WHITE GIRLS IN CHINESE EMPLOY

Toronto, Nov. 21.—The police commissioners have decided they were a little hard on the proprietors of Chinese restaurants in refusing a license where white girls are employed as waitresses, and in future will recommend the granting of licenses after inspection of premises, for which privilege is requested. It is pointed out that several eating houses in the city conducted by Chinamen are patronized exclusively by a good class of white people.

TORONTO HAD GREAT STORM

Toronto, Nov. 21.—Toronto was cut off last night from communication with a good deal of the outside world. The rain and sleet storm which was incessant throughout the day played havoc with telegraph and telephone wires in many sections of the province and everywhere poles and wires are down. Burdened with ice they fell before a 45-mile wind. An inch and a half of rain fell in Toronto, while in some sections the precipitation was even greater. The railway telegraph service was almost totally destroyed.

There will be a small balance after all expenses are paid.

Toronto, Nov. 23.—Grace Stubblefield was badly hurt yesterday afternoon at the Star Theatre. She and two others were doing a trapeze act in the air, the male member holding the little girl by his teeth, when the rope supporting her gave way and she fell with a thud. She was knocked unconscious and did not revive for some time. Her right cheek is badly cut where she struck the boards. The injury is not serious.

JUDGE DECIDES CIGAR IS A DRUG

Toronto, Nov. 23.—Yesterday Judge Merson quashed the judgment of Magistrate Kingsford, who fined W. H. Lee, druggist, $5 and costs for selling cigars on the Lord's day. Judge Merson followed the same line of reasoning as in the famous ice cream case three years ago, when he found it was lawful to sell ice cream on Sunday, because it was food. This time he ruled that a cigar was a drug.

800 SOULS TAKE UP THE NEW LIFE

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Nov. 23.—Last night Dr. Elliott, Evangelist, formerly associated with Dr. Chapman in big revivals in Boston, concluded nearly a three weeks' campaign in the First Methodist church here. With few exceptions, all the clergymen in the city aided him in the services. At the far-well service about 800 people came forward, declaring their intention to join some church, having been led to do so by a report of the campaign, known as the Kings-Business Campaign. THE YOUNGEST MARRIED PAIR IN U. S.

Theodore Leslie, Aged Two Years, Son of American Missionary.

RETURNED FROM CONGO

New York, Nov. 24.—Theodore Leslie is to-day certainly the youngest married man in the country. Theodore is two years old, and he has brought back from Portuguese Congo, the land where he was born, a dusky bride of seven, the daughter of a Congo chief. Theodore's parents, Dr. and Mrs. William H. Leslie, who have just returned on a vacation from a missionary post, explained to-day that when he was born, the chief of the Dayakas, who had forty wives of his own, sent him a spare granddaughter for a wife as a token of regard. As Theodore was badly in need of a nurse, the present was accepted and the Royal African proprietors satisfied at the same time. The wife accompanied her husband. It was only humanity to bring her, for she explained to her mother-in-law that she surely would be killed if left behind. Her people would believe that she had told the tribal secrets to Theodore, who had carried them away to a strange land. The bride and groom will both return to Congo land when Dr. and Mrs. Leslie have exhausted their furlough.

In the future no strike can be declared until the difficulty has been before a conciliation board.

HAVE TO FOREGO THE BIG TURKEY

Nantucket, Mass., Nov. 21.—Nantucket people will have a turkeyless Thanksgiving day to-morrow, and all because of a sixty mile northeast gale which has caused the temporary suspension of the steamer plying between the island and the mainland. The annual consignment of turkeys was due to arrive to-day, but the storm interfered. The gale caused extremely high tides and the wharves were inundated. The Nantucket mosquito fleet of fishing boats was badly damaged. Six fishing boats were carried by the storm on the flatter, and sank in the bay. The steamer was unable to land today after a perilous expedition.

STOMACH COMFORT

When the Stomach Rebels, Headache, Indigestion and Nerve Pain Follows—Mi-o-na Brings Relief

Just as soon as you are done eating the healthy stomach commences to churn the food around and mixes it thoroughly with the juices of the stomach. If the food is not churned, it lays heavily on your stomach, turns sour and causes all kinds of distressing symptoms, such as headache, indigestion, stomach pain and dyspepsia. Mi-o-na helps the stomach to properly mix the food.

