WRIGHT AND KING DEBATE LABOR ISSUES

Immense Crowd at Berlin Hear a Unique Discussion on Practice v. Theory in Govt. Labor Bureau.

BERLIN, Oct. 21.—(Special).—Five thousand people flocked to the auditorium, a roller rink, to-night, and rival political parties cheered themselves hoarse for nearly three hours and a half.

The occasion was a debate between W. L. M. King, ex-deputy minister of labor, and A. W. Wright of Toronto, on the political issues in relation to organized labor.

The meeting was called for the opera house but that building filled up in five minutes, leaving 3000 people or more yelling in the street, and at 8 o'clock the rink was secured and the crowd turned in there.

The cheering was frequent and tumultuous. The entrance of the former member, Joseph Seagram, about 11 o'clock, was the occasion for a remarkable ovation for that gentleman, and it looked for a time as if the rival sides would put an end to the speaking.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the crowd began to gather in the street. The King partisans got there first and immediately approached the opera house and when the doors were thrown open at 7 o'clock the mob surged in, filling the house, which with only 600 aisles, wings and all, while people were harangued in the street by a socialist.

The first test of strength came soon after the audience found their seats. "Three cheers for the King," bawled an enthusiast, and the front benches answered with vigor. "Three cheers for Reid," demanded a Conservative booster, and the noise that answered made the King cheerers sound feeble. It was admitted that Reid had the meeting by two to one.

Berlin Town gave Seagram 251 majority in 1904 and at the provincial election Dr. Lauder, Conservative, had 545 majority. Conservatives say they will give Reid 400 in the town. The crowd became so dense outside that at 8 o'clock it was decided to change the place to the rink, and in 15 minutes between 400 and 5000 people gathered there.

C. C. Hahn, president of the Trades and Labor Council, had charge of the meeting. He asked for a fair hearing for both sides. He announced that Mr. Wright would speak for one hour and a half, Mr. King to follow for an hour and a half, and Mr. Wright to have ten minutes to close.

Mr. Wright was received with a great outburst of cheering, mingled with some hisses. He began by making an explanation. He had issued a challenge to Mr. King that did not mean there was any personal antagonism. Also, a Berlin paper had referred to him one time position as Conservative organizer and he wanted to say that he had never been guilty of any improper conduct in the political field.

Mr. Wright proposed to discuss the political questions from the standpoint of the labor man. Mr. King claimed that the Liberal party had done great things for labor, but in Mr. Wright's opinion what that party had done was fanciful and what the Conservative party had done was real and tangible. The National Policy was one of these things.

"Unless it is possible for the employer to pay wages you can't get good wages," said Mr. Wright. Workmen of Waterloo would agree with him in saying that the woollen industry had failed because of withdrawal of protection. Mr. Wright's next point was that Conservatives had protected the workingman in their right to organize. The Liberals found the government printing office at Ottawa a union shop and had made it an open shop.

Holding up his pamphlet entitled "What the Laurier Government has done for Labor," he asked if Mr. King wrote it. If he did, he was writing a campaign while in the pay of the people of Canada. If not, then someone was writing Mr. King's speeches, for the King speech at Waterloo was similar to other wording of the pamphlet.

Government Wanted Wright. Mr. Wright quoted from his own report on the sweating system and observed that in this report he had advised that the labor department be organized and was offered by the government the position of head of that department, but he did not accept. Mr. Wright claimed that the effect of King's Waterloo speech was that he (Wright) was not honest or competent, yet he held in his hand a private letter which he would show to the chairman and Mr. King.

Mr. King refused to look at the letter and when the hubbub ceased he said, "I don't think I should be placed in the position of having to read a document which cannot be placed before the meeting."

"Then," said Mr. Wright, "this letter comes to me from the government of the day. It is an offer of a position under the government, and it is not two months old, to work for the government among the working people and offering me $10 a night and expenses."

Mr. King, therefore, was in the position of having to say that the government offered this offer of a position to a competent and dishonest man.

Mr. Wright discussed the condition of laboring men on the G. T. P. and charged that the labor department permitted the contractors to flood the country with cheap labor.

Where the Liberals Act Failed. The G. T. P. R. strike was discussed. On April 25 The Toronto World had

Lord Milner Now Visiting In Toronto

Lord Milner is honored by Varsity. Distinguished Imperialist Granted Honorary Degree—Finds Canada a Splendid Country, He Says.

Viscount Milner, who arrived in Toronto for the first time yesterday—except for an hour at the station while enroute to the west—is so well known a figure in Imperial circles, and has been so notable among the proconsuls of the empire of the present generation, that it is fortunate the university conceived the idea of honoring the distinguished guest who would otherwise would have been passed over without public recognition by the citizens.

Lord Milner was entertained to dinner last night by E. B. Osler and the guests were of that heavy ordnance character in the financial world appropriate to such a capitalistic occasion.

Lord Milner in an interview yesterday disclaimed the possession of surplus capital to invest in Canada, but he did not mention that he had already put a considerable ward into the Alexandra Palace on Queen's-avenue.

Lord Milner personally represents the fusion of races, having German blood in his British veins, and perhaps being none the less an imperialist on that account. As a journalist, a profession in which he was trained under the redoubtable and almost infallible W. T. Stead, Lord Milner has the habit of looking into things for himself and forming his own views, and incidentally of course, those of other people. It is probably the reason that he has been so long contracted as a newspaper man that brought him to Canada. He would admit no other object yesterday, at all events.

It was with no prepossessions, in his favor that The World man went to see the African war lord, but this hon could not see him as gentle as any such thing as a dove, and it is the little group who met him went away charmed and delighted with his pleasant address, his amusing conversation, and his very sane manner.

A Glance at the Man. Lord Milner in appearance is a composite. It is not to be the fashion of years ago to make a portrait by using the negatives of several photographs superimposed one on the other. The resultant produced a type of more or less striking quality. The face impresses one as such a composite, but of a type decidedly more than less striking. It is a very strong countenance, an indomitable, a powerful nose, brows where the iron hue of resolution gives place to nothing but the most intense of depth and strength and force. This crowning a body of more than average physique and perfect proportions.

In this composite face perhaps the first resemblance one catches is to David Livingstone. The doctor and the explorer, the statesman and the modern scientist, are crudely, the merchant, the soldier, the editor, the scholar of the new commercial type, and even the musical composer. A group of faces could be chosen from these classes, and the resultant would approximate Lord Milner.

The infinite possibilities of such a man of genius enthroned in a powerful station, inspired with the ambitious consciousness of responsibility, and graced at his command by the demagogues, suggested by the idea of composite character such a picture of Lord Milner would be a masterpiece.

