TAKE A "FLYER."

With a small investment of about $20 as a "flyer," we know of a splendid opportunity to double that amount within four months. On a $50 "flyer" the profits of course would be more worth-while. We can suggest a certain good security selling to-day around $4 a share that should be selling from $6 to $8 by August. Ten shares would cost about $40 and a payment of $15 would control them. Hold the 10 shares for a couple of months and sell out when the price reaches $60, giving yourself a $20 profit in addition to your original $15. Ask us about it.

"A GOLD LADEN DERELICT" OR The Impecunious Adventuress.

CHAPTER XXV.
AN UNEXPECTED TRAGEDY.

"I must congratulate you and your associates, Mr. Jarvis," said his lordship, in his smooth, deliberate tones, "on taking a most honorable and dignified course. It is not possible that the prosecution could have anticipated such an extraordinary, and, I may add, such a disgraceful occurrence, as has taken place during this trial. I shall take care that whoever is responsible for it shall be duly punished. The woman Emma Meeson will be considered in custody, pending inquiries. The accused are discharged, and I entirely indorse all that you have said with reference to them."

As the judge ceased speaking, an irresistible burst of applause broke out, and then came a sudden hush, and every eye looked at the dock.

Lilias had drawn herself up to her full, stately height beside the rail. "Kenneth!" she cried; "Kenneth!" He looked around, very pale, and with tightly compressed lips. She put out her arms toward him and cried again:

"Kenneth—thank you, and God bless you; but—I was guilty!"

Then her teeth came together, and she swallowed something. For a moment her lovely face was distorted by agony. Then it became composed again. The quick flush that had risen to her cheeks and brow died away, and, with a little sigh, which sounded quite distinctly through the deep hush that had fallen on the crowded court, she fell back into the arms of two female prison attendants—dead!

CHAPTER XXV.
A NEW HAND IN THE GAME.

Among all the great audience that had witnessed the tragedy which ended the great Eversley will case, there had been no more deeply interested spectators than Mr. Arthur Ashley, Mr. Walter Redman, and Mr. Henry Montagu. During the hush compelled by the presence of death, the crowd filed silently out of the court, and melted away through the open doors of the wide entrance; but in order to avoid the crowd these three gentlemen remained behind.

Mr. Montagu put his hand on Ashley's shoulder, and said, in his softest accents:

"My boy, that was a most fortunate thing for you. I forgive you everything now. The whole estate and fortune goes to the cousins, and you are one of the three. A third of forty thousand a year. I congratulate you, my boy, and I know that you'll be as generous as you'll be rich."

"Don't worry about that, Monty," said Ashley. "I'll see that you are all right. The evil genius of the whole thing is dead, and now we can work with a free hand. What's more, I don't think there'll be any possible obstacle now in the way of my marriage with Miss Vanderleen."

"No," said Redman, "that ought to be all right now."

"All right? Yes, I should think so," said Mr. Montagu. "Come along, I've got a motor car waiting outside. We'll go up to the Savoy and have lunch and crack a bottle of the best over it."

"Right you are," said Ashley. "Come along. The crowd's got out now."

They went down to the entrance, and out into Newgate Street. In front of the door, on the other side of the pavement, there were three of the city police. Mr. Burnett stepped out from the little crowd on the right-hand side and approached the precious trio of conspirators. They gave a start of alarm at sight of him; Montagu's darkly sallow face turned a shade paler, and his thick lips quivered, Redman gasped like a fish out of water, and Ashley alone had the courage to smile—until he felt Burnett's heavy hand laid unceremoniously upon his shoulder.

"Mr. Arthur Ashley, Mr. Walter Redman, Mr. Henry Montagu, I arrest you, in the king's name!" Then the officers closed up, and a crowd gathered around. "Eh!" exclaimed Mr. Montagu. "What's that for? What do you mean by it, Mr. Burnett? You must be making a very big mistake."

"I am not accustomed to make mistakes, Mr. Montagu," said the detective, with a pleasant smile. "Here is my warrant. You can read it now or later on, as you please, and you can come quietly with me at your convenience, or be taken in charge. It is quite optional with you. The charge is—"

"Thanks, that will do, Mr. Burnett," said Redman. "You will pay for your mistake later on. Meanwhile the law is on your side, and we will go with you."

"Yes," said Mr. Montagu, whose complexion had been turning grayer every moment. "I have my car here. It will hold the four of us. Come along, Mr. Burnett."

The detective saw his prisoners comfortably appointed motor car, and said to the astonished chauffeur:

"Bow Street, please, and hurry up."

"Mr. Montagu's is my master," said the man. "I don't know who you are."

Mr. Montagu put his head out of the window and said:

"Go on, Charles; do as you are told."

Mr. Burnett got in and shut the door, and the big motor car rolled away from the wondering crowd down into Ludgate Hill, on the way to Bow Street.

The motor car pulled up at the entrance to the police station, and Mr. Burnett conducted three very dispirited but still wondering men to the charge room, where they were ranged up before the inspector's desk. Then Mr. Burnett took out his warrant and read the charge against his prisoners, which charge, divested of legal formula, amounted to this:

"That Arthur Ashley, Walter Redman, and Henry Montagu were accused, each and severally, of fraud and conspiracy to defraud the heirs, executors, and assigns, first, of the late Sir Arthur Eversley, baronet, deceased; and, secondly, the heirs, executors, and assigns of the estate of Henry Kenneth Markham, also deceased, by means of forged documents."

"Arthur Ashley was individually charged with forging and uttering three acceptances of the value of two, three, and five hundred each, respectively; and also a policy of underwriting purporting to be signed by the late Henry Kenneth Markham."

"Walter Redman was individually accused of receiving and keeping the said forged documents, for his own personal use and profit."

"Lastly, Harry Montagu was individually charged with aiding and abetting and possessing guilty knowledge of the aforesaid fraudulent transactions."

"The documents, Mr. Inspector," said Detective Burnett, when the charge was concluded, "are in my possession, and the treasury will prosecute."

"Very good, Mr. Burnett," said the inspector. Then, turning to the three men who had intended to lunch at the Savoy, he continued: "Gentlemen, I am afraid you will have to remain here to-day. You will be brought before the magistrate to-morrow."

"But can't we have bail?" exclaimed Mr. Montagu, his face flushing a purple red, and his eyes starting half out of their sockets. "I am a well-known financier in the city, Mr. Arthur Ashley is a gentleman of independent means, and Mr. Redman is also a man of position. We can find five thousand pounds' bail in an hour, if that will do."

"Very sorry sir," replied the inspector, "it is not in my power to grant bail on such a charge as this. You will, of course, communicate with your lawyers, and they will make the application to the magistrate to-morrow."

"This way, please," said a big sergeant, erect and dignified, who had been waiting for his cue.

"Take it quietly," said Detective Burnett, in a quite sympathetic tone of voice. "Go and write your letters to your lawyers, and I will see that they are posted; or, if you like, I'll take them myself. I haven't anything particular to do this afternoon, and I always like to see fair play."

"You're not a bad fellow, Mr. Burnett," said Montagu, who seemed to rise to the occasion much better than the others. "If you don't mind waiting till we've got them ready, there's my motor car at your service, and may it do you a jolly sight more good to-day than it has done me. Good-bye for the present."

"That little Jew is the only sportsman in the crowd," said Detective Burnett to the inspector, when the door had closed behind the procession.

"As I gave promise of beauty, my parents determined to add to it every possible accomplishment that could make me more useful for their purposes, and the earnings of crime were spent without stint to make me what you found me."

"At seventeen I was married to Rayman Sherrill, who was the head of the great gang of swindlers which is still known as the 'Transatlantic Agency.'" He is now, under the name of John Hunter, serving a term of ten years' penal servitude at Portland, for the forgery of bonds. So, you see, Kenneth, I lied to you when I said that I was a widow, and so free to accept the only happiness of which only the dim prospect has come into my wicked, miserable life."

"I am sorry and ashamed that I lied to you, but, Kenneth, I was sorely tempted, for I sincerely loved you, and even you know what that means to a woman who has hungered for clean, unselfish love all her life."

"I loved you so much that there was a time when I was mad enough to dream of at least a few years' happiness with you. My husband—can you think what it costs me to write that word in a letter which you will read?—will not be out of prison for more than five years, and my dream was to spend some of those years with you, and kill myself before the man to whom I am bound could claim me."

HOUSEHOLD NECESSITY

Gillett's Lye has long been regarded as a household necessity because of the fact that it is useful in so many ways, and so satisfactory in every respect that no woman feels that she can keep house without it. Makes the finest kind of soap for washing and cleansing. One can of Gillett's Lye will make ten pounds of good soap in twenty minutes. Many of its uses are shown in booklet under the label.

BOLSHEVIKS CONCENTRATING AGAINST POLES.

WARSAW, April 19. Important concentrations of Bolshevik troops at Zhemrinka, Poland are reported in a communication issued by the general staff which says the concentrations were revealed by a reconnaissance of Airmen.

FRENCH LABORERS DEMAND.

PARIS, April 19. Demands for a withdrawal of French troops sent into German cities east of the Rhine, abandonment of new Colonial expeditions such as that in Syria, and release of the class of 1918 from military colors are made in a manifesto issued by the General Federation of Labor in calling upon workmen to strike in the May strike. These measures should be adopted, it is said, "to show the world that France wishes peace." The Munich conference is interpreted by officials here as having been called to forge further links in the international chain of revolutions, preliminary steps towards which were taken at the Moscow conference. In aid of the movement representatives of Lenin at Munich are reported to have promised Turkish and German conspirators two hundred thousand Russian Bolshevik troops.

ATTEMPTS TO REVISE TREATY SHOULD BE RESISTED.

PARIS, April 19. Demands that the Allies, during the Remo meeting this week, resist attempts to revise the terms of the Versailles treaty with Germany are made by Raymond Poincare, former President of France, in an article published by the Matin. France and Belgium have been deprived of guarantee by the failure of Great Britain and the United States to put the tripartite convention into operation and the League of Nations is said to be without means of action. Germany is "violating the Versailles Treaty and avoiding all engagements," and France and Belgium could not have done otherwise than advance east of the Rhine when German regulars invaded the neutral Zone in Ruhr district.

NOT IN NEED OF ASSISTANCE.

BOSTON, April 19. An intercepted message from the S. S. P. E. Morse to the coast guard cutter Acushnet early to-day said that the Morse was no longer in need of assistance, that the storm had abated and she was returning to New York with one boiler working.

RAILROAD EMPLOYEES FLOCK TO WORK.

NEW YORK, April 19. Striking railroad employees continued to flock back to work in New York and vicinity to-day, despite efforts of the radicals, and railroad officials asserted that conditions were approaching normal. All railroads in this section commenced to move freight from badly congested terminals to-day. Passenger traffic improved to such an extent that virtually normal schedules were maintained.

