatly discount the value of Gibraltar as a fortress and as a secure base for the fleet.

Ceuta, on the other hand, provided that a sufficient hinterland was included would offer more favorable conditions for defence in time of war. There would be room for manoeuvre in the mobile elements of its military garrison; aircraft defences could be provided; its approach by land would be a difficult matter for an army of any size owing to the natural difficulties of the surrounding country, and it could remain independent of supplies from overseas for a greater length of time.

The strongest argument on the other side is that heavy expenses and considerable delay would be involved in converting the harbor at Ceuta into a suitable naval base. In view of the large sums spent at Gibraltar in the past, and the urgent need for national economy, this would undoubtedly carry great weight.

There is also a sentimental argument. Gibraltar has been regarded as a vital British possession ever since Admiral Sir George Rooke, with Dutch aid, captured it in 1704. Its defence by Sir George Elliot in the great siege of 1782 to 1783 is one of the outstanding events in British history, and the story of how the chief engineer, Sir James W. Innes, was defeated by red-hot shot will never be forgotten. To abandon a fortress with such great associations, no doubt, causes a vehement outcry.

A section of Spanish politicians vigorously demands the return of the rock to Spain, and the Government, in recognition of giving Great Britain Ceuta in return.

The Two Ports Gibraltar is three miles in length and varies in breadth from one-quarter to three-quarters of a mile. The rock rises to 1,400 feet and is 12 miles from the African coast. The enclosed harbor covers 440 acres.

Ceuta is situated on a promontory connected with the mainland by a narrow isthmus. The promontory terminates in a headland with seven peaks, the highest of which—one of the "Pillars of Hercules"—rises 636 feet. The port is on the north side of the isthmus.

Members of the G. Y. Club decided this afternoon at their luncheon in the Admiral Beatty Hotel to run a booth on the pier at the Saint John Exhibition. The proceeds are to go to charity. Lou Titus was chairman.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF DEADLY MONOXIDE. Staten Island Motorist Falls Asleep in Garage With Auto Motor Running.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Thirteen from long drive, J. Frank Valentia, a 34-year-old father of five, is believed to have fallen asleep at the wheel of his automobile as he brought it to a stop in the garage adjoining his home on Staten Island. The motor continued to run and the garage filled with carbon monoxide.

Valentia was 34 years old and unmarried. The garage was small and the window was shut. In a few minutes the fumes from the running motor began to fill the room. Valentia slept on while the rapidly forming poison commenced its work.

When the family awoke and heard the engine running in the garage the father went out to investigate. He swung open the door and saw his son at the wheel and smelled the fumes. As soon as he could with safety he carried the body outside and called a doctor.

Efforts to revive the man proved useless.

Hamilton readily admitted victimizing many women and freely discussed case after case with Captain Stapleton, to whose questions he sometimes replied by saying, "Well, I guess I got her, too. I don't remember exactly. What did she look like?" or "Let's see how much did I get from her? Oh, yes, now I remember." He admitted obtaining amounts ranging from $10 to $500. What The Small Boy Said About Salt Applies To Blue Suits

The small boy described salt as something that makes a baked potato taste funny without it—and the same salt-sense of incompleteness applies to a blue suit—in fact, blue is more than a color, it is a condiment—you really can't be well-dressed without one—but in it you are well-dressed though it be the only suit you own—That's how good a Blue Suit is!

ELECTION ISSUES.

If the newspaper demands for a federal election reflect popular opinion, that demand is certainly growing, but the percentage of the Canadian electors who have been interested enough to get to the polls in the last few contests has not been so great as to support the contention put forward in several quarters to-day that the people are feverishly demanding a change to vote.

Although it is as a rule a strong supporter of the Mackenzie King administration, the Globe mildly reprimands the Premier because he has not thrust Senate reorganization into the forefront of the battle.

There is little likelihood that the Premier will follow the Globe's advice and take a piecemeal at the forthcoming election on the Senate's powers. It suggests that the election should be asked whether or not they are in favor of an amendment of the British North America Act, which amendment would provide that any measure passed at two successive sessions by a two-thirds majority of the House of Commons, and twice rejected by the Senate, should have the force of law.

