Seven Thousand Speeches Made Daily In British Elections

ATTACK FOR ITALIAN PREMIER

Winter Port Season Opened Today

ODDS NOW IN FAVOR OF BALDWIN

Lloyd George Continues to be Star in the British Elections.

MCDONALD SECOND

The Prevailing Impression is That Conservatives Will Return to Power.

BY ED. L. KEENE

(British United Press.)

London, Dec. 1.—Today marks the close of one of the speediest, most hectic fortnights in the history of British election campaigns, which will increase in intensity until Thursday.

David Lloyd George is easily the star of the campaign. Reinforced by his American tour, the former Premier is adopting for the first time American devices, such as amplifiers and broadcast.

He has been setting a hot pace, with from ten to fifteen meetings daily in the North of England and in Wales. Ramsay MacDonald, Labor's candidate for the Premiership, is a close second as a popular attraction.

Baldwin is handicapped. Premier Stanley Baldwin, Conservative, not only is not an impressive speaker, but on account of his duties at Downing street is able to devote only a part of his time to electioneering. The Conservatives apparently are unworried, however.

It is estimated that at least seven thousand speeches are made daily by spokesmen for all parties.

A prevailing impression continues that the Conservatives probably will retain a majority in the House of Commons, although their present edge probably will be seriously reduced, with the Liberals gaining most of the seats which the Baldwin party loses.

It is not expected that the Labor Party will increase materially their present representation in fact they retain their present numbers.

Stock Exchange betting was at even money that the Conservatives secure a majority of 88 to 85 over all other parties combined. Book makers are offering odds of four to one against the Conservatives obtaining a majority of one hundred or more, five to one against a Liberal majority and fifty to one against a Labor majority.

Not Opposing Father.

Considerable piquancy has been added to the campaign by the appearance of Oliver Baldwin, son of the Prime Minister on the Labor stump.

In an interview the young man explained:

"I am not opposing father personally, but his principles, which are leading us nowhere. I cannot help opposing a Government which has failed to carry out even the smallest part of the post-war promises made to the men who were in the trenches.

"The Government has muddled everything. Its foremost sin is lack of courage."

Airplanes are being used in the campaign for the first time. Today an American aviator, Sperry, who placed himself and his plane at the disposal of the Liberal party set out on the first official flight carrying an urgent message from London to Oxfordshire.

Over Three Million Tons of U. S. Coal

Sydney, N. S., Dec. 1.—Over three million tons of coal has been produced by the Dominion Coal Company for the eleven months ending yesterday, according to figures obtained last night. The output for November was 255,658 tons, which is the smallest month's tonnage since April 1922 when a strike-on-the-job policy resulted in curtailing the monthly output to 162,085 tons.

The actual figures for the first eleven months of this year are 3,071,159 tons, compared with 2,558,293 tons for the same period in 1922, an increase in 1923 of over half a million tons.

WIFE OBJECTS TO TELEPHONE LOVE

Files Bill to Keep Other Woman From Calling Up Her Hubby.

Boston, Dec. 1.—Mrs. Robert E. Norton of 1490 Washington street, South End, has taken unusual methods to prevent the theft of her husband's love by the "other woman." She has filed a bill in equity in Superior Court enjoining Bertha Morse of 37 Elliot street, Canton, from calling up her husband or entertaining him at her home.

Among the means which the wife claims are being used to wean her husband from her are long telephone calls which cause her husband to spend a great deal of his time in a pay station near his home.

Norton, his wife also alleges, has spent much time in Canton, and during his visits has been urged to abandon and desert his wife.

3 Women Claim to Be Youth's Mother

Milan, Dec. 1.—Northern Italy is seeking a super-Solomon to settle who is the mother of a youth claimed by three women. The youth was kidnapped yesterday by Concetta Cavaleri, one of the women, who brought him here from Florence.

Shell shocked during the war and a deaf-mute in consequence, the young man has been in Florence since the close of the hostilities, waiting to have one of the women declared to be his mother, as he is unable to identify her.

No judicial authority can be found who considers himself competent to decide the case, and constant gossip is seeking another sage with the Biblical king's wisdom as the only one capable of giving judgment.

Big C. P. R. Steamer Brings 751 Passengers and Cargo to Canada.

3,200 MAIL BAGS

Many Prominent Canadians are on Passenger List Returning Home.

The arrival of the Canadian Pacific steamship Montclare this morning marked the official opening of the winter season at this port. This colossal liner, reputed to be "the Queen of the Sea," is a welcome visitor as her arrival heralds the advent of better times for the winter port season means work for hundreds of men and additional business for the city merchants in general.

The Montclare came from Liverpool via Halifax and brought out 731 passengers, 3,200 bags of mail and parcel post and a good sized general cargo. The passengers consisted of 96 cabin adults, 13 children and one infant, and 531 third class adults, 73 children and 11 infants.

Land at Halifax. Twenty of the cabin passengers disembarked at Halifax and went forward to their destinations. In addition to Premier MacKenzie King the following landed there: Colonel and Mrs. Broome and Miss Cecil of Montreal; Commodore and Mrs. H. and Mrs. K. Johnson of Simcoe, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. McGee of Ottawa, Capt. Sifton of Montreal, Dr. Skelton of Kingston, Mr. Taylor of Montreal, Messrs. of Ottawa, Mr. Nichol of Ottawa, Mr. Oppe of Montreal, Mrs. Ryder of Montreal and Mr. Robinson of Montreal.

Other prominent passengers who came to St. John were—Rt. Rev. J. J. Blair of Winnipeg, who went to London on a business trip; W. A. Perry of London, who was formerly a prominent official of the London and North Eastern Railway, who is on a tour through Canada; also intended to visit Australia; H. L. Wild, a well known merchant of Montreal; K. C. Patton of Holyoke, F. C. Kuld, of Charlottetown, P. E. I.; and Mrs. K. Bleese and Master T. Bleese of this city.

Asked about conditions in Scotland he said they were fairly good considering the troubled conditions throughout the world, but they are not to be compared with the days before the world war. He said that the inhabitants of the rural districts were doing nicely and from information picked up in the cities the large industries were curtailing expenditures until such times as conditions would change for the better.

Makes Quick Run. The Montclare anchored off the Island this morning at 3 o'clock, having made a quick run from Halifax. She is in command of Captain C. E. Webster, R. D. R. N. R., one of the oldest and most popular men in the service. The officers on the steamer are: T. A. Powers, chief officer; J. Quine, chief engineer; A. W. M. Stark, purser; E. W. Drury, surgeon; J. Herring, chief steward; and Miss A. M. Richards, stewardess. Captain Webster has been going to sea since 1879, and during that long period has had 38 commands. In 1900 he was in command of the Elder Dempster liner Milwaukee and conveyed a detachment of Canadian troops to South Africa to participate in the war.

In the recent world-war he made 48 round-trip voyages, conveying troops to various destinations. Captain Webster said he has been sailing to and from the port of St. John for over 20 years and is always pleased to come here. He likes the port and particularly the people, who are always hospitable, he said. Since his last voyage here in April he made seven trips to Montreal and Liverpool, and his ship is known as the "seven-day boat." He is very proud of the Montclare and said that while coming around from Halifax she averaged 18 knots an hour and (Continued on page 2, column 5.)

RUM RAID MADE IN DEPOSIT VAULTS

Customs Collector Seizes 14 Cases of Whiskey at Bar Harbor.

Portland, Me., Dec. 1.—Fourteen cases of whiskey were seized in deposit vaults of the Bar Harbor Banking and Trust Company, by Deputy Customs Collector Harold P. Higgins of South West Harbor, so Collector Charles M. Sleeper of Portland was notified.

The liquor, the report said, was stored in the bank this fall by summer residents of Bar Harbor. No arrests have been made. The liquor will be sent to this city for storage.

Collector Sleeper notified District Attorney Frederick R. Dyer, who announced that any prosecution by his department on charges of illegal transportation of the whiskey to the banking rooms would necessarily depend on the details of the seizure. It is felt that banking officials may not be liable, as they have accommodated patrons without knowing the contents of the liquor, he said.

Collector Sleeper said that Deputy Higgins' preliminary report indicated that the whiskey had been smuggled into this country.

SKATING DATES NOT YET ADJUSTED

Joe Page Wires Result of Negotiations at Saranac Lake.

The matter of dates for the proposed Gold Challenge Cup skating meet here has not yet been adjusted, but negotiations by wire and letter are being carried on. It will be remembered that Saranac Lake chose Feb. 18, 14 and 15 for the National meet, and Lake Placid Feb. 19, 20 and 21 for the International. It is the hope of the St. John Skating Association to have the meet here before those two, otherwise it would be near the end of February before the skaters would be seen in action on the local ice.

Joe Page was delegated to go to the Adirondack officials to see if an adjustment could not be made. He was at Saranac yesterday, sent a night letter to D. J. Corr, secretary of the association here. It brought a suggestion from President Savage that St. John apply for stated dates, mentioning Feb. 11 and 12, and guaranteeing to have the Olympic skaters leave here on the evening of the 12th so as to reach Saranac in time to skate on the 14th there. This is a concession of one day by Saranac.

It is considered possible that the Olympic skaters might be brought home on the steamship Melita and land at St. John, rather than return by way of New York as had been intended.

Because of the Olympic events, this is a bad year for the big skating meets in the matter of dates. The best that can be expected is to have the Olympic skaters here by Feb. 8 or 9, and then there is time needed for the men to get in skating trim after landing, so Feb. 12, the date suggested by Mr. Savage, gives little margin.

The question of delay on the voyage, the matter of expenses and other things enter into the calculations, and it may be found necessary to have a meeting of the representatives of the St. John, Saranac and Lake Placid organizations at Montreal or some other central point.

QUEEN MOTHER IS 79 YEARS OLD TODAY

King George to Give Private Banquet in Honor of Mother Tonight.

(British United Press) London, Dec. 1.—Queen Mother Alexandra, long the best loved of all British royals, celebrated her 79th birthday here today. An endless stream of callers headed by the Danish Minister tendered official and personal homage to the "Sea King's" daughter from over the sea, as Tennyson wrote many years ago.

From the moment of her landing in England to marry the late King Edward in 1863, the Danish Princess won all hearts.

King George will give a private banquet in honor of his mother tonight. Investing his total resources in tax exempt securities is the particular method this gentleman employed in evading the tax.

Sets Record By Eating 53 Hot Dogs; Gets Loving Cup Then He Goes to Sleep

New York, Dec. 1.—"Fifty for John Huine." Louis Lichtenberger, president of the John W. Gates Association, crossed the latest group of tally marks on a door in Johnny Leppig's restaurant and social hall, at 201 Avenue A.

"Fifty-one for Val Menges." Louis started a new group of five on the score for Val Huine's fans groaned.

