

BRYAN FORECASTS RESULT OF DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

In Special Article for The London Advertiser the Nebraskan Declares Reactionary Candidates Have No Chance—Clark or Wilson the Probable Nominees.

[BY WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN.]
(Copyright, 1912, by the Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

The course of the Democratic convention will be largely shaped by the action of the Republican convention. The Democratic platform will set forth the Democratic side of the issues presented at Chicago. For instance, if President Taft is renominated a considerable portion of the platform will be devoted to pointing out and emphasizing the difference between the President and Congress on the tariff question. His administration will be condemned for its sins of omission and commission, and an appeal will be made to progressives to join in administering a fitting rebuke to the administration.

WHAT OF ROOSEVELT?

If, on the other hand, Mr. Roosevelt is nominated, the paramount issue will be the third term—shall the traditions of the nation be overturned? Shall we embark on the road to a dictatorship? Shall we intrust the power and patronage of the Presidency in the hands of a man who might use it to keep himself in power for life?

The third term issue is no trivial thing—the protest against it is not an idle cry of alarm. A dictatorship is the one danger which threatens republics. Because of the intelligence of our people the danger is less here than elsewhere, but it is not a danger that we can afford to ignore even here. No one who has had experience in public affairs is indifferent to the fact that a President has several hundred thousand officeholders who can be coerced into activity in his behalf; he has an army that is obedient to his command (and the standing army has been doubled since ninety-six), and battleships whose guns can overawe our seaport cities. Give the desire to establish a dictatorship, and the man in the White House has a material advantage over any rival in his own party or in any other party.

But these suggestions are by way of illustration to show how the action of our convention will be influenced by the action of the Republican convention. If a dark horse should happen to be nominated our platform would have to be written to correspond with the new conditions which such a result would create.

NOMINEE A PROGRESSIVE.

In the selection of candidates, also, our convention cannot escape from the influence that will be exerted by the Republican nomination. The Democratic nominee will be a progressive—that is already settled. No reactionary could be nominated now, even if the Republican situation did not forbid such action on our part. Mr. Clark and Mr. Wilson, both progressives, will have, together, more than a majority—possibly two-thirds—of the convention. While a few reactionaries may be included among their delegates the number cannot be great enough to give any hope to those Democrats who are hostile to progressive ideas.

REV. DR. ROSS REPLIES TO THE BISHOP OF HURON

Anglicans and Church Union—Correspondence on the Subject—Other Bodies Do Not Understand the Situation as the Bishop States It—The Validity of Orders.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

The Right Reverend the Bishop of Huron, in his charge to the Synod, as reported in your issue of the 12th inst., says that the reason why the Church of England and the Church of the United States are unable to reach an understanding on the subject of the negotiations for Church Union is the intolerance of the other bodies, who refused to recognize the validity of Anglican orders, and said in substance that unless the Church of England was prepared to abandon Episcopacy the way was blocked. This is scarcely the way the other bodies understand the situation. The Joint Committee of the Methodist, Presbyterian, and Congregational Churches, appointed to consider the question of Church Union, sent a communication to the Archbishops and Bishops of the Church of England in Canada, inviting them to send representatives to join in the deliberations. The Committee of the General Synod, to which the communication was referred, replied through its chairman that it would be glad to appoint representatives if they would be received on the understanding that it would not involve any surrender on its part of the principle of church order laid down in the Preface to the Ordinal attached to the Book of Common Prayer. The Committee replied reciting the terms as a condition of negotiations for union with the Church of England in Canada. The Joint Committee regret that they are unable to accede to this condition. The Committee go on to say that if they have misunderstood the proposal, and if it appears that the Church of England

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO SEE COCASH IN RUBBER BOOTS?

Bowerman Says Game at Peterboro Was Slight for the Gods.

The London baseball team arrived home at noon today, from Peterboro, and are telling some great stories of the games particularly in Peterboro. Manager Frank Bowerman declares that he never laughed so much in his life as he did at Peterboro. It was all because Cocash played centre field garbed in a baseball suit, and a pair of long rubber boots.

The ball park is on the banks of the river, and it overflowed on to the park grounds morning. It was decided to play the game, however, the rest of the field being in good condition. As soon as Bowerman saw the park, he sent out a hurly-curl call for a pair of rubber boots, and thus equipped Cocash started the game.

Water Lilies.

"Just imagine a man playing baseball in long rubber boots," said Bowerman. "I have seen some funny things in my day, but that was the limit. He stood in water nearly up to his knees, and when he sprinted after a ball, you could imagine that a sprayer or something of that nature was in operation. Every time a man hit a ball into the water it was a home run, as a ball player would have to have a diver to retrieve the ball. Cocash cut off four home runs by making catches, and incidentally created more amusement than has been enjoyed in Peterboro in years. To make things worse, Cocash actually played second base with his boots on. That was the climax of a funny afternoon.

Will Take a Boathouse. "When I take a boat out, I am going to take Whit Lancaster's boathouse and equipment with me. I think some life-saving apparatus would not come amiss, as I might lose some of my players in the water."

Manager Bowerman is well satisfied with the trip, having won three of the four games played while away.

350 CANDIDATES FOR THE HIGH SCHOOL EXAMS

The Tests Will Commence On Wednesday Next and Will End On Friday.

Inspector Edwards has announced the programme of examinations for the high school entrance. The examinations will commence on Wednesday next, and will finish Friday afternoon. About 350 candidates will write. This number is somewhat smaller than last year.

The students should be at the Collegiate Institute sharp at 1 o'clock on Wednesday. They will be given their instructions there, and the examinations will commence.

The programme is as follows: Wednesday, June 13—1:15 to 1:30 p.m., reading instructions; 1:30 to 2:30 p.m., composition; 3:40 to 4:25, spelling.

Thursday, June 20—9 to 11:30 a.m., arithmetic; 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., written reading.

Friday, June 21—9 to 11 a.m., grammar; 11:10 to 12, writing; 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., geography.

CAN CALL FOR POLLING IN RICHELIEU COUNTY

Judge Decides That Election of Mr. Cardin Be Cancelled.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, June 14.—The writ for an election in Richelieu County can be issued at any time now. Today the clerk of the crown in chancery received the report of the trial judge, declaring that irregularities had been admitted, and that the election of Mr. Cardin, Liberal, should be cancelled. This put it up to the Government to act.

In view of the character of the charge made in the management of the Sorel shipyard and a few other things, which have taken place in the county, it is not expected that the writ will be issued for some time.

LATE WALTER BELL

Funeral Was Held This Afternoon at Woodland.

The burial services for Mr. Walter Bell, the former timber exporter, who died at his residence, 670 Oxford street, on Tuesday morning, were conducted this afternoon by Rev. Dr. Ross, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and were held in Woodland Cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. Fred Matthews, Charles McMillen, Hume Cronin, T. H. Furdon, K.C., Thos. Cameron and John Dearness.

DR. D. B. BENTLEY, Of Sarnia, who has been named head of the London Health District, and who will have his headquarters in this city.

DOES LONDON RUN CANADIAN LEAGUE

President Fitzgerald Has Called Special Meeting to Find Out.

IS NOT AT ALL ALARMED

The Franchise Is Property of League, He States, and May Be Taken Away for Cause.

[Canadian Press.] Toronto, June 14.—President J. P. Fitzgerald, of the Canadian Baseball League, announced this morning that a special meeting of the directors would be held in Hamilton on Saturday night.

"It is really not to reconsider the London case," said the president, "but to find out whether London is or is not to run the Canadian League."

"I am not at all alarmed at the prospect of any action the London club may take. The franchise is the property of the league, and may be taken away for cause."

NEW FREIGHT AGENT WAS HIGHLY HONORED

Presented With a Magnificent Set of Silver.

Mr. Dan W. Hayes, the new freight agent of the Grand Trunk in this city, who was recently promoted from Guelph to London, was honored by the manufacturers and shippers of his home town yesterday afternoon when at a banquet tendered him by the businessmen of the town, he was presented with a magnificent silver table set. The gift was accompanied by a beautiful embossed address book in blue leather, and signed by the leading manufacturers and shippers of Guelph. Mr. Hayes has now taken up his residence in this city.

POOR BOND MARKET.

Quebec, June 14.—The city of Quebec, which was recently authorized to borrow $200,000 for urgent needs, has found it impracticable to sell bonds as the English market is now unfavorable for the issue of bonds.

To obviate these obstacles, the Bank of Montreal is to advance amount in treasury bills, payable in six months, at a rate of 3 1/2 per cent. The city has accepted this offer.

ABOLISH THE BAR

Word was received this morning by the committee in charge of the arrangements for the Dominion Day political meeting that several good-sized parties would be made up at distant towns to join in the demonstration to Mr. N. W. Rowell, M.P.P.

The Sarnia Liberals are reported to be taking the matter up with enthusiasm, and a meeting will be held within the next few days to consider a proposal to organize a party that will surpass any other representation at the meeting. Word has also been received from Petrolia that much interest is being taken in the coming demonstration on the First of July, and it is expected that all along the line, Wyoming, Watford, Strathroy and other towns, will send contingents.

DUNDAS ST. PROPERTY BOOSTED $150 PER FOOT BY ASSESSORS

Stores on North Side, Between Richmond and Talbot Streets Are Run Up at a Lively Clip—Increases Mean From $3,000 to $12,000 in Assessment.

The large increases being made in the man assessment throughout the city is creating a great deal of discussion, and from present indications the court of revision will have the busiest season on record.

There is no question but that the gross assessment of the city will show nearly $5,000,000 increase over last year.

On Dundas street, north side, from Richmond to Talbot, property has been boosted to $150 a foot frontage. One businessman is raised $3,000, another $12,000, another $5,000, and so on, and they must pay on an additional 60 per cent on these amounts as a business tax.

On Ridout street some residential property is also raised to a large extent. One assessors that he is assessed for $1,500 more than the property will bring today. There is an option on the houses for a lower sum, and the owner thought he was making a good sale when he made an agreement to sell it at that figure, which is less than the assessment.

As a result of these increases there is a great deal of discussion, and much dissatisfaction.

"The assessment has been raised systematically every year," said a businessman. "With the increases the tax rate is as high now as it ever was, and still we have to pay for all improvements. It does not look like a fair deal to me, and I will decidedly object."

BIG IMPROVEMENTS IN THE PARKS OF LONDON

Messrs. Dilger and Glaubitz Will Go to Detroit To Get Pointers.

Parks Superintendent Dilger, Mr. Emory B. Hamilton, and possibly one or two other members of the parks commission, will go to Detroit on Saturday to look into the parks system in that city. When they have made this tour, a definite plan will be announced by Mr. Dilger covering the parks of London.

"For the past few weeks, we have been busy getting the parks in shape, but have worked out no large scheme for the future," said Mr. Dilger. "You will understand that this is a big undertaking, and when we start out, it will be gone through with. We will go to Detroit, and then we will decide what really is wanted."

"At the present time, we are making certain little improvements. We have put the cannon in Victoria Park on substantial bases, and I think the change is for the better. We have taken down the fences about the park, and are arranging for a roadway there. Some of the walks may be closed, but that has not been decided upon. The roads in

CONDUCTOR RECOVERING

Ed. Gould, Street Railway Employee, Is Progressing Favorably.

Conductor Ed. Gould, of the street railway, who was seriously injured yesterday morning when he was struck by one of the girders of York street bridge as he put his head out of a window, is reported to be progressing favorably at Victoria Hospital.

While Mr. Gould's cheek was so badly gashed that the jawbone was laid bare, and his head and back bruised, he suffered no internal injuries, and his recovery is therefore but a matter of time. The escape from death was miraculous as he was struck on the head by one of the steel supports and hurled out of the window. The bridge was dropping between the two into the river.

STEEL PROBE POSTPONED.

New York, N. Y., June 14.—Government counsel announced today that the hearing looking to the dissolution of the United States Steel Corporation, which was to have been resumed here today, had been adjourned by consent until further notice. It was added that the taking of testimony would probably be resumed on Monday next.

THIS SIGN IN YOUR WINDOW WILL MEAN YOU HAVE HELPED THE PLAYGROUNDS

On Wednesday of next week the inmates of every London home will be given the privilege of displaying in their windows the accompanying pledge of good citizenship. A number of London's leading women have planned a campaign by which every home in the city will be visited on June 19, and help solicited towards the establishing of supervised playgrounds for the children of London.

The presence of Dr. Curtis, the playgrounds organizer, during the past fortnight, has been a great impetus towards the founding of recreation grounds here. The subject is now on everyone's lips. But much more than talk is necessary. The movement needs money. We must back up our talk by giving financial support. It is for the average parent to realize what properly organized, supervised recreation and exercise means to his or her child.

It means physical development. As the growing child is, so will the future man and woman be. Every little one in London has the right to possess a healthy constitution. Sometimes it means life!

Fair Play.

It means arousing of "fair play" instincts. Parents are often mortified by the selfish little tendencies that their children show. They cannot account for them, but there they are, and if not checked may develop into dangerous faults. Sportsmanship in its best sense is a keynote of all the supervised recreations.

It means a lessening of juvenile crime. Our children are not immune to the dangers and evils that arise in more crowded communities. Many parents realize this only too late. It is an absolute fact that in larger places the offenders in juvenile courts have fallen off 50 per cent.

These are vital facts, and the people of London cannot afford to shut their eyes to them.

So be prepared on Wednesday next. Make the solicitor's work smoother by having your subscription ready, and prove your title to good citizenship by obtaining one of these receipts for membership in the London Playgrounds and Recreation Association.

WOMEN TO BOYCOTT THE CHURCH UNLESS THEY ARE GIVEN VOTE

Mr. Henry Macklin, J. P., Says that the Situation in Diocese of Huron Has Become Acute in Many Sections—London Ladies Have Advocated the Boycott.

A proposed boycott of the churches is the latest manifestation of the woman's rights movement. Mr. Henry Macklin, J. P., is authority for the statement that the ladies of the Anglican Diocese of Huron have in some places seriously considered the idea of absconding themselves from church services until they are given some voice in the church affairs.

Mr. Macklin, who was the father of a resolution passed by the synod last night, authorizing the executive committee to consider the question of allowing women members of the congregation to participate in vestry meetings, has for seven years been working to secure this privilege for the feminine workers of the church, and feels very strongly on the subject.

Talking Boycott.

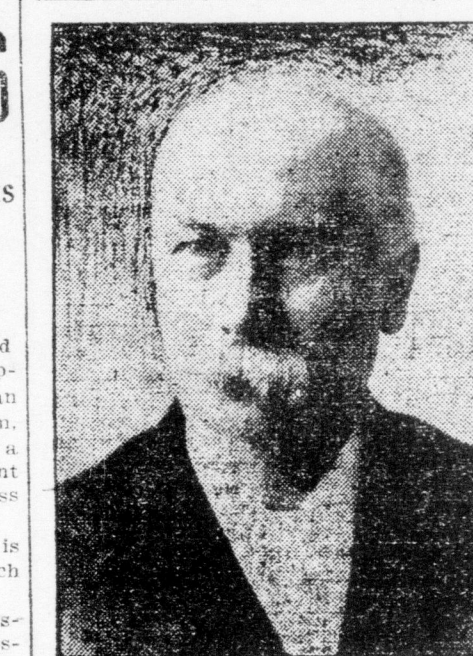

"The women of the diocese, who take just as much interest in the work of the church as do the men, feel that they have been treated most unfairly," he told The Advertiser. "They think that the church ought to be at least as liberal and as fair in the treatment of women as is the state. The Province of Ontario grants the right to women who own property to vote in municipal elections, but the church refuses it to its women who support it by their contributions and assist in its work. I can tell you further that so strong is the feeling in this matter, that many ladies have advocated a boycott of the church. They feel, and justly so, that they are being discriminated against on account of their sex."

