PALERMO, Dec. 2 .- Slight earthquakes were feit in Catania and other parts of Sicily Friday. No harm was done. Terrific Explosion.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 2 .- The Caullille forcite factory in Beverloc was blown to pieces today. Three persons were killed and wenty others were wounded.

Historian Froude's Will. LONDON, Dec. 2 .- The will of James Anthony Froude orders that his literary papers be destroyed, including the unprinted documents concerning Carlyle, which Thomas Carlyle bequeathed him.

Lord Dufferin. London, Dec. 2.-Lord Dufferin's term pire at New Year's, if his Lordship declines to accept a reappointment. Sir Philip H. W. Currie will be transferred from Constantinople to the French capital in case Lord Dutterin refuses. A Royal Good-Bye.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 2 .- The Prince of Wales, Duke of York and King of Denmark left St. Petersburg today. The Czar and Czarina, who went with them to the railway station, were cheered loudly. The other when they said good-bye.

Blaze in a Palace. BERLIN, Dec. 2 .- Fire started at 3 o'clock yesterday morning in rooms occupied by the Dake of Saxe-Cobourg-Gotha in the Empress Frederick's palace. It was quenched quickly without help from the fire department. The Empress Frederick worked energetically arousing servants and helping clear out the rooms.

Discount Rates. London, Dec. 2 .- The rates of discount last week were 1 for 3 months and ½ for 30 days. The continent is withdrawing gold. Silver was dull, American offering and the east not seeking much. The Stock Exchange was busy; most investors were buying freely, especially in mining stocks.

American railroad securities were dull. Zola in Rome. ROME, Dec. 2.-Emile Zola had a half hour's audience with King Humbert at the Quirinal yesterday. The King said he hoped that the friendly relations between Italy and France would be renewed. He knew that no nation was more anxious for peace than Italy. He rejoiced in regarding President Casimir-Perior as his friend.

A Murderer at Large.

London, Dec. 2.-The police have learned that a week ago a man, evidently insane, appeared in woman's attire in the streets of Kensington and tried to stab several women. He slashed two respectable women slightly and killed the disreputable woman whose body was found on Holland has not been captured.

Turkey Warned.

London, Dec. 2 .- The Daily News correspondent in Constantinople confirms the report that Great Britain warned Turkey against violating the Berlin treaty by permitting the slaughter of Armenians. He says: Lord Kimberley energetically insisted that the Porte must govern Armenia better. The British consul in Erzeroum, Mr. Graves, has been instructed to watch the commission of inquiry.

Imperial Institute Subscriptions. LONDON, Dec. 2 .- The collections from Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and British Columbia for the Imperial Institute of the United Kingdom, the Colonies and India, which is to stand for all time as a record of her Majesty's jubilee, are good and are expanding. Nova Scotia has sent a little, and New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island have sent Princess of Wales have presented Lady Margaret Grosvenor, daughter of the Duke of Westminster, who is to be married on Dec. 12 to Prince Adolphus of Teck, with a wedding gift of a pearl and diamond crescent. The present of the Duke and Duchess of Teck is a tiara. The Duke and Duchess of York and the Duke and Duchess of Fife presented Margaret with a diamond coronet and the Queen sends a diamond

London in a Fog.

LONDON, Dec. 2 .- A dense fog prevailed throughout Central and Southern England yesterday. River traffic was stopped generally. In London several collisions of venicles occurred in the streets resulting in some severe injuries. An omnibus fouled a gate near Oldham and fourteen occupants were hurled down a steep empankment, the majority being severely injured. Several isolated cases are reported in which persons accidentally fell into docks or capals, in consequence of their inability to see through the fog. Some of these persons were drowned. Many vessels ran aground. In the British channel navigation was suspended.

Alix-Hesse-Darmstadt, which is the talk of the diplomatic circle. The guests present at the barquet were surprised to see the Queen proposing a toast to the newly-wedded couple. Rising from her chair contrary to her usual custom her Majesty turning to the members of the Russian embassy said: "I drink to the health of the Emperor and Empress of Russia, my dear grandchildren." The Queen spoke with unwonted vivacity.

Peace Preferable to Conquest. LAHORE, Dec. 2 .- In the course of a long speech Thursday evening Lord Elgin, the Governor-General, said: "We seek to be strong in order to be at peace. We have no ambition for conquest. We do not desire to extend our boundaries. We only wish to cultivate the friendship of our neighbors. From the recent speech of Lord Rosebery we have reason to hope that the time is approaching when all risk of the clashing of Russian and British interests in Asia will be obviated. I venture to say that no more welcome intelligence could be conveyed to any lover of India." Lord Elgin eulogized the Ameer of Afghanistan for his loyalty to treaties.

In the Interests of Peace.

A cable from Paris says: Everything that is known in St. Petersburg indicates clearly that an Anglo-Russian understanding has been reached on all that relates to Asiatic questions which will have its counter elect in Europe, and that France will then be able to take part in the arrangement. Thus in the face of the Triple Alliance of Germany, Austria and Italy there has been founded another Triple Alliance between England, Russia and France. By reason of the equality of the strength of the two groups the chances for the peace of Europe are still further increased.

William and Wales. BERLIN, Dac. 2.—The Prince of Wales is expected to arrive here on Tuesday. Never before has any meeting between him and the Emperor been associated with politics, as British ambassador to France will ex- yet new both court and diplomatic circles concur in the belief that somehow the Prince has assumed the role of mediator. According to dispatches from St. Petersburg the Czar and Czarina, after visiting Copenhagen in June and Osborne in July, will return to St. Petersburg by way of Berlin. That the Emperor does not look with pleasure on the signs of an Anglo-Russian entente is self-evident.

A Worthy Woman. London, Dec. 2 .- The tributes from all over Europe to the memory of Princess Bis- and make it an educator of the people. Czar and Prince of Wales embraced each marck do not exceed the merits of that ad- Part of Mr. Irving's reply was: "I regard mirable woman. Her attachment to her masterful husband and his to her have always been of an extraordinary kind. To her he was devoted. From her came to him not only a constant care, but a softening influence on his life. She was the soul of loyalty, amiable, sympathetic, intelligent, without being pre-eminently intellectual, his confidant and adviser in many high matters. The loss to him in his 80th year and in exile from power is grievous. Earlier it would have been a serious loss to Germany, and it still is, for a very beautiful character lives now only in memory.

Much Money Wanted. London, Dec. 2.-The Russian loan of £15,000,000 will be financed in London, not in Paris. It will be offered in the leading European capitals at 31 per cent. The French Government projects a loan of £40,000,000, to be issued in the spring at 2½ percent. The London market is very largely interested in the prospective borrowing of China under indemnity to Japan. According to the Statist £50,000,000 might be borrowed by prolonging the existing loans and mortgaging the free customs revenues. The proceeds of a loan paid in silver would send up the price of that metal considerably unless Japan, following the example of Germany after the defeat of France, should adopt a gold standard.

The Derelict Scare.

LONDON, Dec. 2 .- The derelict scare has been pretty well laid to rest by the report of the joint committee of the Admiralty and Board of Trade. This committee are unanimously of the opinion that the danger Villas road on the morning of Nov. 26. He from derelicts in the Atlantic has been greatly exaggerated. Their computation is that not more than nineteen exist at any one time over an area of 10,000,000 square miles. and very much less than nineteen along the Atlantic trade routes. The cost and difficulty of discovering and destroying these few would vastly exceed any benefit to be obtained. They oppose any such undertaking and they do not favor an international conference. They propose, however, that masters of vessels should be required to report all derelicts they fall in with, and that all possible information should be published. Beyond that they decline to go.

Commons vs. Lords.

London, Dec. 2 .- The minority of the Cabinet which was in favor of giving to the resolution limiting the power of the House of Lords precedence over other measures at the coming session of Parliament, has accepted the decision of the majority and will now favor a long legislative progress, winding up with the resolution on the eve of dissolution. The report that another Cabinet rupture is imminent has little LONDON, Dec. 2. - The Prince and weight cutside of the Conservative agitators. Though the Radicals urge that the House of Lords question be immediately dealt with they will shrink from causing a split in the party, for it is now known that it is the design of the Cabinet to challenge the Upper House upon the first rejection by it of any great bill, such as the measure or the disestablishment of the Church in Wales, the Irish Land Reform Bill, etc., that shall be passed by the House of Commons. Parliament will reassemble the first week in February.

A "Dear Friend."

LONDON, Dec. 2 .- A lady whose name is not known, and who is living in London apart from her husband, stated in the Court of Chancery this morning that in several foreigners. July last she was residing in London with a man named Clamp, who claimed to be a resident of the United States. This man, she states, is now living in Berlin, where he is known by the name of Alexander. The plaintiff alleges that while they were living together she handed to Clamp and the other to Tien Tsiz securities, and that he soon after left the city, taking with him the cash and cluded now the disbanded troops will securities. Upon hearing the statement the court ordered the bank, in which other securities are deposited, not to part with any of them pending further developments in the case. The lady is said to be possessed of £40,000.

