Talk Against Tie In Senate

Filibuster To Prevent The Passing Of Legislation

SPEECHES HOURS LONG

Lodge Presents Resolution For Peace With Germany First and League of Nations Taken up Later, But Fails to Get Action

Washington, March 4.—With but a few hours of the final session of the sixty-sixth congress remaining, Republicans against which the minority filibuster was aimed, but Republican leaders said it would be passed finally as their purpose simply was to prevent action on other legislation. Senators Sherman of Illinois and La Follette of Wisconsin spoke for several hours, the former beginning at one o'clock after the majority leader had presented a resolution which was supported by thirty-seven members of the senate, opposing acceptance of the constitution of the league of nations as now framed.

Senator Lodge's resolution follows:— "Whereas, under the constitution it is a function of the senate to advise and consent to, or dissent from, the ratification of any treaty of the United States and no such treaty can become operative without the consent of the senate expressed by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the senators present; and "Whereas, on the 28th day of January, 1919, the treaty of the United States and of the nations with whom it is associated, a peace conference was called at Versailles, France, for the purpose of settling the terms of peace; and "Whereas, a committee of the conference has proposed a constitution for a league of nations and the proposal is now before the peace conference for its consideration; "Now, therefore, be it resolved by the senate of the United States in the sense of the senate that it is its sense of the senate that while it is its desire that the nations of the world should unite to promote peace and general disarmament the constitution of the league of nations in the form now proposed to the peace conference should not be adopted by the United States.

"And be it resolved further, that it is the sense of the senate that the negotiations on the part of the United States should immediately be directed to the most expeditious of the urgent business of negotiating peace terms with Germany satisfactory to the United States and the nations with whom the United States is associated in the war against the German government, and that the permanent peace of the world should be then taken up for careful and serious consideration."

Later Congress Adjourns

Washington, Mar. 4.—Congress adjourned at noon today in the midst of a Republican filibuster in the senate that killed a long list of important measures. Among the bills that failed was one appropriation of $750,000,000 for the railroad administration, without which some administration leaders say the railroads must be returned to their owners before the middle of April.

Just before adjournment, President Wilson authorized final notice to the Republicans that their offer to force an immediate extra session had failed; as he was mistaken in his determination not to call the new congress until work at the peace conference was on.

Considerable work has been found necessary to put into proper order the quarters secured for use as temporary court rooms in the Masonic building. One of the time-consuming jobs is the installation of an entire lighting system. All the old wiring has been torn out and the new will be installed in metal conduits. The work was started today and is being done by the Masonic Hall Company.

OPENING OF THE LEGISLATURE

Preparations for Thursday—Some Anticipated Events of the Session

As the time for the opening of the legislature, on Thursday afternoon, draws near interest in the forthcoming session is deepening and the people of the province are looking forward to a session marked by stirring incidents as well as by the passage of useful and progressive legislation.

In preparation for the opening the various arrangements are being completed and it has been announced that the reply to the speech from the throne will be moved by Allison A. Dyar of Kentville, seconded by John J. Robichaud of Gloucester.

George Y. Dobbie, who has served with great efficiency as an assistant and acting clerk of the house and who this year was promoted to the rank of clerk, in succession to the late Henry B. Kainford, is undergoing treatment in the St. John infirmary and will not be present for the opening possibly to a session marked by stirring incidents as well as by the passage of useful and progressive legislation.

The choice of a new speaker in succession to Hon. William Currie, who has resigned that office, will be the first past-meeting of the legislature of the house when it meets. It has been rumored that Dr. J. E. Hetherington of Queens is likely to be the member chosen for this important position, but Premier Foster has said that there will be no official announcement on this subject until the house meets.

Hon. Mr. Currie, who still is in the Moncton hospital recovering from the effects of an operation, will not be present at the opening of the session and has also indicated that he is unable to attend. This report is delayed until he is able to present, the understanding being that he will be present for the opening of the session when the report is presented. It has not been announced that his request will be met.

Another royal commission report which is looked forward to with even more interest than that of Commissioner McQueen on the "patriotic potato" matter, involving the activities of several prominent members of the legislature. This report, it is understood, will not be made public until the house meets, but it is not known whether it will be presented immediately or delayed in order that it may be considered at the same time as the report on the "patriotic potato" matter.

Berlin in Turmoil; Plan Overthrow of The New Republic

Great General Strike Also Planned by Reds and Counter One is Suggested; State of Siege in Capital Suburbs

Berlin, March 4.—(By the Associated Press)—The National Spartacus League and the greater Berlin communist organizations have issued an appeal for an immediate general strike and the overthrow of the National Assembly and the present republic.

The organizations instruct their followers to assemble at factories to prevent work and direct them to avoid street demonstrations in order that the government may have no opportunity to crush the movement by force. Meetings were being held yesterday at various factories for the purpose of deciding whether to accept the appeal. The workers of the Schwartzkopf plant, who are among the most radical in Berlin, have voted for a general strike, 12,000 men being affected. This is the first resolution of the Spartacus appeal.

According to the Vorwaerts, the majority of the workmen in the metal trades and the railway workers favor a general strike.

The aims of the proposed strike as called by the Berlin Spartacans include the introduction of factory councils in all departments to regulate factory affairs and ultimately the taking over of the factories, the dismissal of government troops and disarmament of all non-Socialists, the withdrawal of all troops from Westphalia, Bremen and other regions designated, and the formation of a Red Guard under the control of the Soviets which would take over all military and police powers.

A Counter-Strike. Some 800 business and professional men and officers in the city, mostly adherents of the old order, held a meeting and decided to take immediate steps for organizing a general strike of all the non-Socialist classes as a counter measure. It was asserted in the debate at the gathering that the government officials believed such a strike would assist them effectively in the struggle against the "Red Terror," and that they considered it necessary to show the Spartacans that the people supported the national assembly.

It seems doubtful, however, whether the speakers had any authority to speak for the government, or whether the troops at Munich have decided to stand back of the military command. (Continued on page 7; seventh column)

INDIA'S FINANCES

Surplus Looked For This Year—Exemption of Some Incomes

London, March 4.—(Reuters')—The estimated revenue for India during the financial year of 1919-1920 is £26,250,000, and it is believed there will be a surplus of £268,500 at the end of that period, according to a statement submitted to the viceroy's legislative council by Sir James S. Weston, representative of India at the imperial war conference on Saturday. In view of the high prices which prevail at present, the British government has decided to raise the minimum income liable to income tax in India from 1,000 rupees to 2,000 rupees.

The principal feature in the expenditures contemplated during the coming year by the Indian office is a provision for an appropriation of £24,000,000 for railroad building. There will also be large appropriations for education. Sir James pointed out that India's control of raw materials placed her in a position of exceptional strength.

