THE STAFF.

We have felt for some time the need of a night watch, or larger day staff, especially the past year since we have had an unusual number of noisy and destructive patients, besides those who required considerable care during the night, due to sickness and other causes. It may be needless to say that many of these burdens fall to the lot of those in charge, this is especially true in that of the matron.

The work in the various departments that needs to be done, is sufficient to keep the present small staff busily engaged during the long hours of the day; after which time a night's rest would be welcome, but as already stated circumstances arise when duties do not cease with the close of day.

It has been our experience in common with all other Institutions, viz: inability to secure sufficient and competent help. There are probably many reasons why this condition exists, but complications doubtless due to inadequate remuneration for the class of help required in an Institution, and where the demands are varied and important.

ACCOMMODATION.

While it is quite evident that those who first laid the plans for the Hospital, erred in many respects, and while we have been able to deal with the milder cases, quite often we have been driven to our wits end in classifying, or properly isolating the more severe cases. The chief error in planning seems to have been the desire to build in the air, in lieu of the ground, and in deficiency of structure.

I have been impressed quite often with the fact that there should be two wards on the female side of the house. Under present conditions all must necessarily occupy the same day room, regardless of condition of habits and since there is a vast difference in many instances, there is a serious objection to this feature, and should, if possible, be avoided.

Doubtless the time is near at hand when provision will have to be made for increased accommodation in both Institutions. The question then arises how? and if permitted would suggest a cottage for the staff. This would serve three wants; first, increased accommodation in the present building; secondly, the classification of female patients; and thirdly a night's rest for the day staff.

EXPENDITURE.

In this respect I need say but little, since your Committee give a very full and comprehensive report.

I think I am safe in saying (and without taking any special credit to myself, since your committee are equally responsible) that the per capita costs of your County Institutions is remarkably low, notwithstanding the increased cost of all commodities, and what has been accomplished in the line of improvements during the last few years, and while we have not as yet attained the high water mark of efficiency, we trust that by wise and persistent energy the same may be attained so far as is possible.

I have in mind the fact that economy is an important factor in the management of our public Institutions generally. But in dealing with these economies care should be had lest the desire for a low per capita cost should bring the expenditure down to a point where progress and efficiency are retarded. The greatest end to be accomplished can scarcely always be the smallest per capita cost.

OCCUPATION AND RECREATION.

During the summer months, all patients who are not employed on the farm, or on parole spend the greater part of the day in the open air, under the supervision of the attendants.

Those on parole generally observe the regulations and appreciate the privileges accorded them.

Those who have been able and willing to work have been employed on the farm. Not only has their assistance been needed, and appreciated by those in charge, but has brought contentment to those employed. As to the result of the year's work, I need say but little; suffice it to say that the year's crop has been good, as will be seen by your Committee's report. The farm itself has been kept in excellent condition and a sample of what can be accomplished.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS.

Papers: Monitor-Sentinel and Annapolis Spectator. Magazines and other reading matter have been supplied by various friends. All the above are appreciated by the patients, and for which we are deeply indebted.

The management has again to gratefully acknowledge its indebtedness to the clergymen and deacons of the Baptist church who conducted the meetings and who responded most promptly whenever their services were required.

We are also indebted to Miss Healy, who has presided at the organ for a number of years, and to those who in any way assisted in the meetings.

An entertainment given by a number of Bridgetown talent, in the hall was very much appreciated by those who were able to be present.

We are again indebted to all those who made it possible in having the Christmas entertainment, and to those who so generously responded to our appeal at this time for contributions, all of which were acknowledged by the Secretary-Treasurer.

Appreciative mention is here made of the services rendered by the Committee, especially the Chairman, Mr. Fitch. His long and efficient service as such, need no comment. His advice in all things pertaining to the management of the County Institutions, has been sound and practical.

We are indeed grateful to the Warden for his many kind words of appreciation, and to all those who are in any way connected with the Institution and for the courteous and considerate manner in which you have dealt with me personally and with the various matters pertaining to the Institution.

Your obedient servant,
A. F. HILTZ.

REPORT OF COUNTY HEALTH OFFICER.

To the Warden and Councillors:— I beg to present herewith a brief report as County Health Officer for 1913.

During the past year the only serious contagious disease in the Municipality has been that of diphtheria. In January last this appeared near Bridgetown and has reappeared at different times in this section during the year. It has been of a sporadic type rather than epidemic and has not spread from one child to another in the same family but in most cases has been confined to one member of a family only. Several deaths have occurred from the disease or from the paralysis following it. The early use of antitoxin in diphtheria has proved so satisfactory that it should be used in all suspected cases. The remedy, however, is expensive, but as the stamping out of this disease is of a public benefit and of great importance to the whole community, I have, during the past year, supplied antitoxin at the expense of the Municipality. When this is done there will be no delaying the treatment or hesitancy on the part of the medical attendant on account of the expense that he or some one else may have to bear.

