Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 5.—Before 38,000 wildly thrilled baseball fans, many of whom had maintained an all-night
vigil in order to be on hand when the gates opened at 9 o'clock this morning, the Yankees, led by Champion Slugger Babe Ruth, conquered the New York Giants in the first game of the 1921 race
for the world series pennant.

The "home-run king" opened hostilities with a hot single in the first inning, which scored Miller and gave the Yankees a one-run lead in the initial frame.

In the fifth and sixth innings the Yankees increased their lead by two runs.

There was a slight delay in starting
the game, while police chased photographers off the field.

Contrary to expectations, Douglas planted Nelt on the mound for the National League team, while Carl Mays was the choice of the American League manager.

The weather was ideal for the national game, and thousands of disappointed fans were unable to gain admission to the Polo grounds. The increase was as follows:

SOUTH LONDON
SCHOOL PLANS
ARE DELAYED

City Engineer's Proposal Is Likely To Be Favorably Considered.

ARCHITECT IS WAITING
IN MEDICAL SCHOOL
No Work On Four-Roomed
School in Southeast Section Until Spring.

Although the board of education has authorized him to proceed with plans for the new South London high school, architect, explaining that he is unable at this moment to make any progress in that direction.

The city engineer's request for permission to continue Belgrave avenue
through the property adjoining the school, and the board's decision to consider the proposal, complicates
the situation considerably.

This was the tract of land originally intended for the South London high school, and should the trustees decide
to allow the city to extend its thoroughfare, it is acknowledged that the untouched remaining section will not be of sufficient area as prescribed by the department.

From present indications it seems likely that the board will accede to the city engineer's wish, with the result
that the remainder of the property,
rendered unsuitable for the proposed school, must continue as public school ground. Some of the trustees
point out that the board can well afford to retain this lot for that purpose,
and procure a suitable site for the high school elsewhere. In the meanwhile the architect explains that he has his hands tied. He must know the exact particulars of the location in order to draw plans.

Involved Legal Expenditures.
That any definite work on a new
four-roomed school in the southeast
portion of the city will be attempted
this year is also considered quite improbable. The board has options on

Tax Payment
Near Record

As an extractor of the coin of the realm, the third and final installment of taxes far surpassed the expectations of City Treasurer James S. Bell and Tax Collector Turner. The payment was due on Saturday, but so heavy was the rush at the last minute
that the total amount received was $25,000 more than was expected.

The cleaning up of the tax roll has been more successful than in other years. Usually the amount had to collect is about $100,000.

PREMIER OF NEW SOUTH WALES DEAD

Sydney, N. S. W., Oct. 5.—John Storey,
who in April 1920, became premier of New South Wales, died today. He was for many years a labor leader in Australia.

He came into office following a campaign waged with the utmost bitterness, and during campaign speeches
he declared he proposed if he became premier to impose a larger share of the
public burden on unproductive capital,
speculative investments and absentees
from the country, while the distressed
slaves in the burden would be lightened.

Last year Premier Storey read out of the labor party the radicals who planned to use the strike as a direct weapon against the Government. Mr. Storey declared he proposed if he became
premier to impose a larger share of the
public burden on unproductive capital,
speculative investments and absentees
from the country, while the distressed
slaves in the burden would be lightened.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY AD-JOURNS.
London, Oct. 5.—(Canadian Press Cable).—A Reuter dispatch from Sydney
yesterday, Joshua Fletcher, president of the district United Farmers of Alberta, tenders his resignation and withdrawal from the organization as a protest against the dictation of President Wood, whose policy in regard to the federal affairs is described as being dangerous and effect designed to bring about national suicide.

Mr. Fletcher has been a leader in the United Farmers of Canada for some years. In his letter of resignation he calls on all citizens, regardless of class,
who respect Canadian institutions, to unite in stamping out the system lately introduced into U. F. A. affairs, as they would some dread disease. He makes it quite clear, however, that he remains
a strong supporter of the local farmer
member of the Provincial Legislature.

CANAL TONNAGE DECREASES.

proximately 18,000 tons over corresponding period last year, according to the monthly tonnage report just made public.

BIG MEDICAL MEN TO DELIVER
ADDRESSES HERE

Nerve Specialists To Lecture
At Academy of Medicine
Friday.

Every Physician in District Is Expected To Be in Attendance.

Final plans have been completed for the session of the Western Ontario Academy of Medicine, to be held in the Western University Medical School Friday afternoon, and at which three leading members of the medical profession
of this continent will deliver addresses.

Two of these specialists are graduates
of Western University Medical School,
and practically every doctor in the district will be in attendance.

Dr. Charles Neu, of Indianapolis, Ind.,
will deliver an address on "Encephalitis Lethargica," which is known to the laity as sleeping sickness. In view of the fact that an occasional case of this disease is encountered in Western Ontario his address is expected to arouse
an interesting discussion.

Dr. Russell G. MacRobert, who graduated at Western University Medical School, will deliver an address on "Cerebral Palsy." Dr. MacRobert, a native of London, has met with considerable success as an associate physician at the Neurological Institute in New York City, and is a specialist in nervous diseases.

The session will commence at 2 p.m.,
and prior to this meeting members of the academy will attend a noon-day luncheon at the Tecumseh Hotel. The latter function is to be a new feature of the monthly sessions of the Academy of Medicine throughout the ensuing year. There will be no speeches on the program of the day, it merely
being a "get together meeting."

League Costs Fall Heaviest
On Great Britain and France

Geneva, Oct. 5.—Great Britain and France must pay the largest proportion of the expenses of operating the league of nations, it was found when the committee charged with determining the share each country should pay reported to the assembly of the league body.

Each must pay 9.2 per cent, while China, India Italy and Japan were placed in the second category, and were called upon to pay 6.65 per cent each.
In the third category were placed Argentine, Spain, Brazil, Rumania, Jugo-Slavia and Czechoslovakia, whose individual shares were fixed at 3.58 per cent. The scale was graduated downward to .21 per cent, which will be paid

by Nicaragua, Luxembourg, Panama, Paraguay, Salvador, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Honduras and Liberia.

Under this ruling Great Britain and France will pay 1,800,000 gold francs,
while the nations in the second category
will each pay 1,300,000. The countries in the lowest category will be called upon for 42,000 gold francs. This plan
of payment was reached by the committee after holding nearly forty meetings,
including two night sessions.

The assembly opened what was expected to be the last day of its present
session this morning, with consideration
of three remaining amendments to the covenant of the league.

Wingham Duck Hunters
Kill Bear Cub
[Special To The Advertiser.]
WINGHAM, Oct. 5.—A party of local duck hunters while returning home through the Greenock swamp last night, saw a black bear cub. The animal was shot, and was found to weigh about 100 pounds. It was in perfect condition, and one of the finest cubs seen in this district in some time.

Greenock swamp is fourteen miles north of Wingham, and contains the thickest bush in the district.

Port Credit, Oct. 5.—Hon. Manning
Doherty, provincial minister of agriculture, and Hon. Walter Rollo, provincial commissioner of lands and forests, will participate in the course of their speeches at a meeting in the interests of Herbert Taylor, U. F. O. candidate, here last night.

Mr. Doherty pointed out that for many years it has been the practice of the provincial governments to take part in federal campaigns. While that has been the practice in the past, he doubted if it would have taken part were it not that there was a meeting held anywhere
where in the province by Liberals or Conservatives where the administration of the Drury Government was not called into question and subjected to undue criticism.

As a native of the county, he declared,
he had a right to be present to discuss
the situation. The minister of agriculture, he declared, his address entirely to provincial affairs, but the minister of land and forests, he declared, his address
entirely to federal affairs.

Mr. Rollo made no apology for taking part in a federal campaign, remarking that the only reason he respected the federal campaign was that he was a member of the federal Parliament and that he did not get sufficient
votes when he was a candidate in Hamilton.
He invited those who were tired of the old political parties to give the new party a chance.

"He even knows that," he said, "they cannot do much worse than the old bunch."

London Teachers
To Hold Conference
Two-Day Session in Normal School Next Week.

On October 13 and 14 the London
Teachers' Association will hold its annual meeting at the Normal School.
Teachers from the public, separate and technical schools and the Collegiate Institute will participate.

School inspectors Edwards and Greer
at the opening session will deliver reports on the work of the schools, while Alex. MacQueen and Miss E. Knott will tender their report as delegates to the recent meeting of the Ontario Educational Association. Mr. MacQueen, with Miss Hlop, will also report on the trip
of the Ontario teachers to New Ontario.

Rudolph Pintner, M.A., Ph.D., professor of educational psychology, Teachers' College, Columbia University, will address the conference at the morning session, October 14, taking as his subject, "The Use of Combined Mental Educational Tests." In the afternoon
he will speak again on "The Problem of the Bright Child."