The crisis in India relative to silver currency during the last year was referred to by the Indian office in its report. It was believed there will be a surplus year by the Indian office in its report. It was needed for sounder currency habits in India, and said that if the absorption of silver was unrestricted it might become physically impossible to purchase enough of the metal. He declared that even if silver was obtainable, the demand might force the price to a giddy height and throw into confusion the entire exchange policy.

Lachine Teachers Resigned In Body

23 Out of 28 Took Stand on Salary Scale Question—Six Schools Affected

At least twenty-three of the twenty-eight Protestant teachers in the high school and five elementary schools of Lachine, says the Montreal Gazette, sent in their resignations on last Monday afternoon, because, it was said, the Lachine school board had refused to accept a scale of salaries submitted, providing what the teachers considered to be a fair basis of increases.

The resignations will not take effect until the end of the school year in June, as the teachers are under contract, but the resignations are tendered now in order to avoid renewals of contracts on the old terms. The trouble may be said to be a climax of an agitation amongst Montreal and suburban teachers for better pay, and which has been proceeding through various phases for more than a year.

Some months ago the Protestant Suburban Teachers' Association made up of teachers from the municipalities surrounding Montreal, decided on a scale of salaries, the contention being that present pay was in most cases less than a living wage, that on account of the low rate of remuneration offered many of the best teachers were forsaking the profession, and that the number of teachers in training was constantly decreasing, presenting a serious educational problem. It was shown that many teachers were receiving only $30 a month.

The new scale had variations, but might be broadly stated as demanding a minimum of $800 to a maximum of $1,400 a year for teachers in elementary grades, and a minimum of $1,100 to a maximum of $1,500 for teachers in the high school grades. This scale was presented to the Associated Suburban School Boards, a consultative body representative of the various boards around the city, and the representatives thereon reported back to their various boards, but there was no general acceptance of the scale, some being in favor and some against.

Last week the Verdun school board accepted the scale, with the modification that the minimum salary for teachers in elementary grades be placed at $700 instead of $800, an award which the Verdun teachers have accepted. The Lachine board, it is reported, while in sympathy with the teachers in their jurisdiction in their efforts to secure better salaries, did not see eye to eye with the teachers in the matter of the scale. It is reported that while the members of the board were willing to grant increases to the teachers individually, they did not consider that a scale such as presented was in the best interests of the community or of the teachers themselves. This was the rock on which the board and the teachers split, with the result that the resignations were sent in yesterday.

The case of Alexander McAvghan was up in the police court yesterday afternoon. The prisoner was charged with stealing a bottle of brandy from the S. S. Melita. After considerable evidence was given, the accused was disposed of according to law. James Ferguson, a sailor on the S. S. Caraquez, pleaded guilty to stealing articles of clothes from his shipmates, J. J. McArthur, George Borden and Wilfred Brown. The accused, when asked where he came from, answered "Glasgow." He was remanded to await the arrival of the captain of the Caraquez, who said he was a deserter from another ship. The shipping master here will have the prisoner shipped back to Liverpool where he signed articles. Several men were before the court charged with drunkenness. They were all fined.

Want Positions For Veterans

Several important resolutions were adopted last night at a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Great War Veterans' Association, Captain G. Earle Logan, the president, occupied the chair. Forty-eight new members were admitted to membership. There were ninety-six new applications in all. Among the resolutions was one demanding that aliens be deported. It follows: "Whereas a number of returned soldiers in this section are at present out of employment, and

"Whereas there are a number of enemy aliens employed in this city and province, therefore

"Resolved that this branch of the Great War Veterans' Association places itself on record as demanding the deportation of all enemy aliens throughout the province and that their places be filled by returned soldiers now out of employment."

Another resolution adopted referred to work on the Valley railway. It is as follows: "Whereas it is reported that large numbers of men are to be employed in Valley railway construction in the immediate future, therefore

"Resolved that this branch of the Great War Veterans' Association request that the premier of the Province of New Brunswick use his influence with the contractors to see that no outside labor is employed and that preference be given to the returned soldiers of the province."

Another resolution adopted follows: "Resolved that this branch of the Great War Veterans' Association do now request the dominion, provincial and civic governments to disclose all Japanese, 406 Norwegians, 1,163 Russians and all appointments made by these respective bodies since August 4, 1914, be declared vacant and that the said positions be filled by returned soldiers six months after actual demobilization of all overseas troops, and that copies of this resolution be forwarded to these respective bodies, dominion, provincial and civic and to the dominion and provincial commands, the two latter bodies to be asked to support this resolution."

ALSATIANS CELEBRATING

Strasbourg, Saturday, March 1—The inhabitants of Alsace, and Strasbourg in particular, today celebrated the anniversary of the protest made in the French national assembly at Bordeaux in 1871 by the deputies of Alsace-Lorraine against the annexation of their country to Germany.

All the buildings in Strasbourg were decorated and school children marched through the streets. In the afternoon a wreath was laid on the grave of Emile Kuss, the last French mayor of Strasbourg before the German occupation.

Leon Bourgeois, in the name of the army commission of the French senate, paid tribute to Kuss and Leon Gambetta. He recalled that Premier Clemenceau was the only one of the Protestants of 1871 who is still alive.

He said that the premier had been able to realize in his old age the promise of his youth.

HELLO! IS THAT YOU, SIRIUS?

Marconi's Theory on Messages to the Stars

Must Find Inhabited Planet Whose People Are Able to Receive and Comprehend the Signals

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)
 One is rather inclined to put the announcement about Marconi sending a message to Neptune and intermediate points on the front page in lieu of the daily joke, believing as considering it in the philosophic and scientific department. However, what Marconi has already achieved makes it a trifle risky to treat as humorous anything he says, no matter how extraordinary it may appear at first sight. The only doubt Marconi entertained was whether or not some of the distant stars there were human beings, or creatures of intelligence, as we judge intelligence, and whether they had established a system of communication somewhat similar to that which bears his name. He had no doubt whatever about his ability to send his signal as far as was necessary.

Soon afterward, Nicola Tesla said in New York that he had received signals, "the nature of which precluded the possibility" of them having been sent from any part of the earth. We do not stress the importance of Nicola Tesla's statement. He is a smart young fellow—and may time this remark is made the proper word to use is "but," Marconi is something else again.

Take a Star Joy Ride.
 Marconi believes that after the earth message leaves the earth and the earth-enveloping atmosphere it passes through a vacuum through which it can travel with unimpeded force for limitless distances. It will speed, moreover, not in one particular direction like a telegraph wire, but in all directions like the ripples caused by the dropping of a stone in the water. Thus it flies through interstellar space, traversing, maybe, thousands of solar systems, and it may happen that somewhere above there will be found an apparatus attuned to catch the signal. The inventor of wireless does not believe that there is any limit to the distance a radio message can travel through a vacuum, and through the enveloping atmosphere of planets. Its rate of speed will be the same as that of light, and it has calculated that light travels at the rate of 186,000 miles a second. On this basis a flash would reach Neptune in about six hours, and on its journey would have touched Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, and other interesting points. Neptune, he ought to be said, is twenty-eight hundred millions of miles away. This is roughly speaking.

