EXTEND BOUNDARIES

Resolution Introduced in Parliament Regarding of Boundaries of Manitoba Ontario and Quebec.

The Manitoba Liberals who were wanting to force the Aylesworth election bill and, were forced by Sir Wilfrid Laurier to retreat, have been given a sop in the way of a resolution respecting the extension of Manitoba's boundaries.

It was first the intention of the government to drop the question entirely. The Manitoba Liberal members, however, after their defeat on the Aylesworth bill, represented by Sir Wilfrid that to return to the west, also without a boundary bill, would spell for them absolute defeat. To pacify the obstreperous Manitoba Liberals, the premier finally decided to introduce the present resolution. It means that the government now offers a compromise proposal to Manitoba, and will be ready to take up further negotiations. This is simply all it amounts to. The bill itself will not be introduced this session.

The Resolution
The resolution in full reads as follows: Whereas, petitions have been presented to the government and the House from the legislative assembly of Manitoba praying for the extension of the boundaries of Manitoba, northward and eastward, and for an additional subsidy to the said province in lieu of the ownership of public lands in the territory to be so added.

Be it resolved: That it is expedient that the prayer of the said petition should be acceded to, and that upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed to by the said legislative assembly and by parliament, the boundaries of Manitoba be extended as follows:

MANITOBA
The northern boundary to be the 60th parallel of latitude, the western boundary to be the present eastern boundary line of Saskatchewan to the said 60th parallel, the eastern boundary as far north as the north-eastern corner of the province, thence in a straight line to the most eastern part of Island Lake, and thence in a straight line to the point where the 89th meridian of west longitude intersects the shore line of Hudson's Bay.

And, be it further resolved, that whereas notwithstanding the extension of territory above described, the ungranted lands of the crown in the territory to be so added to the said province will still continue to be administered by the government of Canada for the purpose of the Dominion, and the said province will not have the public land as a source of revenue, it is just and equitable to recognize the increased cost of civil government which such extension of territory will occasion to the province, and in view of promises to make to the said province an increased allowance by money payment the amount of which should be the subject of negotiation between the government of Canada and the government of Manitoba.

ONTARIO
And be it further resolved, that upon the legislature of the province of Ontario consenting thereto, it is expedient to extend the boundaries of the said province upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed to by said legislature and parliament, so as to include all the territory to the north of the said province lying between the extended boundaries of Manitoba above described, and the waters of James Bay and Hudson Bay.

QUEBEC
And be it further resolved, That, upon the legislature of the province of Quebec consenting thereto, it is expedient to extend the boundaries of the said province, upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed to by said legislature and parliament, so as to include all territory to the north of the said province, now known as Ungava, and extending to the waters of the Hudson Bay and entrance thereto from the sea.

Miss Burdette, of Emerson, Man., is in the city on a visit to her brother, C.P.R. Agent Burdette.

E. B. Andros, secretary of the exhibition, has completed arrangements for the running of an excursion from Arcola to Regina on July 23, the third day of the fair. This will give fair visitors from along that line a chance to attend the fair and return the same day.

NOT LOYAL TO CANADA

The Marine Review Scores the Government to Send Contracts out of the Country.

The Marine Review, published at Cleveland, administers a stinging rebuke to the Canadian government for its lack of patriotism in taking contracts abroad which should be placed in shipyards at home.

There is little sentiment in business between individuals. But there is supposed to be some slight patriotic sentiment in a government.

The Marine Review, after referring to the placing of a large contract for a government ice crusher with Vickers Sons & Maxim, Barrow, says:

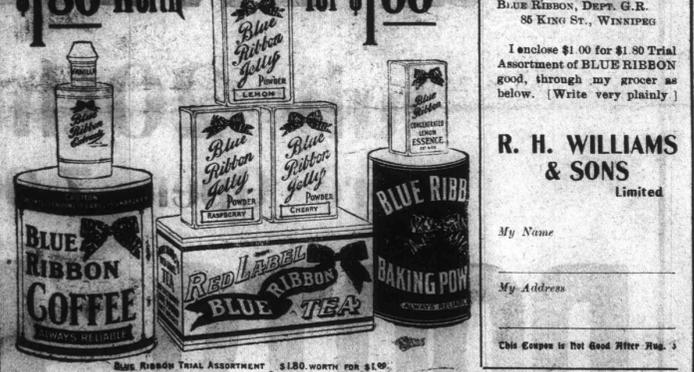

"That the ways of government officials are devious and past finding out, we are frequently reminded, and that we enjoy no monopoly of this in the United States the recent action of the Canadian government in placing an order for another ice crusher steamer with an English firm is evidence. Canada pays a bonus to shipbuilders, plants as an assistance and encouragement in their maintenance for the very obvious purpose of encouraging the building and operating of ships, and then as soon as there is a bit of work for them to do and which properly belongs to them, totally regardless of any difference in price, sends it abroad.

"It cannot be urged as a reason that a better ship can be had, because the ship builders of the Great Lakes, both Canadian and American, have had more experience with ice and ice breaking craft than all the ship builders of the world put together. The only notable work in that direction done abroad, has followed almost exactly the lines developed here, and some of the methods adopted in securing the information went far beyond the bounds of decency to say nothing of honesty.

"To be sure it may be said that this ground ice breaker cannot be taken through the canal, which is true, but while this may be a plausible enough explanation for the house of parliament or the general public, the man who knows will be more likely to conclude that the dimensions were conveniently arranged for that very purpose. There are naval architects on the lakes who will, without hesitation, undertake to produce a ship within canal dimensions that will do far more execution on St. Lawrence ice packs than the ship proposed and for less money. It is a well known fact that the boat having a form best adapted for ice work will never be driven at 16 knots per hour, we might safely say, cannot be, and those who seek anything of the sort are either not informed on the subject or are simply throwing their money at the birds.

"It is a rank injustice to the Canadian builder and the government itself has added a foul wrong when it went abroad and placed orders for work that by every right belongs to him. The question of cost has no bearing on the case whatever."

