

A SON BORN TO QUEEN VICTORIA*Madrid Goes Wild Over Heir
to Spanish Throne.*PASSED AROUND ON A TRAY*Flag Flap and Guns Bang the Pleasant News and Loyal Spain Is Happy.

Madrid, May 10.—Queen Victoria gave birth to a son today. In no monarchial country in the world is the ceremonial observed at the birth of the first offspring of the king and queen so formal as in Spain, and on this occasion so significant for the Bourbon dynasty when an heir to the throne was so anxiously awaited, nothing was omitted from the courtly etiquette.

From the moment Queen Victoria was officially announced to be approaching the period of maternity, the most careful surveillance was exercised over her in order that the hopes of the country did not run any risk of being blighted.

Several months before her accouchment she, according to Spanish royal custom, took up her residence in the palace at Madrid to await the anxious monarch. Thence accompanied by the king, she has undertaken from time to time pilgrimages to various holy shrines to pray for a safe delivery just as the humblest Spanish woman would do.

Nobles in Attendance.

For quite a month preceding the auspicious event members of the proud Spanish nobility have been in daily and nightly attendance at the palace as a precaution against the unexpected surprise of a premature birth, while the members of the royal family have taken up their residence either in the palace itself or near at hand in the capital.

An English Doctor.

When at length Dr. Ciendeling, the young English doctor who attended the queen, announced that the birth was a matter of only a few hours, urgent messages were dispatched to the prime minister, Senor Maura, and his colleagues of the cabinet, the military governor of Madrid, the members of the diplomatic corps, the grandees, the knights of the principal orders of chivalry, the leading military and civil authorities, and all the ladies and gentlemen attached to the court.

Soon all the officials were gathered in full uniform and wearing the glittering insignia of their decorations in the grand reception room, gorgeously draped with tapestry, adjoining the royal apartments. There, in suppressed excitement and hushed expectancy, they waited and then all eyes were attracted by a movement of the heavy curtains at the end of the apartment, and the opening of the door leading from the royal room.

The birth of the royal babe has been awaited with eager interest throughout Spain. This was intensified early this morning when the first word came from the palace that the accouchment of the queen was imminent. The news spread like wildfire and crowds flocking to the great plaza fronting the royal palace. The happy event had taken the capital somewhat by surprise, for only yesterday evening the queen had taken her customary drive, and the court physician had intimated that another two weeks would pass before confinement.

The birth of the babe occurred at 12:45 p.m. The announcement was immediately conveyed to the waiting officials, and crowds outside the palace who received the glad tidings with mingled feelings of enthusiasm and emotion. That the queen had been blessed with a son—a male heir to the throne—was no less welcome than the happy event itself.

The queen insists that she will herself nurse the child, despite the opposition of the royal household as she desires to insure its good health.

Baby on a Tray.

The formal announcement of the sex of the new child was made by the Camarera Mayor, or Mistress of the Robes, to Premier Maura, who communicated the fact to the company. The news was greeted with the greatest enthusiasm, which swelled into a spontaneous cheer, as King Alfonso himself entered, accompanied by the Camarera Mayor, carrying a huge silver tray, upon which was lying the newly-born royal babe, covered with delicate lace garments. Premier Maura at once advanced and relieved the Mistress of the Robes of her load. Then all present were afforded a glimpse of the child, which thereupon was handed back to the Mistress of the Robes, and by the latter was given to the royal nurse, who returned to the room. The scenes in the streets outside were almost beyond description. Business had been suspended for hours. An immense multitude gathered about the palace, and when the royal standard of red and gold fluttered to the peak of the flagstaff on the Punta De Diamante, a great shout of joy went up. Immediately afterward a salute of 21 guns carried the news to the most remote confines of the city, and to the inhabitants of the surrounding country.

As the sixteenth report resounded, the men, women and children waiting in the streets and on the balconies and roofs, gave voice to their satisfaction, and soon the whole city was ringing with the cries of "Long live the Prince," "Long live the Queen," and "Long live the King." Simultaneously, the public buildings blossomed out.

Thrilling Ride.

Hamilton, Ont., May 10.—Otto Hill, a small boy, had a thrilling ride on the front of an engine from St. Catharines to Hamilton, last night. The boy ran away from home, and clad in his father's dress suit, and his mother's overcoat, he climbed onto the front of the engine, intending to go to Toronto. He was discovered when the train reached Hamilton, and was a queer-looking sight. Detective Darroch took charge of him, intending to send him back home, but this morning the boy gave the officer the slip and got away again.

MOTHERS WILL BE SUMMONED NOW*Are To Be Held Responsible When Children Are Not Sent to School.

Truant Officer Weir has been having a busy time of it during the last few days, looking up truants, who have been enticed away from school by the balmy spring breezes and the sunshine. The truants, however, are not the cause of all his trouble. A still more serious difficulty which Mr. Weir has to contend with at all times is that of getting a few citizens to send their children to school. In some cases, a warning is sufficient to get the offenders to comply with the law, but not until they have been brought up at the police court will some send their children to school. Some time ago a West Londoner, Wm. Hier, was summoned to appear in court on a charge of not sending his three little boys to school. However, he laid the blame on his wife, saying that he had been working all day, and had not known that his children were not at school. He promised to see that his children were given the advantages of an education, and was allowed to go. But the truant officer found that conditions at the home had not improved, and he had a summons issued for Mrs. Hier, who appeared in court this morning, and after being given a warning, made a promise to comply with the law. In Mrs. Hier's case, the reports showed that the children had been absent eight half days since Easter.

Truant Officer Weir has come to the conclusion that there is little use in bringing up the fathers, as in most cases they plead ignorance of the fact that their children are not being sent to school.

After this the mothers will be summoned.

Mr. Weir has at present several cases under his eye and expects to have several parents before the court in the near future.

GREETED BY INDIAN ARMED WITH SHOTGUN*County Constables Were Not Allowed Welcome on Fumigating Mission.

County Constable Alex. Shaver has completed his work on the Muncie and Ojibwa Reserves, where he has been bringing back quarantine-breaking Indians, and supervising the fumigation of infected houses for several weeks.

After bringing the redskins around to a point where they would submit to smallpox quarantine and vaccination, Shaver encountered more trouble when he started his men to work fumigating the houses.

Last Friday when Shaver and an Indian constable called at the home of one redskin with the idea of fumigating the place, they were met at the door by the occupant and a shotgun. The former informed the officers in broken English that his place required no fumigating, and that even if it did he could attend to the matter himself, if he saw fit.

Arguments, threats, and pleadings were in vain, so a warrant was sworn out for the Indian and he was taken in charge. The obstinate chap was one of the first of the Indians to break quarantine when it was first ordered on the reserves.

In all there are now only about eleven cases of smallpox among the tribes.

HOSPITAL TRUST MEETS*But Members Say Nothing as to the Nature of Business Discussed.

The hospital trust held a short meeting in Mayor Judd's office in the city hall today.

After the meeting the members refused to say anything in regard to the nature of the business, but it is understood that the trust is desirous of having the isolation hospital sketches prepared by the trust, indorsed by the board.

The consent of the provincial board of health to the erection of the new hospital at the foot of Waterloo street has not as yet been secured, but it is thought there will be no difficulty on this score.

It is understood that the local board of health will have to give its consent before the Ontario board will agree to the location.

A regular meeting of the trust is to be held in the city hall this afternoon.

Sedition Leaders Arming the Peasantry for Civil War.

Lahore, May 9.—Everything seems to point to the imminence of a native outbreak here, and the authorities are taking all the steps possible to stop it by force of arms. The political unrest is hourly assuming graver proportions. Bands of stalwart rustics, armed with bludgeons, who have been enlisted by the leaders of the sedition are crowding into the native city, and troops of all arms and bodies of police, mounted and dismounted, are being drafted into the city of Lahore from all parts of the province.

The fortifications of Lahore have been subjected to a special inspection, and the artillerymen have been reinforced.

The lieutenant-governor of the Punjab, Sir Denzil Ibbotson, is taking active measures to circumvent any possible outbreak. He has issued a proclamation prohibiting meetings of every kind and solemnly warning the public not to attend any assemblies under pain of severe punishment.

In addition, the lieutenant-governor has struck at the root of the revolutionary movement by causing the arrest this afternoon of a prominent lawyer, Lalpatra, who practiced in the chief court of the Punjab, and who was the leader, financier and organizer of most of the seditious demonstrations and revolutionary riots in the Punjab.

