EASTER SERVICES IN THE CHURCHES

Easter was fittingly celebrated last Sabbath in all the local churches. All had prepared special programmes of music and large congregations attended the morning and evening services. The interior of the different churches were beautifully decorated with cut flowers and plants, which assisted materially in making the season a most joyous one.

At St. James' Presbyterian, the pastor Rev. L. H. MacLean occupied the pulpit at both services. At the morning service his subject was "The Inevitableness of the Resurrection" and in the evening "Jesus, His Heavenly Glory." His sermons were eloquent and commemorative and much appreciated. Large congregations attended both services, the evening congregation being a record one.

Excellent special music was rendered by the choir at both services under the efficient leadership of Prof. F. J. Liscombe, who presided at the organ. Prof. Liscombe's valuable services are greatly appreciated by the members of the congregation as well as by many strangers who attend while in town. Two anthems in the morning and also two in the evening were sung by the choir, the solo parts being well taken by Misses Janet Stymiest and Florence Cassidy and Messrs. C. M. Dickison and Robert Galloway. At the evening service Mr. Blanchard A. McCurdy sang most acceptably a Bass Solo "Open the gates of the Temple," by Knapp.

Direct from Paris.

Often one hears this said in regard to the clothes worn by feminine players in film productions. And often is it the case that the models thus referred to are six months or more old.

But not so in the case of "Sacred and Profane Love," a William D. Taylor production for Paramount in which Elsie Ferguson plays the star role which she created on the speaking stage.

"Direct from Paris" means direct from the French capital to Los Angeles in less than four weeks as concerns the gowns worn by the star in her latest picture. For Miss Ferguson learned that she was to do the production, when her steamer docked at Marseilles, France enroute home from a six-months' trip around the world.

"And so I wound up my vacation, she told her friends, "in one glorious two-weeks' orgy of shopping along the Rue de la Paix and other of the Parisian style centres."

Callot evening gowns, wraps, head dresses; Lumiere models by Madeline et Madeline—all are displayed for the edification of Miss Ferguson's admirers. The latest word in fashions is a gift all women will gain from a visit to "Sacred and Profane Love."

Arnold Bennett's powerful story tells of Charlotte Peel, whose early affairs with Diaz, a pianist, finds culmination in the Latin Quarter of Paris where the genius has become an obdurate drunkard only to be reconverted by self-sacrificing love.

"Sacred and Profane Love" will be shown at the Empress Theatre for Wednesday. Included in the cast are Conrad Nagel, Thomas Holding, Winifred Greenwood, Raymond Braithwaite, Clarissa Selwyn and Howard Gaye. Julia Crawford Ivers wrote the scenario with James Van Trees in charge of the camera work.

MAYOR AND ALDERMEN ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION

Nominations for Mayor and four Aldermen for the Town of Newcastle closed at 6 o'clock p. m. Friday, 14th inst. Very little interest in fact (none) was shown. C. E. Fish who was Mayor last year was the only one filing nomination papers for that position this year and as a result was elected by acclamation. Three of the four retiring Aldermen, namely H. D. Atkinson, A. H. Mackay and Edward Dalton again filed their papers and Dr. F. C. McGrath, who has been on the board before also filed his papers. There being only four nomination papers filed the Town Clerk declared them elected by acclamation. W. L. Durick, who has been on the board for some years retired this year.

BASKET BALL GAMES

The C. G. I. T. Basket Ball Team defeated St. Luke's Girls of Chatham by a score of 19 to 9, and St. Luke's Boys Team defeated the C. S. E. T. of Newcastle by a score of 14 to 11 in the Temperance Hall on Easter Monday evening. Both games were fast and each fought strenuously by the opposing teams. The Newcastle girls had the best of the play from the start getting more baskets than their visitors. Both teams showed spells of good combination play which made the game an interesting one to watch although the local girls proved themselves superior in combination work. This is the second time the C. G. I. T. have defeated St. Luke's Girls and have also defeated Campbellton, thus giving them the championship for the North Shore. Their team is known as the 'North Shore Winners,' and they are justly entitled to this fitting name. Mr. D. J. Gulliver referred the game to the satisfaction of all.

The local boys played a good game but were handicapped by the visiting boys receiving a number of free throws which gave them a number of baskets. The boy's game was interrupted by the fire alarm which was sounded during the second period. Rev. Fr. Brideau referred the boy's game in an impartial manner. After the games the visitors were royally entertained to a social time in St. James' Hall.