Last week two farmers seventy miles north of Swift Current, got into a dispute over some breaking. One named George Bullock made a rush at John Cleveland who was alarmed and seized a shovel and struck Bullock over the head. Cleveland realising the mischief, washed the wound and drove Bullock home. The latter did not seem seriously hurt and hoped that Cleveland would not be punished, and there was a complete reconciliation. Despite medical care Bullock died on Friday, leaving a wife and three children. Cleveland immediately walked to Saskatchewan Landing and gave himself up to the police. He was brought to Swift Current and his preliminary trial on Monday was adjourned for eight days until an inquest can be held.

The west bound transcontinental which was several hours late on Saturday last, was further delayed at Wolseley owing to a case of small pox being discovered on one of the tourist cars. The colored porter had been ailing for a couple of days previous but the case did not develop until he left Winnipeg. He had brought his car through from Boston to Montreal where he is supposed to have contracted the disease. Walter Symington of Moose Jaw was in charge of the train and at Wolseley he called in Dr. Elliott who pronounced the case small pox. All the people in the car were at once vaccinated including the conductor and brakemen, and the passengers were transferred to another car, the affected car with the porter as the sole occupant was set out, where it remained to be fumigated. The patient was transferred to the pest house at Wolseley.

Just how correct principles say it should be constructed?

Just why no other plan of construction will do?

Just wherein lies its ability to be easy on fuel, quick in action, simple in operation?

The story is briefly told in a little booklet called "Furnace Facts." It's not an advertisement. No furnace name is mentioned, and you can read the whole story in 5 minutes.

To the party contemplating purchasing a furnace it points out the traps and pitfalls, and shows exactly what to demand of an architect, contractor or dealer, in furnace construction and installation.

Creditors of the York County Loan May Get 40 Cents on the Dollar.

The National Trust Company which is handling the affairs of the defunct York County Loan, has handed out a statement, part of which is as follows:

"The liquidator of the York County Loan and Savings Co., has been actively engaged since the winding-up order in realizing upon the assets of the company, and has been exceedingly successful in getting in a large amount of the assets, and it is confidently expected that, instead of the 25 per cent. dividend, which was first anticipated as a maximum, the liquidator will be able to pay at least 40 per cent., but, as to the dividend, the liquidator expects to be in a position to make a further announcement within a short time."

SMITH DENIES

Statements Made by Prince Albert Man—May Take Action for Damages.

Prince Albert, July 13.—D. W. Adam, chairman of the high school board created a sensation at the meeting of the board today by considering tenders for the new high school. Before the tenders were opened Mr. Adam stated that Mr. Smith, of Smith Bros. & Wilson, Regina, who was in the city, had come to his office and stated that he (Smith) had figured $500 in his tender for the chairman of the board.

Smith claimed that the chairman expected this sort of thing as he had to do extra work. Mr. Adam said he had offered a bribe of $500 and told Smith he would report to the meeting before the tenders were opened.

When seen by a reporter the firm of Smith Bros. & Wilson deny the truth of the statements made by Mr. Adam, and will probably take action against the gentleman who it is alleged manufactured and circulated such a malicious tissue of lies.

LA PATRIE FLOPS

French Newspaper of Montreal now Supports Laurier—Independence Cast Aside.

Considerable excitement has arisen in the east over the tremendous flop executed by La Patrie newspaper, which for months past, has been talking of its independence in politics. In fact, it is only a few weeks ago that Senator Dandurand left the board of directors because of La Patrie's Conservative leanings.

The other day a Sunday paper accused Mr. Tarte's paper of having come under the influence of the prime minister, and a good many were surprised to see no repudiation of the charge.

Today, however, the feine jumped straight out of the sack, as La Patrie's leader is devoted to a eulogy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, declaring that there will be but one voice to proclaim his patriotism and his qualities as a statesman, and that will be the voice of the whole people.

La Patrie says that although the prime minister is a very well man, it is more than probable that the next parliament will see his retirement.

"The crowning of his career as Prime Minister depends of course upon the verdict of the electorate at the coming elections," says La Patrie, "but we are convinced that Sir Wilfrid Laurier can await that verdict with confidence because the people, conscious of the general support which they have given him during the past twelve years, will still remain faithful in this the most solemn occasion of his life."

It is stated that the article of La Patrie was written by no other than the postmaster general, who is one of the two members of the cabinet able to write a newspaper article. This makes the illusion to Henri Bourassa all the more important.

For La Patrie says that the election of Henri Bourassa gave certain people to understand that the triumph of the Nationalist leader was an indication that Laurier's prestige was on the wane, but that Mr. Bourassa stated in his speeches that he had no quarrel with Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

"We do not believe," says the article, "that Mr. Bourassa intends to interfere in the Dominion election, his attention being centred alone in the provincial arena."

Whether this writer of the article of La Patrie was or was not the postmaster general, it is quite patent that he is not at all posted on Bourassa's movements, for it is a well known fact that Mr. Bourassa will take part—a very live part—in the coming elections for the house of commons.

ANOTHER WRECK

Several Killed in C. P. R. Wreck East of Medicine Hat—Telegraph Operator Missing

Medicine Hat, July 10.—James Nicholson, having orders to pick up the Spokane flyer, pulled out of here with a light engine yesterday. The Crow's Nest passenger, two hours late, was just pulling in and a home steamer named "Hermes" saw the train concealed from each other and rushing together. He succeeded in attracting the attention of Engineer Twohey, of the passenger train, who shut off steam as the engines met.

Harry Thompson, fireman on the light engine ran up to the yard with the news. He was sent to the hospital badly scalded.

Operator Ritchie, from whom Nicholson received his clearance papers, disappeared. An inquest was held last night.

THE DEAD

James Nicholson, Engineer.
Robert Towhey, Engineer.
Phillip Millet, Conductor,
W. J. Archambault, baggageman.
Howard Gray, Fireman.
All of Medicine Hat.
James Gray and Dugan McGregor formerly of Lethbridge.

THE INJURED

Leonard Black, brakeman, dangerously.
Samuel Abdua, Lethbridge, broken legs.
Harry Thompson, Medicine Hat, leg scalded.
Phillip G. Menge, Tabor, a rancher, bruised.
C. J. Vickers, Medicine Hat, hand crushed.

