BANQUET FOR F. B. CARVELL

To Show Appreciation of the New Post Office.

The new post office is completed with the exception of the interior fittings. It is expected that it will be open to the public on April 1st.

Since F. B. Carvell, M.P., was the individual through whom an appropriation for the building was secured, his friends here deem it fitting and proper that united and public appreciation should be shown. Accordingly a committee is arranging a banquet to be held on the evening of March 25. At this writing it is not known where the event will take place as it is not yet known how many will attend.

The primary idea of the banquet being, as stated, to show appreciation for what Mr. Carvell has done for Hartland, it of course, cannot be advertised as a function for the whole constituency. Nevertheless friends from outside the village are invited and those who desire to attend are asked to notify A. L.
Baird, secretary of the local Liberal association, at once, or before Tuesday next. All applications should be submitted in writing, soon as possible, so that the committee may know approximately how many to cater for.
No other invitations than this will be issued.

RAISING HAY TO SELL

Unheard of by Ontario Farmers

Under the caption "Does it pay farmers to raise hay to sell?"
the Toronto Globe publishes a long interview with J. H. Grisdale, Director of the Dominion Experimental Farms. From the title it would seem that this is a thing that Ontario farmers do not practice; the introduction to the article itself points out that "The high price . . . has led a number of farmers to consider exploiting hay as an enterprise of the farm." It is, indeed, evident that Ontario farmers are only beginning to think about selling hay.

Can New Brunswick teach Ontario a lesson, or can Ontario show New Brunswick the way?
Let us see; Mr. Grisdale knows hay-growing conditions all over Canada, says, possibly, that of the Upper St. John Valley.
He advises farmers having deep-soil farms near the large cities to raise hay, but to sell only a traction of the crop.

"The farmer on light soil should never sell hay, as it will mean the ruination of his farm. It would be like courting failure, because he will not get enough humus back. His light soil would lose its moisture-holding properties, and the general productivity would be materially lowered."

Speaking of New Brunswick,

Mr. Grisdale says:

"There are scarcely any parts of New Brunswick in which farmers might be advised to grow hay, extensively, excepting the St. John River marsh land which is the best soil in America if handled properly. . . . There some farmers have grown hay for fifty years without reseeded. If this land were to be reseeded occasionally and manured regularly it would be almost inexhaustible for hay production."

This Mr. Grisdale, the greatest agricultural authority in Canada, would be rudely shocked to see the thousands of tons of timothy that grow annually away from the uplands of Carleton and Victoria. Hay is still the staple crop, and even those who sell the most know that it takes from the soil and leaves nothing, even as they do not know what else to raise on their large farms.

It is not for us to advise a remedy, but we know of some farmers in Carleton county who have made several thousand dollars profit within the year. We know they have received many hundreds of dollars from potatoes, and from horses and from swine,
from sheep and from grain.
Much less, however, from the sale of grain, and little, indeed, from the sale of hay. Invariably they reap large rewards from the dairy and from the hennery.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

On Friday, Feb. 16, at their home in Windsor, Mr. and Mrs.
Stephen B. Shaw celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary. A large number of their friends and relatives, including the ladies circle of Windsor, being present.
A sumptuous dinner was served,
after which some of the old hymns were sung, also a song entitled "Silver Threads Among the Gold" by Misses Hazel Britton and Katie Shaw. Reading of the Scripture and prayer by the pastor, others joining. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw are among the earliest settlers of Windsor and have always been active in church work.
Mr. Shaw serving as Deacon of the Baptist church for many years in this place. They have four daughters living, also fourteen grandchildren. The daughters are, Mrs. John R. Porter, of Brockton, Mass., Mrs. John B.
Shaw and Mrs. Asa Dow of Auburn, Maine, and Miss Katie Shaw of Windsor, the latter being the only one present; also one adopted son, Harry E. Shaw, of Victoria, B.C. The other relatives present were, Mr. and Mrs.
Joseph Shaw of Bath, and Mr.
and Mrs. Ami Shaw of Windsor.

There were a number of beautiful presents received, also many congratulations by letters and all the relatives and friends unite in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Shaw many years more of congenial felicity and Christian usefulness.

THE VALLEY RAILWAY.

The rumor came from Ottawa last week that not only was the Valley railway contract not yet signed, but that the governments did not favor the construction of the road further than Andover parish, and that it there should connect with the proposed electric road of Arthur Gould. This road is intended to be a competitor of the B. & A., jointly with the C.P.R. The primary intention is to give farmers of northern Aroostook a competitive outlet for their crops, and to open up the wild lands of northern Maine.

The foregoing scheme is not disclosed to our readers so much as a matter of news as to show that the Gould-Hazen-Flemming scheme is still alive and flourishing.

Carleton County is the "bailiwick" of the Observer, and speaking for the people it can most truthfully assert that they entertain a most wholehearted resentment to this plan. So far as the eastern half of the county is concerned the people are strongly averse to having the province involved to the extent of $5,000,000 to build a road to develop Aroostook county.

The old flag may be a good vote-getter, but it should, as well, protect us from such an iniquitous proceeding as this.

Again we say Carleton county resents the measure as it appears.

What, then, must be the attitude of the eastern part of the province? Here is what the Conservative Chatham World says:

"The North Shore ought to get something pretty big to counterbalance the $5,000,000 that the Government is borrowing for the building of the Valley railway. A draw-bridge at Chatham, and a railway from Chatham to Tracadie, tapping the Levee Settlement on the way, wouldn't be any more than our share. But will our representatives demand compensation for the Valley railway expenditure? Look them over, one by one. Now, can you imagine their DEMANDING anything?"

HEN LAYS TWO EGGS A DAY.

International Egg Laying Contest.

The following clipping from the Hartford Courant may be interesting to Carleton county poultry fanciers as it gives an idea of the contest being conducted at Storrs College in Connecticut. There are 98 pens, five hens in a pen, in the contest, entries being open to the world. New Brunswick is represented by a pen or two in this contest. It is especially interesting to me to note the showing of the Rhode Island Reds, one of the greatest hens that lays. From time to time clippings will be furnished to show the progress and final result of this interesting contest among our feathered friends.—N.C.

"The last week of the third month shows big increase in egg production at the International Egg Laying Contest. The hens broke the daily record twice during the past week. The first highest number laid in one day was 140, from which they went to 141, and then to 143 eggs, the most in one day so far.

The redeeming feature of the week was the day the Rose Comb Rhode Island Red hen saved the day for this state by laying two eggs. The first egg was collected at 8.30 a. m. and the second was collected at 1.30 p. m. There can be no doubt of this because the hen was not only trapped each time, but the four other hens in the pen each laid that day. This hen has proved to be the star pen of the contest. Not only once has one of the hens in the pen laid two eggs in one day, but two of the hens have laid two eggs in one day at different times.

The Leghorns are slowly increasing, with fifteen eggs to their credit this week.

The biggest and heaviest egg laid during the week was one by a White Leghorn hen. The egg weighed 23-100 of a pound, there being only one egg laid during the contest that was heavier, that laid by a White Orpington hen, weighing just one quarter of a pound.

The pen that got first this week was the old time American Dominiques.

Smoky Talk from Ayer's Lake.

We have been reading some items from the different places and thought we would let you know we are living.

We are having some stormy weather now, but have enjoyed so many nice days we have no kick.

Our camp is situated on the banks of Ayer's Lake and is called Camp Claire. This lake is noted for its great depth and its large fish. It has been measured and found to be over three hundred feet deep.

Our boss is Herbert Adair, and a jolly one he is. Our cook is Lester Wallace and he mixes up some fine dishes. He has only one fault; he takes in washing.

Frank Melvin and Joseph Wallace are teamsters. The choppers are William Barrell, Frank Adair, Woodford Jones and Percy Barclay; the swamper is too numerous to mention, but Mr. Shaw, Freeman Ellis, Kenneth Wallace, Amos Belyea, John Orser, Joseph Orser and Oakley Orser are the remainder of our jolly crew. We used to have lots of music in our camp consisting of a violin and a gramophone, but the snow was too deep for the chief musician.