A Flash to Alpha Centauri.
 But it is to be feared that there is no life, as we understand it, on any of these planets, the climate, according to Marconi, therefore, has higher hopes of an answer to his call from planets in our solar system. Of these the nearest is Alpha Centauri, which is about four light years away. This is a long tramp, and it would take a message ten years ago, and if it should happen that it was caught on Alpha Centauri, immediately translated, and shipped back without censorship, we must wait ten years. In the event of the other folk having devised a means of sending messages, faster, it might arrive sooner, or later.

It May Be Late.
 So far as we know, Sirius is the most roof of our neighbors. Sirius, which is the brightest star in our heavens, being distant some ten years at the rate of 186,000 miles a second, which utterly dispenses any notions of week-ending at Sirius. So it would appear that if, in the course of another ten years no answer comes to Marconi's message, the prospect of establishing a connection between this world and another will be strictly limited to the between here and the Hereafter. There are, however, stars still more remote, but so far as we know, it would take a generation or a dozen generations to get a message through to them, and an equal number of generations to get a message back, unless they discovered some swifter means of communication. For instance, if one of the stars in the Milky Way happened to be inhabited and to have evolved a Marconi, and to have received one of our messages, it would take about 10,000 years for them to reply, which would make it altogether too late.

How To Talk.
 But, supposing that some of the nearer planets are inhabited and have received even the Imperialists that the English language may be not understood there. Marconi's idea is to flash signals. Irving R. Bacon, in the Philadelphia Ledger, suggests that we should employ arithmetic instead of ordinary language, and somebody else once remarked that if he had a message from Mars or elsewhere which did not agree that two and two made four, he would view it with suspicion, and to have evolved a Marconi, the explanation in the Morse code that a dot meant one. The next day the communication would consist of two dots, followed by a dash. The basic notion is that a certain signal would impress the receivers; they would perceive method in its madness, and if they could not score anything in the way of repeats, they would at least, send back something that our own brains might try to grapple with.

First Wet Spun Yarns in Canada

Flax Spinners, Limited, Places in Operation Initial Equipment

The first wet spun linen yarns ever manufactured in Canada—or, indeed, up on the American continent—are now being produced at Guelph, Ont., the mills of Flax Spinners, Limited, a subsidiary of Dominion Linens, Limited, have just been placed in operation.

Up to the present time Dominion Linens has had considerable trouble through lack of raw material in the shape of linen yarns, but from now on the question of supplies along the line indicated will be entirely within its own control—a decided advantage, as well as may be imagined.

The authorized capital of Flax Spinners, Limited, is $50,000. It is owned by Dominion Linens, Limited, and all proceeds from the operations of the former concern will accrue to the benefit of the shareholders in the latter.

Setled Linen Yarn.
 D. M. Sanson, president of Dominion Linens, Limited, in discussing the progress made by the company in its last fiscal year, says in a letter to the Financial Editor of The Mail and Empire: "Owing to the action of the British authorities in January and February, 1915, in confiscating our supplies of linen yarns, but from now on the question of our supplies for the past fourteen months to the manufacture of cotton goods, I might say that the British authorities had taken a shipment of yarn off the boat valued at $27,000 at Liverpool, and from now on we will be producing for the same. Both our money and our yarns were retained for many months.

"The British government forced us to sell the yarns to British weavers. The government took a small portion of the yarns themselves. In other words, the government said: 'We will keep these yarns in Great Britain, manufacture them into finished cloth, thereby paying wages to our workmen, the profits to our manufacturers, and help maintain our balance of trade.'

Profits Are Larger.
 The result was that upwards of a year ago we undertook a programme of installing complete flax spinning plants which have now commenced operations. Our subsidiary company, Flax Spinners, Limited, is producing its first wet spun yarns.

"Notwithstanding our troubles through lack of raw material on linen yarns, the profits of Dominion Linens, Limited, in 1915 were 50 per cent. In advance of those in 1917.

"Within the last few months we have added considerable equipment, and within the next few weeks we will be installing 100 additional looms. It will give us considerable large production. We have orders on hand to keep our plants in full operation for months to come.

"The machinery for the spinning mill of Flax Spinners, Limited, of British manufacture, and is of the latest type; it has been made at Messrs. J. Mackie, and Lawson, Combe, Harbours, Fairburn, Limited, Leeds, England. A considerable portion of this equipment has yet to come forward, but we expect it within the next few weeks."

New York Committee Acts to Prevent Exhibiting Immodest Lingerie

Plan Appeal to Designers—Start Campaign for the Use of More Material in the Bodice of Evening Gowns

(New York Times.)

New York's shopping centre has been divided into five districts by Mrs. James Griswold Wentz, president of the Woman's Republican Club and acting chairman of the decent dress committee, appointed at Tuesday's meeting of the club, and a member of the committee will be in charge of each district to watch window displays in an effort to prevent the public exhibition of waistless gowns and gaudy-like lingerie.

The committee intends to appeal to designers to allow more material above the waist-line in evening gowns. "I understand, in fact, that the designers coming in, are to be worse than any we have had yet," said Mrs. Wentz, yesterday, "but I don't know how they can be."

Mrs. Wentz is also looking forward to the work of the city federation. "The resolution which was passed at the last meeting of the federation provided for the appointment of a committee on decent dress by the incoming president," said Mrs. Wentz. "Copies of the resolution protesting against immodest dressing by women will be sent to the different clubs in the federation to be read to their members. This will mean that 400,000 women will be reached.

"No one with any sense expects women to give up evening dress, but some of the gowns have no sleeves, have only a little band of silk or velvet over the shoulder, and some have nothing at all. It does not make much difference about the sleeves if there is a modest bodice, but some of the gowns have none at all—simply a little band of satin. Some of these are shown in the shop windows. Of course, if women want to wear gowns like that they will do so, but we don't want women of refinement to copy them. Gowns can be made with a little tulle, a little lace, or a little trimming on the bodice.

Quotes Mrs. Ellen O'Grady.
 "I heard Mrs. Ellen O'Grady, the deputy police commissioner, say she was horrified at the lack of modesty in young women, and that she could not account for it. I said it was because of the kind of gowns they saw worn. You see them everywhere—at the opera, at balls, at hotels, and at dances of all kinds. It is demoralizing to our young girls, and it will demoralize our young men who are coming home from France.

