S.R.C. CHARGES $1 FOR CON

At the final budget meeting of the S.R.C. last week, it was carried on an 11-9 vote that $1.00 per couple admission be charged to the Con.

The motion was made after much haggling had taken place as to how the S. R. C. could erase the $200 deficit plus reinstate athletic and non-athletic awards.

A recommendation made by the Finance Committee listed several suggestions for cuts, which mainly involved the Brunswickan, Hockey, and Ladies' Basketball.

The Brunswickan conceded one issue, and cut two eight-page issues to six pages.

Foam rubber pads were deleted from the hockey budget, but skate sharpening mentioned in the committee's report remained uncut.

A dead-lock seemed to have reached due to the fact that previous M.I.A.U. commitments prevented cutting Varsity games. Various members voiced opinions on the inadvisability of making these commitments for the future before the budget came up for discussion.

In order to secure funds for the awards previously tabled, the motion (Drummie - MacNamara) to charge admission to the Con was passed.

This charge, coupled with the dollar increase in the price of the Year Book, has the same effect as a $2.00 increase in the spring levy.

Cups Awarded on Final Presentation

Following the final performance of "An Inspector Calls" Saturday night Miss Wilma Sansom and Mr. William Barwick were presented with the Cattley and Bailey cups respectively. Prof. Cattley presented the cup he donated to be awarded to the person considered to have contributed the most to the Drama Society during the year.

He stated his pleasure that Miss Sansom, who contributed so much behind the scenes in planning and organization, as president of the Society, and acting in Overlaid and as Mrs. Birling in "An Inspector Calls", should receive the trophy this year. Dr. Trueman presented the Bailey cup which is given to the most outstanding actor. The play was adjudicated each night and Mr. William Barwick, who gave an excellent and sustained performance as Arthur Birling, was awarded this cup. He is well known for his performance as Sir Harry in "The Twelve Pound Look", performed this fall. Dr. Trueman, in his remarks, mentioned the important role of Drama in developing poise in the actors and artistic appreciation among all concerned. He said that no other activity seemed able to draw interest from all groups on the campus as well as dramatics, and expressed the hope that U.N.B. might be able to do something special in the field of Drama and come to be thought of as the focal point of dramatics in the province.

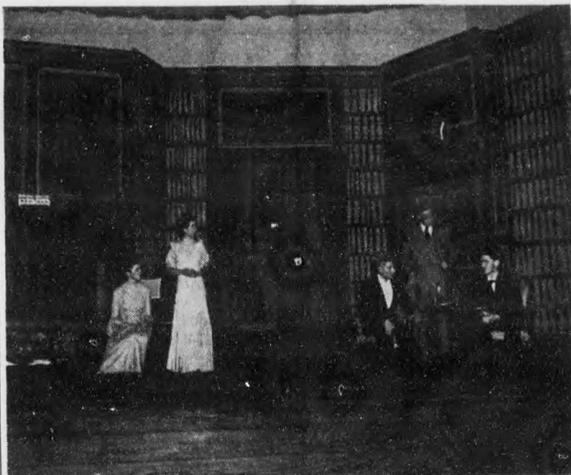

Prof. Allan McAndrew, the head of the Modern Language Department introduced Dr. Trueman and Prof. Cattley.

INSPECTOR WELL RECEIVED

The U.N.B. Drama Society climaxed an active year with the successful production of "An Inspector Calls" at Teachers' College last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The play was both an artistic and financial success, and each night the large audiences obviously enjoyed the production. The cast and the many people who tirelessly worked on scenery, publicity, props, ticket-selling, make-up, lighting and ushering should all be congratulated for the effort and teamwork which is necessary for such a successful production as was viewed last week.

The added details of invited guests in formal garb, the "first night" atmosphere, with flowers presented to the ladies of the cast, and the reception Saturday night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Trueman added a note of distinction to the whole affair. A great deal of interest and favourable comment was aroused by this aspect of the society's activities. Thursday night Mayor and Mrs. H. S. Wright invited the cast, committee heads and friends of the Society to a delightful reception. The final night all members of the Drama Society enjoyed themselves at the President's home after the play, when they had a chance to mingle with the faculty members and invited guests. Later in the evening there was dancing in the lobby of the Arts building. Dr. and Mrs. Trueman, Miss Wilma Sansom and Mr. Alvin Shaw received the guests. Coffee was poured by Mrs. R. E. D. Cattley, Mrs. Desmond Pacey and Miss Edith McLeod. The details of the reception were arranged by Cynthia Balch and Mary Needer and they deserve credit for such a pleasant evening.

Prof. Shaw was presented with an engraved cigarette case in appreciation of the job which he has done as director of the Society's play.

APACHE DANCE TO HIGHLIGHT COED WEEK

Last Wednesday the Ladies' Society was entertained at the Maggie Jean Residence with a buffet supper. Afterwards coffee and bridge in the drawing rooms were enjoyed before the official meeting was held. Plans for Co-ed Week were the main topic for discussion. A schedule was drawn up for each day of the week, from Feb. 17-23. On Monday, evening, the society will hold its annual mixed bridge part in the reading rooms. Tuesday night will bring a hockey game between the co-eds and the faculty. The plans for Wednesday night were changed from a box social in the gym to either a toboggan party or a scavenger hunt depending on the weather. Thursday and Saturday were left open as Wolf nights. Remember girls its Leap Year.

Friday night will bring the major event of the week in the form of an Apache Dance. This is something new on the campus so watch for posters and listen for explanations. Get out your dancing shoes, people.

Plans for co-ed week being completed some of the girls resumed their bridge games and others tackled the dishes, to end an evening of fun.

Fifteen Naval Cadets Accepted

On Saturday, January 26, first year U.N.T.D. cadets at UNB at last went before the long-awaited selection board. The results were the most satisfactory in the history of the organization on the campus, or of the seventeen probationary cadets paraded before the group of naval experts, fifteen were accepted.

Accepted by the board chair-manned by Cmdr. R. Welland, Halifax, were cadets Gaspar, Wilson, Cain, Snow, Hall, Lanteign, McClelland, Doiron, Dewar, Mann, Jefferson, Ritchie, Trueman, Russell and Walker.

