A Millionaire's Countess Westerleigh.

CHAPTER XX.
(To be Continued.)

Nora sat in her corner, with a photograph album, as still as a mouse, but with eyes as sharp as that peculiarly alert little animal.

She saw the whole of the business between Lady Florence and Senley Tyers, and watched the changing expressions in the beautiful face. But though her woman's wit made her suspicious, she was too ignorant of the world and its wiles to understand; she only thought that if she were the proud beauty she would not have permitted Mr. Tyers to bend over her and talk in such low and confidential tones—for Nora's dislike and distrust of that accomplished gentleman increased every moment.

As Vane went up to Lady Florence, Senley Tyers walked away and stood by the fire; and Nora, watching him saw him smile with a peculiar satisfaction.

While she was watching him he turned, in his softly sudden fashion, and met the gaze of her bright eyes; and, as if reminded of her existence he crossed the room and approached her.

Nora bent over her photograph album and knit her brows, on her guard, in a moment, and determined to say as little to him as possible.

Senley Tyers drew up a chair beside her.

"Have you found some interesting photos, Mr. Mortimer?" he said.

His voice was particularly soft and

THE BLESSING OF MOTHERHOOD

Healthy Mothers and Children Make Happy Homes

Motherhood is woman's highest sphere in life. It is the fruition of her dearest hopes and greatest desires; yet thousands of noble women through some derangement have been denied this blessing.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong. This is evidenced by the following letters which are genuine and truthful:

London, Ont.—"I wish to thank you for the benefit I received by taking your famous medicine, Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound. Before my baby was born I was so ill I could not stand long or walk any distance. I had to lie down nearly all the time. After I took your medicine I felt like a new woman. I could work from morning till night and was happy and well. I certainly think it relieves pain at childbirth and recommends it to every woman who is pregnant. You may use this testimonial if you like. It may help some other woman."—Mrs. FRANK CORNIN, 132 Adelaide St., London, Ont.

Brooklyn, N.Y.—"I was ailing all the time and did not know what the matter was. I wanted a baby but my health would not permit it. I was nervous, my side ached and I was all run down. I heard that Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound was good and took the medicine. I have now a beautiful baby and your Compound has helped me in every way."—Mrs. J. J. STEWART, 299 Humboldt St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

pleasant, but nevertheless it jarred upon Nora and caused her brows to grow straighter.

"Yes," she said in a tone that did not invite further questions.

But Mr. Senley Tyers always met a repulse with bland persistence.

"What are they—views?" he asked. "Let me see. Ah, yes. Lord Warlock has been abroad a good deal; he was Secretary for the Colonies at one period of his useful career, and has travelled much. I suppose you know some of these places? Where did the 'Neptune' sail to last?"

"To Australia," replied Nora, shortly.

"Ah, yes," he said. "Delightful trip! How I envy you. Of course you saw Sydney? There ought to be a photograph of it here." He turned the pages of the album. "Tell me if you recognize it. Ah! here it is. Is it a good view?"

Nora felt her color coming and going.

"I don't know," she said. "I didn't go ashore."

Senley Tyers glanced at her out of the corners of his eyes.

"Oh, oh!" he said, with a smile. Then you had been misbehaving yourself. I'm afraid, and were kept board for punishment, Mr. Mortimer. Was that it?"

Nora's face went scarlet, and a indignant denial rose to her lips, but she checked it and looked guiltily.

Senley Tyers laughed. To inflict mental pain was a much valued amusement of his, and he promised himself unlimited enjoyment of the kind to be got out of Vane's mysterious cousin.

"Let me see," he said. "they don't flog now in the merchant service, do they? It's a mistake, I fancy. I dare say you youngsters would infinitely prefer a few lashes from the cut-o-nine-tails to being kept aboard when the ship's in port."

Nora still hung her head, but her face was pale now and the delicate nostrils were distended, the clear-cut lips tightly pressed together.

Senley Tyers watched her with a smile that suddenly fled from his face and left it acutely suspicious. He saw that a tear was forcing its itself from under the lowered lid next him.

Now, even the softest-hearted ship-boy is not in the habit of shedding tears when he is chaffed, and the appearance of that crystal drop positively startled Senley Tyers. His keen eyes scanned the handsome face—too delicately beautiful in all its features for a boy's—and then fell upon the hands with which Nora clutched the photograph album.

A doubt, a suspicion, a merely nebulous suspicion, rose in his mind; but vague and impossible as it seemed, it set the blood to his face and made his heart leap.

He bent forward slightly, and his whole tone and manner altered as he murmured:

"Forgive me! I have pained you. I did not intend to do so; but I am afraid I have offended you past forgiveness."

The tear dropped—unseen, as Nora fondly hoped—and she forced a smile.

"Oh, no, you haven't," she said, as boyishly as she knew how. "But I don't care about talking of my sea-life; I wasn't happy, and—"

"Of course—of course," he murmured sympathetically. "I quite understand. It was very thoughtless and inconsiderate of me. I won't mention it again."

He was silent a moment or two, then he said:

"Are you fond of pictures, Mr. Mortimer?"

"Yes—very," said Nora, with an eagerness which she attempted to subdue.

"I am glad of that," said Senley Tyers. "I shall be very pleased if you will come and see some of mine. Ask your cousin Tempest to bring you."

Nora thanked him, but rather coldly. She had no desire to go to Mr. Senley Tyers' studio, even though it might contain the most beautiful pictures in the world.

"I am painting a portrait of Lady Florence, as you may have heard," he went on, "and I should like you to see that, and to hear your opinion of it. She is very beautiful, don't you think?"

His keen eyes watched Nora's face keenly as he spoke. Nora raised her head, and looked at Lady Florence absent. She and Vane were seated on an ottoman, Lady Florence talking, Vane listening. It was evident that she was trying her hardest to amuse and interest him, and every now and then Vane leaned back and laughed shortly; and at such moments a look of gratification softened Lady Florence's proud expression.

As Nora watched them—watched the exquisite smile which Lady Florence bent upon the unconscious Vane, lounging on the ottoman in his usual rather indolent manner—a look came into Nora's face which possibly Senley Tyers had been waiting for.

"They are very old friends," he murmured.

"Yes," assented Nora, as carelessly as she could; but her voice sounded dry and forced.

"Lady Florence is, perhaps, the most beautiful woman in London," he went on in soft, reflective tones, almost as if he were communing with himself rather than addressing his friend.

Senley Tyers had been waiting for.

"Yes," assented Nora, as carelessly as she could; but her voice sounded dry and forced.

"Lady Florence is, perhaps, the most beautiful woman in London," he went on in soft, reflective tones, almost as if he were communing with himself rather than addressing his friend.

Senley Tyers smiled and nodded.

"That is the way with us all. Unfortunately we can not all be Vane Tempests, and so"—he shrugged his shoulders—"we have to love helplessly."

Nora's brows came together.

"Is he?" she paused—"is he in love with her?" she asked, almost under her breath, as if the question caused her pain.

"How could he help it?" responded Senley Tyers. "Could you, if you were sitting there where he is sitting, and Lady Florence were looking at you and smiling as she is smiling now?"

Nora scarcely breathed; it seemed as if some one had suddenly stabbed her. She looked at Vane, and something in his negligent attitude and careless laugh seemed to comfort her and dispel the sharp pain which Senley Tyers' question had caused her.

"I don't believe," she said, involuntarily; then she stopped.

"Ah, well! perhaps not," he said. "They say that it is always a case of loving or being loved. No one gets back the love which he or she gives. It's a matter of fate. By the way, do you believe in fate, Mortimer?"

He put the question carelessly and casually enough, but he had been carefully leading up to it, and it had something more behind it than Nora suspected.

"Fate?" she said, with a little frown. "I don't know."

"Do you think that our lives are allotted out to us—that we are bound to do certain things, whether we like them or not?"

Nora raised her eyes to his with a frown.

"I don't know," she said. "Who can tell whether there is any truth in that. Nobody can know."

He nodded.

"Well, some say they can tell your fate. The gypsies, for instance; and not only the gypsies; palmistry is quite fashionable now."

"What is that?" she asked.

Why Do Women Suffer

When They Could Be Well?

It is so easy to be well and strong and able to enjoy life, that it is surprising how many women drag themselves through the day suffering tortures from lumbago due to kidney trouble. Mrs. Wilcox found the way to cure herself and gladly writes about it so that others may be induced to use the same remedy.

"During the last winter, I was bothered very much with a Weak Back. I was advised by a friend to try GIN PILLS and I did. The first box found helped me very much and I found when I had taken the second, I was completely cured."—Mrs. F. WILCOX.

GIN PILLS do not do all that we say they will—let us know, and we will cheerfully refund you your money. Send for a free sample and see for yourself that they will do you good. Then buy the regular boxes at your dealers—6 for $2.50.

MINIMIZE THE LOSS.

Practically farmers may easily minimize the loss, due to a backward and cold season, by the judicious use of Sulphate of Ammonia as a fertilizer.

Sulphate of Ammonia contains over 20 per cent of nitrogen, as against 15 per cent in Nitrate of Soda, and is therefore more than 25 per cent better than nitrate of soda as a means of quickening and increasing the growth of crops.

The use of Sulphate of Ammonia has increased enormously of late years and it is recognized to be the most valuable fertilizer obtainable. By its judicious use the production of root crops per acre may be doubled, and the growth of late crops stimulated.

We invite the attention of Farmers to our special pamphlet on the best methods of using Sulphate, copies of which will be forwarded free to any address on application.

The price of Sulphate is moderate and our terms are accommodative.

remarks to Nora. "She breaks hearts wherever she goes. I suppose you are already head over heels in love with her, Mortimer?"

Nora started.

Then she hastened to assume her feigned character, and added, with a forced laugh:

"Oh, yes! I fell in love with her at once."

