14 STATES APPLYING

Geneva, Nov. 21.—The responsibilities of the League of Nations and the responsibilities of its individual members under article ten of the covenant are one question, the committee on admission of new members is considering in connection with the applications of fourteen states, not including Germany. These applications are now in the hands of sub-committees. They are:

Austria, Bulgaria, Albania and Liechtenstein, referred to sub-committee presided over by Lord Robert Cecil, and Georgia, Armenia, Ukraine and Costa Rica, sub-committee presided over by Dr. Friedt Jof Nansen, Norway.

Besides responsibilities under article ten the committee will consider in respect to each applicant, the following questions:

ARREST BOY IN WOMAN'S ATTIRE

Arthur Hartrick of Oshawa Deceives Several Male Flirts at Union Station.

Skirts don't always make the woman, as several men learned to their surprise at the Union Station yesterday afternoon, when the well-dressed object of their flirtatious attentions was shown up by Detective Harper to be none other than Arthur Hartrick, a 14-year-old boy of Oshawa, Ont. The lad was placed under arrest on a charge of vagrancy.

When questioned at Court street police station, the boy stated that his mother had given him $10 to buy a suit of underwear. Instead he had journeyed to Toronto, where he located his grandmother. The clothes he is said to have admitted stealing from the house where his grandmother was employed.

The police stated that a casual observer would never have pierced the boy's clever disguise. Still, he was the possessor of shapely ankles, wearing a close-fitting blonde wig and faintly swinging a chic chateleine, the success of his completely fooling several men, who, Detective Harper says, were making endeavors to attract his attention.

SHOOTING VICTIM CLAIMS FRAME-UP

Windsor Man Injured in Rum-Running Episode—Assailants Must Face Trial.

Chatham, Nov. 20.—(By Can. Press.)—As a semi-sequel to a rum-running episode which occurred three weeks ago today in Dover township, two residents of that place faced Magistrate Arnold in the county police court this afternoon and listened to the charge of "shooting with intent to kill." They were Frank King, a prominent farmer of Dover, and a helper named Peter Goodrea. The former was allowed out on $10,000 bail this evening, but Goodrea was lodged in the county jail. Both men were remanded for trial.

The victim of the shooting is Frank Cornish, 319 Windsor avenue, Windsor, Ont., who is lying in St. Joseph's Hospital, this city, with a number of gunshot wounds in both legs.

Alleges Frame-Up.
In a statement to the High Constable Peters of the Beck's Police, Cornish claimed he and his associates were the victims of a frame-up staged by Dover township farmers, who had contracted to sell him 120 cases of liquor, but who, he asserts, opened fire with guns after the consignment of wet goods had been transferred from the location of "the cache" to three waiting automobiles.

The first information regarding the affair came to the county police yesterday, and immediately High Constable Peters interviewed Cornish in the hospital. The arrest of King and Goodrea was effected this morning.

MEIGHEN IN AYLMER DELIVERS DEFENCE OF SUGAR POLICY

Premier Declares Refiners Stand Chance of Going Under Thru Break in Prices—Addressing Big Crowd in Last Speech of East Elgin Campaign Tells of Huge Amount Paid to Soldiers in Bonuses.

Aylmer, Ont., Nov. 21.—(Can. Press.)—Following the great reception accorded Premier Meighen by all classes of the community on his arrival here Saturday, the audience which packed itself into the Town Hall an hour and a half before the time announced for the opening of the East Elgin election campaign, plus the crowd which attended the overflow meeting in the skating rink, gave evidence of the intense interest being taken in the fight by the electors and of a desire to hear every side of the questions involved before the great moment of decision which arrives with the opening of the polls tomorrow.

Only One Heckler.
Interest, mingled with no little amusement was, if possible, increased by the efforts of a solitary heckler to draw the premier, only to be finally forced to desist.

Mr. Meighen confined his attention mainly to the question of the tariff, declaring that a review of the numerous speeches made by the Liberal and Farmer candidates showed that this was considered the great issue of the day, but he also dealt with the sugar and returned soldier questions. In connection with the sugar order, he declared that it had been made use of in the campaign not because the facts were not known, but for the very definite purpose of arousing sympathy for the opposition and the befogging of the issue.

Aid to Soldiers.
In regard to the returned soldiers' problems, the premier declared that the government had given this matter the greatest and most serious consideration, and as evidence of the wisdom of the government's line of action he pointed out that $3 per cent. of the soldiers placed on the land had paid to the government within 15 days of the date set the money due under the contract made with them. He doubted whether any loan company on the continent could show such a record in connection with their business dealings.

Address Scores Agitators.
At the opening of the meeting which was presided over by Walter Boughner, secretary-treasurer of the East Elgin National Liberal and Conservative Association, the premier, in his address, declared that the labor party will keep its identity, but back up drury

Leader Other Than Member of the Cabinet Likely to Be Chosen.

MUST VOICE VIEWS

While the Independent Labor party of Ontario will insist on being recognized as a separate political unit, with the right of formulating its own policies, and while the party will consider electing a leader other than a member of the cabinet, the organization will continue to co-operate with the United Farmers in the legislature. This was decided upon at a joint conference of the provincial executive of the Labor party and the Labor members of the legislature, held on Saturday, the following being in attendance: Members of the local legislature: Thomas Tooms, Peterboro; D. F. Swazey, Niagara Falls; Sergeant-Major MacNamee, Riverdale; Halton, East Hamilton; Hon. Walter Rolfe, West Hamilton; Mayor MacBride, Brantford; Carl Homuth, South Waterloo; D. H. Stevens, London; J. B. Cunningham, Sault Ste. Marie; and Hon. H. Mills, Fort William. Absent: W. A. Crockett, Wentworth; Lord D. H. Stevens, Kenora; Angus McDonald, M.P., Combermere, was also present and took part in the proceedings.

The morning session was largely taken up in discussing recommendations. (Continued on Page 4, Column 6).

IRISH PRIEST KILLED BODY FOUND IN A BOG

Was Kidnapped Several Days Ago—Cottagers Tell of Mysterious Arrival of Lorry Load of Men at a Spot Near Grave.

Galway, Ireland, Nov. 21.—The body of Father Griffin, the priest who disappeared several days ago, was found yesterday in a shallow grave about four miles from Galway. There was a bullet wound in his temple.

The body was brought to Galway this morning. Intense excitement prevailed.

The body of Father Griffin, who was curate of Bushy Park, was found in a bog by the roadside near Darna, four miles from Galway. Volunteers had been searching for the missing curate since he was kidnapped by three unknown persons last Sunday. A party of country lads made the tragic discovery.

The lads observed in the bog what appeared to have been a recent upheaval. They began probing into the mound with sticks and finally uncovered the skeleton of the missing curate. Without proceeding farther they sent for priests in Galway and, when they arrived, working under their direction by moonlight, unearthed the body of the missing curate. The bullet wound in the head of the priest was evidence of the cause of his death.

Cottagers in this bleak and sparsely-inhabited part of the countryside tell of the mysterious arrival at midnight last Sunday, following the kidnapping of Father Griffin, of a lorry load of men. The lorry halted near the spot where the body was found and the lights were extinguished. In

SOVIET AND POLISH PARLEYS ON PEACE ARE INTERRUPTED

Demand Made That Poles Fulfill Pledge to Withdraw Troops to Borders.

PLANS TO UNITE ARMIES

Riga, Nov. 21.—Peace negotiations between Soviet Russia and Poland have been interrupted. Adolf Joffe, head of the Bolshevik delegation, told M. Dombalski, chief of the Polish representatives, that the work of arranging for a permanent peace could not proceed until Poland loyally fulfilled her promise to withdraw troops to her borders. He added this declaration was a result of the action of Colonel Ribak, head of the Polish section of the Joint Military Commission at Minsk. Ribak proposed that a scheme be worked out for the withdrawal of the Polish troops by the establishment of a 30-mile zone between Polish and Ukrainian troops, and finally asked for the dissolution of the commission itself.

Joffe emphasized his claim that the proceedings agreed here on November 14 concerning the withdrawal of the Poles excluded these questions. He asserted Colonel Ribak is planning for the union of the armies commanded by Simon Petlura, Ukrainian leader, and General Balakovich, commander of "Irregular" Polish forces, which have been operating in the rear of the Bolshevik lines south-east of Minsk for the last three or four weeks.

Petrura Forces Cross Frontier.
Warsaw, Nov. 21.—Russian Bolshevik and Polish soldiers are face to face at various points along the Zbruch river in Eastern Galicia, a narrow stream which was designated at the peace conference at Riga as the Armistice line, pending a permanent peace.

Reports from Galicia state that the Bolsheviks have pursued the Ukrainians for many miles and have taken thousands of prisoners. Large numbers of Ukrainians have been driven into Polish territory, where they have been interned. The Bolsheviks are standing guard along the boundary.

It is announced the Ukrainians have moved their headquarters from Kamennetz-Podolsky to the town directly south of Tarnopol and within Galician territory.

POLICE HOLD TRIAL OF STOLEN PIGEONS

Loaded Revolver, Bicycle and Illicit Liquor Figure in the Case.

HOLD-UP IS ALLEGED

George Butko, 471 West Richmond street; Meros Storgner, same address, and John Martin, 634 Augusta avenue, and three of whom are said to be receiving straight money from the Ontario government for their services as stool pigeons were arrested on Saturday night. Butko is held on a charge of pointing a loaded revolver and having liquor illegally in his possession under the O.T.A., while the other two men are charged with being part of a party who was with the party was not held.