The new cadets as well as the rest of the division are now making preparations for a week-end training visit to Halifax, late in February or early March.

Interest at the moment hinges around the actions of Cadet Costar and his mess committee who have just completed arrangements for a formal dance. Plans call for the dance to be held in the newly organized Navy Club quarters on Friday, Feb. 8th. The mess committee has also completed arrangements for a mess dinner to be held the following week.

NOMINATIONS ARE BEING CALLED FOR:

- S.R.C.
 - a. President—Senior.
 - b. 1st Vice-President—Senior.
 - c. 2nd Vice-President—Junior Co-ed.
 - d. Treasurer—Junior or Intermediate.
 - e. Secretary—Sophomore.
 - f. Chairman of N.F.C.U.S. Committee.
 - g. 4 Representatives from each class, one of whom must be a co-ed.
- A.A.A.
 - a. President.
 - b. Vice-President—Co-ed.
 - c. Secretary-treasurer.
- Classes
 - a. President.
 - b. Vice-President—Co-ed.
 - c. Secretary-treasurer.

All nominations must be in writing, and must be signed by the mover and seconder. In the case of executive positions on the S.R.C. and A.A.A. there must be 8 seconds. Nominations must be handed to the President or secretary of the S.R.C. before noon, Feb. 16, 1952. Elections will be held on Feb. 27.

FORMAL HAS GOOD TURNOUT

The annual Engineer's Formal was held at the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel last Friday, with a great turnout of the more prosperous of the campus. The music, which was handled by Dick Ballance and his orchestra, was exceptional... so far we've heard no complaint about it anyway.

One of the demonstrations which was especially interesting (for women) was the one whereby you could see the waves made by your voice, the shriller the voice the stronger the waves. (Now maybe they'll be quieter).

All in all though everybody seemed to enjoy themselves, and it was an excellent dance, even if it did take a forester to win the only dance prize given out.

NOTICE

There is a general meeting of the Red 'n Black at Mem Hall on Sunday, Feb. 10, 2:00 P.M. Movies of former shows will be shown and everyone interested is invited to attend, especially Freshmen and those new to the Red 'n Black.

EXCHANGE TO BE RECONSIDERED

Ottawa (CUP) — The proposed visit to Canada of fifteen Russian students was approved last week by Carleton College students.

To date, students of thirteen Canadian universities have supported the Russian visit and three camps rejected it.

Reconsideration of the proposed student tour of Canadian campuses will be taken by the executive of the National Federation of Canadian Universities Students at a meeting to be held in Ottawa shortly.

Geologists View Film

The Bailey Geological Society held its meeting Wednesday evening, Jan. 30th with a record attendance. There was a short business meeting at which Robert Cameron, who has been added to the Geology Staff of the University, was welcomed to the society. The rest of the meeting was taken up with the showing of a film entitled, "The Story of Nickel" which was enjoyed by everyone present.

Letters To The Editor

The Editor, Brunswickan

I would like to voice my disapproval of the latest scheme proposed by the S.R.C. to try and get themselves out of another financial mess. The latest plan is to raise money to cover their deficit in the coming budget by charging admission to the "Con".

This is an unprecedented action, and in my opinion one that can have unfavorable consequences. This sets a very convenient way of covering up unwise and extravagant budgeting by the S.R.C. If this method of raising money is used this year, then next year's council will probably repeat the practice and so on until it will be just another source of revenue.

The "Con" was never meant to be a source of revenue for S.R.C. activities. It is supposed to be one of the benefits we receive for our $18.00, just as free admission to basketball and football games. I was under the impression that all these things were taken for granted when I handed in my $9.00.

It has been said that further cuts were impossible because of M.I.A.U. commitments which were made by the S.R.C. last spring. This seems to be the prevailing excuse every year when the council discovers that it doesn't have enough money. Surely the time has come for the present council to realize that we aren't another McGill, and we should budget for a college of 700. But no doubt, this year's council will probably commit next year's council to the red and the S.R.C. will counter by raising the levy next year.

Having college sports is a good thing but it can be carried too far. Surely it can be realized that a college of 700 cannot support three football teams, two basketball teams, swimming tournaments, ski meets, tennis, hockey and so on. It just can't be done without placing an unreasonable levy on the students. Let's hope that a little more sensible attitude will govern next year's M.I.A.U. commitments.

It may be argued, "Oh hell, what's a buck!" Well a buck's a buck, and I don't want to pay it. Many of the fellows here just don't have the time or the desire to go to the various sports activities and therefore get little in return for their $18.00. But if one has to pay admission to attend annual formal, then what's the advantage of having a student's pass? Also, as I have said before, it sets a bad precedent for future council actions.

In closing I would like to express a strong desire that the S.R.C. approach the matter of budgeting in a more realistic manner instead of jumping at the first convenient method that is suggested for getting themselves out of the red.

Sincerely, A. Hansen Senior Civil

The Editor, Brunswickan

Dear Madam;

I am writing in regards to the decision of the S.R.C. to charge students admission to the "Con."

The S.R.C. as we all realize, is the governing body on the campus, but at the same time they represent the students.

Each year the students pay a levy. For this they are given certain privileges, such as attending football and basketball games etc. It has been noted that in the past few years the privileges granted to the student body as a whole are becoming smaller, due to the fact that the S.R.C. insists on keeping and sanctioning a top-heavy budget.

In the Dance Regulations set down by the Faculty and student social Committees and approved by the S.R.C., it was stated that the students were to be admitted to the three Formal Dances (Fall Formal, Con, and Encaenia) on their student's Passes. This is a commitment made by the S.R.C. and one that should not be broken without first giving the question considerable thought.

During the last S.R.C. meeting, I was very discouraged to witness the manner in which the members conducted themselves. Their Financial Committee had recommended cuts in the proposed budget which would have erased the deficit. After considering a few of these cuts it was suggested that the students be charged admission to the Con. There it was, an easy way out. They did not even consider the remaining proposed cuts, but after a little haggling, passed the motion.

Personally, I felt that the S.R.C. is unjustified in their proposal and would strongly suggest reconsideration.

Yours truly, Stan Jobb

JIM CURRIE... THE INQUIRING REPORTER

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THE S.R.C.'S DECISION TO CHARGE $1.00 FOR THE CON?