His Impressions. He had no general impressions of Canada to offer for publication yesterday. "I am reserving my opinions for people who know less about Canada than myself," he remarked laconically in response to a question. "And that does not mean that I am going to deliver a series of lectures on Canada."

He did not lose the humorous vein that he did not lose sight of for long throughout the interview. It is served as an impenetrable armor against those who wished to pierce to the political heart of the peer.

One might think he had never heard of the suggestion that lines of communication and community of interest with the American continent ran north and south, and he had no suggestions to make about strengthening the eastern and western ties. The strait trade, he observed, must flow east and west, since the United States supplied themselves and the bears did not want grain at the North Pole. Goldwin Smith wrote to The Manchester Guardian recently on this topic. Lord Milner said that they differed on this point.

He and I probably represent opposite poles of opinion, and he would be continued on Page 2.

IS SHAM FIGHT OFF?

Rumor Says It Is, But No Word Has Come From Ottawa Yet.

There is a good deal of uncertainty in the air as to whether the usual Thanksgiving Day "sham fight" will be held this year. The latest report is that there will be no tactical maneuvers, but Lt.-Col. Galloway, D.A.A.G., has received no intimation to this effect from Ottawa headquarters as yet, and military men still hope that the event will take place.

At the Q. O. R. parade last night officers stated that they had received no fresh information on the subject.

Clifford Sifton and D. C. Cameron. There were many interruptions and a strong police force ejected scores of the more noisy.

NO CHARGES WERE MADE SAYS CANDIDATE SHAW

Replies to Chatham Citizen's Demand for Retraction of Statements Against Foster.

John Piggett, a Liberal and president of the Windsor, Essex and Lake Shore Ry., and senior member of the firm which supplied all the lumber for the construction of the W. E. and L. S. Railway, says: "W. H. Shaw's statement at Toronto is a pure libel. There is not a word of truth in it. He has no letter from the firm which supplied the Windsor, Essex and Lake Shore Railway with the lumber for construction, saying that Mr. Foster received a commission for promoting a deal in stocks and bonds for this railway with I. O. F. funds. His statement to this effect, made at the nominations in Toronto yesterday, is absolutely false, and have telegraphed Mr. Shaw requesting him to give the name of the man who made up the letter, and the charges, mandating that he withdraw his statement against Mr. Foster, as publicly made."

"I asked Mr. Shaw sent the following letter to Mr. Piggett at Chatham: "Dear Sir,—I duly received your telegram of this date. You have been decidedly misinformed regarding the proceedings at the North Toronto nomination meeting. I made no charges or statements such as you indicate in your telegram. I asked Mr. Foster two questions, and his answers to both were quite satisfactory to me, and as far as I am concerned, the matter rests there."

"I asked Mr. Foster, 'Is it true or not that you received a cheque for 25 cents an acre on the Swan River land deal?' To this Mr. Foster replied 'Yes.' 'I then asked him, 'Did you receive any commission in connection with a stock deal in relation to the W. E. and L. S. Railway?' Mr. Foster replied 'Not a cent.' This answer I accepted. 'Please note no charge was made. If the Conservatives wish to make political capital out of Mr. Foster's answers to the two questions, as above, I have no objection. His reply to the question 'Is the Essex Railroad settled the matter?' His reply to the question 'Is the Swan River land deal still in the hands of the people to be settled by them on the 26th.' 'With sincere regards, I remain, yours very truly.'"

A Banner From the Princess of Wales to the University of Toronto.

At the University convocation yesterday, when honorary degrees were conferred upon Viscount Milner and Earl Roberts (the latter in absentia), the following letter was read: Government House, Ottawa, 20th October, 1908.

My Dear Lieutenant-Governor: It is my privilege to be allowed to forward to you, by command of the Princess of Wales, a banner, for presentation to the University of Toronto.

The Princess of Wales hopes that the students of the University of Toronto will welcome this banner as an abiding proof of her interest in their well-being. On one side of the banner is the original flag of England, the time-honored emblem of St. George, suggesting at once the chivalry of the Crusades, the charity of the ambulance, and the self-sacrifice of the Cross.

On the other side is a beautifully-embroidered picture, suggesting the duty and dignity of reverence and service. King Edward III. is here represented on the battlefield of Crecy, pointing to his son, the Black Prince, the flag of the dead King of Bohemia.

ASQUITH CAN'T PROMISE LEGISLATION FOR RELIEF

But the Army Can Enroll 24,000 Men for Winter Training in the Reserves.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The very serious matter of the unemployed in England came up for discussion in the house of commons this afternoon, but a larger dose of money than last year and the expediting of the naval shipbuilding program were the only expedients proposed by Premier Asquith in his unfolding of the government's plan to meet the situation.

The gravity of the case arising from the fact that hundreds of thousands are on the verge of starvation thru lack of work, was fully recognized by the premier, but he said he could not undertake, in the legislative field, to grapple with the permanent causes thereof until the next session.

The government, he said, was prepared to provide a fund of $1,500,000 to help the unemployed and the admiralty was giving out orders for the construction of nine torpedo boat destroyers and five unarmored cruisers, to cost a total of $2,500,000, two months earlier than originally had been intended.

The premier made also a bid for recruits, saying that the war office was ready to take on 24,000 men for winter training in the special reserves. These proposals quite fail to meet the demands of the Labor members of the house.

HOW BIG GUILD FROZE OUT A FIRM

Toronto Man Tells of the Short Career of Company Which Couldn't Get in the "Circle."

To the relief of all concerned in the Dominion Grocers' Guild combine case, now being heard by Chief Justice Falconbridge at the city hall, the reading of letters has been concluded and the crown has commenced on its long list of witnesses.

The first of these was called late yesterday afternoon in the person of W. W. Clancy, a retail grocer of West Bloor-street, and his evidence was to show that, refused admission by the guild, his wholesale business had to be discontinued.

E. F. B. Johnston, for the defence, somewhat modified the effect of it in his cross-examination.

Secretary J. S. Cook of the guild was also placed on the stand, but his evidence was more to clear up the information and impressions conveyed by the reams of correspondence which have been read since the hearing was commenced. His evidence went to show that when a guild member kicked over the traces all the guild could do was to threaten to erase his name from the long list of those in the benefit fund, and, according to him, nobody was really struck off the list.

James Lumbers, front-street wholesaler, was the first man mentioned in the letters read in the morning. He had sold 750 barrels of St. Lawrence granulated sugar to A. H. Canning, Davidson & Hay, grocers, had been asked to look into the case, and his reply was read. It said that Lumbers said he had charged the full price.