The dependability is, to be sure! How much more useful and able it makes other good qualities. How many talents, what great gifts, what fine qualities of character are weakened and made infinitely valuable because they are not backed with dependability! We all know workers of one or another who are capable of great things, but who are passed over in favor of others less gifted because they cannot be depended upon. Unreliability is the rotten plague of the heart, which spoils the most promising fruit. While a reputation of dependability is like the mark of the 'ring' which fixes an unchangeable value on all which it is stamped upon. Oh, yes, I know it's true, because you said it—"

Pastimes of a Hardy Race

Both in conditions and surroundings the Inverary Games, which are just taken place in the heart of the land of the Campbells, are vastly different from the stereotyped athletic meeting to which the more sophisticated Saxons of the South are accustomed.

"Like the Grasmere Sports," says the Times, "in the famous valley low the steep sides of Silver How, are a picturesque but none the less useful and symbolical survival of the past. Their chief characteristics all local and indigenous to the time are the primitive sports and games of a hardy Northern race."

Strength and Endurance.

"To this fighting stock of Highland men, as to their fathers of old, strength and endurance are great values than agility and speed. They can at need be nimble enough in the dances proper to the rapid turning of their native pipes. But Inverary, as at every one of the modern gatherings of the clans, through the late summer months to the Northern Meeting at Inverary in September, the race is to the strong rather than the swift. These Highlanders run and jump, because running and jumping have always been a necessary part of the warrior's equipment. But they know nothing of carefully levelled cinder-tracks. Their costume is still in many cases the garb of Old Gaul.

"Highland games are, therefore, prolific in the creation of records, tossing the caber, putting the stone and throwing the hammer are necessarily the more interesting events of the programme. Tossing the caber in particular excites the admiration of Southern visitors. MINARD'S LINIMENT RELIEVES NEURALGIA.

GOOD ADVICE.

It is necessary to always have a bottle of good Brandy at hand.

What Brandy will you buy? The Medicinal Brandy "Sanator" is not a properly so-called medicine, but it has been selected from amongst the best known brands for their effective principles, and it is distilled so as to develop its tonic and digestive qualities. It is really the FAMILY BRANDY, which name the public has, for a long time, bestowed on it.

The celebrated French physician, DR. PHARZELLE, Inspector-in-Chief of the Great Medical Services, says: "The medicinal Brandy 'Sanator' is eminently an easy digestive drink, remarkable for its tonifying and reinvigorating properties."

Ask for Medicinal Brandy Sanator from your liquor dealer; he has it.

DIRECTIONS.

Against weakness and bad digestion: a liquor glass at each meal.

Against Cold, Influenza: take as a hot drink, viz: one ounce and a half of Brandy, one ounce of hot water, with a little sugar.

Against summer complaints: use with chopped ice, or cold water.

Look for the Dunlop Traction Tread trail on asphalt and on mud. It's the "V" line to comfort. No chains; no skidding.

A WEATHERABLE TIRE.

It is just weather like we get here in Newfoundland that gives Dunlop Traction Tread tires a chance to show their class—and motorists who have them know it.

Created because of the insufficiency of the so-called non-slip or "battered" tread.

Marketed only after the most exhaustive tests ever given to an anti-skid tire.

Proven itself the only real anti-skid tire obtainable—bar none. That's

Best Laxative For Bowels—"Cascarets"

They Clean Liver, sweeten Stomach and Sick Headache, Bad Breath, Indigestion, Constipation.

Get a 10-cent box. Are you keeping your bowels, liver, and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passage every few days with Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters? Stop having a bowel wash-day. Let Cascarets thoroughly cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour and fermenting food, and foul gasses, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken or cause any inconvenience, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Billooness, Coated Tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

At the City Hall.

A STORMY SESSION. At yesterday's meeting of the City Fathers Councillor Mully created a lively time over a suggestion advanced by the retiring and indefatigable Councillor Coaker in the interests of the residents of the North Battery.

Letters were read from the Premier and Mr. James M. Kent, on behalf of the residents of King's Bridge Road, Torbay and Logy Bay Roads, asking for a light on Kenna's Hill. Will be attended to.

It was decided to place another light on Freshwater Road.

George Whitten has been appointed keeper of the Southside public wharf.

T. J. Duley complained of short water supply to Congregational Church; will be attended to.

The removal of a gully asked for by J. Cuddihy, of Flower Hill, was ordered.

The Council will receive a deputation of the Daughters of Empire on Monday morning next.

A request of R. Power to build a stable will be considered.

The water service will be extended in Beaumont Street.

Plans of stable, submitted by G. M. McGuire, were approved of.

According to the report of Dr. O'Connell the Council are not liable for the death of Mr. Beer.

Contract of painting Long's Hill fence was given to O'Brien and Pippy. They tendered $61 which was the lowest.

Tenders from Willis & Co., for plumbing were accepted.

COUN. COAKER'S SUGGESTION. Councillor Coaker called attention to the imperative need of a railing at the lower Battery and for the sake of the lives of the people he asked that a railing be erected. The motion was seconded by Councillor Martin.

The motion was supported by Councillor Mully, who, in the meantime made an unjustifiable attack on Councillor Coaker. In his comments Councillor Mully wished to remind the Board that a year ago he asked for this railing but his request was ignored, as he is not taken seriously by anyone. Continuing, the political aspirant for Harbour Main District insinuated that when he visited the place there was no election campaign on and did not see why the Council should be made a tool for politicians.

Councillor Coaker retorted in a quiet but ironical way. He was aware that Councillor Mully wanted the credit for himself but as nobody took him seriously he (Councillor Coaker) thought he was doing a wise thing by taking the matter up.

Some more cross-firing followed and the matter was dropped, it being decided to erect a railing as asked for by Councillor Coaker.

After passing of bills, etc. the meeting closed.

Letter From Logy Bay.

Dear Sir,—May I humbly crave space in the columns of your widely-read paper to contradict a heartless and cruel statement which appeared in the Herald on Monday night last wherein it was stated in referring to the terrible accident which befell our respected neighbor the late Richard Pendergast, that "only a few years ago his father was frozen from death in his home." On behalf of his now bereaved brothers and families and friends, I am requested to say that this is a pure fabrication, wholly and solely untrue. The natural inference would be that Mr. Pendergast died from exposure and starvation. Now the facts of the case are that Richard Pendergast was affectionately called, was so endeared to his old homestead that even when his wife died he refused the proffered continuous invitations of his married sons to live with them, although he did live with young "Matt" for a short time. If not taking too much space I might state exactly how the poor old man did die. He arose on the morning of January 17th, 1912, to light his fire, being living alone as stated above, and had just fetched a brensey of wood when he succumbed. The doctor said he died of heart-failure, not "frozen to death" as the Herald stated. We, his neighbors, just want Mr. McGrath to know that we strongly resent his imputation and we want him to do the right thing and make a contradiction, for our neighbors the Pendergasts were an honest, God-fearing family, and we consider it an insult to the whole of Logy Bay, to state that the poor old man was "frozen" to death, thus meaning that he died in want and that we his neighbours neglected him. We may have our faults, Mr. Editor, but I don't think the people hereabouts can be accused of inhospitable though we will if the Herald don't retract. The editor should be more careful about what he publishes and not hold us up to the ridicule of the whole country as letting a poor old man eighty years old, perish for the want of a bit of firing. Hoping I have not taken up too much of your valuable space, I am,

Yours truly,

FRIEND,
Logy Bay, Oct. 1st, 1913.

Your Duty.

Nothing to do with the Custom house, good friend. Its only reference just now is to yourself. Let us suppose that you are a man of family with sufficient of the world's goods to keep them in comfort. Very well. You did not reach this satisfactory state of affairs without care and labour—few men do. Suppose you are awakened some night with shouts of alarm ringing in your ears. Too late then to talk of prudence; too late when it is not insured? The answer to that "if" means too much to many forgetful people. Is it not always the duty of a self-respecting citizen to protect his home and thus provide for those within it. Is it any more then his duty to those depending on him to protect them as far as possible? Can you call your property your own when it is not insured? The answer to this argument is to carry insurance with Percie Johnson's agency, the most popular office in Newfoundland and the least expensive.

Pointers.

That Bond can't lose in now an established fact.

It looks said a Tory supporter as if the Liberals are going to sweep the entire country.

Ellis, Cowan and Scott are getting as warm a reception in the West End as Kent, Dwyer and Ryan are in the East, and that's saying some.

The Pullert, the Wiggler and the Barge are now abandoning all hopes on seeing that the people down the shore won't swallow the sectarian cry.

Who is it that exactly six months ago went hand in hand to a certain medical man asking him to use his influence and try and get him (Reids' Lawyer) on the Liberal Ticket for the East End and was told that the general John Dwyer, Esq., was a better and stronger man? Perhaps the "manly" sport can answer this question.

The three Tory pawns have now started to work for the split vote for the "Manly" sport. They have also failed. Last night the people told the Tory canvassers that they are not going to split and will vote the straight ticket for the Liberal party.

Reason—In 1908 a dead lock occurred but for one split vote in St. John's District Bond would have won the day and the whole country would not have to bear the financial obligations of the under-to-day.

Therefore vote the straight ticket for the Liberal Party, led by Sir Robert Bond, the Statesman.

Girl's Nerves Fully Restored

Was Never Able to Obtain Lasting Benefit Until Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Was Used.

Too many girls grow up with weak, anemic bodies and exhausted nervous systems. Indoor life and too much application in school are sometimes the cause. The blood needs enriching and the nerves need strengthening by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This food and any medicines she tried did not do any lasting good. We read in the papers about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and my daughter used it with wonderful results. This treatment has built up her system and so strengthened the nerves that she feels like another girl.

Sunday School Teachers Convention.

The fourth Biennial gathering and Conference of the Sunday School Teachers of the Rural Deanery of Avalon was held Thursday, terminated with a Corporate Communion in the Cathedral yesterday morning. At 4:15 p.m. a goodly number of teachers visited the Rev. Canon H. R. D. in his home, God-fearing family, and we consider it an insult to the whole of Logy Bay, to state that the poor old man was "frozen" to death, thus meaning that he died in want and that we his neighbours neglected him. Found Dead.