Immediately after being taken into custody, Lalpatra was deported to another province. His arrest caused a profound sensation among the Hindus, who hitherto had believed that the authorities would not dare to take such drastic action.

Another revolutionary leader, for whose arrest a warrant has been issued, received intimation of the action taken by the authorities and escaped from Lahore and is now hiding.

The trial was adjourned late yesterday afternoon until 2 o'clock next Monday afternoon, when it is expected the new panel will be in attendance. Counsel on both sides were confident today that a jury would be secured by Thursday or Friday of next week, and they believe that the taking of testimony may be begun before the week ends.

When seen by The Advertiser Mr. Somerville admitted that he had been offered the management of the Manufacturers' Life. Until he had consulted the Huron and Erie directors, however, he would make no announcement regarding his intentions.

Mr. Somerville intimated that he may have something to say on Tuesday regarding his acceptance or refusal of the Toronto offer.

HOW DO YOU LIKE
THIS WEATHER?*Cold, Stormy, Clammy and According to Probs. No Relief in Sight.

Mean weather, this is to be sure.

The 10th of May, and snow falling.

How the people grumbled and thought things today!

How the ladies envied the men, because a man can indulge in certain privileges of expression anent the weather and other conditions.

After a long siege of cold weather, Londoners had begun to put in flowers, rip up carpets, and indulge in other spring pastimes, when, lo! along comes an installment of the meanest weather possible to imagine.

Overcoats which had been hidden away were yanked out and put in flower beds which had been planted last evening were either covered or pulled up.

Everybody appeared today to be looking for the worst.

This morning the thermometer in the observatory in South London registered 32 degrees above zero, or only one degree above freezing. At noon the thermometer registered 34 degrees above zero.

A year ago today the highest registration was 52 degrees above and the lowest 29 above, the latter figure being registered throughout the night.

Showers occurred on that day in the Maritime Provinces and the Ottawa Valley, but elsewhere the weather was fine.

A year ago today the thermometer registered 88 above in Southern Alberta.

The probs say frost for tonight with fair, cool weather tomorrow.

City Engineer Graydon was the only cheerful man in the city hall today. He gazed outside and regarded the snow with a benevolent air.

"It's ill with the snow blows nobly good," he said. "That snowstorm is saving the city money for street watering."

A local merchant received a telephone message from Exeter to the effect that eight inches of snow had fallen there during the night.

CITY MAY LOSE A BIG FACTORY
BECAUSE OF SEWER DIFFICULTY*The Company Wants Connection With Sewer Already Laid,
But Can't Get It.

Owing to the fact that the Empire Brass Manufacturing Company, of Talbot street, is unable to secure sewer connection for the big factory which the company proposed to erect on Dundas street east, the city outside the city limits, there is a grave danger that the company may leave the city and go to Berlin.

The Advertiser was shown indisputable evidence this morning that the company has received very flattering offers from several places to leave London.

Berlin, Port Hope, Brantford and Hamilton are bidding for the concern, and are undermining the city of London while the council sits idly by and does nothing.

The manager of the company, Mr. T. A. Stevens, states that his firm must have more room. At present it is paying a high rent for buildings in the rear for storage purposes, and great inconvenience is experienced in the handling of supplies.

The company now employs 100 men, but it is probable that 200 hands will be employed the year round. If factory accommodation can be secured.

The company asked the city to lower the sewer which is now used by the Canadian Packing Company, so that the brass works might connect with it.

City Solicitor's Views.

City Solicitor Meredith stated, however, that the city has no power to spend money on a sewer outside the city, and the council decided to ask the Legislature to incorporate within the city limits all that district lying immediately east of the city.

The prospects are, however, that the people of the district will not vote for annexation for some time yet, and in the meantime the brass works is tied up for a sewer.

The company explains that it does not desire to avoid city taxes. It is perfectly willing to sign for annexation if it can be assured of sewer connections out east.

Many people are puzzled to know how it is that Hamilton was able to purchase a district outside the city limits and fit it up with sewers, etc., as an industrial center. London appears to be so much afraid of the law that she sits with her hands behind her back, while other municipalities take her industries away from her.

Board of Trade Act.

President Stevely of the board of trade, who is also a member of the city council, was interviewed on the subject by The Advertiser today.

He admitted the situation is serious, and he stated that he would take the matter up without delay. In his board of trade inaugural address, Mr. Stevely advocated the formation of an industrial committee to deal with just such cases as that of the Empire Brass Company, and he says he will do his best to have the committee named at once, so that it may deal with the Empire matter.

It appears that the cost of lowering the sewer to accommodate the brass works people would not be very large, as the sewer would only have to be dropped a distance of 100 feet.

This appears to be a pretty small sum to pay for securing an industry to London which now employs 100 hands, and will very shortly employ 200.

It is realized by businessmen that even though the firm was located outside the city, the workmen would spend their money in London, and the vast majority of them would live in London. All the city would be losing would be the amount of taxes which the company pays annually.

Ottawa, May 9.—At noon today the body of Miss Ellen Clemow, daughter of the late Francis Clemow and granddaughter of the late Senator Clemow, was found in her room with a revolver lying by her side. It was apparently a case of suicide.

The deceased, who was 26 years of age, had been ill for some time, and her people were on the point of sending her to a sanatorium at St. Catharines.

Coroner Baptie is investigating, and an inquest may be held.

Los Angeles, May 10.—Late last night Jack O'Brien issued a statement in which he declared all the arrangements for Wednesday night's fight were tinged with crookedness. He alleged that Burns and Manager McCarty, of the Pacific Athletic Club, were parties to the unfair deal, that Nolan, O'Brien's manager, knew of the propositions and forced a new agreement with Burns and McCarty, and that on one occasion, McCarty proposed that a coin be flipped to decide which man should pretend to be knocked out, and that there was no intention of offering a $30,000 purse.

ELECTION CASE
IS POSTPONED*Will Not Be Tried at the Toronto
Assizes Until the Fall—Application Succeeds.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, May 10.—Upon the application of Mr. E. B. Johnston, Mr. Justice Anglin this morning granted a postponement of the London election case until the fall assizes.

Mr. Johnston pointed out that the only witness the defense could call, unless O'Gorman was put in the box, was Mr. W. T. R. Preston, and the evidence of the commission could not arrive before July.

Mr. G. L. Staunton stated that he understood the defense intended to apply at a later date for a commission to take the evidence of witnesses at Detroit. If so, this should be done now.

Mr. Johnston said unless a postponement was granted he would have to throw up the case. He pleaded overwork and ill-health.

Judge Anglin granted the postponement on the grounds that Mr. Preston's evidence could not be secured in time.

BANK IS SPREADING*Difficulty Being Experienced in Section of Track Elevation West of Cove.

"The elevated track west of the city will not be used for probably two months yet," was the statement made this morning by an official of the Grand Trunk.

An unforeseen difficulty is being experienced in the ballasting of about three-quarters of a mile of the track west of the Cove.

The bank at the point in question is very high, and it has been found that as a result of the frost leaving the clay used for filling purposes the bank has spread out several feet.

The track has to be raised from three and a half to four feet, and this is done and the bank at the Cove also raised at least two months will have elapsed.

Two work trains and a large number of men are engaged daily on the work.

CAMP CONTRACTS LET*Slaughtering of Cattle This Year by the Army Service Corps.

Some of the contracts for supplies for the June camp of instruction on Carling's Heights have already been let.

Mr. Harry Ramahan, of Richmond street, has secured the contract for the groceries, while Mr. George Jackson, of Wellington street, will supply the meat.

For the first time in the history of the London camp the slaughtering of the cattle will be done by the members of the Army Service Corps.

According to the contract, Mr. Jackson has to deliver the cattle to the corps at his slaughter-house at a certain hour every morning, the time fixed being early enough to allow of the dressing of the meat in time for the dinner on the same day.

All of the baking of bread for the camp will also be done on the grounds this year by the Army Service Corps.

New York, May 10.—The steamship Graf Waldersee arrived here today with the body of Captain Knech on board. The captain died at sea on May 6.

STARTLING!

London, May 10.—Sir Hugh Bell, presiding at the meeting yesterday of the Iron and Steel Institute, suggested that a century hence a ship with hardly any machinery or crew would speed across the Atlantic propelled by electric force generated by the falls of Niagara, and transmitted to the vessel wirelessly. Such a forecast, the speaker declared, was no more incredible than the developments of the past century.

