HON. J. D. HAZEN NEW CHIEF JUSTICE OF THE PROVINCE

Announcement Comes From Ottawa; Appointment of Hon. Mr. Pugsley as Governor Also Has Been Made

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—Hon. William Pugsley has been appointed lieutenant-governor of New Brunswick. Hon. J. D. Hazen has been appointed chief justice of New Brunswick.

The announcement from Ottawa that Hon. Mr. Hazen has been appointed chief justice of the supreme court of New Brunswick adds another to the list of surprises which the political situation has produced recently. Taking it for granted that Mr. Hazen was to be appointed special Canadian commissioner in Washington, it was expected that Hon. J. B. M. Baxter would be appointed to the bench, with consequent promotions for Chief Justice McKewen and Mr. Justice White. The appointment of Hon. Mr. Hazen puts these plans in the discard.

JOHN MITCHELL DEAD Former Prominent Merchant Passed Away Today—One of Opera House Promoters

John Mitchell, formerly a prominent King street merchant, died this morning at his home, 114 Douglas avenue. Mr. Mitchell, who had attained the age of seventy-four years, had not been in good health for several years, but illness which resulted in his death lasted only three days.

He was a son of the late John Mitchell of this city, one of the leaders among the skilled carvers whose handwork added to the beauty of the clipper craft made at this port. As a young man Mr. Mitchell engaged in the retail shoe business in King street, and continued in business until about thirty years ago when he retired and removed to Rothesay. He made his home in Rothesay until his death, but he moved to the city. Mr. Mitchell was active among the promoters of the St. John Opera House and for many years was vice-president of the company.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, Stuart S. of this city and Arthur, in the United States. The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from 114 Douglas avenue.

MONTREAL DISTRICT HAS RUSH AS EXEMPTION TIME DRAWS TO CLOSE Montreal, Nov. 6.—Registration under the Military Service Act showed signs of speeding up yesterday, the close approach of the last day for filing exemption papers being the reason. Yesterday 2,660 men registered in this district. Of these seventy-five waived exemption. If this pace is maintained, this week should double last week's total registration. The medical boards are sitting every evening. So far the registrations total 20,000 out of the 60,000 eligibles in this district.

ST. JOHN MEN IN CASUALTY LIST

(Continued from page 1.) Private Joyce went overseas as a member of the 14th Battalion, and soon after his arrival in England he was sent to France as a member of a draft from that unit for a Canadian Mounted Rifle unit. Michael Joyce, now in France, a member of a local infantry battalion is a brother, and Private Vincent Joyce, who recently arrived home from the front is another. Private Vincent Joyce was severely wounded in the leg and as a result of his wounds he had to have his leg amputated.

Word was received this morning by Mrs. Jennie Killorn of 20 Erin street, that her son, Private Matthew Gerard Killorn, was at No. 14 General Hospital, Wimereux, suffering from contusion of the buttock. Private Killorn went overseas with the 140th Battalion and was transferred to another regiment. He has been one year in the trenches and only on last Saturday the family received a letter from him stating that he expected to go up the line again. His brother, James Leo, is home after service in France with the original 29th.

Lieut. N. C. Christie

Warren Christie, of Amherst, has word from Ottawa that Lieut. Norman Cahill Christie is officially reported killed in action on October 28.

Lieut. Christie was the youngest son of the late Charles Christie, and was born in Amherst, N. S., in 1887. He married Miss Ethel Chase, of Minneapolis, who is now there with her parents. Besides his wife, he is survived by his mother, one sister, Emily, and one brother, Warren, in Amherst. He was a member of The Christie Trunk and Bag Company.

On Oct. 18, 1915, he enlisted as a private with the 88th Nova Scotia Highlanders in the front line of the 1915. He was an excellent work he was recommended to take an officer's course. He received his commission in Feb., 1916, with the 189th. He spent some time at River Hebert training the enlisted men in that vicinity.

He was trained at Halifax, Aldershot, N. S., and White's Hall, England, on the breaking up of the 189th he was transferred to the 140th Battalion, and later assigned to the Royal Flying Corps, and for three months was flying in France. On medical advice he ceased flying and was transferred to the 85th.

In talking of his service with his brother, Warren, he said, "Of course, I must go, and I feel that I can go easier than you."

He was a member of the First Battalion in Amherst, and of Alexander Lodge, A. F. and A. M., and the Amherst Curling Club. As a business man he was highly esteemed, and his death came as a shock to his host of admiring friends.

REAL FOOD CONTROL

Halifax Chronicle—From New York word comes that dealers, anticipating the results of the food administration action in licensing those who sell foodstuffs, have referred to the market, the prices on certain commodities, notably beef, potatoes, onions and eggs. The reduction in price on various cuts of beef is given as from four to seven cents a pound. Eggs from cold storage—the warehouses being glutted—are quoted at 85 to 88 cents a dozen. The people are waiting for something like this to happen in Canada and they are tired waiting.

GERMANY WORRIED ABOUT TRADE AFTER WAR

Copenhagen, Nov. 6.—In the midst of the general exultation in Germany over the victory over the Italian and Riga fronts, and the demands for revision of the peace programme in accordance with the new war map, German business circles are beginning to obey the injunction to consider the commercial map as well.

An increasing amount of attention is devoted by the newspapers to the growing difficulties of re-establishing German foreign trade. The ordinary writing machines are beginning to obey the injunction to consider the commercial map as well.

YOUR NEEDS OF TODAY

Heretofore the ordinary writing machine was mainly used for letters. True, figures also formed part of the keyboard and were as readily used, but mainly for dates and quotations.

It remained for the L. C. Smith Typewriter Co. to embody this most valuable device as an actual part of this new Silent Model Typewriter, thus giving you an invaluable service not rendered by others. Would not a demonstration be interesting? Soule's Typewriter Co.

NEARER TO WAR

Rio Janeiro, Nov. 6.—The foreign relations committee of the chamber of deputies has passed a resolution favoring the proclamation of a state of siege.

RAMIFICATIONS OF BOLOISM GROW IN NUMBER DAILY

Charge of Blackmail Laid Against Senator Humbert of Le Journal; Prisoner His Accuser

Paris, Nov. 6.—The investigation of what has become known as "Boloism," in all its ramifications, which grew in number daily, is progressing slowly. Masses of testimony are being brought out, however, and the newspapers are printing columns of matter daily in a vain endeavor to keep pace with these developments, and are giving space to interviews with new persons brought in on account of direct or indirect connection with one or other of the cases centered around Le Journal.