"I have been into one of the big shops where they were making a window display of chiffon and georgette crepe under wear which is absolutely transparent, and asked if they would not make change and display something else. They said they were not showing them on human beings. But they are suggestive. There are some women who will buy them, but I don't know any one who wears anything of the kind. This was one of the big shops of which I have been a patron for a long time. I told them it was the first place I had asked them to do this, and I hoped they would

The annual meeting of the Young Women's Guild of Trinity Church was held in the school room last night with the president, Miss George Patton, in the chair. Very satisfactory reports of the year's progress were handed in by the convener of the various committees and the meeting was made especially interesting by the presentation to Miss Dorothy Robson of a life membership in the women's auxiliary by the members of the guild. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Miss George Patton; 1st vice, Miss Ellen Upham; 2nd vice, Miss Dorothy Robson; 3rd vice, Miss Ethel Jarvis; secretary, Miss Dorothy Teed; treasurer, Miss Evelyn Frisbie; Dorcas secretary, Miss Ann Orr. THE IRISH SITUATION

The following Dublin correspondence of a London paper is written by Sir Walter Green: Let us analyze the situation produced by the general election in Ireland. The first important fact is that the majority of the people of Ireland will be unrepresented in the new parliament. The possibility of the Sinn Fein members, or such of them as may be out of prison, going there as allies of the Labour party is at present too remote for serious consideration.

"Last winter I took a most severe cold on my lungs and was coughing up phlegm and blood most of the time. At last a friend advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, which I did, and it gave me great relief in a very short time. Today I am enjoying my usual health again." Keep The Bowels Regular And You Won't Be Sick

If the bowels do not move regularly, they will sooner or later become constipated, and constipation is productive of more ill-health than almost any other trouble. The sole cause of constipation is an inactive liver, and unless the liver is kept active, you may be sure that headaches, floating specks before the eyes, and many other troubles will follow. The wrong action of this one of the most important organs of the body. Milburn's Laxative Pills will regulate the bowels so that you will have a free and easy motion every day, and one pill a night for thirty days will cure the worst case of constipation. They do this by acting directly on the liver and making the bile pass through the bowels instead of allowing it to get into the blood, thus causing many stomach and bowel troubles. Mrs. Jos. LeVore, Louise Apts., Calgary, Alta., writes: "I have been troubled with constipation for the last two years. I have tried numerous treatments, but have never been relieved by anything until I used Milburn's Laxative Pills which are helping me wonderfully." We do not claim that Milburn's Laxative Pills are a "cure-all," but we do state that there is nothing better for a laxative. Price 50c a retail at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

TO PROVIDE MORE AND BETTER HOUSES IN ST. JOHN

Rotary Club, Board of Trade and Trades and Labor Council Discuss Situation and Decide to Take Action

The serious housing difficulties which are now facing St. John were considered last evening at a dinner at Bond's at which about fifty members of the board of trade and Rotary Club were present. The speakers all agreed that something must be done and done quickly to relieve the situation. As a result of the conference the Rotarians will appoint a committee to act with similar committees from the Board of Trade and Trades and Labor Council. They will ascertain approximately how many persons desire to build homes and what the city will furnish in the way of land and capital. If necessary, the trades union officials will ascertain from each union how many of their members are in favor of building dwellings.

During the discussion the chair was occupied by President R. D. Paterson of the Rotary Club. The first speaker was Captain J. Thackeray of the reparation committee, Ottawa, who spoke very strongly in favor of Canada providing justly and generously for the returned soldiers. Captain Thackeray was heard at length at the Imperial Theatre Sunday night in an address to the Great War Veterans. What Other Cities Did. W. F. Burditt opened the discussion of the housing problem in an instructive and descriptive address, in which he was assisted by lantern slides giving views of the various types of cottages, tenements, etc. One of the benefits arising out of the war, said Mr. Burditt, is that which has brought to public men the necessity of making provision for workmen's houses. Where communities have erected such houses they have found that it pays as it enables them to retain a better class of men. The houses in Kenosha were built no nearer than twelve feet and as far apart as fifteen feet, giving abundance of sunlight and good air. The houses in that city cost from $2,000 to $4,000 and sold for $100 down with minimum payments of $18 a month. The English System. Mr. Burditt spoke of the housing system provided by Sir William Lever in England. In England there is a co-partnership system by which shares are sold instead of the houses. The workman acquires in shares the equivalent of the value of his home. This system does not have to look after the upkeep of the property. In other words he is as free as if he lived in a rented house.

Tells of War Work of K. of C.

The Knights of Columbus are doing an excellent work for the soldiers regardless of race or creed—not only throughout Canada but overseas, and in the United States as well. The immense amount of machinery and equipment which the order has in operation were explained last evening by Colonel Clarence F. Smith, of Montreal, controller of the K. of C. work among Canadian soldiers, who came to the city yesterday to visit St. John headquarters. Colonel Smith left last night for Halifax and will return Thursday morning and spend the entire day in the city.

Colonel Smith was appointed controller on December 20 last. His work is purely voluntary and he serves without pay. Since 1914 he has been engaged in looking after the welfare of the soldiers of the Canadian Patriotic Fund and chairman of the advisory board of the national executive of the organization. For three years he was a member of the military hospital commission. The headquarters of the Knights of Columbus work are in Montreal. At the present time there are club houses for the soldiers in Montreal, Halifax, Hamilton, London (Ont.), Winnipeg, Brandon, Saskatoon, Vancouver and Victoria. Colonel Smith said that the Knights work to perfect arrangements to establish similar clubs in Regina, Medicine Hat, Calgary, work among and Revelstoke. The order is now able to care for men at the different dispersing stations from Halifax to Victoria. In all instances the clubs are for returned soldiers and sailors, regardless of race or religion.

Colonel Smith stated that since hospital ships with Canadian soldiers have been going to Portland the American knights meet the boats and bring them and comforts to the men. The Canadian papers with the latest news are sent to Portland by the Canadian knights. In most of the club houses besides the usual club rooms there are beds and dining rooms. There are provided at twenty-five cents each and beds at the same price. These are for soldiers who have no homes. Everything is free but the meals and beds. In the Montreal club house, which was formerly an art gallery, there are nine cool and brilliant tables. General Pan visited the headquarters there last Sunday and on Thursday the governor-general will be a guest. The club houses will be maintained for fifteen or eighteen months and every assistance will be given the returning men to re-enter civil life. The order maintains employment committees who assist the men to obtain suitable employment.

There are two club houses in London and there are tents at the demobilization depots in England. The men are given cigarettes, checkers, writing paper, cards and other things when they board the steamers and they are also attended to at St. John and Halifax when they arrive. Montreal and Quebec will be equipped with booths when those ports open.