Tom Thistle of Hartland, visited our camp and left quite a number of fine watches, rings and other jewelry.

We are still yarding logs and are piling them up at a good pace.

Our camp poet is John Orser, and his rhymes are only surpassed by his wit.

We fish a little once in awhile and are always rewarded by a feast on nice trout.

One of our choppers threw his axe at a buck deer and knocked one of his antlers off which we keep as a trophy. It has five points and was one of a fine set.

A party of young folks visited our camp and we had a fine time dancing and playing games. None of our crew are celebrated as dancers or performers, the fair ones would have had a better time.

There are several pugilists in our camp of which William Barrell and Percy Barclay are the best.

Our pets consists of several squirrels, a few whistling jays and a small flock of chick-a-dees which we keep in the camp. They are quite contented now.

Our camp is just three miles from the railroad and some of the boys are fond of taking a trip every once in awhile, (cause unknown.)

While the game season lasted we had lots of sport as well as game. Three of the boys were out about an hour one day and returned with a fine deer apiece.

The snow is getting quite deep for yarding and I expect we will have to stop about the first of April. Otherwise I think we would get in quite a route.

We wish Mr. Thistle would come in with some more gramophones, for the way the men talk they seem to all want one. Does it pay to sell gramophones on the installment plan?

BRISTOL

(Late for last week.)

The Bristol Book and Literary Club held its regular meeting on Monday last at the home of Mrs. Geo. Caldwell. The subject of the evening's discussion was, "Ancient Egypt; its Customs and Religion." Besides holding its regular meetings the Club has a well selected library open to the members of the Club and to the general public on payment of a small sum for each copy.

Geo. H. Boyer is wearing a broad smile because of the arrival at his home of a baby girl.

Mrs. Daniel Jones, who has been very ill, is able to be about again.

We are sorry to learn that a number of our citizens plan on removing to the west in the early spring. We trust they will meet with success in their new homes.

A large amount of hay is being shipped lately. Many of the farmers of the surrounding districts are taking advantage of the good roads and fine weather to bring in their last season's crop.

The W.C.T.U. held a public meeting in the United Baptist church on Saturday evening. Mrs. C. W. Brittain read a carefully prepared paper on the "Life of Francis Willard." Owing to the absence of Rev. D. Brooks through illness the address of the evening was given by H. C. Ricker who described the founding of the society and the work accomplished by it.

You judge a man not by what he promises to do, but by what he has done. That is the only true test. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, judged by this standard has no superior. People everywhere speak of it in the highest terms of praise. For sale by all dealers.

WEST GLASSVILLE.

As the weather has been stormy and cold, and the roads almost impassable, I thought I would write a few items.

John McLaughlan, jr., who has been home visiting his mother, has returned to his home in Hartland, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Burns King of Lakeville were visiting their sister, Mrs. J. R. Lamont.

Wm. A. Lamont, Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson and daughter Helen, and Mrs. Lang took advantage of one of the fine days last week and all drove out to East Glassville to call on relatives.

Mr. Henderson has returned to Houlton.

Mrs. David Young called on Mrs. John McLaughlan one day this week.

Jimmy Brewster also called at D. Young's one day last week.

Miss Lillian McDougall of East Glassville, is staying with friends for the latter part of the week.

Miss Katie Ronald is visiting at Lakeville and Robert Ronald is hauling lumber to Bristol for John Crawford.

Miss Lilly McIntosh made a short visit on Sunday last with Mrs. John McLaughlan.

Born, on Feb. 21st, to Mr. and Mrs. Derrah, a daughter, also to Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Doherty, a son.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of coughs, colds and croup. It can be depended upon. Try it. Sold by all dealers.

ARMAND.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Robinson made a trip to Bristol. Edmond has sold his big team and is on the look-out for a suitable one to purchase to replace it.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Dickinson and Mrs. Guy Kimball made a recent visit to the home of Maurice Jordan of Carlisle.

On Tuesday Mrs. George Simms and Miss Lois Frost of South Knowlesville, were guests of Mrs. Henry London.

The many friends of Albert Frost were sorry to know that he had to leave the woods and come home because of illness.

The young people of this vicinity gathered at the home of Sam McAfee recently and spent a pleasant evening. Refreshments were served before departure.

Henry London, Guy and Willie Kimball and Willard Craig have returned from the "Nashua." They were well satisfied with the treatment they received from their employer, Mr. Hallett.

Lynne Kimball and his mother recently visited Benjamin Tedford who is slowly convalescing.

EAST BRIGHTON.

The roads have been blocked by the recent storm, but are now in good condition.

Of late East Brighton has been waking up, there being two parties at Levi Billings, one on the 14th and one on the 20th both being largely attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Shaw were the guests of Mrs. Horace Shaw on Sunday.

Holland Shaw of Hartland spent Sunday with his parents.

WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS

THIS DREAD DISEASE ARE CURED BY THIS REMEDY.

of Salt, Ont., Says She Believes It Saved Her Life. Doctors Said She Had Not Long To Live When She Began This Treatment—Read Her Grateful Statement.

Scarcely a day passes but fresh proof is offered of the wonderful power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills over disease. In many of these cases relief and new health comes to the sufferer after the best efforts of medical men had been in vain. One such case is that of Mrs. D. M. Ritchie, of Galt, Ont., who writes: "I feel it my duty to let other people know what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. I was taken sick first in May, 1910, with rheumatism. Treatment at home having failed me I went to Grace Hospital, Detroit, where I remained for some weeks, but instead of improving I became absolutely helpless, as if from paralysis, and could not move hand or foot. I was under the heavy expense of a trained nurse, and the best of medical treatment, but seemed to be growing worse. Finally, about the middle of July my husband decided to bring me home to Galt, where I remained under medical treatment, and with a nurse constantly attending me until October, when I took a further turn for the worse. Then the doctor told my husband that it was only the matter of a few weeks, as I could not possibly get better. Up to this time over six hundred dollars had been spent for medical and hospital treatment. In this condition, with hope abandoned, my husband saw a testimonial in a local paper of a cure of paralysis through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided at once to try them. In a few weeks there was a little improvement, and from that time on each day showed some change for the better. I can now (March, 1911) walk all about the house, do up my room, wash the dishes and sew and mend, but am still a little shaky, but am looking for the fullest cure, as I feel myself growing stronger daily. I give the full credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for I feel they are an instrument under Providence given for the benefit of suffering humanity."

Writing again under the date of August 16th, 1911, Mrs. Ritchie says: "As to my general health I can say that I have not felt so well in years. My stomach is in the best of condition and I can eat things I have not eaten for years. I can walk quite well, but use my cane when I go out, as I have not quite confidence in myself yet. But if you had seen me when I started to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, you would realize what a miracle they have worked in my case. All that I have stated is absolutely true, and I may add that the pills have cured my husband of kidney trouble that other medicine seemed to have no effect upon, for which we are both thankful."