The city flags are at half mast today and business is practically suspended as a tribute to the victims of yesterday's wreck. All the men killed were well known in the city, and Messrs. Nicholson and Twohey were active in civic affairs and prominent in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Operator Ritchie, who is supposed to be responsible for the accident, is now known to have driven south for the boundary a couple of hours after the accident. The first session of the inquest was held last night, when the bodies were viewed. The jury then adjourned for a week.

Minard's Liniment Cures Colds, etc.

Mr. Peter Wunder, of Sheho, is mentioned as the probable provincial rights candidate for Wadena constituency. Born in Illinois, U.S.A., of German parents, married to a native Canadian, emigrating from North Dakota to Canada in 1892, he became one of the very first settlers in Sheho, and in what is now the electoral district of Wadena. Pioneer rancher, farmer, merchant, Mr. Wunder has run over the whole gamut of experiences which have made him a successful graduate of the University of Hard Knocks, and no man in the district has a wider acquaintance or a more thorough knowledge of the needs of the constituency than has Peter Wunder, of Sheho. He should make an excellent representative.—Yorkton Enterprise.

Against the Farmers.

The Laurier government, allied with the Scott administration, are armed to the teeth against the farmers of this country.

The farmers now know what ulterior motives actuated the government in withholding the lands from the province. They also know how the local government imposed a direct tax of a cent an acre on them for the purpose of higher education, a tax which takes precedence of all other obligations, and in many instances is a hardship this year. That both governments conspired to continue that tax is shown first by the action of the Scott government in voting down the amendment proposed by Mr. Haultain, and second, by the killing of the amendment by Mr. Lake in the federal parliament the other day, when he moved that a portion of the public lands in this province be set aside for higher education so that the obnoxious cent an acre tax might be revoked. The western Liberal members, who did not vote against that amendment were conveniently absent from the House when the vote was taken.

The government will surely now admit by word as well as by deed, that they have abandoned their old election cry, "The land for the settler," especially in view of the way they have made the pre-emption clause of the Oliver land bill only apply to the western skirts of the province and then only in townships where the railway companies have not made a selection.

After the last two sessions the farmers will have no hesitation in deciding who their true friends are.

It Seems a Joke.

The item of $100,000 in the estimates for the Hudson's Bay railway seems like a joke.

There is really no unanimity in the government as to the building of the road. The first scheme was to assist the C.N.R. to continue their Pas extension to the Bay, but now a weak attempt is made to affect a friendly disposition toward a government road, and the sum stated has been set aside for preliminary work. In the meantime the elections will be pulled off and the road cry will be used for all its worth, with nothing to it but the item in the estimates. This is one of the old tricks of the present administration. The amount referred to is one eighth of the sum spent last year by Mr. Brodeur in his continental tour and is not a fly-bite for the ordinary grafter working in either the militia, the lands or the public works departments.

The Limit Reached.

"Mr. Fielding is a public man of high character, who in many respects deserves the good will of the country. But he has been a spendthrift minister. He has held the purse strings loosely. He has permitted, if he has not encouraged, petty raids on the Treasury by his supporters in the House and the government's partisans in the constituencies. He has risked nothing of his personal popularity in order to protect the revenue. At last he is close to the time of deficits, with a swollen expenditure in all the departments, and vast accumulating obligations. The chances are that we shall need a man of sterner fibre and closer disposition to save the country from some of the consequences of his extravagant regime."—Toronto News.

Editorial Notes.

Lyall came to the aid of Laurier's friends in time of need. Scott owes his position to Laurier and now Scott is returning the compliment. Perhaps for Laurier's sake. Who knows?

The population of Saskatchewan according to the census of 1906 was 257,763. The contract for the parliament buildings has been let to a Montreal contractor for $113,150 more than a Regina firm would have done the work for. This means that each individual in the province, on that basis has to be charged over 43 cents per head more than was necessary. Taking an average of five to a family, each family would be charged $2.15 more than it should be. Let each local improvement district count families and estimate the amount of work could be done in the district had this extra $113,150 been put into road improvements throughout the province. With the present unsatisfactory financial position of the province, is there any justification for the government practically making a present of this amount to P. Lyall & Sons? Election time will tell whether you think so!

Will Scott have another explanation of why the contract was let to P. Lyall & Sons when he returns from Ottawa? His first one does not seem to be appreciated by western people.

"Swallows," is the title of a new poem which will make its appearance shortly, with the initials "W. S." appearing at the bottom. Our readers will be able to infer the author's name.

The advice of the Liberal newspaper and the Liberal merchant has always been for the people of the country to support the home merchant, and keep the money at home, even if the home prices were a trifle higher than those of the big outside firms. And that is sound advice. But what of a provincial government that awards the contract for its public buildings to an eastern firm, and gives them over a hundred thousand dollars more than the western man's tender?—Saskatoon Capital.

Press Comments.

(Moose Jaw News)

The action of the Provincial Government in awarding the contract for the legislative buildings is so extraordinary that some have whispered "graft." It is also stated that Mr. Peter Lyall, who is a wealthy Liberal contractor, once did La Presse of Montreal a good turn, lending it $80,000 in the day of its need, and that the contract has come as a reward. We know nothing of Mr. Lyall's business and can neither confirm nor deny the reported loan. Indeed we are of the opinion that if he loaned La Presse $80,000 he must be a true philanthropist, which class of persons never let the right hand know what the left hand gives. But any person who lends $80,000 deserves to be remembered, and to be given even so good a thing as a $1,500,000 contract if the public does not have to pay. But to impute wrong on rumor is improper. Moreover to procure argument with which to assail the government's action it is unnecessary to search in the dark corners of suspicion. To send work out of the province when it can be done equally as cheaply by contractors within the province is unjustifiable. To condemn the government it is sufficient to know that the tenders of the three western firms, which to the letter complied with the conditions named in the call for tenders, were rejected. Why? Because they had not done work of as high a class as in this case is required, and because it had not been shown that they commanded four times as much capital as they were asked to produce. In the face of these facts to suggest "graft" were superfluous.