Today's principal developments were two in number, Senator Humbert of Le Journal, announced that he had waived his parliamentary immunity in respect to the charge made against him by Pierre Lenoir, the former employee of the censorship bureau accused of trading with the enemy. Lenoir himself was brought out from his cell into court to complete the formalities in the laying of this charge, which is one of blackmail against Senator Humbert, Jean Leymarie and Captain Ladoux.

Leymarie was a high official in the ministry of the interior, who figured in an unauthorized return of a check taken from M. Duval, director of the Bonnet, Louvre, before Duval's arrest on the charge of supplying the enemy with information. Captain Ladoux was one of Lenoir's superiors at the telegraphic censorship bureau.

Lenoir alleges that these three got him into Leymarie's office at the ministry of the interior and there threatened to denounce him as a deserter unless he agreed to sell his shares in Le Journal to Senator Humbert.

The judicial authorities are unable to open an investigation into these charges until the senate votes authorization, which in view of the senator's consent will be a matter of form.

The second development is a despatch from the Petit Journal's correspondent at Zurich, stating that the other directors of the Schaashausen and Derendingen spinning mills, alarmed at the revelations of Arthur Schoeller's connection with the Lenoir case, called upon Schoeller for an explanation, and in the presence of M. M. Koch and Hoffmann, representing the company, Schoeller admitted that the sum of $500,000 francs resulted to Lenoir for the purchase of Le Journal was of German origin and destined to uphold German economic interests for the after-the-war campaign. The admission, according to the despatch, was accompanied by Schoeller's resignation of his directorship in the company.

A collateral development came today in the action of the committee of the syndicate of the Parisian Press a professional organization, which includes the managing editors of the principal newspapers irrespective of their political opinion in passing unanimously a strongly worded resolution protesting against their government's treatment of L'Action Francaise in connection with the "pretended plot against the state."

The organization renews its previous protest against abuses of the censorship, which by stopping the publication of official documents issued by the Allied countries, keeps public opinion in ignorance of essential facts of the war.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the fingers.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone. Apply a few more applications until completely dissolved and entirely destroyed every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

OLD FOLKS NEED "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER, BOWELS

Salts, Calomel, Pills. Act On Bowels Like Pepper Acts in Nostrils

Enjoy Life! Don't Stay Bilious, Sick, Headachy and Constipated

Get a 10-cent box now. Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets, and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

Too Nervous To Sleep

Nerves Wrecked by Accident Was Aired to Go in a Crowd or to Stay Alone—Tells of His Cure.

London, Nov. 4.—Much sympathy was felt in this city for Mr. Dorsey, who met with a distressing accident when his foot was smashed in an elevator.

The shock to the nervous system was so great that he was unable to get into a pitiable condition for a long time. He was like a child in that he required his mother's care in nearly all the details of his life. He feared a crowd, could not stay alone and could not sleep because of the weakened nerves.

Detroit doctors did what they could for him, but he could not get back his strength and vigor until he fortunately heard of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

It is no mere accident that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food proves to be exactly what is needed in so many cases of exhausted nerves. It is composed of the ingredients which nature requires to form new blood and to reconstitute the system. For this reason it cannot fail and for this reason it succeeds where ordinary medicines fail.

Mr. Lawrence E. Dorsey, 89 Stanley street, London, Ont., writes: "About three years ago I got my foot smashed in an elevator in Detroit, which completely wrecked my nerves. I doctored with the doctors there, but they did not seem to be able to help me. My nerves were in such a state that I could not go down town alone, or go any place where there was a crowd of people. My nerves would have to sit and watch over me at night, and sometimes I could not get any sleep at all. But one day last week I commenced using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and before I had completely used the first box I could see a difference in my condition. I continued using these pills for some time. The result was splendid. I feel so much better, can sleep well at night, and in one day I can attend gatherings like the rest of people. I am so pleased to be able to tell you that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done for me, and to recommend it to other people."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, a full treatment of 6 boxes for $2.75, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Do not be misled by cheap imitations. Imitations only disappoint.

How to Remove Wrinkles Quickly

If the average woman only knew it, it is not at all difficult to prevent wrinkles from coming. Every woman has a certain amount of skin, and practically every one has experienced wrinkles. The wrinkles are not the result of age, but of the way the skin is treated.

As a matter of fact the most effective remedy in the world is one that any woman can easily make up herself at home. It is a simple matter to make one ounce of pure powdered milk, which is the best of all skin treatments, and dissolve it in a half pint of which head. After this has been prepared, rub the solution to the face every day for a week. The wrinkles are surprising and instantaneous. Even after the very first application a marked improvement is apparent. The wrinkles are less in evidence and the face has a comfortable, snug feeling of freshness that is most delightful.

Big Eaters Get Kidney Trouble

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard conscientiously against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out. They weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline of health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night, if you suffer with aching joints, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

CHATHAM ALDERMEN ON BRIBERY CHARGE

Chatham, Nov. 6.—The trial of Aldermen F. H. Brisco, F. E. Baxter and C. S. Coatsworth, members of the council, accused of conspiracy to solicit a bribe of $5,000 from the Chatham Gas Company, were placed on trial today at the court house, when P. S. Coate, one of the many witnesses for the prosecution, took the stand and related the alleged negotiations that had been entered into by the company officials and the three councillors. He testified that the aldermen had originally favored the proposition whereby the city proposed to purchase the electrical business of the company. Later, he said, Aldermen Coatsworth and Brisco had informed him that $50,000 was too much to pay and they suggested $30,000 to $35,000 as more suitable. In response to a message over the telephone, he had gone to see Ald. Baxter, who said that they wanted some consideration for their vote, and if this was given they would burn the petitions which had been largely signed by rate-payers protesting against the deal. Later, the witness said, he had informed Mayor Kerr of the plan and it was decided to catch the aldermen.

A meeting was arranged with Ald. Coatsworth, when Mr. Coate said that the former said that they wanted $30,000 to be split equally between them. City Clerk Merritt also gave evidence respecting the proposed deal and many other witnesses will be called by the Crown and the defence.

Scones.
Two cups flour.
Four teaspoons baking powder.
Two teaspoons sugar.
One-half teaspoon salt.
Four tablespoons shortening.
One egg.
One-third cup milk.
Mix and sift together flour, baking powder, sugar, and salt. Rub in shortening with tips of fingers, add egg well beaten (reserving a small amount of unbeaten white), and milk. Toss on a quartered board, pat, and roll to three-quarters inch in thickness. Cut in squares, brush with reserved white, sprinkle with sugar, and bake in a hot oven fifteen minutes.

Apple Dumplings.
Make a crust as for tea biscuits, using butter instead of lard. Roll to a quarter of an inch. Cover with a layer of finely sliced apples. Sprinkle over with sugar and cinnamon. Sew this into dumplings. Put in a hot oven for ten minutes.