Again under the date of Jan. 16, 1912, Mrs. Ritchie says: "I am fully recovered and able to do all my household work. I shall always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and trust some sufferer will receive as much benefit by reading this as I did through a faithful use of the pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure such apparently hopeless cases as Mrs. Ritchie's because they make new, rich, red blood, which feeds the starved, overworked nerves, and gives tone and strength to every organ in the body. No sufferer from paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus dance, or any nervous disorder can afford to neglect Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the great blood builder and nerve tonic, which have more remarkable cures to their credit than any other medicine in the world. But be sure you get the genuine pills with the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on the wrapper around each box. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

OLD LADY ALMOST CRAZY WITH ECZEMA

A Remarkable and Convincing Statement of the Success of Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the Treatment of the Pain, Itching and Burning of Eczema

"I, the undersigned, cannot give enough praise to the Cuticura Remedies. I had been doctoring for at least a year for eczema on my foot. I had tried doctor after doctor all to no avail. When a young girl I sprained my ankle three different times, paying little or no attention to it, when five years ago a small spot showed upon my left ankle. I was worried and sent for a doctor. He said it was eczema. He drew a small bone from the ankle about the size of a match and about an inch long. The small bone grew to about the size of an apple, and the eczema spread to the knee. The doctors never could heal the hole in the ankle. The whole foot ran water all the time. "My husband and my sons were up night and day wheeling me from one room to another in the hope of giving me some relief. I would sit for hours at a time in front of the fireplace hoping for daybreak. The pain was so intense I was almost crazy. In fact, I would lose my reason for hours at a time. One day a friend of mine dropped in to see me. No more had she glanced at my foot than she exclaimed, 'Mr. Finnegan, why in the world don't you try the Cuticura Remedies?' Being disgusted with the doctors and their medicines, and not being able to sleep at all, I decided to give the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment a trial. After using them three days that night I slept as sound as a silver dollar for eight long hours. I awoke in the morning with but very little pain. In fact, I thought I was in heaven. After using the Cuticura Remedies for three months I was perfectly restored to health, thanks to the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I will be sixty-four years of age my next birthday, hale and hearty at present." (Signed) Mrs. Julia Finnegan, 2245 Robert St., St. Louis, Mo., Mar. 7, 11. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world. Send to POTTER & CO. Corp., 47 Columbia Ave., Boston, U. S. A. for free sample of each with $2.00 book.

CARE OF THE EAR.

Hints on the maintenance of good hearing are given by the Family Doctor, which points out that the inside of the ear should always be kept alone. The wax in the ear is absolutely necessary to keep it in a healthy condition. Never try to get it out. Washing the auditory canal with soap and water is also injurious, as in this way the wax is moistened. Never put cold water or any other cold liquid in the ear. When going for a swim insert cotton or, what is still better, a little wool in the ears. When out in a cold wind or snowstorm it is best to protect the ears. Avoid blowing the nose violently in case of a cold. This sometimes causes the inflammation to spread into the eustachian tube, and causes deafness.

A MODERN MEDICINE FOR THE BABY

What mother cannot remember the times of her childhood when the castor oil bottle was brought into use—the dread with which she looked forward to a dose of it—the fight she put up when forced to take it. Surely all little ones that are glad to spare their little ones this discomfort—this dread. Modern science has banished the bad smelling, evil-tasting, griping castor oil and given in its place a modern remedy—a remedy pleasant to take, mild, though thorough in action, absolutely harmless and something the little one won't dread. That medicine is Baby's Own Tablets—the only remedy used by thousands of mothers of little ones—the medicine that has forced castor oil and "soothing" syrups out of the home and has taken their place by right. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.
Dear Sirs,—We wish to inform you that we consider your MINARD'S LINIMENT a very superior article, and we use it as a sure relief for sore throat and chest. When I tell you I would not be without it if the price was one dollar a bottle, I mean it.
Yours truly,

Costiveness and its Cure.—When the excretory organs refuse to perform their functions properly the intestines become clogged. This is known as costiveness and if neglected gives rise to dangerous complications. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will effect a speedy cure. At the first intimation of this ailment the sufferer should procure a packet of the pills and put himself under a course of treatment. The good effects of the pills will be almost immediately evident.

It's easier to get something for nothing—if you are satisfied with worthless advice.

You may become quite popular with some people by keeping out of their way.

It is easier to prevent than it is to cure. Inflammation of the lungs is the companion of neglected colds, and once it finds a lodgment in the system it is difficult to deal with. Treatment with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup will eradicate the cold and prevent inflammation from setting in. It costs little, and is a satisfactory as it is surprising in its results.

WOMEN STILL ARE PRAISING THEM

MRS. GEO. BUTLER TELLS WHAT DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS DID FOR HER.

She was tired, nervous and run down, and suffered from pains in the back. Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured her.

Paquetville, Gloucester Co., N. B. Feb. 19 (Special).—That Dodd's Kidney Pills are suffering woman's best friend was never better demonstrated than in the case of Mrs. Geo. Butler, a well-known and highly respected resident of this place.

"My trouble was brought on by hard work," Mrs. Butler tells her friends. "For four years I suffered from pain in the back. I was always tired and nervous. My head ached and I had dark circles under my eyes, which were also puffed and swollen."

"I was in a generally run-down condition and feeling very much discouraged when I started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I can only say I found relief at once." The mainspring of woman's health is the kidneys. If the kidneys are right the blood will be pure. Pure blood is absolutely essential to good health. Dodd's Kidney Pills make the kidneys right.

ERIN'S SOOTHING WEED.

Experiments in Tobacco-Growing Now Being Made.

Tobacco was first smoked regularly in the British Isles by Sir Walter Raleigh at Myrtle Grove, Youghal, and it seems only right that Ireland should now give promise of being a tobacco-producing country.

Experiments in tobacco-growing, under the Department of Agriculture, have been in progress there for more than ten years.

Since 1904 about 100 acres have been cultivated under subsidy in different parts of the Emerald Isle, and since 1908 three growers have added a further twenty acres to the industry. An American expert is employed by the department to visit and advise the growers.

The difficulties first encountered were numerous, but already the results have been to ascertain what varieties will thrive with prospect of success.

Fields of five and ten acres are split up into blocks of narrow belts of tall-growing hemp. The hemp, acting as a wind-break, protects the tender tobacco-plant.

Tobacco is essentially the kind of crop for the smallholder, who is able to handle the plants individually, and at the harvest his children are able to pick all the lower leaves at the right point.

GET FAT ON $1 A WEEK.

Two Students, One Tuberculous, Prove It Can be Done.

Dr. Albert P. Brubaker, in a lecture on "The Nutrition of the Body," delivered in the Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, gave the prescription of how to live and grow fat on $1 worth of food a week, and thus get revenge upon dealers who boost the price of foodstuffs.

Dr. Brubaker declared that his knowledge was based on the practical experience of two men who he had gained in weight and improved in health. The men, he said, studied the value of various foodstuffs before undertaking their experiment. Knowing that the human body requires about 2,800 heat units a day, they selected their food accordingly. The diet of each was the same. Following is what they ate during the six months—

2 1/2 dozen cans baked beans . . . 3.27
1 1/2 dozen boxes of patent food . 2.10
9 cans condensed milk79
101 pounds dates3.92
10 pounds raw peanuts90
3 quarts cottonseed oil55
Bread, butter and extras . . . 11.79

Dr. Brubaker said one of the students was suffering from tuberculosis. In six months he had gained six pounds. The diet was kept up for two years.

WHAT FOLLOWED A CUT.

A Magistrate's Wonderful Experience With Zam-Buk.

Mr. J. E. Arsenault, a Justice of the Peace, and station master at Wellington, on the Prince Edward Island Ry., says:

"Four years ago, I slipped in the station and fell on a freight truck, sustaining a bad cut on the front of my leg. I thought this would heal, but instead of doing so it developed into a bad ulcer and later into a form of eczema which spread very rapidly and also started on the other leg. Both legs became so swollen and sore that I could only go about my work by having them bandaged. My doctor said I must stop work and lay up."

"After six months of this trouble I consulted another doctor, but with no better result. I tried all the salves, liniments and lotions I heard of, but instead of getting better I got worse."

"This was my condition when I got my first box of Zam-Buk. Greatly to my delight that first box gave me relief. I continued to apply it to the sores, and day by day they got better."

"It is now over a year since Zam-Buk worked a cure in my case, and there has been no return of the eczema or any trace of it."

Such is the nature of the great cures which Zam-Buk is daily effecting. Purely herbal in composition, this great balm is a sure cure for all skin diseases, cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, blood-poisoning, varicose sores, piles, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, cuts, burns and bruises. All drug stores and stores at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price.

The OBSERVER will be sent a full year to any Canadian address for 50 cents, cash in advance. American subscribers must pay $1.00 per year.

For several weeks there have been representatives of different American firms at various points in Carleton and Victoria counties grading hay for the American market. One of them in answering a query of the Observer said: "Hay fit for our market? Why the country is full of it. All it needs is to be of the uniform grade." Last September the farmers were told by certain politicians that Carleton county hay could not be sold on the American market, so poor was its quality; and that if it could be sold it would be disloyal to the old flag to do so. In another part of this paper will be found where a train of 18 cars of hay left Woodstock for Virginia. The duty on the shipment amounted to $792, and had reciprocity become law the farmers would have got $4.00 per ton more for it.