George Brewster - Senior Forester: "There are certain sports that are enjoyed by all and there are some that are enjoyed by only a few. The same goes for student functions. I think that the activities that are most popular should be the first to receive S.R.C. support. The Con is widely enjoyed. Why should it be the first to have an admission charge?"

Ralph Clark - Freshman Science: "The deficit in the S.R.C. Budget is due to poor management in certain departments. The idea of charging a dollar once is alright but it should not become a general practice."

Maxine MacDonald - Sophomore Arts: "Although a dollar isn't much to pay, I don't think that it is a good idea to start charging admission to college functions in order to balance the S.R.C. budget. This is really just an indirect way of raising the levy."

Pete Murphy - Intermediate Forester: "Most other colleges charge for their big formals and they charge more than a dollar. I don't see why we can't. Considering the dance we get I think it's worth it. Our S.R.C. levy isn't so high that we can't pay an extra dollar for privileges."

Jerry Burt - Junior Civil: "I think that those who attend the Con shouldn't mind paying a dollar. After all, they're the ones who enjoy the dance, so shouldn't they pay a little extra?"

D. L. Dewey - "The S.R.C. obviously didn't give the question the consideration it deserves. What I would like to know is: "What am I getting for the $18 I have already paid?" I'll stay home, with a lot of other people, before I'll pay a buck for the Con."

As Seen From The Bleachers...

Whats Wrong With OUR Sports?

Anyone who has been following the sporting world via the newspapers, sporting magazines, radio coverages and programmes has had this question tossed in their direction hundreds of times during the past year. The far reaching basketball scandal which engulfed the entire U.S. in both college and professional ranks, and the forced break up of the great Army eleven due to mass cribbing shocked and stunned the sporting world. This came as a terrific blow to the lovers and believers of true sportsmanship, but on looking back we can see that even though this may take on the form of history's greatest athletic explosion, it is, after all, nothing new. Dating back to the Black Sox scandal of 1919, which came near ending the great American past-time on a national level, through the troublesome football days of the thirties, the life expulsion of three N.H.L. players in 1946, and finally to this latest outburst which brought the instability of sports to the foreground, there has always been something wrong with sports.

Turning now to the local scene we find ourselves excluded from the above category. We have had no cases of bribery, thrown games or class room cribbing, at least none have been reported, but never the less we have our problems and there are strong signs of something being amiss.

Let us take for example the basketball situation. Not so many years ago U.N.B. was the powerhouse of the Maritime courts and at one stage went so far as to inscribe its name into the Dominion record books. Gradually we relinquished this top position to the blue and white cagers from St. F.X. and at present we seem on the verge of surrendering even more. For the past three seasons we have lost the Tri-Province crown to this same N.S. club and with each successive year the margin of their win has gradually increased. At this stage it was clear that the only team we had to fear was the St. F.X. aggregation, but times have changed. The boys in the blue and white must still be looked on as the team to beat, but already this season we have lost to Dal., a defeat which reduces us to third position in Maritime play. Such a situation is bad enough, but when we look at the new four-team league which has sprung up this year we begin to wonder if our N.B.-P.E.I. title is not in danger. On Sat. night the locals came up with a nine point win over a green and experience-lacking St. Dunstons team, which is in its first year of competition. To manage this win the Red and Black needed the wide open spaces of the Beaverbrook gym and the combination of half a dozen shots which they can never hope to repeat, and which might easily be termed as on the "flucky" side. Many will say that this was just a bad game and things will be different in the future. The only answer that we can give to that is the shooting statistics which show Saturday's game to be the best turned in by the hoopsters in their last three. In this contest they shot at a 27.1% which topped their efforts in the other two games when they hit for 25% and a miserable 15.2%. This gives them a three game total of 22.6%, a figure which falls far short of a good shooting percentage and shows that they have put together a small series of bad ones. Also it is to be noted that despite the fact that they won two of these games they threw away twice as many passes as the opposition over the three game span and that their combined opponents had a shooting percentage of 31.6, pointing out quite clearly that they are not turning in a very good brand of ball.

Getting back to the league we see that Mt. A must be regarded as the biggest threat due to the inexperience of the two new entries. If we can only take the St. Dunstan's five by nine points in our own friendly surroundings what will happen when we come against the Mounties? Also what will be our fate in the cramped hunting grounds on the Island? These all pose rather disheartening answers and if something doesn't happen in the near future we may be forced to witness the loss of the N.B.-P.E.I. title and in so doing take the last step downward from our former Dominion perch.

Leaving basketball and moving on to hockey we are faced with the same dropping-off situation. At one time Maritime champs, then N.B.-P.E.I. leaders, finally last year the team lost even this to the unknown St. Thomas pucksters, a team arising out of a small college with an enrollment of around one hundred and fifty. There are no signs that the Green and Yellow have slipped any from last season and there is also nothing to indicate that our squad has improved. While St. Thomas has been busy in the North Shore League, our hope for ice lane laurels has played but four games and has yet to notch their initial win, circumstances which place us in a worse position than last year because this time we are underdogs from the word "go".

What's this we hear about taxicabs running around on telephone wires? First we knew it was last Saturday nite when a very flustered co-ed kept insisting that the cabbie call for her at "9061", which as you know, is the phone number. He finally caught on and she reached her destination on time.

We hardly knew we had a star in our midst until "AN INSPECTOR CALLED" and then weren't we all proud to whisper confidentially to the person sitting next to us that Di stays right up there on the good old third, and we hear her muttering lines at all hours! A good deal of credit was brought to more than just the 811-ers when she played the part of Shiela Birling so conscientiously and so superbly. Congratulations, and more power to you, Diana.

More than one person was overheard talking about the tremendous success of the supper-meeting of the Ladies' Society held at 811. Who finally overbid that last bridge game? We also overheard that a meeting was held in the kitchen over the stacks and stacks of dishes and cutlery. But the last remaining workers certainly enjoyed the tasty goodies that Betsy's Mother kindly sent, didn't we?

Well, the "Wednesday Nighters" still don't know whether to have a weekly or bi-monthly meeting. Some of them say that it sort of depends on the intramural basketball games, but last Wednesday's meeting was such a success that we'll just have to wait and see. After all, promoting academic success should be foremost in our minds and those meetings are certainly conducive to staying at home.