Farmers On Market Buncoed
By Slick Buyer of Chickens

Skin game artists having just about exhausted their repertoire as far as city folks are concerned, have turned to the farmers, and one "Wallingford"
trimmed three of them to perfection
on the local market last Saturday, all in the same manner.

This smooth waltz walked up to a farmer who had a number of chickens
to sell and represented himself as being a buyer for one of the large downtown grocery stores. He picked out half a dozen plump birds valued at $1.75 each,
gave the farmer an order on the store
on one of the grocer's billheads, picked up the chickens, and walked off.

He repeated the same performance
with two others, on different stores,
and it was not until the farmers went
to collect from the grocers that they discovered "some city chap" had walloped them in the pocketbook.

They could give but a meagre description of the man, but all agreed that he was one and the same individual.

However, the farmers are not the only
guiltless people that do business in the vicinity of the market. A farmerish-
looking person called on a harnessmaker
last Saturday, purchased a $80 set of harness, and tendered a check for $100
in payment. He took the change and stated that he would call back for the balance. The harness man wishes he would, for the check was no good, and he is out $20.

Waco, Texas, Oct. 5.—Official action
in connection with the clash at Lorena
on Saturday night in which ten persons were injured, three seriously, when Sheriff Bob Buchanan attempted to halt
a Ku Klux Klan parade, still was being withheld today, pending, it was said,
the outcome of the injuries received by
those most seriously wounded.

Louis Crow, Waco laundry proprietor,
who was stabbed, is in such serious condition that physicians entertained no hope of his recovery. The condition of Sheriff Buchanan and Ed Howard, Waco policeman, was said to be somewhat improved, although it was stated
that neither of the men is out of danger.

Declined To Run

Widow of Former Liberal Leader
Expresses Desire to Stay Out of Politics.

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—The action of Lady Laurier in declining to participate as a candidate in the Federal elections, has created no surprise here. She was urged by the Liberals of Ottawa to contest
one of the two seats in the capital.

Commenting on the case, Judge Judd
said that the plaintiff refused to pay the money the company could not have collected it from him, but although the charge was unwarranted
and illegal, he could not recover the money once he had paid it.

His reasons for the judgment follow:
"In 1906 the City Gas Company of London applied to the Legislature of the Province of Ontario for an act to enable them to convert certain shares
of paid-up stock, and to increase their capital stock, and to validate and confirm a certain agreement made with
the corporation of the city of London,
on September 8, 1879, with reference to the laying of pipes on the streets
of the city."

Corporation Opposed Act.
"The corporation opposed the passing of the act, and certain reductions in the price of gas and meter rent were made by the company, and finally Sections 6, 7 and 8 of Chapter 123 of the Ontario Statutes, 1906, reduced the price
of gas to 55c per thousand cubic feet,
for a period of five years from July 1, 1906,
and thereafter (that is after 1911) to 50c
per thousand cubic feet, and also made reductions in the meter rent. Section 7 particularly states that the company shall continue thereafter to sell gas to all such consumers at a rate not greater than the said rate, that is, 50c
per thousand.

"Notwithstanding such enactment
and well knowing that they were prohibited by law from charging more than 50c per thousand cubic feet, the company decided to increase the rate under the disguise of a 'readiness-to-serve' charge,
and on June 5, 1920, sent out notices
to their customers that they would thereafter make a monthly charge of 52c to each consumer."

"Subsequently, negotiations were entered into with the city council with the result that the 'readiness-to-serve'
charge was placed on a sliding scale.

MEIGHEN OUTLINES
HIS FISCAL POLICY

Canadian Premier Addresses
Gathering at Yarmouth, N.S.

Yarmouth, N. S., Oct. 5.—Right Hon.
Arthur Meighen motored 65 miles from Digby to address a large gathering in this town in support of Hon. E. K.
Spencer, minister without portfolio. The prime minister arrived at 8 o'clock, and had to leave at 9:30, and was the only speaker. The opera house was crowded.

Mr. Meighen devoted his whole address to the fiscal issue. In his explanation of the Liberal attitude on the tariff, he said that the electors, in supporting Mr. King, had to choose between free trade and dishonesty. If the Liberals gave effect to their policy,
the result would be a free trade for Canada, and if they did not they were dishonest. The Liberal fiscal policy, he claimed, was free trade on the principle of the reciprocity of the place in industrial centers.

Again the premier warned his audience of the danger of fiscal agreements with the United States, and referred to Hon. W. S. Fielding's "observance"
on reciprocity.

Previous to the meeting the premier
visited the local Great War Veterans Association at their request. He assured them of the sympathy and support of the government. They gave him
a very hearty reception.

B. C. GOVERNMENT SELLS
BONDS TO BUILD ROADS

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 4.—Two million dollars of British Columbia Government bonds were sold today to furnish money for the construction of roads
throughout the province. Hon. John Hart, minister of finance, announced
this afternoon. The bonds were sold at $95.25 to a syndicate of Wood, Gundy & Co. and Ames & Co., of Toronto.

The bonds are 6 per cent, running for 25 years, and are payable as to interest
and principal in Canada only.

TWO MONTREAL WOMEN
HURT BY MOTOR CAR

Montreal, Oct. 4.—Two women were seriously injured, and one of them is at the point of death as the result of being struck by an automobile at the corner of West Hill avenue and Sherbrooke street, Notre Dame de Grace, at 8 o'clock this evening. They were passing across the road to take the car when they were struck by the automobile, the chauffeur being unable to stop the machine.

The victims are Mrs. Violet A. Tuft,
31, of Notre Dame de Grace, who suffered a fracture of the skull, and for whom little hope of recovery is held,
and Miss Bula Townsend, 19, of New York. Mrs. Tuft's sister, who suffered a fracture of the skull and severe bruises, and her condition, too, is critical.

pected strong northwest winds and probably gales tonight.

9-Cent Bread in Sight
For Thursday

TWO or three London bakers
cut the price of bread to the grocers to 8 1/2 cents this morning,
and it is believed that others will follow suit. It is being retailed

The opinion has become general among many dealers that to-

will see an announcement of 9-cent bread, and that it will be placed on sale tomorrow.

FIND DEARTH OF MALE TEACHERS FOR LONDON JOBS

SIFT BOILER CONTRACT

Drive Launched To Cut Board of Education To Five Members.

Charging that No. 2 committee had broken faith, School Trustee Thos. Rowe, at Tuesday's session of the London school board reopened the entire controversy relative to the purchase of the Robt. Victory boilers that have seemingly already been installed in the new Victoria School.

As a preliminary move the trustee asked a series of questions in order to ascertain whether the contract had been let, and if so whether the boilers or parts of them were being constructed in London.

Trustee Hayman replied that he understood that the tender from the Robt. Victory had been accepted, and that the boilers were being assembled in the city. He wasn't sure, however, he added.

Architect W. Carruthers explained that the choice of the boiler had been left entirely to the contractor. Trustee Eggett believed that the Dennis Company, a local firm, was making a part of the boiler and assembling it as well.

"It was distinctly understood," interrupted Trustee Rowe, "in our report to No. 2 committee that should the boiler be accepted it was to be built in London. We have since received no further information from this committee, and it is to be presumed that the responsibility is being shifted onto the architect. I am credibly informed that but 10 per cent of the construction is being done in London. I had more faith in No. 2 committee, but apparently we are giving contracts outside the city. That is certainly not a good way to boom the board."

No Business of Board.

Trustee Eggett attributed the blame to any of the contractors. It was no business of the board in any case, he declared. The board can recommend, but the original specifications had never included any clause to the effect that the boilers should be London made.

Trustee Mrs. J. L. A. Hunt asserted that as a member of No. 2 committee she had never been able to get adequate information on the subject.

The architect, she said, had told her that the boiler was to be constructed by the Winnet Company, but the latter firm denied that this was the case, and since that time, she explained, she had been unable to get any definite information.

"In any event," interrupted Chairman Coleridge, "this discussion is all out of order, but I allowed it to see what detail, if any, we might gain."

No. 2 committee was authorized to take steps as early as possible towards the construction of a four-room school in the southwest section of the city, to alleviate the congestion in the lower grades in both the Chesley Avenue and the Ealing Schools.

Teaching is a profession that seems to grow less attractive to "mere man" as time goes on. As evidence of this, H. T. Mooney, principal of the London Collegiate Institute, explained to the board that he had advertised for male specialists in English and had received but ten applications, seven being from women.

Three Fail to Qualify.

Of the three male aspirants for the vacancy, one penned his application on the back of Chapman's loose-leaf calendar, one was a retired clergyman and the other was a specialist with no training. There were five applicants for the position as specialist in science, three of whom failed to qualify and one withdrew.

In view of this and former experiments, Principal Mooney urged that adjustments in salary be made if the standard of efficiency of the staff is to be maintained.

"We are up against it," he declared. "We can't get teachers. A salary of $2,500 will not bring the men you should have in the high school."

