M. for engrossing and presentation is a procedural motion which is not debatable, 1826
- Bills
Amending a statute, discussion should be on the amending bill not on the statute, 1477
Amendment to second reading to indicate disagreement with principle of bill, 2049
Containing taxation sections, referring to ways and means committee, point of order should have been raised at the time the motion was made . . . for the house to go into committee of the whole, 821
Passing reference (to another statute) should be permitted so long as there is no debate or discussion on that particular legislation. . . Reference to should be as brief as possible, 1282
Resolution, motion for introduction of, explanation on can only be made with unanimous consent of the house, 1922
Second reading, amendment to (is) foreign to present bill and does not satisfy the requirement of relevancy, and therefore is out of order, 2061-63
- Committee
Amendment to motion for appointment of cannot stand "because it does widen the terms of the original resolution," 672-73
Special, has no power to consider matters other than those set forth in the motion setting up the committee . . . there is a standing committee to which this matter could be referred, 539

Bill, general discussion on instead of discussion of principle, 1479

Member may reply on point mentioned by another member, as briefly as possible, 2278, 2297

Members, giving as wide a latitude in discussion as members who have already spoken, 2379

Labour Progressive party pamphlet attacking government, 476, 509

Language

It would be more in keeping with the traditions of the highest court in the land if we tried to express ourselves in a manner which we could all read with pride in the future, 2213

Unparliamentary

"Dishonesty," 2158

"Double talk," 2298

"Fascist," 2212

Must necessarily be withdrawn, 2269

"Rotten injustices," 2156

Letter read in the House, sufficient to identify its source and it need not be tabled, 2209-10

Letters emanating from people outside the house referring to the proceedings in the house at the present time should not be read, 2424, 2427

Member/Members

Asked not to converse in the chamber, 2383

Asked to co-operate in obeying rule against the reading of speeches, 154

Cannot accuse another hon. member of knowingly uttering an untruth, 2156

Closing debate with the unanimous consent of the house, 314

Giving as wide a latitude in discussion as members who have already spoken, 2379

May reply on point mentioned by another member, as briefly as possible, 2278, 2297

Must accept hon. member's word, 2157

Must take word of another member that there is no collusion between parties regarding question now before the house, 2296-97

Speaker—Con.Rulings and statements—*Con.*Member/Members—Con.

Not in order for hon. member to read from a newspaper or a document published outside the house and reflecting on the proceedings in the house, 2242

Motion/Motions

Amendment to, debate on may refer to main motion, 2302

Considerable latitude allowed on calling of since no opportunity has been given this session to raise grievances, 1984

For appointment of committees of supply and ways and means, not debatable, 1828

Is not wholly inoperative . . . (and is allowed) to stand, 2307

Made without notice respecting the time of sitting is in order, 2257-58

May be made that any member who has risen "be now heard," 2280

Relating to business of the house and for the discussion of reports from committees are allowed on routine proceedings, 1712

Speaker—Con.Rulings and statements—Con.

Motions to adjourn house under S.O. 31 (As) there will be an early opportunity, without interfering with the regular rules of the house, to discuss the subject matter... the matter cannot be considered now, 346

It purports to deal with a matter which is before the board of transport commissioners, . . . it is sub judice and under our rules could not be debated, 662

Matter, though extremely important, is not one of urgency within the rules of the house, in view of the fact that an early opportunity will be given to members to discuss the question raised, 431

Matter, though extremely important, is not one which comes within the rule of urgency. There will . . . be . . . an opportunity to speak on the main amendment and on the motion for an address in reply, 430

Not in accordance with the rules of the house to put motion at this time because the debate on the speech from the throne is still in progress, 1039-40

Two motions permitted at one sitting, in no way to be taken as a precedent, 429-30

Newspaper dispatches and telegrams, referring to when asking questions is contrary to rules of the House, 154