THREATENING FIRE LAST EVENING

It looked bad for Newcastle last evening about nine thirty o'clock when fire broke out in Mayor C. E. Fish's barn on his property on Henry Street. The building was an old wooden structure used as a wood shed and storeroom, and the origin of the fire is unknown. At the time a stiff south-westerly wind was blowing and the flames gained such headway that in a very few minutes the whole building was a mass of fire. The wind carried the blaze to adjoining buildings and no less than six buildings were on fire at one time. The flames spread to the residence of Mr. Murdock Wedden, and it was thought that it would be impossible to save it, but through the efforts of the firemen the building was saved although badly burned on the ell and main roof. An office building close by and owned by Mayor Fish was also badly destroyed on the roof and sides. The flames were carried to the residence and barn of Miss Powers which at one time seemed doomed but these buildings through the prompt measures taken by the Fire Department were also saved, with damage done to the roof. A tenement house belonging to Mayor Fish and some considerable distance from the origin of the fire was also badly damaged, but the firemen had hose spread to this building and saved it as well from destruction. Providentially the wind abated soon after the fire commenced and a shower of rain fell which helped materially in keeping the fire in check. The force of water which Newcastle possesses proved of great value in last night's fire, as at one time it looked as if this whole section of the town would be destroyed. The building in which the fire originated was totally destroyed, and had Mayor Fish's residence not been built of stone it too, no doubt, would have been badly damaged. The street lights were out of commission which made the task of the firemen much more difficult. When the alarm was sent in the firemen were attending a social dance which they were holding in the Town Hall, and in consequence this social event was badly interrupted.

YOUNG WOMEN WHO SUFFER

Letter Points Way Towards Relief—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ontario.—"I suffered from the time I was a school-girl until I had taken your medicine with pain in my leg, side and with cramps, growing worse each year until I was all run down. I was so bad at times that I was unfit for work. I tried several doctors and patent medicines and was only relieved for a short time. Some of the doctors wanted to have an operation but my father objected. Finally I learned through my mother of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how thankful I am that I tried it. I am relieved from pain and cramps and feel as if I have saved my life. You may use my letter to help other women as I am glad to recommend the medicine."

"KOOTENAY HOUSE," RESTORED HUDSON BAY POST AT INVERMERE PT. ON LAKE WINDERMERE, B. C.

Visitors to the tourist region about Lake Windermere in southern British Columbia, will find a reminder there of early days. The Hudson's Bay Company is building a replica of their first post in this region. It was known as "Kootenay House" and was built by the intrepid astronomer and explorer, David Thompson, in 1806 on the shore of lovely Lake Windermere.

David Thompson, a pupil at Blue Coat School in London, was released to the Hudson Bay Company for the sum of five pounds sterling. The company sent him to Canada where he was outfitted and sent up the Hayes River with a party. In 1795, he with three companions, two of them Indians, made their way from Hudson's Bay to Lake Athabasca. On his return to York Fort he was informed that the company would make no more explorations and that he was out of a job. He did not allow this to discourage him but set off immediately with two Indians for Grand Portage where he obtained an appointment as astronomer for the North West Company whose headquarters were at that point.

As astronomer he visited the company's various posts and while in the Lake-of-the-Woods region in Manitoba, located the source of the Mississippi River. Many years were spent in surveying the western wilds, travelling by dog team and canoe. The winter of 1807-08 was spent at Kootenay House with his "little family," as his Indian wife and children were termed. In October, 1810 he set out to trace the Columbia River from its source to its mouth and was the first white man to do this, arriving at what is now Astoria, Oregon, in July, 1811. The trip was accomplished despite great perils. Thompson died at the age of 87, poor and unappreciated. Posterity has recognized its debts to this brave man whose

SAYS IT BUILT HER UP TO HER NORMAL WEIGHT

St. John Woman Had Suffered From Indigestion Eighteen Years—Gains 25 Pounds and Health Completely Restored.

"Tanlac built me up from one hundred pounds to one hundred and thirty-five pounds, which is my normal weight," said Mrs. Agnes Leetch proprietor of the Stanley House, 190 Union St., St. John, N. B.

"I had suffered eighteen long years from a stomach trouble and I am so over joyed at my recovery I just can't find words to express how happy I feel. It is simply marvelous how Tanlac has restored my health and if I lived to be a hundred years old I will never get through praising it. Just to show what an awful condition I was in, some times for two days I couldn't retain a thing on my stomach.

"I am just like a different person in every way now and I feel so well and strong it just looks like I am starting life over again."

MIRAMICHI DANCE WAS FINE SUCCESS

The following article is re-printed from the Davidson Leader, of Davidson, Saskatchewan under date of March 30th 1922.