(Winnipeg Tribune)

Judging by the Ottawa dispatches it is evident that the government is at sea with regard to the proposed construction of the Hudson's Bay railway. It was announced with great defiance some time ago that the government had made up its mind and that a deal would be made with Mackenzie & Mann, involving a large cash subsidy and a guarantee of bonds by which these well known gentlemen would build the road. Since then, however, the administration seems to have had new light on the subject. Those familiar with modern methods employed in politics reached the natural conclusion, when the announcement was first made, that the object was to influence the electors of the west in favor of the Liberals. As a matter of fact, the main reason for the construction of railroads and the carrying out of public enterprises has for many years been more with the idea of influencing the electors, politically, than furnishing them with necessary facilities.

Having made the announcement that the Hudson's Bay railway was to be prosecuted at once, the government does not apparently wish to take back water for fear of leaving an unfavorable impression on the minds of the electors, which impression would influence votes against them.

It is now announced that a survey is to be made, and that money is to be provided for investigation and preliminary work. This may be accepted as a "let down" proposal, it being clear that the government does not know exactly where it is at, and what course to adopt in regard to this enterprise. One thing the government may rest assured of, and that is that in the light of railway history in Canada, the people of the west who have suffered enormously by the exploitation policy will never agree to any sacrifice of their inalienable rights. Five million acres of land belonging to the west have been set aside at $3 an acre to build the line. Inasmuch therefore, as the people of the west are paying for this enterprise, why should they not own it and operate it in their own interests, and hold it as a railway highway, open to all companies that may choose to use it? Inasmuch as the road would be based upon the amount necessary to maintain and operate it.

This should render them so low as to make the road a very important acquisition to the settlers of this country. If the construction, ownership and operation of the road are handed over to a company, it is as true as that night follows day that the rates would be three or four times what they should be under public ownership. Under private ownership the road would be made to cost infinitely more than the amount which is provided out of the sale of lands. In addition to this the enterprise would be loaded with stock and bonds to an amount that would make it necessary to double or treble the freight rates in order to provide interest on the over-capitalization. So far as the Tribune is concerned it would much prefer to see delay than to see the enterprise undertaken along the lines of the government announcement two or three months ago.

(Toronto News)

Free traders do not like the argument that the new British Patent Law is in effect a measure of protection to British industries—yet such in effect it is, since it ignores all local considerations which might cheapen the price of the commodities manufactured to British consumers. Hereafter patented, and to that extent protected, products must be manufactured in Britain in order to validate the patents, and the result is a standing proof to British workmen that the law can assist national industries.

Reliable authorities, writing in straight free trade newspapers, estimate that close on $150,000,000 has been and will be spent in the United Kingdom by foreign patentees in order to maintain the integrity of their patents. This too, does not take into account the numerous other cases where patentees are arranging for the manufacture of their protected products by British manufacturers on a royalty. And another of the educational features of this legislation, proposed and passed by a professedly free trade government, is that one of the leading protesters against it is Germany, where the law has always decreed that the holder of a German patent must manufacture in Germany.

So far as the advocates of tariff reform are concerned, the point is that the law as passed takes no account of any natural advantage which may enable foreign manufacturers to produce more cheaply than can be done in Britain. The law lays down a hard and fast compulsory requirement that articles must be produced in the United Kingdom, and provide employment for British workmen. Even the most rabid free trader cannot deny that this completely destroys the argument which makes the interests of the consumer the test of tariff legislation. The new patent act is a standing exemplar of the influence legislation has on the employment of labor.

(Moose Jaw News)

It is the duty of the Scott government to conserve the interests of the province. One of the best means by which this work of conservation can be effected is by the spending of public revenues as far as possible within the province. The crying need of the people now is capital. Here was a splendid opportunity to put and keep in circulation $1,500,000; but it has been neglected. From present indications a Quebec firm gets, not only large profits on the contract, but will itself do almost the whole of the work. No reasonable person would request that contractors with the risk of having inferior work done on the legislative buildings. But for years the trend of governmental action in Canada has been to develop native and local enterprise. As a result great industries have been established in all parts of the country. What has been done in the east, can to some extent, be done in Saskatchewan. The experiment should at least be tried. The government must do it. If the Scott government will not do it another will. These provinces have been settled and developed by artificial methods, which must be continued until conditions become permanently settled. What the business life of the province particularly needs now is the steady influence of large expenditures, for which the means are assuredly forthcoming. The province looks to the government for assistance; but the government turns a deaf ear. It is under the spell of the east, as it always has been. And from the east indeed its help comes. As far as possible it desires, for the best of economic reasons, that its wants be satisfied by western products, and by western labor. However, this government does not seem to understand. It orders books from an eastern concern and lets the firm produce them in the United States. It awards its largest, and most profitable contracts, to an eastern firm, and does so over the heads of three or four lower western contractors. Thus does the Scott government conserve the interests of Saskatchewan.

Waverley Burned

Fire broke out early last Friday morning in the Waverley Hotel, one of the oldest hotels in the west. This hotel was built in 1852 by Frank Nash and remained until a few years ago the most popular hotel in Regina.

The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is being investigated by the police. The owners, Messrs. Carnegie & Flood, had it covered sufficiently by insurance against the loss.

The Montreal Star has made an offer to the city of Montreal to superintend the building of a block of street paving with the condition that if it does not last longer than the paving being put down by the city, the Star will foot the bill.

Piles are easily and quickly checked with Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. To prove it I will mail a small trial box at a convincing test. Simply address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. THE TER-CENTENARY

Grand Pageants Being Prepared for the Noted Event
--History Reviewed.

At a recent public meeting held at Quebec, Mr. Frank Lascelles, master of the pageants for the tercentenary gave a lucid explanation of events.

On the corner of the Plains of Abraham with the grounds of Marchmont on the right and the river flowing beyond and below, a grandstand is already in course of erection, which will seat many thousands of onlookers; and on the broad stretch in front of it, between the grandstand and the river, will be reproduced with as great exactitude as possible the stirring scenes of early days which have been chosen by the historical committee.