I beg to remind you once more of the necessity of seeing that each ward has the full number of names on their local Board of Health (four beside the Councillor), as required by the Health Act.

The sanitary condition of the homes of our people, throughout the County is good. The water supply and drainage for the most part is intelligently looked after and safeguarded and for this wise precaution the Municipality has been very free of diseases that come with or from unsanitary conditions.

Faithfully yours,
M. E. ARMSTRONG.

AUDITORS' REPORT.

To the Warden and Councillors of the Municipality of Annapolis County:— Gentlemen:— We, the undersigned auditors, have examined the books and accounts of your treasurer, for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1913; we have checked all the vouchers, verified all cheques issued, and balanced the cash, and find them to be correct, and to agree with the following statement:

In submitting the above statement we desire to call your attention to the amount of $900.00 balance of unpaid taxes, presumably to be collected by Mr. Dargie. This amount, we understand from the Treasurer, Mr. Dargie claims in an error, but as the amount stands on your books against Mr. Dargie, we could do no less than make the audit accordingly.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

TREASURER'S REPORT

To the Warden and Councillors of the Municipality of Annapolis County:—

Gentlemen:— I beg leave to report the condition of the County's finances on Dec. 31st, 1913, as shown by accounts for 1913, to be as follows:

Cash on hand	$2,814.98
Balance due from Rate Collectors	1,785.57
Total Assets Current Account	$4,600.55
Unpaid Liabilities 1888 to 1910	$ 190.16
Industrial School Appropriation	240.00
Total Liabilities Current Account	430.16
Balance available for Acct.	$4,170.39

The above balance includes a disputed item of $900.00 claimed by Mr. W. C. Dargie to be a false charge by the Clerk in making up the total of rates due from Ward 10, and is liable to a reduction of that amount if Mr. Dargie's contention is correct. Statements of General Account, Contingent Account, Forest Protection, Sinking Fund and Collectors' Balances are appended.

Only one item, Industrial School remains unpaid from 1913 Presentment. This is held over for enquiry as to settlement of one boy.

All Collectors' accounts outstanding at the end of 1913 have been paid in full, with the exception of Ward 2 and the disputed balance in Ward 10. The Collectors for 1913 have by substantial payments, practically settled their accounts. The work of the Collectors of Rates for 1913, has, as a whole, been very satisfactory.

I have the honor to be gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
W. E. OUTHIT,
Treasurer.

The Passing of Lord Strathcona

(Montreal Daily Telegraph.)

One of the most outstanding figures of Canada's heroic age has passed away in Lord Strathcona. It is perhaps not too much to say that the Empire will be united in a common sorrow at his passing; certainly there will be a deeper pang of regret in Canada and Great Britain than would be caused by the death of almost any other man. His was a personality which came intimately into relation with all classes of people of both countries. His remarkable physiognomy was known to everybody, and so, too, were the main facts of his remarkable career. Everybody with whom he came in contact had an instinctive liking and respect for him; even in the royal family he was known as "Uncle Donald." The training which he had as a factor in the service of the Hudson's Bay Company in the early days possibly had much to do with the building up of that rugged constitution which carried him so buoyantly through life, and made active an enjoyment to him right to the very end. Possibly, too, it gave him those splendid energies which enabled him to carve his way to fortune by making the most of those opportunities which came to him in those great days when the sun of Canada's prosperity was beginning to rise.

To some persons it has seemed that Lord Strathcona won his fortune as a great speculator. The reverse is the case. He was a large investor in enterprises that commended themselves to his mind, but what he bought he generally held through thick and thin. He was one of the most tenacious investors the country ever knew. As an instance, he held his original allotment of Canadian Pacific stock unbroken longer than any other member of the syndicate who carried the project through to completion. He believed in Canada. In critical moments in the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway he put his shoulder to the wheel, and by so doing decided the chances between failure and success. And ever since that time his vision of the ultimate greatness of Canada had never dimmed. His splendid fortune and his splendid career were the direct result of his unshaken faith in the great Dominion with which his name is so inseparably associated.

Although he took a prominent part in politics at times, he was never a strong partisan. His connection with the syndicate to whom the Conservative Government awarded the contract for building the C. P. R. drew him into closer associations than formerly with the Conservatives. Nevertheless throughout his active connection with politics he was always more or less independent. It was a great happiness to him to have his career crowned by the appointment of High Commissioner for Canada in London. This position brought him great honor. It is equally true that in it he brought great honor to Canada. He had a statesmanlike mien and character that made him an ideal ambassador to the seat of Empire.

His benefactions to Canada and Canadians have been notable. He was one of the small body of men who made McGill University what it is today. He was also always ready to assist building genius, and in particular those showing marked musical talents. Some of the most famous musical artists from Canada had been his proteges. In every direction his influence upon Canada and Canadians was constructive and inspiring. He leaves an indelible mark upon the history of the Dominion.

WILL YOU NEED HELP?