"An Inspector Calls"

(Reviewed by DESMOND PACEY)

The U.N.B. Drama Society gave citizens of Fredericton three evenings of excellent entertainment when, on January 31, February 1 and 2, it produced J. B. Priestley's An Inspector Calls. Directed by Mr. Alvin J. Shaw, the production was in all respects a most satisfying one. Almost without exception, the actors created and sustained their roles admirably; the stage setting was pleasant but not obtrusive; make-up, costumes, and lighting were all managed very effectively.

Since it has become traditional to alternate the performance of a classic with that of a modern play, and since the classics had had their turn in 1951, An Inspector Calls was a good choice for this year's production. It lends itself well to amateur performance, as it demands only a small cast of seven characters and a single simple set. It is, however, far from being a great play, and I hope that its success at the box-office will not impair the tradition of alternation to which I have referred. A good proportion of our students have not seen any plays on the stage when they arrive at the university, and it seems to me that during their four or five years here they should be given the opportunity of seeing, and perhaps participating in, both plays which represent the modern theatre and plays which have stood the test of time. It is easier to produce a passable performance of Odets or Priestley than of Shakespeare or Marlowe, but that is all the more reason why a university group should, in their turn, tackle the old masters.

But we are here concerned with An Inspector Calls. It is not, as I have said, a great play. The first act is dull and slow; substantial sections of the second and third acts are painfully obvious and needlessly repetitive; and the play is only partially redeemed from mediocrity by the clever finale. Priestley's message is one with which one can do nothing but sympathize, but he throws it at us far too obviously and too often. One yearns for the emotional subtlety and irony of Shakespeare, for the intellectual gymnastics of Shaw, even for the tortured depths of O'Neill. Priestley is a man of good will, but he is obviously also a bit of a prig. His play has the solid virtues of Yorkshire pudding, but like that traditional English dainty it is rather dull and heavy.

However, the play did provide good entertainment, because skillful direction and fine acting made the most of its material. The skill of the director, Mr. Shaw, was most obvious in the timing and grouping. There were few of those inter-speech pauses which bedevil most amateur performances, and in the last act especially cues were picked up so quickly that a real illusion of spontaneous animated discussion was achieved. Again, the actors had been coached to arrange themselves on the stage to the best effect, and I only noticed two or three occasions when they were awkwardly grouped.

Of the individual performances, that of Dan MacArthur as Inspector Goole impressed me most favourably. Several interpretations of that role are possible, but it seems to me that MacArthur chose the one most suited to his own physique and voice. He could not have been a successful hectoring inspector, nor a supernaturally mysterious one, but he could be and was a consistently quiet, patient, and gently sympathetic one. I thought he sustained his role most effectively, and made a greater impact by his soft understatement that could have been made by any kind of flamboyance. William Barwick, as Arthur Birling, carried a heavy load with obvious enthusiasm, and made, in his noisy pomposity, a nice foil for MacArthur's inspector. I felt, however, that Barwick relied a little too heavily on gesticulation, and that there were depths to that part which he seldom gave us a glimpse. I should have liked more crudeness and genuinely vindictive cruelty on the one hand, and more fawning obsequiousness on the other: remember that Birling is a self-made Midlands industrialist, and not a southern squire.

I was very favourably impressed by the performances of Diana Crabtree and Bob Whalen as the Birling offspring. They got better as the play progressed, and by the last act had completely lost themselves in their parts. Good casting was evident here, as elsewhere: they were both ideally suited for the parts to which they were allotted. Both roles were capable of being spoiled by sentimentality, but neither performer made that mistake. Wilma Sansom, as Mrs. Birling, had probably the most difficult role in the play, a very ambiguous one that is never really defined by the playwright. Miss Sansom seemed a bit puzzled by it, and I do not blame her. My own hunch, based on the fact that she is the wife of a self-made industrialist, is that she should have been a little less of the grand dame and considerably more vulgar. She would have a veneer of gentility, but breaking the surface at times (in the form of coarseness of dialect and gesture) would have been traces of genuine grossness. Donald Bell, as Gerald Croft, had the appearance but not enough of the manners and polish of the genuine young gentleman. He came close to success in the third act, but in the earlier parts of the play he lacked the suavity and assurance which the role demanded. But it too was a difficult role, an especially difficult one for a Canadian to sustain. Ruth Nicholson, finally, was quietly effective and properly unobtrusive as the maid.

On the whole, the production reflects great credit on the university drama society, the cast, and the director. It is dangerous to make predictions on the very eve of the regional drama festival, but at least one can be sure that it will not disgrace the university, and my own guess is that it will either win or be the runner-up. And I hope that is not merely wishful thinking!

Behind the Scenes

All the people that were listed under "Organization" on the program had their hands full but thanks to the aid of countless others who assisted as ushers, hostesses, doormen, stage hands, make-up artists, costumers... to mention but a few of the jobs done by these willing people, helped to make the show what it was... one of the most successful runs of the U.N.B. Dramatic Society.

A few of the people that deserve special mention are... Miss Wilma Sansom, who not only gave a brilliant performance as Sybil Birling but also the captain of the Drama Clubs Ship of Fate; Miss Joan Golding, who morning after morning trudged up the hill to sell those little pieces of cardboard called tickets; Mr. Gordon Fenton, who skillfully made the huge fire-place and window; The brush-wheeling of Miss Noreen Donahoe and Mr. Howie Boucher aided by our own Lucy Jarvis; Mary Needer and Dirk Van Der Meyden, who scored and hunted, begged, borrowed and almost stole to get costumes and furniture of the right period, and Ruth Ann Heaney, who organized the army of ushers and door-men. Willie Schure and his crew of stage-hands along with Norman Kelly and his spark crew made the stage look just like any home. Audrey Baird showed her fine talent on the faces of the actors and actresses with the aid of the grease ladies. To all those who made the show a success... Thanks!

The gauge of success was the happy faces of the audience. The guests were guaranteed a pleasant stay by the reception committee under Cynthia Balch. We are all indeed grateful for the co-operation of the entire city of Fredericton from the Mayor, whose reception for the cast and Thursday night's guests was most appreciated, to the individual citizens who patronized our show.