An Avalanche of Elections. LONDON, Dec. 2 .- During the next fortnight some 23,000 different local elections are to be held in England, and over 90,000 persons are to be elected to offices, which had not heretofore existed. There has been no parallel since the emancipation of the Russian serfs for such a tremendous alteration in the machinery of local administration. They say that in country parts public attention has been fixed on the impending election of parish and district councils for months, and that voters are keen to put the new institution to democratic use from the outset, but that in large towns, most of all in London, the magnitude of the metamorphosis is only now dawning on the popular mind. In Battersea, for instance, which is John Burns' district, there are over 500 nominations for 120 offices, and if the ballots are printed as in the Parliamentary elections each elector will be obliged to pick out names on a voting paper five feet long. The Manchester Canal a Failure. London, Dec. 2.—The Manchester Ship Canal is thought by the Times to be both a financial and commercial failure. It has been open eleven months. Its business shows no sign of increase since the beginning, but of late diminishes rapidly. If there were paying business to do there is not sufficient dock equipment. The gross receipts of the canal for a year will be less than $400,000, less than is needed to pay interest on the first debentures. The debt is $25,000,000. The resources relied on for reducing it have vanished. The corporation of Manchester has found this great sum and must find more if the undertaking is not to come to a standstill. Five millions are urgently wanted. If they are found the yearly liabilities of the com-pany will be £2,500,000, with a revenue of less than balf a million. Whichever way it is looked at the prospect before Manchester is as black as its atmosphere.

Actor Irving in Dublin.

Dublin, Dec. 2 .- The Dublin corporation entertained the Irving-Terry Theatrical Company last evening. In his speech of welcome the Lord Mayor said that Mr. Irving and Miss Terry had done more than any others to refine the stage our visit here as perhaps the most for Alba Raymond, a Frenchman, and diauspicious event of our lives. May God rector of Latayette College, Boston, who always utter its love for you." Mr. Irving gave £100 to the poor of Dublin.

and six other judges, Lord Wolseley, the Thos. S presidents of College of Surgeons and Physicians, the provest of Trinity College, members of the House of Commons, and the sheriff of Dublin. Mr. Irving replied warmly to the presentation speech, and much enthusiasm was manifested. Baron Houghton, the Lord Lientenant, attended the play, and remained to witness the presentation. The crowd cheered Mr. Irving and Miss Terry when they left the

A Cruel War.

London, Dec. 2 .- The Chee Foo corrependent of the Central News says the prevalent impression is that the Japanese will abandon the march on Pekin. Part of the Japanese fleet has been seen in the Gulf of Wet Hai Wei, but it has made no attack. It is reported that an army of 250,000 Chinese expect to intercept the Japanese on their march to Newchwang.

The Chinese surrounded a detachment of 500 Japanese in a town recently and captured them. Probably all the captives

In describing the fall of Port Arthur it is stated that in the fortress were found a number of mutilated Japanese prisoners and the bodies of women belonging to the ambulance corps dismembered and crucified on boards. The Japanese took scarcely any prisoners. When they entered Port Arthur all the garrison had either vanished or been killed. The flying Chinese soldiers have outraged, pillaged and murdered on every side, sparing in their frenzied cruelty neither women nor children. Japan is resolved to continue the war to the bitter end and to dictate her own terms of peace at Pekin. A correspondent who witnessed the battle at Port Arthur says wounded Japanese were found at Port Arthur with their heads, hands and feet cut off, and their bodies awfully mutilated. The inhabitants, who had been armed with express rifles and explosive cartridges, resisted in the city, and the houses had to be taken by storm. Many Chinese were killed. The Chinese generals fled when the first fort was taken. Had they surrendered many Chinese lives would have been saved. Some 18,000 men were engaged on each side. There were 250 Japanese killed and wounded. The Chinese killed number 1,500. The Berlin Vo sische Zeitung's Tokio correspondent says that German is rapidly replacing English as the principal foreign language in Japan. The Japanese Minister of Education has issued a rescript, substituting German as the head of the foreign languages taught in the universities and high schools. There are seven German professors in the University of Tokio.

The London correspondent in Che Foo telegraphs: All traffic to the northward will cease in ten days, and the Japanese will have to be quick if they intend to attack Pekin in 1894. It is reported that the next attack will be made upon Wei Hai Wei, but Gen. Chang, a brave and competent officer, commands the defense of this stronghold, and he is assisted by

The Royal Pulp and Paper Company, of Montreal, has gone into liquidation. Mr. Samuel Last, a farmer in Brantford district, has received word that by the there for many years. Prospector McKay reports having found considerable mining land between Lake Winnipeg and Hudson Bay. Copper was particularly abundant. At St. Catharines on Saturday Mrs. August DuLrantz, of Louth, was struck by a runaway horse and so badly injured that her recovery is doubtful. Mrs. A. Robinson, wife of Bailiff Robinson, of Chatham, died at an early hour Sunday morning from an overdose of laudanum taken Saturday night.

Nothing has been heard from Herbert Wilson or James Smith, who decamped with the receipts of the "Billee Taylor" opera performance at Hamilton last week. At Montreal on Saturday evening, A. Brodeur, aged 80 years, while walking over Ferdinand street crossing, was struck by the Canada Atlantic train and fatally injured.

After an excellent record of 22 years' service as commandant of the Thirty-first Grey Battalion, Lieut, -Col. George Brodie retires, and is succeeded by Major J. P. Telford. Another well known battalion, the Forty-fifth, also loses its commanding efficer. The Forty-fifth was organized in 1866, with Lieut.-Col. F. Cubitt in command. The command of the regiment will devolve on Major John Hughes.

It is possible the city council will be asked to order an aldermanic investigation in Hamilton, although nothing has been done in the matter yet. Fred Coleman, the asphalt baron, was in Hamilton just previous to the letting of the pavement contract in Hamilton a few weeks ago, and it is said, at least three of the alderman took the sum of $25 each for their votes. On Coleman's return to Toronto from Hamilion, it is alleged he remarked to a friend, "It's pie in Hamilton; the aldermen are easy there."

During the last quarter 120 meters were in operation, and the rates from water measured in this manner reached $2,366 89 during the quarter. The different wards contributed rates for the quarter as follows: Ward 1, $2,314 54; ward 2, $2,690 92; ward 3, $2,764 53; ward 4, $2,501 60; ward 5, $1,243 69; ward 6, $1,249 44. CHINA'S GIBRALTAR.

WHAT THE JAPS HAVE WON IN THE GREAT NAVAL ARSENAL.

An Account of the Advantages Secured by the Capture of Port Arthur-Map of the Seat of War and a Portrait of Field Marshal Count Oyama.

The fall of Port Arthur has given an overwhelming advantage to Japan. Successful as the Japanese have been throughout this campaign-and their success has been uniform and uncheckedsome decisive result was needed at this juncture to enable them to reap the full benefit of what their courage, energy and skill had accomplished. Winter is now beginning, ice will shortly be forming in the Gulf of Pechili, and it is clear therefore that nature will be lending potent aid to the distressed Chinese Empire. But with Port Arthur in her hands Japan can afford to regard these physical difficulties with comparative equanimity. They come to China's assistance too late.

Whether Marshal Yamagata takes Moukden or Marshal Oyama gets to Pekin

Port Arthur. before naval and military operations alike become impossible has become for the Japanese a question of minor concern. With a strong and important position like Port Arthur in their hands, the Japanese are either in a position to impose more rigid terms upon their fallen enemy, or, if they choose, may await, with composure, the renewing of hostilities next year.

Apart from the heavy blow dealt at China's prestige by this success, the Japanese will find the captured arsenal of vast material importance to them in carrying on the war. A week ago their fleet the Gulf of Pechili was some seven hundred miles from the nearest dry dock, while the government arsenal was double that distance away. Now both dry dock and arsenal are immediately accessible. Moreover, they have an excellent harbor, within only a few hours' sail of Wei-Ha-Wei, the second naval port of the Chinese in these waters, so that a blockading fleet may always have a portion of its strength resting in its shelter. Situated as it is on a peninsula, which is only a couple of miles wide at its narrowest part, the value and natural strength of Port Arthur as a base is indisputable. The importance of the place led the Japanese to conduct their operations against it with every precaution to insure success. Moreover, it was necessary to make the advance slowly, as the ground for miles around had been filled with powder mines connected with electric wires running into Port Arthur. It was necessary to send ahead small scouting parties to pick a route away from the mines and wires. The regular road could not be used for artillery, as it would have been blown up, and accordingly the big guns had to be moved through woods and swamps. Port Arthur, the native name of which is Lushun-Kou, had become the chief naval station of the Chinese Empire. Eleven or twelve years ago it was simply a good, wind bound harbor for the junks that traded along the coast, carrying timber from the Yalu River to ports in the gulfs of Pechili and Liaotung, or those of a larger class from the south en route to Niuchwang and West Chin-chou. At that time the village is said to have consisted of about sixty or eighty mud houses, with a few shops and three or four inns, which afforded accommodation to travelers to and from the north. The port is almost surrounded by ranges of hills, varying from three hundred feet to fifteen hundred feet in height, the valleys between being well cultivated. The town at the present time has increased to nearly one thousand houses and shops, and, exclusive of the garrison, the population was recently estimated at over six thousand. There are two principal and smaller native banks, two large temples, and two large theatres of recent construction.