UNABLE TO RENT
MUST BUY HOUSES*Position in Which Many Find Themselves—Same Condition of Affairs Elsewhere.

"People are buying houses now because they cannot find any to rent. This week I sold four houses to such persons. Three of the families came from towns around London. The other family came from England."

Such was the statement made to The Advertiser by a well-known real estate man today.

The houses were cottages of the three-bedroom type, and they sold for an average of $1,600 each.

The real estate man said he had been trying to rent houses for the families, but he found it impossible to do this, and at last the people wrote in to buy houses for them.

As the opportunity arose, the agent secured options on cottages, and when the people saw them they bought.

The buying habit is bearing very heavily upon those who are unable to purchase houses for themselves.

People occupying cottages settle down to enjoy themselves in undisturbed possession for the summer, when suddenly someone buys the house and the tenant is given a month's notice to vacate.

When the tenant goes, house-hunting, he is discouraged because he finds it practically impossible to secure the class of house he is looking for.

It is said that in London more furniture is in storage than ever before, owing to people being compelled to give up housekeeping and go boarding.

The railway companies complain, too, that they find it difficult to get rid of furniture shipped here from other places, because of the fact that people coming to London to reside cannot secure houses.

A large amount of building is going on in the city, but the houses are generally arranged for before they are finished.

In cities outside London the same condition of affairs is reported. In Woodstock, for example, Chief Thompson, of the police force, was compelled to wait for several months for a house, and then he found himself competing with Chief Borland, of the fire brigade, for it. Both men withdrew when he found Mr. Thompson had spoken for the house first.

City Wants to Use C.P.R. Lands for Playgrounds

The Sunken Garden Proposition Again Discussed by the Board of Works.

The proposed sunken garden on the property of the C. P. R. on Richmond street was again discussed at the meeting of the board of works last night. Chairman Matthews, Ald. Rose, Ald. Saunders, Engineer Graydon, Parks Commissioner Pearce and Secretary Bell being present.

Mr. Pearce was instructed to interview Superintendent Murphy on the subject, and to ascertain what the C. P. R. will do toward improving the place. Mr. Pearce was also asked to produce an estimate of the cost of the entire work and what the city's share will amount to.

The commissioner was further instructed to ask Mr. Murphy to have a plan of the proposed improvements prepared.

Playgrounds Wanted.
The board thought that if the city is to spend any money on the sunken garden proposition the C. P. R. should be asked to allow the city to have control of the grounds, and also the lands which belong to the company lying east and south of the depot, for the purpose of converting them into playgrounds for children.

Mr. Pearce was commissioned to sound Mr. Murphy on this question. Col. Gartshore and Mr. G. A. Somerville waited on the board, and asked that a culvert be built on Carfrae avenue to inclose the creek which flows across the street. Col. Gartshore said that if the city would put down the tile the property owners would do any dilling which might be necessary.

Engineer Graydon said he thought a 43-inch tile would be necessary to carry the water.

On motion of Ald. Saunders, Mr. Graydon was instructed to bring in a report as to the cost of the work which will probably be done, it being realized that tilling the creek is an absolute necessity.

"If the culvert is put in we intend to go ahead and build many new houses there," Col. Gartshore told the board.

Petitions Dealt With.
Petitions for tile sewers on Princess avenue, Quebec street to a point 300 feet easterly, and on Richmond street, Victoria street to Cheapside street, were reported sufficiently signed, and the works will be initiated at once.

The petition for a sewer on Bridford street, Richmond to St. George, was laid over.

The petition against a tile sewer on the Hamilton road, from Anderson avenue to Rectory street, and on Rectory street, from Nelson street to the Hamilton road, was reported to be insufficiently signed, and it was filed.

The application of certain persons to story, one could not help thinking of the silent pen of Ian Maclaren, whose life and labors ended in Burlington, Iowa, the other day.

If in his not very long but useful life Ian Maclaren, or Rev. John Watson, as was his real name, had given the world nothing but "The Bonnie Brier Bush," his life would not have been in vain.

To those who follow the stage closely, the play of "The Bonnie Brier Bush" stands out like a lighthouse in a sea of useless, senseless, waste of uninteresting stage stories. The play is a story of heart interest, while its comedy is wholesome and natural, as purview to the audience by the inimitable character of "Posty."

Mr. Charles E. Bloomer last night distinguished himself in the part, and demonstrated that he is a worthy follower of the renowned Rube Fox, who appeared to have been born for the role.

Tonight "The Bonnie Brier Bush" will be repeated, and all who enjoy a clean, wholesome play should not fail to witness the production.

In Mr. Collins they will find a worthy Lachlan Campbell; in Mr. Bloomer, a clever Posty; in Miss Caroline Von Bulow a lovable winning Flora Campbell; in Mr. Robt. Ireland, a convincing, realistic old Dr. MacLure, and in Mr. Kenneth Mackenzie a Tammas Mitchell, ardent but slow in his courting of Annie, a part which is well taken by Miss Helen Warren. ## PLAY PLEASED LARGE AUDIENCE

"Bonnie Brier Bush" Was Again Presented at the Grand.

"The Bonnie Brier Bush," a dramatization of the late Ian Maclaren's book of the same name, was presented at the Grand last night before a large and highly pleased audience.

The play is one which has grown up on Londoners with years and its popularity here has been greater probably than in any other city in the Dominion.

It may be owing to the fact that there is a strong Scotch element in London, but it is far more probable that it is owing to the sterling character of the play, and its absorbing, wholesome interest.

It is impossible to dissociate the name of the "Bonnie Brier Bush" from the name of J. H. Stoddart.

Londoners who have seen him in the play, and who in the past have waited for him throughout the theatrical season, miss him very much.

Last night the play was given an interpretation which from all standpoints was creditable, and which stamped the cast as a evenly-balanced company of artists, but it was impossible to forget the old man lying paralyzed in the east, who had given such a magnificent interpretation of the rugged and stern, yet kindly character, Lachlan Campbell.

Mr. J. Palmer Collins, who last night took the part, proved himself an actor of power and conviction, but yet he seemed to be impersonating Stoddart, for Stoddart and Lachlan Campbell were one.

Again as one watched the rapidly-changing kaleidoscope of climaxes, and heard the witty dialogue which ran through the pathos of Flora Campbell's have their names removed from a petition for a sewer to be laid on Chesley avenue, were laid over, as the petition has not as yet reached the city hall.

Petitions for cement curbs and gutters, on Colborne street, Oxford to St. James, and on Dufferin avenue, Wellington street to Waterloo street, were reported sufficiently signed, and the necessary initiations will be commenced at once.

It was decided to initiate a cement curb and gutter on both sides of Colborne street, Hill street to Grey street.

The following petitions for cement walks were reported to be sufficiently signed: West Wellington street, Hill to Grey; West Wellington street, Simcoe to Grey; South Simcoe street, Rectory to Adelaide; South Elmhurst avenue, Brighton street to the Wharfedale road.

The Garside Case.
At the council meeting Monday night Ald. Gerry inquired what had been done in regard to the writ for damages which had been issued against the city by Thomas Garside of South London, the matter again came up at the meeting last night and it was explained that the threatened action had been referred to City Solicitor Meredith to defend. It appears that Garside claims the city has damaged his property by allowing the Ridout street belt line to change the grade of the street in front of his property. At the council meeting Ald. Gerry stated that trouble with Mr. Garside could be avoided if the city would meet him half-way.

Engineer Graydon was instructed to bring in a report on how the matter now stands.

In accordance with a request made by Ald. Gerry a tile sewer will be initiated on Ingleside street.

An account of $20 against the city, presented by Mary Grant, clerk of the Township of London, and which is for half the cost of gravelling a portion of the Wharfedale road, was ordered to be paid.

Other Matters.
The request of J. D. Waldon for permission to erect a sign on the boulevard on Queen's avenue, between Richmond street and Park avenue, was filed, and having no power to grant the request.

Thos. Leah's application to be allowed to connect with a sewer on Dundas street, was granted. Mr. Leah to pay the usual rental.

The tender of J. Z. Anthill to repair the lily pond in Victoria Park for $75 was accepted, it being the lowest.

Brick crossings will be put in on both sides of Queen's avenue, at the intersection of Ontario street, on the west side of Waterloo street, across St. James street, and on the south side of York street across Rectory street.

Harry Rymill, a local bricklayer, was recommended to Engineer Graydon by Chairman Matthews for inspector of concrete work on the new septic tanks, which are being constructed for the sewerage department.

