certainly does not apply to the incarceration of that much-famed and widely-known burglar, "Texas" Burdell,the partner of the late "Shorty Billy," or Steve Doyle, who met his death at the hands of the local detectives some time

To place "Tex" under arrest is no mean feat, but to keep him where you want him-aye, that's the rub. And today, though pursued and hunted by posses of men on all sides, "Texas" is free, and if he keeps up his record of this morning he will likely be free for

TRIAL WAS TODAY. Today "Texas" was to have been tried on several charges of burglary, but when court opened the burgiar was many miles away leading the Scotland Yard talent of London a merry chase, Once before, since his latest incarceration, the daring burglar came with in an ace of making his escape. Today he renewed his efforts for freedom, and thus far has been successful. Of the many daring attempts at escape on the part of prisoners in the county jail, this latest feat of "Texas" Burdell is the boldest, and it but adds to the reputation "Texas" now holds as one of the most dangerous criminas known to the Canadian police. The man appears to be utterly devoid of fear, and to hold his own life as cheaply at all times as he holds the lives of those who oppose him in any of his designs-and that is cheap

IN BROAD DAYLIGHT. The escape of "Texas" took place this morning at 7:20 o'clock. At 7:10 Turnkey Poole took the prisoner his breakfast, putting it through a diagonal hole in the wall of the room off the cell, where the prisoners exercise, and Mr. Poole says he saw nothing wrong. All night long the guard, McGraw, went about his duties, taking a look at all the prisoners now and then, and he, too, says he observed nothing out of the ordinary. And the very fact that "Texas" chose the mornng for his attempt for freedom shows that he has a brain, and uses it. He knew very well that between 7 and 8 were the cuietest hours around the During the night everybody expects trouble, but in the daytime in the peaceful hours of the middle morn to the authorities, "Texas" pried these bars out, the walls being two feet thick, and in doing so, the oak frame and all was wrenched out, though not before the frame had been smashed and splintered, some of the splinters being two inches thick and a foot long. Then the burglar crawled through this hole, squeezing past a stovepipe, which almost blocks the way, and dropped to the floor below. "Texas" was now in the corridor of the basement, in which the cells are situated. Hastily trying the doors which face the east and he west, he found all modes of escape still cut off. Then he darted upstairs unseen, and seizing a bar of iron about two feet long, he attempted to pry open the sheet iron door would have let him into a corridor on the first floor leading out onto Dundas or Ridout street. "Texas" had too much of cell life to enter any cell of his own free-will, however, and instead of hiding in the empty cell as the turnkey had expected, the burglar was crouching low at the corner of the balustrade, the rungs of which formed a perfect blind, and shielded him from the eye of the throwing light on land or sea operations in the Ear East. The Russians are apparently still in retreat, a dispatch from Shanghai reporting them as having crossed the Yalu. The Japs are hard on their heels, having entered and occupied Wiju. Five hundred Cossacks have won a race with the Japs to Unsan, a small town in northeastern Korea. The steady falling back of the Czar's armies is evidently a part of Kuropatkin's plan to play a waiting game. The Russ commander is at present at Liao Yang superintending the mobilization of his forces and looking after his commissariat. Troops are pouring into Harbin, the Russian base, and a dispatch says an army has been sent into Southern Manchuria to prevent a Jap flank movement by way of the Liao Tung Peninsula as an attack from this point would seriously threaten the Russian position on the Yalu. The Times correspondent at Chee Foo cables saying there was another bombardment of Port Arthur April 3. No details are yet to hand. Nothing is known of the whereabouts of the fleets, but as the Jap land operations could not be conducted safely unless Makaroff and his ships were eliminated from the problem, Togo may be expected to make another early attempt to bottle the Russian