"In what part of the diocese was the boycott talked of?" Mr. Macklin was asked.

Situation in London.

"There was a good deal of talk right here in this city," he replied. "Of course, I don't think that the scheme ever would have been carried out. I am sure that the ladies have too good sense to resort to such extreme measures. It does, however, serve to show the depth of feeling engendered by this unjust discrimination."

The reforms proposed by Mr. Macklin cannot take effect until after the next meeting of the synod, as it will be necessary to repeal a canon of the church in order to give them effect.

$328,240 PAID FOR REAL ESTATE WHICH CHANGED HANDS IN MAY

Deals Totalled 153 in Number—Showing Is Better Than in April.

The record is far better than for May, 1911. During that month there were 94 transfers, the assessment being $103,120, and the consideration $140,000.

For Five Months.

The total for the first five months of the year has reached 456, as compared with 423 in 1911. The assessment is largely in excess of last year, reaching the sum of $706,675 as compared with $458,199 for the first five months of 1911.

The consideration for the same period amounted to nearly a million dollars, the exact total being $847,576, as compared with $462,689 in 1911. "The returns are very satisfactory," said Assessment Commissioner Grant. "Land values are good, and there is a healthy demand for property. London is a good place for investment."

ROOSEVELT BUYS A NEW HAT AND IS OFF FOR CHICAGO

Leaves New York This Afternoon to Personally Lead the Fight.

[Canadian Press.] New York, June 14.—Theodore Roosevelt announced shortly after noon today that he had decided to go to Chicago personally to lead his fight for nomination. He will leave New York at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon over the New York Central Railroad.

He purchased a new campaign hat today.

Chicago, June 14.—Nearly two hours acrimonious argument at the forenoon session of the Republican national committee today had as its net result the transfer of the two delegates from a single Oklahoma district from the contested to the Taft column. No roll call was taken, the decision being by viva voce vote.

Taft Confident.

Washington, June 14.—"There will be no third candidate. All the information I get is that I will be nominated on the first ballot with votes to spare." That was President Taft's answer today to a visitor, who asked his position in regard to a compromise candidate at the Republican national convention.

POLICE KNOW MAN WHO MADE ESCAPE

Will Be Arrested as Soon as He Is Located.

The police have learned the identity of the man who on Wednesday night broke loose from the grasp of P. C. William Middleton, after being arrested on a charge of vagrancy, and while it is thought that he has left the city for a time he will be taken in custody as soon as located.

According to the police the man has an unimpeachable record here, his marriage to a London lady having made her life miserable. Her death was hastened, it is alleged, by worry over his conduct and ill treatment.

The prisoner was accompanied by another man at this time of his arrest, but only one of them was taken on the vagrancy charge. As he was being led away however the other rushed from behind and jolted the officer causing him to lose his grasp.

TALK OF STEAM LINE TO PORT BURWELL NOW

Aylmer People and Others Are Busy On the Traction Scheme.

It was fully expected that a meeting of the representative from Aylmer, Port Burwell, Springfield, Malahide, South Dorchester, and other municipalities interested in the proposed electric line from London to Port Burwell, would be held prior to this time, but it has been impossible to get the parties together.

However, the gentlemen interested are working out the proposition, and it is expected that the details of the organization will be announced very soon.

"We have not heard from the Aylmer people of late," said Mr. J. Grant (London, secretary of the joint committee. "They are working out the scheme, I am told, and will be ready to talk business in a short time."

Application will be made to Parliament for a new charter for a steamship line to revive an old charter held for the line, but too much difficulty was encountered in this, and it was decided to go ahead on a different basis.

May Be Steam Line.

It is again rumored that Mr. John Teale, who holds a charter for a steam railway from Port Burwell to London, will commence his line at an early date. He built the line now owned by the C. P. R. running from Malahide to Port Burwell. The impression was that the Canadian Northern had bought the line, but this could not be verified.

A bill will be submitted to the ratepayers of Yarmouth Township, Aylmer, and other municipalities through which the extension of the London and Lake Erie Traction line is to pass. The bill is so worded that it is ready to be submitted to the various municipal councils for their approval and then a vote will be taken. The support of the amount of bonds each municipality is to guarantee has not been completed as yet, but it will

GENERAL ASSEMBLY COMES TO AN END

Last Session Occupied With Missions and College
Reports.

THE BUDGET WAS PASSED

New District Supervisors Appointed to Complete the Enlarged Number.

Edmonton, June 13.—The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church finished its work here shortly before 7 o'clock tonight. The home and foreign mission committee finished their reports, and there was a general discussion of college work, some of the western colleges having matters to introduce.

The home mission committee was charged with their responsibility of naming ten district superintendents for the work of supervision. A number of these were, however, appointments. New names were those of Rev. J. V. Tanner, for the Synod of Montreal and Ottawa, and Rev. J. T. Ferguson, for Western Alberta. Two positions were left for the present unfilled, the appointments to be made later by the home mission committee. The budget for 1913 was again discussed, and it was unanimously decided to accept the report of the committee. This fixes the amount to be secured for the year 1913 at $1,200,000. In connection with the discussion of the work in the colleges, a request was presented for authority to organize a new college at Saskatoon, and this was given without a dissenting voice.

Two Overtures.

After 6 o'clock two important overtures were introduced. Judge Swanson brought one from British Columbia. He stated that in that province ministers were troubled in the matter of the remarriage of persons who had secured divorces in the United States. He asked that the assembly be given instructions in these cases. A representative was also introduced from the Maritime Provinces asking for greater strictness in connection with the theological standards of the church. It was suggested that there was laxity in the colleges. Committees were named to take both these overtures under advisement and report to the next assembly.

During the morning a resolution consolidating the monies of the aged and infirm ministers' fund was passed. The important matter of the appointment of district superintendents was taken up and finally reported as follows:

1. For the Synod of Montreal and Ottawa, Rev. J. V. Tanner.
2. For Northern Ontario, Rev. J. D. Byrnes.
3. For the Synod of Manitoba, Rev. Dr. S. C. Murray.
4. Yorkton, Alameda, Arcola and Qu'Appelle, Rev. Dr. P. Strange.
5. Battleford, Saskatoon and Prince Albert, Rev. M. A. Munro.
6. Swift Current, Regina and Weyburn—Appointment to be made by the home mission committee.
7. Vermillion and Edmonton, appointment to be made by the home mission committee.
8. Calgary, Lacombe and Red Deer, Rev. Wm. Shearer.
9. MacLeod, High River and Kootenay, Rev. J. T. Ferguson.
10. Kamloops, Westminster and Victoria, Rev. Dr. C. A. Wilson.

The Budget.

In the afternoon Principal Gandier presented the amended budget, the total of which now amounts to the sum of $1,200,000 for missions. This total is made up, as follows: Home missions, $425,000; foreign missions, $325,000; augmentation, $120,000; French evangelism, $35,000; Point Aux Trembles schools, $24,000; Montreal College, $12,000; Queen's College, $8,000; Knox College, $23,000; Mantoba College, $12,500; Rolfertson College, $10,000; Westminster Hall, $18,000; Deaconesses' Training Home, $5,000; social service and evangelism, $8,000; Jewish work, $12,000; aged and infirm ministers, $25,000; widows and orphans, $25,000; assembly fund, $39,000; not allocated, $9,500.

A long discussion arose with reference to the matter of the insertion in the budget of the sum to cover the cost of the annual meeting of the assembly. It was finally decided, however, to insert the full amount which is intended to cover the travelling expenses of the 500 commissioners and the other incidental expenses of the gathering.

MAKES SIMPLIFIED SPELLING VERY EASY

London Advertiser Dictionary Offer
Brings Modern Method Within Reach of All.

"She blushed when he earnest her,"
That sentence is not an example of poor spelling, but of simplified orthography.

Those who wish to follow the Proulx-van idea and eliminate unnecessary letters from the words will find The London Advertiser's dictionary a ready aid.

One will remark when he first saw examples of simplified orthography: "Is that simplified spelling? Why, I have always spelled that way."

But he had not. There are rules and "reasons why" in simplified spelling as in everything else that are the result of scientific investigation and arrangement.

All the rules for making your spelling of words easier to write are contained in this department of the dictionary of information which occupies so little space.

Hundreds of examples and comparisons of words that have been simplified and their old forms are given.

Whether you approve of simplified spelling or not, this treatise on the subject will help you form a better opinion of the work which has been accomplished.

Whether your method of spelling is simple or not the means of getting the dictionary that thousands are talking about is simplicity itself.

Six coupons and an expense bonus are still good for the book you have heard about.

THEOLOGICAL STUDENTS
ADMIT DISHONESTY

According to Toronto Paper
They Cheated at the Spring Examinations.

[Canadian Press.]
Toronto, June 13.—The News this evening states that a sensation was sprung in the ministerial session of the Toronto Conference of the Methodist Church yesterday, when the reports of the results of the spring examinations at Victoria University were being presented.

According to the story which the News claims is garnered from an authentic source, one of the students arose and accused another of dishonesty in the theological examinations. The accused student was summoned, but by a mistake the wrong man was brought in. To the surprise of the ministers he confessed his guilt, and when the other who had been accused was also questioned, he, too, admitted having been guilty of dishonesty. Both were debarred from writing on examinations for the next two years, although they will be allowed to continue their studies.

This is said to be the first time in thirty years that the Toronto Conference has disciplined members for this reason. The last occasion was when a noted Greek student was disciplined for giving assistance to another student.

SERIOUSLY ILL.
[Special to The Advertiser.]
Windsor, June 13.—Mr. George Hendrie, one of Detroit's best known residents, is seriously ill at his summer home at Grosse Point farm. He is 78 years old. Mr. Hendrie is a brother of the late Wm. Hendrie, of Hamilton.

Extra Distribution of Merchandise Saturday

All over the Smallman & Ingram store you will find evidence Saturday of the new push in business. Our buyers are now in Europe gathering stocks for the coming fall season, and in the purchasing of new goods for this store, little account is taken of goods at present in stock. Modern merchandising demands that entire new stocks must be imported for each and every department each season, which is strictly our motto, and while our buyers are scouring Europe for the new things, the home guard is kept busy catering to your present needs and making preparation for the reception of the new season's stocks.

The most important merchandising events of the year come usually during the month of June. New goods, bought at lower prices, coming in every day. New clothing for everybody, new fabrics, new things for the home. Some of them have their story told here; many more are for you to find yourself.

Considering that Smallman & Ingram goods are always standard, and Smallman & Ingram prices bedrock, the special offerings come like a tidal wave of opportunities. Wise people will not pass these doors.

A Man Cannot Get a Wrong Suit in a Store Where They Are All Right

Any man who has so far hesitated about buying his summer clothes, and who has the smallest care for good appearance, will be eager to come out Saturday and see how much clothes value he can get for his money. Nowadays most men of sense prefer to be sure of clothing at full price rather than to be doubtful about suits on which somebody decides to say that there is a "saving" of "a fourth," "a third," or "a half." Also they prefer to deal with a store where they are sure of always getting 100 per cent for their money, as against the store where there is a chance of getting something for almost nothing, and ninety-nine chances of getting taken in. For these men of sense we are ready with suits ranging from $9.95 to $25.00, made of the finest worsteds, chevots and serges known in the ready-to-wear clothing business, and particularly draw your attention to the Two-piece Suits specially priced at $9.95.

30 Two-Piece Suits $9.95

Coat and cuff trousers for summer wear, made of gray homespun and fine tweeds and worsteds in the new brown and fawn shades; very smart, well-tailored Suits in neat designs. LONDON, FRIDAY, JUNE 14.

A GOOD CAUSE—WHY NOT HELP?

Have the citizens of London fully grasped this playgrounds' idea, which is sweeping over the civilized world? Dr. Curtis' addresses have aroused a large measure of enthusiasm, but enthusiasm, like a good resolution, must be put to work at once if it is to yield results.

A few public-spirited men and women have carried on this movement for some years, on a limited scale, at a personal sacrifice. Now is the opportunity, while public interest has been newly awakened, to do something big and permanent. The friends of the movement here have done well to appeal to citizens with a definite plan. The immediate object is to convert a number of school grounds into well-equipped playgrounds, open after school hours and on holidays, each under the firm control of a supervisor. Supervision is a vital part of the system. The unregulated and untended play of children is not always a school of manners or morals, but play under proper direction may be made both.

It is the moral consideration upon which emphasis is laid. As Dr. Curtis has shown, the amount of juvenile delinquency has fallen a half in some communities which have gone adequately into the playgrounds movement. Play is the natural mode of self-expression in a child. Children must and will play, but when the opportunities for play are restricted, it readily takes the form of mischief. To increase the opportunities for play is to reduce the temptations to mischief, particularly when play is carried on under the watchful eyes of a monitor.

This is a cause that directly appeals to fathers and mothers. When its promoters go out next week to solicit financial aid they will have a cause that pleads for itself. The response of the citizens of London should be liberal and ungrudging.

THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND AND TEMPERANCE.

It would be unfair to the great Anglican body to imagine that its attitude to the temperance question is represented by the speeches of a few members of the Synod of this diocese. The contention of Rev. Professor Wright that the Synod should "congratulate and approve the Ontario Government and not go in advance of it," is purely a personal expression of opinion. Only one delegate actually pleaded for the retention of the open bar.

As the Rev. Dr. Sage pointed out, the supreme governing body of the Church of England in Canada, the General Synod, put itself unequivocally on record on this question in 1905. Here is its resolution:

"Barrooms and saloons are a serious menace to the country and should, as soon as practicable, be abolished. It might not be wise before public opinion is ripe, but the abolition of the bar should be the end ever kept in view. The treating system would necessarily vanish with the bar."

This declaration was reaffirmed by the General Synod of 1908, which described the bar as a "public menace," and coupled this denunciation with an attack on the treating system, urging all who felt at liberty to use intoxicants to refrain from treating or accepting a treat.

Today the abolition of the bar stands as the official policy of the Church of England in Canada.

COL. HUGHES AND THE CANTEN.

Some newspapers are trying to convey the impression that the Hon. Sam Hughes is the pioneer abolitionist of the canteen. Church parliaments, which have been indorsing the "banish-the-bar" policy, are even reproached because they have not hailed Col. Hughes as a temperance reformer. The canteen was abolished by Col. Hughes' predecessor. So strict were the regulations that the use of spirituous liquor was forbidden in every militia camp, even at the officers' mess. The following circular issued two years ago explains itself:

Annual Training, 1910.
Sale of liquor in Camp of Instruction.
Headquarters, Military Div. No. 1,
London, April 28, 1910.

Sir,—I have the honor to state that a communication has been received from headquarters on the subject marginally noted, directing that all possible precautions be taken to prevent the sale of spirituous liquor in camps of instruction. In officers', as well as in other messes and canteens, even to the members of the same, it being contrary to law.

2. All officers concerned are therefore, to be warned before they proceed to camp, that the sale of liquor within camp grounds is strictly prohibited.

3. The camp commandant will hold all officers personally responsible that the law is not broken, and that no spirituous liquor is sold whatever in camp.

4. The intention of the order being that spirituous liquor shall be excluded from the camp, the D. O. C. looks to commanding officers to assist him in preventing liquor being brought into camp.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
L. V. STANNON,
Major D. A. A. G.

