

SPRING SERVICE OF PRAISE ATTRACTED A LARGE AUDIENCE

Work of Choir and Soloists Exceptionally Fine At St. Andrew's Church.

St. Andrew's Church was packed last night for the spring service of praise given by the choir of the church under the direction of Charles E. Wheeler, and assisted by Millicent Maginley of the Metropolitan Church, Toronto, and the celebrated English tenor, Gladstone Brown. Both choir and solo numbers were unusually fine, resulting altogether in a recital of great merit.

Millicent Maginley has a soprano voice of clear, pure and resonant quality especially adapted to church music. She sings without restraint, pouring out her songs of praise like a bird. The recitation and aria from Costa's "Elly," "I Will Exalt Thee, O Lord," was her first number, and with it she moved her listeners to a desire for more so excellently as it rendered. This was followed by Tachikowsky's "Legend," a weird and beautiful air which keeps falling back upon one note and which she sang with skill and artistic finish, while "Father Eternal," her Bach-inspired number, was perhaps one of the finest on the program.

"Sound an Alarm," the magnificent tenor solo from Handel's "Judas Macabene," was the number in which Gladstone Brown was first heard. This English tenor has a voice with the characteristic soft quality of the old land, and yet a power which is rarely heard except in operatic singing. At the time of the Gipsy Smith campaign he was heard here in simple sacred airs. Last night his voice was shown off to advantage in such big numbers as "How Many Hired Servants," from Sullivan's "The Prodigal Son," "The Lord Shall Wipe Away All Tears" (Bible), and "Ave Maria" (Kahn), the latter number being sung with a dramatic force and religious feeling, which made it perhaps the rarest treat of the evening.

The tenor and soprano duet, sung by both artists, comprising a magnificent program to a close, was Mendelssohn's "My Song Shall Always Be of Thee, O Mary," and was rendered in a manner which will not soon be forgotten.

The choir itself was in fine trim, responding readily to the mood of the director, and some very fine effects in shading were obtained, especially in the negro spiritual number, "Weeping Mary" (R. N. Dett) an exquisitely beautiful thing. A festive anthem, "Strain Lullaby," by J. A. Nichol, was a number which gave scope for some excellent choir work, with its dainty quartette, chorale and soprano solo by Miss Ula Kennedy. "Hail On In Majesty" (Ashford) was another very fine ensemble number, while the closing rollicking song "O, Hail Us, Ye Free" (Caville) was perhaps the most delightful of all. Attacks and releases were made with precision, indicating that the choir was in excellent form.

WHOLESONOME FUN AT Y. M. C. A. BANQUET

Fine Program of Toasts, Speeches and Songs.

Wholesome fun was the lot of all who attended the annual banquet of the London Young Men's Christian Association last night. Toasts, speeches, songs and readings were included in a well-selected program.

Rev. J. A. Lechman, speaking on "Success," said that success was the one great word before the thinking public of today. To attain it, one needed to know his direction and have strength of body and brain.

"A man without a rudder," he said, "is necessary to aim high."

To still a man's ambition, make a poor preacher would be a pity, and to spoil a good preacher to make a poor cobbler would be a pity. It was better to be a Napoleon or Alexander among chimney sweeps than a light-headed attorney, who, like necessity, knew no law.

The dreamer was ridiculed by the mad mob as a fantastic because it had not eyes to see.

"We buy things, but we do not need them. Only when the material life was gained did many seek after the life that was real and eternal."

Men needed a definite purpose. Some who were strong of body and mind stood about cheap amusement places talking small talk as if they had reached such a state of perfection that they could afford to waste and not be hurt.

They could not waste an hour in this progressive age. Success means work and hard work.

Work Cannot Harm. "Good, hard, earnest work never hurt anybody. It is a man's duty to be successful. He cannot afford to rest on his own arm. He must lean back on something stronger."

"There's a Gethsemane in the life of every man. We need it to bring out the fine fleur in the hour of Gethsemane we need to look back to the Gethsemane."

Carmen Learn gave a number of solos which were very well received. Two readings by Bert Hanna resulted in rounds of applause.

Responding to the toast "The Association," C. E. German declared that the "Y" stood at the strategic point in the development of the nation. Development of the character of a young man on a four-square basis. The church had only developed him along the one line. The Man of Character believed in line. The Man of Character believed in line. Some persons had an idea that the Y. M. C. A. was a place for boys from the church, but the fact was just the very opposite. In Sunday school the best boys were those who were members of the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. German prized the "Y" because it was no respecter of persons. The boy who had a dirty face, dirty hands, dirty clothes and a dirty record would be lifted as well as anyone else.

In responding to "The Ladies," W. K. Parkinson extended hearty thanks

Secretary E. J. Jenkins attributed the success of the evening's entertainment to the hearty co-operation of its social committee and other such groups.

MORE RECRUITS SIGN ON

First Battalion, W.O.R., Nearing Full Strength.

The 1st Battalion, W. O. R., is fast getting up to strength. Last night thirteen more recruits were signed on and issued with uniforms. The majority of the men joining the military units are ex-service men. The W. O. R. in particular is favored with a large number of men who have seen overseas service and who are desirous of keeping in touch with military life.

A concert was given last night on the drill floor at the armories by the band, which numbered 33 pieces on parade. Several new recruits were taken on the strength of the band.

The inducements for young fellows to join the W. O. R. are numerous, as practically all lines of sport will be indulged in this summer by the battalion, which has already entered teams in the soccer league and baseball league.

It is expected that a team will be entered in the O. R. F. U. this autumn and a hockey team will be organized next winter.

INCREASE FOR SEXTON

And Choirmaster of Cronyn Memorial Church.

The salary of the organist of the Cronyn Memorial Church will be raised by $200, and that of the sexton by $120. It was decided at the adjourned vestry meeting of the church held last evening. The question of adequate equipment was put in the hands of the select vestry.

A motion was made that the direction of the choir be put in the hands of Rev. Q. Warner, but as the meeting was an adjourned one, and called for a definite purpose, it was felt by the majority that the motion was out of order. The matter was left in the hands of the church warden.

There isn't very much else in the world that counts except health, anyway. PART OF WESTMINSTER HOSPITAL TO BE OPENED END OF MONTH

First Patients Numbering One Hundred To Be Transferred From Cobourg and Newmarket—Up-to-Date Facilities.

While the Westminster Hospital, which will rank among the finest of institutions for mental and nervous diseases on the American continent, will not be entirely ready for occupancy until summer, one two-story pavilion and the administration service building will be opened at the end of this month. It was announced this morning that the first patients to be admitted will be 100 cases transferred here from the Cobourg and Newmarket government hospitals.

When completely finished, the hospital will accommodate 500 patients, and as it is an institution built to serve the whole Dominion, cases will be brought here from all over the country. Those being cared for at the present time in the local Ontario Hospital will be transferred there as soon as possible.

Dr. R. T. McGhie, who has been the medical superintendent of the Newmarket Hospital near Toronto, will act as the medical superintendent of the Westminster Hospital. Temporary arrangements have been made. He will arrive in this city to the hospital, which was reported to be in excellent condition except for a stretch of the Base Line, which was badly broken up during the winter, and is now being repaired.

The hospital will be as well equipped as any on the continent. Through-out the most modern appliances will be used. The location is in the heart of the city, as it does the Thames River, across which lies the city. Besides the easy accessibility by excellent roads, the L. and P. S. R. runs close to the east of it.

Staffs Arrive.—Certain staffs who have been transferred here from other hospitals which are closing, are expected to arrive in this city today. Kitchen staffs and help and a staff of cleaners are being hired today, and will be put to work immediately to get things in shape for the opening.

MORE CONSIDERATION FOR TOWN PLANNERS

City Solicitor Making Examination of All Legislation Today.

City Solicitor T. G. Meredith is today making an examination of the town planning legislation brought before the city council last night by the town planning committee. He will draw up the report on the legislation, and will advise the council on the matter. It will then be given further consideration before being brought before the Legislature.

It is understood that the bill will have to be brought up as a private measure in order to meet the requirements of the Legislature. This being the case, it is doubtful whether it will come before this session of the Legislature.

Clause by Clause.—Ald. Wilson at first wanted the bill referred back to the committee, but later changed his mind. He said he was not opposed to town planning, but did not like the way the legislation was designed. He was certain that the measure had no intention of doing anything but to give the council a power which would be too wide to be in the hands of the council. He objected to the bill for ten reasons. The first was that it had not been before the council for a long time. The second was for the members to study its provisions, and it contained two or three "little holes" in it. His second point was that the present town planning committee had sufficient power to do all necessary work during the next two or three years. His third objection was that there was no way in which the council could revoke the act, once passed, except by appeal to the Legislature. His fourth point was that, by delaying the bill, the city would have the guidance of the general act to be passed by the Legislature, which was now considering several amendments.

He stated that no other city was considering legislation of this kind, but was corrected by Ald. John Bridge, who said that Kitchener, Guelph and other municipalities were interested in the proposal.

Ald. Wilson claimed further that the act as brought before the council would ultimately give the town planning commission power to expend money on the "master plan," which it would draw up, without the consent of the council. The expenditures might run anywhere from $50 to $100,000. He argued that the council should have a veto over the commission, and that the council should have the power to repeal the act. The present personnel of the committee might not take any account of the wishes of the council, but future members might do so. He pointed out that the city was committed to commission form of government, by which control would be centralized. By appointing a separate commission with power to spend money they would be getting away from this principle. There was no provision for the council to have a veto over the commission, and lastly, the legal aspects had not been considered or approved by the city solicitor.

For these reasons he brought in the following amendments:

LIFE ON THE RAILS
(By POET BILL.)

The Poet Bill is about to undertake a series of articles about his life on the railroad, which will appear from time to time in The Advertiser. As a preliminary, he asked an Advertiser reporter to visit his baggage car on the London, Huron and Bruce Line Monday afternoon. It turned out to be the most amazing baggage car on the whole Grand Trunk System. Bill is a home man, although he spends most of his days on the railroad. When he isn't in Wincham he carries the atmosphere of home about with him, and to better get the effect he has filled every one of the eight windows in his baggage car with fascinating little flower boxes, from which not a crumpled geranium, zay foliage plants and delicate flowering balsams. The whole car is so seriously clean and every variety of baggage has its place, just as in a well-ordered home. Indeed the Poet Bill's car is a curiosity on the Grand Trunk line. It is as unique as Bill himself.