If that train of 18 cars of hay that went to Virginia had had tacked on each side of each car a streamer bearing the words "New Brunswick Hay" what a great advertisement for the province it would have been as the cars traverse eight states to their destination! How former New Brunswickers getting their living in the States would have opened their eyes! But perhaps the cars were so labelled: we don't know. If they were not it would have been money well spent if the government had provided the banners. To save Mr. Fleming's feelings at the sight of our products entering the American market a little Union Jack might have been sewn in the corners of each banner.

In Parliament the other day Sir Wilfrid Laurier moved that the members of the proposed tariff commission shall be selected without regard to the views of any political party on the tariff, or any other political question, but solely by reason of their fitness by character, training, and experience to effectually and impartially discharge the duties assigned them under the act. Premier Borden opposed this motion and it was defeated by a majority of 55.

Now, "what do you know about that?"

Some Conservative papers claim that the election of Hon. George P. Graham in South Renfrew was no Liberal victory. But the fact remains that Hon. G. E. Foster, on the eve of the election, declared that if the voters elected Graham they would be injecting the first drop of poison into the veins of the government that would eventually destroy that government.

That A. R. Rigby, promoter of the Hartland Electric Power Co., has had a bona fide application for one hundred horse power per day on a yearly contract is evidence that the power can be sold. The characteristic communication of Adam C. Rank on page 8 of this issue will interest every reader.

CANNOT STAND DEFEAT.

Florenceville Quit Ball Game—The Carnival.

The basket ball game and the carnival on Tuesday evening both proved a success, although the spectators would have enjoyed the latter more had there been more costumers.

There were many spectators at the game and the line up was:

HARTLAND	FLORENCEVILLE
Noddin f.	C. E. Saunders
Ginson f. c.	d. F. Perry
Stevens c.	d. D. Saunders
White d.	f. L. Taylor
Miller d.	f. J. Tompkins
Aitou f.

Tompkins made two field throws and Taylor made one. Ginson made one penalty, Stevens one penalty and one field; White made one field. The score was 6-6 with two minutes to play when a dispute over a foul arose. Umpire Alexander decided in favor of Hartland and the visiting team quit.

It seems Florenceville cannot bear defeat so gracefully as Hartland—perhaps because they are not so used to it.

There was a good attendance at the carnival and the prize winners were: H. B. and Miss Myrtle Boyer, team prize; Mrs. H. H. Hatfield, fancy; Miss Alice McIntosh, most original; Warren White, gentleman's original; Shaw, comic.

Valley Railway to Vicinity of St. John.

Ottawa, March 2.—At 1 o'clock this morning, just as the house was adjoining, Hon. Dr. Pugsley asked what progress was being made with the contract for the Valley railroad.

Mr. Cochrane—It has not yet been signed, but the terms have been practically agreed to. They differ slightly from the terms arranged with the previous government. The province is to guarantee bonds to the extent of $25,000 a mile, and the company is to be allowed to issue bonds in addition with a guarantee to the amount of $10,000 a mile. There will be a subsidy of $6,400 a mile from the federal government and the government at Ottawa will guarantee bonds for bridges to the extent of $1,000,000. In addition there will be authority to issue additional bonds for betterments.

Mr. Carvell—Will the contract cover a line to Grand Falls?

Mr. Cochrane—It has not been arranged to Grand Falls as yet, but to Andover.

Mr. Pugsley—It is arranged from Andover to St. John?

Mr. Cochrane—Well, I cannot say to St. John, for we do not know where we may make a railway connection for St. John, but it will be in the vicinity.

FIELDING.

This is a small place situated about two miles from Bristol.

There were two birthday parties last week. One at Richard Doherty's and one at Elin Brooker's.

Rev. Brown, who has been holding meetings in the Primitive Baptist church, has gone home.

Henry Guigay and wife made a trip through this place one day last week.

Ethel Green, who has been visiting at Foreston, has returned home.

Lee Brooker has purchased another thoroughbred horse from Josiah Brooker. We all wish him luck.

B. Brooker and son, Nelson, have been visiting his brother, John A. Brooker.

William Bell has returned home from the woods and is doing business again.

Mrs. James Waugh is having a very serious time with a felon on her thumb.

Mrs. Marcell Perkins has adopted a little girl, Julie Sparks, who is an orphan.

James Bell has the post office now and it is much handier for the mail carrier.

Miss Ida Carr has been visiting Mrs. A. Davenport the past week.

Sandy Kinney lost a very valuable cow last week.

A. Giberson preached in the church here Sunday.

School begins this week with Miss Ethel Bell as teacher.

We wish to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bell on the arrival of a boy.

CENTREVILLE.

Business is quiet in our village as the roads are heavy, owing to the recent snow storm.

Real estate is an exception to the general dullness and several properties have changed hands.

Isaac Nelson has bought from Mrs. Carrie Simonson, her house and lot, situated on the south side of the stream a short distance below the bridge.

Mr. Lindow Graves has sold his farm to a Mr. Gartley of Presque Isle, a former New Brunswicker.

Hamilton Reid has bought the Robert Reid farm from its owner, Preston Hawkins.

The Connell estate have refused a good offer for all their property in the village.

When the Valley railroad is assured we expect a further activity in real estate.

After listening to Premier Fleming's address given here last fall we all felt that the road would surely be built or previously outlined from Grand Falls to St. John and we could almost hear the whistling of the new strong locomotives that would be hauling the long trains of freight and passengers. That all happened months ago and the matter is still not arranged and according to Minister Cochrane the road is not to be built from Grand Falls to St. John, but from a point at or near Andover to an indefinite point somewhere presumably on the C.P.R. Truly great is the power of the mighty C.P.R. and we are led to think of a trip to Ottawa in a private car at the time the first St. John Valley delegation went to Ottawa. The great majority of the people want the road built as first outlined by former premier Hazen, that is, from Grand Falls to St. John and I.C.R. operation. That means good service, cheap freight rates and possibly the freight trains of the G.T.P. running over their piece of road to St. John. There is only one way to get it. That is for the many thousands people interested to wake up and demand it. No local government would then dare refuse. But our people are so bound to party that some will accept any old road and let the local administration on the back.

West Side Notes.

(By Nicodemus.)

On Friday night last two team loads of young folk drove from here on the invitation of Miss Annie Birmingham to spend the evening at her Hartland home. The Birmingham's, senior, are one time West Siders and Miss Annie has frequently attended similar functions over here so that the sort of "homey" feeling naturally helped towards the social success of the pleasant affair. Along about midnight the guests were regaled with plentiful refreshments, after which preparations were soon made for the drive home.

Mrs. Clowes, of Clowes' Hotel, Hartland, accompanied by her little boy, Allan, visited on the West Side a part of last week, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Chas. E. Shaw.

Mrs. Myra Dickinson will go to Linneus one day this week for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Stephen Babar.

Yesterday afternoon a number of the lady members of the Victoria branch of the U.E.W.A. Society went over to your town on the invitation of the Hartland society to meet with them for a social hour in the vestry of the United Baptist church.

On Sunday eight trains passed through Hartland. One hundred loaded cars went south and 101 empties passed northward. All the trains were drawn by the largest type locomotives and two of them were double-headers. Just ten years ago this week the freight that passed through Hartland averaged 18 cars a day. At that time the capacity of the average car was 20 tons. Now the average carries 40 tons. From this anyone can figure out what the development of the country has been.

HADES COLD OR HOT?
One Pastor Locates It in the Moon. Another in the Sun.

Two Washington pastors hold widely differing opinions as to the location of Hades. The Rev. Zed Copp, pastor of Bethany chapel, has boasted the sphere of eternal torment from the bottom of creation all the way up to the sun. The Rev. Dr. Baker of the Theosophical society puts it in the moon. Dr. Baker's discovery is brand new. He let it out to his parishioners the other night. He told them that after a thorough and painstaking investigation he had become firmly convinced that all other theories concerning the real location of the future address of transgressors were false and that in reality the man in the moon is his satanic majesty.