Farmers who will need help during the coming season should write to Arthur B. Barnstead, the Secretary of Industries and Immigration, Halifax. The Secretary informs us that he is in touch with farmers and farm laborers who wish to come to Nova Scotia. Anyone desiring the services of one of these newcomers had better send for an application form at once.

The Vacuum Cleaner is now being used for cleaning horses and cattle. The animals take to this method quite readily. It is less harsh than the curry comb and brush, and much more agreeable to the stable boy.

CONVENTION OF ANNAPOLIS COUNTY TEMPERANCE ALLIANCE

A very large and interesting Convention of the Temperance Alliance of Annapolis County was held in Warren's Hall, Bridgetown, Monday afternoon, Jan. 26. Temperance workers in large numbers and from many parts of the County were present. Vice-President A. M. King, Esq., of Annapolis, occupied the chair, and as soon as the minutes of the last meeting were approved the Convention was called upon to elect officers for the year. The result was as follows:

President, A. M. King, Annapolis Royal; Vice President, J. F. Martin, Nictaux; Secty-Treas., Rev. B. J. Porter, Bridgetown. President A. M. King addressed the Convention upon the chief item of business before the meeting, namely the question of the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act (Scott Act) in favor of the Nova Scotia Temperance Act. Rev. H. R. Grant, Secretary of the Provincial Temperance Alliance, who for a number of days had been working in the County, addressed the meeting and pointed out the superiority of the Nova Scotia Temperance Act over the Scott Act. After some discussion all of which led to an intelligent presentation of the question before the meeting, a vote was taken which resulted in a unanimous decision to enter upon a campaign looking for the repeal of the Scott Act in favor of the Nova Scotia Temperance Act. The necessary steps to be taken were then outlined by Mr. Grant and briefly recounted as these:—The circulation of a petition to secure the names of at least one-quarter of the voters in the County (according to the last Dominion election lists) which lists duly accredited must be sent to the Secretary of State for the Dominion, who would then name a day upon which a vote would be taken. A majority of the votes cast decides the issue.

The first duty of the Convention, then, is to secure the names of at least one-quarter of the voters of the County, and to undertake the work of a Central Committee, consisting of the officers of the Convention together with the below named persons, were appointed:

Col. S. Spurr, Melville Square.
J. P. Stronach, Margareville.
Rev. F. J. Armitage and Dr. J. B. Hall, Brooklyn, Port George, Lawrenceton and Port Lorne.
Richard Ray and Herbert Bent, Belleisle and Phinney Mountain.
L. W. Elliott, John Titus and Clinton Collins, Clarence and Hampton.
Vernon Amberman and Miss May Davis, Grandville Ferry.
Fred Parker, Lower Granville.
Councillor Rawding, Clementsport.
Rev. Mr. McPadden, Deep Brook.
Vernon Clarke, Bear River.
Rufus Whitman and Geo. I. Harshin, Round Hill and Lequille.
Edward Rice, Carleton Corner.
B. F. Martin, L. R. Gates, C. F. Armstrong, Henry Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Kendall, Williamston.

The Glasgow Daily Herald says:—

"It is a sign of the utmost hopefulness that a crisis should have come in Germany at the same moment that a French ministry has been censured and unseated for a similar reason. As the defeated French Ministers walked out, some of the Socialist members shouted out, 'Down with the Army!' and it was perhaps the truest summary of the real cause of the ministerial defeat. Thus we have the most remarkable event of the German and the French nations deciding, almost simultaneously, that this intolerable burden of armaments and this continual infliction of military rule are a curse, rather than a blessing. It is a sign that civilized nations are finding their senses. When they do, it will be a bad day for gunmakers and professional brawlers."

PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND THE MENTALLY DEFECTIVE.

(By Helen MacCurdy, M. D.)

Speaking broadly, it may be said that, important as physical education is to the mentally fit, it is more important to the mentally unfit. To the lower grades of the feeble-minded, it offers almost the only chance of any education. The use of the hands and feet which normal children come to almost of themselves, or with but little assistance, has to be most sedulously and painstakingly taught to the feeble-minded. One often sees a mere baby (I have observed it in a normal child of less than a year old) put the tips of the fingers together as a great joy and as if he were making a great discovery, as indeed he is. But I have seen feeble-minded boys and girls of fourteen who were so defective mentally that they puzzled over this as a hard task. They hardly seemed to know where the fingers of one or other hand were to be found.

The power of walking is markedly delayed by mental defect. It is always late in being acquired, and in the absence of any other explanation or reasonable cause, it is prima facie evidence to raise in one's mind the suspicion of mental defect when we hear that a child did not walk till he was over two years old, and probably did not talk for six months more.

Co-ordination of muscular action is always markedly defective in the feeble-minded. Simple curves described with dumb-bells, or with the extended hand and arm, are often entirely beyond them except as the result of the most careful training. Actions like tying a knot have to be simplified to the last degree and every motion adapted to their poor understanding before they can be performed by them.