At 10 o'clock last night Mr. Joseph Pippy, coxswain of H. M. Customs night boat, while coming from the General Post Office by way of George St., dropped dead. Const. Stamp first saw the man on the ground, motionless. The body was immediately removed to the morgue and a post mortem held, showing that death was due to heart failure. The corpse was then taken to the late home of the deceased. Mr. Pippy was a well known figure in the community and for many years was in H. M. Customs. He is survived by a son and two daughters, to whom deep sympathy is expressed.

Rally Day.

At Cochrane Street Sunday School. To-morrow will be observed as Rally Day in Cochrane Street Sunday School. In the afternoon there will be a public meeting of the Sunday School beginning at 2.30. A good programme has been prepared, one feature of which is an address by Miss Bradbury, lately returned from the teachers' tour to England and Scotland, in dealing with her subject: "Hands across the Sea," special reference will be made to the originator of the Sunday School Movement, which has now become world-wide. The house of Robert Rakes, Gloucester, was visited and it stands to-day as a precious relic of one of the world's greatest benefactors. There will be other addresses and recitations with special singing. All old scholars are invited and new ones will be cordially welcomed. A grand rally of all departments is expected.

MANIFESTO

OF THE

Right Hon. Sir R. Bond, P. C., K. C. M. G.,

LEADER OF THE LIBERAL PARTY.

To the Electors of Newfoundland.

MY FELLOW COUNTRYMEN,—

In compliance with the appeal made to me by Electors throughout the Island, I shall again lead the Liberal Party to the polls at the forthcoming General Election. If I consulted my own desire I would leave this task to some one else. But, you have called me to your service. In this call I recognize the voice of an awakened and alarmed people, and my sense of public duty constrains me to put aside all personal considerations and at whatever sacrifice perform my duty.

In the Manifesto I addressed to you before the last General Election, I pointed out very clearly what might be expected to result to the country if my political opponents were returned to power, and I added these words, "having toiled continuously for thirty years to improve the condition of this Colony and its people; having devoted the best years of my life to the public service and to the settlement of questions that for centuries retarded the advancement of its industries—if by your votes you show yourselves indifferent to those services, I shall not waste what may remain to me of life in unavailing opposition to the deliberate decision of the people." The Electors at the polls recorded their decision, and a majority of them returned the present Government to power. I accepted that decision with a feeling of relief for it released me from a weight of responsibility, and appeared to afford me an easy exit from the anxiety and worry of public life. My resignation of the leadership of the Liberal Party was placed in the hands of its parliamentary representatives soon after the declaration of the polls, but, at their request I assumed the leadership of the Opposition in the House of Assembly, on the understanding that on the expiration of the period of parliament I would retire from active participation in the public life of this country. It is not without regret that I find the exit which appeared to be opened to me again closed. From the Addresses I have received it is entirely clear that the people have discovered through a bitter experience that my warnings in 1909 were not unfounded. They were deceived. Their trust and confidence has been betrayed, and I observe, from the call back to public life with which I have been honoured, that it is those districts which were mainly instrumental in returning the present Government that are now most anxious to rid the Country of their evil influence. I would therefore forfeit the respect of my countrymen, and become recreant to my duty as a citizen, if I declined to respond to the appeal that has been made to me.

I cannot hope to repair the mischief that has been done by the present Government during the past four years, for it is beyond remedy, but, it is possible to put an end to the present riot of political crime.

THE PERIL NOW FACING THE COUNTRY.

To-day we see peril stalking our country down. A grave peril which clutches at the very vitals of the community and is sapping our existence as an independent State of the Empire. A peril so grave and so insidious that it must be faced, investigated, and overcome.

Let me make my meaning clear. As soon as the present Government found themselves firmly established in power, within a month from the declaration of the poll, they entered upon a policy of enormous and unjustifiable expenditure. On the 19th June, 1909, a letter was addressed to the Reid Newfoundland Company stating that "the Government contemplate building certain branch railways, and asking if the Messrs. Reid were prepared to entertain a proposal to build these branches." Two days later the Reid Newfoundland Company replied that they were "prepared to make an offer to build the branch railways referred to," and four months later, without inviting other tenders; without survey previously made; in the absence of all data as to the character of the country to be traversed, or the traffic possibilities of the respective branches; before even a contract price had been agreed to, the Government gave the Messrs. Reid a free hand to go ahead with the work. The truth of this is established by the following letter which was tabled in the House of Assembly in reply to a question put by me.

LETTER FROM REID TO MORRIS. (Copy.)

Reid Newfoundland Company,
St. John's,
October 7th, 1909.

Sir,—
In reply to yours of the 5th, this Company will be prepared to enter upon the discussion of the matter of the contract of the Railways mentioned at any time which may be convenient to the Government. In the meantime, the Company is willing to begin work suggested on the Bonavista Branch early next week, and shall be prepared to take on men on the 15th instant, and thereafter will proceed with the same as speedily as possible affording the labour required, the Government paying for the same as you mention in your letter, and such payment to be credited as payment made under the contemplated contract. Of course the labour to be performed in the present circumstances will not, as you are aware, be as valuable to the Company as if it were done under ordinary conditions, but this is a matter which we may allow to stand over for consideration UNTIL WE BEGIN TO DISCUSS THE TERMS OF THE CONTRACT.

I have, &c.,
(Sgd.) W. D. REID,
President.
Hon. Sir E. P. Morris, K.C., LL.D.,
Premier.

It will be observed that not only was Railway work commenced without tenders, without survey, without data as to character of the country to be traversed or traffic possibilities, without contract price being agreed, but actually in face of the above warning given by the Messrs. Reid as to a demand for a special price to be fixed when they and the Government "begin to discuss the terms of the Contract."

Two months after the above letter was written a formal contract was entered into between the Government and the Messrs. Reid in the absence of surveys and other necessary data, subject only to the understanding that "all the Branches shall follow, as nearly as may be practicable, the routes that may be decided by the Government." The foregoing words taken from the Contract prove the accuracy of my statement as to the absence of all data upon which a Contract could be intelligently based, and the cost even approximately estimated.

The result of all this is that the estimate of cost placed by the Prime Minister before the Legislature for its guidance in passing upon the Contract was entirely misleading and has already been exceeded by MILLIONS OF DOLLARS, to which will have to be added millions more before the Colony is through with this iniquitous Railway Scheme.

Then, again, as I pointed out in the House Assembly when the Contract came before it, another grave concession had been made the Messrs. Reid in that the Government had consented to pay them in Gold instead of in Debentures as heretofore. Prior to this Contract, all railway construction had been paid for by the Colony in Debentures, which the Contractors had to convert into cash at their own expense. The present Government relieved the Contractors of such expense by undertaking to float Debentures themselves and pay the Messrs. Reid in Gold. By so doing they have practically made the Contractors a present, at the expense of the taxpayers of this Colony, of nearly HALF A MILLION DOLLARS TO DATE.

A FURTHER CONCESSION TO THE REIDS.

Then there was the further concession to the Contractors of over a Million acres of land, together with all minerals therein. The Messrs. Reid previously held two and a half million acres of land in this country which, supplemented by that obtained from the present Government, makes them the owners of nearly FIVE MILLION ACRES. If the handing over to the Contractors of nearly a million dollars in gold was gratuitous and wicked folly, the grant of land was nothing short of a high crime against the interests of the people of this country. For more than twelve years the Reid Newfoundland Company has held two and a half million acres of public land in possession. Up to this day the Colony has not received the slightest benefit from these lands, because the Messrs. Reid have done nothing to develop them or any portion of them. They are barred to private enterprise, and to being utilized for the benefit of the Country. Control over the land means power to control the future of this Country, and, therefore, to increase the immense power that had already been acquired by the Railway Contractors under the Railway Deal of 1898 was a crime, a crime which, if I am not mistaken, will hamper the future prospects of our Country.

THE FINANCIAL PERIL.

The peril which immediately faces the community is the financial peril, in part arising out of the Government's Railway Scheme, and in part out of the wasteful and improper expenditure of the revenues of the Colony.

When the Government introduced their Railway Scheme before the House of Assembly four years ago, the Prime Minister led the House to believe that the whole of the five Branch Railways would not exceed 250 miles in length nor cost more than Four Million Dollars. I pointed out at that time what I plainly saw was an error, and I warned the Government that double the amount of money named would not see the Colony through the Contract. My warning was not heeded, and already, with not one of the Branches fully equipped and completed and ONLY THREE OUT OF THE FIVE BRANCH RAILWAYS entered, more than FIVE MILLION EIGHT HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS have had to be raised on loan. ($5,839,999.99.)

The loss to the Colony by the Government floating the two loans in London, which comprise the above amount and paying the Messrs. Reid in Gold instead of in 3½ per cent. Debentures at par WAS MORE THAN FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS ($407,211.14). This is the difference between the par value of the Debentures and the amount realized by their sale or transfer. To this must be added the further loss of the interest on that sum at 3½ per cent. per annum. As I have previously stated the Government practically made the Messrs. Reid a present of nearly HALF A MILLION DOLLARS by their wicked folly.

BUT THE END IS NOT YET.

Still the peril walketh in darkness, while half the work contracted for has not been completed, and nearly SIX MILLION DOLLARS have already been added to the Public Debt on that account, another loan of at least an equal amount will have to be raised to meet the Colony's obligations to the Messrs. Reid under the Government's Railway Contract, or the Country will default and become bankrupt. If that money can be raised at all, it can only be raised by paying dearly for the accommodation; it can only be raised by adjusting our rates of interest to meet the altered conditions of the money market, that will mean an additional loss in principal and interest; it can only be raised then provided we have put our house in order by cutting down expenditure in every possible direction, and thus satisfy money lenders that the annual revenue will, without doubt, meet our liabilities; it will not be raised at any price or under any circumstance if the Government of the Colony at this time enters into still further contracts with Messrs. Reid, and that is precisely what the Prime Minister in the House of Assembly and on public platforms has pledged his Government to do if again returned to power.

AT YOUR PERIL THEN, AT THE PERIL OF YOUR COUNTRY, you would record your votes for the present Government.