REFUSE RECOGNITION TO DE VALERA.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 19. Over 2,000 persons yesterday unanimously carried resolutions urging Governor Dorsey and the Mayor (3) to refuse any official recognition to Eamon De Valera, "President of the Irish Republic," when he visits this city this week.

A STORM AT SEA.

BOSTON, April 19. Stormy weather at sea was reported by several vessels in the North Atlantic to-day. The wooden steamer Columbine appeared to have suffered most. Wireless messages reported the Columbine as having been forced to turn to sails for power to meet a West-

North-West gale about 750 miles from New York, her destination. The steamer, which is nearly a month out from Shields, England, reported that only one boiler was working, but with the help of three lower sails she was proceeding.

MURDERER ARRAIGNED.

NEW YORK, April 19. Thomas W. Shelley, formerly of Calgary, Alberta, who was known as Thomas W. Simpkins, faced arraignment in Yorkville Court to-day for shooting Dr. James Wright Markee, an eminent surgeon in St. George's Episcopal Church yesterday. Police officials said they would later ask for appointment of a commission to examine Shelley as to his lunacy. He told the police he had escaped from a lunatic asylum last week. Detectives questioned Shelley closely in his cell at Police Headquarters in a fruitless endeavor to learn a motive for the murder.

Grand Bank and Prohibition.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir.—Recently there appeared in the press a resolution re Prohibition in Grand Bank.

This resolution was wired to this press and stated that it was passed at a public meeting. As this question of Prohibition is such a vital one at the present, in consequence of extraordinary efforts being made by its opponents to nullify or destroy it, we think your readers should know the attendant circumstances under which the foregoing resolution was passed.

This meeting was well advertised. A mass meeting of the voters representing all denominations assembled in the Fraser Hall, which was practically filled with men. Although it may be, a dozen women were there, yet women and children were not expected to come. At any political meeting in this place, we have never seen the numbers nor enthusiasm as on this occasion. Every speaker was listened to with rapt attention and enthusiastically applauded. When the audience was asked to give a standing vote for the measure, every man stood to his feet. There may have been a few men there who liked the glass, but not one would vote for the unrestricted sale of intoxicating liquor with its train of misery, ignorance and poverty again, cursing and degrading our fair island home. And what we say of this place applies in a similar manner to the whole of the Burin district. While there have always been a few who do not doubt smuggle a jar of this nectar from St. Pierre, yet we do not think there are five men in the district who would like to see his boy drink it or have access to it. The few who booze here do it on a small scale, always ashamed to have it known they stoop to such a degrading act. We pity them. They are bound with a chain of their own forging. They have no power to battle off the habit of a life time. Alcohol has in them created an appetite for itself which increases and enthral them as time goes on. Can we not say that all over the island most of the boozers are those who acquired the habit when public houses were licensed to sell spirituous liquors.

Further it is only logical to conclude that after this generation passes, if Prohibition continues, the next generation will not have the craving for dope or whiskey that is now displayed, but will have more natural appetite and will settle down to a higher civilization and refinement as our bigger neighbour, Uncle Sam, West of us is doing.

Very much may be said on this question, but we only write to let this Dominion in general, and our representatives in particular know just where this portion of the country stands in the matter of Prohibition. We urge upon all other towns and districts to do likewise, so that when the time comes to vote on this question in the House of Assembly, all members will know where their constituents stand and be in a position to represent them faithfully. Considering twenty-six thousand votes were cast for this measure and only about five thousand against it six years ago, any government ought to pause before they reverse it.

Yours Sincerely,
L. B. CLARKE.

MR. KINSELLA IN THE OPEN.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir.—A few short weeks ago, I (through your courtesy) published a letter in the "Evening Telegram" dealing, from my own poor point of view, with the Irish Question, and far from pretension and from any spirit of prophecy I declared re this Irish Movement, just what has occurred—general strife and disagreement both in Ireland and England over the present problem. When my letter appeared in your paper Sir, there were some small mean men—men who had not the courage of their convictions to criticize my declaration, who dared not come out publicly to either challenge or deny my statements. Some of those small fry said that I had no right to express my views in such an international matter, and to this I answer that those Lloyd Georges might be forgiven for not having the ability to come before the public on any public question. But not for showing pusillanimous feeling to a brother employee simply because he cannot agree with that or any other question which calls in its consideration for intellectual thought and acumen. There is not a reasonable Newfoundland to-day who will not agree with me in this statement that the world of Labor, of Trade, of Commerce and of Democracy has undergone a tremendous alteration, and that the question of "Irish Freedom" is now but a question of International Democracy. Any sane man (and a bigot is not a sane man), can read between the lines of International Government to-day, and read this, that the hour is near approaching us when the nations will be free, and if you or I want to see this understood in the "coming of future events," we have but to look at the defensive attitudes of Scotland and Canada to-day.

In this statement I do not even include South Africa, because I believe that South Africa has yet to remain in the Dominion of England, till that time when the principles of Self Government have been sufficiently impressed in her by its loss.

Any well-informed reader of Irish History has seen ere this, that the solution of the Irish Question as resolved by Lloyd George (and city Georges) can never and never will, be accepted by the people of Ireland, and in order to reduce the matter to the bigoted intelligence of some of our local "know it alls," I would place the question as relative to Ireland thus wise. Supposing Newfoundland was to-morrow seeking Home Rule (which, of course, as everybody knows, she has), and the veto was placed to the country and the country decided and wanted, (in the return of its executive partisans to this sought for Home Rule) true gov't, would Newfoundland allow its three-fold population, (West, East and South) to be ruled by its Northern section? I think not, nor would this country accept a measure of Home Rule which in its essence means a fourth of a whole country to possess equal determination to resist the other third unjustly and injudiciously. The question or the solution of the Irish Question, as suggested by our Lloyd George, to-day, is perfect nonsense. Bitter ridicule to a sensible solution of the Irish matter of Self-Government.

That it will not be accepted, is the sane view of every knowledgeable student of Irish History, and Lloyd George will go down to defeat in this as well as other matters of international importance. Where does the present Premier of England stand in his position to the Indian question of to-day? Where does he stand in the questions of Russia, Alsace Lorraine, Egypt, Germany, and even Japan? The next General Election in English constituencies will show, and not even his strongest and greatest adherents will admit his defeat to able judgment.

It is asked by the not too well informed, "this terse question, "Has the Irish Question anything to do with the agreement of America to enter into, and be one with the League of Nations?" The answer is simply this. It has. The reason America to-day will not enter into an alliance with England on the Treaty terms and will not become a party to the League of Nations is because England will not in her supremacy give Ireland Home Rule. It is the principal reason why the U. S. A. will not enter the League of Nations and to-day—America (three million Irish descent), are watching Britain, as well. The Irish Question is the question of the U.S., and is going to become still greater and larger and more aggressive in its purport, and not all the silly disagreement of local wit, is going to intimidate the matter to hand, the vital essence—"Ireland for Ireland."

This is my answer to mean and underhand and detestable calumniators. Let them come out against me over their own names as men and citizens and I will deal with them. If they have the spirit of men they will not attack an open opponent in the dark, and hidden behind their Government jobs (which they are not secure (as they think) secure from the stigma of cowardice.

If any contributor to your columns Sir, wishes to reply to me let him do so over (as a man) his own name, and I shall be only pleased to give him some facts relative to Irish History, and the struggle of Ireland to regain her independence. Any other is not worthy of reply, for no man is

To-day's Messages.

NO INFORMATION.

LONDON, April 19.
Replying to a question to-day in the Commons as to whether there had been attempts at gun running into Irish ports recently, Bosar Law, Government spokesman, said there had been numerous rumors regarding the illegal landing of arms, and undoubtedly small arms were being introduced surreptitiously into Ireland, but nothing was known, however, of any attempt at gun running, he added.

A LYNCHING BEE.

PITTSBURG, Kansas, April 19.
A mob, estimated to have numbered a thousand persons, to-day surrounded the jail and seized an unknown negro, identified as having attacked a young white girl here, and hanged him to a telephone post. They made an attempt to molest a white youth, who with the negro was captured by a posse this afternoon.

KILLED BY EXPLOSION.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., April 19.
Six men were killed and three seriously injured at Onrod by the premature explosion of a dynamite blast charge in the quarry of the Lehigh Portland Cement Co. to-day.

CALICO AND DENIM.

NEW YORK, April 19.
Supported by many prominent men and women, "the overalls and gingham" movement continued to gain converts throughout the United States to-day. In New York City the heads of business concerns, officials and actors donned blue denim or calico, and announced their intentions of backing the campaign. Several hundred backers of the movement this evening marched through the theatrical district, singing and urging the spectators to don blue denim and join the parade.

HARD FIGHTING REPORTED.

LONDON, April 19.
Hard fighting in several sections of the Polish front is reported by the Russian Soviet Government in its communication issued at Moscow on Sunday. An advance by the Reds in the Black Sea region also is announced.

COUNCIL WILL REPLY.

SAN REMO, April 19.
In considering the Turkish Treaty to-day the Supreme Council decided to reply to President Wilson's note on the subject, giving him full explanations as to why it could not accept the points he made in this connection. This reply of the Allies, in thus supplying full information on this question, is taken here to indicate their general attitude toward the United States Government in treating the unsettled European problem. The Turkish Treaty was approved by the Council to-day in a general form, as it was drawn by the Council of Foreign Ministers in London. Changes were made in two points, but these were not disclosed. It was decided to request the Turkish plenipotentiaries to present themselves in London on May tenth, to receive the Treaty.

SHIP TERMINAL FIRE.

NEW YORK, April 19.
Bush terminal in Brooklyn, one of the largest steamship terminals in the world, was saved from destruction to-day, when a spectacular fire practically destroyed the Norwegian steamship Halfrid, which was berthed at No. 1 pier of the terminal. Explosions in two thousand tons of nitrates in the vessel's hold, led to fears of a conflagration along the waterfront. The two piers nearest the ship were damaged. A few firemen were overcome, and several terminal employees were rushed to hospitals, slightly injured.

TO REPORT ON PALESTINE.

LONDON, April 19.
The British Government has appointed a commission, composed of officials already in Palestine, to investigate the recent clashes between Moslems and Jews there. So far as has been reported to the Government the Arabs are not taking any further steps in their reported plans for the dissolution of the Jewish official bodies in Palestine, under threat of massacres.

NEW TREATMENT FOR PRISONERS.