John S. May, of Isabella Street, Belleville, Ont., says: "For over seven months I was in constant agony with a case of nervous dyspepsia and indigestion that no relief could be obtained. I was weak and had lost much weight through loss of appetite and suffering. My meals would fill me with gas and a feeling of oppression across the stomach and all up the back, but no in a miserable condition. I was restless at night and as tired and unrefreshed in the morning as on going to bed. A choking sensation in my throat was always constant, as if by being down and my head seemed to be pushed and bound as if by a vise. I could not sleep through any of the night. I was so miserable that I was obliged to go to the hospital, but after a month of treatment, I was still no better. I was then advised to try Mi-o-na. I began to feel better after a few days, and after a week I was able to get a good night's sleep. I am now a well man and get a good night's sleep. Money back if Mi-o-na does not cure."

THE CORONER'S JURY CHARGES ARCHIE McLAUGHLIN WITH WIFE MURDER

Jury Find That McLaughlin Poisoned His Wife and Then Set Fire to the Building.

TWO CHILDREN WERE SUFFOCATED IN HOUSE

Uxbridge, Ont., Nov. 25.—The coroner's jury in the case of Mrs. Archie McLaughlin and two children, supposed to be burned to death in a fire which destroyed their home on Oct. 28th, returned a verdict last evening, after being out nearly two hours, to the effect that Mrs. McLaughlin came to her death by strychnine poisoning and the children by suffocation and charging the husband and father with murdering his wife and setting fire to the house. The verdict caused no surprise as the evidence from the start had been strongly against McLaughlin.

Miss Alma Nix, whose name has been frequently connected with McLaughlin's in the evidence, was among the witnesses heard yesterday. She gave an unqualified denial to the stories that she had been intimate with McLaughlin. She treated him merely as a friend, she said, and when she found people talking about them she wrote telling him to cease his attentions.

McLaughlin spoke no word when the verdict was announced. His manner seemed to show that he expected such a decision.

TRUST SOLDIERS AT OWN RISK

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 21.—Lieut. Col. Hemming, D. O. C., for Military District No. 3, has issued a notice to the merchants, calling attention to the fact that under an act a soldier cannot be placed under stoppage of pay for a private debt and if they permit soldiers to contract debts they do so at their own risk.

He was employed in the mill and was working in the paper room, when his clothes were tangled in the gear and he was seized in the grip of the shaft. The machinery was at once stopped, but too late. The boy was dead. An arm was torn from his body and his flesh badly mutilated.

POWER TO RAISE TELEPHONE RATES

St. John, Nov. 21.—A special committee of the board of trade met this morning to consider the complaints of increases in telephone rates, but no definite action was taken. Members were of the opinion the company would not raise the rates until they were sure of their ground. It is said the company will likely seek to have legislation at the next session to give them necessary power to charge higher rates.

MERE SLIP OF GIRL ON MURDER CHARGE

Waltham, Mass., Nov. 21.—Only court, counsel and police were present when Hattie LeBlanc, the young French Canadian girl, was brought into the Waltham district court to-day and fearfully charged with causing the death last Saturday night of Clarence E. Glover, head of the Waltham Laundry Company. The young woman was held without bail and continued in custody on December 5. She was not called upon to plead before the court, which charged that she will stand with her attorney, and did not deny the charge.

OPEN TRAFFIC

I have tried every remedy known to me, but without avail. I was advised to try Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. I began to feel better after a few days, and after a week I was able to get a good night's sleep. I am now a well man and get a good night's sleep. Money back if Dr. Agnew's does not cure."

A BUILDING UP AND LOSING WEIGHT?—Dr. Mitchell's Compound Syrup is a powerful and reliable tonic for the system. It is a sure and speedy remedy for all ailments of the system. Money back if Mitchell's does not cure.

DREDGE THE RIVER

While the Dominion Government has generously remembered Northumberland County in making up the estimates, we regret very much that no definite sum has been set apart for the dredging of the Miramichi. To the people of Newcastle this is a matter of supreme interest since the Drummond people will be ready to ship their iron ore from this port with the opening of navigation in the spring, and the river is in poor shape for the traffic of the larger freighters. The Drummond people have, we learn on good authority, been in communication with some of the larger steamship companies in re the question of freight rates, and, in consequence of the impediments to navigation at The Flats, and The Horse Shoe, these companies have quoted a rate ten per cent higher than if these places would admit ships to pass out fully loaded.

