BLOODY NIGHT IN BELFAST AS FACTIONS CLASH

At Least Three Killed, One a Woman

Trouble Follows Attack by Unionists on Sinn Fein Employees in Shipyard — Reported Effort for Compromise Useless.

Belfast, July 22.—Belfast this morning was quiet after a night of sanguinary fighting between Sinn Fein and Unionist mobs, but the situation was tense and the military with armored cars were patrolling the affected spots. Rain was falling and it was hoped this would prove a deterrent to further rioting. Casualties thus far recorded are two men and one woman killed and twenty treated in hospitals for serious gunshot wounds. Many wounded did not report to hospitals. Fifty-four arrests were made.

The primary cause of the trouble is believed to be the recent shooting of Colonel Smith in Cork, as many men employed at Belfast came from Banbridge, which was Smith's native town.

The rioting began yesterday after some Sinn Fein employees of Harland and Wolff's shipyard were attacked. Sinn Feiners are said to have besieged Orangemen in a mill for two hours late yesterday, capturing them later and beating them. A few of the Orangemen were rescued by troops.

When police and troops attempted to separate the combatants, the Sinn Fein attacked them with stones and clubs and temporarily dispersed the rioters, but they reassembled later and furniture were thrown into the streets and the premises set on fire.

The Shipyards Fight. Sinn Fein employees of Harland & Wolff's shipyard were badly mauled yesterday and several were taken to the hospital in consequence of the attack by Unionist workers, some of whom held a meeting at the dinner hour and adopted a resolution to boycott all Sinn Fein workers in the yards.

A large body of Unionists proceeded to East yard and urged the Sinn Feiners to quit immediately. A fracas ensued in which the Sinn Feiners were badly handled. Seven of them tried to escape by swimming across Murlough, but were met on the other side by a hostile crowd and after being beaten were compelled to turn back.

During the turmoil ambulances arrived and took away those who had received the most serious injuries. Similar scenes occurred in another yard, necessitating the services of ambulances also.

This morning the workers returned to the shipyards as though nothing had happened. The authorities believe they have the situation in hand. Unofficial estimates place property damage and looting done by the mob at $100,000.

London, July 22.—According to the Cork correspondent of the London Evening News, two girls, who it is said, kept company with soldiers, were seized by four men, who clipped their hair.

London, July 22.—The overtures to the Sinn Fein were made through intermediaries by Premier Lloyd George, who was anxious to meet the leaders himself and discuss the situation, says the Daily Mail. They, however, resolutely refused to negotiate, perhaps feeling that if they did their lives would be jeopardized.

The Mail also says that the Irish Nationalist members will attend the Irish debate in the House of Commons today and will attack the government on the ground of oppression, while falling in the Sinn Fein attacks to protect life and property.

Dublin Demonstration. Dublin, July 22.—In a demonstration staged yesterday in an effort to help the movement for securing the release of James Larkin from prison in the United States, the general strike response to the call was not general. A procession planned to demonstrate in front of the United States Consulate was participated in by comparatively few workers.

The procession was led by Miss Delia Larkin. The demonstrators called upon the shipping industries to suspend business. Eventually work on the quays and at the shipyards was stopped. The paper mills closed down when the strikers emphasized their demands on the proprietors with pickets.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I was thinking last night of that old pine that stands on the edge of the ravine, above the brook. I was unable to sleep. My brain would not rest. Thoughts, detached and incoherent, flashed through my mind. Turn and twist as a night, I could not compose myself for slumber. My nerves twitched, and I was in despair of ever going to sleep. Then I thought of the old pine. I suppose it was an old pine when you were a boy. There it has stood, rooted in the soil and spreading its great branches into the air, year after year, swaying in the winds, bending to the storms, indifferent to fate, and still standing there—year after year. Generations of birds have nested on its boughs, and many a young bird has taken its flight from its nest. The old pine will welcome them. As my mind dwelt upon it, something of the serenely venerable tree, left there when its companions fell a prey to the axe, entered into my own spirit and presently I slept."

"Back to nature," said Hiram. "That's the thing for you fellows that wear yourselves out here in town. Come out an' Hiram'll give you a piller made of pine needles to put under your head. They'll sleep. She's got a lot of things in the garden waitin' for you. Come out an' we'll soon fix you up—yes sir."

THIS CONTINENT THREATENED WITH TIMBER FAMINE

Enormous Consumption of Forest Products in U. S. and Canada

Conservation Urged - Large Area in Ontario, Unsited for Agriculture, Could be Used to Replenish the Supply.

The necessity for the conservation of the forest resources of this country and the United States was emphasized by C. Price-Green, industrial commissioner of the Canadian National Railways of Toronto, who recently addressed the National Editorial Association in Boston.

Canada has about half the forest resources of the United States, or about 200 million acres of commercial forest.

Canada would supply one-half of the demand of the United States market. As far as the paper supply was concerned, he was of the opinion that with sane management and careful cutting Canada could supply the demand of this continent for much longer than has been estimated.

IN MEMORIAM

CECIL SAYS SPA HAS GIVEN NEW FORCE TO LEAGUE

Shows That Fighting Must Yield to Discussion No Nation, He Says, Can Continue Independent of Others, and the Old Order Is Gone Forever.

(By Charles A. Sheldon.) Special Cable Despatch to the N. Y. Evening Post. London, July 20.—Lord Robert Cecil, of the League of Nations Union of England and the British Empire's chief advocate and enthusiast for the League, finds ample ground for hope in the results of the Spa conference. He takes this view because of the tangible conclusions reached bearing on immediate European adjustment and because the conference has brought nearer to realization the real usefulness of the League itself by giving a concrete illustration of what can be accomplished by adhering to the League's cardinal principle that international differences should be adjusted by discussion, not by fighting.

A DANGEROUS WARNING—BLEEDING GUMS

Are your gums tender? Do they bleed when brushed? If so—watch out for Pyorrhoea. This disease of the gums, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, not only destroys the teeth, but often wrecks the health. In Pyorrhoea, the gums become spongy, then recede; the teeth decay, loosen, and fall out—or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhoea germs which breed in pockets about them. These germs lower the body's vitality and cause many diseases. You can keep Pyorrhoea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums.

together is now justified and Lord Robert Cecil's statement is fully borne out by the latest facts of the situation. "There are two obvious reasons for encouragement in the Spa conference," said Lord Robert Cecil, "the League of Nations is something more than a convenience. It is based on the vital fact that the world's proper method is through discussion rather than fighting. The other conclusion is that we must recognize that no nation, however great or powerful, can preserve isolation or be isolated in this world as it is constituted today. A society of nations, whether we call it a league or something else, is already a fact as objective as a society of individuals. Nations depend on one another as individuals do and the Spa conference when it comes to economic matters even more than in military matters will have to recognize that basic fact."

The potatoes brought down by the Majestic sold from $8 to $8.25 a bushel, while those on the Champlain sold from $8 to $8.25 a bushel. The Hampton had on board 105 bushels of potatoes. The first of these potatoes to be sold went for $8.45 a bushel, but the price gradually dropped to $8.25 a bushel. Beans are also now fairly plentiful and 250 bushels brought by the Champlain sold for $2.40 a bushel. All the boats brought down large quantities of fresh meat.

THE HOTEL PROJECT.

This matter of the new hotel concerns every citizen of St. John, whether he or she is able to invest or not. Failure to get the hotel because the people would not do the small part required of them in a partnership with a great controlling company and a great controlling the largest chain of fireproof hotels on the continent would be a black eye to St. John for years to come. It would inevitably be classed as a non-progressive community standing in its own light. The company will not succeed because a few men subscribe largely to the stock, but because all who can do so subscribe the smaller amounts necessary to ensure the total of $275,000, which is the same amount that the big men of the C. P. R. have also undertaken to have subscribed. There are no promotion charges connected with this flotation. No seller of stock gets a commission, and the Commercial Club looks after the advertising. Every hundred dollars of stock represents that amount free of all charges. This is really a citizens' movement, to meet a great civic need. By the end of the week the Commercial Club should be able to announce that the Hotel Champlain is assured to St. John.

POLAND AND RUSSIA.