Our particular thanks goes to C.F.N.B. and Mr. Jack Fenety who assisted in a thousand different ways and certainly gave more than his share of co-operation. Mr. Claude Caine of British United Press also deserves a vote of thanks for acquainting the rest of the Maritimes with the University of New Brunswick Dramatic Society. We also thank The Gleaner... which brought complete coverage of the play and its production, Maritime Electric Co. and its manager Mr. Young who aided with the banner down town, and last, but not least, the many stores both big and small that carried our signs, posters and displays.

We hope that you liked the show as much as we liked bringing it to you and that you and I are both looking forward to next year's U.N.B. Dramatic Society Productions.

Ozzie; How did you like the bridge party last night?
George; Oh, it was just fine till the cops looked under the bridge.

(Ed's Note:) The writer of this column is going to attempt, in the next few weeks, to acquaint the students with their flying club, the people in it and its activities.

Under the new government set-up (in short you learn to fly and the government gives you a hundred bucks) six of the club's members have obtained their private pilot's licences since coming to U.N.B. They are Prof. Rae Brown, Tim Kenny, Dick Elmer, Bob Neil, Leon Pond and Al Hugill. As well as these, the club can claim Don Rushbrook and Daryl Mowat who obtained their "tickets" through the air cadets.

What do we do?, since one of the first problems a pilot should tackle is learning to fly, we fly—a private licence is just the beginning. It entitles you to fly any single-engine type up to 4000 lbs. by day only unless otherwise endorsed. A private pilot is not, according to the air regulations, supposed to fly for hire. He may, however, fly for trophies, prizes and the like. Most of us have our eyes fixed upon the far distant, and much more commanding Commercial licence which enables you to get paid for your services.

We go to ground school, too, under the able direction of Prof. E. W. "Doc" Roberts, who, by the grace of God and with the aid of much fortitude and practice teaches us the difference between a ground fog and a hangover.

As well there are social gatherings at the field whenever a fledgeling gets his wings or dares attempt that first solo.

Want to learn how to fly? For details just contact any of the above mentioned members. Who knows? They might even ask you up for a ride. (Sorry girls, that's one time you can't say: "I'll walk home, thanks.")

SWIMMING NEWS

By Malcolm Babin

This year there seems to be a greater interest in swimming, more so than in past years at any rate, judging from the number of people that turn up at the pool every afternoon from 4:30 to 5:30, (with the exception of Wednesday which is reserved for Co-eds). There is also more interest by the Co-eds so maybe we'll have a Co-ed Swim Team next year, eh what girls?

The Men's Swim Team is shaping up slowly but surely, but there's always room for improvement so (speaking of myself) we'll just have to go all for the next four weeks. The M.I.A.U. meet is being held on March 5th in the Residence Pool and there will be further particulars as the date draws nearer.

Anybody wishing to see an intra-mural sport that has really become something in the past two years should drop around to the Pool any Saturday afternoon and watch the Water-polo games. They last from 2:30 till 5:00, with plenty of action guaranteed.

SLABS & EDGINGS

By HATCH & MURPH.

At a poorly attended business meeting of the Forestry Ass'n held Jan. 28, the final plans were decided on concerning the raising of funds to furnish the Videto-Hadley Memorial Reading Room. The president reported his discussion with Mr. J. Murray, Associated Alumni, and the meeting decided to ask the Forestry graduates for their support. Mr. Rorie MacLeod volunteered to draft a letter to the graduates. All forestry undergraduates will also be asked to contribute through their class representatives.

President Sewell reported to the meeting that the sum of $135.00 was realized from the showing of wildlife movies. Normal school expense amounted to $45.00 leaving the Memorial fund $90.00 to the good. A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Sewell for his efforts in bringing the movies to Fredericton.

A Memorial plaque for the reading room door and portraits of Videto and Hadley were two items suggested to be incorporated into the Memorial Reading Room. Final decision was referred until the next meeting.

Mr. Robert Spurway suggested making arrangements to have beginners class in swimming established. The meeting was in favor. All foresters interested in learning to swim are to contact Mr. Spurway.

It was reported that the Bull Of The Woods axe, won last fall by Sid Hyslop in field day competition, was nearing completion and that it would soon be placed on the wall in the reading room.

Although our fighting Foresters were nudged out of the win in last week's hockey classic, we still have more than ample reasons to hold our heads up in pride. Maybe our eyesight is failing but it seems that we could see no sign advertising Engineering week anywhere on the campus. Did our noble rivals despair that Mr. Bunyan may have requested its removal to some more favorable spot, as happened last year? I think Paul can rest easily again in the knowledge that his recent attackers are still in hiding.

This also brings to mind the engineer who shot his wife with bow and arrow so he wouldn't wake the children.

Have you had a drink from the third floor fountain lately? That makes three of us. "Please turn tap off." Heck, you can't even turn the thing on, to start with! Maybe someone will take fifteen minutes off someday and fix it, we hope.

Somebody once counted 4500 uses for wood but he didn't guarantee complete tabulation.

Co-ed; Am I the first girl you ever kissed?
Student; Now that you mention it you do look familiar.

ALL STARS HERE THURS. NIGHT

World Famous Aggregation to Meet New Brunswick Noodles

After many months of hard work-outs and tactical planning, the coach of the "International All Stars" has finally released the names of seven world famous basketball players who will take the floor against the highly rated "New Brunswick Noodles" this week.

The long-awaited line-up is as follows:—

Don (Flipshot) Fowler of Conn., U.S.A. who has shown Canadianians the kind of basketball players produced south of the border.

Big Bill Barwick of Great Britain, India and other lesser known places, who will probably win yet another tea-cup for his performance in the game of basketball.

Wally (Fumbles) Fleet of Princeton Punks and U.S.A. who has been associated with quite a few records during the recent months.

Mike (Hookshot) Hassell of Great Britain whose handling of the ball is obviously due to his long association with the game of soccer.

Colin (Handoff) Harrowing of Great Britain who has been known to score over thirty points a game in bridge and is expected to repeat this feat on the basketball floor this week.

Andrew (Setshot) Sozanski of Poland, one-time star of the Warsaw Warriors baseball team who has turned his talents to the game of basketball since coming to the New World.