"Fifty-two for Huine." The tally scores were even. "Come awn, Jack," he roared, "Beat 'em out." Huine's eyes rolled, his breath came in gasps. But he reached forward. He bit the hot dog within an inch of its tail.

"Fifty-three for Huine." They hammered Menges in their eagerness to see him catch up. Then somebody told a story about a ship that pitched in a long, easy roll and how an Eskimo ate castor oil like candy. Menges, the champion hot dog eater of last year's contest and who had equalled the record this year, grew grayish green around the eyes. Suddenly he arose from the table and staggered to the door.

"Fifty-four for Huine." "And that's how the John W. Gates association came yesterday to present to Huine the beautiful loving cup in the hot dog contest. But first, to be sure he was the champion, they filled the cup with a gallon or two of sauer kraut. Huine bedded down the dogs and proved his right to the cup. They called it a red letter day in Avenue A. Never had there been such a contest since dogs first bared in Leppig's restaurant, away back in 1879.

They eased Huine off the complaining chair, rolled him like a cask to the rear of the restaurant, covered him with a fireman's red shirt and left him to sleep. They tiptoed noiselessly out. He was their hero. All that came Thursday night, after the gallant Thanksgiving Day parade of the association. Of course, the East Side will talk for many days the 350 pound accomplishment of John Huine, but occasionally in their talk they will speak of the parade. It has been held for two decades or more on Thanksgiving Day.

YEATS IS SURPRISED AT AWARD OF PRIZE

Attributes Winning Nobel Award to Anglo-Irish Literary Movement.

Dublin, Dec. 1.—William Butler Yeats was completely surprised when he learned that he had received the Nobel prize for literature. He did not know the amount—£7,500—and said to his wife: "If it is small we will spend it and be rich. If it is large we will invest it and be substantial."

Senator Yeats attributes the honor rather to the Anglo-Irish literary movement than to merit in his own work. The romantic school, he believes, is passing and will be replaced possibly by the psychologists.

Finds It Small World After All

Boston, Dec. 1.—It's still a small world, after all. On July 4, William E. C. Terrell of 8 Waltham street, South End, tossed a flask from the deck of the King Philip, containing a slip of paper bearing his name and address, asking the finder to write him. J. W. Hall of Margaretville, N. Y., picked it up on the beach in the Bay of Fundy, Nov. 16. Mr. Hall has written to Mr. Terrell. When Mr. Terrell showed the letter to C. W. Morse, a druggist of 507 Tremont street, the latter recognized Mr. Hall as an old friend. Margaretville is in Annapolis county.

Erroneous Statement in an American Paper Brings Assault on Family.

INK WELL THROWN

Signor Nitti Declares That the Outrage is Unjustified.

(British United Press.)

Rome, Dec. 1.—Because an evening paper erroneously translated remarks in an American paper by Francisco Nitti, former Premier of Italy and pronounced Liberal, three hundred Fascisti raided his home, threw an ink well at him, fired several shots and molested the statesman's family without, however, injuring anyone. Considerable damage is reported to have been done in the Nitti home.

The attack was the subject of parliamentary interpellations. Signor Nitti issued a statement today declaring the outrage inconceivable and unjustified.

SAYS CODE TOO FREE WITH SILKS

Four Pairs a Year Ample for $20 Week Girl, Declares Expert.

Boston, Dec. 1. — "A $20-a-week working girl should spend $4 a week for clothes, not more, and maybe a little less," said Harriett Ainsworth, a prominent Boston budget expert, who claims that 22 per cent. budget recommended by the Plymouth Church Institute of Brooklyn is excessively high. The girl, she says, is spending $20.80 too much.

Too Many Silk Stockings. Four pairs of silk stockings is all she says a girl earning $20 a week ought to buy each year against the eight pairs allowed by the church budget of Mrs. Newell Dwight Hillis, the expert who planned the church budget. These four pairs of stockings allowed annually by Miss Ainsworth should not be purchased separately, but at least two pairs at a time should be bought.

"The average business girl wastes much money by not knowing how to buy. They purchase one pair of silk stockings at a time, and then buy them all they are in three, and then buy a new pair. This is a shocking waste and absolutely unnecessary.

Wash Every Wear. "We have cases that come to us daily in our research department of working girls buying a new pair of silk stockings every three weeks," Miss Ainsworth declared.

"If a girl buys four pairs of good silk hose at one time during the year, she can make them last for 12 months. She must wash them after every wearing, and when she notices the slightest break or hole she should immediately mend them herself, or where the tear is treacherous take them to a professional mender.

Fur Coat Not For $20 Girl.

Referring to the 22 per cent. allowance made by Mrs. Hillis, she said: "This means that a girl earning $20 a week spends $28.80 a year for clothes, and I believe this is an excess of $20.80 over what she ought to spend. This money might be used for her vacation or for an educational course, or any number of things in which she would derive greater benefits than from clothes."

She said no girl earning $20 a week should buy a fur coat. An economical girl earning $25 a week might be judiciously saving to put away enough for a practical fur garment. A fur coat worn by a salaried girl earning less than $50 a week ought to be worn at least five years.

A WOMAN HURT IN JUMP FROM TRAIN

While the express for Boston was going over the Mill street crossing at 6.45 last evening, Mrs. G. G. Cotter, of Channel, Newfoundland, fell from the train and was so badly shaken up and cut that she was taken to the General Public Hospital in the ambulance. Her condition is not serious.

Mr. and Mrs. Cotter were on their way to Boston. Shortly before the train pulled out of the Union Station Mr. Cotter left the train for some purpose and when he did not appear in the car where his wife was seated Mrs. Cotter went on the platform to see if she could see him. The train was under way at this time. Fearing that Mr. Cotter had been left behind the woman jumped from the car steps and fell on her head and shoulders.

C. N. R. Officer Young and others rushed to her assistance. Mr. Cotter was on the train at the time and would have reached the side of his wife a minute or two after she plunged from the platform. Mrs. Cotter is about 65 years of age.

SUBSIDIZED AIR SERVICE.

That the United States should follow the example of England and France and some other countries and provide a government subsidy to promote commercial aviation is the contention of Mr. C. W. Barron, in an article in the Aeronautical Digest for December. He claims there is the same justification for it as for the policy which granted subsidies for railway construction in its early days. That policy made possible a rapid development of railway transportation, and he would have it adopted to stimulate commercial air service. The reasons for this he sets forth as follows:—

"The basis of modern civilization and material progress is transportation. When one views the field of transportation in a broad way, he may reach the conclusion that the expansion of railroad transportation in this country has been providentially arrested that other forms of transportation may come forth. Grinding the railroads and railroad investors between the upper and nether millstone of repressed rates and expanded wages has forced travel and transport back to the highway. Here the gasoline motor and the smooth highway have opened a new era in human progress. But the motor is still outclassed and long distance work by the steam locomotive, and neither meet the demand for express service. Here is the field for the commercial aeroplane and with us is the continent whose development and future service requires the mastery of the air that man and his gods may pass freely from coast to coast."

Mr. Barron, who is the head of the Wall Street Journal and an international authority on finance and progress, points out that in 1914 he declared that one of the results of the war must be the stimulation of the air to the conquest of the air. He adds that national defense must increasingly rely on air service and out of it must come commercial aviation. Indeed, he says, "it will be found in the long run that the governments of the world can do better and make faster progress in national defence by subsidies assisting to develop commercial aviation." He points out how Britain's naval and mercantile marine are interrelated and applies the principle to the air service. The subsidies to railways in the early days served the purpose of national defence as well as of national utility and material development. The air today is a medium of transportation to parallel with the ocean.

"When," he says, "I talked with aviators and learned how they regarded the air as something just as tangible beneath them as is the water under a boat, I realized more clearly the possibilities of commercial development and the progress of man in the future in the air. The progress has been wonderful. We have had nearly 100 years of rail development, but the problems presented were trifling compared with those before man in his conquest of the air. How few years ago were school boys winning prizes by declaiming about Danton's speech flying machine, demonstrating the feasibility of anyone seeking to fly above the earth? The great philosophical lesson to be derived from the aeroplane development is that contained in the declaration of the Heidelberg professor to the Wright brothers: 'The reason you invented the aeroplane was because you had not been educated to know that it could not be done.' It was not until December, 1909, that the Paris-Martin prize of 10,000 francs for anyone who would fly between Paris and the German border was won."

Mr. Barron goes on to point out that engineers' estimates are already at hand which place the per mile cost of aviation in line of comparison with the per mile cost on land and sea, and adds:—

"All over the United States cities and towns have set apart for the motor touring camp spaces supplied with shelter and water. In a few years cities and towns will be vying with each other in furnishing broad landing spaces for aviators."

Looking abroad, Mr. Barron sees conditions in Africa, India and China improved greatly by aviation, and the pacification and reclamation of all countries east of the Mediterranean greatly assisted. Looking to the future he says:—

"Millions starved in Russia because rail and steamboat transportation had broken down. With the development of the aeroplane famine areas carrying death and disaster will be impossible upon the surface of the globe. So far from shortening human life, the aeroplane will prolong human life and improve social and commercial conditions. Quick interchange of intelligence and goods is the basis of modern commerce and civilization, and the aeroplane, therefore, presents a new era for man's commercial and social development. The demand of the present is for the linking up of water and rail transportation. The demand of the future will be for the co-ordination of rail, water and air transportation. When 10 years ago I bought my Zep-port of St. John to the Laurier-Borden policy of Canadian trade through Canadian channels.

The passing years do not lessen the ardor with which the Scot abroad recalls on St. Andrew's Day the noble deeds of his ancestors. The celebration in St. John is always a notable function and the addresses delivered are marked by deep loyalty to the traditions of the old land as well as of devotion to the new.

With less than a week to go, the British elections have aroused popular interest to the highest pitch, and the outcome is very uncertain. Each of the three parties claims to be making gains. The whirlwind campaign of Mr. Lloyd George is the feature of the contest. So far as may be gathered from reports the feeling is most outside observers seems to be that the Government will have the largest group in the new House, but whether it will be large enough to ensure the adoption of a protective tariff is another question. Excitement will be at fever heat for the next three or four days.

Press Comment

LUCK ON THE TURF

(New York Herald.)

A number of this season's successful race horses come from sources that have not been regarded with special favor by authorities on blood-stock breeding. This fact should carry comfort to the small breeders in the country, many of whom keep a few mares as a part of a general farming plan or because of natural love for the horse.

The performances of Sarazen and Wise Counsellor are typical and should stimulate the breeding industry in a way that would be most helpful to the turf.

The knowledge that the dam of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt's 2d's great gelding was sold for $75 and that only $100 was paid for the dam of Wise Counsellor will hearten many owners of a few acres of grazing land to buy a mare or two in the hope of breeding a good horse.