"We shall see," said Mr. Lascelles
"as the strains of the overture die away a group of wigwags set beneath the trees and a wild Indian dance in progress on the banks.
Jacques Cartier comes in sight with his crew and plants in the earth in the midst of the assembled Indians, the mighty cross which bears the golden lilies and the arms of France." After a scene which will recall as vividly as history can help us to do the actual progress of events, he reads to the crowded savages grouped on the river, as he did nearly four hundred years ago, the familiar words of the holy gospel of St.
John. Then down he goes to the river to embark on the ship which is to bring him back to France.

"So the French pioneers and the Indians pass out of view and we are transported in our imagination to the court of France. The same green sward is under foot and the same sky overhead, but the strains of music and the gay courtiers show us that the scene is no longer a little village on cliffs at the river side, but that this is the court of Francois Premier at Fontainebleau.

"In great state he rides at the head of his cavalcade, and Cartier, who has returned from his voyage to the west, is brought before him and tells him of his wanderings, and presents some Indians whom he has brought back with him to the new world.

"Then they ride on and the scene changes again, once more we are at the court of France, but here it is the court assembled at Louvre and a throne is set up in the centre and tapestries unfolded around, whilst gorgeous halberdiers keep guard. The court of Henry IV has succeeded that of Francis; resplendent in sazzes and silks of many colors, the ladies and gentlemen' troop in. A pageant is danced before the king, who arrives in state, and to a young man, who stands at the foot of the throne, is given a commission to get where Cartier had gone before, and Champlain receives his orders from the king.

"Then back the next scene brings us to the little village of Stadacona, and Champlain with his girl wife is received with wonder by the savages.

"The years again pass by, and Champlain and his wife are long since dead. Stadacona has become Quebec and the populace has increased to over 300. The governor, Montmagny, goes down with his guard and receives the gentle and holy mother Marie and the ladies from old France who have given up their lives to bring the name of Christ to the new country. She teaches the little children the Bible stories that were taught to each of us at our mother's knee, and the scene passes on.

"A fort is being defended by 37 brave young Frenchmen against the hordes of Iroquois, and the flying arrows, the awful war-whoops, and the final burning of the Fort recall to us some of the terrors and martyrdoms, through which our forefathers had to pass.

"Then the ashes of the little fort are swept aside and the sound of chanting falls on our ears. The great archbishop and patriot, the saintly Mgr. de Laval, surrounded with all the stately ceremony of our dear mother church, comes down to meet the representatives of the king, who is resplendent among his courtiers and his nobles pays reverend homage to the church.

"In the presence of the fur traders and the merchants Daymond de St.
Lusson takes possession in the king's name of the country of the west and later on the brave Frontenac gives his answer at the mouth of my guns to the demands of Phips.

"Last scene of all, side by side, shoulder to shoulder, French and English together, victors both, in one great parade of honor, march our brave heroes of the past, a wonderful assembly, an inspiration to the world. In the centre Jacques Cartier with his cross, Champlain, Mother Marie, Dollard, Mgr. de Laval, Dau-mont de Saint Lusson, Frontenac and many more without number, and beyond the soldiers of three great nations."

The five performances on July 24, 25, 27, 29, 31, will begin at five and end at seven. Everyone taking part can come through the streets in his historical costumes, through those streets which will be decorated with the colors of old France. The four full dress rehearsals (July 14, 16, 18, 21) will be at the same time and an opportunity will be given the school children and the poorest all to be present. Every person will take part in one scene on each of these days and in the grand finale, and on the great Champlain Day (Thursday, July 23) all who can will pass in a great parade of honor before the Prince of Wales standing at the foot of Champlain's monument.

PREPARE TO VOTE

How the Lists are Made Up-- Personal Registration in Towns and Cities--Enumerators Do Work in Rural Districts.

The registrars of the different constituencies having been appointed it is proper that our readers should know something of the work to be done in preparing the lists of voters.

The new law provides for two distinct systems of preparing lists, one applicable to cities and towns and the other to all places outside cities and towns is one of personal registration. That is to say, all those qualified to vote can be put on the lists provided they apply personally to a deputy registrar who holds an office open for that purpose between the hours of 9 a.m. and 9 p.m., for ten to fifteen days, accordingly, as the proclamation providing for the Registration requires.

In places outside cities and towns personal registration is not gone on with, but, instead, lists are compiled by process of enumeration, the deputy registrars travelling through their respective polling sub-divisions and visiting every dwelling place and placing on the lists the names of all those they find qualified to vote.

The lists thus prepared, both in cities and towns, and in villages and rural localities are subject to revision by a judge of the district court due notice of such revision being given.

The qualifications necessary to vote and thereafter placed on the lists are: A male British subject by birth or naturalization, twenty-one years of age, and having resided, 12 months in the province, and three months in the electoral division immediately prior to the last day fixed by the proclamation for the registration.

There is one exception to this, however, namely, that those who have not resided for three months immediately prior to the last day fixed for registration in the electoral division where they have their residence, but who have been residents of the province for the full twelve months, may be registered in the electoral division in which they have resided for a continuous term of three months during the said twelve months.

If because of sickness or unavoidable absence it is impossible for a voter to make personal application to be registered, application may be made in his behalf by an agent, it being necessary to submit identification and proof of qualifications.

For the purpose of registration a registrar is appointed for each electoral division in the province. Upon his appointment it becomes the duty of the registrar to divide the electoral division into polling sub-divisions, and to appoint deputy registrars, whose duty it is to compile a separate list for each such polling sub-division, and the polling sub-divisions thus created will continue to be polling sub-divisions for the purpose of elections.