Trustee Thos. Rowe remarked that it seemed rather an inopportune moment to seek teachers. He suggested holiday pay or midsummer. He claimed that the board had been a trifle dilatory in this respect and questioned the principal's claim as to what effort he had made to secure a successor for one of the specialists who retired in June last.

The entire question was referred to No. 3 committee.

Furnish Medical Certificate.

The board instructed the secretary to enforce the regulations requiring all teachers to furnish a medical certificate and to sign contracts upon entering the service of the department.

The problem as to what amount county attendants at the London Collegiate Institute and the London Technical and Art School were to be assessed was left in abeyance, while the advice of the city solicitor is sought.

Two alternatives are open. One is to tax the pupil directly for the entire cost of his tuition and the other is to enter into an arrangement with the county authorities whereby the latter reimburses the city in a lump sum at the rate of $9 per cent of the cost.

Trustee Rowe was of the opinion that action should be speedy. "There is no time," he said, "to be cautious and hasty about collecting dues."

Motion Snowed Under.

By motion by Trustee Smith that the present board prepare an advisory estimate for his successors was snowed under. The trustee's scheme provided that the estimates for the following year be prepared in November, in lieu of March as has been the rule.

that the Government be asked to enact such legislation as would allow the city to cut the personnel of the board of education to five members, one to be the mayor, was laid over for further discussion. The majority of the trustees were in favor of a reduction, but expressed the opinion that it would be more reasonable should the present board be reduced to six, one-half its size.

The board received with favor Trustee Tanner's amendment that a copy of the resolution be dispatched to the Urban School Trustees' Association for discussion and assistance.

Street Extension Not Favored.

No decision was rendered relative to the request from City Engineer Brazier to continue Belgrave street through a part of the Tecumseh School ground. It was primarily intended that this property in question would be utilized for a South London high school and should the continuation of the street be allowed, it is feared that this plan must be abandoned.

Replying to a query from Trustee Mrs. Hunt, Trustee Hayman explained that although $2,000 was set aside last year for an addition to St. George's School, the undertaking had been deferred until next year; the building program now being rather extensive.

30 Classes Overcrowded.

In the principal's report for September more than 30 classes in the public schools show a registration greater than 45; seven of these being in the Chesley Avenue School. At the latter institution one grade 1 class received only one-half day's tuition. The same condition prevails in the Ealing School.

Senior Inspector C. B. Edwards declared that in organizing the schools the principals were recommended to allot only 20 Grade 1 pupils to a room. The annual collegiate field day will be held at Tecumseh Park on October 7. The public school field day will occur at Queen's Park, October 12, while the Technical field day will take place at the same park on October 13. The annual meeting of the London Teachers' Association will occupy three days, October 13, 14 and 15.

Parish Hall and Rectory Due to Its Energy.

T. H. Holmes has been elected president of the Men's Club of St. Matthew's Church, a very live organization, which came into being four years ago, and has since then won for itself the name of being one of the most progressive organizations in the east end of the city. During the past year its accomplishments include the purchase of property adjacent to the church, which has been converted into four very fine residences. Further efforts on the part of the club have secured for the church two residences on the west side of the church building, one of which has already been remodelled and fitted up as a rectory. The other is now being converted into a parish hall, which will be officially opened in about two weeks.

Elect Officers.

The office of president of the club was keenly contested at the annual meeting, the final vote being given to T. H. Holmes. The vice-president is John Burton, secretary-treasurer, H. J. H. Burton, and honorary-president, the Rev. H. H. Ashby. A committee has been appointed to draw up a program of the year's work, which will include regular scheduled games of basketball each week. A new feature will be a five-minute talk to be given by some member of the club at each time of meeting, the first of which will be given next Tuesday night by John Madden. The program committee includes John Madden, D. Stallard, John H. Hitchens and Wm. Casson.

GRIEF PROSTRATED AT GRAVE OF SON

Mrs. Frederick Axtell Is Found Unconscious in Woodland Cemetery.

Grief-stricken at the death of her son, whose grave she was visiting, is believed to have been the cause of Mrs. Frederick Axtell of 198 Victoria street being found in an unconscious condition in Woodland Cemetery Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Axtell had gone to the cemetery alone during the afternoon to place flowers on the grave of her loved one, and it was not until dusk that she was found by pedestrians passing through the cemetery.

Mrs. Axtell later was revived and taken to her home.

Manager Board of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada announces that arrangements have been made with the Royal Bank of Canada, whereby that bank will act as collection agents of the company, and that any branch of the Royal Bank will accept payment of telephone bills. This convenience will be appreciated by telephone subscribers, as it will afford increased facilities for payment of their bills.

Payment through the branches of the Royal Bank, Richmond street, Richmond and Piccadilly, London East Branch, Dundas street and Hamilton road branches, will not entail any extra charges to subscribers.

certain suitable property, and it is expected that they will make their decision in the near future. One possible location or part of same is likely to be dropped, the trustee says, because the owner is demanding some $200 or $300 for necessary legal expenditures involving the search of the title, etc.

In any event it is hardly likely that anything material can be accomplished by the present board. The proposed school has never been included in the 1921 estimates, and the city council must necessarily be approached in this matter. It is more than likely that the latter will be desirous that a proposal of this nature, involving possibly $40,000 or $50,000, be left for the consideration of the succeeding council.

May Use Old Building.

In the interim it has been suggested that the frame building on the same lot as the Ealing school be used this fall and winter to relieve the congestion in the lower grades of both the Ealing and Chesley avenue schools. At Tuesday's meeting of the board it was decided to allow this structure to remain where it is indefinitely, and it is the opinion of some of the school authorities that, as something must be done before the spring, it should be utilized for that purpose.

The building has already served as a school in the earlier days, and although it can only be heated by a wood stove, it can be made quite comfortable.

SENIOR U OF T. MEN WESTERN STUDENTS

Four Senior Medical Students From Toronto Register Here.

The fall term opened at Western University Medical School Wednesday morning, approximately 110 students being in attendance at the first lectures. Registration was completed Wednesday, the rush of students compelling extension of the registration period in order to cope with the situation. Students registering after Wednesday will be compelled to pay a penalty, increasing with each day's delay.

Four senior medical students from the University of Toronto and two from the University of Wisconsin have registered at Western.

For the first time in the history of the Medical School lectures will be regularly held on Saturday afternoon throughout the term. The victims of this new change in the timetable are the four year students, who must attend clinics at the Ontario Hospital on this day.

That they do not take kindly to the change is evident by the fact that several rugby games will be played this fall on Saturday afternoons, and these will clash with the clinics. Fourth year "Medics" who are members of the rugby team will be excused from attending these Saturday afternoon clinics, and their classmates are anxious that such privileges be extended to them.

PRESENTATION TO "BUZZ" WETZEL BY FAN FRIENDS

The London ball team was banquetted at the Tecumseh House Monday evening and their manager, Buzz Wetzel, was presented with a wonderful watch and chain, the best money could buy, 14k solid gold case with a 21-jewel Hamilton movement, adjusted to five positions, and of course, purchased from John A. AWAIT NEW EVIDENCE IN MCCLUSKEY ACTION

Adjournment of the case of Watson McCluskey against the Vulcan Company, Limited, which was before Judge Talbot Macbeth in the county court Tuesday, was ordered, so that new evidence might be introduced. The suit was for $750 commission, which McCluskey claims to be due him as a result of his selling $5,000 worth of the company's stock. The defence is that the $5,000 was not received from the purchaser.

PLACING OF MEDAL ON SOLDIER'S TOMB DELAYED

Illness of Lloyd George Frustrates Pershing's Plans.

Paris, Oct. 5.—Delay by the British Government in making arrangements for placing of the United States congressional medal on the tomb of the unknown soldier in Westminster Abbey is causing much embarrassment to Gen. John J. Pershing and his staff. It was announced tonight that Gen. Pershing had deferred sailing for home from October 15 to October 20, when he will take passage on the steamer George Washington.

THE BRITISH Government was informed in August of the desire of the United States Government to honor the British unknown soldier. The British foreign office again was notified of this fact by the United States embassy in London when Gen. Pershing sailed for Europe. The embassy requested that a suitable day be named for the function. Gen. Pershing expected to be in London this week, and has kept his com-

At Monday's session of No. 2 committee of the board of education a request from the Mothers' Club that dressing-rooms for the stage be provided was considered and rejected. The

The Fashion Show

Dress from 1885. Fashions

Below is a part of the Fashion Show program. There are thirty-five changes, together with a number of extras. Tickets are still available for Wednesday and Thursday morning performances.

No. 13

JADE green must be a popular color, for it appears again as a head trimming, on the navy tricotine street dress worn by the thirteenth mannequin. And what could be more charming than the large sailor hat of navy hatter's plush, across the front of which a flat ostrich quill is splashed!