It will be remembered that last year the board of water comnissioners had Engineer Chipman submit a report in which several proposals were presented, and upon which it was decided to ask the citizens to vote, the matter being referred to the new board Chinese General Wants Them to Looks to Colonies, Fearing Another to put into shape. However, it is evident that the new board have other plans. At the meeting yesterday af-Guru, Tibet, April 5. - The British | London, April 4.-The disastrous effects | ternoon, Commissioner Pocock formally presented his objections. He pointed out that if a referendum were taken the bylaw for raising debentures would have to be carried by the people, so that in any case the money could not be raised until the next session of the egislature. Other proposals, he intired, might be made this summer would be better and cheaper than far presented, and as it was eed there was an adequate supply water for the present, he thought any referendum might better be postponed until after the summer. This proposition met with no dissent. Engineer Moore submitted a report as follows: (1) the estimated cost of placing 17 3-inch meters on the elevators operated by water from the city waterworks is $110 each, making a total Pipe Line road and the old mill road, on the promotion of cotton growing and maintain all fences and to maintain the fence between his property and the waterworks property, and to keep all noxious weeds cut: (3) I recommend that the part of the Wonderland property lying south of the street railway's keep up all fences and to keep all morning. This machine will greatly facilitate the placing of the hydrants required by the Underwriters' Association, which were ordered by your board some time ago, and also facilitate the placing of any further hydrants that may be required

A Rheumatic Mystery.

Here are some marvels of medicine! A dose of Aconite will climax at three clock in the morning. Aloes will operate at five o'clock a.m., and Sulphur at eleven o'clock.

No matter what time, in the preceding day, you have taken these medicines, they will climax at the fixed hours here will climax at the fixed hours here stated and reveal certain symptoms al-

How do you account for this? How account for a Rheumatic person's ability to predict a coming storm 24 hours ahead, by the peculiar ache in his bones? Rheumatism is simply Uric Acid in the blood. Can Uric Acid have its time limit, like other chemicals, but reflecting backward like a barometer? Uric Acid is due to a lack of Alkaline naterial in the blood. This acid absorbs the debris, or wasta matter, of the sys-

It carries this waste matter into the blood, when there are not enough Alka-line elements (like sait or soda, to neudebris before it reaches the kidneys. As the blood circulates through the of this waste matter in the joints and

These particles are like granulated sugar, or sand, and they grind between the joints and muscles at every move-

This grinding causes intense pain and inflammation, frequently. If the disease be not checked, the inflammation will cause the Uric particles to be coated with to be placed along the lines of the a fleshy cushion, which in time grows to the joints as well. Then "bony joints" and crooked limbs ensue.

The only way to cure Rheumatism is to convert the Acid condition of the blood into an Alkaline. Then, to dissolve, and carry away, the deposits in joints and muscles. Then, to get the digestive organs into a normal condition, so they will secrete, without further help, less Acid and more Alkalines. Upon this condition depends cure, and the permanence of cure. But—it is useless to kill Rheumatism if we also kill the stomach in doing so. Few drugs powerful enough to dissolve

Uric Acid deposits are safe to take into the stomach. This is why so-called 'quick-cures" are dangerous. Rheumatism is slowly acquired, and so cure cannot be expected in a few weeks' treatment, and never by external mines applications. The first essential in a Rheumatic cure is safety—the second, effectiveness-the third, permai.ence. In a medical experience of thirty years have known but one remedy which combined these three qualities. It took nearly ten years of my life to discover and perfect that remedy. The chief ingredient I found in Ger-many, and to this I added, subtracted from and combined, until I now have a

The escape of "Texas" formed the sole topic of conversation in London today At the noon hour, and before, people flocked to the court house, hoping to see how the desperado had effected his scape. Some, more eager, drove to Springbank and watched the officers as they worked. Foreman Tom Aitken Twice Thrown From Fire Wagon.

Sustained a Severe Gash on the Arm and is Badly Shaken Up.

Yesterday was an unlucky day for Foreman Thomas Aitken, of the South London fire hall. On two runs he was thrown off the rig each time. The second time was the more serious, the hose wagon colliding with a Dundas and Ridout street car. The South London division was hastening to the central hall while the latter department were going to the Leonard fire on Queen's avenue, and as the hose wagon crossed Richmond street at King, the Ridout car, in charge of Motorman Petrie, came down at a fair speed. Before he could stop it he ran into the rear of the fire wagon and knocked Foreman Aitken off. The fireman on the rear step c. the wagon jumped. The rig was not materially damaged, but Mr. Aitken was badly shaken up. He was taken to Dr. Drake's, where it was found necessary to put ten stitches in a gash in his arm. The motorman had his hand cut The other accident in which Fore-man Aitken figured was at the corner of Talbot and Ann streets. The brigade were answering a call to Ann street and on turning at Talbot street the driver miscalculated his speed, and the horses went into the fence, breaking the wagon pole, and throwing Mr. Aitken off the seat. He is doing well