Colonel Smith said that the work was necessary and that there had been no overlapping. Third Division Coming. To Provide New Orphans' Home

Directors of Present Home Takes Lead in Steps Towards Greater Accommodation—Committee is Appointed

A special meeting of the board of directors of the St. John Protestant Orphans Home was held yesterday afternoon and representatives of the fraternal societies were present to discuss the proposed extension of the orphanage accommodation which is so urgently needed. It was decided at the meeting that a fund should be started for building a new and permanent home in the outskirts of the city and a committee was appointed to make arrangements for the immediate needs of the orphanage as a temporary measure.

T. H. Estabrooks, the president, was in the chair, and those present were Mrs. W. Edmund Raymond, acting secretary in the absence of Mrs. J. S. MacLaren, Mrs. David McLeish, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. H. N. Stetson, Mrs. Secord, Miss Sydney Smith, Miss Gunn, Miss Bayard, Mrs. Forbes, J. A. Likely and the following representatives of fraternal societies: J. A. Likely, for the Sons of England, Mr. Ledford, the Salvation Army, Brigadier Moore; Knights of Pythias, F. Hamilton; E. Milton Smith and Mr. Willis; Grand Orange Lodge, F. Kerr, Mr. Hipwell and Mr. Campbell.

Mr. Estabrooks announced that a check for $801 had been received from the Knights of Pythias as a practical demonstration of their support and loyalty to the cause of homeless children. He said that as the result of the recent account of the buildings committee of the Home as to the need for further accommodation, the Parks' Home and the old Holly residence in Douglas avenue had been inspected with a view to their utilization for housing orphans.

J. A. Likely said that it would be too expensive to make the Parks' home accommodation adequate as a proposed annex to meet the immediate needs of the orphanage and in any case it would only provide for forty-five more children. He suggested that an extension should be built on the rear of the present building which could be done in a few months at a cost of $90,000, giving room for 100 children, and a few more for needy children.

Mr. Estabrooks said that the Holly residence to be fitted as an annex would require little improvement beyond fire escapes and has ample provision for a playground. Mr. Rankin, who was in the chair, said that an annex for the immediate needs and a new building for the future should be aimed at and the meeting thoroughly endorsed this view. Judge Forbes spoke strongly in favor of a large playground and the possibility of requiring little improvement for the children.

Mr. Kerr, for the Orange Lodge, promised help and support for any plan that aimed at the betterment of the children. The Sheriff Sturdee house in Wright street as able to house forty orphans, having one and a half acres of playground.

Mr. Hipwell said that the New Brunswick Lodge had contained a building owing to the Blue Lodge Orphanage in Picton, Ontario, so serious had it considered the need for an orphanage for New Brunswick children. He said that there was a great slackness in parental discipline which had caused many children not orphans to be taken into the Home. As did all present at the meeting, he strongly advocated the "open reproof" for the orphanage.

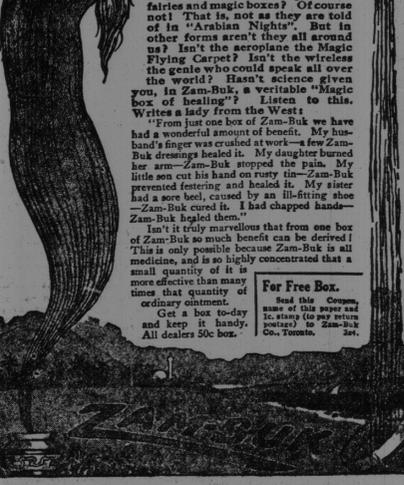

Mr. Campbell, of the Grand Orange Lodge, said that the plans of the society must be guided by the convention to be held in the spring. Mr. Hamilton, for the Knights of Pythias, said that the present moment was a most opportune one for interesting the public in the needs of the orphanage, and he was heartily in favor of the resolution which was finally passed that a committee be appointed to procure necessary quarters for immediate use and that a fund for a permanent building should be collected.

The committee appointed to consider the matter of the temporary building Peters, F. Kerr, E. Milton Smith, Messias Murray, Secord and D. McLeish, finance committee, Judge Forbes, J. A. Likely, C. H. Peters, Brigadier Moore, Mr. Hipwell, Mr. Estabrooks, Mr. Ledford, and T. H. Estabrooks. The committee of six appointed to look into the matter of the immediate extension of the accommodation has as its convenor, H. C. Rankin.

THE GENIE AND THE MAGIC BOX

"AND THE GENIE FILLED THE BOX WITH THE MAGIC BALM." Eastern Tale.

You don't believe in genii and fairies and magic boxes? Of course not! That is, not as they are told of in "Arabian Nights." But in other forms aren't they all around us? Isn't the aeroplane the Magic Flying Carpet? Isn't the wireless the genie who could speak all over the world? Hasn't science given you, in Zam-Buk, a veritable "Magic box of healing"? Listen to this. Writes a lady from the West: "From just one box of Zam-Buk we have had a wonderful amount of benefit. My husband's finger was crushed at work—a few Zam-Buk dressings healed it. My daughter burned her arm—Zam-Buk stopped the pain. My little son cut his hand on rusty tin—Zam-Buk prevented festering and healed it. My sister had a sore heel, caused by an ill-fitting shoe—Zam-Buk cured it. I had chapped hands—Zam-Buk healed them. Isn't it truly marvelous that from one box of Zam-Buk so much benefit can be derived! This is only possible because Zam-Buk is all medicine, and is so highly concentrated that a small quantity of it is more effective than many times that quantity of ordinary ointment. Get a box to-day and keep it handy. All dealers 50c. box.

No Luck for Him

This child won't play or smile. He is real sick. His tongue is white, breath feverish, stomach sour. He fears he is in for a dose of awful castor oil, calomel or pills. How he hates them. He would rather remain sick. No! He won't tell mother! If his mother would only learn the value of candy "Cascarets." How children love this candy cathartic—how surely it acts on liver and bowels.

TO MOTHERS! Each ten cent box of Cascarets contains full directions for dose for children aged one year old upwards. Nothing else "works" the nasty bile, sour fermentations and constipation poison from the tender little bowels so gently, yet so thoroughly. Even cross, feverish, bilious children gladly take Cascarets without being coaxed. Cascarets taste just like candy. Cascarets never grip, never sick, never produce bad odors, but do all that other more drastic cathartics do.

TEACHERS ON THE STAND IN THE HIGGINS INQUEST

Miss McClelland Saw Punishment and Considered It Lenient—Teacher Always Justified—Principal Gives Evidence

The second session of the inquest into the death of Harold Higgins was held in the assembly hall of the Alexandra school last evening. The hall was crowded by the teachers of the city and by many parents interested in the case, and considerable evidence of a much more interesting nature than that at the former session was given. One of the most startling pieces of evidence was a statement of Miss McClelland, a teacher in the Alexandra school and a close friend of Miss Spencer, who declared that any teacher was justified in anything that she did. Miss McClelland later modified this declaration by saying that a teacher would not do anything that was not just. The inquest was adjourned until Friday night, when the remaining witnesses will be examined. J. Starr Tait and J. M. Trueman appeared for James Higgins, the father of Harold Higgins, and J. H. A. L. Fairweather appeared on behalf of Miss Spencer.