Mrs. Vanderbilt paid $35,000 for Sarazen and has already won him out, though the juvenile was not eligible to any of the great races. He would bring at least $50,000 at auction tomorrow because of his earning power on the turf. Wise Counsellor was recently sold for $95,000, and being a colt, his qualities in the stud are valuable. He won $16,000 on Saturday and is engaged in races of sufficient value to win himself out before the close of the season.

The fascination of the turf is easily explained with results like the above matters of record.

MUST ALSO COLONIZE

(Montreal Star.)

Hon. Mr. Robb has been named Minister of Immigration and Colonization and the success of the administration of his department will not be judged by the number or even by the physique of the new-comers. His responsibility is two-fold. The work as Minister of Immigration ends when he lands the immigrant in a Canadian port, provided the new citizen is sound in health and capable of earning a livelihood. But at the same time Mr. Robb begins the second half of his task, assume the more difficult portion of his responsibility. Colonization begins where immigration ends.

The task of colonization is not like that of immigration—a matter of a few days in train and boat. It is a slow process of years and every step along its road brings with it hopes and troubles of misunderstanding and prejudice.

Every new-comer who settles permanently and contentedly in the Dominion is a double asset to the country. He is in himself one more recruit to the army of producers which Canada must have in largely increased numbers if she is to fulfill her destiny and his contentment and satisfaction are the most important factors in the country's most powerful magnet for the attraction of friends and relatives.

These men not only from Britain, but from Italy and France, Denmark, Hungary, the Balkans, Christian and Jew, Latin and Slav, will bring with them the best of their own countries, their spiritual and aesthetic life of the Dominion. In return we must offer him or her material aid which will smooth the rough stones of his early path. We must be colonizers as well as settlers.

THE WESTERN REVIVAL

(Montreal Gazette.)

The Prairie Provinces of Canada are moving rapidly toward attainment of their promised position as the world's greatest wheat-producing area, but it is no longer correct to regard the West as nothing but a grain country. One of the things that impressed the Minister of Trade and Commerce was the steady progress that is being made in the development and expansion of other industries, including manufacturing, mining, oil production, etc., as well as in diversified agriculture. It is an old complaint against the western farmer that he has given up his attention to wheat in the hope of his returns, that he has been mining the land and has totally neglected other branches of husbandry. For many years agricultural experts, official and other, have urged these men in the West to go more into mixed farming, to multiply their sources of profit and, at the same time, to lessen their dependence upon outside agencies. It would appear, from Hon. Mr. Law's statement, that the lesson has, to some extent, been learned. Mixed farming, he is quoted as saying, especially dairying and the manufacture of dairy factory produce, is being adopted rapidly in many parts of the West, while live stock is running closer to wheat in many districts. The West, he adds, is beginning to vary its activities to almost as great an extent as the East.

This is a development upon sound scientific lines and should give the necessary element of permanence to western prosperity. The successful marketing of the great crop which has been produced this year west of the lakes will be an invaluable factor in furthering the immigration movement. Canada, and Western Canada especially, could have no better advertisement than this extraordinary evidence of the country's productive capacity, coupled with a notable demonstration of transportation efficiency.

REINCARNATION

A professor in England claims he "lived before" on earth and can vividly remember his former lives or incarnations. In one of these he was a high priest in Egypt, he says, in another life a great Phoenician artist, later a Greek philosopher.

This has a familiar ring. You never find a reincarnationist recalling he was a nobody in a previous existence.

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 85 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, O. K. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to grant a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. MONTREAL BOOSTS, BOSTON CUTS PRICE

Milk Highest Since War in Canadian Metropolis—9 Cents in Boston.

Montreal, Dec. 1.—The price of milk has been increased to 14 cents, the highest since the war. In summer it was 12 cents and for the last two months 13 cents. The reason given for the increase is that farmers have demanded more money.

Cut in Boston.

Boston, Dec. 1.—The New England Milk Producers' Association has announced a reduction of one-half cent a quart on the price of milk to Boston dealers, effective today. This leaves the price at nine cents a quart delivered at Boston, which is about seven and one-quarter at the farm on the average, the farmer paying transportation costs which vary with the distance from the city. The retail price in Boston has been 14 1/2 cents.

DEATHS

William F. J. Lunn.

The death of William F. J. Lunn, of 107 Rotheray avenue, occurred yesterday afternoon at his residence, when he burst a blood vessel and passed away suddenly. Mr. Lunn had been in poor health for some time, but his death was a great shock to his family and friends. Mrs. Lunn died three years ago. Mr. Lunn leaves to mourn two sons, Fred Lunn, of this city, at 319 City road; Harry Lunn, and three daughters, Misses Sadie, Pearl and Ada, at home. Two sisters also survive, Mrs. James Matthews, of Point Wolfe, N. B., and Mrs. Ingles McLean, of Margaretsville, N. S. The funeral will be held from his late residence on Monday at 2:30 o'clock, the service to be conducted by Rev. A. L. Tefford.

DIES SUDDENLY

Danny Masciovecchio, Charlotte Street Fruit Dealer, Passes Away.

"Danny" Masciovecchio, Italian proprietor of a fruit and confectionery store at 87 Charlotte street, dropped dead about 8 o'clock last evening at his boarding house, 41 City Road, while he was waiting for his landlady, Mrs. M. Torrey, to prepare some powders given him by his physician, Dr. E. J. Broderick.

According to one of the unfortunate man's friends, last evening, "Danny" as he was known and liked by many good friends, had not been feeling his usual good self lately. He complained of a general run-down condition, but was loath to leave his business even for a day. Yesterday afternoon he continued to work around his store despite his high temperature. He visited Dr. Broderick late yesterday afternoon and after being given a prescription he returned to his store and from there went to a drug store where the prescription was filled. He then went home. While waiting for his landlady to fix the powders he dropped dead.

So far as known he leaves to mourn a mother and sister, now in Italy. He had often been heard saying that he wanted to bring his mother and sister to Canada. The matter of settling up his estate is in the hands of his solicitor.

THOMAS S. PETERS, OF GAGETOWN, DEAD

Gagetown, Nov. 30.—The death of Thomas Sherman Peters, of Gagetown, makes one more breach in the long line of Loyalists who the late Mr. Peters ably represented. His death occurred today after an illness of some duration. He was prominent in many activities in his community throughout his life time of 74 years. Lately Mr. Peters adhered to an official position, which was that of magistrate, and carried out his duties with satisfaction to the County of Queens, in which he administered his office. He was the owner of a large estate, and was noted for his knowledge of agricultural matters, in which he excelled. The late Mr. Peters had a large family all of whom have become of note in their community, or wherever they have gone into the larger centres. The only son, Dr. Oliver R. Peters, is a resident of Rotheray. Mrs. Edward Du Vernet, a daughter, of Digby, N. S., is the wife of Dr. Du Vernet, who is well known as a physician. Mrs. J. H. A. Holmes, wife of the rector of St. Jude's, Mrs. Percy H. Barnett, of Vancouver, B. C., Miss Louise M. Peters and Miss Pearl Peters, both at home in Gagetown. Miss Mary G. Peters is well known as the missionary who left in August for Honan, China, where she is stationed in St. Paul's Hospital, Kweiwei, Honan. There will be special sympathy extended to her, because of her great distance from home and the probable delay in hearing of the sorrow that has come to her family in the death of her father.

Mr. Peters also leaves one sister, Miss Margaret L. Peters, of Gagetown, P. E. I., which was his birthplace. His father was master of the rolls, or judge in Chancery in Charlottetown, and the family have been outstanding as Loyalists since the earliest days of settlement in the Maritime Provinces. His maternal grandfather was the late Sir Samuel Cunard, founder of the Cunard Line. Mrs. Peters, who died four years ago, was Miss Mary Armstrong, a sister of Rev. W. B. Armstrong of this city.

The funeral will take place from St. John's church, Gagetown, and interment will be in the family lot. Rev. James Bennett will officiate at the service, which will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

DISPUTES CLAIM OF COMMISSION ABOUT SOBRIETY

Temperance Federation Official Replies to Quebec Liquor Board

Montreal, Nov. 28.—Decrease of arrests for drunkenness in Quebec province are due not to decrease of drunkenness but to the declining efficiency of the police, in the opinion of Dr. E. I. Hart, general secretary of the Dominion Temperance Federation, in a criticism of the statement issued last week by the Quebec Liquor Commission in which they claimed to show by statistics that Quebec, under its liquor system, was the most temperate province or state on the continent.

"I can understand," said Dr. Hart, "why men like the dignified and scholarly Premier of Quebec and other men of the feeling and taste in the cabinet, do not like to hear the Government spoken of as a 'barren' and the quaint, old conservative province of which they are so proud denominated the 'barren' of the continent."

Dealing with the claim of decreased drunkenness, Dr. Hart contends that there are several times as many places where liquor can be purchased in Montreal than there were in 1919. Never in the history of the province did the liquor traffic do such a large business, never were the sales so great, amounting to over $30,000,000 the first year of Government control. This is not content he put forward against the claim of decreased intoxication. The second one is that in 1919 there were only 400 places where liquor could be legitimately procured in the whole province.

Where Liquor Can Be Bought.

Dr. Hart explained that the 1919 figures he quoted were as furnished him and he added—"There are 82 Government stores operating in the province. There are 1,000 licensed places, such as taverns, grocery stores, hotels, restaurants, clubs and breweries, in all 1,988 places where liquor can be purchased according to law, nearly 1,600 more than in 1919, or an increase of 400 per cent.

"The figures for Montreal, are as follows: 35 Government stores, 248 taverns, 588 grocers, 57 restaurants, 28 clubs, 58 hotels, three breweries and six steamboat licenses, a total of 976 places in Montreal or nine times as many and a little more than there were in 1919.

"The facilities for procuring liquor have greatly multiplied. Can you accept the Commission's statement that intoxication or drunkenness has decreased? It does not stand to reason. Increased consumption means increased drunkenness. There never was as much intoxication in Montreal and in other 'wet' parts of Quebec today and

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM

Montreal D-WATSON & CO., New York

There never was as much intoxication." In September, last, Dr. Hart said, he with a friend visited 15 taverns. It was a wet and disagreeable night, most unfavorable to their purpose, yet in some of the places entered, 70, 80, 90 or even 100 men were seated at tables drinking. The taverns in which most of the drinking was done he said were along St. Catherine and Ontario streets, east of St. Lawrence boulevard.

Says Ontario Strictly. Dr. Hart went on to say that under Government control young men were being tempted as never before in the old bar regime, that in addition to the places of temptation under Government control, there was added temptation in the home, in the dance, and social gatherings.

As to the comparison in favor of Quebec as compared with Ontario and of Montreal as compared with Toronto, Dr. Hart believes that the reason for the favorable figures for Quebec province and the city of Montreal is the better law enforcement in Ontario. Officers of the Ontario Temperance Act arrested men when drunk but in Quebec men had to be violently or helplessly drunk before they were noticed by the police, let alone arrested, he said.