WHILE HE'S LIVING.
"Why do you take all this trouble to fit up an old baggage car?" asked the reporter.
"Oh, for what? To make the place sort of home-like," he responded. "And the boys like it. I want my flowers when I'm living. When I leave this old hunk of mud I don't care how many flowers they throw at me. I want them now, and it's worth the price to have them. Nature will take care of me."

then. She will send beautiful violets and grass over my head, then."

Bill's first article about his life on the road follows.

"The life on the railroad, which will be shown to your readers, is as much a lustrous proposition as any other: one in which early education, experience and fitness in regard to health, sight, strength and ability is necessary, as you will notice by carefully reading these articles, which will be published for the benefit of all that desire to understand the life of a railroad man. The public at home and abroad, also, in all sorts of weather for the benefit of the public at home and abroad, also, traveling on the different trains, putting up with the anxiety of their families, while they are away, also do not know that they may be taken to hospital to have a limb amputated or put in a long weary box and set off at the station where they live, so that the undertaker can fix them up to look nice, as the saying is."

Knows 'Em.
"I have known some poor fellows in my time. It is only 21 years ago since I started, who have met with terrible deaths on the rail, while making up trains, receiving injuries while doing their duty."

—No doubt, readers, you will hardly understand railroad language, but as you read these articles you will soon begin to get familiar with it. For instance, the engine is the "old mill," the brakeman is a "shack," the conductor is the "captain of the boat," the engineer is an "axe" or "diamond driver," a section is a "hove," but in spite of all their nicknames they have their heart in the right place, and do all they can for the honor of the officials of the road for which they work. They are also known to stick together when an

SUFFERED WITH BOILS
LAST 5 YEARS

Boils are simply a breaking out of bad blood, and anyone who has suffered from them, knows how sick and miserable they make you feel. Just when you think you are cured of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery. All the poultices and lancing you can do will not get rid of them.

While the skin appears to be the cause of the irritation, the real disease is rooted in the blood, and to get rid of these painful pests it is necessary to get right at the seat of the trouble.

When the blood is purified, cleansed and vitalized, by Burdock Blood Bitters, the boils will quickly disappear, your misery is at an end, and your health and strength will come back again.

Mr. Robt. Johnson, Barkway, Ont., writes: "I have suffered very much during the last five years from boils, having as many as five at once. I tried different remedies without any relief. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, which I did, and after taking just one bottle I have had no more boils."

B. B. B. has been on the market for over 40 years, and is manufactured only by the T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ALLOWED FREEDOM ON O. T. A., CHARGE

Magistrate Dismisses Case in Police Court Today.

A man, charged in police court this morning with having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling, was dismissed.

On Saturday at 9:30 a.m. he had been arrested on the G. T. R. tracks about 300 feet west of Ridout street. According to Police Constables Gavin Monahan and Milton Eysen, they had gone there as a result of someone informing them that a number of men were drinking whiskey. When they arrived on the scene, the accused was filling in a ditch. He had a bottle of real old Irish in the left pocket of his trousers. Before he left home, the defendant said, he had taken a few drinks. Permission to go home was asked of the constables. The latter stated that he would let him know about this when he returned from East London. Meanwhile the defendant went to the home of a friend, who lived near his place of employment and secured a bottle. He had helped this friend to move not long ago. It was necessary for him to wait until the foreman came back, so he went over to the tracks again. During the period of waiting, he was arrested. R. G. Fisher, prosecuting attorney, was of the opinion that the accused was liable under the O. T. A. He did not think that he had any right to work before going home, while he had whiskey with him.

"Don't you think that it would be all right, if you had a club bag with some liquor in it, and you dropped into your office on the way home, even for a hour," asked Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon.

Both constables swore that the defendant was intoxicated by the time he reached the station. On this count he was assessed $10 and costs.

PUBLIC HOLIDAY FROM 4 P.M. IS ORDERED TODAY

Council So Declares in View of
Made-in-Canada Parade.

PLUMBING BYLAW

Given the First Reading As Amended—Market Boycott Is Approved.

Public holiday from 4 o'clock this afternoon for the remainder of the day was declared by the city council last night. The action was taken at the request of the Advertising Club in order that all citizens might be able to witness the Made-in-Canada parade to be held at 5 o'clock.

The plumbing bylaw with amendments recommended by the special committee was given its first reading and sent to No. 2 committee for consideration. Ald. O. I. Cunningham, a member of the plumbing committee, stated that plumbers and citizens who wished to do plumbing work immediately could operate under the bylaw, which had been effective for the past ten years until the new measure came effective and need take no notice of the present bylaw. The measure when adopted would not be retroactive, he assured them. Mayor Little concurred in this statement. Ald. Cunningham said:

"He stated further that a good grade of work would be expected, but that it would not be to the water and smoke tests, although it would be inspected. He stated that the statements of 25 plumbers approving of the revision of the bylaw and the elimination of the clauses requiring back-venting."

Approval of the boycott of the local market by London women, expressed in a motion by Ald. F. H. Watkinson, seconded by Ald. J. Cameron Wilson, was also approved. That such action tended to reduce prices.

Steps were taken to issue debentures as collateral for loans made by the Provincial Government to the housing commission for work contemplated this year. Ald. C. G. Moorhead presented a motion asking a statement from the commission as to money already expended and amounts repaid, in order that the council could deal more intelligently with the matter.

Teamsters' Deputation.
A deputation of teamsters was present in regard to wages. The members of it were referred to No. 2 committee, as under procedure rules. The council will meet again tomorrow night. Ald. Watkinson asked if the teamsters were being given positions as teamsters in the city. Mayor Little replied that he thought that when the teamsters came along, but citizens were not to be given first opportunity.

The council went into committee of the whole to consider proposed town planning legislation recommended by the town planning committee. With amendments to place full control of the proposition in the hands of the council it was approved.

S. Seymour, Ottawa, assistant to Thomas Adams, Dominion town planning adviser, addressed the council on some phases of town planning. He stated that this work was taken up in 1913 by the Dominion government and other European countries. New Brunswick in 1912 adopted the first town planning act in Canada. In reply to a query from Ald. Seabrook, he said that the cost of town planning work had been made and plans of main highways and subdivisions drawn up. Mr. Seabrook inquired whether the town planning commissions in those cities controlled the work of the board of education and similar bodies. Mr. Seymour replied that the plans of all buildings passed through the hands of the building inspector and that the buildings also technically conformed to the provisions of the act.

CROWDS OF PEOPLE AT WHISKARD SALE

Auctioneer Disgusted At Price of $17,500 Offered For Palatial Residence.

The highest price bid for the spacious residence of the late T. G. Whiskard at the auction sale this morning was $17,500. This residence, at the corner of Wolfe and Wellington streets, facing Victoria Park, is valued by the assessors at $22,000. C. K. MacFarland, auctioneer, was disgusted with the bids made this morning, and refused to continue the auction of the house until late this afternoon, when he stated he knew there would be persons present who would know the value of the property and bid accordingly. John Hayman and David Ross were among the bidders. It was rumored that G. P. MacFarland was a prospective buyer. During the course of the bidding for the house, the auctioneer was several times, P. L. Willoughby, who was present at the sale, was named as another prospective buyer.

The house was so crowded that it was hardly possible to move in and out of the large rooms. The only things sold this morning were the contents of the kitchen. The huge range and refrigerator were bid for just about as slowly as the house.

Linens and old-fashioned quilts, drapes, etc., are numerous, and will be sold late this afternoon after the house has been again offered for sale. This evening the smaller pieces of furniture and the dishes will be sold. Some valuable rugs and the larger pieces of walnut furniture will be sold tomorrow.

JAPS WILL ENDEAVOR TO GET CO-OPERATION OF KOLCHAK'S FORCES

Washington, April 20.—Japanese military authorities in an endeavor to safeguard their present positions in Siberia are said in official reports received here to be negotiating for the co-operation of the remnant of Admiral Kolchak's forces still active in that district. Cession to Japan by the Russians of control of the Chinese eastern railroad is understood here to be involved in these negotiations, to which China has been made a protesting party.

CALGARY, Alb., April 19.—Seventy employees of C. Burns and Company office organized an overall brigade this morning.

STREET CAR STRIKE ON MAY 1 APPEARS TO BE ALMOST CERTAIN

Company Flatly Refuses Men's Demand For Increase—
Strike Vote Will Be Taken On Saturday At Midnight
Executive Expected Compromise Offer.

There is every prospect of a street car strike in London on May 1. The London Street Railway Company Monday afternoon flatly refused to pay an increase to its employees. The men will vote on the question of strike Saturday at midnight, and as it is generally believed that they are just as determined not to continue working at their present rates of pay as the company appears to be not to pay more money, the strike will in all probability take place on the first day of May. The present working agreement between the union and the company expiring April 30.

An increase in wages all around of 20 cents was the one and only demand made by the men Monday afternoon. The present scale, according to length of service, varies from 40 to 45 cents an hour. The men ask for 60 to 65 cents an hour.

"I did not expect that they would give up the increase asked for," said John Colbert, president of the union, "but I expected they would suggest a compromise and offer us a small increase. But they did not offer to pay one cent more."

Up To The Men.
Mr. Colbert pointed out that neither he nor the other members of the executive could advise for the men until after the meeting Saturday midnight, but he felt that he knew how the men would stand. He, for one, would not consider working beyond the time of the present agreement at the old rates. B. King said there was nothing new to be said on the situation. The men are not to be paid more money than they had before, that it could not pay any increase in wages at the present rates of fare.

"I did not know there was a meeting," said C. H. Ivey, solicitor for the company, who added that there was nothing he cared to say in regard to the matter.

The attitude taken by the men is that no matter whether the company or the city is right on the fare issue, they cannot continue working for the wages they are receiving.