"Now," it said, "how are we going to 'yould up a case like this, when a firm or firm is willing to supply the illegitimate opposition with the ammunition to blow their brains out?'"

Next in line were various communications in connection with the Hudson Bay Territory, and letters regarding Tuckett's of Hamilton.

Secretary Cook, when examined by E. F. B. Johnston, said there was no list of men which the guild could compel. The provincial committee was a sub-committee for the provinces, and Mr. Cook, their duties were to place the advantages of things before the trade. They had nothing to do with the fixing of freight rates, as he has been known to get Sir William Macdonald of Montreal to establish uniform prices on his tobacco, and letters regarding Tuckett's of Hamilton.

To facilitate matters Mr. Cook went on the stand to be examined by Mr. Washington.

"Why was Beddingfield, Ottawa, not allowed into the guild?" "He sold baled hay as well as groceries and was in the retail trade as well as the wholesale. They refused him in the next year, 1904," was the reply. Mr. Cook said that Turcott, a wholesaler, had had his sugar rebate cut off to a probable extent of 2000, but he knew of no penalties imposed by the Dominion Guild. Any individual could enforce the rebate agreement as well as the price agreement. No doubt fines were imposed, but he did not know what became of them. There was one instance cited in which Tuckett of Hamilton had refused to discipline the Hudson Bay Territory, as he has been known to get Sir William Macdonald of Montreal to establish uniform prices on his tobacco, and letters regarding Tuckett's of Hamilton.

Mr. Cook knew of no wholesaler who had been put out of the guild. He also never knew of fines imposed by the guild, but would have known of that if it had been done. He admitted to pay 40¢ expense of a man sent down to examine books as to a violation of an agreement. "None of this money went to the guild."

"Do you know in what quantities the refiner sells sugar?" "I don't know. I don't think they ever sold any less than that. The refiner would then distribute this to the retailers in small lots."

Continued From Page 1. The last man to expect me to endorse his views. I think he would be very much disappointed if I were to do so.

He admitted that the question would play a great part in the next British election.

With respect to South African confederation, he said that humanly speaking he would not bring it off, in some form or other.

It is very desirable to have surplus British capital invested in the colonies, he said, and when asked if it were true that he thought of giving practical expression to this view, he said he would not undertake to say.

He did not see the object of his having had a hearty invitation from Hon. Frank Cochrane. His engagements were so numerous that he could not visit.

ENGLISH LADY ADMIRER. Saw Slater Shoe in Paris and Must Have Them. The visits of Canadians to England, and of Englishmen who visit Canada, has helped to give the sale of Slater shoes in Great Britain a certain impetus. As the English style in black kid the Slater shoe has the style of the Parisian shoe and the sterling quality of the British make. Slater's like these are a daily incident in the mail received by the Slater Shoe Company: Highmore, Blackwood, Mon., Eng.

"I saw some of your shoes at the Franco-British Exhibition. Could you send me a pair? I want a pair of shoes, Belle of Newport style, in black kid, all kid or with patent toe-cap, four eyelets, size 4, worth $5. I will get all my boots from you if they fit and suit. How shall I forward the money, either by postal order or cheque on the London and Provincial Bank?" "Mrs. Helen M. Hepburn."

The Helstaman & Co. Miniature Grand. Probably around the miniature grand piano of ye old firm of Helstaman & Co., Limited, 115-117 King-street west, Toronto, there centres to-day more interest than gathers around any other piano. This is the piano that was used by the Prince of Wales in his private apartments at Quebec tercentenary week. What gives it supremacy over other pianos is the volume and melodic richness of tone that becomes possible in a piano that measures only five feet four inches in length and four feet eight inches in width. An exhibit of these pianos is being made at the firm's warehouses this week.

Advertisement for Graustark, featuring the text: "Graustark," George Barr McCutcheon's fascinating story of romance and court intrigue, has been made into a powerful five-act drama, and successfully produced in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and other cities. The play is said to follow the book very closely and to be one of the best of the many dramatizations made of popular novels since the "Prisoner of Zenda." "Graustark" is an intensely interesting and dramatic story, abounding in strong climaxes and startling denouements; in fact, containing all of the necessary requisites for a successful romantic play. It will be presented at the Grand next week with the same great cast that was identified with the production in the leading American cities. A 60-horse-power automobile going at the rate of 30 miles an hour, with a beautiful young girl on a steering wheel, dashing thru the plate glass windows of a wealthy New York residence is one of the sensations in "Shadowland," by Peribon, the offering at the Majestic next week. Next week at Shea's Manager Shea will give the patron the big vaudeville house a rare treat in the engaging Emmet Carrigan & Co., presenting "The Last Performance," a special attraction will be the inimitable protean artist, Arthur Bernardi. Others on the bill are Jack Wilson & the Juggling Brothers, Al Carleton, the Achternieper Brothers, and the kinegraph. Robert Ganthony, the eminent English playwright and actor, is to give two recitals at Massey Hall on the evenings of Friday, Oct. 30, and Saturday, Oct. 31, when, with the assistance of

"The Star has the biggest and brightest of all so-called burlesque organizations this week in 'Uncle Sam's Belles.' The Star patrons are not slow to get on to the fact that they are handing out the goods. Particular attention is called to their chorus of twenty. These beauties are about the friskiest lot ever gathered together in one organization. Friday night the merry amateur will be there in large quantities." "The well-known Phil Sheridan's City Sports and Big Sensation Burlesquers will be at the Gaiety next week with the latest and most original farce comedy, entitled, 'Forty Minutes Late in a Railroad Depot.' Matheson, provincial treasurer, sent a cheque for $211,116.22 yesterday to the board of governors, which, with $175,721.93 sent for the first half of the year, makes a total of $386,838.15 in excess of last year's contribution. Another $211,116 will be sent for the first half of 1909." "FAVOR INSPECTION OF LOCOMOTIVES." "Government inspection, according to experienced railroad men, would curtail to a great extent the number of forest fires each year." "Just above the exhaust tips in the smoke stack, as the men, there is a screen, supposed to prevent the escape of sparks, but which does not, because in cleaning it the pokers rip large holes in it, allowing the large live coals to escape, which float away, often as lighting on dry substances, which start the trouble." "The Nobel Prizes." "Circulars describing the conditions of the award of the Nobel peace prize in December, 1909, have reached the provincial secretary's office. Only members of parliament and university professors and a few others need apply. Entries close Feb. 1, and are to be sent to the Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Parliament. The Ross rifle will bar Sir Wilfrid Laurier." "A reputation for reliability, for quality, cleanliness, delicious flavor, and healthfulness accounts for the phenomenal sale of 'Salada' Tea."