In 1881 it was finally decided to construct a dock and refitting basin. After more than one failure it was decided to give out the work to foreign contractors, and in the early part of 1877 a French company secured a contract to construct the necessary works needed for a naval dock yard. At the end of 1890 the contractors completed the task entrusted to them. The entrance to the port has been deepened and a basin constructed inside with a depth of twenty-five feet at low water There are spacious wharves and quays (from which vessels can be commissioned and troops and crews embarked), fitted with steam cranes and connected by a railway with the workshops. There is a dry dock of over four hundred feet in length, having twenty-five feet of water on its sills at low tide, which can be emptied in a few hours by means of a steam pump. There is also a smaller dock, suitable for torpedo boats. The foundries and workshops contain the most modern machines, engines etc. The dock yard can be lighted by the electric light. For the last six years dredges have been employed to deepen the natural harbor. The bar has been deepened from twelve to about twenty-four feet to enable permanent moorings to be laid down for the larger men of war. About four miles to the north of the port there is a spring of fresh water. This water is now run through pipes to the dockyard, and the town is partially supplied with water in the same way. Although the port is free from ice during the entire winter, ships cannot be docked for cleaning and painting purposes between the middle of November and the middle of March, as the weather then is too cold for ordinary paint to dry. The port is defended from attack both by sea and by land by a dozen well constructed forts, which are armed with modern guns with heavy calibre. The armament of the forts consisted of about fifty 6-inch and 9-inch Krupp guns, several rifled mortars and howitzers and a number of quick firing guns. The port was also defended by submarine mines, and there are generally seven first-class and six second-class torpedo boats stationed there. On shore there is a small but efficient torpedo depot, where torpedoes can be tested and regulated and defects put

CITY TAXATION.

A Strong Plea for the Single Tax on Land Values.

Men Should Not Be Fined for Improving the City or Building Up Its

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER: In Saturday's issue of your paper, in the report of the Board of Trade meeting, held on Friday evening, Mr. John McClary submitted the following queries: "Is the Ontario Assessment Act, as applied to personal property, in jurious to the cities of Ontario? 'Can the law be strictly enforced without i flicting serious injury upon the Province?"

What rate will money—the basis and backbone of mercantile and manufacturing business-stand without disturbing or end ngering the removal of capital?" In a letter which you published on Oct. 18, I directed the attention of your readers to the many defects and imperfections of the pres ne methods of raising our taxes, r quired for municipal purposes, and suggested the substitution of a tax on unimproved land values for all the different taxes now levied. It is claimed for such a tax that it would do away with speculation in land, as those who hold land for a rise in price, would be compelled to make it productive; to use it, or sell to those who would do so. It is claimed that it would stimulate manufacturing, as the

the value of the land used, but nothing on buildings, plant, machinery or stock, and could increase any of these without the fear of a fine. He could invest more capital at any time he thought it desirable. In fact, such a tax, with the removal of all other taxes, would furnish fresh pport unities both for capital and labor. By taxing land values you force more land on the market and make it easier for those who desire to use it. To get possession of it, by so doing you do not lessen the quantity used, but increase it. If on the other hand, you tax any of the products of labor, or those of labor and capital combined, you at once raise the cost and this will limit the consumption and then production is also lessened. This means that less wealth will be produced, a smaller fund from which to draw, thus capital will get less profit, labor less wages--less taxable property will be produced. Under the present unwise system, every progressive step by citizens is attended, not by reward, but by punishment. Let the manufacturer enlarge his premises so that he can employ more labor, make more wealth, and he is fined by an increase of taxes. If the merchant improves his store or adds to his stock, the scourge of the taxcollector falls on him. If the professional man, doctor or lawyer, by industry and close attendance to his duties increases his income, is he rewarded? No sir; he is punished by an enlarged tax bill. In fact it is unsafe to put a new knocker on your door, or a new coat of paint on your steps. Unlike some fines, which once paid are wiped out the fines for improving property are inflicted yearly, as long as any signs of the improvement are visible. Exemption comes on y with decay, and total annihilation at every trace of thrift or industry. Verily we are a great people. The present is a most opportune time for the business men of London to move in the direction of tax reform. T. S. Hobbs M.P.P., the newly elected member for the Ontario Legislature, is a business man and a manufacturer, and has pledged his support to any bill giving the municipalities local option in the matter of exempting from taxation buildings, machinery, im-provements, stocks of merchandise and personalty. Last year the following business men's organizations petitioned the Provincial Legislature to grant local option on the lines above mentioned: The Montreal Board of Trade, the Montreal Chamber du Commerce, the Ottawa Board of Trade, and the municipal councils of over 100 places in Ontario. A bill for the purpose of granting local option in matters of taxation was brought in at the last session of the Ontario Legislature by Mr. Joseph Tait, but so late in the session that the committee on municipal affairs plainly stated that they had not time to take the matter up. There is no doubt that if we could prevail on our present member, Mr. Hobbs, to r ng forward such a bill this next session and back him up with petitions from the Board of Trade, the Trades and Labor Council, the City Council, the Single Tax Association, and such other organizations as would tender their support, the bill would carry by a large majority. I would suggest that the Board of Trade co-operate with other organizations favorable to local option. It would be a good plan to call an open meeting for discussion of the question, inviting the assistance of all who are favorably disposed.

As secretary of the Single Tax Associa. tion, I might say this question of municipal taxation will be discussed at the open meeting of the association on Thursday, Dec. 6, notice of which will appear in the city daily papers. I apologize, Mr. Editor, for taking up so much of your valuable space, but I regard the question of tax reform as one of the greatest importance which can engage the attention of the citizens. Yours sincerely; JAMES LAU T.

A TERRIBLE SEQUEL To a Wedding-The Party Devoured by

Wolves. BUDA PESTH, Dec. 1 .- The news of a cerrible sequel to a wedding has just been eceived. The party were returning from the village of Hiders, where the ceremony had been performed. The route of the party lay through a dense forest, seon after entering which the cries of the wolves were heard. Despite all efforts at jously through the town when their rig flight the party was soon overtaken by the animals and thirteen of the number were dragged down and devoured. Few of those who escaped were without injuries of a more or less serious nature. The survivors made their way to the nearest village, and a relief party was at once organized, who proceeded immediately to the scene of the slaughter, where they found scattered about fragments of flesh, bone and

About 30 years ago Joseph Stokes, of Blenheim, got a bump on the head, from which a tumor was developed. A short time ago the tumor swelled to an alarming size and caused great pain. Last week Dr. Langford removed the tumor, the patient bravely enduring the operation without the aid of any anæsthetic. It was then found that an ulcer had been formed between the tumor and the skull. Mr. Stoke's condition is critical. On Thursday the house of Mrs. Sawyer, Wallaceburg, was entered while she was absent and much of the household stuff taken away. The same evening some Frenchmen, two of them named Hannah and one named Cherry, were driving furupset and a quantity of household effects were scattered over the road. In spite of the assurance given by the On tario Natural Gas Company that the South Essex field is practically inexhaustible, there is a general feeling in the city that the supply will fall short or else the pressure given to local consumers will not be high enough to satisfy their wants. Another feature that is alarming the local con-sumers is that the company will, if it is necessary, sacrifice them in order to supply the demand from over the river. For the Presidency of the Western Ontario Travelers.

Mr. John M. Dillon Secures the Position.

All Officers Unanimously Chosen-Satisfactory Financial Statement-Testimental to Mr. Struthers.

The annual meeting of the Western Ontario Commercial Travelers' Association this year will not cause as much interest among the knights of the grip as it has during the pist three years. This will be caused by the fact that no election of officers will take place, as the entire board of managers have been elected by aclam-

Of course, the greatest interest among the travelers in general has always centered in the contest for the presidency. In 1892 and 1893 Mesers. R. C. Struthers and J. M. Dillon were the nominees, and each time the excitement among the friends of both candidates was intense. On both occasions, however, Mr. Struthers was successful by good majorities. This was his third year in office, and his duties were performed sofaithfully that he was requested to stand again for election. He refused, and at the meeting of the association on Saturday night nomi nated an entire ticket, with Mr. Dillon at the head.

THE FINANCES. The financial statement for the year ending Nov. 30, was first on the programme, and was read by the secretary. It showed a most prosperous condition of affairs, and reflected credit upon the retiring president, Mr. Struthers. The receipts, including a cash balance of $8,986 18 from 1893, amounted to $20,-246 43, while the disbursements only amounted to $13,287 15. This left a surplus in the bank of $6,959 28. The death and accident benefits to members or their families reached $4,950 24. After full provision had been made for this, $4,320 43 was added to the reserve, which now stands at $31,408 77. Eight thousand dollars of this had been invested during the year in London Loan Company debentures. The membership of the association increased from 921 to 956.

The report was received with many signs of gratification, and was laid over to the annual meeting for discussion.

NOMINATING THE OFFICERS. The nomination of officers was next, but before it was opened Mr. Struthers addressed the meeting. "Before making any nominations for officers for the ensuing year," he said, "and while not in order to discuss the financial statement at present.

I might be pardoned for congratulating the members on the handsome showing made. During my three years' term of office the membership had grown rapidly, notwithstanding the many difficulties which had to be met as to the necessary The reserve fund had i creased from $19,797 91 to $31,498 77-a net increase of $11,610 86 or over 55 per cent. At the same time over $15,000 had been paid on account of benefits to members or their beneficiaries; and as my term of office is rapidly nearing an end, I cannot help but express the pleasure it gives me to report such a solid prosperity and to hope that the association will continue to advance to even a still greater degree. It will always be a joy to give my services in any capacity should opportunity or occasion arise. I am very glad to state that so far as I can ascertain the gentlemen whom I am about to nominate for the different offices on the board of management will meet with the approval of the large majority of the association. During the last few years there has been a good deal of competition for the offices, and some little differences had grown up, which, however, were more fancied than real, and were largely the result of misunderstanding. However, I am happy to state that these have all been cleared up and do not now exist in the slightest respect. In consequence of this I have not the slightest doubt but that the nominations I make will meet with the approval, and I trust they will command and receive as cordial support as I have, that their term of office will be as long as mine, and if possible more prosperous. Mr. Struthers then presented the following for the officers:

President-John M. Dillon. First Vice-President-P. J. Conroy. Second Vice-President - Daniel Mc-

Third Vice-President-A. W. Robertson, Hamilton (re-elected). Secretary-Alf. Robinson.