From the foregoing it becomes quite clear that it is the duty of those living in the cities and towns to be vigilant and see that their names are placed on the list, and that those in other places should assist the enumerator in every way by giving him all the information they can.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL DURING HOT WEATHER

Every mother knows how fatal the summer months are to small children.
Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery and stomach troubles are alarmingly frequent at this time and too often a precious little life is lost after a few hours illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe. The occasional use of Baby's Own Tablets prevents stomach or bowel troubles, or if the trouble comes suddenly--as it generally does--the Tablets will bring the little one through safely. Mrs.
Geo. Howell, Sandy Beach, Que., says: "My baby was suffering from colic, vomiting and diarrhoea, but after giving him Baby's Own Tablets the trouble disappeared. I would advise all mothers to keep a box of Tablets always at hand." Sold by

At a meeting of prominent farmers and ranchers of Alberta and Saskatchewan held at Calgary last week, the question of establishing a chilled meat trade was thoroughly threshed out. The meeting was presided over by Hon. P. T. Finlay, who expressed his sympathy with the object of the gathering.

Mr. Stevens, live stock commissioner for Alberta, spoke at length, presenting facts and figures showing the relative cost and profit of produce in sending to the British market a steer of 1,400 pounds on the hoof, compared with slaughtering a similar animal at home and exporting the carcass chilled. A similar comparison was made with a steer 1,200 pounds. Marketing in a chilled condition showed a greater profit, the advantage particularly in the case of the light steer.

The meeting was strongly in favor of practical steps being taken to establish this industry. E. G. Halmer suggested a new organization to take the matter up, but it was pointed out that it could be better handled through the farmer's organizations now established.

Penny postage between England and the United States will be a reality on and after Oct. 1st.

COST OF
THE G.T.P.

The Road to Cost Five Times as Much as the Government Estimated--R.L. Borden Makes Statement.

Ottawa, July 7.--A remarkable statement was made by R. L. Borden tonight showing that the total cost of the Transcontinental has climbed up until it now reaches the stupendous sum of $191,395,832 in cash, and $58,048,000 in bond guarantee, or the staggering total of $249,353,832.

Mr. Borden took figures and state-and made a lucid and business-like analysis, showing conclusively that the total cost now reaches this enormous figure.

He quoted Hansard to show that in 1903 the government placed the total cost at $51,000,000, and he had been laughed at when he estimated the cost of the Winnipeg and Mon-ton section at over $75,000,000. Mr.
Borden pointed out that Hon. W. S.
Fielding had estimated the outside cost at $25,000 a mile. Now it is placed by Hon. P. Graham at over $63,000. At the rate the government was going before the line was completed in September 1911, the date set by the government, the total debt of the country would be $450, 000,000 without spending another cent on the enormous projects the government was hinting at, or on the needed improvements to Canadian harbors.

Mr. John Scott, one of Galt's oldest inhabitants is dead. Mr. Scott was probably the best known stockman in Ontario. All his life he has been interested in horses, cattle as a buyer, shipper and seller. His dealings brought him in contact with the most noted cattle and horse men in the Dominion, while in the farming community his name was a household word. Mr. Scott who was in his 77th year, was an exceptionally active, vigorous and well preserved man.

Geo. P. Graves, grain dealer of Winnipeg, tried to corner the rejected oats market and failed. He had bought up about one and a half million bushels. The price of rejected oats then went higher than No. 1 white, and farmers started making rejected oats by mixing with other grains. The result was that more rejected oats came on the market than Graves could buy and he is a loser of about $150,000.

Magnificent Fire Works

W. J. BRYAN
(Mail and Empire.)
When William Jennings Bryan captured the Democratic convention in 1896 and made the "16 to 17" formula the main article in the Chicago platform, economic conditions in the United States were different from what they are today, and so was public opinion. Prices were then low and the farmers of the west and south were oppressed by debt. Mortgages and other obligations to which they became pledged when money was plentiful, and when a bushel of wheat was exchangeable for nearly twice as much of it, had grown until the burden of them became almost insupportable. Of course, the social discontent, by which this state of affairs gave rise, could not be without effect upon the political views of the people. Revolutionary ideas were embraced. Free silver had often been advocated as a sovereign remedy for the ills from which the toilers suffered, and when Mr. Bryan declared in a sufficiently theatrical manner for the adoption of that remedy he was seized upon as the presidential candidate of the Democratic party.

Condemned as Anarchistic
With the free silver dogma were joined other propositions scarcely less subversive of the existing order. One was a denunciation of the activity of the federal courts in what was held to be in contempt of the laws of the United States and rights of citizens. The attack on the supreme court was particularly strong. There was a declaration in favor of an income tax, notwithstanding that the former income tax legislation had been pronounced by the supreme court to be unconstitutional. By conservative democrats, and by the reigning Cleveland administration, the platform and ticket of the Chicago convention were denounced as anarchistic. And that was the opinion expressed by an overwhelming majority of the voters, for when polling day came round 176 of the electoral votes were recorded for Mr. Bryan, as against 271 for Mr. McKinley. What was then regarded as Anarchism was confined to the rural regions, in which Populism flourished, and to the industrial centres that were infected with Deism. The radicalism Mr. Bryan depended on was almost agrarian and limited to the west and south. On balance public opinion was very conservative.

Now a Moderate Man
In 1900 Mr. Bryan was again the candidate of the Democratic party and was again defeated by Mr. McKinley, the vote of the electoral college being 155 for the former, and for the latter. Mr. Bryan adhered to the main principles of the platform of 1896, but added to it that of anti-imperialism, which was declared to be the predominant issue. While Mr. Bryan was campaigning against the spread of United States power beyond the continent, of America, Mr. Taft was organizing and administering the Philippines. In 1904 the more responsible section of the party got the upper hand, and the nomination was withheld from Mr. Bryan, Judge Parker being the candidate decided upon. The change of candidates and the return to a sounder policy did not avail against the great popularity of Roosevelt, who obtained 302 of the 447 votes. The party has turned again to Mr. Bryan, who, on his part, has accommodated his views to suit those of the element that has obtained the ascendancy in the party since he was last its candidate. He no longer stands for the free coinage of silver; he is not the extreme tariff reformer he was; he is reconciled apparently to the "imperialism" of his country; he has abandoned the idea of bringing the railways under public ownership.