Bernie (Screwshot) Scott of Great Britain and Residence "A" whose sensational ball handling and remarkable shooting will surely cause much comment by both spectators.

This year's team manager is Bob (Keyhole) Kavanagh long remembered for his epic performance in last year's encounter, whose absence may even be noticed by the present team.

The well known sportswriter and player, Frank Walton, sports editor of the Brunswickan and bitter rival of Jack Riley, has consented to referee the game. A very high standard of play is expected with two high calibre teams playing under such a first class referee. The game is scheduled for Thursday, February 7 at 9:30 P.M. in the gym. Fans are warned to arrive early to avoid the rush and to be sure of getting a seat. Remember that only a limited number of extra seats will be installed and you may be one of the unlucky ones who has to stand.

The Alumni Supper will be held on Friday, Feb. 8, followed by a dance for graduates only in the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel.

Badminton Varsity Is Selected

At a tournament held Saturday afternoon the varsity badminton team was selected. This team will represent UNB at the Intercollegiate Tournament to be held at Mount A. Feb. 20, 21.

Three men and three women were chosen. Jim Strickland, Roger MacDonald and Bob Merritt are the male members while Margaret Roach, Joy Allaby and Phyllis Taylor will form the ladies' side of the team.

Strickland and MacDonald have yet to play off for number one position. Tied at one game each on Saturday, a replay on Monday night was agreed upon. This incomplete set featured a spectacular come-back by MacDonald. Losing the first game 15-3 and behind in the second 13-0, he rallied to defeat Strickland by a close 18-17 score.

In all, twenty players tried out for the six team positions. The girls played a round-robin series while an elimination system was used for the men.

The scores were as follows:

Ladies—First Round

M. Roach def. J. Allaby, 11-7, 11-6
P. Taylor def. J. Goodfellow, 7-11, 11-5, 11-5

Second Round

J. Alaby def. J. Goodfellow, 11-10, 11-3
M. Roach def. P. Taylor, 11-7, 11-9

Third Round

M. Roach def. J. Goodfellow, 11-8, 11-6
J. Allaby def. P. Taylor, 11-9, 11-10

M. Roach 9 points
J. Allaby 6 points
P. Taylor 2 points
J. Goodfellow 1 point

Men—First Round

J. Strickland def. C. McCabe, 15-2, 15-0
B. Hodgson def. D. Harvey, 15-7, 15-4
J. Belyea def. J. Ernst, 15-10, 15-7
R. MacDonald def. W. Cruikshank, 15-6, 15-4

J. Peers def. R. Pond, 15-6, 18-14
N. Green def. K. Plummer, 15-9, 15-9
R. Merritt def. D. Ferguson, 15-8, 15-9

Second Round

J. Strickland def. B. Hodgson, 15-5, 15-2
J. White def. J. Belyea, 15-5, 15-3
R. MacDonald def. J. Peers, 15-6, 15-8
R. Merritt def. N. Green, 15-5, 15-8

Semi-Finals

J. Strickland def. J. White, 15-3, 15-6
R. MacDonald def. R. Merritt, 15-8, 15-10

Finals

R. MacDonald defeated J. Strickland, 15-5, 9-15, 15-9.

Play-off of the losers in the semi-final round to decide the third team position:
R. Merritt def. J. White, 15-8, 15-9.

Atoms Win to Strengthen Lead in I.H.L.

By BUCK BUCHANAN

The Atoms continued their winning ways last Sunday, edging the Axemen 3-2 in a close, hard fought game. Bleakney and Gallagher twice gave the Atoms a one-goal lead only to have Fletcher of the Axemen tie the score on both occasions. Richard scored the winning marker.

In another exciting game, the Silver Streaks scored five straight goals—four of them in the third period—to overcome a three-goal Freshmen lead and win 5-3. Cain led the Silver Streaks with two goals and an assist. Thorpe of the Freshmen picked up a goal and two assists.

Engineers 35's downed the Combines 10-1 as Avery and Hughes each scored three goals. Robinson fired the lone marker for the Combines.

The Senior Foresters defeated the Residence team 10-1 in another lopsided contest. Despite the score, King played a fine game in the Residence nets. Fantin scored three goals for the Foresters, while Hanusiak had a goal and four assists.

ALUMNI, FORESTERS ARE SECTION LEADERS IN I.B.L.

By JOHN PEERS

The leadership of the Intramural Basketball League has finally produced one leader for each section. The Alumni and the Foresters, both with five game win streaks, lead Sections "A" and "B" respectively.

In Section "AA", the Chemistry Society walloped the overconfident Engineers, 53-42. The determined Chemists were led by Denny Valenta, who managed to score 24 points while playing a strong defensive game. Bob Smith sparked the losers with 16 points. Five fouls were called against each team.

The Alumni proved too strong for the rough and tumble Mooseheads. Gordon Baird led the Alumni with nine points, while teammate Fred Butland had eighth. "Punchy" Walker led the Mooseheads with seven.

In Section "B", the Frosh Bullets edged out the hapless Soph. Foresters, 49-40. Top men for the winners were Blair Watson and Junior Thorpe, with 14 and 12 points respectively. Gord Miller led the Sophs. with 10. Fifteen fouls were called, 11 against the losers.

The unbeaten Foresters edged out the previously unbeaten Residence "AA" squad, 43-37. The Foresters' scoring was evenly divided among the team members, with Bob McLaggan leading with nine points. Jack Cassidy and Stu Vaundry led the House scoring parade with 14 and 12 points respectively. The game saw 13 fouls called.

In the final game of the night, the Froshomores defeated the lowly Residence "B" team, 46-37. Dave Gammon sparked the winners with 18 points, while teammate Guy Dolron scored 12. The House was led by Don Fowler, with 18 points. Only eight fouls were called in the relatively cleanly played game.

Residence I Leads Water Polo League

Residence I retained their first place position in the Intramural Water Polo League last Saturday by defeating the cellar dwelling Consmen by a 10-6 score. High point man for the game was Howie Boucher of the Residence with five goals, while teammate Don Fowler got three. The Consmen goals were by Spriggs and Collis, each scoring three.