Neither of the two old parties has a clear-cut policy with respect to the railway problem, in which there is about as much public interest as in anything else. Under present conditions the average elector is compelled to give consideration to the question of heavy taxation, and he knows that continuing railway deficits equal to the amount annually derived from the income tax constitute a problem with which political leaders will be forced to grapple definitely at no distant day.

THE WINTER PORT.

His Worship Mayor Potts says, truly enough, that the election should be charged for the next winter season is a matter for consideration by the Common Council. He means, apparently, that no meeting of the Port Committee is necessary at present. His Worship and the Commissioners are themselves members of the Port Committee, but it also includes some other business men and some representatives of the transportation interests. It may be assumed in any event that the Mayor and Commissioners will give early and full consideration to the question of increased business for the port during the coming winter season and that they will be prepared to cooperate fully with any other individuals or interests whose knowledge and assistance may prove of value in securing a greater margin of freight.

Last year the general volume of Canadian freight available proved to be less than was hoped for early in the season, and for that reason the traffic did not show so great a gain as was anticipated at the time the compromise on port charges was effected. The size of the country's grain crop this year will necessarily mean a great deal more traffic for the railways than they handled last year, and there should be more package freight moving. The Common Council, as a matter of business, will naturally be giving thought to methods whereby this port can secure a larger share of grain and other traffic than it secured last season.

The efforts made last session to get more freight would obviously have been more effective had the country's traffic been larger, as it should be this year, and the plan then inaugurated of having the members of the Common Council and the representatives of the steamship companies and railway companies acting together with a common purpose will doubtless be continued.

There is much competition for business as between the various ports, and Saint John needs energetic and sustained efforts to obtain the larger volume of export and import trade to which its situation and its connections rightly entitle it.

NO ONE GUILTY.

"Had the Government been serious in its advocacy of Senate reform, the 'arbitrary measures' of the Senate during the past session would have provided the Ministry with a great issue upon which to go to the voters—an issue upon which men like William Lyon Mackenzie, Baldwin or Brown would gladly have staked their political lives. No greater could be put before the electors. The basic principle of self-government is involved in it, for if eighty-odd men responsible so long as they live to no one but themselves may permanently thwart and nullify the people's will as expressed by their elected representatives there is an end of responsible and representative government in this Dominion."

"The issue should have been taken to the electors, but in the preliminary runnings of the coming general election there is not the faintest sound from Liberal or Conservative platforms concerning this supreme question of the safeguarding of government by the people."

There is little likelihood that the Premier will follow the Globe's advice and take a piecemeal at the forthcoming election on the Senate's powers. It suggests that the election should be asked whether or not they are in favor of an amendment of the British North America Act, which amendment would provide that any measure passed at two successive sessions by a two-thirds majority of the House of Commons, and twice rejected by the Senate, should have the force of law.

per cent. of the total vote in the province, the figures being: Conservatives, 270,844; Liberals, 161,158. "The result was very decisive, but the turn of public opinion was not so overwhelming as the election of candidates on each side would suggest."

Odds and Ends

"You never know what you'll find among the odds and ends."—From "Notes by a Wayfarer."

Sheikhs and Snakes

(Manitoba Free Press.) This Graham Island sea-serpent, says Mr. John J. Van Valkenburg, looks like nothing on earth. It is of enormous length, is two feet thick, has a head as big as a pickle barrel, and its mouth is visible to the naked eye at five hundred yards, which is near enough. It has eyes like illuminated cigar barrels and they stand out on its face like doorknobs. Altogether a distinctive and intriguing conformation. It is greenish-black along its back, with black and yellow belly, and it dives beneath the water when it was approached by boat, indicating that it has either a shy or a suspicious nature. Altogether a high-class sea-serpent done in the best conventional style.

This B. C. serpent, as we call it, is a docile creature shunning human intercourse; in this it is not like one of its brothers of some years ago. He, too, was a large and homely monster, but with a spirit of his own. When photographers and spying strangers approached too close he used to detach his large and flinty scales and flick them at the intruders with great speed and fair accuracy. He never actually made a hit on any of the newspaper lads, but several innocent bystanders were terribly upset and the flying scales knocked a number of spectacles and critics absolutely speechless who had been denying the animal's existence. That was a real good sea-serpent, that one was, and millions of English-speaking newspapers in a season when everything resembling news had gone and died.