The arrests were made by P.C. Bradley of Claremont street division. Bradley was patrolling his beat on Dundas street, near Augusta avenue, when a man, who later gave his name as S. Etenson, 33 Nassau street, ran up to him, stating that he had been held up by four men, one of whom flourished a gun, and his bicycle had been taken from him. He accompanied the officer, and at the corner of Denison avenue and Dundas street pointed out the four men who, he claimed, had held him up. His statement was supported by the fact that one of them, a straight money man, had been charged with having a bottle of whiskey in his possession when searched.

SIR ADAM BECK BACK

The world had a talk on the phone with Sir Adam Beck at London yesterday. He was just back from the New York horse show. He will be in Toronto today.

Sir Adam had nothing to give out about the "big clean-up." But something is still possible, the chances of a settlement grow steadily weaker as the likelihood strengthens of the Chippewa development being in service nine months hence, Sir William Mackenzie reached England, but is represented in the negotiations by Messrs. Fleming and Wood.

MANY OFFICERS MASSACRED BY SINN FEINERS IN DUBLIN REPRISAL BY BLACK AND TANS

Party of Auxiliary Troops Invades Football Game and Opens Fire on Crowd, Killing Number of People—15,000 Spectators Were Present—Grounds Were Surrounded and Forcible Entry Made.

Dublin, Nov. 21.—Ten persons are reported to have been killed and 55 injured in a panic when "black and tans" invaded a football match today and fired on the crowd.

While the Tipperary team was playing against the Dublin team in Croke Park in the presence of 15,000 spectators, "black and tans" entered in force by the two gates, and, after a scene of wild confusion, fired on the people.

Sixteen lorries with auxiliaries arrived outside of Croke Park when the game had been under way for about fifteen minutes. They completely surrounded the grounds, mounting machine guns on the railway line overlooking the park, and then burst through the gates.

Shots were first fired by the auxiliaries, the auxiliaries opened fire on the crowd from various quarters. An official version of the affair says that the auxiliaries were ordered to shoot at the crowd and return the fire, immediately they fired into the masses of people. This witness says he counted more than thirty who fell.

A stampede ensued, and many were trampled and trampled upon in their efforts to escape from the grounds. Soon, airplanes were observed moving over the city, and the widest rumors were current as to what was likely to happen.

Sinn Feiners Fired First.
London, Nov. 21.—A despatch received in London from official sources in Dublin says that when mixed forces of military and constabulary surrounded Croke Park, they were fired upon by Sinn Fein pickets who opened fire on the crowd and returned the fire, killing and wounding a number. About three thousand persons were then searched and afterwards many revolvers were found.

In addition to the casualties due to the firing, this despatch says a man and a woman were killed in the crush owing to the crowd stampeding. The casualties are semi-officially given as ten killed and sixty-five injured, eleven seriously.

ONE TRIED TO ESCAPE

Dublin, Nov. 21.—Michael Blake and James O'Neill were shot and killed near Limerick last night by disguised men, who held up the motor in which the two were riding to their homes from Limerick junction. Patrick Blake, a brother of Michael, and O'Neill were acquitted by a court-martial in July, and it is believed the attack was the outcome of this trial.

When the automobile was stopped, the attacking party demanded if a man named Blake was present. Michael answered in the affirmative and was shot dead. O'Neill attempted to escape, but his body was found later riddled with bullets.

TO REOPEN DOMINION SHIPBUILDING YARD

Work Will Commence at Once, Minister of Marine States, in Message to Sir Edward Kemp—Full Winter's Employment for One Thousand Men Who Can Be Mustered Within Twenty-Four Hours.

"Arrangements are being completed to reopen the Dominion Shipbuilding yard, and the work of completing the two ships will be commenced at once."

The foregoing telegram was received last night by Sir Edward Kemp, M. P., from Hon. C. B. Ballantyne, Minister of marine.

Business Agent Herb Wright of the Toronto local International Union of Shipbuilders and Boilermakers, stated last evening at the Labor Temple that the re-opening of the yards would provide a full winter's employment for one thousand men. The majority of the former employees of the defunct Dominion Company, he declared, were still in the city, either awaiting the opening of the yard or engaged temporarily in other work, and could be mustered to give full efficiency within 24 hours.

Asked by The World if it was likely that the shipyards would continue in operation after the work on the two ships had been completed, Sir Edward Kemp replied that he was not in a position to say anything beyond what was contained in Mr. Ballantyne's message.

The Dominion shipbuilding plant was closed down some three months ago when the company went into liquidation, and about one thousand men were thrown out of employment. The two ships in course of construction are being built for the Dominion government, and efforts have been made from time to time with a view to the work being resumed.

When the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen was in Toronto on Friday last he made the promise that the question would receive his prompt consideration, and the sequel is found in the welcome announcement made last night by the minister of marine. The board of control last week decided to call a special meeting of members of parliament were invited, "for the express purpose of considering a proposal advanced on behalf of shipbuilding mechanics residing in Toronto—that the government should be urged, in view of the prevailing unemployment, to make speedy arrangements for the reopening of the plant of the Dominion Shipbuilding Company, to complete the two ships, upon the construction of which some progress has already been made, and upon which work at the present time is at a standstill."

This meeting will not, of course, now be necessary.

Many People Killed In Dublin Streets

London, Nov. 21.—A despatch from Dublin states that shooting began in the streets just before midnight and that many people were killed. Much military activity is reported.

The government entertained grave apprehension about eventualities, and all precautions had been taken to prevent reprisals by the police and military. The police barracks in Dublin were picketed to prevent the men from leaving their quarters. There are large detached forces near Dublin, however, which are harder to control. Everything was done, nevertheless, to forestall retaliatory measures.

No Details Received.
London, Monday, Nov. 22.—Very few despatches have reached London from Dublin since early Sunday evening. Brief reports of street fighting and of fires in various parts of the city have been received, but no details have been given.

The official statement of casualties has not been challenged up to the present time, but one report received in London says all the hospitals in Dublin are filled with wounded.

Attacks on Officers Were Evidently Conducted by a Pre-concerted Arrangement—14 Killed, 6 Wounded—Many of the Victims Murdered in Their Own Homes—Secret Service Agents Also Slain.

Dublin, Nov. 21.—Fourteen persons were killed and six wounded in what appears to have been a pre-arranged simultaneous attack on military officers and former officers in their lodgings in various parts of this city today, according to an official announcement.

The streets of the city were immediately placed under a heavy patrol by the military, who restored order by firing their rifles in order to disperse the crowds.

The assassinations occurred in various parts of the city at nine o'clock this morning.

In one case three of the assassins captured two "Black and Tans" while they were on their way to reinforce the troops and killed them. The dead include two court-martial officers.

Early this morning Captain Fitzgerald, a military officer, was shot in his bed in Earlscourt Terrace. A quarter of an hour later two other officers were shot in their beds in Pembroke street, a quarter of a mile away, and dangerously wounded.

Secret Service Agents Shot.
Three men suspected of being secret service agents likewise were attacked and shot while asleep in Hampton street, and still another man in lower Mount street was shot.

Captain Donald MacLean and a man named Smyth, the owner of a house, and another man named Caldwell were shot in a house in Donnybrook. Captain MacLean was killed instantly, and Smyth died a few minutes later. Caldwell is believed to have been fatally hurt.

At a house in Baginbun street, Captain Newbury was shot by five men. He was in the front parlor of the house. In the Gresham Hotel, two former officers were shot dead in a fight which occurred with men who are believed to have been "black and tans," who entered the house in Mount street. GREEK GOVERNMENT IS ACTING RAPIDLY

Paris Paper Points Out That France and Britain May Be in Quandary.

Paris, Nov. 21.—The Temps, in a leading editorial today, warns France and Great Britain that with the rapidity with which the allies will find themselves "in the face of a series of accomplished facts."

"To speak frankly," the newspaper adds, "the French public does not quarrel with how the Franco-British negotiations can be delayed by the regrettable indisposition of Earl Curzon of Kedleston (the British foreign secretary) and how, at the same time, a British admiral can be talking with former King Constantine at Luernne."

The Temps reminds the allies that the "restoration has been accomplished" by the naming of Olga as Regent of Greece and her issuance of a proclamation and instructions to the government for the courts to act in the name of Constantine. It points out that the plebiscite in Greece will recall the former king and the new chamber of deputies will still the Sevres treaty, thereby binding the signatories under article ten of the League of Nations.

The Temps quotes article ten and remarks that if the Turks or the Bulgarians cross the treaty frontiers, "France, Great Britain and Italy will be bound to intervene as members of the League of Nations." It adds: "Will it be said that, in practice, this text does not apply? This would mean an escape the allies have no right to use. To give a guarantee while reserving the right to make it illusive would be no re-edict with premeditation the theory of a scrap of paper. Either one must not bind one's self, or one must fulfill what is promised."

MEIGHEN WISHED TO SEE VETERANS

Toronto Authorities Refused to Permit Him to Address
Open Air Meeting.

Aylmer, Ont., Nov. 21.—In a brief interview with the Canadian Press on his arrival here Saturday afternoon, Hon. Arthur Meighen asked that the story sent over the wires from Toronto on Friday night to some of the papers, to the effect that he had refused to meet the returned soldiers assembled outside Massey Hall, be emphatically denied.