One could not help thinking of the silent pen of Ian Maclaren, whose life and labors ended in Burlington, Iowa, the other day.

If in his not very long but useful life Ian Maclaren, or Rev. John Watson, as was his real name, had given the world nothing but "The Bonnie Brier Bush," his life would not have been in vain.

To those who follow the stage closely, the play of "The Bonnie Brier Bush" stands out like a lighthouse in a sea of useless, senseless, waste of uninteresting stage stories. The play is a story of heart interest, while its comedy is wholesome and natural, as purview to the audience by the inimitable character of "Posty."

Mr. Charles E. Bloomer last night distinguished himself in the part, and demonstrated that he is a worthy follower of the renowned Rube Fox, who appeared to have been born for the role.

Tonight "The Bonnie Brier Bush" will be repeated, and all who enjoy a clean, wholesome play should not fail to witness the production.

In Mr. Collins they will find a worthy Lachlan Campbell; in Mr. Bloomer, a clever Posty; in Miss Caroline Von Bulow a lovable winning Flora Campbell; in Mr. Robt. Ireland, a convincing, realistic old Dr. MacLure, and in Mr. Kenneth Mackenzie a Tammas Mitchell, ardent but slow in his courting of Annie, a part which is well taken by Miss Helen Warren. The other members of the cast will be found to be up to the standard.

LONDON, FRIDAY, MAY 10.

MR. SOMERVILLE AND THE MANUFACTURERS' LIFE.Mr. J. F. Junkin, managing director of the Manufacturers' Life Assurance Company, has resigned his position, and intends to engage in business on his own account. Mr. Junkin is a man of first-class ability, and under his management the company's business has attained to large proportions. The success of a life assurance company depends to a large extent upon the knowledge, experience and integrity of its management.The directors of the Manufacturers' Life have tendered the position to Mr.
George A. Somerville, of this city, manager of the Huron and Erie Savings and Loan Company, and managing director of the Canada Trust Company. Mr. Somerville came to London eighteen years ago from Guelph, and entered upon his duties as manager of the Huron and Erie. He found it then a prosperous company with assets amounting to $3,885,000, and during his management the assets have increased to the sum of $11,103,000. The reserve fund then was $453,000, which has been increased to the sum of $1,600,000. Eighteen years ago the stock in that company, compared with other loan companies, stood sixth from the top, and today it commands a higher price than that of any other loan company in Canada. It has not declined even during times of depression. The Huron and Erie is the oldest loan company in London, having been established about 45 years ago.
Its record has been one of unbroken success. There is only one man now connected with it who has been intimately associated with the management all this time, and who was its founder, Mr. V. Cronyn. His careful hand has since been invaluable to it.A few years ago, recognizing the desirability of a trust company, managed in connection with the Huron and Erie, its management organized the Canada Trust Company. Mr. Somerville was elected managing director, and this company has been successful from its inception. Its assets now exceed a million dollars, and this has been achieved by the most careful and conservative management. The success of the Huron and Erie and the Canada Trust Company managed together shows the desirability of adding the powers of trust companies to all loan companies. The machinery required for each is identical. The business of a loan company naturally grows into and produces that of a trust company. The large trust companies of the United States perform all the services of trust companies and supply as well the place occupied in Canada by loan companies.Mr. Somerville possesses all the qualifications necessary to successfully fill the very responsible position offered to him. He neglects nothings. He is one of the safest and most evenly-balanced business men in London. Life assurance has during the past year or two occupied a large place in the public eye.
The royal commission has established the soundness of Canadian life assurance, and large as the business now is, it is destined to become much larger. Many hundreds of millions will be invested by the managements of life assurance companies, and therefore a cautious, careful, conservative manager, who has had experience, and has ability, industry and integrity, is indispensable to every company. The difficult position which Mr. Somerville has occupied during the past eighteen years, and the fact that he has wrought such unvarying success, through good and bad times, furnish ample proof that the directors of the Manufacturers' Life have made a wise selection.The citizens of London severally will regret Mr. Somerville's removal from the city should he accept the position, but will be pleased to hear of his advancement and future success. The field which in that event Mr. Somerville enters is a larger and more responsible one than that occupied by loan and trust companies. It is capable of indefinite expansion. All the duties, however, attached to the management of loan and trust companies enter into the management of a life assurance company, and the other requisites will soon be acquired. Mr.
Somerville is not without experience in life assurance, as he had been a director of the Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada for several years. The future of the Manufacturers' Life could not be entrusted to safer hands, and it will be sure to receive its full share of prosperity.

THE TRIAL IN IDAHO.

Another murder trial is focusing public attention in the United States, and is being followed with special interest by the hosts of organized laboron both sides of the line. The defendants are three officials of the Western Federation of Miners, Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone. The specific charge is the murder of ex-Governor Steunenberg, of Idaho, who when in office had subjected striking miners to the full rigors of the law, but the crime is only one of many imputed to the inner circle of the Miners' Union. The prosecution is based on the tale unfolded by one Orchard who claims to have placed the bomb which killed Steunenberg, and to have been one of the instruments of the inner circle in a policy of assassination. His alleged confession covers the murder of scores of men.
The New York Times says of Orchard's story:"It took five days' steady writing to take down his confession. Orchard has in no way indicated since then that the confession was false in any detail. Points in his confession which could be corroborated by investigation at the time were investigated and duly corroborated. It takes seven hours' rapid reading to get through with this document, which purports to give the entire history of the activities of the 'inner circle' of the Western Federation of Miners. It covers seven years of crime, explaining disasters and murders which at the time horrified whole communities. The crimes in the Cripple Creek district in the last few years find explanation in this document."According to his own confession, Orchard was the principal assassin in the pay of the Western Federation of Miners, hired to get rid of objectionable persons. . . In the long story Orchard tells of many things. He confesses to the blowing up of the Independence mine, at Independence, Colo., employed non-union men. The plan was to kill off two shifts at once by blowing up the railroad station as one shift was going to work and another leaving. Two o'clock in the morning was the hour selected. Orchard says that this crime was "framed up" in Haywood's room in Denver. Haywood made his "getaway" by inducing a saloonkeeper named Neville to burn down his saloon, get the insurance money, and then to travel north through the mountains. On the first night out, Orchard pretended to have forgotten
his gun, and rode back in the night with the ostensible purpose of getting
it. At that time he laid the mine which tore thirteen men limb from limb and crippled six more for life.
He pulled the wire a moment too late, or he would have killed a hundred. Neville, when he learned of the crime, suspected Orchard of it.
He later got hush money from the federation, and going to Goldfield, Nev., died mysteriously a year after of poison."The members of the Miners' Federation and the trade unionists throughout the United States are standing by Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone, and have raised over $100,000 for their defense. The friends of the prisoners not only repudiate Orchard's story, but charge that behind the prosecution is a combination of mine owners and capitalists, whose object is to destroy the power of the federation, and discredit organized labor throughout the country. They accuse Governor Gooding, of Idaho, who has been instrumental in securing from the state legislature a large appropriation of money for the prosecution, of executing the decrees of the Standard Oil Company, and its allied interests, and of exercising an armed terrorism in Boise, where the trial is taking place.
The defense is making the most of the irregular mode of arresting the defendants, who were apprehended in Colorado and rushed to Idaho by a special train without the usual formalities.The assumption is that the defendants are innocent until proved guilty, and the trades unionists are showing a natural and proper sentiment in providing for their legal defense. The interest of organized labor and of the public will be served by a fair trial, and the full disclosure of the facts. If Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone are the men described by Orchard, they are the worst enemies of the labor unions and traitors to the cause. No decent workman will wish to see them acquitted if the evidence proves their guilt. On the other hand, if they are proved innocent, it will be a great moral triumph for organized labor, and if there has been a capitalistic conspiracy it should be fully exposed.In last night's edition it was stated that the postage on a copy of the daily Advertiser addressed to the United States will in future be 143 per cent greater than the subscription price. This will be more clearly understood when it is stated that the subscription price to United States subscribers is increased by 233 per cent
by reason of the new postal rates.
This is published for the information of our many United States subscribers.

cork since the world's beginning. But many men think as you do, and I'll tell you how the fallacy originated. The in-

IMPOSSIBLE TO STOOP OR BEND

SEVERAL DOCTORS COULD DO NO GOOD.

PAIN IN BACK AND KIDNEYS.

People often say, "How are we to know when the kidneys are out of order?"