One of the best exercises for a feeble-minded child is to give him a gigantic upper of a leather shoe, which has been made on purpose, with eyelets large enough to admit the little finger. Into these holes the child learns after days spent on the lesson to insert a lace with a metal tag about the size of a coarse steel knitting needle. Finally the triumph is achieved of being able to put on his own shoes, lace them up, and even tie the boot laces. The glory of this comforts him and puts him on a higher plane in the institution. The only real hope of making anything of the feeble-minded, and of securing care, safety and protection for them, and for the community, is found in the permanent shelter of institution home life.

In the best of these homes for the feeble-minded great pains are taken with the physical education of the inmates. At Waverley, Dr. Fernald has been peculiarly successful in such work. Rope making and rope plaiting is one of the best ways to develop the muscles of the arms and the use of the hands and fingers. But class exercises to music are also carried on daily and are of immense benefit to the children, both younger and older. To learn to obey a class command is a great step, and it is usually in the classes of physical education that it is learned.

The Montessori method, which also is largely founded on the development of the physical powers of the children was of course begun when Dr. Montessori was teaching mentally defective children. In this she merely followed methods taught long before by Seguin and also by Dr. Fernald, at Waverley, Mass.

Such simple education in the use of the fingers as has been described, leads on to the acquiring of complex actions. When, for example, by continual practice, the inmate learns to button his clothes, put on his shoes, and dress himself, there is hope that he may become, in some small degree, partially self-supporting. At least he is on the way to use his physical powers to take care of himself. By and by he will carry things, help in the house or garden, learn to scrub, to polish or to plough, or some other useful thing. The bodily powers of the mentally defective can be developed by physical education so that they are not only hampered, but much more useful, and perhaps even able partly or entirely to support themselves.

MOVING MESSAGE FROM WORLD OF DARKNESS.

Helen Keller Greatly Stirrs Audience at Massey Hall, Toronto - Wonderful Story of Woman Born Deaf, Dumb and Blind - Gives Address and Answers Questions.

Helen Keller does not look more than twenty-five, is exceptionally beautiful, both in figure and face, carries herself with grace and distinction, is overflowing with animation, is ready with the quickest of witty replies. She is all alert.

Rarely does one find an audience keyed to such intense sympathy as that which filled Massey Hall to hear and see this wonder among mankind. That Helen Keller, born deaf, dumb and blind, can speak is a modern miracle. Imagine studying the position of the tongue laces for every syllable, imagine the labor of finding out and practicing all the means of articulation, in order to learn how to speak. That is what Helen Keller has done. After seven lessons in articulation she exclaimed triumphantly, "I am not dumb." But it has taken twenty years of arduous work to learn to speak well enough to appear on a lecture platform.

HER "COMRADES IN THE DARK."

Many blind people were in the audience, and it was a blind man who rose during the period set apart for asking questions, to tell Helen Keller of the keen appreciation of all the blind in Canada—and in the world—for the inspiration she had been to them. When told of the many blind people present she exclaimed, "I greet you all, my comrades in the dark."

Mrs. Macey, Helen Keller's teacher, gave the main address of the evening, beginning the story of Helen's education at the time when she, a graduate of an institute for the blind, came to Helen's home in Tusumbia, Alabama, twenty-six years ago. Helen was then almost seven, and a vigorous romping child, flying all over everything, making her wants known by signs. Every scrap of knowledge came to her through her fingers. One of her diversions was to dress and undress herself several times a day. Mrs. Macey, then Miss Sullivan, brought her a doll but would not let her have it until she learned by the manual alphabet to spell "doll." In a month she had learned about twenty nouns and three verbs. Then suddenly, she realized that everything had a name, and she flew about from chair to table, pointing to the ground, to the fence, till with a few hours she had learned thirty new words. From that moment she was transformed from a baffled little animal to a radiant soul. She learned to read, and acted the stories she read; she played games, imitated the mother, and asked innumerable questions. "Does Mother Nature own the flowers?" "Yes." "The too many bugs?" "Yes." "The dog?" "Yes." "Old Dave (the horse)?" "Yes." "A long pause—then what does Father Nature do?"

She tried to teach the manual alphabet to her dog, to her doll. She was never still. Beautiful thoughts came into her mind. She felt the daisies bend as she passed through the field. "The daisies always bow to me when I pass," she said.

In this charming way, with many touching, many comic stories of Helen's childhood, Mrs. Macey came at last to the time when Helen determined to go to College and wrote in her plea to the authorities of Radcliffe to be allowed to enter, "A good soldier does not acknowledge defeat before the battle." Helen Keller won the battle, graduating from Radcliffe in 1904.

Mrs. Macey is a charming speaker and looks the beautiful woman she is. At the close of her address she said: "Out of the world of silence and darkness she comes to you with the message of brotherhood," and led her pupil on to the stage.

A TENSE MOMENT.

There was a moment of intense silence, then long applause. What Helen Keller has missed not to be able to see how beautiful she is! Nature made her some compensation.