There are many little dogs in the moon, according to Dr. Baker. They are there to torment vivisectioners. As the breath leaves the body of the vivisectioned animal his soul is rushed through space until he finds himself in the moon, where he patiently awaits the coming of his murderer, and thereafter through all eternity he amuses himself by tormenting the late learned M. Dr. Baker did not say whether the presence of dogs in the moon had anything to do with the aversion cats have to the beautiful orb.—New York World.

Carnegie's Millions.
Andrew Carnegie has succeeded not only in making himself the second richest man in the world, but also in enriching several of his fellow countrymen, says the London Chronicle.

When the "star spangled Scot" retired from business his fortune was estimated at $75,000,000 ($375,000,000), and he had made about $50,000,000 ($200,000,000) for his friends and partners, a large proportion of whom are of Scottish birth. These include George Lauder, his cousin, who now lives in retirement at Pittsburg with at least $4,000,000 ($20,000,000) to soothe his declining years. Thomas Morrison, also a cousin, and Alexander Peacock, another son of Dunfermline, likewise amassed huge fortunes at Pittsburg.

A Blazing Fire.
On a cold, frosty night every one likes to see a blazing fire, but this generally means heavy coal bills. A good plan is to place a quantity of chalk at the back of each grate, in equal proportion to the coals. This throws out a terrific heat and lasts quite a long time. It always pays in the end to buy good coal, for not only does it make a clearer fire, but it leaves fewer ashes. A handful of common salt thrown into the fire occasionally makes a cheerful blaze and lessens the consumption of coal.

An enterprising manufacturer has discovered a process whereby a passable imitation of leather may be manufactured from a vegetable product. The novelty owes its introduction to London vegetarians, who protest at the number of animals killed annually to keep humanity in boots. LOGAN GROVE DOOMED.

Old Camping Ground of Kansas Indians to Be a Cornfield.

Logan grove, for years the camping ground of tribes of Kansas Indians and a place of historical interest, will soon be a cornfield. This grove is ninety-nine acres in extent and is a mile and a half south of Junction City.

The grove is on the bank of the Smoky Hill river and was a favorite camping ground for Indians from the north and south parts of the state. They would come for powwows and would often leave their families in camp there while they went out on buffalo hunts. Many Indian relics are still to be found there.

In 1855 a soldier from Captain Henderson's company, then stationed at Fort Riley, went out to the site of the grove and built a small cabin. The next year Captain Henderson bought the ground and cabin, later homesteading the entire grove. For many years he had a sawmill there, and many of the houses in Junction City are constructed of lumber from Logan grove.

The cabin, which is still standing, was the first schoolhouse in Geary county. The place was then named Logan grove by Captain Henderson, who was a great admirer of General Logan, who was then stationed at Fort Riley. Mrs. Logan presented to Captain Henderson a large flag, which still flies on legal holidays from a flagstaff near the grove.

A few years before he died Captain Henderson erected a granite monument to the explorer Coronado, who followed the Smoky Hill river and camped at the grove, which was then the site of an Indian village, Quivera. It was the original intention to keep the grove in its present beautiful condition, but the high values of bottom land have made it too expensive to maintain in that condition. Robert Henderson, a son of the captain and the present owner of the land, will have it cleared—Junction City Cor. Kansas City Star.

New Hazelton, British Columbia

In 1909 The National Resources Co. of British Columbia sold the first lot at Fort George, B. C. At that time very few people knew where Fort George was. Not one in 10000 in B. C. had ever heard of Fort George. In placing Fort George on the market they pointed out exactly why it was bound to be the Commercial Metropolis of Central B. C. Every lot in the Central Townsite was sold in 60 days. Two years have proved their forecast true on every count. Those who went in on the ground floor can now realize from 200 p. c. to 1000 p. c. in their original investment.

Almost identical conditions (if not better) prevail at

NEW HAZELTON

It is the centre of a great Mining District. It has large agricultural and fruit districts surrounding it. It is at the head of navigation from the Pacific Ocean. It will be the centre of branch railroads to the mining districts. It will be the first large town east of Prince Rupert. It has the only anthracite coal in Canada equal in extent and quality to that of Pennsylvania. In has within short range water powers capable of developing 100,000 horse power of electricity. It has raw materials for smelters, factories and saw mills—its doors.

It has already an established trade—the merchants of Old Hazelton will practically all move to the official townsite.

Outside lots $50. to $200. Lots well in $300. to $600. Don't wait until prices advance—NOW is the time to buy.

We sacrifice profits now —Because we believe it's easier to sell an article which people know than one they never heard of. It's easier still to sell an article of known standard value on which the price is regulated by the makers, than to sell one which merely possesses a familiar name.

When the selling control (for this town), of the one make of shoes in Canada, which possesses these qualities, was offered to us we didn't hesitate a minute, though we had to pledge the yearly purchase of thousands of pairs to secure that control.

Now we've got "The Slater Shoe" agency, but alas we've got a lot of other shoes too.

Room we must have—cash to pay for Slater Shoes—how can we get these quickest?

There is nothing clever about a price cutting sale, but there is something very imperative about it in this case.

We have only one regret for lost profits on our regular line of men's shoes which must be slaughtered within the next few days to make room for Slater Shoes; that regret is that the man who attends this sale will surely get so many bargains here that he won't need a pair of Slater Shoes for months afterwards. These are some of the prices which will tempt purchase.

Come in. We mean Business. Got to make Room for New Goods. Come in; get the Bargains that awaits you.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Japan is apparently finding that the worship of ancestors, as a spiritual expression, is not conducive to that moral and material uplift which any nation must seek which aspires to lasting greatness. The strangest religion, or rather cult, ever accepted by an intellectual people so far as to move them to the erection of temples, is Shintoism. Shintoism, if it can be called a religion at all, must be called a religion without gods. It is neither polytheism nor monotheism, neither Olympus nor Sinai, neither Jove nor Jesus. It is nothing more than an appeal to heredity, and must have sprung out of the days when the Samurai, still the greatest caste of Japan, and whose warlike spirit is maintained like that of the old Norse Berserkers, by recalling the warlike deeds of their fathers, were seeking to inspire the lower castes, needed in warfare, with a shadow of their own frenzy. We are unable to account for it in any other way consistent with an appreciation of Japanese history.

A very small newspaper dispatch the other day, dated at Victoria, British Columbia, carried a world-moving announcement. It stated, very briefly, that the Japanese home minister has called a conference of representatives of the Christian, Buddhist and Shinto religions, to discuss a national religion for Japan. Official recognition long has been given to Shintoism; but Tokonami, vice minister, was quoted as saying that "the primary aim of the conference is to bring all three religions into closer relations with the state, and to raise a God-fearing sentiment and a cult of national morality among the people."

This experiment, if it is made, will be watched with keen interest by thinkers and students everywhere. Shintoism has done all that ever could have been expected of it. It has made the Japanese Samurai and lower grades as fearless of death as men may ever grow. It is a most significant fact, and one the intellectual and spiritual importance of which it would be hard to overstate, that Japanese statesmen are now realizing that, for the making of a truly modern great state, there must come higher ideals into the minds and hearts of that people. It will be interesting to note how firm a stand the Samurai will make, if they attempt making any. More interesting will be the possible mental striction, in the conference of the Christian and Buddhist schools. Shintoism has no doctrines to defend. The great, overshadowing fact is that Japan is finding that moral ideals are needed to make a people great, and that, as Talleyrand once said, no people can ever grow great who, if they have no God, will not take an old or make a new one.

At a recent meeting of British mining men a speaker, J. J. Prest, criticized government experiments for spending much money to demonstrate the inflammability of coal dust, but nothing to produce an explosive which will not act upon the dust when used in mines. Commenting on this utterance The Coal Age says that while the money spent by the bureau of mines has resulted in much good, "it is a fact that the greatest basic danger to coal mines would be remedied if explosives could be made absolutely safe."