ANOTHER DANGER THAT THREATENS.

But the foregoing is only one aspect of the peril that is sapping our national existence. Since the present Government came into power four years ago they have not stopped short at borrowing nearly Six Million Dollars abroad for their Railway Scheme, but they have also endeavoured to borrow more than a million and a quarter from our citizens.

In 1909 there was a Loan Act for	$430,000.00
In 1911 there was a Loan Act for	520,000.00
In 1912 there was a Loan Act for	250,000.00
	$1,200,000.00

Investors have not taken up the whole of these loans. Why? Because people who have hitherto invested their savings in local debentures have found, that whereas they paid one hundred cents in the dollar for those debentures they cannot now be realized for ninety cents, and they have become alarmed at the reckless manner in which the finances of the Colony are being handled by those in charge of the Government. In the mad riot of expenditure and waste that is going on they perceive the danger of default in the payment of interest on these debentures, and as a result hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of local debentures are unsaleable. It is a healthy sign to observe the cautious attitude of investors, as well as the pronounced alarm of the general public in respect to the gross extravagance of the Government, for, it indicates that they recognize the danger that threatens, and it affords room for hope that they will bend their energies to ward off the danger. It has been declared by a great Statesman that "it is a characteristic of the mischiefs that arise from financial prodigality that they creep onwards with a noiseless and steady step; that they commonly remain unseen and unfelt until they have reached a magnitude absolutely overwhelming." You have seen the dangers that menace our Country, let us hope not when too late.

PUBLIC DEPARTMENTS.

While the Government have been saddling the country with these vast obligations, they have made no attempt to adjust ordinary current expenditure to meet the conditions they have created. Nearly every department of the public service has been demoralized by being made a dumping ground for political camp followers until the cost of administering the same has risen enormously, and former efficiency has been sacrificed. It would occupy too much space in this communication to review the expenditure in connection with each department of the Civil Service. Suffice it to say, therefore, that whereas in the year 1907-8, the last year for which my Government was fully responsible, the total expenditure was $2,850,189.34. The total expenditure last year by the present Government was $3,524,652.51, AN INCREASE OF SIX HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-FOUR THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED AND SIXTY-THREE DOLLARS.

One would have imagined that in view of the deplorable condition of things to which I have drawn attention, the Government would have, at least, kept expenditure during the current year down to that of last year. BUT NO. They were determined to carry out their mad riot to the end, and they voted at the last session of the Legislature a sum TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS IN EXCESS OF THE ENORMOUS EXPENDITURE OF THE PREVIOUS YEAR. That sum does not include the cost of the General Election. Not content with this voted sum of THREE MILLION SEVEN HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FOUR THOUSAND TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS, since the House of Assembly closed they have unlawfully proceeded to increase salaries and to pension off a number of Civil servants in order to make provision for political supporters. The Legislature did not make provision for these pensions and consequently this expenditure was unauthorized and unlawful. It is only fair to all concerned for me to say, that if my party is returned to power I shall not recognize as legal and binding ANYTHING that the present Government may have done, or may yet do, which has not been sanctioned and provided for by the people's representatives in Parliament, for a greater outrage on Constitutional Government it would be difficult to conceive.

It will be observed then that by incompetent finance, by reckless expenditure, and by entering into enormous obligations to the Messrs. Reid, the Government has brought the Country's resources into an embarrassment that is extreme. My first endeavour, if entrusted by you with the duty, shall be to restore public confidence in the Colony both at home and abroad. The land scandals that have shaken confidence in the Colony abroad and affected its credit shall be dealt with, and steps taken to prevent a repetition of the same. Every department of the Government shall be thoroughly investigated, and where it is found that there are unnecessary or untrustworthy officials they shall be dismissed. There shall be a watchful supervision over all departments to check extravagance, and to bring down expenditure to actual requirements.

THE INDEPENDENCE OF PARLIAMENT.

Demoralization in the public service was not confined to the public departments. Even the high Court of Parliament was despoiled of the safeguard to its independence in order to meet party exigencies. There was on our Statute Book an Act to safeguard the purity and independence of the House of Assembly. That Act was amended by the present Government in order that they might pay over money from the public Treasury to their supporters in the House of Assembly without bringing them under the penalty provided by law. As a result of this shameful transaction, during the past four years districts represented on the Government side of the House were deprived of that free and independent representation that they expected from their representatives when they returned them to the polls.

During the whole period of Parliament three of the Government members have been drawing annual salaries not inferior to authorized Ministers of the Crown, while a number of others have been receiving large amounts of money as Railway Arbitrators, Solicitors, Commissioners and special service men. It is no exaggeration, it is simple truth, to say that every member on the Government side of the House, during the past four years, has, directly or indirectly, been receiving money from the public Treasury. This idea that the public Treasury is legitimate spoil must be weeded out. It is a rank infectious growth that is rapidly strangling all that is good in representative Government. The safety of public interests depend upon the independence of the Representatives in Parliament, and if a Government may with impunity purchase party allegiance by payment from the public Treasury, the high Court of Parliament is at once changed into an Assembly where an unscrupulous or despotic Government may wreck public interests, and bring irreparable injury upon the Country. If my party is returned to power the House of Assembly shall immediately have its safeguard restored, so as to ensure the complete independence of the people's Representatives.

THE LAND SCANDALS.

The scandals brought to light in connection with the disposition of Crown Lands are too fresh in your memories to need recital herein. That the matter calls for a rigid inquiry is beyond question, and I promise you that if you place in my hands the power to deal with the matter, it shall be dealt with most effectively. There must be serious investigation, such as will probe right to the bottom of the whole affair. The Truth—whatever it be—is within the reach of resolute search.

At the present moment you are conscious of the fact that the interests of the country have been sacrificed and made subordinate to personal interests, and that the Government has become a mere machine for the dispensation of patronage. The remedy for this is now in your hands. To-day the Government is clinging to office long after they had a legal right to be there. Many thousands of Electors by petition to the House of Assembly sought for opportunity to dismiss them twelve months ago. Their prayer was treated by the Government with contempt. The opportunity those Electors sought to obtain is now yours. Instead of remaining quiescent, and hoping that others will do the work which is crying aloud to be done, let us all gird our loins, shoulder our responsibilities, and meet our destiny with such will and concentration of effort that the results of our united actions shall be OMINI-POTENT.

BROKEN PLEDGES.

Having reviewed the salient acts of the Government during their four years of office, I will deal with the pledges they gave when they appealed to you for your votes. Have they fulfilled them? Let us see. First, let us consider the most important one of "Reduction of Taxation." The Government declared "that the burden of taxation borne by the fishermen and working classes of the Colony is too great, and calls for such adjustment as will lean more equitably on those who at present feel most seriously the increased cost of living in this Colony"; and Sir Edward Morris in his Manifesto to the Electors in 1908 said "reduction of taxation so that it will bear equitably on the working classes can be best accomplished by placing on the free list such items as tea, sugar, pork, and other prime necessities on which high taxes are now imposed." I regret being obliged to observe that this promise was a cruel piece of deception, intended only to catch the votes of the fishermen and other working classes, and this I shall proceed to prove from the Official records of the House of Assembly. During four sessions of the House of Assembly nothing was done. In the last session but one, by way of testing the honour of the Government in this connection, I moved the following Resolution:

"That having regard to the acknowledged injury resulting to the fishermen and working classes of the Colony by reason of the burden of taxation, and to the fact also that they feel most seriously the increased cost of living in this Country, it is the duty of the Government to immediately 'readjust the tariff, so as to place tea, sugar, pork, and other prime necessities which taxes are now imposed on the free list.'"

This Resolution was voted down by Sir Edward Morris and all of his supporters. When moving this Resolution I pointed out that "this would reduce the revenue by the sum of Three Hundred Thousand Dollars, and that in view of the obligations 'with which the Colony had been burdened' it would puzzle wiser heads than those of the Government to devise a revision of the tariff under which that large amount of taxation 'may now be dropped.' My Resolution was the means of forcing from the Government an admission of the correctness of my statements, as the following extract which I quote from the Official Report of Debates will show. Sir Edward Morris said 'if we were to reduce taxation three or four hundred thousand dollars then we would have to reduce the Education Vote; we could have no Old Age Pensions, no extension of telegraphs, no extension of the Marconi system, no relief of the poor, you could have none of the extensions in the public service for which this money is now being spent.' Here was an admission of the absolute truth of my statement that the promise of this reduction of taxation by Sir Edward Morris at the last Election was a cruel piece of deception intended only to catch the popular vote.

NOT THE WORST PHASE OF THE MATTER.

But, this is not the worst phase of the matter, for at the last session of the Legislature, was being rung down est burlesque of Redemption that the word we found Sir Edward precisely he declared without doing away with, telegraph extensions, of the poor, and of the public service money is now being carried out their 'Reduction of Taxation' has not the moment of their disorganize Treasury, and to the Colony a solvency. Knowing paragraph I have Edward Morris's speech turned to power to restore this revenue 'Old Age Pensions' graph extension, and for Education." There is a grim that is worth whom the gods wish first make mad."

Secondly, it means a silly one at the public on the eve of the election. In order to the Country with carried out their 'Reduction of Taxation' has not the moment of their disorganize Treasury, and to the Colony a solvency. Knowing paragraph I have Edward Morris's speech turned to power to restore this revenue 'Old Age Pensions' graph extension, and for Education." There is a grim that is worth whom the gods wish first make mad."

of the Legislature, just as the curtain was being rung down upon the greatest burlesque of Responsible Government that the world has ever seen, we found Sir Edward Morris doing precisely that which in the previous session he declared could not be done without reducing the Education Vote, doing away with Old Age Pensions, telegraph extension, the relief of the poor, and other extensions in the public service for which the money is now being spent.

With the mere stroke of a pen; without any readjustment of the tariff; without the reduction of any of the above services; with an increased estimate of expenditure for the current year of TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS over and above the enormous expenditure of last year; with the certainty facing the Colony of having to go to the London money market for still another loan to pay the Messrs. Reids, in the light of all this THREE HUNDRED AND SIXTY THOUSAND DOLLARS OF INCOME HAS BEEN DONE AWAY WITH. Let the intelligent Elector consider what this means.