Had Poland been less ambitious to enlarge her boundaries the present situation, with Russian armies driving forward, might not have developed. The Allies, however, regard an independent Poland as a necessity and will not permit the country to be brought under the domination of the Russian Bolsheviks. Mr. Lloyd George made this plain in a speech in the house of commons yesterday. His references to negotiations with the Russian government show that he does not regard it with favor. He points out that it is not a government chosen by the people, but forced upon them, and is therefore a great anxiety as that which it succeeded. If the Russians persist in invading Poland, it is still possible, however, that an armistice may be declared and an effort made to arrange terms that would definitely end hostilities between the two countries. The British premier says that the Bolsheviks seek to establish a Soviet government in Poland, but this is not desired by the Polish people, and Mr. Lloyd George very properly asserts that the Soviet government of Russia has no right to dictate to Poland in this matter. There is significance in his further suggestion of what might happen if the Bolsheviks over-ran Poland and came to the borders of Germany. While it is true that the activity of the Polish armies tended to consolidate the Russian people to resist a foreign foe, the Bolsheviks must be prevented from playing into the hands of Germany. Dr. Lénine and Trotsky are not averse to foreign complications which enable them to distract public attention from their own designs and the wretched state of affairs at home, so clearly set forth by British labor delegates who lately investigated the conditions there; and this may make more difficult the task of the Allies. Their unity of purpose is the strongest factor in the solution of a difficult problem in this direction, as well as in their dealings with the German and the Turk.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRESS.

A committee has been appointed to make a survey of the high schools of Ontario. It is felt that they are lacking in some directions, and do not contribute all they should to the cause of general education in the province. Commenting on the subject the Toronto Globe says: "It is to be hoped the committee will be generously financed, so that it may be permitted ample time and facilities for its work. Not only should Ontario be thoroughly studied, but the other provinces as well. The high school systems of the United States and the European countries should be carefully studied. Curriculum, teacher-training, building and equipment, auxiliary agencies, correlation with all the other sections of our educational system should be worked over. It is a great task." The report of a committee going as thoroughly as this into the whole question would be of very great benefit to other provinces as well as Ontario, for it would emphasize both the strong and the weak points of the high schools. In the United States the junior high school is a comparatively new feature that is attracting much attention. Prof. Judd of the University of Chicago says it has been established in eight hundred American cities and is one of the most sweeping educational reforms in that country in three-quarters of a century. Its popularity is explained by the fact that "today the attitude of the country toward the high school is that it, like the common school, ought to serve all classes." In France also there is a strong effort to adapt schools to modern needs. A French writer says: "The end to be attained is the training of the whole man with special reference to his moral and physical development. Particular stress is laid on the 'education of the intelligence' by means of motion pictures, with which it is argued each school should be equipped, by visits to commercial houses, business

GOOD CLOTHES.

My heart is right, but my pants are wrong, and I take my place in the line of the merchant's door and ask a job in his useful store; I need the coin, and I'd gladly toil until my finger had grown a boll, but the merchant says, 'Oh, fade from my doorway, please!' I've a willing heart, I have active legs, but my vest is stained with the juice of eggs, and my whippersnack and my hair is long, and so I trot with the has-been through. Perhaps it's wrong that the seedy men can't find a place in the caravan; perhaps it's wrong that the world runs on in the same old groove, and it doesn't change, and it won't improve; at every turning its signboards say that there's no place for the seedy; but I can cut some ice. With my whippersnack trimmed and my hair in curl I'll rally forth like a better cut; no more I'll look like a gutter swab—and I'll bet a nickel I'll get a job.

THE COUNTRY VISIT.

(By May Turner.)
The big horse walked beside her with a gentle nose thrust out. The colt came running from the field and frolicked all about; The chickens crowded close, until the farmer's wife said, "Shoo!" "I think little Lisa Lou has me here," said little Lisa Lou.
The ducks were swimming in the pond; they gave a friendly quack. The turkeys came to greet her from behind the golden stack; The rooster strutted up and said, "How do de doodle do?" "I'm pretty well, I thank you, sir," said little Lisa Lou.
The old cat waked and slept again, stretched out with her fluffy brood was stretched near the door; The long-legged calf came skipping, and the mother cow said "Moo!" "I like the country very much," said little Lisa Lou.
The pet lamb snuggled at her side and gave a timid bleat; The kind old house dog wagged his tail and lay down like a log. "Oh, let me come again, sometime," cried little Lisa Lou. From "The Youth's Companion."

Hon. Wm. Dennis, of Halifax, prominent Canadian Senator and Journalist, who died in Boston recently.

WORLD COURT IS PROGRESSING.

(Bradstreet's.)
More rapid progress than was expected is apparently being made by the commission of jurists who are laying the foundations of an International Court of Justice at The Hague. Several important conclusions were reached in the election of the judges of the court by the Council and the Assembly of the League of Nations, voting separately on lists submitted to them by the existing permanent Court of Arbitration at The Hague. The judges of each nation represented on the latter court will nominate not over six candidates, of which two may be their own nationals. No one discharging political duties, whether national or international, is to be considered except by a unanimous vote of the other judges on the ground of moral or physical incompetence. Provision is also made for the election of a president and a vice-president of the court by the judges themselves for three-year terms. Another interesting decision reached by the jurists is that a judge in which the country should not sit in a case in which the country is one of the parties. A late report indicates that the formula proposed by the American government has been agreed upon on first reading, and that final action upon them will be taken this week.

A BRIGHTER OUTLOOK IN CHINESE AFFAIRS.

(Bradstreet's.)
That the formation of a consortium for China has resulted in a more complete understanding of the Far Eastern situation by the four governments which have undertaken to assist China in developing her public enterprises and resources, is a view recently returned from an extended trip to the Far East in connection with the organization of the consortium. At a luncheon of the Council of Foreign Relations at the New York Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Lamont expressed the opinion that the Far Eastern question was at least a more serious one because of the establishment of the consortium, with Japan entering it upon precisely the same terms as England, America and France. It was not simply the formation of this international group upon the formula proposed by the American government that was significant, he remarked, important as that was, but rather the fact that in the process of organization there must have been a clearer understanding of all the problems and difficulties involved, among the governments themselves as well as with the approval of their respective governments, had formed the consortium to aid China in developing her public enterprises. In the two years of negotiations with this end in view, there had been, he said, the freest interchange of views between the four governments. With regard to China the ideas of this government and of the British and French had from the start been a unit. It was well known, he added, that for some time Japan's views did not coincide with those of the other three governments, but now, happily, "Japan has come to see eye to eye" with these governments on the question of consortium. In his opinion, they are today a unit in respect to it. That fact, he thought, was the most significant one in the situation.

MONTREAL HARBOR.

It is stated in the report of the harbor commissioners of Montreal that the thirty-five foot channel now being dredged by the government between that city and the sea is well under way, and it is expected will be available for ships in a few days. The harbor commissioners have already provided several berths for vessels of this draught. At a total cost of $20,000,000 it is shown that a harbor provides 100 steamship berths

Honking your horn doesn't help so much as steering wisely. Don't expect poor work now to lead to brilliant work hereafter. You have no idea how big the other fellow's troubles are. It's all right to aspire to control others, but have you begun with Number One? Notice that two-thirds of "promotion" consists of "Motion." There is a better market for smiles than frowns. The highest form of salesmanship is nothing but service. The wages of idleness is demotion. There is no higher rank than that of worker. No title can ever make a loafer a nobleman. There must be output before there can be income. Defeat is often a spur to victory. The best reward is sense of worthy achievement. Good times for all can only be the product of good work by all.—Reprinted from Forbes Magazine, 299 Broadway, New York.

THOUGHTS ON LIFE AND BUSINESS.

(By B. C. Forbes.)
The fellow who isn't fired with enthusiasm is apt to be fired. Enthusiasm is each enemy of success. If top-notch effort yields you no happiness, there's something wrong either with you or your efforts. Sit down and do some analyzing. After all, you've got to give full, fair value for your efforts. Sit down and do some analyzing. Carelessness and failure are twins. The most valuable "system" is a good nervous system. Saving is having. If you have an hour to spare, don't spend it with someone who hasn't. Don't simply see how you can "put in the day"; see how much you can put into the day. Never contrive to make it easy for your concern to get along without you. Make sure the price you charge is worth the price. If you cultivate your talents you're always in an opportunity to use them. When in a fix sweating, let music do the kicking.

FORMER ST. JOHN WOMAN KILLED.

A fatal automobile accident occurred at York Corner, Maine, yesterday afternoon when an automobile operated by Sheldon Butler was struck by a moving van. Besides Mr. Butler, Mrs. Butler and her mother, Mrs. Franklin T. Pierce were in the car. Mrs. Pierce was killed and both other occupants of the car severely injured internally. The driver of the van rendered first aid to the two injured people, notified the authorities and gave himself up. He says that his machine got out of control. Mrs. Pierce was a native of St. John, sixty years of age and, before her marriage, named Helen T. MacLain. "Morning stranger," began the talkative party as he settled himself in the only vacant half seat in the smoker, "and what state might you be from?" "Oh," replied the stranger, "wearily;" "it doesn't matter now. One's as dry as another."