Treasurer-Samuel Munro (re-elected). Directors for London-Messre. W. H. Oke, H. G. Collamore, A. Neighorn, E. W. B. Eardley, W. J. Craig, Wm. Gray and H. Line.

Outside Directors - Hamilton, R. K. Hope and John Booker; Toronto, F. W. Heath, R. H. Greene and James Stevenson; Stratford, James Dow; Brantford, George Watt. jun.; St. Marys, James Maxwell: Galt, John Wardlaw; Ayr, John G. Wat-son; Oshawa, E. O. Felt; Waterloo, S. Snider: St. Thomas, B. F, Honsinger and Wm. Turnbull; Woodstock, F. J. Richards; Windsor, J. F. Smyth; Chatham, A. E. Merrit; Ingersoll, R. H. Cotter; Sarnia, Wm. Storey; New Hamburg, Jacob Ratz; Winnipeg, T. Harry Slater; Aylmer, R. J.

The reading of the above was greeted with applause. The motion of Mr. Struthers was seconded, and the officers for 1895 were unanimously elected. THE NEW OFFICERS SPEAK.

Short speeches were then made by the officers-elect. Mr. Dillon said he hoped in twelve months' time to see the association successful and the board harmoniously pulling together. "I come in better than the majority of the presidents. There is a larger surplus and finances are in a better condition. I do not see why we cannot keep the pace up," concluded Mr. Dillon. Mr. McKenzie-I will always be on deck to help you.

Mr. Oke—I do not know that I have done afgreat deal towards advancing the association, but it is the best I could do.

Mr. Neighorn-I was a member of the happy family last year, and I am glad that I will be in it for another twelve months. Mr. Gray-I guess there is nothing in this election, but I am going to do my best for the travelers. The unanimous election of the officers will heat up all differences which arose through previous contests. Mr. Line-I am pleased to see my old friend, Dillon, elected. He had many hard struggles for the position. I give him credit for the success of the insurance scheme. He was the father of it. Thanks were also expressed by Messrs. Conroy, Munro, Collomore and Eardley.

THE ANNUAL MEETING. The annual meeting was set for Dec. 22 at 3 o'clock. Several notices of motion for changes in the bylaws were received from Mr. A. S. Tassie, of Listowel, one of which was to abolish the clauses exonerating associations from liability for benefits in the cases of suicides.

A long discussion followed a proposition of Mr. Lind to hold a public dinner for the travelers. A committee was named to consider the advisability of the scheme, and a report will be presented in a week.

HEART DISEASE

Due to Kidney Discase-A Fact Generally Overlooked-May Be Avoided. BRAMPTON, Dec. 3 .- Weakness or failure of the neart action is one of the most prevalent diseases known, and also one of the most dangerous if neglected. The cause of heart disease must be sought for outside the heart itself. First of all, the condition of the kidneys must be examined, as in more than 90 per cent of all cases of heart disease, palpitation, neuralgia and heart failure the blood will be found impure, the result of the retention of effete matter, usually uric acid poison, which the kidneys have been unable to excrete. Dodd's Kidney Pills are a perfect heart tonic and blood purifier. Use them at once if at all troubled, is the advice of James Crisp, of this town.

Young Men Take Warning. Alas, how prevalent are those discressing diseases and weaknesses which make young men prematurely old, pale, listless, low spirited, languid, easily tired, forge ful and incapable; fill mad-houses and swell the lists of suicides; separate husbands and wives; bring untold suffering to millions, even unto the third and fourth generations. To his management of an important local financial institution, he has made new friends. As an official member of St. Andrew's congregation, he will be missed in church circles. For many years he was the efficient treasurer of the Y. M. C. A. of this city. In short, Mr. Nelles is the sort of citizen London dislikes to lose, and that San Diego will be glad to welcome. ABERDEEN IN NEW YORK.

He is Warmly Welcomed at a Great Public Dinner.

Interesting Address on Scotchmen and Their Characteristics,

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 .- At the St. Andrew's Society bar quet here, Lord Aberdeen and Dr. Chauncey Depew were the principal speakers. The last-named said it was a great delight to meet that uncanny and audacious being, a Scotchman. There was no place in the world where one would not find two men, one a Scotchman and the other carrying his trunk. Other people died of fever in India, or were frezen to death in the Arctic regions, but there were so many kinds of climate in Scotland that a Scotchman was acclimated wherever he was. He would fry in the tropics and climb the North Pole in the same suit of clothes. But, wherever he might roam, he always at last settled in the spot where he cou'd live best. The Governor-General was received with great applause. He began his remarks by expressing cordial thanks and appreciation of the friendly references to Canada. He then attended to the Scottish features of the occasion. It was St. Andrew's night, and they were mentally on their native heath. He hoped that any non-Scottish friends who were present would excuse them if they used the occasion as a safetyvalve, for this indeed was one of the advantages of such a festival. After narrating in a jocular way some of the supposed taunts and gibes which Scotchmen have to endure patiently, he continued as follows:

the following conversation between two elders returning from church: "First Elder-Did you hear Duncan snoring i' the sermon? "Second Elder—Pairfectly disgraceful; he waukened us a'." (Laughter.) But, Mr. President, it was perhaps indiscreet on my part to quote that particular dialogue, because some amiable friend may possibly suggest that I was the Duncan referred to. Certainly, I noticed some time ago in certain newspapers a story which represented me as being like Duncan, a disturber of the public repose, though not in a church, but in a car. The accusation was, I believe, a calumny, and the story certainly a fiction. But while we may admire the imaginative inventiveness of the fabricator of such a story, I confess I think he might have given a Scotchman credit for the proverbial characteristic and privilege of answering one question by putting another, which, in the case of an impertment inquiry, would naturally be to ask what right or reason a stranger could claim for an interrogation as to a traveler's income or anything else.

But, gentlemen, I shall not dilate upon Scottish characteristics in detail; at a gathering like this, however, where our nationality is fully and conspicuously represented, it may be allowable to express the hope that we shall never think it the rural solons will make of their golden necessary to disguise, still less to be ashamed of that nationality. (Applause.) I know that it may be and has been suggested that the maintenance of these societies may hinder that fusion, that harmonious co-operation which is so much to be desired in every community. But I have no apprehension on that score; rather should the celebration of our love for the land of our origin be a stimulus and an incentive to take a real share in promoting the country of our adoption. (Applause.) And, besides, the individuality of a race is a thing not lightly to be lost sight of. If we aim at getting rid of our distinctively Scottish features in order to acquire similar. belonging to a nation as well as to individuals. Rob them of what is distinctively their own and you rob them of their soullike quality. I trust, both here and in appreciate not only good business, but good government-(loud applause)-and that what we claim to be a Scottish trait, namely, the love of right, will be carried into practice in supporting every welldirected movement for securing more and more of righteousness and of equity in the administration of our public affairs. (Continued applause.)

Alarm About the Health of Queen Victoria.

About the Future.

-The Toronto World (Conservative), Patti Sings to an Audience of Ten Thousand Persons.

> Reunion of the English-Speaking Peoples Still Discussed.

Court circles have been somewhat alarmed about the health of Queen Victoria. For a few days before and after the death of the late Czar, for whom she entertained the highest regard, her Majesty was a prey to deep melancholy. It was hoped coast of the Indian Ocean a degraded and that her return to Windsor, where there landed the country in trouble. A pros- are more official and social distractions pective deficit of FIVE MILLIONS OF than at Balmeral, would effect a beneficial change, but she is depressed in spirits and does not seem to take her customary interest in the functions of the court. Moreover, she is suffering from serious stiffness in the joints, which limits her exercise to carriage riding. Frequently she has to be carried in a chair to and from her carriage. She will move to Osborne in a few days, and it is hoped that the Christmas festivites there will shake off the gloom. Moving around usually has this effect on her Majesty, and if her health permits she will go to Florence early in the spring. Empress Eugenie will visit the Queen at Windsor Castle next week prior to her departure for Cape Martin, where she will spend the winter months.

He is spoken of everywhere as being full of conidence and immensely elated over the progress of the Anglo-Russian understand. ing, to which he attaches far more importadvantages are too vague to prove of much

Her good humor was due partly to the remarkable enthusiasm of the audience, partly to the favorable reception given to her protege, John Williams, formerly a tin plate worker in Wales, whom she "discovered" at a village musical competition. Williams is a young man with a baritone voice of fine quality and range, but lacking in training. With his natural advantages and the start Patti has given him, he might make his way rapidly to the front rank. Mme. Patti appeared at Albert Hall in a black dress, which color she has worn since the death of Alexander III., except upon the present Czar's wedding day, when she dressed in white satin. She also wore her Russian order and the diamonds given her by the late Czar, whom she greatly revered, and whose memory she says she will ever cherish.