Ab, well, in this crowded age, when Chicago thugs and Arab sheikhs battle each other for front page space, and prime ministers and war in China are glad to get a couple of sticks in the inside column, the poor old sea snake has much to commend itself. He would punch the ticket next day.

Arriving at his office the pleased commuter told of his own pocket and decided that some things are best left as they are.

To Be Perfectly Frank. (Railroad Trainmen) At a fireman's examination, C. W. Stark, supervisor of mechanical examinations asked: "Does the question embarrass you?" "Not at all, sir," replied the candidate, "not at all. It is quite clear. It is the answer that bothers me!"

not a word from the performers would be heard. He then rose amid the most vehement applause and said: "Gentlemen, I thank you. Believe me, gentlemen, I can never be forgetful of the honor you have done me." Sir Walter sat down, whilst loud applause filled the entire theatre. The play every back was turned to the stage—then proceeded with an occasional interruption, caused by the anxiety of those in the gallery to get a sight of "Great Unknown."

Is there any author alive today whose presence in a theatre would cause such a commotion? I hardly think so. Authors are six a penny these days.

Bathing Girls as Recruiting Agents. (New York Tribune.) On Wednesday a noonday crowd in City Hall Park watched thirty girls from two of Mr. Ziegfeld's shows serve ham and beans to possible recruits for the American army. Of course these girls had to wear bathing suits, and of course they had to carry placards advertising Mr. Ziegfeld's popular productions, and of course they had to be photographed in the waters of Civic Virtue fountain. As an entertainment for a downtown crowd it was, no doubt, successful. But as a performance in recruitment for the American army that it can be better afforded to worry along at half strength than to make itself ridiculous.

VISITORS SHOW MORE INTEREST

Thirty-five Americans to One Native Call at Fish Hatchery

Interesting Work Carried On at Loch Lomond in Interest of Sport.

Tucked away on a side road off the public highway to Loch Lomond is the Dominion fish hatchery, which is doing a wonderful work in propagating trout and salmon to restock the rivers and lakes of New Brunswick. It is a fascinating place to visit but the curious fact is this, there are about 35 American visitors who penetrate to that nearby and quite conveniently located spot to every one native-born who goes to see what's doing there.

SMALL SALMON. At the fish hatchery J. D. Nichol was in charge and he showed the propagating troughs where eggs and spawn are hatched out. The troughs are clean and dry and empty just now but there are 80 of them and each one will accommodate up to 40,000 of spawn and fry of salmon or trout. The reporter was still figuring out how many fry the whole set of troughs would accommodate when Mr. Nichol showed the way to his little brook which is just now occupied by 25,000 small salmon about an inch or so in length. The salmon have a large mesh net as a canopy covering the whole length of their brook and that is put there to safeguard them from cranes, kingfishers and other fish-eating birds. Before while Mr. Nichol was going to get his gun. In that short space of time the crane gulped down 214 of the young salmon. The sifting of its crop gave proof of the extent of his capture. The fish hatchery relies upon its East Saint John branch for securing salmon JUMP FOR FOOD. In two ponds of that size now being used there are 800 of the imported rainbow trout of Western Canada and 800 of the native speckled trout. They have a passion for ground liver and will jump out of the water to catch a mouthful of the luscious food as it is thrown from a ladle.

A group of ponds, some fed from lake water which is a muddier color and some fed from clear spring water, has the bulk of the older trout. In these ponds there are trout from Loch Leven, in Scotland, the famous English brown trout, New Brunswick speckled trout and the western rainbow trout.

There was an ardent fisherman in the party and the sight of the water fairly thick with fish made his eyes gladden. He had restocked a lake with young fish from the hatcheries and he always liked to come back again and have a look at the place where fish were so very plentiful.

HEBREW PICNIC. The local Hebrew congregation will give a picnic to the children of the Hebrew school on Wednesday and a long day of many pleasures is being planned. The picnic will be held at Fair Vale.

RETURN TO HOMES

Although there were many passengers on the incoming Boston train and the S. S. Prince Arthur yesterday, a much larger number of tourists arrived in the city last evening on the train from Halifax. The majority of the latter were from Prince Edward Island and are returning to their homes in the United States and Upper Canada after spending their holidays in the Maritime Provinces. Within two or three weeks the "back home" trend of the tourist travel will commence in earnest.

ODORLESS COOKING

(By a Hydro Housewife—M. I. C.)