WOMEN HELPING VICTORY BONDS

Women's organizations to sell Victory Bonds are springing up all over Canada and in Montreal many women have pledged themselves to help their servants by bonds.

This will be done by subscribing on behalf of the servant. The mistress pays for the bond in the usual instalments called for by the government while the servant pays at the rate of $1 a week out of her wages. Thus at the end of the year the servant has $50 bonds fully paid for and has a little nest egg, with her money in the safest investment on earth.

Some of the women's organizations are going to make an aggressive canvass among women's clubs and individual members.

They are planning entertainments and various social events, and the scheme in some cases is to buy Victory Bonds for charitable institutions.

In the States and England the women have played a very prominent part in making the war loans a success. The moving pictures recently have shown thousands of American women marching in the Liberty Loan parades.

MEN'S CLOTHING DEPARTMENT

MAY WE SHOW YOU SOMETHING DIFFERENT?

Come to the Veiling Department. We have something different in Veils. We shall not tell you what they are. You must come and see them. But—just a hint—they are

Van Raalte Veils

Absolutely the last word of fashion. Beautiful, becoming, and they stretch without tearing—wash without wearing—outlast three ordinary veils.

COME AND SEE SOMETHING DIFFERENT!

Few Register For Active Service

New Brunswick Showing Slightly Better Than Average

Returns received by the Military Service Council, up to and including Saturday, for the entire Dominion, show that only 7.79 per cent of those liable under the act have reported for service. In New Brunswick the percentage of those reporting for service is 10.82. Quebec is at the bottom with a percentage of 0.66. Instead of nearly 2,000 names going through the registration office, which number was looked upon as a necessary daily average, in order that all those liable under the act in the province might register before the end of the week only 181 names were received yesterday. Six of these signed service cards and 125 filed exemption papers.

A total of twenty-one recruits were secured in the province last week. The county totals follow:—St. John, 14; Carleton 5, and York 2. There were no recruits in the ten other counties.

Casualties.

Word was received yesterday by Mrs. Edmund Williams, 160 Adelaide street, that her son, Driver Thibert Doyle Williams, had been wounded by gunshot in the left thigh and had been admitted to No. 11 Field Ambulance Hospital on October 24. Prior to going overseas he was formerly employed in Dearborn & Co's office here.

R. B. Travis, North End, received word yesterday that Lieutenant Douglas Aird, son of Hugh Aird, of Saskatoon, formerly a resident of this city, had been killed in action.

Word has been received in Halifax to the effect that Lieutenant John Egan Almon, of the Princess Pats has been killed in action. He was a son of the late Thomas R. Almon, M. D., and grandson of the late Senator Almon.

Acting Adjutant General.

It is understood in military circles in Ottawa that Brigadier-General E. C. Ashton, of the fifth division overseas, has been appointed acting adjutant-general in succession to Major-General S. C. McBurn, now minister of militia.

TO CONTROL NEWSPRINT

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—R. A. Pringle, K. C., government commissioner inquiring into the cost of newsprint, has been appointed controller of newsprint and book print for Canada.

His duties will include fixing of both quantities and prices of news and book print to be sold in the Dominion and he will co-operate with the United States authorities in securing adequate news print supplies.

THE BOSS OF THEM ALL IS ATLANTIC UNDERWEAR

It's made of rich, pure Maritime wool, spun and knitted into the warmest and best-wearing garments you can possibly buy.

It has no equal for strength and lasting ability—after years of testing under the hardest conditions.

The Atlantic Trademark is a sure sign of the best quality in men's underwear. It means your money's worth.

The Waltham Watch

Three different ways you can wear the Waltham Convertible Bracelet Watch

OBSERVE the little eye where the bracelet fastens on the watch illustrated above. This is a patented feature of the Waltham Convertible Bracelet Watch. It enables the watch to be worn on chain or bracelet as well as upon the wrist, as the disappearing eye folds back out of sight when not in use.

Ask Your Jeweler to show you the Waltham Convertible Bracelet Watch.

SHOCK HANDS WITH KING. Lieut. Grant Stephenson, U. S. N., of Milwaukee, son of Hon. Isaac Stephenson, Marinette, Wis., former United States senator, was portrayed in the act of shaking hands with King George of England in a recent issue of the London Illustrated News, which has just reached this country. The picture was taken on board an American patrol boat that has been in British waters since July. The king of England recently inspected the craft and on this occasion the photograph was taken. Curry Prescott, son of Fred M. Prescott, now head of the Prescott Company, Menominee, Mich., is associated with Lieutenant Stephenson on the same boat. Senator Stephenson has had a reproduction of the illustration made and it will be hung in his private office at Marinette.

SOLDIERS TO DO HANDICRAFT WORK

Demand for Hand Loom Products Has Given Rise to Plan For Returned Men

Montreal, Nov. 2.—The demand for the artistic products from hand looms for the villagers in Quebec and the maritime provinces, has given rise to a plan which disabled Canadian soldiers may find an occupation which not only affords a good living, but is within the scope of their diminished strength.

Capt. T. R. MacKeen, district vocational officer of the Military Hospitals Commission, conferring with Mrs. James Peck, for many years president of the Canadian Handicraft Guild, in Montreal, whose aim is to foster the artistic hand crafts of the peasant settlements in Canada, has made arrangements to teach the men textile weaving on hand looms as vocational training during their convalescence in the Military Convalescent hospitals. The start has been very successful among the men in the three hospitals in Montreal where "bed cases" are being treated.

Textiles in Demand. The demand for hand-woven textiles is increasing every day, not only for clothing but for artistic household furn-

PREPARE FOR FEW STORMY YEARS, ADVICE OF BANK PRESIDENT

Montreal, Nov. 5.—President William Molson MacPherson, of the Molson's Bank, in his address to the shareholders at the sixty-second annual meeting here today, referred to the expenditures for armaments and food supplies in connection with the war and suggested the duty of business men to prepare for the change that will come when the war is over.

That they can weather a few stormy years, should they come. The directors were re-elected as follows: William Molson MacPherson, Wm. M. Birks, W. A. Black, E. J. Chamberlain, F. W. Molson, George E. Drummond and S. H. Ewing. At a subsequent meeting of the directors Mr. MacPherson was re-elected president and S. H. Ewing, vice-president.

The total assets of the Molsons Bank are $65,780,218, an increase of $5,638,114 as compared with a year ago. Deposits are up $2,678,450, with $2,284,000 of the gain coming under the head of saving deposits.

Net profits are $615,514, an increase of $88,458 over the previous year and $99,321 higher than two years ago.

"My brother bought a motor here last week," said an angry man to the salesman that stepped up to greet him, and he said, "I'm sorry, but you will supply him with new parts."