He cited several instances that he had been told of or had seen personally, to support this contention and his conclusion was that the police were told not to make too many arrests for drunkenness.

Disputes Crime Figures. Nor does Dr. Hart agree with the figures of the commission as regards crimes in the different provinces of the Dominion. As to the comparison of intoxication between Montreal and different American cities, used by the Liquor Commission, Dr. Hart sought to explain this also by a difference in the standards of law enforcement between Montreal and these cities. According to the American Prison Association, the greatest authority on the subject in the United States, he said, crime there was decreasing.

"We cannot expect any better condition of affairs in Montreal or in the province—in fact we must be prepared to expect worse as long as we continue as a people, through our Government, to carry on the accursed liquor business," he concluded.

"Government control wherever it has been tried has been a pronounced failure. They will tell you that in South Carolina where they had it for 23 years. Within eight years of its inauguration crime had increased 350 per cent, while the population increased only 17 per cent. The liquor bill increased 41 per cent and illicit stills reached undreamed-of proportions. In British Columbia, Government control is a failure, and members of the Government are talking of a return to prohibition. It is said that in that province there has been an increase of 5,000 per cent in the amount of liquor sold, 70 per cent in the cost of police, 87 per cent in the cost of administering justice and 200 per cent increase in prison population while the whole province is suffering a period of severe depression. The cause of God is on the liquor traffic and we are only playing with fire when we try to regulate and control it. There is only one way of dealing with it—prohibit it."

Montreal, Que., Nov. 27.—Rev. Dr. Hart is general secretary of the Dominion Temperance Federation, and secretary of the Quebec Provincial Temperance Federation. He is con-ected with the Dominion Alliance, which, it is expected, will, at its annual meeting next spring, decide to throw in its lot with the Dominion Temperance Federation.

ACTRESSES MUST ANTICIPATE COMING MODES TO BE IN STYLE WHEN PICTURES ARE SHOWN

MARY ASTOR LEFT, AS SHE APPEARS IN "WOMAN-PROOF," AND JACQUELINE LOGAN, IN "FLAMING BARRIERS."

Hollywood, Cal.—When you go to the movies, keep a close eye on the popular actress of the place. Likely as not she will be wearing just the kind of creation you'd like to have; just the kind of dress most suited to you taste and needs. More likely, even, the star of the movies will be showing you the latest model fashion has decreed for the coming season. In fact, she will try to go even further and anticipate the trend of fashion for at least half a year. The reason for this is that movies last so long, going their rounds of the country, the star's costumes would be considered old-fashioned toward the end of the movie's run. The costumes for the films have the additional problem of selecting a mode before the scenes are taken, and yet having their designs at the height of fashion when the film is exhibited. Yet it is generally safe to appropriate for oneself the modes shown on the films. Here are the cases of two actresses, for example, to show how successfully they anticipated the styles of today. When you see Jacqueline Logan in "Flaming Barriers" you may notice her in an afternoon dress that is supreme today. It is an accordion-plaited net of nutria brown georgette. Ruffles of ed nutria brown georgette. Ruffles of ed nutria brown georgette. Long drooping sleeves, ruffled about the cuffs, give a touch of personality to the costume. These are only two of the numerous fashion suggestions a woman can glean from viewing a popular movie. The play isn't all for many women. To them the actress and her taste for dress are almost, if not just, as important.

Every Window Needs Just Treatment To Have a House Beautiful

Suggestions For Window Treatment.

Times have changed since the day when it was considered perfectly correct to use heavy, handsome lace curtains at the downstairs windows and cheap scrim upstairs, with no thought of a harmonious whole. Today the woman who takes pride in her home and wants it to present an appearance of unity and good taste will curtain all the windows with the same sort of glass curtains—the simple curtain that hangs close to the pane—and then use different effects inside, so that each room has its individuality and character. When buying material for the glass curtain the chief thing is to get something transparent that will not shut out light or air. A net with open meshes is often more desirable than sheer cloth, and besides being available in white and cream there is also the new golden tone known as sunshine. A flit net is always practical and this type of net may be secured in any weight from a very fine quality to a half-inch mesh in the weight known as flit granules. When it comes to over-drapes the range of possibilities is limitless and one selects what she likes and can afford. But every well-dressed window is wearing side draperies, either of a narrow panel of decorative fabric which remains stationary like the frame of the picture, or side curtains of a width sufficient to permit them being pulled quite together in the middle to soften the light and secure privacy. Mrs. Charles Kenneth James, who was formerly Miss Edith Bertha Everett, of this city, and who was married this week in Montreal, where her husband is now residing, is well known here. Her husband is also well known in St. John, as a purchasing agent for the Canadian Government. His family also resided here for several years. As recorded in yesterday's Telegraph-Journal, Mr. and Mrs. James will reside in Outremont, Montreal. Their friends here extend best wishes.

Mrs. J. Fraser Gregory entertained yesterday at her residence, Douglas avenue, at the tea hour for about 200 guests. She received at her pretty new home, 10 Padouck street, and was assisted on each occasion by her aunt, Mrs. W. J. Bingham. Mrs. Steen wore a becoming cocoa vella-velia gown, embroidered with beads, and Mrs. Bingham was handsomely gowned in bronze Canton crepe. Mueve chrysanthemums were arranged in artistic profusion throughout the rooms. The dining room table was centered with a large silver basket filled with blooms and mauve candles made a pretty light. Those who poured on the various days were: Mrs. Robert Hawker, Mrs. Bruce Weston, Mrs. William Beville, Miss Jessie Campbell and Mrs. Alfred S. Pattison. Those who assisted were: Mrs. D. P. Mahoney, Miss Grace Campbell and Miss Mary Leighton. More than 70 callers arrived on each occasion, attesting to the popularity of the bride and groom, who were married in the early autumn. Mrs. Steen will not receive again until after the Christmas season.

Miss Sarah Millidge, who left this week for her duties as deaconess in Winnipeg, where she is matron of the St. John's College in that city, was

SISTER MAY'S KITCHEN

Unless otherwise stated, each recipe is intended to be sufficient for four persons. FRUIT CAKES. While making the Christmas fruit cake for yourself, why not make one to include in the Christmas box that must be sent to some member of the family away from home? Homemade cake at the holiday season has a strong appeal to persons not at home. Brandy always was considered necessary in fruit cakes to make them keep ripe. Although the brandy had nothing to do with the "keeping" it did aid in the "ripening." There is no substitute that will give the flavor to a fruit cake that the continued dampening with brandy imparted. However, strong coffee and grape juice used in fruit cake in place of brandy, will give a delicious cake that will keep indefinitely. Long slow baking insures good keeping. Fruit cake is made with or without eggs. The cake with eggs is of course richer than the one without. Old-fashioned pork cake requires neither butter nor eggs, but keeps well and is moist and delicious. The more fruit and nuts in the cake the better.

Pork Cake. One pound fat salt pork, 2 cups boiling water, 2 cups brown sugar, 1 cup molasses, 1 tablespoon each cloves and nutmeg, 2 tablespoons cinnamon, 1 pound raisins, 1 pound currants, 2 cups nut meats, 4 tablespoons strong cold coffee, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 8 cups flour, 1 tablespoon vanilla. Remove rind and any bits of lean meat from salt pork. Chop very fine and pour over boiling water. Mix well and let stand until lukewarm. Stone raisins. Clean and dry currants. Shred citron. Mix fruit with one cup flour. Mix and sift remaining flour with baking powder and soda. Add fruit and spices to sugar and molasses combined with fat and water. Add coffee and vanilla. Mix well and stir in flour and nuts. Mix thoroughly. Be sure the flour is evenly mixed through the whole mixture. Turn into a large pan lined with buttered paper and bake in a slow oven two and one-half hours. This is a cheap, delicious cake well worth baking. More fruit and nuts can be added if wanted. The ingredients for a fruit cake should be weighed. Eggs vary in weight per cup, and brown sugar is as variable. But as comparatively few housekeepers indulge in kitchen scales this rule is changed from pounds to cups. Fruit Cake. Two cups butter, 2-3 cups light brown sugar, 9 large eggs, 4 cups pa try flour or 3 1/4 cups bread flour (both measured after sifting once), 2-4 cup strong cold coffee, 2 pounds raisins, 2 pounds currants, 1-2 pound candied cherries, 1 pound citron, 1-4 pound candied orange peel, 1-4 pound candied lemon peel, 1-2 pound or 2 cups blanched and chopped almonds, 2 tablespoons cinnamon, 1 tablespoon cloves, 1 nutmeg, 1-2 teaspoons soda, 1 tablespoon vanilla. Cream butter and slowly beat in sugar. Separate yolks from whites of eggs and beat yolks until thick and lemon colored and whites until stiff and dry. Add to first mixture. The raisins should be seeded and chopped, the currants cleaned and dried, the cheries cut in small pieces, the citron sliced thin and shredded and the candied peels cut in tiny pieces before the cake is mixed. Mix chopped fruits with one and one-half extra cups of flour. All four and coffee alternately to first mixture. Add prepared fruit and nuts, spices and vanilla. Dissolve soda in molasses and add the last. Mix the cake well after the addition of each ingredient. Turn into well oiled and floured deep cake pans, cover with buttered paper and steam three hours and bake one and one-half hours in a slow oven. Or the cake is baked four hours in a very slow oven. The nutmeg of course is grated before using. You will like your fruit cake much better if it is steamed rather than simply baked. The cake will be moister and the fruits and spices blended perfectly. The molasses and coffee can be replaced by one-half cup of each and a glass of currant jelly added to the rule. This rule makes three loaves. A square of fruit cake neatly wrapped in oiled paper and then in the sparkling glazed paper that's so attractive, tied with a big red ribbon and boxed with a sprig of holly, makes a charming gift for anyone. Fruit cake is the special Christmas cake quite as full of Christmas spirit as it is of "sugar plums."

GIRL GETS WATCH. Miss Hazel A. Proffit, formerly in the employ of W. H. Thorne & Co., Ltd., left last evening for Boston to take up the nursing profession in one of Massachusetts' leading hospitals. Miss Proffit was presented a watch by the staff of W. H. Thorne & Co., Ltd., with whose members she is extremely popular. Miss Proffit has a wide circle of friends in this city who wish her success in her new field.

UPPER ARM BANDS. Flexible bracelets of pearls or combinations of diamonds and pearls are worn effectively on the upper arm at some of the smartest social functions. The largest cactus known has a limb spread of 40 feet.

OLIVER TWIST. Your boy, if he ranges from two to six in age, would look smart in two of the Oliver Twist suits now shown. The little waist is plaited at the front and set into a belt.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS Girdles. Here are two suggestions for girdles that make most welcome gifts. They may be made of gold or silver ribbon with flowers of satin ribbon, or they may be made of satin ribbon with the chenille flowers. Their greatest charm lies in the attractive color schemes used.

MUNICIPAL HOME TREAT.