This's Big Day of Made-in-Canada Week

Giant Parade Will Begin At 5 Sharp This Afternoon—Market Square Is Starting Point—Splendid Spirit of Co-operation Shown.

This is the great day of the "Made-in-Canada Week." His Worship Mayor Little has proclaimed a civic holiday Monday, April 20, and the city is preparing all to cease work and participate in the great celebration.

The parade of the city of London has ever witnessed moves off from the market square and proceeds in gala, and through the crowded streets of the Forest City.

Numerous committees of the London Advertising Club met last night to complete final arrangements. General Chairman P. W. Seabrook said to the club members in order for the big day. To the local Advertising Club belongs the credit of putting over one of the biggest and most creditable events ever staged by such an organization.

Everyone knows of the city's life, one might say of all Canada, is represented in this monster parade. The parade is a splendid product of Canada's factories. A fleet of cars will carry the finest of our schools.

MORE BUTTER ALLOWED ENGLISH CONSUMERS

Can Now Purchase One and a Half
Ounces of Imported Product.

The Dairy News Letters, issued at Ottawa by the department of agriculture, announces information from England to the effect that beginning April 19, the English consumers will be permitted to purchase one and a half ounces of imported butter weekly, instead of only one ounce, as previously. The maximum retail price of Canadian or other imported butter in England is still fixed at 72 cents.

The maximum prices, retail, for cheese is 40 cents, and the maximum price which importers are permitted to pay is 32 cents. These prices are four cents higher than they were a year ago.

In Sweden, dairymen are agitating for an import tax on dairy products to keep out produce from Denmark and America. Although not much Canadian produce is exported to Sweden, the effect of such a tariff would mean forcing more United States produce into markets where Canadian products are sold.

The Dairy News Letter also reports continued unsatisfactory conditions in the condensed milk industry. The manufacturers during the war concentrated on the military market, and although they had to build up their domestic trade, now with the war market closed, they find little demand for their product.

ST. THOMAS RACE TRACK TO BE USED FOR BUILDING LOTS

Lumber in Grand Stand and Stables To Be Sold.

ST. THOMAS, April 19.—The half-mile track of the St. Thomas Race Association in the southeast end of the city will be leveled, the buildings, grandstand and stables pulled down, and the lumber used for building purposes. The track was built about ten years ago, and the first few years of its life were not without some success, but lately little interest was taken by St. Thomas people in the sport and the lease of the land took possession. George McCall, the proprietor of the Queen's when in St. Thomas, was the leading spirit in the local racing world, to him in general was due the little success which followed the efforts of the association to find a place for St. Thomas on the western circuit. The land is part of the old Canada Southern Survey, and will be sold for building lots.

CANADA'S TOTAL OF POTATOES EXPORTED

OTTAWA, April 19.—(By Canadian Press).—A total of 4,150,847 bushels of potatoes were exported from Canada to all countries from August 1, 1918, to July 31, 1919. This information was given to Mr. T. W. Caldwell in the House of Commons today. The month of May, 1919, was the banner one during this period. In that month, the total export was $77,650 bushels. August, 1918, was the smallest, with a total export of 4,221 bushels.

FEW FRAUD CASES IN RE-ESTABLISHMENT

Says She Cannot Praise Them Enough

MRS. GAUVIN TELLS OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

She Says Her Back Was So Weak She Could Hardly Walk, But Now She Is a Different Person.

St. Jeanne d'Arc, N. B., April 19.—(Special).—Among those in this neighborhood who are enthusiastic in their praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills is Mrs. Joseph Gauvin, a highly-respected resident here. "I cannot praise Dodd's Kidney Pills enough," Mrs. Gauvin states. "My back was so weak I could hardly walk. I took six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and now I feel a different person."

"Dodd's Kidney Pills have done me a tremendous amount of good." Of the many persons paying their tribute of praise to Dodd's Kidney Pills, it is noticeable that the great majority are women. The reason for this is that the great majority of women's ills come from the kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. Healing and strengthening them, they enable the kidneys to strain all the impurities out of the blood. Pure blood is the foundation of health. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not help weak or sick kidneys.

KILLED ON CANADIAN RAILWAY FOR NINE MONTHS TOTAL 223

Those Injured Number 1,502 in Same Period.

OTTAWA, April 19.—(By Canadian Press).—The report of the board of railway commissioners, covering the nine months ending December 31, 1919, gives the number of persons killed as 223, and the injured 1,502. In a total of 1,347 railway accidents. The report indicates an increase in automobile accidents at crossings. From April 1, 1918, to December 31, 1919, they numbered 221. In the nine-month period specially covered by the report 13 persons were killed and 247 injured in train derailments, and 38 killed and 138 injured at level crossings. In the same time 64 passengers on the right-of-way were killed and 68 injured. The board will not take any action in the matter of daylight saving, says the report.

SIMCOE, April 19.—Elias Boughner, county clerk of Norfolk, narrowly escaped serious injury this morning by an explosion of gas in the vault in his office. His face and hands were burned and his clothing was on fire for a short time. A leak in the gas jet which supplies light in the vault had not been noticed by Mr. Boughner until he struck a match. He saved the books and papers from damage.

Ontario Legislature Wants Light Thrown On the Referendum.

HEATING APARTMENTS J. W. Curry Would Compel Landlords To Keep Temperature Up.

(Special To The Advertiser.) TORONTO, April 19.—When the next temperance legislation is brought forward in the Ontario Legislature, members will probably have before them the much discussed legal opinion on the jurisdiction of the province in prohibitory enactments. Hon. Mr. Ferguson enumerated the legal opinion in question, as those of Messrs. Murdock, K.C., of Toronto; J. A. Patterson, K.C., Toronto; J. E. Ewart, K.C., Ottawa, and also those of the deputy minister of justice at Ottawa. "I understand," he said, "these men have all very strong views that the province has absolute jurisdiction to deal with this matter without a referendum at all, and that may be the subject of some argument and debate in the House."

"The opinions of these men who have gone into the matter with a view of very great assistance to the House." To Table Opinions. "I think we can undertake to table the opinions that have been given," declared Premier Drury, who intimated that the temperance legislation would be reintroduced in a day or so.

Louise, and some applause greeted the introduction by Mr. J. W. Curry, K.C., of a bill which he said would compel landlords to keep temperature in apartment houses up to a certain degree. Premier Drury was curious to know if the bill went as far as to regulate the other extreme and provided penalties to compel landlords to keep the heat down to a certain temperature. Mr. Curry's answer was non-committal on the point.

Premier Drury asked and received the special consent for second reading of the bill dealing with the Kapuskasing situation. It was given second reading and put through committee of the whole this afternoon. The legislation provided for adjustment of the soldier-settlers' claims as recommended by the newly-appointed board of adjustment.

Opposition To Bill. Opposition to J. W. Curry's bill, which would hold municipalities responsible for damage done to property during riots, developed in the Legislature this morning. It was after its second reading the measure was referred back to the municipal committee.

The bill is retroactive to January 1, 1917. Hon. C. H. Ferguson was inclined to view the measure as a dangerous one, while Hon. Thomas Crawford declared that it embodied a vicious principle. W. A. Crockett, labor member for South Wentworth, expressed the fear that it might be placing a premium upon disorders.

Major J. C. Colville of Windsor approved the bill. Hon. W. E. Haney suggested that a special committee be appointed to consider it. Premier Drury, while approving the principle of the measure, sounded a note of caution, and asked that the bill go to the municipal committee, which was assented to.

Gives Judges Power. An amendment to the surrogate court act, introduced by Hon. W. E. Haney, gives surrogate judges power to satisfy themselves that proper disclosures have been made before probate or administration is granted.

An amendment to the pharmacy act, introduced by Hon. Manning Doherty, permits the sale in hardware stores of formaldehyde and other insect poisons used for spraying trees.

LARGER GRANTS TO PROVINCIAL HOSPITAL

TORONTO, April 19.—Financial grants to provincial sanitariums and hospitals will be increased by $40,000 this year, according to information furnished today by Hon. H. C. Nixon, provincial secretary.

The increases will be somewhat higher in the case of institutions for the care of tuberculosis as the new minister is endeavoring to lend every assistance to the fight against the white plague.

TABLES TURNED ON FOUR WITNESSES IN WOODSTOCK COURT

Men Must Now Answer To Charges of Burglary and Theft. WOODSTOCK, April 19.—Four men from South Warwick walked into the police court this morning to act as witnesses in the case against George Trowhill, charged with stealing apples. They had been there only a few minutes, however, when Chief Killings was reading charges against them and placing them under arrest.

LONDON MAN SUED FOR $10,000 FOR BREACH OF PROMISE TO MARRY

WALKERTON, April 19.—Action has been entered on behalf of Miss Julia Norn Knowles of Lucknow by O. E. Klein, barrister of this town, against John Sherman, produce dealer of London, for $10,000 for alleged breach of a promise to marry. Miss Knowles, who is an English girl, had been employed as a waitress at the Kane House, Lucknow, for several years. During last fall, it is said, the defendant made this house his headquarters for some time while engaged in buying up large supplies of potatoes. While there, it is alleged, he made himself very friendly and gained the confidence and friendship of the plaintiff and later made her an offer of marriage, which she accepted.

On the strength of the offer of marriage, plaintiff states that she left her situation and had been put to considerable expense preparing for the event, to say nothing of her injured feelings.

The case will, it is expected, be heard at the fall sittings at Walkerton.

DAUGHTER SUCCEEDS HER FATHER AS ORGANIST

ST. THOMAS, April 19.—At an adjourned vestry meeting of the Trinity Anglican Church held tonight, Mrs. Henry Rose was appointed to succeed her father, J. H. Jones, as organist of the church.

GEDDES WOULD HAVE AMERICA IGNORE THE NEEDS OF IRELAND

Ambassador At New York Defends Lloyd George Moves.