First, it means that the Treasury Department has been converted into a political machine to be manipulated for Election purposes at the expense of the Trade whose business has been disarranged, and at the expense of the credit of the Colony which must depend upon a surplus of revenue over expenditure in order to obtain a further loan to meet the present Government's obligations to the Messrs. Reid.

Secondly, it means another attempt, and a silly one at that, to deceive the public on the eve of a General Election. In order to enable them to go to the Country with the plea that they carried out their pledge as regards "Reduction of Taxation," the Government has not hesitated, at the last moment of their political existence, to disorganize trade, to deplete the Treasury, and to risk even the credit of the Colony abroad and its actual solvency. Knowing full well, as the paragraph I have quoted from Sir Edward Morris's speech in the House of Assembly proves, that if again returned to power they would have to restore this revenue, or do away with "Old Age Pensions, poor relief, telegraph extension, and reduce the Vote for Education."

There is a grim old Greek proverb that is worth remembering. "Those whom the gods wish to destroy they first make mad."

AGRICULTURE.

The promotion of Agriculture by the payment of a bounty for the clearing of land so as "to induce a greater number of our people to turn their attention to the cultivation of the soil" was a pledge given by the Government and emphasized in the opening speech of the first session of the late Parliament. No bounty was given. The Votes of the Legislature that should have gone as a bounty were doled out in salaries to Government members, and in sops to political supporters throughout the Country. Nearly TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS were practically wasted in this way, an amount that would have placed ten thousand additional acres of land under cultivation, and would have granted a bonus of twenty dollars per acre to every man who cleared one. Upon the recommendation of those members of the Government party who were drawing yearly salaries from this Vote the Model Farm and Experimental Station established by my Government in 1907, for the benefit of the youths of this Country who desired to learn farming, was recklessly destroyed and the property and equipment practically given away. While the children of the people of this Country were thus despoiled of the advantages that are elsewhere afforded by the State, the present Government actually entered into an Agreement with parties in England to send out pauper boys to be educated here in Agriculture at the expense of the already overburdened taxpayers of this Colony. Fortunately for this Colony the Dominions of the Empire refused to be parties to the scheme and it fell through. A more glaring wrong was never inflicted upon any community than that which the self designated "People's Party" have carried out, in defiance of every protest, in the guise of a "New Agricultural Policy."

OLD AGE PENSIONS.

The Government claim that they have carried out their promise in this connection. Have they? Their scheme of Old Age Pensions would be an absurdity if it was not something worse. It is the most unjust and inadequate measure ever put forward as an Old Age Pension provision. The Bill brought down to the House of Assembly for adoption provided fifty dollars per year for four hundred destitute old men over seventy-five years of age, and left four thousand six hundred and thirty-eight pensionable persons without any provision whatever. IT PROVIDES NOTHING FOR THE POOR WORN OUT OLD WOMEN, and the sum allotted if divided among all who are entitled to consideration would mean less than EIGHT CENTS PER WEEK, and ONE CENT PER DAY. No such absurd and unjust scheme was ever conceived before. The discrimination between old men and old women, and the culling by the Government of four hundred old men from the ranks of thousands equally deserving of a pension was, as I expressed at the time of its proposal, "a piece of absurdity and cruelty combined." The only practical scheme of Old Age Pensions is the "Universal Scheme," adopted in all other countries that have taken the matter up, under which all old men and all old women over a certain age equally participate. This is the system that I have advocated, and hope to see adopted.

COLD STORAGE FOR FISHERY EXPORTS AND ESTABLISHMENT OF BAIT FREEZERS.

The establishment of Cold Storage for fishery exports, and establishment of Bait Freezers were among the pledges given. These pledges also remain unfulfilled. The only attempt that was made in this direction was the notorious agreement entered into between the Government and two American citizens—Messrs. Trefethen and Lord. It will be remembered that after I exposed in the House of Assembly that the true inwardness of that scheme was to give the control of our bait supplies to these Americans the bubble vanished into thin air.

THE CHEAPENING OF COAL AND WORKING OF PEAT AREAS.

The people were told by Sir Edward Morris that "the serious situation created by the present price of coal is so far-reaching that it has become a national grievance," and they were promised by him that "a means would be found for effecting a reduction in the price of coal." This "serious situation" not only still exists but it has been intensified by the higher price now demanded for coal. Our coal areas remain undeveloped, and our peat bogs provide no substitute for coal, and no means have been found for effecting a reduction in the price of coal. The deluded people of this Country will doubtless be "staggered" when they learn that the Colony's most valuable coal area, so far as known, situate in Bay St. George and formerly held in possession by the late Captain Cleary, which in the month of March became forfeit to the Government on default of payment of rental, has been handed over by the Government to the Messrs. Reid. I have received this information from what I must regard as a perfect reliable source, namely Mr. John Cleary, who entered a protest with the Government against the transfer without compensation to the late Captain Cleary's Estate. Assuming then this to be correct, the Colony has been stripped of probably its most valuable asset, and, to a greater extent than was ever dreamed of, the present Government have made the Messrs. Reid the arbiters of our Country's destiny.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF OUR RESOURCES AND EMPLOYMENT FOR OUR PEOPLE AT HOME.

The development of the natural resources of the Country, and employment of our people at home, was still another pledge which is as far from fulfillment to-day as on the day five years ago when it was made. There has been no new development of the natural resources of this Country under the present Government. There has been no new employment enterprise to keep our people at home. I challenge the Government to point to one single development of "our natural resources," or to one important labour giving industry that has come into existence during their whole term of office. The truth is that "the natural resources of the country" have been exploited by members of the Government and their friends in the attempt to "get rich quick," and while some of them have amassed large sums of money in their gambling transactions the Country has been impoverished both in reputation and resources. I might go on enumerating the broken pledges of the Government but it would occupy too much space herein. I assume in dealing with the most important of them I have portrayed sufficient to convince the public of the hollow sham that has been masquerading as a paternal and "People's Government."

FACING THE FUTURE.

THE WORK TO BE DONE.

In facing the future I am encouraged by the knowledge that the great body of producers in this Country—THE FISHERMEN—will give me their moral and material support. They have given me a special call to their service, and have pledged me their support at the polls, and in carrying out the policy I shall presently summarize. For the first time in the history of Newfoundland we have felt the touch of one of the "irresistible tendencies of the modern State," namely, the disposition among its citizens themselves to form "groups" for the advancement or defence of particular interests. In the world around us these "groups" have realized that as groups they have no direct representative voice in the legislation by which their interests are controlled; in other words, that the Government does not represent them. The formation of the Labor Party in England is to be interpreted in that way, as must also be the formation of the FISHERMEN'S PROTECTIVE UNION in Newfoundland. The fishermen perceived that though their voting power outnumbered that of any other single class, yet fishermen as such were unrepresented in the making of the laws. The principle runs back through the centuries to the Edict of King Edward I, which enjoined the Constituencies to send to Parliament not anybody who could win their suffrages, but members of the classes legislation was most likely to affect. I am not called upon here and now to discuss the "principle," but to deal with the fact that the largest "group" of Electors in the Island demand a representative voice in the legislation by which their interests are controlled. They have united with thousands of others outside the Union in calling me to their service. They have asked me to give them direct representation in the ranks of my Party. I have had great pleasure in acceding to their request, and I feel sure that this action on my part will be accepted by Fishermen generally, throughout the Country, as a guarantee that their interests will be most carefully advanced and protected.

The policy that will immediately engage my attention will embrace:—

- 1.—A thorough Expert Examination into the financial condition of the Colony, with a view to establishing its finances upon a sound basis.
- 2.—A revision of the whole Civil Service with a view to dispensing with the services of unnecessary and unsuitable officials, and secure greater efficiency and economy in the conduct of the several departments of the Government.
- 3.—The re-establishment of the credit of the Colony both at home and abroad by a sane and judicious expenditure of the Colony's revenues.
- 4.—The revision of the Tariff, so that it may bear more equitably upon the fishermen and laboring classes generally.
- 5.—The enactment of a law to prevent Combing in trade, for the purpose of enhancing the price of goods to consumers.

- 6.—The appointment of Consular Agents with intent to open new markets to our fishery products, and to keep the Government acquainted with the condition of markets abroad.

- 7.—A complete re-organization of the Department of Marine and Fisheries. To-day the Norwegians and Germans are formidable competitors of ours in the markets of the Mediterranean. These countries have developed their fisheries on scientific lines, and have brought them to present proportions by applying the best thought of the best minds to practical effort. Their Fishery Departments are storehouses of knowledge where the fishermen may obtain reliable information on all matters bearing upon the cure and marketing of fishery products, and their legislators may receive authoritative direction as to the form legislation should take for the conservation and development of the fisheries. We have a Fishery Department in this Colony which has become but a name for a dispensary of public patronage, and a channel for the waste of public money. I propose to attach to the Department of Fisheries the best scientific talent obtainable, and to make it what it ought to be, a Bureau of Information for all who are interested in the fisheries, and who are responsible for their protection and development.

- 8.—The adoption of a measure to deal with the cull and standardization of fish, and the proper inspection of all fishery produce.

- 9.—An inquiry into the whale fishery. The fishermen through their Union have pressed upon my attention the matter of prohibiting it for a time. Many practical fishermen are of opinion that the prosecution of the whale fishery and destruction of large numbers of whales has seriously affected the supplies of bait fishes. I shall have the question carefully investigated, and take such action as the inquiry shall demonstrate to be for the public welfare.

- 10.—The Erection of Bait Depots to meet the needs of the Fishermen.

- 11.—The Amendment of the Laws relating to the conduct of the seal fishery.

- 12.—The Erection of Lighthouses and Fog Alarms where most required.

- 13.—The Establishment of a Telephone System to link up fishing centres.