WILLIAMS WINS THREE RACES AT DUFFERIN

Autumn Flower, Rae Up, Takes the Fourth Run—Planet Set Back for Crowding.

Five harness heats and four running races were decided yesterday at Dufferin Park. The weather was fine and cool and the attendance about the same as Tuesday.

Lady Teeth in the first harness event, pulling up in straight heats, and Latocsa in the second run were the only favorites to land. Planet was set back in the first heat of the second driving contest for crowding Prairie Oyster into Hazel Belle, he causing the latter's sulky to lose a wheel and she won away off, was set back last. He took the second nicely, but broke in the third and had to pull up.

Jockey Williams' success was the feature of the day. The little mulatto boy had the leg up thrice and was first each time, giving the only other first to Tommy Roe on Autumn Flower.

King Thistle won all round, romping. Caltha second, Potent third.

Latocsa took the half mile easy, Arvelight leading London for the pace. Dorothy Webb was again a disappointment.

Renaissance caught Fantasia a jump from the wire. These two were out in front alone. McArchie got back in the saddle and didn't do any too well on the favorite, Hasty.

Autumn Flower was best in the last, Black Hawk just as easily, second. Planet started too late on True Boy. The harness races resulted:

FIRST RACE—Special class, half mile heats, three heat plan: Baby Teeth 1 1 1 Tommy S. 2 2 2 King Reg 3 3 3 Sam Kewick 3 4 4 Altona 4 5 5

SECOND RACE—Class A pace, half-mile heats, three heat plan: Joe Allen 1 2 5 Planet 1 3 3 Prairie Oyster 4 4 4 Honest Bill 2 3 2 Belmont Wilkes 3 3 4 Time 1:10 1:10 1:11

THIRD RACE—3-year-olds, selling, 6 furlongs: 1. Joannette M. 105 (McCahey) 2. Troiltempa, 108 (Notter) 3. Belle of the Ball, 105 (Tanton) Time 1:15 1:15 1:16

Only 200 Real Ball Players

The World's Selections BY CENTAUR.

Those who attended the recent dinner in New York, given in honor of the Giants by Joseph M. Galtes, owner of the company playing in the Herald Square Theatre, declare that the tribute to the national game by Fred Tenney, the Giants' stalwart first baseman, should go down as one of the classics of the sport.

Tenney's ease of diction surprised many of his hearers who did not remember that the star first baseman was graduated with honors from Brown University before he became a professional baseball player.

There is no reason why any man should be ashamed to be a professional baseball player. Of all sports there is none cleaner, more honorable, more dignified, and the man who becomes a professional player does not need to lose his self-respect because he left the amateur ranks.

There are thousands of doctors, dentists and other professional men in this country who are not ashamed to be called men who have reached the first rank among ball players. To gain a place among the players of the game is an accomplishment of an honorable life's ambition.

In the determined hunt for new material of the kind capable of making fast teams our managers have scoured all the cities and country, and have also gone down into the depths of the coal mines for men worth while.

Three-Three-Five and Covaleskie, a distance in his Buffalo match against the leading place away from the New York team and giving it to Chicago. Both of the players formerly worked in coal mines. Continuing, Tenney said:

The Giants were a new team, but they are fast, and it is my hope that they will stick together next year. I can voice the hope of the whole team that next year the fall will see the National series and with the 1909 pennant flying from the club's flag.

This was followed by cheers which lasted for fully five minutes. After Tenney's speech the meeting of the 143 members of various members of the team and their admirers at home and in other cities, but dwell especially on the trials and tribulations of Manager John McGraw.

IMPERIAL DEVELOPMENT.

In another column The World prints a highly interesting letter on the imperial situation, from the pen of Mr. Eliot Crawshaw-Williams, a young Englishman, who is qualifying himself to enter public life by personally studying local conditions throughout the empire and the principal countries of the world.

He is thus carrying into effect an excellent rule, and cannot fail to emerge from his task with a broader and more comprehensive vision and a capacity to enter sympathetically into touch with points of view differing from his own.

The future of the British Empire is an attractive theme, concerning which there is endless scope for prognostication. Early schemes for achieving a real and lasting union have been abandoned because it proved impossible to reconcile them with the actual conditions that have arisen in the course of development of the self-governing British states.

Indeed, it would be futile to attempt in any arbitrary way to anticipate what can only come naturally thru the free determination of the peoples it concerns. This much, however, has been attained—a growing recognition of the advantages of union, and that whatever the ultimate solution of the problem may be, it must leave each state absolutely untrammelled in the conduct of its government.

Mr. Crawshaw-Williams' letter is noteworthy because it starts from the only sound basis—acceptance of the actual facts. He points out how closely the British states approximate in their general scheme of government, starting as they do with municipal or other councils for the management of local affairs, and passing thru provincial or state legislatures to the federal parliaments that deal finally with the great common concerns of the nation.

SOUND MUNICIPAL LIFE.

In the early part of this month the British premier was presented with the freedom of the burgh of Kirkcaldy and took occasion to deliver a little homily on the value of a pure and efficient municipal life and the opportunities it affords for public service.

Replying to his own question why it was that British public men prized so closely and so nearly the offerings of friendship and of honor from time to time made by the municipalities of the country, he said: "It is because everybody who has served Great Britain or tried to serve her, small or great, realizes that it is in our municipalities, and in their life and activity that in the long run we must find the reservoir of public spirit and of public opinion."

To his mind there was no more encouraging spectacle than the enormous amount of time, of labor, of ability, largely unremunerated, which is spontaneously given day by day, month by month, and year by year to local public work.

Mr. Asquith, however, reminded his audience that two conditions were necessary to success if that work was to reach its highest level. There must first be men and women in the community ready and willing to take part in it. That, he remarked, had not always been the case in Britain. Many could remember times and places where the relatively humble and unadvised labors of the town councillor or of the parochial administration were thought to be unworthy of men of intellect and of what is called position. The premier felt himself able to affirm this to be now an obsolete opinion and he had an example to the contrary in Kirkcaldy itself, where the municipality has presently at its head "not as a figurehead, but as an active and indefatigable leader, but a distinguished and experienced politician, Mr. Munro-Ferguson, a large landed proprietor and member of parliament for the Leith group of burghs."