Guaranteed Deposits
As has already been said, economic conditions and political opinion in the United States are not now what they were when Mr. Bryan first ran. Gold mines in South Africa, in Australia, in the United States, in Canada and elsewhere have been, and are contributing liberally to the supply of the precious metal. Prices are relatively high, and the money value of the farmers' produce greatly exceeds that of 1896. Populism is practically dead, but a wider radicalism has taken its place. Doctrines that were branded as Anarchistic when Governor Altgelt gave utterance to them a dozen years ago have now considerable currency. When the Chicago platform of 1896 reflected on the supreme court and denounced government by injunction as "a new and highly dangerous form of oppression" the Republicans were shocked. In the Chicago platform adopted by the latter party in its national convention last month the same view is more timidly expressed. President Roosevelt has gone farther than any of his predecessors in the way of upsetting established principles of government. The country has recovered from its Populism, but it shows itself singularly tolerant of some of the worst features of Socialism. It seems the wrong time for Mr. Bryan to become conservative. By his conservatism is a matter of limited liability. He stands no longer for free silver, but he is committed to a principle that is almost as unacceptable to the financial interests of the country, namely, government guaranteed bond deposits.

ROMAN DECREE

Removes Certain Countries from Jurisdiction of Propaganda--The Working out of the Decree.

An important pontifical document, reforming the organization and working of the Roman congregations, was made public from Rome early this week. It removes Great Britain, Ireland, Canada, and the United States from the jurisdiction of the propaganda, these countries thus ceasing to be considered missionary lands. Besides reform in the Propaganda, the pontifical decree introduces a remarkable document. The document consists of three parts, the first being an apostolic constitution, reorganizing the congregation through a more equitable division of the subjects and elimination of authority, and the second law for the regulation of the labors of the Rota and Signatura tribunals.

The most important part of the reforms is that both civil and criminal litigations are removed from the jurisdiction of the congregations and entrusted to the tribunals of the Rota and the Signatura, the congregations only retaining disciplinary power. The Pope remains prefect of the Holy Office. The importance of the congregation of the consistory, of which the Pope also is the Prefect, is inaugurated by it, undertaking the creation of bishops, and the surveillance and direction of the rules of dioceses and seminaries, and also deciding questions of competence between the congregations. The tribunal of the penitentiary remains only as an internal court for questions of conscience, all other questions going to the Rota in the first instance, and then to Signatura as a supreme court.

The Rota works in connection with the five and seven judges, or as a whole body of judges. Its sentences must be justified in detail under pain of nullity. The Rota works also as a court of appeal both for sentences pronounced by other courts and sentences handed down by the Rota itself, in which cases the appeal is judged by different judges. The Signatura works as a court of appeal in four cases, the first as an appeal court against any sentence of the Rota judges, second alleged nullity, third, suspicion against the Rota judges, and fourth, to hear suits for damages against Rota judges. Appeal against the decision of these courts may be made with or without the decision of lawyers, and a special body of lawyers has been formed, the members pledging themselves to assist the poor gratuitously. The poor are also exempted from paying fees to the court.

The decree will be followed by a new code comprising all the canon law on which Cardinal Gasparry has been working for four years. In addition to those already mentioned the geographical divisions removed from the jurisdiction of the propaganda include Newfoundland, Gibraltar and Luxembourg. The reforms will become operative next November. The Signatura will be entirely composed of cardinals, but the number, however, is uncertain. The practical result of the new conditions is that the countries removed from the jurisdiction of this propaganda for all questions to be decided, must apply to a suitable congregation. The creation of new dioceses and the appointment of new bishops will be dealt with by the secretaryship of the state, from which decisions will be sent to the congregation of the consistory to carry out the decision.

While for the present all questions are gratuitously dealt with by the propaganda, after the reforms go into effect the payment of the usual fees will be exacted. At the Vatican however, it is remarked that English speaking prelates always give as an offering a larger amount than the fee.

Twenty-four dead and upwards of 125 additional stricken victims was the frightful toll New York city paid to the protracted wave, which has held it in its fiery embrace for nearly two weeks.

MINARD'S LINIMENT Co., Ltd.
Gentlemen,—Last August my horse was badly cut in eleven places by a barbed wire fence. Three of the cuts (small ones) healed soon, but the others became foul and rotten, and although I tried several kinds of medicine they had no beneficial result. At last a doctor advised me to use MINARD'S LINIMENT and in four weeks' time every sore was healed and the hair has grown over each open fine condition. The Liniment is certainly wonderful in its workings.

BRIDE DROWNS

Young Calgary Woman Drowned While on Her Honeymoon in Vancouver.

Vancouver, B.C., July 13.—In the presence of hundreds of bathers at the English Bay this morning, two young women were drowned. The victims were Mrs. A. S. Shepherd, aged 20, wife of a young real estate agent of Calgary. She was with her husband in the city on their honeymoon. Her companion was Miss Florine Anderson, aged sixteen, who lived here with her parents. The young women went at 9 a.m. to the beach and had been in the water more than half an hour before the accident occurred. The tide was very low, which allowed the non-swimmers to wade far beyond the usual bounds. Beyond the end of the recently constructed pier there had been left by a dredge a hole many feet in depth. Into this the unsuspecting girls walked, and they sank immediately.

Another little girl with them, Lota Lewis, was rescued by R. G. Reed, physician. Reed came very near being drowned in a second attempt to rescue the drowning women. Mrs. Shepherd came up a second time and several youths grasped her, but she struggled frantically and sank for the last time. Several expert swimmers dived, but could not reach the bodies. Mrs. Shepherd was a bride of just a month. On June 13, the young woman whose maiden name was Jean Patterson, ran away from home with young Shepherd. They went to a small town, south of Calgary and were married. They did not return home, but came to Vancouver to spend the honeymoon. The young husband is heartbroken. There is little chance of securing the bodies.