- 14.—Harbor improvements, embracing the deepening of water ways, erection of public wharves and landings, and establishment of a Harbor of Refuge on the Straight Shore. The latter work commenced by my Government some years ago at Musgrave Harbor was partially destroyed by a storm. This shall be restored and the work completed so as to make the Harbor what it was intended to be, or, if considered desirable, another harbor substituted therefor.

- 15.—The Establishment of County Councils throughout the Island. My Government tested this scheme of administration of local affairs in the District of Burin, and it has worked with entire satisfaction to the people.

- 16.—An Amendment of the Crown Lands Act, having special reference to the future disposition of timber areas.

- 17.—The re-establishment of a Model Farm and Experimental Station where the young men of this Country may obtain a scientific and practical training in Agriculture, and those already engaged in that important industry may receive the advantage of scientific advice and direction.

- 18.—The renewal of a bounty for the clearing of land.

- 19.—A thorough Geological Survey of such lands as remain the property of the Crown.

- 20.—The Establishment of Dispensaries and Cottage Hospitals in the Outports.

- 21.—The Construction of Main Line Roads.

- 22.—The rigid enforcement of the Bait Act as heretofore carried out by my Government.

- 23.—Legislation to regulate the working hours of Railway Employees.

- 24.—A Commission to deal with transport and freight rates.

- 25.—An insistence upon the due and proper performance of contractual obligations by all companies under agreement with the Government.

- 26.—The Establishment of Postal Savings Banks so as to encourage the people in self-help; assist them to build on the foundations of thrift and self-reliance, and furnish a secure investment for their savings. The present institution has been exploited by unscrupulous politicians for party purposes to the detriment of the institution and anxiety of depositors, and it shall therefore be placed under different management, and legislation adopted to make such base party tactics as we have recently witnessed a penal offence punishable with imprisonment.

- 27.—The re-organization of the Postal Department. This most important branch of the public service which, under my administration a few years ago, was brought to a state of efficiency by the aid of expert advice, has again lapsed into a condition that demands immediate attention and remedy. The efficiency of this Department, and public confidence therein, has been shattered by the pernicious practice followed of late in connection with all departments of the public service, namely, the appointment thereof to party supporters without regard to their qualification. Further, without reflecting in any way upon the gentleman who presides over that department, I am of opinion that greater efficiency and more public satisfaction will be obtained if the head of the Postal Department is immediately responsible to the people, and I propose therefore to change the present method of administration by making the head of that department a Minister of the Crown subject to public approval and dismissal. In England, Canada, and other Dominions under the Crown this has been deemed the best and proper method of administration, and I have no doubt but it will prove most advantageous here.

EDUCATION.

The subject of Education is, I am pleased to observe, one of the matters that the Fishermen through their Union have taken up and expressed their opinion on. In what has been published as the "Bonavista platform" we find the following suggestions, namely:—

- 1.—The establishment of a Night School System in the Outports during winter months.
- 2.—Schools for every settlement containing 20 schoolable children from the age of 7 to 14.
- 3.—Free and compulsory education seven months of each year.

They go no further, and I have neither read nor had suggested to me verbally by any person that they desire any change whatsoever in the present educational system of the Colony other than that above quoted.

This suggestion is sane, moderate, entirely commendable, and I shall consult with the Superintendents of Education with a view to meeting the Fishermen's desire. In dealing with the question of Education in my Manifesto of 1908, I said:—

"When, in the year, 1887, I introduced the Ballot Act, which conferred upon every man of twenty-one years of age and upwards the right to vote, and thus perform one of the highest privileges of citizenship, I was not unmindful of the fact that, in order to enable our people to reach the true standard of citizenship, education would have to be liberally encouraged. As soon, therefore, as I was placed by you in a position from which I could direct the policy of the Government, I proceeded without delay to construct this broad avenue of all progress. During my term of office four hundred and forty-two thousand seven hundred and seventy-three dollars, or nearly a half a million of dollars, have been expended in this direction; nor shall I rest satisfied until there is an up-to-date school in every settlement in Newfoundland."

That statement holds good to-day. Now, I have placed on record in the House of Assembly my views in relation to TECHNICAL EDUCATION—an education in trade and industries. The secret of success in trade and industry depends upon Education. Not upon education of the common, or high school, or library, but upon the education of the laboratory, the workshop and modern lecture room. It seems to me high time to consider whether in these days, when the essence of prosperity is commerce, and the essence of commerce is rivalry, it is not our immediate duty to grant the young men of our Country this special Education, without which certain natural abilities inherent in the Newfoundlanders may easily run to waste. The best positions in connection with manufactures, mining and other industries in this Colony are filled by men from other countries because of the want of technical knowledge on the part of our young men. This should not be the case, and I shall endeavour to remedy the matter.

Until the Colony's liabilities to the Messrs. Reid arising out of the present Government's railway policy has been ascertained and discharged it would be impolitic, if not impossible, to undertake the work of settling the lands along the cross-country line which was contemplated by those who were responsible for that development scheme. But, this cannot be much longer deferred, for our public lands are remaining useless, and our burden of taxation waits to be shared by others.

IN CONCLUSION.

It has given me very great pleasure to be able to outline in this Manifesto so many of the reforms desired by the Fishermen's Protective Union, and my only regret is that the serious financial embarrassment brought about by the waste and extravagance of the present Government renders it impossible for the finances of the Colony to respond to further demands at this time.

I shall not deceive those who have called me to their service by raising any expectations except what I know can be fulfilled.

I have made this communication full and comprehensive because I cannot possibly reach the majority of the Electors from the public platform. I ask them to consider carefully, thoughtfully, conscientiously, all that I have herein set forth, remembering that the future of this Country and the fairest hopes of the well-being and happiness of its people depend upon the decision they shall register at the polls on the 30th inst.

I appeal to all who can regard politics without being influenced by mere temporary party prejudices to pause before they endorse the policy and actions of those who have been in charge of the Government during the past four years. I appeal to them to assist me, by such a pronouncement of popular confidence and approval as shall enable me to feel, in taking up the burden I have been called upon to bear, that there are around and beneath me the strong arms of an independent, loyal, and patriotic people.

I am,

Yours faithfully,

R. BOND.

SWEET THINGS.

'Tis sweet to hear At midnight on the blue and moonlit deep The song and oar of Adria's gondolier By distance mellow'd, o'er the waters sweep: 'Tis sweet to see the evening star appear. 'Tis sweet to listen, as the night-wind creeps From leaf to leaf; 'tis sweet to view on high The rainbow, based on ocean, span the sky.

'Tis sweet to hear the watch-dog's honest bark, His deep-mouth'd welcome as we draw near home: 'Tis sweet to know there is an eye will mark Our coming, and look brighter when we come: 'Tis sweet to be awaken'd by the lark, Or lull'd by falling waters; sweet the hum Of bees, the voice of girls, the song of birds, The flap of children, and their earliest words. —Byron.

I REMEMBER, I REMEMBER.

I remember, I remember, The house where I was born, The little window where the sun Came peeping in at morn; He never came a wink too soon, Nor brought too long a day, But now, I often wish the night Had borne my breath away! I remember, I remember, The roses, red and white, The violets, and the lily-cups, Those flowers made of light! The lilacs where the robin built, And where my brother set The laburnum on his birthday,— The tree is living yet! I remember, I remember, Where I was used to swing, And thought the air must rush as fresh To swallows on the wing; My spirit flew in feathers, then.

THE GLORY OF LIFE.

I look on these sentiments which make the glory of the human being, love, humility, faith as being also the infirmity of divinity in the atoms; and that as soon as the man is right, assurances and provisions emanate from the interior of his body and his mind, as when flowers reach their ripeness, incense exhales from them, and as a beautiful atmosphere is generated from the plants by the averaged emanations from all its rocks and soils. —Emerson.

Are Cheap Goods Usually Cheap?

That cheap or underpriced goods are not as good as similar articles much higher in price no one can truthfully deny. It is even questionable if the cheaper goods are really worth what they are, one is only getting his money's worth after all.

Taking motor engines for example, we find some engines are sold at half the price of others of the same Horse Power. This difference in price is accounted for by difference in quality of materials and mechanical precision. In the cheaper engine the materials used are not the best and cast-iron stand up to hard work, whilst the mechanical part is not the result of highly paid experts.

The Fairbanks Morse Engine which is an honest price engine, is made of the best materials, designed by gas engine experts, and is the product of a concern who build up to a quality standard, and not down to a price. Being the largest and oldest gas engine concern they are in a position to offer their engines as the product of the clearest gas engine brains available. NOT ONE COMPLEXITY from any of the large number of Fairbanks users in NEWFOUNDLAND, is pretty good proof that their gasoline motors are all right, and their knowledge operating engine is of the same high class and reliable order.

Death of Mr. M.J. Phoran.

News of the death of Mr. M. J. Phoran, for thirty-three years engaged in the Customs department here, will be heard with deep regret by people everywhere. The deceased who had been in failing health for several months, passed to his eternal reward about five o'clock Monday evening, aged 79 years. Mr. Phoran was indeed one of North Sydney's best and most upright citizens, and he has friends and acquaintances all over the globe. Mr. Phoran was born in the city of St. John's, Nfld., and when a boy of tender years, came here with his father, and in later years engaged in several mercantile pursuits, until the 8th day of October, 1880, when he entered the Customs, in which capacity he served until about a year ago, when he was placed on the superannuation list. Besides a sorrowing wife, who is seriously ill at her home, the deceased is survived by two daughters, Rev. Sister Mary Gertrude, of the Sisters of Charity, and Miss Alice Phoran, until recently engaged as teacher in the Academy. Mrs. Eagen, Cornwall Street, is a sister of the deceased, and Mr. A. G. Hamilton, founder of the Hamilton hospital, is a brother to Mrs. Phoran. The funeral was held this morning and was largely attended. —North Sydney Herald, Oct. 18th.

Addressing the Trades and Labor Council, Will Thorne, Labor Leader and Member of the British House of Commons, said that the Labor Party had voted for Home Rule to get it out of the way, so that more attention could be given to matters affecting the working classes. He predicted the collapse of Ulster opposition to the measure, and said that the news cabled over here regarding the determination of the people of the loyal north to resist Home Rule, is mere bluff.