JOURNEYS END IN LOVERS MEETING

And William McFee, Author and Seaman, to Sail Homeward Soon to Meet Fiancee, Who Arrives from Bulgaria.

Journeys end, says the old adage, in lovers meeting, and this journey which ended today in a quiet garden in New Jersey is part of a romance that began in Smyrna, and will only be fully rounded out when Chief Engineer William McFee, author and seaman, has brought the United Fruit Company's steamer Turrialba back from tropic waters and has himself reached the haven of this secluded spot. That a sailor's romance should have a flavor of the sea, a tang of salt and a touch of the indelicacy of fulfillment that dependence on tides rather than fixed times engenders, is hardly surprising to the fact his fiancee, Pauline Kondoff, arrived Thursday in New York after a journey half across the world, while he was on the high seas, seems to be part of the nautical character of this international romance.

And if Mr. McFee could have had a glimpse of Mile. Kondoff today posing in this garden for a snapshot with an unexpected ray of sunlight breaking through the dull sombreness of the morning and doing interesting things in the masses of her red-gold hair, he might find it very hard to help keep the Turrialba ploughing southward and not send her hurrying northward to complete the journey's end for all concerned.

Mile. Kondoff, born in Salonica twenty-six years ago, and is a Bulgarian, but because of an Italian grandmother she has always had a fondness for that language and part of her education has been in an Italian school. She speaks seven languages, she counted them over carefully on her fingers, but English is not included in the list. As Mr. McFee speaks French fluently, "much better than I do," was her verdict, this language has always been her medium of conversation with her fiance, but she intends to learn to speak English. She can read English now, but, as she explained with an eloquent gesture, it is most difficult to speak.

During the World War, Mile. Kondoff was in Smyrna with her sister, and it was there she met William McFee. The course of true love in their case seems to have been a rapid current, for on the first day of their meeting Mile. Kondoff had promised to marry him and go to America. But this arrangement was not easily carried out during war time, for Bulgaria and England were enemy countries and Mr. McFee was at that time engaged in transport service under the flag of Great Britain. So there had to be an enforced waiting until the end of the war.

The obstacles were not all overcome, however, with the close of the war, for Bulgaria is still carrying on hostilities with Turkey and it is almost impossible for a Bulgarian to get a passport to this country.

Angel Island, San Francisco, July 22.—More than 19,000 picture brides have entered the United States, the Congressional committee on immigration learned here while examining passports. Kayashima Tans, seventeen years old, was examined. She told the committee she had seen her husband only once when he was in Japan. She had not seen her husband since their marriage. On her passport there was a notation, "Picture bride marriage 1918." Nine other picture brides were questioned. Five said they had never seen their husbands.

SAYS INTER-RACIAL UNIONS SUCCEED

Writer Tells of Japano-American Weddings — Thinks Marriages Between "Yellow" and White Races Sure to Increase.

(J. W. Robertson Scott in New York Evening Post.)

When George Shima, the Japanese potato king of California, and president of the Japan Association of San Francisco, blurted out to the House Committee on Immigration and Naturalization the other day that a hundred years hence marriages between Japanese and Americans "will be thought all right," he advanced a little farther the consideration of a problem which demands much more careful examination than it has yet received.

On the Pacific coast and among those whose attitude toward the Japanese is similar, Mr. Shima's outspokenness will excite resentment. It should be calmer consideration. Mr. Shima is not, of course, a scientific man. He is a self-made Japanese, who has shown great common sense and shrewdness in his potato growing and other agricultural activities, and, as a result of thirty years residence in a part of the United States where his countrymen and Americans are in antagonism, has come to some rough-and-ready conclusions. Because he is not a scientific man, it is likely enough that he has never heard of eugenics—he would no doubt find an easy prey in controversy. Madison Grant and less competent champions of the Nordics will soon go forth, no doubt, to destroy him. For my part, I am glad to hear an intelligent Japanese speak frankly what he really thinks on a big subject, even if he has insufficiently explored it.

Will Marry Japanese.

The fact we have to look in the face is that American women are already marrying Japanese. It is not very long ago since an American woman, the daughter of a doctor and the niece of a Wall Street broker, paid me a visit in Tokyo with her Japanese farmer husband. She is now helping to run a silk and rice farm many miles from the capital. Dr. Takamine, the eminent Japanese chemist of New York, is married to an American woman. Their sons went to Yale and in their turn are married to Americans. Dr. Nitobe, the well-known Japanese author and the representative of Japan in the secretariat of the League of Nations, has been married for many years to a Philadelphia Quakeress. Mr. Kawakami, an M.A. of an American University, the author of some thoughtful books on the relations of East and West and an effective writer of English, who lives in San Francisco, is married to an American woman and has two daughters and a son, whom I found on a recent visit to the Pacific coast not only studiously and good to look upon, but above the average mentality.

Mr. Kawakami, who is one of the most thoughtful Japanese in the country has himself on more than one occasion strongly opposed Japano-American marriages. I am familiar with one case. Mr. Kawakami's argument against this marriage was that those who were planning to live in Japan. Mrs. Nitobe has resided for many years in Tokyo, but she is in comfortable circumstances, and lives in a Western style house. The cases in which Mr. Kawakami's opinion was asked were cases of people who had modest incomes in prospect and proposed to live in the Japanese manner in Japanese provincial cities, the social development of which is not yet ready for the Western wife. But Mr. Kawakami is clear that in cases in which the whole future of a Japanese man who is marrying an American is to be in America, or some other Western country, and the two who propose to wed are socially and intellectually on the same plane, and full inquiry has been made on both sides, and the man and woman have had time to be sure of each other, there is no objection to such a marriage; that on the contrary it is probably to the interests of mankind that it should take place. Must Accept America.

In marrying a western wife Mr. Kawakami feels that there must be a clear decision to live in America and to accept American institutions. His sons and daughters are going to American universities, they know no Japanese, and they will learn French and German and perhaps Spanish before they tackle the paternal tongue, if they ever tackle it. Mr. Kawakami's desire is to be accepted as a citizen of the country in which years ago he elected to live. He and the family his wife and he have brought up are well qualified educationally and by their social gifts and views, for American citizenship. When a comparison is made between some of the central and southern Europeans who have been welcomed to America's bosom and of the qualifications in refinement, intelligence and industry of some folk from the East who have been held at arm's length, it is easy to understand how puzzling the thing seems from the latitude of Tokyo.

The truth is that there is not as yet any body of evidence on which to form an opinion as to the results of marriage between civilized Japanese and Americans of good physical strains. The opinions of most people are either theoretical—that is, these people are opposed to any marriage between white and "yellow" or they have heard of or been the witnesses of undesirable alliances between the two races in the Far East. Most of the data offered at present in regard to such unions, however, are not worth looking at.

I am not in the least interested in the results of the marriage of a Japanese student or young commercial man with his landlady's very ordinary daughter, in circumstances which are more or less doubtful; or, on the other hand, in an alliance of convenience between an intelligent westerner and a geisha. Of course, such pairs will find how little they have in common and will drift apart. Of course, the children will be ill-born and ill-trained. And the social position of wife, husband and children will be unsatisfactory.

Will Marry Americans.

The probabilities are that for some yet the children of marriages between Americans and Japanese who live in America will usually marry Americans. Therefore there will be introduced into the American race a small portion only of Japanese blood. In spite of the Simon Pure Nordicism, I confess that my impression is that a dash of Japanese blood or Chinese blood might be no bad thing for the white race. It was once talking on this subject with a scientific man who had a very interesting wife and exceptionally good children. I ventured to ask him about his wife's genealogical tree. He told me that his grandmother had been a Chinese woman and added that his wife and he had noted in their children physical and mental characteristics that seemed to be derived from the Chinese ancestors.

The outstanding fact about a big question of which there is only space in a newspaper article to touch the fringes, is that the steamship will diminish the distance between the east and west beyond the average man's present reckoning. The white and "yellow" races will therefore be brought into closer and closer contact. Along with this development there is proceeding a steady leveling up of the standards of education in all countries. Already the percentage of illiteracy is lower in Japan than in America and the tasks set Japanese students to Tokyo University are harder than those presented at Harvard. As men and women of different races meet oftener and are increasingly on the same educational plane, there is bound to be an increase in intermarriage, whatever laws are passed and whatever protests are made by men of science.