The first witness was Miss Catherine Robinson, music teacher for the city schools. She said that she had been in the Alexandra school on the afternoon of Monday, Feb. 17, when Miss Spencer punished Harold Higgins. She said that between 1:30 and 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon she was standing in the sink, which is directly opposite Miss Spencer's room, watching her hands get a drink. Miss Spencer was talking to Harold Higgins, telling him why she had to punish him, and then she gave him three slaps on each hand with a ruler. While she was slapping him she held his wrists. Miss McClelland said that she considered the punishment that Harold Higgins received lenient, and that she did not hear any outcries during the afternoon from Miss Spencer's room. The witness said that she was interested in Harold Higgins because she had accompanied Miss Spencer to his home while he had been playing truant. On the request of Dr. Kenney Miss McClelland showed the jury where she and Harold Higgins had been standing when he had been punished.

When questioned by Mr. Trueman Miss McClelland said that Miss Spencer had told Harold Higgins before she punished him that she had gone to his house, that she had spoken to his father, that she had done everything possible for him, and that she now felt that she would punish him because he was in the company of other boys. The witness told Mr. Trueman that the boy had a punished both for playing truant and for not knowing his lessons. When asked by Mr. Trueman if the chief reason that he was slapped was because he was playing truant, Miss McClelland said that this was not the case, and the chief reason was because he did not have his books. When asked if she slapped a pupil who came to school without an excuse, the witness said that it depended on the circumstances. When questioned if she thought that Miss Spencer was justified in slapping a boy after he had been before Judge Telle, Miss McClelland said that she was justified in anything that she did. This remark of the witness drew considerable laughter.

Miss McClelland later answered the question directly by saying that she thought that Miss Spencer was justified in punishing the boy. When the evidence was being read over to her Miss McClelland said that she feared that she had been misunderstood when she said a teacher was justified in anything she did, saying that she meant by that a teacher would not do anything that was not just. This addition to her original statement also caused considerable mirth.

Harold Ervin, the city editor of the Standard, was the next witness. Mr. Trueman asked him if he had had telephone communication with Miss Spencer, to which Mr. Ervin replied that he had. Mr. Fairweather here objected to any telephone evidence, claiming that it was not admissible. Mr. Tait contended that the evidence should be submitted as admissible because the party in conversation with Mr. Ervin gave her name as Miss Spencer. The evidence was ruled out by the coroner. Mr. Trueman then stated that if Miss Spencer was in the stand later he would like to call Mr. Ervin to test Miss Spencer's veracity. Mr. Fairweather then announced that she withdrew her objections as Miss Spencer said that she had telephoned to Mr. Ervin. The witness said that he had been called up on the phone a few nights ago about 11 o'clock by a lady who asked for the city editor. She said that she wanted him to put a notice in the morning paper that he was sorry for what had been in the Standard about her, and that it was all a lie. He said that after some time he found that her name was Daisie Spencer, and that he had not sent a reporter over to her and obtained her side of the story. Mr. Ervin went on to say that Miss Spencer told him that she did not punish Harold Higgins severely, that she had only slapped him once on the hand, and that there was a male person present at the time, but that this was evidence. When asked by Mr. Fairweather if Miss Spencer had said a male or an adult person, Mr. Ervin stated that she distinctly said male.

Miss McClelland was then recalled to the stand by Mr. Fairweather, who asked her if she had been with Miss Spencer when she called up the Standard, and whether she had said that there had been a male person or an adult present when Harold Higgins was punished. The witness said that Miss Spencer had distinctly said an adult. Miss Elisabeth Dougherty, a teacher in the Bentley street school, said that she had not been in the Alexandra school for the last fifteen months, and that she did not know anything about the punishment of Harold Higgins. The coroner said that it was stated that Miss Dougherty had said that she had heard screams coming from Miss Spencer's

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and laggard. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, all of sediment, chanced often get sore, water-colds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithium and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

on each hand. She also said that he was only punished once during the afternoon. The witness said that she came back soon after school and that Harold Higgins was in the room piling up his books on his desk. Miss Spencer was in the cloak room at the time putting on her coat.

Arthur L. Dykeman, principal of the Alexandra school, then took the stand. He said that he had been principal of the school for the last eleven years. The witness stated that Harold Higgins had been in his room on Monday afternoon, shortly before 1:30 o'clock. "He had knocked at the door, and when he came in, I asked him if he remembered what he had been told at the police court, and he said 'Yes, sir, and I told him that we were going to follow it to the letter, and to go upstairs and be a good boy.' Mr. Dykeman said that Miss Spencer had reported Harold Higgins to him, and Harold knew that he was to return to the school on Monday morning, because he had been up in the police court on Saturday. When questioned, as what the school law said on corporal punishment, Mr. Dykeman read a portion of the law, stating "that if a kind, wise, judicious parent deemed it necessary to punish the child, then the teacher has the same right." When asked if, considering the evidence of the majority of the pupils, he thought that Harold Higgins had been punished severely or unjustly, the witness stated that he did not think that he had. When asked by the jury the witness said he did not know exactly why Miss Spencer had punished the boy. When asked by Mr. Tait if he considered that the boy needed punishment, Mr. Dykeman replied that he did.

Mr. Trueman then asked the witness if he as principal of the school had warned Miss Spencer not to discuss the case with any of her pupils, and he answered that he had not. When questioned, Mr. Dykeman said that there was another Grade V in the school, and that the pupils were divided between these two rooms by the city superintendent and himself, the division largely depending upon the room that they came from. Mr. Trueman asked if it were not a matter of fact that the unruly pupils were put in Miss Spencer's room on account of her known severity, but Mr. Dykeman said that this was not the case. Harold's Sister Testified.

Lillian Higgins, the fifteen-year-old sister of Harold Higgins, said that she had not been to school for the last three years, on account of her mother being sick with the asthma. Since her mother's death on January 10, Harold has not been going to school regularly. The witness said that she had sent for Miss Spencer once and when she came to the house she asked her if there was anything that she could do to get Harold to go to school. After her mother's death, Lillian said that Harold would not go back to school, because he did not like Miss Spencer and because she slapped him almost every day. The witness said that on the Monday evening in question, Harold complained after tea of pains in his head and shoulders, and that his hands and wrists were all swollen. When I asked him what was the matter, he said that he had received a severe beating in school. Later in the evening he vomited about a half a cup of blood. After seven, in the evening, the witness said that her father went to the lodge. Later she put Harold in bed shortly before the doctor arrived at about 8:30 o'clock. The next day Harold was delirious, but all that he said was "don't beat me." During the whole day, Mr. Higgins, who is employed on a tug, did not go, but stayed in the house and gave his son his medicine and powders.