DUBLIN, April 19.
Important Government regulations were issued to-night, fully providing for the treatment of prisoners, so as to avoid consequences of friction, which has heretofore constantly prevailed. The matter has now been reduced to a detailed code, and not only are prisoners in preventive detention, under the Defence of the Realm Act, and other untried prisoners, to receive ameliorative treatment, but in the case of political prisoners, clear distinction is to be made between men convicted of offences, and men who, apart from politics, have committed what are generally understood as crimes. This is taken to mark a change in the temper of the Castle administration. Viscount French, Lord Lieut., apparently has no intention of resigning.

FATAL STORM.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 19.
In a storm which swept Northwest Arkansas last night a score of people were killed and many injured at Harney Valley. Seven were killed at Cabann Creek, a mother and two children were killed and six members of a family at Bellville were also killed, and one member of another family at Bellville was killed. Reports are being received slowly from the stricken districts, as wire communications gradually are becoming restored.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

HORSEA, April 20.
(British Wireless Service)—The Supreme Council meets to-day at San Remo with Turkey as the first subject of discussion. It is expected, however, that Germany will engage the attention of the Council and measures for the enforcement of the Treaty of Versailles are being placed in the foreground. A budget statement, which will be made by Austin Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, is awaited with much interest, not only in England, but by the whole world. Just as the strength and resource which Britain displayed during the war and the financial and material aid she rendered to her Allies, eventually bringing cause to victory, so Britain's recuperative powers have been a source of wonder to the whole world.

GERMAN UNIVERSITIES AGAINST PEACE.

GENEVA, April 20.
Prof. Forester, Bavarian Minister to be accredited to Switzerland under the Republican regime, has just resigned his post. He said that his reason for resigning was that the present juncture spirit in German universities was against reconciling the people to peace.

THE REASON WHY.

WASHINGTON, April 20.
The Allied reply to President Wilson's Turkish note is expected by diplomatic officials here to point out that without experience by the United States of responsibility for part of the burden of a solution of the Turkish question, the Allies have found it impossible to adopt the President's suggestion that the Turk be driven out of Europe. The Allies have taken the position, it is said, that the eviction of the Sultan from Constantinople was impossible, without the assumption by some power, preferably the United States, of an obligation for the protection of Constantinople and contiguous Turkish territory.

A Poser for the Editor.

The editor of the "List, O Lovers" column ran his fingers through his hair. Love-knots by the hundred he had untied, tangles by the thousand he had unwoven, but here was a letter at last he could not answer. "Listen to this!" he cried distractedly, turning to a fellow-worker.

I have two pigs, and, as I am running short of bacon, I want to kill one of them for salt-ing; but as I love both of them dearly I don't know which one to destroy. The other—Eld—is reserved and stately, black-haired, with proud, black eyes, but of a very upright and generous disposition. ## Her Large Order.

Evidently her purse did not match her stylish clothes. At least, so thought the fishmonger, as she asked the price of one fish after another without buying any. As she turned to leave the shop her eyes caught a lot of game. "Oh, that reminds me, Mr. Scates!" she said, brightly. "You might send me a brace of—let me see—"
"Pheasant, grouse, partridge?" suggested the shopman, bucking up at the prospect of an order after all.
"No," replied the smartly-clad woman, as she left the shop, "kippers."

Making It Plain to Them.

The Bishop of London, who when lecturing or preaching ways chooses the shortest and simplest words in order to express his meaning, is never tired of impressing upon his clergy the necessity for doing likewise.
One little story he is fond of telling in order to emphasize this point. It concerns a certain vicar who was called upon to deliver an address to the village Sunday-school children, and this is how he began:
"This morning, children, I propose to offer you an epitome of the life of St. Paul. Now, children, can anyone tell me what an epitome is?"
Naturally, none of them could. So the good man proceeded to make it plain to them as follows:
"Epitome, children, is in its significance synonymous with synopsis."

Mainly About People.

Mrs. Humphrey Ward, who recently died in London of heart disease, was born at Hobart, Tasmania, in 1851, the daughter of Thomas Arnold, M.A., who was the second son of Dr. Arnold, the famous Rugby headmaster. She married T. Humphrey Ward in 1872. Mrs. Ward became prominent in the literary world on the publication of her widely-read novel, "Robert Elsmere," in 1882. This was followed by "The History of David Grieve," "Marcella," "Sir George Tressady," "Lady Rose's Daughter," and other stories which added to her fame as an author. She took an active part in women's war work, and her latest writings dealt with Britain's efforts in the great struggle.

The Week's Wisdom.

Be up and doing—but mind whom you do.
Love thyself, so shall thy affection be returned.
Love is the wine of life—marriage is the morning after.
Laughter is the sound you hear when you are chasing your hat.
If you really wish to know a woman's bad points, praise her to another.
A man chooses his wife, not because there are no other women, but in spite of them.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

DON'T BE UNFAIR.

That's what I heard about Christianity. I heard a man say the other night. "It makes men so narrow and intolerant. I don't believe a man of the world would make a threat like that." The tale which brought out that remark was this: There is a man in our neighborhood who is a very strong Churchman, very pious and very straight-laced. He had a cousin, a widow with four children, who has a hard struggle to keep the family together and educate them; and he, being wealthy and childless, has helped her out. For one thing, he has given money to educate the oldest daughter, with a view to her being a missionary as he is much interested in foreign missions. Now the girl was very young when he thus dedicated her to the missionary cause, and she was quite willing, but since she has grown up, she has fallen in love with a most desirable young man in our town and wants to marry him. And this pillar of the Church declares that if she does, he will never do another thing not only for her but for any of her family.

Household Notes.

Garnish Bavarian cream with current jelly. The flavor is most pleasing. Grow a gourd vine or two and get your drinking dippers and darners for nothing. Flour and fat may be cooked and stored in a glass jar until it is needed for saucers. Doughnut dough should be as soft as can be handled, else they will crack when frying. Good white bloomers may be worn by little girls with almost any type of wash dress. Drop a pinch of flour in the grease before frying eggs and the grease will not pop. In saucemaking, when starch is mixed with soft fat, equal quantities of both should be used. A soft hair paint brush is convenient for dusting crevices in the woodwork and radiators.

"FIVE THOUSAND."

Five Thousand more bottles of "Brick's Tasteless" Cod Liver Oil will arrive in a few days. The two thousand which arrived about two weeks ago is practically all sold. This certainly speaks well for the medicinal qualities of "Brick's Tasteless." The only fault is it makes you eat, and food is very high at present. "Brick's Tasteless" is a most palatable preparation containing the active principles of the purest Cod Liver Oil with all its unequalled tonic alternative reconstructive properties—combined with Phosphorus in the form of the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites containing 1-100 gr. strychnine to each tablespoonful also, with the nutritious liquid extract of malt and the bronchial tonic and sedative fluid extract of wild cherry bark. ### Fire! Fire!

Up the street came the fire-engines, with many a clang and clatter. From another direction came the fire-escape. Soon the hoses were busy, and the crowd swelled. It swelled so quickly that the young reporter from the big daily could get nowhere near the burning house. But he was undismayed. With much agility he climbed a lamp-post and surveyed the scene. A minute later he felt a tug at his ankle, and looking down, met the fierce glare of a constable.

His Promise.

A countryman was often urged to sign the pledge, but without avail. One day a few friends read to him an account of a man who had become so thoroughly saturated with alcohol that on attempting to blow out a candle his breath ignited, and he was instantly blown to atoms. Barney's face showed mingled horror and contrition, and his friends were delighted to see that the long-desired moment of repentance was at hand. "Boys!" he cried. "I'll never die that death, anyhow. Hear me now, boys, I, Barney Finnegan, knowing my great weakness, hereby give my word of honor that, so long as I live, no matter what may happen, I will never blow out a candle."

THE SPRING CHORE.

Spring is brightening the valleys, that were lately brown and gray, and it's time to clean the alleys, carting all the trash away; all the cast-off shoes and bonnets, and the cat that reached its end, and the punk rejected sonnets that the local poet penned. Spring is hinting now of roses, and we should to duty rise, for old trash offends our noses, and it's painful to the eyes. Spring is whispering of lilies, whispering in every breeze; and that town imparts the willies which no springtime clean-up sees. There is litter by your stable, there's a dead cow by your door; toil, as hard as you are able, that they may be there no more. For, such things insult our senses, and they aggravate and vex; and we ought to paint our fences, shave ourselves, and wash our necks. All the world is bright and sunny, shining till it seems like new; and I think it mighty funny if we are shining too. Bear away the long dead Tabby, all the truck of yesterday; clean up, for the town that's shabby is an eyesore to the ear.

Although he is seventy-three, the famous inventor, Thomas A. Edison, has no intention yet of retiring his labors and taking more rest. "I already have a schedule worked out," he says. "From now on until I am seventy-five I expect to keep more or less busy with my regular work, but not for as many hours or as hard as in the past. At seventy-five I expect to wear loud waistcoats with fancy buttons, also spats. At eighty I expect to learn to play whist and talk foolishly to women. At eighty-five I expect to wear a dress suit every evening a year, and at ninety—well, I never plan for more than thirty years ahead."

"Ave Marias" of Musical History.

THE ANGELIC SALUTATION HAS FURNISHED INSPIRATION FOR MANY COMPOSITIONS.

When the Angel Gabriel addressed Mary with the words, "Hail thou that art highly favored, the Lord is with thee; Blessed are thou among women," and thus announced to the Virgin that she was to become the mother of the Saviour of the World, he uttered words that entirely aside from their prophetic significance to those of the Christian faith, have had a greater musical composition than any other words in the world, says a recent issue of "Along Broadway." Practically every great composer of Roman Catholic faith has composed a musical theme or setting to this salutation, and of the minor composers who have done so, their number is legion, running into the thousands. These compositions are generally known as "Ave Marias," the Latin for which the English translation is "Hail Mary."

The present form of "Ave Maria" as used in the Roman Catholic Church, is a universal prayer known to every Catholic, just as every Christian, whether Protestant or Catholic knows the Lord's Prayer. It had its genesis from three sources. The opening words are a portion of the first chapter of St. Luke, the 28th verse, with which has been combined also a portion of the 42nd verse. The balance of this immortal salutation—the part that gives it essence and vitality as a prayer, as well as a salutation, was added by the priests of the Church in the second century.

In the adaptation of "Ave Maria" as a part of the Catholic musical service, the musical setting has undergone many changes. Some of our great composers wandered far afield in giving to this divine thought a setting worthy of the sentiment—just as some great jewel might be set in purest gold but so elaborate in its workmanship that the effects would detract, rather than add to, the beauty of the jewel itself. In other compositions the music took on a secular flavor. As students of Ecclesiastic music know, Pope Gregory discouraged the more flowery and impressionistic types and many "Ave Marias" fell under the Papal ban. To-day the accredited "Ave Marias" must conform to what is known as Gregorian tones—the two standard selections being the compositions of the Dutch composer, Aroodet, of the fifteenth century, and the Italian "Ave Maria," of Vitoria.