A cool kitchen in hot weather and a warm one in winter is but one other miracle you work with a Hydro Electric Range.

Still another is—odorless cooking. In the first place you have no gas fumes, and it is surprising what a coal stove gives off also.

Again, you fry less with a Hydro. Broiling is tastier and healthier. Instead of frying out in the open part of the Range use the oven to broil steaks, pork, chops, tenderloins, sausages, bacon, eggs. It also keeps the juices in. Turn on upper oven element until red, place pan up close to top burner and leave there 3 to 5 minutes. Then lower pan and finish slowly—10 minutes for thick steak, 5 minutes for thin. Vegetables with a strong odor like cabbage, cauliflower, turnip and onion are best done in the oven to imprison the odor.

As low as $10 down gets a Hydro Range which saves you quite $100 a year. See all makes at

TWO CARDINALS FOR CANADA IS POSSIBILITY

Ottawa Mentioned as Possible Permanent Seat for Dominion

PONTIFF REPORTED TO APPROVE CHANGE

Archbishop Emard is Expected to Enter the Sacred College.

MONTREAL, Aug. 17.—The Montreal Gazette prints the following special despatch from Quebec:

"Ottawa, the capital of Canada, may also become the permanent seat of Cardinals in this part of North America, if reliable information available here in religious circles is confirmed.

It is said that His Grace Monseigneur Emard, Archbishop of Ottawa, will be called to the Sacred College in December next, succeeding the late Cardinal Pappin.

CAPITAL CLAIMS PREVAIL

"Though Quebec has been the seat of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada and notwithstanding the fact that the two cardinals in succession were chosen from that province, it is said that the fact that Ottawa is the capital and that the Apostolic Delegate is always located in that city is prevailing with the Vatican.

"Associated with this report is one to the effect that two cardinals might even be chosen in Canada, and that if such is the case, His Grace Monseigneur Mathieu, of Regina, would be appointed for Quebec."

BOY TRAVELS ON AIRPLANE

Young Tramp Steals Ride and Experience is Thrilling

Carried 300 Miles With Shocked Aviators—Shirt Ripped Off by Wind.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18.—A boy caught hold of a rising airplane at Las Vegas, Nev., and there rode the 300 miles between the Nevada city and Los Angeles, arriving here none the worse for his thrilling experience except that the wind had whipped his shirt off, and made him use his own words, "a little dizzy."

Major C. C. Mosley, commander of the California National Guard Air Service, and Sergeant Wood were returning from Salt Lake City to Los Angeles, and in taking their rest at Las Vegas encountered some sort of a heavy drag on one wing, which caused the plane to take the air in a great circular sweep.

"All at once," Major Mosley said, "Sergeant Wood began pointing out on the back and yelling and pointing out to the wing end. As I live, there was a boy's head sticking up over the end of the wing. We were high in the air. I never had such a shock. I was afraid to try to land with him there and motioned to him to come on top of the wing. He climbed up and rode sticking to the wingstaps during the three-hour ride."

"The boy is Jack Richman, 17 years old, and small for his age. He was 'hobnobbing' his way across the country from Milwaukee to Los Angeles."

WOULD REMOVE TREES IN FRONT OF WAR MEMORIAL

Designer of the King Square Monument Approves of Site Chosen

VIEW IMPROVED IF TREES CUT DOWN

Alfred Howell, Here Yesterday, Speaks of Work in Other Places

Just returned from a European trip of several months, Alfred Howell, A. R. C. A., O. S., designer of the Saint John civic war memorial paid a flying visit to the city yesterday and saw for himself how the monument had been erected and where it had been placed.

He had two suggestions to offer. He believed if the trees directly in front of the monument were removed a more imposing view would be secured and he considered that it would be better not to have memorial flowers that had been dyed remain for any length of time upon the monument, for fear of making a permanent stain upon the stone.

He has himself designed and made a number of quite distinctive memorials which have received great praise. The war memorial at Ottawa is his work.

Janitor Dispel Fears by Explaining That a Lodge Used Them.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Tony Augusta, 19 years old, and Tony Guirato, 19, passing through the basement of a negro tenement at 208 East Ninety-seventh street, kicked a round object, supposed to look at it and ran screaming to the street.

"Ghosts!" the boys shouted, as the negro tenants gathered on the sidewalk for a while air looked up startled. "Skulls," they screamed. "There's a man's skull in the cellar!"