The inmates of the Municipal Home were, very greatly pleased last night when they were given a splendid entertainment through the kind thought of Commissioner William L. Walsh. The entertainment consisted of a motion picture programme, of which W. J. Melody took charge, and a concert by the Venetian Gardens orchestra. The entertainment was a great treat and the hearty thanks of the audience was extended to those who provided the programme as well as to the Commissioner who had arranged for it. A COLOR TOUCH. A stunning gown of white georgette crepe has an over-tunic of very fine figured black lace, and has a corsage of pink rosebuds. Oil-burning vessels are disastrous to fish.

Fairy Soap. JUST as Fairy Soap is the whitest and purest soap for toilet and bath, so also it is the safest for laundering fine fabrics and for particular cleansing uses about the home. Fairy Soap is the white oval cake of floating purity. It is one of the best and most inexpensive toilet and bath soaps on the market. Have you a little fairy in your home?

Clerical and Medical Heroes During Small-pox Outbreak In Eastern North America

Death of Archdeacon Raymond Recalls Gallant Efforts of Those Who Gave Fearless Service

The death of Ven. Archdeacon W. O. Raymond, D.D., in Toronto last week, has recalled his heroic work among the sufferers in the St. John smallpox epidemic of 22 years ago. In December, 1901, and January, 1902, an epidemic of smallpox struck St. John having already attacked many centres along the Eastern coasts of the United States and Canada. Boston, Montreal, Halifax and St. John were all afflicted at the same time. In St. John the dread disease was introduced by a sailor who was suffering from it when he landed at this port. In all there were 99 cases of smallpox in St. John and 22 deaths during the outbreak.

Of the work of Archdeacon Raymond in the epidemic the St. John Globe of that date had the following account: "Rev. W. O. Raymond has been more than a month engaged in a noble work among the smallpox infected homes and for two weeks and over has been practically isolated. He and Rev. Howard Roach in working together have officiated at the death-beds and graves of nearly all the victims of the dread disease, observing the strict orders of the Board of Health afterwards. Talking with a Globe reporter, the philanthropic rector of St. Mary's said the time had been replete with harrowing incidents and most pathetic occurrences, known only to those in immediate touch with the infected and quarantined houses. Speaking of the nurses Mr. Raymond said their work was heroic. None shirked the most dangerous duties, it being a wonder to sight to see a child in the worst stages of the disease being lifted and carried in the arms of these brave young women."

In Thick of Disease. Another newspaper interview with Archdeacon Raymond at that time quoted him as saying: "While I have only entered six of the quarantined houses I have been very busy in other ways, carrying things to the houses, writing letters, talking through wire doors and back doors, looking after those who have been released from quarantine, in fact, although for the sake of my family I have tried to avoid actual contact with the disease, I may say I have been pretty well in the thick of it. My church has been pretty well surrounded with the epidemic with the sick window of one man only a rod away from the church door and the epidemic hospital only a stone's throw away on the other side. We kept the sick dying all through however and never missed a service. Sunday or weekday. But I will have been absent myself four Sundays and Christmas Day besides." The services in St. Mary's church in that period were conducted by Rev. J. A. Richardson, now Bishop of the diocese and Rev. Mr. Craig who were rector and curate of Trinity church.

In one of Archdeacon Raymond's scrap books in the Public Library there is the original order giving authority for his entry to the hospitals and to houses where there was infection. It can be imagined that such orders were not eagerly sought by the great majority of citizens. Rev. Mr. Roach. Archdeacon Raymond's co-worker, Rev. Howard Roach, devoted himself to the care of the stricken. He separated himself from his people and went to live in the Marsh Bridge Mission house in Haymarket Square, giving all his time to the work among the epidemic sufferers. The very great strain which he put upon himself in that period unimpaired his health and he died two years later. At the time of the epidemic Mr. Roach was the pastor of the Tabernacle church and in November 1903 he became the pastor of the Main street church. He had fulfilled the duties of the Main street pastorate for only one year when death came. In a very true sense he gave his life for others and he died a comparatively young man.

The first victims of the epidemic were cared for in the epidemic hospital as was then the custom, but the Board of Health was quick to grasp the seriousness of the situation and the need for removing the sick from the city. The present isolation hospital was purchased and the sick removed there. Dr. Thomas Morris cared for the patients in the isolation hospital and Dr. W. L. Ellis had charge of the patients in the city.

The Freeman of Jan. 11, 1902, says: "The young physicians who voluntarily offered their services in attempting to allay the malady deserves the greatest credit in the world. Dr. Morris as outside physician proved himself capable and efficient in every case. Dr. Ellis attended cases in the epidemic hospitals and too much cannot be said of his valuable work. Completely isolated, separated from home and social connections, tending to the afflicted, doing his duty in the epidemic hospital, he courageously gave himself up to the work of acting as house physician to smallpox sufferers." Concerning the clergy who worked in the epidemic the Freeman says: "The reverend gentlemen who left their duties to solve by their ministrations, those stricken to death with the scourge are worthy of the praise of all people. Rev. W. O. Raymond, Rev. H. H. Roach and Rev. James Cronin, C.S.A., fulfilled their noble duties in a manner that is beyond the pale of criticism. Many instances could be cited telling of their energy, philanthropy and good works. The many harrowing incidents and pathetic scenes known only to those in immediate touch with the quarantined district, can tell of the heroic and dangerous duties which these Reverend gentlemen performed. None shirked the most painful task, none knew the word of fear; they all showed that mercy in which their position placed them." The Freeman continues with a reference to the work of the nurses.

After removing two planks from the floor the inspector was obliged to remove first a tier of earth then one of hay, several slabs of concrete, each provided with a handle, and lastly another tier of plank. This gave access to a cellar about eight feet square but the only thing it contained was an empty thirty-gallon cask.

In the sitting room of the house was discovered a section of the wainscoting which could be removed by taking up a piece of quarter round on the floor. It is the mud, slush and wet snow that wear the shine off your rubbers—they look a dingy grey color—and then sooner or later, they crack. With NU-RUBBER you can replace the protecting shine. NU-RUBBER is easy to apply. Just use the sponge and go all over the rubber with the polish. It dries quickly and your rubbers are like new. Any good dealer can supply you. "OVERSHOE DRESSING" makes the cloth appear overcast just like new—the original natural finish replaces the worn greyish appearance.

First White Babe of Herschell Island Region Visits St. John

FAMILY IN CITY AFTER LONG TRIP

Rev. Eldon Merritt, Wife and Child, Visit Relatives Here.

MONTHS ON THE WAY

Missionary of Blonde Eskimo Country Speaks of Conditions.

Making his first visit to civilization, Master Merritt, 13 months old, son of Rev. Eldon and Mrs. Merritt, Anglican missionaries at the most northern mission station of the church, arrived in the city yesterday with his parents, to spend a short time here making the acquaintance of his grandparents and other relatives and, no doubt, to make many friends during his stay. Mr. and Mrs. Merritt are located at Bernard Harbor, on the Caccation Gulf, about 100 miles from Herschell Island, where Mr. Merritt has been for nine years. Four years ago he was home on furlough and at that time he married Miss Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Roberts, who accompanied him back to the mission station. When seen yesterday afternoon Mr. Merritt said the trip home had been rather an eventful one in some ways. They had come around from Bernard Harbor in the Hudson Bay boat "Lady Kindersley" and the journey to Vancouver occupied two months exactly, the starting date being August 18 and they docked in the British Columbia city on October 15. Since that time they had been making the trip across the continent, stopping at several cities on the way. First Born There. Master Merritt, he said, was the first white baby to be born in that part of the Arctic but not the first to be born within the Arctic circle. He had been blessed with good health and had a long trip out well, arriving here in the best of health. Mr. Merritt said his work was among the Blonde Eskimo or, as they were better known now, the Copper Eskimo and he found them very ready to learn. They were a nomadic people and most of the time they were led by the minister traveling over the country and preaching to them wherever he came across a colony. The traveling was done by dog sled. There was no church building yet at Bernard Harbor, and one room of the mission house was used as a school room and church. The people were quick to learn. They had taken very readily to trading and to wearing the white man's clothing and adopting his manners. One Other White Man. There was only one other white man at the Harbor, the factor of the Hudson Bay Company, which had a store located there. Asked about the weather here Mr. Merritt said it was very short and last year the ice did not go out at all. His stores were landed at Herschell Island and were still there. Fortunately he had quite a supply on hand and had been able to get some from the company's store. Mr. Merritt said he was well acquainted with the two Eskimo children with the killing of Corporal Doak and saw them at Herschell Island on the way out. He expressed the opinion that the right thing was being done in exciting them as their guilt was well established and he believed this was the only way to establish a respect for law and order in the district. The other Eskimo were eagerly waiting to see if these men were allowed to go and should they be given their liberty it would certainly make it harder to prevent crime in the future. The field on which Mr. Merritt labors is the MacKenzie River District, formerly Bishop Bompas Land, of which Bishop Lucas is the present head.

DECLARES CANADA SHOULD TAKE PART

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—"I do not agree with the contention advanced by a section of the press and of certain public men that Canada should not take part in the subject of foreign relations, for if Canada takes part in the discussions it must take part in its responsibilities," said Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, when addressing a meeting of the Ottawa Women's Club here yesterday.

GIRL GUIDES ARE BUSILY AT WORK

Activities Furnish Chatty News Notes—New Rothery Company.

The Guides have been engaged in various activities during the last two weeks. The 1st Brownie Pack gave a concert in St. James' parish room, which was a great success. The district commissioner visited them on the night of the last rehearsal and was much entertained. They have recently received the makings of a totem pole and are busy looking up their paint brushes, preparatory to converting what looks like a tin umbrella into a real magic Brownie totem. In the 2nd Brownie Pack, leader Shirley Magee has been made Tawny Owl. On Thursday the 5th St. John (St. Paul's) assisted at the Mothers' Meeting tea and sale, having charge of a boat, which proved very attractive to the children. When the commissioner visited them last she had the pleasure of presenting their third year service stars, as well as some proficiency badges.

The 3rd St. John (Boaters' Club) with Miss C. McCall, the district secretary, has recently joined the 6th and will be known as members of the 5th. Miss Hagen was a lieutenant in that company. The 1st and 6th have each a great many recruits since the Field Day.

In Rothery a new company has been formed at "Netherwood," with Miss C. McCall, the district secretary, as captain. The 1st will be active again as soon as the Christmas holidays are over. As usual, the 2nd Brownies are engaged in making from tree to rock, and from rock to ditch in an effort to finish up their Sportswoman's badge—three more were awarded at the last meeting.

That very energetic lot—the 1st St. Stephen—held a food sale on Saturday and added almost $30 to their uniform fund.

Rub Baby's Colds Away With Vicks

"Is a Wonderful Remedy," Says New Brunswick Mother.

Treat one cold with Vicks VapoRub and, as in the case reported below, you will adopt this external method for all the cold troubles of the family.