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 19.—Sir Auckland C. Geddes, the new British ambassador to the United States, arrived here late today on the steamer Kaiserin Augusta Victoria from Liverpool. With Lady Geddes, he was taken aboard the revenue cutter Calumet at quarantine and landed at Battery Park. In an interview granted to newspapermen on his arrival, the new British ambassador expressed appreciation of the honor that had been conferred upon him, and dealt briefly with problems which confront Great Britain. Regarding the Irish question, he said: "In Ireland we are trying to provide political machinery whereby the antagonized sections of the Irish peoples can work out their own internal political salvation without economic ruin to Irish interests. When the new home rule bill becomes operative it will be the duty of all British subjects who are not domiciled in Ireland, to stand aside and leave those who live there to solve their problems. I venture to add that it will be also helpful if the many in all parts of the world, who are not British subjects but are interested in Ireland, likewise stand aside."

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. THE OUTLAW STRIKE.

Every decent, honest citizen of the United States and Canada should find cause for immense satisfaction in the complete breakdown of the outlaw strike of the American railway employees. It means that with the mass of the trade unionists solemnly assumed pledges agreements and pacts, are considered sacred. The failure of the walkout means that labor proposes to carry out its engagements with capital. The incident was a test which has proved the organized worker honorable, loyal and patriotic. On good faith and honesty rests the whole commercial and industrial edifice. Once this base was destroyed there would be a rapid crumbling into anarchy.

A DAM NEEDED.

The construction of a $300,000 dam at Springbank by the Utilities Commission next year embraces a twofold object that will appeal to all citizens. In the first place, the dam will generate some 1,000-horsepower which could be used to good advantage when power is most needed, and, in the second place, the erection of a dam will make the Thames the attractive river it was a few years ago. It is estimated by General Manager E. V. Buchanan of the Utilities Commission that revenue accumulating from power generated would be in the neighborhood of eight to ten thousand dollars. Aside from the money involved, the fact that an extra 1,000-horsepower will be available when weather conditions make Niagara power connection precarious, will be welcomed by many housewives who cook exclusively on electric stoves, as well as by the ordinary user of power. The Utilities Commission will also earn the undying gratitude of the followers of aquatic sports. Some years ago London was represented at the Canadian Henley by a crew second to none, and with a new dam, making boating practicable once more, the city will be on the aquatic sport map again. A dam for Springbank is undoubtedly a move in the right direction.

THE PRIMARY PREVENTIVE.

Dr. C. M. Hinccks, secretary of the National Commission on Mental Hygiene, reports that of 432 mentally abnormal prostitutes examined in Toronto, the majority were affected with venereal diseases, and another report cites the case of an unmarried 13-year-old mother similarly diseased! In view of the foregoing, and the lax ideas current regarding the sin of impurity, people ought to awaken to the alarming nature of the sore festering beneath the surface. Society cannot hope to escape from the penalties even of contributory negligence.

In an excellent medical treatise written some sixty years ago, John C. Gunn, M.D., an American physician, observed that it was difficult to conceive why so horrid a disease should exist, except on the ground that it is a direct punishment or consequence for criminal violations of the most sacred of moral and physiological laws. If always confined to the guilty alone in its baneful effects, and the virtuous did not sometimes have to suffer, it would be far less lamentable, but, unfortunately, innocent wives and children do suffer terribly because of the way in which human relations are interwoven. Society, therefore, has a right to protection from an enemy so old, and so malignant. As a solid background for preventive and protective defences, medical and otherwise, instituted, it is imperative to remember also that the roots of the disorder are to be traced primarily, as Dr. Gunn indicated, to disregard of the Divine injunction expressed in the seventh commandment of the Decalogue, designed to protect humanity from the consequences of lust. Obviously, as perhaps never before, it becomes the duty of parents, the clergy and educators of the youth to inculcate strict obedience to the authority behind that old and simple, but irrevocable commandment, "Thou shalt not commit adultery."

NATIVE WINE.

Advanced temperance opinion is demanding the repeal of section 44 of the Ontario Temperance Act, which permits the sale of native wines.

Wine can easily be doctored with "wildor stuff." It is not beneficial, but injurious to health. The idea that "spirits" are good for the constitution belongs to the times before Harvey investigated the circulation of the blood. The mediaeval "physiologists" thought that through the arteries flowed "vital spirits," which were replenished from food and drink, especially alcohol, supposed itself to be composed of or rich in the "spiritous" fluid. The cry for "wine and beer" is a belated echo of old world unreason.

If the objection is raised that a prohibition of native wine would hurt the grape-growers of Niagara, it may be easily seen that there is a wider public demanding grapes and grape-juice than wine. Perhaps the price of grape-juice might be a little more reasonable if so much of it were not converted into wine. To generalize, one of the most objectionable features of the liquor traffic is that of every luxury traffic: it causes under-production and higher cost of necessities. A Topeka paper, commenting on the probable advance of silk shirts to $25 hopes that the price will rise to $50 or $100, if it will only be so prohibitive as to occasion greater production of a cheaper article. In his new book, "The Unsolved Riddle of Social Justice," Professor Stephen Leacock wonders at the ways of human industry, producing always just less than enough all round of necessities, and turning to the production of superfluities. "Half-fed men dig for diamonds, and men sheltered by a crazy roof erect the marble walls of palaces." Native wine is one of the luxuries that stand in the way of necessities and enhance their price. And to bar anything from entering our country, but foster it within, is as though the Chinese had been so foolish as to exclude the opium of India, but encourage themselves to smoke any grown in China.

SPRING'S SARABAND.

(Eliza Carman.)
Over the hills of April,
With soft winds hand in hand,
Impassioned and dreamy-eyed,
Spring leads her stony ground
Her garments float and gather
And swirl along the plain.
Her headgear is the golden sun,
Her cloak the silver rain.

With color and with music,
With perfumes and with pomp,
By meadowland and upland
Through pasture, wood and swamp,
With promise and enchantment
Leading her mystic mime,
She comes to lure the world anew,
With joy as old as time.

Quick lifts the marshy chorus
To transport trill on trill;
There's not a note of stony ground
Unanswering on the hill.
The brooks and little rivers
Dance down their wild ravines,
And children in the city squares,
Keep time to tambourines.

The bluebird in the orchard
Is lyrical for ever,
The starling with his meadow pipe
Sets all the wood astray.
The hooded white spring beauties
Are curtsying in the breeze,
The blue herons are out
Under the chestnut trees.

The maple buds make glamor,
"Viburnum waves its bloom."
The daffodils and tulips
Are risen from the tomb.
The lances of Narcissus
Have pierced the wintry mold;
The commonplace seems paradise
Through veils of greenening gold.

O heart, hear thou the summons,
Put every grief away,
When all the motley masques of earth
Are glad upon a day,
Alack, that any mortal
Should less than gladness bring
Into the choral joy that sounds
The Saraband of Spring!

THE SPORT OF KINGS.

(Toronto Telegram.)
The sport of kings is to be largely set free from the sordid pursuit of profits. Hillcrest race track is the scene of President Samuel J. McElroy's and Mr. Abraham Orpen's missionary journeys. Hillcrest and other centres of uplift for the thoroughbred will now be divorced from the sordid pursuit of gain. The missionaries and apostles of the great forward movement for the improvement of Ontario's thoroughbred stock can concentrate themselves anew to the beneficent work. Almost everything that goes on the collection plate is for the benefit of the horse owners or in taxes for the government. The uplifters of the thoroughbred will be rich in the remembrance of duty well done and in the knowledge that the improvement of the horse, like virtue, is its own reward.

ELECTRIC LINEMEN'S GLOVES.

(American Machinist.)
Some day when you are walking along a "main traveled" road where traffic is piled back as far as one can see, and linemen are repairing a broken wire, stop and watch them work. The gloves they wear tell an unique story. Probably the line they are handling is "alive" and carrying electric current enough to cause instant death; yet they pick it up, twist it, splice it as nonchalantly as though handling things tackle. They are able to pick up the live wire because of the rubber gloves they wear. Did you know that these gloves are today made according to rigid specifications completely standardized, and that no purchasing agent dare buy rubber gloves until he has thoroughly tested them? No glove can be marked with the manufacturer's name or with the size in such a manner as to injure it in any way. The gloves must each be more than 14 inches long, and the average thickness not less than 0.05 inch. They must have a tensile strength of 1,200 pounds per square inch, and bear having 3 inches of their surface stretched to 12 inches without a rupture. The gloves must be capable of withstanding the application of 18,000 volts without puncturing.

After the gloves are purchased, rigid inspection is insisted upon; they are subjected to periodic high-voltage tests weekly or monthly, cleaned with soap and water, and stored in cold, dark places. They are marked by serial numbers and their history kept. Should one of the linemen you have been watching puncture his gloves, death may result.

The perfection of linemen's rubber gloves is one of the silent romances of the electrical industry. They are as important as the work of the electrician in the street. Today line work is a hundred times safer than formerly.

DR. LYMAN ABBOTT.

(New York Tribune.)
Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, editor of the Outlook and a leader in the intellectual development of this country, is slight in frame at 84, but every day he is at editorial duties. AS EUROPE SEES IT.

(Louisville Courier-Journal.)
That the European nations regard Americans as a race of quitters; as hypocrites professing loudly their idealism, yet being actually without high ideals, is an assertion too reasonable for sensible Americans to doubt. We may, and do, differentiate between a group of politicians in the Senate and the people of the United States; but to the European observer America has repudiated its moral obligations, violated its word, declined to stand to its agreement, "welched."

From Here and There

VOICE.
(Harriet Prescott Spofford.)
Said the archangel, moving in their glory,
Seeing the suns bend out along their courses,
Seeing the earth swim up in vernal light,
Seeing the year renew her ancient story—
Ask me here the Lord of all the finer forces
To make us now a poet whose song shall reach
Our height.

Pain would we know the impulse of feeling,
Fleeing in light over the battlements of even,
Fleeing in love that lifts the universe like wings.
Pain would we know the secret of our being,
Blush for a moment with innocent joy of heaven—
Make us then a poet whose song shall tell these things.

From his rosy cloud a Voice—O wonder!
All my harp-strings tremble to sweet singing!
Life, O lovely life is at the flood!
Hear the torrents' far melodious thunder,
Hear the winds' long sweep, the joyous thickets
ringing,
Forest bow and murmur, and blossoms burst their buds!