The larger ocean tramps draw about twenty-five feet of water, and these are the vessels most profitable for the Drummond people to make their shipments in. But there is only twenty-two feet of water on the Horse Shoe Bar, and fully laden vessels can only pass over in safety at high tides. As a result of this obstruction, steamship companies without any exception, have decided that it is worth an advance of ten per cent on the regular freight rate to meet these conditions. If the sum of $300,000 set apart for the diversion of the I. R. C. into Chatham was expended in dredging the river, an expenditure which would assist every dweller along the Miramichi, we would be in possession of a water channel, second to none in the whole world. The greatest leviathans afloat could then pass in safety up the Miramichi as far as this point. The cost of shipping iron ore would then be reduced to a minimum, and the hope of drawing the smelter here thereby increased. We trust, however, that a liberal amount of the money set apart for dredging generally, will be expended at this important point.

In advocating free speech, the Stratford Herald remarks that when a man ceases his mind by talking boldly he is less likely to resort to action. But yet, if he talks too boldly, the other fellow may act.

Out in California a university graduate is in jail awaiting trial on a charge of robbing a haberdasher's store. The desire for lead neckties and striking hosiery sometimes is uncontrollable.

There is a pie famine in New York. This is a pitiable thing, for it affects the only sort of piety to be found in the place.

There is to be a move in the city council of Montreal to provide that liquor bars be closed at seven o'clock the other nights of the week. Montreal would not be any the worse if the bars were closed all the time.

It looks to us like a good time for the King of Spain to slip away with his family and put in a long visit with his wife's folks.

Lady Cook, who proposes to spend a million on woman's enfranchisement, has been warmly greeted in New York while Mrs. Pankhurst, who seeks the same change by aggressive agitation, has met with decided coldness. Our neighbors are evidently more tolerant of corruption than of violence.

W. C. T. U. SILVER ANNIVERSARY

About one hundred people listened to several very excellent addresses in St. James church last evening, on the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Newcastle W. C. T. U. The President, Mrs. James M. Troy, presided very acceptably and gave a fine address, dealing with the history of the local branch and of the whole order, and presenting interesting and encouraging statistics.

The speaker of the evening was American Consul T. Bodkin of Campbellton, who took as his subject, Judas Iscariot. He considered Judas a firm believer in, and devoted follower of the Christ, and pictured him as anxious to make more money out of Christ's enemies, believing all the time that no harm could possibly come to the omnipotent Saviour. Judas has many descendants who inherit all his chief characteristics except the decency to go and hang themselves. His chief descendants are those politicians who, in order to raise money to build sidewalks, sewers, hospitals and town halls, lay out parks, etc., license or protect or tolerate the saloon interests.

Rev. W. J. Dean spoke of the Scott Act in Newcastle being openly violated. Everyone knew of this. Some of the Council would like to have their hands strengthened by the Temperance people of the town.

Rev. S. J. MacArthur and Rev. Dr. Cousins also spoke, and Rev. W. Nicolls pronounced the benediction.

Excellent music was rendered by a large mixed choir, leading features being solos by Mrs. P. Russell and Miss Hattie Gunn.

At the close of the meeting, the whole of the audience were invited to St. James Hall, where the W. C. T. U. ladies generously dispensed cake and coffee, ice cream and other refreshments to their guests.

ELECTION BALLOTS OVER FOUR FEET LONG

Sample of Those Used in Recent New York Elections is an Object of Curiosity at City Hall

An election ballot which is a curiosity to most St. John voters, has been received by Mr. Clarence Ward from a relative in New York City. The ballot is a sample of those used in the recent New York civic election. It is printed on a sheet of paper sixteen inches long and four and one half feet wide and presents a rather formidable appearance.

Eighteen different parties are represented on the ballot and if they were not enough an extra column is provided in which the voter may write the name of any person not on the ballot for whom he wishes to vote.

To pick a ticket out of the number of candidates shown according to their individual qualification for office would be a heavier task than most voters wish to undertake and it is not surprising that so many vote a straight ticket. This is done in a very simple manner by placing a cross under the emblem of the party which heads the list of candidates.—St. John Star.

HER PHYSICIAN ADVISED

Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Columbus, Ohio.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during change of life. My doctor told me it was good, and since taking it I feel so much better that I can do all my work again. I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fine remedy for all woman's troubles, and I never forget to tell my friends what it has done for me."—Mrs. E. HANSON, 304 East Long St., Columbus, Ohio.

Another Woman Helped.—Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health and strength, and proved worth mountains of gold to me. For the sake of other suffering women I am willing you should publish my letter."—MRS. CHARLES BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

30 Tons Pressure on a Bar of Soap

Every bar of Taylor's Borax Soap is put under a pressure of thirty tons to drive out the moisture.