A very successful dance was held by the Miramichi Club, in the town hall, on Friday evening, March 24th. There was an attendance of about 150 people and the evening was most enjoyed. The hall was fittingly decorated with the Club colors and music was furnished by the Harmony Five Orchestra, of Saskatoon. Much credit is due the programme committee who were untiring in their efforts for the success of the dance.

It might not be amiss just here to state that the Miramichi Club came into existence in May of last year—almost one year ago, at the instigation of Mrs. R. H. Blackmore and Mrs. R. H. Lockward. The ladies felt that there should be some organization by means of which the young people would meet and become acquainted—or so that they might become better acquainted. In brief, the idea was to better the social life of the community for the young folks. The suggestion to organize met with enthusiasm amongst the young people and so the Miramichi Club came into being in May, 1921. Miramichi means happy retreat and the club was named after a river of this name in New Brunswick, near where Mrs. Blackmore was born. The membership fee was fixed at $1.00 per person—50c to go towards running expenses and 50c with which to buy a cup, saucer and spoon. It was decided that the club meet twice monthly, once for business and once for social purposes. Mrs. Blackmore was elected president of the club and through her constant efforts, and valued assistance from members, the club has done much to promote the social life of the young people. During the summer months the social gatherings were varied, consisting of picnics, drives, corn roasts, etc., while through the winter, dancing, skating parties, sleigh drives, etc., brought the young people together on many occasions for very happy times.

The Club is about 80 members strong and has its own sick committee through which flowers have been distributed to the sick room and other attentions given. Another praise worthy act of the Club was noted last fall when a purse of $80 was given to a young lady in the community, who had been out from the old country only a short time and was yet practically a stranger in the community. The gift was made following a fire through which the girl had lost all her worldly possessions.

To be eligible for membership in the Miramichi Club of Davidson, all that is required is that you be over the age of 16 years, unmarried, and ready to part with one dollar—and a good time is assured.

MARRIAGE IN BASUTO LAND

Bride is Bought for 80 Many Cattle and Has Nothing to Say Concerning Transaction.

A Basuto girl is looked upon by her father as his bank, for when she reaches a marriageable age so many cattle will have to be handed over for her by the bridegroom, says a writer in the London Daily Mail.

There is little of love and romance in a Basuto girl's marriage. This is not to say that she has no feelings or does not hear the call of romance. Like every girl in this world, these things come into her life and she thinks and dreams as we all do.

But there is no wooing or winning and none of the beauty of realized young dreams for her. The man who wants her does not consult her—he has known her and she probably pleased his eye, and so the dusky Hendriks goes to the father and says that he wishes to marry Maluma.

The matter is then discussed by the heads of the family and their relations, and the girl gets to know of the coming marriage only by a chance word that may be dropped here and there.

Generally the principal point of discussion among the heads of the family is how many cows and sheep are to be handed over to the father by the bridegroom as "lobola" (a marriage dowry) for the girl.

This being arranged—usually a payment of so many cows down and so many to be handed over later—the girl is informed that Hendriks is to be her husband for better or for worse—generally worse—and whether he be quite an old man or a young man Maluma has to sacrifice herself and go as she is told.

The young natives living near civilization have discarded the old custom and marry without "lobola" being paid over.

The marriage takes place in a native church. The wedding party and the guests are all dressed in European clothes and they return from the church by wagon to the hut of the girl's father on his master's farm, where sheep have been slaughtered and much Kaffir beer made, and dancing and singing go on continually for two days.

The music is made by a concertina and guitar, and in all Basuto dances the male and female never dance together.

Success is not made by lying awake at night, but by keeping awake in the daytime.

SOME REASONS WHY

The Salvation Army Self Denial Effort is Worthy of Support.

BECAUSE—Salvation Army Officers are constantly at work on the Missionary Fields which include India, Ceylon, Africa, Java, China, Korea, Russia, West Indies, South America, Matabeland, Portuguese, East Africa, Argentine, Chile, Peru, Uruguay, Paraguay, Spanish Honduras, Cuba, Panama, Czechoslovakia, Serbia and the Miramichi.

BECAUSE—The Army goes into all the world to proclaim Salvation to all men, irrespective of race or creed.

BECAUSE—the need for helping to lift the Fallen, Heal the Sick, Shelter the Homeless, Befriend the Friendless, and bring Light and Salvation to mankind is greater than ever.

BECAUSE—the Social Work has a vast network of agencies, all of which are worthy of your best support. They include Shelters, Homes, Elevators, and workshops for Men and Women, Receiving and Industrial Homes, Workrooms and Stum Work, Maternity Hospitals, Homes for Children and other beneficent and Christlike activities.