"Certainly," said the salesman. "What does he want?" "He wants two Detroit muscles, a couple of kneecaps, one elbow and about half a yard of cuticle," said the man, and he wants them at once."

ings, and the market is waiting for the goods. The supply is far below the demand, and the appreciation of such materials by an ever increasing number of people insures the future of the trade.

As the Handicraft Guild markets the products of the scattered communities from coast to coast, paying the express charges from any point and returning the price intact to the producer, they are doing a noble work. A slight advance over the producer's price is asked from the customer.

Today homeopons are selling at three dollars a yard. They have no competition in factory made goods among discriminating purchasers, because of their tone and wearing qualities they are much superior.

Rugmaking and Basketry. Rugmaking and basketry are also handled by the Guild, and the fine basketry course is now under way in the Montreal General, and Royal Victoria Hospitals as well as at the Grey Nuns Convalescent Hospital, in which the M. H. C. has bed patients. In these hospitals four large looms, turning out thirty-six and forty inch materials are now being set up and many of the twenty-six small bed looms are working. The men are enthusiastic.

No Imperfect Work. No imperfect work is allowed. This standard has been the standard. Mr. H. Hey, an experienced hand craft instructor from Boston, and the men have entered into the spirit of the work with fine zest. The boys who started embroidery when they were first able to work a little each day, are fast in executing the needle work for the looms and basketry, and the specimens they are turning out are flawless.

Commercial Value Only. Nothing is to be sold for its sentimental value, according to the ruling made by Capt. MacKeen. True commercial worth, such as will withstand competition, must be the standard.

Throughout the United States as well as the Dominion, Canadian hand-woven textiles, rugs, curtains and bedcovers are being bought by the thousands. It is not able to attempt continuous or heavy work, artistic weaving and basketry are ideal, and offer a solution to one of the greatest problems of the commission, according to the vocational officers who are seeking occupations for disabled men.

Communities in suitable localities might be established with weaving as the chief occupation for the members, although a man could have a loom set up in his own home anywhere. Wherever he chooses to go buyers will make a road to his door through the agency of the Guild.

THE GROCERY MARKET. The following comment on the market situation as regards food stuffs appeared in the Canadian Grocer last week:

An outstanding feature in the grocery market during the week was the issue by the government of regulations respecting the sale of margarine. This information is ready for distribution. There was an eager tendency in butter during the week as a result of the possible advent on the Canadian market in the near future of this commodity.

There is a good demand for butter for export, but transportation space is scarce, and amount being shipped abroad is correspondingly curtailed. Eggs were in weaker tone to lack of shipping space and to the prevalence of heavy storage stocks on this continent. In poultry live birds were in better supply during the week and prices were slightly lower in consequence. Honey is scarce. In the Ontario market and prices have been increased as a result. Live hogs were quoted lower during the week and this is working out toward a weaker tendency for meat products. Compound lard and shortening are in firmer position due to the advancing market for cottonseed oil.

Advances in other grocery lines have been quite numerous and include jams, condensed milk, baking powder, cream of tartar, baking soda, cotton twine, cotton clothes lines, sardines, condensed coffee, and so on. The sugar market is still a topic of engrossing interest. Refiners are spreading their stocks among their customers to the best advantage, and wholesalers are in turn endeavoring to treat their customers in like manner. It is the hands of the retailer to see that his stocks are let out in a judicious manner. Package cereals is another commodity of very great interest in view of the stunt taken by the food controller that they shall be prohibited from sale after specified dates. Potatoes are in declining to higher levels, as indeed all vegetables are. Farmers are showing a disposition to hold their stocks for higher prices. Domestic fruits are in shortened supply and foreign fruits are again coming in more plentifully. Business is reported fairly good in the face of uncertainties that prevail with a respect to price regulation.

STAND AT THE TAGLIAMENTO

SERVED TURN

Crossing By The Enemy Had Been Foreseen

Italian Position Improves

Holding of River Not Essential Part of Cadorna's Plans—He Enforces Strict Discipline—Morale of Troops Improves

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Nov. 5.—(By the Associated Press) The crossing of the Tagliamento at Piave was not a surprise, as this had been foreseen from the heavy pressure the Austro-Germans were concentrating on the Italian left wing. The Tagliamento is only one of a series of defenses.

General Cadorna's main purpose was to retard the enemy's advance and to gain time for the Italians in which to rehabilitate and reorganize.

The river has served that useful purpose and the enemy is now faced by another main line of defense and other works. What line the Italians have chosen for their final stand cannot be indicated.

The fighting around the river has not been on a great scale, but the Austrians have crossed it, and it has been largely because they had to do with troops desperate for food. The situation is changing somewhat. The Italians have been re-entrenched and have had some rest. There are many signs that the morale of the men has improved and is becoming more cheerful. The arrival of reinforcements probably is all that is needed to turn them again into a stubbornly resisting force.

Reiterating that the eventuality of an enemy crossing at the Tagliamento had been foreseen, the correspondent adds that the supply of the river has not been an essential part of the Italian commander's plans.

Hardware Market. (Hardware and Metal, November 5.) Changes in hardware lines during the week have been numerous and important enough to make the movements of more than ordinary interest. A notable feature of market conditions has been the decline in prices of some commodities.

Lead pipes, such as white lead in oil and lead pipe and lead waste pipe, have registered declines, following the continued weakness in pig.

Blister zinc has also moved in a downward direction. Solvay coppers are quoted lower and farther from the market than has been the case. These changes are sufficient in scope to indicate that there has been a noticeable trend in the downward direction during the week.

On the other hand advances have been recorded in cotton products, such as cotton, cotton yarn, sashcord and clothes lines. Rivets and bolts, toilet paper, pine tar, dog chains, synthetic stones, brooms and other lines that have been moved to higher levels. The period is one of rapid transition. Retail hardware merchants are governing themselves accordingly and are buying only for their immediate requirements. However, the volume of wholesale business is good. There is a good demand for fall goods. A more pronounced demand has been noted for heating equipment since the advent of the recent cool weather.