The location of the kidneys, close as it is to the small of the back, and not so far from the heart, renders the detection of kidney trouble a simple matter.

The note of warning comes from the back. Backache is the signal sent out by the kidneys the minute they become overtaxed. Those who heed the warning when it first comes, usually have but little trouble. The danger lies in delay.

A few doses of

taken in time, often saves years of suffering, and in many cases life itself.

They stimulate the action of the kidneys, enabling them to perform their duty properly.

Miss S. C. Pre, Keon Secum, N.S., writes:

"For the past three years I have been troubled with a very bad pain in my back and kidneys. It was so bad it was impossible for me to stoop or bend. I had several doctors attend me, but found no relief until I picked up one of your remarkable remedies, Doan's Kidney Pills. I prepared two boxes and their action surprised me, for they completely cured my kidney trouble. I think they have an equal for kidney trouble."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 25 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 and all druggists or mail order receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

Out of the Darkness

"Yes, I do," he returned, with an emphasis that startled her, "and, God helping, I mean to act upon it."

This was not what Rotha meant.

"I don't know in what way you are contributing to my meaning," she said rather bewildered. "I meant, of course, it is right for you to renounce the desire and fixed purpose of your life to be ordained?"

What made Garton suddenly pass his hand before his eyes?

"I would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God," How often he had chanted those words in the daily services, and what fullness of meaning had they not borne to him! Had he not desired with pure hands to serve in the sanctuary? Very slowly and reverently he answered her, "Yes, it is right."

"But why?" persisted Rotha.

"Because it has been plainly shown me that my work and place are elsewhere. I have hoped against hope. I have waited till I am heart-sick. Miss Maturin, do not let us talk any more about this."

"But I must talk about it. How am I to help you and keep silence? Mr. Garton, if this be your only reason you need never go to New Zealand; I will make it all right with the vicar."

"Yes, I do you think that I am not to be allowed to earn my title of friend; you forget I am 'the little sister.' Mary—Mrs. Ord, I mean—calls me 'Aladdin's lamp,' and her Fortune-teller's cap, and all sorts of pleasant titles. We are talking about wishing-wells in Burnley woods the other day. Mr. Garton, I will not promise to conjure up the little cottage with the bow-window, and the telescope, and big dog; but I think I can manage about the college."

"You! what do you mean?" demanded Garton, huskily. A dark flush rose to his face; his hands worked nervously. Was she going to help him; was she—Ah! but it was hard, terribly hard.

"It does not matter what I mean," returned Rotha, with a low musical laugh, but she colored, too, as she spoke. "The vicar and I will settle it all between us. Do you remember how we managed about Rube? Mr. Robert need not know."

"Do you mean that you propose to pay my college expenses, and that you are going up to the vicarage to tell Austin so?"

"There is no reason to put it in such plain words," faltered Rotha; "and, after all, you are to know nothing about it—the vicar and I will settle it. You are not too proud to take such a little thing from me?" she continued winningly, as she stretched out her hand to him—the little soft thin hand whose touch he knew so well. The poor boy trembled all over as he took it.

"You will not refuse such a little thing to your friend?" she continued pleadingly. Then he shook his head. "I could refuse you nothing, Miss Maturin. Do you think I could be proud of you? It is not that. No; don't stop me, you know I must go away."

"But why?" she persisted, pitiless in her sweetness, and her eyes looked so softly at him.

Garton burst into something like a groan, and then he threw his hand away from him with a violence that hurt her.

"You ask me that—you—you—when you must know how people are talking! Do you think I can stay here," he continued passionately, "and be accused of such things, when perhaps it may end in your believing them?"

"What things? Who is talking?" about you and me, do you mean?" A dim perception of his meaning began to dawn on her. "Look how you have hurt me," she said pitiously, in the childish way that was so irresistible to him; "are you angry with me because people choose to say foolish things of us?"

"But if you come to believe them," he repeated hoarsely. "Forgive me, Rotha; I am half mad tonight. I would rather die than harm a hair of your head. If I am a beggar," cried poor Garton, "I am a gentleman, and no less an oblige."

"Sit down and tell me what you mean, and why you call me Rotha tonight, Mr. Garton?" She laid her hand on his sleeve with a soft persistence that compelled him to yield to her. Rotha was very pale now, but she was the calmer of the two. To tell the truth, she forgot herself at the sight of his excessive agitation, which puzzled and frightened her at the same time. "What are people saying about us, and why do you so assure me that you are a gentleman?"

"I beg your pardon," said Garton vehemently; "if I have offended you, it is for the first time. No man can big goodby to the women he loves and measure his words. If I say 'goodbye,' and 'God bless you, Rotha,' you need not be angry with me, you will only be Rotha in my prayers."

The woman he loved—he Garton—her Garton. Rotha was deadly white now, and then she turned crimson to her finger-ends; but he could not see her face. It was so averted from him; at his next words it drooped lower and lower. Had she dreamed this? Could it indeed be true? What was the meaning of that strange new happiness that set her heart beating so wildly?

Not for worlds—not for worlds could she have spoken then.

"Forgive me," said Garton, he had risen to his feet, and was regarding her mournfully—"you know now why I stayed away. I ought not to have come here tonight, and you have tried me so, beyond my strength even. They thought I was a fortune-hunter, and that I dared to aspire to an heiress. They little knew me. If we never meet again after tonight—and we never shall with my consent—look up in my face and tell me, Rotha, that you never suspected me of such meanness."

She looked up quickly to the honest face above her, and then drooped her head lower than ever. "Never—never!" she faltered; "how dare they say so?"

"What does it matter?" he continued, cheered by her manifest sympathy; "what does anything matter so that you think well of me? I can go more happily now."

"Why should you go?" faltered Rotha. How pale her face was! "Hush, you must not tempt me; how can you, knowing what you know now? Of course, I must go away; how can I bear to live on here, and see you every day, and know," and his voice trembled, "and know you are not for me?" He paused, and then went on, "You must not be sorry now I have told you this. I could not help it. I could not indeed. God bless you, dear, for your noble thought, as I shall bid God bless you in my prayers when I am far away."

The little hand trembled out to him again from the folds of the gray dress; there were tears in the bright, kind eyes; the sweet face was covered with blushing.

"Don't go, Garton; I want you." And then in a voice of intense feeling, "I was a poor girl, without a friend but Meg in the world, till all these good things came to me; but what are they worth—what is anything worth—unless I may share them with you, I love."

Could he mistake those brave tender words? The strong man trembled like a child when he heard them.

"Rotha, do you mean me?" he whispered; and Rotha, looking up, with a smile and a blush said, "Yes."

CHAPTER XXVIII.

And after that neither of them knew exactly what had happened. The prince had come to Rotha—the prince in the shabby coat; but this time it was the princess who had held out her little hand to him.

"Don't go, Garton; I want you." "Do you know what you have said, Rotha?" asked Garton; "do you understand what your words imply?"

"Oh, hush! yes, I know," returned Rotha hurriedly.

DESIGNED BY MARTHA DEAN.

4106

A SENSIBLE WRAPPER FOR A GIRL—4106.

The young girl enjoys a loose, comfortable wrapper quite as much as older maidens; and a wrapper is sketched here which is simple enough for the girl to fashion herself. Tucks, simulating double box-pleats at each side of the front and in back, provide fullness for the skirt, and they may be made quite attractive with feather-stitching. The sleeves are long and loose, while the flat collar relieves the neck from all restraint. Lawn, percale and challis are suggested, but any seasonable fabric may be used, of which 3 3/4 yards 44 inches wide are needed.

4106—Sizes, 4 to 14 years. The price of this pattern is 10 cents.

TO BE DYSPEPTIC IS TO BE MISERABLE

Hopeless, Confused and Depressed in Mind, Forgetful, Irrresolute, Drowsy, Languid and Useless.

This disease assumes so many forms that there is scarcely a complaint which it may not resemble in one way or another. Among the most prominent symptoms are constipation, sour stomach, variable appetite, heartburn, water-brash, gas in the stomach and bowels, distress after eating, etc.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS is a positive cure for dyspepsia, and all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels or blood. It stimulates secretion of the saliva and gastric juices to facilitate digestion, removes acidity, purifies the blood and tones the entire system to full health and vigor. Mrs. M. A. McNeil, Brook Village, N.S., writes: "I suffered from dyspepsia, loss of appetite and bad blood. I tried everything I could get but to no purpose; then finally started to use Burdock Blood Bitters. From the first day I felt the good effects of the medicine. I can eat anything now without any ill after effects and am strong and well again."