When you buy Taylor's you get all soap—not a large percentage of water. It makes a saving of half in your soap expense.

There's a big difference between "just soap" and Taylor's Soap.

We use only the purest cocoanut oil from the Isle of Ceylon. Then we boil it doubly long and mix in the borax. While boiling we run thousands of gallons of clean water through the soap which carries away all impurities.

Twenty-one days are required to make a single cake. The labor of more than 200 people is represented in the cake.

We put every bar through an ageing process equal to six months in your pantry. You don't have to age this soap.

The bar is hard and firm. It wears much longer. The borax softens the water which also reduces the amount of soap by almost half that ordinarily required.

This pure soap is utterly harmless to the skin—it leaves the hands whiter and softer than ever before.

A meeting of the creditors of Harry A. Gibson, of Marystown, who recently assigned to Sheriff Howe, was held this morning at the Sheriff's office. The only creditors represented were a Gibson blacksmith and a Stanley merchant, and nothing was done. Sheriff Howe afterwards stated that as far as he could learn there were no assets, and as Mr. Gibson did not keep any books it was impossible to state the amount of liabilities or how he stood. The solicitor for one creditor stated 40-day that the liabilities would probably be $9,000 or $7,000. There are twenty-five or thirty creditors.—Gleaner.

RATHER STALE BREAD.
"What! a loaf of bread over 1,800 years old? Nonsense!" Well, my friend, there is no nonsense about it. You can see several of them in the Royal National Museum, at Naples, burned black like carbon, or charcoal. They were found in the ruins of Pompeii, a city that was buried by an eruption of hot, fiery ashes from Mount Vesuvius in the year 79. No one could eat this bread, although carbon is the element in our food that promotes heat in the body.
When indigestion prevails, your food does not nourish you and you have headaches, poor blood, constipation, dizziness, and other ills. Mother Seigel's Syrup, the surest remedy cures all these ills. Mr. Burton Sherlife, Central Grove, Digby Co., N. S., writes:—"I was troubled with indigestion for a long time and found no medicine to give such immediate relief as Mother Seigel's Syrup. For indigestion and all stomach troubles it is a grand remedy."

STATION AT RENOUS BRIDGE
Expropriations are being made on the Schofield property at Renous Bridge, by the I. R. C. for a site on which to erect a station house. It is thought that further expropriations will be made for a road leading from the station house, which will be erected on the high ground at the Northern end of the iron bridge, across to the Renous River road in rear of the R. C. Church. Such a road would be of the greatest advantage to the people of North Renous, as two very steep hills would be cut off between the Renous River road and the station.

Mystery Deepens In Glover Case

Boston, Mass., Nov. 24.—A new turn was given to the mystery of the Glover murder when Hattie Leblanc, the Arichat girl, who is suspected of the shooting, was found hidden under the bed in the room where the coffin holding the murdered man is lying. When brought out and confronted with the dying man's statement she denied that she did the shooting.
Some of the detectives on the case were previously inclined to doubt if the Leblanc girl is guilty. It is true that Glover accused her when he was dying, but it is thought possible that he may have had a reason for not telling the exact truth.
For reasons which they have not made public they are inclined to think that Glover's death was not the result of any sudden quarrel in the laundry, but rather the result of a carefully planned plot.
It is pointed out that the relations of Glover and his wife's pretty maid were such that she would scarcely have attempted to murder him.
Those who hold to this theory think that the pair were surprised in the laundry by some sweetheart of the girl or by someone else.
In any event all are agreed that if the Leblanc girl is guilty, she entered the laundry with Glover, knowing what was to happen. It is thought to be not unlikely that she had an accomplice.

Home Course In Modern Agriculture

XI.—Bacteria—How They Affect the Farmer

By C. V. GREGORY,

Agricultural Division, Iowa State College

Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association

WE hear a great deal about bacteria, or germs, as they are more popularly called, but few people know what they really are. Although they are so small that it would take several thousand together to make a spot large enough to be seen with the naked eye, yet their importance to the farmer is not measured by their size.

Bacteria are tiny plants, each composed of a single cell. These cells are of various shapes and sizes. Some are round, some long and some shaped like a corkscrew. Some are found singly and some in groups. Some cannot move at all, some move by twisting themselves about, and still others have long, tail-like flagella by which they move themselves along.