The pleasure at her appearance was changed to a feeling of tears when she began to speak in a not unpleasant but an unnatural voice. At the end of each sentence she nodded a little to denote, in her mind, a period. The audience showed their sympathy by frequent applause.

She spoke of the wonder of the hand, so much having come to her through the hand, and she advised: "Use of the senses is not enough; imagination and feeling should be blended with them. Put thought into your senses and you will wonder at the beauty that will come through your eyes and ears. The world is full of miracles. Look for them and you will find them."

EVEN ANSWERED QUESTIONS.

Dr. James L. Hughes, who presided said Miss Keller would be glad to answer questions. She put her hand on Mrs. Macey's cheek, lips and nose to feel the vibrations, to learn the

-Mr. Roosevelt's letters in the "Outlook," descriptive of his journey to and in South America are exceedingly interesting so far as they have gone, and will probably increase in interest as he penetrates more deeply into the comparatively unknown heart of that great country. The voyage as represented was delightful, the sea,
much of the time, being on its best behavior, and giving to sign of the temper it sometimes displays and which proves so disastrous even to the largest vessels.

The first place of call was Barbadoes. This is one of the Windward Islands which belong to Great Britain. The Governor and Chief Justice reside here, making Barbadoes from governmental point of view, the centre of the group. It is a small island, having an area of only 166
square miles, and yet the population of nearly 200,000. Compare this area and population with the area and population of Annapolis County, and it will be seen how densely populated Barbadoes must be. By the way the port of Barbadoes bears the honorable name of Bridgetown. For some undiscovered reason the breed of mesquitos which has been responsible in tropical America for the prevalence of deadly fevers is not found there, and the island is noted for the healthiness of the people. Every foot of land which is capable of cultivation, and this includes nearly the whole, is utilized to the utmost, and with the products of the sea, provides amply for the support of the crowded population. Only about twelve thousand of the people are white, the majority being the descendants of slaves, with a proportion of mixed blood. There is a complete equality of treatment of the two races. The present Chief Justice is a white man, but, his predecessor was a negro. The present Solicitor General, a large proportion of the members of the House of Assembly are negroes, and in general men are estimated by their intellectual and moral worth, and not by the accident of color. Mr. Roosevelt says the newspaper reporters he saw were all colored men, and in the College, which he visited, white and black boys mingled in the classes and in the sports on equal terms. The Government maintains a Barbadoes Scholarship, corresponding to the Rhodes Scholarship, and the successful competitors, whether white or black, are sent to one or other of the great English Universities. Mr. Roosevelt expresses the opinion that "Nowhere else in the Old-World or the New has been the problem of the Negro's presence been better solved than here in Barbadoes, and in very few places has it been as well solved."

The next stopping place was Bahia, in the northern part of Brazil. The Mayor of this city was a student in the University of Chicago, and others of the leading men were students of Cornell, or other American Universities. And here is a medical school, one which, for its researches and discoveries, ranks among the most distinguished medical schools of the world. This city gives evidence of being to the front in all the modern improvements. Buildings are giving place to larger and more convenient structures, streets are being widened and adorned with beautiful shade trees, autos are running in all directions, cotton mills are sending out an excellent product, and on all sides
are seen the rich and varied foliage
and flowers and fruits, which are so pleasing to visitors from colder climes.

The next city visited was Rio de Janeiro, the capitol of Brazil, and one of the largest cities in South America. It has a population of more than a million, and its harbor is one of the finest in the world. One of the largest exports is coffee, the value of which has reached fifty millions of dollars a year. No other city has so many miles of smooth asphalted streets, and these broad and clean bordered by beautiful public buildings and private residences which reveal conditions of adaptation, taste and comfort, surprising to those who have regarded South America as lagging far behind other lands in material improvements.

Add to these the tropical trees which shade the streets, and the tropical foliage everywhere visible and there are presented visions of beauty of which the eye never tires.

On one side of the harbor is a precipitous hill, called from its shape, the Sugar Loaf, and in the vicinity are other hills, not so lofty, but equally precipitous. From the top of the Sugar Loaf a magnificent view is afforded of the harbor and oceans, and to make this view easily accessible a trolley road has been constructed to pass over these hills to the summit of the highest. In 1899 the government of Brazil became a republic, and it is since this change was made that Rio de Janeiro has made the greatest advancement.

If we are unable to take such a journey and visit such scenes for ourselves, the next best thing we can do is to make use of the eyes and ears of those who have had the time and opportunity and have put their experiences on record. And Mr. Roosevelt, with all his other marked characteristics, has this also, that he is an excellent story teller.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM HENRY BISHOP.

The death occurred on Thursday
last, Jan. 22nd at his home at Paradiso, of William Henry Bishop, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of this County.

Born on the 17th of March, 1828,
on the farm then owned by his father
William Bishop, he spent a few years
of his early manhood at Bangor, Maine, learning the carriage making business, but the remainder of his long life was on the farm, besides operating which he carried on until the last ten years a large carriage making business.