No. 14

THE approach of another lady brings into view a marvelous Hudson seal coat with wide collar and cuffs of Alaska sable. And when she throws it aside, behold! a lovely gown of black canton crepe; the skirt falling in a loose panel at front, is a mass of beautiful jet and cut steel bead embroidery.

No. 15

A SMART suit of French blue velour with beaver collar next appears, worn by a charming lady who carries a beaver muff to match. The heavy black silk embroidery on the skirt of the coat is an effective touch.

No. 16

BUT who wouldn't envy the next model with her coat dress of navy tricotine? The cape, for it has a cape, is attached to the shoulders with gunmetal buttons, and is of the same material as the under-dress of navy poret twill. Grey silk Japanese embroidery adorns collar and cuffs.

No. 17

MANNEQUIN number seventeen is seen in deepest mourning. But she hasn't forgotten her appearance in her sadness. Although her long-velled hat hints of the old-fashioned mourning head-wear, it was designed by Gainsborough who knew what was fitting. Underneath the French seal coat which she wears, is an exquisite gown of full-finish Canton crepe, and in her hand she carries a crepe and silk novelty bag, all black.

No. 18

CHINESE embroidery in a riot of gorgeous colors is being shown on many of the gowns, not the least effective of which is the navy tricotine two-piece costume, worn next, where the Oriental embroidery is carried out in chenille, both on coat and dress.

No. 19

MIDNIGHT Blue Canton crepe with satin finish is the material used for the gown to be seen on this model. Here the Mohawk shade of red is again introduced to cover the skirt with heavy embroidery and for facings of georgette.

No. 20

LOVELY beyond belief is Havana brown georgette, when it veils the same material in a deep nasturtium shade, to produce the twentieth gown displayed. And to still further enhance its beauty, a clever designer has used bronze and Chinese red beads on pointed overskirt, bodice and sleeves.

No. 21

Soon in walks she who wears a gown of black satin-faced, Canton crepe, rich in its bandings of silver Chinese embroidery and suggestive of the east with its wide mandarin sleeves. But all this is concealed until the lady removes her loose Lianna cloth coat, the shade of which matches a wide beaver collar. Her hat is a tricorn of brown hackle-feathers with flame feather crown.

No. 22

WITH a navy tricotine street costume, characterized by brilliant head embroidery in royal blue and fuchsia shades, the next mannequin wears a small hat of silk duvetyne in a henna shade, with flowing nigger brown veil.

No. 23

IRIDESCENT bugle beads trim this dress of navy tricotine, which boasts collar, cuffs and sash of eire ribbon. The lady who wears it knows that she is well dressed, and is satisfied that her hat is a "Queen" model.

No. 24

ONE would hardly imagine that the heavy Pekin blue Normandy wrap which now appears, conceals a fairy-like dance frock of pink taffeta, finely embroidered in silver thread, with touch of silver lace on sleeves and neck and French flowers at the girdle.

NOTE—All models presented at this show are selected from our stock of ready-to-wear, and these or similar garments may be seen on the second floor.

WARNS VOTERS DANGERS LURK IN CRERAR FOLD

Blames Industrial Depression Wholly On Policy of Opposition.

SOLICITS AID OF WOMEN

Reviews Recent Efforts To Reverse Tariff Policy of Dominion.

OTTAWA, Oct. 4.—Attributing the present industrial unrest and uncertainty to Liberal and Progressive propaganda, and warning the voters that the success at the polls of either of these parties would mean a general clogging of the wheels of industry, Premier Arthur Meighen's election manifesto was issued here late this afternoon, directly the dissolution of Parliament had been announced.

Pointing out that 45 years ago the people of Canada realized the need of a protective tariff to prevent a submissive relationship towards the United States, and a study of the last 45 years would conclusively show the advances made under protection, the prime minister sets forth that a downward revision of the tariff schedules would mean the surrender of the advantages made as a self-contained, aggressive, industrial nation, and a reversion to a position where dependence upon a more favorable American tariff policy would become the national aspiration.

At the outset of his manifesto, the prime minister outlined the tremendous difficulties of the war and the successful work of re-establishment since that time. He also includes an appeal to the women of Canada to fully share the responsibilities of public life with the men, and expresses the confident hope that they will prove a steady and enlightening force in the public life.

Text of Message.

The premier's message reads as follows:

"To the people of Canada: Parliament has been dissolved. The people of Canada, its men, and for the first time its women, are called upon to determine in what will inevitably be a contest far-reaching and momentous in its outcome, what shall be, through the strenuous journey that very plainly is ahead of us, the character and direction of our policy."

"I have been a member of the Government through eight eventful years, and its leader for something more than one. The Government has conducted Canada's affairs through a devastating war. It has met and surmounted unprecedented difficulties and survived the crisis that such a war brings in its train."

"It has formulated policies by means of which the sufferings of the conflict have been and are being ameliorated, and its loss and wreckage repaired. To the demands of those trying years it has devoted all its energies, and it is prepared now with vigor undiminished to lead the way through the dangers and uncertainties which in common with other countries we are passing through."

"Too Close to Events."

"What has been accomplished both in war effort on its many fields and in our more domestic after-war activities, designed to steady and direct the transition from belligerency to peace, is a total so vast when related to our population that even yet we cannot adequately measure its merits or its proportions. We are still too close to the events."

"A useful standard, indeed the only useful standard by which to gauge the efficiency of Canada's performance is a comparison with the corresponding achievement of any other nation. By such standard neither this nor any future generation of Canadians need ever fear to have their country judged."

"If the leadership of the Government in this world of change and attack, we are prepared to meet that attack. But neither the Government nor the National Liberal and Conservative party that supports it seeks to monopolize or to turn to partisan advantage credit that belongs to the whole nation and that constitutes now its richest legacy and asset for the future; much less would it take to ourselves any part of the glory that belongs alone to those who braved the foe in battle."

"History will, with the utmost impartiality, separate the dominant from the transient, and distinguish its things from small; will condemn where there has been mistake, and will do full justice to plans boldly conceived and unflinchingly carried through."

War a Proud Memory.

"The war is a memory, and a proud memory, but it is no longer an issue. Canada from 1914 to 1918 under the splendid leadership of Sir Robert Borden, passed through one of those crises that reaps the soul of a people. We must now face with courage the gigantic task of reconstruction. We must sustain and improve services already established for assisting those who especially suffered from the war; we must map out our course; we must choose policies that accord with our aspirations as a nation, that are suited to the present stage of our development, to our surroundings in the world and the troubled area in which we live."

"By tradition, by the sense of common purpose, and by common ideals the Dominion of Canada aspires to one destiny and one only—a destiny that which there is no nobler—nationhood within the British Empire. I am convinced there is no single thing more vital to the best interests of the world than that the British Empire as at present constituted should be maintained."

"We enjoy the fullest autonomy and that autonomy is not challenged and never shall be challenged. For the maintenance of the British Empire as a league of autonomous nations there are common burdens that all must share; these burdens are light and the advantages abundant in comparison with either the burdens or the advantages of any other destiny that can be conceived. Sentiment and interest are in accord in upholding British connection."

Adopted Tariff 42 Years Ago.

"Forty-two years ago Canada adopted and ever since has consistently maintained a protective tariff. At the time the Canadian people decided on this policy experience had driven home two very important conclusions."

"Our nearness to the United States was tending to drain the natural resources of our younger country into the larger manufacturing establishments of the republic, there to employ American workmen, and to develop the American railways and other commercial interests in their distribution and sale. Hundreds of thousands of Canadians, workmen and others, were accordingly compelled to emigrate."

"After this process had continued a change in the American policy resulting in the imposition of a high protective tariff against us threw Canada into a state of reaction and depression. It was this penalty there was strong temptation to assume a submissive or dependent relationship towards the United States."

"Acting in the light of these experiences the Canadian people decided to build up an industrial system of their own. To this develop our own resources and keep our people here earning wages and salaries and profits therefrom, a protective tariff was essential."

Were Sound Conclusions.

"A study of the last 40 years will clearly show that the conclusions drawn by our fathers in 1878 were sound and right conclusions. These years have been years of continuous development through good times and ill; the markets of our towns and cities have become more and more the reliance of our agricultural producers. The value of our manufacturing, mineral and agricultural production has multiplied many times over."

"Being able to depend so largely on an ever-expanding home market we have produced upon a scale that enabled us to enter markets abroad, and so successful have we been that the trade of Canada has multiplied over and over again."

"Our exports last year were fourteen times in value what they were in 1890 and four times what they were as late as 1910. Our total trade is now over seven times what it was twenty years ago. Indeed, the per capita trade of Canada stands in the front of the large nations of the world and has stood as high as 2½ times the per capita trade of the United States. We have taken the strong, self-reliant course and have been able to pursue that course and maintain our prosperity regardless of the policy of any other nation."

Cites War On Tariff.

