those on the right, and you have the Lord's prayer

Yield us thy grace, dear FATHER, from above : Our life thou ART for EVER, God of love.

In first we ing man, AND then being crucified known. In Jesus' NAME let all the world rejoice;

How vile to COME to thee Is all our cry, Enemies to THY self and all that's THINE; Graceless our will our lives FOR vanity, Loathing thy truths BE ing EVIL in design O God thy will be DONE FROM earth to heaven Reclining on thy Gospel let us live; In EARTH from sins DEMVER ed and forgiven. O, as thyself, BUT teach us to forgive. Unless IT's power TEMPTATION doth destroy, Sure is our fall into the depth of woe: Carnal IN mind we've NOT a glimpse of joy: Raised against HEAVEN in US no hope can flow O GIVE US grace and LEAD us on the way; Shine on Us with thy love and give Us peace; Self and THIS sin which rise AGAINST us slav ; O ! grant each DAY our TRESPASS es may cease. give our evil deeds THAT oft we do, Convince us DAILY of THEM to our shame;

Help us with heavenly BREAD, FORGIVE US to Recurrent lusts; AND WE adore thy name, In thy FORGIVE ness we as saints can die, Since, for US and our TRESPASSES so high, Thy Son our Saviour, bled on Calvary.

The Last Good Night

Close the eyelids-press them gently, O'er the dead and leaden eyes; For the soul that made them lovely Has returned into the skies. Wipe the death-drops from her forehead:

Fold her icv hands all meekly: Smooth the little snowy dress Fold her hands, and o'er her pillow Scatter flowers so pure and white Lay the buds upon her bosom :

There, now softly say good-night.

Sever one dear golden tress :

Though our tears flow fast and faster, Yet we could not call her back; We are glad her feet no longer Tread's life's rough and thorny track We are glad our heavely. Father Took her while her heart was pure;

We are glad he did not leave her, All life's troubles to endure. We are glad -and yet the tear drop Falleth; for, alas! we know That our fireside will be lonely,

We shall miss our darling so. While the twilight shadows gather, We shall wait in vain to feel, Little arms all white and dimpled. Round our necks so softly steal Our wet cheeks will miss the pressure.

Of sweet lips so warm and red; And our bosoms, sadly, sadly, Miss that darling little head, Which was wont to rest there sweetly And those golden eyes so bright-We shall miss their loving glances-We shall miss their soft good night.

When the morrow's sun is shining, They will take that cherished form ! They will bear it to the churchvard. And consign it to the worm. Well-what matter? it is only The clay dress our darling wore; God has robed her as an angel-She has need of this no more. Fold her hands and o'er her pillor Scatter flowers all pure and white; Kiss that marble brow and whisper,

"Come Along."

There is an increasing Congregation at the Hutt. A new chapel is in course of crection, and the Society is prospering, having the advantage of several Local Preachers or Leaders, who are much needed at Wellington Many of the New Zealanders have acquired considerable property, (horses, cattle, drays, implements of husbandry, &c.,) showing a steady advancement in the civilization which naturally follows Christianity. The most casual observer during the last year exhibits some sorrowful cir cumstances. Of the seven European Missionaries stationed there, three have been compelled to leave by failure of health-Messrs, Miller, M. Wilson, and Peter Turner. The first not being likely to be able to resume his Missionary labors has returned to Sydney, and retires from the work altogether. Mr. Turner has honourably completed a period of nearly twenty-five years' active service, and takes his place on the Supernumerary List. Mr. Wilson may, it is hoped recruit himself for further service. The evil effects of the late war have not been exhausted at its close, but have been painfully manifested in the impaired tone of the piety of many, the unsettledness of others, and the drifting away from the Church of those who had more of the form than the power of godliness. Diminution of numbers and local finances are the natural results of such a state of things. In the midst of these afflictions, however, there is ample cause for gratitude and rejoicing. The report from Tonga refers in pleasing terms to the benefits already realised since the restoration of peace. The Report of Schools states that nine additional schools have been established in Tonga since the close of the war. From the Training Institution seventeen students who had completed their dents have been admitted. From the Haabat Circuit we are informed that the teachers so rekeived from Tonga have given a great impulse to the work of education. Schools and premises ported by the scholars without expense to the Mission. The Committee observe with eatisfaction that the subject of local contributions in furtherance of the cause receives some attention.