Until declining years led him to place the burdens on others, his life was intimately associated with the general progress of his village and County.

Military affairs also claimed his attention, he being appointed Lieutenant of the first "Annapolis County Rifle Rangers" in 1863, Lieutenant of the Fourth Annapolis Regiment of Infantry in 1863, and Captain of No.
1 Company of the Third Annapolis County Regiment in 1865 which office
he held during the Fenian Raids. On that occasion he had his company enrolled, sworn in, and drafted ready for service.

On the formation of the 69th Regiment in 1869 he was appointed Quarter-Master, which duties he performed until 1897, when he retired, retaining the rank of Major. He was a first-class shot for his time and was chosen by his company to represent them at the first meeting of the Nova Scotia Rifle Association at Windsor.

His wife, who survives him, Martha Jane Durgan, of old New England
stock, was born in Freedom, New Hampshire, in 1827. Of nine children eight are still living. They are Mrs.
George E. Ricker, of Somerville,
Mass.; Horace G., of Bridgetown;
Frank H., who died in 1880; Mrs. Albert S. Jones of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. Minnie L. Ricketson, of Paradiso; Mrs. Florence A. Fitz, of Winthrop, Mass.; Fred W., on the homestead; Mrs. Harold H. Plummer, of Berkeley, Cal., and Mrs. Annie L.
Small, of West Somerville.

MRS. SARAH BALSOR.

Mrs. Sarah Balsor died at Chelme-ford, Mass., at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Thompson, Dec.
21, 1913. Mrs. Balsor went to live with her children two years ago, having enjoyed the best of health there.
She was taken poorly on Dec. 1st, and all was done that medical skill and loving hands could do. She passed away Dec. 21, 1913, with hemorrhage of the brain. Her remains were brought to her home at Mt. Hanley on Dec. 23rd, by her son and son-in-law, where she was laid to rest beside her husband, who had predeceased her fourteen years. G. M.
Bleakney spoke very comforting words from Luke 13, 14. Mrs. Balsor was baptized by the late Rev. Willard Parker in the year 1858 with twenty-eight others, who followed their Lord in baptism. She had been a kind and loving mother and leaves to mourn their loss two sisters, Mrs.
Mira Slocumb at Mt. Hanley, Mrs.
Bertha Elliott at Lawrencetown, and four sons and two daughters, Mr.
Stephen Balsor and Fred C. Balsor of Boston; Messrs. William and Charles of Lowell; Mrs. Clarence Nichols and Mrs. John Thompson of Chelmsford,
Mass., and a large circle of relatives
and friends.

Yesterday's Civic Nominations

Yesterday was the day for the filling of nominations for Mayor and Councillors in the various incorporated towns in the Province.

In Bridgetown Mayor Karl Freeman was nominated without opposition, and there were only three Councillors nominated, viz: Chas. R. Chipman, J. Harry Hicks and J. W.
Peters. There will therefore be no civic elections in Bridgetown this year. The councillors nominated are all new men on the Council Board.

In Middleton Mayor O. P. Goucher
was nominated without opposition.
Six nominations were made for Councillors, viz: Fred E. Bentley, George N. Reagh, John Charlton, S. H. Morrison, A. B. Gates and George W.
Andrews. The election for Councillors will take place next Tuesday,
Feb. 3rd.

In Annapolis Mr. A. E. Atlee was nominated for Mayor without opposition. The nominations for Councillors were: Ralph Harris, Bert Harwick, Boyd Crowe, Daniel Owen, Reginald Roach. This will also bring on an election for Councillors in Annapolis. Claude King was elected by reassignment to fill vacancy caused by resignation of Councillor Atlee.

The death of Mr. Fairbanks, proprietor of the Queen Hotel, Halifax, occurred very suddenly of apoplexy, in that city last Friday. The deceased was a commercial traveller for a number of years, and was well and favorably known all over the Maritime Provinces.

The case of Mills & Sons vs. Daniels was to have come before the Supreme Court for trial on Friday last, but just previous to the hour of trial the plaintiff applied to the defendant for settlement, which was arranged, an account of which will be published next week.

On pages one and eight of this issue will be found the reports as read before the last session of the County Council, and which were published in the Monitor last week. On pages three and seven will be found the County, Ward and District Officers for this year, as approved by the Council.

Should the weather prove favorable there will be a very interesting game of hockey at the Bridgetown A. A. C. rink next Friday evening, Jan. 30, between the Bridgetown A. A. C. team and a team from Digby. An effort is being made to secure a special train from Digby on that evening to bring those who wish to attend the match.

It is estimated that half a million dollars were left in the "Land of Evangeline" by summer tourists last season. All persons who will take summer boarders in 1914, should advise the General Passenger Department, Dominion Atlantic Railway. Give the name of your cottage or hotel, as well as your post office address.