A writer in the same journal shows that the anthracite mines cause more deaths than the bituminous mines because the anthracite must be wholly-mined by the force of explosives while the bituminous coal is underlaid and mined with less powder. Yet there are frequent and distressing accidents due to explosions in the bituminous mines.

Evidently there is a chance for some one to acquire wealth and fame and to do a great service to his fellow men by inventing an explosive that will not act on coal dust. The risks involved in the necessary experiments may be great, but not greater than are taken by many men, in war and peace, to less worthy ends.

INVENTOR'S TROUBLES.

Thirty-six years ago last Wednesday—on February 14th, 1876—Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, formerly of Brantford, Ont., invented the telephone.

Like other scientific discoverers, he had a hard time at first to get people to understand and believe in his invention. Dr. Bell says that it was his work among the deaf and dumb which led to the telephone idea, and he tells a deal man's story to illustrate public distrust of anything new.

One Sunday a man appeared in a country church with an ear trumpet pet something unfamiliar to the congregation. Just before the service began an official approached the stranger.

"Say," he said, excitedly, "you can't play that down here. If you try it, I'll put you right away."

Dr. Bell is a Scotchman by birth. After going to the United States he became professor of vocal physiology at Boston University, and founded the American Association to Promote Teaching of Speech to the Deaf, to which organization he donated $250,000. Dr. Bell is sixty-five years of age, and now lives in Washington.

HELD THE 13 SUPERSTITION.

Queen Barked at Dinner—When Prof. Blackie Went Hungry.

In the current number of the Cornhill Magazine Sir Henry Lucy, the veteran parliamentary journalist who was "Toby, M.P." in Punch, tells some stories of well-known people who believed in the superstition. While dining at Dalmeny, Lord Rosebery's seat near Edinburgh, in the last of the Midlothian campaigns, Sir Henry says: "I was surprised to find the host seated apart from the big table in company with Mrs. Gladstone and Sir Algernon West."

"Didn't you notice," Lord Rosebery exclaimed, "that we were thirteen at dinner? Had that number been at one table some one might have been disturbed in mind. I have no superstitions on that point myself, but others have."

Lord Rosebery was certainly careful of his guests' feelings in this matter, for Prof. John Stuart Blackie told Lucy the following story of his own experience at Dalmeny. Arriving there late one night he found the guests at dinner. With characteristic cheeriness and in obedience to a pleasing habit of making himself at home in any circumstances, he brought up a chair and seated himself near his hostess.

He instantly became conscious of a strange uneasiness in the circle. As it deepened into a constrained silence Lady Rosebery whispered to him that he had better go into the drawing-room, where he would find Lady Aberdeen. Blackie had not dined and was not the kind of man to see others pleasantly engaged without desire to join.

"Yes, by and by," he answered to Lady Rosebery's increased embarrassment.

Presently one of the guests pointed out to him that his arrival made the company thirteen at table, and there was a lady present who was a firm believer in the tradition that in such arithmetical circumstances death would be busy with one or more of the guests before the year was out.

So the hungry professor dolefully departed to the drawing-room.

The subject of the 13 superstition coming up at the dinner table of the late Lord Granville when he lived

In Green Street he told how while still a young man he was invited to dine with the Duke of Cambridge to meet Queen Victoria. At the last moment he was disabled by an attack of gout.

On the Queen's arrival, finding the dinner guests were thirteen all told, she positively refused to sit at table. The difficulty was got over by sending for Princess Mary, at the time too young to have been included in the original arrangement.

Parnell was a believer in the superstition. There is a familiar story of his positively refusing during an election campaign with Tim Healy to occupy a bedroom numbered 13.

While in Kilmainham there was submitted to him by his colleagues the draft of a bill amending the Irish land act. On discovering that the clauses counted up to thirteen he threw down the manuscript with a gesture of terror and refused to have anything to do with it.

PLACER

GOLD MINING IN QUEBEC.

By the expenditure of a large sum of money, and with no noise or publicity, there has been opened up in the Eastern Townships of Quebec, right here at home, and not thousands of miles away, the largest placer gold mine in America.

The holdings consist of 7,000 acres of land, known as the Seigneurie of St. Jean, and including a number of rivers flowing the bed of a number of streams, with their immense deposits of gold-bearing gravel. Gold had, until a few years ago, been mined from these gravel beds in a primitive way for many years. Differences as to mining rights checked operations until very recently, when a strong company, organized by prominent business men of Montreal, purchased from the original owners of the seigneurie the perpetual rights to mine for precious minerals on the 7,000 acres. They entered into the practical exploration and development of the wonderful gold deposits on the seigneurie, and expended many thousands of dollars in exploitation. A complete hydraulic plant, with all necessary machinery, has been installed on one of the many gold-bearing gravel beds, and actual mining operations are being carried on. Three large sluicing machines, wash the sand and gravel into a sluice where the nuggets and dust are collected and recovered, and the rest of the gravel is returned to the river. The second sluice-up gave 100 lbs. of gold per cu. yard, and the third, after only two hours of washing on the right ground, gave values of $125.00.

The Company owning this valuable property is capitalized for $1,000,000, in shares of $100 each, and has a small amount of stock, being the balance of the $100,000 paid up, and a small amount of stock, being the balance of the $100,000 paid up, and a small amount of stock, being the balance of the $100,000 paid up.

STRICTLY LIMITED.

It must not be pretended that this story is new, but it is witty, and has not been too often told. It concerns one of the Bavarian kings, Ludwig by name, but which one of the succession is not important.

Knowing of the financial necessities of one of his aides-de-camp, the king determined to relieve them. Accordingly, he sent him a small portfolio, bound like a book, among the leaves of which were deposited bank-notes worth five hundred crowns. Some time afterward he met the officer, and said to him, "Ah, well, how did you like the new work which I sent you?"

"Twas excellent, sire," replied the colonel. "I read it with such interest that I expect the second volume with impatience."

The king smiled, and when the officer's birthday arrived he presented him with another portfolio, similar in every respect to the first, but with these words engraved upon it:

This work is complete in two volumes.

"One half of the world doesn't know how the other half lives," "Well, it's gratifying to think that one half of the world attends to its own business."

Fashion Hints

NOTES FROM PARIS SHOPS.

Changeable taffeta hats are popular. Shoes are becoming a little more ornamental in their effect.

Small bows of black velvet are much used to trim blouses. Newest dress models show a continuance of one-sided effect.

Wide girdles appear on most of the elaborate afternoon frocks. There is a prophecy of plain effects in everything fashionable.

Tassels and ball fringe are popular trimmings for the new satin suits. Jabots of white tulle and deep cream lace are much favored by smart women.

There is a trend toward simplicity in everything pertaining to the coiffure.

There is a return of the yoke cut in one with the stock and boned from the collar to the ears.

Separate blouses of navy blue crepe de chine are relieved by revers and collars of white satin.

Quillings of chiffon and iridescent ribbon edge pockets and outline the lining of this season's wraps.

Pearls and their popularity, and will go through the spring in great favor.

Some of the fur coats, for the sake of variety, have the vacancy filled with velvet, brocade, or other handsome material, which is repeated in great revers or big collars.

Black millinery is extremely fashionable for children. These little hats and quaint bonnets are trimmed with clusters of tiny berries, fastened with brightly colored silks.

Sleeves show fullness at the lower edge now. On some, deep cuffs give a suggestion of empire fashion. On others, lace frills fall over the arms or hands in filmy cascades.

For men, from England and smart, are buckskin gloves with buttons and clasps for fastenings, in grays and tans, some with heavy embroidery and others with silk linings.

The revised fashion of wearing the hair dressed peasant style, with the braids coiled over the ears, is much favored. Bandeaux of richly jeweled nets are worn across the front of the head.

In Paris the vogue for a combination of materials is still as strong as ever. Satin, silks, woolen fabrics, velvet, even plush, combined with cobwebby laces, nets, or chiffons—such is "the thing."

FRENCH NAVAL OFFICERS.

Orders Conferred in Connection with Delhi Wreck.