OFFER FOR PLANT OF ACADIA SUGAR CO. BY MONTREAL MEN

(The Financial Post) Halifax.—The meeting of the shareholders of the Acadia Sugar Refining Company was held on Friday last in pursuance of the notice sent out, which has been published in The Financial Post. As to what occurred nothing has been officially given out. It is known, however, that one of the directors made a statement showing generally the financial position of the company but withholding details and that a shareholders' committee was appointed to meet with the directors, hear a full statement of affairs, and prepare a report to be submitted at a later meeting of the company. This committee is composed of F. K. Warren, W. A. Black, G. L. Stairs, L. K. Papsan, and George Hensley. The statement given to the shareholders showed that the company had three years of unprofitable business, that the present year is showing no improvement in this respect, and that the bank is insisting on a return of its loans, pointing out that present conditions cannot longer continue, and that the outlook for the holders of debentures is changing somewhat. The Italians have been re-entrenched and have had some rest. There are many signs that the morale of the men has improved and is becoming more cheerful. The arrival of reinforcements probably is all that is needed to turn them again into a stubbornly resisting force.

the whirl of a propeller drove the captain to rise and investigate. "It was a destroyer, or trawler, that rapidly drew away, and we prepared to get under way in direction of the base. However, our attention was drawn to another ship, a grey colored, very rapidly approaching vessel, and we decided to try our last torpedo if the chance offered itself.

A Long Range Shot. "We drew nearer the ship and nothing her size decided on a long range shot. The torpedo tore off in a dead line and was soon lost to sight. Some seconds later a huge column of water shot from the side of the vessel and we knew we had hit her.

"Our torpedo explosion was followed by another explosion of greater intensity and we thought the ship had been torpedoed by another diver as well. Later we decided it must have been caused by ammunition in the hold. As we drew nearer we were able to make out the name of the ship we had sunk and we were nearly paralyzed with the thought of what might await our commander at Wilhelmshaven.

A Mixed Greeting. "Our commander, von Hensing, got the wireless into play and reported the sinking. We were greeted in Wilhelmshaven by von Jagow (at that time foreign minister), and by von Tregler. The former gave von Hensing a scowl, the latter greeted him as one would greet a hero."

HERTLING MAY BE BUT WARMING SEAT FOR KAISER'S MAN

Unknown Candidate in Reserve For Peace Negotiations

Is an Anti-Progressive

Unnatural and Probably Temporary Division of Chancellorship and Premiership Causes Speculation

Copenhagen, Nov. 5.—The possibility is to be considered that Count von Hertling is intended only as a chancellor for an uncertain interval, and that hidden powers behind the scenes have desired to use him and Dr. Michaelis to keep the place warm for the candidate whom Professor Rudolf Valentini, chief of the Emperor's civil cabinet, had intimated the Emperor was keeping in reserve for the peace negotiations.

The fact that Count von Hertling's first conference after receiving the Emperor's offer was with Count von Westarp, the Conservative leader, has attracted comment. It is mentioned in connection with his Clerical-Conservative antecedents, his record in the Reichstag and his attitude regarding parliamentarism and Alsace-Lorraine, as showing that he can scarcely forget the past sufficiently to be a Progressive head of a modernized German administration.

The Tageblatt says the Radical and Socialist representatives consulted expressed their opinion as to his unsuitability directly to Count von Hertling.

The Lokal Anzeiger prints the report that Arnold Wahneschaffe, former under-secretary and chief of the imperial chancery under Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, is scheduled to return to a similar confidential position if Count von Hertling takes the chancellorship. The newspaper expresses the fear that this means the return of Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg's system.

Saying Michaelis' Fate.

The Berlin newspapers agree in stating that Count von Hertling was tendered only the post of imperial chancellor and not that of Prussian premier. According to a well-defined report it is supposed to retain Dr. Michaelis in the latter post to supervise the fate of the Prussian franchise reform measures and to diminish, as far as possible, the loss of prestige caused by him by his short tenure of office in the chancellorship. The Socialist newspaper Vorwaerts says it understands that the Prussian franchise measures have now been drafted and will be ready for submission to the Diet as soon as they receive the royal signature. It reports them as consisting of three separate bills, covering the change in the franchise requirements for the lower chamber, the reform of the House of Lords, and the extension of the budget rights of the lower house.

The franchise contemplated is based upon equal suffrage, but with extended residence qualifications, the newspaper explains. The bill for a general redistribution of the electoral districts will not be introduced at present, it is stated, but legislation providing for an extra member in twelve particularly large districts will be submitted.

The reform project in this form and at this time meets most of the objections raised by the advocates of the reform, who have been expressing fears that only a pretense of equal suffrage would be proposed and that a scheme

"Everything I Eat Turns to Gas—Stomach on Fire With Indigestion!"

Simple Anti-acid Taken With Meals Prevents Gas, Bloating, Belching, Heartburn, Sour Stomach and Acid Indigestion. Eat Freely Without Fear. No More Diet.

People who have "stomach trouble" and who suffer after nearly every meal from sour acid, gassy stomach, bloating, heartburn and indigestion should just try taking a couple of 5-grain bisurated magnesia tablets after their meals for a while and note results.

Medical men made a most important discovery in the treatment of stomach troubles when they found that practically every case of indigestion and dyspepsia was caused by the presence in the stomach of "too much acid." By using ordinary bisurated magnesia to neutralize this acid and sweeten the stomach the food digested naturally without causing trouble and digestive acids, like pepsin, etc., were no longer necessary. Bisurated Magnesia is a special form of refined magnesia which you should be most careful to insist upon. It does not digest food like pepsin but instead neutralizes or transforms the poisonous biting acid that has formed in your stomach and is causing you misery. Your digestive machinery, relieved of the hampering acid accumulation does its work without trouble. So remarkable is the action of bisurated magnesia in stopping stomach distress that as a rule the worst pain, burning or sour sensation will vanish within five minutes from the time it reaches the stomach. Any dyspeptic or stomach sufferer can prove this easily with a single trial and with perfect safety as bisurated magnesia is harmless and in this form is not a laxative. Get a Little Bisurated Magnesia from your druggist and try it at your very next meal and forget all fear of indigestion.

for delaying action for a year or more was contemplated.

Causes Grave Concern. A survey of the German press shows Count von Hertling's candidacy was regarded on all sides, except by his own party, as decidedly questionable, if not as a subject for grave concern.

The tone of the Radical and Socialist press indicates the probability that the appointment would not end the latest crisis, but would occasion its revival at an early date.

The regard of these two parties, despite the good impression made by the Count's procedure in consulting with their anxious foreign policy, and his decision, frankly oppose his elevation to the chancellorship because of his adverse attitude towards parliamentarism, his affiliations with the Conservative wing of the Clerical party, and the fear that his election may be a trick to split the present majority bloc and form a fresh non-Socialist bloc, with the Conservatives and Clericals as the leading elements. The proposal to retain Dr. Michaelis as Prussian premier serves to confirm them in this suspicion.

The Conservatives themselves take a most reserved attitude towards the candidacy of a man whose views on their ancestralist foreign policy are more than suspect, who is considered by them the reprehensible agent and representative in Germany of the far more reprehensible Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, and who would be totally unacceptable to them as Prussian premier, entrusted with the duty of reforming Prussian legislative institutions, should it ultimately be determined to appoint him to the double office.