Captain and Mrs. J. A. Goodwin who are in charge of the work of the Salvation Army in Northumberland and part of Kent county, are now busily engaged putting on the Self Denial Campaign in their territory and plan to visit all.

During the past week Captain Goodwin has been devoting his time to the Town of Chatham and vicinity and has met with a very generous response to the appeal.

How's Business?

Advertising, backed up by the right spirit, the right goods and the right service, can rescue a sinking business and will make a prosperous business more masterful in its own community.

When John Wanamaker, the Prince of Merchants, began business, he resolved to force matters. He was not content to WAIT to be found out—he DETERMINED TO BE found out. In short, he advertised. He threw on his business, small as it was, the light of publicity, and the public of Philadelphia entered the shop on which the light shone.

In this community the public is entering those shops on which the light of advertising is falling.

THE UNION ADVOCATE

A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER Established 1867 Address all communications to MIRAMICHI PUBLISHING CO. LTD. NEWCASTLE, N. B.

TUESDAY, APRIL 18, 1922

CORRESPONDENCE

THE ADVOCATE AND

TEMPERANCE

To the Editor of the Advocate: I heartily agree with the stand on the Temperance question, which the Advocate took, in your last issue, that of April 11th.

I am not alone in being painfully aware, that the Prohibitory Act, has not enforced Temperance here, to the extent it might; and I have heard repeatedly the remarks, that any one who tries hard enough can get about as much booze, as he likes. That it can be obtained, has been evident enough, now and then, even in public it would be interesting, enough, if the names of the parties believed to have it on sale, were published, especially those who make illegal sales for it should be borne in mind, that even under the Prohibition Act, certain sales are legal—perhaps even some of the "legal" sellers, could be trapped.

I read with satisfaction your remarks at the time, in reference to the recent visit of the Chief Prohibition Inspector, and am surprised that anyone of common intelligence, could construe your remarks, as giving "unfavorable notoriety" to our town. As you truthfully say, you were "Knocking booze" not the town, and it is to be hoped the Advocate will keep on in that course, in spite of the silly remarks, and sillier attacks, made by J. A. Creaghan, and men of his views. We all know, there are lots of people right in Newcastle, who have no real sympathy with Prohibition laws, but they are crafty enough, and it is seldom that one of them "Opens his mouth wide enough to give himself away." Yes, some folks have been known actually to vote for Prohibition, and then go home, and treat their good resolution, with a drop of Irish or Scotch! Perhaps, poor souls, the spirit was willing, but the flesh was weak.

I will say in conclusion, more Power to the Advocate. Over half

TEA SHORTAGE MEANS

HIGHER PRICES

During the war teas reached a very high level to cost largely owing to shortage of shipping. In 1919 and 1920, greatly increased production and unlimited shipping resulted in enormous quantities of tea reaching every market in the world, and a consequent fall in cost ensued. So serious did the situation become in India Ceylon and Java that the various growers agreed to decrease their output during 1921 by 20%. This agreement was kept and the world is now faced by a shortage of tea, which has resulted in the market climbing week by week for the last eighteen months until it has now reached a level fully 15 cents a pound over that of October 1920.

MINARD'S 'KING OF PAIN' LINIMENT. The old reliable remedy for rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat and sprains. Best Liniment Made. Mr. A. E. LAUREY, EDMONTON, writes: "I fell from a building and my right leg was sprained, and the doctor called a very bad sprained ankle, and told me I must not walk on it for three weeks. I got MINARD'S LINIMENT and in six days I was out to work again. I think it the best Liniment made."

that the remarks might reflect unfavorably towards him, he decided to reply.

He can be assured that there are many citizens in town who appreciate the fact that the Advocate did not let him get away with his (smart aleck) stuff, and that is why the shoe pinches him so much. The Advocate has been congratulated on its remarks concerning the matter at issue, not only by prominent citizens of our own town, but has also received letters from outside counties congratulating it on the stand which it has taken. The more he (Mr. Creaghan) takes issue in connection with this matter, the more the shoe will pinch him and he can govern himself accordingly.

He repeats that the Advocate was knocking the town, and the Advocate has only to say that the oftener he repeats it the more ridiculous he makes himself in the eyes of the public. Since the Advocate made the few remarks which Mr. Creaghan has become so exercised over, a number of violations of the Prohibition Act have been dealt with in the Police Court, which fact alone justifies the "Advocate's" attitude at the time it made its remarks. Apparently the "Advocate's" remarks are having the desired effect, namely the cleaning up of the illicit traffic in liquor.