A recent issue of The London Times says:

We are officially informed that in recognition of the gallant aid rendered by the officers and crew of the French cruiser Friant on the occasion of the wreck of the Peninsular & Oriental Company's steamship Delhi off Cape Spartel on December 13 last, the King has been pleased to confer on the officer commanding the cruiser, Captain de la Roche, and on the other officers and crew, the following honors and decorations.

Andre Paul Marie Lequerre, an honorary commandeur of the Order of the Legion of Honor, and to appoint Lieutenant Charles Jerome Alexandre Drujon to be an honorary member of the same Order (fourth class).

His Majesty has also conferred on the following officer and men who formed the crew of the cruiser's steam barge which went to the assistance of the steamship Delhi the gold medal for gallantry in saving life at sea.

Lieutenant C. J. A. Drujon, Louis Bonessard, Jacques Thomas, Albert Marius Durien and Jean Louis Le Cameleo.

The King has also presented to the families of Joseph Noel Remond, Florent Emile Carel and Georges Marie Lagadee, the members of the crew of the barge who lost their lives on the same occasion, the gold medal for gallantry in saving life at sea.

The British Government, in token of their appreciation of the gallant conduct of the officers and crew of the Friant, have presented to the officers a piece of gold plate, and they have made a grant of £50 each to the families of the men who lost their lives.

HEALTH

NOSEBLEED IN ADULTS.

In the young, epistaxis, or nose-bleed, is of slight consequence; in the mature it is more significant; and in the elderly or the aged it may be a serious symptom. When a middle-aged person has attacks of nosebleed, the underlying cause must be found, for it may be anything from some slight change in the mucous membrane of the nose to organic disease or a malignant growth.

The bleeding may be a symptom of disease in the heart, the kidneys or the liver; although the blood comes from the nose, the nose itself is not always at fault. Sometimes the hemorrhage is so slight as hardly to cause remark on the part of the patient; sometimes it is so severe as to menace life itself; in still other cases the loss of blood is distinctly beneficial, for it relieves some overburdened organ. That is the case with middle-aged persons whose nosebleed is the result of increased blood pressure due to troubles of the heart or the kidneys.

Any disease that interferes with the return of the blood from the head into the body may cause a passive congestion of the mucous lining of the nose—sometimes seen in cases of valvular disease, or in chronic bronchitis. Gout or tumors of the neck act mechanically to produce the same result. In stout, full-blooded adults an attack of nose-bleed is often preceded by a severe headache or other symptoms indicating too much blood in the head, in which cases the hemorrhage will relieve the headache. The same thing is often true in cases of tinnitus or noises in the ears. If the hemorrhage is severe, the same symptoms—headache and tinnitus—may follow as a result of the anemia.

A person no longer young who has recurring attacks of nosebleed for which he can find no local or mechanical cause should have a physician make a thorough examination of him, to see that nothing ails his kidneys, heart, lungs or liver.—Youth's Companion.

Want 100 Horse Power Daily!

Peel Lumber Co. Makes Application for Electric Power---500 Horse Power Available.

The whole country readily acknowledges the benefits of electric lighting, but the glare of this proposition does not at all blind the citizens to the real, tangible possibilities that are bound to follow in the wake of electric power production. It is a fact patent to all that the question of cheap power is the most important one with those who are casting about for suitable locations for the many industries that are springing up in our province. Hartland needs those industries, but remember that to get them, she must first have motive power to sell at inducive rates.

The proposition being pushed by A. R. Rigby provides this means to an end that will make for progress, while the cheap steam substitute offered by Sayre-Campbell promises nothing more than to defeat the larger, more comprehensive and only practical scheme. When thoroughly analysed there is really no proposition in it to appeal to any man, for, mark you, Mr. Sayre after all and done would only guarantee the free fuel FOR FIVE YEARS--and then, what? Listen, and I'll put you wise!

For a long time the Sawyer-Campbell-Sayre concern have practically monopolized the stream. No other man has brought a drive down that stream. When threatened with such a possibility, the lumber was brought up at any old price. Three years from May 1912, gives them the stream by occupancy. What is that but a perpetual franchise?

Objection has been made to the granting of a franchise to the Hartland Electric Power Co. on the grounds that there is the remote possibility of the company failing to go ahead with the work, but continuing to hold their franchise, thus impeding development in this line by others. The few who object instance in support of this contention the fact of the continued delay of development at Grand Falls due to such a franchise granted years ago to Sir Wm. Van Horne. The bill that this company will present in a few days to Mr. Flemming's government is self-explanatory. Mr. Rigby and his associates in asking for incorporation do not ask for an ETERNAL concession of the rights on the Beaguineau waters, but simply ask for permission to go ahead and do something, and to do that something quick. That will put Hartland and vicinity well up to the front in the march of progress.

In asking for incorporation this company binds itself to start operations within twelve months of incorporation, and to expend at least fifteen thousand dollars within two years. Failing in this the charter of incorporation becomes null and void.

Contrast this fair, open and progressive spirit with the opposing disposition to stave off any and all propositions of this nature, regardless of the great good to be derived by the country, entirely indifferent to any but the selfish and reactionary consideration of personal interests.

Leaving out the consideration of the barely possible interference or damage to the milling interests already established there, since up to the present nothing has been done to substantiate such claims of the opposition, we ask will you give your aid and sympathy to a live proposition to go ahead and do something, or step down and out in a stated time? Or will you sit back and allow the ownership of all rights on Guimac waters to pass by default into the hands of private interests? For, mark you, the "dam" company is only asking for a two year concession, practically speaking, in order to make good. On the other hand you are deliberately giving the stream away to the Campbell-Sayre interests. Three years more of uninterrupted control will do the trick! Do you want that? It's up to you!

From figures of the engineer we have taken the following practical information, evolved in all instances from standard percentages and calculations. Engineer Hanson's figures show a watershed of 135,000 acres with an average yearly waterfall of 44 inches. In figuring out the possible actual power with a forty foot dam, an allowance was made for evaporation, 33 per cent; for friction, 20 per cent, and also for the natural flow that we have heard so much about. Sayre's say they must have that. They also contend that the "dam" people can't give it to them. But Rigby's engineers have proved the futility of that contention by making the necessary allowance and still showing a good strong dependable 500 horse power. This power, mind you, as was pointed out to us by H. E. Dargatz, our engineer from Boston, when distributed over the full 24 hour period is equivalent to from 1200 to 1400 horse power.

What next? It has been pointed out that Sayre's property will be jeopardized by the possibility of the upper dam, blowing. As much argue that one man be deprived of erecting a house for fear of its sometime burning and destroying one in close proximity. Again it has been asserted that a dam could not be built on the site. No later than last Friday Mr. Sayre exhibited his ignorance on this point, when in company with his engineer, he visited the site. When informed by Mr. Rigby that they were on the proposed site the engineer, after taking in his surroundings, pronounced it an ideal location. Mr. John Sayre then pointed to the north bank and said, "that bank is nothing but loose earth," to which statement Rigby gave such emphatic contradiction that he qualified the assertion by saying that personally he did not know but had been "so informed," etc. This admission coupled with the fact that Sayre had an engineer on the spot within two days might easily be construed as an admission that Mr. Sayre's objections to the scheme were based mainly on the (mis) representation of others, rather than from personal knowledge, a probability hinted at in my last article.

The Hartland Electric Company already had an application for power running by yearly contract, ranging from 4 h. p. to a minimum of 120 h. p. This bid for motive assistance comes from one of our large and fast developing industries. The Peel Lumber Co. and emanates from no less a reliable source than Dr. D. W. Ross himself.

Who dare "knock" in the face of that? Then there is James Rogers and the Hartland Woodworking Co. and the Flour mill. Give us electric power and the old Forster Hall will immediately make its identity in a well appointed flour producing plant and this means other possibilities.

Practical Lesson on Reciprocity.

Those who voted for reciprocity, and those who voted against it, will be interested in the fact that a train load of hay left Woodstock on Friday on its way to Norfolk, Virginia, in spite of the heavy freight and the duty of four dollars a ton. Farmers in this province will now be asking how much hay they might have sold in the United States if the duty had been removed.