Was Catholic Leader. Count von Hertling was for long years the leader of the Catholic League in the Reichstag. He was one of the few forcible and high-grade personalities among the non-Socialist representatives.

Even after his retirement from the Reichstag to become premier of Bavaria the count remained one of the guiding influences in the Catholic party, and as head of the government of the second largest federal state, he has played an important role in imperial affairs during the war. He supported Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg against the Conservative campaign for a long time, and when he withdrew his support, von Bethmann-Hollweg fell. The new chancellor's name has been anathema to the Pan-Germans of the Count von Reventlow stripe, owing to the belief that he is not their man as far as the annexation programme is concerned. Von Hertling and Foreign Minister von Kuehlinmann have been coupled in the Pan-German abuse, but von Hertling's Conservative orthodoxy concerning parliamentary reform may be sufficient to overthrow this prejudice. Much will depend on his attitude on Prussian franchise reform, concerning which he has been silent, on the ground that this is Prussia's own affair.

Dr. McAllister For Union Gov't

Dr. D. H. McAllister, who was nominated by the Liberals of Kings-Queens last May as their candidate in the approaching federal election, last night issued a statement in which he pledged himself unequivocally to the support of the union government. He announced that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's attitude regarding conscription left him no alternative.

Joseph Bainville, deputy speaker of the house of commons, has taken charge of the union government headquarters in Montreal and has announced that there will be a red campaign in the province of Quebec with a union candidate in every constituency.

Sir Robert Borden will issue today a manifesto further explaining the attitude of the union government.

War Trophies On Exhibition

Impressive Display In St. Andrew's Rink—Interesting Souvenirs—Formal Opening Last Evening

The war trophies exhibition which opened in the St. Andrew's rink yesterday proves to be one of the most interesting collections imaginable. The great array of articles from the battlefields of Europe give the observer a more accurate idea of some of the modern developments of the art of war than many columns of descriptive matter and the appearance of the exhibits, many of them showing the marks of actual warfare, help the observer to realize more fully than ever before what the men at the front are facing.

In addition to the battlefield relics, there are also other objects of interest connected with the war, notable among which is the large collection of war posters which interpret in graphic manner the war spirit of the various nations.

The first German gun captured by the Canadians, the famous French 75 and the war plane are among the largest articles which attracted much interest. The exhibition was informally opened yesterday afternoon but the formal opening did not take place until last evening at 8.30 o'clock, when His Worship Mayor Hayes introduced General A. H. Macdonnell, G. O. C., to the large crowd present. General Macdonnell made a short but appropriate speech in which he formally declared the exhibition opened. He briefly outlined the object of the exhibit saying that it was to educate and instruct the people of this country to what implements and schemes of warfare were being used in Europe and to

SAYS ENGLISH GRAND MASONIC LODGE IS RESPONSIBLE FOR CONSCRIPTION ACT

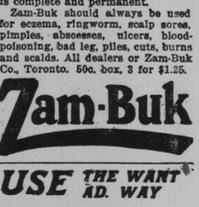

Mayor Martin of Montreal Declares That Body Passed The Word To Premier Borden—Martin Not To Be Commens Candidate

Montreal, Nov. 6.—The Grand Lodge of Free Masons of England is responsible for the Canadian conscription act, according to Mayor Martin, who told a Liberal gathering in St. Mary's division last night that the grand lodge passed the word to Sir Robert Borden and as a result the Military Service Act came into being.

Mayor Martin announced that he would no longer represent St. Mary's division in the House of Commons, as he intended to run again for mayor next spring and would be occupied with city business from fourteen to sixteen hours a day. He named Dr. Deslaurier as his successor. Dr. Deslaurier accepted.

REAL VALUE

is based, not on the price paid for a commodity, but on the benefit derived. This is why Zam-Buk is the cheapest skin healer on the market—because the benefit derived is 50% greater than can be got from ordinary ointments. This is due to the fact that Zam-Buk is all medicine—100%. Ordinary ointments are 5% medicine and the balance animal fat. The superiority of Zam-Buk is proved by the many cases of chronic skin trouble and old sores which yield to the power of Zam-Buk after all other treatments have failed. The unusual power of penetration which Zam-Buk possesses enables it to reach the underlying tissue, where skin troubles have their "root." Then the germicidal properties in Zam-Buk destroy all germs. Until this is done healing can never be thorough. The reason why sores that have been treated with ordinary ointments break out again is because the remedy has never got to the seat of the trouble, but has only healed over the outer skin. Zam-Buk, on the contrary, uproots skin diseases, and the cure is complete and permanent. Zam-Buk should always be used for eczema, ringworm, scalp sores, pimples, abscesses, ulcers, blood-poisoning, bad leg, piles, cuts, burns and scalds. All dealers or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

The Military Service Act 1917. Don't Delay! Do it TODAY! THE MILITARY SERVICE ACT is passed; the Proclamation issued October 13th. It is now the bounden duty of every man in Class One to report for service or claim exemption. This includes all bachelors and widowers without children (not otherwise excepted) who were 20 years old on the 13th October, 1917, and whose 34th birthday did not occur before January 1st, 1917. What to do: Go to your Post Office and ask for the form for reporting for service or for claiming exemption. Beware of the Last Minute Rush: With so many thousands of reports and claims to be dealt with, the rush of Class One Men will grow heavier day by day. The law is being enforced with the Government and the People firmly behind it. Obey the law. Do it today. Issued by The Military Service Council.

JAPAN AND UNITED STATES REACH ACCORD OVER CHINA AND WAR CO-OPERATION

Important Announcement By Secretary of State Lansing—German Intrigue Overcome

Washington, Nov. 5.—Japan and the United States have reached a complete agreement in regard to China and at the same time have arrived at a clear understanding as to military, naval and economic co-operation in the war against Germany.

This important development was announced today by Secretary of State Lansing who made public notes exchanged by him and Viscount Ishii, special Japanese ambassador, formally recording an agreement recognizing that Japan has a special interest in China, but pledging the independence and territorial integrity of the great eastern republic.

and reaffirming the doctrine of the "open door" for commerce and industry. In a statement accompanying the note, Mr. Lansing said that Viscount Ishii and the members of his mission, now on their way home, had performed a service of the highest value to the United States as well as to Japan, by clearing away misunderstandings, which, if unchecked, promised to develop a serious situation in the Far East. He spoke of an attitude of constraint and doubt fostered by a campaign of falsehood adroitly and secretly carried on by the Germans, and said that, through the frankness and cordiality of the Japanese commissioners, the propaganda of years had been undone in a few days.