He suggests that parties complaining of the enforcement of the Prohibition Act should lay information before the proper authorities. Perhaps he himself is in a position to do some complaining of this nature and if he is such a good citizen (to use his own words) it is his duty to do so. The Advocate's contention is, that this is the duty of those who are paid for such work and from all appearances it should not be a difficult proposition for them to gather the necessary information.

He boasts (something he is continually doing) that he has yet to take his first drink of intoxicating liquor. This being the case, he admits by his own statement, that when he discusses liquor, he knows nothing whatever about his subject. However, this is nothing new for the public, as it is a well-known fact that what he does not know would fill a much larger book than anything he does know.

He says he has made one progressive step, namely, by assisting in a small way (small indeed for all the influence he has) to defeat the Liberal-Conservative candidate at the last Federal Election, and yet he is one who has posed in the past, to

Yours truly FOR GOOD WORK April 13, 1922

REPLY TO J. A. CREAGHAN

The "Union Advocate" is in receipt of a letter dated 12th inst from J. A. Creaghan, which he says, is in reply to the "Advocate's" comments in its issue of 11th inst re his remarks at the last Board of Trade meeting. A copy of the letter was published in last week's edition of the "North Shore Leader."

He relieves himself of a lot of his characteristic verbosity against the Editor of the Advocate and one of the shareholders of the Miramichi Publishing Co. Ltd, neither of whom take seriously any remarks he may make. The Advocate, in its edition last week was replying to Mr. Creaghan and not the Editor or its shareholders. Mr. Creaghan attacked the Advocate, and the Advocate replied; but his reply clearly demonstrates his inability to interpret an article correctly, which is simply another example of how intelligent a person he is. Yet he calls himself a B. A., L. L. B., and is unable to determine who is addressing him. From such an interpretation he clearly proves that the Advocate was perfectly justified in saying that he had yet to make his initial step; and surely that first step ought to be along the lines of the profession he has chosen, in which so much depends on correct interpretation.

The Shareholders of the Miramichi Publishing Co., Ltd. and the Editor of the Union Advocate are quite capable of looking after and speaking for themselves, and so is the Advocate. As for the Editor, he simply wishes to inform this extraordinary bright young lawyer that he has no Boss. He (the Editor) is his own Boss, and needs none other, which is much more than our clever Bill Collector can say. This famous lawyer not only needs a Boss but also needs a guardian, whom we are afraid, will be unable to accomplish much out of the poor timber they have to work on.

He thanks the Advocate for the column that it gave him. The Advocate did not give him a column but used the column itself for its own purposes. Is this not intelligent letter writing for a (lawyer)? His first thought was to treat the Advocate's remarks with a contempt. He does not know the meaning of the word, or it he does it has come to him recently.

"Sacred and Profane Love"

The play that created a Broadway sensation. And lured Elsie Ferguson back to the stage for the greatest dramatic triumph of her career. A drama of life's master emotion—its daring, its pain, its ecstasy. Its terrible power to drag down. Its sacred power to glorify. A romance of love and music, youth and fame. Dressed in silks, basking in luxury, but touching at times the underworld haunts of those who have lost the fight. Now brought direct from stage to screen to mark the beautiful star's return to motion-pictures. Yet far more pretentious and varied than any stage production could be. A beauty-picture that carries straight to the heart.

A BUSINESS CODE OF ETHICS

There is a widely prevalent notion that the golden rule of business is "Do unto others, and do them good." There is another notion, that the age man conducts his business upon principles that are not in accord with the standards of morality of his personal relations. That is to say, he uses the phrase or "It's not business," to excuse practices or delinquencies that are not honest when measured by ethical rules, and often applies another set of principles to his individual associations. He may be according to this idea, the soul of probity outside of business, but keep your hands on your pockets when dealing with him in business matters. How much justification there may be for these popular notions is purely conjectural, but surely they exist, and it raises the question whether business men do not owe it to themselves to establish ethical standards of business practice, in conformity with generally accepted principles of morality, and insist upon their observance by all who wish to command respect.

At the national meeting of the American Ethical Union, held in St. Louis some time ago, one of the subjects presented for debate was the query, "Is an ethical code in business possible?" The interrogative form given to the topic implies a doubt and there was nothing in the discussion, as reported, to relieve the implication. Apparently no attempt was made to answer the question, negatively or affirmatively, the argument taking the form of a debate on industrial relations, as if that were the sole field of ethical conduct in business, and introducing controversial social theories that could have no place in any code of ethics, for such a code can amount to nothing unless it expresses principles of conduct that are in harmony with the general sense of right.