The boys' hysterical excitement as more negroes ran from the building and stood uneasily on the sidewalk. Some one telephoned the police, and Detectives Carroll and Kotchman found the skull in the basement. They also found two red bones. Then while a hush enveloped the tenants they discovered a thin banner with gold lettering of the words "Doric," "Ionic" and "Corinthian" and at this juncture appeared Franklin White, a negro, janitor of the building, who was not at all disturbed.

"Sure I know what they are," he said. "They belonged to a lodge or organization who used to live here."

PICNIC FINANCES. The sum of $125 was realized as the proceeds of St. Columba's Presbyterian church picnic held recently at Crystal Beach. At a recent meeting of the board of management of the church it was announced that after all expenses had been paid $125 remained. Much gratification was expressed at the financial success of the picnic.

When Bakeday Comes Depend on Carnation

Uncertainties ruin many a milk dish through absolutely no fault of your own. You want whole milk—you have only the skimmed milk left after you took the cream from the top; you should have two cups—you just have a cup and a half. Milk you thought fresh is just on the turn.

Why take those risks? Insure with Carnation Milk. Carnation is just pure, fresh milk, evaporated to double richness, kept safe by sterilization. Nothing is added. Some of the natural water is taken away—all the food value left in.

Get it from your grocer. Tall (16 oz.) cans or by the case of 48 cans.

NEW MORALS RULE IS CHICAGO VOGUE

Couple Arrested in Hotel Room Forced to Undergo Blood Test.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Thomas Fisher Lawrence, a St. Louis business man, and Mrs. Julia Gruner, a widow, of the same city, who were trapped in a Lake Shore Drive hotel by Mrs. Lawrence last night, were compelled to undergo the routine blood test required of every defendant in the Morals Court.

Mr. Lawrence and Mrs. Gruner had been released in bonds of $1,500 each and their hearing had been set by Judge William Eldender for Aug. 26, when Dr. Herman Bundezen, Health Commissioner, ordered them into his laboratory for the test. Mr. Lawrence refused to submit at first, but Dr. Bundezen declared he would make no exception to a new regulation requiring men as well as women defendants

"Unless you submit to this test," the Commissioner told Mr. Lawrence, "I'll have to order you quarantined for 30 days in the Lawndale Hospital."

Then Mr. Lawrence gave in and, with Mrs. Gruner went to the laboratory. The test was ended in twenty minutes and the outcome was satisfactory. Then the two got into a taxi and left the City Hall.

Mrs. Gruner was held all night by the police in an effort to force her to submit to a health test. Dr. Bundezen instructed officials at the laboratories not to make the examination unless Mr. Lawrence was similarly treated.

THERE'S MYSTERY IN PICTURE AT UNIQUE

Girl on the Stairs, Starring Patsy Ruth Miller, Has Dramatic Situations.

Mystery that mystifies throughout, dramatic situations that hold the spectator's unwavering attention, interspersed with delightful comedy bits, combine to make "The Girl on the Stairs," which opened at the Unique Theatre yesterday, a thoroughly worth while motion picture.

The story has for its heroine a young girl, nonchalant who is accused of a murder committed during one of her sleep walking strolls.

To tell the outcome of the story would be to deprive future spectators of the thrill that was accorded those who saw the picture last evening. But suffice it to say that the story is told in a thoroughly logical manner and brought to a satisfactory close.

Niles Welch makes a good-looking and convincing character of the defence attorney, the girl's sweetheart. Freeman Wood is at his best as the villainous Wakefield. Arline Pretty appears to advantage as Wakefield's wife, while two other important roles are capably handled by Bertram Grassby and Freeman Wood.

HAZEN L. SHORT AND MISS L. FAIRWEATHER TENNIS CHAMPIONS

Former Defeats J. P. McInerney and Miss Fairweather Wins From Miss Jean Knight in Stirring Morning Matches at Rothesay

UNDER glorious weather conditions and on perfect courts, the finals of the men's and ladies' singles in the New Brunswick Tennis Championships were played this morning at Rothesay, and both matches elicited rounds of applause from a large gallery.

The men's engagement was begun at 10:30 when McInerney, who has steadily advanced in the last few years of championship calibre, entered his first provincial finals match and faced Short, the present Maritime champion.