ONLY ONE MAN LOST IN HIS PLATOON IN THE GERMAN BARAGE

London, Nov. 5.—Private N. Androle, a former member of the Canadian immigration staff, in a hospital at Leith, Scotland, wounded, gives some interesting details of the advance at Ypres. He spoke of going over the top with a famous imperial division.

"We were in the centre attacking line," he said. "When we got up to the first line we found no trenches at all, just mud and shell holes. Our first job was to dig ourselves in before daylight. We had had an eighteen mile march before this, so you can guess we were pretty tired when we had finished. We held on there, all that day under very heavy fire in positions only taken from Fritz the day previously.

"Then we were warned to be ready to attack at daybreak. We were ready at four o'clock the next morning with bayonets fixed and rifles loaded. A red rocket went up in the half darkness and in another instant a true hell was let loose from thousands of guns. It was a creeping barrage and was lifted every minute after the first minute.

"We went over before our barrage had properly put the wind-up to Fritz, who blasted away with heaps of machine guns and rifles as we ran toward his first line. Our casualties were amazingly small. While getting through his barrage we only lost one man in our platoon, for instance. Then we reached his first line, which was very soon taken, for Fritz just threw everything down and ran. Then we went for his second line, where I caught my bit. I was first shot through the foot, the bullet entering the top and coming out just through the ankle.

"I was caught afterwards in the arm and could not get back. Fritz' barrage having become very heavy, so I made for a shell-hole in the open where I stopped all that day and the next night I was covered with mud and blood when I was picked up and taken to a dressing station."

As the train neared the city the colored porter approached the jovial faced gentleman, saying with a smile: "Shall I brush you off, sah?" "No," he replied, "I prefer to get off in the usual manner."—Puck.

View of the Field After Hun Retreat

Enemy Still Hold Northern Sops Of Ailette Valley

A FAMOUS LITTLE RIVER

Villages Reduced To Ruins, Whole Countryside Torn Up By Shells—Wander Is That Troops Could Hold On There

French Front in France, Nov. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The Germans still hold the northern slope of the valley of the Ailette after their retreat from the Chemin des Dames of which nothing remains but the stony name and its dominating position over the marshy lowlands. The famous little river would scarcely be worth marking on an ordinary map, as its greatest breadth is only about three yards. The Germans had made many passes over the stream, all of which were destroyed when the last man of their leading forces went over.

French patrols every where reached the southern bank, whenever they attempted to attain the other side they met with a murderous machine gun fire. The whole southern slope of the valley was swept hour after hour on Sunday with German shells, most of them charged with noxious gases. Every place where the Germans believed the French were concentrating received continuous salvos, which, however, did little damage.

The correspondent approached the front lines, and a splendid view could be obtained right along the valley and over the ground for the possession of which the German Crown Prince's army has spilled so much blood. Scarcely a short distance away, well within machine gun range, could be observed the ruins of the villages of Chamouille, Neuville, Chermisey, Bouconville and Vaulerex, while along the crest of the plateau could be discerned here and there faint traces of what once had been the Chemin des Dames, now a mere collection of deep shell craters running into each other.

Below this road on the northern side the gaping mouths of great tunnels opened, and was difficult to understand how the troops held on under the incessant bombardments. There was not an inch of ground, even at the most sheltered, and now, with the heavy autumn mists and frequent rains, the ground has been foundered into a sticky mass of punishment. The great mounds, known as Casemates and California plateau, stand out boldly, making the plain plain why both sides fought so obstinately for their possession.

Returning to the rear, the correspondent found the villages of Craonne, Craonnelle and Oulches just a heap of stones, even at a distance of yards having been churned into mud.

Meanwhile, over on the other side, the French troops are trying to close contact with the Germans whose intentions cannot yet be devised. Their shell fire, although heavy, appears to come from only a few scattered batteries, the intervals between which are held by machine guns.

General Mewburn Denies Criticism of Sir Edward Kemp

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—Major-General S. C. Mewburn, minister of militia, gives a statement to the Canadian Press regarding his alleged criticism of the administration of the militia department by his predecessor in office, Sir Edward Kemp.

General Mewburn absolutely denies that he in any way criticized the administration of Sir Edward Kemp. What he said was that he always thought that the sending of complete units overseas in 1916 was a mistake; that reinforcing drafts should have been sent overseas instead of complete units. Regarding the Canadian conscription force scheme, General Mewburn said that he urged the government to fill this force under the terms of the militia act, by compulsion, and that he said at the inception that he did not believe it could be filled by voluntary enlistment, and that during his tour through the country he was completely convinced that it was impossible to get men, either for overseas or for home defence, except by compulsion.

Instead of criticizing Sir Edward Kemp's administration, he says that he has always eulogized him for the magnificent work he did in the department during the short tenure of his office, and that there were many things that he accomplished during his tenure of office that the public generally does not appreciate.

General Mewburn says that, if in the account of his speech he was made to criticize the administration of his predecessor, he was entirely misquoted. Any criticisms made by him were directed at military conditions which have grown up since the beginning of the war, which could not be and were not by him attributed to Sir Edward Kemp's administration.

SAY INSURANCE RATES TOO HIGH

The board of trade wants an investigation into the rate of insurance charged by the fire insurance underwriters in this district, and at its monthly meeting held last evening appointed a committee to look into the matter. The question was introduced by F. A. Dykeman, who read a long paper dealing with fire insurance conditions as they exist in St. John. At the conclusion of his paper, he moved that the board be requested to investigate the rates charged for fire insurance in the district of St. John, and if it was found necessary, to move a readjustment of the rates. This resolution was carried unanimously and a committee composed of F. A. Dykeman, R. B. Emerson, E. A. Schofield, H. W. Rising and A. P. Peterson, was appointed to make the investigation.