Bacteria are made up of a clear, jellylike material called protoplasm. This protoplasm is surrounded by a harder cell wall. There is a great difference in the thickness of these cell walls, and on this thickness depends to a large extent the ability of the germs to withstand unfavorable conditions. Those with thin cell walls can be killed easily, while the thicker walled kinds are very difficult to exterminate.

Bacteria propagate themselves by dividing. One cell divides into two. Each of these two grows to full size and divides again, and so on. Under favorable conditions this process may be repeated every half hour. At this rate the descendants of one germ would in ten hours number more than a million.

At times the part of the protoplasm of a germ will gather into a round, comparatively hard mass, called a spore. The rest of the cell then crumbles away. This spore is inactive, but possesses much greater powers of resistance than when in the active state. These spores often remain alive to start the infection afresh after the active bacteria have all been killed by disinfection.

Bacteria, like higher plants, have definite requirements for growth. One of the most important of these is moisture. Drying will not kill bacteria, but it will stop their multiplication. Another essential to bacterial growth is warmth. Cold, like dryness, will not kill them, but it will stop them from multiplying. This is the reason that the souring of milk or the spoiling of meat, which is caused by bacteria, goes on much more slowly or not at all when they are kept in a cold place.

One of the principal foods of bacteria is nitrogen. Without it they cannot live. Because of this fact sugar and lard, which contain no nitrogen, never spoil. Bacteria also require oxygen, though only certain species are dependent on the air for their supply. One of these is the kind that causes meat and vegetables to decay. This is why canned fruit and vegetables do not spoil. The bacteria have been killed and the oxygen driven off by heating. The few germs that do get in before the can is sealed up cannot develop for lack of air. If the can is not air tight, however, some oxygen will find its way in, the germs will multiply, and the contents will spoil.

Not all bacteria are injurious. Although some of man's most deadly enemies are found among these invisible micro-organisms, yet many of them are his best friends. We have already learned about the bacteria that live on the roots of legumes and change the nitrogen of the air into a form in

FIG. XXI—SOME TYPES OF BACTERIA, which it can be used by plants. The rotting of manure and trash to make humus and of humus to make the elements of plant food available is also due to the action of bacteria. In this way bacteria, by making animal wastes available for plant food, complete the circle of plant and animal life.

The putrefying bacteria, or those which cause rotting, are more beneficial than harmful. By their action dead animals and other refuse matter are quickly reduced to the elements from which they were made. Even the odor given off during the process is also beneficial as a reminder that the matter of burying or burning has been neglected.

Other micro-organisms in the form of yeast are a necessary help in bread-making. The yeast plants, growing in the dough, set free considerable amounts of carbon dioxide. This gas being lighter than air fills the dough with holes and makes it "rise."

Bacteria which cause milk and cream to sour are also useful. Butter made from sweet cream is lacking in flavor and there is not so much of it as in the case of butter that does not sour as readily as in sour cream. But while the germs that cause milk to sour are harmless, there are others often found in milk that are not. The first variety will always be plentiful enough anyway, and the others should be kept down to as small a number as possible.

One of the most important methods of doing this is by cleanliness. The milk pails and strainers and the separator should be thoroughly cleaned every time they are used. Mere rinsing with cold water is not enough. Following the ordinary washing by scalding with boiling water is the only sure way of killing all the germs. In cleaning dishes a brush is much better than a rag, since it can be more easily cleaned itself. A dish rag remains damp for a long time after it has been used and furnishes an excellent place for bacteria to grow. The "dish rag flavor" caused by these can often be detected in butter.

After the dishes have been scalded they should be placed in the sun for several hours. There should be as

FIG. XXII—HOW SPORES ARE FORMED. much sunshine as possible in the milk room and cow stable also. Sunlight, which is so necessary to the growth of the higher plants, is fatal to bacteria.

The stable where the milking is done should be cleaned and aired every day. A coat of whitewash should be applied occasionally, as in addition to being a good germ killer it also makes the stable much lighter. Hay should not be fed immediately before milking, as the dust from it is covered with bacteria. The udders and flanks of the cows should be kept perfectly clean. A little dirt falling from them into the milk will take with it thousands of germs. The milk should not be left in the barn after it is drawn, but taken immediately to the milk room.

Many creameries and city milk dealers practice pasteurization. This simply consists in heating the milk to as high a temperature as possible without scalding it. This kills most of the germs, and the few that are left will not develop rapidly enough to do much harm. In creameries a starter—that is, a portion of milk which contains a particular kind of bacteria—is added after pasteurization and the cream then "ripens" for twelve hours or so. By thus supplying germs which are known to produce desirable flavors and killing the others butter of very high quality may be made.