The Coquitlam Star of Jan. 10th says: "According to Mr. L. D. Shafner President of the Coquitlam Shipbuilding Company, the fine new auxiliary schooner 'Coquitlam City' will probably be launched on Saturday, January 17. The launching of the schooner will make one of the most interesting and significant events in the industrial annals of Port Coquitlam, and in fact Western British Columbia, as she will be the largest ship to be built on the Pitt or Fraser rivers."

Mr. W. E. Brittain, the popular travelling salesman, met with a very serious accident this week. While attending to some work he had to do in his stable on Sunday evening dark, he stumbled over some obstruction in the stable and fell on his face. Although he bears only a slight scar on his face from the fall, yet he has been in an unconscious state a greater part of the time since the accident. We are pleased to report his condition, this morning as we go to press, much improved.

Coquitlam Star: "What is believed to be the only galvanizing plant in British Columbia has just been installed at the Port Coquitlam shipyards. The plant is working to the complete satisfaction of Mr. L. D. Shafner, and the skilled operator in charge of the plant. The latter was brought over from Nova Scotia. The recent addition to the already extensive plant will be used for the immersion of ironwork and other fittings used on the vessels constructed at the yards. The progress gives the articles an immediate coating which prevents corrosion in all weathers. It is the intention of the Company to do galvanizing work for outside firms in the near future."

Carnival at the B. A. A. C. Rink

The Calithumpian Carnival at the Bridgetown A. A. C. Rink last Monday evening, was the most successful event that has been held at the rink this season. There was a good attendance, a large number in costume, many of the costumes being very "showy" and quite grotesque. The ice was in good condition and the atmosphere was just the right temperature to make outdoor skating a pleasure. Mrs. Kenneth Dodge won the first prize for the most ridiculous ladies' costume, and Mr. Kenneth Dodge the gent's first prize. During the evening a mile race between Geo. Dechman of the B. A. A. C. and Mike Miller of Annapolis caused a good deal of interest, Dechman winning the contest by over a lap. The Bridgetown Band was in attendance and gave added pleasure to the occasion. Below we give the names of those in costume as handed to us by the A. A. C. though the list is not complete.

In variety is the spice of life we of Deep Brook have been well seasoned as to weather the past week. After very rough and cold conditions we arose on Saturday morning to find the mercury at 45, eaves dripping and a peculiar rosy haze over the landscape. Sun warm in the forenoon and heavy rain during the afternoon and night took away the snow. On Sunday lowering temperature, high wind and light snow fall and this (Monday) morning mercury at zero.

Mr. Charles Chute was taken suddenly ill with hemorrhage of the lung. Although some better, he is still in a weak condition. Dr. Archibald is in attendance.
Our day school is doing good work under the direction of Miss Hattie Wentzell. The young people should take advantage of this opportunity and go and learn while we have such a good teacher with us.

An enjoyable event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Apt on Saturday evening, 24th, when a large party of friends and neighbors gathered at their spacious home for a surprise on the twenty-second anniversary of their marriage. On behalf of the friends present, Mr. Edward Johns presented Mr. Apt with a fine quartered oak writing desk and chair, in a few well chosen remarks, to which Mr. Apt made fitting response. The evening was happily spent in readings, games, songs and music. Refreshments in ice cream, cake, etc., were also served, closing with "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Hon. David Laird Dies at Ottawa After Brief Illness

Was Indian Commissioner for the Dominion—Had Notable Career.

Ottawa, Jan. 12.—The Hon. David Laird, Indian Commissioner for Canada, died at his residence here this morning after an illness of a few days. He contracted a chill while at his office last Tuesday, and bronchitis developed. He was eighty years of age and known as a statesman from the Atlantic to the Pacific. He was one of the builders of Canada, having been largely instrumental in bringing Prince Edward Island into the Dominion in 1873. He was also an ex-Minister of the Interior and ex-Governor of the Northwest Territories. Mrs. Mathieson, wife of the Premier of Prince Edward Island, is a daughter and was at his bedside when the end came.

The late Hon. David Laird was of Scottish descent, being fourth son of the late Alexander Laird, who came to Prince Edward Island in 1819. He was born in New Glasgow, P. E. I., March 12th, 1833, and was educated in the Presbyterian Theological Seminary. In 1864 he married Louisa, daughter of the late Hon. Thomas Owen. Mrs. Laird died in 1895.

From 1871 to 1873 he resided at Belfast in the local House of his native province. In the latter year he joined the Haythorne administration, and was a delegate to Ottawa to conclude the negotiations for the entrance of Prince Edward Island into the Dominion. On the consummation of that event in 1873 he was elected to the House of Commons, and held office as Minister of the Interior in the Mackenzie administration up to the time of his appointment as first lieutenant governor of the Northwest Territories in October, 1876. His term of office expired in December, 1881, when he returned to Prince Edward Island, and in the following year was defeated for the House of Commons in Queens. He was also an unsuccessful candidate for Saskatchewan at the general elections of 1887. After his return to Charlottetown he established the Charlottetown Patriot, which he edited and published for many years. In 1898 he was appointed Indian Commissioner for Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, and so remained until his removal to Ottawa as Indian Commissioner four years ago. While in office he concluded several treaties with the Indians whereby their title to considerable portions of their lands became extinct and reverted to the Crown, to the advantage of both. He was known among the Indians as the "big chief," and was the author of various papers on Indian treaties. He was a commissioner to inquire into the Dorchester penitentiary, 1898, and president of the Manitoba Historical and Scientific Society 1903-4.

