

DRIVE HAS REACHED THIRD GERMAN LINE

ATTACKING BY MOONLIGHT, BRITISH SOLDIERS GAINED OBJECTIVES UNDER AN HOUR

Germans Again Bombarding Heavily French in Fleury ; Attacks Repulsed

BRITISH HOLD ALL GAINS AND ALONG THE SECOND LINE CAPTURED IMPORTANT PLACES

Most Determined Resistance Was Expected and Many Casualties Looked For—Assault, Though Made by Moonlight, Carried Through Perfectly, Objective Being Gained in Less Than an Hour

By Special Wire to the Courier. British Front in France, July 14, 10 p.m., via London, July 15.—At the end of a long day's unbroken struggle the indications are that the British are holding their gains of the morning, when along a front of about four miles they attacked the German second line, capturing several important positions.

Not Many Casualties. The infantry which went into action shortly before dawn anticipated a most determined resistance and expected to pay high toll in casualties. Their experiences during many nights' trench raids had served as excellent preparation for their daring moonlight assault where co-ordination was necessary for success. An unexpectedly small number of wounded came into the clearing stations during the morning hours. Many were borne by German prisoners who acted as litter bearers.

Attack Not Expected. These prisoners said that no attack had been expected and that the assault before daylight came as a complete surprise. The British rushed the shambles in the trenches where the Germans had previously regained part possession. Through the tangle and over fallen tree trunks they swept in the face of persistent sniping and machine gun fire under conditions where it was considered amazing how they could dispel enemy from foe.

Enemy Stuck It Out. The Germans building barricades and digging for shelter among rocks refused to yield confident that coming counter attacks would effect a rescue. Among them were wounded,

Italians Now Considered as Enemies by Germany

All Hun Banks Have Been Notified That Payment of Money to Italians in Germany Must Be Stopped.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Rome, July 14, 11.50 p.m.—The Berlin Bankers' Association, according to the Stefani News Agency, has circularized all banks in Germany instructing them that henceforth, by request of the Imperial Foreign Office, Italians are to be treated as subjects of a belligerent state, in other words, that payments to Italians in Germany are to be stopped.

The German Foreign Office has officially informed the Italian Government through the Swiss government that payment of workmen's pensions to Italians has been suspended.

The attitude of Germany towards Italian subjects in Germany and Belgium is causing much resentment here.

WARSHIPS STILL AT DARDANELLES

Turkish Official Report States Artillery Fire Held Them Off.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Constantinople, via London, July 15.—An official statement issued by the Turkish war office says: "On the Iraq and Persian fronts, there is nothing to report."

In the Caucasus, advanced divisions of our right wing drove back and pursued to their main positions strong hostile reconnoitering patrols. In some sectors of the centre there is fighting of decreasing violence without resulting in successes for either side. Actions continue with alternating success.

"Our artillery prevented enemy warships from approaching the Dardanelles coast and the waters of Smyrna harbor."

"An enemy biplane was compelled to descend near Tenedos."

"Tuesday night a hostile cavalry division was defeated near Katia."

A NEUTRAL'S PROTEST. London, July 15.—The Swedish minister at Petrograd has been instructed to protest to the Russian Government against the capture of the German steamers Worms and Lisabon. It has been announced officially in Stockholm, says a despatch to the Post from that city. The protest is made on the ground that the steamers were captured in Swedish waters.

SUBS. IN ALAND SEA. By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 15.—For the first time this summer German submarines have appeared in the Aland Sea, according to a Stockholm despatch to the Daily Telegraph. The heavy traffic between Sweden and Finland in these waters is becoming increasingly precarious.

AMERICA NOT INJURED BY NEW TREATY

No Policy Inaugurated to Hurt United States, Says Russian Minister.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Petrograd, via London, July 15.—A statement given out last night by Sergius Sazonoff, minister of foreign affairs, regarding the new Russo-Japanese agreement, says: "The convention just signed is the natural development of previous conventions concluded between Russia and Japan in 1907 and 1910. The former of these conventions expressly mentions the engagement of the contracting parties to respect the principle of equal opportunity for trade and industry in China, and to uphold and defend this principle."

"This engagement remains in full force after the conclusion of the convention of 1916, which has purely a political and conservative aim, safeguarding and defending Russian and Japanese territorial rights and special interests in China against foreign aggression."

"The new convention does not in any way injure the interests of America. It is in accordance with the friendly relations always entertained between the United States and Russia."

ARTILLERY DUEL AT FLEURY

German Attack on Trench Northeast of Avocourt Repulsed.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Paris, July 15.—A violent artillery duel continues in the Fleury sector, the war office announced today. A German attack on a trench northeast of Avocourt was repulsed, and German attempts to undertake attacks in the Apremont sector were checked by a curtain of fire.

The statements follow: "On the left bank of the Meuse a German attack with hand grenades against one of our trenches northeast of Avocourt was repulsed."

"On the right bank of the river, the artillery fighting was sustained and intense in the sector of Fleury. We dispersed with infantry fire several reconnoitering parties of the enemy in Chapreau wood."

"In the forest of Apremont several attempts of the Germans to make attacks were broken up by our curtain of fire."

RETURNING SOLDIERS FROM CONVOYED WAR NEARING END

German Resistance to the Allies in France is Weakening, They Say, and War Will be Over by End of September

By Special Wire to the Courier. Quebec, July 15.—A batch of 1300 convalescing soldiers from England returned to Quebec about one o'clock this morning, having come over from Halifax on a special I.C.R. train. Among them were two Quebec boys, a number of Montserrat and Ontarians.

Interesting and optimistic news were brought by the invalided men, particularly striking is the conviction of everyone that the end of the hostilities is not far distant.

Sergeant Richard Boulanger, of the 22nd, is among the men returning. He is coming to take a commission with the 178th battalion. He is a Montserrat and has spent nine months in the trenches.

He was at Ypres and St. Eloi and he particularly mentions what he saw at the Ypres salient.

Boulanger was at the side of Captain Beaubien of the 22nd when

IRELAND AND MESOPOTAMIA ISSUES NOW

Government Will Lose No Time in Settling Irish Affairs.

By Special Wire to the Courier. New York, July 15.—The London correspondent of the Tribune cables as follows:

According to information gained today, the internal political situation is likely to be exceedingly interesting in the next fortnight, the Irish settlement and the Mesopotamia situation furnishing two questions of immediate interest to all Britons. Lord Lansdowne's reply to Redmond has not improved the already tenuous Irish situation. With the help of David Lloyd George and Bonar Law, Premier Asquith has been able to negotiate difficult political hurdles in the last year, but the best opinion is that he is up against a stiff proposition in the latest barter which he is making.

The opposition is forming into an organization showing the most strength since the coalition took the reins. The "Finnian" group headed by Sir Edward Carson, whose health is now fully restored, with Walter Guinness as active organizer, and the Liberal followers of Mr. Macdonald, are coming together on a common ground.

This opposition is commanding the attention of the government in both the Irish and Mesopotamia questions. The latter has awakened greater public anger and apprehension than anything else in the war. The known fact that the relief force was once sent to the uncontradicted medical scandals, some of which occurred just recently, have stirred the whole country to its depths and determined it insist on a ruthless investigation of the entire business. The non-publication of dispatches has added to the fuel of popular agitation, which, unless dispelled by a satisfactory explanation, is likely seriously to affect the personnel of the present administration.

DESERTERS STRUCK BY TRAIN

By Special Wire to the Courier. Montreal, July 15.—Private William J. O'Flaherty and Pte. Alexander Thompson of Montreal, deserters from the 148th Battalion, captured at Valcartier Camp, while making their way into Boston, Mass., yesterday on the top of a train, were struck by a bridge near Somerville, Mass. O'Flaherty was killed instantly and Thompson received minor injuries.

SOME MOTOR TRIP. Mr. George L. Goodwin, general secretary of the Y.M.C.A., who has resigned his position to take up other Y. M. C. A. duties in Washington, leaves Monday morning, early, with his family. He is motoring by easy stages to Nova Scotia, by way of Maine and the White Mountains, and thence will go to Washington by the same conveyance, camping out every night en route. He expects to arrive in Washington about August 26th. He is assured of a delightful trip.

COLLIER'S CREW RESCUED

By Special Wire to the Courier. Washington, July 15.—Rescue of the naval collier Hector's crew and marines aboard was reported to the navy department early today by the Charleston navy yard. The despatch said the collier was abandoned shortly after midnight 7 miles northeast of Cape Romaine and that the vessel had broken in two. The officers and crew of eighty one and the sixty marines are safe on board the lighthouse tender Cyprus and the tug Wilmington.

A little group of the season's smartest silk and cloth suits will be placed on sale to-night from 7 to 9.30. Crompton's.

Censorship Set Up in Spain

Press Despatches Blue-Pencilled on Account of Strikes.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Madrid, July 15.—The government has established a military censorship of all despatches.