The sale of hay was made by Phillips Eaton and Co., and consisted of 190 tons, filling eighteen cars. The freight and duty amounted to $12 a ton and the duty alone was $792. The purchaser came to Woodstock, inspected the hay and paid for it in cash.

To Attend the Sportsmen's Show

Pres. Murdoch McKenzie of the Provincial Guides Association of New Brunswick will attend the Sportsmen's Show in New York city in the interest of the association.

Probably never has there been such good results received by the guides of New Brunswick as has come through the association. Every member during the past year has received one or more parties of non-residents from the United States and Europe, and it is conceded that Murdoch McKenzie, president of the association, is the right man in the right place. He has been re-elected for 1912. The guides in general hope that he may remain long in office for their welfare.

Our Neighbours

Cheap Tea is Dear Tea

SO declared the mother of a small family not long ago--

—And proved the statement true by simply relating her tea experience.

"I used a 30c. Tea for years," she said. "One day the Grocer asked me to try a 40c. package of Red Rose—he told me it was better Tea. I found it better Tea, and—before I had quite finished the first package I thought it made more Tea. The second pound I used with care——And found out that less Tea in the Pot made a richer, finer-flavored Tea, if you know what I mean."

We know exactly what this lady meant-- —40c. Red Rose Tea is a richer, stronger Tea, more delicately flavored.

The 30c. variety makes about 150 cups--

—Whereas the 40c. Red Rose Tea makes about 200 cups.

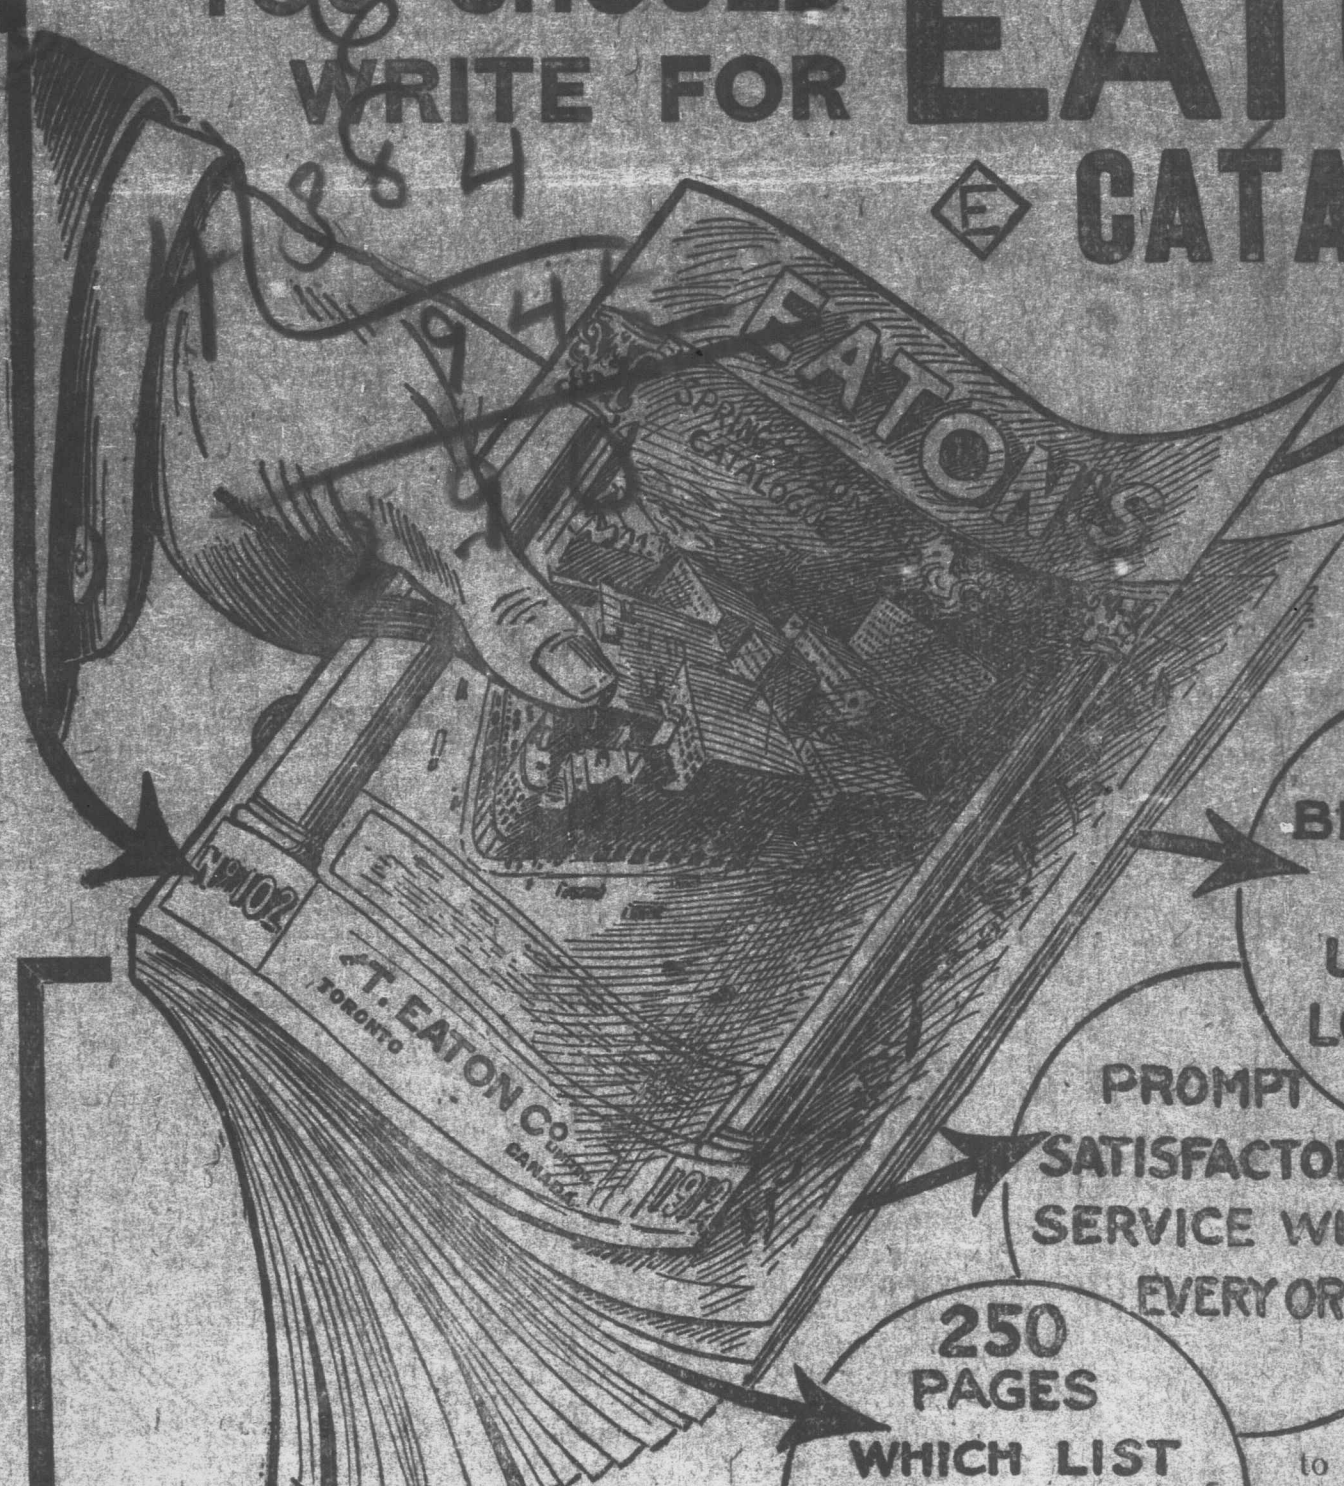

So—You might as well have better tea for the same cost in the long run.

There are several grades of Red Rose Tea selling at different prices, but the 40c. grade seems to please best. It is not only fine Quality but goes farther.