The children of the late Hon. David Laird are: D. B., manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Amherst, N.S.; Dr. A. G., Wisconsin University; W. C., former business manager Manitoba "Free Press," and Harold, Indian Affairs Department, Grouseau, Sask., and Mrs. Mathieson, wife of Premier Mathieson, of P. E. I., and Mrs. D. H. Laird, of Winnipeg, daughters.

The remains will leave here tomorrow via Grand Trunk for interment at Charlottetown.

GASOLENE FROM NATURAL GAS IN ALBERTA?

A few months ago a "white oil" was struck in an oil well at Black Diamond, near Okotoks, Alberta. It consisted largely of gasoline of such purity that it has been successfully used in its raw state for driving an automobile. At a higher horizon in this well, a flow of 2,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day was obtained.

There are two hundred plants in the United States making gasoline from natural gas. The yield is determined largely by the quantity of liquid paraffin vapours in the permeant temperature conditions in the gas, and is further affected by well, the gasoline content of the oil, and the intimacy of contact between the oil and gas. Such rapid expansion of gas from a casing head has been known to occur as to cause a heavy condensation of vapours at the point of egress.

The above considerations suggest that the possibility of manufacturing gasoline from the natural gas, which occurs in such enormous quantities in Alberta, is a matter well worthy of investigation. There would undoubtedly be a large market for the gasoline produced, and after its extraction the residual gas would be rich in methane and ethane and have a high heating value.—W. J. PUT BAD LUNG IN "SPLINT"

New Cure, Involving Use of Air and Air-Pump, Investigated by Federal Service.

Washington, Jan. 13.—A new method of treating tuberculosis is being investigated by the Public Health Service through experiments at Fort Stanton, N. M., and officials of the service tonight said they hoped for important results. The method is known as artificial or induced pneumothorax. Air is pumped into the patient's pleural cavity every day or two to maintain pressure, and the results watched by means of X-rays to ascertain the extent to which the diseased lung is compressed. The lung, figuratively, is put into an "air splint" and nature given a chance to cure. The reports so far tell only of the progress of the experiments, and the officials, while optimistic, said it was too early to prophesy. They are inclined to believe, however, that it may prove effective in any stage of disease.

Wonderful Hair

Clean and free from dandruff and possessing all the radiance of perfect hair. This is just what Sagine means to those who suffer with itching scalp, dandruff, coarse, dry or common looking hair. Sagine is new life to faded unattractive hair. Sagine feeds the hair roots with the necessary food for promoting a healthy growth. Sagine is the daintiest tonic you could wish for. It is not a dye and is not sticky or greasy. A large shaker-top bottle costs only 50c. and Mr. W. A. Warren gives his personal guarantee to refund the money if you are not entirely satisfied. Be sure to go to W. A. Warren's drug store, as other stores cannot supply you.

REPORT OF ATTENDING PHYSICIANS COUNTY INSTITUTIONS.

To the Warden and Councilors of the Municipality of Annapolis County Gentlemen:
We beg to present our annual report of statistics of the County Hospital and County Home.

COUNTY HOSPITAL.

Number of patients at beginning	10
Admitted during the year	36
Died	5
Discharged	0
Patients at close of year	51

COUNTY HOME

Number at beginning of year	35
Admitted during the year	27
Birthe	2
Discharged	22
Died	9
Inmates at close of year	53

The past twelve months has been much as other years at these Institutions. The general health of the inmates has been very good. The deaths in most cases have been in the old and feeble. Regular medical visits have been made throughout the year. Of the improvements suggested heretofore we have received during the past year telephone connection with the town at night; we have yet to get the electric light to replace the lighting with oil lamps, to still more lessen the danger from fire. The patients at the Hospital and the inmates at the Home have been kindly cared for by those in charge and are very grateful for the kindness shown them.

Faithfully yours,
L. G. DEBLOIS,
M. E. ARMSTRONG,
Attending Physicians.

Concrete Hog Houses and Feeding Floors
Enable you to raise bigger hogs and better pork without heavier feeding. A concrete feeding floor permits the animals to clean up all the feed without waste, and eliminates the possibility of your hogs contracting disease. To you they mean bigger profits.
Hog houses of concrete are sanitary, easily cleaned, maintain an even temperature and give plenty of light and air, which tend to better the quality of pork. Concrete will not rust or rot. Never needs repairs or painting. It will outwear any other material for farm structures. Write for this beautifully illustrated free book "What the Farmer can do with Concrete." It shows how to build Hog Houses, Feeding Floors and many other things the farmer needs.