"For some years past and very emphatically in recent years, a determined movement has been on foot seeking to reverse the tariff policy of the Dominion. The official Opposition in the House of Commons, now led by Hon. Mackenzie King, has made repeated and varied demands in Parliament for the wiping out of tariff schedules. Finally, that party was called into convention. August, 1919, which convention unanimously passed the following resolution:

"That the best interest of Canada demand that substantial reductions of our tariff schedules be made with a view to the accomplishing of two purposes of the highest importance."

"First—Diminishing the very high cost of living, which presses so heavily on the masses of the people."

"Second—Reducing the cost of the instruments of production in the industries based on the natural resources of the Dominion, the vigorous development of which is essential to the progress and prosperity of the country."

Would Cut Duties.

Postum for Health
"There's a Reason"

"Here I Am, Hon," Says 300-Pound Babe Left To Die.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—"Oh, my babe in there to die," shrieked a frantic woman, who had been rescued from the burning National Hotel here.

Police men were questioning her as to the number of her room, when a 300-pound man, garbed in underwear and a jaunty stiff hat, appeared on a balcony and called down to the frantic woman: "Don't worry, hon, I'm safe."

"My baby," gasped the woman. "Two lives were lost when the famous old hotel, one of the oldest in Washington, was burned."

principal articles of food, farm implements and machinery; farm tractors; mining and saw mill machinery and repair parts thereof; rough and dressed lumber; gasoline, illuminating, lubricating oils; nets, net twines and fishermen's equipments; cements and papers, should be free from customs duties, as well as the raw material entering into the same.

"That revision downwards of the tariff should be made whereby substantial reductions should be effected in the cost of wearing apparel, footwear and other articles of general consumption other than luxuries, as well as on raw materials entering into the manufacture of the same."

"That the British preference be increased to 50 per cent of the general tariff."

"And the Liberal party hereby pledges itself to implement by legislation the provisions of this resolution when returned to power."

Was Unanimous Pledge.

"This resolution, though frequently evaded and more often avoided, sometimes paraded to entice allies, sometimes resorted to to conciliate friends, nevertheless stands as the solemnly recorded unanimous pledge of the Hon. Mackenzie King and his party. It is not a declaration of principle, but a concrete binding commitment to specific acts."

"But a stronger and more menacing enemy has arisen. For some years past there has been growing up first in the prairies of the west and later throughout the Dominion, a party backed by a costly and persistent propaganda, the purpose of which is to reverse the tariff policy of this country."

The movement, led by the Hon. T. A. Crerar and Mr. H. W. Wood, has also set down its immediate tariff demands in black and white. They need not be here repeated. The resolution of the Liberal convention quoted above substantially endorses the demands modeled on the platform of the Wood-Crerar party. The latter, however, demand also the free entry of coal and vehicles, unrestricted reciprocity with the United States and free trade with England within five years.

Draws No Distinctions.

"The federal Liberal party of Alberta merging its demands in the Agrarian platform has officially demanded, as well, free trade with the United States within five years. There is no need of drawing any distinctions. These demands are determined propagandists of free trade. They are determined opponents of any protective system in which they are called upon to resist at the present time in a free trade policy for Canada."

The immediate enactments, which both sections of the Opposition are pledged to put into effect inevitably lead to the abandonment of the protective system. No system can be defended or can continue which strips hundreds of the most essential industries of this country of all tariff protection and leaves less important industries in the enjoyment of tariff protection.

"It is therefore beyond dispute both because of the intent of the vast majority behind these programs and because of the logical consequences of the programs themselves that the real issue we are called upon to resist at the present time in a free trade policy for Canada."

Raps U. S. Tariff Rate.

"The United States protective tariff much reduced in 1913, was last March restored to the prohibitive level in force for many years. Even as their tariff today they had sold this country in the last five years goods to the value of nearly eighteen hundred million dollars over and above the value of all they bought from us. They have now imposed high customs taxes with a view to purchasing still less from us and as a part of such policy they have placed almost prohibitive barriers against farm products of this country."

Deplores Discount Loss.

"Our dollar is already at a serious discount in the United States mainly because of our excessive purchases there compared with our sales. Under these circumstances it is indeed hard to conceive how serious-minded Canadians can suggest as the proper course for us the wiping out entirely of our present moderate duties on farm products coming into Canada, and the general leveling down of our tariff to the order that while we are compelled to sell them less we may be induced to purchase more."

"To follow such advice means the loss of additional millions in the discount of our money. It means grossly unfair competition for the great mass of the farmers of Canada. It means the curtailment or the closing down of many scores of industries, the discouragement and contraction of our towns and cities, and the impairment of the best market for the products of our farms."

"It means the surrender of the advance we have made as a self-contained, aggressive industrial nation, and the reversion to a position where dependence upon a more favorable American fiscal policy will become more and more a national aspiration. The spirit of this country will not tolerate a course so weak and so disastrous."

Asks Aid of People.

"Against the tariff proposals of the Hon. Mackenzie King and all whom in this contest he represents, against the tariff proposals of Mr. Wood and Mr. Crerar and all whom they represent, I ask the people of Canada to pronounce."

"Already there is unsettlement of business, confusion resulting in unemployment and loss to all classes. A persistent protection campaign, resulting in uncertainty and lack of confidence has so disturbed and curtailed production that to account for many thousands being out of work today, the decisive verdict by the Canadian people will be the signal for returning confidence for renewed productive activities and for better times."

The laboring population of our country will be the first to benefit by such a verdict and would be the heaviest losers should the tariff proposals given policy of this country be exchanged for manifestly fallacious theories.

"Canadian farmers would soon find that with the reduction our industrial products would pass away, not only their most profitable market, but at the same time the source of the greater portion of our revenue, with the result that the burden of taxation would thereafter have to be borne by the people and by themselves. The time has come to settle this issue, and the well-being of one and all depends upon its being settled promptly."

Lauds His Position.

"There are other subjects of importance and these I have on several platforms discussed and shall again discuss. As respects one and all, my position has been and shall be defined, understandable and consistent. There is no topic of public interest that we wish to evade; there can be no attack that we are not eager and able to meet."

"We have tackled these years a responsibility unprecedented in its magnitude and for the discharge of that responsibility we are prepared to answer through all portions of the Dominion and before all classes of the people of Canada."

"On the shoulders of the people themselves the responsibility now is placed. They must decide, and I pray that the gravity of that decision every man and every woman will fully comprehend. They must decide between sure and ordered progress and perilous experiments; they must decide between the certain fruits of a strong and stable government and that sterility and despair which can result from the confusion of alliances and the balancing of groups; they must decide between a tariff policy which, in Canada's position is the very root of her prosperity, and the protection of Canadian industries and with the maintenance of manhood in the ever-expanding system of the United States."

Appeals to Women.

To the women of Canada I make special appeal. The Government now in office, supported by the party which I have the honor to lead, extended to you three years ago the federal franchise. Your rights of suffrage are now in every respect the same as the suffrage rights of men. This was done voluntarily as an act of justice. The services of women in the war had been such that in the judgment of the Government it was a party that supported its qualifications for the franchise had been demonstrated and their right of franchise had been earned. Nevertheless, there were those opposed to the extension of the franchise to women who resisted the Government's action in such regard. They still insist that such action was wrong."

"My appeal to women is not, however, on any ground peculiar to them. I earnestly and tenderly appeal to them to study the great issue that now confronts our country, and conscientiously to seek a conclusion on that issue from the standpoint of country-loving Canadians to whom they are moved by a reckless and unsupported calumny of public men, or by the cry of prejudice or by class appeal. Through the long struggle of the war the women of our country have proved equal with the men in stern, unselfish patriotism and fervent devotion to duty. I confidently hope that in the execution of the trust reposed in them they will prove worthy of the honor which has been placed in our public life, that they will show forth an example of public conduct dictated by love of country alone, and will thus vindicate to all the world the right which they have won for themselves by public action."

(Signed) "ARTHUR MEIGHEN."

ELECTION MANIFESTO TWEAKS EAGLE'S TAIL

OTTAWA, Oct. 4.—Dissolution has come at last, the thirteenth Parliament elected in September, 1917, has ceased to exist and those who aspire to be present when the fourteenth session is opened by Baron Byng of Vimy must first of all prove their power of carrying the party convention at which their names will be considered and after that face an election which today represents many parties.

From present indications very many who take leave of the thirteenth Parliament will not forego at the opening of the fourteenth.

Certainly but a small proportion of the Government, led by Sir Robert Borden in 1917 will appear as supporters of his successor, Premier Meighen, when the smoke of battle has cleared away.

Administrators Last Rites.

Premier Meighen is leaving in Nova Scotia today, his absence from the capital Sir James Lougheed, acting prime minister, convened around the council chamber this afternoon the survivors at Ottawa, of a widely-scattered administration, a mere quorum in all, and administered the last rites to the dying Parliament. There were present R. B. Bennett, new minister of justice, fresh from being sworn in an hour before, and Messrs. Robertson, Monty, Day and Staddon.