But is a code of business ethics possible? There is now, and always has been, ethics in business. Business, indeed, could not exist if honesty and honor were not recognized and applied principles of business conduct. Notwithstanding popular notions, the whole fabric of business is founded upon these principles. Individuals may and do violate them, but seldom without ultimate disaster. There is no asset in any business so concretely valuable as a reputation for integrity. It cannot be calculated in dollars and cents, and therefore is never included in the periodical statements of assets and liabilities, but nevertheless it gives added weight to every figure of valuation. And such a reputation can be acquired only by ethical practices long continued. There is ethics in business, in every relation of business, and there would seem to be no insuperable difficulty in setting up and establishing a definite code of business ethics.

But is it worth while? If a reputation for integrity is worth while for any business man individually, or for any unit of business, then surely it is worth while for business in the mass. Business as has been said is essentially founded upon integrity, yet, because of the practices of some business men and some groups of business men who show little or no respect for ethical principles, business in general has not the reputation for integrity that it should have, and perhaps could have if there were definite and known standards of business conduct that would give expression to the ideals of the moral conscience of business, and provide a measure whereby business, collectively as well as individually, may prove its character by the quality of its ethical principles and the extent of their observance. What, for example, is honesty in business? One man, perhaps, will answer, "Anything that is within the law," and in the application of that view he helps to muddy the waters of general business character. Possibly this man knows no better; his ethical sense has not been developed, and the nature and value of higher standards have never been presented to him. Yet the word "honesty" covers the whole gamut of ethical principles. For honesty and "honor" come from the same root, and they embrace within their meanings truth, fairness, and right in the relations between men. But how is one to know their meanings, and the manner and extent of their application to business practices, unless business collectively, and with the authority of numbers and power, establishes standards of moral guidance which must be regarded, if the business man is to acquire and maintain the respect and confidence of other business men?

Is this visionary? There is evidence that many business men do not think so. One of the highest lights in these shadowed days is the growing sense of public responsibility among business men, which is largely the result of an increasing moral consciousness. Organizations of business men are recognizing and applying ethical principles as never before, discarding and discontinuing practices that have been considered legitimate, establishing new and finer relations with employees, encouraging truth and discountenancing misrepresentation in advertising, emphasizing service as an essential function of business, cooperating to advance material ideals or general interests by methods that bear the light of public scrutiny. The trend is plainly and strongly toward higher ethical relations and practices. Not only is this spirit and tendency manifest but definite ethical standards are being set up by some groups of business. The code consists of forty rules, fourteen of which govern the relations of the members with one another. It applies to concerns with an invested capital of more than $100,000,000 and annual expenditures of more than $200,000,000. Violation of the code is to be punished by expulsion from the association. The International Association of Rotary Clubs, a great organization of business men, has a simple code of ethics, which is rather a creed, and a committee on business methods is now at work endeavoring to establish a definite code of business practice for each of the various lines of business represented in the organization, and also a general code applicable to all business. "It is not possible," says the latest report of this committee to practice undefined business ideals or to strive to actualize glittering generalities. Therefore the pressing need to-day is a plain statement of business rules of conduct which clearly define what one should do and what one should not do." No doubt there are others who feel this need and working toward the same end.

A general code of business ethics could not and need not enter into the details of practice required in a trade code. It should not be impossible, or even very difficult, to formulate a code of elemental ethical principles and practices, covering all the essential relations of business, within and without, and applicable to the conduct of every business and every business man. Standards of right are necessary to a knowledge of right, and in the application of that knowledge is laid the foundation of respect and confidence. American initiative, energy, sagacity, and achievement are nowhere so conspicuous as in American business. We are looked upon as preeminently a business people, and the reputation of American business for efficiency and enterprise, is as broad as the earth. At the same time America has a world-wide reputation for practical idealism, and because of this it is generally regarded as the leader in human progress. The position and power of American business impose upon it a responsibility—a responsibility of leadership—and leadership, if it is to accomplish, must move not only forward but upward. It cannot do so continually unless its moral ideals are as high as, and joined with, its material ideals; for in

Business and Travel Less In 12 Months of 1921

Value of Economical Management at This Time is Shown in Big Railway's Increase in Net Earnings in Face of Decrease in Gross.