Price $1.00 per bottle or 6 bottles for $5.00.

WOMEN PAY MORE
Why Insurance Companies Discriminate Against the Gentle Sex.

Medical examiners of insurance companies say that the reason a woman pays more for the privilege of insurance than a man, is from the fact that women more readily fall victims to indigestion and stomach troubles and the fatal ailments that spring from these causes.

All persons, they say, who have a weakened digestive system and suffer from sick headache, dizzy spells, distress after eating, specks before the eyes, bloating, nervousness, sleeplessness, and the many other symptoms of indigestion, soon lower the tone of the whole system and are most susceptible to a fatal illness.

For curative power in all stomach troubles, nothing else is as safe yet effective, nothing else can be thoroughly relied upon to relieve all troubles from indigestion as M-I-O-N-A. It is unlike any remedy heretofore known and is really one of the valuable discoveries in modern medical science.

It is not the acute attacks that influence the insurance examiners alone, but the constant feelings of weakness, headaches, indigestion and stomach troubles—these things, physicians say, kill more people than many more serious diseases.

To escape this condition of ill health, to enjoy one's food and yet never suffer with indigestion, a person should use M-I-O-N-A stomach tablets. They are not a mere digestive tablet, but strengthen and restore to natural action the stomach and bowels and effect a complete cure in even the worst form of stomach troubles.

UNCLE SAM OUSTS THE "DRUG TRUST"

Enjoined From Publishing Blacklist or Discriminating Against "Cutters."

Indianapolis, Ind., May 9. — The so-called "drug trust" was temporarily enjoined today from continuing its operations by the entering of a decree in the United States circuit court for the district of Indiana on the complaint of the United States Government, filed by Joseph B. Keating, United States district attorney.

The 32 defendants, who are the members, officers, directors, agents and attorneys of the National Association of Retail Druggists, the National Wholesale Druggists Association, tri-partite proprietors, "black list manufacturers," "direct contract proprietors," "wholesale contract proprietors," and Charles C. Bambaugh, are perpetually enjoined from combining and restraining trade in drugs, fixing prices by agreements, blacklisting retailers who cut prices, or refusing to sell to any retailers on equal terms. All publication of blacklists is forbidden.

The direct contracts serial number plan is prohibited, as well as the securing of the adoption of schedules for the sale of drugs. Charles C. Bambaugh was charged in the bill of complaint with being engaged in printing and circulating black lists, which contained the names of druggists throughout the country who sold proprietary articles and medicines at prices less than those which the alleged combination charged. It is alleged he would send a list once a month to every retail and wholesale druggist in the United States, who belonged to the association of those accused of cutting rates and prices, and as a result of this these "aggressive cutters," as they were called, could not buy goods.

It was further charged that those accused of cutting prices on proprietary medicines were unable to purchase any kind of drugs from the members of the several associations. All such practices are perpetually enjoined. The decree entered today was dictated by the Government attorneys, and agreed to by the defendants. With the entering of the decree the litigation came to an end with a complete victory for the Government.

JULIAN STORY TO WED HEIRESS

Anne Thompson to Become the Bride of Eames' Divorced Husband.

New York, May 9.—Society here and in Philadelphia expects soon to receive formal announcement of the engagement of Anne Thompson, of Philadelphia, to Julian Story, the artist, from whom Emma Eames, the great cantatrice, recently secured a divorce.

This announcement has been made semi-authoritatively, and, in fact, ever since the divorce proceedings were begun by the singer, Society in both cities has been asking, "When will they marry?"

Miss Thompson, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lee Thompson, is very wealthy. Only a few days before the news of the Eames-Story suit came out she sailed for Europe with her mother. It was announced that she would be gone indefinitely, perhaps for three years, perhaps more.

Mr. Story, it is said, will sail on June 1, and the marriage will take place quietly in an Italian villa. According to gossip this arrangement was completed even before the fact of the Eames-Story divorce suit became public.

There is a curious psychological phase of the artist's attachment to both Madame Eames and Miss Thompson. Were it not for the different faces of the two women the artist's portraits of Madame Eames and Miss Thompson could not be told apart. In pose, in dress, in character of figure, in most subtle fashion they are the same. And this resemblance does not stop there. The tonal qualities of the faces, the light and shade, the very arrangement of coiffure and spirit of face are startlingly similar.

When the Anne Thompson portrait was shown at a private view in Philadelphia upon its completion many persons, catalogues in hand, simply passed it by as a new portrait of Eames by her husband. It was not until they had inquired of the artist as to the whereabouts of the Thompson portrait that they recognized their error.

BAPTIST STUDENTS

BUY BLUE BELL LARDER LAKE

NOW 10c PER SHARE.

BEFORE THE BIG ADVANCE.

AFTER MAY 15TH 50c PER SHARE.

SPECIAL REGARDING LARDER LAKE.

We are ready to stake our reputation and standing, both present and future, also our money, on the present conditions of Larder Lake as to its being a wonderful Gold Field in every sense of the word. We are very cautious as to what we recommend for investment. We have many propositions presented to us that do not come up to our requirements.

We have gone to a great deal of expense in ascertaining the true merits and real condition of the Blue Bell properties at Larder Lake. In order to satisfy ourselves beyond question we despatched three different crews of men to make examinations. They were supplied with dynamite to blow out the ore at various localities of the Blue Bell properties and ship direct to us. Neither of the crews knew or were aware of the others being in the field. We have received ore and reports from each crew. We have received hundreds of pounds of ore and can say we are astonished at the results.

There is not a single piece, from the size of a hickory nut to the largest piece, weighing two pounds, that does not contain free visible gold that will assay anywhere from Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) to Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000.00) to the ton; these are facts which we can verify if required.

Men with large quantities of materials are now on the ground, establishing camps for the Blue Bell Company. There will be no time lost in installing Stamp Mills. We cannot here take space to tell all the pains and expenses we have gone to in order to satisfy ourselves as to the real merits of the Blue Bell properties in order that we would not mislead the investing public in misplacing their investments.

We are satisfied beyond question as to the Blue Bell properties and can recommend without reservation investments therein. We believe that the memberships consisting of 1,000 shares, which can be purchased to-day for One Hundred Dollars ($100.00), will be worth in one year Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000.00) each.

We strongly urge the immediate purchase of these memberships; we are willing to stake our reputation and standing on this proposition; we are placing our own funds in it, and have no fear of the ultimate results.

The rate at which these memberships are being taken exceeds our most sanguine expectations. We appreciate the confidence the investing public place in our recommendations. We pledge loyalty to every client and the near future will demonstrate that their confidence has not been misplaced.

To all our clients and friends we desire to impress upon them this fact: Larder Lake will undoubtedly be one of the greatest, if not the greatest, Gold Districts in the world. We have taken every precaution and have made thorough and systematic investigations and can say that the Blue Bell is the opportunity of a lifetime.

BUY NOW before the big advance. On or about May the fifteenth Blue Bell shares will be advanced to 50 cents per share. They can be purchased now in our Syndicate Pool in 1,000-share lots at 10 cents per share, requiring an investment of $100.00. On or about May 15th (this month) the market value of 1,000 shares of Blue Bell will be $500.00. This is a profit of 400 per cent. We are of the firm belief that within one year 1,000 shares of Blue Bell will be worth $2,000.00. Blue Bell consists of 28 40-acre gold claims (one 40-acre claim having been recently purchased near the Reddick property), 1,120 acres in all. Fully paid for. No indebtedness. Blue Bell shares have no personal liability and are forever non-assessable. Men are now on the Blue Bell properties establishing camps and preparing for the stamp mills. Blue Bell will be sending out gold this summer. Now is the time to buy—before the advance—at bottom prices.

SNAPSHOTS AT VARIOUS SPORTS

Pratt can beat Crispin—with an automobile. When the pair met last night in a roller-skating race at the Jubilee Rink it was quite evident that Pratt couldn't touch one side of Crispin, who skated rings around his opponent. At the pistol Crispin took the lead, and set a red-hot pace for six laps, when the lanky Bostonian sprinted, and by skating wide, almost directly in front of the local man on the east-end turn, went to the fore. The pair jockeyed for position for twelve laps, when the bean-eater went sprawling on the floor. Apparently, he was in no hurry to get up again, and before he did the Londoner had gained half a lap, which was later increased to a lap. Making due allowance for the distance lost by the spill, Pratt seemed hopelessly outclassed. The time for the distance (two miles), was 6:32, five seconds better than the time made in the previous contest.