What are we going to do about it? Need I say that marriage with Japanese or Chinese is a different question altogether from miscegenation between whites and negroes—who have never had a civilization on the Euro-Asian level, though as the vast population of millions in the world bears witness to the millions of white men have had no prejudice whatever against miscegenation as long as it was on one side only. Nor are we considering a question of the marriage of any westerners with any Japanese, or countenancing in any way the foolish and sentimental notions of marriage with Japanese which have inspired some American young women who have no other knowledge of Japan and the Japanese than they have gained from

"Pimples affected my face. They were large and always festering, and they were scattered all over my face. They afterwards turned into scales and when they fell off they left big marks until my face was disfigured. They itched and burned so that I scarcely slept at all. I had been bothered for nearly two months before I started using Cuticura, and after I had used three boxes of Cuticura Ointment with the Cuticura Soap I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss L. MONTREAL GIRLS LOST THEIR LIQUOR Bodies Too Plump to Deceive U. S. Immigration Officers.

Burlington, Vt., July 22—Because United States immigration officers thought their bodies too plump for their faces, Alvin Rimmard, Eva R. Boyer and Margat Deperes, Montreal, were held and examined at the border while attempting to enter the United States. In consequence they are to be arraigned on the charge of smuggling spirits into the land of the eighteenth amendment.

The Misses Rimmard and Boyer were spotted at Newport, Vermont. The maillon of the immigration office who searched them found that each carried two cans of a gallon each, containing high-wines, in specially constructed skirts.

About the waist of each girl, say the immigration people, was another specially devised garment with many pockets. In these waists each had eight pints of high-wines.

SOLDIER THOUGHT KILLED LOCATED AFTER 17 YEARS

Tokio, July 22—A letter has been received from a man reported killed in the Russo-Japanese war in North Manchuria by his supposed widow, who has been married to a second husband for nearly ten years.

A sergeant named Jinkichi Onishi had been missing since the battle of Liaoyang. The authorities as well as the family of the soldier concluded that he had been killed in the field, and funeral ceremonies were observed. His "widow" subsequently married again, two children being born through the second marriage. Now, nearly seventeen years since the "death" of her first husband, she writes reporting himself safe in a hospital in Petrograd.

According to his letter, at the time of the Russo-Japanese war, he was taken prisoner and has since been imprisoned in a dungeon, which he was never allowed to leave until after seventeen years' confinement, he fell ill and was removed to a hospital in Petrograd.

YEARS BEFORE
SUGAR RETURNS TO THE NORMAL

With Decrease in Supply and Increase in Consumption Shortage Will Continue—The Remedy Is to Encourage Planting.

(By P. A. Bonet, Commercial Attache Cuban Legation Washington.)

The low price at which sugar was selling for years before the war and the fixing of an entirely artificial price on the article during the war, seemed to have fostered to some extent the strange belief that no matter what unheard of prices might have to be paid for other things, sugar should remain at virtually the same cheap level, due to the intervention of paternal Governments and the unselfishness and patriotism of altruistic planters.

The day when the wholesale price for sugar on the New York market ranged from $3.25 to $3.50 in 1913—that is to say, when the world cane and beet sugar supply had reached the peak at 21,546,922 tons—is past, and probably will not return in many years.

The supply has dwindled, in fact, to 16,469,600 tons, representing a net deficit of some 4,849,322 tons, and, according to very reliable calculations it appears that it will take Europe at least ten years to reach her pre-war production and that only by a process of normal increase taking place under the most favorable circumstances.

In the meantime consumption of sugar is going at an equal pace with population and civilization. The outstanding facts of the present situation are that the world is facing a great decrease in the sugar supply; that the deficit will probably continue for a number of years; that consumption of sugar for many purposes is becoming more generalized every day.

Under the circumstances the best remedy would seem to be to encourage production on a constantly increasing scale as was recently recommended by the Cuban Minister at Washington in order to fill in, as far as possible, what otherwise may well become an everwidening gap.

Must Produce More Sugar.
This brings us face to face with the producer, and in speaking in plain language the world is facing the necessity of inducing him to go ahead, take all the risks and plant as much as he can if more sugar is desired. It seems wisest to add that sugar must be paid for accordingly.

Now a few facts about the Cuban situation:
Laboring under very unfavorable conditions, Cuba managed to produce in 1918, 2,428,207 tons but the low price brought many planters to the brink of ruin. Among the factors that brought about such a bad situation were principally the following: Deficient financial backing for sugar enterprises, exorbitant interest on money needed to plant sugar cane and run sugar mills; the autocratic control of prices by the buyers.

When the world war broke out this desperate situation began to change. The previous sources of sugar supply of the Allied nations were cut off. The large supplies on hand began to dwindle. Then came the rising price, but almost immediately afterwards Cuba was called upon to do her part by doubling the production and she went further than that; she agreed to sell her sugar at a low fixed price, thus contributing millions of dollars to the Allied cause.

"CHICKEN COME HOME TO ROOST"

As an inevitable consequence of peace, freedom of commerce was reestablished. The shortage being evident, the rise in prices was to be expected, but a large majority of Cuban planters and others thought that the scarcity of money in Europe, curtailing its purchasing power, would bring down the price of sugar to the price of 1913. In fact, Herbet Hoover had been quoted by the Evening Post on June 4, 1919, as saying to the Economic Council in Paris the buying power of the people affected in such a large manner the consumption of sugar that no calculations could be made about what would be the probable demand for importation. The result was that the planters, with the Cuban Government, offered to sell the present crop at 6 1/2 cents per pound, a price that later developments have shown, as the Cuban Minister at Washington has rightly expressed, would have been ruinous to Cuba, due to the daily increase in prices of articles that Cuba must buy, principally in the United States, to feed and clothe her people.

The offer was not accepted, and after a long period of waiting, was withdrawn by the planters.
Under prevailing conditions it would seem that the first thing of all to do is to encourage the sugar cane planter that he may develop his productive ability in a free, open and world-wide market. This policy seems all the more necessary since the shortage in the Cuban crop of this year, due to the drought, has been calculated at around nine hundred thousand tons, and represents a serious factor in determining the real profits and losses of the present year.

RAINS HELP THE GROWING CROPS
IN THE WEST

Winnipeg, Man., July 21—Local showers have fallen at many points in the west during the last twenty-four hours, and with unsettled weather continuing there are strong hopes that the present critical week will see a great improvement in the condition of the grain crop, which is suffering more or less from lack of rain.

The rain was worth millions of dollars to the growing crop.
The weather man predicts showers and thunderstorms in many places in the west during the next few days, which is reported from every district along the lines of the C. P. R. through the prairies, although not from every point, it was announced from the local offices of the company. Scattered showers were most common, but there were prospects of steady rain at several places. The fall was lightest in Saskatchewan and heaviest around Winnipeg, according to these reports.

A WIDE OPEN
TARIFF ENQUIRY
IS PROPOSED

Sir Henry Drayton Will Probably Tour Canada in Order to Collect Information and Hear Suggestions.

Ottawa, July 21—The tariff inquiry to be instituted this fall will be as wide open as could be desired and the parties who wish to have a hearing will be accorded all the time they want, according to the plans of Sir Henry Drayton. The government has not yet decided when the inquiry will begin but it will not be before the end of the summer. Another point undecided is whether the inquiry will be made by a committee of the cabinet or by the finance minister alone with a number of technical advisers but in any event, it will be no brief affair. The minister plans to tour the whole country from east to west and at public sittings give ear to every interest or individual who has views to present.

The coming one will be the first systematic revision of the tariff since 1908 when a committee of the cabinet headed by Hon. W. S. Fielding, went over Canada and collected information.

The tariff, from present indications, will be the outstanding if not the almost exclusive feature of big importance at the next session of parliament. It will be based on certain promises established on the platform of the party now in power. The underlying principle to be followed will be the perpetuation of protection but, while there is every probability of duties being cut down or removed on various commodities, or a re-arrangement of the preferential tariffs, there is little likelihood of any increase in the present schedules. Incidental to the revision of the tariff will be a decision by the government as to what form of assistance if any will be

AND MATTER OF
BY-ELECTIONS

Hon. Mr. King Has Arranged to Speak in Eight Points in Ontario During August.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Montreal, July 21—A special despatch to the Montreal Star from Ottawa says: No acclamation will be accorded to cabinet ministers or other supporters of the government if Hon. Mackenzie King, leader of the opposition, has his way.