"I did not refuse to meet the soldiers," said Mr. Meighen. "In fact it was my desire to do so, but the civic authorities were just as firm in refusing to permit me to do so."

"I did not know till my arrival at Massey Hall that the soldiers wished me to address them. The message of request was sent to me by telegraph somewhere on the Grand Trunk Pacific, but as I returned east on the Canadian Pacific, it did not reach me. Directly I knew of it I decided to grant the soldiers' request, but the civic authorities refused."

"The publicity given to the Toronto story by The Globe and The London Advertiser appears to indicate that they have taken Hays' story as their wing. I wish them joy of the bargain."

SAY U.F.O. LABOR SPLIT AT TORONTO

Rumor Reaches Aylmer—Not Likely to Influence East
Elgin Voting.

Aylmer, Ont., Nov. 21.—If the rumor prevailing tonight holds on Monday the vote in the coming by-election will be the heaviest ever polled as every man and woman, old and young, is taking the keenest possible interest in the campaign. Each candidate will see that every supporter casts his or her ballot. The roads all thru the riding are reported in good shape and scores of automobiles have been arranged for, to get the voters to the polls. Never in the history of East Elgin has an election campaign provoked such intense interest and excitement. Thousands of dollars have been bet on the various candidates.

Rumor From Toronto.
Tonight a rumor was given wide circulation here that at the headquarters in Toronto, the U.F.O. and Labor parties have split. The story has caused much comment, but lacking verification of any kind is not expected materially to effect the voting. A peculiar fact in connection with the situation is that every candidate is absolutely confident he is going to win. It may perhaps be significant that the farmers are taking all officers and members of the U.F.O. to the limit. Even some of the women are reported to have considerable sums up. There are thirty polls to be heard from and about 15,000 votes to count and it is expected that the result will be known early. No matter who wins, there will be a big demonstration. Here all arrangements are made for huge bonfires, a torchlight parade and other celebrations.

1,000 CRIMINALS HELD IN CHICAGO

Biggest Round-Up in Years and Drag-Net Spread Over City.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Nearly a thousand persons were under arrest tonight as a result of the biggest round-up of criminals in Chicago in many years. The drive was started at midnight last night by Chas. Fitzmorris, new chief of police, as the second step in his campaign to rid Chicago of criminals, and followed a recent wholesale shakeup of the police force, in which nearly every member was transferred to a new position.

Dozens of squads of detectives and policemen spread over the city early today and all day long patrol wagons rolled up to police stations with loads of alleged criminals. Nearly every saloon was visited by the officers and scores of poolrooms and alleged disorderly dens were raided.

One thousand plainclothesmen and 1,500 uniformed officers conducted the raids, which were under the personal direction of Chief Fitzmorris.

Appalling Daylight Tragedies,
Details of Officer's Murder

Belfast, Nov. 21.—A number of most appalling daylight tragedies were enacted in various parts of Dublin between eight o'clock and nine o'clock this morning. Fourteen men, most of whom were military officers, or former officers, were shot dead in their homes in hotels where they were residing, by masked men.

During a raid on a house in Mount street, an encounter occurred between a party of crown forces and five culprits, and a civilian and two raiders are reported to have been killed.

The shootings bore evidence of careful planning and were executed almost simultaneously in different areas. About nine o'clock a party of about twenty armed men appeared in the vestibule of the Gresham Hotel. They covered the guests and took away their revolvers. Some of the raiders went upstairs and returned in a short time, the sound of firing had been heard. The armed party walked out calmly and dispersed on reaching Sackville street.

It was found that two guests had been shot dead in their bedrooms. They were Captain McCormick and Mr. Wilde, who are believed to have recently arrived in Ireland. The whole thing was executed in a remarkably calm manner in a few minutes. One guest said he was standing near the telephone box when suddenly a man confronted him, presented a revolver and ordered him to hold up his hands and not move. He obeyed, remaining in that position till the raid was over.

Fear Spirit Will Spread.
The importance of the Franco-British alliance in the Greek question is heightened, according to the foreign office, by the news from Smyrna that shows bad morale among the Greek troops in certain districts and in the Smyrna garrison. The soldiers there are said to be exercising self-demobilization and demanding their return home, and it is feared this spirit finally will spread to the actual fighting front.

Mr. Leygues, the foreign minister, said that the government in their conference, which has been set for some time, in the latter part of the week, will discuss the situation. It is recognized by the foreign office that the developments in Greece and the possible lowered fighting power of the Greeks may make a revision of the Sevres treaty necessary, as that treaty was based upon the theory that would be enforceable only through Greek co-operation.

STAND BY FRANCE, SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

Entente Remains Secure, He Tells Skeptical Interviewer in Paris.

From The Sunday World.

Paris, Nov. 20.—Differences between Great Britain and France have in no way prejudiced the alliance which held them together during the war, said Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain in an interview at London yesterday with the correspondent of The Petit Parisien. Mr. Lloyd George declared that, regarding reparations, England would stand "elbow to elbow" with France, but he insisted that the amount Germany will be called upon to pay should be fixed.

"There are always some people who pick quarrels," said the premier in reply to a remark by the interviewer, "but French public opinion was badly impressed by what France believed to be the British attitude on questions vital to this country. There is no quarrel, however, and you have just told me there were no interests in the world, on either the French or British side, that can slacken the Franco-British brotherhood. I never thought otherwise."

Must Pay to Limit.

The interviewer told Mr. Lloyd George the question of reparations took precedence over all others in France, and that in certain French circles there was an impression, either rightly or wrongly held, that the British premier opposed the viewpoint of the French relative to the amount Germany should pay.

"I would say that this impression is wrongly held," said Mr. Lloyd George. "You say reparations constitute an essential point for France, and I would say it is also of paramount importance for us, since it is evident that the more France gets, the more England will receive."

"I will tell you exactly what I think. It is very simple—make Germany pay all she can. Yes, but how much? Have you a figure? I say the amount should be fixed. Why do I say this? Is it to please Germany? Oh, who could think so?"

The Way of a Lawyer.

"I was a lawyer before entering politics, and when I confronted a debtor or I had two courses to choose, either to enforce strictly the rights of my client, and sell the debtor's house and furniture at the risk of getting nothing or next to nothing, or saying to him: 'You owe so much. How much can you pay at once? How much in a year, or ten years?' This latter method I found to be best and this I advise following in dealing with Germany."

"But," objected the interviewer, "suppose you knew the debtor, who displayed empty pockets, was cheating?"

Still Dear to His Heart.

Mr. Lloyd George smiled as he replied: "Would I believe a debtor without a check being placed on his statements? No, we must check up, estimate and fix the amount due. I always get back to that expression, 'Let us fix the amount, and when that is done Great Britain will be seen close beside France in demanding payment.'"

"I have," continued Mr. Lloyd George, "testified by acts and not only by words to my friendship and admiration for the French democracy. We fought together, conquered together, and must not renounce, in peace the arrangements that in the past were dear to my heart. In return, the French people must not think I am become an enemy because I speak as a business man and as a realist. Friends should speak truth to each other and defend the system which seems best to conform with their common interests. Once the decision is reached then we will stand elbow to elbow."

PARLOR BOLSHEVIST MERELY A PARASITE

But Working Bolshevik Is a Real Menace, Says Judge
Riddell in New York.

New York, Nov. 21.—The whole American continent is menaced by Bolshevism and all the peoples should work together to repulse its assaults, Justice William F. Riddell, of the Ontario supreme court, said here last night in an address at the annual dinner of the Canadian Society.

Characterizing the "parlor Bolshevik" as a "parasite who repays warmth and comfort by petty annoyance and irritation," he suggested that "this nuisance be given an opportunity to try living under the rule he propagates. Let them have the experience of being forced to join a Bolshevik—the fate of the hundred or more enthusiasts recently deported from the United States."

Justice Riddell said the real working Bolshevik is to be feared, because of his insidious propaganda and activities, and that the people of both the great nations of the American continent should band themselves together to fight "this treacherous, wholly unreliable fanatic."

"It is not of vital importance to the world," he added, "whether or not the League of Nations is adopted. The whole future of the world ultimately will rest upon the peace, harmony, and unity of the English-speaking peoples."

The speaker said that if he were called upon to prophesy, he would say "whatever is to be said of military and naval strength, the combined fleets of Great Britain and the United States can command and enforce peace at the peril of unutterable war."

QUEEN OF ROMANIA ARRIVES IN LUCERNE

Lucerne, Nov. 21.—Queen Marie of Rumania arrived here today in connection with the announcement of the engagement of Crown Prince Charles of Rumania to Princess Helen of Greece.

Prince Nicholas, brother of former King Constantine, will join Prince Andrew and Prince Christopher at Brindisi, and together they will return to Athens. Prince Christopher is reported to have left Rome with Prince Andrew Saturday night.

TO DISCUSS TRICKY MOVES IN ATHENS

Lloyd George and Leygues to Face Near East Crisis.

From The Sunday World.

Athens, Nov. 20.—The Greek people will vote on November 23 on the question of the return of ex-King Constantine to the throne. The cabinet has decided for a plebiscite on this question on the date named.

Constantine has cabled the cabinet he will await the result of the plebiscite before returning to Greece.

Paris, Nov. 20.—Paul Cambon, former French ambassador to Great Britain, submitted to the French foreign office yesterday a note declaring the return of former King Constantine to the Greek throne would be "intolerable." He said that if such a step was imminent, Greece should be warned the allies could not maintain friendly relations with her.