THE report of the Canadian Pacific Railway's operations during the year 1921 will be an unusually interesting document to all Canadians. The annual report of this Company is always of interest in view of the fact that, more truly and more completely than any other report issued, it year by year reflects the state of national trade and industry. The C. P. R. touches all parts of Canada. Its earnings at once reflect the prosperity or depression that may exist in any part of the country, and the sum total of the year's operations as analyzed in this report may confidently be accepted as an unerring indication of how the country has prospered during the twelve months under review. At this late date there is no news in the statement that 1921 was not a year of uninterrupted progress, but it is interesting to review the period, and in the light of some such comprehensive report as that of the C. P. R. to clearly see in what direction Canada's business affairs are moving. In this respect the C. P. R. report for 1921 is an outstanding example. In spite of a large decrease in gross earnings, the company is able to show an increase in net as the result of rigid economy throughout its working operations, and in so doing it has pointed out to all Canada the shortest road back to normal trade activity.

During 1921 the company's gross earnings were $395,021,254, as against $216,641,849 in 1920, a decrease of $228,379,404, or 10.20 per cent. This decline followed naturally upon the general business depression resulting in lessened passenger and freight traffic, decreases in both passenger and freight rates, and to a partial crop failure in some parts of Western Canada.

The company's sales of agricultural land for the year were 188,504 acres for $2,872,000, or an average of $18.74 per acre. Included in this area were 6,626 acres of irrigated land which brought $58.13 an acre, or 1.4 times the average price paid for the balance was $17.17. Land sales reflected a large decrease in acreage, but as is pointed out by President F. W. Healey, in his annual report, the adoption of reasonable immigration laws designed to en-

TREE PLANTING IN THE WEST

The civic authorities of Calgary are aiming to have 10,000 trees planted in the parks and on the streets of that city in 1922. Other cities and towns on the prairies have also planned tree-planting campaigns. This planting of trees in urban communities, along with the millions of trees now being planted annually on prairie farms, will in a few years make a great change in the aspect of the Prairie Provinces.

TEACHERS' TOUR TO EUROPE

208 Teachers will Go From Canada on S. S. Scotian

The Teachers' Tour to Great Britain and the battlefields of France and Flanders is to be a memorable event for some two hundred and eighty teachers throughout Canada, and the plans which are nearing completion promise a "pilgrimage" unexcelled in interest by any of the previous six annual tours under the Overseas Education League. Teachers from Australia, New Zealand and Newfoundland will join with those from this Dominion in the arrangements for the summer. A special feature of this year's plans is the chartering of practically the whole accommodation of the Canadian Pacific S. S. "Scotian," which carries with it all those privileges which guarantee the social and vacation pleasures of the seven day Atlantic voyage. Another attractive item on this year's itinerary is the visit to Oxford, Stratford-on-Avon and Warwick, for during the period the teachers have the unique privilege of hospitality in the Oxford colleges by generous permission of the College authorities, through Sir Herbert Warren, President of Magdalen College, Mrs. Haldane and other Oxford friends of the League. Arrangements have been made to accommodate the gentlemen of the party in Balliol College and the ladies in Lady Margaret Hall and St. Jugh's College where, as temporary resident students, they will dine in the College Halls and be given the freedom of undergraduates. It is not easy for the stranger to Oxford College life to appreciate the significance of this courtesy on the part of the College authorities, which is probably without a precedent. In addition, while at Oxford, specially arranged visits will be made to Blenheim Palace by invitation of the Duke of Marlborough, and to tea at Headington by invitation of Mrs. Murrell.

It is also confidently expected that a civic reception will be accorded to the visitors this year by the Lord Mayor of London in the Guildhall, with luncheon and address by the Lord Chancellor of England, Lord Birkenhead, who stands today as one of the foremost and one of the youngest leaders in the public life of Britain. The programme for France will include a stay in Paris which promises the utmost interest, for the arrangements are being directed by La Bienvenue Francaise of which Marshal Foch is President, and Prince Roland Bonaparte the Vice-President. It is through their interest and influence and by the good offices of Madame Boas de Jouvenal, the Secretary General, that the University of Paris will extend the hospitality of the Colleges during the stay in Paris.

REINDEER FOR NORTHERN CANADA

The value of the reindeer to the native inhabitants of Labrador and Northern Canada generally has led to efforts again being made to build up herds of these animals in the regions referred to. The Hudson's Bay Company has taken hold of the enterprise and recently landed 628 reindeer, most of them at Baffin Land some months ago. Because reindeer, in common with other animals, are liable to certain diseases and parasitical infestations, the Dept. of Agriculture at Ottawa, through the Health of Animals Branch, has seen to it that the imported stock included only healthy specimens. The inspection of the animals was made by Dr. E. A. Watson, Chief Animal Pathologist.