Emperor William Excited. According to information from high dip lomatic quarters the German Emperor has been excelling himself in the extravagance of his concern over the Anglo-Russian rapprochement. Having watched the progress of events at St. Petersburg from Berlin with profound uneasiness for several days he suddenly, without a word of notice, appeared at his mother's residence in Rumpenheim to express his chagrin that Queen Victoria's Cabinet should be pursuing a policy calculated, if not intended, to isolate "Moderates" the latter deserted the Germany. This month a new chapter will be opened in the life of rural England. The Parish Councils Act will go into effect, and before Christmas the country will be dotted over by 6,000 small republics. This, therefore, is the great opportunity of the village politicians. The possibilities of these parish councils are simply incalculable. They may occupy themselves with tasks infinitely more to the advantage of their con-stituents than most of the questions over which statesmen wrangle. They have great powers for acquiring lands on easy terms, for readjusting local taxation, for turning certain misused benefactions and charities to public utility, for providing means of social recreation and enlightenment. They have it in their power to stop the fatal drift of the country people into the slums of the towns. Indeed, there is no end to their power for good if the proper spirit attends their organization. 6,000 small governments may totally revolution ze rural England and make of it one of the happiest spots in the world. The town people are wondering what use

Reunion of English Speakers. The discussion of a possible Anglo-American reunion by Lord Charles Beresford and Captain Mayhan has attracted wide attention in the United Kingdom. The latter pointed out in his recent article that the two nations have a large degree of community in inherited political tradition and habit of thought and an identity in the moral forces governing and shaping politi-cal development. Moreover, the geographical dependence upon sea communications, together with a corresponding exemption from the burden of maintaining great land armies, must "tend to lead them toward a similar course of action in the future." In reviewing the articles the other day a leading provincial journal said: "The prospect, however remote, of healing the vast mischief done by the one great imperial blunder committed by our forefathers, and drawing the whole English-speaking race throughout the world into one mighty union, is so splendid that the acceptance by a philosophical witer with Capt. Mahan's reputation of something like it as within the ends for which the stars in their courses are fighting, seems almost too good to be true. Lord Charles Beresford holds, however, and we cannot but believe rightly, there is not as yet sufficient realization of the national interest in the sea to induce American publie opinion to demand the creation of the naval force necessary to make a naval alliance with England practical and effective. We must not therefore go in for forcing processes,' but doubtless, by drawing together the British Empire itself into an effective union for defense, we shall be likely at the right time to make the British alliance eminently and cogently

A Disastrous Failure. The Manchester Ship Canal, the greatest past eleven months amount to $420,000, being $85,000 less than the working expenses. The trade of the canal is steadily dwindling, and there is no reasonable prospect of an adequate return ever being obtained for the $70,000,000 expended. The failure will involve widespread financial trouble, especially in Manchester, and an effort will be made to induce the state to take the canal over, but no government will dare incur such a responsibility.

Discovery of a Queer Race. Signor Robbechi Brichetti, who has been exploring Somaliland for the Italian Government, reports that he discovered on the

In other sections he discovered numerous primitive constructions which local tradition affirms to be the tombs of a gigantic race long since extinct. A Felicitous Speech.

Thos. F. Bayard, United States ambassador, presided Friday evening at the annual dinner of the London Scottish Corporation. In the course of his toast to the Queen. Mr. Bayard said: "Her practice of domestic virtue and dignified private life entitle her justly to the affection of her own people and all civilized mankind the world over." (Cheers.) In proposing the health of the Prince and Princess of Wales, mentioned by their Scottish titles, the Duke and Duchess of Rothesay, the ambassador said in part: "This is a reminder that the kingdom is yet a union. (Cheers.) The three-fold bond is the rose, thistle and shamrock. Such a union will not be broken easily.' Interesting Proposals.

Two practical solutions have been suggested for the problem of the unemployed in Great Britain. The first is the reclaiming of the Wash, which was declared perfeetly feasible 50 years ago. The second is ance than any domestic question. But its | the afforesting of the waste lands of England, Scotland and Ireland, which constitute one-fifth of the whole lands of the kingdom. It is claimed that the adoption of the latter plan would give employment to 70,000 persons for 40 years, by which time a handsome profit would begin to be realized from the sale of the timber 10,000. The diva was in superb voice, and raised. As the United Kingdom imports $90,000,000 of lumber yearly this scheme is being seriously debated. In this connection it is pointed out that the district of Landes in France was a wilderness 40 years ago, but since it has been successfully afforested, $150,000,000 has been added to the national wealth. So far as the reclaiming of land is concerned, it would pay the local authorities at the various sections of the north and northeast coast to build walls to prevent the further encroachments of the sea. Within the past twenty years hundreds of acres have been swept away, and scarcely a winter passes without the demolition of some old landmark. England can ill afford this loss of home territory, and she could not put her idle classes to better use than to employ them in works which would protect her against the continual ravages of the Northern Sea.

A Compact Broken. A cablegram from London says that all the Catholic candidates for membership on the school board of the British metropolis were defeated last week. It came about in this way: The Catholic electors generally were prevailed upon to support the Conservative candidates, known as the "Moderates," as against the "Progressives," or Liberals. In return, their candidates were promised the support of the Conservatives. The returns show that though the Catholics supported the

A Paster Who Lisapproves of Women Speaking from the Platform-Rev. James Ballantyne Here-Individual Communion Cups Used,

Rev. James Ballantyne, of Kuox Church, Ottawa, was greeted at St. Andrew's Church yesterday by large congregations including many of his old parishioners from South London, to whom he still remains bound by ties of affection. In the morning he conducted the first communion service since Mr. Murray's death. He had also assisted the late pastor in the last celebration of the Lord's Supper. Mr. Ballantyne made a sympathetic allusion to the departed minister and to his nineteen years of faithful service. He had seen much of the inner life of Mr. Murray, whose one wish was to love God. He admonished his hearers to take up the work where deceased had left it and prosecute it with all vigor. MEN ADDRESSED BY A WOMAN.

Rev. Dr. Anna Shaw delivered an address, or, correctly speaking, a sermon, to 1,300 men and boys at the Grand Opera House yesterday afternoon. Miss Shaw took as her text s portion of Acts, xxvi., 19. "For I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision." She encouraged all young men to have a set Christian ideal and to endeavor to work up to that. She also gave some splendid advice in an original and pointed manner on the possibilities of living Christian lives. Mr. Fred W. Daly occupied the chair and Rev. W. H. Claris assisted in the exercises. Mr. J. Studley Ashplant sang a tenor solo in splendid voice. The orchestra, under Mr. F. L. Evans, as usual furnished some capital selections. These Sunday afternoon meetings have been held for ten weeks now and over 10,000 persons have attended altogether. They will be continued until

In closing a thoughtful and practical discourse on Sunday morning, from the text second year as pastor of Adelaide Street Baptist Church. Mr. Mihell expressed his gratitude to God for his blessing on the efforts put forth during the past in advancing Christ's kingdom, and thanked the members of the church for their co-operation and for the kindness they had shown to himself. In speaking of the progress of the church he said that two years ago the church membership was 227; now it is 320. The increase in the period mentioned included 54 added by baptism, 40 by letter, and 10 by experience. In one respect the church has had a remarkable experience, for though many members have moved

THE WHEEL. CLOSE OF THE INTERNATIONAL TOURNA-

MENT. New York, Dec. 2 - The big five days' international bicycle races closed last night. The five days have not been profitable to the management, but good racing has been the rule. The 24 hour race in which 24 men started, was to close at 9:40 c'clock, and the attendance was good at that hour. Waller, who led all through the race, passed his 24 hour record at 7:22:11. His old record was 402 miles for 24 hours, made at the garden in this city in the six days race last December. Finish in miles and laps: Waller, 434 9; Ashinger, 413.1; Golden, 404.6; Gillean, 373.5; Cassidy, 372.4; Swank, 370.3; Foster, 367.9; Pepper. 253.7; Z cardi, 352.9; Ellreich, 303.4; Starbuck, 292.9; De Lesio, 271.1; Gross, 261.4; Eckholm, 237.

As soon as the big race was over the regular races were called.

Five mile, class B, special prize to beat 13 minutes, first heat, McDuffie. Time, 12:30 1-5. This is the world's indoor record. Two mile scratch, professional, one heat, Zimmerman first, Verheyen second, Martin tnird, Lui Colombo fourth. Time, 5:06 2.5. Mile scratch, class A, first heat, J. M. Baldwin, Newark, N. J.; time, 2:33 4-5; second heat, W. A. Barbeau, 2:29; final heat, Barbeau, 2:30 2 5.

Mile scratch, professional, first heat, Zimmerman, 2:26 2.5; second heat, H. Wheeler, 2:27 3-5.

There were only three starters in the final heat-Verheyen, Wheeler and Edwards. Wheeler led for four laps, and then Edwards took it, but the German, who had been running in the rear, came forward and led for the last two laps, and Wheeler was running second place a length behind. At the last turn, it is claimed by Wheeler that Verheyen cut him off by running too far up on the bank. H. E. Raymond, chairman of the racing board, was refereeing, and decided this was a foul and disqualified the German. The audience wanted Verheyen, but he did not get it, and was placed third. Edwards wa's given second place. The final heat was won by Wheeler, Edwards second, Verheyen third.

Time, 2:33. Ten mile, professional, one heat, Zimnerman won; Wheeler second, Verheyen third. Time, 26:09. This was the best race of the week. Zimmerman, the favorite, proved his title of champion by lapping the men on the fifth mile. There was

Mr. Gould has now as fine a kennel of pointers as is in America, and his dogs are all smart workers in the field as well as being cracks on the show bench. Mr. Davey has sent his two English taainers to North Carolina with twenty young dogs of his own and two for Mr. fould, to be prepared for next year's trials. The success of the setter dog Brighton Tobe in the field this year is particularly gratifying to Mr. Davey, as the dog is one of his own breeding. Brighton Tobe was last year second in both the Northwestern and international trials, and this year was the winner in the Manitoba and international, so that he is evidently one of the sort that improves. Tobe beat most of the best dogs in America in his field work this

C., of Detroit, and joined the team on a couple of trips to Canada. His last appearance on the cricket field was in playing for the D. A. C. against the Australians last year, when he made the top score. A year ago he went to Australia, and was doing very well there in a business way. In cricket, too, he was be-ginning to make a name for himself in a country almost cricket mad.