At the conclusion of the conference Sir James announced the dissolution to the press, but stated that the date of election would not be made known until later on in the week. Then he declared the policy of the new administration, in French and English, could be secured from Senator J. A. Calder, now occupying a room just off the red chamber and endeavoring to repay the premier for his $4,000 annuity by taking charge during the election of the Government propaganda bureau.

Differs From 1911 Manifesto.

The manifesto which Mr. Calder handed out was a vastly different document to that to which he gave his adherence in 1911. The latter was the almost absolute antithesis thereof.

Premier Meighen's pronouncement is a high protectionist document somewhat softened by a declaration of faith in the British Empire, a staunch adherence to British connections, a declaration, which, however, may be somewhat weakened by his attack on that plank of the Liberal and Progressive platforms which declares calls for free trade with Great Britain in five years. It is a warning against fiscal dependence upon the United States which at the same time admits that the latter country is the Dominion's most important trade customer both ways.

Says Ruin Would Follow.

The premier declares emphatically that whatever either may say both the King and Crerar forces out and out for free trade everywhere, and that such a policy if put into effect will bring industrial Canada to inevitable ruin and create a condition of unemployment painted as even worse than that which at present exists in the Dominion.

The premier is credited with having taken a very prominent part in the conference of imperial premiers held in England during the life of the city. To him partially at least is ascribed the bringing about of the pending disarming conference at Washington, when the conference is in progress next November.

Tweaks Eagle's Tail.

However, a considerable part of the population of Canada will engage in the gentle art of tweaking the eagle's tail, for it is tweaked fairly viciously in the manifesto of Mr. Meighen just made public by Mr. Calder, who supported reciprocity in 1911.

Since 1911 there have been two parliaments and four governments; the first parliament expired in 1917, after a one-year's extension of its normal

Proposes World Court For Disputes In Business.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—An international court of justice for business disputes is one of the suggestions which probably will come before the Council of the International Chamber of Commerce, to be held here Friday.

The court would be established on all countries of the world, and the new international court created by the League of Nations, but would confine its work to the settlement of commercial misunderstandings between nations of all countries of the world.

Advocates of the plan argue that it would save millions of dollars now spent in litigation for legal services and otherwise—expenditures which are now unavoidable through the lack of an international body to adjudicate business differences.

and constitutional term; the second came to an end today.

The first government was formed by Sir Robert Borden in 1911, the second, or Union Government, by the same premier in 1917. The third was formed by Premier Meighen in July, 1920, and the fourth, that which has been reorganized, and which now seeks election under the principles incorporated in the new manifesto.

INDEPENDENT STAND BY BRANTFORD PAPER

Policy in Forthcoming Election Announced by Editor.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 4.—The Brantford Expositor, Liberal, today editorially declared its policy in the forthcoming federal election campaign as follows:

For the first time in its history the Expositor seems destined to occupy an entirely independent position in a political general election. This decision has not been arrived at because the Expositor held no opposition to the newspaper field, and therefore finds a straddle the fence position to be the easiest, nor is it due to the fact that in principle it is any the less Liberal today than it has been in the past. It is the result of a more equal view of the shape the present contest has assumed, and by the fact that while Liberal in its sympathies, this paper does not feel called upon to blindly follow its party when it is in power, and to follow which it cannot conscientiously follow.

It was this unwillingness which led it to forsake Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the conscription issue, and it is this interest on the other hand, there are reasons which lead it to withhold support from the Liberal platform of today, when that platform contains a clause which is in the nature of an axe laid at the roots of certain industries in which its home city is vitally interested, and to determine whether to support a platform which it does not intend, however, to remain a silent spectator of the passing show, but will feel free at all times to speak its mind freely, always, however, from an independent rather than a partisan point of view.

Tended Child With Care.

With tender care the bachelor clergyman and Mrs. Graham, attached to the child's every need, and day by day, watched her progress. They even sent her to the country in charge of a trained nurse in order that she might breathe the pure, fresh air there. It was while there that Dr. Grant's little ward became ill.

At first she suffered from intestinal trouble, but a few days ago the trouble was complicated by septic poisoning and pneumonia.

Announcement of the clergyman's engagement to Mrs. Rita de Acosta Lydig, wealthy society woman, during early summer caused speculation as to Faith's future. Dr. Grant had hesitated to determine whether to keep the babe permanently and Mrs. Lydig left the matter in his hands for decision.

JURY FREES DICKENSON FROM MURDER STIGMA

But Leaves Prisoner in Custody to Face Robbery Charge.

HAMILTON, Oct. 4.—Edward Dickenson was acquitted this afternoon of the charge of murdering Dr. E. J. Whitworth of Brimford, Ont., on December 23. The prisoner, however, was not freed, but was held on a charge of robbery in connection with the case.

When the verdict was announced Ernest Higgins and Robert Minton, co-defendants, cried out in court.

Chief Justice Mould instructed officers to bring the men before him, and when they had admitted their guilt they were sent to jail until the conclusion of the present assize court. Their outburst will cause them about two weeks in jail.

Wilfred Meharg will now be tried on a charge of murdering Dr. Whitworth.

WINDSOR TO FIGHT HIGHER PHONE RATES

New Schedule Adds $1.92 To Business Phone Cost.

WINDSOR, Oct. 4.—Determined to fight to a finish application of Bell telephone company for increased rates, Ald. C. E. Jackson, chairman of city council transportation committee, and two other aldermen will leave for Ottawa Thursday to appear before Dominion Railway Board.

In a scheduling of proposed new rates, Windsor businessmen are asked to pay $5 a month for an individual phone, an increase of $1.92 per month. For two party lines and residential phones company seeks advance that will place border rates on same plane as London, Ottawa and other cities with population much larger than Windsor.

Ald. Jackson will carry resolutions from Chamber of Commerce and other similar organizations composed of businessmen and ratepayers, condemning proposed increases.

SOCIALISTS MAY FORM NEW SWEDISH MINISTRY

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 4.—The cabinet of Premier Oscar von Sydow resigned today as a consequence of the result of the recent election in which the Socialist groups won 106 seats in the Second Chamber of Parliament.

It is expected former Premier Hjalmar Branting will be called upon to form a new ministry, but he is entirely socialist, as the Liberals declare themselves unwilling to join in a new Liberal-Socialist coalition.

FAITH WILLARD DYING DESPITE PASTOR'S CARE

Rector of N. Y. Church of Ascension Mourns Waif He Sheltered.

PARENTS HIDE IDENTITY

Babe Was Abandoned At the Rectory Door in Basket Last May.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—"She looked at me with glazed eyes and showed no sign of recognition," said Rev. Dr. Percy Stickney Grant, rector of the Church of the Ascension, at 7 West 10th street here, late tonight, as he told how little Faith Willard, the five-months-old babe, abandoned on his doorstep one night last May, who is at the point of death in Presbyterian Hospital, had failed to recognize him.

The spot in which he was working is principally sand, and Hellick apparently stood in a hole a little more than six feet deep, when he struck the quicksand into which he sank. The appearance of the body indicates that the doomed man made a terrific fight for life against impossible odds. Deep lacerations on his hand indicate that he scraped them against the walls of the excavation in a last effort to secure a hold of some kind that would stay his body from being engulfed in the bottomless quicksand.

It is believed the man had been buried at least half an hour before the tragedy was revealed.

PARENTS A MYSTERY.

Although Faith is seriously ill, her parents have not come to her bedside, and even their identity remains a mystery.

On May 3, the little waif was found in a basket on the front porch of the rectory, crying pitifully for Dr. Grant's housekeeper.

A quantity of clothing was found in another basket and the only explanation of her desertion was contained in a note which stated that the father and mother had been told so much about Church of the Ascension and the charitable acts of its rector, that they were certain that their baby would find a haven with him.

Police and the charities department were satisfied to allow the clergyman to protect the child temporarily, and two days later the orphan of circumstances was christened "Faith Willard," an old name in the Grant family. Dr. Grant acted as the godfather and Mrs. John Graham, his housekeeper, as godmother.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB.

Miss Syme of Montreal, an author and speaker of repute, will address the Women's Canadian Club on October 15 on "Women in Men's Fiction." Two most excellent addresses by outstanding men have already been given before the club this season, which promises to be an excellent one in the history of the club.

The executive of the club met this week at the home of Mrs. Ray Lawson, Chesapeake street, fifteen members being present. Many items of interest regarding the future activities of the club were discussed. The president, Mrs. Frank Leonard, who represented the club at the conference of Canadian Clubs held in Winnipeg September 12 and 13, gave a brief but intensely interesting account of the most outstanding features of the conference, which was shown to be full of importance to all the Canadian Clubs of the Dominion. The executive hopes to prevail upon Mrs. Leonard to give an account of these meetings to the members of the club at an early date.

A number of very eminent speakers were suggested for the club by the corresponding secretary.

KENT BRIDGE W. I.