OFFICIALS OF THE C.N.R. ARE PLEASED

With Announcement in House of Commons

The giving the Maritime Provinces, local autonomy in the management of the C. N. R. with headquarters at Moncton was favored by officials of the railway.

The opinion was expressed that the change would first of all allow of railway business being carried on with greater efficiency, less loss of time and expenditure of money.

Under the present system officials seeking authority on railway matters out of their jurisdiction make application to Moncton the request is then forwarded to the eastern division headquarters, Montreal, and finally to Toronto, where the matter is considered and a reply sent back over the same route.

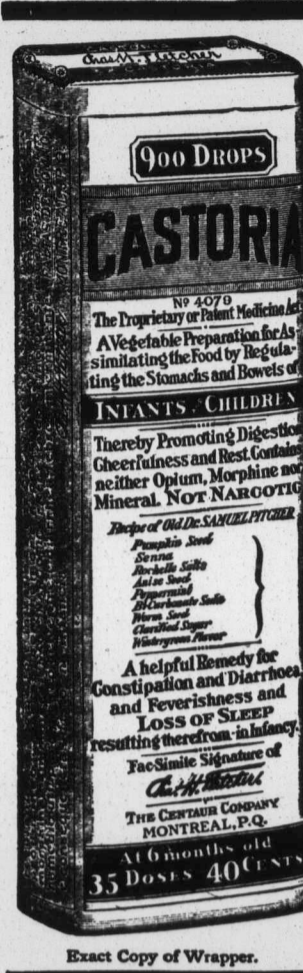

Under the present system millions of dollars in railway contracts were being spent in Montreal and Toronto, the Maritime Province manufacturers being frozen out.

Thriving car works at Amherst and Halifax had been forced to shut down for lack of business as cars and equipment were purchased in Upper Canada.

Trainmen as a unit are enthusiastic over the proposed change in management.

FIRE SIREN

The Fire Siren was blown last night for the fire, but many citizens on being asked if they heard it answered in the negative. In discussing its merits many felt that it was a poor substitute for the Steam Fire Whistle, which has been in use for so many years, and they were strongly of the opinion that some device other than this siren should be procured for the purpose.

ENJOYABLE EASTER

Easter was an enjoyable one and passed off very quietly. The day was fair throughout and there was a general turnout of new bonnets and new suits, not to mention those that saw last Easter. In spite of the delightful weather outdoors there were unusually large congregations in all churches where sermons appropriate to the day were preached and most pleasing musical programs rendered. All pastors of the churches were in their own pulpits. A good many visitors were in town and many families were increased by the student members who were home for the holidays accompanied by numerous guests.

FAINTS AND FALLS ON STOVE

Josie Goveel, a young woman living at Chatham Head was severely burned last Tuesday morning. She was seized with a fainting attack while standing near the stove and being alone she probably lay upon the stove for some time, her face and arms being badly burned. Dr. J. E. Parke dressed the burns and had her conveyed to the Miramichi Hospital, where she is reported to be resting comfortably.

Digestive Troubles Cause Much Distress

Are Nearly Always Due To Thin, Watery Blood.

Do not think that because your stomach is easily upset you are the victim of some serious malady. One of the most common causes of indigestion is anaemia, or thin, watery blood. In fact it has become generally recognized that healthy activity of the stomach is impossible unless the blood is rich and red.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been found valuable in cases of indigestion, nervous dyspepsia and stomach weakness, just because they are a blood builder and nerve tonic. The rich, red blood following their use not only imparts a healthy digestion but carries color to the cheeks and lips, and gives vigor to the muscles. One important point to remember is that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no harmful drugs or opiates and are thus to be preferred to preparations that merely stimulate for a time. Before you begin worrying unnecessarily about your state of health, try the tonic treatment of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You will be surprised to see how rapidly your appetite returns and your debilitated system revives. Miss Sarah Farquhar, North Brookfield, N. S., who has proved the value of these pills in cases of this kind says: "For a long time I was a sufferer from indigestion, which seemed to carry with it a complication of other troubles. Every meal brought misery with it, as the eating was followed by severe pains in the stomach, causing at times nausea and vomiting, and at other times an accumulation of gas that caused severe palpitation of the heart and a smothering sensation. The result was that my general health was seriously affected and the least exertion would tire me out. I had taken much medicine, but did not get more than temporary relief until I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I took for a considerable time, with the result that I now enjoy every meal and am no longer distressed after eating. I find myself in every way enjoying better health, and I cheerfully recommend these pills to similar sufferers."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