Israel, the Voice, was warbling—follow
Where the wild swift music winds and doubles!
Follow! when the sap whirled longing for the heat.

When the first thrush thrills the dusky hollow,
Every heart on earth with fond spirit bubbles,
And every soul's a poet whose song surmounts
our height.

BEWARE THE HUNI!
(London Morning Post.)
What remains intact? Only a few of the smaller nations which contrived to remain neutral, and even they are to some extent disorganized. The greatest industrial system of Continental Europe, Germany, is maritally intact. The Hun, however, is a more powerful, although less efficiently manned than before the war. Therefore, in comparison with the rest of Europe, Germany is in a position that is a point to remember. Moreover, relatively speaking, Germany is infinitely more powerful in Europe than before the war, for the reason that her competitors have been destroyed.

We repeat that this destruction was in the main carried out by Germany for an economic purpose—industrial domination. For Germany understood very well that industrial power was the reality which supported military power.

BRAINS OR MUSCLES?
(London Daily Express.)

Of course one can live on 26 a week. Municipal scavengers are paid a little less. But these are teachers, men and women qualified to hand on to the youth of a great country the blessings of state education. Of what sort will be your education if your exponent is to be told that his brain, learning and character are worth little more to the state than the work of his unskilled muscles? The injustice is palpable, the notion absurd. If we really mean education we must pay the educator.

METHOD IN THEIR MADNESS.
(London Morning Post.)

We ventured to suggest some time ago that the German attacks of Hohenheim were more assumed than real. They remind us a little of the old trick by which street vagabonds sometimes arouse the compassion of wayfarers. The hidden source of the foam at the mouth of a piece of soap under the tongue, Germany, in fact, is, in the vulgar phrase, "trying it on" with the Allies. The Kapp experiment was made upon the supposition that the Allies were disoriented and collapsed as soon as it was discovered that the word Militarist brought the Allies at once to attention.

SOAP-BOX ORATORS.
(World's Work.)

The soap box orator no longer uses a soap box; instead he has a neat folding platform, and usually from half a dozen to a dozen assistants. Some of these scattered through the crowd in order to applaud or to ask questions—a crowd that could not be held by a silver tongue will stay to hear a dialogue, even if only in the hope that the speaker will be worsted. Others of the assistants have pamphlets for sale at a small price, and so skilled have these men become in the management of street meetings that a very poor speaker will find his audience and send a good part of them away with the conviction that there is something in what he says. The street man does not attempt to exhaust his subject. Rarely is he constructive; he does his whole work if he convinces a certain number of people that they are being wronged.

THE WASTE OF PUBLIC FUNDS.
(Detroit News.)

What of the accepted practice of taking care of "lame ducks"? If the people reject a man at the polls, is there justification for his immediate appointment to office because he is part of the party machine? And how do the people submit to see the money running from them in ever-increasing taxes, wasted in manners so long winked at? Everyone admits, even those participating in the game, that public money is waste in private hands. If another individual is not producing the things he wants he cannot get them at any price. When a person says he is entitled to have his money raised to meet the increased cost of living, does he mean that he wants it raised to a point where he can buy as much clothing and sugar as in normal times? If he does, he is seeking the impossible. No amount of money can purchase as much clothing or sugar as the market will supply. If organized labor will turn its attention to increasing production instead of increasing wages, it will find that eventually the old wages will buy things which the new wages can never buy, if the things themselves are not being produced.

THE WHY OF THE H. C. L.
(Chicago Tribune.)

It seems trite to repeat that money is only a medium of exchange, but it is a truism which the public must understand in order to solve the present problem. The things which the individual produces in reality are to be exchanged for the things he wants. If another individual is not producing the things he wants he cannot get them at any price. When a person says he is entitled to have his money raised to meet the increased cost of living, does he mean that he wants it raised to a point where he can buy as much clothing and sugar as in normal times? If he does, he is seeking the impossible. No amount of money can purchase as much clothing or sugar as the market will supply. If organized labor will turn its attention to increasing production instead of increasing wages, it will find that eventually the old wages will buy things which the new wages can never buy, if the things themselves are not being produced.

WOMAN COMES INTO HER OWN.
(London Daily News.)

Women, like men, view more independence than male voters, rather than less. That is a result partly of their recognition of the responsibility attaching to the exercise of a new-won right, and partly of the fact that women are more likely to belong to a smaller degree than men with party organizations, and bowed less to party tradition they bring fresher minds to the particular problems of the moment. It is, moreover, unquestionably true that at a time like the present, when economic questions are tending to take precedence over political, the woman who has to solve the baffling economic problems of her own household is likely to scrutinize the claims of an economist on the platform with at least as intense, and at least as intelligent, an interest as her husband.

THE SHADOW OF TROUBLE.
(Baltimore Sun.)

The presidential campaign will be used by the selfish forces of both labor and capital to make strikes and attempts at reaction. There will be appeals to partisan prejudice, not too carefully considered charges against men and parties, violent demonstrations intended to frighten one group and encourage another. We face a crisis which may well mean much not only to our own country but—by way of example—to the world. The duty and the opportunity of the individual voter were never greater.

ILLITERACY NO BAR.
(Brooklyn Eagle.)

We think the ending of illiteracy test wise and sensible, just as the adoption of that test was an unmanly surrender to the organized minority of the labor trust. But we cannot feel that this action by itself offers an adequate remedy. Immigration must be stimulated in other ways. Wherever men and women of brawn and muscle and teachability live, if they want to come to the United States our doors should be open with a hearty welcome. A right-about-face change of policy is involved in such a welcome. Lawmakers must stop knowing to the cost of raising and the price rise in overalls or in breadcloth. Sane government methods may do much to restore general sanity.

WHITE MAN

BY GEORGE AGNEW CHAMBERLAIN.

She heard quick steps coming from the door, and then his voice, "Am I to come in?" She tried to cry out again and could not; tears poured down her cheeks. But the white man did not wait; another moment and he was standing over her twisted body. She looked up. The stricken look in his frightened eyes was as nothing to the sudden terror that had come into his own. He sank to his knees. "You are ill," he breathed.

He passed his cool hand across her forehead, held his fingers to the pulse in her throat, grasped her wrists and found them burning—all burning. "Last night," he said, "when you were in here, you didn't use your curtain? You left the light on?"

She did not answer beyond a stare from glassy eyes. Her face was white, her lips a straight purple line. Her shoulders were rigid but beneath them her body was twisting and writhing as though in a desperate effort to tear itself away from the sentient seat of pain.

"Is it as bad as that?" said M'sungu. Into his voice had already come the calm of a man accustomed to the face of danger. "I'm going to leave you for a moment. The convulsions will come. I'll take the pain away."

He stepped toward the barred door and tried to open it. He found it locked. He turned back and glanced at the cord and saw only that it was hindering him. When he came back he carried in one hand a medicine case, and in the other a hypodermic syringe already filled. He set the case down carefully, grasped and bared Andrea's forearm, rubbed it with alcohol and quickly gave her an injection. "Skip the next five minutes," he said. "Fasten your mind to five minutes from now." She only moaned to show that she heard him.

But even before the five minutes were up she could feel peace coming to her body, slowly and from far away as though it feared to pounce upon her suddenly. When it settled upon her it brought with it a drowsy and ineffable relief. Her eyes could move once more in their sockets. They followed the white man as he made his rapid preparation for a long sleep. She heard him call Babatub and issue a string of orders; then he brought a chair close to the cot and sat down.

"Andrea," he said quietly, "we're up against it, you and I. I can't say just what it is. It may be typhoid, you may have been skulking for appendicitis, but I'm almost afraid it isn't either of those. If it's fever, it is pernicious." Her eyes stared at him, hung upon his face.

He took one of her hands in his. "I'm breaking all the rules by frightening you," he went on, "and I do it purposefully. I do it because I've learned that you and I are brothers in one thing. We're fighters. All the blood in our veins flows one way—up-hill to battle. We don't know when to quit. I'm damned fever can show us where to get off. It's going to be shoulder to shoulder and if you go back on me, I'll go back on God for I trust you as I've never trusted any living thing."

Her hands twisted in his and gripped. He said softly, "You're like that—a fighter—and it's sweet of you to ring me in. No damned fever can show you—no damned—"

"Good for you," said M'sungu promptly, "cry now. It can't do you a bit of harm, and it will probably put you to sleep. But when you wake, if you want to cry then, please come up crying mad and ready to set your teeth in the throat of pain. For he'll have you, Kiddle, he'll have you in a half-Nelson and I can't always stick him with the needle."

It was even as he said. All day and all night the battle raged, and there were moments when Andrea forgot that she was a fighter, begged with gasping, heartrending moans for opium and relief, and when he refused, her tongue turned bitter, sharp as a serpent's tooth. Each word she said, was chosen to wound. Herself the most fair-minded of women, she became unjust, ungenerous and cruel as dead love.

"Good for you," said M'sungu promptly, "cry now. It can't do you a bit of harm, and it will probably put you to sleep. But when you wake, if you want to cry then, please come up crying mad and ready to set your teeth in the throat of pain. For he'll have you, Kiddle, he'll have you in a half-Nelson and I can't always stick him with the needle."

Watery Blood

YOUR blood may be rich and red—well stored with nourishment for the cells and tissues, or it may be thin, weak, and watery.

If thin, there is a pallor of the lips, gums and inside of eyelids. In other words you're anaemic or bloodless.

Since every ounce of nourishment supplied to the human system is obtained from the blood, the anaemic condition means a starving of the nerves and crippled functioning of the vital organs.