James Leonard, ferry captain, was the last witness. He said that he knew Harold Higgins, and that on Monday afternoon, he had come down to the waiting room at about 3:30 o'clock. He told him that he had been punished severely in school, and showed him his wrists and hand, which were swollen and red. When questioned, Mr. Leonard said that he would not like to put his own boy's hand in the same condition that Harold Higgins' were. The inquest was then adjourned until Friday night.

A Spring Message To The Canadian Public

THE Signing of the Armistice relieved some of the most pressing demands for shoes. But it did not, and it could not, increase the supply of leather. It released thousands of men from military duty, but only gradually will they find their way back into their old occupations. So, until an actual shortage of leather is turned into a surplus and the supply of labor becomes somewhere near normal, we cannot expect any marked change in conditions, and the price level must continue high.

Leather is not a product of manufacture, but of natural growth. It takes time to produce a skin, and no process of "speeding up" will hasten it. The demands of the war, and the destruction of war, so depleted the world's stock of leather that, as we told you last fall, it was a big problem to produce enough good quality shoes to go around. Now we must simply wait for a new supply of leather to grow.

Labor is another problem which will take time to solve. Many men, fresh from life spent largely out-of-doors, will not go back to factory work again. Many others bear honorable wounds which unfit them for it. Here again, we expect no immediate return to normal conditions. So in this, our Spring message to the Canadian public, we say—

"Prudence in buying is still necessary. You can help to bring about more normal conditions if you will continue to exercise it. Buy for service and see that you get real value for your money.

"And now especially you should see that the manufacturer's trade-mark is stamped upon the shoes you buy. Unbranded shoes may be reduced in quality to make the price seem low—with the end of the war as a plausible excuse. But no manufacturer will jeopardize his reputation by stamping his trade-mark upon a product which he is ashamed to acknowledge. Remember this, and look for the trade mark. It is the best assurance you can have of real value."

Possibility of Friction Between Belgium and Holland

NEWSPAPER ATTITUDE

Former Foreign Minister of Holland Speaks of His Country—Says Neutrality Was Properly Observed

Paris, March 4.—(By the Associated Press).—It is highly regrettable that the Belgian press has taken a hostile attitude toward Holland. I cannot believe this attitude interprets the feelings of a million Belgians who found refuge on Dutch soil in 1914.

Dr. Loudeu, who was formerly Dutch minister at Washington and was foreign minister of Holland during the war, is in Paris for a brief sojourn. In discussing the situation he said that content in the Belgian press as to Holland's neutrality during the struggle was misleading, and added that the Orange Books published by the Dutch government would prove the real facts.

"I know," he continued, "from statements made to me personally by Allied statesmen, that Holland's strict observance of neutrality while she was between the hammer and the anvil was appreciated in Entente countries, although it was inevitable that controversies would arise occasionally between neutrals and belligerents as to interpretations placed on certain phases of international law."

Referring to a question raised when German troops were permitted to pass through the Dutch province of Limburg, Dr. Loudeu said the Germans were disarmed by Dutch frontier guards before being permitted to cross the border and that they, therefore, reached German territory without arms, ammunition or equipment.

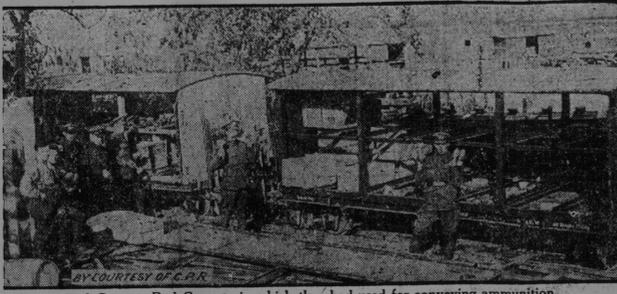

He said that objections which were made at that time by Entente Powers could no longer be urged, for, on Feb. 4, 1919, the British asked officially that troops of the British army of occupation in Germany be permitted to cross Limburg, holding that such permission would not be a violation of neutrality.

He said the Netherlands government granted "Great Britain the right to move troops back from the Rhine provinces through Dutch territory."

Asked as to the continued stay of the former German emperor and crown prince on Dutch soil, Dr. Loudeu declared that their sojourn was only temporary until an agreement between the Dutch and Entente governments could be reached. He pointed out that a statement to this effect has been made by the Dutch premier.

THE SUBMARINE MURDERS

(N. Y. Times Editorial.)

It is asserted in London that the peace conference commission which is making inquiries concerning the responsibility and guilt of individuals has evidence enough to convict twenty U-boat commanders of murder. Nearly all of these are now in Germany. The records of seven are said to call for special condemnation. In the commission's charge there may be a recommendation that these commanders be surrendered for trial by a new international court.

These crimes have not been forgotten. Nearly 4,000 merchant ships were destroyed during the war, and about 1,400 of them were owned in neutral countries. Norway alone lost 831. More than 17,000 sailors gave up their lives. The British Seamen's Union mourns the deaths of 15,000. Many of these men were murdered by submarine gunners while they were in lifeboats or on rafts.

Sometimes the submarine moves round a raft, and German officers jeered at the misery of their victims while whirled around and killed them. Even Dutch fishermen were slaughtered in this way after their schooners had been sunk. Because of these crimes the British Seamen's Union has boycotted Germany for seven years, and Norway's union has voted that it will help Germany in no way until $4,000,000 has been paid to the relatives of 1,120 members lost with the 831 sunken ships.

General Pau, who is now in Canada the guest of Montreal, was one of the most brilliant French jurists in the late French armies. He was then a member of the Army Council, being associated with the president, Mons. Poincaré, Gallieni, Joffre, Castelnau and others.

After the reverse experienced by the French at Mulhouse, on the 18th August, 1914, General Pau was selected to oppose the victorious Germans, and only means of brilliant attacks, he not only checked their advance, but his troops re-occupied Mulhouse on the 19th August. General Pau had served in every part of the war zones, besides being commissioned to head various missions to all parts of the globe.

When the war with Prussia broke out in the summer of 1870, he was with the 78th Infantry, forming part of Marshal McMahon's army, operating round Strasbourg. At the battle of Froeschwiller, on August 6, he was badly wounded by shell fire, in the thigh and arm. His arm was so badly mutilated that it was amputated. In connection with this, it is characteristic of the general, and he found whilst waiting for his operations, that the supply of anesthetics was very limited, and he refused to allow the surgeons to give him any, remarking that "it was to be kept for the soldiers," officers could do without. So soon as his wound was healed, General Pau joined the Eastern army, but had a relapse, and returned to hospital at Besencon. He received the rank of captain when only twenty-two years old, and since then obtained steady promotion. In 1881 he was major in the 77th, commanded a battalion in Limoges

SHOCKING DISCLOSURES

(Border Cities Star, Windsor, Ont.)