SALISBURY, Oct. 3.

Major General Charlton Merrick, of the British Army Flying Corps, was killed while flying at the Military Aviation grounds on Salisbury Plain, to-day. The machine suddenly collapsed and fell to the ground. The Aviator was picked up dead, 41 years old, was one of the most distinguished of the younger officers attached to the general staff, and had seen much war service in British India and West Africa, and had been decorated with the D. Winston Churchill made two flights from Cromartie yesterday. First he went for a trip on a Farman biplane, with Lieut. Longacre, ascending to more than 1,500 feet; afterwards he made a long flight in a monoplane, travelling the length of the Firth of Cromartie, being absent for forty minutes. Graham White's 120 horse-power bi-plane carried the record number of ten persons in a flight of 19 minutes, 47 seconds, yesterday at London. The machine, which reached a height of 600 feet, carried a total weight of 1,517½ pounds.

That the man who made the hull of the Titanic believed in neither God nor religion; that he had carved into the hull of the ill-fated ship, in which he afterwards perished, the words, "No God, No Pope," was a statement today by Frank McKee, of Brooklyn, who returned from a trip to Ireland, where he first heard the matter spoken of. The carving of the motto in the steel of the hull, was below the water line. He said it was visible only when the ship was in dry dock, but it was there nevertheless. The man who made the carving was on board the Titanic at the time of the crash and perished.

BOLTON, Oct. 3.

Until the meeting of the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners' Association, on Oct. 10th, no steps will be taken to secure the return of employees to the Lancashire mills, whose strike caused the great lock-out. It is feared, however, that the suspension of all yarn spinning before that time will throw 650,000 persons directly affected, out of work. Employees maintain that the Master Spinners are animated by a desire to bring about the stoppage because of the high price of cotton, which makes profits small, but the employers assert that the principle of the maintenance of their right to control their own mills is at stake.

Fear of war with Turkey is growing in Athens, but the Porte is attempting to allay the feeling by announcing its determination to hold the Islands in the Aegean Sea, subject to the decision of the Powers. It is claimed that Turkey is moving troops, disguised as irregulars, towards Kavala and Saloniki. Another source of uneasiness for Greece arises from warm congratulatory messages which have passed between Sofia and Constantinople. A despatch from Belgrade describes the fighting, which attended the recapture of Dibra, as sanguinary beyond anything which has occurred in the Balkans. The Albanians defended the place from house to house, while the walls fell about them in the streets. They fought with any weapon that came to hand. Even the Serbs admit that the Albanians fought like heroes, and left Dibra a mass of ruins. The Serbs are advancing and a decisive battle is expected near Priarand. Anarchy prevails in Albania, where the provisional government now disavows all connection with the uprising against Serbia.

Plutocrats Behind Curtains.

On Friday of last week we had something to say about the "Invisible Government" that controls this unfortunate country to-day. The London Daily Telegraph on the 15th Merh last published an editorial under the above heading, "Plutocrats Behind Curtains," commenting on a speech delivered by Earl Grey at Beckwith in which he said that "there was no greater curse—seven war, famine, disease, and plague—than the curse of the so-called rule of a democratic country through plutocrats behind curtains, who personally could not be seen."

That is exactly our position. A plutocrat is a man who by virtue of his wealth manipulates governments for his own ends. P. T. McGraith said in his Chicago letter that the Reid's did that in 1898, when Morris, Cashin and others were moved like "pawns" on a chess board, and through them for the time being the Reid's obtained full control of the country. The Daily News said Sir E. P. Morris has a "peculiar liking for capitalists such as the Reid's, and the Free Press, of Oct. 4th, 1904, that "it has long been a matter of notoriety that through Mr. W. D. Reid's friend and solicitor, Sir E. P. Morris, control of both Government and Government Organs has been secured by them. The give away of the 1902 arbitration is not forgotten, and now as a people we are viewing with anxiety and alarm the possible and probable results of the Telegraph Arbitration of a few weeks hence."

The feelings of anxiety and alarm to which the Morison press thus gave expression seem to have passed away from him since Sir Edward Morris became Premier, and the Daily News became one of the organs of the Government. But the evil of the rule of plutocracy remains, and as Earl Grey says: it is a greater curse than "even war, famine, disease and plague." The people now have the opportunity to rid the country of this "curse." For to quote again from Mr. P. T. McGraith's Chicago letter:—

"The Hon. Robert Borden, an able and honest Colonial Statesman, sufficiently independent in point of wealth to resist the inducements of rich capitalists like Reid, has undertaken to do battle against this northern Goliath, and the young and patriotic element in public life are rallying to Borden's standard for battle in November next, which will decide the destinies of the Island."

Daily Investment News IMPORTANT!

Fresh from the printer thousands of copies of our October "Investment Offerings" are now being mailed to all points of the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland—bringing to the doors of every investor his choice of the most attractive of to-day's investment opportunities.

The lowered prices listed in this October issue still reflect the effects of the money stringency. An investment can therefore now be made on a more profitable basis than for some years past.

Besides, as there are marked evidences pointing to an early return of normal financial conditions, the present favorable price-level is not likely to long continue.

To insure your having a copy of October "Investment Offerings" we advise that you ask for one without delay.

Wedding Bells.

A marriage of more than ordinary interest was solemnized at St. Augustine's Church, New Harbor, on Wednesday, Oct. 1st, the incumbent of the Mission officiating. The contracting parties were Mr. S. A. Brett, formerly Principal of the High School, and Miss Elizabeth Woodman, second daughter of Fred Woodman, Esq., of the bride, very charmingly attired in white with wreath and veil and carrying an exquisite bouquet, entered the church at noon leaning on the arm of her father. She was attended by her sister, Miss Woodman of New York, who was handsomely gowned in pale blue with hat to match, and aunts. The groom was supported by Mr. George Woodman, brother of the bride. Miss Winsor, niece of Mrs. Fred Woodman presided at the organ. As the bride entered the church she was greeted with the strains of the well known wedding hymn—"The Voice that breathed over Eden," and after the final blessing "How welcome was the Call" was sung by the large congregation. The bride and groom had both been church workers and in recognition of this the chancel and Sanctuary were nicely decorated with ferns and flowers.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, where the hosts who are well known for their hospitality dispensed their bounty with unstinted measure. The bride received quite a number of handsome presents mostly of silver, and several cheques. Both Mr. and Mrs. Brett are held in much esteem by their many friends, and on the Eve

NEW YORK, To-day.
Charged with conspiracy, Arson and robbery of a grave, Arthur S. Hughes, Ranch owner of Forsyth, Montana, was arrested here and charged with having entered into a conspiracy with his wife and a man named Elliott, both of whom the police assert are under arrest at Montana to collect from the Montana Life Insurance Company, $8,000 insurance on his life. According to the complaint a man named Craig, was killed at Forsyth about two and one half months ago by a railroad train. Hughes, it is alleged, took Craig's body from the grave where it lay, carried it to his home, placed it in a bed chamber, then set fire to the house. The body was burned to a crisp and unrecognizable when found in the embers and Mrs. Hughes went in mourning for her husband. Hughes disappeared a few days later Mrs. Hughes married Elliott, put in a claim for $8,000 insurance on Hughes' life. Sheriff Moson believed the body found in the ruins is not that of Hughes and soon afterwards arrested them both while he investigated the supposed death of Hughes.

Had Delirium Tremens.

Cured of Drink Habit in 3 Days
By Gatlin Treatment.

A person who was constantly affected by strong Drink, became so serious that delirium tremens developed, and in this state was taken to the Gatlin Institute for their Liqueur Habit Cure. Although this was a difficult case, the patient was satisfactorily cured of the Drink Habit in 3 days. Every day most difficult cases are being sent out from the Institute with no more desire for drink than when the first glass was taken. All cases of Drink Habit with its outcomes of nervous breakdown, Insomnia, Emaciation, &c., are cured, and health and strength are restored, nerves steadied, brain cleared, sleep and appetite regained, and happiness in the home follows. The Gatlin Home Treatment is for those who cannot find it convenient to come to the Institute. Certificated Nurse can be sent with in a reasonable distance, without extra charge. Write to-day for Booklet and full particulars, sent free.

The Standpatter.

The standpatter is a remnant of a once powerful tribe which believed in fencing in our infant industries with a Chinese wall and 90 per cent ad valorem. He secured his name from the Liep Mark Hanna, who evidently knew a king high flush from a side of sole leather or he never would have employed such an immoral term. This happened in the campaign of 1896. There were a lot of rude, unlettered people in this country who never could see a high protective tariff without wanting to attack it with their fists. They would sit up nights and talk about the tariff on Syrian oil and false hair and other luxuries, and give Mr. Hanna a deep, shalloon pain. So he finally moved that everybody stand pat and keep his shirt on, or words to that effect, and the motion was carried by a large majority. Ever since that time the standpatter has had about as much show in the race of life as a one-armed fireman in a boss coupling contest. In some localities it is not safe for him to appear on the streets save when accompanied by a plain clothes man and a bull moose button. The rise of the suffragette movement also operates against him. In certain strongly insurgent states a woman who is married to a standpatter can secure a divorce without pleading cruel and inhuman treatment. It is a terrible thing to be a standpatter. Yet in spite of these handicaps, in every block there are to be found standpatters who seem to be without any sense of shame whatever. In fact they appear to be proud of it. They will back up to an insurgent who is on the war path and reel off tariff statistics until everybody in the chair car is dizzy. The standpatter is prepared at all times to defend everything from the Boston tea party to Schedule K, and if he hasn't a reason for the faith that is in him he will read it out of a book. It is a good thing that we have the standpatter with us. He is the safety valve of our politics without which this country would explode every thirty days.

3,000 Legs Wanted.