When the little ones come in wet and sniffling, just apply Vicks over throat and chest and cover with a flannel cloth. Repeat at bedtime.

Vicks acts like a liniment or plaster. In addition, its ingredients, vaporized by the body heat, are inhaled all night long.

The child is usually better next morning and the bad after-effects of internal dosing are avoided. Just as good, of course, for adults.

Mrs. Emanuel Albert, of Ramsay street, Campbellton, New Brunswick, writes: "Vicks VapoRub is a wonderful remedy. My children were all sick with colds and I rubbed their chests with Vicks, always obtaining the best results. My two-month-old baby was very ill with a cold in his chest and I was afraid he would have influenza. I applied Vicks and it relieved him. I can't speak too highly of Vicks."

All drug stores 50c a jar. For a free test size package, write Viek Chemical Co., 344 St. Paul street, W. Montreal, P. Q.

Though Vicks is new in Canada it has a remarkable sale in the States. Over 17 million jars used yearly.

BARNEY'S A GOOD BODYGUARD

This giant St. Bernard doesn't exactly know how to figure this diminutive Mexican hairless. But you can bank on it, he is not going to let the Chihuahua get hurt. Extremes in canine sizes, all right. Yet both are fast friends. They were prize winners at the New York dog show.

DR. BAXTER CHAMPIONS MARITIMES IN HALIFAX COUNTY ADDRESS

Canadian Trade Through Canadian Ports is Theme in Campaign Speech.

Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., M. P., representative of St. John-Albert in the Federal Parliament, speaking last night at Halifax in the interest of W. A. Black, the Conservative candidate in the by-election for the federal house, made a plea for Maritime rights and scored the Minister of Militia and Defence, Hon. E. M. McDonald for his alleged inactivity in this regard. Hon. Mr. Baxter declared it was the intention of the Conservatives of the Maritime Provinces to force Canadian goods through Canadian ports.

Conservatives Carry Burden. Outside of the Conservatives not one word in favor of special consideration for the Maritimes has been uttered, Dr. Baxter said. The Conservative members have carried the burden of the day. Little wonder if the people, under difficult conditions, turn to Mr. Black to champion their cause. I will make one exception, Dr. Baxter continued. The session before last my friend Hon. Logan, made a speech in behalf of the Maritime interests. It seems an astonishing thing to say but nevertheless it is absolutely true. The Liberal members on his side of the House made so much noise that Mr. Logan could not be heard in the chamber. The rest of his colleagues treated the matter with indifference, said Dr. Baxter.

Dr. Baxter listed some unfilled pledges on the part of Hon. E. M. McDonald and declared that the minister had no influence with Parliament.

Boasted Steel Tariff. "Time forbids that I should discuss the tariff tonight," said Dr. Baxter. "I only want to point out that during the last two sessions, in addition to Macdonald's boasted tariff on steel products, there has been reductions. Instead of his duty on coal, anthracite and lignite, free at the last session, Mr. Martel and Mr. Logan are after me. They say I voted against the British preference as having anything at all in common with a tariff on steel. In both sessions I spoke as strongly as I could in favor of absolute limitation of British preference to direct importations through Canadian ports to the Mother Country."

Unusual Money Forms. The currency of backward races usually consists of ornaments, tools or weapons, more or less conventionalized, and the raw materials from which these things may be made. In Africa, the forms of currency are particularly varied, including cowrie-shells, small mats, leaves of tobacco, cakes of salt and many other commodities, but metal currency is more widely diffused. This may take the form of such useful objects as hoe blades, rods, coils of brass wire or ingots of copper. In some cases the weapons are conventionalized, showing one way in which raw objects have been developed out of objects used for currency. Shells, beads and personal ornaments were great favorites with the natives of Africa when they set about finding objects for use in barter.

GERMAN SPY IS DEPORTED HOME

New York, Nov. 29.—Pardoned by President Coolidge and freed from a life sentence at Leavenworth, Lothar Witzke, the only German spy convicted in the United States during the world war, was deported today to Hamburg, American liner Albert Ballin.

Five years of prison life appeared to have left no traces on the countenance of the former spy, for he was robust and ruddy and looked 23 rather than 30 years old.

Hon. P. J. Veniot, was the guest of honor and was seated at the right of the chairman, C. B. Allan, the newly elected president of the Society. The oration of the evening was given by Rev. James Dunlop and those who have had the privilege of hearing him know the treat those present enjoyed.

After the dinner "the psalm" of the night was a ceremonial carried out by Charles Bell, while Piper Ross played Scottish airs.

Miss Kathryn Gallivan took the party by storm with the rendition of "Annie Laurie" and "A Mile o' Edenboro' Town." Miss Gallivan was attended by the most beautiful Scotch songs evoked tremendous enthusiasm from the company.

C. B. Allan welcomed the Premier and called upon John White, for 51 years treasurer of the society, to read some of the greetings received from other St. Andrew's Societies in Canada and the United States. The veteran bard read the greetings with an orthodox accent and interpretation which brought applause from time to time from the assembled guests.

In replying to the toast to the Governor-General and Lieutenant-Governor, Premier Veniot said that the best days, and perhaps the most beautiful days of his life, had been spent among the Scots in Pictou and in these days he was as good as Scot as anyone present. He attributed his success largely to his early upbringing among those Scots. There had been a link of friendships between the Scots and the French for centuries, the Premier said. They had helped each other in their struggles through the ages.

He thanked the society for the invitation to be present and to meet so many leading men in the community and he referred to his attendance at two Scottish celebrations during the last summer—the Kinross, P. E. B., and the other, the Hector celebration, at Pictou, N. S.

Favors Continuance of Institution. He was educated in Pictou Academy which the Scotch people had founded, and so was indebted to those pioneers. In replying to the toast the Premier expressed himself as in favor of the continuance of the institution of the Governor-General. He said that the Governor-General had together the different provinces in the Canadian Confederation. He remembered Bonar Law very well when he lived at Resurrection and made an appeal for a general contribution to the Law Memorial Fund, in order that all might share in the glory of Bonar Law.

Mr. Veniot was generously applauded as he resumed his seat.

Toast to the Land. S. R. Jack, retiring president of the society, made a brief speech of devotion to the old land in proposing the toast to "The Land" which was drunk to the accompaniment of musical honors, R. H. Anderson singing "Scots Wha' Hae," and the company joining in the refrain. Mr. Anderson responded to the encore. He was called upon to sing.

Mr. Allan reviewed briefly the history of St. Andrew's society in St. John from its founding in 1798. He referred to the prominent men who had joined the society in that time, and to the friendly relations of St. Andrew's with other societies. He then proposed the toast to the kindred societies which was responded to by Dr. James Manning, president of St. George's society, and J. Murdoch, representing the Clan Mackenzie. Thomas Guy sang "100 Pipers in a Row" which evoked an enthusiastic response from the audience, which recalled him to sing "The March of the Cameron Men," as an encore.

Dr. Manning replied. Dr. Manning extended to St. Andrew's Society the greetings of St. George's Society. He said that the national societies had a work to do in keeping Canada for Canadians and people who were sympathetic with the aims aspirations of the Canadian people.

Joseph Murdoch delivered a humorous address. His description of the Scot who married the determined English woman was exceedingly funny

LAW MEMORIAL FUND IS GROWING

Now Exceeds $400—Several Contributions Added Yesterday.

A few more days like Thursday and Friday and the Bonar Law Monument Fund will be an accomplished fact. The letters received with the subscriptions are very interesting. One yesterday from Mr. J. D. Palmer, of Fredericton, expresses the belief that New Brunswickers generally will contribute cheerfully to the fund and that there will be no difficulty whatever in raising the desired amount.

Another from Mr. Herbert M. Wood, of Sackville, with $20 from a number of people shows how general is the interest in that locality.

And still another, from a former resident of Kings county, now residing at Red Bank, N. J., Mr. Hamilton B. Price, is worth copying in full. Mr. Price writes:

"My regular copy of The Telegraph-Journal just received which tells me of the movement inaugurated by Dr. Clarence Webster to erect a monument at Rexton, in Kent county, to the memory of the Hon. Andrew Bonar Law."

"I hasten to send you my subscription—ten dollars. Doubtless there are many others like myself, sons of New Brunswick and now living in the United States and elsewhere who are proud of the old land back home, that it gave Bonar Law to the world, and they will want to be included in the privileged list of those who subscribe to this monument."

"I know of no Canadian name more inspiring than that of Bonar Law. I know of no man who carried out of Canada to the very top of the Empire, and indeed, of the world, the spirit of the old Bonar Law."

"In whatever land we may abide, we shall not cease to hope that men like him, steady, calm, kindly, and with a vision of truth, shall be selected to direct the affairs of nations."

"New Brunswick honors herself when she makes as a shrine, the boyhood home of her great son."

Subscriptions now amount to more than $400 and next week should be sufficient amount received to erect the monument.

The list at present is as follows: Dr. Clarence Webster . . . $10.00 Mr. A. L. Fleming . . . 10.00 The Telegraph-Journal . . . 10.00 Dr. Murray McLaren . . . 10.00 H. P. Robinson . . . 10.00 W. E. BEGAN WORK HERE IN YEAR OF FIRE

Sketch of Conductor A. E. Brown, Who Retires From C. N. R.

Conductor "Sandy" Brown of this city made his last trip yesterday on train No. 13 from Halifax to St. John. He retires under the provident fund. Alexander Edward Brown was born in St. John, May 17, 1868. He entered the railway service in the St. John yard in July, 1877, the year of the St. John fire. He worked in yard service for one and one-half years then went on as freight brakeman with Conductor Robert Rainnie. After year and a half on freight trains he went on an express as brakeman with Conductor William Kelly and later became baggage master.

In March, 1881, Mr. Brown went to Moncton to take a conductor's position out of there and made his home in Moncton for 21 years.

After nearly two years residence there, in 1888, Mr. Brown married a Moncton young lady, Miss Laing.

Mr. Brown removed from Moncton to St. John 20 years ago to take the conductor's run on the old C. P. R. express between St. John and Halifax and has practically run on this train ever since.

Mr. Brown ran the first train over the Cantley Bridge in St. John. He was then on a ballast train carrying gravel from Routhesay for M. J. Hogan, contractor under the Dominion Bridge Co.

He has been prominent in Brotherhood circles, being on the executive of the Order of Railway Conductors' Division on the old I. C. R. District. In religion he is an Anglican.

Mr. Brown will continue to reside in St. John. He is popular with the traveling public, genial, and has a splendid record on the rail.

The tea and coffee were made by Mrs. Thomas Shillingford and Mrs. Samuel Armstrong. Those in charge of the tables were Mrs. A. E. Josselyn, Mrs. William Arthur, Miss Maimie Long and Miss Etta Coles. After the supper a short programme was given and each number was warmly applauded. The entertainment consisted of Mrs. E. J. Young and Miss Marjorie Wason.