Three Notable "Ave Marias." In the field of pure music, however, there are three great "Ave Marias." One is the Bach Prelude transcribed by Gounod. Another is the "Ave Maria of Mascagni, adapted from the "Intermezzo" of "Cavalleria Rusticana," and the third, that which the

Vox Populi.

The people once more manifested their disapproval of certain phases in the political life of this dominion, last night, when notwithstanding the inclement weather they assembled by hundreds at a public meeting called for the express purpose of protesting against certain corrupt practices alleged to have been committed by men prominent in the Government, and to carry their protest and demand for cleanliness in politics to the representative of His Most Gracious Majesty the King. This has been done, and the vice-regal promise has been given that a thorough investigation into the whole circumstances will be carried out by a Royal Commission to be appointed forthwith.

The personnel of this Commission was intimated to the deputation of citizens which waited on His Excellency at Government House last night. It will consist of two Judges of the Supreme Court and a senior member of the Legislature. With the two gentlemen of the judicial bench, everybody will be satisfied, but as it has been suggested that the third member is not only a strong political partisan of the present Government, but a public contractor as well, we most strongly protest against his appointment on a Royal Commission having for its object the application of the probe in the charges preferred against the Prime Minister. Being so pronouncedly in sympathy with the Leader of the Government, the third appointee on the Commission cannot command that confidence which the public would give to an absolutely impartial commission, comprised of, as we pointed out yesterday, Chief Justice Horwood, Mr. Justice Kent and the Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Bond, and most vigorously and strenuously ly should a general protest be made against the third member of the Commission as announced by the Governor. Here is where the "Vox Populi" can make itself heard.

Another matter in connection with the sittings of the Commissioners was voiced by the Governor, wherein he stated that the holdings of the sessions would be at the discretion of the Chief Justice, and that upon his decision would rest whether they be public or private. We have too much faith in Chief Justice Horwood to believe that he desires private sessions in this very public enquiry, and we are sure that the doors of the chamber wherein the sittings of the tribunal are to take place will be thrown open to the public and the representatives of the press in so far as the accommodations of the Commissioners' apartment will permit. There should be none of the methods of the Star Chamber surrounding the investigation, and we trust that the President of the Commission will see the propriety of the views so expressed.

Legislature Opens To-Morrow.

The first session of the twenty-fourth General Assembly of Newfoundland, will be formally opened by His Excellency the Governor in the Legislative Council Chambers at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. The swearing in of the newly elected members and the election of a speaker took place this afternoon.

Curtailing Supplies.

The representative of a local fishery supplying firm, now abroad, has cabled his agents in the city not to advance one cent's worth of supplies to any person on the 1920 codfishery account. These instructions are due to the conditions of the foreign market, and to the enforcement of the present Export Regulations which, while they remain law, will prevent the firm from issuing supplies for the fishery on credit. Other supplying establishments are expected to be governed similarly by existing conditions.

"In Secret Service."

Popular Presentation by the Young-Adams Dramatic and Specialty Co. That thrillingly absorbing drama, the scenes of which were laid in Vladivostok, before the war, when the Russian Government feared England, entitled "In Secret Service," was staged at the Casino Theatre last night by the Young-Adams Company, with Miss Marie Adams starring as Bessie Grey, in the family of General Omeroff (Mr. Geo. C. Denton), the Commander-in-Chief of the Eastern fortress. The motif of the play is very clear. Jealous of their impregnable works, the Russian military officials are ever on the alert to detect spies, and one is found in the person of Miss Grey with whom the officer in charge of Battery No. 3, Captain Ivan Radaloff (Mr. H. Wilnot Young) falls in love. The imprisonment and territorialisation of Miss Grey falls, in a sense, to have the desired effect, and the arrival of a British warship on the scene hastens matters to a conclusion. All the characters ably sustained their roles and Miss Adams once more demonstrated her ability as an emotional actress of high degree. Miss Gladys Butler as Princess Petroskey and Miss Marguerite Young as Baroness Dashoff gave capital portrayals of Russian ladies of the military class, while Mr. Perry Norman, as Colonel Boris, the friend and guardian of Captain Radaloff, excelled himself. The Russian Secret Service was represented by Baron Buelier (Mr. John Gregory), and Mr. Donald Mack played the dual part of Lieut. Barosky and Lieut. Walter Morgan, of H.M.S. Victory with great success. The marriage of Miss Grey and Radaloff was the climax of the play, Mr. John Simonds making a perfect Russian padre. The play will be repeated to-night with the usual vaudeville and music by the C.C.C. band. To-morrow and Thursday nights, R. Louis Stevenson's "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" will be put on the boards.

Hon. W. F. Coaker Receives Delegation.

The delegation appointed, called on Hon. W. F. Coaker, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, at his office this forenoon, and were kindly received. Mr. Crotty outlined the proceedings of the public meeting, after which Mr. Jonas Barter, Secretary of the meeting, presented the resolutions, explaining that it was the intention of the delegation to present them last night, but was prevented by the lateness of the hour. Mr. Coaker, on receiving the resolutions, asked, "Why did you select me?" It was explained to him by Mr. Whittle, that as Leader of the Fishermen's Party he was entitled to courtesy as well as Sir Michael Cashin. "I always understood you were a man of strong opinions," said Mr. Whittle, "and that as President of the Fishermen's Union, you are as much entitled to them as was Sir Michael Cashin, and that being a man of strong opinions, you would do your duty in the premises." Mr. Coaker, replying outlined what had already been done by the Prime Minister, and added that Mr. Gibbs also takes the same position in absolutely denying the allegations. We felt sure that the Opposition immediately upon the opening of the House would ask for a commission of enquiry. A committee of the House would not have the legal experience and that is our reason for asking for a Royal Commission. Also Mr. Squires says there is nothing to be ashamed of and he has no fear of giving evidence under oath. If the allegations prove true, Mr. Squires would be embarrassed. Asked why Squires did not make an affidavit as Woodford did, Mr. Coaker thought that would be beneath the dignity of the Prime Minister. Here Mr. Coaker named the personnel of the Royal Commission, adding that Hon. Mr. Bishop would likely be the representative from the Upper House. The delegation here objected to any one having contracts with the Government being appointed on the commission. Mr. Coaker continuing, said: "We have men in the Government who have strong wills and they will always use their own opinion." Mr. Coaker in reply to another question said, "How could you expect Mr. Squires to make an affidavit when in a few days he will be called before the Royal Commission?" Mr. Coaker continuing, said the Government advised having a Royal Commission appointed and as Prime Minister it was Mr. Squires' place to advise His Excellency the Governor. The delegation was informed that the Government had wired to England and received expert advice to the effect that the English Law does not hold here and that we are under Colonial Law, and that law that the charge is not a criminal one. Mr. Coaker expressed his sympathy with the movement for cleaner political life and said that that was what he always stood for. The delegation thanked Mr. Coaker for his explanations and kind reception and then withdrew.

TO CORRESPONDENTS—Jonah Gibbs—Why holler after the thing is done? It is very unlikely that now those House of Assembly appointments are made, that any change will occur because of letters to the press. Protectors should have been made when they were pending. We agree with your sentiments, but regret that you have made your letter too personal for publication. The amenities of decency must be observed.

Rising Sun Lodge L. O. A. Golden Jubilee

(Hr. Grace Standard.)
The Golden Jubilee of Rising Sun Lodge, No. 1, was fittingly celebrated in the Orange and British Halls on Tuesday night last the 13th inst. This Lodge has a membership of over 200 and is in a flourishing financial condition. The gathering comprised over 300 brethren with their wives and daughters. Addresses were delivered by the W.M., R. Sheppard; P.M., Jordan Sheppard; P.M., John Butt, H.M.C.; P.M., Leonard Sheppard; Bro. John Tapp, and by the Secretary of the Lodge, Bro. Lorenzo Sheppard. After the interesting addresses had been delivered, the party sat down to a bountiful repast, which had been provided by the committee and their wives. This part of the proceedings was thoroughly enjoyed, after which gramophone selections were rendered by Bro. Fraser Penney, songs by Bro. Leonard Sheppard and Bro. Percy Taylor. The event was fittingly concluded by a dance in the British Hall which had been hired for the occasion, and a large number of the young and middle aged members and their parents enjoyed the merry dance for a couple of hours to the excellent music furnished by Mr. James Garland.
The Golden Jubilee of Rising Sun Lodge was a red letter day with the brethren, and will long remain a bright spot in the memory of the Orangemen of Harbor Grace and their wives.—Com.

My author friend (said Mr. Pemberton) was one of the guests at a dinner which the millionaire gave. The host was a free spender, but he wanted full credit for every sovereign expended. And, as the dinner progressed, he told his guests what the more expensive dishes had cost. He dwelt especially on the expense of some large and beautiful grapes, each bunch a foot long. The guests looked annoyed. They ate the expensive grapes charily. But the novelist, smiling, extended his plate, and said: "Would you mind cutting me off about thirty shillings' worth more, please?"

MONSTER MASS MEETING.

The Squires-Gibbs-Woodford Case Freely Discussed.

Resolutions Demand Vice-Regal Action — Demonstration at Government House — Pelting Rain Could Not Dampen Popular Enthusiasm — 1000 Voters in Procession.

Despite the continual downpour of rain some 1,500 citizens representative of the artisan, mechanic and laboring classes of St. John's assembled in the Star Hall last night for the purpose of discussing the situation arising out of the Woodford affidavit, and passing a series of resolutions requesting His Excellency the Governor to take action in the matter. The hall was filled to overflowing and many could not gain admission. Mr. W. J. O'Neill, in opening the meeting, requested the audience to appoint a chairman and secretary. The choice of chairman fell to Mr. John Cadwell, who was proposed by Mr. P. Whittle and seconded by Mr. Duffey. Mr. Jonas Barter was selected as secretary, being proposed by Mr. M. Murphy and seconded by Mr. Quigley. The audience showed their approval of the selection by prolonged clapping and shouts of enthusiasm. Mr. Cadwell, upon taking the chair, thanked the assembly for the honor conferred on him, and in outlining the object of the meeting said, "This is not a political meeting, it is not a sectarian, or a partisan meeting. It was called for the sole purpose of bringing citizens together to take action on the charges made against two of our public men, Hon. R. A. Squires and Hon. M. P. Gibbs. It is not our desire to injure these men. We just wish to ask His Excellency to appoint a commission so that if not guilty of the charges they may be vindicated. The charges made are very serious and it is not desirable that any man so charged should fill an Executive position without giving a satisfactory answer to them. The resolutions will be read to you; they call on His Excellency not to open the Legislature before this serious matter is settled up. Some time ago I was in a position where efforts were being made to clean up the political life of the country and my colleagues were pledged to this, and it is only fair that I should continue my efforts."