M. Cambon proposed that Premiers Lloyd George and Leygues meet soon to examine questions relative to the near east, especially the carrying out by Turkey of the treaty she negotiated with the allies.

Pro-Germans in Favor.

Athens, Nov. 20.—All foreign ministers accredited to the Greek government have called officially on George Rallis, the premier of the de facto Greek government.

It is rumored that chief command of the Greek army will be given to Prince Andreas, brother of former King Constantine.

General amnesty has been granted to about 100 German-trained Greek army officers who had been interned on the island of Crete on charges that they had delivered Macedonia over to the Bulgarians during the war. Those officers are returning to resume their places in the army.

It is declared by the cabinet's newspaper organ that grave irregularities have been discovered by the new minister of finance. The absconding of a prison director under the former regime, with government funds, also is announced.

Attempts are being made by the government to put a stop to the sporadic use of firearms in various parts of the city. Soldiers have been put on guard outside the residence of M. Politis, former minister of foreign affairs, after the windows of the house had been smashed by a crowd.

Turkey a Problem.

Paris, Nov. 20.—The premiers of France and Great Britain will probably meet in London soon for a conference which is considered necessary because of the serious situation in the near east. A staff of experts will, it is understood, take part in the meeting.

The conference will determine upon joint action relative to three questions: the defeat of Premier Venizelos of Greece, which brings into question the status of the Greek army in Asia Minor; the advance of the Russian Bolsheviks in the new states of the Caucasus region, particularly the co-operation of the Bolsheviks with the Turkish Nationalists, and the consequences of the defeat of General Baron Wrangel, head of the South Russian government.

Poland is Alarmed.

London, Nov. 20.—The Russian Soviet government declares in a wireless message from Moscow that it is compelled to carry the war into the neutral zone between Poland and Russia because of the attacks being made on the Soviet forces by General Bala-kovitch, in command of Polish volunteer forces, which refuse to cease fighting when the Polish-Russian peace was made, says an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Berlin today.

Reports from Warsaw, adds the despatch, suggest that Poland is fearful of Russia's intentions, as fifteen Russian divisions are concentrated on the Polish line.

On to Vladivostok.

Pekin, Nov. 20.—The Bolsheviks have resumed their attacks against the anti-Bolshevik forces in eastern Siberia and have captured Borgia, on the trans-Siberian Railway, 215 miles southeast of Chita.

General Semenov, the anti-Bolshevik Cossack leader, is operating from Manchuria station, 70 miles southeast of Borgia, and many of his troops have entered Chinese territory and been disarmed. Cars loaded with troops to Khailai, 50 miles east of Manchuria station, and within the railway zone.

The Soviets appear to have openly taken direction of affairs in the far east. They have ordered the wiping out of the forces of General Semenov and those commanded by the late General Krasnov.

London, Nov. 20.—The capture of Proskurov, in Podolia, 50 miles north of Kamenetz-Podolsk, by Russian Soviet troops operating against the Ukrainians, is announced in a wireless despatch from Moscow today. The capture was effected Friday by the Katesky brigade. The Ukrainians are reported retreating in disorder.

Thursday.

From The Sunday World.
Windsor, Nov. 20.—Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin appeared in court this morning for arraignment on a charge of "killing and slaying" Beverly Trumble, at Chappell House on November 6.

Crown Attorney Rodd demanded bail of $10,000 in two securities of $5,000, which was furnished by James A. Stone of Sandwich, and William Wright.

Magistrate Gundy adjourned the hearing until Thursday, November 25, when Mr. Spracklin will again come before the local court for a preliminary enquiry.

Crown Attorney Rodd laid the information against Mr. Spracklin before Magistrate Gundy yesterday, and R. L. Bracklin, counsel for Spracklin, undertook to produce his client for arraignment today.

May Delay and "Plead."

On Thursday Mr. Spracklin will be given the option of being tried in the local court or before the next court of competent jurisdiction; he will also, if he chooses, enter a plea of "guilty" or "not guilty."

W. R. Furlong, attorney for Mrs. Trumble, widow of the deceased, stated this morning that the "only action he had taken so far was to to advocate the arraignment of Spracklin, and now that the crown had acted, his immediate interest in the case ended.

As to whether Mrs. Trumble would take steps, said Mr. Furlong, to obtain compensation was a matter yet to be decided.

NINE LOSE LIVES IN NEW YORK FIRE

Two Families in Apartment
House Are Almost Wiped Out.

From The Sunday World.
New York, Nov. 20.—Nine persons, constituting every member but one of two entire families, lost their lives here early today in a fire which destroyed a five-story apartment house at 307 West 146th st.

Fourteen other families escaped or were rescued by firemen.

Originating, fire authorities say, in a baby carriage on the first floor of the brick structure, the fire swept upward thru open stairways, cutting off escape thru the halls.

Nearly a hundred men, women and children, clad in night clothes, swarmed to the fire escapes, some making their way to the ground, while others huddled terror-stricken on platforms in mid-air until carried to safety.

The dead were all found on the fifth and top floor after the flames had been controlled.

SEEK TO MINIMIZE SHORTAGE OF COAL

Municipalities Will Appoint
Controllers to Enforce Regulations.

WASTAGE WARNING Drastic Action Will Be Taken in Interests of Public Safety.

H. A. Harrington, fuel administrator for Ontario, has issued the following statement on the coal situation:

"The rules and regulations issued by the board of railway commissioners as fuel controller for Canada, under the powers conferred by parliament of Canada, are now in the hands of the municipal authorities and coal-dealers throughout the province.

"Municipalities have been requested to promptly appoint a fuel commissioner, whose powers and duties are defined by the regulations, and coal dealers are requested to heartily co-operate with their fuel commissioner so that our combined efforts will minimize to the greatest extent the danger of shortage of domestic coal.

"As a result of the untiring efforts of the coal dealers to secure supplies early in the season, any necessity of drastic orders restricting deliveries of coal have been so far deemed unnecessary, but this in no wise relieves the consumer of the essential obligation of conservation, and all consumers throughout the province are warned that evidence of waste will be thoroughly sifted, and if justified, drastic action will be taken in the interest of public safety.

Central Ontario Shortage.

"In central Ontario, we are now 155,000 tons short of our normal supply of anthracite; the effects of such a shortage have not been very evident, due to the mild weather and careful distribution, but it must be remembered the winter is only beginning; we have four months before us, and while I firmly believe the severe winter of last year will not be repeated, and that no serious snow blockades will occur, yet the great shortage here, and the huge shortage at the mines will keep all concerned constantly on the move. To further lessen the dangers, I have urged the briquette manufacturers to speed up production, and coal dealers are now advised in the interests of their communities to avail themselves promptly of this very satisfactory substitute.

No Need to Suffer.

"Consumers must discard the idea that they can secure whatever size coal they want; we are rapidly approaching the time when we must take what we are offered, or go without. In order to secure larger sizes of anthracite, the dealer is obliged to take a proportion of pea coal, and the consumer in turn must accommodate himself to the situation, and take his share.

"There is no necessity of any one suffering, there being plenty of substitute available. Many consumers have adapted themselves to the use of smokeless soft coal, which is now plentiful.

"The continuous diminution of anthracite production, the great deficit to be faced next year, and the rapid increase in population, call for firm co-operation, if our homes are to be kept warm now and in the future."

This chart requests full co-operation of both patients and physicians to the end desired. It requests information as to dates of treatment, clinical diagnoses, improvement, if any, noted and when and how.

A prominent member of the committee stated that if a quick report is brought in it would not satisfy anyone. The report may not be brought in for several months.

FINANCIAL TOPIC FOR CANADIAN CLUB LUNCH

J. H. Gundy will address the Canadian Club at the lunch to be held at the King Edward today. His topic will be "The International Financial Conference at Brussels."

Mr. Gundy was one of Canada's three representatives at the Brussels Conference—the first conference of its kind held in the world, so that the club has now reached the stage where its members make history and can describe to us the process with intimate first-hand knowledge. Mr. Gundy will describe the proceedings of the conference, which was attended by delegates of 39 nations and dealt with such all-important questions as the return to gold standard, the institution of an international currency, the artificial limitations of the course of exchange, and other equally important questions.

GOLDEN AGE SPIRIT PRESENT-DAY NEED

Christians and Churches Must
Return to It, Dr. Ribourg
Says.

Rev. Dr. Ribourg, preaching at St. Alban's Cathedral, last evening on "The Lord's Witnesses," said in part: "In the midst of our modern unbelieving world, every true disciple of Jesus Christ should be a living witness of God's power to save and to redeem."

"The Christian Church will only be able to serve mankind effectively at this juncture of the world's state just insofar as she realizes that she exists, not for herself at all, but for humanity and for the interests of the kingdom of God. Too many church members today are thinking more of their own interests and of the interests of their own little organization than they do of humanity's interests. No man can live unto himself, neither can an organization. A man or a society who live for themselves alone, will dry up and die without imparting a blessing to others. The stagnant pool imparts no freshness outside of its own neighborhood, and it finally dries up, while the stream gives life, beauty and freshness wherever its pure and refreshing waters flow.

"If Christian people and Christian communities are to be witnesses to God in this age, they cannot live for themselves, but for the world and for the larger interests of God's kingdom.

"This was the spirit of the apostolic age. The men of those days gave themselves to the cause of their Master, and stood four-square to the winds that blew, true witnesses to Christ and His Kingdom to the higher ideals.