The Kent Bridge Women's Institute entertained the Thamesville branch Women's Institute at their September meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. James Hughes. The president, Mrs. E. W. Hardey, occupied the chair and extended a hearty welcome to the guests.

Mrs. Hardey gave an interesting report of the Institute's visit to Chatham. Mrs. Fred Arnold was appointed delegate to the Institute convention in London.

Mrs. Coutts, president of the Thamesville branch, took the chair for the remainder of the program, provided by members from Thamesville. A talk on "Modern Dress" was given by Mrs. Duncan. Miss Anna Coutts gave a reading. Miss Kathleen Wallace favored with an instrumental. Mrs. Coutts spoke on "The Woman Voter and Her Privilege." Miss Russell Mitton contributed with a vocal solo. Mrs. Frank McMillan delighted with a vocal solo.

At the tea-hour the hostesses served refreshments, and was assisted by Mrs. A. E. Langford, Mrs. M. E. Mary Shaw, Miss Edna Sherman, Mrs. E. W. Hardey, Mrs. Crow and Mrs. A. Merritt.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Merritt.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get 16 ounces—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for $2.50. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

AN IMPORTANT EASILY COPIED.

Every woman has to go through the phase of experimenting with home dressmaking, and having things made out as against buying them ready-made. In the opinion of many, the dressmaker is coming into her own again. Circumstances are never the same, and no set rule may be laid down as to the most expedient way of replenishing one's wardrobe. It is obvious that such a dress as the one illustrated might be copied at home, but it is equally obvious that the idea of making a dress this way would in all probability never occur to the woman who goes out sewing by the day. One of the greatest arguments in favor of ready-made clothes is that they are designed by trained minds, are cut on good lines, and that they may be tried on, determining at once whether the effect is an asset or a liability. Given a beautiful model, a dressmaker can fashion a pattern to reproduce the drape of this skirt. It is achieved by using the breadth of the fabric for the length, and then absolutely impossible. A straight piece of material draped and slightly dragged around the figure long enough to permit of one long end doing the trick, and one might as well use a piece of crepe or satin. Such a skirt is not only inappropriate for afternoon wear, but is equally inappropriate for evening. One might as well wear this model for both occasions, adding sleeves for afternoon if you wish, but remember this is not insisted upon by fashion. Although many women dislike the separate blouse idea, particularly the drape idea, it is broken in some way by a girle.

10-5

Brocade makes an effective top, and when there are no sleeves it is surprising what a suggestive effect is achieved. One may resort to the bargain-counter and find remnants of rich fabrics that may be effectively used in this manner, and since there is no limit to the brightness or boldness of the design it is not outside the bounds of possibilities to find upholstery fabrics which may have another mission.

There is still a penchant for chiffon brocade velvets, and since this material is costly it is suggested that it be used for the top only of the dress, using either plain satin, cloth, velvet, or crepe for the skirt.

Puppy Stories

By Vincent G. Perry.

THE WOLF DOG.

Part Sixteen.

The wolf dog was trembling all over as he crept to the man. He who had led the savage wolf pack was like a frightened puppy as he faced this king man for the first time. "Come here, old husky," the man said to the wolf dog, and the wolf dog felt himself obeying. Then the man reached out his hand to touch the wolf dog. The wolf dog growled, and showed his teeth. That was too much for the mother colie to stand. She growled and pounced on the wolf dog, who was so surprised he wouldn't dare try to save himself by hurting the handsome dog.

"Leave him alone, Colie," the man commanded, and the old dog obeyed. "Now, husky, come here."

Of course, the man wouldn't have been so brave if he had known the wolf dog hadn't been brought up by men, and was really the leader of a wolf pack. Just the same, it didn't matter much, for the wolf dog obeyed. He had inherited the love for a man from his mother, and he knew now that man was his master.

So it was that the wolf dog was taken in by the hunter who had given his mother a home. How strange it was, too, for the wolf dog had been in search of the old mother colie, but now he dare not offend his king by going off without his consent.

The colie dog was quite delighted at having the wolf dog stay, though at first she was a little jealous of him. One evening when they were sitting in front of the fire she told him the story of her life, all about the puppy that she had left in the cave, and all about herself getting caught in the trap.

"Our master brought me here and I was a dog well again—though it was many weeks after," she told him. "Then I went to my cave, but my poor puppy was gone," and here the old dog had to stop her story, she felt so sad, for she saw her puppy had died. Poor old mother colie. How delighted she would have been if she had known the wolf dog was really her puppy—and how anxious she would have been to help the wolf dog find the old mother who saved his life. The house had been filled with lovely autumn flowers for the occasion, Mrs. J. S. Niven, Mrs. Scatcherd and Mrs. Judd pouring tea, assisted by members of the Sir John Carling Chapter. Mrs. Robinson received her guests wearing a handsome gown of black Canton crepe with touches of king's blue. Receiving with her was her daughter, Miss Ruth Robinson, in whiteorgette and lace; Mrs. E. H. Johnston, regent of the chapter, in a smart gown of taupe charmeuse and georgette and large hat, and Mrs. J. B. McKillop, convenor of the bridge, in navy gown beautifully embroidered and large black hat. Master Billy Hewitt, young grandson of the household, made a gracious door attendant. During the afternoon very good music was rendered by Miss Gertrude Morgan.

SEEDS WORDS.

Dear Miss Grey—How are you and all the Boxites? It is a long time since I wrote to you in Mail-Box. Miss Grey, I am sending in some songs, which are "Go and Leave Me," "Mother's Dying Prayer," "Little Maggie May," "Miss Grey, could I please have in return "Peggy O'Neill," "Mangle," and "Golden Gate." Hoping, Miss Grey, you will receive these, and many thanks for songs in Mail-Box. Will send mite next time.

MISS A. B. W. Am mailing you the words of "Golden Gate," but the others are not in Mail-Box. Thank you, Miss A. B. W., for copying words for the Mail-Box.

Tea Granny—I am sorry I could not publish your letter, as it goes under the head of advertising.

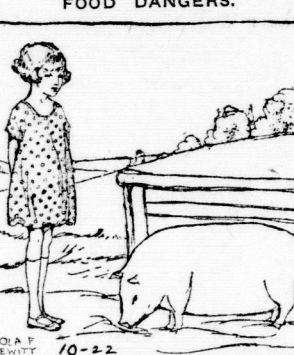

Women in Homes and Society

Countless women devote their whole lives to their homes, while others are in the business world, or find happiness only in society. Whether you are a home woman, a business woman, or a society woman, you know how hard it is to "drag along" day after day, suffering agonies, caused by some female derangement that has developed from overtaxing your strength. The natural restorative for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for nearly half a century has been considered a standard remedy for women's ills.

FOOD DANGERS.

The very wealth and elaboration of the foods available in civilized countries have produced a new danger to the health of civilized peoples. We have learned to refine flour to such an extent that we have removed much of the food value from the wheat, and we feed this refined flour as butter or beef. But waste to hogs. It is to be hoped that we get some of it back in pork and bacon, but at present prices obviously not much. It seems a roundabout, expensive and uncertain method. Such with such rice, milk, water and canned foods, with fresh fruits and vegetables, we refine, polish, sterilize, pare, and boil very valuable food elements out of them, and develop in consequence many obscure troubles of malnutrition. These are obvious in extreme development in such cases as stunted growth, beri-beri, scurvy, and certain eye troubles with very long waves. But we have less obvious cases right around us in rickety babies, thin anaemic children, barren women, and a multitude of dyspeptics.

Interesting experiments on animals show that diets of refined foods, such as refined flour, refined sugar, refined protein, fat, carbohydrate and constituents, carefully rationed, live, but do not grow. It, however, natural food is substituted for the purified fats, they do grow. Disease can be produced in them and then cured, but similar changes in the proteins, just as the scurvy of sailors living on refined food can be cured by fresh acid fruits, potatoes and cabbages. Babies fed on cooked milk or prepared foods are ill-nourished unless some fresh food too much refined, too easy to eat, may cease to be food in the true sense. WITH THE BRIDES

MANNING-SANDERSON.

A quiet wedding took place at the Adelaide Street Baptist Church, very Monday at 11:15 o'clock, when Miss Edna Sanderson of St. Thomas became the bride of Mr. Wilfred Manning, also of St. Thomas, son of Mr. John Manning, formerly of London, and Mrs. M. Leitch officiating at the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Manning left immediately for points east, and on their return will reside in St. Thomas.

MAPLETOFT-HERALD.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Herald of 37 Stanley street, yesterday afternoon, when their daughter, Letta May, became the bride of Mr. Ewart Maplettoft of this city. The Rev. Mr. Watts officiating. The house had been attractively decorated with pink and white flowers for the occasion, a pretty setting for the bride and groom. The bride wore a gown of Canton crepe, prettily beaded, and a corsage of Ophelia roses. A reception followed the ceremony, the bride and groom leaving later for Ottawa. For travelling the bride wore a smart suit of navy tricot and hat to match. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Maplettoft will reside in the city.