The other condition requisite for raising public work to its highest level and for a sound and strenuous municipal life Mr. Asquith declared to be the maintenance of a vivid and vigilant public interest. "It is easy to sneer," he said, "as some superficial critics do, at petty interests which are only worthy of the attention and the activity of parochial minds. It is easy to scoff, as even our great poet does, as those who think 'the rustic cackle of their burgh the murmur of the world'; but just as communities—the smallest communities—are made up of individuals and of families, so in the same way the state—the nation as a whole—is but an aggregate of those communities themselves, and the maintenance of an effective, and of an ever-wakeful public interest in the local concerns of your own parish and your own burgh is the best security in the long run for the maintenance of a high standard, both of character and intelligence in the larger arena of national work.

In commending the claims of local service and the necessity of public watchfulness over local affairs Mr. Asquith is only repeating what has been often urged by British statesmen. Their advice and appeal is as apposite for Canada as for Britain. Efficient administration can only come from the prevalence of a sound public sentiment and individual willingness, on the part of those best qualified, to act up to the measure of their duty as loyal and public-spirited citizens.

ABOUT FIRE ENGINES.

Editor World: I was rather amused at your editorial demanding that fire engines be kept down town.

While on the surface your argument is sound, there are other considerations, and while not doubting the integrity of Chief Thompson's recommendation, I do, as one who naturally takes an interest in these matters, believe that he is a trifle too cautious—due, perhaps, to a not too profound faith in the future of the city, or, perhaps, to the new high pressure system of the new high pressure system. While as an insurance man I have no license to object to the city taking the most elaborate precautions to prevent conflagrations, as a ratepayer I am inclined to cry aloud when I am told that a special system of fire protection for one district, which has cost the city half a million dollars or more, is not going to benefit the rest of the city by a distribution of the engines, the work of which the high pressure system is supposed to do.

Philadelphia has had its long struggle to regard it as a success. New York is still experimenting, but has sent the engines from the district. Winnipeg has yet had its insurance rates reduced, because of the introduction. Toronto has been waiting four years, and is still without the service. The percentage of fires, the high pressure system may not be required once in a year, and yet the city must admit that the high pressure system is a precaution. And if the big engines are kept downtown, they, too, must be maintained for the same reason.

INSURANCE AGENT.

Toronto, Oct. 21, 1908. A NEWSPAPER'S DUTY AND RISK. Chief Justice Meredith on an assize court jury:

In a sense, a newspaper has to take the risk of what it publishes against any man that is libelous in its nature. It has got to justify or excuse it or pay damages. But it has to be borne in mind that in these modern days newspapers are, or ought to be, the means of communication between different parts of the country; the means by which, if wrong or fraud is committed in one part of the country, information can be given to that other parts so that people may be protected against that kind of thing.

Take an illustration that perhaps will be quite familiar to you. Some man writes a libelous article in a newspaper, and the newspaper publishes it. The man who writes the article is liable to pay damages, but the newspaper is also liable to pay damages.

IN THE ENEMY'S CAMP.

Bryan Hopes to Win Ohio, the Citadel of Republicans.

MANSFIELD, Ohio, Oct. 21.—In a speech here to-day Bryan said: "From what we have learned from reports sent to us and from reports that come directly from the Republican organization, you are already prepared to vote, and you have given such strong intimation of how you expect to vote that the Republican national committee finds it imperative the last moment to turn all its guns on Ohio to save the candidate's own state to him. It is worth something for us to know that the platform of the Republican party has already been repudiated by the Republicans of Ohio, that the Republican candidate has already been repudiated by the Republicans of his own state, and if, within two weeks of the election they become so frightened that they have to devote their energies to the rescue of this state from the opposition, if in his own state, where he has lived, if in Ohio, which has been the citadel of Republicanism, they have to make this desperate fight in his behalf, what chance has he in other states where the conditions have not been so favorable to him and his party? If, my friends, these gigantic efforts are necessary in Ohio, what hope have they in Indiana?"

Perovial v. Percival.—Field (Beaty & U) for plaintiff moved for an order compelling service of notice of motion out of the jurisdiction on partition or sale. Order as asked.

Judges' Chambers.

Re: Rex v. Anglin (W.N.) (G.). The motion was to quash conviction by the police magistrate of Trenton as for a second offence of unlawfully selling liquor during hours prohibited by the Liquor License Act. The attorney-general took the exception that the motion should not be entertained on the ground that the defendant would not have been entitled to a writ of certiorari before the court, and that no such conviction or order as aforesaid should be removed into the high court except upon the ground that an appeal, as by any act of parliament, had been made, and not an adequate remedy.

Among the eight objections to this exception taken by counsel for applicant one which was stated did not consider material for consideration in dealing with the jurisdiction of the magistrate. This was the sixth objection, that there was no evidence of a sale on the licensed premises. The other seven objections were overruled. Argument will be heard on the sixth objection on the conviction upon the sixth ground in chambers on 27th inst.

Government of British Columbia Co-Operating With Railway.
VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 21.—The government to-day announced the arrangement with the Grand Trunk Pacific for the improvement in Prince Rupert. The government will spend $200,000 on sidewalks, roads and sewers, three-fourths of which will be refunded by the railroad.
The engineers will get out plans forthwith, when tenders will be called for. As soon as the surveys are completed the government will select its holdings, after which another conference will fix prices of lots. No definite arrangement as to sale of lots has been made, but will probably be by auction, and after May 1.

12 YEARS' TEST.
That the Psychine cures are permanent, is proved by the following remarkable statement received by the proprietors, as recently as August 10th 1908. Mr. Wm. Cullis, of Bruce Mines, Ont., says: "When I first wrote you ten or twelve years ago, I had bronchial trouble and a rattling in the chest and a troublesome cough at night. My Doctor could not do anything for me. Finally I decided to try PSYCHINE and have much pleasure saying that before I had taken all of the third bottle I was as well as ever, and am grateful to say I have been well ever since. I weigh 186 pounds and would earnestly recommend PSYCHINE to anyone with the same trouble that I had."

LAYMEN'S MISSIONS.

Successful Meetings in the West—Program in Ontario.
A letter reached the Presbyterian Foreign Mission offices yesterday from A. E. Armstrong, who is on his way back from the Laymen's Missionary Movement campaign in the western provinces, in which he states that unequalled success has attended every effort. He presents a comparative statement of receipts in four centres, which shows this year's receipts to be enormously in excess of last year. Victoria last year subscribed $4400, while they are aiming at $25,000 this year; Vancouver raised $7,000 last year, $15,000 this; Edmonton $7000 last year, $25,000 this; Calgary secured $15,500 against $40,000, and they only have 650 members. This particular branch averaged $11 per member last year.
The elections will somewhat interfere with the Brandon and Winnipeg meetings this week.
The Ontario campaign begins next week with big meetings at London and Kingston, which will run concurrently Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. At London the speakers will be J. C. Campbell White, N. W. Rowell, K. C. J. N. Shenstone, N. Ferrar Davidson, K. C. Rev. Canon W. T. Gunn, Toronto, J. N. China, and Rev. J. L. Stewart, West York, and Miss Heister Alway, New York, who will address a women's meeting.
At Kingston the principal speakers will be Rev. F. H. Russell, Central India; Rev. W. T. Gunn, Toronto, J. Campbell White, who will arrive from London for the last day.
The committee have also invited Rev. Canon Cody and Rev. Dr. Alfred Gandler, principal of Knox College.