By all means let Col. Hughes have credit for endorsing and enforcing the policy of his predecessor; but it is dishonest to give him credit for originating it.

Now and again a cable dispatch reminds the world that a war is on between Italy and Turkey.

It looks as though the Taft and Roosevelt forces will neutralize each other. In that case La Follette may come into his own.

It has leaked out that Pierpont Morgan put up $25,000,000 at a minute's notice to avert the panic of 1907. But it is a rickety system that has to lean on one man.

The price of cement in Canada has fallen 25 cents a barrel since the reduction of the tariff. This is an object lesson which will not be wasted on consumers, as the Government will know later on.

The friends of the Western University will have to renew their fight for the full recognition of the Western's degrees by the department of education. They thought the battle had been won, but they underestimated the inertia of the department, or its downright hostility.

That's a shrewd thrust of Bryan's that in the seven and a half years of his presidency Roosevelt never expressed an opinion on the tariff. In no period were tariff abuses more rampant. Even today no one knows where Roosevelt stands, except that he is against Canadian reciprocity.

"Shame on a party that would break up this great Confederation!" cried Hon. Dr. Roche at Regina. So say we all. As no policy proposes any such thing, Dr. Roche is engaged in tilting at a windmill, but with no very chivalrous motives, and under no such delusion as was the author of that pastime.

The premiers of British Columbia and Manitoba have been knighted. Mr. McBride is an attractive figure, has not been tarnished by scandal, and will wear his title becomingly. Mr. Roblin's public life has been lived on a low level. He is the type of bossism and machine politics of the most unscrupulous kind.

Mr. Borden now admits that he goes to England to formulate a naval policy, which is to be made public this fall. If Mr. Borden is as good as his word, there will have to be a general election before another year. He is pledged to submit his policy to the country, and as Mr. Foster says there will be no referendum, an election is the only alternative.

GOOD LIBERAL CAMPAIGN LITERATURE.

(Hamilton Herald.)
The fact that the Liberals are going to print Sir James Whitney's speech against the banish-the-bar policy and circulate it as campaign literature is almost enough to drive him dumb.

CANNING AS WELL AS PRESERVING.
(Vancouver Province.)
Sir Wilfrid Laurier's address at the Liberal banquet in Montreal was recorded by photographers, and the records will be preserved for future reference. Modern invention provides public men with facilities for both preserving and canning their speeches.

THE BEST PUT FORWARD.

(Toronto Globe.)
Naturally, Mr. Rowell's temperance policy receives the endorsement of the Methodist conference. It is the most "advanced" temperance policy in sight.

ONTARIO AND TEMPERANCE.

(Vancouver Sun.)
The campaign, inaugurated by Mr. N. W. Rowell, the new leader of the Liberal Opposition in the Ontario Legislature, for the abolition of hotel bars, leaving to the shops alone the sale of liquors, is meeting with much favor from the public, and it would not be surprising if at the next general election there should be a change of government on this issue. That Premier Whitney is alarmed at the prospect is evident by the people is shown in his adoption of an anti-treating policy; a faint reflection of Mr. Rowell's frank and positive temperance programme. It is doubtful, however, if Sir James will not deem it the part of wisdom before the legislature re-assembles to abandon this thin and utterly unworkable proposal of his. Already it has become a matter of jest even with his own followers and the premier must realize that even if he should press it through the house it will not be regarded seriously by any section of the community.

NO HERO IN HIS MOTHER'S EYES.

(Woodstock Sentinel.)
A Carnegie hero in Chicago has been served with an injunction restraining him from ejecting his aged mother from her home. There is heroism and heroism, and much of the heroism which the world is so fond of applauding is but emotional impulse. The notion that a man who ignores promptly in a heroic exploit must necessarily possess all the qualities of moral greatness stands in need of revision.

CONCENTRATION OF POWER.

(Washington Star.)
"Every woman ought to have a vote," "Yes," replied Mr. Meekton; "but a vast number of cases a woman will get two—her own and her husband's."

HUMORS OF THE BRITISH POSTOFFICE SAVINGS BANK.

[From the Annual Statement of Postmaster-General Samuel in the House of Commons.]
They had many sidelights on human nature from the postoffice deposits. One depositor had closed his account, but nevertheless he appealed to the controller to send back his pass-book, because, he said, it cheered him in his poverty to see how much his deposit once had been. (Laughter.) A claim was received recently from a man who said that "although a Welshman and a veteran Radical, I am respectfully connected, and well known for my integrity." (Laughter.) Not long ago a claim was made by a woman for the sum that stood in the name of her son who had died. When asked to fill up the form and state whether she had a husband living, she filled up the space by saying, "Living, but insignificant." (Laughter.)

MANY DO.
(Houston Post.)
"You certainly started out with fine prospects. Your credit was good everywhere in town."
"That's why I failed."

SHE CAME AND WENT.

(James Russell Lowell.)
As a twig trembles which a bird lights on to sing, then leaves unheeded, So is my memory thrilled and stirred—I only know she came and went.

As clasps some lake by gusts unriven The blue dome's measureless content, So my soul held that moment's heaven—I only know she came and went.

As, at one bound, our swift spring leaps The orchards full of bloom and scent, So clove her May my wintry sleeps—I only know she came and went.

An angel stood and met my gaze, Through the low doorway of my tent; The tent is struck, the vision stays—I only know she came and went.

Oh, when the room grows slowly dim, And life's last oil is nearly spent, One gust of light these eyes will bring, Only to think she came and went.

TIME TO MOVE ON.
(Louisville Courier-Journal.)
"My chorus girl client requests a change of venue, your honor."

"She can get a trial right here."
"No doubt, but the people in this town have seen all her gowns."

GETTING A START.

(Pathfinder.)
"I hear you have left Stingo & Co.'s."
"Yes, I'm in business for myself now."
"What are you doing?"
"Looking for another job."

CLEANING THE DOG.

(Saturday Evening Post.)
If you have a dog, and if your dog has fleas beyond a reasonable amount, do not muss yourself and the dog all up with flea powders and other dope. Take your vacuum cleaner, if you have one, to your dog—otherwise, take the dog to the cleaner and let him clean him with the suction end of the cleaner. If the hair is not too long and curly, the fleas will be removed to the bag of the vacuum cleaner, much to their surprise and much to the dog's relief. Civilization certainly is a great thing!

SURE SAFE.

(Washington Star.)
"Do you think it is possible to make an alibi absolutely safe?"
"Sure," replied the mechanician.
"How?"
"Disable it before it gets a chance to leave the ground."

MERSEY REGRETS CAN'T PUNISH CAPTAIN

Intimates That if He Could He Would Cancel Lord's Certificate.

[Canadian Press.]
London, June 14.—The board of trade inquiry into the Titanic disaster, at its resumption today, was occupied with the ground to be covered in the speeches of counsel. In the course of the discussion Lord Mersey, the presiding judge, intimated his regret that the certificate of Capt. Lord, of the Californian, which failed to attempt to go to the rescue of the passengers of the Titanic, was beyond his reach. He said:

"I do not suppose I have jurisdiction to direct that Capt. Lord's certificate should be dealt with. I take a view adverse to the conduct of the Californian, all I can do is to express my opinion."

Sir Rufus Isaacs, the attorney-general, assented, but asked Lord Mersey to express his views in regard to the evidence on the subject of the Californian.

Sir Rufus Isaacs also remarked that the conduct of Sir C. Cosmo Gordon-Lindsay, an immaterial to the present inquiry, except as to the conduct of G. Symons, the Titanic look-out, who had charge of the boat in which they were rescued, and the suggestion which appeared in the statement about bribery to prevent the lifeboat returning to the scene of the disaster.

Lord Mersey expressed the opinion that the question of J. Bruce Ismay's conduct was only material to the extent to which it might have influenced Capt. Smith, of the Titanic.

FATAL STRIKE RIOTS AT PERTH AMBOY

Deputy-Sheriffs Fired Into a Mob of a Thousand Laborers.

[Canadian Press.]
Perth Amboy, N. J., June 14.—A thousand striking laborers stormed the plant of the American Smelting and Refining Company here this morning, and were fired on by deputy sheriffs. One striker was almost instantly killed and three others were wounded. With the first volley the strikers fell back.

The man killed was Steven Dudoek. He was shot twice through the neck. Those injured were taken to a hospital in a critical condition.

The strikers succeeded in setting fire to a part of the fence surrounding the works before they were driven back by a rain of bullets. After retreating out of range, they held a parley and the strikers' leaders declared that they would make another charge and get inside of the works, even at the cost of themselves.

Sheriff Polachowski immediately took steps to gear in 400 additional deputies and said he would refrain as long as possible from calling on the militia.

Some Great Scotch Thinkers

[By Special Arrangement With the Winnipeg Telegram.]

When you pick up a book by a writer who bears the name Hector Macpherson you may expect to find that it exhales the scene of the heather. And you need not be surprised to find that this Macpherson's theme is "The Intellectual Development of Scotland" (Hodder & Stoughton).

When we read Mr. Macpherson's chapter on the Scottish philosophers we realize what sturdy thinkers the crazy land has produced. First in the roll of honor comes David Hume. Hume's philosophy is discredited today, but his name sounded out loud and clear in the eighteenth century. Hume was the man with the club, the giant from the north who pounded Locke's philosophy into a pulp. Caustic and frigid, he rode rough-shod over the religious beliefs of his time.

The greatest thing that Hume did for the world of thought, however, was the job he gave to Immanuel Kant, who was justly enjoying his dogmatic slumber. Hume awakened Kant from sleep and started that great German thinker on his career of triumph. Kant is the chief glory of German scholarship, and Scotsmen will always have this satisfaction that one of their own countrymen, little David Hume, aroused that sleeping Goliath. But Hume is only one of the philosophers whom Scotland has produced. We certainly ought to be impressed by names such as these—Hume, Stewart, Caird and Sir William Hamilton, the greatest of them all. Modern Scottish philosophers include Hutcheson-Stirling, Seth, Flint, Fraser, the two Cairds, and the two statesmen, Lord Haldane, who is author of a profound work, "The Pathway to Reality," and Hon. A. J. Balfour, author of "The Foundations of Belief" and numerous penetrating philosophical essays.

Scotland has also been renowned for the scientists she has produced. Even in the troublous days of the sixteenth century she gave to the world that wonderful mathematician, Napier of Merchiston, the inventor of logarithms, a discovery which for immense practical and theoretical value has scarcely been surpassed in the whole history of mathematics. Colin MacLaurin was the next great mathematician of Scotland. He introduced the doctrine of Newton into the north country and wrote a famous book on the theory of tides. James Ferguson, the Scottish astronomer, anticipated Kant in the announcement of the nebular theory. Thomas Henderson, born in 1788, was the first to measure the distance of the stars. Other great Scottish astronomers of the early nineteenth century were Pringle, Nichol, Robert Grant and Sir David Gill. Sir John Leslie made valuable contributions to the study of heat and light, and anticipated the theory of evolution. Forbes demonstrated the polarization of heat, while Brewster, another Scot, did the same thing for light. Thomson (Lord Kelvin) is, of course, one of the scientific immortals of Scotland. Professors Tait and James Clerk-Maxwell are names almost as celebrated as that of Kelvin among the students of physics. In the science of biology the greatest name is that of a Scotsman, Sir Charles Lyell. Darwin himself has testified that "the science of geology is enormously indebted to Lyell—more so, I believe, than to any other man who ever lived."

Other great Scottish geologists are Sir Roderick Murchison, Sir Archibald Geikie, whose "Great Ice Age" is recognized as a crowning work of the nineteenth century, and Hugh Miller, who did so much to popularize the study of science.

The country which produced a Kelvin and a Lyell has also given to the English-speaking race the greatest of all political economists, Adam Smith. "The Wealth of Nations" is still regarded as one of those monumental works of human thought which the world does not outgrow in the course of the generations and which provides seed thoughts for an army of intellectual workers. Probably no book of modern times has had such a tremendous influence upon national life. Smith's advocacy of free trade in this book inspired the policy of three great English statesmen, Pitt, Cobden and Gladstone, and still commands the adherence of a great number of statesmen and economists today. Mr. Macpherson relates that on one occasion Pitt met Smith at a London house. Smith was late in arriving, and immediately the whole company rose to receive him. "He seated, gentlemen," said Smith. "No," replied Pitt, "we will stand till you are the first seated, for we are all your scholars."

Smart June Style for the Tailored Bride

There is no one quite so smart and chic as the well-tailored bride. Her presence in the world is probably due to two circumstances, the growing independence of woman's thought and the increasing tendency to exercise the seventh sense of utility.

Traditionally, a bride should wear an elaborate wedding dress with long veil and all the dozen and one accessories.

But the business of a bride is to look her best. And while some girls seem torn to wear "creations" of fussiness and furbelows, others are naturally adapted to the simpler styles.

The fact that it is as equally proper to be married in a tailored suit and hat, as in the richest wedding dress should be a matter of happiness and thankfulness to the girl who is preparing her trousseau for the summer of 1912.

Without being exaggerated or conspicuous, the charming costume pictured would be an ideal tailored wedding gown, because of its fresh, attractive smartness.

White serge, hairlined with black, has been trimmed with black satin, the large, carefully designed shapes of black showing well on the light fabric.

This model might be developed in dark and white mohair striped or black blue and white mohair and blue tulle.

The hat is of white chip with black velvet trimmings. The parasol is black and white.

Corded Shirrings

Corded shirrings have been much in evidence all year, ever since the first little messaline model gowns of this type appeared late last summer with their shirred bands around yoke, high waistline and hem of the skirt.

Now it would appear that this style of trimming is to be passed on to the lingerie gown, with the cord grown perhaps a little heavier, and the puff still scant and made wide enough so that another cord can be run through the centre, dividing it into two rows of puffs.

A dress of striped material will have its bands of puffs made of plain color, matching the stripe, or of a contrasting color. A black and white striped marquisette has bands of pale flame color shirred into corded puffs finishing the edges of the sleeves and the extreme skirt bottom and outlining a slashed surplice effect. The whole gown is made over a foundation of pale flame Liberty satin. A glimpse of this glowing underdress, overlaid with black and white lace, and again veiled in flame chiffon, shows across the front of the bodice. A heavy cord, satin covered, marks the waistline, from which puffs out at one side the ends of a short satin sash.

Wearing Slippers

One of the very best customs to adopt in the home, whether the family be large or small, is that of always wearing slippers.

In the first place, slippers are more comfortable than shoes, and they are considered more healthful. Also, this will appeal to the ladies, slippers can be far more becoming than shoes.

We all realize that the streets, sidewalks, and even our own yards are full of germs. When we step out at a certain extent, adheres to the bottom of the shoe, is brought into the house and we have to live with it. Perhaps our systems may be strong enough to throw off the ill effects of any germs that are in the dusty floor coverings or air; then again, our children may play about the floor and not be so fortunate. Sickness and disease may follow, and we wonder where they caught the infection.

In England, among all classes, it is a household law to wear slippers, and we should do well to adopt the custom as one of our own.

We will soon grow to like it so well that the wonder will be how shoes were ever tolerated in our homes, at all.

Think of the many possibilities of carrying the germs of disease into the nursery or rooms occupied by those whose constitutions are not strong naturally. It is easier to change one's shoes for slippers every four times a day than to nurse one of the family through an illness, and the expense is not worthy of a comparison.