Annual Excursion to the Experimental Farm Indian Head, on Thursday, July 30

THIS excursion presents a good opportunity to secure reliable information on problems of Western Agriculture. It has been organized for the purpose of giving the farmers of Saskatchewan a chance to see what may be accomplished by intelligent effort on a bare prairie farm, in the growing of cereals, shrubs, hedges, shelter belts, flowers and fruits, and in the production of heavy yielding crops of grains and grasses. It furnishes an opportunity to study at first hand the results of the different methods of rotation, different methods of soil cultivation, and the comparative values of the different varieties of grains, grasses, roots and vegetables.

GOVERNMENT ON

The Report of the June Indicates the Favorably--Little

DISTRICT NO. 1. Nearly all reports received from our constituents in this district express satisfaction with the weather conditions that have prevailed during the present season. Some thought that a little rain fell during the early part of the month, but little, if any, had been caused thereby. There course caused patches on which has lain for some time and grains have come up pale yellow; but, on the whole, conditions are extremely well with the condition of the present. A frost occurred on and damaged slightly the barley on low land; tender vegetables also were slightly affected in some localities on but they do not seem to be of sufficient violence to cause damage. The general appearance of the crops is very good. However, reports that mention fields of grain are spindly; respondents are emphatic as cause of this, viz., frozen soil, particularly speaking of the well up to the average of job and are fully twenty days than last year.

DISTRICT NO. 2. Drying part of the month the wheat a little too wet and cold to very rapid growth of vegetable warm days during the part of the month combine adequate moisture in the made adequate growth possible greater part of the crop is well at present, is of good has made very rapid and growth. Early sown fields promising, but some of the sown fields are badly infested with weeds. There has been no damage or hail; but during the early month, very high wind summer fallow, especially most north-western part of district. There is quite a lot of land under cultivation in this and at the end of the month. Reports indicate that from three to four weeks ago last year, and further advance they have been in any of five years.

DISTRICT NO. 3. Correspondence in this district are comparatively few and their opinions differ. Some report dry weather as a result that sufficient rain has been present requirements, but that has not been enough precipitated to withstand a continued spell of weather. The cause of such a dry spell may be attributed to even character of the land part of the province, which places is better adapted to farming and ranching than growing. However, while it may not be very luxuriant crops are nevertheless fair. A good rain in the near future would improve conditions, and give rise to good results. Barley and other crops are

For Sale.—100 oak barrels, at 80 cents each, apply, F. M. Crapper.

The formal opening of the Y.M.C.A. will take place on July 28th.

Born.—At Regina on Monday, July 13th, to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. A. Hill, a daughter.

Hugh McCullough, of the Bank of Montreal staff at Brandon, is visiting in the city.

Russell Taber of Condie, has a large number of his stock on exhibition at Winnipeg.

H. C. Lawson, publicity commissioner, has returned from attending the Dominion exhibition at Calgary.

The death took place last Thursday of the young son of H. Edmonds. Interment took place to the Balmont cemetery on Friday.

A.M. Hales of Toronto, delivered an address in the Baptist church last evening on the liquor traffic from the business man's point of view.

D. Brown, sergeant-at-arms of the Saskatchewan assembly, is spending his holidays at Banff taking the baths and climbing the mountains.

Ernest Von Ferber has taken possession of the Waverley Hotel again, and will open it to the public as soon as the damages caused by the fire have been repaired.

Two engines collided in the C.P.R. yards here last Friday night. Engineer Alexander of one of the engines sprained his ankle in jumping from his engine. Otherwise no one was hurt.

If Scott and Calder went to Ottawa, as announced, to press Saskatchewan's claims for a boundary on Hudson's Bay, they did not meet with success. The resolution introduced in parliament on Monday does not take our province into consideration at all.

The following are the members of the R.N.W.M.P. who will take part in the military display at the Brandon exhibition under the command of Insp. Church: Sergeants, Dan, Corp. O'Connell, Consts., Watson, Mason, Quayle, Hobson, Morse, Frazer, Boast, Bass, Millar, McGregory, Quinsey, Casey, Gregory, and Haines.

The death occurred at Penrith on Saturday morning last of Wm. McKillop, one of the best known old timers. Mr. McKillop settled in the district in 1833, and has made a reputation as a farmer and stock breeder. A wife, two sons and two daughters are left. Deceased was in his 71st year. The funeral was held on Monday to Longlaketon cemetery.

The large barn of Mr. Malcolm Ross, a farmer living a short distance east of Regina, was burned last Saturday afternoon. The cause of the fire is unknown. There were four horses and a quantity of grain in the building at the time. Mr. Ross only succeeded in getting one horse out, and in his efforts to do so was badly burned and is now in the Victoria hospital undergoing treatment. The loss to Mr. Ross is very heavy. The only insurance carried was $400 on the building and $100 on the contents.

In consequence of a waitress having some money stolen from her room on Thursday last, the city police arrested W. J. Osborne on suspicion. He was up before the magistrate on Friday, but was remanded until Saturday. At the trial on Saturday he was discharged after a good deal of evidence had been taken. The accused was represented by J. F. L. Embury. From information since given out it would seem that Osborne was doing some private detective work, the parties whom he was watching being C.P.R. employees.

A remarkable handsome silver cup has been presented to the Agricultural association, to be competed for at the provincial exhibition, and can be seen in the rotunda of the King's Hotel; it is given by the King's Hotel Co. for three of the get of any Shorthorn bull, to be won three times by the same breeder, and no doubt will give rise to keen competition among the Shorthorn breeders. Mr. Haslam is to be commended for his liberality in thus showing his interest in the provincial fair, which gives every indication of being a most successful exhibition.

The Calgary Herald speaks in high terms of the management of the Dominion fair just concluded and says: "The chief credit for this remarkable organization belongs to E. L. Richardson, general manager of the exhibition who, by his handling of it, has made a reputation for himself. For months he worked unremittingly to ensure the success which has now crowned his efforts. With unflinching courtesy and consideration he has met the demands upon his patience inseparable from his task, and has with equity and good judgment decided the many problems that came up. No fair in the Herald's experience ever opened with so little friction or closed with such unanimous expression of praise. To Mr. Richardson's efforts this city owes a great deal. He has today the satisfaction of knowing that he has done a big thing well." Regina friends of Mr. Richardson will be pleased to hear of his success.