GIRL DEPORTED, CRIES OUTRAGE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Abundantly supplied with money and jewelry, Miss Ray Bucey, an attractive English girl courted by King Edward last season, was deported to England to-day on the Mauretania. Miss Bucey arrived here last Friday on the same steamer and among her fellow passengers was J. H. Alport. Upon receipt of a cablegram from Alport's father, the immigration authorities detained the young man to case and sent the young woman back to her home. Miss Bucey was indignant at her treatment, which she characterized as outrageous.
Captain Crazed, Calls for Sailor.
HUNTINGTON, N.Y., Oct. 21.—Wandering about the shore, shouting the name of John Murphy, a missing sailor, Captain John Darm of the steamer Eclipse of Bridgeport, Conn., was found to-day apparently half crazy with excitement. His little vessel was found high on the beach three miles away. Whether the crew drowned or landed he did not know. Captain Darm seemed taken into custody and examined by a physician, who said the officer was suffering from some mental trouble brought on by excitement.
Two Bitten by Dogs.
Two men are suffering from dog bites. One Max, 13 years, 72 Kippendavie-avenue, was attacked by a collie near his home and bitten in the leg. The owner of the dog is unknown.
William Rashleigh, a street car conductor, was bitten by a collie as he stood on the platform of his car at Montrose-avenue and Colonge-street. The wound was dressed at Grace Hospital.

R. J. FEELS FOR CITIZENS
BUT WANTS CITY TO PAY

Street Railway Manager Suggests That Civic Authorities Clear Crossings of Slush.

Manager Fleming of the street railway has written to the mayor a letter in which he suggests that the city clean the snow and mud from all street car stopping places thruout the city during fall and winter. He says the company has in past years received many letters from citizens complaining of having to walk ankle deep in snow or mud to board the cars. As the stopping places are marked by white poles, he proposes that the city be divided into districts, and men assigned to the work of keeping clean, spacefully the length of the car at each stopping place. "In outlying districts, where there is not an asphalt or brick pavement, crossings should be constructed so that the passengers could board or leave the cars in comfort." Mr. Fleming remarked that a "fractional part of the gross receipts which the company is paying to the city would provide for this suggested comfort."

Front Street Death Trap.
Mayor Oliver has written the street railway that the curve on the west side of Front and Bathurst-streets is defective and creates the danger of a car leaving the tracks and being hurled over the embankment. Manager Fleming, in reply, suggests that a stone wall be constructed on the south side of Front-street for about 60 feet, and that the city pay for it.

Ward Six Appeals.
A number of ratepayers on the north side of Queen-street, west of the subway, appeared in the court of revision against an increase in assessment from $100 to $125 per foot. Hugh MacMath, one of the appellants, admitted that the property was worth $170 to $200 a foot, but claimed that the assessment was not equitable thruout the city, as property in the centre of the city is too lightly assessed. He threatened to appeal to the county judge.

It being represented that the frontage lot of the west side of Dowling-avenue, owned by H. H. Cook, was less than given credit for on the assessment rolls, it was reduced 24 feet, making the frontage 72 feet with a depth of 150 feet. No reduction was made in the assessment of $45 a foot.
Andrew Ford, 19 Lansdowne-avenue, appealed in vain against an assessment of $2325 on house and lot, but Harold Wade got a reduction of $200 on the $2500 assessment on his property at 105 Bailey-avenue.

Owing to the mayor's illness the board of control didn't meet yesterday, therefore wondering a large deputation of York pioneers who wanted to discuss the new Pioneer's Building on the exhibition grounds.
Another case of smallpox has been unearthed. This time the sufferer is a young man on Woolsey-street. The house, which has three other inmates, is under quarantine.

REA'S IS A CHARMING STORE.

That's what would be a universal chorus if all admirers of this beautiful new emporium for the selling of ladies' dress were to express the appreciation. Certainly a delight to ladies who appreciate the beautiful, the artistic and out-of-the-ordinary in the reigning fashion, and what further attest does one need to the place such a store is destined to fill as a distributing centre for fashionables in ladies' wear. The veritable throngs that have crowded the store since its opening, and the interest these opening days, and the things growing stale to look at—things which are not to be seen, to wonder, to be interested and entertained; and Rea's want all to feel absolutely well come to go and see, without feeling under the slightest obligation to make a purchase.

A SPEEDY CURE.

"When my skin had always been so clear and ruddy; I found it mortifying to see pesty and pimply patches coming over my face," writes Mrs. S. T. Wheeler, a well-known resident of Wheeling. "Great red blotches came on my chin, grew dry and scaled off. I think my stomach was at fault. Certainly my blood was poor because my lips were white and I had unpleasant fullness and ringing in my ears."
"Noticing in the papers such strong recommendations for Ferrone's as a blood and strengthening medicine, I decided to use it. From the first tab-lette I felt better and had such a good appetite, improved in color and the old rosy flush slowly returned to my cheeks. A Man of the People
It might be well for some of our friends who have in the past yelled themselves hoarse over the election of a Toronto M.P. to consider how much they have been to that man after election day. Has he been an everyday friend, a man of broad sympathies, or has he been an absentee landlord, returning to you when he wants something from you?
Those who are canvassing for Mr. Shaw find him an easy man to get votes for. As far as he can possibly do it, he is seeing every voter in North Toronto. He is not ashamed to ask for a vote.
When you choose a member, you want a true representative, a man who goes in and out among you, gets your opinions, is proud of your friendship, and really represents you.
Isn't it worth something to feel that your representative is your personal friend?

CONDEMNED MAN EXPIRES IN CELL

James F. Creighton, Owen Sound, Defeats Gallows by Mysterious Death—Inquest Friday.