The annual nominations for officers and council were made last evening and the elections will take place at the first meeting in December. For president, A. H. Wetmore was the unanimous nomination, and will be the president again next year. J. B. Cudlip, who was vice-president during the past year, was re-elected by acclamation. The members nominated for the council for the next year were H. C. Schofield, F. W. Thompson, R. M. Fowler, W. F. Burditt, R. B. Emerson, H. P. Robinson, J. A. Kennedy, J. A. Likely, George E. The Investment Value of Canada's Victory Bonds. THE purchase of Victory Bonds means a distinct benefit to the buyer. To obtain the money with which to buy bonds may involve much self-denial and even some sacrifice. But there is nothing but benefit to you in buying Victory Bonds because your money is loaned on the very highest security, and it earns a high rate of interest. LET us work it out like this: Suppose you carried a hundred dollar bill in your pocket-book for fourteen years, what would you have at the end of that time? Just one hundred dollars, and no more. Suppose on the other hand you invested one hundred dollars in Canada's Victory Bonds, what would it mean to you, merely in money, at the end of fourteen years? It would mean that your hundred dollars would be just about doubled—because every six months you would receive a sum of interest-money, which in fourteen years, if saved and compounded, at ordinary bank interest, would equal the original cost of the bond, and you would also have the bond, worth a hundred dollars. That is the mere dollars and cents meaning to you of one hundred dollars invested in Victory Bonds. And there are no Dominion taxes on this issue Victory Bonds, nor will there be any. AND then suppose you have right now, a little nest egg of say $500, and you put it all into Victory Bonds, —and suppose as the years go by you accumulate another little nest egg, —and you begin to think that with the money you put into Victory Bonds in 1917, and the new nest egg, say in 1922, you could have bought a home or gone into business or bought more land; —you will be glad your money is invested in Victory Bonds, —because it is not "locked up" and for these reasons: —it is the highest class of security, saleable at any time in any market. —you can borrow practically the full value of the bond on the security of the bond alone, and the interest earned by the bond will be about equal to the interest charged for the loan. Because that bond has behind it the faithful promise of Canada to repay the principal with interest—a promise backed by all Canada's wealth in natural resources and other assets; supported by the moral and legal obligation of the people of Canada, and buttressed by the national honor of Canada. CUBS AND INDIANS WANT TOM DALY

Another Controversy Over Former St. John Boy—Patsy Donovan Says He is One of the Cleverest Catchers in the Business

Another controversy has arisen in the major league and Tom Daly, formerly of this city, is again brought into the limelight. The St. Louis Sporting News published on Nov. 1, has the following article: "Cubs and Indians Want Him." "Inspection of the reserve lists filed by clubs of the major leagues reveals that a club in each league lays claim to Catcher Tom Daly and the mix-up gives him the first chance to get into public print, at least as a major league, that he has had all season. Daly figured in a trade between the White Sox and Cleveland that made him an Indian, but he decorated the Cleveland bench until late in the season, when he was sold to Buffalo. He finished the season there and the next news of him was that Buffalo had sold him to the Chicago Cubs. However that may be, his name didn't appear in the published list of purchased players, nor did it appear in the list of players recalled, but there was a Bailey recalled by Cleveland from Buffalo. A little thing like a mistake in the letters of a name doubtless won't interfere with Cleveland's claim, but it would be interesting to know just how Buffalo and Chicago thought they could make a deal for a player belonging to another club. One of Chicago's sportsman's clever ideas for rebuilding his Cubs, perhaps. "Granting that Cleveland proves its claim, Daly may yet have his chance with the Indians, for Manager Fohl may have more need of an extra catcher next year than he had this. Steve O'Neill can't continue doing all the work and Billings and Deberry have yet to show themselves as first string catchers. "This is not the first time Tom Daly has been the subject of dispute, by the way. The Boston Americans thought they had purchased him once from Lowell, but the validity of the deal was disputed and when Boston withdrew its claim Lowell sold him to the White Sox. Daly was rated a big prospect as a catcher at that time, but Ray Schalk, like Steve O'Neill with the Indians, refused to yield to him. "Tom's greatest claim to fame lies in that home run he made before the King of England when the White Sox and Giants, on their tour of the world, were playing their final game of the trip in London. It was a great battle that game. Each team wanted it, for there was a good deal of rivalry as the tour drew to a close. Recollection is that it went eleven innings and that when Daly broke it up with a homer even King George stood up and cheered just like an ordinary fan in the bleachers. "The Boston Globe in a recent publication had the following to say about the sale of Daly to Chicago. "While the contestants of the world's series for the time overshadowed some of the other players, the friends of Cambridge Tom Daly have reason to rejoice. Fred Mitchell has taken Tom from the Buffalo Club of the International League. Daly, according to Manager Patsy Donovan of the Bisons, is one of the cleverest catchers in the business. He is now going to get a real chance under Mitchell in Chicago. A real chance is something he never had. When with the White Sox in 1914 and 1915 he never had a chance to show what he could do, because the great Ray Schalk was in there almost every day and Tom had to sit on the bench and get rusty. The same condition prevailed after his switch to Cleveland where headliner Steve O'Neill caught practically every day. Mary Pickford In Big Feature "The Little American" Thrilling War Story, Arouses Enthusiasm of the Imperial Audiences. After witnessing The Little American the one improvement that will possibly suggest itself is a change of title. This five-reel photoplay, written by Jeanie Macpherson, staged by Cecil De Mille, and starring Mary Pickford, is so superior in theme and craftsmanship to any of the previous Pickford pictures that it should have been dignified by a title more in keeping with its merits. To begin with, the theme is right up to the minute, the United States and the battlegrounds on French soil being the scenes of action. It is the story of the love of a man for a maid, and no matter how broad the interests involved and how surprising the truth with which the realities of the present world conflict is brought home to the spectator, it is the destiny of this man and this woman that absorbs the attention and places their fate above everything else in the story. Angela Moore, a young American girl living in Washington, is courted by Karl Von Austrein, an attaché of the German legation, and Count Jules de Destin of the French embassy. Angela prefers Karl. At the rumor of war each of the men returns to fight for his native land. Later Angela is sent across the Atlantic to join her great aunt, a French lady of title. The ship is sunk by a submarine, but the girl is saved, and reaches the chateau, only to find it full of wounded French soldiers and her aunt dead. Angela takes charge of the estate and meets the count, who intrusts her with the workings of a secret telephone that may be used to help destroy the chateau by gun fire in case it is taken by the Germans. This happens, and Karl is among the invading forces. He has heard that Angela went down with the ship, and has allowed himself to be influenced by the acts of immorality practiced by his brother officers. When he discovers a young girl trying to hide from the invaders he seizes her in his arms and finds that she is Angela. Horrified at his act, he does his best to save her from the fate that befalls the other women of the chateau. The subsequent action shows the American girl aroused to contempt for her own life at the brutal treatment dealt the helpless men and women about her. She phones the necessary information to the French gunners, is discovered and shielded by Karl and both are sentenced to be shot, when these facts are brought to light. They are made to face a firing squad, are saved by a chance shot from the French guns and find freedom at last when Angela's French admirer secures Karl's release from a concentration camp. Placed in imaginary surroundings, such a tale would constitute an ordinarily good melodrama. With a background of actuality and told in the remarkable realistic manner employed by Director De Mille, it grips the interest and sways the emotions with irresistible force. Every detail of the production, the shinking of the ship, the tide of battle that ebbs and flows about the old chateau, are reproduced with great fidelity. In editing the film everything has been pared down to the essential with the same thoroughness that marks the playmaking of Eugene Walker. The Little American is a screendrama. May its tribe increase! The Imperial's specialties proved a splendid foil for this serious story. The music was excellent. Same programme today.