This extraordinary advertisement appears among the classified advertisements in one of the German papers. "Three thousand artificial legs are wanted by the Government of a nation at present in war. Estimates considered only from consumers who are able to deliver this quantity. Address Dr. Richard Mauch, Cologne, Germany." "There can be no doubt that these artificial legs are wanted by one of the Balkan States," says the Montreal Telegraph. "The cold, business like language of the advertisement is an effective as any picture of Versailles in bringing home a realization of the horrors of war."

WOMEN CURED AT HOME
Women's disorders always yield from the very beginning of the treatment to the mild but effective action of Orange Lily. Within two or three days after commencing its use the improvement becomes noticeable, and this improvement continues until the patient is completely cured. Orange Lily is an applied or local treatment, and acts directly on the woman's organs, removing the congestion, toning and strengthening the nerves, and restoring perfect circulation in the diseased parts. In order to convince all suffering women of the value of this remedy, I will send a 25-cent box, enough for ten days' treatment, absolutely free to each lady sending me her address. MRS. FRANCES E. Our Grand Falls Letter.

October 2nd, 1913.

Rev. G. W. Beck, who has been here on a visit, gave two lectures in the Methodist Church, one on September 18th and the other on the 23rd. His subject was Missionary Work in China and Japan, and was very nicely illustrated with moving pictures. The audiences on both occasions were fairly large, and thoroughly appreciated the discourse. On Thursday, Sept. 25th, Rev. S. M. Stewart delivered a very entertaining lecture in the Town Hall concerning the Ungava Mission, which was well attended. The subject was ably handled, and gave universal satisfaction. At the close a collection was made in aid of the funds for this Mission. Amongst the visitors in Grand Falls during the last ten days were Rev. Canon Bolt, Mr. A. Macpherson, Mr. and Mrs. Black and Mr. Eric Ayre. Mr. Macpherson was on a business trip in connection with the Exploits Valley Royal Stores, Ltd. Mr. P. Moore, M. H. A., was also here on business in connection with the new Public Building. To-day we see amongst us Mr. J. Barter the architect who designed this building. He is returning to St. John's by to-night's train, having made an inspection of the work done.

Mr. E. A. Sursham, Secretary of the A. N. D. Co. Ltd., arrived from England via Canada on Wednesday, the 24th, and intends staying here a fortnight. Mr. H. Wesberg, accompanied by his wife and little daughter, also arrived from Sweden, and is filling the position of Chemical Expert in the Mills here. Mr. N. H. Gray, who is in charge of the Finishing Dept. here, returned a few days ago from a holiday to his home in the States, where his wife and daughter have been spending the summer. All three are looking well after the trip, though they say they are not sorry to be back again to the Paper City.

The stork paid a visit to the home of the Postmaster, Mr. R. F. Newhook last week and forgot to bring away a little girl which he had with him. However, the new-comer seems to have delighted the happy couple, and they are now the recipients of the congratulations of all their friends. Mr. Squires accompanied by his assistant returned by last night's train to St. John's, having completed his work in the forebay. He has been busy for the past ten days cleaning this part of the works from all logs and refuse material which had collected on the bottom and impeded the progress of water to the flumes, thus lessening the power of the water-wheels. On Friday night, Sept. 26th, there was a meeting in the Town Hall to begin a series of Basket Ball games to be held during the months of October, November and the early part of December. A committee was arranged, and operations are to begin on Monday next, October 6th. A number of names have already been taken so there does not seem to be any scarcity of those willing to try. This will, no doubt, be a very welcome method of filling in a season hitherto very barren of any kind of athletic diversion. Habbits are very plentiful in the vicinity of Grand Falls and Rusby Pond, and it is quite a usual thing to see people wending countrywards with rifle or gun. As yet no deer nor partridge have been reported.

On September 26th, at the Church of England, a quiet wedding took place when the Rev. F. E. Loder officiated for Miss Netta Herbert and Mr. J. Roy Ferguson. The bride is the daughter of Mr. H. M. Herbert, well known in this part of the country, as well as in St. John's, and the groom, who has been in the employ of the A. N. D. Co. Ltd. for the past three years, is the son of Mr. Ferguson, R. N. Co. Roadmaster. Mr. R. B. Lida Porter acted as bridesmaid. The newly married couple left by the night's train for a trip in the Northern Bay and thence to St. John's, taking with them the hearty and sincere felicitations of their many friends in Grand Falls.

Monday, Sept. 29th, M. M. Beeton, Esq., President of the A. N. D. Co. Ltd., left by the morning's express for England. He intends to stop off at Boston and New York before leaving for his other side. A party of employees went to the R. N. Co. station to wish him good-bye, and were all sorry to see him go. Mr. Beeton's tactful consideration and kindly interest in all have won him the highest place in the regard of the people here, and everyone is looking forward even now to his next visit.

It is in appearance it is not unlike a four-wheeled dogcart, except that the front part has a hood for use on long 'driving' tours in the event of wet weather; it will accommodate four persons, one of whom, on the seat behind, would, of course, be the 'groom', a misnomer, perhaps, for carriage attention. Under the front seat are receptacles, one for tools with which to repair damages in the event of a breakdown on the road, and the other for a store of oil, petroleum, or kerosene in cans, from which to replenish the oil tank of the carriage on the journey if it be a long one.

The story of the early motoring trips of Mr. Evelyn Ellis, the first English motorist, whose death was recorded in the Daily Mail recently, reads like a chapter of ancient history, though only eighteen years have passed since his horseless carriage astonished the countryside. Describing one of Mr. Ellis's first drives, the Windsor and Eton Express of July 27, 1895, stated: "If anyone cares to run over to Datchet they will see the Hon. Evelyn Ellis, of Roseau, careering round the roads, up hill and down dale, and without danger to life or limb, in his new motor carriage which he brought over a short time ago from Paris.

The Tory Trio for Twillingate

Special Evening Telegram.

TWILLINGATE, Yesterday. Everyone smiled when the public news announced Government team for this district as J. Milley, W. B. Temple and Adolphus Yates, and even the honest consistent Tories feel disgusted when it is suggested, "Are you going to vote for the like of that, two traitors and a railway arbitration fee grabber?" Billy Temple left yesterday with a rifle under his arm to start campaign. It looks as if he expects some pointed opposition. It is suggested that Morris must be hard up for candidates when he took Temple and Yates. The three of them will smell turf before they get through this district, and any one can bet their thousands on the defeat of the three Tories in Twillingate District.

Frozen Out at Branch.

Special to The Evening Telegram.

BRANCH, via Placentia, To-Day. The Tories received a very poor reception here, only a small number met the candidates and their reception was very chilly. They spoke of "godless schools" as the Liberal policy. Cheers were repeatedly given for Sullivan, Summers and Carty; also for Bond and the Fishermen's Union. Many left the hall in disgust. The people of Branch are highly indignant at the Morris campaign of "godless schools" and refused to listen. "BOND CAN'T LOSE HERE."

Robinson's Abuse of the Fishermen.

Robinson, of the News, takes great delight in fingering insults at the fishermen—the noble men who have made this country what it is to-day. Quite recently he tried to disparage them and spoke of them as an overrated influence of their Union. They will let the Podagrace know on Polling Day when they mark their ballots whether or not they are an overrated influence. Robinson and his friends have done well out of the fishermen during the past four years. They are very busy now with their abuse. It is said he is also very busy knowing that his time is short. Fishermen do your duty. Quit you like men and wipe off the disgrace of a Tory Government from this old British Colony.

On Friday night, Sept. 26th, there was a meeting in the Town Hall to begin a series of Basket Ball games to be held during the months of October, November and the early part of December. A committee was arranged, and operations are to begin on Monday next, October 6th. A number of names have already been taken so there does not seem to be any scarcity of those willing to try. This will, no doubt, be a very welcome method of filling in a season hitherto very barren of any kind of athletic diversion. Habbits are very plentiful in the vicinity of Grand Falls and Rusby Pond, and it is quite a usual thing to see people wending countrywards with rifle or gun. As yet no deer nor partridge have been reported.

On September 26th, at the Church of England, a quiet wedding took place when the Rev. F. E. Loder officiated for Miss Netta Herbert and Mr. J. Roy Ferguson. The bride is the daughter of Mr. H. M. Herbert, well known in this part of the country, as well as in St. John's, and the groom, who has been in the employ of the A. N. D. Co. Ltd. for the past three years, is the son of Mr. Ferguson, R. N. Co. Roadmaster. Mr. R. B. Lida Porter acted as bridesmaid. The newly married couple left by the night's train for a trip in the Northern Bay and thence to St. John's, taking with them the hearty and sincere felicitations of their many friends in Grand Falls.

Monday, Sept. 29th, M. M. Beeton, Esq., President of the A. N. D. Co. Ltd., left by the morning's express for England. He intends to stop off at Boston and New York before leaving for his other side. A party of employees went to the R. N. Co. station to wish him good-bye, and were all sorry to see him go. Mr. Beeton's tactful consideration and kindly interest in all have won him the highest place in the regard of the people here, and everyone is looking forward even now to his next visit.

It is in appearance it is not unlike a four-wheeled dogcart, except that the front part has a hood for use on long 'driving' tours in the event of wet weather; it will accommodate four persons, one of whom, on the seat behind, would, of course, be the 'groom', a misnomer, perhaps, for carriage attention. Under the front seat are receptacles, one for tools with which to repair damages in the event of a breakdown on the road, and the other for a store of oil, petroleum, or kerosene in cans, from which to replenish the oil tank of the carriage on the journey if it be a long one."

PARSONS' ART STORES,
One Door East Royal Stores.

Season 1913-1914.

We have always been noted for the exclusive style and finish of all our Ready-mades, but our advance fashions in Ladies' Coats for Fall and Winter wear surpass any of our previous showings.

These Coats are built on the newest lines, many are of the modish two-toned tweeds and blanket cloths; large, roomy and mannish looking. The popular style for coming fall—they have large shawl, sailor and storm collars, deep cuffs, trimmed, buttons, etc.

Then there is an exquisite selection of handsome wraps, in Brocaded Velvets, Seal Plush Broche, etc., lined with Brocaded Satin—but these must be seen to be appreciated. call in and look over these beautiful Coats. You'll be delighted.