"The same self-surrender to these same ideals of the kingdom of God is demanded of Christians today, and so before the interests of God's cause and humanity's cause, all self-interest must yield, or else they shall be treated by the men of the 20th century as the salt that has lost its savor, and shall be trodden under men's feet.

"The apostolic age was the golden age of the church; it produced true witnesses to God's kingdom, and to the spirit of that age, should the Christians and the churches of today return."

DELD ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE

From The Sunday World.

"Not guilty" was the verdict given Saturday afternoon by the jury who sat on the Ramush Hassan murder case.

In addressing the jury, Judge Lennox carefully reviewed the case and charged the jury with a sane impartial view of the points.

"As far as I know," said Judge Lennox, "there is not one particle of evidence to show that the murder was committed on March 4 or at any subsequent time. Hassan may have been murdered in the place. He was in the habit of frequenting a house in the eastern part of the city for gambling purposes; murders arising out of gambling are not unknown.

"The witness Adosey was very active and he may or may not be an honest man. I cannot attach any importance to the evidence of the accused, but there was a warm comradeship between Bell and Hassan."

Judge Lennox stated further that in all his nine years on the bench the present case was the first in which he had the happy experience of charging in favor of the prisoner.

The crown's case rested on Manomet's evidence as to having seen Bell throw away the purse belonging to Hassan, but the judge continued, Manomet had destroyed the evidence in that he threw away the purse and defaced the coin therein and if Manomet's evidence could not be relied on, not one little of evidence was there on which the crown could rest its case.

"The crown has no case," said the judge. "It only places impartially before you all the facts of the case."

In his address to the prisoner in the dock, Judge Lennox deplored his attitude toward women, as established in the trial, and adjured him to live up to a better standard in the future.

"If you are guilty, you will go out from here with a guilty conscience," said the judge. "British law has done its duty."

FLOCK TO TORONTO VAINLY SEEKING WORK

From The Sunday World.

A steady influx of men and women to Toronto from other cities and from the farms of western Ontario and Canada has given rise to a solemn warning issued yesterday by J. A. Miller, superintendent of the Ontario employment bureau, that persons intending to come to Toronto for employment would be well advised to keep out of Toronto.

"People come here from all parts of Canada, and they seem to have the idea that there is plenty of work for them. They are all wrong," declared Mr. Miller yesterday afternoon. Mr. Miller said there had been no improvement in the labor situation in the past week.

There was a fairly steady demand for men in the rural and country communities of the province for hard, rough work and every effort was being made to induce young, strong single men to accept the vacancies.

FIREMEN STRAYED IN RUSH TO BLAZE

Mix-Up Causes Half-Hour Delay and House Partly Burned.

From The Sunday World.

Answering a call to a fire at 442 Duplex avenue, the North Toronto fire department early Saturday morning got lost and galloped out Yonge street to Stop 26, two miles away before they pulled up. After getting on the right scent, they arrived at the fire, the home of J. Sovey, half an hour after the call was turned in, and found the blaze was only 150 yards from the station. The fire, which it is stated, was caused by defective wiring and mice nibbling at the insulation, was first discovered by one of the children who screamed out smoke. Mrs. Sovey, whose husband is employed at the postoffice, was on duty at the time, called Coach Blake, who after phoning for the brigade, proceeded to the house which is next door, where he found the woman and children huddled partially dressed on the balcony, having done nothing to stem the outbreak. He commenced to get the furniture from his own house as the brigade did not appear, as by this time the flames had reached an alarming stage, but after waiting a further twenty minutes, he called the fire chief, who came with a staff of spare men. After an hour's fight the flames were subdued, but not until damage to the extent of about $400 had been caused thru fire and water, while much damage was caused to neighboring houses thru smoke.

Twenty appeals have been lodged by the assessment commissioner, including those against the reduction of the business tax on several large firms from the 60 per cent. to the 25 per cent. basis. Objection is also taken by the assessment department to the reduction by $20 a foot of the assessment levied on Danforth properties, numbering from 289 to 299 and 302.

PIONEER MERCHANT DIED ON SATURDAY

Population Was Only
Forty Thousand.

From The Sunday World.

The oldest Yonge street merchant died on Saturday morning at two o'clock in the person of W. D. McIntosh, aged 85, 55 Grenville street, who was ill only a few weeks before it was definitely known that he could not recover. They Still Need Your Heart and Your Dollars

There isn't any argument about "whether it's so, or what the facts are, or who it's up to." That's all covered in this one statement:

"The Federation lifts from your shoulders the whole burden of finding out who is deserving and who isn't. It enables you to give, in one sum, the money which you, as a good citizen, set aside for those less fortunate."

Just remember—for the work the 47 Toronto Charities did last year it took $30,000 a month (actual budget figures). And this work—this giving tender, careful, comforting assistance to Toronto's poor old people—this providing guidance and clothes and training to Toronto's wee, parentless babes—this saving of young boys and girls from waywardness and carelessness—and this keeping control of contagious and dangerous disease—was all done, and all well done, under Federation.

Say, Toronto people, will you help again? Will you get behind Toronto's Federation for Community Service—this voluntary citizens' committee that sends every dollar to charity?

Will you not say: "Carry on, Federation?"

Won't you help it extend its great work?

Won't you subscribe liberally to the forthcoming campaign for greatly needed funds?

Just once a year, remember, Federation asks this help. The canvass for 1921 comes on November 30th, December 1st, 2nd and 3rd. And the 1921 Budget calls for $450,000. Every cent is needed. Give—and give gladly!

MONDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 22.

A Great Canadian Salmon River.

Lord Lansdowne is now getting up in years: a man whose mind has been much perturbed by politics, by the uncertainties of this world, by the cares of high office, by the rough criticism that his views in regard to Germany and the Kaiser brought to him in press, on platform, in parliament, toward the end of the late war; but notwithstanding all this experience he has found time in the current Blackwood (November, 1920), to tell of his salmon fishing days on the Grand Cascape river on the 'Gaspé peninsula when he was governor-general of Canada; a river that since the arrival of Lord Lorne has been fished by all the viceroys of Ottawa.

Lord Lansdowne is a model writer whether on drafting a state paper, conducting a political controversy, most of all a charming letter writer, some correspondents say. He is a lover of the farm, a very practical farmer and breeder, most of all a lover of nature, and no one has better told in simple style the glories of a Canadian river, its waters, its densely wooded banks, the fragrance of its balsam-poplar buds, its pools, its pebbles, canemans and axmen, its salmon that are caught from twenty to fifty pounds in weight and are good fighters for their lives. By this article the noble author shows himself more than anything else a lover of salmon fishing; and it is a good sign of a world becoming normal again to see this tried Tory veteran taking up his pen to tell of the sport of salmon fishing on one of the greatest salmon rivers in the world.

Lord Lansdowne's style is so clear, so simple and so ordinary, if the term may be used, that all boastfulness is avoided in telling of the taking of these great denizens of the salmon pools of the Gaspé country.

Most of the article is descriptive in one short sentence the fisherman gives a summary of the four year fishing (all about seasons of six weeks each), of himself, his staff and friends on the Cascape, as follows:

We caught amongst us during the four seasons 1245 salmon, weighing 23,133 lbs., an average of 23.1-2 lbs.; 210 of these fish weighed 50 lbs. and over and the largest 120 lbs. The high average weight of our fish compels attention.

Lord Lansdowne's description of the river country, its flowers, its berries, wild strawberries, its river men and their ability with the pole, the canoe, the ax; also of the wild animals, most of all of the trees, shows him to have been a keen observer and a naturalist at heart.

Incidentally, the writer mentions the sea-trout that also frequent this river and esteemed to be a game fish than the lordly salmon, and whose eating, he admits, is unequalled.

But we close our short reference to a most readable article, at least to those who know that Gaspian paradise of summer, by quoting the three closing paragraphs:

One more adventure. I have seen it said that "all fishermen are liars," and on the strength of the story that I am going to tell I shall perhaps qualify for enrolment in the fraternity.

One day in June I was applying my principles to a very stout fish, keeping him near the canoe in the clear water, and checking him whenever he tried to take soundings. After he had made one or two strong drives and been met with an equally strong application of the butt, he suddenly yielded to the pressure, shot up to the surface within two or three feet of us, threw himself high out of the water, and landed almost in Noel's arms between the thighs of the canoe. He would certainly have jumped overboard again had not Noel driven the gaff firmly into his side.

All this happened on a Saturday. On Sundays there used to be a great gathering of the boatmen at Woodman's Farm. On the following Monday Noel asked me whether he had said anything to his friends about my fish. He replied that he had told Mr. Woodman all about it. "What," I asked, "did Mr. Woodman say?" "He said," replied Noel, "for me to come in and have a glass of whiskey," and with this oracular utterance my story must end.

Many years after I had said good-bye to the Cascape, I happened on a warm June evening to be passing through the back garden of a London house, in which half a dozen grimy trees were struggling into leaf amid a dingy and depressing environment. Suddenly something took me away from London and back to Canada and to the river. What was it? There was a reason. One of the trees was a poplar, a balsam poplar; there were the sticky buds and the aromatic and intoxicating scent. For a moment I seemed to see the old sights, to smell the old smells, to hear the old sounds—the rush of the rapids, the perfume of the forest, the clinking of the iron shod poles, as the canoe forged its way upwards to the Middle Camp or to Lazybogan.