The second game of the afternoon saw the Engineers absorb their third defeat in as many games, at the hands of the second place Sea Dogs, 12-8. Hugh Donald led the winners with four goals, while teammate Gregg and Carr of the losers each racked up three.

The other contest of the afternoon saw the Senior Foresters defeat Residence II, 6-4. Lawyer led the winners with three goals, while teammate Bell had two, as did Bider and Babin of the House.

The results of the games left the Sea Dogs within two points of the front running Residence I squad. Residence II hold down the third position. Next Saturday will see a game between Residence I and Sea Dogs, the winner of which will take over sole possession of first place.

VARSAITY DEFEATS ST. DUNSTAN'S U.

CO-EDS LOSE SECOND STRAIGHT GAME TO F.H.S.

As a preliminary to the St. Dunstan's-U.N.B. game last Saturday night the Co-ed Varsity team met the High School squad and was again defeated. So far the co-eds have only taken one game from the league-leading high school team. This time the score was 38-32 with F.H.S. leading all the way.

The Red and Black team never seems to get warmed up until its games are well under way and by that time it is too late. At least this is the case when it meets High School which is the only team which has taken on the co-eds in exhibition games this year. It is generally only in the second half that the girls really begin to move. Then they play with strategy and precision and spirit. But it is usually too late and the game is lost.

U.N.B. high scorer was Marg Vermeeren who captured nine points in the first half. Janette Webb and Jackie Vey followed with eight apiece while next in line was Betty Brown with seven points. Iris Bliss and E. Stairs were the only basketmakers for F.H.S.

Of eleven fouls called on the co-eds, six free throws were successfully made. Eight were called on F.H.S. and six were successful.

On February 8 the co-eds head for Sackville for the first of the intercollegiate home and home games with Mt. A. The general opinion is that the Red and Black girls are better prepared this year for their annual tilt with Mt. A. than they have been for many years. They have shown that they can on occasion play good basketball. Let's hope that that is the way it is down at Mt. A. next Friday.

ENGINEERS WHIP FORESTERS IN ENG. WEEK HOCKEY CONTEST

By BUCK BUCHANAN

On Tuesday evening last, the Engineers and Foresters met in a hockey game that marked one of the highlights of Engineering Week. Engineers came out on the long end of a 9-5 score.

Allen paced the winners with three goals, Kennedy and Thompson also picked up three points on two goals and an assist and three assists respectively. Vic Smith was outstanding for the Foresters, picking up two goals and an assist.

The Engineers led 2-1 after one period of play and increased their lead to 8-2 in the second period. The Foresters put on a determined drive in the third period and outscored the Engineers 3-1. Shepherd in the Foresters nets played a steady game, kicking out 25 shots. Walker handled 19 shots in the Engineers nets, 10 of them in the third period.

After the game, Doctor Turner presented captain Tim Bliss of the Engineers the Harry S. Moore Memorial Trophy. This is a new trophy which has been presented by the Engineering Class of '52 for annual competition between the Engineers and Foresters.

U.N.B. Wins 58 - 49 in First Intercollegiate Game

By DENNIS HAMMOND

The UNB Senior Varsity basketball team continued their winning ways last Saturday night with a 58-49 victory over St. Dunstan's University of Charlottetown. The game, played before a small crowd was UNB's fourth win in five starts, and was their first game in the M.I.A.U. schedule. Before the game, John Glass was elected Varsity captain, and John Little, co-captain.

The game, except for the first quarter, was fast and many fine scoring plays were worked by both teams. While the first quarter was fast enough it lacked the finish around the basket that was seen in the last three quarters. UNB's full court press kept St. Dunstan's bottled up time and again, and the Red and Black five converted many intercepted passes into baskets.

At the end of the first quarter, UNB was in front by an 11-8 score and the half ended with Varsity seven points ahead, 28-21. The Red and Black cagers started to roll in the third quarter and outscored the Island team 23-11, making it 51-32, a 19 point lead. St. Dunstan's staged a short-lived comeback, but were unable to go ahead and the game ended 58-49, UNB on top.

High scorer in the game was Reardon of St. Dunstan's with 22 points, while McIsaac with seven was second highest. High man for UNB was Stairs with 11, closely followed by Glass, Miller and Patterson with 10 each.

There were a total of 39 fouls called, 21 against UNB. Varsity scored on 12 of 24 foul shots, the Islanders 15 of 27. Nakash of UNB and Mooney of St. Dunstan's both fouled out of the game about midway through the third quarter.

Lineups:

UNB—Nakash 5, Glass 10, Stairs 11, Crockett 1, Miller 10, Little 8, Abernethy 2, Patterson 10, Whalen 1.

St. Dunstan's U.: — Reardon 22, Dunphy 6, Kennedy 4, Coyle, MacKinnon 6, McIsaac 7, MacDonald 2, Mooney 2.

Referees:—Ritchie and Sypher.

Senior Foresters Lead Men's Bowling League

Two matches were held last week in the Men's Candelpin Bowling League. On Monday evening, Jan. 28, the Senior Foresters topped the Newman Club in each of three strings, to add four points to their total and move into sole possession of first place. Johnny Lloyd of the Foresters with 115 and Bill BacPherson, also of the Foresters, with 306, took top honors in the high single and high three department.

The following night the Residence and the Outlaws squared off in what proved to be a very close exciting game. The Outlaws won the first and third strings to take 3 points. The Outlaws had a total pinfall of 1322, while the Residence wound up with 1314. Ev. Boyle of the Outlaws had the high single with 114, while the high three went to Frank Walton of the Residence with 314.

Intramural Curling Begins

Last Saturday night saw the opening matches in the intramural curling schedule played off at the Fredericton Curling Club. The "Round Robin" type schedule has been drawn up to include the present four rinks with a possibility of two more rinks being added next Saturday. It will be played off prior to the intramural championship matches to take place in March.

Evenly balanced rinks and heavy ice featured the opening play, resulting in the scores of both games being tied up at the half way mark. The game on lane one between the Coster and Ostler skipped rinks ended 9-7 in favour of skip Ostler, who posted points in five of the eight ends curled.

On lane four rinks skipped by Purcell and Bradshaw battled to the last stone in a match highlighted by single-point ends. The result was a 6-4 win for the Bradshaw skipped rink which chalked up single points in six of the eight ends.