In a statement bearing on the situation Mr. King declared that the government "has usurped all the rights of a free people. A new government has been formed and a new leader appointed. The common right demands a statement from the new premier, not that he is preparing for by-elections, but for a general election. I trust that in the various provinces the people will take action to see that their rights in securing responsible government and a representative parliament are not further usurped and that opposition candidates are put in the field wherever the government brings on a by-election."

Mr. King has arranged to speak at eight points in Ontario in August, making his headquarters in his own constituency of North York. In September he will go to the west, speaking in British Columbia and afterwards coming east.

DEATH OF MRS. JOSEPH BELL.

A SAMPLE OF CIVIC PRIDE
H. R. McLellan, secretary of the Commercial Club, received a surprise this morning that he was passed on to all the citizens of St. John as an inspiration. Here is the story as he gave it to the Times:
"While walking up Germain street this morning I was accosted by a young colored laboring man who was wheeling earth out of the new bank building at the corner of Germain and King street and who asked if he might speak to me for a minute or two. I replied in the affirmative. He inquired of me if I would be permitted to put $100 into the hotel stock, but at the same time expressed the fear that such a small amount was of no account. He followed immediately by saying that he thought every man in St. John should do his share.
"After enquiring if he could well afford to invest such an amount I told him that his $100 looked bigger to me than some of the larger subscriptions, and we would appreciate his offer from the spirit which prompted it.
"Some civic pride, I would say, and let me state these are the subscriptions which in spirit and amount are required to put this project over."

C. D. FOWLER DEAD
Passed Away in Sussex — Formerly with Brother in Edge Tool Business Here.
The death of Charles DeForest Fowler of this city occurred this morning at Sussex, at the home of his daughter, Miss J. Marian Fowler. He had been living for some months in Sussex, but was a native of St. John and spent the greater part of his life here. He was for years associated with his brother, the late Josiah Fowler, in the edge-tool business. He was for some time an elder of St. Andrew's and later of St. Stephen's Presbyterian Church in the city, and was an enthusiastic Oddfellow for many years. Before the great fire he led the choir in old St. David's church, where Mrs. Fowler also sang. For years he was active in Sunday school work. A man of fine character he had a host of friends in the city. Mr. Fowler is survived by one son, Fred B. Fowler of St. John, and two daughters, J. Marion, who conducts a hospital in Sussex, and Helen R. of Boston. One brother, John, and one sister, Mrs. James A. Wood, live in Boston the survivors of a family of fifteen. Mr. Fowler, who was next to the youngest, had attained the age of seventy-eight years.
The funeral will take place on Saturday from the railway station in St. John on arrival of the maritime express. Burial will be in Fernald.

OPEN TENDERS FOR PIPE LINE
One Refused as Check Was Not Enclosed
City to Help Entertain Imperial Press Delegates — The Dry Lake — Housing Matters—Federal Employment Office.

One of the most important matters dealt with at a committee meeting of the common council this morning was the opening of tenders for an extension of the thirty-six inch water main to Spruce Lake. The contract is a big one and involves an expenditure in the vicinity of a half million dollars.
Only one tender was received before eleven o'clock and two ten minutes later. After a discussion it was agreed to open the other two. The first was from the Canada Lock Joint Pipe Company, Ltd., as follows:—For excavation, making and laying, joining and backfilling, $15.50 a lineal foot, $6 for rock excavation, and for excavation and backfilling in excess of a cut seven feet deep, $2.50 a cubic yard.
The second tender opened was from J. A. Grant & Company, Ltd., as follows:—For excavation, making, laying pipe, $10.15 a foot, for a wood stave pipe, $9.06 a foot, for rock excavation, $8.00 a yard, and for removing and backfilling in excess of a seven foot cut, $2.25 a cubic yard. In a letter the company said the wood stave pipe would be installed by the Pacific Coast Stave and Pipe Company, Ltd., under the supervision of the tenders.

The third was from the Atlantic Construction Company for $12.50 a foot for a reinforced concrete pipe, $6 for rock excavation, and $8 a yard for removing and refilling in excess of seven feet.
It was said that the last named firm did not enclose a certain check covering five per cent, and after a lengthy discussion, Mayor Schofield ruled that the tender could not be considered, as he felt that they must work on a business basis and adhere to the conditions mentioned in the advertisement.
On motion of Commissioner Bullock, the tenders were referred to the Commissioner of Water and Sewerage and the city engineer to report back.

F. B. Ellis appeared before the meeting to direct attention to the fact that on July 30 about 100 members of the Imperial Press delegation from all parts of the province were to arrive in this city en route to Ottawa to attend the conference. He said they would reach the city in the morning of the 31st and would leave the following morning. He said that there were some very distinguished members of the party and asked if the city would arrange to take them for an excursion around the harbor on the morning of their arrival and furnish a lunch at the Manor House, or some other suitable place. He told of plans arranged with the Automobile Association to take them for a ride in the afternoon to the Country Golf Club, where some might enjoy a game and also where lunch would be served.
Commissioner Frink moved that in reply to the party coming to St. John, the mayor be authorized to make preparations for their entertainment, any expense incurred to be paid for by the city out of the general revenue. This motion was passed unanimously.

Commissioner Jones read a letter from G. G. Murdoch with reference to the city laying a water main on his mother's property around Dry Lake and asked that compensation be made to him. He also read a letter addressed to ex-Commissioner Hilyard dated Nov. 4, 1918, in which Mr. Murdoch told him the pipe being laid on his mother's property and also that a large number of iron pipes had been stored there and asked for compensation.
Commissioner Frink told of a verbal agreement entered into with the late Engineer Murdoch in which he agreed that the city could lay a main on his property around Dry Lake, but would not set any price, saying that he would accept any sum agreed on by the council. He also told of a judgment by the late Judge McLeod regarding the valuation of land expropriated by the city for the laying of their water main which was $100 an acre.
The matter was left to the commissioner of water and sewerage to negotiate.

Mayor Schofield read a letter in which the local housing board asked for an additional instalment of $60,000 with which to carry on the work of house construction. The letter pointed out that the first instalment of $50,000 had been expended and that more money was needed.
Commissioner Thornton objected to the letter, saying that he felt it was a matter for the county council. The mayor ruled the subject out and the matter was dropped.
Mayor Schofield read a report regarding the establishment of a federal provincial employment office in this city and spoke in favor of it.
Commissioner Thornton said he felt it was a matter for the local government and not the city.
Commissioner Jones also spoke against the establishment of this office, maintaining that it would involve an expenditure of $15,000 yearly.
It was brought out that the Nova Scotia government maintained an office in Halifax.
Mayor Schofield said he was not aware of that and it was decided to defer action.

Commissioner Frink reported progress regarding the city acquiring the rifle range, saying that the department of militia and defense were willing to sell the city or as an alternative that the city give them another site.

Wood Beds Are Becoming More Popular Every Day
There seems to be something especially inviting about a Wooden Bed—and just now they are becoming very popular. Our stock is right in step with the increasing demand, and we know you will be pleased with this showing.
The line is extensive—including in it all the popular woods and finishes. A particular attractive feature is the steel rails with which the beds are equipped, thus ensuring of sturdiness and freedom from that looseness sometimes characteristic of the old-style wood bed. These steel rails keep spring and mattress in position, and give all advantages of iron or steel beds, together with the further attractiveness of wood.

GAINS 20 POUNDS TAKING TANLAC

St. John Man and Wife Think it Has no Equal After What it Did For Her.

"When my wife recommends Tanlac to her friends she never has to say much for her wonderful improvement is proof enough of the value of the medicine," said Daniel Morrell, 15 Cranston avenue, St. John, N. B. Mr. Morrell is a well-known employe of the St. John Hide Company and has been a resident of St. John for the past forty years.

"My wife had fallen off in weight until she was down to one hundred pounds, but now she weighs one hundred and twenty pounds, and she never felt better in all her life. She had been in bad health for nearly four years, and had become so weak and run-down she couldn't do her housework without having to stop and rest every few minutes. Her appetite had dwindled down to nearly nothing and she couldn't eat enough to keep up her strength. Why, what she ate in a whole week wouldn't last me one day. She was troubled a great deal with palpitation, and often her heart beat so fast it almost frightened her out of her wits. At night she could sleep but little, and of mornings she was so exhausted it didn't look like she would hold out through the day.