The Old Subject in a New Form.

If there be one subject more than another that has been worn threadbare of late it is the great movement of population from rural to urban districts. The U.F.O. blame it on the tariff, some serious-minded people blame it on the movies, and others see in it the growing disinclination of white people to do any hard work. The American Review of Reviews, in a recent number, points with alarm to the story told by the last census. If its figures be correct there are two hundred thousand fewer people living on farms today than there were ten years ago, while their percentage of the whole population is only about forty instead of fifty per cent. as in 1910. Even counting as country people those persons living in villages of less than twenty-five hundred, the "rural population" of the United States is under fifty per cent.

The Review, however, gives one reason for migration cityward of late, which is often overlooked, and that is the vast improvement which has occurred in city life. People used to prefer the country because it was healthier, but modern sanitation has so improved city conditions that people in the cities live longer now than they do in the country. The modern city is as a rule well lighted and well policed. It is also well paved, and every child is assured of a liberal education. The city, in short, has improved faster than the country, which, in many parts of the United States at least, has poor roads, poor schools and no light at all except the farmer's lantern. The suggestion is, therefore, put forward that conditions be made more tolerable in the rural districts by the various state governments assisting the rural municipalities in a financial way toward better roads, better schools, and better methods of communication.

This is a roundabout way of saying that the city dwellers should be taxed for the benefit of their country cousins. In a state like New York, the bulk of the state taxes are collected from the cities. More than half the state's population, for example, lives in the one city of New York. Yet if the problem be as grave as some people think it is, the city dwellers might profit as well as the community at large by a scheme of this kind. But these students of the census and solvers of national problems are never able to tell us why the farms from which the owners are said to be fleeing are selling at a higher price than ever before. In some states, like Iowa, land has become so costly that even well-to-do farmers in the tenant class, in Canada, farm land is undoubtedly higher today than it ever has been. Anyone who spends a few days in a rural district of Ontario during a by-election, will come to the conclusion that a much larger percentage of people use automobiles in the country than they do in the city, and owning an automobile in these latter days has come to be the acid test.

Perhaps ambition has a good deal to do with the boy or girl leaving the old farm. Mr. Meighen may be a "farmer boy premier," but he would be a farmer boy without being a premier if he had stayed on the farm. The country lad observes that while visiting statesmen express their admiration for rural life, they themselves remain in the cities. The preachers, lay and clerical, including the editors who chant of rural felicity, take it out in chanting, and never see a field of grain except from the car window. The movement citywards is a movement so worldwide that we fear no literary Mrs. Partington can ever stem it with verbal broom and mop.

Remark in Passing.

You've got to do that Christmas shopping eventually, why not start in now? The shops will never be better able to serve you.

This is the day on which Ald. Honeyford will explain to council how working men with large incomes may escape taxation on the same.

They say diamonds will never be cheaper than they now are. Thus even the plumber and the coal merchant can safely do their Christmas shopping now.

The board of control is determined that R. J. Fleming's Jersey cows will never see the inside of the live stock arena until the T. S. R. percentages are paid to the city.

Something there is about the way in which the new deputy magistrate, J. Edmund Jones, sets about his duty that gives room for hope of better days for the unfortunate brought by circumstances for the first time into the police court.

The board of control have a recommendation before council today for the building of a juvenile court and detention home at a cost of $200,000. There is a large body of public opinion behind the view that this claim could wait until the strain on the city's finances eases a little.

The papers that have been making anti-government capital out of the so-called soldier disturbances attendant upon the Meighen meeting in Massey Hall Friday last are fair to neither the great body of returned men nor to the mass of the people of Canada.

This paper is in daily receipt of letters from World readers commenting upon the Spracklin case. Since that case has reached the courts and a trial is assured the matter is not properly one for newspaper comment and are therefore do not feel at liberty to publish the letters.

MR. PUBLIC: Say!!! Cut it out!!!

The government's determination to at once reopen the yards of the Dominion Shipbuilding Company will mean a happy Christmas for a thousand men who will go back to work there, and for many others who will get the jobs that would otherwise have been filled by idle shipbuilders.

OTHER PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

The World will gladly print under this heading letters written by our readers, dealing with current topics. As space is limited they must not be longer than 200 words and written on the side of the paper only.

FOR TAX REFORM.

Editor World: The bylaw for tax reform will have its first reading Monday afternoon. The introduction by Ald. Honeyford will give the aldermen of 1920 a chance to make good for democracy.

It is a straight challenge to the despot who has had a hand in the freedom and democracy during the last five years. Will we find that spirit living in the city council? Our boys that are sleeping over there died for these principles.

The bylaw is to exempt products of labor, improvements, business income, from taxation, and place it on unearned income (land value). To the extent of 25 per cent.

The taxpayer is asked to vote yes or no. There should be a great demonstration at the city hall to back this very important measure for progress and enterprise. The introduction of the bylaw will reverse, retard and stifle industry for the benefit of a few speculators and grocers. The people have voted in favor of similar measures three times in the last fifteen years, and each time in increasing numbers, but it has been shelved because the Ontario legislature has provided for its enforcement.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

(From Forbes Magazine.) Does it pay better in lower prices a little bit here and a little bit there, or to make only one bite of the price-cutting cherry? It would seem as if the best results have been scored by those who acted decisively and then made a noise about their course. The public like to think they are getting a bargain. When they read a big ad. that at certain store prices have been slashed round, they are inclined to swoop down and take advantage of the lower prices. The merchant who takes such a stand reaps a lot of credit, whereas another merchant whose price levels may, on the whole, be just as low, will get no applause if his reductions have been made piecemeal and unspectacularly. There is a story to be told next to the fact that a certain store knocked an egg from the table. Turning to the veteran Senator, who nervously exclaimed, "Oh, Mr. Dew, whatever shall I do? I've dropped an egg." "Cackle, madam, cackle!" was his retort. The merchant or manufacturer who drops his prices should do a little cackling these days. It helps to win applause and to move goods.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS.

To W. K. Pearce, assistant general manager Dominion Bank, born Nov. 22, 1863.

An east-end church is out of debt, no more the church officials sweat to raise the interest when it's due, they now can sit and say "we're thru." This church's mortgage has been paid off. If only we could do the same and see our debts go up in flame, we'd hold a ceremony too by getting together in a store—or failing that we'd cut the way they used to do before, because their burden is no more. In fact the latest news we learn is that the mortgage they will burn, and amidst the audience's acclaims, they'll throw the papers in the flames. A ceremony they will hold this very night, so we are told, to celebrate with joyful gas the fact that now from debt they're free. We are glad at their relief, we've got our own blame private grief. While at their freedom we rejoice, we can't keep envy from our voice, and we to make this wish seems base, we would that we were in their place that at our fellows we could scoff and say, "My debts are paid off, too, I'm free. I could do the same and see our debts go up in flame, we'd hold a ceremony too by getting together in a store—or failing that we'd cut the way they used to do before, because their burden is no more. VARSITY READY TO MEET ARGOS FOR CANADIAN CHAMPIONSHIP

PERFECT PLAY WON TITLE FOR VARSITY ARGONAUTS WON IN LAST QUARTER

The McGill Backs Were Weak in Catching, Kicking and Running.

Kingston, Nov. 20.—Varsity are senior intercollegiate champions. In one of the most exciting games ever played on the local gridiron, McGill but the dust to the tune of 14 to 6. Varsity emerged winners of the Intercollegiate Union. The inferior work of the McGill back division was directly responsible for the defeat of the Varsity team. Flanagan, Russell and Little played below form. They failed to kick or catch, and their running was poor. Almost every other kick from the Varsity half was fumbled by the McGill backs, and even the desperate charges, which shagreened made in the second, third and last quarters, availed nothing.

Varsity played perfectly throughout the game. Snyder, Brown and McKenzie, on the back division, never played better in their lives. Snyder's kicking throughout was wonderful. He handled the most of the kicking and together with Brown and McKenzie played faultlessly. As was expected, the back division made the turning point, as the remainder of the two teams were much on a par.

McGill's line held on Varsity's thrust the entire game, but the kicking tactics of Varsity, coupled with the fumbling of the McGill backs, allowed the Toronto team to win.

Remarkable Game. The game was a remarkable one throughout. Over 5,000 fans crowded the stands and the afternoon was a gala one. Varsity's outnumbers McGill almost two to one and throughout the game they showed their superiority. A battery of moving picture machines were on the job and filmed parts of the game, while the added feature to the day was the presence of the R.C.M.P. band. General Currie, principal of McGill University, was a visitor and sat throughout the game in the grand stand. A very cold north-east wind blew all afternoon and made the field was in remarkably good shape for the game, with only spots on the side lines being muddy. Shagreened offered no apologies for losing. The team failed to play anything near its regular form and Varsity won on its merits.

There was no doubt as to the superior team. Varsity showed better condition throughout. Anderson, Netman and Ambrose played exceptionally well for McGill, but they were accorded little support, while the Varsity team played a well-rounded game.

The teams left at 8.30 for their homes, with the weather looking for the special trains shortly after.

After the game Varsity fans went fairly wild and ran over the McGill goal-line for a touchdown, which McKenzie failed to convert.

Then in the second Snyder kicked over the McGill goal-line to Flanagan, who muffed, and Duncanson fell on the ball to prevent a touchdown, three points, which McKenzie failed to convert.