The match was a battle royal, resulting in a win for the champion, giving him the set by a score of 6-2. The Rothesay star had it pretty much his own way in the second set, winning 6-1, but the third set produced the best tennis of the match.

Miss Fairweather defeated Miss Knight in straight sets, 6-1, 6-3, but the score by no means indicates the character of the match. Short attacked with vigor, driving and volleying with terrific speed and uncanny precision.

Miss Fairweather today exhibited a clever brand of tennis. This afternoon the men's doubles, ladies' doubles and mixed doubles will be played.

Leonard T. Chaisson, charged with breaking and entering the dwelling of George Scarborough, 80 Carmarthen street, at 12:15 this morning, declared in court that he did not remember whether he had broken in or not as he had been drinking.

W. E. Graham of the C. P. R. investigation staff, who is located in London, Ont., arrived in the city this morning. He went to Ketepee to join his wife, who is spending a vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Strong.

Petty Officer A. T. Matthews, of H. M. War Sloop Valerian lost his general service medal while on shore leave last evening. It bears his name, as the Valerian sailed today it has been asked that the finder of the medal notify military headquarters at the army and it will be forwarded from there to the owner.

A case against Mrs. Anthony Isaacs, charged with assaulting Mrs. Mary Sophie by tearing her clothes and scratching her in a house in Erin street yesterday, was heard by Magistrate Henderson this morning. Evidence was given by Mrs. Sophie and Mrs. Addy Proctor while the defendant went on the stand and denied the charge. She was found guilty and fined $20.

Commissioner Bullock said this morning that he had received an application from the Nashwaak Pulp and Paper Company for a price on a block of city lots lying between Mill street and North street, Fairville. In this block the city has 15 unleased lots and parties. The commissioner has the matter under consideration and will bring it to the council at an early date.

The C. G. S. Dollard met with a mishap on Friday which resulted in the loss of one of the vessel's propellers and would probably put the steamer out of commission for some time. The Dollard was passing through the channel between White Head Island and the Brazil Ledges when she struck a submerged obstruction. The port hull shaft was broken and the propeller dropped off. The steamer was able to proceed to this port by use of her starboard propeller and arrived on Saturday night.

When asked about the accident this morning J. C. Chesley, local agent for the Marine and Fisheries Department said that he would be unable to say how long the vessel would be laid up as it might take considerable time to secure a new propeller.

Miss Myrtle Crawford, a member of the Winter street school teaching staff, returned this morning from Boston, where she has been taking a course at the Emerson College of Oratory.

SIMONS BOARD WILL LAY SEWER

Decision is Made Despite Protest of Chairman Edgar Smith

Contract is Awarded to Telfer and Horgan—East Saint John Pipe Matter.

The Simons sewerage board decided yesterday to proceed with the installation of sewers in Loch Lomond Road and Russell street, despite the strenuous objections of Councillor Edgar Smith, chairman of the board, and awarded the contract to Telfer & Horgan. A complaint from Commissioner Wigmore that the water pipes in East Saint John were not sufficiently covered to protect them from frost was also dealt with at the meeting and assurance given that this would be attended to.

The meeting was held in the office of the county secretary, with all the members of the board, Councillors Smith, Simpson and Dalsell, present.

Councillor Smith urged that the tenders for the sewers be not opened as he felt the district was now taxed to the breaking point to pay for the sewers which had already been installed.

This point of view was not held by the other two members of the board, Councillors Dalsell and Simpson and the bids were opened.

Five bids were received as follows: Kane and Parker, $14,670.77; L. H. Zed, $15,256.83; Stephen Construction Co., $14,833.42; Telfer and Horgan, $13,773.68; H. O. Clark, $14,694.98. After the bids had been checked to see that the extensions were correct the contract was awarded to the lowest tenderer, Telfer and Horgan.

WILL COVER PIPES. Commissioner Wigmore wrote that in some places the water pipe in East Saint John was covered to a depth of only two feet and that this was not sufficient to protect it from frost and that unless steps were taken to protect it the water would be turned off on November 1.

Engineer G. G. Murdoch said this matter had been called to his attention by Commissioner. He had taken it up with the contractors, Kane and Zed, and they had agreed to cover the pipe to a sufficient depth.

Several Leaders of Saint John Boy Scouts Leave on Long Walk.