HOUSED NOW IN FINE CLUB HOUSE

Premier King Presides at the Opening of British Canadian Club Quarters.

Since its formation in 1921, the Canadian Club of Great Britain has been housed in the premises of the Stratford Club, in Stratford Place, London. W. Now, however, it has a clubhouse of its own, into the possession of which it has entered this month.

The Premier of Canada performed the formal opening ceremony on Nov. 9, a general invitation being issued to Canadians, both British and gentlemen, to attend the ceremony. At lunch-time on the preceding Friday a number of informal speeches were made, in which satisfaction was expressed at the appearance of the club and its thoroughly homelike character, and confidence was expressed in its future as a rendezvous for Canadians.

The new clubhouse possesses the double advantage of being conveniently central and quiet. It is No. 31 Spring Gardens, between Whitehall and the Admiralty, and close to Trafalgar Square. This Charles II residence which looks out under an Admiralty archway to St. James' Park and the Mall, contains five public rooms and seven bedrooms, with every necessary convenience. It has been completely overhauled and redecorated, and hall, stairs, and rooms alike present a tasteful appearance.

The club is doing its own catering, and meals are served both in a cafe and table d'hote. The kitchen is in the basement, and from it to the dining-room on the ground floor there is a service lift, beside which is a hot-water tank. The airy dining-room is fitted with small tables. The hall porter's room and hat and coat cases are on the front entrance, on the right, opposite the dining-room, is one of the main club-rooms, on whose walls are the Canadian coat-of-arms, a portrait of King Edward, and a signed portrait of King George. A smaller room at the back has a carved fireplace, and above it a fine Adam plaque. Both these rooms are provided with service pantry.

The large front reading-room on the first floor is particularly attractive, with its bright decoration and handsome antique furniture. Over the fireplace is a signed portrait of the Prince of Wales, the patron of the club. Both in this and the comfortable card-room on this floor, as well as downstairs, there are pictures by Seppings Wright, Collier Smithers, and Herbert J. Finn. The water-colours which Mr. Finn has lent the club are attracting special attention. Their subjects include Canterbury and Ely Cathedrals, the Thames, the Pass of Glencoe, and Hyde Park Obelisk.

ATLANTIC SUGAR HAS A FAIR YEAR

Company Making Money After Losing Millions Two Years Ago

One of St. John's great industries, the Atlantic Sugar Refineries, Limited, which occupies an immense ten-story plant near the harbor entrance, has had a fair year, although just now things are slack in the trade because of the uncertain raw sugar market and an indifferent demand abroad.

$128,000, which was a good enough showing in the face of the losses of the previous year of about $4,000,000. The big loss was due to the decline in raw sugar prices that followed government interference in the sugar market.

During the present year domestic trade has been fair and for the first three months export trade was excellent. But the rather uncertain price movements interfered greatly with the export trade for the balance of the year. Atlantic Sugar normally does about half of Canada's export business in sugar.

The company has made a certain amount of money this year on its stocks of raw sugar, although with the rising prices it has pursued a hand-to-mouth policy of buying. It is one of the strange anomalies of the sugar refining business that more money is often made or lost on price fluctuations in raw sugar than in actual refining and selling operations.

POSE AS POLICE AND STEAL GEMS Paris, Nov. 30.—The Countess de Tessancourt, a French society woman, has been robbed of her member of the Antipodes and $35,000 by a well planned trick.

A woman called at her apartment and offered a bargain on a diamond bracelet, which the Countess bought. Next day three inspectors of police informed her that the bracelet was stolen and asked to view her jewels, which they seized.

Too late the Countess became aware that the so-called police inspectors were international thieves. The gang, among them an Englishman, were arrested later and most of the jewels were recovered.

OUTDOOR FLOWERS ARE BLOOMING YET

C. H. Peters wore a light overcoat as he strolled down town yesterday afternoon but he wore in the buttonhole thereof a bouquet of the most velvety and lovely pinks, plucked in his Leinster street garden. It was the last day of November, but the pansy bed was still bearing a summer smile and keeping St. John on the map as a place of warmth and beauty.

But the provincial centres were not to be put to shame by the St. John climate and Mrs. Reginald Carson sent to this office eight dandelion flowers, a clover blossom and a buttercup which she picked at Grand Harbor, Grand Manan, on Nov. 28, while Kenneth Hopson, of Back Bay, N. B., sent two strawberry plants with flowers all in bloom which he had picked on Nov. 29 at Back Bay.

FARMERS OBJECT TO STRAW-CHEWING CARICATURE PRESENTED ON SCREEN

Farm Bureau Federation Rises and Swats Movie Producer.

(By Jack Jungmeyer.)

Hollywood, Nov. 30.—Some time ago I predicted that the farmer would rise in his wrath and swat the movie producer for persisting in that caricature representation of the rube-dweller as a straw-chewing, chin-whiskered, expectorating hick—a caricature borrowed from the stage and preserved by those city slickers who have kept the motion picture in its well-known infancy.

The farmer has risen and has swatted. Which fast and deed I chronicled in vain glory of a prophet, but merely because it was inevitable, now that farmers have become constant customers of the film palace.

The American Farm Bureau Federation, addressing itself to all and sundry producers, speaks thus: "The film producer has woefully neglected to keep up with the pace and status of the farmer. He fails to depict us as citizens, but prefers to paint us hicks and rubes. We don't want this kind of caricature circulating among the public, and (maybe a portentous 'and') if the picture interests will not reproduce rural life as it is, we intend to produce our own pictures."

But—did the cinema centurians sound a halt? Did the Hayes-maker of better films try to placate the "straw chewers"? No, by heck, they didn't. They know what the public wants by way of filmy farmers—and, by gosh, they're gonna have 'em!

"The American public demands types," says Maurice Tourneur, wielding a rebuttal bludgeon over the pates of the A. P. B. F. "It recognizes a farmer only when he chews a straw wears jeans and chin whiskers. It wants a Texas sheriff to wear a six-inch-brim sombrero, not a derby, as one of my acquaintances does."

Tourneur, famous director and producer, known among his associates as an iconoclast and a mocker of movie hokum, is a strange defender of the accused in this connection. Or, is his wallow at the public over the shoulder of the farm bureau?

"No American bankers I have met," he continues, "wear frock clothes to business. Yet the public would not recognize a banker without such a coat and a silk hat. I have lived most of my life in France, but I never shrug my shoulders. But if I were depicting a Frenchman on the screen I should both shrug and gesture frequently."

"Gypsies today travel in high-power autos and modern comforts. But in making my gypsy story, 'Sleazy Fools,' I pictured a band living in their traditional wagons. Gypsies in an auto would not have been accepted by the movie people."

"Life as it exists in the imagination of the American people is not life as it is lived. It is a life that seemingly must be presented for entertainment, whether in novel, newspaper, on stage or screen."

"Every man with an income of $5,000 a year who habitually wears a white collar is a 'clubman' in newspaper accounts."

ST. JOHN GIRL ADDS TO HER PRESTIGE

Miss Galloway's First Appearance in Scotch Costume is Well Received.

(By Jack Jungmeyer.)

Miss Kathryn Galloway's appearance in kilts at the Imperial the past two days is that talented young lady's first costume under the cross of St. Andrew. That she acquitted herself with true Scottish fervor and her usual artistry was proven by the insistent recalls she received. The audience, it was safe to assume, was 75 per cent Scotch people, and Miss Galloway's rendering of "Annie Laurie" and "Within a Mile of Edinboro Town" must have suited them to the last degree judging by their plaudits. When complimented upon her singing of the air of Scotland, Miss Galloway naively suggested that Gaelic blood that ran in her veins might have something to do with it.

"We're not casting today," the guard informed her. The lady pouted, pirouetted on her French heels and faced about. As she went toward her taxi, she turned to Dick and curtly ordered: "Port Lee Ferry, please!"

Dick looked into blue eyes for a moment and then winked to John S. Robertson, his director who was standing near.

"I'll be back in half an hour," he called.

And Dick drove the lady to the ferry.

The quarter tip he received is now being framed on a velvet background and is to be one of the treasured exhibits of the Inspiration Studio.

BRITISH SQUASH RACQUETS TEAM ARRIVES JAN. 22

Boston, Dec. 1.—The British squash racquets players who are coming to the United States this winter for a series of matches against American Canadian rivals, will sail from Southampton Jan. 16 on the Aquitania. They are due in New York Jan. 22, and their first engagement will be at Cedarhurst, L. I., whence they will move on to Philadelphia to oppose Canada and the United States in the international series for the Henry G. Lapham trophy, starting Jan. 26. From Philadelphia the invaders will come to Harvard University. The British team will be composed of eight players.

Both, so 'tis said, that each waives the privilege of playing the role on opening night. Ah, there's the rub!

Both of these internationally famous and titled beauties are due in New York soon. The honor of playing on opening night is undoubtedly coveted by both. The one named for the role as Maria Carmi and called "Italy's most beautiful" has been engaged for the same role. They are alternate.

New York, Nov. 30.—A war of Madonnas threatens Broadway. Lady Diana Manners, England's famous beauty, has been engaged to play the role of Madonna in Max Reinhardt's American production of "The Miracle."

SCREEN STAR TAKEN FOR TAXICAB DRIVER

Studio Visitor Hails Barthelme—Orders Him to Drive Home.

(By Jack Jungmeyer.)

Readers, beware! Readers, take care! This is not a publicity story. It might be headed, "The Most Embarrassing Moment of my Life," by Richard Barthelme.

Dick, he it said, plays the part of a taxi driver, in his coming picture, "Twenty-one." He wears a regulation uniform, license badge, and all the other appurtenances. And he drives one of those yellow cabs, with a checkboard around the body.

The other day, he was standing in front of Inspiration's studio in Fort Lee, taking the air, when a taxi drove up and disembarked a youthful would-be motion picture actress. She entered the studio and asked to see the casting director.

"We're not casting today," the guard informed her. The lady pouted, pirouetted on her French heels and faced about. As she went toward her taxi, she turned to Dick and curtly ordered: "Port Lee Ferry, please!"

BELIEVES PSYCHIC POWER ACTING AID

Jean Dukes Attempting to Prove Theories of Occult Effect.

(By Jack Jungmeyer.)

Boston, Dec. 1.—Psychic power is a great aid to acting, according to Miss Jean Dukes, who, as one of the members of "The Little Screen Players," a group of society people interested in the making of amateur movies, is attempting to put her theories into practical operation. She says there is nothing mysterious about the occult, and has given numerous readings to the members of the society.

Members claim last week she advised them against making pictures in a certain location, and when they insisted upon going on with their original plans, she refused to go with them.

They were just in the process of filming a love scene on rustic bridge in Medfield when Jan Rand, who was playing the part of the lover, slipped and fell off the bridge into the water. The film was completely ruined.