OWEN SOUND, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—A few minutes before 5 o'clock this morning James Farish Creighton, who was condemned to death for the murder of his wife and two step-daughters in May last, died in his cell. The news created a sensation in the town. The inquest was opened this afternoon, the first witness being Mr. John Miller, the jailer. He stated that since his conviction Creighton had never been left alone for a single moment. His meals were prepared by himself or the turnkey and the cell searched in order to ascertain that it contained nothing with which he could injure himself. The only outsiders who had seen the prisoner were his spiritual and legal advisers.
His condition mysteriously.
Dr. Middlebro, the jail physician, declared that when he saw the prisoner last Saturday all that seemed to be the matter with him was a plain attack of cold. He had given him powders, but these had done no good and on Tuesday morning his condition was so serious that he thought it advisable to consult with Dr. Lang. That same night the prisoner was in a serious condition and in great agony. He complained of severe pains in his stomach and vomited a great deal of brownish matter. He could not tell what was the cause of death until he had examined the body. It might be some inflammation of the stomach, and the symptoms before his death were such as might have been produced by a number of different poisons.
Decide on Post-Mortem.
Dr. Lang also declared that he could not tell the cause of death, altho it might be due to gastritis. It was then decided to hold a post-mortem examination and the inquest was adjourned till Friday afternoon.
The juryman viewed the body, which was laid out in the condemned man's cell. It was swollen and discolored. Creighton's unexpected death is the sole subject of conversation here.

IMPERIAL COUNCIL IS REQUIRED TO BIND PROBLEMS OF EMPIRE ANALYZED BY ONE OF WINSTON CHURCHILL'S INTIMATES

Mr. Elliot Crawshaw-Williams, who has written the following letter, is now on a tour around the world for the purpose of personal study of its principal countries before entering into public life in Britain. The still on the sunny side of thirty, he is thoroughly conversant with the politics of his home land and was a candidate at the last general election for the Chorley division of Lancashire and also unsuccessfully for the parliament of the previous Conservative majority, and will again contest the seat at the first available opportunity.

IMPERIAL DEVOLUTION. In most of the self-governing British colonies the principle of imperial devolution is to-day carried out to this point. In Canada, for instance, the constitution divides the Dominion into precisely such graded units as have been indicated, provides proper authorities for each unit, and logically and accurately defines the limits by which it is to be governed.

Editor World: In these days, when the true feeling of imperialism is, happily, being constantly further aroused, when the consciousness of imperial existence is continually increasing, and the desire for greater imperial knowledge and sympathy, together with the sense of a need of closer imperial union are surely, if almost imperceptibly, developing over all the Empire, it is perhaps not amiss to sometimes take a thought as to whether the new spirit of the times is leading.

What is to be the outcome of this new spirit of the times? What must we keep in our minds, perhaps in the background of our minds, but there, as a discipline among the nations, an expression of our present sense of what we are to do with the Empire, what our aspirations? The answer must be a truly imperial constitution, logically and inevitably the conclusion which must be arrived at. This being so, it can do no harm to face the question at once, consider it carefully, discuss the various problems and propositions which arise, and at all events exercise the mind in dealing with the elements of a subject which will sooner or later be the material for practical measures.

It is with the object of indicating the lines upon which such consideration of this great problem might run, that I am here submitting to you this comparatively untraveled field of political thought might be conducted, that I venture to write this letter. No, I do not intend, and if what follows shall in any way be of use further and more fruitful effort, it will have amply fulfilled its purpose.

The possibility of indicating the constitutional relations of the various portions of the empire into some definite whole has for many years appealed to the imagination of deep-thinking men. The idea of any concrete scheme of federation was long held to be visionary; and visionary it is, as the smallest local detail of the Empire is not yet up to the matter which affects the nation there is nothing in the scale of our affairs which has not so far found a distinct category and a suitable tribunal.

But above the nation there is the Empire, and there are some affairs which concern the Empire as a whole—which are Imperial, and which must be dealt with Imperially. There are, or may be, some Imperial questions which concern the Empire as a whole, and which must be dealt with Imperially. There are, or may be, some Imperial questions which concern the Empire as a whole, and which must be dealt with Imperially.

There are many questions which engaged the attention of the Empire, and which must be dealt with Imperially. Political Notes.

A despatch from Sault Ste. Marie says: Effective have been the protests of A. C. Boyce and W. R. Smythe, the Liberal and Conservative candidates in West and East Algoma respectively, against the suggestion by Judge O'Leary that instead of sending the voters' lists to the clerk of the crown in chancery at Ottawa to be printed, approved and delivered to the returning officer, as required by the act, the judges should turn them over direct to the returning officer, Hon. R. W. Scott, as acting secretary of state, also suggested this to Judge Johnston, chairman of the board of judges acting under the Aylesworth Act.

Mr. Boyce received the following reply from his protest: The clerk of the crown in chancery is advised by the act of the returning officer and candidates to send copies of the lists for Belleville, Scarborough and Trout Lake when revised on Friday next, I answered that I saw no objection to it, assuming all parties were agreed on the propriety of using those lists. When I learned that both candidates had not given their assent I withdrew my approval of Monday. The Conservative party have telegraphed for copies of the provincial lists, to be in readiness.

"It is now a case of abandoning the province lists," said Mr. Scott. "I have approved of the provincial lists, and I have no objection to their being used. It is now a case of abandoning the province lists." "These propositions cannot be stamped thru. Every single appeal must be dealt with on its merits." "It is conceded that this will be impossible if the lists are to be ready under the act by Monday. The Conservatives have telegraphed for copies of the provincial lists, to be in readiness."

"I see," said the silent voter, "that the Montreal Star has no use for the Hon. George E. Foster, and makes him a reason for doubting the good faith of R. L. Borden in his desire to reform the government. The Montreal Star is a great Conservative newspaper. I am a Conservative, and would still be in Conservative if I declined to vote for Foster. What the Montreal Star says is Conservative enough for me."

"I defy anyone to prove one instance of graft against the Conservative administration at Toronto and will deposit a marked cheque with anyone in the city to go to the hospital, if after the investigation of my department in Toronto by anyone from here or from any place in the Dominion, it is found that there has been wrong doing of any kind."

"This was the manner in which Hon. Frank Cochrane, speaking at a large Conservative rally at Fort William, answered Liberals there who tried to draw a red herring over the trail of graft and wrong-doing of the Liberal party by saying that Conservatives were grafting off the Ontario government."

Many persons who have listened to Hon. Charles Murphy, secretary of state, during the campaign, have speculated as to how he lost his left arm. When a boy he fell over a cliff near the Queen's Wharf on the Ottawa River at Ottawa, and the arm was so badly smashed that it had to be amputated above the elbow.

"Welcome to Canada's noblest son, Hon. George P. Graham," was one of the mottoes adorning the opera house.

WEST TORONTO, Oct. 21.—A great deal of sympathy is being expressed for Rev. T. Beverley Smith, two of whose children are ill with scarlet fever. During the quarantine Mr. Smith is residing at the Bank Chambers, Dundas-street.