WILMOT-HORNER.

A very pretty wedding took place on Saturday, Sept. 24, when Daisy Evelyn, only daughter of Mr. H. Horner, became the bride of Mr. Alfred Richard Wilmot, only son of Mr. H. Wilmot of this city. The Rev. Mr. Garbutt officiating. Mrs. H. Webster, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, while Mr. E. Horner, brother of the bride, assisted the groom. The bride wore a gown of navy blue and a corsage of Ophelia roses. After a dainty luncheon was served the young couple left on a trip to Detroit. On their return they will reside in the city.

DEVINE-HEFFERMAN.

The marriage of Miss Marie K. Hefferman, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hefferman, to Mr. John Francis Devine, son of the late Francis Devine and Mrs. Devine of London, Ont., was solemnized with a nuptial mass at 7 o'clock on Saturday morning at the Church of Our Lady, Guelph. The Rev. Father Walter Doyle, S. J., officiating. Solos were sung at the offertory and signing of the register by Mr. James Gallagher. The bride, who was given away by her father, was smartly gowned in blue and white, and carried a bouquet of white and pink flowers. The groom wore a suit of brown panna velvet touched with flamingo. Orchids composed her corsage bouquet and she carried an ivory prayer book. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Agnes Hefferman, wearing a blue French frock with Isabelle fox fur and carrying Premier roses. Mr. J. McCauley of Toronto acted as groomsmen. After the ceremony wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, 122 Yorkshire street, only the immediate relatives being present. Mr. and Mrs. Devine left later to spend their honeymoon in Montreal and New York city before going to their new home in Hamilton.

DRESSES MATCH CAPES

IN LATEST COSTUMES

Matching sets of cape dresses and some instances hats are to be found in the collections of models recently shown by French creators. The garments illustrated were designed by Dorat. One costume combines hat, cape and dress in wistaria blue silk knitted and trimmed in grey coney with a girle of exsine silver. Another is a ruche-collared wrap of blue ground, brocaded with gold and silver figures, the back developed with a broad panel caught at a low waistline. Cape and dress costume for evening uses chiffon velvet in geranium red, the collar of mink. The dress is closely draped with bodice decoration and pendants of brilliant, crystals and bugles.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[By Cynthia Grey.]

DO YOU get tired, and do the things bother you out of proportion to their importance? If so, you possess the symptoms of one in a rut. It is a good thing to get away, if possible, to an entire change of scene, and though we are too apt to get into a rut in the way we live, think, read and talk—are apt to be too much and too long with the same people, surroundings and work. We don't play differently and work differently, be it for ever so short a time—and then a return to familiar ways will hold the charm of being out of the commonplace.

A brief relaxation of mental and physical tension will save us from dullness and often failure. We all need to run away for a little while, and do exactly what we please, and then we can return to our former routine feeling quite satisfied.

WANTS GARDEN HUCKLEBERRIES.

Dear Miss Grey—I saw in the Mail-Box about a week ago where someone asked for huckleberries. I am sure of it. I am sending it in, copied from memory. I wonder if Tiger Lily or Pine Limb would send me a few garden huckleberries. I planted some Tiger Lily sent me, but had very poor luck with them, as babe upset the box twice just when they were nicely up, and I didn't have one left to eat. I am sure of it. Will return the favor in any way I can, such as crochet patterns, slips of white geranium, or foliage, and I have lots of mink, and I have lots of mink. I got the seeds from Cynthia Grey. Hoping to help more another time. Will sign myself MOTHER OF LADY LILIES. I have less obvious cases right around us in rickety babies, thin anaemic children, barren women, and a multitude of dyspeptics.

Dear Miss Grey—I have enjoyed the Mail-Box Corner for many months. May I ask for the famous stockpot recipe? Cold weather is coming and I have thirty little toes to cover.

Will send you a cake recipe. Crumb Cake—1 cup brown sugar, 2 cups flour, 1/4 cup butter, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup soda, 1/2 cup baking powder, 1/2 cup raisins, 1/2 cup nuts. Sprinkle over cake just before putting in oven in place of icing. To the remainder add 1 cup sour milk, 1 teaspoon soda, 1/2 cup raisins, 1/2 cup nuts. The stocking-foot pattern is on its way to you, and I am sure you will find it quite helpful in keeping those toes covered. Thank you for sending us one of your tried recipes.

WANTS RECITATION.

Dear Miss Grey—Being a subscriber to your paper, I find your page very interesting, and a good friend in need "to many one." Therefore I am turning to you for help. Would you kindly let me know the kind of recitation, "Daddy's Letter" if you have it on file, for my little daughter 11 years old who recites, included find mite for S. C. H. Thanking you in advance I will sign myself

BUSY MOTHER.

Ans.—Am mailing you some recitations Busy Mother, which I think will suit your little girl. Thank you very much for remembering our hospital fund with a mite.

DELIGHTED WITH SLIPS.

Dear Miss Grey,—Thursday I was in city to market and on returning home I was met by my husband, saying that he had seen a lovely slip in the paper. I could not imagine what was up, but to my surprise he had gotten a box of slips in Mail-Box. So I am writing you to thank Mother's Only Girl for kindly sending them. They all arrived in good shape and are planted by Eva. Will write Mother's Only Girl later and send her postage, and here is mite for Children's Hospital. Glad to see you quit to come up so nicely. Would like to do a block only my hands are so full.

ETTA MAY.

I am sure Mother's Only Girl will be pleased to hear how delighted you and the children were with the slips. Thank you for sending a hospital mite.

WANTS SEEDS AND PATTERNS.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would be pleased to have a few double hollyhock seeds. If there are any left. Also, would you please tell me if they come up every year without replanting, and if it's too late to plant the seeds now as an am. I am also interested in seed saving. Would also like to get corn crochet pattern, or any other, and will return them when I have taken them off. Hope the seeds will come up. Would like to do a block only my hands are so full.

ENGLISH MAC.

Am mailing you the acorn pattern and hollyhock seeds, as requested. Yes, they bloom each year, and may be planted either in the fall or spring.

WHAT COLORS?

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I am again to bother you. I saw in yesterday's paper where Daddy's Only Girl sent in a song entitled "Let the Rest of the World Go By," and would like a copy of it and will return it if you wish. I am so glad you are getting along so well with the quilt. Now, Miss Grey, I am coming for help. What colors could I wear? I have blue eyes and dark brown hair. I am sending a mite for the S. C. H. fund. I will sign as before,

COUNTRY LASS, NO 5.

The words you requested have been forwarded to you, Country Lass. You should be able to wear any shade of blue or brown very well.

XCVI.—Dick's Surprise.

The days dragged slowly by, till Thursday came. Mary's position at the White Lodge was not a pleasant one. For Eve had given her guardian a carefully censored and edited version of the meeting with Mary Drew and Dick Calardin in the woods.

From Eve's description, one certainly would think that Eve had been the injured party! Eve had described Miss Mary as "completely infatuated with Dick Calardin," and anxious to win him for herself! This wasn't pleasant hearing for Mary's would-be lover, Carrington Bellairs!

"You'd no earthly business meeting that fellow Vandaveer and bringing him here," he said to Eve, with considerable sharpness. "I expect if the truth be told, that young Calardin and Miss Drew found the two of you in the woods kissing each other and generally playing the idiot and fool!"

This shot was very near the mark. But, none the less, he had a feeling of definite resentment toward Miss Mary Drew. His "suit" was not progressing in the last few days. The girl's mind, too, was not entirely centered on her work. There were periods of abstraction.

"Oh, well, he would 'put the lid' on the whole matter by forcing Dick Calardin to carry out his engagement with Eve Rochester! He wasn't going to let Miss Mary slip through his fingers without a struggle."

If Dick made any move to capture Mary he Bellairs would soon quench his hopes. The thing to do was just to wait—and watch.

When Mary asked permission to take a trip to town on Thursday afternoon Bellairs consented—with reluctance. "You must promise me to be back here by 8 o'clock, at latest," he said rather gruffly. "I'll send the car to meet you."

"Very well," replied Miss Mary, glad that no further objections were to be raised. She was glad, too, that her employer hadn't asked her if she was going to meet young Dick Calardin. She didn't want a jealous scene.

She dressed herself with care. Happy anticipation glinted in her smoke-blue eyes. Not even Eve's sour looks could daunt her joy.

She had an early lunch. Her appointment with Dick was for 3 o'clock. As she walked to the railway station in her pretty suit she made a lovely, glowing picture.

The journey to town passed like a hurried dream.

Mary put herself through Love's ecstasies—and always with a ready answer.

MOTHER! YOUR CHILD'S BOWELS

NEED "CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP"

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." It is a million of mothers know "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know it is listless, cross, feverish, full of colic, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well-played child again.