Anaemia

Miss Alice Howes, 21 Haddington Street, Galt, Ont., writes:—"I was very ill with anaemia, could not sleep at night, and my appetite seemed entirely gone. I suffered in this way for nearly three years, and had treatment from two doctors in Toronto, where I was living at the time, but did not get any relief. I became completely run down, and as I did not see any immediate hopes of getting better, I went back to live with my mother in Galt. I thought, perhaps, the change of air might do me good. My mother saw that I was in a bad state, because my nerves were affected, and everywhere I went I used to feel dizzy and fainting spells. My hands and limbs would become numb, I would see black specks before my eyes, and cold perspiration would come out on me. My mother had been taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with excellent results, and she advised me to do the same. But it is hard for me to take pills, so I went to a doctor in Galt instead. However, his treatment did me no good, so I at last decided to follow my mother's advice. I began taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and gradually found myself getting better. I soon was able to sleep at night without any difficulty. My appetite came back, and I began to gain back my natural color. After taking about twelve boxes of this medicine I was able to return to my work in Toronto. My friends there all noticed the improvement in my condition, and I am now stronger and healthier than I have been for a long time. I shall always recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food wherever I go, as I really think it is the best treatment obtainable for worn-out nerves and run-down system."

Headache, lack of energy and ambition, failure of the digestive system, shortness of breath, weak heart action and sluggish, torpid condition of the liver, kidneys and bowels are some of the symptoms of anaemia.

Cure can only be brought about by improving the condition of the blood by use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The digestive system has failed to supply proper nourishment from the food you eat, so you must get the blood-forming elements in condensed and easily assimilated form as they are found in this well-known food cure.

Anaemia of the Brain

Miss Rena B. Crossland, Kempt, Queens County, N.S., writes:—"I feel it a duty, as well as a privilege, to tell of the wonderful benefit I derived from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. In March, 1917, I had anaemia of the brain, and the mental and physical suffering I endured is indescribable. I had treatment from three doctors and for twelve days was unconscious, and cared for like an infant. My mother was so anxious for me to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food that she crushed it and baked it in my food. After using two boxes I could feed myself, and after using it for two months, my health improved so rapidly that doctors and friends said my recovery was a miracle."

"I cannot recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food too highly, even to those who seem to be facing death. We keep it in the house now, and I use it occasionally to keep 'fit.' I shall always regret that I did not follow my mother's advice and use it while I was away teaching, whenever I felt nervous or tired. But gas I had no serious illness and did not realize the value of it. I neglected heeding mother's advice until it was too late. I had a complete breakdown. But thanks to Providence and Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I have been enjoying my former health and strength for the past two years."

"We have also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, Catarrh Powder and Ointment in our home, and must say we have been surprised sometimes at the instant relief given."

London Plays Hamilton

League Meets Linherfs
From Ambitious City For Provincial Honors Next
Saturday Night At the Armories.

London gets right on the indoor baseball map of the province when they meet the Linkers of Hamilton next Saturday night in the armories for the championship of Ontario. Linkers played West End Y team for the honors and beat them in a two-game series.

A picked team from the City Indoor League, which ended its season last week with Linkers as champions of the circuit, will represent London in next Saturday's final and greatest indoor game of the season, and it is anticipated that all the old devotees of the game will be attracted to the weekend fixture. The London team has not yet been chosen, but practically all the teams playing in the city league will be represented on the team that plays Saturday's game.

Visiting indoor baseball teams have been conspicuous absentees from the sports of the city for the last five years, but before that the inside pastime had a great bunch of followers in London, and some teams which made London one of the best of winter baseball towns. The league this year attracted a great many of the old players back to the armories floor again, and it is probable that the team picked will be composed of a good many players of the old military league.

12th Frame—New York
Giants Win First.

ST. LOUIS, April 19.—St. Louis used five pitchers in an effort to stop Chicago this afternoon, finally losing, 9 to 6, in the twelfth inning, when, with two out and two on bases, Vaughan singled, scoring Paskert, and Flack doubled to deep center, counting Deal and Vaughan.

Hornaby made the first home run of the season here in the second inning, driving the ball into the right field pavilion. In the seventh inning he hit to the edge of the pavilion on the right, and when the ball bounced back to Flack, Hornaby was caught going to third. The St. Louis players protested, claiming that the ball had landed in the seats and bounced out. Umpire Emslie called on Klem to decide, and the latter ruled that the ball had not cleared the railing and called Hornaby out.

The score: R.H.E. Chicago.....410 000 100 003—2 13 1 St. Louis.....010 005 000 000—6 14 3 Vaughan and Killifer; Schupp, Goodwin, May, Tuerro, Jacobs and Clemens; Dillhoefer.

NEW YORK WINS FIRST. The New York Nationals won their first game of the season here today, defeating Philadelphia in a closely-contested game by a score of 2 to 1. Young, who had failed to make a hit up to today, drove in both of New York's runs. Barnes, who was knocked out of the box in the opening game here last Thursday, pitched a steady game, and turned back the Phillies' batsmen whenever he was in real danger.

The score: R.H.E. Philadelphia.....000 001 000—2 5 1 New York.....001 010 000—2 5 1 Casey and McCarthy; Barnes and Gonzalez; McCarty.

BROOKLYN REPEATS. Brooklyn hit behind loose fielding by Boston gave Brooklyn their second victory of the series today. Maraville's shortstop playing was particularly bad, two of his errors being responsible for three of the runs. A wild throw by O'Neill let in the fourth tally.

Grimes not only pitched a steady ball, but his hitting also featured. He made two doubles, a single and a sacrifice in four trips to the plate.

The score: R.H.E. Boston.....010 001 000—2 5 6 Brooklyn.....030 001 000—4 9 1 Pillingim and O'Neill; Grimes and Miller.

G. T. R. Defeats Vets in First Soccer Game At Stratford

STRATFORD, April 19.—The G. T. R. team defeated the Veterans in the opening City League football game tonight, 1 to 0. The winning goal was scored 10 minutes before full time.

THE PILOT

BUZZ WETZEL had this taken on a fine day at Edwards Field before the London squad arrived at the southern town of Delaware, Ohio. He was assisting Coach House of the Wesleyan University team to round the college nine into shape. They had good weather for the job, but rain has fallen on Wetzell's efforts thus far.

Public Utilities Employees
Form Athletic Association

Employees of the Public Utilities met Thursday night in the Utilities Building for the purpose of forming a Athletic Club. The utilities have been active in all sports thus far this season, but without a central organization. It is proposed to effect this at the meeting, so that a still larger sports program may be outlined and looked after. The public utilities have entered a soccer team in the city league and will be represented in practically every line of sport this summer.

ESSEX ENTERS COUNTY
BASEBALL LEAGUE

ESSEX, April 19.—A meeting was held in the office of Johnson & Ladle for the purpose of organizing the Essex baseball team. The Essex team have been entered in the Essex County League, and are out to put Essex on the map. The season will open May 24. A large and enthusiastic meeting of the baseball fans of Essex County was held at the Aberdeen Hotel on Thursday evening, and the Essex County Baseball League was organized for the season of 1920. Essex, Woodside, Belle River, Ruthven, Kingsville, Leamington, Amherstburg and Tilbury will have teams entered.

The following officers were elected: Honorary president, Dr. J. W. Erlen, M.P.; president, Clay Cooper, Kingsville; vice-president, H. J. Pickering, Amherstburg; secretary-treasurer, E. G. Olette, Tilbury. Each club is to have two representatives on the executive committee. A lengthy discussion on the rules to govern the league took place, and it was finally decided to leave them to the executive committee, which is to meet at Essex next Tuesday evening. The offer of Hon. George P. Graham to donate a cup similar to last year to the winning team was unanimously accepted.

AS YOU WERE

The first week of the major league pastime has left very little to go on. In the senior league the performance of Mooney Gibson's Pirate crew has been very consistent on early season form, and in view of their rather dreary prospects from the first. The big fellow slipped into first place Sunday night at Bedford's park, and perhaps his stories for the first three days of the week will give a line on the Londoner's 1920 squad. In the American it is the usual first week mix. The Yankees didn't show dazzling work against the lowly Athletics. The White Sox jumped the Tigers for two out of their series, and the boosted Naps but split even with St. Louis. The greatest feature of the week, as far as the American circuit went, was Ruth's rather poor debut with the Yankees. A costly miff and fluffing out three times in one day were his contributions to the noticeable.

BUZZ'S DIRGE. Nothing but rain! Lord, it gives me a pain. To find a dry spot—a diamond or not. A landscape, or on it a blot, Or a lot where it doesn't rain.

BADLY NEEDED AND COMING. The appointment of a boxing commission in Ontario may come quicker than most governmental action is in the habit of taking effect. The fighting game is gaining in every part of the continent every day, and without commission supervision, but where it's without there is always the border of suspicion, and the accession of power of a commission in Ontario won't do the game any harm, especially in the smaller centres where a lot of the old stigma attaches to roped arena affairs, from reputation. The soldier bodies, which have been doing good work in promoting clean and above-board contests in this province, are noticeably attracting some of the old hangers-on back into the pastime, and the appearance of a commission composed of men who know the fighting game from the top and know where the bottom is, and are in it only for the betterment of the sport, would at this moment pull boxing back from any tendency it might have to backslide.

CALL FOR THE INTERPRETER. The Falcons and the team representing the Czechoslovaks are favorites for the hockey contests at the Olympic. Every day brings some knowledge. Didn't think they used water there, even to skate on.

Sir Thomas Lipton has made it plain that he will not be racing Shamrock III. in the cup races, first of all because he cannot, having challenged with Shamrock IV., and lastly, the Irish sportsman is not at all certain that the old yacht is faster than the challenger.

CLUMSY ON SKATES. W. A. Hewitt, cabling to the Ontario Star from Belgium, says the Slovaks held a workout on their arrival a few days ago. They were clumsy and used wrist shots. Judging from the American food commission reports on the food conditions down in that part of the country, they'd be clumsy with a knife and fork.

AND IF they have a word in Czechoslovakian that expressed "going stale," stale bread ought to give them a ready-made alibi.

BRITISH FOOTBALL TEAM
CANNOT COME OVER TO CANADA BEFORE 1922

Montreal, April 20.—Con Jones of Vancouver arrived here today from England via New York, and interviewed as to his inability to secure an English or Scottish football team to tour Canada this summer, stated that P. J. Wall, secretary of the English Football Association, had informed him that so far as the football associations were concerned no representative English team could visit Canada until 1922.

At Newcastle his proposal was only defeated at a directors' meeting by one vote. At Glasgow the directors of Rangers and Celtic refused to entertain the project. The same result occurred at Bradford City, and Chelsea. Mr. Jones attributes the cause of his failure to fear of players being lost to Canadian clubs, also to jealousy among the players who would not be selected on the team to tour Canada.