Hadley - Videto Memorial Room

Actually, the idea to furnish the Forestry reading room originated back in the fall at a Forestry Ass'n meeting. Just recently the Ass'n decided to make the room a memorial to Harris Videto and Graham Hadley, two forestry professors who passed away last fall. Dr. J. Miles Gibson was approached with the idea and his permission to furnish the room as a memorial was granted.

The reading room is situated on the top floor of the Forestry building and is currently being used as a reading and assembly room. There are two large reading tables and thirty or more lecture chairs in the room at present. If all plans for the future materialize, the room will be entirely re-arranged in order to accommodate the new furnishings, but at the same time reserving the status of a combined reading and assembly room.

The exact type of furnishing to be placed in the room has not yet been decided. Favorably discussed at a recent Forestry Ass'n meeting was the dark, leather upholstered type of chair with matching chesterfield. A committee is now working on an arrangement plan, and the completed room will house two or three chesterfields with matching chairs. Reading tables and lamps are also to be purchased and it is hoped that funds will permit drapes for the windows.

A large, plywood forester's crest, now being constructed by Don McAuly, will be placed on the long front wall. The first annual Bull-of-The-Woods Axe, won last fall by Sid Hyslop, will occupy a place on a side wall. Also under construction at the present time, and to be placed in the room, is a scale model of a lumber camp, complete in every detail.

A Memorial plaque, bearing the names of Videto and Hadley, will be placed on the door of the reading room and it is hoped that portraits of the two men can be secured, to be placed in the room.

Total cost of the furnishings has been estimated at close to one thousand dollars. Recently, a very interesting evening of wildlife movies was held at Teachers College as the first step in raising the necessary funds. All forestry graduates and undergraduates will be asked to contribute. At present, the Forestry Ass'n is working out other plans by which the necessary amount can be realized.

The U.N.B. Forestry Ass'n is to be commended on the vigor and feeling with which it has undertaken the project of establishing and furnishing a Memorial Reading Room. Undoubtedly, the undertaking will be a success and at some future date the Ass'n will announce the job well done. Obviously, and in spite of beards, bush boots and rough language, forester's hearts are definitely in the right place.

Austrian Student Singers Visit Campi on North American Tour

A group of twenty Austrian singers, students and teachers at the University of Vienna are at present touring Central and Western Canada and parts of the United States to meet North Americans and observe their way of life.

The students, who form the Third Goodwill Tour of Austrian Students and Teachers to North America have toured major universities and cities in both countries giving performances of their native songs, dances and yodeling, all in their native dress and have been seen by over half a million people during the visits. They were the first foreign group to entertain American Armed Forces with the USO.

During their visit to Canada the group is under the auspices of the National Federation of Canadian University Students.

This trend is not confined to these two sports alone but seems to carry over into other fields. This year's track team, for instance, showed not the vaguest similarity to the teams which ruled the three provinces for the past three of four years and perhaps it was a great break for us when the meet was canceled. Similarly with the boxing team, which had to disband completely this year through lack of interest and material; the girls basketball team, which shows no signs of arising from the doldrums of the past few seasons; the rugby team, well we have been all through that before; and so on down the line.

What is the cause of this problem? Why are our athletic teams on the down grade and failing to uphold our former standards? Sure I believe in playing the game for the sport of it, whether we win or lose, as well as the next person, but I am a bit curious as to why a university the size of U.N.B. is not obtaining greater success in competition with its smaller opponents. It is because we are not drawing the material? This seems very unlikely, as U.N.B. is as large as any college in the Maritimes and larger than many of those who are at present trimming us down to their size. Surely with more to draw from we should be at least able to match them. Is it due to inadequate coaches? This could be, but on looking over the list of master-minders we find it highly improbable. What other university has men more experienced, but then again knowing and teaching are two different matters. Is it because the players lack spirit and the will to win? Although we hate to condemn any player for not giving his best to the team and of entering a game not caring about the final outcome, this appears to be the only possible solution. There are players whose only reason for playing is to get their letter, with the attitude of getting out there and getting it over with, considering themselves to know more than the coach and thus paying no attention to his attempts to meld them into a team, with the twisted idea in mind that by so doing they will be regarded as a campus hero and will shine more brightly in some young lady's eye. The question is, have we too many of these so-called athletes? To this untrained eye it appears that we have. A team made up of three of four such players, regardless of their natural ability, lacks the fire and spirit which is so pleasing and such an attraction to the fans. Here at U.N.B. the problem of poor support on the part of the fans has long been a standing question. Is not this lack of spirit and fight by the teams themselves a logical answer? If the players do not seem to care who wins, why should the fans? Many will laugh at this idea and tell you that the fans simply will not support a losing team or attend what has the ear marks of the cases of the Chicago Black Hawks and the St. Louis Browns as perfect contradictions to such beliefs. Both of these clubs have floundered in the basements of their respective leagues for so long that it is fast becoming a tradition in both cities, but have not the Hawks led the N.H.L. in attendance for many years and are not the Browns quite high in their circuit in this same respect? Why? Because both clubs give their best and fight all the way against their far-superior opponents and the fans know that they will see their teams give their all and come away with the thought that they got their money's worth even when their favorites are on the short end of a land slide score. This only goes to show that true fans will turn out for a losing cause if their team shows signs of wanting to win. The same thing would happen here if the teams showed a spirit for the fans to cheer and back to greater heights.

Then again there is the question as to why the fans do not back a winning team. The same story applies, they win because they are superior and go through the procedure minus a spirit to do better than that obtained through minimum effort. There is, of course, a lack of college spirit among the student body as a whole, which plays a big part in the overall picture, but if the teams wish to get the students behind them they must at first inject into their own ranks the desire to win and show the fight and spirit which makes any game. Once this is accomplished the desire to see their true efforts rewarded will be rapidly passed on to each and every spectator.

The U.N.B. Dramatic Society presented "An Inspector Calls" at the Brunswick Regional Auditorium and received a standing ovation from the audience. He said that his company and clear play generally had impact and was very entertaining.

The play was directed by Eric since it was worthy of interrogation. As place in one room in time and the monotony, the escapist monotony is the presentation. Mr. the U.N.B. group has overcome this—by pace and by clever characters on the stage.