Marital law was declared throughout Spain on Thursday as a result of the railway strike which seriously affected operation of lines of the northern system. A Madrid despatch on the night of July 13, said that a general strike had been announced for July 16.

LIQUIDATION OF "WAR BRIDES"

Many Rumors in New York of Cancellation of Foreign Orders.

By Special Wire to the Courier. New York, July 15.—Weekly financial review: Almost continuous liquidation of "war brides" aided and abetted by a formidable short interest, attended the week's operations in stocks, reversals in some of these issues forcing their quoted values to lowest levels of the year. The decline was accompanied by further circumstantial rumors of cancellations of foreign orders, it being noteworthy in this connection that few of the new contracts entered into the coming year. In other instances, such as United States Alcohol Company, whose stock registered extreme loss of over 30 points with only slight recovery more specific and definite causes were assigned such as international differences growing out of questions of policy. The break in the motor stocks seemed almost inevitable after the recent abortive effort to effect a merger of several of the larger companies.

Rails and other representative stocks were but little affected by the setback in specialties, maintenance of excellent earnings, with prospects of indefinite continuance, proving a strong factor. Leading industrial, chief among which was United States, also resisted pressure. Independent Steel and Iron companies show record-breaking earnings, and the important copper producing concerns are increasing throughout regardless of the depressed state of the foreign metal market.

Domestic monetary conditions assumed greater importance on the temporary rise in call loans to six per cent, induced largely by the further impairment of local bank reserves, which promise speedy correction. The increase in the British bank rate to six per cent, an announcement of the terms of the new French loan of $10,000,000 by our bankers were the outstanding features of the international situation. Changes in the European market, aside from slight weakness in remittances to the Teutonic countries.

Dust is a Problem. The dust at the camp is a problem all admit. It is most penetrating and black. At the end of a day everybody looks like a negro. But the sprinkler system is alleviating this nuisance and everything possible is being done to get things in working order. All the men pay high tribute to

THIRD LINE REACHED, AND ALL CONTINUES WELL IN FRANCE

More Than 2000 Prisoners Taken, Announces the British Official Report Dated at Noon To-day

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 15.—12.18 p.m.—The British offensive was resumed today. The war office announced that at one point the Germans were forced back to their third line positions. More than 2,000 prisoners were taken.

The statement from the front, timed 12.50 p.m., follows: "All continues to go well on the British front and at one point we forced the enemy back to his third system of defense, more than four miles to the rear of his original front trenches at Fricourt and Mamez."

"In the past 24 hours we have captured over 2,000 prisoners, including a regimental commander of the third guards division, and the total number of prisoners taken by the British since the battle began now exceeds 10,000. Large quantities of war material also have fallen into our hands."

MEN HOME OVER WEEK-END SATISFIED WITH CAMP BORDEN

Say That While Dust is Bothersome, Camp is Well Appointed, and Will Make an Excellent Training Ground—125th Has Fine Record

"What's the matter with Camp Borden?" was the question put by the Courier to innumerable 125th men in Brantford over the week-end. "Nothing," was the unanimous reply. Every man spoken to was emphatic in his opinion that the camp was satisfactory, and when it gets working properly, will be unequalled anywhere.

"The shower baths are unexcelled," said one sergeant this morning, "and the sewer system is a good deal better than Brantford's. One cannot find a speck of paper lying about anywhere in the camp, so well is it kept."

The 125th Band. The 125th battalion band mounted guard one day, and Gen. Legie, nearby, after the playing had ceased came over to "Bandmaster Bertram and said: 'I suppose you picked up those bandmen of your from all over Canada.' "No sir," was the reply. "I got them all in Brantford."

"Well, I never would have believed it," said the General. "It's years since I've heard such good music."

215th Officers Gave Present

First Meeting of Officers' Mess of Brant County's Latest Unit. The first mess of the officers of the 215th Battalion was held yesterday evening in the Y. M. C. A., with a full attendance of members, and with Mr. G. L. Goodwin as the guest of honor. The mess was in charge of the mess committee, comprising the following: Capt. the Rev. S. E. McKegney (president), Capt. Muter, (secretary), Lt. Cottrill (treasurer), Lt. Tywhitt and Lt. Hall. A presentation was made to Mr. Goodwin, who has been active in recruiting throughout the county, brief addresses being given by Capt. Andrews, chairman of the mess, and Capt. McKegney. The band of the 215th played very pleasingly during the meal, contributing to the success of the event. In future, the mess will be held every Friday evening.

Queen Mary's favorite perfume is the old-fashioned lavender water, and she prefers that of her own manufacture to any other. At Sandringham her Majesty grows lavender on quite a large scale, and she takes a personal interest in the preparation of the perfume. This is one of her favorite gifts to her friends, and she is distinctly disappointed when the season proves unfavorable. This year there is an abundance of lavender in the beds, and the Queen was quite delighted at the sight when she was last at her Norfolk home.

The many Brantford friends of Judge Barron of Stratford, will be interested to hear of his marriage on July 14 in Sarnia to Mrs. J. T. Keating, daughter of Mrs. R. S. Gurd of that city, both of whom have been frequent visitors in Brantford. Judge and Mrs. Barron have left on a month's honeymoon.

How splendid the women of the Empire are acquitting themselves in the great war is shown in a supplement to the London Gazette recently published. In a long despatch from Sir Douglas Haig, Commander-in-Chief of the British Forces in France, a very large number of women are mentioned for "gallant and distinguished conduct." One of those named is Millicent, Duchess of Sutherland, who has been busy with hospital work ever since the war started. With eight English nurses she was in charge of a hospital at Namur during the bombardment of that city. Others are the Duchess of Westminster, who has done noble work nursing at Boulogne, where she has had her own hospital, the Countess of Dudley, Lady A. Gordon-Lennox, Lady Michelham, Lady Hatfield, Lady Bradford and many more. Nurses from Canada, Australia and New Zealand also figure prominently in this list of brave women.

Speaking of Royal engagements, a very interesting alliance has been hinted at by a paper usually well informed that Prince Christopher of Greece, who was recently the guest of his aunt, Queen Alexandra, at the Marlborough house, is said to meditate a matrimonial alliance with Mrs. William B. Leeds, a beautiful and charming American lady, widely known in the English society. The Duke of the Abruzzi, cousin of King Victor of Italy, did not succeed in making an American girl his wife, and it is hard to be supposed that Prince Christopher of Greece, a brother of King Constantine, and a first cousin of King George, and Czar of the King of Denmark and Norway, would not encounter opposition in an endeavor to depart so far from precedent. A good-looking, well-educated young man, it has been thought likely that Prince Christopher might find a bride in the English Royal Family, among Mrs. Leeds' friends here in Brantford. Mrs. Leeds is present residing at her fine villa at Monte Carlo.

"THE INNOCENT LIE." A Stirring, Absorbing Photoplay, With Numerous Strong Situations.

The new Famous Players photodrama, "The Innocent Lie," by Lois Zellner, with Miss Valentine Grant, the sweet little screen star, as Nora O'Brien, will appear at the Brant Theatre, Friday and Saturday next.

The exquisite interior scenes were pictured on the island of Bermuda, where Miss Grant and a well selected cast under the leadership of Director Sidney O'Leott had gone expressly for this production.

Nora O'Brien, who arrives in America with the intent of finding her brother and delivering a note for a friend of hers, is injured in a street brawl. Believing her to be the expected relative of the family addressed in the note, she is conveyed to them. The Winters, not having seen their little Irish cousin, welcome her as their own.

Mrs. Winters and her two sons, Teddy and Egan, are attentive to "Cousin Nora, who persists in her plea that she is not their cousin. Thinking that the injury has affected her mind, all her protests go unheeded. After a while, Nora becomes accustomed to her enjoyable surroundings and rejoices in the fact that her identity remains only in the forgotten past. Her daring rescue of Teddy, the youngest of the family, establishes her more firmly in their hearts.

Her brother, a notorious thief, plans to rob the wealthy Winters. By remarkable strategy he secures the position of chauffeur in the family; here the first meeting in America of ...the chick- highway to the ragged youth, but as when he fast as the wind blew, just so fast the little chickens feathers grew again, until the ragged youth had a bag of them, which he took to a tailor. And the tailor made him such a suit of feather gold as was never before seen in court.

My, how he shone in the sunlight—that youth in feather gold—and how proud he was! And he won the hand of the Princess.
But when he rode forth with his soldiers one day—he met the little chicken. Alas, the chick was bare of feathers now and shivering. "The wind," said the chicken, "blew my feathers away, kind Prince, until I had no more. I am tired and hungry. Give me to eat and drink."
But the youth who married a Princess laughed and rode on.
Must I tell you? The tired and hungry chicken was not the little chick with the golden feathers. It was the fairy. And she turned the selfish youth into a chicken with feathers that no one liked.
As for the kind little chick with the feathers of gold, I think likely she'll be well and happy yet.

UNIQUE AND IMPRESSIVE INDIAN CEREMONY; WHITE MAN GIVEN BRANT'S NAME

Captain G. A. Mac Donald Invested With Indian Cognomen Saturday Night at Ohsweken, When He Was Received Among the Numbers of the Six Nations

(From our own correspondent.)
Ohsweken, July 15.—The people of the Six Nations, wishing to show their appreciation of Capt. MacDonald's services on the Reserve during the past winter, asked his permission to present him with an Indian name. Capt. MacDonald readily consented and several names were proposed, but an impromptu meeting of some of the chiefs and the fire-keeper of the Six Nations' Council, decided that the most appropriate name was that of the old warrior, Joseph Brant.
Again a Brant Leads.
When first the Redman thought and died for the British it was Capt. Brant that led them into victory.
The call had come a second time. Why should not a man of the same noble name again lead them into victory. Thus the name "Thayendanegea," meaning "Two sticks tied firmly together," was chosen.
To the pale face the meaning is intelligible, but to the Mohawk it conveys the deeper meaning of "The joining of two clans."
As in days gone by Joseph Brant joined together the two lines to which his father and mother belonged, so to-day, Capt. MacDonald is welding together the interests of the red man and white man with "one

THE MYSTERIES OF FRENCH MONY. "You owe me two francs and I owe you one that's got in the lining of me coat; that makes it right don't it?"—London Bystander.

ume one could feel something vibrating in the older people, something belonging to bygone days. As it died away Capt. MacDonald was presented with the name, and each chief in turn shook hands with their new brother.
Three Hearty Cheers.
Then three hearty British cheers relieved the tension, followed by three genuine Mohawk "cheers," that set the pulses bounding.
Capt. MacDonald in a few well-chosen words told the people how greatly honored he felt to think they thought him "Dawn of Day." He marked that in future he would live up to it and greatly appreciated the presentation.
Others Honored.
Lieut. Frank Montour, son of Chief Joseph Montour, and lately returned from the front, was the next to receive the name "Da-yo-hen-se-reh," meaning "Dawn of Day." He marked that in future he would live up to it and greatly appreciated the presentation.
Corp. Wm. Aird, who gave up his charge at the Baptist Church, at Ohsweken, to serve his king and country, next received the name "Sa-go-ye-watha," meaning "Keeping people awake." After a few very appropriate remarks by Mr. Aird, Lieut. Milton Martin appeared in warrior's garb and was named, "Oronente-kha," after his great uncle, the great Dr. Oronente-kha.
Midnight Supper.
After many more hearty cheers a midnight supper was served in the barracks overnight, ready to march to Onondaga to entrain for Camp Borden.
At four a.m. breakfast was served and at five a.m. the boys marched out of Ohsweken with "Thayendanegea" at their head.

Pauline Frederick Adds New Type of Characterization to Already Remarkable Screen Repertoire.
Pauline Frederick, noted for her characterizations of fascinating and alluring women, as well as for her realistic portrayals of sweet, innocent girlhood, demonstrates her unusual versatility in the latest Famous Players-Paramount Picture, based upon Israel Zangwill's "The Moment Before," appearing at the Brant Mon. Tues. and Wed. next week. In this new role to her remarkable screen repertoire, that of Madge, a gypsy maid. The story takes her from the camp of her brutal husband, John Madge, the employ of Harold, the second son of the aged Duke of Maldon. Her husband, suspecting the love affair existing between his wife and Harold, goes to seek her.
Lionel, the heir to the Duke's estates, heartily disapproves of Madge, and while arguing with her is killed by John Harold, who had quarreled with his brother previous to the murder, is suspected and advised to flee by the Duke. John and Madge, also fearing capture, take refuge in Australia, where Harold, the present heir, is in hiding, unbeknown to them. The trio meet again, murdered at the hands of his wife, and a fight ensues in which John is killed. The couple return to England; they marry and rule jointly over the deceased Duke's vast territories. Many years elapse in the interim. Madge recalls the prophesy once told her by a fortune-teller, that the hour of her death would occur at the stroke of noon. Wishing to leave the world with a lighter heart she devotes her time and wealth to the care of the poor. Whether or not the prophesy of death is fulfilled in this tense Zangwill story.
Miss Frederick is supported by a well selected cast which is allied with the drama with the skill so characteristic of Director Vignola. The exterior scenes were taken in the most beautiful section of Florida. Their magnificence adds greatly to the total charm of this superb Famous Players' production.

MENTIONED IN DESPATCHES

The will of the late James R. Keene, recently made public, showed that the dead financier left an estate of but a little over a million dollars. A dozen years ago he worth over twenty millions, and at that time his friends said that if he lived another ten years he would be worth fifty. Keene was one of the most spectacular figures in Wall Street, and might have become one of the wealthiest and most powerful financial men in the United States except for an unfortunate manner. His chief pastime in life seemed to be fighting, and it did not matter how powerful his opponents were he entered the lists with an utter disregard of the consequences. In turn he fought Flower and Brady in connection with the Brooklyn Rapid Transit; Ryan in the Metropolitan Street Railway; Harriman and Rockefeller in the Southern Pacific; Whitney in tobacco, etc. Keene's collapse came as a result of his overmastering desire to "lick" everybody in sight. Apart from his interest in Wall St. and in warfare he was noted as the owner of fast horses. The decrease in his fortune typifies the uncertainties of the man who speculates in Wall St. Liners

BANTAMS WILL BE AWAY NEXT WEEK

Visiting Other Districts in Search of Recruits for the 216th Battalion.

For the greater part of next week the local recruiting office of the bantam battalion will remain closed, as Privates Maurice and Haley will be engaged in recruiting elsewhere through the military division, in accordance with instructions received from Lieut. Walsh, who visited Brantford yesterday. He expressed himself as thoroughly satisfied with the work being done in this locality recently, as 30 per cent. of the recruits obtained by the Bantams since the battalions went to camp have been got by Ptes. Maurice and Haley, who have thus proven themselves recruiters par excellence. It is realized, however, that Brantford and vicinity is a well worked and almost exhausted field, at least so far as the 216th is concerned. Accordingly fields afresh and pastures new will be sought by Ptes. Maurice and Haley, this does not mean the departure of the Bantams for good from Brantford, as they will return again toward the end of the week.

All the recruits obtained here recently have now been sent on to join the 216th Battalion at Camp Borden, with the exception of two who will report here from Tillsonburg on Monday, and will be sent direct to camp.

COL. HOWARD IN CHARGE OF A BRIGADE

C. O. of Dufferin Rifles Gets Big Command at Camp Borden.

According to camp announcements to-day, Lt.-Col. Frank A. Howard has been placed in command of the 8th Brigade at Camp Borden. Lt.-Col. Howard, who is C.O. of the Dufferin Rifles, has seen service at the front in this war, returning home last Christmas. He went to Camp Borden on Thursday. He was one of the 30 military men chosen in 1913 by Sir Sam Hughes to go over the present fighting line in France.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Travel from one to two years free in your Ford on your saving in one year's depreciation

Other cars in the $1000 or less class, after one year of service, are worth from $250 to $400 less than their purchase price. That's THEIR depreciation.

Ford cars, after a year's hard work, sell on an average for only $125 less than their cost brand new. That's FORD depreciation.

The difference in depreciation of these year-old cars ranges from $125 in the one case to $275 in the other—both considerable savings for Ford owners.

Thousands of owners tell us that it costs .024 per mile on an average to drive a Ford—paying for gasoline, oil, tires and repairs. So, if your saving in depreciation for a year is $125 you pay all your expenses for 5,208 miles—while if it is $275, you have kept enough money in your pocket to pay for driving your Ford 11,458 miles.

Buying a Ford in preference to other less than $1,000 cars lets you save in one year's time a difference in depreciation that pays all your motoring bills for from one to two years.

Think it over.

To The Editor

AN APPRECIATION.

Editor of Courier,
Sir,—I noticed in the Press, a few days ago, that there was a possibility of the 215th Battalion losing its identity. Many of us feel that Brant Count has been called upon to do more than its share of recruiting. But we should not overlook the fact that the splendid showing of the 125th Battalion was due, in a great measure, to the efforts and generosity of Lieut.-Col. H. Cockshutt and the good work done by Captain Andrews as Chairman of the Publicity Committee of the Recruiting League. Few men in this Province have given more of their time or more generously of their means in the interests of recruiting than Lieut.-Col. Cockshutt, and it would be something to be regretted if his battalion lost its identity.

I believe the young men of Brant County, when they understand the situation, will see to it that the 215th battalion is recruited to strength in time to get a couple of months training at Camp Borden before they settle down in Brantford for the winter.

Respectfully,
J. G. O'NEIL.

CAMP RIOT RESULT OF PLOT

Ruction Organized by Liquor Interests in London, Says Sir Sam Hughes.

Ottawa, July 15.—General Sir Sam Hughes stated last night that he had got to the bottom of the much-advertised ruction at Camp Borden. Since his return to Ottawa he has been in receipt of considerable information from various sources showing, he says, that the trouble was the result of an organized effort having its origin with certain tobacco, liquor and allied interests in the City of London.

The principal trouble was with the troops from London and these men, according to the Minister, were primed by the interests above mentioned, with the object of making the Western Ontario battalions so unwelcome at Camp Borden that they would speedily be returned to London, and would spend their money there. General Hughes has been informed as to the identity of the organizers upon whom rests the immediate responsibility for what occurred at the camp and is preparing to deal with them.

First Band Concert.
The Paris Citizens band played for the first time this season at King's ward park last evening. Considering the heavy drain of its members, who have enlisted, the band are to be commended for their fine concert.

Rev. H. H. Bingham, the popular pastor of Talbot Street Baptist church, London, who is going to give a series of evangelistic addresses at all the military camps, is well known to many in town. A number from the Grand River lodge motored to Brantford last night, where Captain Anderson, D.C.M. and his suite of Ayr, held a joint installation of officers of Gore, Harmony and Mohawk lodges.

A quiet wedding took place at the Presbyterian manse, when the Rev. Mr. Nicholson united in marriage Mr. Carl W. Jones of Toronto, to Miss May A. McDonald of Edinburgh, Scotland. They will reside in Paris, as the groom has secured a good situation here.

Pte. McLaughlin Wounded.
Mrs. D. Murray, Walnut street, was notified this morning that her youngest son, Pte. McLaughlin, had been taken to the rest station. Pte. McLaughlin enlisted in Toronto, 15 months ago. He has spent most of his time in the trenches, and this is the fourth time that he has been wounded.

Honor Roll Unveiled.
On Sunday morning special services will be held in the Congregational church, when Lieut.-Col. Cockshutt of Brantford, will unveil the honor roll, which contains the names of members and adherents from that church who have enlisted. Special music will be rendered by the choir and they will be assisted by Mr. Wm. Hurst and Mrs. Chas. Broomfield, Mr. H. Fisher, M.P., and Mr. T. Scott Davidson, M.P.P., will give short addresses.

The engagement is announced of Carrie Adeline Bradley, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bradley, of Buffalo, to Mr. F. Floyd Sovereign, formerly of Woodstock. The wedding will take place at the bride's home, 20 Boyd street, Buffalo, on Sept. the 5th.

Mr. Charles Felton of Paris, while assisting on the farm of George Follerters, Brantford Township, fell off a mower yesterday afternoon, and fracturing three ribs, on his left side. Yesterday afternoon, Mr. W. Howard, while assisting in killing at the slaughter house of Mr. J. Bingle, slipped while carrying a quarter of beef, badly tearing the muscles of his right shoulder.

Yesterday afternoon while assisting to load a couch on a farmer's wagon, Mr. John P. McAmmon's right foot broke through a weak board, causing him to fall backwards and striking his right side on the wagon and cracked three ribs. His right arm is badly bruised and scratched near the elbow.

Mrs. R. Kempthorne and daughter, Thelma, and Master Lloyd, have left for a month's holidays at Port Huron.

Mrs. R. Thompson and daughter Dorothy, and Marion, are holidaying at Huntsville, Muskoka.

Mr. Archie Johnston and little daughter, Hilda, are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Parnell, Richmond.

Mr. Norman T. Ives of Stratford, is spending a few days in town.

Mr. F. Sylvester has returned to Amsterdam, N.Y., after a pleasant holiday spent with friends in town.

CANADIAN BOY SCOUTS HAVE PUT UP TENT AT FRONT

Has Immense Marquee War Zone for Use of the Soldiers.

1,500 VISIT IT DAILY

Has Transformed Neighborhood from Dull Place to Attractive One.

A most gratifying report of work of the Canadian Boy Scout Tent at the front, which was recently prepared by Rev. A. H. M. S. G. er, who has been in charge of the tent, has been received by Sir Herbert Baden-Powell and forwarded Mr. Gerald H. Brown, Honorary Union Secretary of the Canadian Boy Scouts Association. In a letter accompanying the report, Sir Baden-Powell makes the following comment: "The receipts alone speak to the practical usefulness of the institution, as they exceed those of most of the tents here even at the busy end of the front. It is evident that by supplying this tent, the Boy Scouts of Canada have done real good turn to their elder brothers at the front. I am glad to hear of your agreement to it, (namely that sum should be applied to a public Canadian use) has borne such fruit."

The report from Rev. Mr. G. reads as follows:
"About a month ago the marquee which was ordered and purchased by the Boy Scouts of Canada for use at the front was received at Canadian corps headquarters. Through an error on the part of the Y. M. C. A. it was sent to the corps at the end of March and had to be rejected because of its inadequate size and unsatisfactory condition. Hence there was a delay of several weeks in opening an institution in what could legitimately be called 'The Boy Scouts Tent.' The site selected for it as quickly possible, and a party of fifty soldiers provided by the O. C. of one of the battalions were set to work to put up. In a few hours the erection was completed, and being in the center of the largest encampment in the corps it soon became the most popular spot in the front. Its popularity has steadily grown."

Dyed Khaki Color.
"The tent has been dyed khaki color so that the risk of it being covered by Bosch aircraft is reduced to a minimum. It is 90 feet long, 30 feet wide, and is well furnished with tables, benches and writing material, all of which are extensively used and appreciated very deeply by the hundreds of men who visit daily. Above the centre row of tables, which runs lengthwise of the tent, two lines of the flags of the Allies are festooned, and between main central poles which support the roof. At one end a dry case has been opened, and I can describe the popularity of this device by telling you that the tent for the first month have approximately been 38,000 francs or more than 37,000 in Canadian money. Most of the goods, of which are chiefly chocolate, tinned fruit and P. sauce, are the chief items bought from the Expeditionary Canteen, and are sold at a profit of 5 per cent. which is a very desirable breakage, accidents, have taken their toll of less, it profit cannot be very great."

Many Visit It Daily.
"We are steadily improving our method of conducting the business and an effort is being made to prevent all breakages and so that we hope to be able to our second statement, if not our first, that a substantial sum has been realized, all of which is spent for our troops in the field. The chief point, however, is that an age of not less than 1,500 men tent daily and make purchases which contribute to the comfort and cheer of their home folk as well themselves. It is not too much to say that it has transformed the neighborhood which it serves a dull place into an attractive one. Not Found Yet by Enemy.
"Thus far the tent has been (Continued on Page Sixteen)

GERMAN SUBMARINE ELUDES ALLIES AND LANDS AT AMERICAN PORT

TYPE OF GERMAN SUPER-SUBMARINE

Here is shown a type of the German super-submarine which arrived at Baltimore after completing a voyage of 4,000 miles from Bremen and marking an epoch in maritime commerce. The vessel went 800 miles outside her course, eluded two separate cordons of allied cruisers and passed through the Virginia Capes sixteen days after clearing from Bremen. Outside the Capes she played a stirring game of hide and seek with British and French war ships which, warned of her presence in the Western Atlantic, were bent on preventing her reaching safety in American territorial waters. But she eluded them by submerging when she was within their radius of action and went through the Capes "standing up."

FOR FIRST TIME SINCE THE WAR STARTED GERMANY FACES ALLIES ON ALL THE FRONTS AT ONCE

Military Expert in the United States Gives His Opinion of the Great Offensive Now in its Second Stage—British Did Not Strike Until the High Allied Command Gave Them the Word—Importance of Certain Railways on Western Front.

During the early Spring of 1915 the air was full of rumors about the coming drive of the allied forces in France. As Spring came and went without any offensive having materialized, the time set by rumor changed first to Summer, then to Fall. Finally, as if to satisfy the popular demand, though naturally with much deeper objects in sight, we saw the quick, hard thrusts of the French and British in Champagne and in Artois, respectively. It was, however, but a flash in the pan. A few days and it was all over, and the forces in the west settled back again to dull monotonous trench warfare.

A year passed, and with the coming of Spring we again were fed on rumors of a new drive. The Germans were, however, a long step ahead of the Allies in their preparations, and in February before it was thought the allies had effected their necessary concentrations, the Germans shot their thunderbolt at Verdun. Practically all military critics of this country and of Europe have expressed the opinion that this offensive, demanding as it has an almost unmeasured expenditure of available reserve in men, would make impossible any allied offensive this year. It seemed that the allies simply could not stand the drain and still have movement of their own. But the Allies have learned their lesson and learned it well. Germany has been a most efficient teacher.

First, in the organization of national manufacturing resources for war, the Allies, originally far behind their Teuton antagonists, have not only caught up but have far exceeded them. There is no doubt now that the munition production of the allied nations exceeds that of Germany. It is not a question of their being out-munitioned by America, very little American-made munition has reached the western Allies. Of all that has been shipped not more than 5 per cent has gone to England and the remainder having been shipped to Russia. Secondly, after eighteen months of war, the Allies finally discovered that in order to win each would have to put aside all individual ambitions and regard the war from the standpoint of all, leaving the gratification of private ambitions to work itself out after the Teutons had been forced into a request for peace. Then and not till then was there time to divide the spoils. Accordingly, early in February of this year a general staff, with representatives from each of the Entente and British in Champagne and in Artois, respectively. It was, however, but a flash in the pan. A few days and it was all over, and the forces in the west settled back again to dull monotonous trench warfare.

The Principles of War. History afforded the Allies a lesson which they were constrained to ignore. But war is always the same in principle. Invention and science may modify tactics, may force a change in methods. The principles remain inviolable. The Allies have learned from experience the lesson that the North learned fifty years ago. Now there is union in action, unity of command, a common purpose, and a concerted offensive. The British offensive that was launched early Saturday morning was the last to begin. Britain has been harshly criticized in the last two years. And one of the greatest criticisms was that while France was pouring out her life blood on the fields and hills of Verdun, while the Italians were attempting the impossible at Trentina and Isonzo and going bankrupt in the operation, while Russia was going through the throes of evolution in trying to raise a lower civilization to the level of the higher civilized Teutons, and suffering unpeppable tortures in the proceeding, England, which controlled the seas, had nearly two million men on the Continent, and all the manufacturing facilities of the world at her disposal, was not fighting.

Everybody Fighting. "Everybody's fighting but the British," was a common expression throughout the entire country. This criticism was entirely unjustified.

SEVERE RHEUMATIC PAINS DISAPPEAR

Rheumatism depends on an acid in the blood, which affects the muscles and joints, producing inflammation, stiffness and pain. This acid gets into the blood through some defect in the digestive process. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old-time blood tonic, is very successful in the treatment of rheumatism. It acts directly, with purifying effect, on the blood, and improves the digestion. Don't suffer. Get Hood's today.

ment in the war, begins and ends with an analysis of the railroad situation, for without good rail communications, both leading up to the line and running parallel to the line of occupation, a modern army cannot maintain its position. The demand for shells at the firing point, occasioned by the remarkable development in artillery and its use, is so great that ordinary means of communication by dirt roads, while useful as auxiliaries, can in no degree be depended upon as capable lines. Reference to a railroad map of the country immediately east of the fighting line from Nieuport to Soissons will show only four lines running approximately east and west up to the line of battle. Beginning at the north end radiate from Lille, the more northern running to Ghent, the other through Tournai. The next runs from Arras through Douai and Valenciennes. The third through Cambrai and Le Cateau, and the last through La Fere and Laon, with branches to Noyon and Soissons.

One of the Wounded Men Wore Mask Made by Sculptor.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Halifax, N.S., July 15.—Most of the invalided officers and soldiers who arrived here Thursday by steamer from England, have left for their homes. A number left last night by special train for Montreal. One of the wounded men wore a metal mask made for him by the noted English sculptor, Derwentwater.

Among the returning officers are the following: Colonel Swift, Major Verett, Quebec; Captain Howard, Captain Cosbie, C.A.M.S.; Captain Boucher, C.A.M.C.; Captain C. B. Price, Montreal; Capt. Kelly, Lieut. Blair, G. H. Clark, Calgary; W. E. Bull, Winnipeg; J. S. Brown, B. A. Brown, Toronto; Beck, A. J. Roberts, S. McPherson, R. H. Harcourt, Weland; E. J. Jolleur, R. H. Sloane, O. N. Learmonth, F. J. Hartburn, Lieut.-Col. McAvity, St. John; Major Gow, Major Benwell, Major Crouce, Major White, Major Wilson, Major H. J. Decharmon, Captain Crombie; Lieut. H. H. Sewell, Fenton, Dundas; Pym, H. W. B. Locke, Captain Duff and Captain O'Flynn.

MAY BE COMMITTED

By Special Wire to the Courier. Regina, Sask., July 15.—Argument is proceeding before the Wetmore Commission on a motion to commit for contempt of court W. J. Galton, Conservative organizer, who refused to answer certain questions put to him. London has been chosen for the site of a Canadian branch factory of another large American industry, the New Jersey firm of H. S. Hall, manufacturers of silk gloves. Stewart Lamont, for many years was closely associated with municipal affairs, has received official notification of his appointment as collector of inland revenue at Chatham.

OFFENSIVE OF ALLIES LEAVES VERDUN SAME

No Germans Withdrawn from in Front of It, Says Berlin.

HIGH COMMAND NOT LED AWAY.

Also Claim Offensive of Allies is Fast Pattering Out.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Berlin, July 15.—(By wireless to Sayville)—The offensive of the Entente allies on the western front has not caused the withdrawal by the Germans of a single man, or a single gun from the Verdun front, where the attack on the French fortress is being consistently and successfully pressed, says a statement issued today by the Overseas News Agency summarizing newspaper comment on the western front campaign. The German success reported on Thursday to have been won on the right bank of the Meuse near Fort Souville and Lauffe plateau was commented upon by the German papers as an event of remarkable importance, says the news agency summary. This, the first enterprise attempted at Verdun, since the enemy offensive, proves conclusively that the German army, despite all hostile attacks on both the eastern and the western front, has not lost sight of the original object in view.

"No German soldier and no German cannon have been withdrawn from Verdun and the battle is continuing successfully with the initiative in German hands. If Germany's enemies had hoped to seize the initiative by the attacks of their armies of millions of men and lay down a course of actions for the Germans they have been bitterly disappointed by the course of events. After their brief successes won at the beginning of their offensive, the advances of hostile masses have up to this time been broken up by the heroic resistance and tenacious endurance of the brave German defenders of the Somme-German headquarters remains the master of the course of operations."

The success won near Souville is worthy of mention as one of the means taken to achieve the German end, as it shows the whole world the superiority of German arms, the summary concludes, and proves that Germany has reason for viewing the military situation with the same confidence as before.

CHARGE HOPE OF A PRINCE

Sir Pertab Singh Bahadar is at the Front Aged Seventy.

WANTS TO DIE FIGHTING.

Grand Old Man of India Will Charge to Death at Head of Troops.

London, July 15.—"I hope the time is soon coming when at the head of my men I will die fighting," said the "Grand Old Man of India," Lieut-Gen. Sir Pertab Singh Bahadar, who in his seventieth year is in the fighting line in France, to a correspondent.

Sir Pertab had come from France to attend the memorial service to his old friend Lord Kitchener at St. Paul's and the correspondent was presented to him at the Alexandra Hotel. A Grand Commander of the Star of India, a Knight Commander of the Bath, and aide-camp to the King-Emperor, an I.L.D. from Cambridge, he has been fighting since he could handle a sword. His record in the Tirah campaign and Mohmand expedition, both on the borders of Afghanistan, is known to every student of Indian history.

Americans who went through the Boxer uprising in China will recall the spectacular Imperial Service Lancers, of which he was in command. He had a soft place in his heart for Americans and American officers.

"During the campaign in China," he told the correspondent, "we treated the Russians as Russians, the Germans as Germans, and the Japanese as Japanese, but when American officers came into our mess they were not foreigners, but received and treated as our English brothers. Those were the orders."

Sir Pertab is short and stocky, but as erect as a ramrod, and shows no signs of his many years. He is as active as a man of forty and as a horseman he has for many years been the admiration of all who have known him in India.

At the front he is always in the saddle, and when things are quiet finds time to have some stiff games of polo with his English officers.

Asked what were the feelings of the ruling princes in India toward the war Sir Pertab said: "Every chief in India would serve as a private soldier without pay and without rank. All his subjects look to their chief as second God and all chief look to the King-Emperor as second God, and if he needs their services they would serve him, even in the ranks, is necessary. And they would send not only themselves but their sons."

Just then two handsome boys in khaki came into the room and were introduced. They were Sir Pertab's two sons, Sagar Singh, 14, and Hanut Singh, 15.

"They are very young to be fighting," observed the correspondent. "The Prince of Wales is fighting and he is not so very much older. Why should not my sons fight as the son of the King-Emperor and my future King-Emperor fight?" he retorted.

Reverting to conditions in India Sir Pertab waxed indignant at the stories of sedition and impending revolution.

Denies Tales of Disloyalty "I am told," he said, "that in America people think there is great discontent and disloyalty in India. That is untrue. Only low caste people who have no responsibility preach sedition. Chiefs have a stake in the country. They belong to the land. They inherit the land from their fathers and their sons look to them to hand on what they have inherited. Under the British government they are secure and prosperous. So the chiefs are loyal and fight for the King. There is no danger of trouble in India."

"But the Indian troops have done well," he went on. "Caused to trench warfare, nevertheless, they have proved their worth in infantry fighting and over a hundred of my own clan in the Poona Horse of the Regular army, of which I am honorary colonel, have given their lives."

"We are looking for the great day when the Rajputs can charge, and that I may have my wish of going to my God as a Rajput fighting at the head of my men."

"Let it be soon."

Americans in Canada

THE process of the establishment of branches of American industrial concerns within the borders of the Dominion of Canada has been going on for a good many years—ever since it became apparent that no political party was likely to modify very seriously the "protective" character of the country's fiscal policy. It might reasonably have been expected that the shock of war would put a stop, temporarily at least, to this process of peaceful penetration; but the opposite has been the case. Even since the recovery of capital from its paralysis, eight months or so after the war began, the establishment of American branches in Canada has been going on with greater energy and determination than before, and investigation has shown that the war, instead of discouraging such adventure, has afforded new reasons to justify it.

Speaking broadly, the American firms which have established themselves in Canada during the past twelve or fifteen months have been actuated by one or both of two main considerations. Either they have had an eye on the Canadian domestic market, and have regarded the present as a favorable opportunity for a campaign in it because of their own abnormal cash reserves, and the exceptional prosperity and activity of the Dominion; or (this is the explanation in the majority of cases) they have had an eye not only to the Canadian market but also to the vast territory of the Entente Allies, and are convinced that in the fiscal arrangements which will follow the conclusion of peace, no neutral country will receive "most-favored-nation" treatment from any of the Allied countries.

Canada, combining the economic advantages of the American continent, with its wealth of raw material and of skilled labor, with the market advantages of a member of the belligerent Entente, is the natural basis of operations for an American concern with designs upon European markets. This, according to the industrial commissioners of various Canadian cities, and of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is the main motive in inducing most of the recent American branch establishments in Canada, and is likely to bring to Canada within the next few years industrial capital running to many hundreds of millions.

American concerns which have established plants in Canada since the beginning of 1915, is an imposing evidence of the attractive power of the Canadian market and of Canadian export possibilities. It should be added that all of the establishments are substantial plants, built for meeting a large business and for carrying on not merely a sales agency or an assembling process, but practically the entire process of production from the purchased material to the finished article.

One of the first American products to meet with an avowed policy of fiscal discouragement in Free Trade England, as a result of the war and its effect upon trade balances was the automobile. The establishment of American automobile concerns in Canada has already been going on for some years, owing to the great growth in Canadian consumption of the article and the popularity of American brands. But the European situation has given a tremendous impetus to the movement. Existing plants have been vastly enlarged, and three new and important plants have been undertaken, those of the Maxwell Motors at Windsor, Ontario, the Chalmers Motor Company at Walkerville, Ontario, and the Chevrolet Motor Company at Oshawa, Ontario. This is exclusive of the acquisition and enlargement of Canadian-owned plants by American firms for the manufacture of American brands of cars.

One of the biggest industrial undertakings of the year was that of the an immense plant in Hamilton, Ontario. The famous packing house of Precor & Gamble Company, the proprietors of Ivory Soap and of sundry other soap and cottonseed oil products, who have commenced the erection of a new plant in Hamilton, Ontario, which will be noted, is a co-vent with American industries owing to its combination of cheap power and good labor supply with the best of shipping facilities. The Flint Varnish & Color Company has put up a branch factory at Toronto, Ontario; an upstart Bell Company is locating in the same city. Scherer & Gillett, makers of store counters, are establishing at Guelph, Ontario. The Maple Leaf Condensing Company, a Detroit concern, is at Chesherville, Ontario.

The number of concerns establishing in the Province of Quebec has been small compared with those of Ontario, but the present labor situation, which is much more favorable in Quebec, is likely to correct that tendency to some extent. An important asset to the industries of silk gloves, Quebec, is that of Kayser & Company, the famous manufacturers of silk stockings, and other articles. The Acta Explosive Company, at Drummondville, Quebec, has been improperly regarded as a war industry. It is engaged in the manufacture of dyes when the explosive business falls applicable to the manufacture of dyes when the explosive business falls confirmed, asserts that one of the great American chemical and explosives concerns has made all preparations for the establishment of a plant for the production of nitrates from atmospheric nitrogen at one of the hitherto undeveloped powers of Quebec Province.

Several American concerns already operating in Canada have found that their existing plants are not equal to the demands which they anticipate. The Dominion Sugar Company, which is largely financed by American sugar-refining capital, is adding a big plant at Chatham, Ontario, to its existing plant at Wallaceburg in the same province. The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company is removing from small premises at Bowmanville, Ontario, to an immense property which it has bought at New Toronto, Ontario. These examples, all of them being enterprises undertaken long after the war, and all of them being enterprises which have perfect confidence in Canada as a field for industrial investment. As most of them are looking for an export supply, cost of living, or burdens of taxation. Mr. Graham W. Curtis, Industrial Agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, stated recently that he had found American business men greatly impressed by the showing of financial strength made by the Dominion since the war, and that undoubtedly at any other previous date.

Deep Breathing as a Health Help
D EEP breathing does more than benefit the lungs. Physiologists tell us that the great advantage is that it gives the liver a healthy squeeze. All organs in the abdominal cavity as well as the liver are apt to get overcharged with blood from careless habits of sitting. A relaxed sitting position causes the abdominal muscles to relax so that blood runs into this part of the body like water and it accumulates like a stagnant pool. The blood needed in the brain is down in the liver. The condition produced led the ancients to refer to a man with the blues as a hypochondriac, which means, literally, down under the ribs. Today we speak of the condition as being down in the mouth because the lines of the face are pulled down. Melancholy is due to a congested condition of the liver and other organs depriving the brain of blood necessary to keep up the normal balance of activity. When one is dazed or feels the dejected feeling coming on, relief can be obtained by lying on the floor with a pillow under the middle of the back and taking a few long, deep breaths. If the arms are thrown over the head and a dozen deep breaths are taken, a new spirit will come into the brain. Sometimes this is done automatically as when we throw up the arms and straighten up after a crouched position at a desk. The average rent paid for New York city tenements and apartment houses built within five years amounts to $146 annually for each person living in them.

RICH NEWSPAPER MAN

Occasionally newspaper men die leaving something tangible behind them in the way of assets. John R. McLean, who died a few days ago at Washington, left a fortune estimated at twenty million dollars. He was born in Cincinnati sixty-eight years ago, the son of Washington McLean, founder of the Cincinnati Inquirer. Mr. McLean has been a prominent figure in journalism and politics, being for many years a leader in the democratic party and on one occasion running for Governor of Ohio.

"We Are Fighting for Honor and Life," says President Poincare.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Paris, July 15.—"The cent empire can be under no illusion to the possibility of reducing the ties to a confession of defeat," President Poincare yesterday, of wanting from their weariness peace which for Prussian military would be only a stragem for big preparations for fresh aggression.

"They know well that the seas closed to them, that they have their colonies; and they know equally well that the allies rely less on the geographical position of their troops, their capacity for resistance and offensive, and the temperament of their peoples than their armies."

"We are fighting not for honor alone, but for honor and life. To or not to be—that is the pain problem imposed on the consciences of the great European nations. We are seeking entire restitution of our invaded provinces and the seized forty-six years ago, for reparation for the violation of rights, the expense of France or her ally and for the guarantee necessary, a definitive safeguard of our national independence."

President Poincare's address, delivered in connection with the celebration of the French national holiday. The president bestowed coronations on the families of soldiers who have fallen at the front. He said the holiday this year was the occasion of an expression of the nation's gratitude to its sons who died to save it. Turning towards the families of the dead soldiers, he said: "To you ladies, especially, I address the deep and respectful thanks of the country. You have shown us a fire of moral exaltation burns within you. You have proved once again that you are the sure guardians of our traditions and the inspirers of our great national virtues."

Wounded in Clash Between Guards and Strikers, at Carborundum Co.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Niagara Falls, N.Y., July 15.—An unidentified foreigner who was wounded in a clash between guards and strikers at the plant of the Carborundum Company, died at a hospital early to-day. Roman Naturski, shot in the abdomen at the same time, is in a critical condition. Two other men received flesh wounds when the guards fired a round of revolver shots into the crowd.

About 500 men in the employ of the Carborundum Company are on strike. They are laborers and have been receiving a minimum wage of $2.30 a day and a maximum of $2.70 a day for eight hours work. They demanded an increase of 5 cents an hour.

At the plant of the Electric-Metal-Laborers Company, where a strike of laborers was declared several days ago, part of the force to-day returned to work.

MENTIONED IN DISPATCHES

THE NEW EARL KITCHENER.

The new Earl Kitchener is Col. Henry Elliott Kitchener, who succeeds to the title at the age of 70. The new holder of the title was the eldest member of the family, is a widower, a veteran of the Burma War and the Manipur Expedition. The new earl has a son, Capt. Henry P. Kitchener, who is now serving in the navy in the North Sea. The new head of the earldom has been overshadowed by his more powerful and famous brother, but has been, nevertheless, an active and able officer.

THE DEFENDER OF VAUX.

Major Raynal, defender of Fort Vaux, cost the Germans 80,000 lives before they succeeded in wresting the fort from the gallant Frenchmen. The major, who is one of the new heroes of France, enlisted in the army as a private, working his way up to major when the present war broke out. He has been wounded three times, once seriously, but always gets back into the thick of the fighting. Major Raynal has been decorated with the Legion of Honor, the Military Cross, and every other decoration which a grateful country can bestow upon him. It is said that his defence of Fort Vaux was one of the most masterly episodes of the whole war.

BOUGHT BIG PAPER.

Frank A. Munsey, who has just purchased the New York Sun, is one of the best known publishers in the United States. Munsey was born in Maine in 1854, educated in the Public schools and started his business career in a country store. He went to New York in 1882 and started in as a publisher. He now owns the Argosy, the Munsey Magazine, the All Story Magazine, the Scrap Book, and five daily papers. Munsey is also the author of several books. The New York Sun, which he purchased, has long been regarded as one of the most unique daily papers in the United States, possessing among other things its own news-gathering service. It attained its chief fame under the late Chas. A. Dana.

CELEBRATED WAR WRITER.

Frederick Palmer, the famous war correspondent, is adding to his already enviable reputation by his story of the Big Drive. Canadians are particularly interested in Palmer as many heard him lecture last winter, while thousands of others have read his book, "My Year of the Great War." Palmer is one of the world's best known and ablest military writers and should know what he writes about, as he has been in every scrap, big and little, that has taken place anywhere in the world for the past twenty years. He acted as a correspondent in the Greek War of 1895-1897, was in the Philippines through the Spanish-American War, in China during the Boer Rebellion, at the Relief of Peking, the Russian-Japanese War, the Turkish Revolution of '09, and the two Balkan Wars, not to mention the present titanic struggle, which he has seen from the very outset. In addition to these stirring experiences he has visited nearly every out-of-the-way place in the world, having been given such "assignments" as the Klondyke, Central and South America, and sailing around the world on the American battleship Fleet. Palmer was born in Pennsylvania in 1873 and educated at Alleghany College.

AUTOINTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

The Dangerous Condition Which Produces Many Well Known Diseases.

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST THIS TROUBLE

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" — The Wonderful Fruit Medicine — will Protect You

Autointoxication means self-poisoning, caused by continuous or partial constipation, or insufficient action of the bowels.

Instead of the refuse matter passing daily from the body, it is absorbed by the blood. As a result, the kidneys and skin are overworked, in their efforts to rid the blood of this poisoning.

Poisoning of the blood in this way often causes indigestion, loss of appetite and disturbed stomach. It may produce headaches and sleeplessness. It may irritate the kidneys and bring on pain in the back, rheumatism, gout, and rheumatic pains. It is the chief cause of eczema—and keeps the whole system unhealthy by the constant absorption into the blood of this refuse matter.

"Fruit-a-lives" will always cure auto-intoxication or self-poisoning—as "Fruit-a-lives" acts gently on bowels, kidneys and skin, strengthens the bowels and tones up the nervous system. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. ### BRITISH TO SELL UP ENEMY

Property Seized in Africa to Be Auctioned in October

The first important disposal of Great Britain's spoils of war is to be made October 31, when all of the German and Austrian property seized in Nigeria, Africa, will be sold at auction in London. It was announced recently. The property is at present held by a receiver. The sale has been ordered by the British Supreme Court.

Lands, warehouses, stores, offices, wharves, piers, sheds and other properties to be offered are scattered throughout the 336,000 square miles of the colony. Many of the buildings and waterfront structures were owned by German and Austrian firms which in the last quarter of a century had built up an extensive trade reaching far inland. Other Teutonic firms whose property is to be sold carried on rich shipping, importing and commission businesses.

Private houses formerly occupied by subjects of the Central Powers will not escape the auctioneer's hammer. When the last bid has been recorded, German names, German power and German business will have disappeared as completely from the African state as though they never existed there.

It is said that no country on the western coast of Africa offers greater possibility for future development than Nigeria. The chief exports are palm oil and kernels, tin, ground nuts, hides, cocoa, cotton, rubber, mahogany, ivory, shea nuts, shea butter and many different kinds of valuable gums. In 1913 the exports from the colony were valued at nearly $35,000,000, which was an increase of 58 per cent. over the export of 1909.

But recently the great mineral wealth underlying Nigeria has been discovered and partially developed. Alluvial tin is found in abundance in the northern province. Within the last few years an extensive coal field has been discovered at Ulli. It is the only known coal field on the west coast of Africa which makes its development all the more important to Nigerian investors, inasmuch as it will greatly cheapen the cost of manufacturing.

The population of Nigeria is estimated at more than 16,000,000 natives and 2,600 Europeans.

Manufacturing Optical Glass in America

THE glass used in this country for the manufacture of lenses is practically all imported except in the case of some of the smaller and cheaper lenses, says the Scientific American. For several years past the bureau of standards of the department of commerce has been endeavoring to persuade the glass manufacturers of the United States to take up the manufacture of this material, but they have been unable to do so, partly because of the limited quantity used as compared with other glass, but largely on account of the varying composition required and the difficulty of annealing the glass, as good optical glass must be entirely free from strain.

With a view to working out some of the underlying problems sufficient to enable manufacturers to start in this matter, the bureau secured two years ago an expert interested in the composition and testing of optical systems, and a little later secured another man skilled in the working of glass to the definite forms required by the theory. These steps were taken, first, partly because it is exceedingly difficult to find men having these qualifications, but, principally because, as the work of expert glass-makers progresses, the suggestions as to equipment for the manufacture of optical glass.

SOLVING the Great FLYING Problem of LANDING on DARK NIGHTS

SEARCHLIGHTS have been used successfully by aeronauts and airmen for finding their way by night or in dense fogs. A Berlin architect, Edgar Heintz, has recently patented a new type of optical signal likely to prove even more useful in this connection, which, moreover, lends itself to a multitude of other applications.

This signal comprises a system of two or more circles (or similar figures), arranged behind, inside or below one another, vertically or horizontally, so that their centres will coincide. Their peripheries are, by night (or in case of a fog), lined with lamps of proper luminous intensity.

This system is of remarkable simplicity, and affords a most reliable means of indicating to aircraft or vessels their position with regard to

Just How "CIRCLES of SAFETY" Tell the Aeroplanist How Far Away the Ground Is, and the Angle of Approach

Diagram Illustrating the New Invention for Enabling Airmen to Make Safe Landings at Night. Form of the Circles on the Surface Shows Distance and Angle of Approach.

When looked at from the front they, in fact, appear as circles, from the side as vertical, and from the top as horizontal ellipses. Their intersection affords additional hints as to their position with regard to the observer. The arrangement so far chosen, writes the Berlin correspondent of the Scientific American, a short time before the outbreak of war, comprises two vertical glow-lamp circles of different diameters installed behind one another, on the ground, so that an airman will see two concentric circles at the moment his aeroplane is on or close to the landing ground.

By a proper arrangement of the luminous circles (at right angles to the landing ground and at right angles to the direction of approach) it is thus possible to give the airman accurate signals as to the direction to be into circles, and, so far from cutting one another, approach the position of concentric circles. At the moment the circles are seen apart, he knows his aeroplane to be only a few meters distant from the ground, and may commence landing operations in the direction of the optical signals.

In Fig. 1 the variable appearance of the circles is illustrated. When an observer is in position (C), he will see two concentric circles; in position (A), he will see two intersecting ellipses, and in position (B), two ellipses situated behind one another. By simply measuring the visual angle of the signal, its distance from the observer is readily gauged; for the position of the small circle with respect to the large one is a direct index of position of the aeroplane with respect to the large circle.

Thus, if the small circle shows to the right of the large one, it indicates that the aeroplane is also to the right. In the diagram, the figure at the extreme left shows how the signal would look to an aeroplane coming directly toward the landing place just before reaching the ground.

The next view would indicate that the aeroplane has swung too far to the left.

The third view shows that the aeroplane has swung too far to the right, while the fourth, with the circles concentric, that it has made a perfect landing.

The fifth figure shows how the circles would appear after the aeroplane had risen a short distance above them.

The applications of this optical signal are many. On flying grounds, landing grounds, it should be installed permanently. During army manoeuvres and in warfare it may be readily carried by the troops, along with the tents, etc., in order at night to be used for the airmen expected to arrive.

It should render similar services to the navy, in connection with hydro-aeroplanes, and finally, it may prove of the greatest usefulness in navigation for signalling the entrance to a harbor, the more so as there is no risk of confusion with other lights.

LESSONS WHICH CAN BE LEARNED FROM GREAT JUTLAND BATTLE

German Sailors and Officers Fought Well and Strategy Was Correct Enough, Says Lord Selborne, But Their Boasting of Victory Was Ridiculous--Stood up to Jellicoe For Only Six Minutes

The Earl of Selborne, President of the Board of Agriculture, and formerly First Lord of the Admiralty, speaking at Lincoln, dealt with the lessons to be learned from the recent great naval battle, which, he said, resolved itself into four phases. The first phase was the action of the two battle cruiser squadrons, which were practically equal. The second phase began when the remains of our first cruiser squadron were reinforced by four of our strongest and fastest battleships, and the main German fleet of battleships was drawn into the action. That action must have lasted for something like three hours.

The odds were desperately against Admiral Sir David Beatty, and the battle must have been of the most terrible character. The third phase was when Sir John Jellicoe and his battleships appeared on the scene, and the German fleet was reinforced by four of our strongest and fastest battleships, and the main German fleet of battleships was drawn into the action. That action must have lasted for something like three hours.

That action must have lasted for something like three hours.

How precipitate was the flight of the German fleet was shown by the fact that on the whole of Sir John Jellicoe's ships only three men were wounded. Not one of his ships was able to get in any gun fire for a longer period than six minutes. The Marlborough, the only one of his ships to suffer, was torpedoed by a submarine, and had got back safely into harbor. He thought it would be some time before there was another battle by sea.

Britain's Gigantic Contribution. In the meantime the fierce war-end was still a long way off. An enemy that could fight as our enemy was fighting was not yet beaten. Those who avenge the country were not making all the effort of which it was capable either did not know or were deliberately not telling the truth.

Concentrated Cider.

TWO new products of surplus and cull apples are described in the last annual report of the United States bureau of chemistry. In manufacturing concentrated cider the apple juice is frozen solid and the block of ice is crushed and placed in a centrifugal machine, which removes the concentrated cider, leaving the ice behind. The product, when diluted with water, has practically the flavor and qualities of the original apple juice. The concentrated cider ferments very slowly at refrigerator temperatures, but at room temperatures ferments in a few weeks. It is, of course, much cheaper to transport than ordinary cider. Cider syrup is made by clarifying and boiling down apple juice, and it is said to be of value for table use.

Some stars are so far away from the earth, and their light in consequence takes so long to reach us, that it is possible that some of them we now see no longer exist.

ACCIDENTS CAME THICK AND FAST

Death By Wind, Motor Car and Drowning; Lightning Also Busy.

Summerville, S.C., July 15.—Two men are reported killed and extensive damage done in Charleston by the storm which swept up the Atlantic coast Thursday night and continued yesterday. Meagre dispatches from Charleston, 22 miles away, said at 10.15 o'clock this morning the wind was high and that the water front had been inundated.

BASTILLE DAY REMEMBERED

All Throughout France Celebrations Were Held.

Paris, July 15.—The French national holiday yesterday was celebrated throughout the country. The streets and boulevards of the capital were crowded and buildings on all sides were flag-draped despite the rain that was falling.

With the struggle along the Somme and at Verdun at its height, the celebration took on an aspect of solemn grandeur, the chief interest centering in the review by President Poincaré, of French, British, Russian and Belgian troops.

The delivery of the testimonials was the occasion of an impressive spectacle, the background of which was furnished by an assemblage of black garbed widows, orphans and parents entitled under a recent law to documents signed by the president of the republic, a testimonial being due each family affected.

The testimonials were on parchment with an ornamental design executed by Charles Coppeliers, a leading French artist, and bore the name of the soldiers, the date of his death and the legend "died for France; homage of the nation."

That Britain's heavy guns—the 13.5 in. and the 15 in.—are of the highest possible quality.

That Britain's heavy guns—the 13.5 in. and the 15 in.—are of the highest possible quality is borne out by the world's artillerists. Sir Robert Hadfield, President of the Faraday Society, who is one of the greatest authorities on projectiles and guns tells us that whatever the future has in store in the way of development in the power of big guns, our experts may be trusted to produce the world's best.

Sir Robert points out that the muzzle energy of British guns has outranked that of any other nation. So-called big German guns, about which there has been so much written, are, as regards their muzzle energy, very small and inferior weapons in comparison with ours.

Sir Robert also reveals the astonishing fact that the life of a modern high velocity gun is not much more than three seconds. By this he means that if one added up the length of time during which the projectile remained in the gun it would be found that under full service velocities the total time, and consequently the life of the inner gun tube, did not amount to much more than three seconds before the erosion set up interfered with the accuracy of aim.

Several interesting examples are given by Sir Robert of remarkable results that he has witnessed as being obtained from what he calls "modern high-speed and great-power heat-engine known as the big gun." One of these was that of a 9 in. wrought-iron plate being attacked by a projectile remaining in the gun it was fired upon for trunnions projecting from either side. In other words, before firing it would have been possible with comparatively little energy to make the plate swing backwards and forwards.

To show how quickly the shot acted when the Whitworth shot was fired against this plate and performed it, the plate was lifted from its trunnions seating and thrown away some 10 feet or 12 feet, yet the whole was properly punched in the plate in other words, before the shot passed through it.

Interpreter Under Arrest

Montreal Man Charged With Extorting $20 From Austrian Pole.

Montreal, July 15.—Hyman Steinman, an official Russian interpreter at the Dominion alien registration bureau here, has been placed under arrest on the charge of extorting $20 out of an Austrian Pole, named Andrew Mynoski. It is alleged Steinman threatened that unless Mynoski "handed over" he would be arrested and interned right away. It is further alleged that Steinman has been carrying on similar methods for the past two years.

Last night Mynoski was sent by detectives to the Dominion Alien Bureau with twenty dollars of marked money in his pocket and nothing else. Mynoski, upon handing over the money, was given a ticket which enabled him to go freely about the city providing his conduct was good. The detectives then searched Steinman's desk, found the money and arrested him.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

FROM a well-stocked store within the prison walls the 2000 inmates of the Illinois penitentiary at Joliet can secure practically all of the provisions, personal articles and even the luxuries the prisoners are permitted to have.

This prison supply house is a curious institution. It monopolizes the trade of a community which in the outside world would be supplied by a score of stores of various kinds.

It is a practice to give each inmate in god standing a choice between a plug and a small package of smoking tobacco each week. Those who wish more tobacco than this, or who wish cigarettes, cigars, snuff, candy or other articles, such as playing cards, pencils, paper, underwear, handkerchiefs and similar things, are permitted to order them.

At a quarter past 7 on the morning Jimmy stood in the warden's office. He had on a suit of whitewash fitting, ready-made clothes and a pair of the stiff, squeaky shoes that the state furnishes to its charged compulsory guests.

The clerk handed him a roll of tickets and the five dollar bill which the warden expected him to rub into himself into good citizens and prosperity. The warden gave a cigar and shook hands. Valent 0762, was chronicled on the board of prisoners' names.

Disregarding the song of the bird in the waving green trees and the flowers, Jimmy headed straight for a restaurant. There he tasted first sweet joys of liberty in the air of a broiled chicken and a bottle of white wine, followed by a cigar grade better than the one he was used to. From there he proceeded leisurely to the depot. He tossed quarter into the hat of a blind strutter by the door and boarded train. Three hours set him down little town near the state line.

V.—A Retrieved Refo...

GUARD came the prison shop, where Jimmy Valent was assiduously stitching up and mending to the front fence. There, warden hand Jimmy his longest. When a man with as many friends on the outside as Jimmy Valentine had received in the "strut" it hardly worth while to cut his hair.

"Now, Valentine," said the warden, "you'll go on in the morning at 7. Be up and make a man of yourself. You not a bad fellow at heart. Stop cringing and live straight."

"Me?" said Jimmy in surprise. "Why, I never cracked a safe in my life."

"Oh, no," laughed the warden. "course not. Let's see, now. How if you happened to get sent up on the Springfield job? Was it because you wouldn't prove an alibi for fear of compromising somebody in extreme high toned society? Or was it simply a case of a mean old jury that had in for you? It's always one or other with you innocent victims."

"Me?" said Jimmy, still blundering. "Why, warden, I never was Springfield in my life!"

"Take him back, Cronin," smiled the warden, "and fix him up with outer clothes. He had on a suit of whitewash fitting, ready-made clothes and a pair of the stiff, squeaky shoes that the state furnishes to its charged compulsory guests."

The clerk handed him a roll of tickets and the five dollar bill which the warden expected him to rub into himself into good citizens and prosperity. The warden gave a cigar and shook hands. Valent 0762, was chronicled on the board of prisoners' names.