The following resolutions were then read by the Secretary:

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas in January a petition was presented to the Supreme Court against the return of Mr. William Woodford as member of the House of Assembly for the Electoral District of Harbor Main, alleging that the said Mr. Woodford had been guilty of corrupt and illegal practices;

And Whereas when the case came up for hearing the Hon. M. P. Gibbs, Counsel for the petitioner, asked that the case be withdrawn;

And Whereas the said Mr. Gibbs was advised by their Lordships that a motion for withdrawal could not be entertained until certain preliminary requirements were complied with, which requirements included the filing of affidavits by all the parties to the petition, and their solicitors, showing whether or not any collusion or agreement existed;

And Whereas the petitioner, Richard Kelly, Mr. Barron, partner of the said Mr. Gibbs, Mr. Kelly's solicitor; Messrs. Howley and Higgins, Solicitors for Mr. Woodford and subsequently Mr. Woodford himself accordingly filed affidavits;

And Whereas Mr. Gibbs filed no affidavit;

And Whereas Mr. Woodford in his affidavit made the statement that he had entered into an arrangement with Hon. Richard A. Squires, Prime Minister of Newfoundland, and Hon. Michael P. Gibbs, a Solicitor of the Court, on March 17th whereby the petition against him was to be withdrawn on certain specific conditions, namely (1) his appointment to a position in the Civil Service after the close of the coming session of the Legislature at an annual salary of $2,000 a year with an additional allowance of $500 in lieu of perquisites, and that the said salary was to commence as from the first day of April of the present year, but that on the 19th day of March, the day following the promised withdrawal, three months' salary was to be paid him in advance, and (2) his resignation as Member for the District of Harbour Main, which latter condition was duly complied with by the said William Woodford;

And Whereas the charges made by the said Mr. William Woodford, recently a member of the Executive Council of this Dominion against the Hon. R. A. Squires, the present Prime Minister, and the Hon. M. P. Gibbs, a former member of the Executive Council, and at the present time a member of the Legislative Council, is so far as the public is concerned uncontradicted and unchallenged, and therefore constitutes a charge against the Prime Minister and a Legislative Councillor of a serious offence against the law, and a transgression against public morals, to the detriment of authority and the violation of rudimentary principles of public order and public honour;

Be It Therefore Resolved by the citizens of St. John's, assembled in response to public notice, that protest be made against the opening of the Legislature under a Prime Minister who stands charged with so serious an offence, until the charge is disproved in as clear and explicit a manner as it has been made, that is to say by solemn affidavit;

Moreover that until the said charges are satisfactorily disproved the said Richard A. Squires is not in the opinion of this meeting of citizens, a fit or proper person to act as a Minister of the Crown, nor the said Michael P. Gibbs a fit or proper person to occupy a non-elective seat on the Legislative Council;

Be It Further Resolved that a deputation from this meeting of citizens be appointed to proceed to Government House and to present a copy of these resolutions to His Excellency the Governor, Sir C. Alexander Harris, and respectfully to request that the terms of the foregoing resolution be carried into effect, thereby avoiding what may otherwise, in the opinion of this meeting and of all law-abiding citizens to whom the honour of His Excellency's advisers constitutes, by its representative character, the honour of the Dominion, bring the Government and citizenship of Newfoundland into disrepute, dishonour and disgrace.

After the resolution had been read, Mr. K. R. Prowse moved that a paragraph be embodied asking that all appointments made by the Government since their assuming office be suspended. The meeting did not approve of the motion, the object being to deal with the Squires-Gibbs case.

Mr. P. J. Shea, is moving the adoption of the resolutions, said that it was only proper that no slur should be cast upon us as a people. On the whole we are very patient, but in this case patience has gone too far; when our representatives are bought and sold like cattle at a public sale, we are justified in the protest we are making. If we can not get men who are honest, well then we will have to try the suffragettes and put them to represent us in the House of Assembly. The adoption of the resolution was seconded by Mr. Burt, and passed by a standing vote amid thunderous applause.

It was also moved and seconded that copies of the resolutions be presented to Sir M. P. Cashin, leader of the Opposition, and Hon. W. F. Coaker, Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

A delegation consisting of J. Cadwell, Jas. P. Crotty, Wm. J. O'Neill, H. Lilly, John Burt, Harvey Shaw, Walter Lawlor, P. Whittle, M. Murphy, John Quigley, J. Vaughan, A. Stone, was appointed to present the resolutions to the Governor, and the motion, that the whole audience should march to the Government House and that the delegation should call on Sir Michael Cashin and Hon. W. F. Coaker was unanimously carried. The Chairman announced that the delegation would leave the Hall at 9 o'clock, call on His Excellency, read the resolutions and state the sentiment of the meeting to him. An amendment to the resolutions, proposed by Mr. K. R. Prowse "That all appointments made since the last election be suspended until the charges made are proved, was objected to by Mr. Shea, who said that it was going too far. The motion of Mr. Prowse received no support. The delegation and some hundreds of the audience walked in all the downpour of rain to the Vice Regal residence. Arriving at the door, the delegation was ushered into His Excellency's presence. Mr. Cadwell upon greeting His Excellency said, "we are a delegation selected by some 1500 citizens of St. John's, to present to you a set of resolutions arising out of charges alleged in a sworn affidavit, made by Mr. Wm. Woodford against the Prime Minister and the Hon. M. P. Gibbs and also to ask you on behalf of these citizens to do your best to bring about a better condition of political affairs than exists at present." Mr. Jonas Barter then read the resolutions, after receiving which His Excellency said "Mr. Barter, Gentlemen, I have thought about this matter this past three weeks and I am quite prepared to deal with it and at once. I endorse the idea of a public meeting calling attention to the allegations made. As regards the idea of purity of public life nobody holds it stronger than I do, Newfoundland has long had responsible Government and its Governor must be guided by the Ministers elected by the people and if I were to make a breach of the constitution nobody would condemn me more than you. I am sorry to say intricacy is too much in evidence in the public life of the Colony. After the best of consideration I am on the point of arranging a Royal Commission consisting of the Chief Justice, Justice Kent and a senior member of the Legislature, who will get at the facts as set forth in your resolutions. In reading the resolution I note you ask me to hold up the session of the Legislature until these charges are disposed of. I don't think it right to do so. Now I ask you, do you consider it fair to hold up the business of the country until such time as these alleged charges are proved or disproved. I may say the Prime Minister has emphatically denied the allegations. As far as I know there is no power that can prevent a duly elected member from taking his seat. It would be necessary to have something very much more serious than these charges before I could do that.

As regards your complaint of the gentlemen not fit to hold a position in the Legislature it is not for the Crown to interfere with the Upper House. It is for the Legislature itself to act. Under the constitution a Governor must not interfere unless he can be assured of other ministers to take the place of any removed from office. It is indeed gentlemen a pleasure to meet citizens who are in favor of purity of public life. I may say further in regard to the affidavit there was a chance that it would go before the courts, but I find it could not be brought about within a reasonable time, and falling this I think the set of charges should be made on the floors of the Assembly. I have consulted with my ministers and a Royal Commission will be appointed immediately."

Mr. Crotty, replying, said, we do not condemn the Prime Minister and Hon. Mr. Gibbs; we but ask for an enquiry into this deplorable state of affairs. There has been, as far as the public is aware, no reply to the Woodford affidavit. We condemn the idea of these men not answering the sworn allegations made against them.

His Excellency here re-read the resolutions, and reiterating his former statements, said also, "in a Crown Colony I might intervene, but under the constitution I must be guided by the advice of my ministers, and could only intervene if sure the charges were true."

Mr. Whittle asked His Excellency if Mr. Squires was at present Crown adviser. His Excellency replied "yes." Mr. Whittle: "I am sure the citizens whom we represent, object to Mr. Squires being an adviser to your Excellency." The Governor replied: "That is what a good many people may think, but being duly elected, and until the charges are proven it is not for me to condemn." Mr. Whittle: "If I were charged with a crime I would not have the privilege of appointing my own judges."

Mr. Crotty called His Excellency's attention to a precedent for the dismissal of a minister. The Governor in reply, admitted that he may dismiss his ministers for certain reasons, but in this case the denial of the allegations has been absolute and if the commission finds the facts are as represented, he will act.

Mr. Barter explained that Messrs. Squires and Gibbs are charged on oath with offences and are in a sense on remand, therefore they should not be allowed to keep their positions.

Mr. O'Neill then asked if it would not be proper to have Messrs. Squires and Gibbs make their denial on oath, before taking their seats. His Excellency in replying, said, "I sympathize with you, but there is a responsibility to the people at large and until I find out the facts I cannot act, and as I said before, the constitution must be guarded particularly, and the enquiry by the commission is the best method I know of. The terms of the enquiry were settled this evening, the Chief Justice presiding, and it is at his discretion whether it will be held publicly or not. The investigation will proceed immediately."

Mr. Cadwell then thanked His Excellency for the splendid reception accorded the delegation which then withdrew.

After cheers for His Majesty and His Excellency, the deputation after briefly explaining the nature of the interview to the many who had waited outside in the storm, proceeded to the residence of Sir M. P. Cashin where all were invited indoors. Mr. Cadwell explained that as Leader of the Opposition, Sir Michael was looked to for action in espousing the cause endorsed by the public meeting and expressed in the resolutions which Secretary Barter then read.

In reply, Sir Michael promised to give due consideration and support to the idea, and approved the democratic stand taken by the citizens, which was worthy of commendation. He promised to bring the resolutions before the Opposition, and hoped the desire of the public would be realized. He thanked Mr. Cadwell and the deputation for the visit, after which they withdrew.

In view of the lateness of the hour and state of the weather, the idea of waiting on Hon. W. F. Coaker, who is also to be presented with a copy of the resolutions, was deferred till this morning.

"Farewell, Farewell."

A MEMORY OF MASTER GEORGE BARTER.

His music-haunted soul was filled
With dreams of a celestial song,
Whose chords oft thrilled our senses when
His fingers swept the keys along:
As if an angel choir had leaned
And whispered in his youthful ear
A strain they wished our souls to know—
A message it were good to hear!

And on our hearts the melody
Like to a holy tide would steal,
Lifting us higher unto Him—
Nearer unto His Throne to kneel.
But vain are mortal hands to waken
The fullness of the spirit strain,
And so that angel choir stooped
And whispered to his soul again.

"Come, where the anthems of the Lord
In rapture swells eternally;
Come, for thy soul is pure to-day,
Come to the Home prepared for thee!"