A quiet wedding took place yesterday at the home of J. Wanless, 150 Pacific-avenue, when Bruce Rickney, an enterprising young business man of Peterboro, was married to Miss Kathleen McLennan of Winnipeg. Rev. Dr. Pidgeon of Victoria Presbyterian Church, officiated. The bride, who was beautifully gowned in white silk, was given away by John Wanless, the groom's brother-in-law. The flower girl was Miss Gladys Wanless. Immediate friends of the contracting parties were present and were entertained to a reception, after which the bride and groom left for points in eastern Ontario. They will reside in Peterboro.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Riddolph of 402 Franklin-avenue, who died yesterday in Grace Hospital, will take place at 1:30 to-morrow afternoon, to Prospect Cemetery. Mrs. Riddolph was 47 years old and leaves a husband and grow-up family.

at Mr. Graham's St. Catharines meeting, at a joint meeting in Rouville, Que., where a provincial by-election is pending, Mr. Gauthier, who replied to Mr. Bourassa, accused him of pretending when Sir Wilfrid Laurier was making the light of his life, to be posed as a defender of the race and the French tongue and a pillar of the Catholic faith, was standing by and doing nothing in support of the leader of the Dominion.

At the nomination meeting in King's County, Nova Scotia, Sir Frederick Borden dealt with various attacks made in the public press both of that county and elsewhere, and aroused enthusiasm by stating that already the hand of the law was closing about the offenders. Lies and slander do not go unrebuked, he hardly thought it necessary to go 3000 miles to Calgary to skin a skunk.

At Avonport Sir Frederick rebuked the clergyman who was opposing him. He referred to one clergyman as being better fitted to run a barroom than a seminary.

J. O. Fournier claims he was tricked out of his nomination against Hon. R. E. Brodeur in Rouville, Que., on Monday. He declares that he put in his nomination papers, duly signed by 25 accredited electors of the county, with the deposit of $200, but the returning officer refused the papers, saying he would get them later on. At 12:10 o'clock Mr. Fournier returned, filed his papers, and deposited the $200. While the returning officer was making out a receipt for the money, according to Mr. Fournier's account, Hon. Mr. Brodeur took up the list of names of the men who had signed the nomination papers and immediately took exception to the names of Narcisse Viensaint, farmer, of La-Grange, and Vincent, appears, is on the voters' list, as "Vincent."

Mr. Brodeur protested that there were only 21 names on the list. Then Mr. de Salaberry, a friend of Mr. Brodeur's, arrived with two electors, St. Fontaine and Napoleon Ginglais, both of whom had signed Mr. Fournier's nomination papers, and who now wished to withdraw their signatures. Mr. de Salaberry accordingly took a pen and drew a line thru both names on the paper, which had been already deposited. At 1 o'clock the returning officer declared Hon. Mr. Brodeur member-elect for the county.

J. H. Duthie, Public Ownership candidate in West Toronto, will hold a meeting in Brockton Hall to-morrow evening and in Dovercourt Hall on Saturday night.

Sir Frederick Borden has entered action against W. C. Cotton, the Independent Liberal candidate in Bromley, and editor of the Cowansville Observer, for $25,000 as the result of an article republished from The Calgary Eye Opener.

Mr. Charters, who is employed on the alterations to East Queen-street Presbyterian Church, secured the contract for the building of five new houses at the beach.

I don't forget the reception to C. J. and Mrs. Bell at the Y.M.C.A. on Friday night. All are invited to attend. York football team are looking forward to an interesting game with Varsity on the latter's grounds on Saturday afternoon.

George Empringham, W. Westlake and H. Bisset are duck shooting in Eastern Ontario.

Councillor Johnston has about completed the grading and fixing up of the commodious new millinery store on Danforth-avenue.

The scarlet fever epidemic has practically disappeared and at present only the pupils have returned to school.

AURORA. Interest in North York Contest is Widespread.

AURORA, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—No contest for the federal house North York in recent years has attracted so much interest which attaches to the campaign now being waged. This historic old riding, "The Hon.," has been placed wholly on the defensive by the Conservative candidate, Leeve Armstrong, minister of justice. The prospect for the retention of the riding were never so bright. The minister of justice has visited the riding at rare intervals since his election, and this fact, coupled with the sentiment against the government, and the marked oratorical abilities and good judgment shown by the NOBLETON. Hub of Vaughan Township Welcomes Reeve Armstrong.

NOBLETON, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The Conservative candidate, Reeve J. A. Armstrong, who is contesting the federal seat of North York in the recent election, was warmly welcomed here to-night which ought to cheer the hearts of the Conservatives in this historic old riding.

The candidate made a splendid impression on the occasion, which was only intensified by the fact that he was thought out and delivered address. He attacked the government on their enormous increased expenditure, the $3,000,000 of their recent conversion to the free rural mail delivery, and general incapacity. Moderate in tone, but with most convincing logic, his address was cheered to the echo.

Bosworth Armstrong of Toronto, a brother, spoke briefly on general lines and made a good speech.

T. H. Lennox, M.L.A., spoke in support of the candidate and the Conservative cause, dealing frequently with many of the points mentioned or alluded to by the minister of justice at the nomination meeting. He expressed keen satisfaction with the candidature of Reeve Armstrong and was optimistic regarding the outlook.

THE "WINE OF BARLEY"

Ale, the wine of barley, is said to have originally been made by the ancient Egyptians. It was the favorite beverage of the Anglo-Saxons and the Danes, and before their conversion to Christianity they believed that drinking it formed one of the chief felicities which those heroes enjoyed who were admitted into the hall of Odin, the great patron of bravery and culture.

Through all the ages ale has been used. The unconquerable Briton, the hardy, sturdy Anglo-Saxon and Dane—they all recognized its worth—the "wine of barley" was their favorite beverage.

To-day the same can be said. Ale—that is, pure ale—is the favorite beverage of the masses as well as the classes. It is wholesome, pleasing to the taste and, when brewed in the good old-fashioned way, as "East Kent" ale is brewed, it is "foaming deliciousness."

For three generations the Holiday family have been brewing "East Kent" ale in the quaint, little brewery, which is one of the best known landmarks in Guelph.

They brew it as it should be brewed—as it was brewed in "the good old days." They use water which flows icy cold from a deep, clear spring; they use the very choicest of malt and hops, and they bring to bear years of experience, with the result that "East Kent" ale is pronounced by those who are competent to judge to be the perfect ale—the Bass' ale of Canada.

In Toronto "East Kent" is bottled by T. H. George, 709 Yonge Street, and every household into which it has once been introduced invariably welcome it as an old friend.