"Finally we decided to try Tanlac, as the people everywhere seemed to be so well pleased with it. Well, Sir, her appetite picked right up and what she ate began to agree with her, and she started gaining in weight and strength. She improved in every way until now all her friends are complimenting her on how well and strong she is looking. Her heart's action is normal now and she sleeps sound all night long. She has gained twenty pounds, as I said, and is so much stronger she can do her housework with ease. She thinks Tanlac has no equal and I join with her in saying a good word for it."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by the Ross Drug Company and F. W. Murray, by G. W. McKay, Beatty, Harbour, Ward, J. Colwell, Evans, C. V. Parsons, Highland, John F. Mesheary, Debes, Hanson, Leppard, L. L. Conley, Legardville, N. H. Johnson, Clarendon Station, and by the leading druggists in every town.—(Adv.)

DAYLIGHT TIME IS ISSUE IN THIS CASE

In a certiorari case which came before His Honor Judge Chandler, yesterday, in chambers, another point, the question of daylight time was involved. The matter arose from the suit of George A. Birtles, of St. John, N. B., against the plaintiff was given by Magistrate Adams of Brookville, on a summons issued on July 15th (daylight time). In the county court Judge Armstrong set the judgment aside and ordered a new trial. Daniel Mullin, K. C., appeared for Mr. Birtles, and Mr. J. H. MacLean, K. C., for the plaintiff. Mr. Mullin asked for a writ of certiorari and when the matter came up yesterday Judge Chandler set aside the judgment and ordered a new trial. Mr. Conlon showed cause. His Honor said he would consider an application for a writ of certiorari.

BRYAN NOMINATED

Lincoln, Neb., July 21.—William J. Bryan was nominated by acclamation as the prohibition party's presidential nominee at the National Convention today. Second Charge Made

In the police court yesterday afternoon a charge of assaulting Inspector Merryfield and attempting to obstruct him in the discharge of his duty was made against James Demaline, arising out of the alcohol case referred to yesterday. E. Hitchcock appeared in defence, and Wm. Ryan for the prosecution. Joseph Higgins was put on the stand and he said he was in the cleaning and pressing business and he used various liquids, chloroform, ether, and alcohol among them, in his business. He went to Chief Inspector Wilson and obtained a paper from him. (Mr. Ryan objected to any evidence being taken about the accused getting a permit from Mr. Wilson. After presenting the paper from Mr. Wilson he said he got a half can of alcohol. Wood alcohol and pure alcohol were the only things taken by the inspector from his shop. Cross examined, he said he saw no one take a drink in his store on the night in question. Demaline was sober when he came to work and he would not swear that he was drunk when he was arrested. The glass produced in court which smelt of alcohol was used for spotting. He said there were certain stains that the line would not take out and it was necessary to use alcohol. When asked by the magistrate he said he had been drinking alcohol and water and he had paid $7.50 for the half can of alcohol. He said he had the right to grant permits, and I thought the wholesalers had the right to sell only to the retail vendors," said the magistrate. Who is responsible here? Is the law violated in the inspector's office or is it violated in the wholesalers' offices, or in Charlotte street?

PREMIER MAKES A TRIP TO MONTREAL

Ottawa, July 21.—The Hon. Arthur Meighen, went to Montreal today and returned to St. John, N. B., on Wednesday. The public reason for the trip was an inspection of the harbor, and a few words to the board of trade, but it is believed that, afterwards, there was talk of politics. It is worthy that Mr. Meighen made his first trip and his first public utterance in Quebec.

LEMON JUICE TAKES OFF TAN

Girls! Make bleaching lotion if skin is sunburned, tanned or freckled. Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost. Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! it is harmless.

ADMIRE MONGTON SCHOOL BUILDING

Chairman of Local School Board Seeks Ideas For New Structures to be Erected Here—Remodelling Contract to St. John Man.

The handsome structure, the Edith Cavell school building at Moncton, greatly impressed Dr. A. F. Emery, chairman of the St. John School Board when he had the opportunity of being shown over it this week. Dr. Emery, who was in Moncton attending the meeting of the New Brunswick Medical Society, returned to the city yesterday and in speaking of the Edith Cavell building he particularly referred to the number in the class room which it contains. He considered that it was a very distinct advantage to have more class rooms in school buildings in order that smaller classes could be accommodated with the greatest economy of space and expense.

HON. F. B. CARVELL ON COAL QUESTION

Ottawa, July 21.—That Canada's fuel shortage, both present and prospective is a matter of transportation which may be to a considerable degree cured in the course of the next few months, is the word that Hon. F. B. Carvell, chairman of the railway board and Commissioner S. J. MacLean bring back from Washington, where they conferred on Saturday and Monday with the inter-lake commerce commission.

BLOOD-FOOD DISCOVERED That Entirely Overcomes Anaemic Weakness

CAREFULLY INVESTIGATED REPORTS ESTABLISH TRULY WONDERFUL RESULTS. Hereafter it has often been a hopeless task for the doctor to find a better food or medicine in many instances has been produced, and when taken after meals will put new life and vigor into people that have despaired of being able to get on again. This truly wonder-working treatment consists of taking two small chocolate coated Ferrone's Tablets at the close of every meal.

NEVER A CORN ON MILLIONS OF FEET NOWADAYS

Do you know that millions of people who use Blue-jay keep entirely free from corns? If a corn appears it is ended by a touch. A Blue-jay plaster or a drop of liquid Blue-jay is applied. The corn pain stops. Soon the whole corn loosens and comes out. Try this new-day method. See what it does to one corn. You will never forget its quick and gentle action. Your druggist sells Blue-jay.

PARISIAN SAGE

Parisian Sage is a scientific preparation intended to supply all hair needs. It's easy to use, perfectly harmless, not sticky or greasy, and even the first application usually makes the hair and scalp look and feel 100 per cent better. If you want to save your hair, make it always look its best, and start a new growth, don't delay—begin using Parisian Sage now—tonight. A large bottle is inexpensive and costs you nothing if it does not give perfect satisfaction.

PARISIAN SAGE

A safe, certain method for ridding the skin of ugly, hairy growths is as follows: Mix a paste with some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surfaces about 2 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is entirely harmless and seldom requires re-treatment, but to avoid disappointment it is advisable to see that you get genuine delatone. Mix fresh as wanted.

QUESTIONNAIRE TO RETAIL GROCERS
IS DISCONTINUED

Ottawa, July 21—The Board of Commerce questionnaire to retail grocers has for the present been discontinued. Serious objection was taken in parliament and elsewhere to this questionnaire as imposing on the trade concerned too severe a burden in proportion to the object in view.

“The board,” says an official statement issued today, “after going carefully into the matter, has reached the view that the object sought by the questionnaire was wholly in the public interest, but that the immediate purpose of the issue of the questionnaire having been served its issue may now be suspended, satisfactory arrangements having been made by the Board of Commerce to secure by other means all necessary information respecting the grocery trade. The board hopes shortly to have effected an arrangement with the statistical service of the dominion government whereby the statistical work of the board, without added expenditure will be made increasingly effective. Experience has shown that inquiries under way by the Board of Commerce are liable at some points to touch inquiries of a similar character under way in other departments. The arrangements contemplated co-operation between the different departments concerned with the result, in all probability, of a reduced expenditure and an increased efficiency.”

HALIFAX LABOR AND THE SHIPYARD TROUBLE

Halifax, July 21—The Trades and Labor Council of Halifax tonight recommended in a strongly worded resolution, which was unanimously passed at a large and representative meeting, that every endeavor be made to bring the marine workers strike at the shipyards to a speedy conclusion, and that a levy should be made on union men of the district to enable striking workmen to remain out indefinitely should that be found necessary. The Trades and Labor Council has no power to call a general strike, or to make a general levy and therefore its recommendation comes merely in the form of an unanimous suggestion. Another meeting will be held later in the week to further discuss the situation arising out of the marine workers strike.