He heard and sat him down and sang,
He touched the keys in joy once more;
While swelling clear his sweet voice rang:
"Farewell, life's dream will soon be o'er;
Farewell," (fond mother, father dear,
Soon may your tears for him be dried),
"Life's dream will soon be o'er, farewell,
Farewell," he sang, and singing died!

Just for a while life's veil is hung
Between us and Eternity;
Just in a little while we come,
Dear Lord, to join our boy with Thee!

St. John's, April 19th, 1920.

Pastor's Silver Jubilee.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

To the Very Reverend Henry T. Renouf, Rector of St. Patrick's, Archdiocese of St. John's.

The men of St. Patrick's Parish come to-day to offer you their sincere congratulations on the attainment of your Silver Jubilee as a Priest of God.

Twenty-five years at the Altar! What a wealth of meaning is contained in that simple phrase. Twenty-five years offering the Divine Sacrifice, preaching the Gospel, administering the Sacraments, bringing the sick and the dying the consolations of our Holy Religion, spending and being spent in the intimate service of God. What a marvellous retrospect is the spiritual life of a Priest!

The hour in which the Priest offers his first Holy Mass is doubtless beautiful and consoling; but not less beautiful, not the less consoling is this moment when he rounds out the full period of a quarter of a century as a Priest of the Most High.

But these Reverend Father are not your only consolations. From the day, when as a youth of 15 you left your home for the Eternal City, to enter on your ecclesiastical studies, to the present day your life has been active and full of work. We learn that the early years of your priesthood were spent at Hr. Breton where you laboured until failing health, induced by the arduous nature of the missionary work of that Parish, compelled rest and recuperation elsewhere. Subsequently we find you at St. George's and Hr. Grace, where pleasant memories of your kindly priestly qualities are still retained. When you were appointed to the Parish of St. Bride's you found it almost destitute of ecclesiastical buildings. When you left it many splendid churches, schools and a modern Presbytery attested to your administrative and organizing abilities. As Pastor of Trepassay you gave further evidence of your energy in the erection of the High School at that town and churches and schools in other parts of the parish. In both your memory lingers, your fatherly counsel and advice always at the service of your people and your charity and zeal in the cause of God having endeared you to your Parishioners.

Although you have been but a few short years Rector of this Parish it has been long enough for us to fully realize that to you, under the wise guidance of our beloved Archbishop, is due in great measure the decorations and renovations of the interior of our noble Church. New pews of chaste design have given place to the old seats, a new hardwood floor has been laid down, the walls painted and decorated, the organ gallery enlarged, a marble altar, pulpit and sanctuary rail have added beauty to the interior, and the magnificent approach to the main and side entrances has greatly enhanced the exterior appearance of the Church.

In offering you our congratulations on the occasion of your Silver Jubilee permit us also to tender you, not alone the respect and filial affection which every true Catholic has for his Pastor, but also our appreciation of your human qualities of friendliness and good-fellowship for your Parishioners, which you possess in a marked degree, and finally, Reverend Father, to pray that God may pour out his choicest blessings on you, grant you vigorous health, and spare you many years to labour in His service.

Dated at St. Patrick's, in the City of St. John's, Newfoundland, this 31st day of March, Anno Domini One Thousand nine hundred and twenty.

Signed on behalf of the Men Parishioners of St. Patrick's,
JOHN BARRON, Chairman,
JOHN M. SPEARNS, Treasurer,
JOHN J. MURPHY, Secretary.

REPLY.

My Dear Friends:
I thank you most sincerely for your kind congratulations on the attainment of my Silver Jubilee.

Twenty-five years at the altar surely do contain a wealth of meaning, a wealth of recollections, a wealth of consolations, but a burden of responsibility both spiritual and temporal. If I have been able to do something in the different parishes to which I have been sent it is in a great measure due to the loyalty, wholesale co-operation and sterling faith of the Catholic people amongst whom I have had the good fortune to labor. The best part of my priestly life has been spent in the outposts, where faith and loyalty in Church are, as in the Parish of St. Patrick's, the outstanding feature of Catholic life.

I gladly avail myself of this opportunity to thank one and all for their help in carrying out the wishes of His Grace the Archbishop, in the renovation of your Church, also for the many kindnesses received from you since I came to St. Patrick's, and especially now on the occasion of my Silver Jubilee. I pray that God may bless you all and reward you a thousand fold.

H. T. RENOUF.

Coal Shortage Relieved.

Last evening the S.S. Corunna arrived from North Sydney with a cargo of coal. Her arrival has relieved an acute shortage of the necessary, as during the past three days not a "carat" weight of the black diamonds could be bought in the city.

Successful Dance.

The dance held last night in the C.C.C. Hall, under the auspices of the C. E. I. Athletic Association, proved highly successful. A large number attended and greatly enjoyed the pastime to the music of the C.C.C. Band. The committee in charge had excellent arrangements for the convenience of those present.

NOTE OF THANKS.—The C. L. B. Band wish to thank Misses Adams and Taylor for the donation of thirty dollars ($30.00), the net proceeds of a dance held in the British Hall on the 9th instant.—adv.

M. C. L. I. Dinner.

The annual banquet of the M.C.L.I. has become an institution in our city life and is looked forward to by all who are in any way interested in its aims. After another year of service to the young men, who are privileged to rank among its membership, another year of pleasure and of profit the 53rd session was fittingly brought to a close by a rally of some 100 members and their friends, in a social reunion around the festive board. The Presbyterian Hall was chosen for the event, being both central and commodious, and Mr. F. B. Wood in his usual happy style catered in a way to leave nothing to be desired. The tables effectively decorated in the College colours presented a most pleasing spectacle. Owing to some electric wire trouble the executive were for a short time placed in a difficult situation, but their inherent resourcefulness came readily to their aid and in a very few minutes, acetylene gas engine, lamps, candles, etc., were placed in suitable positions and the slight delay in no way interfered with the night enjoyment. The popular and successful president, Mr. C. C. Pratt, acted as host and very heartily welcomed all, especially the guests to the gathering. The splendid toast list following was one continued feast of reason and of wit, fully maintaining the high standard of eloquence and ability of past celebrations. Interspersed between the toasts some excellent items were rendered by Messrs. L. Woods, S. J. Tucker, J. L. Slattery, and F. Gushue, adding greatly to the evening's enjoyment.

The following is the Toast List:—
"The King"—Prop. the Chairman; resp. "God Save the King."
"The Empire"—Prop. Mr. S. P. Whitway; resp. Hon. R. A. Squires, K.C., LL.B.

"Newfoundland"—Prop. Mr. T. F. Beresford; resp. Mr. J. A. W. McNelly.

"The M.C.L.I."—Prop. Rev. Dr. Jones; resp. Mr. William White.
"Education and the Methodist College"—Prop. Mr. J. L. Slattery; resp. Rev. T. B. Darby.

"The Clergy"—Prop. Mr. H. E. Cowan; resp. Rev. Gordon Dickie.

"The Legislature"—Prop. Mr. H. G. Bradley; resp. Mr. W. J. Higgins, M. H.A.

"Our Guests"—Prop. Mr. A. Mews, C.M.G.; resp. Dr. V. P. Burke.
At the breaking up, at an early morning hour, all felt that the dinner this year had proved well worth the effort, cementing together in strong social bonds, not only the membership, but also the very many friends and well wishes of the M.C.L.I.

Proposed Industrial School for the Blind.

YESTERDAY'S MEETING.

A representative meeting of ladies and gentlemen interested in the formation of an Industrial School for the adult blind of Newfoundland was held yesterday afternoon in the Board of Trade rooms. Among those present were Mrs. Squires, wife of the Prime Minister, Mrs. G. M. Barr, Miss Furlong, Miss A. Hayward, Rev. Canon Bolt, Sir Joseph Outerbridge, Hon. W. B. Grieve, Dr. Blackall, Messrs. E. A. Bowring, C. R. Steer, H. E. Cowan and R. Dowden.
Hon. W. B. Grieve, who occupied the chair and briefly outlined the object of the meeting, called upon Mr. John Weir, who fully covered the ground, and greatly enthused the meeting. There are about 250 adult blind in this Colony whose lives are miserable, because they are unable to earn their living. This state of affairs will not be permitted to continue much longer, for it is fully believed that the result of yesterday's meeting. There are about 250 adult will fill the needs. Mr. Weir truly said the matter is very dear to his heart; for seven years he has been working to bring this about, and it would no doubt have taken practical shape before but for the war. The speaker did not wish to paint a gruesome picture, but he cited one or two instances that made his hearers think. Mr. Grieve read for him correspondence with the Government, in which the Hon. Mr. Squires, on behalf of the Government, promised $25,000 for construction work and $10,000 a year for upkeep, providing $50,000 be raised by subscription. At the close of Mr. Weir's address the following resolution, proposed by Mr. Eric Bowring and seconded by Mrs. Squires, was carried unanimously: "That it is the opinion of this meeting that the proposition outlined by Mr. Weir is worthy of support, and this meeting pledges itself to use its best endeavours to give effect to it." Mr. C. R. Steer then proposed and Rev. Canon Bolt seconded this resolution, which was also carried unanimously: "That this meeting resolves itself into a committee with power to add to its members to formulate a plan of campaign to give effect to the object of the meeting and to report upon the return of Mr. Weir to Newfoundland." Mr. Steer was appointed convener. The meeting then adjourned. Mr. Weir leaves for Halifax by the Rosalind, but will return here by that ship next trip, when the question of site, etc., will be decided. The movement was well launched, and as it is one that appeals to all rich and poor, there is no doubt about its success.

College Girls Play Basket Ball.

METHODIST TEAM WINS.

The first girls' inter-collegiate basket ball game, between the Methodist College and Bishop Spencer, which was played in Spencer Hall on Friday, resulted in a victory for the Methodist Girls, by a score of 18 to 15. The teams were evenly matched and the game close from start to finish. Not until the last period did the winners get the lead. An outstanding feature of the game was the combination of the Spencer forwards, and had it not been for the alertness of the Methodist guards the game would have been different. The Spencer guards also broke-up the Methodist's combination, but could not stop their sure shots. Both centres played well. The next match is to be played Wednesday afternoon. The following is the line up:—
Bishop Spencer.—Forwards, E. House, E. Scandrett; centre, S. Chalkers; guards, R. Woods, I. Rendell.
Methodist.—Forwards, M. Fenwick, M. Robertson; centre, M. Lawrence; guards, G. Knight, E. Parkins.
The Methodist spares were R. Roberts, J. Parsons, M. Mews, O. Bishop and E. Martin. Spencer spares were M. Huggings, D. Mews, C. Crane and M. Campbell.

Household Notes.