P. TRIVONLIDAS, A GREEK, WINS BOSTON MARATHON

Two Previous Winners Were Second and Third—Greek Will Be Naturalized At Once.

BOSTON, April 19.—The American marathon race was won today by Peter Trivoulidas of New York, who proved the fleetest of a field of 60 runners. The winner is a Greek subject, and will apply for citizenship papers Thursday. It is understood. The race was the official test for selection of the United States representatives at the Olympic.

Trivoulidas' time was 2 hours, 29 minutes and 31 seconds, and was eight minutes slower than the record, but fast considering a partly adverse wind. Second to the sturdy Greek was Arthur V. Roth of the Dorchester Club, Boston, who won the race in 1918. Last year's winner, Carl W. A. Lund of Quincy, who was second to Linder a year ago, was fourth, and Edwin H. White of Holy Cross Lyceum, New York, was fifth.

Trivoulidas ran a heady race today. While James Henigan, New England ten-mile champion, was setting a fairly stiff pace over the first half of the course, the Greek runner lay behind, conserving his strength. With the race half run, the steep Newton Hills forced Henigan to drop out.

Sixth place was won by Robert Conboy of Buffalo, seventh by Frank Zuna of New York, and eighth, the last of the prize positions, by Clifford Mitchell of New York. Charles Mellor of Chicago, dropped out three miles from the finish.

There will be ten events of the program, five for the junior and five for the senior classes. It is expected that four hundred boys will take part. Records will be kept of all boys taking part, with the idea of determining winners for the Dominion. The games which will be on the program include jumps of all kinds, shot-put and discus. Two potato races will also be held.

Any football players who are in the brigade want to make a point of being present on Tuesday night in order to get a chance of making the team, and any players who are not yet members of the brigade will be cordially welcomed.

Since coming to the city Mr. Ferguson has made many friends, and his loss will be as deeply felt socially as it will in the realm of sport, where his efforts have been outstanding and all to the betterment of the city's sporting spirit.

"ABSORBINE JR." will give quick relief, wherever the pain. Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Adv.

Spectre of Deficit Likely To Amount to 160 Millions Harasses Finance Minister Drayton Expected To Bring Down Budget First or Second Week in May, Having Difficulty To Make Revenue Meet Expenditures.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

OTTAWA, April 19.—The budget speech will, it is anticipated, be delivered during the first or second week in May. At the present time the minister of finance is probably the most harassed man in the Government inasmuch as upon his shoulders falls the task of making both ends meet at a time when expenditures and revenues are very far apart indeed. The problem before him is explainable in a few words.

Ordinary expenditures for the coming fiscal year are estimated at 440 million dollars. Other expenditures bring the total up to 540 millions, without taking into account probable supplementaries. The total revenues for the past fiscal year amounted to 380 millions. On the same basis of revenue, therefore, the minister is faced with a deficit of sixty millions on ordinary expenditures alone, and a total deficit of 160 millions. And the minister has declared in the House that at the present time he has absolutely no intention of floating another popular loan.

New Sources Sought. It would therefore appear that new sources of taxation are to be sought, for there is no reason to believe that the present sources will produce any more than they did during the last fiscal year.

Of the total revenues for the past year customs and excise as usual provided the bulk, a total of 210 millions in all, while miscellaneous provided 206 millions. The bulk of the latter was produced from excess profits and income, which contributed nearly double the amount secured the year before. It is interesting to note that while Sir Thomas White estimated the loss in revenues from the customs tariff due to the reductions which he made in his last budget, at fifteen millions, there was actually an increase of twenty millions in customs receipts during the year.

In spite of the record revenues during the period, a surplus of revenues over ordinary expenditures of only fifteen millions is recorded, while capital expenditures, paid out of loans, amounted to the formidable sum of $38,000,000, of which $24,000,000 was for war. The total ordinary expenditures for the year were in excess of those for the preceding year by the considerable amount of $75,000,000. The net debt of the Dominion when the war broke out was $27,000,000. At the end of the fiscal year just passed it was trembling at the $2,000,000,000 mark, and has reached a total of $1,950,000,000.

Not Gross Debt. And this does not really represent the debt of the Dominion. The gross debt would better represent it, inasmuch as a very large proportion of the so-called assets of the Dominion are of little value so far as revenue is concerned, and might just as well be written off. The gross debt is three billions. Probably a better idea of the Dominion's overhead charges on which annual interest must be paid, may be gained from an examination of the figures regarding the funded debt. At the end of the fiscal year the total funded debt of the Dominion was $2,514,826,547, of which $2,047,952,127 represented borrowings in Canada, bearing interest at 5½ per cent. The total expenditures on war up to the end of the last fiscal year were $1,667,337,471.

If the funded debt when the war broke out at the end of the last fiscal year it will be shown that the Government during the war actually borrowed a sum totalling $2,177,826,547, or half a billion dollars in excess of the actual cost of the war. Just where the extra money went to is not clear from the financial statements of the department of finance.

Collected in Revenues. Assuming that the 100 millions collected in revenues last year and listed as "miscellaneous" largely represents income and excess profits taxation, then the Dominion during the war secured only the insignificant amount of 200 million dollars from heavy war taxes. It would, therefore, appear that borrowings and war taxes were in excess of the actual cost of the war to an amount of about 700 millions. It is possible that these figures are capable of satisfactory explanation, it certainly will be one of the tasks of the finance minister to explain them in his budget.

Much Speculation. Naturally there is much speculation as to the probable new sources of revenue which the minister will propose. Retrenchment is not evident in the estimates which have already been brought down, though there are many considerable but inevitable reductions. The customs tariff cannot be expected to bring more, if as much, revenue as it did during the past fiscal year. The excess profits tax, it is rumored, is to be dropped, and not again revived. The income tax so far has not been as productive of results as might have been expected, but there are indications of a tightening up in the methods of collection. As compared with New Zealand, Australia, the United States and Great Britain, the collections in Canada from this source have been highly disappointing.

Levy Upon Capital. Speculation regarding new sources is varied. A levy upon capital is suggested by some as a proper method by which the present anomalous situation of a wealthy country and an almost bankrupt treasury may be adjusted. A land tax has its advocates, as has also the imposition of succession duties, both these taxes being in force in Australia and New Zealand. It is pointed out, however, that in Canada many of the provinces have adopted such imposts.

While no reductions in the tariff worth considering are anticipated, there are rumors that an internal excise duty may be imposed upon Canadian-made goods, so that the treasury may benefit and the Canadian manufacturer may pay for the protection which he enjoys. In the meantime the secrets of the budget are locked in the breast of the finance minister, though certain facts are set forth above are known. And the task before the minister is to cut his coat according to his cloth.

MACKENZIE KING TO MAKE DECLARATION ON HIS WAR RECORD

OTTAWA, April 19.—(By Canadian Press).—It is expected that on the motion to go into supply tomorrow afternoon the House of Commons will hear Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King's address on his war record, which he intimated last week he was going to make. It was known some days ago that Mr. King was only waiting for the opportunity, which could only come on a motion to move the House into committee of supply. The statement, it is understood, will be the answer of the Liberal leader to newspapers and speakers who have been making veiled statements as to what he was doing during the years Canada was at war.

DROPS PLAN OF FEDERAL BUREAU FOR EDUCATION

Edwards Withdraws Motion To Establish Clearing-House.

QUEBEC OPPOSES

Members Fear Move To Attack Constitutional Rights of Province.

OTTAWA, April 19.—That, in the opinion of this House, a federal bureau of education should be established at Ottawa.

The motion proposed by Dr. Edwards of Frontenac gave rise to debate in the House today, which monopolized the proceedings and eventually ended in withdrawal of the resolution. Dr. Edwards urged the establishment of such a bureau as a central clearing house of information on education, as a "treasury of good ideas." Dr. Clark, who is temporarily leading the third party, was in general agreement with the resolution. But it met with strong opposition from Quebec members. They took the ground that it was a flank attack on the constitutional rights of the provinces to control their own education. But passing of the resolution would mean a direct instruction to the Government to do something based on rather vague form, and the Government would not care to take an instruction so positive as was expressed in the resolution.

Failed To Get Second. Adjournment of the debate was moved by Mr. Davidson of Annapolis, but Mr. Davidson failed to secure a second, and Dr. Edwards closed the debate with a general reply. Here he took issue with the Quebec members. Hon. Dr. Edwards asked could the establishment of such a bureau be construed as an attack on constitutional rights. The bureau would have no power to make laws. It would merely gather information.

CRACK HOCKEY TEAMS OF CANADA AND U.S. READY FOR OLYMPIC

Players From Dominion Practice Daily in Antwerp.

Antwerp, April 20.—The Canadian hockey team, which arrived last week by way of England, has been practicing daily in preparation for the opening game of the Olympic series which will take place on Friday night.

The Canadians were on hand yesterday to welcome the members of the United States team, who arrived in the afternoon. All of the teams entered for competition are now here, with the exception of the French, who are only a few hours away, and are training steadily in Paris.

After fraternizing with the American players during the afternoon the Canadians turned out in the evening to watch the first practice of the boys from the south of the line. They expressed the opinion that the "Yanks" are likely to be strong contenders for the hockey title.

The drawing for the first pairings will be held Thursday afternoon. The Canadians are hoping to meet the Americans early in the series. The players from the Dominion have been given a great reception by the British army contingent stationed here, and will have a strong roster choice to give them encouragement during the games. The American army officers stationed at the Antwerp base will root for the United States team.

Both Canadian and American teams have made arrangements for daily practices until the opening game. The Canadians are favorites in the betting here.

Well, that's just what you can do with Lowes' Hard Drying Floor Paint. This fact, together with the way it stands wear and tear is the reason it is used so much on restaurant floors and ship decks.

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble one of the first questions he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"

Now, when the heart becomes affected there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart, and strengthen and restore the whole nerve system.

Mr. Stephen Crouse, East Clifford, N. S., writes: "I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I felt better after taking them: three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work the farm, and can truthfully say I feel like a different man."