New York, Dec. 2,-John Burns, M.P. the English labor leader, arrived here today on the Etruria, and was welcomed at the Cunard dock by a committee headed by Samuel Gompers. He was accompanied by David Holmes, a London labor leader, who, with Mr. Burns, come to this country to represent the Trades Union Congress Parliamentary committee of England at the annual congress of the American Federation of Labor in Denver, which begins on Dec. 10. Messrs, Burns and Holmes visited the the Central Labor Union in the afternoon. When they came upon the platform they were greeted with cheers. Chairman Callahan made a brief speech, warmly welcoming the representatives of organized labor in Great Britain.

Mr. Burns in replying said that this was the most eventful period in national trade unionism. He hoped to stay long enough in this country to make a careful study of the conditions of the working classes. The labor movement in England was passing through the international phase, and this was causing alarm to the politicians who seem to be frightened as its development. He continued: "You believe with us in England that frock coats and high hats have had their day, and that the time come when fustian and corduroy should have their innings. If so we have got to fight for labor along the lines of the least resistance," Mr. Burns did not seem to like the middleman. He told his hearers that in England more than in any other country the class of middlemen is being abolished. There were some 250 town and county councils in Great Britain that employed workmen regularly at standard union wages.

Mr. Burns then went to the meeting of the Typographical Union No. 6, where he was also enthusiastically received. He told the delegates that workmen ought to get more carpenters, blacksmiths and printers into municipal councils, Legislatures and Congress.

THE HORSESHOE.

Row It Came To Be Considered a Protection Against Evil Spirits. InMorocco iron is considered a great pro tection against demons, who are the lineal representatives, after all, of the hostile spirits. Hence it is usual to place a kuife or dagger under a sick man's pillow, his illness, of course, being attributed to demoniaca. possession. In India, records a writer in the Cornhill Magazine, the person who performs the necessary but somewhat dangerous duty of putting fire into the dead man't mouth, carries a key or a knife in his hand to keep off the evil spirits. In short, a bit of iron is a very useful thing to have about you at any time if you desire to escape the unfavorable attention of the ghosts, the good reason for buying a pocketknife. It is also reason for nailing up horseshoe. "But why a horseshoe in particular," you ask, "more than other old piece of iron?" Well, primarily the good luck depends more upon the iron as iron than on the special shape or function of the horseshoe as a horseshoe.

But there are also many reasons why the superstition should happen to fix itself more particularly upon horseshoes. must remember that in Europe at least it is the cattle, the horse and the domestic beasts in general that are specially liable to the hostile attacks of the "little people." Therefore the elves and trolis are most likely to be dreaded on farms or in the country, where horses and cattle most do congregate. Now, if you want to nail up a piece of iron as a protection against the fiery darts of the evil ones on your stables or cow houses (which is the place where one oftenest sees them) nothing is more likely to come handy to your purpose than a cast horseshee. Besides, it has obvious congruity for the place and object, and it can be readily picked up in the roads almost anywhere. Raw Versus Stewed. NEW HAVEN, Conp., Dec. 2 -Under the heading "Typhoid at Wesleyan University" the current issue of the Yale Medical Journal says: "Reports received from Middletown show corclusively that the typhoid outbreak was caused by oysters obtained in New Haven which had been contaminated by sewage from a house where the disease had prevailed. All who have the disease at Middletown partock of the cysters raw. Dr. Foote has shown that the typhoid bacillus can live inside the oyster shell. Dr. Foote is demonstrator of bacteriology in the Yale Medical School, and made a series of experiments to determine the point mentioned."

Lord Aberdeen in New York. NEW YORK, Dec. 2 .- The Earl of Aberdeen, Governor-General of Canada, who is stopping at the Hotel Waldorf, attended service at Plymouth Church, Brocklyn, today. After listening to a sermon by Dr. Lyman Abbott, which, however, had no political significance, he accepted the invitation of the doctor and that of his wife to dine with them at the pastoral residence. In the afternoon he attended the Sunday school service at the Mayflower Mission on Hicks street, where he addressed the scholars. He referred particularly to the Boys' Brigade in England, telling them how much good they were doing and what an important feature they had come to be. He hoped that the Boys' Brigade now forming in conjunction with the Mayflower Mission might be a success. At the conclusion of the service the Earl returned to his

THE TELLING DETAILS OF A THREE YEARS' EXPERIMENT.

Proi. Thomas Shaw, Formerly of Ontario Now of Minnesota, Tells All About How It Was Conducted and Its Results-Worth Study.

So far as known to the writer no extended experiments have been conducted to determine the average amount of manure made by a cattle beast from birth to maturity. Information on this question would be exceedingly interesting and valuable in all countries where any considerable value is put upon the manure. Hitherto, when the attempt has been made to fix a value upon manure made for a longer or shorter period, it has been common to make an estimate simply both as to quantity and value. This mode of reaching conclusions is always somewhat arbitrary, and is never so satisfactory as when we can have the exact figures.

Prof. Roberts, of Cornell, has done some good work in ascertaining the amount of manure made by certain animals that were being fed for such uses as the block, and other experimenters have probably done something in the same line, but so far as known to the writer the Ontario agricultural experiment station at Guelph is the only station at which an experiment has been conducted which gives us the exact amount of manure made by a cattle beast during the period of development. The information thus secured is possessed of great value, for the reason, first, that like information does not seem to be obtainable from any quarter, and for the reason, second, that it is information obtained as the result of accurate experiment. This experiment was conducted with every care. It was under the direction of the writer until within a few days of the close. It commenced on October 16th, 1890, and continued for three years, A grade Aberdeen Poll calf was taken at that date, which was the date of its birth. It was put into a box stall with a cement floor, so that there could be no loss of urine from leeching. The stall was in every way comfortable. Its size was 12 feet square. The feeding trough was tightly made, so that there could be practically no loss of food. All the food, bedding and water given were weighed, and an accurate account kept of the same. The animal was given all the food it would eat up cleanly and it was given all the salt it would take twice a week. It was also given exercise once a week, when it was led out by the halter from five to ten minutes at a time. Enough bedding was supplied to keep the steer comfortable, and this is about equivalent to saying that enough was supplied to absorb the liquids voided. The manure was removed weekly, that is to say, such portions of it as needed removal, and it was weighed immediately upon its removal.

The animal was fed practically beef production, and on the principle of early maturity, as it was given virtually all the food it would take and utilize to advantage. The total amount of straw used as litter was 6.38 tons during the three years, the total amount of the manure made was 29.64 tons, and the total amount of the manure made, less the straw, was 23.28 tons. During the first Express prepaid by us on receipt of price year 1.44 tons of straw were used; during the second year 2.52 tons, and during the third year 2.42 tons. The total amount of manure produced the first year was 6.95 tons; the second year bedding used per year was 2.13 tons, and the average amount of manure made was 9.88 tons. The cost of the bedding was $9.56, as the bedding was valued at $1.50 per ton. This valuation would of course vary with the section of country.

11.24 tons. The average amount of

The value of the manure is an interesting question. It was analyzed once by the chemist of the station. It is a little unfortunate that it was not analyzed frequently. But, as the food was substantially the same during much of the time from calfhood upward, we have in this fact a consideration, which, to a limited extent at least, offsets the lack of more frequent analyses. Two determinations were made during the early part of the third year of the experiment. The were substantially the same. They gave the following average results: Water......53.51 per cent. Potash (K2O)..... 1.944

It is thus apparent that the manure was of high quality, and this is what we would naturally look for in a stallfed beast, for in no other way can so good a quality of manure be obtained as by feeding rich food to an animal in a box stall. The liquids are thus preserved very completely, sinto they became so well admixed with the solids.

Valuing the manure on the basis of the values of commercial fertilizers, that is to say, putting the organic nitrogen at 17 cents per pound, the phosphoric acid at 3 cents per pound, and the muriate of potash at 41 cents per pound, we get a total value of $118.57 as the worth of the manure made by the steer in three years.

Clearly, it is not worth that much. Well, how much is it worth? That question is not easily answered. In New England, where artificial fertilizers have to be bought, it would be worth at least $118.57 to the man who would buy nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash in quantities equal to those in which these ingredients are contained in the manure made by the steer in the experiment now under consideration. To an Ontario farmer, the 29.64 tons of the manure made by the steer would probably be worth $29.64, or about a dollar a ton. And under some conditions it might be worth one-half more, as it was manure of very high quality.-Thos. Shaw, in Ohio Farmer.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly reficial properties of a perfect laxacive; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidleys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

It is reported that an attempt is being made to have steps taken to secure a further reduction of liquor licenses in this city. A vigorous canvas of leading temperance men and women in the city reveals the fact that there is a strong indisposition to start an agitation of this kind at the present time, it being regarded as inopportune. It is asserted that the movers in the matter are actuated by personal and vindictive motives, rather than the desire to promote the temperance cause.

Big Increase in Exports and Decrease in Imports-Agriculture the Chief Exports-Sugar Legislation Hopeless.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 3.-Congress assembled at 12:30 p.m. today to hear President Cleveland's message. The President spent the day at the White House, but he will not give up Woodley as residence for several days yet. His gouty foot no longer gives him any serious inconvenience. In opening the President alluded briefly to the harmony of their foreign the termination of the Brazilian rebellion, the new Chinese emigration treaty, his efforts before the Japan-China war to induce an amicable settlement of the same, the unjust fines imposed by Spain on vessels of commerce in the United States and the unsatisfactory Government of Samoa. He denied the right of Turkey to imprison Armenians simply because they had not acquired imperial consent before becoming naturalized American citizens. He looked to the enforcement of the Bering Sea regulations as prescribed by the Paris tribunal, and recommended the payment of $425,000 TO GREAT BRITAIN as compensation for the seizure of British vessels in taking seal skins.

THE FINANCES. The Secretary of the Treasury reports that the receipts of the Government from all sources of revenue during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894, amounted to $372, 802,498 29, and its expenditures to $442,-605,758 87, leaving a deficit of $69,803, 269 51. There was a decrease of $15,952,-657 66 in the ordinary expenses of the Government as compared with the fiscal year 1893. There was collected from customs $131,818,530, and from internal revenue $147,168,449 7C. The balance of the income for the year, amounting to $93,815,517 97 was derived from the sales of lands and other sources. The statement of our total dutiable imports amounted to $275,199,086, being $146,657,625 less than during the preceding year, and the importations free of duty amounted to $379,795, 536, being $64,748.675 less than during the preceding year. The receipts from customs were $73,536,486 11 less, and from internal revenue $13,836,539 97 less than in 1893. The total tax collected from distilled spirits was $85,259 250 25; on manufactured tobacco $28,617,898 62, and on fermented liquors $31,414,788 (4. Our exports of merchandice, domestic and foreign, amounted during the year to $892,140,572,

AN INCREASE OF $44 495,378 over the preceding year. The total amount of gold exported during the fiscal year was $76,898,061 as against $108,680,444 during the fiscal year 1893. The amount imported was $72,419,119, as against, $21,-174,381 during the previous year. imports of silver were $13,286,552, and the exports were $50,451,265. It is estimated that upon the basis of the present revenue laws the receipts of the Government for the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1895, will be $424 627,-748 44, and its expenditure $444,427,.

748 44, resulting in A DEFICIT OF $20,000,000. On the first day of November, 1894, the total stock of money of all kinds in the country was $2,240,773,888, as against $2,204,651,000 on the first day of November, 1893, and the money of all kinds in circulation or rot included in the treasury holdings was $1,673,093,422, or $24 27 per cepita upon an estimated population of

68,887,000. THE PENSION ROLL. There were 969,544 persons on the pension rolls, being a net increase of 3 532 over the previous year. The amount expended was $139.804,461 05 The sum necessary for 1896 would be $140,000,000. He thought the highest limit would be

THE ARMY. The strength of the army was nominally 2,135 officers and 25,765 men, though really only a little over 20,000. He recommended that it be made 25 000. The total war expenses for the year were $56,039,009 24. The militia numbered 117,533, an increase of 5.344.

THE POSTOFFICE, The receip's of the Postal Department were $75,080,479 04 and the expenses $84,-324,414 15. The postoffices in June numbered 69 805, an increase of 143. THE NAVY.

The President favored an increase in battleships and torpedos. All the first-Summary of His Annual Message to class battleships under construction, except one, would be completed within the next fiscal year. Three more battleships and ten or twelve torpedos were provided for in the estimates.

THE PUBLIC LAND. The public land disposed of during the year amounted to 10,406,100 acres, including 28,876 of Indian lands. It is estimated that the public domain suil remaining amounts to a little over 600,000,000 acres, including, however, about 360,000,000 acres in Alaska. The remainder of the President's address was largely devoted to the currency question. He defended the issue of bonds, and hinted that a scheme to modify present banking laws and render the currency more clastic would be introduced. It would also provide for the issue of circulating notes by State banks free from taxation under certain limitations. State banks would be exempted from taxation if they could show that their outstanding circulating notes did not exceed 75 per cent of their paid-up and unimpaired capital.

DILLON DID NOT APPEAR.

The Man Wanted on the Charge of Impersonation Evidently Scared

There was a flutter of expectancy in police court circles this morning when the case of The Queen vs. Dillon was called. Previous to opening the court, the spectators waiting in the corridor discussed the pro et con of the case and speculated on the defendant's appearance. When the lawyers came the first thing they did was to glare around the room and then ask the question "Is he here?" Some good-natured bandying followed, and every time the door opened those in court turned to see who came in. Still Dillon did not come. Mayor Essery wore an "I told you so" air and informed those around the table that he knew it was never the intention to have the man turn up. Mr. Cowan said that the man was in town yesterday and he could see no reason why he should not turn up, unless perhaps he had been scared away by being published as a deserter from the permanent military force. All the witnesses in the case were in court. As is customary in such cases the clerk, when the magistrate had taken his seat, called the defendant's name three times, telling him to come forward and save his recognizance. Mr. Moule called him three times as "William Dillon," then another three times as "William Wheeler," and still another three times as "William Dilling." While engaged in calling the last-named the original Wm. Dilling jumped up and shouted "Here, sir!' and the spectators laughed. In the same manner the bondsmen were called on to produce the body of Dillon, Wheeler, Thompson or Dilling. Although each bondsman was called three times on each charge-impersonation and perjurythe defendant's body was not produced. Crown Attorney Magee asked that warrant be issued, and the magistrate gave orders to that effect. Mr. Essery asked that the witnesses be bound over to appear and, as if doubting his own intentions, he asked to be bound over himself as prosecutor. The requests were not granted. "I would like to ask your Worsh p," proceedings as to a return of recognizances. The prisoner was in the city yesterday, and I was informed that he was ready to appear here this morning. Why he has not done so I cannot say. It is possible that he may be still in the vicinity and may be apprehended on the warrant; if so, I would like to save the forfeiture of the bail." "I don't know what she wanted," he ceplied—"unless it was a promise that I would take care of Miss Adair. She was almost past speaking when I went up to her; things had made me late, madam."

"Did she—did she— By the commotion

"Had who?" asked Mr. North, rather losing the thread of the dialogue.
"Mrs. Cumberland," said madam, with a slight stamp. And, in spite of her assumed carelessness, she watched her husband's face for the answer as if she were watching for one of life or death. "Did she impart to you any-any private matter?"

She had none to impart, madam, that I am aware of. I shouldn't think she had. She rambled in her talk a bit, as the dying will do; about our old days, and about the anonymous letter that killed Edmund. There was nothing else, except that she wanted me to take temporary charge of Miss Ellen Adair, until we can hear from

Mr. North was too simply honest to deceive, and madam believed him. Her old arrogance resumed its sway as fear died

"What did she tell you about the father! "Nothing; not a word, madam; what should she? I tell you mind and speech were both all but gone. She rambled on about the old days and the anonymous letter and I couldn't follow her even in that, but she said nothing else."

All was right then. The old will and the old arrogance reasserted themselves; madam was herself again.

"Miss Adair goes back to Mrs. Cumber-land's to-night," she said. "I do not receive her, or permit her to remain here." "What?" cried Mr. North; and Richard, who had just entered, stood still to listen. 'Why not, madam?'

"Because I do not choose to," said adam. "That's why."
"Madam, I wouldn't do it for the world. Send her back to the house with the dead lying in it, and where she'd have no protector! I couldn't do it. She's but a young hing. The neighbors would cry shame

"She goes back at once," spoke madam in her most decisive tones. "The carriage may take her, as it rains; but back she must "It can't be, madam, it can't, indeed. I'm her guardian, now, and responsible for her. I promised that she should stay at Dallory

Mr. North seemed ready to fall. The look of despair, piteous in its utter helplessness, came into his face. Richard drew nearer, and caught his expression. All this had taken place in the hall under the great lamp. "Dick, what's to be done?" wailed Mr. North. "I should die of the shame of turning her out again. I wish I could die; I've been wishing it many times to-night. It's ime I was gone, Dick, when I've no lenger a roof to offer a poor young lady for a week

"It is no business of yours," said madam.
"Excuse me, madam, but it is. I think I had better take it on myself excusively, and relieve my father of all trouble-for really, what with one thing and another, he is not capable of bearing much more."

"Oh, Dick, do; do!" interposed poor Mr. North, timidly following them into the dining-room. "You are strong, Dick, and I am weak. But I was strong once."

"Well, madam, Mrs. Cumberland ex-pressed a wish that I, as well as my father, should act as Miss Adair's guardian.

"And what though you were appointed fifty times over and fifty to that; do you suppose it would give you the right to bring her here—to thrust her into my home?" shricked madam. "Do not believe it, Richard North"

"Madam," said Richard, quietly, "the home is mine." "On sufferance," was the scornful rejoinder. "But I think the sufferance has

You and my father— My dear father"—turning to him—"I know you will pardon me for the few plain words I must speak—— are here on sufferance. My guests, as it were.

"It is every word Gospel truth," spoke up poor Mr. North, glad that the moment of enlightment had at length come. "Dick holds the lease of Dallory Hall, and he is its real master. For several years now we have all been pensioners on his bounty. He has worked to keep us, madam, in this his own house; and he has done it nobly and

A crafty and worldly-wise woman, like Mrs. North, can change her tactics as readily as the wind changes its quarters. The avowal of Richard, that he was the master of Dallory Hall, so far as holding all power went-had been the greatest blow to her of any she had experienced in all these latter years. It signed, as she perceived, the death-warrant of her own power; for she knew that she should never be allowed to rule again with an unjust and iron hand, as it had been her cruel pleasure to do. In all essential things, where it was needful to interfere, she felt that Richard's will and Richard's policy would henceforth out-weight her own. Madam sat in her dressing-room that night, mentally looking into the future. It was very dim and misty. The sources whence she had drawn her exorbitant supplies were gone; her power was gone. Would it be worth while to remain at the Hall, she questioned, under the altered circumstances. Since the death of James Bohun, and her short sojourn with Sir Nash, an idea had occasionally crossed her mind that it might be desirable to take up her residence with the baronet—if she could only accomplish it. From some cause or other she formerly not telt at ease when with Sir Nash; but that was wearing off. At any rate, a home in his well-appointed establish-ment would be far preferable to Dallory if its show and luxury could not be kept up; and all considerations gave way before madam's own selfish interest.

Already madam tasted of disposed power. Ellen Adair was to remain at the Hall, and —as Richard had emphatically enjoined—was to be made welcome. Madam gnushed her teeth as she thought of it. Ellen Adair, whom she so hated and dreaded! She lost herself in a speculation of what Richard might have done had she persisted in her

Why will you allow a cough to lacerate your throat or lungs and run the risk of filling a consumptive's grave, when by the timely use of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive syrup the pain can be allayed and the langer avoided? This Syrup is pleasant to the taste, and unsurpassed for relieving, healing and curing all affections of the throat and lungs, coughs, colds, bronchitis,

The first surgeon to use the antiseptic treatment for wounds was Sir Joseph Lister, the famous English operator. He is now about to retire from his profession on account of old age. "Remarkable Cure of Dropsy and Dyspepsia."-Mr. Samuel T. Casey, Belleville, writes: "In the spring of 1884 I began to be troubled with dyspepsia, which gradually became more and more distressing. I used various domestic remedies and applied to my family physician, but received no benefit. By this time my trouble assumed the form of dropsy. I was unable to use any food whatever except boiled milk and bread; my limbs were swollen to twice their natural size; all hopes of my recovery were given up, and I quite expected death within a few weeks. Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY having been recommended to me, I tried a bottle with but little hope of relief; and now, after using eight bottles, my Dyspepsia and Dropsy are cured. Although now 79 years of age I can enjoy my meals as well as ever, and my general health is good. I am wellknown in this section of Canada, having lived here 57 years; and you have liberty to use my name in recommendation of your VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, which has done such wonders in my case.

The diamond is believed to be of recent geological formation, and a microscopic examination often discleses in its substance minute plants and vegetable fibers.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is carache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are specially subject.

BIGAMY MADE EASY.

A Case Where Justice is Literally Blind.

TORONTO, Dec. 2.-W. H. Pallette, whose wife's residence is here, escaped serious consequences through the recent decision of Chief Justice Armour, that a man married in Canada, who removed to the United States and remarries, cannot be prosecuted in Canada for bigamy.

A quarter of a century ago the Pallettes were married and they have a family, the eldest of whom is 24 years of age. Pal-lette deserted his wife, and at Grafton City, Dakota, on Sept. 12, 1891. married Miss Campbell, of Kemptville, Ont. Re-cently wife No. 2 ascertained that Pallette had a wife in Toronto, and he was arrested. At Brockville on Friday the magistrate discharged the prisoner.

Many Expect to Experience a Sensation

Shortly. TORONTO, Dec. 2 .- Wallace Nesbitt, the prosecuting attorney in the municipal contracts investigation, is at the present time in possession of the late Geo. W. Kiley's private books. It will be remembered Mr. Kiley was a large stockholder in the old Toronto street railway company.

Mr. Nesbitt declines to divulge any of his programme for the week, but the books will furnish information of a decidedly sensational character. The name of one alderman is said to be mentioned in these papers who has heretofore borne an irreproachable character.

THE BEAUTIFUL CHILDREN.

Debt Due to American Women, of Course.

But They Cannot Make Thin Babics Beautiful When They Are Sick, and Health Is the Greatest Beauty a Baby Has Anyway - A Suggestion for Mothers.

A friend of our acquaintance once remarked that he was "very much obliged to the ladies of America for having such teau-tiful children." He was right. American children are remarkably comely. Take a promenade in any of our parks of a fine day and you may see hosts of little cherubs being perambulated by nurses, or toddling or cavorting about on foot. One feels an almost irresistible inclination to hug them. lf one could put one or two in one's vest pocket, and could deaden one's remorse to the grief of mamma and run away fast enough - but no - we will not suggest the possibility even to a childless old bachelor enamored of babies. That these beautiful little creatures should become feeble, weak, attenuated, haggard and woebegone, is a most deplorable fact. Rescue must then be prompt or fatal consequences will ensue. Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda is an invigorant, the agreeable flavor of which specially adapts it to the use of families where there are children. All children object to taking medicine, and it is a most unpleasant task to force it upon them. Scott's Emulsion, which is as agreeable as milk, excites no repugnance in the young or in delicate invalids generally. Physicians universally recommend it, and there is the highest authority for saying that it is the best nutrient of the feeble at well as specific for throat and lung disease in existence.

Before the introduction of Cod-liver Oil in the treatment of consumption physicians considered that advanced stages of the disease would terminate fatally in two years. Now, however, with Scott's Emulsion in the field, the period has advanced to eight years, and it is conceded that if Scott's Emulsion is taken in time, consumption can be cured. The same rule applies to all children's diseases which come from poor nourishment. Among these are rickets and marasmus. Scott's Emu'sion is the best remedy in the world for these complaints, and also for the low state of health among children that results in thinness, emaciation and wasting.

The men say there is plenty of work, and when the officials were asked why the men were thrown out they refused to give any satisfactory reason. It is said the management want to make a good showing at the end of the year to the shareholders, and to do this had to cut down expenses. Last year the men were laid off the same way.

He writes: "For ten years or more I have been a sufferer with dyspepsia, and doctored with six of the most skilled doctors in this part of the country with but little relief and no benefit in return for the very large doctors' bills that I paid. I tried almost every conceivable remedy but all to no purpose, until April. 1893, when I took to myself a wife, and it so happened that three years previous to our marriage she had been in poor health, and used part of a bottle of Royal Crown Remedy, and, knowing of its excellent qualities, she prevailed upon me to give it a trial. I purchased one bottle of the Remedy and Pills, and by the time I had them used my general health was much improved, and by the time I had taken three bottles I was restored to good health, and my neighbors say that I am looking better than I have done for years. I believe Royal Crown Remedy to be the best value for the money on earth, and am thankfully yours.

brother of Hon. A. S. Hardy. Grace Church was crowded during the ceremony. The young couple have many friends in this city, where Mr. Hardy formerly practiced his profession.

-In its report of the recent St. Andrew's concert in Guelph the Herald says: "Lillian and Beatrice Shand are Ont., and enjoy a Provincial reputation as Highland dancers. They did the Highland fling and sword dance with much grace and precision, and Lillian went through the protty evolutions of the sailor's hornpipe as perfectly as could be done by the sprightliest Jack tar. But it was in their give their fourth anniversary concert. The singing that the children particularly won the admiration of the audience. Beatrice sings with all the expression of an artist, though she has all the simplicity of the child. In their vocal duets the children were also very fine."

> The exhibition of china painting that has been going on since Thursday at the rooms of the Women's Art Club, 4362 Richmond street, has been such a success that the ladies have decided to continue the exhibition on Monday and Tuesday. It had been the intention to close on Saturday night, "But," said one of the ladies interested, "so many have come the second time and the crowd continues so large that we thought it would be a pity to go to so much trouble in getting the exhibition together and then to close so soon. But we will surely close on Tuesday." The attendance Saturday was as large as the room could comfortably hold without endangering the safety of the many beautiful exhibits. The success of this exhibiion is far ahead of its predecessor, and would indicate an increased interest in art. As the object of the Women's Art Club is to promote this feeling, the ladies may well feel proud of the success that has attended their efforts. Normal Bible Class Social. The Normal Bible class, recently organized in connection with the Dundas Center

Methodist Church, gave a very enjoyable "social evening" in the lecture room of the church last week. The room was festooned with red and white buating and tastefully decorated with flowers. Small tables and chairs were placed here and there, around which nearly 200 people gathered. Mr. D. A. McDermid occupied the chair and in a few well-chosen words introduced Mr. T. B. Escott, who on behalf of the class gave a short address of welcome to all present. He outlined briefly the intended work of the class, drawing particular attention to the musical part. This, he said, was under a committee of four, who would from time to time engage leading singers to assist. The normal class orchestra, under the able leadership of Mr. Jas. Cresswell, would also prove very attractive. The International Sunday School Lessons are what are to be taken up. In concluding, Mr. Escott gave a very cordial invitation to any not at present attending Sunday school to join the class. Addresses were also given by Rev. E. B. Lanceley, Wm. Bowman, Wm. McIntosh, and D. A. Mc-Dermid. Dr. Ziegler and Miss E. Yates sang a solo each in a very pleasing manner. During the evening refreshments were served by the committee in chargs. Although this class has only been organized about three weeks the membership is nearly 50, and it is fully expected by the executive that this number will be doubled at least before the end of the year. The following are the officers: T. B. Escott, leader; G. E. Coombs, secretary-treasurer; convener of membership committee, Miss Tarry; convener of musical committee, Mr. E. N. Hunt; convener of normal study committee, Mr. Wm. McIntosh; convener of social committee, Miss B. Magee. The normal class orchestra is composed of the following: First violins, Jas. Cresswell, Robt. Jex, Wm. Jex; second violins, Geo. Winterhottom, J. P. Hunt, E. Blinkhorn; flute, Jas. Haskin; clarionet, Geo. Blinkhorn; cornets, C. C. Irwin (sole), F. Jury; alto horn, W. Knaggs; trombone, W. H. Silk; 'celle, W.