There are bacteria everywhere—in the soil, in the air and in the water. By far the greater number of these are harmless. Even disease germs are unable to obtain a foothold in a perfectly healthy animal or person. The secretions of the mouth and the digestive organs are fatal to many of them. Even if they succeed in getting into the blood they are not yet out of danger. The blood contains large numbers of white corpuscles, which seem to have no duty to perform but to seize and destroy these invaders. It is only when an animal becomes weakened from one cause or another that these corpuscles fail to do their duty and the germs begin their destructive work.

The first step in avoiding infection by disease producing bacteria, then, is to keep the animals healthy by proper food, exercise and shelter. The next point is to do everything possible to prevent the germs from getting into the animal's body.

In case a contagious disease of any sort appears the sick animals should be shut up by themselves as far as possible from the rest of the herd. Disinfectants, such as coal tar dips and bicarbonate of mercury (one part of the chemical, two parts salt and 1000 parts water), should be used freely. There should be taken not to carry the germs from the sick animals to the well ones while caring for them.

Wounds, such as wire cuts, need especial care to prevent infection. Ordinary disinfectants are too irritating, and something must be done to keep the bacteria from attacking the raw surfaces. Keeping the wound bound tightly and substituting daily with iodine solution is one of the best ways of insuring rapid healing.

Another problem, like the problem of wounds and insects, is easily solved if it is done at in the right way. The flies, sunlight and disinfection should do much to hold the injurious ones in check, and the others need encouragement to continue doing their invisible though none the less real work to help us. There is no other reason why the germ problem should be made a matter of constant business on the part of the farmer.

It requires a scientist to determine which bacteria that may infect a cow and those that are harmless, and the insurance it is safe to take is to buy ordinary antibodies to protect the cow, allowing himself to be infected. It is fortified he will have the assistance to make a special study of bacteria. Let the scientists do that.

LETTER FROM A FORTY-NINE

Here is a simple, interesting and sincere letter from a rugged pioneer of '49, who braved the dangers and hardships of the overland trail to California. It should appeal to all catarrh victims.

Santa Rosa, Cal., May 5, 1908. Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Dear Sirs—I was afflicted with catarrh and tried a number of remedies but received no relief. I purchased an outfit of Hyomei, and before I had used the bottle I noted a marked relief. I used it for a month or so, and thought I was cured, and stopped using it for a year or so. Thought I was getting catarrh again, and started using it again. I use it every morning, and keep myself clear of catarrh. I consider it the best catarrh medicine that is used. I have often recommended it to my friends. I am 81 years old. I came to California in 1849, and of course am not as vigorous as I was 58 years ago. My address is 841 4th Street. Yours truly, W. Mock.

Hyomei (pronounced High-o-ne) is guaranteed by T. J. Durst not only for catarrh, but for grip, coughs, colds, bronchitis and croup. A complete outfit, including inhaler, costs only $1.00; extra bottles of Hyomei, if afterwards needed, cost but 50 cents.

CHRISTMAS STAMP CAMPAIGN

THE 1909 BATTLE AGAINST THE DREAD WHITE PLAGUE.

Available Beds in the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives Increased Three-Fold as a Result of Last Year's Sale of Christmas Stamps. The Number Can Be Doubled This Year If Everyone Will Help.

STIMULATED by the success of a year ago the National Sanitarium Association have made large preparations for the sale of the Christmas Stamp of 1909-10, issued on behalf of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Nearly $8,000.00 was netted from last year's sale, making it possible for the trustees to increase the available beds for needy patients from an average of fifty-five a year ago to one hundred and forty, the accommodation to-day.

The trustees are hopeful that they may bring the accommodation up to 300 beds as the outcome of this year's sale of this little one cent messenger of hope and healing.

The Christmas Stamp, as a means of fighting the dread white plague, had its origin in Denmark in 1904, the sale from which has financed a hospital for consumptives in that country. The idea was taken up by the Red Cross Society of the United States in 1907, and interest has grown each year.

A year ago a Christmas stamp of special design was put in circulation by the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives with the success already indicated in this article.

The price of the individual stamp is only one cent, but what wonderful things can be accomplished by so tiny an instrument. There is no reason why everyone who writes a letter, addresses a postcard, mails a newspaper or parcel from this day out should not use one of these stamps.

The educational value of the stamp appearing on every piece of mail matter would be enormous. One can hardly figure up the material results. It would mean a routing of the enemy