BRANTFORD POLICE WANT ONE DAY OFF A WEEK WITH PAY

Commissioners Promise Consideration of Constables' Request At Early Date.

BRANTFORD, April 19.—At a meeting of the police commissioners this afternoon a deputation from the men asked for one day off per week with pay and a change of hours, whereby they would not be required to work ten months out of the year on night duty. They submitted information from Toronto and London to strengthen their case. The commissioners before taking any action decided to secure figures and information from cities similar in size to Brantford and promised to take the matter up at an early date.

The purchase of a motorcycle to regulate traffic was authorized as was the reorganization of the detective department. James Chapman being made an inspector, and Officer Boylan, a detective.

WOODSTOCK RURAL MAIL CARRIERS THROW UP JOB

Claim They Are Losing Money Under Their Present Contracts.

WOODSTOCK, April 19.—Some of the local rural mail carriers, following the lead of the Brantford carriers, have sent in their resignations and given up their mail routes, and the balance of those who carry mail within a radius of 15 miles of this city are contemplating doing the same.

According to one of the carriers, one of the local men, acting on the statement of Hon. Mr. Rowell, that rural route men were at liberty to throw up their contracts at any time, gave up his route. Fenders were advertised for the amount he was owed for his work which had been paid. Thereupon the old carrier was made to resume and finish out his contract.

Most of the local carriers were made two years ago, and the carriers average between 25 and 30 miles a day and receive from $2.48 to $3.50 a day. At this wage they claim they are actually losing money when the cost of keeping a horse and rig or automobile is deducted.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

THE HOUSING QUESTION.
To the Editor of The Advertiser:
Your editorial in Friday's issue has given an excellent analysis of the local, provincial and federal housing situation, but it does not go deep enough. In these modern times and conditions the average individual does not take kindly to the character labels that often, belittles him or the group that are gathered in a common interest. Thus no man, or set of men, would appreciate the appellation of "fool." Yet if we rely on the old aphorism as being wisely founded the saying, "Fools build houses for wise men to live in," is just as applicable today as when the axiom was first coined.

What does the average politician know about the housing business as a business? But it is safe to assume that it rounds good as a vote-catcher, for to many minds that is what it seems to have been intended for, a medium to catch the man of overalls and the returned hero soldier.

Once if the old axiom holds good no one but a fool would build a house to rent or sell on the installment plan as has been planned by the government. Your editorial draws the attention of the thinking public to the problem that inevitably follows such a procedure as set forth in the experience of the amateur local housing commissionists. It is only one of the troubles that are attached to what the resigned minister of municipal affairs has made. There are a great many other phases that crop up in the house building business that those having experience do not relish. They have had to pay dearly for their experience. But it is difficult to make a municipal commission. "It is not their own money." Hence the dear experience or losses will cause them little, if any, loss of sleep.

But the poor unfortunate taxpayer who is laboring under the almost crushing load of a tax of 40 mills, plus local improvements, that make an interest charge on his home varying from 4 to 6 per cent or over, with a still higher tax rate looming up for the year to come, cannot possibly take kindly to the bonus of home-making, possibly for someone who has never done anything towards the upbuilding of Canada or the city in which he may elect residence. A man may at any moment sacrifice the initial payments he has made. He would thus leave the civic home he has in all probability nursed up so that it has all the characteristics of a very second-hand apartment. Because of this the commission will have much unforeseen overhead expense.

This will not be covered by the 10 per cent deposit and such installments as may happen to have been paid. Few people have noted the injury which this system will work on the community in which it operates. Capital that might have drifted from the fields into the building of more houses for the wise man has been badly frightened. Now, more who is to say that it will not affect the sale of future debenture issues to the money sources from whom we are obliged to borrow? A far better plan than that of the government would have been to have given proper protection to the individual building dwellings to rent, so that the delinquent tenant and those who would cause unnecessary damage would have to make good or go to jail. Then there would be some encouragement to invest. When the question came before the council of Louisville, Ky., they appointed a shrewd committee of businessmen to look up the question. After some months of careful investigation they advised the council to keep out. Labor and material, the two principal factors, were practically prohibitive. Immediately resident builders announced the building of hundreds of houses.

We have the same type of men here who are making a business of building homes for sale, but who cannot borrow money for the rate offered by the government. At the same time they can give better value to the buyer in the saving of overhead charges that a commission cannot avoid. It may well be asked if it is fair to level builders to thus compromise their interests. On the same principle the government should enter the sugar business, the flour milling business, the making of clothing, and all of the many other necessities that are just as requisite as a home.

I take your editorial to be a timely warning to the administration, whether it be federal, provincial or municipal, and particularly the latter.

WHO LEAVES 'EM?

County police are trying hard to solve a puzzling problem, the detection of a group of convicts who are the most dangerous of the county's place for carousal and enjoyment of beverages supposed to be extinct. Nearly every morning empties still redolent with the delectable fragrance of the finest Irish and Scotch brands are found discarded in the courtyard. Late in the afternoon and evening the courtyard is little frequented, but the doors are rarely locked until 10 o'clock.

THEFT OF HOSIERY

Twelve pairs of hosiery were stolen from the store of Ross' Limited, 196 Dundas street, on Sunday by someone who entered the place by a rear third-story window. The matter has been reported to the local detective department.

AT THE ALLEN.

Who does not love to see a horse race—one of those thrilling, exciting races, where one holds his breath watching for the winner. Go to the Allen Theatre this week and see Anita Stewart in "In Old Kentucky." The most realistic scenes of the ride for fortune on the famous horse, Queen Bess, a jump over a chasm on horseback and the wonderful scenery of the southern country are wonderfully depicted.

Anita Stewart, the black curly headed fairy of the movies, is first seen in a little lass among the mountains, where she lives the simple life of the mountain folk. Her father and brothers had been killed years before in a feud, and she carried this bitter memory in her heart. Society visits the mountain, and Anita's petite ways win her many friends, and she is invited to visit in the southern city. It is there that she learns of the wonderful thoroughbred horse, Queen Bess.

The most thrilling scene of the whole picture is where Holley, the boy who owns Queen Bess, drags the jockey, who is to ride her at the big Kentucky race. To lose this race would mean that Layton would be ruined. Anita finds out that the jockey has been drugged, and appears at the last minute just in time to enter the handicap in his place. After a close race she noses in just ahead and the time when Anita is to learn whether she is loved or not.

Holley makes a dash to escape. He gets away, but in his mad flight his horse stumbles, and he is hurled over a cliff and is killed. Then comes the big Kentucky ball at the Layton home to celebrate the handicap race, and the time when Anita is to learn whether she is loved or not.

A good comedy picture and an Allen's Weekly, a deluge to the theatre. The picture is a complete and excellent bill that will be repeated today and on Wednesday.

AT LOEW'S.

When Norma Talmadge, actress, plus Le Roy Scott, novelist, created the picture "A Daughter of Two Worlds," they gave to the theatre world an attraction which was much above the ordinary in screen plays. Le Roy Scott, undoubtedly one of the greatest short story writers of the day, knows the inner workings of the police force of the bigger cities of America better perhaps than any other writer.

He knows, too, the world of crime, and is familiar with the peculiar code of honor alleged to exist among thieves. His credit has been given to a series of short police stories, more than one of which have been dramatized. Now to his laurels has been added "A Daughter of Two Worlds," which is showing at Loew's Theatre the first half of this week. It is a gripping story, full of tense situations, sudden and furious climaxes and stirring acts of bravery and usefulness such as only big men and true women are capable of performing.

The great amount of emotional acting required in the leading role gives Norma Talmadge an opportunity to make the most of her wonderful talent. All the credit must not be given to some difficult and arduous task, but some splendid acting. The cast is truly all-star. The plot of the story is clever and well-worked out; at no time is the picture less than grippingly interesting.

Norma Talmadge in the role of Jennie Malone, the daughter of a diver, born and reared surrounded by the crime of the slums, who, finding the clinging clutches of evil companions, pursued and persecuted by the police, still rises above her birth and environment to an honored place of respect and wins the love and respect of a splendid man.

One of the cleverest sharp-shooting acts ever seen in the city is staged some difficult and arduous task, but some splendid acting. The cast is truly all-star. The plot of the story is clever and well-worked out; at no time is the picture less than grippingly interesting.

Jewell and Raymond in a juvenile act get across some excellent dancing and pleasing singing. The comedy is good and refreshing. They were forced to respond to several encores Monday.

"The Cabby and the Fare," a comedy sketch put on by Bill Bernard and Charlotte Meyers is extremely funny. Both possess good if unusual voices. Some of his acts are a little overdone, but he is a comedian. A big "v" comedy and a Loew's Pictorial complete a program which will be shown today and tomorrow.

AT THE GRAND.

Grey and old rose, an artistic song and dance oddity, features the bill at the Grand, and is one of the most delightful acts that has been seen in London in some time. It takes one back 40 years to the quaint costumes and stately dances that were so popular with our grandfathers. The special stage setting and the costumes of grey and old rose are as appropriate as they are charming. Bernivell Bros., in "A Night in Venice," present a musical novelty that was well received. Their violin selections include both popular and operatic numbers and were artistically rendered. "Leave It To George," a musical farce, has a cast of eight headed by Miss Billy Louise. It is replete with special songs, excellent dance numbers, snappy music and pretty costumes. Billy Van and Trilzie Yorke in "A Fat Chance and Thin Excuse," songs, comedy and mimicry got across from the start, and won steady applause. The big bill includes two film productions, Mr. and Mrs. Carter de Haven in a comedy sketch, "Hooded," and Dorothy Dalton in "The Market of the New Year." The latter is a picture with gripping interest from start to finish. It is full of action, such scenes as the New Year revel in the Broadway cafes, being in striking contrast to those which follow later. The films also include the Pathé Revue, and Topics of the Day.

A Simple Home Treatment Now Advocated That Gives Fine Results.

When a woman's face grows haggard and pale, when she is tired all day and ready to cry when night comes, she ought to know something is wrong. Putting off only make matters worse. The best advice we can give any sickly woman is to test out the following treatment:
