SUPT. BROWNLEE GOES UP HIGHER

Well Known Moose Jaw Superintendent Promoted to General Superintendent With Headquarters at Winnipeg—Has Risen From Engine Cab

In the general shuffle which is taking place in the C.P.R. operating department west of the lakes, J. B. Brownlee who has been division superintendent at Moose Jaw and who is well known throughout the province, has been promoted general superintendent of the new central division with headquarters at Winnipeg, filling the position recently held by Alfred Price who has been transferred to Calgary as general superintendent of the western division. Mr. Brownlee went to Winnipeg yesterday to assume his new duties.

Supt. Brownlee is, no doubt, one of the best railway men in the C.P.R. service. He is the only man in a high official position who has risen from the engineer's cab, and in one sense he has never taken his hand from the throttle, and this accounts for his rapid rise in the railway service. In his dealings with the men on the road, the apparent severity of his nature is always tempered with justice, and by his integrity and sincerity his men always know where to find him. In his dealings with communities

SCOTT GOVERNMENT CAPITULATES

Decision is Reached That Province Cannot do Without the Public Lands—Laurier has Started to Hand it Back and Borden Will Give us the Balance

Instead of the provincial government memorializing the Dominion government through a petition of the legislature to restore a portion of the public domain to the province, the government organ announces that a certain area of coal land has already been acquired by the province and that coal mining operations will commence at as early as possible.

On January 14th last The West exclusively announced the policy of the government in this respect. The newspaper story emanated from an interview with Mr. Motherwell, but the paper did not know until Mr. Motherwell, partly denied the interview that he did not intend the conversation for publication. The truth of the story is now, however, confirmed by the government paper which says that while actual operations of the mines will not take place until spring every effort is being

YOUNG-THOMAS SOAP FACTORY

Formally Opened—Management Holds Reception and Many Citizens Visit New Industry—The Products

The Young-Thomas soap factory, the latest acquisition to Regina's manufacturing industries, was formally opened on Monday afternoon when the management on a general invitation held a reception at their factory building and showed their guests through the works, giving each visitor a sample of their product.

On arrival at the factory the guests were first taken to the show room and office where the various products of the concern were on exhibition. The most of the first floor is devoted to the weighing, boxing and packing made to get coal for the people at the earliest possible date. The mine will be in the Eagle Lake district about ninety miles west of Saskatoon. This district is penetrated by the G.T.P. but there is a great scarcity of fuel and many of the home-owners have left the district owing to the severity of last winter.

The decision of the government substantiates the position of Mr. Haultain with regard to the public lands of this province given away by the present government. The acknowledgement, however, by the government of their folly in surrendering the lands has come sooner than expected. It is, however, only another case of "swallowing," but we trust now that the government has seen the error of their way they will not stop at the acquisition of the small area referred to, but they will support the policy of Mr. Borden to hand over all the crown lands in this province to the people, and remunerate the province for lands alienated for federal purposes. It is not enough for the government to yield the small amount which they have conceded. The Scott government have established the truth of Mr. Haultain's claims on behalf of the people, and they must go all the way and have the whole autonomy settlement amended to restore to the people all their just heritage. The people of the province are just as much entitled to all the coal lands as they are to a portion of them, and they have just as much right to the other lands as to the coal area.

The transfer of the area referred to by the government organ has been done without any great disturbance of the peace and without any "wrecking of the constitution."

The fallacy of the contention against the Provincial Rights policy has been established out of the mouths of four unwilling witnesses, but the evidence is important to the people.

of the "Young Tom" washing powder, which immediately on being put on the market has caught a place among the indispensable accessories of the laundry.

On the second floor the visitors come in contact with the products in the various stages of manufacture. To the right is a separate compartment where the first process of the "Young-Tom" washing powder begins. There is a large cauldron ten feet deep containing fluid that will make 5,000 pounds of powder. It is boiled at a temperature of 212 degrees and is run from there to the basement where it is moulded into a huge block and taken to the third floor where it is cut into strips and put through the shipping machine after which it falls to the next floor where it goes through pulperizer, and then to the floor below where it is weighed and packed into pound packages for the market.

The soap vats were not in operation

CORPORAL DANN SHOOT'S GRENFELL FARMER

Man Who Would not Pay his Taxes Resisted Seizure and Arrest and Fired on Policemen but was Disabled by Revolver Shot and Died—Coroner's Jury Acquits Policeman

Grenfell, Sask., Nov. 22.—A fatal shooting affair took place nine miles north of here today on the farm of Robert Braithwaite when he was shot by Corp. Dann for resisting arrest. The bullet entered the farmer's stomach and he fell to the ground. He was taken to Grenfell and medical attendance was called in, but death took place during the day. Corp. Dann is under arrest. Supt. Saunders came down from Regina to investigate the matter.

It appears that some time ago deceased refused to pay his taxes and when officers appeared to make a seizure he drew a gun on them and fired and the officers fled. Constable Moses who is stationed here, sent to Regina for assistance and Corporal Dann and Const. Wilson came down in plain clothes, one of the officers having a warrant for the arrest of the deceased. The men from Regina and Const. Moses went out to the farm and as they approached Braithwaite he fired three shots at them. Corp. Dann, decided that it was not safe to take further chances, and he drew his gun and after warning Braithwaite, fired to wound him, but he shot a little high and put a bullet in the man's stomach. The fellow was brought here for treatment, but he was too far gone, and expired today.

The Regina headquarters was notified and Supt. Saunders arrived to make an investigation. Corporal Dann was placed under arrest.

The Inquest Opens
Grenfell, Nov. 23.—The inquest on Braithwaite opened this evening at 10.40. Norman Mackenzie, of Regina appearing for Corp. Dann.

The following jury was sworn in by Coroner Dr. Arge: H. M. Neil, A. J. Dufan, P. Bristow, J. P. Fleming, R. B. Bennett and Dr. McEllan.

Levi Thompson was present representing the crown, while B. P. Richardson watched the case in the interests of the dead man.

Corp. Dann's Story
On being put on his oath Corp. Dann, the prisoner, said:

"On Thursday afternoon, November 21st, I left, Grenfell with constables Moses and Wilson and drove about nine miles south, to the house of Thomas Wright. I borrowed two shotguns and a rifle from him. Constable Moses taking on shotgun, myself taking the other, and Constable Wilson the small rifle. We went in a southerly direction from Mr. Wright's house walking over some stubble and into some bluffs. While in the middle of the stubble field my attention was drawn to the fact that someone was standing in front of the house where I had been given to understand that Robert Braithwaite lived alone. I turned and saw a man standing in the position as though looking through field glasses, in our direction. After looking some time at us we went into the house and closed the door. Up to this time I believed that Braithwaite was away from home. We then advanced in a westerly direction passing the front of Braithwaite's house, and walked across a field of oats.

"As he did not come out, as I believed he would, I held a consultation with the two constables, and agreed that Constable Moses should remain at the stables in front of Braithwaite's house out of sight. I then advanced towards the door, carrying the shot gun in my left hand at the trail. His dog began to bark at my hearing the house, and when about five yards away, the door opened and a man came to the door.

"I remarked to him, 'goodday Mr. Braithwaite.'
"He answered, 'Good Day.'
"I extended my right hand, at the same time saying you don't know me."
"He said, 'no.'
"I was then about two yards from the door. He reached out his hand in a rather reticent manner, and as soon as I got hold of his fingers I gripped them, and he pulled away, his hands being greasy, and ran into the house. I followed him and stood in the doorway. By the time I got there I saw him in a stooping attitude. Immediately rising, with an axe in his right hand, he picked up a hammer with his left hand, which he placed in an offensive attitude over his shoulder.

"I said to him, 'I am a mounted policeman and have a warrant for your arrest. You are my prisoner.'
"During this time Constable Moses had come up and was standing behind my right shoulder. I then said 'We are mounted policemen, and turned to Const. Moses and said 'Show him the warrant.'
"Whilst this was being said Braithwaite ran across the room from the northwest corner to a room situated on the southeast side of the house. Moses said 'He has gone for his gun.' This was said in Braithwaite's hearing.

"I still stood in the doorway and watched. I saw Braithwaite emerging with a gun in his hands. He was carrying it about as high as his waist with his left hand advanced. I backed out of the doorway and went to the southwest corner of the house. Const. Moses going in a southeast direction, standing some seven yards away from the door. I heard Braithwaite moving, and saw a gun barrel thrust through the doorway in a direction southeast from the door.

Constable Moses was facing toward the door. I saw a flame issue from the barrel, and heard two reports, and saw Constable Moses duck away to his right. It seemed to me as if the shots had passed over his left shoulder. Braithwaite went back and looking through the window, I saw him going into the inner room, and heard a sound as though he was breaking the breach of his gun, preparatory to inserting fresh charges. He came to the door again this time putting his head out. I covered him with my revolver, but did not shoot, and put my right hand holding my revolver down by my side again. Braithwaite withdrew his head, and I saw the barrel again projecting through the doorway. I saw Constable Moses' head, and saw Braithwaite looking in the direction of the oat sheaves which Moses was behind. He fired another shot in Moses' direction and went into the house again slamming the door.

"I jumped to the door, but found it was locked, after pushing on it, and heard Braithwaite moving something against the door, and then going off. I smashed in the two upper panels of the door, but didn't hear anything further. I went back to the southwest corner of the house, and thought for a while, and came to the conclusion that I must continue to try and arrest him, as I believed he would shoot on sight the next person he saw. I took up the cordwood stick, and struck again at the door, but heard nothing in return. I then went back to the corner of the house, from there I went to the window on the south side west of the door, and stood close to the door.

"I saw the gun pointing directly at me, and lifting my right hand in which I held the revolver, fired, I believe, about as high as a man's knees, throwing my hand up and pulling the trigger. I heard Braithwaite groan, and for a while stood still. I then went to the lower window on the east side of the house, and the gun barrel was again thrust through. I backed to the corner of the house, and heard Braithwaite moving, and crept to the window. Not hearing any sound except an occasional groan I called out to Braithwaite, 'Throw out your gun and come outside,' but received no answer.

"I waited a while and heard Braithwaite moving about the house. Finally I heard him moving upstairs. I said to Constable Moses, who was near me, 'Is there a ladder around?' We eventually got one which broke before we began to climb.
"After a short time had elapsed Constable Moses broke a window in the upper room, and I heard Braithwaite say, 'I surrender.'
"I told him to throw out his gun, and at first he said he could not do it. Finally it was thrust through the broken window with the butt end down. I told him to drop it, but he said 'No, it will break.' I then reached up and took it down, and then went into the house and lit a lamp. Constable Moses said he would ascend to the upper room, and was standing at the foot of the stairs when Braithwaite said he would come down. He did so, and lay on the floor of the stairs, near the window on the north side. He was then groaning. I asked him if he was badly hurt and where he was hit. Constable Moses was in the room by this time. He said in my side. As the lounge was uneven we could not lay him on his back, so he walked outside with the assistance of Const. Moses and myself. We laid him down on the ground, and found he had a wound on the left side. As it was not bleeding externally, and as the man seemed strong, I sent Constable Wilson for the team which was at Thomas Wright's place. When the team arrived I drove him into town, and at once procured medical aid.

Cross Examination
In answer to Mr. Mackenzie's witness stated that he was stationed at Regina. He was sent to Grenfell by the officer commanding. Instructions were to arrest Robert Braithwaite.

"I was told," said witness, "by my superior officer, that Braithwaite had already caused trouble, and that he would probably resort to firearms. My instructions affected plans which I arranged for arrest. I was ordered to dress in civilian clothes, also those going with me. I left Regina armed with an automatic revolver, calibre about 38, and came to Grenfell from Regina, in company with Constable Wilson. In Grenfell we met Constable Moses. In going to Braithwaite's, the ordinary road I would take at that time would lead past Wright's. We took the shotguns and rifles to make Braithwaite believe, if at home, that we were intending to shoot prairie chickens and jackrabbits. I did not want him to know why we were there, as I did not want him to resort to firearms. I was told that several times he had sworn to shoot anyone who went on his farm. I had a bench warrant for Braithwaite's arrest.

The bench warrant, produced, marked Breathwaite, signed Chief Justice Wetmore, and dated 25th June, 1907. "The warrant" continued witness, "charges deceased with attempting to murder by shooting, and had an effect upon my mind, as to the disposition of the man. We three went over towards Braithwaite's, describing the arc of a circle, to make him believe we had not come to see him. The plan arranged for carrying the two guns and rifle was communicated to the two constables. I told Constable Moses to stay behind buildings in attempting to catch his hand, I wished to pull him away from the house and close with him. Neither of the three attempted to use shot-gun or rifle. Braithwaite pointed his gun to the left, where Moses was standing. I was on his right, and could see part of his face. At that time I believe he intended to shoot. It would be impossible for me to get to him in time to prevent him shooting. About a second elapsed between the appearing of the barrels and the shot being fired. In that interval I could have shot him in the head with my revolver, as I had him covered.

"Before the second shot, I heard breaking the breach to reload. That was the only double-barrelled. Before the third shot I again covered his head, but did not shoot. After covering him twice I put my revolver in my overcoat pocket. I took off my overcoat and picked up a cordwood stick and broke in the door unarméd. After knocking the panels in, I heard him in the inner room, where he had previously loaded the gun. I think I got my revolver again because one of the constables said 'get your revolver.' Deceased had a better chance to load this time than last as the door was locked. At this time I again looked through the window, they being dirty I could not see very plainly. I could see the end of gun-barrels about eighteen inches out of the inner doorway pointed at me. I believed the gun to be loaded.

"I held my revolver in my right hand. I threw up my hand and fired through the window. The window glass was broken. I believe there were storm windows on. I can't give the size of the glass of window. I was leaning down to see through the glass when I saw the gun barrels. When I straightened up, throwing my revolver about the same time and shooting, I believed about the knee. When I saw the gun barrels pointed at me I fired immediately. I could not have fired quicker if I had tried. Mr. Mackenzie repeats formerly his objection.

In answer to Levi Thompson, witness stated that there was only one outer door to the house. The fatal shot was fired at five minutes past there was a brown sheet, making the room dark inside. No threats were made by deceased after he was shot. The idea of going in plain clothes was to prevent Braithwaite from suspecting they were after him.

In answer to Mr. Richardson, witness said that three shots were fired by the deceased. There might have been more cartridges in the house. Witness was not excited when he shot, because he looked at the time on the watch on his wrist. There was no time to get out of the self. The shot was certainly fired in self-defence. The revolver was witness's own property. The commanding officer knew of it. It was usual for a policeman in plain clothes to carry a private revolver.

Other evidence was taken and the coroner's jury brought in a verdict as follows:
"We the jury empaneled to enquire how and by what means Robert Braithwaite came to his death, find that the said Robert Braithwaite, came to his death by a bullet from a revolver in the hands of Corporal Dann, of the R.N.W.M.P., fired in self-defence and in the execution of his duty."

BARRED FOR GRAFT
Premier Steps in to Prevent
Brother of Postmaster General From Being Nominated

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—There is trouble in the Liberal party at Ottawa over the refusal of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to countenance the nomination of Auguste Lemaire, brother of the postmaster general, to succeed Hon. H. A. Belcourt as member of parliament for the city. The reason given by the premier is attempted grafting by Lemaire is having sold to the government a number of fire extinguishers on which he received a commission of several hundred dollars. The premier thought this improper as Lemaire is a lawyer by profession and not a merchant.

Mr. Lemaire today gave out statement to the Associated Press admitting the transaction, and holding there is nothing improper in it as he is not in the civil service, neither is he a member of parliament, so therefore the Independence of Parliament Act does not apply. He never spoke to his brother about the transaction, nor made the sale to a department controlled by his brother. The agreement with the manufacturers was made before there was any likelihood of his being nominated and was made in perfect good faith.

MR. R. L. BORDEN'S TOUR

SUMMARISED

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—First in reviewing Mr. Borden's tour must come the statistics. The distance covered was some 12,500 miles—an impressive piece of travelling, says the correspondent of the Toronto News. Including his journey from and return to Ottawa, the distances work out as follows:

Maritime provinces and Quebec ..... 3,163 miles
Ontario tour proper ..... 1,480 miles
West and New Ontario ..... 7,929 miles
Total ..... 12,572 miles

Fifty-Six Meetings
The meetings addressed amounted to a formidable total:
Ontario tour, proper ..... 10
West and New Ontario ..... 32
Total ..... 42

Two impromptu meetings, one at Port Hope in Ontario and one at Lumsden in Saskatchewan, and two overflow meetings, at Dunnville and Vancouver, bringing the total number of political speeches delivered by Mr. Borden up to 56. In addition there were Canadian club addresses, etc., which it hardly is necessary to enumerate. The tour lasted for 73 days, counting from his first speech to his last, the time necessary for him to reach Halifax for the opening and return to Ottawa after the conclusion will stretch it to about 80 days. As a feat of endurance alone this is an unusual record. Mr. Borden part of the time was fighting an attack of influenza, so that his physical difficulties were considerable.

The Numbers
The writer cannot profess to give his own estimate of the total number of the fifty-six audiences, for he was not present at any of the meetings east of the Ottawa river. To complete the list, it may not be amiss, however to give the Conservatives' own estimate of the eastern meetings:

Halifax ..... 2,500
Gloucester ..... 3,000
Middleton ..... 4,000
St. John ..... 1,500
Newcastle ..... 1,000
Quebec ..... 4,000
Three Rivers ..... 3,800
Valleyfield ..... 1,200
Montreal ..... 4,000
Cookshire ..... 800
Total ..... 24,000

The writer has already given his own estimate of the meetings in all the other provinces except Manitoba; his estimate for that province is:

Hamilton ..... 1,000
Brandon ..... 2,000
Napkins ..... 600
Manitow ..... 3,000
Carman ..... 2,000
Carberry ..... 500
Winnipeg ..... 3,500
Total ..... 11,600

In addition there were three meetings in new Ontario:
Kenora ..... 500
Port William ..... 1,100
Port Arthur ..... 400
Total ..... 2,000

Thus the total works out as follows:
Maritime provinces and Quebec, 24,000
Ontario tour proper ..... 15,000
British Columbia ..... 7,000
Alberta ..... 10,000
Saskatchewan ..... 6,800
Manitoba ..... 11,600
New Ontario ..... 2,000
Total ..... 72,200

Or, say, from 75,000 to 80,000. Many Small Places
The distribution of these numbers is of some interest. The 52 places where meetings were held fall into the rough classification:
30,000 and upwards ..... 6
10,000 to 30,000 ..... 14
4,000 to 10,000 ..... 6
Under 4,000 ..... 22

Nearly half of the meetings thus were held in places so small that the audience must form a substantial proportion of the whole population. With scarcely an exception the writer found the small meetings the more interesting.

STORY OF BRIBERY

How London was Made Endorse Autonomy Bill—The Aftermath as Told in Court

Toronto, Nov. 20.—It was a miserable story of bribery of opening ballot boxes and of payments to men who had taken part in bye-election of June 1905, unfolded at the trial in the London case before Judge Winchester today, but it cannot be said that the crown counsel came any nearer to connecting directly any of the four defendants with a conspiracy in which it is alleged they were implicated.

Evidence of a startling nature was given by Spence, who at Beck Rumball election acted as deputy returning officer at Division 8, Ward 2. He told how, after the ballots had been counted and the box sealed, he was persuaded by Sifton to return to the polling booth where the seal was broken and the box opened. Sifton's reason for this proceeding was, he wanted to find out the names of the voters whom he thought had failed to keep their promise to vote for Rumball. Sifton gave Spence $10 that was intended to bribe two men who did not vote "straight" and earn it, and Spence admitted that he took the money. Sifton also figured in a story told by division chairman who swore he was instructed by Sifton to find electors who needed money. In other transactions spoken of Jerry Collins was declared to be the man who "did the talking."

A NATIONAL PARK MOVE

Game Protective Association Takes Action to Have a Provincial Park and Buffalo--The Fish Industry and Game

If the efforts of the Saskatchewan Game Protective Association are successful, this province will have a national park where either a portion of the Buffalo herd in Alberta, will be placed or some of the wood buffalo from the northern part of the province will be secured and kept under government fosterage. Mr. Thompson Seton in his recent trip to the north with Major Jarvis found fine specimens of the wood buffalo which inhabited the forest wilds of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The game Protective Association held a special meeting Thursday afternoon in the museum of the Department of Agriculture. The acquisition of a portion of the herd recently brought from the United States by the Dominion government was suggested by E. Van Valkenburg, E. W. Miller inspector of fisheries referred to the forest reserves which have been set apart.

Official Request
The following resolution was passed, moved by J. A. Wetmore, and seconded by H. Acaster.

"That the secretary of the association be instructed to write to the Dominion and Provincial governments urging the necessity of establishing a game preserve and natural park for the province and asking that a number of the buffalo recently purchased in the States be apportioned to Saskatchewan."

Fishing Industry
Fisheries Inspector Miller brought up this question and spoke of the fishing industry at Long Lake. He does not think that the lake shows any signs of depletion and there is but little illegal fishing. The government, however, will place another guardian on at the north end of the lake near Arlington beach. The open fishing season begins on Dec. 15th, and by that time the fish are through spawning.

Other Fish
The matter of stocking the lakes in the province with other fish than those native to our waters was also discussed and the following resolution adopted, on motion of T. N. Willing, seconded by J. A. Wetmore:
"That this association requests the department of marine and fisheries to seriously consider the question of stocking some of the lakes in the province of Saskatchewan, especially in the Qu'Appelle valley; Moose Mountain and Last Mountain districts, with black bass."

Shooting
Some little time was devoted to the protection of prairie chickens which were very scarce this year. Mr. Miller thinks that the prairie wolves destroy many of the birds. It was advocated that all outsiders shooting should pay a license of $50.

The subject of diseased pike was brought up by Dr. Low who had observed that many of the fish die at the lakes from some fatal disease. He advocated an investigation.

This also applies to Mr. Justice Prendergast who is still residing at Prince Albert.

Smith Acquitted

Winnipeg, Nov. 21.—Detective Geo. Smith, who has been standing his trial for the manslaughter of Oscar Gans, was today acquitted by the jury. After a severe admonition from the judge to take example from older and more cautious officers he was liberated from custody.

SHOT FOR A MOOSE

Government Will Likely Increase Members of Railway Commission—Larger Powers

Edmonton, Nov. 21.—Roy White, 25 years of age, was accidentally, perhaps fatally shot, sixty miles north-east of Fort Saskatchewan where he, Harry Butler, and John Bailey, were moose hunting on Monday.

Moose tracks were discovered and while he was in the lead he stopped. Butler mistook him for a moose and fired, the bullet lodging between his shoulders. The instant the mistake was discovered his two companions made a litter and carried the victim fifteen miles to a house. Here Ben Simpson secured a rig and he was taken to the Fort, where his wound was dressed by a doctor.

White was brought here last night and lodged in the hospital. He was operated on this morning, when it was found that the bullet had entered the bone and several ribs, and passing out under the armpit. Pieces of the lead and the bone were extracted, and the patient is fairly well after the operation, but grave fears are felt that complications may set in, owing to the length of time he was without medical aid. Inspector Strickland made enquiries, but White satisfied him that the affair was accidental so no action has been taken.

Record Stands

New York, Nov. 22.—Another obstacle in the shape of a dense fog is delaying the Cunard liner Mauretania this marring what was expected to be the most successful maiden trip. After leaving Queenstown on Sunday morning the big steamer ran into a big storm which lasted the better part of three days. Terrific seas and high gales retarded the speed of the vessel and by the time conditions changed it was known by means of wireless telegraphy that the westward record of the sister ship to the Lusitania could not be eclipsed this voyage. However, the steamer was put to top speed and some balm was offered those aboard when the steamer's run for the fourth day showed 624 knots thus topping the Lusitania which took the blue ribbon for the best day's run last voyage by six knots. It was believed that the Mauretania would reach Sandy Hook by daybreak on Friday, but this hope was shattered when she ran into a dense fog off the New England coast last night and her speed was materially reduced.

PUTS IT UP TO FIELDING

Monhead Dispatch Says Bankers Told Minister of Finance to Pay His Overdraft and There Would be Plenty of Money

Montreal, Nov. 21.—The Star says that Hon. Mr. Fielding during his recent visit to Montreal, did not conclude any arrangement with the Canadian Bankers' Association by which the Dominion government was to aid in financing the movement of the wheat crop other than making a response of a practical character to the many demands on the government to make good its overdrafts.

Mr. Fielding not only did not conclude an arrangement to finance for the banks, but he was not asked to do so. The Canadian banks claim they are in a position to attend to the financing of the crops and to other customers as well, and do not need nor have they asked for government assistance. All they want is that the government shall recognize that it has no right to default on its payments, especially at such a time when those who can pay and will not should be made to pay.

NINE YEAR OLD TRAVELLER

Little Girl Comes From Sweden to Alberta all by Her Lonesome

Little Stella Traub, said the Montreal Star of recent date, is a nine year old Swedish girl, who is travelling alone all the way from her old home in Stockholm to Leduc, Alberta, passed through the city today on her way to the new land, where she will be met by relatives who have already established themselves there and who have invited the little girl to come out and live with them.

Although only nine years of age, and although the distance she will have covered when she arrives at her destination will have been nearly seven thousand miles, little Stella is making the entire trip entirely alone. She is a bright eyed, fair haired, smart little girl, small for her age, and as sharp as a steel trap. She is well provided with money, neatly and carefully dressed, and carries her ticket and identification card sewed into her skirt. She seems very alert and seems anxious to learn the ways and language of her new country. She can already speak a few words in English, picked up on the voyage out and is quite willing to air her knowledge to anyone who will listen to her.

Stella is being passed from hand to hand by the officials who happen to be in charge of the conveyances on which she travels, and seems to be getting along famously. She is very popular amongst all the railway men who have looked after her so far and no tears are expressed as to her reaching the end of her journey in safety. At Leduc she will be met by a sister, whose husband has a ranch not far from the town and who has promised to look after Stella and bring her up as a true little Canadian prairie girl.

LAURIER'S COMING

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has decided that he must come west to offset if possible the recent tour of Mr. Borden.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is the premier cooperator; he is the man who insisted on the smaller fellows "swallowing" because he swallowed before.

THE TARIFF ISSUE

During the sitting of the tariff commission at Regina, December 15th, last, our associations were well represented, and recorded their views for the first time on how the pending revision of the tariff should be effected in the interests of agriculture.

The above is an extract from the annual address of Mr. Motherwell of Abernethy, when president of the Grain Growers' Association. It will be remembered that the tariff commission sat at Regina in the fall of 1905 and after representations were made by farmers in favor of lower duties on agricultural implements.

THE AFTERMATH

Elsewhere we publish some of the evidence of the London bribery trial. After reading of the disgusting election methods of the Dominion government we are not surprised that such Liberal majorities were obtained at the last elections.

It will be remembered that the London election took place when the autonomy bills were before parliament and when Mr. Hyman won, the verdict was used by Sir Wilfrid Laurier as the answer of Ontario to Mr. Haultain and the opponents of the land and school clauses of that bill.

THE TARIFF ROW

The tariff row continues in the United States and the public is getting a good deal of inside information. H. E. Miles, who is president of the National Association of Manufacturers, has been conducting a vigorous campaign for tariff revision and he has been attacked severely by some interests.

We quote Mr. Miles' own words as follows: "When congress gave us 45 per cent, we needed only 20 per cent. they gave us a congressional permit, if not an invitation, to consolidate, form one great trust, and advance our prices 25 per cent, being the difference between the 20 per cent we needed and the 45 per cent given.

ply we have gotten into that position, and I am their catspaw. I am making a very petty sum from the inquiries of the tariff. I know that the people as a whole are losing a total of not less than $500,000,000 per year.

EDITORIAL NOTES

R. G. McPherson, M.P. of Vancouver has been appointed warden of the penitentiary at New Westminster. He is not the only Liberal politician that will go to jail.

Charles McGregor, fire inspector and fisheries inspector at Prince Albert under the Dominion government has had to resign the fisheries appointment owing to the onerous duties. It was not his official duties, however, which overworked Mr. McGregor, but the strenuous efforts he exerted with Commissioner of Education Calder, in trying to elect Alphonse Turgeon.

The Canadian bankers have certainly put it up to Mr. Fielding by announcing that if the Dominion would pay their overdrafts the banks would have plenty of money to finance Canadian industries.

President Roosevelt has given orders that no federal officer must go to a Republican convention as a Roosevelt delegate. Teddy has evidently not taken his cue from the Canadian government.

"The Evolution of Reform," was the subject of an address delivered by Alphonse Turgeon before the Saskatchewan Liberal Club. A better text for Mr. Turgeon would be "The Descent of Liberalism."

In a Nova Scotia bye-election the opposing candidates signed an agreement to conduct a clean campaign. This will be a big surprise to that province and there will no doubt be a small vote polled.

Press Comments

(Toronto Telegram) Canada's Opposition may have been as blind as Canada's Government to the dangers of hand-to-mouth finance at Ottawa.

True, the Opposition did not fail to view with alarm the extravagance of a Laurier Administration. Did the Opposition develop a financial genius who could point out the rocks ahead of this country's prosperity?

The two great rocks in the course of Canada's recent voyage have been: 1. The extravagance that squandered millions in prodigal subsidies and useless public works. 2. The short sighted policy that failed to finance the expenditures at Ottawa by means of foreign loans instead of by means of loans from the chartered banks of Canada.

Canada's banks have had to finance the needs of the Government. Consequently Canada's banks have been short of the money called for by the needs of commerce, industry and agriculture.

It will be the duty of the Opposition next session to find out how many millions have been taken out of the Canadian banks to finance the needs of the Dominion government, needs that should have been financed with money borrowed in the European markets, not from the chartered banks of Canada.

The policy of the Dominion Government has been a large and influential contributor to the present scarcity of money in Canada.

If the Dominion government helps the banks in the country's hour of need the Government may partially undo the harm done when it emptied money out of the banks into national expenditures in the country's hour of apparent plenty.

If the country had not tapped the banks of Canada with the demands of national extravagance at Ottawa the banks would have had money in plenty to move the wheat crop and finance this country's needs as usual.

If Geo. E. Foster can rise to the occasion he has a chance to give Hon. W. S. Fielding a bad half hour in the discussion of how far the Dominion Government is to blame for the inability of the banks to finance the ordinary needs of the country.

(From Toronto News) Mr. Borden's declarations in favor of public ownership of telegraphs and telephones have been criticised in the west because he speaks with reserve and moderation. His declared intention of being fair to capital has aroused suspicion that he is "hedging." His critics are public ownership enthusiasts who are very earnest over the rights of "the people" and who are convinced that those rights are to be secured only by the complete adoption of their plans and by the acceptance of their economic theories.

The peculiar code of morals by which certain private owners of public utilities have directed their pursuit of wealth cannot be defended. It is not a creditable code.

Every man no matter what his station should be able to get just and fair treatment. If public ownership is regarded as necessary, so that the poor may get a fair chance, then the private owner's rights must receive consideration.

The ravages wrought by wolves throughout this district are so great that a united effort should be made by farmers to induce the government to offer an adequate bounty.

WAS IT MEMORY

Moscow, Nov. 20.—A romantic story has just leaked out of the recovery by her parents of a little girl who was lost in the far east in the course of the Russo-Japanese war.

She was not dead, however. She had been carried off in the first place by robbers, but within a day or two they had fallen in with a detachment of Russian soldiers, and all of them were captured or killed.

NEW COAL PROSPECTS

Research to Most Encouraging—Eight Test Holes Show Seams From Eight inches to Six Feet

Saskatoon, Nov. 20.—Orin Barber has arrived from the provincial government coal lands in this district. A summary of the results accomplished is interesting.

Following his favorable report, Orin Barber, a coal prospecting expert, was sent to thoroughly test the field. On arriving there about the last of August, Mr. Barber with his staff of helpers sank the shaft referred to.

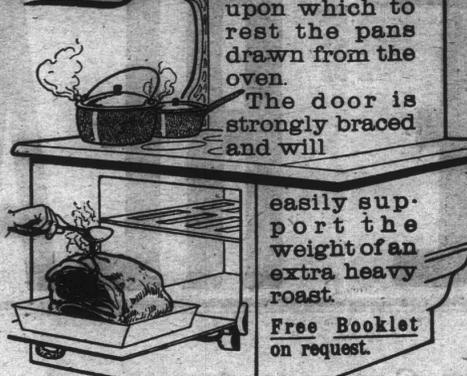

No. 1 test hole was put down about 50 feet south of the discovery point, on the northeast quarter section 14-32-2, and resulted in a find of three feet of good quality domestic coal at a depth of 42 feet.

No. 2 test hole is located 81 feet south of No. 1 and resulted in finding 34 inches of the same vein at a depth of 42 feet.

No. 3 test hole was sunk 792 feet south and 338 feet west of No. 2, and resulted in locating an 8 inch seam of rather improved quality at a depth of 88 feet.

No. 4 test hole is situated 252 feet north of No. 1, and here a six foot seam of good quality lignite coal was found at a depth of 92 feet.

Winnipeg, Nov. 22.—All grain men interviewed by a reporter this morning with regard to the financial condition stated that a decided relief was undoubtedly being felt both in Winnipeg and throughout the entire west.

Some idea of how freely grain is moving may be formed from the weekly statements issued by the C.P.R. During the week November 18 to 21, 144,000 bushels of grain were marketed over the seven days previous.

The Regina Steam Laundry is presenting to its patrons, "Dora," a calendar picture from the original painting by T. Curtis Bell. The publishers say that "Dora" is a study of an English girl; not the fair golden haired Saxon type, but the dark eyed, dark haired brunette, in whose veins probably runs the strain of the conquering Normans. Her unbound hair flows upon her shoulders, with fresh blossoms are set among green ferns on her bosom—flowers that in their unfolding virgin bloom are akin to the maidenly freshness of the girl's wholesome, healthy, dreamy face. Those who have not yet acquired the picture may do so if after receiving a mailing card they present it at the laundry office on Rose street.

tion on the reception day but the material was in huge blocks as it came from the vats and was put through the varying stages even to packing in dainty boxes for the finest toilet soaps. A stamping machine is running continuously, and on this particular occasion was working on an order for the King's Hotel, it having just completed an order for the Wascana. This machine handles about a thousand cakes an hour. Large racks are placed in rows throughout this floor containing the different varieties of soap. The drying process lasts from three to seven days, according to the size of the cakes. From these racks the cakes go to the wrapping department where several girls are busy preparing the product for the market.

The "Glycerine Pumice" is a soap for the bath and compares well with any other soap of the kind on the market. The "Prairie Flower" and "Young's Elite" are toilet brands exceptionally fine. The latter is perhaps the smoothest preparation that can be found on the market. It is made from the finest vegetable oils and produces creamy lather which is extremely pleasant nature, which has all the cleansing properties that it is possible to put into soap.

"Uncle Tom" tar soap is a special product of this concern. This soap contains the purest ingredients and has only natural elements without any extraneous coloring substance. Mr. Thomas developed a special formula from which this soap is made. It is especially recommended to mechanics.

The Young-Thomas Soap Co. are distributing splendid calendars and other illustrated literature.

The sales and advertising manager, E. Marshall Young during the last two weeks has averaged five orders a day on the road. The firm will cover the three western provinces and in a very short time the products of this Regina industry will be in every western home where "Young Tom" will become a household word.

Noble, Dominion fishery inspector, was caught with freshly caught white fish in his possession. He stated that they were caught in season but were kept over, but the law says that none can be kept over after the closing of the season on Nov. 1st. Jos. Rock, a fisherman of Killarney was caught with white fish and trout. The seizures amount to thousands of dollars. Dun can confiscated all fish and took receipts for the boats and allowed them to go. The case will be referred to the government.

SIX MONTHS FOR GAMBLING

COOPER IS TO BLAME

Says President Reeves of the Phoenix Bridge Coy. for the Quebec Bridge Disaster

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 21.—"The fall of the bridge is to be laid directly to the change in the unit stresses as made by Mr. Cooper."

This, the concluding statement in the testimony of Mr. David Reeves, the president of the Phoenix Bridge Co., and the Phoenix Iron Co., sums up the position taken by the officials of these companies regarding the collapse of the Quebec bridge.

Mr. Cooper in his testimony of several weeks ago, laid the blame almost entirely upon the shoulders of the officials of the Phoenix Bridge company and the Quebec Bridge Co. on the scene, making the statement which caused such a sensation, that one hundred dollars worth of bolts, one hundred dollars worth of nuts and saved seventy-three lives and millions of dollars worth of property.

Mr. Cooper, as will be remembered took the stand that the officials were negligent in not taking these precautions, but the testimony that the commissioners have received here, is of an entirely different nature, and according to these statements, Mr. Cooper is himself the one to blame.

That the collapse was not due to incompetent officials or to poor workmanship but to faulty design is the opinion expressed by the heads of the Bridge company; on and all, they place the blame for the collapse on Mr. Cooper's shoulders, stating that the officials of the bridge were highly competent and did everything they could under the circumstances, but that it was beyond human power to save the structure from collapse is conceded by them all on the ground that the change made in the stresses was what caused the structure to fall into the river.

In almost every point of importance, Mr. Cooper has been contradicted by the officials here, and the commissioners certainly have a big problem to unravel in arriving at a conclusion in the matter, and it will probably be some time before their report is submitted to the Canadian government.