In the final period McGill desperately to avoid a whitewash. Anderson went around the right end after catching a punt and carried the ball to Varsity's 10-yard line. On the third down Ambrose bucked over the Varsity line for a touchdown, which McKenzie converted. Score and teams:

Breen the Best Man. Capt. Breen of Varsity was easily the best man on the field. Murray, who replaced Hobbs, did most effective work, but Varsity players all did so well that it is impossible to single out any particular player for special mention. McGill's players seemed all to be pretty well off color. Notman, however, did some good work, but Flanagan was a disappointment. The game was a strenuous one, but clear one, most of the penalties inflicted being for holding.

A number of players received minor number of casualties. The field was in excellent playing condition, being capable of the very best football. The atmosphere, however, was too chilly for the comfort of the spectators, and at half-time everybody was moving about to get up circulation. The attendance fell below anticipation, but it is estimated, only about four thousand. It is present, whereas between five thousand and six thousand had been expected.

PENN STATE SOCCER TEAM COMING. An international soccer match, which may develop into an annual affair, is slated for the Varsity Stadium on Wednesday afternoon, when the touring eleven representing the State College of Pennsylvania will play the University of Toronto team, intercollegiate champions. Soccer is firmly established at Penn State, and the tourists have a very strong aggregation—one that should give the local students a hard game.

All Argonauts. Toronto's Argonauts beat Toronto in the Canadian Rugby Football Union semi-final on a field covered with slush and snow before a crowd of 3,500, who shivered in the cold Saturday at Varsity. It was a peculiar contest, the best features being the clever manner in which it was handled by Referee Hugh Hall, assisted by Ben. Simpson and Bob Ishler, and the wonderful form displayed by the Toronto centre-half back, Connacher. He looks the best of the year, his weakest point being his booting, which, however, was equal to Batstone's on Saturday. He has everything, including size, speed, and courage, quickness, a stiff arm, and is at all times a fair, smiling player. His work the first two periods was brilliant in the game, and the third made them look like winners. Then in the last quarter Argonauts came right back with a spirit and the dash that turned the tide.

The Blocked Kick. Batstone's blocked kick the third period went behind his own line, where there was a scramble, and Dedrichy scored for an unearned try, three points. This was the ruling of Galt, and there was talk of protest, but nothing definite has been given out.

No Varsity Casualty; Bradfield Breaks Leg

The Varsity cohorts returned from Kingston Saturday little the worse physically, and a lot richer financially as a result of the walloping they handed out to McGill. The Varsity players were praised for their kicking of Laddie Cassels, the wonderful kicking of Snyder, and the good work of the Varsity line. Ed. Konetchy, first baseman of the Brooklyn National League team, has been named as the manager of the 1921 team. The only players who have signed so far are Manager Wilbert Robinson and Ivan Olson.

Rumor has it that Lee Fohl will be the manager of the St. Louis Browns. He has been coach at St. Louis. The reason Jimmy Burke quit was because of friction with Bobby Quinn, Phil Ball's business manager.

BILLY MORRISON SAYS McGILL BACKS WORSE THAN PREPS

Montreal, Nov. 22.—William Morrison, writing this morning in The Gazette, says of Saturday's intercollegiate championship game:

Two victories out of a series of three games between the McGill and University of Toronto rugby teams has definitely determined the superiority of the Varsity players. In the game at Kingston on Saturday, the McGill backs were outplayed by the Varsity backs. McGill's trio played in mediocre style, not even worthy of a "prep" school half-back line. They showed poor judgment at all times, fumbled catches, and even went further than that—to mix up their signals, which, no doubt, cost the team a touchdown in the earlier stages, which, however, were secured, might have altered the trend of the play.

The play in the backfield and line divisions of the game on Saturday furnished an interesting comparison. The victory was not that of one coach over another, but a demonstration of natural football ability and temperament. While the Toronto halfbacks gained confidence as the game progressed, the McGill trio became more unsettled and uncertain in their efforts, and even changes by the use of substitutes failed in the effort to steady the line down.

In kicking, Varsity can boast of three men who have not been surpassed on any college team since the inception of the intercollegiate Rugby Union, in the autumn of 1884.

The Varsity not only outkicked the McGill backs with the wind, but against it, by using the line, and they showed kicking ability, but running and tackling ability. They used better judgment in the use of their backs, and on one occasion did they fall to

THE mining issues have stood up very much better than have the Industrial, Railroad and other supposedly Standard securities during the recent past. There's a reason! Our Market Despatch tells the story, as well as contains news which should mean very substantial profits to the early buyer.

OLD TELEGRAPHER CALLED BY DEATH

Charles Hill, of Toronto, Dies in Rochester, Following Operation.

News was received today of the death at Rochester, Minn., this morning, of Charles E. Hill, one of the best known telegraphers in Canada. He was a native of Stratford, Ontario, but had lived in Toronto for twenty years. Previously he was employed by the Canadian Pacific Telegraphs at London, Ont.

From January, 1911, Mr. Hill was in the service of Canadian Press, Ltd., but almost two years ago was compelled to give up work, and since then had been making a brave fight against an attack of cancer. He had to undergo several operations in Toronto, and on Friday, at Rochester, what was hoped would prove to be the final and successful operation was performed. He telegraphed on Saturday that the operation had been successful, and that he was doing as well as could be expected. Today, however, friends received word of his death.

Mr. Hill had been a prominent member of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America since its inception, and for years was a member of the executive of that organization.

STOLEN CAR HITS AND INJURES BOY

William Bristol Victim of
Auto Collision—Drivers Escape.

William Bristol, aged 16, of 21 Priceland road, received slight head injuries at 8 o'clock on Sunday night when the auto in which he was riding was struck by a stolen car at College street and Euclid avenue. The two occupants of the latter auto fled from the scene of the accident and made good their escape.

The auto, which the two auto thieves were driving, was owned by E. C. Thipps, 15 Oakmount road, and was stolen from outside the Presbyterian church at the corner of College and Bathurst, just about ten minutes prior to the accident. E. S. Foster, of Albany street, was driving the auto in which Bristol was a passenger. He was proceeding east on the south side of College street when at Euclid avenue his auto was struck by the other car, which was turning off College to go south on Euclid.

Bristol was taken to the Western Hospital in Spence's private ambulance, which happened to be passing at that time.

WIRES SAY GOVERNMENT SURE WINNER IN ELGIN

Elgin, Ont., Nov. 21.—Two telegrams received by Premier Meighen from Vernon, B.C., on his way to address a meeting here on Saturday, announced the assurance that "McKelvie, the government candidate, is a sure winner over Edgett, the Farmers' League candidate, by at least 1,000 majority." The messages were signed by Thomas Bulman, president of British Columbia Grain Growers.

LAY OFF MORE WORKERS OF M. C. R. IN ONTARIO

St. Thomas, Ont., Nov. 21.—Another 10 per cent. of the employees of the Michigan Central shops will be laid off Monday. Although the staff is being gradually reduced, the men claim there is much unfinished work to be done. The older men see in the periodical reduction of the staff the possibility of the company making the piecework system a permanent institution in the shops.

WELL-KNOWN TORONTO WOMAN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. J. W. Dunn Had Resided in the City All Her Life and Was Highly Esteemed.

The death of Mrs. Jesse W. Dunn at the family residence in Parkdale, and the funeral obsequies, have given rise to the most profound regret, especially in the western part of the city, where she was widely known and highly esteemed.

Until within the last two or three weeks Mrs. Dunn had been in her usual health, and her sudden demise, the result of a stroke, came as a great shock to the members of her family and the community in general. Her maiden name was Rebecca Jane Brock. She was born in this city and practically the whole of her life had been spent here. For more than 45 years she and her esteemed husband had trod life's pathway together, and the members of the family were looking forward with pleasurable anticipation to the celebration next summer of the anniversary of their golden wedding.

Mrs. Dunn is survived by her husband, Jesse W. Dunn, for many years associated with the well-known cattle exporting firm of J. and J. W. Dunn of this city. The members of the family are: Mrs. T. N. Hay of Ottawa, Mrs. S. S. Mulheims, Mrs. Jo Lewis, daughters of Toronto, and one son, Wesley, of the well-known commission house of Dunn & Leveck, Union Stock Yards Exchange, Toronto, and two daughters, Miss Clara and Miss Trantz, at home.

Other members of the family are a sister, Miss A. C. Brock, and a brother, Rev. George H. Brock, of India, who during the summer returned home on furlough and spent a delightful two or three months at the family residence, 28 Hallow street. The funeral services of a private nature were conducted by Rev. E. N. Baker of Wesley Methodist Church and Rev. Burgess Brown of St. Barnabas. Of a kindly and generous nature and deeply interested in philanthropic and Christian work, Mrs. Dunn will be greatly missed. The funeral offerings were especially beautiful.

DIES FROM INJURIES

By Auto.

William McCreary, aged 64, of 55 Brookfield avenue, died in the Western Hospital at 1.30 on Sunday morning from injuries received when he was struck and knocked down by an auto at Queen and Brookfield streets at 5.30 p.m. Saturday. Nicolas Stolarak, 272 Sixth street, Toronto, the driver of the auto, was not held by the police.

According to the police, McCreary was crossing Queen street from the south to the north side, when the auto struck him. He was proceeding east on Queen street, when he was struck by the auto. He was taken to the Western Hospital, where he died from a broken collarbone. The body was taken to the morgue, where an inquest will be opened at noon today by Dr. W. H. Butt.