It was decided last night at a meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. of representatives of the Canadian and East-End Clubs that the former organization should work in co-operation with the latter club in reference to the proposed Dominion Day meet at Queen's Park. The E. E. A. C. will manage the affair, while the Canadian Club will place at least two events in the field, one of which, at least, will be for local athletes only.

To Londoners who are banking on bringing Longboat here for an exhibition, the following item from the Toronto News should be of interest:

The reports from every point, Ottawa, Collingwood and a dozen other places that Tom Longboat had consented to run there at coming athletic meets, are all denied by the great Indian himself, who called up the News today and asked that it be emphatically stated he would only run twice during the summer, once at the Y. M. C. A. games at Hanlan's Point on June 8, and at Caledonia on May 24. He has no other engagements, and despite reports to the contrary, no inducement of any nature will make him change his mind, he says.

Arrangements are progressing satisfactorily for the games on June 8. Mr. Ashley is now in Buffalo endeavoring to arrange a match race between Longboat and Neblich, the only man who ever defeated the Indian. Bonhag and Linden will walk a match race and Charlie Petch and Jack Tait may also hook up. An Indian race between a number of braves from Longboat's home will be a feature.

There is some talk of providing a brace of automobiles for played-out runners in the Dominion Day contest. Judging by the lack of stamina displayed in the McClary road race, when all but three runners dropped out, the idea would seem to be a good one, especially if many local runners enter the event, which is nearly ten miles further than the McClary contest.

It is proposed to start the Marathon at St. Thomas at 2:30, instead of at noon. It is rumored that the majority of the natives of that sleepy old burg don't rise until after dinner, and it is desired that they be given a chance to see some real athletes.

Tomorrow night two teams of Hamilton bowlers will visit this city to compete with Ben Waterworth's challengers and the Champion Londoners. It is doubtful if Blufftown can turn out anything in the bowling line that can successfully compete with our tenpin artists—but then one can never tell—until afterward.

IT IS A LIVER PILL.—Many of the ailments that man has to contend with have their origin in a disordered liver, which is a delicate organ, peculiarly susceptible to the disturbances that come from irregular habits or lack of care in eating and drinking. This accounts for the great many liver regulators now pressed on the attention of sufferers. Of these there is none superior to Farnell's Vegetable Pills. Their operation, though gentle, is effective, and the most delicate can use them.

BURNS PROMISED TO "LAY DOWN" TO GET O'BRIEN INTO THE RING

Winner of Fight Declares That O'Brien Was Caught in His Own Trap.

Los Angeles, May 9.—In a statement today "Tommy" Burns, the Canadian heavyweight champion, the winner of last night's fight, declares that he promised to lay down and let O'Brien win the fight. He said there was no chance otherwise to get O'Brien into the ring. He said he resolved as soon as the gong sounded the first round to break his promise and determined to go in and win.

Burns said: "Jack O'Brien was caught in one of his own traps. I could not get him to agree to enter the arena until I had promised to lay down and let him win the fight. I pretended to be willing to do this, because I wanted to show the country that I was O'Brien's master. In the first round, O'Brien was taken off his feet, and was scared to death. He knew I had planned too cunningly for him, and that he was due for a beating. As for the bets being called, I was instrumental in having that done for the protection of the public. I wanted to make this explanation afterwards, and I did not want to see the public tricked into losing any of its money. The calling off of the bets cost me $2,800, for I stood to win that amount myself."

SPORTING MEN DISGUSTED.
Manager McGarry, of the Pacific Athletic Club, today confirmed Burns' statement in every detail.

The disgust of sporting men over the affair is great. Referee Eytan said today:

"Burns' statement today is the first intimation I had about any agreement between the men. I am not surprised, however, at the revelation, as there were plenty of suspicious circumstances I called off all bets last night after a conference with Manager McGarry. I am glad personally that the exposure has been made for it will help to shut some of those out of the boxing game who are in it for dishonest purposes." O'Brien is suffering from injuries to his face and hands received in last night's fight, and declined to see any callers at the hotel or respond to telephone calls.

BONHAG AND LINDEN TO WALK FOR TITLE

Toronto, May 9.—Through the efforts of the West End Y. M. C. A. a two-mile walking race for the championship of the world, will be held in Toronto on the Varsity athletic track on June 8, the date of the annual games of the Y. M. C. A.

The contestants will be Don Linden, of this city, and G. V. Bonhag, of the New York Athletic Club. However, Bonhag, it will be remembered, won the walking championship at the Marathon races at Athens last year, beating Linden by a few feet. However, quite a howl was raised over the decision, as it was claimed that on the occasion Bonhag had some doubt as to the possibility of getting in shape by June 8. He has been out of training for quite a while, but will use his best efforts to get in shape. If he can succeed in doing it it will be a matched walk between the two, otherwise it will be an open event, in which both, and as many others as desire, will compete.

The distance walked at Athens was 1,500 meters or 1,640 yards. The distance here will be two miles.
Bonhag has consented to meet Linden, but the latter has some doubt as to the possibility of getting in shape by June 8. He has been out of training for quite a while, but will use his best efforts to get in shape. If he can succeed in doing it it will be a matched walk between the two, otherwise it will be an open event, in which both, and as many others as desire, will compete.

Those who first recognized its curative qualities still value it as a specific, and while it retains its old friends it is ever making new. It is certain that whoever once uses it will not be without it.

BECK'S PLATER IN FAST TRIAL

Photographer Makes Best Time of the Year at King's Plate Distance.

Toronto Star: The best work of the year at Woodbine by any horse, King's Plater or otherwise, was shown this morning by Hon. Adam Beck's candidate for the guineas, Photographer, a 3-year-old chestnut colt by Phaeton-Snap Shot.

Photographer, with Jockey Kelley up, covered the Plate distance in 2:14½, after running the first mile in 1:15. It was an early morning trial, and few of the rail birds clocked the performance.

Half Caste and Kelvin, the A. M. Orpen Platers, went the mile and a quarter in 2:17½, running the first mile in 1:48. Half Caste won by three lengths.

The Hendrie Platers, Ayrwater and Kelpie, turned off a mile in 1:48.

The Seagram horses made their first appearance on the Woodbine track, all the Platers and other Waterloo crack-jacks, being galloped under the direction of Trainer Barry Littlefield.

SOME GOOD PRIZES FOR Y. M. C. A. RACE

For the handicap race which the Y. M. C. A. are to run on Victoria Day morning, for the purpose of giving a chance to the many new members who have developed lately, a choice list of prizes have been donated by friends of the league. In addition to two or three medals, a $5 umbrella is given by Messrs. Gray & Parker, gold cuff links by W. G. Young, a Waterman fountain pen by the Tait Optical Company, goods by B. Gilday & Son, sporting goods by Wm. H. Gurney and a number of others have signified their intention of giving prizes. With prizes like these and a generous handicapping committee, a good race is looked for. Dr. O. R. Cunningham will give a medal for the runner covering the course in the best time.

SPRINGBANK LEAGUE OPENS TOMORROW

The formal opening of the Springbank Baseball League takes place tomorrow at Springbank.

Speeches will be delivered by Mr. G. C. Gibbons, K. C., and Mr. B. C. McCann, president of the league.

