A WARM DEBATE IN THE HOUSE

Mr. Osler Replies to the Criticism of Mr. Scott

Committee-Bills Passed in the Senate.

made upon him the other evening by Mr. Scott, of West Assiniboia. At that time Mr. Scott accused him of a well-digger in East York. of being amongst those who cleared $15,000,000 out of the late Government in connection with certain western railways. Mr Osler declared that there was not a shadow of foundation for the charge. It had been made in the House some years ago by Mr. Davis. He had answered it fully at that time. Mr. Osler denied the charge by Mr. Scott, stating that the Government papers in Toronto had given prominence in their headings to this charge. He then went on to explain his connections with the Regina and Long Lake and the Calgary and Edmonton Railways. So far as any members from the finding fault with the finance of these roads, they should be proud to hold them up as examples as against the financing of roads in other parts of the country, for the reason that they were built by hones; cash. He defied any member to put his finger on one single transaction in connection with the financing of the roads which was not absolutely straightforward and honest, and so far as his being ashamed of his connections with those roads was concerned, he and his firm could point to two undertakings very successfully financed, and at a time of a crisis in Great Britain. He had not done anything disagreeable to the members from the Northwest, and did not know why they went out of their way to find fault. He had nothing to do with the chartering of the roads, but took inem ap entirely as a matter of business. Mr. Scott admitted that the newspapers had treated Mr. Osler more harshly than he had done. He said he had taken pains to make no reflec-tion upon the honorable gentleman, but had simply laid before the House a comparison of the railway legislation now proposed by the Government, with whole line is guarded by sentries. certain legislation put through Parlialiament by previous Governments.