For a Dark-Haired Girl

This linen dress is a bright rose color with white sleeve bands and scalloped edges, worked with white. Worn with this is a plain bonnet of heavy yellow straw, with bows and long ends of black ribbon.

Turn into a mold which has been lined with lady fingers put at intervals of one-half an inch. When ready to serve turn out and garnish with whole strawberries and whipped cream.

A DOLL PARTY.

This party was given for little girls only about the ages from 6 to 9. Arrange like a doll-party, using colored cards all starting from one place marked by the name of each child on a card fastened to the card. Let them wind up the strings and at the end of each have an inexpensive doll, with only its undershirt on. Then go into another room and on a clothes-bar line have the name of each child pinned to the dress that belongs to her doll. Dressing the babies will occupy at least a half hour. At the table have paper dolls for the place cards, and the cookies should be cut in doll shape.

THE DAILY MENU

BREAKFAST.
Cereal. Liver and Bacon. Cream.
Toast. Tea. Honey.

LUNCHEON.
Tea Cake. Whitefish Fritters. Shredded Pineapple.
Cocoas.

DINNER.
Roast Lamb. Vegetable Soup. Mint Sauce.
Potatoes. Asparagus.
Cocoanut Pie.
Cafe Noir.

Whitefish Fritters.

Take one cupful of cold boiled fish flaked up fine, add to it half a cupful of mashed potatoes, half a cupful of cream, half a cupful of grated bread-crumbs, the beaten yolks of two eggs, one-half of a teaspoonful of salt and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of pepper. Mix all well together, then make into cakes or balls; beat slightly the whites of two eggs, dip the cakes into the egg, then into cracker crumbs, and fry a light brown. Garnish with parsley and serve hot.

THREE WAYS TO MAKE SANDWICHES

Roll Sandwiches.

Wrap fresh bread in a cloth which has been wrung out of cold water, using dry cloth to cover it on the outside. Let it stand for several hours. When ready to use, cut off the crust and cut in thin slices. Spread with any preferred paste.

Meat Sandwiches.

Nearly all kinds of meat may be used for this purpose. If cut in thin slices, rare roast beef may be seasoned with salt, pepper and tomato catsup. Thin slices of dill pickles added give more flavor. Chicken and turkey always make dainty sandwiches.

Club Sandwich.

This is an expensive sandwich to buy, but does not cost much if made at home. It will almost constitute a whole meal. Toast the bread a light brown and not hard. Cut in triangles or diamonds either before or after the filling has been put in. Make the sandwich two or three stories high, according to individual taste. Filling—a lettuce leaf, then a thin slice of breast of chicken, then very thin boiled ham or bacon. The finish may suit the taste. A pickle or a stuffed plain olive is commonly used.

STRAWBERRY CHARLOTTE.

At this season when strawberries are at their best, the following new way of serving them will be appreciated:

Cover one-fourth of a box of gelatin with one-fourth cupful of cold water and allow it to stand for one-half hour; dissolve over hot water. Scald one cupful milk, add one cupful of granulated sugar, stir until it is dissolved and the mixture looks blue and orange. Beat one egg light, and pour the hot milk upon it, stirring constantly. Return to the fire, cook for one minute, remove and add dissolved gelatin. Flavor with one teaspoonful of vanilla, juice and put away to cool. Add one cupful of strawberries which have been crushed and standing covered with one-fourth cupful of sugar, then put through a fruit press. Carefully fold in one pint of cream whipped to a stiff, dry froth.

Cleaning Furs.

Dear Miss Grey: 1. What will clean white lamb's wool furs? 2. What will clean white ground of photograph?

WAITING.

A.—1. Rub them well with hot white cornmeal, using the palm of the hand. Shake out the soiled meal and fill furs with clean meal. Roll up in clean cloth and lay away for twenty-four hours then shake well. If furs are not clean, repeat the process. 2. Use an eraser—the kind used by artists—for their work. It can be bought at any stationer's or artists' supply shop.

CYNTHIA GREY'S CORRESPONDENCE

A Missing Letter.

Dear Miss Grey: Here are a few questions I would like answers to as I never have written you before and see lots of helpful hints. 1. How long does it take a letter to go to London, England? 2. I have written one on May 16 and got no answer and wrote a card since. I would not care so much only I sent some money for a treatment and never heard from them. What would be best to do? 3. How could I wash my hair without catching cold in my head? My hair is long and thick. Hoping to get some help in The Advertiser. E. A. S.

A.—1. It should not take more than ten days for a letter to reach England, if it was not registered. I fear there is no means of tracing the epistle. I should advise your writing at once to the persons to whom you sent the money. 2. I do not think you would stand in any danger of catching cold at this season of the year, if you wash the hair in the usual way. Dry out in the sun if possible.

Sweet Sixteen's Queries.

Dear Miss Grey: We would be very much indebted to you if the answers to the following questions were printed.

The Birthday Calendar

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Happiness will be yours in the coming year and pleasant events will occur among those dear to you. There will be money troubles, however, and you will be obliged to give much thought to the management of your affairs. Look for causes and do not take too much for granted. Those born today will have calm, even dispositions and be capable of accomplishing much. They will do better under an employer, or in association with others.

Corsets and Health

There never has been a time since the invention of the corset that it has not been given great prominence in any article dealing with health and woman's dress, writes Nancy Holles Gardiner. I am not opposed, personally, to the judiciously worn corset, as I do not see that it does the slightest harm; in fact, I would almost rather have a little harm done than to see the average woman going without the support of a corset. While Venus de Milo had a perfect form and wore no corsets, yet I am free to confess that the woman of 1912 could not follow her illustrious example, with either her own or the public's approval, when it came to the test.

Of course abuse of the corset is to be frowned upon. I am not an advocate of tight lacing, and wish I had it within my power to prevent this practice. "Why do women want to lace?" asks a member of the sterner sex. Inquisitive sir, I do not know. It is surely not because they seek to win the admiration of husbands or sweethearts, as the masculine portion of the world is, quite rightly, no lover of excessively small waists.

Recently I had a letter from a young girl of average physique who triumphantly informed me that she had succeeded in reducing her waist, if I remember rightly, from 23 to 18 inches. Naturally, I was horrified and inquired how she had done it. In which I told her plainly of the dangers of tight lacing, but my only reward was to receive several months later a brief note saying that she had reduced her waist to 13 inches, and that, contrary to my advice, it didn't hurt a bit! This is what I mean by the abuse of the corset.

I am quite sure that the world of tight lacers would abandon this practice in an instant, could they see in anatomical museums the skeletons of those of their sex who had been addicted through life to tight lacing. Admitted through life to tight lacing, once viewing these malformed objects, with the lower ribs permanently crushed in, I am sure they would never again indulge in tight lacing. This habit of tight lacing means the inevitable dislodgement of the internal organs and the impeding of the circulation of the blood, to say nothing of the fact that a too snug corset does not permit a full breath to be drawn. As a result of this interference with nature's physical arrangements, the blood is imperfectly purified and the action of the heart greatly diminished. The nutrition of all the important organs and tissues also suffers as a result of wearing a too tight corset. I do not imagine for an instant that many of my readers are so foolish as to indulge in this practice, but for the benefit of those who do, I would, in a last effort to induce them to see the folly of their way, say plainly that a too snug corset, owing to the fact that it interrupts natural processes, will gradually cause the complexion to lose its tints of the lilac and the roses and the face eventually to acquire an unbecoming sallowness, which will persist as long as one laces not wisely but too well.

No word of blame have I for the comfortably large corset that fits the figure and is so laced as to leave an open space of about two inches across the spine. Such a corset is a blessing, as it enables us to wear our present day style of clothing with comfort and does so little real harm that one is freed from apprehension of possible evil effects.

If you want to know if you have your corset so loose that it cannot possibly do you any harm, then try my test, which is simplicity itself. After fastening and lacing your corset, run both hands down inside the corset to the waistline and an inch or two below it. If you can do this, then your corset is not too snug.

How to Tie Your New Sash

The summer frock that has not a sash of one or another must admit itself as hopelessly out of the mode, for the sash is omnipresent. Sometimes it is of taffeta ribbon, sometimes of satin shaped in tub form and edged with lace frills. Again it may be entirely of lace, piped all around the edge with satin.

One sees sashes of very broad ribbon simply looped and allowed to fall over the skirt in overlapping ends; and one sees black velvet sashes knotted and tied in all sorts of ways and clasped against the frock in all sorts of casual ways.

In Paris they are all mad about the Martial Armand sash, tied in many loops and falling over the skirt at the left side of the back.

A Paris Novelty. These sashes are usually made of very wide, soft changeable taffeta ribbon and the loops do not stand out sideways in butterfly-wing fashion, but rise, one above the other, each loop being made a trifle longer than the one just above and fall, below the knot, in the same fashion. There are two sharply slanted ends, one falling to the hip and the other, exactly under it, to the knee. If the ends of the sash fall separately from the waistline, they are sure to be caught together again at the hip or knee and, knotted, or fastened under a rosette, or cauchon of tiny ribbon roses. Whatever sash ends do, they must not flutter and small weights, on tapes, are usually sewed to the ends of the ribbon. If the sash has pointed ends, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Sold all over the world.

trimmings may furnish the necessary weight.

Only the debutante wears an innocent pale blue or pink sash now. These babyish tints are not for the woman of fashion who wears the sash shot with mauve, or gold; or lilac shot with rose; or any other changeable pastel coloring. Sashes of pale tan with corsage trimmings of tea roses are considered smart with lingerie frocks of creamy stuff; but the deep ecru frocks are usually accompanied by black velvet sashes.

Who Should Beware?

The large-waisted woman should beware of a sash contrasting in color with her gown, and the black velvet sash, with any gown except a black one, is not for her. If the hips are over-developed at the back, it is best to avoid sashes altogether and finish the girder with a pump bow, without ends, which may be worn at the center-back, or a little to the right or left of the back.

Pompadour ribbons with edges of plain color make charming sashes for young girls and often such sashes have no bow at the back, one end of the ribbon being simply drawn up back of the knot and allowed to fall over the other end.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over SIXTY YEARS by MILLIONS OF MOTHERS for their CHILDREN WHILE TEETHING, with PERFECT SUCCESS. IT SOOTHES THE CHILD, SOFTENS THE GUMS, ALLAYS ALL PAIN, CURES WIND COLIC, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Sold all over the world.

FREDERICK WHITE

Secret Service

By Cyrus Townsend Brady

Wilfred turned suddenly, his manner at once losing its badly assumed lightness.

"Oh, you needn't try to fool me," he repeated here, "I know well enough how you have been carrying on since our engagement was broken off. Half a dozen officers proposing to you—a dozen, for all I know."

"What difference does it make?" she retorted pettily. "I haven't got to marry them all, have I?"

"Well, it isn't very nice to go on like that," said Wilfred, with an air into which he vainly sought to infuse a detached, judicial and indifferent appearance. "Proposals by the wholesale!"

"Goodness me!" exclaimed Caroline. "What's the use of talking about it? To me, they're the ones that propose—I don't. How can I help it?"

"Oh," said Wilfred loftily, "you can help it all right. You helped it with me." "Well," she answered, with a queer look at him, "that was different."

"And ever since you threw me over—" he began. "I didn't throw you over, you just went over," she interrupted.

"I went over because you walked off with Major Sully," said the boy, "and you encouraged him to propose. You admit it," he said, as the girl nodded her head. "Of course I did. I didn't want him hanging around forever, did I? That's the only way to find them out. What do you want me to do—string a placard around my neck, saying, 'No proposals received here. Apply at the office. Would you make you feel any better?' Well," she continued, as the boy shrugged his shoulders, "if it doesn't make any difference to you what I do, it doesn't even make as much as that to me."

"Oh, it doesn't? I think it does, though. You look as if you were in the city."

"I should think I did," said Caroline, "I should think I did. I love every one of them. They are going to fight for me and for us, and I love them."

"Why don't you accept one of them? One he dies, and have done with it? I suppose it will be one of those smart young fellows with a cavalry uniform."

"It will be some kind of a uniform, I can tell you that. It won't be anyone that stays in Richmond."

"Now I see who you were," said Wilfred, looking at her gloomily. "I had to stay in Richmond, and—"

"The boy choked up and would not finish."

"Well," said Caroline, "that made a heap of difference. Why, I was the only girl on Franklin street that didn't have a—someone who was engaged to—at the front. Just think what it was to be out of it like that! You have no idea how I suffered; besides, it is our duty to help all we can. There aren't many things a girl can do, but Colonel Woodbridge—he's one of Morgan's men, you know—said that the boys fight twice as well when they have a sweetheart at home. "And is that why you let them all propose to you?" rejoined the youth bitterly.

"Certainly! It didn't hurt me, and it pleased them. Most of 'em will never come back to try it again, and it is our duty to help all we can."

"And you really want to help all you can, do you?" asked Wilfred, desperately. "Well, if I were to join the army," would you help me—that way?"

"This was a direct question. It was the argumentum ad feminam with a vengeance. Caroline hesitated. A swift blush overspread her cheek, but she was game to the core.

"Why, of course I would," said Wilfred, looking at her gloomily. "I had to stay in Richmond, and—"

"The boy choked up and would not finish."

REMARKABLE INCIDENT AT OSGOODE HALL

Barristers in Ignorance of the Circumstances, Brought an Odd Application.

Toronto, June 14.—A remarkable incident occurred in the divisional court yesterday morning, which would appear to have been unprecedented in the course of law at Osgoode Hall.

The real origin of the whole affair was a promissory note, on which in December, 1900, Mrs. Charlotte Brooks lent $300 to John R. Charlton, of South Dorchester Township, Elgin County. Mrs. Brooks later brought an action in the non-jury assizes at St. Thomas before Mr. Justice Magee, and judgment was given in her favor. Mrs. Brooks waited a long time for the judgment, but heard nothing of it.

Now, in 1909, an act was passed by the Legislature of Ontario, providing that in any case in which a judge delayed judgment for longer than six months, application for judgment might be made before a divisional court. Yesterday afternoon, application was made for judgment before a court composed of Chief Justice Falconbridge, Mr. Justice Pritton and Mr. Justice Riddell, H. M. Mowat, K. C., and Mr. Justice Aylesworth, being the barristers representing the parties to the original suit. When Mr. Mowat rose to address the court, Mr. Justice Riddell asked with a smile whether he was the judge who had been delivered in the case. Both Mr. Mowat and Mr. Aylesworth admitted entire ignorance of the fact. The record on the papers held by Mr. Justice Riddell read as follows: "Let judgment be entered for the plaintiff for $300, and interest at 5 per cent from 13th of December, 1900, and costs."

It was dated June 4, 1910, and was signed by Mr. Justice Magee. Both counsel were extremely surprised. The court concluded the matter by striking the case off the list.

The theory as touching the matter in which it was possible for the judgment to lie so long, unknown to the plaintiff and defendant is as follows: Mr. Justice Magee probably sent his judgment to the local registrar at St. Thomas, though it is usual that reserved judgments be handed to the senior registrar at Osgoode Hall, who thereupon notifies the parties. Probably the local registrar, receiving the judgment, thought the parties had been notified in the ordinary way and issued no notice.

Had not Mrs. Charlotte Brooks been waiting for the judgment, it is doubtful that the odd circumstances would have been cleared up.

CORRESPONDENCE

A Reply to Catholic.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:—For my delay in answering Catholic's last letter I must plead press of work; but I hope that you will yet allow me the privilege of replying in your valuable space. Our argument seems to be interesting to ourselves, and contrary to the usual rule grows more good-humored the farther it proceeds. I am enjoying the experience of meeting a good man in the dark as it were and receiving from him compliments as well as intended corrections. Let me endeavor to return both.

It is getting to be like Catholic and well, I am sorry to have to take leave of so graceful an antagonist when our two ships have passed in the night.

His delators were from a discussion of the relative merits of the Catholic and Protestant religions. Such a discussion, if carried on with perfect good temper, might be profitable to ourselves and even to our readers. There is so much ill temper and wild exaggeration in the ordinary talk on both sides. But I concede the right of so courteous an opponent to have his own way in this matter, merely observing that Father Tobin began the attack in charging that England was less free under Protestantism since 1550 than before, a statement which can be supported from no serious historian.

Here in fact is the point of controversy between Catholic and me, that he backs Father Tobin's assertion that the English people was freer under the feudal system, the persecution of the Lollards, the Wars of the Roses, the despotism of Edward IV. and Henry VII. and the ministry of Wolsey, than after the revolution of 1688. The fact is that Parliament went to sleep under Edward IV. and woke up under Elizabeth; and neither its earlier activities nor its sleep can be ascribed to either Roman Catholicism or Protestantism; its resurrection, however, about 1600, must be credited in large measure to Puritanism. In large measure to that same old individual independence of the Anglo-Saxon which had secured Magna Charta and under Elizabeth fought for commercial freedom against the monopoly system. While monopoly was crushing the life out of Catholic Spain in the 17th century, English parliamentarians were fighting monopoly. Even under James I. England's constitutional liberties were more alive than under the last 100 years of Roman Catholicism in England.

However, I would not blame Roman Catholicism altogether for the despotisms of Edward IV. and Henry VII. and Wolsey. That would be unjust and unwarranted as to credit Roman Catholicism with Magna Charta, and parliamentary government. I believe I could build up a good case for the influence of the Roman church in England, and for the Roman Catholic system historically considered by a dissection of the crude assertions sometimes made by Protestant polemics, but I certainly would not spoil it by making any such statement as that England was a freer country in 1625 than in 1825.

As for Catholic's answer to my question why the Roman Catholic Church did not give Magna Charta and parliament to any other country than England, it is a pretty good one against Father Tobin's view. He says that all depends on the national character. Exactly. The church, he says, is "the mother of the arts" in the Latin countries, of political freedom in England. One statement is as true as the other. The church is no more the mother of the arts, whatever even good historians may say, than the mother of benedictine—not quite so much. The arts are older than this mother assigned them; Greece did it first.

Dalton's Lemonade

In The Big 25c. Bottle.

Here's your favorite summer drink in its most convenient form. Here's the big new 25c. bottle—which makes 36 glasses of the most delicious lemonade you ever tasted. Why bother with squeezing lemons—and musing up the kitchen—when you can have Lemonade, ready-made, in the 25c. bottle of DALTON'S CONCENTRATED LEMONADE.

It is a pure fruit product—sweetened—and contains no other acid.

If you prefer Orangeade, get DALTON'S CONCENTRATED ORANGEADE. Tastes just like the fresh fruit.

25c. bottles make 36 glasses.

10c. bottles make 12 glasses.

Your grocer and druggist have both sizes.

Look out for the imitators. Insist on DALTON'S.

HIRAM W. JOHNSON, governor of California.

Something for art. Similarly the institutions of political liberty which grew in Germany before the Christian era, the principles of local self-government as contrasted with the monarchical concentration of Latin Imperialism, came to England and held their ground there precisely because the ground was less Roman than the other former provinces of the empire, and because later William I. and Henry II. needing the Saxon support against the Norman nobles, gave recognition to the ancient liberties, unmodified by Latinism, produced Magna Charta and parliament.

In this correspondence I have had no motive of attacking the Roman Catholic Church. It was merely that my regard for historical accuracy was offended by Father Tobin's sermon, as often by preachers on the other side. I acknowledge it was not an out and out polemic sermon; but in some of its implications there was an indirect attack upon Protestantism. And why make such unreasonable claims for his church?

COMMON SENSE.

You'll Enjoy This Book

It is hard to describe in cold type the interest, charm and enjoyment that this booklet holds for the traveler. It pictures in a charming, informal way the famous historic scenes and celebrated points of interest on the River St. Lawrence. So vividly, entertainingly and delightfully indeed that it is almost as good as taking the trip oneself. Incidentally the advantages of traveling by the Royal Mail Steamships.

RECOMMEND LOAN

Ingersoll Joint Committee Reports Most Favorably on Industry.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ingersoll, June 13.—The application of Thomas Waterhouse & Co., Limited, for an additional loan of $20,000 from the corporation for the purpose of extending their already large building, received favorable consideration at a joint meeting of the council, board of trade, and representative citizens. Since a loan was made to the company a few years ago their knitting business has increased rapidly. In a resolution the meeting expressed the opinion that the loan should be made, and the matter was referred to the finance committee of the council to draft and complete an agreement and to submit a by-law to the ratepayers at the same time the sewerage by-law is submitted.

BIG NEW FACTORY

Palmerston Gets an Industry That Will Employ Fifty Men.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Palmerston, June 13.—Taylor, Scott & Co., who for the past thirty years have been conducting a successful business in Toronto, have moved their headquarters to Palmerston. They are established in the planing mill, formerly under the ownership of Mr. Major Woodbridge, for more than a quarter of a century.

Taylor, Scott & Co. are manufacturers of woodenware, such as washboards, children's sleighs, wagons, etc. They will employ 50 men, but in the future expect to enlarge the business. The factory will be closed for two weeks to install new machinery and a power plant.

Mr. H. M. Perry is acting as representative of the firm.

GLENCOE

Glencoe, June 13.—Mr. Robinson, of Melbourne, is presiding over the departmental examinations here.

Miss Maggie Campbell, who has resided here for the past year, has returned to her home at Chatham.

Mr. Donald Stuart will leave shortly for an extended trip to Scotland to visit friends and relatives there.

Mr. Thomas Strachan spent the week-end at Chatham with friends.

H. J. Haviland will occupy the pulpit in Burns Church, Mossa, in the absence of the pastor, who is in Edmonton attending the General Assembly.

Mr. Charles, who has been so seriously ill, is slowly recovering, but will have to rest for the summer.

Chafed and Aching Feet

How far can you walk without suffering in one way or another from discomfort to your feet?

Modern footwear is a prison house and the result is chafed, scalded, inflamed feet.

You can get a world of comfort by using Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment when your feet give you trouble. This treatment is so delightfully soothing and healing that it helps you as soon as applied.

Unlike insensate powders which clog the pores, Dr. Chase's Ointment makes the skin soft and smooth and prevents corns and bunions.

When the feet are chafed, scalded, itching and tired it takes out the stinging and burning and its benefits are both quick and lasting.

INGERSOLL FAVORS INDUSTRIAL PROJECT

Citizens Prefer Helping Home Factories to Granting Concessions to Outsiders.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ingersoll, June 13.—Public-spirited citizens who are desirous of seeing Ingersoll enjoy industrial expansion are very favorably impressed with the proposition that has been submitted to the council by Thomas Waterhouse & Co., Limited. The loan of $20,000, for which the company has made application, follows the granting of a loan some five years ago of $20,000, and of which they have already paid $5,000 and interest. This year the firm has enjoyed a particularly big increase in business, as is evidenced by the fact that they have been compelled to refuse orders to the extent of $50,000. With the large addition which their purpose erecting to their factory their output would be materially increased, and if the present rate of increase is continued for a few more years the industry would certainly be of immense value to the town. The argument has been advanced that local industries, already in a flourishing condition are entitled to a preference over those from outside points and about which little or nothing is known.

A non-payment of wages case was heard before Magistrate Paterson in the police court yesterday afternoon. The complainant was Elijah Nihnam, who claimed the sum of $27 from John McArthur, of West Zorra, in whose employ he has been since April 1. After casually going into the case, the magistrate allowed the plaintiff $12 of the amount claimed.

The death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. G. Kennedy, Thames street north of Mrs. Conn, of the late John Conn, of Detroit. Mrs. Conn had been visiting her daughter for several weeks, and the announcement of her death was received with deep regret by her friends. Her death was particularly sad, following so closely as it did the death of her husband at Windsor a few weeks ago. The remains will be taken to Detroit for interment.

Floral day services will be held in the Methodist church next Sunday, and the event is being anticipated with a great deal of interest by the church officials, the pastor and the congregation generally. The services will be of a special character, and will be assisted by Master Douglas Stanbury, the well-known boy singer of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd H. Thompson have returned from their wedding trip and taken up their residence on Canterbury street.

RAILWAY CROSSINGS

Railway Commissioners Will Adjust Some Difficulties in St. Marys.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
St. Marys, June 14.—The Dominion board of railway commissioners will be in St. Marys on Friday, June 21, to adjust all matters of street crossings across the C. P. R. to the river, and other matters relating to the closing of a portion of James street by the G. T. R. and any complaints against either railway.

Mrs. James Jelliot, who went to visit her son at Lethbridge last fall, returned yesterday.

Mrs. George Baynes and son Judson are visiting in Hamilton.

DAVIDSON--BROWN

Pretty Vienna Girl Becomes the Wife of Young Aylmer Man.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Aylmer, June 13.—Miss Carrie Brown, second daughter of Mr. John Brown, of Vienna, and Edward Davidson, a highly-esteemed Aylmer young man, were quietly married at the Baptist parsonage yesterday at 4 o'clock, by Rev. G. H. Welch.

Miss Powell acted as bridesmaid, and the groom was supported by Earl Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson left to spend a short honeymoon in Detroit, after which they will reside in Aylmer. The marriage took place on Thursday last at the Central Methodist parsonage of Miss Jessie Merry, to Mr. Peter Middlemiss, both of Aylmer.

Dr. and Mrs. Wilson returned to London yesterday after spending a couple of days here.

Miss Edna Lyon, of Victoria Hospital, London, is spending her vacation with her parents here.

A petition has been circulated asking for the closing of the store in Aylmer every Wednesday afternoon during July and August. One merchant only refused to sign.

HARRISTON WEDDING

Miss Gertrude Lattimer Becomes the Wife of Charles Harris.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Harriston, June 13.—A quiet but very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Lattimer recently, when her niece, Miss Gertrude Lattimer, became the wife of Mr. Charles F. Harris, the bride, who was unattended, was gown in cream satin with embroidery and lace trimmings, and carried cream roses. After a dainty luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Harris left for London. Hamilton and Toronto, the bride travelling in a neat tailormade suit of navy blue serge with black hat.

COMBER

Comber, June 13.—Mrs. E. M. Hobson, of Cochrane, is spending a few days with relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Miss Susie Morris, who spent a year and a half in the Calgary and Edmonton district, has returned.

Rev. Mr. Atkinson, of Tilbury, preached in the Presbyterian Church here recently.

Mrs. C. S. Hare has left for St. Thomas and Tillsonburg for several weeks' visit.

The Epworth League of the Methodist Church will hold a garden party on the parsonage grounds on Friday evening, June 21. The Essex Brass Band will be in attendance.

WALLACEBURG

Wallaceburg, June 13.—Lee Bros. are repairing the North Branch bridge. The Ladies' Aid of Knox Church attended a meeting of the Dover Missionary Society at Dover yesterday. A dainty luncheon was served by the ladies of that place.

The case of George Greece against the Car Light Company was tried in Chatham on Tuesday and was settled in favor of Mr. Greece. Mr. J. S. Fraser, of Wallaceburg, appeared for Mr. Greece.

Mrs. J. R. Dunlop and Miss Gladys attended decoration day in Dresden yesterday.

Mrs. G. Greece and son George spent Wednesday in Dresden.

Mr. Hodge, of London, was the guest of Mr. John Scott recently.

Mrs. M. Davis left today for Cleveland to visit her sister, Mrs. J. Brodick.

Mr. George Colwell spent a few days in Chatham recently.

Mrs. J. Lee and Mrs. C. B. Jackson visited friends in Sarnia this week.

The play, "East Lynne," was given in Craner's Hall on Wednesday evening by a number of local people in aid of St. James' Church.

Mr. N. H. Ruthven spent yesterday here.

Miss Helen May, of Sombra, is the guest of Miss Ita Stonehouse.

Three Years in Kingston for Man Who Broke Into Nurses' Home.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Guelph, June 13.—Three years in the Kingston Penitentiary, to follow the expiration of his present term of one year in the Central Prison at Toronto, was the sentence handed out to Jas. O'Connor by Judge Chaswick at noon today. O'Connor, otherwise known as Connor, is the man who broke into the Nurses' Home at the general hospital in December last, and who was committed for trial by Magistrate Saunders.

While being conveyed to Berlin jail by Bailiff Ogg, on Dec. 18, he broke away at the Berlin station, assisted by his wife, who accompanied him there, and successfully eluded the officers. He reached Toronto, and was finally captured on a charge of trespass on the premises of W. J. Sackling, for which he got a year.

On being brought to Guelph and arraigned before Judge Chaswick, he pleaded guilty to breaking into the Nurses' Home, telling the judge that he had never stolen a cent in his life, but that he was a victim of the cocaine habit.

SEAFORTH MEET WAS A RECORD BREAKER

Fine Track Was in Perfect Condition on the Closing Day.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Seaforth, June 13.—The most successful race meet the Seaforth Turf Club have held closed today with an increased attendance. The weather was all that could be desired, and the track in perfect condition. Six horses raced the starter in the 2:14 pace, Paddy McKinley winning the first heat by a nose from Vera B., who came from nowhere at the head of the stretch, and almost caught Paddy at the wire. Vera B. won the next three heats without skip, the most consistent performer since the opening of the meet, and the favorite racehorse of the ladies who filled the stand.

Ethel Mc. won the 2:27 trot in a jog, and Jack Bingen fighting it out for the place, Ritchie won the 2:10 pace after losing the first heat to Asa Wilkes, whose win of the heat was due to skillful driving, coming from behind and making out Ritchie, though Asa Wilkes keenly contested every foot of the way till they turned into the stretch, when Ritchie drew away and won the three heats easily. St. Anthony used himself up doing the long miles, instead of trailing.

The 2:22 pace was won by Crescent Simmons in straight heats. Hetty Green showed phenomenal bursts of speed, but broke badly at intermediate times. The day's racing was most satisfactory to the turf patrons, and restored any loss of confidence the public had in the directors' and officials' endeavors to make the honest racing. Every driver did his utmost to win in every heat, a fact not disputed by anyone on the track. The horses go to Chatham tomorrow.

DISAPPEARED MYSTERIOUSLY AFTER DRIVING TO PETROLEA

Pinkerton Detectives Are Now at Work on Strange Case of Cameron Bissett in the Interests of Lodge—
Absolutely No Traces Found.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, June 13.—A poster received at the police station today from the Pinkerton Detective Agency, offering a reward of $50 for information concerning the present whereabouts of Cameron Bissett, if alive, or for reliable knowledge of his death, calls to mind the story of the man's disappearance fifteen years ago from his home in the Township of Brookfield, Lambton County. On July 7, 1897, Bissett, accompanied by his brother, drove to Petrolia with a load of oats. After arriving in the town he vanished, and from that day to this no trace of him has ever been found.

Numerous stories were circulated to account for his strange absence, many of them wild and improbable. The real truth, however, was never discovered. The missing man left a wife and three small children. Bissett at that time was taking treatment from a branch medical firm in Port Huron, which was run by a doctor named Johnson. The fraternal insurance order of the Knights of the Macabees are instituting the search for the lost man, who was a member of that order. The disappearance was one of the most baffling in the annals of Lambton County.

SEVENTY-FIVE TOMBSTONES OVERTURNED BY VANDALS

Outrage in Delmer Cemetery Is Being Investigated By Chief of Police Rogers, of Aylmer—Many Fine Monuments Were Smashed.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Delmer, June 14.—A great sensation has been caused here by an outrage committed in the burying ground. Some time within the last few hours unknown parties went in and overthrew seventy-five of the tombstones. Several fine monuments were badly smashed by the falls they received and many others are chipped and broken. The greatest indignation prevails throughout the whole district over the affair. The matter was reported to the police promptly, and a number of footprints that were left in the soil are being guarded so that the police may be able to follow the trail. It is stated that an important clue has been discovered which is expected shortly to result in an arrest.

FIGHT TWO GREAT EVILS BY PROVIDING PLAYGROUNDS

Cigarettes and Moving Picture Theatres Can Be Combated, Says Advocate.

At a Meeting of the Lorne Avenue Mothers' Club, held in the Lorne Avenue school Thursday night, Dr. Curtis and Rev. J. G. Inkster made an address on behalf of the playground movement.

The club was occupied by Mrs. Wilson, president of the club. Dr. Curtis explained the methods pursued in establishing playgrounds in other cities of the same size as London, pointing out that in Little Rock, Arkansas, he said that the playground movement would succeed in London just the same as it had in other places. Through the efforts of the Mothers' Club, which is a place where a large number of them can play together in some organized way. Another argument advanced in favor of the playgrounds was that the supervised playgrounds will be much cheaper in the end because the children will be satisfied with the playgrounds and will not ask for so much money for excursions and treats.

Organization Necessary. Rev. J. G. Inkster spoke briefly, and emphasized the need for organization. The importance of the playground movement is as great as the public school movement. To make a success three things are necessary—playgrounds, apparatus and a supervisor.

Principal Snegrove said he was in favor of the establishment of playgrounds in the city and believed that the great evils of childhood could be successfully combated, the cigarette and the five-cent theatre evils. In the discussion that followed, Dr. Curtis was asked if the establishment of playgrounds would not mean too much play for the children, and also what apparatus was needed for the first season. In answer to the first question, he said that the children are the hardest-worked people in the community. The apparatus necessary to commence a playground are slides, swings, running track, jumping pits, saws and grounds suitable for baseball and basketball.

A Committee Named. A committee, composed of Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. King, Mrs. Greenidge, Elmer Pigg and Principal Snegrove, was appointed to make arrangements for a thorough canvass of the district for funds for the establishment of a playground in the Lorne Avenue grounds.

what may happen in Chicago next week.

Taft Leaders Merry.

Taft leaders, declaring that the action of the national committee in selecting the Roosevelt delegates from Missouri, was indicative of its fairness, laughed at the predictions of Col. Roosevelt's followers, and the continued talk of a "dark horse" candidate loomed large.

Col. Roosevelt's leaders further declared that as the situation now stands the Taft forces actually count ten votes in their favor. Others insisted that yesterday's developments in seating Roosevelt delegates from Missouri left the President in possession of a bare majority on the temporary roll.

Fight Grows Intense.

The fight for the uncommitted delegates, the southern delegates and the 36 LaFollette delegates from Wisconsin and North Dakota today became intense. Every possible argument is being used by the campaign managers on both sides to get the advantage in these quarters. The Roosevelt men directed a concerted effort toward the southern delegates in attempting to make them believe that they would represent a certain majority against President Taft's side, both as to the nomination and matters pertaining to organization of the convention.

As a result of the limitation of the Taft-Roosevelt lines, the LaFollette delegation looms larger than ever as a strategic factor, and in the calculations of the managers of the other camps it ranks a close second to the uncommitted vote in the convention.

LaFollette's Chances. It was pointed out that if President Taft is not in absolute control of the convention from the start to finish, LaFollette will hold a balance of power. The question of debate among leaders was whether or not this possible balance would be used. Roosevelt leaders frankly said they expected the aid of the LaFollette strength in a combination to defeat United States Senator Eli Root as temporary delegate. To this end the Roosevelt forces have suggested that they would be willing to support any candidate for the temporary chairmanship that the LaFollette men might choose.

War L. Houser, Senator LaFollette's campaign manager, today, however, repeated his assertions to the effect that the LaFollette delegation would positively avoid all combinations of any character with any other candidate. Mr. Houser declared that the LaFollette organization is looking ahead only to the senator's political future, and the success of the policies which he has advocated in his fight through the various state primaries.

Wm. Barnes, Jun., of New York, in a declaration tabulated personally announced that President Taft would

LA FOLLETTE'S CHANCE

Expected That the Wisconsin Senator Will Hold the Balance of Power.

[Canadian Press.]

Chicago, June 11.—Delegates to the Republican national convention, in anticipation of the coming to Chicago of Col. Roosevelt, and a history-making episode in Republican politics, today went back to the first nomination efforts to find a parallel for the fight being waged here.

Roosevelt men, kept at a high pitch by frequent conferences and meetings, in which their leaders attack the actions of the national committee with bitterness, pointed to the death of the old Whig party as their theory of have 574 votes on the temporary roll-call of the convention. If this claim be found correct when the national committee completes the hearing of delegates tomorrow, the President would have a majority on paper of exactly seventy votes over the combined opposition.

When the situation affecting the possible winning of Taft delegates to the Roosevelt side was discussed, the Taft leaders insisted that even heroic efforts to that end would be futile, in the face of the President's strength on paper. They pointed out that from their figures Roosevelt would have only 458 votes, that it would be necessary to capture 36 southern delegates in order to get control of the convention out of the hands of the President's supporters, and that then it would be necessary to get 46 delegates more, the number instructed for La Follette and Cummings, in order to nominate Col. Roosevelt.

Many of the Roosevelt leaders concede the improbability of the nomination of Col. Roosevelt on the first ballot, but at the same time say that President Taft cannot muster enough votes to adopt the report of the committee on credentials. Here is the point where they claim the Taft ship will go on the rocks. The credentials committee, it is admitted by many, will be similar to the national committee.

Principal interest today centred on the coming of Senator Root, the joint of the national committee, in the contest hearings, and a score of impassioned addresses by leaders of both sides at various meetings of delegates.

WHITE'S PICNIC A BIG SUCCESS

Employees of Big East End Factory Held Annual Outing at Springbank.

SOME EXCELLENT SPORTS

C. P. R. Team Won Tug-of-War Contest—Special Features Were Very Amusing.

Ideal weather, a large crowd, good street car service, were the opening features of the most successful annual picnic yet held by the employees of the George White & Sons Company, Limited, at Springbank, yesterday. After the races, a friendly tug-of-war was pulled between the C. P. R. team and George White & Sons' team, resulting in a win, by a small margin, by the C. P. R. combination.

The foundry also pulled tug-of-war against the shop combination, resulting in a win by the shop.

Free candy and nuts and tickets for the merry-go-round were supplied to all the little folks on the grounds.

One of the features of the picnic was the decidedly artistic costume of the young ladies and the jodels of the office staff, led by the sales manager.

Another feature worthy of mention was the efficient police protection provided by Sergeant W. H. White, assisted by the King of Dahomey (Mr. James Robertson), and Messrs. Harry Brown and James Quimby, in character costume.

Mexican Rebels Create Devastation While On the March.

[Canadian Press.]

Sanita Rosal, Mexico, June 13.—Hidalgos at the devastation of the rebels on their northward march, residents of their revolution have become bitter against the revolutionists, and as a consequence Gen. Huerta could have thousands of recruits for the asking. This section had been stripped of provisions, horses and staples, which isolated farmers had provided for themselves with difficulty.

Two stations north of here, on the Mexican Central, the rebels have just taken silver are valued at $20,000, and three tons of medium grades silver metal. The silver was owned by the Nalco Mining Company, and the rebels are reported by federal agents to have gone to Chihuahua en route to Juarez, to convert their loot into money.

Gas Range Baking Is Healthful Baking

Baking in a gas range is done by the circulation of heated air. Fresh air is continually drawn in at the bottom of the ovens, is heated by the burning gas, passes around and over the food, and then out, after it has done its work. There is no dead heat inclosed in air-tight boxes. Fresh-heated air does the work; the process is thoroughly hygienic.

The Hygienic Oven is the Ventilated Oven; it is unsafe to use any other.

The Sensible Gas Range—the Cabinet—has two ovens heated by one flame—ovens so conveniently placed that you are bound to use them.

These ranges may be seen in various sizes in our Appliance Store.

FIGHTING THE FLOOD.

New Orleans, June 13.—A desperate fight is being waged in La Fourche and adjoining parishes to keep the flood waters of the Mississippi from inundating several valuable sugar plantations, the flooding of which will increase property loss by the thousands. Several plantation owners have given up the contest as hopeless, and are moving what property they can. Live stock by the hundreds, isolated in La Fourche parish, are almost certain to die of starvation.

OBJECTION MADE TO NEW SWITCH

Trafalgar St. People Say Railway Line Has Blocked
Lansdowne Ave.

CLAIM IT IS ILLEGAL

City Will at Once See That Permission
Given McClary Manufacturing Company Is Made Legal—
Mayor Gives His Opinion.

The track from the Pere Marquette Railway to the McClary Manufacturing Company's plant on Trafalgar street was the cause of a difference of opinion at the meeting of the board of works last night between Mayor Graham and Mr. J. H. Vining, barrister, who is representing some of the residents of the street, who object to the switch crossing the street.

Mr. Vining took the position that the city council had no power, nor any right, to allow the company to cross the street with a switch without the consent of the Dominion Railway Commission.

Mayor Graham disputed with him, saying the council not only had the right to give permission, but that they were acting in the best interests of the people of the city.

No Right, Says Mr. Vining.
"The council of 1912 had no right to give the McClary Manufacturing Company or anybody else permission to cross Trafalgar street," declared Mr. Vining. "It is not fair to the people in that neighborhood. It practically blocks the street south to Lansdowne avenue. Their interests would have been consulted. The Dominion Railway Commission has the authority in such matters."

"The city council knew what it was doing," declared Mayor Graham. "It was taking upon itself. The aldermen are endeavoring to build up the city, and took this means of assisting the McClary Manufacturing Company. Many cities would give half it owned to have such a manufacturing establishment locate there. What has been done wrongly will be made right."

"We will take steps to prevent any further construction work," declared Mr. Vining. "The switch had no business going down there, and we will see that it is removed."

However, after some discussion the matter was referred to City Solicitor Meredith, with instructions from the board of works that the transaction be made legal by by-law or other means, as Mr. Meredith saw fit.

Mr. Vining announced that an injunction would be issued on behalf of the residents of that district. If the tracks were not immediately removed, Mayor Graham stated that the track would not come up, and it seems as if a legal tangle may follow.

City Engineer Wright reported on the condition of a number of dumps throughout the city, and declared them to be a rather bad shape. The communication was referred to the board of health, who will take action.

He also recommended the laying of a bituminous pavement on Stanley street. The committee agreed to initiate the work at once, and tenders will be called for at an early date. The city will tender also, in order that a proper price may be secured.

The advisability of a stone crusher to cost $2,000 will be considered by the committee later.

The petition of the ward foremen and city workmen for a half holiday on Saturday was laid over for further consideration.

Other minor matters were disposed of. Those present were: Ald. Robinson (chairman), Ald. Moore, Ald. Coles, Ald. Blundford, Mayor Graham, City Engineer Wright, and Secretary S. Baker.

TEDDY TO VISIT CHICAGO

May Start for the Convention City Today.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 13.—In all probability Theodore Roosevelt will go to Chicago, and there is a possibility that he will start for the convention city tomorrow. But late tonight the colonel would not say whether or not he will accede to the requests he is receiving from his lieutenants already on the ground and join them in the belief that such an announcement will come certainly sometime tomorrow.

The colonel is of the opinion that what he terms the theft of the delegates in Arizona, and particularly of the two delegates in California, has stirred up so much feeling among his followers that they are justified in demanding his presence, not merely as a presidential candidate, but as the leader in the fight of the "plain people" against the bosses. He is giving careful consideration to what his advisers in Chicago suggest, but does not propose to make up his mind until he has heard in full their reasons for wanting him to come in spite of his repeated objections to such a course.

WHEAT FREE INTO FRANCE.

Paris, June 13.—The Chamber of Deputies today passed a bill admitting wheat free on condition that an equivalent weight of flour is exported from France by the importer within three months, or an equivalent weight of biscuits within four months. The high price of wheat and its scarcity have been causing considerable apprehension in France, and it is believed that this action will temporarily relieve the market.

WHERE MORGAN GOT THAT $25,000,000

Evidence That U. S. Treasury,
Not J. P., Lent It to Banks.

MONEY TRUST INQUIRY

United States Government Deposited
About $42,000,000 During the Wall Street Panic.

New York, June 13.—Evidence intended to show that the $25,000,000 which J. P. Morgan has been generally credited with placing upon the New York Stock Exchange during the panic of 1907, was actually supplied by the treasury of the United States, was introduced today at the hearing of the Fido committee investigating the so-called money trust. Senator Underhill, counsel for the committee, claimed from George B. Cortelyou, secretary of the treasury under the Roosevelt administration, who came to New York during the panic, the assertion that he "understood" that the money loaned by the Government to the banks at that time was to be used on the stock exchange.

From the New York sub-treasury, the attorney secured a statement showing that on the day, Oct. 24, on which Mr. Morgan told R. H. Thomas, president of the exchange, to announce the $25,000,000 loan to the exchange loan brokers, the Government had deposited with the banks nearly $29,000,000.

From Charles Steele, a partner of J. P. Morgan, he obtained a statement showing what fourteen banks had "agreed to loan" to the Stock Exchange on that day. The total amount "agreed to" was $23,550,000, of which the amount actually loaned, according to the statement, was $18,945,000. All these banks, the sub-treasury statement showed, had previously received deposits of Government money.

The statement from the sub-treasury was secured after Mr. Underhill had failed in efforts to obtain from Mr. Cortelyou the names of the banks in which had been deposited the Government funds which, the former Secretary of the treasury testified, amounted to about $42,000,000 during the course of the panic disturbance. Mr. Cortelyou, who is now president of the Consolidated Gas Company, carried the attorney's questions on the subject, and finally said that he could not recall specifically.

After hearing the testimony of witnesses in regard to practices of the New York Stock Exchange, which Mr. Underhill characterized as "contrary to the law of the land," the hearing was adjourned since the Chairman Fido announced that future hearings of the committee would be held in Washington.

PEERS STAY YOUNG DESPITE THE YEARS

Remarkable Instances of the Truth of the Theory That Age Is In The Mind.

London, June 13.—That a man is just as young as he feels is well exemplified in the British peerage. There are many to whom the allotted span is meaningless. The Earl of Methven, for instance, is yet quite a boy, despite the fact that he has seen 71 summers—and winters. He is still quite an athlete in his way. To a "youth" who would not miss a day with the hounds if he could help it, his march of fourteen miles through Surrey with a party of girl guides the other day was nothing.

And there are others in the House of Lords who are still keen, alert youngsters of 50 or more, who show remarkable activity, though they would be the last to admit that they are able to do more than what is expected of them. Three of the most notable instances are Lord Strathmore, Lord Wenman, and Lord Halsbury, the first two of whom are called nonagenarians, but whose looks and actions are those of men in their prime.

Miss E. Bake entertained the Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church yesterday.

WOMEN IN ANGLICAN VESTRIES FAVORED BY SYNOD OF HURON

Deconcesses for the Diocese Likely To Be Result of Resolution Passed—Religious Teaching in the Schools and Revival of Family Prayer Under Discussion.

This year's synod bids fair to go down in history as the one in which women church workers were first recognized in the Diocese of Huron. At the afternoon session a communication was received from the Women's Auxiliary of the church in Canada, saying that they were prepared to train women workers for service in the diocese. Bishop Williams favored the idea, and when several delegates inquired if it was not against the policy of the synod to intrust such work to women, he said: "We have no deconcesses in the diocese at present, but I hope we shall have them soon." The synod then passed a resolution, ordering that the communication be sent to every clergyman in the diocese, with the request that he read it to his congregation and learn their wishes on the question.

A Radical Departure.
In the evening a still more radical departure was made, when at the closing of the synod a resolution was passed asking Bishop Williams to appoint a committee to consider the question of admitting women to membership in the church vestries. John Ramsford of Clinton made the motion, which was seconded by Mr. Henry Macklin, of London. It was pointed out that women are already allowed membership in the vestries of many Canadian dioceses, notably Ottawa and Montreal. The motion was carried by a substantial majority.

Revive Family Prayer.
Another subject of importance to the church which was passed upon by the synod is the revival of family prayer. Bishop Williams expressed himself very strongly on this subject, and offered to draw up a service for use in the homes of church people until such time as a regular formula for family worship can be added to the ritual of the church in this diocese.

Religion and Public Schools.
In considering the report of the committee on religious education in the public schools, in which the committee of synod recommended that a system of Bible study similar to that in the church of England should be introduced throughout Canada, the bishop urged that the provincial synod be memorialized to ask the Government for a referendum on this subject. "I have closely examined the books used in the schools," said his lordship, "and I find they deal most impartially with Hinduism, Mohammedanism and Confucianism. All the great religions of the world are treated with a delightful impartiality, and there is nothing to distinguish Christianity from any of the others." In Australia recently, when a referendum was taken on the admission of Bible teaching in the public schools, much to the astonishment of politicians, the people sustained the idea by an overwhelming majority. I feel sure that if the people had the right to express themselves on this question, we should get what we want. Therefore, I think we should ask the provincial synod to petition the Legislature for a referendum."

This met with the approval of the synod, and will be attended to at once.
The Committees.
Committees were selected by the synod as follows:
Committee on civil census as regards church—Revs. R. S. W. Howard, S. P. Irwin, C. E. Jenkins, G. P. B. Doherty, Messrs. J. C. Judd, H. Macklin, C. B. Hunt, Judge Ermatinger.
Corresponding committee—C. E. Jenkins, Rev. J. W. Andrew, Rev. Canon Tucker, Messrs. Charles Jenkins, Matthew Wilson.
Religious instruction in public schools—Revs. Canon Craig, J. B. Fotheringham, C. R. Gunne, T. S. A. Wright, Messrs. G. M. Varney, John Ramsford, Dr. Moorhouse, N. S. Gurd.
Social and moral reform—Dr. Tucker, R. W. Norwood, T. B. Clarke, A. Carlisle, Judge Holt, J. C. Judd, John Lane, C. C. Hodgins.
Committee on Huron College jubilee—Archdeacon Richardson, Canon Craig, A. Carlisle, F. H. Brown, Judge

Ermatinger, A. F. Nash, C. P. Hunt, Inter-diocese reciprocity—Rev. Canon Craig, Rev. Canon Davis, F. P. Betts, Judge Ermatinger.
Committee on clergy relief—John Ramsford, Chancellor Cronyn, Col. Fisher.
Depository—Rev. Canon Downie, Canon Craig, E. Appleby, T. H. Luscombe, Henry Macklin.
Huron College council representatives—Rev. Canon Hicks, C. B. Hunt (each for four years).
Committee to investigate subject of women voting in vestries—Rev. Canon Hicks, J. W. J. Andrews, T. A. Wright, Dr. Tucker, Messrs. John Ramsford, Charles Jenkins, H. Macklin, F. P. Betts.
Sunday school committee—Revs. R. S. W. Howard, R. J. M. Perkins, W. J. Doherty, Canon Downie, A. Carlisle, R. W. Norwood, F. H. Brown, Messrs. W. E. Risping, J. G. Cronyn, John B. Judd, P. Nash, C. C. Hodgins, J. K. H. Pope, A. E. Welch.
A. Y. P. A.—Revs. C. R. Gunne, C. E. Jenkins, S. J. S. Adamson, R. Norwood, H. Snell, J. B. Fotheringham, C. C. Purton, Messrs. A. H. Backus, Charles Hodgins, F. W. Wilson, S. Hodgins, J. McCadden.

Resolutions of thanks were passed to Rev. R. W. Norwood, Rev. J. G. J. Andrew, Rev. Dr. Tucker, Dr. Renison, the clerical secretary, Canon Hicks, the lay secretary, John Ramsford, city clergy, Rev. G. Doherty, the press and others.
Owing to an error in the counting of clerical ballots for the executive committee of the Synod of Huron it became necessary to order a recount, with the result that Dean W. G. Ridley and Rural Dean Diehl were added to the list of those elected. Because of this error the final returns of the election, which was held early in the day, was delayed until nearly midnight.

NINETEEN YEARS ADDED TO TERM OF JAIL BREAKERS
Arthur Bonnar, Western Desperado, Pleaded For Clemency
With Such Eloquence and Ability That Judge Promised to Aid in Getting Sentence Suspended.

Kingston, June 12.—Two years' hard labor for escaping and seventeen years for assaulting penitentiary officers, was the severe sentence imposed upon each of the prisoners Arthur Bonnar and Frank Jones by Judge Madden today in the court of general sessions. Jones and Kelly, with Bonnar and Brown, assaulted their keepers and boldly walked out of the big prison in broad daylight on April 29, and were afterwards captured.

Kelly and Brown pleaded guilty, but Bonnar and Jones sprang a surprise by pleading not guilty. Each one conducted his own case, and they put the guards from the penitentiary through a close cross-examination. Judge commending Bonnar on the way he had conducted his case. He is a polished young Englishman, and with a great flow of language, and he made an eloquent appeal on his own behalf, and helped Jones in his case. Both also addressed the jury, which, however, found the evidence straight against the prisoners, and took very little time in returning a verdict.

TOOK TO THE BOATS.
New York, June 13.—The shipwrecked crew of the schooner Judge Pennell, Captain R. Moore and six seamen, were brought into port today by the steamer Santiago from Havana, which picked them up from a lifeboat off Cape Hatteras last Monday.

The sailing vessel which left here on May 29 bound for Jacksonville, Florida, came laden, ran into a heavy gale on the night of Friday, June 7. The crew, according to Capt.

Judge Deeply Impressed.

Bonnar has also to stand trial on a charge of assaulting Guard Caughey in Toronto on March 12, at the time the prisoners tried to escape from the train, and Brown must answer to the charge of assaulting Deputy Warden O'Leary at Toronto station. These cases were held over until the December sessions to allow the prisoners to secure witnesses.

The plea made by Bonnar for a chance to make good, was one of the best ever heard in the court house, and Judge Madden was much impressed with him, and said he would keep that on him, also stating that he would allow him the privilege of applying for the Governor-General's certificate for suspended sentence, on this last charge after he had served his present term.

Jones and Kelly are serving fifteen years for attempted murder in Winnipeg. Bonnar served seven years for house stealing, and Brown eight years for kidnapping Miss Gladys Price, a school teacher of Hinch, Ont., near Snow Lake, Manitoba.

Only One Seat Goes By Acclamation Out of Forty-Six.

VERY LIVELY CAMPAIGN

Parties at Dissolution Stood Thirty-Four For Conservatives and Twelve For Liberals.

St. John, N. B., June 13.—Nominations in the provincial elections took place today, and the Government secured one seat by acclamation. Mr. McIntyre, one of the Opposition in Northumberland, withdrawing. A downpour of rain all over the province interfered with a large attendance at the hustings.

The campaign, which bid fair to be dull at the first, now promises to be lively, and both sides profess confidence in the result on June 20. Polling in Gloucester County is deferred until June 24.

There were 46 seats in the New Brunswick Legislature at dissolution, besides two vacant ones, newly created. The parties stood: Government 34, Opposition 12.

The Hon. John Morrissey, commissioner of public works, in the Flemington Government, who is running in Northumberland, is a Liberal. His three colleagues on the Government ticket are Conservatives.

MORE PROTECTION FOR THE RAILWAY YARDS

Dominion Commission Will Ask
the Companies To Furnish Necessary Safeguards.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, June 13.—A draft order has been prepared by the railway commission and will be issued within a month, unless the railways can show cause to the contrary, making certain regulations in regard to railway yards with a view of protecting the employees. The order is a result of the memorial of the Trainmen's Association of Canada. It provides that railroads companies under the board's jurisdiction shall file with the board before Oct. 1 a statement of its yards, showing the distance the yard limit boards are located from the outer switches of such yards.

COMMISSION MAY ORDER CARS HEATED

Question of More Comfortable
Travelling For the Public
Under Consideration.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, June 13.—The railway commission is taking up the question of heat in railway cars. At the sittings to be held here on July 2 railway companies, subject to the board's jurisdiction, will be required to show cause why a general order should not issue requiring railway companies to furnish a heated car service. A circular has been sent out to the companies asking them to prepare and forward to the board within two months a statement showing the number of passenger cars on their systems heated by stoves and to what service assigned.

TURNING LORD'S DAY INTO A HOLIDAY

Anglican Synod Passed a Resolution
Against the Practice.

The Anglican Synod at its session on Thursday passed a resolution condemning the lack of Sabbath observance noted in the province at the present time. Several of the delegates, both lay and clerical, spoke of the absence of interest being manifested of late in church matters. The attendance on Sunday was not what it ought to be, many of the church members spending the Sabbath motoring, or in some other form of amusement, instead of going to the church. Strong efforts will be made by the clergy to impress upon their parishioners the necessity of attending church regularly.

The resolution passed was as follows:

"While much has been done by legislation to conserve one day in seven as a day of rest, it is to be feared that there is a growing tendency among all classes of people, and especially among the leisure classes, to turn the Lord's Day into a holiday instead of observing it as a holy day. God has placed his signature upon the day. It is the Lord's Day, and men are trying to rob God of that day. It is an evidence of this, on Sunday morning men are to be seen wending their way by rail or boat, by horse or automobile, for excursions, to excursions, to the golf links, or other places of amusement. With the increase of summer recreation, the neglect of public worship is becoming more noticeable. From these and other causes multitudes are injured in their own souls and robbing God of that which rightfully belongs to him. Many regard regular attendance at public worship as a matter of no importance. The church should follow the example of her master in impressing upon the public the spirit, rather than the letter of the law, and lead them to seek to do good at all times and to use the Lord's Day in particular for the building up of the spiritual life in worship and in service."

COULD NOT SWEEP FLOOR

Was So Terribly Afflicted
With Lame Back.

It is hard to do housework with a weak and aching back, and no woman can be strong and healthy unless the kidneys are well.

The weak, lame and aching back comes from sick kidneys and should be attended to immediately so as to avoid years of terrible suffering from kidney trouble. Mrs. Harvey W. Brownell, Northport, N.S., writes:—"I now take pleasure in writing you, stating the benefit I received by using Doan's Kidney Pills. About a year ago I was terribly afflicted with lame back, and was so bad at times I could not sweep my own floor. While looking through your B.B.B. Almanac I saw Doan's Kidney Pills were a great remedy, so thought I would try a box or two. After using five boxes I was completely cured, and I am very thankful to have found so speedy a cure."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. In ordering direct specify "Doan's."

ALVINSTON PIONEER DIES FROM PARALYSIS

John A. Morwood Was for Many Years Prominent in Public Life.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Alvinston, June 12.—Word was received here today of the death of Mr. John A. Morwood, who passed away as the result of a paralytic stroke at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. Greenfield, of Canadara. Deceased was in his 76th year, and was an old and well-known resident of Alvinston. He was formerly reeve and a village councillor. Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters—Mrs. J. L. McSpalden, of Denton, Mich., and Mrs. W. Greenfield, and one son, J. R. Morwood, of Alvinston. The remains arrived over the M. C. R. this afternoon and were conveyed to his late home. The funeral notice will appear later. J. R. and Charles Morwood accompanied the remains home.

More than 25 members were added to the local W. C. T. U. as a result of Mrs. Gordon Wright's splendid addresses in the Methodist Church recently. At the evening meeting the church was crowded. The choir and Mr. Norworthy assisted in the programme. Mrs. Malcolm C. Munro and daughter, Mrs. John Seeger, of Kilmartin, were guests of Mrs. A. E. McAlpine on their way home after visiting the former's son, J. C. Munro, of St. Clair.

C. Misner and A. A. Bindner motored to London recently.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brown and Master Jack, of Toronto, are guests of Mrs. J. A. McKenzie.

Alvinston won from Watford by a score of 9-8 here last night in a game of baseball. Herdon Newcomb acted as umpire, and a large crowd saw the contest.

Mrs. John A. McKenzie has returned from a visit in Toronto.

Miss Nena George, of Bryan, Ohio, was here recently on her way to Huntsville, where she played the wedding march at the wedding of Miss J. Davis.

Cuban Refugees at New York
Say Situation On Island
Is Critical.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 13.—Many refugees from Cuba, who closed up their business places and private houses to come to the United States until the insurrection on the island is quelled, arrived in New York today by the New York and Cuba mail steamship Saratoga. It was said that of the hundred passengers aboard more than half were refugees.

Dr. C. De La Torre, a professor at the University of Havana, with his wife, two children and five other members of his family, said they all came here pending settlement of affairs at home.

"The situation throughout Cuba is most critical," said Dr. Torre, "and I very much doubt if even the United States can quell the trouble. We all very much feared a big break last Sunday, as that day was fixed by the rebels to begin a universal revolution. It was expected, as had been advertised, that the city of Havana was to be ransacked. Fortunately rain fell heavily on Saturday and Sunday, and this prevented the crowd from holding a public demonstration."

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE DOING GREAT WORK

Speakers at Big Annual Meeting at Napier Gave Impressive Statistics.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Napier, June 13.—A very successful meeting of the Napier Women's Institute was held in the town hall yesterday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Wm. Gardiner, in a very efficient manner, occupied the chair. The sister organization of the neighborhood had been invited, and while the guests were arriving, Miss Nettie Meloché provided gramophone selections.

A splendid programme was rendered, including vocal selections by Miss Irene Gough, Miss Iola Mackey, and recitations by Miss Melita Moore and Miss Retta Field. The main address of the afternoon was delivered by Miss R. Chisholm, of Brighton, on "Canadian Women." It was an inspiration as well as a revelation of the grand character of the work, and the high ideal of the Women's Institute organizations, and it truly emphasized the value of the noble motto of its women, "For Home and Country."

The speaker urged the importance of securing a district representative from the Government for the purpose of delivering a series of lectures in the various organizations. She stated that the Women's Institute is thirteen years old in the Province of Ontario, and is found here alone in the Dominion. It, however, has organizations in 23 counties, representing 8,000,000 women. It stands second only in strength to the W. C. T. U., which leads the women's organizations of the world. Its great aim is to keep pure and protect the home, and thus develop the nation.

After this address Mrs. Richard Dunlop, who has been a resident of Napier for a number of years, and who shortly leaves our midst, was called to the front. An address to her was read by Miss Lulu McLean, and on behalf of the Napier organization, the president, Mrs. Gardiner, presented her with two handsome brass candlesticks, to which she very gracefully replied, expressing her regret at departure, and gratitude for the expression of kindness.

After a few remarks by Mrs. Cumminford, of Strathroy, on "District Work," and by Mrs. M. Campbell, the president of the Alvinston branch, and by Mrs. Connor, of Alvinston, the meeting closed.

A social time followed, and over 70 women, including representatives from Alvinston, Strathroy, etc., sat down to a dainty lunch.

MORMON MISSIONARIES CLASH WITH MINISTER

Montreal Clergyman Wants Them Excluded From the Docks.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, June 14.—Efforts are being made by local church people to have Mormon missionaries from Salt Lake City barred from the docks of Montreal, where they have been in the habit of meeting young women emigrants from England. This week the antagonism between the church and the missionaries here and the Mormons came to a head, when a Presbyterian minister, Rev. J. Chisholm, of Montreal, threatened to use force if they persisted in their attempts to get two girls bound for Toronto to go to Salt Lake City instead.

The Mormons tried to have Mr. Chisholm ejected from the dock, but the local police prevented this. Mr. Chisholm has laid a complaint with the Ministerial Association, who will consider it.

Both in material and workmanship, is and ever will be maintained. Do not sacrifice tone quality and the satisfaction that is attained only by having a high-grade piano, in the mistaken attempt to save a few dollars at the start.

YOUR PIANO SHOULD REPRESENT A LIFELONG PURCHASE.

It is used every day, year in and year out—and plays an important part in your home life. The few extra dollars that you invest now in having a Mason & Risch Piano will soon be forgotten, while the pleasure and satisfaction of having the best is before you as long as you live.

ESSON'S MOTHER AT HIS BEDSIDE ALWAYS

Young Petrolea Man Has Little Chance of Recovery From Pneumonia.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Sarnia, June 14.—Deputy Sheriff Rushon, of Port Huron, who returned yesterday from Ionia, where George Eason, of Petrolea, is confined on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Thomas Major, stated that Eason is dangerously ill of pneumonia. The prison physicians do not believe that he has much chance of recovery. His mother is at his bedside daily. The rumor which was in circulation today that the young prisoner died last night has not been confirmed.
The Northern Navigation Company's big passenger steamer Hamonic, which should arrive here today, will not reach Sarnia until Sunday. The boat is being fitted out with a new propeller at the Soo.
The coroner's jury, which held an inquest last night into the death of William Palmer, who died sitting in a chair at the Hotel St. Clair, decided that the deceased succumbed from the excessive use of alcohol, for which he himself was to blame.
The friends of Dr. Bentley, of this town, are congratulating him on his appointment as district health officer under the new health act recently passed by the Provincial Legislature. The district comprises six counties, with headquarters at London.

A merry throng of young children from the Ross Memorial Church here pleasantly surprised Mrs. (Rev.) J. E. Holmes last evening at the home of Mrs. John Dyer, when she was presented with a pendant, having brooch attachment, in the form of a four-leaved clover, set with topaz surrounded by pearls. Many warm friends regret the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Holmes from Sarnia for their new home in Ridgeway.

KICKED BY A HORSE

Mr. Stamp, of Pottersburg, Seriously Injured.
Mr. Stamp, overseer for Mr. R. McKendrick, farmer of Pottersburg, met with a serious accident on Thursday when he was driving a three horse team and one of the animals kicked him in the chest, breaking three ribs. Although the doctors do not anticipate any serious results from the accident, Mr. Stamp will be confined to his house for some time.

DARED TO DEATH.

St. Joseph, Mo., June 14.—Philip Scheite and Henry Ellmore, young men, were found dead in their room today, having swallowed strychnine in beer last night, after they had dared each other to do so.

"Wheah you goin', Bill?"
"Nowheahs."
"You must be goin' somewheahs or you wouldn't be heah."
"Yough foolish. Ah'm jes' comin' back."

CANCER REMAINS DEEP MYSTERY

Noted English Physician Attacks Disease With a Vegetable Diet.

DROPS USE OF THE KNIFE

Another Expert Says Scourge Has Increased With Increased Use of Meat.

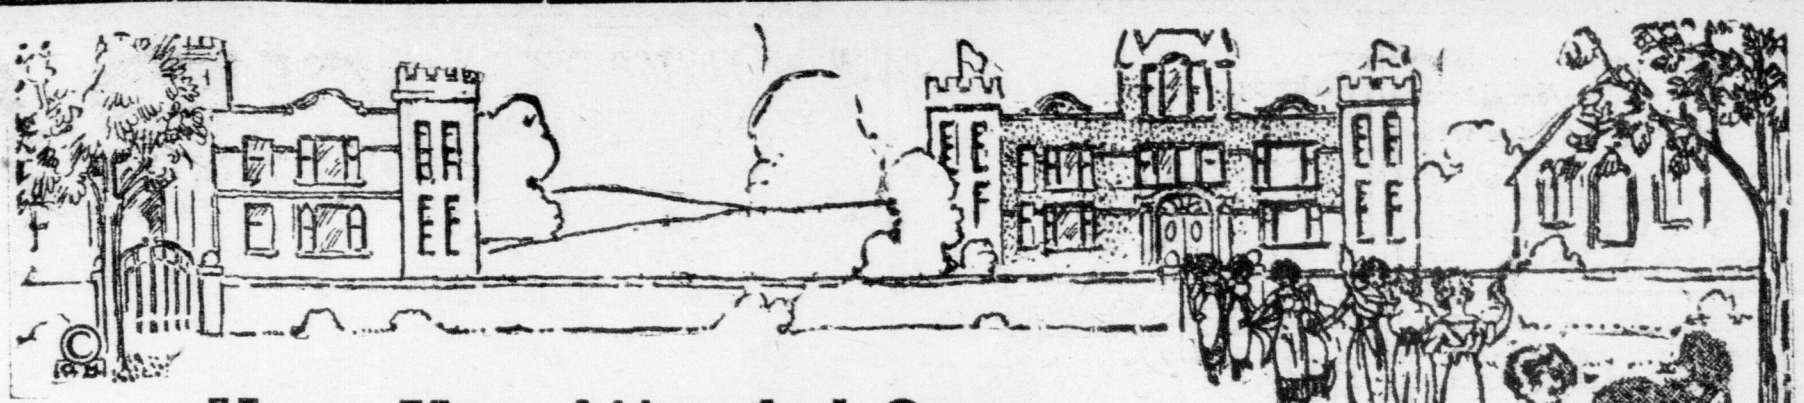

[Canadian Press.]
New York, June 14.—A London cable says:

Owing to the sensational testimony yesterday on the causes and cure of cancer in a trial suit brought by Dr. Robert Bell, an aged Mayfair physician, against Dr. E. A. Bashford, superintendent of the Imperial Cancer Research Fund, physicians and the public generally are deeply interested in the case. The court room was crowded, many physicians and women being present.

Dr. Bell gave up the use of the knife in cancer cases in 1894, and the present action grows out of an article headed "Cancer, Credulity and Quackery" written by Dr. Bashford, and published in the British Medical Journal. The article contained statements which Dr. Bell contends practically accuse him of being a quack, an impostor and unfit to practice.

New Treatment.
In the treatment of cancer now Dr. Bell prescribes a vegetable diet, his theory being that the cause of the disease may be traced to impurity of the blood. Dr. Bashford maintains that this treatment is ineffective, and that the theory is erroneous, but disclaims any prejudice against experimentation with new methods of curing the dread disease.

Under cross-examination Dr. Bashford admitted that many eminent surgeons agreed that the blood had to be treated to cure cancer. Dr. Bashford said that since 1860 in England and Wales cancer deaths among males had increased from 200 to 800, and among females from 500 to 1,500 in the 1,000,000. He said there were 30,000 deaths a year now from the disease, due to the great increase in cases of cancer of the stomach and intestines.

Dr. Bashford said atoxical treatment was dangerous, as, according to Prof. Koch, it produced blindness. In reply to the question whether during the period in which the number of cancers had doubled the importation of meat had been doubled also, Dr. Bashford replied that he believed that to be the case.

Dr. Walter Barlow, director of the Cancer Research Department of Middlesex Hospital, then testified that his department had inquired into many suggested methods of treating cancer other than by surgery, had tried the effect of thyroid extract, X-ray, herbal applications, serum and radium water, which, he explained, is water containing radium or containing gas given off by radium, and found none of them curative. The knife alone as a rule had effected cures, he said. He declared that cancer was not a blood disease. As a result of many experiments he had found no difference in the blood of cancerous and non-cancerous cases. Dr. Barlow also said that all physicians would look upon it as a great boon if a method other than surgery could be found.

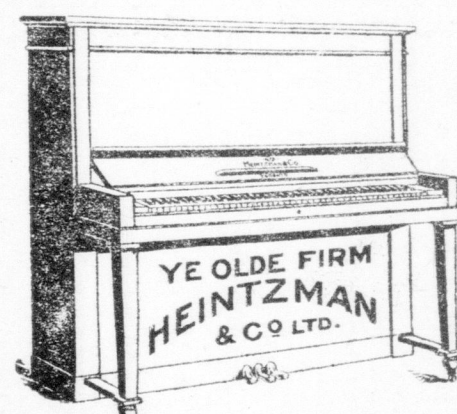

Two "BIKE" THIEVES GIVEN THEIR LIBERTY
Got Off as Easily in London as They Did in St. Thomas.

The two Toronto lads who a few days ago stole six bicycles in this city, and who after riding two of them to St. Thomas, offered them for sale, proved to be more fortunate than Ethbert Abel, who was given six months in the Central Prison for a similar offence, and were allowed to go on suspended sentence by Police Magistrate Maguire. They were recorded the same leniency in St. Thomas, where they pleaded guilty to burglarizing a shoe store.
The young men, both of whom are of well-to-do parentage, one the nephew of a well-known Ontario clergyman, readily admitted stealing all of the six wheels which were recovered by the police in the shops of second-hand dealers, to whom they had been sold by the culprits.
The boys returned to Toronto accompanied by relatives.
Abel last week pleaded guilty to stealing four bicycles and a small quantity of tobacco, and despite the plea of his 18-year-old wife and infant, was given six months.

COMMON CARRIERS.

Washington, June 13.—The interstate commerce commission today held that pipe line companies transporting oil between the states are common carriers, with the obligations of such and ordered thirteen of the largest oil pipe lines to file schedules of rates by Sept. 1 and to comply with the provisions of the interstate commerce act.

HEINTZMAN & CO. PIANOS

When you buy a Heintzman & Co. Piano you make a much shrewder bargain than your neighbor who did not, and who will regret it, as a cheap piano will lose its quality of tone and get tinny; whereas a genuine Heintzman & Co. Piano improves, getting richer, mellower, and with that deep, resonant, singing quality of tone.

Just Think of This!

69 Musicians in London out of a number of 72 have purchased and are using

Heintzman & Co. Pianos

Is this not convincing evidence of the superiority of Heintzman & Co. Pianos over all others made in Canada? And remember, in buying a Piano, it pays to buy the best, as it is a purchase for a lifetime.

Your old instrument taken as part payment and full value allowed.

OILING THE ROAD

Pottersburg People Are Determined to Keep Down the Dust.

That strip of Dundas street from the city limits to the bridge at Pottersburg, about a mile and a half long, has recently been oiled, and the residents along the road are greatly pleased with the results obtained so far. The automobile owners are not as well satisfied, however, as the oil tends to make the life of a tire much shorter.

CHINESE LOAN MUDDLE.

London, June 13.—An early settlement of the negotiations in connection with the proposed Chinese loan is anticipated here.

The Japanese Government has intimated its willingness to withdraw its demand that recognition of Japan's special interests in Manchuria had been included in the bankers' agreement, if the bankers will place it on record that this is a matter for the powers, and not for financiers to deal with. Russia's acquiescence in Japan's demand is expected to be given and is awaited shortly.

BACK FROM ANTARCTIC.

London, June 13.—Two members, Cheatham and Chisold, of Commander Scott's

Antarctic expedition, arrived at Plymouth last night. The men said they were confident their leader had reached the South Pole, and added that but for the early formation of ice, Scott would have reached home this year. They were greatly disappointed to learn that Amundsen had first reached the pole, but point out that fine weather and a good route were great speed factors in the Norseman's success.

515 RICHMOND STREET.

LONDON AND DISTRICT

The fire department had a run to 277 Piccadilly street, to a grass fire at 2:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon. There was no damage.

A Linen Shower.

Miss Sarah Doyle was showered with linen at her home, 815 William street, last Wednesday by a number of her friends. The evening was spent in music and cards.

A Talk on Missions.

Mrs. (Rev. Principal) Waller and Mrs. John Callard addressed the members of the Girls' Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Matthew's Anglican Church, on the subject of missions, at a meeting held at the residence of Mrs. Harry Carson, of 338 King street. Mrs. Carson entertained those present at the conclusion of the business session.

Death of a Child.

Joseph Campbell, the 8-year-old daughter of John C. and Georgina Campbell, of Dutton, formerly of this city, died at Victoria Hospital yesterday after a prolonged illness. She had been at Victoria Hospital for the past five weeks. The remains were forwarded yesterday afternoon to Dutton by Smith, Son & Clarke.

Banquet for Missionaries.

A very pleasant time was spent in Wesley Hall, the occasion being a banquet given by the teachers and officers of the First Methodist Sunday school in honor of their returned missionaries, Dr. and Mrs. Wallace Crawford. Speeches were made by Rev. Mr. Whiting, Mr. W. N. Manning, and Mr. R. I. Watson, after which Dr. Crawford gave an entertaining and instructive address on the work of the missionaries and its effect on missions. A large collection of curios belonging to the missionaries were on exhibition, and proved very interesting to the large number of guests present. Dr. and Mrs. Crawford are at present on furlough, but intend returning to China within a year.

A Recital.

Last evening at Conservatory Hall the piano pupils of Mrs. Lotta Francis-Vining, assisted by Misses Eleanor Clark and Ethel Teasdale, vocal pupils of Miss Belle Brown, and Misses Annela Dewey, violinists, gave a delightful and exceptionally interesting recital. Many of the pupils showed decided musical ability, but all displayed careful instruction. The piano pupils taking part were: Misses Ethel Lyon, Grace Greer, Margaret Purdom, Verna Dobbey, Marjorie Croden, Emma Harkness, Benah Emmett, Mary Weston, Evelyn Munn, Margaret Johnston, Maud Jupp, Margery Struthers, Betty Hodgins, Gwendolyn Scandrett, Gladys Harris and Myrtle Shannon. The vocal numbers by Misses Eleanor Clark and Ethel Teasdale, and Misses Annela Dewey were highly appreciated by the large audience present.

WEDDED IN MUSKOKA.

COX—GAGE.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Alvinston, June 13.—One of the prettiest of the June weddings was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Gage, Calro, yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when their youngest daughter, Miss Anna Maud, became the bride of Mr. Thomas W. Cox, of Euphemia. About a hundred guests were present.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. M. Farney, of Parkhill, formerly rector of St. John's Church, Aughrim.

The bride was given away by her father, and looked charming in a gown of white silk, with head fringe trimmings. She was assisted by Miss Florence Cox, who wore a burnt orange silk dress, with head fringe. Mr. Turner, of Calro, acted as groomsmen.

After congratulations an elaborate dinner was served on the lawn. The