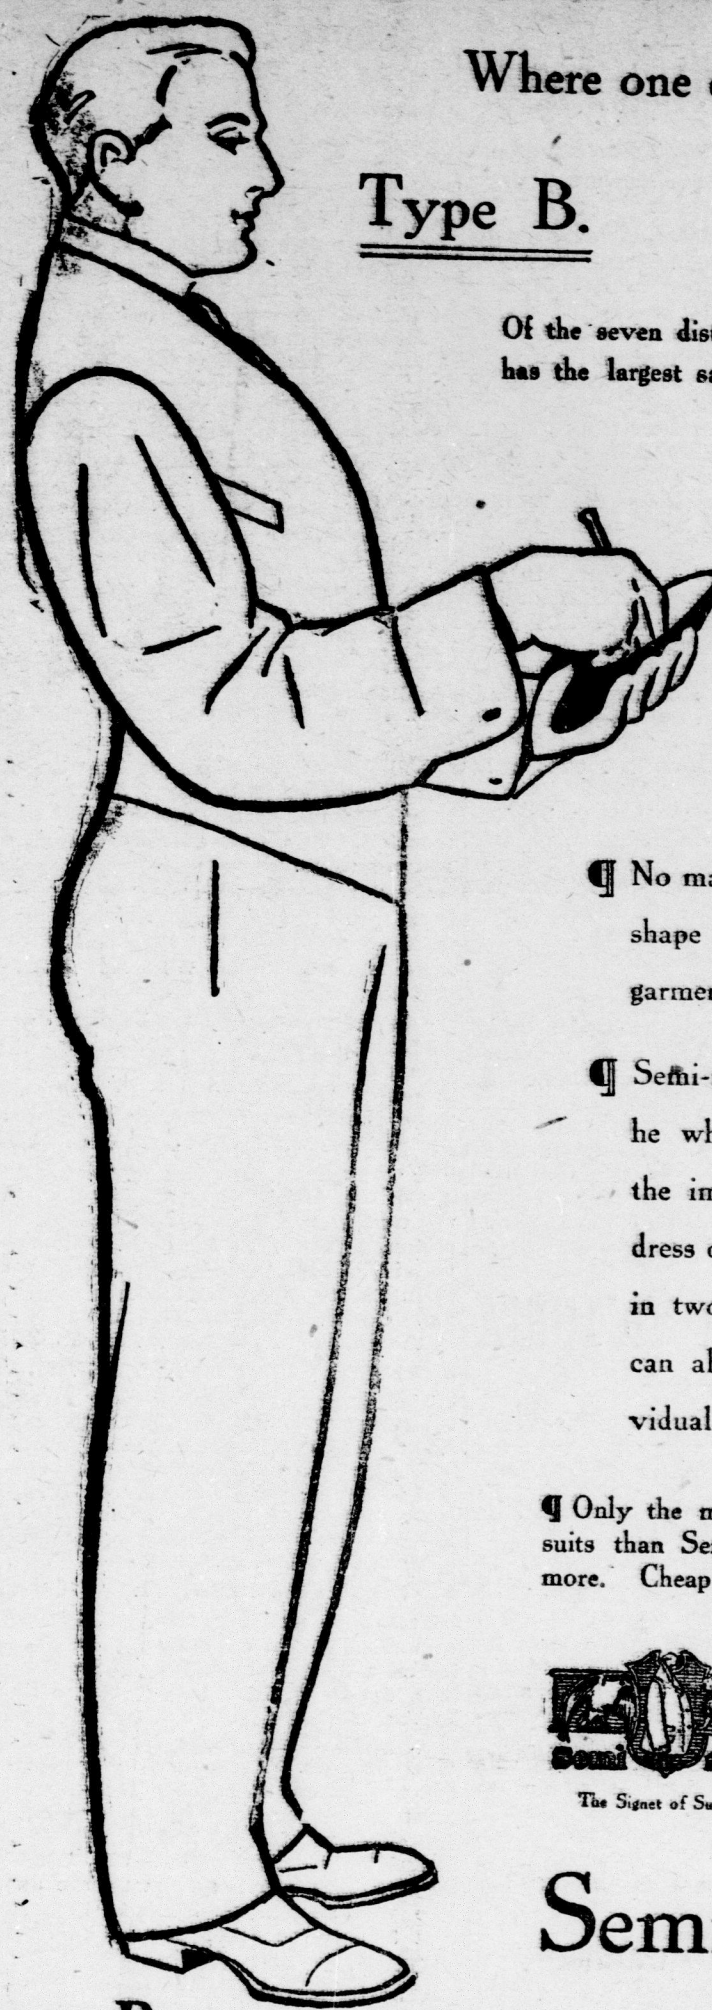

Everything points to a most successful season and the boys are deserving of good support.

In the opening contest the Junior Oriens, and the London West Grays cross bats, while the windup will bring together the Ivys and the Cubs. Both games should be well contested.

The summer car service to Springbank has been on for some time now, and enough cars will be placed on the line to accommodate the large attendance expected.

They had to be carried shrieking from the room. After the testimony in the case had been taken the prisoner was formally committed for trial at the central criminal court.

The pleasure of the visit of a delebeautifully designed medals to Master James McMillan, of Grade III, and heading the lists in their respective rooms in the regular bi-monthly examination. The medals were the generous donation of Mr. J. A. Carling, and were offered in competition among the pupils of these grades. Mr. Carling presented the medals in person, and laid the children and teachers of Talbot street school under further obli-

menas," "Pansy Faces," "The Nymphs Song," and "The Harvest Moon." Miss Rudd sang a solo in "Pansy Faces."
In an excellent manner, Miss Bowby, of Watford, rendered an instrumental solo in a splendid style. A "Gipsy Scene," during which solos were given by Misses L. Stanley, E. Corcoran, F.
Chittick and L. Proctor, and a reading given by Miss Bowby, was a very interesting number. A play, "At Cross Purposes," was also a great fun-producer. The following ladies were in the cast: Misses Chittick, Winnett, Collins, Rollins and Maude. Miss Dudley, who has for some time been known as one of the sweetest singers of the choir, and is about to leave, assisted in the programme. A large sum was realized.

REMAIN ANOTHER YEAR

Rev. Mr. Mahood, Junior Pastor, invited
by Wellington Street Church.

The quarterly Board meeting of the Wellington Street Methodist Church was held last night, the attendance being large.

The financial report presented showed the church to be in a healthy condition, a fact which is very satisfactory
because within a short time the church has lost through death several of its most substantial and hard-working supporters.

Mr. F. C. Toon, recording steward, was appointed to attend the district meeting, which will be held next week.

Messrs. George Jackson and James Laney were named representatives to the conference.

An invitation was unanimously extended to Rev. Mr. Mahood, B. A., to remain another year as junior pastor, with a salary increase of $100 per annum. Mr. Mahood has charge of the High Street Mission.

During the conference year Wellington Street Methodist Church received 42 members and High Street Mission
23 members.

BUILDING IS READY

Street Railway Soon to Have Large Storage Battery in Use.

The new battery building of the London street railway at the foot of Bathurst street, is completed, and it is expected that the machinery will be installed by the 1st of June.

It is the object of the company to have the storage battery ready for business by the time the heavy traffic to Springbank commences in earnest, and much additional power will be needed.

The company today received two carloads of paving brick. Fifteen more cars are now on the way to London.

The brick is to be used to pave along the rail of the company's track allowance.

RECITAL AT NORDHEIMERS'

Pupils of Mr. Thomas Martin in Difficult Programme.

The pupils of Mr. Thomas Martin gave an excellent piano recital in Nordheimers' Hall last night. An admirably-chosen programme was rendered, containing some very difficult works, which required great technical skill on the part of the performer. All the playing was marked by artistic finish, splendid touch and interpretation. The following was the programme:

You don't have to "prepare" Malta-Vita
in any way, or do anything to make it better. It couldn't be any better than it is when it comes to you in the big air-tight, moisture-proof packages. That's because Malta-Vita, the only malted whole-wheat food, is made just right, always "short" and crisp and ready to eat. Every little flake is a whole grain of malted wheat that simply melts in the mouth. Get some Malta-Vita today. Eat it with milk or cream or fresh fruit.

COBALT NEWS

Native silver has been found along the line of Firstbrook and Hudson Townships, six miles north of the northwest corner of Coleman Township, where a considerable rush is taking place for claims.

The manager of the Buffalo mine at Cobalt wires that a new vein has been discovered which shows high in silver.
A shipment from it is being prepared.
All of the other veins continue to develop ore. The company is experimenting with a view to building a containing plant.

G. E. Foster, who is superintending the development of the Gilpin, says:
"We have two shafts sunk on this property; one 50 feet and the other 25 feet.
We are sinking on calcite veins and are getting good silver assays, but the real ore values will not be witnessed until further sinking has taken place."
The statement was made recently that the Temiskaming mine had a carload of ore, which was so rich that the smelters refuse to accept it, and it would probably be handed over to the refiners. The objection of the smelter people is that the ore is without flux.
It is said to assay about 15,000 ounces
to the ton.

The Conislas Mining Company which has outstanding $4,000,000 of stock, par value $5, has placed its stock upon a bi-monthly dividend basis of two per cent. The company is now one of the largest shippers in the Cobalt camp. It has good management and its property has been well developed with a view to permanency of shipments.

Manager J. B. Phillips, of the Argyle Silver Mining Company, is showing a sample of vein matter from shaft No. 5, which is down only eight feet, and from which on Saturday night was blown out quantities of native silver.