AGENTS WANTED

ONLY SATISFACTORY CANADIAN History Great War. Canadian authority. Introduction by General Currie. Many making $10 per week opportunity for returned men and others. Sample free. Winston Co., Spadina Bldg., Toronto.
"ON A REST" WITH GOV. COLLIDGE IN VERMONT. Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts, Republican nominee for vice-presidency, "on a rest." With Mrs. Coolidge and their two sons, John and Calvin, he is on his father's farm in the hills of Vermont. He finds the rest way to rest is to rise early and help his father do the farm work. The farm, a lovely one, situated at the top of Plymouth notch, consists of over 200 acres, partly wooded and partly cultivated. It has a beautiful view. Great crops are banked with fruit trees, heavily laden with sweet Vermont apples and juicy plums. The farm house, sandwiched between the Plymouth tannery and the home of Governor Coolidge's aunt, Mrs. J. J. Wilder, is a cozy New England home, with an old-fashioned cowbarn. The governor has risen at six o'clock every morning since his arrival on his forty-eight birthday. He has had his puts on his grandfather's top, consisting of an old flannel shirt, denim trousers and old-fashioned cowbarn boots, made at the Plymouth tannery in 1882. He recites with interest the history of the boots. They were made for his grandfather when he was elected to the legislature at Montpelier in 1888, who were worn throughout the session. Governor Coolidge wears them now when he "takes around the farm." A frock which the governor wears when he works in the fields, is a relic of his grandfather's days. It is of broad cloth and slides over the head like an army shirt and is not unlike the frock worn by artists. It is the governor's own entirely different man from the one who sits in the Boston capitol, immaculately attired. By way of adding to his hearty appeal for the splendid country cooking prepared by his father's house-keeper, the governor frequently goes into the meadows before the mist has cleared and mows a good sized corner of the field before the breakfast bell rings. He says it is much more invigorating than golf and fully as remunerative although he humorously adds that "some chaps make more at golf than they would at farming." J. C. Collidge has a large wood pile in front of the house. Most of it was originally chopped for stove wood but several chunks were left for the open fireplace. When the elderly farmer, who is seventy-five years old, returned from a fishing trip recently, he found all the larger pieces stibbed to kindling and learned that "Cal" had spent a part of the forenoon lustily swinging the axe. The old gentleman said nothing about the wood being intended for the fireplace, but smiled, when in the house and prepared an appetizing "mess" of brook trout from the Ottagochee. The governor's father has been town constable for forty years and a member of the legislature for nearly as long. His aunt, Mrs. J. J. Wilder, who is past eighty years, lives in the adjoining house. She and "Cal" sat all of one afternoon, reminiscing of the days when the town was snow bound and traffic impassable. Governor Coolidge first learned of the nomination of Governor Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt for the Democratic ticket the day after the nominations were made. The stage driver, driving the old fashioned stage from Ludlow to Woodstock, brought the news from Ludlow. It was nearly a day old then. The governor had no statement to make

When asked for one he said significantly that he was preparing his speech for the notification ceremonies at Northampton, July 27. He expected to stay at his father's farm until about July 28. John and Calvin, the governor's two sons, are ardent anglers like their grandfather, and recently caught twenty-two speckled trout. The governor himself is not a fisherman.

One cook working for $12 a week in a family of two, it also was revealed, left to work for $15 a week in a large family. Her excuse was that she did not have sufficient opportunity to keep up with her "art" in so small a family. She impressed upon them that it was not the wages which enticed her away.

A general housework girl declared she never liked to stay at one place very long, because if she did, her employer might think she owned her. "And you know," she said, "we are free now and you don't own us." She was working for $8 a week, but declared that she would not work for less than $9; wanted every night off and Thursday and Sunday afternoons, at least.

Apparel Trades from Raw Materials to Consumer Reported Quietest

Building Slows Up, With Slight Decline from June a Year Ago—Collections Slower—Crops Maintain Good Promise.

Midsummer quiet rules in distributive trade, with wholesale and jobbing lines showing least movement, but with retail trade helped in parts of the country and so-called price reductions, showing a little more life. Manufacturing circles are somewhat quiet in this latter direction. The tenor of crop reports is, if anything, better than before, although excess of rains in parts of the Pacific west are noted. In financial lines the leading features are the continued stringency of money, the raising of call rates, the apparent easing out of the short-lived mid-year boom in the stock market, and the lowering of exchange rates, led by sterling, apparently on large offerings of grain bills, German banking and the treaty, and uncertainty as to the action to be pursued in the matter of the French half of the Anglo-French loan, due in October. In fact, the entire business situation might be likened to that of a ship at anchor, with a tide change due but still undefined. Especially in this time of both buyers and sellers of goods in new and old stock, and in the textile trade, price uncertainties still governing, and the situation as July we see is that all trade lacks firmness and a definite trend is yet to be discerned.

(Cor. Financial Post) Montreal—One of the stocks that displayed a markedly stronger tone this week was Atlantic Sugar Refineries. Since its sudden rise from below par some weeks ago it has, in the main, advanced steadily for some fifty points, and this week set a new high record amounting to $70,000. It would appear somewhat remarkable that the price should run around $10 a share. It is known, however, that the earnings of the company have been remarkable during the past year, and in fact, all the elements of big feeding crops seem present this year. Cotton has apparently lost no ground, and may show an unusual thing, a gain in July condition.

Buy Good Clothes Right Now It Is Good Business

Right now is an unusual time to buy good clothes. One reason is that fall clothes—clothes made for the fall season—will cost you more than similar clothes did last spring. There is no doubt of this because they cost the manufacturer more and they cost us more.

This higher cost is not a prophecy—it is a fact. We have already placed our orders.

Now—right now—is the time to buy good clothes. We say good clothes—and not just clothes. There is no time when it is good business to buy just clothes—clothes that have no name, no reputation, no standards of quality for fabric, when it is a good time to buy clothes that you know as well as you know 20TH CENTURY STYLE or BENGARD CLOTHES.

We have priced many lines of our suits at reductions of $5.00 to $18.00 a suit. $30.00 Tweed Suits Reduced to $20.00 and $25.00 $50.00 Blue Suits Reduced to $40.00

Be fair to yourself in deciding about another suit or over garment. You'll need one before you get another such opportunity. Remember these clothes have a standard value. To buy them at a reduction is like buying a government bond at a discount—mighty good business.

It is known, however, that the earnings of the company have been remarkable during the past year, and in fact, all the elements of big feeding crops seem present this year. Cotton has apparently lost no ground, and may show an unusual thing, a gain in July condition.

The wheat crop of 800,000,000 bushels is indicated by the government's crop reports, and in fact, all the elements of big feeding crops seem present this year. Cotton has apparently lost no ground, and may show an unusual thing, a gain in July condition.

bushels, or about 20,000,000 bushels less than last year. Allowing 600,000,000 bushels for consumption and seed, there would be a surplus of 374,000,000 bushels for export and carry over, which is more than the average of late years. It is Bradstreet's Weekly Food Index.

This week's index number, based on the prices per pound of thirty-one articles used for food, is $4.74, which compares with $4.79 last week and $5.23 for the week ending July 17, 1919. This week's number shows a loss of 1 per cent. from last week and of 9.2 per cent. from like week of last year.

Raw cotton is strong on increased speculative interest and better foreign trade reports. July delivery has been very strong, reaching the highest price of the season, and spot cotton has reached $22.50 cents, a rise of 7.30 cents, or 30 per cent., over a year ago at this date. The high price of the year was 43.25 cents in May. Cotton consumption in June was 555,221 bales, a gain of 37 per cent. over a year ago. Only two out of the past eleven months show decreases in consumption from a year ago, but 2.5 per cent. below the year 1916-17. The number of active spindles is nearly 2 per cent. greater than a year ago.

Another interesting point that occurs here is the effect that the removal of the embargo on the export of sugar will have on the price of the article in Canada, and the business of the company. From any standpoint the result should be favorable. If the domestic requirements are not such as to call for the company's full production, it is only natural to suppose that orders for export will be filled, in the face of a general demand all over the world. This, in turn, is likely to have an effect in stiffening the price of sugar, although it is claimed for the refineries that in the face of conditions they have kept down the price far below what it could easily have been, looking towards the price across the border. With the latter market opened up, it is possible that the price in Canada will advance to meet the average in the United States. As Atlantic sugar has a fair supply of raws on hand this year would be to its advantage. So far as the annual statement is concerned, it is not likely to be made public much before the date of the annual meeting, that is on July 26.

Last December when the steamer Ethelra ran on the coast of Newfoundland with ninety-two passengers, including a new-born infant, in immediate danger of death in the heavy sea, Reuben Decker of Bonaville Bay called his dog, and putting the end of a rope in his mouth started him to swim to the wrecked ship. The dog, holding the rope fast, plunged into the heavy sea, and after struggling for more than an hour reached the steamer. With the line aboard, the passengers were sent ashore in a breeches buoy, the baby carried in a mail-bag. Now the dog has a silver collar, the gift of the humane societies of Philadelphia.

CRICKET.

British Matches.