A high-backed settle with a hinged seat makes an excellent wood-box for the living room.
Fortunate indeed is the housewife who has a special cleaning closet for all her cleaning utensils.
Add one-half cup of chopped almonds when mixing bread croquettes. Serve with peaches.
Try using soft, fresh bread crumbs for breading articles to be fried. The crust will be thinner.
To get the print off meal sacks, etc., smear with lard and lay away for a week before washing and boiling.
Soup meats may be highly seasoned and used for made-over meat dishes, but it is not very nourishing.
Individual puddings may be baked in buttered custard cups. Put a little drained fruit in the bottom of each.
Soap should never be applied directly to paint. Wash with a light suds, and use a scouring powder for any spots.
When making pies bake two or three crusts, to be filled when desired in the next few days. Of course, these have no tops.
Sew a good, clean holder to each end of a long tape, tie the tape around the waist while cooking, and there will be no search for holders.
A novel way to serve creamed asparagus is to take six stale rolls, cut off the tops, remove insides, and crisp in oven. Then fill with hot asparagus, replace tops and serve.

Land Settlement for Ex-Service Men.

The Government is prepared to consider the question of affording to ex-soldiers and ex-soldiers of suitable character, education and adaptation an opportunity of settling on the land.
The training that would be required of men who would like to take advantage of any scheme the Government may propose would be as follows:
(a) Work on a farm under some approved farmer for the Summer and Autumn of 1920.
(b) Every man who during his summer's work had demonstrated his industry and adaptability to agricultural pursuits would be given an agricultural course in some approved agricultural college, experimental farm or similar institution for the winter 1920-1921.
(c) Every man who had completed the winter's course, and during the course had demonstrated his industry and adaptability to agricultural pursuits would be given work on a farm under some approved farmer for the summer of 1921.
(This second summer on a farm might not be required of men who prior to enlistment in Navy or Army had been practical farmers.)
Men who had by their work and conduct during the above courses demonstrated their industry and adaptability to agricultural pursuits and their ability to earn a livelihood for themselves as farmers would be furnished by the Government with a loan of money on easy terms of repayment to enable them to secure small farms with the necessary equipment and stock to start a farming enterprise.
As it is probable that but few men would be able during training to earn sufficient for their own support and the support and maintenance of their dependents, their wages would be supplemented to a reasonable amount, depending upon the circumstances of each case. Dependents would include the wives and children of men married before demobilization.
Until a reliable estimate of the number of men who desire to take up agricultural pursuits under these proposals can be formed, it is impossible to announce details of this agricultural plan.
All ex-soldiers and ex-soldiers who desire to undertake agricultural work this summer intending to pursue agriculture for a livelihood, are requested to make application at once to the Vocational Officer, Militia Building, St. John's, for an application form which must be properly filled in and returned to the Vocational Officer not later than the 30th day of April next.
If any ex-service man has any other proposition for settling on the land that he would like to have considered, he is invited to state it in writing to the Vocational Officer at the earliest date possible, but in any event not later than the 30th day of April next.
This announcement does not necessarily imply that a Land Settlement Scheme will be prepared and announced. The action which will be taken in the matter will depend on the number and nature of the applications.
No man who is physically unable to undertake or is afraid to face the hard work entailed by a training to become a successful farmer need apply.
W. W. BLACKALL,
Vocational Officer.

Does Prohibition Prohibit ?

The Case for the Moderates.

THE INFORMER'S FATE.
(By WARWICK SMITH.)
Article VII.

A certain man had a near relation who had been a "boozer." When the boozer was out of work this man had to support him. After Prohibition came in this man heard that the booz-er was drinking again. He made en-quiries and found that spirits were brought into a certain place where soft drinks were sold and divided amongst those drinking there. He went there himself. While they were drink- ing lemonade another person came in with a bottle of whiskey which he of- fered to sell to the company at cost. This was done, and all chipped in their shilling apiece. But the man who was related to the boozer did not have a shilling on him. A friend paid another shilling for him. He went out and informed the police, with the re- sult that those who bought the whis- key were fined as well as the man who sold it.

Now what happened? Nothing much until some months after when the in- former lost his job. He contended that he had been unjustly treated. He ap- plied for redress to a labour organiza- tion to which he belonged. The usual Committee to hear complaints investi- gated his case. The five largest re- ligious denominations in this country were represented on that Committee, and it included ardent Prohibitionists.

The Committee heard the complaint, asked all kinds of questions and re- served its decision, as usual, until af- ter the complainant had withdrawn from the room. After he had with- drawn a member of the Committee asked the question "well, gentlemen, what are you going to do about it?" There was silence for a moment and one man expressed himself as follows: "Well it looks like a good case, but I do not think it would do the organiza- tion any good if it took up this man's case. Personally I would not like to have my name mixed up with his."

A sigh of relief went round the room, and the Committee broke up without coming to any decision. Not one voice was raised in defence of the man's claim. If it had been any other man, there is no question but that the matter would have been taken up with his employers. It was not, be- cause the Committee knew that if they handled his case the members of the organization would vote them out of office.

How did he come to lose his job in the first place? Well, all I can say is that rumour has it that his employers' goods were being boycotted.

This man butted up against the force of public opinion with the re- sult that he hurt himself. There are certain laws which cannot be enforced, and Prohibition is one of them.

Mainly About People.

Isaac F. Marcossou, a newspaper man of high standing, is an iden- tifiable traveller. Outside of the pole zones there are few places he has not seen. He is now on his way to Belgian Congo, and he will journey through the dark continent to make a personal call on General Smuts.

The Queen of Belgium, on her visit to Washington, took a great liking to Mrs. Marshall, the wife of the vice- president. They were inseparable. It was at a Marshall dinner that the crown prince of Belgium was forced to leave the table because of "sudden illness." He sought recovery with other youths, at St. Mark's Cafe, where he received the dance treat- ment.

Much Interest in American Cup Race.

The problem of the America's Cup is evidently creating much interest among scientific yachtmen, says the London, England Field. We have been asked why the Shamrock IV. is so designed that she will have to concede considerable time allowance to the defender? It is suggested it would seem, if Shamrock IV. is shaped and rigged in such a style, that she must concede much time allow- ance under the American rule, the designer must have been unwise to design her in this form. What is our opinion on this point? It is that no man can say it was unwise to design the challenger in this way. On the contrary, the designer appears to have approached the situation in bold style. In planning his attack the ar- chitect had the option of going to work on conventional lines and giv- ing the owner a moderate "gentle" vessel of similar size to the Ameri- can type, in which case there would be practically no time allowance. Had he adopted this course it would have been a very difficult thing to defeat Herreshoff, especially difficult, we think to beat him in his own waters, which he knows so well. The archi- tect therefore adopts the different—and we may say, the unexpected—form of attack, and produces a ves- sel of great size, power, and weather- liness. What, then, is the chance of success under these conditions? We said in a former article that Sham- rock IV. had "a sporting chance." We repeat this opinion and use no stronger expression because we dis- like the idea of being too sanguine. We do not wish to blow any trumpets. We always get hammered in the America's Cup somehow or other, and we can only hope for the luck to change this Leap Year.

Long experience of racing days racing ways, however, leads us to think well of the "sporting chance" of the big vessel with the long im- mersed side and huge upstanding sail plan. Goodness how such ves- sels do walk along in a breeze of wind! We know them well; directly you haul in the mainsheet and the side goes down, and the gunwale is just awash, they step out to windward in a marvellous manner and the small ships seem nowhere. "Time allowance" seems no use at all to them, and they fade away in the haze almost out of sight astern. So whilst those aboard the Shamrock IV. will naturally be wondering "if she will do it," we can quite picture the Ameri- can gentlemen on their small boat having that uncomfortably feeling. "This enormous vessel is going to sail right away from us." By the way, we know no more uncomfortable feeling in racing; the only thing to be done seems to be to go down below and have lunch! There are many possibilities when the first gun fires for the America's Cup.

That is What's Usually Lost.

The class was very bored. It was a reading lesson and the book was full of big words.

"Archimedes," read Jimmy James, "leapt from his bath shouting 'Eureka! Eureka!'"

The teacher stopped him. "What does 'Eureka' mean?" she asked.

No one knew. "It means," she said, "I have found it!" Now what had Archimedes found?

After a long moment Jimmy ven- tured hopefully: "Please, miss, the soap."

Knighted at Bedside.

The King's action in dispensing with the investiture ceremony in the case of Captain Harry Vesey Brooke, upon whom he has conferred the Order of Knight Commander of the Order of the British Empire (Civil Divi- sion), is illustrative of His Majesty's solicitude and close attention to de- tail.

Captain Brooke should have attend- ed at Court for investiture, but had contracted a chill. Hearing of this, the King the same day deputed Brigadier-General Sir Douglas Daw- son to visit Captain Brooke at his residence in Knightsbridge, and pres- ent him with the insignia, together with a royal warrant dispensing with the usual ceremony.

"Northern Light" Illuminates.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—Please allow me space in your columns for the following letter. Seeing that the House of Assembly will have been opened for the despatches of business about the time this letter reaches you, and seeing that the Moderate Prohibition Committee of St. John's intend to present to the moderate minded members of the Assembly, a petition, praying for an amendment to the present Iniquitous Prohibition Law (if there be any law at all), I beg to record myself as one of those, and also one of about eighty per cent. of this Dominion who wish to "ring out the false, ring in the true."

I hope, however, Mr. Editor, that the Moderate Prohibition Committee of St. John's will make some effort to frame up their resolutions in such a form that the outport men will be protected and placed on an equality with the St. John's man in obtaining spirituous liquor.
Under the present law as it is carried out, the St. John's man can obtain a script from a doctor and in twenty minutes he can secure a quantity of spirits, while the outport man may wait for the spirits to arrive from St. John's, and when it does arrive he pays the express charges, and takes his supposed medicine to his dying wife or child, what you think is fine, the bottle to contain Sir? Nothing but a bottle of poison, and in some cases the empty bottle, and the liquor having been drunk in transit.

I appeal to the Hon. Members of the Assembly, and ask them if this is equitable treatment, and beg to solicit their broad minded support in receding this unfair and one sided law, which appears to have been made to suit the people of St. John's alone, while the outport population, which in reality is seven times greater in number, is completely ignored.

We of the outports want all the advantages claimed by the Moderate Prohibition Committee, and in addition we demand that a sufficient quantity of spirits be placed in every Bond Store in the Dominion, where it can be obtained in case of illness, as quickly as it can be obtained by the citizens of St. John's.

The few fanatic temperance advocates of St. John's appear to be greatly exercised and terrified over a few cases of Sherriff's Essence, boot black and Tanlac, but let me inform these ladies and gentlemen, narrow minded gentlemen who represent not more than 20 per cent. of the Dominion's population that these are not the true evils to temperance, and the morals of our future generation.