FREE TRADE POLICY WITH BRITAIN ONLY

President of Farmers' Co-operative Society Would Cut Out America.

Free trade with Great Britain only, and not with the United States, was the farmers' policy declared by A. Powers, president of the Farmers' Co-operative Society, yesterday afternoon, when addressing a mixed audience at the forum, Foresters' hall.

The speech had for its object the showing of how rural problems could be solved, but eventually developed into a forthright attack on the tariff policy of the government.

The speaker at some length admitted that the farmers had a great many problems, but that many solutions, he considered that the proper economic conditions which the farmers had in mind would benefit the population at large, and that the free trade policy they advocated that these conditions come about.

Mr. Powers further argued that any measure of free trade that curtailed imports must necessarily cut out the United States, and added it was his opinion that all taxes should be taken off food and raw materials, and all machinery used by the farmer should be free of the soil. The farmers, complained the speaker, had no one to get back at, and they could not afford the high wages as paid in the towns, while the produce they made could only be turned out in a raw state, and further showed that the bankers and manufacturers received the largest share of the profits, since some of them got over 18 per cent. on their capital, a percentage the farmers had never made. All this, he maintained, would be eliminated by their free trade policy, which, in his opinion, would entirely change the economic conditions of the country.

Farmers' Political Position.

Discussing the political position of the farmers, Mr. Powers emphasized that they were just coming into their own, and pointed out that he considered the splendid showing made by the farmers' government in Ontario where, according to the general opinion of every one, everyone was satisfied. Their policy, however, had not the approval of the prime minister, who, the speaker declared, had recently stated that the sums are not large enough.

The mayor says: "Let the people vote on the $250,000 for the commerce school. If the board of education won't accept it as passed at $212,000 by the council, the board said the industrial school over the Don was to cost $400,000, and that the city would only be called upon for $200,000 and the government the same. Now the plans call for a $750,000 building; say that the people should be allowed to vote on both of these."

CIVIC PENSIONS NEXT.

(From The Sunday World.)

By the time the Toronto city council reaches the consideration of the 1921 estimates it is hoped to have a civic pension scheme ready for its consideration. Mr. Thomas Bradshaw, former finance commissioner, is still giving his thoughts and attention to this problem. He is no longer connected with the civic service, it was learned on Saturday.

SPEAKS ON CIVIL SERVICE.

W. D. Gregory, chairman of the Ontario Labor party, addressed the meeting of the Independent Labor party held last evening in Labor Temple, upon the need for reform in various branches of the civil service as confirmed by evidence presented at the sessions of the present commission. He emphasized that the commission was disposed to pay direct increases to civil servants only when their work could be so rearranged as to make them deserving.

LABOR SITUATION BAD AT NIAGARA FRONTIER

Bridgeburg, Nov. 21.—Americans who are coming to Canada seeking work are being discouraged as soon as they arrive here, for working conditions on the immediate border are little better than they are in Buffalo and other large American cities.

Many Americans who have been laid off at the big plants across the river, are daily crossing here seeking employment, but they are finding when they get as far as Welland, Bridgeburg and other places, that they have been deceived.

The labor situation along the border is in fact worse than it is in the interior.

The Canadian Mills Chalmers Co. has practically closed down its ship yards, reducing its force to merely a skeleton. The Michigan Central had made heavy cuts in its car department staff here.

One Buffalo firm that was planning to do some considerable manufacturing here this winter has decided to curtail its plans until better times come.

COAL SHORTAGE IS 165,000 TONS

From The Sunday World.

A shortage of anthracite coal in central Ontario to the extent of 165,000 tons, is stated in a statement issued by Fuel Controller H. A. Harrington. The controller urged the manufacturers of briquettes to speed up the production and advise dealers to take advantage of this substitute.

CANADA FIGHT AT SHAMROCK LODGE

First Degree Exemplified With
Pleasant Evening.

The regular meeting of Shamrock Lodge, A. F. & A. M., No. 533, G.R.C., was held in the Masonic Hall, College street, Wor. Bro. E. W. Leith presiding, associated with him in the East were the following: Right Wor. Bro. H. C. Scully, Wor. Bro. Sutherland, Wor. Bro. Hamilton, Wor. Bro. Francis, Wor. Bro. Garrett, of Winnipeg, and Wor. Bro. Anderson, of Belfast, Ireland. About 200 brethren were present.

The first degree was exemplified with full musical ritual, and the officers are to be congratulated on the manner in which the work was carried out.

At the fourth degree, the Wor. Master, in a few well-chosen remarks, expressed his delight at having Right Wor. Bro. Scully with them again after an absence of several months, caused by a severe illness, and from which he hoped he would have a speedy and lasting recovery. Before making the half-frozen vegetable matter as soon as he stepped from an auto. Ten minutes later half the street was covered with footprints, and the weather grew worse and a freezing mist soon developed into half-frozen rain, while a cold northeast wind searched its way through the thickest clothing.

Automobile cut some extraordinary capers and many "flivers" performed the cutting of the figure eight, while a big car, in attempting to pull up near Carlton, turned completely round and started off uptown again. Few accidents were reported at the local hospitals and most of these were of a minor nature. The city ambulance was called to a lady who fell on Yonge street. She was taken to the General Hospital, but not detained.

MAYOR DESIRES VOTE ON APPROPRIATIONS

Mayor Church favors letting the people vote on two appropriations. One is the board of education for the eastern technical school and the addition to the High School of Commerce. Recently council passed $200,000 for each of these buildings, but it is now said that the sums are not large enough.

The mayor says: "Let the people vote on the $250,000 for the commerce school. If the board of education won't accept it as passed at $212,000 by the council, the board said the industrial school over the Don was to cost $400,000, and that the city would only be called upon for $200,000 and the government the same. Now the plans call for a $750,000 building; say that the people should be allowed to vote on both of these."

Torontonians Keep Within Home Shelter—Few
Accidents Reported.

Very few citizens braved the icy weather of yesterday and those who did venture from their homes practically skated to their destination, while in the north end young men and women donned skates at their homes and speeded off to the evening services.

The morning broke cold and overcast, and an unwary citizen who forgot to don rubbers nearly came to a sudden end on College street, when he slipped just as a street car approached, but managed to slide gracefully clear of the last pair of wheels.

Old men and women tottered along very gingerly and several old ladies asked strange men to give them a hand when boarding cars, while the first guest to arrive at a party on Brankine avenue disappeared over the sidewalk into some half-frozen vegetable matter as soon as he stepped from an auto. Ten minutes later half the street was covered with footprints, and the weather grew worse and a freezing mist soon developed into half-frozen rain, while a cold northeast wind searched its way through the thickest clothing.

FOUR THOUSAND SEEK TO BECOME FIREMEN

(From The Sunday World.)

"Four thousand men are seeking to be fire fighters on the Toronto fire department," said Fire Chief Russell Saturday, when asked how many men were applying to join the brigade.

The chief is working out the new "day off" scheme for the firemen, which will become effective on Jan. 1. The "day off" will then become law all over the province.

To give the firemen one day off a week is going to cost the taxpayers an additional $125,000 a year, the chief said. Chief Russell expects to hire another 100 men, appoint twenty-two new lieutenants and create four new district chiefs.

COMMUNITY SERVICE ASKS VOLUNTARY HELP

In connection with the drive for funds that the 47 charities of the city are putting on the end of this month, it was the first time one day off a week is going to cost the taxpayers an additional $125,000 a year, the chief said. Chief Russell expects to hire another 100 men, appoint twenty-two new lieutenants and create four new district chiefs.

If, however, the city gave a grant to the federation, it would necessarily have to come out of the taxes. This would mean that the public would be paying thru their tax bills as well as by individual subscription, and thus donating twice to the same cause. The Federation for Community Service does not desire this to occur, and therefore all subscriptions must come from the citizens voluntarily to meet the budgets for the forthcoming year.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL TO ENFORCE O. T. A.

From The Sunday World.

The administration of the O. T. A., which has hitherto been under the provincial secretary's department, will within a few days, be taken over by the attorney-general. This move has been foreseen and with the reorganization of the provincial police Mr. Raney will not make any official announcement regarding the matter at present.

TAX REFORM ISSUE
COMES TO COUNCIL

City Fathers Will Open Council Early to Give Time for Big Debate.

(From The Sunday World.)

The council debate on the tax reform proposals of Aldermen Honeyford and Plewman will be staged today and in expectation of a long and vigorous wordy battle, the city fathers will assemble at 11 o'clock. The program is to dispose of routine matters at the morning session, so the boards will be clear for the tax reform motions when council reopens after lunch.

Ald. Honeyford has the following motions before council: For leave to bring in a bill exempting from taxation, except for local improvements and school purposes, for a period not exceeding ten years, dwelling houses assessed at not more than $3,000, owned and occupied by officers or men who have been on active service during the present war with Great Britain or Great Britain's allies; and that a by-law be submitted to the ratepayers on January 1 next, to exempt from taxation 25 per cent. of the assessed value of improvements, income and business assessment; and Ald. Plewman is moving for partial exemption on houses valued under $4,000.

Mayor Church has a motion to instruct the city solicitor to take action in the courts to collect the overdue percentages from the T. S. R. and Ald. Winnett is moving for a vote of the people on the early closing by-law. The by-law appointing a new housing commission will also come before council today, as well as a by-law to authorize a vote of the city on the question of expending $200,000 on the building of stadiums in various parts of the city.