Miss San Dukes had suggested the taking of the picture in Wellesley, and they were then obliged to follow her advice and make it successful. She believes that an understanding of the "psychic" will help actors and actresses to express deep emotions more truly and what's more, she claims they can be taught.

Gossipy Notes of The Screen People

"Our idea of an enchanted cottage would be one with pre-war rents," spoke a newly-wed movie fan on learning that Dick Barthelme's success. She starred in Piner's "The Enchanted Cottage."

As real an Italian restaurant scene as can be reproduced has been constructed and furnished for Monty Banks' first five reel picture, which is called "Racing Luck." A scene in Italy before the hero leaves home to come to America forms an opening to this picture. Helen Ferguson is the heroine.

Forrest Halsey, who adapted Maude Fulton's play, "The Humming Bird," for screen production with Gloria Swanson in the leading part, has gone to Washington to look up data at the War Department. The story of this picture takes place in Paris between 1914 and 1918, and although the war scenes are only a background for the struggle of Toinette with her love and against the Apaches, it is necessary to have the details correct. Sidney Olcott is directing this film.

Horace Williams, who chooses types at the Thomas H. Ince studios, has to bear the brunt of selections without receiving much praise. If he does well, he ought to. If he picks a man or a woman who does not fit, but who are flung into the production, it is Williams who made the grievous error.

Mr. Williams is alleged to have been a lawyer in the East, whose health failed him and therefore he sought the mild climate of California. The day that his legal training helped him to pick faces and avoid much in the way of blame.

QUEEN SQUARE HAS RURAL ROMANCE

Picture Unfolds Charming Story With Charles Jones in Lead.

"Second Hand Love" is a rural tapestry from whose weave a charming romance thrilled last night's gathering at the Queen Square Theatre, where it opened with Charles Jones essaying the principal role.

Thrilling with consummate artistry through the melancholy fortunes of Angela, the girl who deserted her husband upon being disillusioned as to his character, the story encounters material of a stiffer fabric in Andy, an itinerant tinker.

The vulpine miser, in reality very wealthy, who fastens his predatory digits in the affairs of Angela, is supremely well depicted by Frank Weed, who succeeds in making himself mightily unpopular before the final fadeout.

Produced by William Fox, under the direction of William Wellman, "Second Hand Love," taken in its entirety, is one of the most thoroughly interesting and enjoyable productions that has graced the Queen Square screen this year. It will be shown for the last three tonight.

PREPARING ANOTHER FOR LITTLE JACKIE COOGAN

"The Man Life Passed By" has been completed by Victor Schertzinger and is now in the cutting rooms where it is being edited under the director's supervision. Schertzinger, incidentally, who recently finished the direction of Jackie Coogan's first Metro production of "Long Live the King" has been selected by Coogan, Sr. to direct Jackie's next picture.

GROFF TRAINING

"Billy" Groff, western welterweight, who blasted Billy Smith's championship aspirations recently, is keeping in good condition and training hard in the hope that Dick Hunt or Nedder Henley, of Halifax, will accept his offer for return bouts here. Groff is working out under Mark Burns' care.

Every feminine member of the family more than 15 years old a 'society girl' and 'beautiful' in the same circumstances.

All newspaper reporters carry note books. All Englishmen wear spats and a monocle. All southerners say "y'all" on the stage. All detectives carry false whiskers in their pockets. All farmers' daughters have the temperament of a lily and the complexion of a rose. All chorus girls live in great luxury and sell their charms to the highest bidder—in novels. And maudlin girls are obviously naughtier than milkmaids!

Trinity Guild
Trinity church has been active in teas and sales during the last ten days. This afternoon the Girls' Guild of the church will hold a tea and sale that bids fair to surpass in beauty of arrangement any previous event given by them. The tea room and sales tables will be in the large upper hall, and will be divided by a wicker curtain of red streamers that will be showered with snow—make-believe, of course, but very natural looking and extremely pretty in effect. The sale is on a large scale and the goods for the general sale and was put together with skilful fingers by a bevy of interested members of the guild.

Mrs. E. A. Schofield and Mrs. Frank Harris will preside at the tea table and will pour tea and coffee. The convener's and the various committees are as follows: Tea, Miss Georgie Seelys, Miss Roberta Holder and Miss Ray Cawley. Miss Georgie Pettie in charge of gifts. Miss Louise Howard, Miss Winifred Smith and Miss Nan Porteous; candy, Miss Louise Bartsch and Miss Carrie Seelys; grab bags, Miss Marjorie Johnson and Miss Alma Caldwell; home cooking, Miss Ida Northrup, Miss Valde Saadai, Miss Blanche Cliff and Miss Dora Jones. As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said The Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "did you hear about the alligator floating up the Marsh Creek yesterday?"
"No, sir—I don't believe I did," said Hiram. "What's he doin' way up here?"
"He heard about our delightful climate," said the reporter, "came up from Florida to find out if the report were true."
"Well," said Hiram, "that'll put a stop to swimmin' in Courtenay Bay—won't it?"
"I presume so," said the reporter.
"I s'pose," said Hiram, "you heard about the feller out to The Settlement that got struck on the road yesterday?"
"Dear me, no," said the reporter.
"Yes," said Hiram, "the pore feller got excited and run too fast."
"Why was he running?" queried the reporter.
"Hiram," said the reporter, "what is your special brand?"
"Same as yours," said Hiram.
"Helps the eyesight wonderfully—doesn't it?" said the reporter.
"An' it makes you invisible, too," said Hiram. "An' inspector could walk right past an' never see you—By Hen!"

MUSQUASH REPORT

The rainfall at Musquash was .05 inches, it was reported this morning at the office of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission. The head pond on the west branch is standing at elevation 124.4 and that on the east branch at 97.9. It was said that it is expected the east branch will have to be operated next week to keep water from going over the spillway and thus being wasted. Hon. Dr. E. A. Smith expressed himself as highly gratified with the conditions at Musquash and said that since November 14, on which date the west branch was started, there had been no need for a standby.

NOW COMES A ROSE

It is difficult to say whether a rose, fresh and sweetly odorous, that was sent into this office yesterday, was the last rose of summer or the first rose of winter. It certainly was a rose, a pretty pink one, and it had for its companion in a small box, a dandelion bud. The paper around the box announced that the lovely flower was picked on the West Side of the city in King street. It must be sheltered garden, even for weather like this to produce such a rare bloom. That the donor was too modest to disclose a name is regrettable for one might like to wander in a garden that has roses in late November. The contest grows keen. It is expected that blooms from friendly gardens will settle part of the gift problem at Christmas. Time will tell.

PLAYED TRUANT FOR FIFTY DAYS

A small boy was summoned to the police court this morning to explain why he had been absent from school for fifty days. He acknowledged to Magistrate Henderson that he had been playing truant, but after being severely lectured promised to do better in the future and to go to school regularly. He was accompanied by his sister, who said that their mother was friendly. She promised to keep a close watch over him and see that he went regularly.

LONGSHOREMEN ARE ON NEW SCALE

The longshoremen along the water front are today working on their new wage schedule as well as under revised working conditions agreed upon at the conciliation board meeting, which were concluded yesterday. The men are receiving 65c an hour, which is an increase of 10c an hour over last year.

Although the Coal Handlers Union and that of the Ship Liners have filed applications for a conciliation board to settle the dispute with the shipping interests it was felt today that an amicable settlement could be arrived at over the week-end and that there would be no need for other board sessions. The coal handlers were receiving 65c an hour and are asking for 80c, the ship liners were getting 60c and are asking for 60c.

NEARLY ALL WERE SENT TO WOODS

Employment Service Here Found Places for 225 in November.

More than 90 per cent. of the 225 men placed last month by the local office of the Employment Service of Canada were sent into the woods of New Brunswick, according to a statement issued today. The employment situation was said to be quiet, and there were about 450 men registered, waiting employment. Most of the outdoor work about the city has been finished, and the workmen were awaiting the opening of the winter port season, which will take care of a majority of those unemployed. During the month 135 women were placed, including maids, office help, waitresses, etc. It was said that maids were in greatest demand and that they could place 25 today if they were available.

SCHOLARSHIP OF I.O.D.E. AWARDED

Winner is R. S. Hawkins, of Fredericton—Was Through War.

The winner of the I. O. D. E. War Memorial Overseas Post Graduate Scholarship for New Brunswick has been announced by the committee of selection, and this year he is Rasmus Sirappon Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Giles K. C. Hawkins of Fredericton.

Mr. Hawkins received the degree of B. A. from the U. N. B. in May, 1923, and will pursue his studies in the Faculty of Commerce of the London School of Economics and Political Science at the University of London. The successful candidate enlisted as a gunner with the 9th Canadian Siege Battery at St. John in September, 1916, and after training five months at Partridge Island with that unit proceeded on draft to England in March. In September of the same year he proceeded to France and served continuously until the Armistice with the 1st Divisional Ammunition Column, the 1st Divisional Trench Mortars, and the 4th Canadian Siege Battery, and after the Armistice spent two and a half months with the Army of Occupation at Bonn, Germany. In May, 1919, he was discharged from the service by reason of demobilization. Mr. Hawkins was present at all the engagements in which Canadians participated during his service in France and Belgium, and holds the British General Service and Victory medals.

WAS MILDEST DEC. 1 IN YEARS

More Like Autumn Than Winter—Same All Over N. B.

St. John today experienced one of the mildest first of December days in recent years. With other portions of Canada the city was enjoying mild weather, and almost balmy breezes.

From other parts of the province come the same reports. From Fredericton The Times has received the following:

"December 1, may be the first official day of winter, but in reality it is more like the commencement of Autumn in Fredericton today. With thermometer registering 52 at noon, the St. John River still wide open for navigation and boats playing as in mid-summer, not a sign of any snow so far and the ground still unfrozen, there is not the least visible sign that winter is officially here. Conditions are the same all over the province.

"Not since 1915 has the St. John River been open in December as it is today, and the records show that only on seventeen occasions since 1825 has the St. John River remained open until December 1 or later."
"Records of the Dominion meteorological station at the U. N. B. show the mean temperature of the past month to have been only three degrees higher than the average for November in the past fifty years. The precipitation was 4.83 inches, somewhat more than an inch more than the average for the month."

Pictures As Gifts

A lady who has recently started a home of her own called here a few days ago to select some pictures for the various rooms, and remarked that she wished that some of her friends and members of the family had thought of pictures when sending their wedding gifts.

She felt the need of them in the new home, and thoroughly appreciated the beautiful subjects which she selected, so this provides a useful hint for prospective givers.

In our display rooms there are pictures for the reception hall, for the bed chamber, for the living room, for the nursery, for the dining room. Reproductions of famous art gallery prizes, of masterpieces of famed artists, and the pictures of less known origin, but none the less desirable.

Pleased to have you walk through the store and inspect our immense stock.

Time to consider your Christmas gifts.