London, July 21.—(Canadian Associated Press)—Seven county cricket matches commencing on July 17 were productive of some big scores and fine individual performances with both bat and ball were seen. Kent's defeat of Yorkshire at Maidstone by 121 runs and Sussex's pre-emptory dismissal of Lancashire at Eastbourne by an inning at 42 decidedly improved the championship position of Surrey, who themselves gained an easy win over Leicestershire by two wickets.

In a low scoring match at Derby, Somerset beat the home side by five wickets, Robson taking three for thirty-one in the first innings and five for twenty in the second. Warwick at home beat Gloucester by six wickets, the only redeeming feature in the latter's second innings being the mastery batting of Dipper, who carried his bat through for nine for eighty-seven, was the first bowler to gain his 100 wickets. On the third day the pitch at Maidstone crumbled in places and Yorkshire were faced with the task of getting 267 to win in three hours and a quarter. Only Denton seemed to be able to deal with the bowling effectively. Russell's 197, the highest score in first class cricket this year, was the outstanding feature of the Lord's match which petered out somewhat tamely in a draw. Middlesex scored 447. Essex at one time looked like having to follow on. Subsequently there was a great stand by Russell and L. C. Eastman, a Leyton amateur, who, going in in the ninth, scored ninety-one.

Another fine performance was that of Robert Half. In his 1st appearance for Sussex this season he scored 225 out of 478 against Lancashire, whose bowlers, however, were much below their usual standard. C. B. Fry prepared for Hants at Southampton, but his side lost to Nottingham.

He had the honor of holding the sweepstakes club members' wishes for every success in their efforts to erect a suitable club house on the grounds at Glen Falls.

Several new faces were seen at the shoot and the men expressed their willingness to join the club.

The prize donated by C. Carrel was won by O. J. Killam. The second prize Clifford McAvity and Walker Andrews tied for the second prize and the tie will be shot off next Wednesday evening.

W. G. McIntyre, of Montreal, donated nice cash prizes for next Wednesday evening's shoot.

After the shoot the executive of the association got together and decided to stage a tournament early in August the date of which will be announced in a few days.

ST. PETER'S TEAM AT BANQUET TABLE

St. Peter's baseball team were guests at a banquet in Bond's last evening, which was tendered them by friends. It was to have been held a week ago on the team's return from their tour to Montreal, Amherst and Truro but, as some of the players were absent from the city it was postponed until last evening. More than sixty sat down to a bounteous repast. Guests of honor present were Mayor Schofield, Commissioner Thornton and Rev. William Hogan C. S. R. rector of St. Peter's church.

After an excellent menu had been enjoyed the following programme was carried out—Address by the chairman, Arthur Walsh; vocal solo by James Duffy, toast to the team, proposed by the chairman and responded to by Thomas McGovern, manager; toast to the ladies, proposed by the chairman and responded to by Fred McGovern; vocal solo by Robert Butler; toast to the trip, proposed by the chairman and responded to by E. R. Hansen; toast to the society, proposed by the chairman and responded to by the president, Leo Durick; toast to Our City, proposed by the chairman and responded to by Mayor Schofield; toast to the North End, proposed by the chairman and responded to by Commissioner Thornton; toast to Canada, proposed by the chairman and responded to by John J. McDonnell. The speakers were enthusiastically applauded at the termination of their remarks.

Prior to adjourning all arose and sang the National Anthem and Oh Canada. The success achieved was largely due to Frank Burke, who fathered the scheme to entertain the ball players and all felt they owed him a debt of gratitude for the good time which was due to his thoughtfulness.

THE RACE BUT RESOLUTE WINS ON ALLOWANCE

Sandy Hook, N. J., July 21.—(Canadian Press)—Shamrock and Resolute, in actual sailing time today, ran a tie race but Resolute wins on time allowance.

The two yachts crossed the line on the starboard tack with Shamrock leading by nineteen seconds, Captain Burton tacked immediately to port and headed for the shore. The Resolute followed leisurely, and the yachts had not sailed ten minutes when it was seen that the defender was up to her old tricks of beating out to windward, leaving the Shamrock to outflow her or drop away.

For the first hour the Shamrock seemed to be making more by footing faster than she was losing by fanning out to windward and at 2 o'clock it looked as if she might cross the Resolute if she tacked off shore. However, the Shamrock in shore until she was almost in shoal water. When she tacked it was seen at once that she had no chance to weather the Resolute. The defender waited until assured that she held the weather berth and then tacked almost on top of the Shamrock. This settled the race.

Captain Burton tried every possible sea trick to squirm out from under the Resolute. He made four or five fake tacks, throwing his boat up into the wind to get the Resolute to follow and falling back again on the old tack in the hope of leaving the Resolute in the lurch. In fact the Resolute gained a few hundred yards by these false tacks of Shamrock IV. The yachts made more than twenty tacks between the Highlands and Long Branch, all of them within two miles of the beach, still the Shamrock could not gain the weather berth.

Finally the Resolute refused to con- wane the short hitches and stood for the mark on a long six-mile board of shore. The Shamrock soon followed, and for the first time the two yachts ploughed through the waves, for the breeze increased to nearly twelve knots and at times knocked the boats down until the water was rushing over the lee rail.

The last mile was made with slightly started sheets and on this point of sailing the Shamrock proved herself a better boat than the Resolute. In fact the last mile was quite significant in view of the fact that the next race will be over a triangular course with two legs on broad reaches.

Each by inch, as the spectators watched, breathlessly Shamrock IV moved up and up. A mile from the stake they were running neck and neck through the fluff little white caps turned up by the breeze. They appeared so close together from the press of boats that it seemed as if a man might have jumped from challenger to defender. Actually, the distance was several boat lengths.

Shamrock kept up the steady crawl ahead until at the half mile mark from the line she was nearly a full boat length ahead. Then Resolute caught, with an extra puff of wind from somewhere, and straining like a thoroughbred under the tack, crept up slowly—almost imperceptibly.

She had got her bow about even with Shamrock's sterning mast when a puff of steam from the committee boat's whistle registered Shamrock's mile.

If the Shamrock could outstretch the Resolute in the two ten-mile legs in Friday's race by eight or ten minutes she may make up for the loss of a minute or two in the ten-mile heat to windward which would give her the third and deciding race. The last mile, therefore, on the windward leg today, which was in the nature of a reach, caused considerable discussion among the experts.

The Resolute, with her time allowance of seven minutes and one second used it to win by that margin, so the series tonight stands two to one in favor of Shamrock IV.

As the yachts crossed the line the committee asked their skippers whether they wished to race tomorrow and both replied in the negative. The next race, therefore, will be on Friday.

The summary of the yacht race follows:

Table with columns: Yacht Name, Start, Finish, Time, Elapsed Corrected Time. Shamrock IV: Start 1:00:41, Finish 1:00:22, Time 5:08:29, Elapsed Corrected 4:08:06, 3:56:05.

Resolved wins by 7 min. 1 sec. corrected time. Elapsed time on legs: First Leg, Second Leg. Shamrock IV: 2:24:40, 1:28:29. Resolute: 2:26:44, 1:26:29.

TODAY STARTS ST. JOHN'S GREATEST MERCANTILE EVENT

Oak Hall's Annual Mid-Summer Sale

The Values offered at this sale this year are better and more numerous than ever before—and this is possible only through our great special purchases for cash at rock bottom prices as well as the drastic reductions made on our entire stock.

Although St. John has been full of "Sales" this season, yet the mere announcement of the commencing of Oak Hall's Great Annual Event, stirs up a feeling of anticipation among those thousands who know from past experience just what this event means to them. For those who don't know from past experience, we'll say that here's the greatest money-saving opportunity of the season, because—Large Volume at Minimum Profit is our motto—we do such an enormous volume at this time that we can afford to make each individual sale at a very narrow margin of profit, depending on the total turnover for final returns.

WE KNOW that all kinds of wearing apparel are from 10 p.c. to 25 p.c. higher in price for next fall, and yet, in spite of this fact we are following our usual custom of offering our entire stock at radical reductions on present day prices, meaning savings to you of 15 p.c. to 35 p.c. on wearing apparel for present needs and as an investment for future needs representing 25 p.c. to 50 p.c. savings. This is your real opportunity to save without sacrificing, and when you have the well known Oak Hall guarantee to back up every article you buy at such savings, you should not hesitate to take full advantage of it at the earliest moment.

EVERYBODY KNOWS that this is a bona-fide sale in every sense of the word—but let us emphasize one important point: The reductions are from original prices that were very low—they represent the lowest margin of profit on which this business ever operated; and that greatly increases the measure of value you get at these sale prices.