If there be any truth in the biblical language, (and I believe there is) that "the fathers have eaten sour grapes and the children's teeth are set on edge." I would advise these extreme temperance people to dig deeper into this great Prohibition question, if they believe in the principle of the boy being the father of the man, and if they wish and hope that our rising generation will possess a particle of mental and physical constitution.
Is it not information to these people to know that it is alleged on the best authority that within a radius of thirty miles of where I am writing this, three thousand stills are in operation, and as soon as this poison drips from the still, it is sampled by the father and tasted by his child. What an educator Mr. Editor.

Only a few days ago I was informed by one who was present at a friends house and saw a little girl of about twelve years of age enter the home; and when questioned by the mother as to where she had been, she replied, "I was over to Uncle John's watching him making moonshine." I can tell you many such stories. One I think is sufficient to show the groove in which the child is being moulded and educated, and what applies to one family, applies to the three thousand I speak of, and probably ten thousand throughout the whole Dominion.

I have also reliable information that fishing vessels going to the Labrador last year took an extra supply of molasses to make moonshine. Some months ago I saw in a leading English paper that a great shortage of whiskey was likely to ensue because of the fact that the Government had enacted a law, by which whiskey should not be sold without having two years to mature.

This ruling was no doubt given from a medical standpoint. What then can be said of the men who drink moonshine, which is made of molasses, yeast cakes, raisins, potatoes, and who can tell what other substitutes, and get drunk on it two hours after it is made.

The only effectual way I see in coping with the "still" and the manufacture of moonshine in half the homes of the Dominion in ten years hence, is to place all importations of molasses in the hands of a Controller. To allow spirits to be imported free of duty and sold at the cheapest possible price, but still under a modified Prohibition Law, giving every legal voter one bottle of spirits per week if he wished to purchase it.

If this law was adopted, and men could get good spirits at as cheap a rate as they can make moonshine, they would refuse the evil and choose the good, and very much smuggling, lying, stealing, hypocrisy, poisoning and worse than all, a sullen, dormant religious feeling, that one body (and a minority) is attempting to pour its moonshine down the throats of two others, who in both instances feel that they can take a glass of whiskey and yet be true to their respective churches and true to their God.

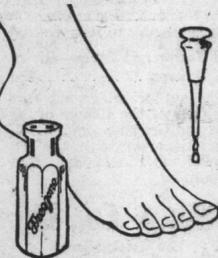

Yours truly,

NORTHERN LIGHT.

Down North, April 10, 1920.
(We depart a little from the rule announced some time ago with regard to anonymous correspondents on the Prohibition question, and give Northern Light space for his letter, as doubtless he has not yet seen our announcement.—Ed.)

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic! No humbug! A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.
Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

WORK.

There's never a goal worth the getting but what you must work to attain. You must suffer and bleed for it, cling to your creed for it, Fall, and go at it again.

Success is no whim of the moment, no crown for the indolent brow. You must battle and try for it, offer to die for it, Lose it, yet win it somehow.

The pathway to glory is rugged, and many the heartaches you'll know, He who seeks to be master must rise from disaster, Must take as he giveth the blow.

There's no royal highway to splendor, no short cut to fortune or fame, You must fearlessly fight for it, dare to be right for it, Falling, yet playing the game.

The test of man's merit is trouble, the proof of his worth is distress, Much as you long for it, man must be strong for it, Work is the door to success.

General Leonard Wood candidate for president of the United States, was born in Winchester, N.H., in 1869. His first 10 years of life were spent on Cape Cod, where his father, Charles Wood, was a doctor. He graduated from the Harvard Medical School and trained at Boston City Hospital. He was an army surgeon in Arizona in 1885. He commanded Col Roosevelt's Rough Riders. He commanded in the Philippines during 1906-1906.

"I Doubt It No Longer," States Halifax Resident

Thought Nothing Could Aid Him But Has Gained Eighteen Pounds On Tanlac.

"To be quite frank, I didn't have much faith in Tanlac when I started on it, but now after giving it a fair trial, I don't know how to say enough in its favour," said Thomas I. Lively, of Gaston Road, Dartmouth, Nova Scotia, when speaking to the Tanlac representative at Kinley's drug store in Halifax, recently.

"Ever since I was a boy I have had a weak stomach and suffered from indigestion, and of late years it had got much worse. My food always used to turn sour, bloat me up with gas so that I could hardly keep at my work. I was always badly constipated, had dull heavy headaches almost every day, and spells of dizziness. When I lay down at night the gas that formed on my stomach would seem to press up into my throat and almost choke me; many a night I have had to walk the floor for hours in my effort to get relief, and some times would not get a wink of sleep all night. I went down in weight from a hundred and eighty-five pounds to a hundred and fifty-five, and got so weak that I would actually stagger and almost fall down at times. I was often off work for a week or two at a time, and about two years ago I was so bad that I had to knock off work for six months. For twenty-four years I have been trying to find something to relieve this indigestion, but nothing seemed to help me until I tried Tanlac.

"As I've said, I didn't have much faith in it when I started, and even when I had finished the first bottle, I was thinking that it was no better than all the other medicines I had tried. But I kept on taking it, and I am mighty glad that I did, for it has made a new man of me. I have a fine appetite, can eat anything, and my indigestion and stomach trouble seem entirely gone. All signs of sourness, gas or cramping pains have disappeared. I am no longer constipated, and the headaches are a thing of the past. I sleep like a top now, and each morning get up feeling like a man refreshed. I have only been taking Tanlac for five weeks, but I have gained eighteen pounds in weight already, and haven't enjoyed such a healthy life for years past. I'm on dock for duty every day now, and my work is a pleasure instead of torture. I don't hesitate to recommend Tanlac as the best of all medicines for indigestion.

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors, and by the leading Druggist in every town.—adv.

The Dublin Outbreak.

On April 20 and 21, 1916, an attempt to land arms and ammunition in Ireland was made by a disguised German auxiliary vessel, which H.M.S. Bluebell ordered to go into Queenstown for search. The vessel, however, suddenly flew the German flag, the crew put off in two boats and the ship foundered. The men were captured near Tralee. Later on a small boat was seen to capsize in the surf and Sir Robert Casement, who had evidently landed from it, was taken prisoner in an old fort. On April 24 the storm burst in Dublin, the Castle being seized by rebels, as well as the General Post Office, the Four Courts, the College of Surgeons, the Workhouse and Jacob's Factory. Stephen's Green was held by the rebels and all communication with England was temporarily cut off by the Post Office occupants. Trams were torn up and the city put in darkness, railway bridges destroyed and rails cut. On the Wednesday the Admiralty steamer, "Helga," came up the Liffey and bombarded Liberty Hall, the headquarters of the outbreak. The Sinn Feiners, as the rebels called themselves, made their escape when the shells reached their climax on Thursday and Friday, when artillery was brought into play at every point and the bombardment continued unceasingly, the city being illuminated with great configurations. On Saturday, the 28th, the rebels surrendered unconditionally to General Lowe, two-thirds of their "army" having been killed, wounded or taken prisoners. Fourteen of the leaders were shot, four sentenced to penal servitude for life, twenty-one for ten years, while forty-one received shorter sentences. Up to May 9 the military losses were 124 killed and 500 wounded, 130 civilians were killed and 794 wounded, these lists being added to almost daily as men and

There is an attraction in the simple youthful lines that can hardly be expressed. "Simply delightful," many mothers have said—and they are, in every detail. Material is of quality that you'll approve; colour in design is typical girlish, and there is a quaintness in the style and trimming effect which is altogether irresistible.

And yet, though so pretty, the designers have not forgotten to make them practical, and herein lies their greatest attraction. Mothers of girls should most certainly see this splendid showing.

Shot as a Spy.

BEAUTIFUL WOMAN'S FATE.
Ira von Perny, the leader of the Budapest ballet, has, according to news received in London, paid a tragic penalty for her beauty.

Mlle. Perny, acknowledged to be the most beautiful woman in Budapest, long resisted all overtures for her hand. Shortly after the departure of the Roumanians from Budapest, after a stay of several months, she was reported "missing."

It was rumored that a high officer on the staff of General Maderescu had been fortunate enough to capture the heart of the capricious dancer. A short paragraph in a Roumanian newspaper the other day announced her death for spying against Roumanians.

Mlle. Perny had apparently excited the envy and hatred of the Roumanian women, for from a letter she wrote to a friend before her death she declared she was the victim of a hideous plot, and that incriminating documents had been placed in her baggage, which formed so powerful an indictment against her that even her friendship with General Maderescu's staff officer availed her nothing.

General resentment against the Roumanians is felt in Budapest, as Mlle. Perny was a universal favourite.

Two cups of shrimps mixed with 1 cup of milk, 1 cup of bread crumbs, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon of fat and 1 teaspoon of salt and baked in a greased baking dish, make a good shrimp loaf.

The Real Discoverer of Wireless.

We have the opinions of experts of all nationalities on the great discovery of wireless telegraphy, but few of them have informed the world of science that such telegraphy was practised by a Scotsman before Marconi was born. That man was James Bowman Lindsay, who was born at Carmyllie on April 20, 1799. Not only did Lindsay suggest, but he also carried out successful experiments in proof of his theories. All his life he had to deny himself to the utmost limits in order to purchase materials for his experiments. All the habitation he had consisted of one room, and that solitary room was illumined by electric light of his own installation—in the year 1835. It is difficult to realise that so long ago there was a room in Scotland so lighted. In that room Lindsay wrote several of his works, and there was compiled a portion of his marvellous dictionary, in fifty different languages, which, in his own handwriting, is to be seen to this day in a glass case in Dundee Museum. In 1845 he suggested the possibility of extending the electric telegraph to America, and in 1853 he maintained that it was possible to establish electrical communication through water without wires. In 1854 he patented his invention, and conducted experiments in London and Portsmouth, where he successfully telegraphed without wires across a stretch of water 500 yds. wide. In 1859, he telegraphed in this manner across the River Tay at Glencair, where it is about half-a-mile wide; and also read a paper on the subject before the British Association at Aberdeen. In the presence of the members Lindsay conducted experiments at the Aberdeen Docks, where he proved conclusively the correctness of his theories. This poor Scotsman prophesied eighty-two years ago that: "Houses and towns will in a short time be lighted by electricity instead of gas, and heated by it instead of by coals, and machinery will be wrought by it instead of steam, all at a trifling expense." After repeating his experiments across a two-mile stretch of the Tay, between Dundee and Woodhaven, it was thought that something would result from the achievements. But nothing was done to give them a practical bearing.

Arthur Beverly Baxter, the young Canadian journalist, who wrote "The Blower of Bubbles," a book that set all Canada a-talking, has been called to London to assume a prominent editorial position with one of the large London dailies controlled by Lord Beaverbrook.