But such a condition as that cited by Dr. C. K. Clarke of the Toronto General Hospital should not be allowed to exist, if immigration laws can prevent it. He told, at Tuesday's inquiry at Toronto, of his examination of twenty-five girls sent out to Canada by one of the overseas homes for girls.

"Twenty-four of that number had illegitimate children, and five had venereal diseases," he said. "That is the result of an improper system of inspection, although the homes do not send that class of people here intentionally."

Canada must use care in her selection of immigrants. It is only natural that the older lands will desire to keep their most efficient citizens and get rid of their least desirable. But Canada's interest in making her people the healthiest in the world, so that this nation may become the greatest nation, is in the number of her millionaires of which she boasts? Far from it.

DEATH OF MOTHER OF MRS. LOUIS COMEAU

Friends of Mrs. Louis Comeau, Elliot row, deeply sympathize with her in the death of her mother, Mrs. Marie (Gauvin) Bourque, which occurred yesterday at the summer home of her daughter, Mrs. F. J. G. Comeau, at Lake View, near Halifax, where she spent last summer and this winter. Though ninety years old Mrs. Bourque had enjoyed excellent health. Lately she had been ailing but word on Sunday was that she was much better. This was followed yesterday afternoon by a telegram to Mrs. Comeau announcing her mother's death.

Mrs. Bourque was a native of Shediac and of prominent family. She was the widow of Ildore Bourque, who died five years ago, and is survived by five sons and four daughters. The sons are Dr. L. M. Bourque of Moncton, J. V. Bourque of Shediac, Dr. A. Bourque of West Newton, Mass., S. A. Bourque of Washington, and Arthur Bourque of Boston. The daughters are Mrs. Edouard Mercier of Montreal, Miss C. Bourque at home in Shediac, Mrs. L. Comeau of St. John, and Mrs. F. J. G. Comeau of Halifax. The funeral will take place on Thursday morning at Shediac.

Sir Robert Likely Back to Canada by First Week of April

Ottawa, March 3.—The statement by the Right Hon. Arthur J. Balfour that the preliminary peace terms will likely be signed about the end of March is believed in official circles to have a direct bearing upon the date of the return to Canada of Sir Robert Borden.

While no official announcement as to the prime minister's return is as yet forthcoming, it is confidently expected by ministers of the crown and members generally that Sir Robert will be back in his place in the house not later than the end of the first week of April.

THE FIGHTING THAT LED TO LIBERATION OF PALESTINE

General Allenby, in a special despatch just made public, relates the circumstances of the fighting that led to the liberation of Palestine and the occupation of Damascus, beginning last September 19.

He launched his main attack on the coastal area, and the main factor in the secrecy maintained was the supremacy obtained by the R. A. F. in the air.

The process of wearing down the enemy's aircraft had been going on all the summer. During one week in June 100 hostile aeroplanes had crossed our lines. During the last week in August this number had decreased to eighteen.

The first phase was of short duration. In thirty-six hours the greater part of the 8th Turkish Army had been overwhelmed, and the 7th Army was in full retreat.

In the fifth and final phase our victorious army reached Homs and Tripoli without opposition. The cavalry then advanced on Aleppo and occupied the city on Oct. 28.

Thus in six weeks all the Turkish armies were defeated and the whole of their stores captured.

"The Desert Mounted Corps took 46,000 prisoners during the operations. The complete destruction of the 7th and 8th Turkish armies depended mainly on the rapidity with which their communications were reached and on quick decisions in dealing with the enemy's columns as they attempted to escape. The vigorous handling of the cavalry by its

SHOOTS AT BURNS, DETECTIVE, BUT SHOTS GO WILD

Young Woman Said to Have Mistaken Him for Son of Hetty Green

New York, March 4—Two shots were fired at William J. Burns, detective agency head, by a woman as Burns was entering the waiting room of the Grand Central station yesterday afternoon. Neither shot took effect.

The woman, who gave her name as Gertrude Wornworth, twenty-seven years old, of Brooklyn, was arrested and taken to Bellevue Hospital for observation of her mental condition. Burns said he did not know her.

The woman, a stenographer, mistook Burns for Colonel Edward H. R. Green, son of the late Hetty Green, according to a statement which Dr. J. Robinson said she had made to him at the hospital. "I was told in a dream to kill Hetty Green or someone connected with her," she said.

Her parents last night declared she had been suffering from "a religious mania," which followed the death of her fiancé, a Buffalo physician, eighteen months ago.

Besides isolating the actual cases of this disease the Board of Health, through Dr. Brown, traced every possible avenue of contact with the patients and thoroughly fumigated, sterilized and vaccinated, shutting off apparently all danger of further infection.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY. The Diocesan Board of the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of England is holding a meeting in the vestry of the Stone Church today. Reports of the various branches of the work are being submitted and it was expected there would be a discussion of the three important campaigns now progressing—the Every Woman movement by which it is hoped to get all Anglican women in the auxiliary; the pledge movement which the work is rigorously carried on, and also the raising of funds for Eskimau and Indian missions. It was also expected that Mrs. Jas. F. Robertson would read a paper.

MCCUTCHEON-MACAULAY. A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Macaulay, 112 Grand street, Monday evening when their daughter, Miss Enid Macaulay was united in marriage by H. A. Goodwin, James William McCutcheon of this city. They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts, including a substantial check from the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. McCutcheon; and a set of cutlery & silver from the King of Denmark.

MRS. JAMES CREARY. The death of Mrs. Mary A. Creary, beloved wife of James Creary, took place this morning at an early hour. She was the daughter of John and Alice Connelly. Besides her husband she leaves her father and mother and several uncles and aunts, and other relatives. Mrs. Creary will be missed by the St. Peter's congregation, as she had been a life-long resident of St. Peter's parish. Her home was at 104 Lansdowne avenue. The sympathy of a large number of friends is extended to the members of the family in their bereavement. The funeral will be held on Thursday at 8.45 to St. Peter's church where high requiem mass will be celebrated.

ALWAYS A DANGEROUS SPOT. One of the older residents of Millidgeville in discussing the risk entailed in driving or walking on the river ice at all times says that the exact location in which the late accident occurred has always been a soft spot, made so by tide influences setting around the long tapering point of land. He recalled how some years ago a party of skaters set out from Millidgeville to go fishing. One said he would follow the shore ice but his companions advised him to strike out into the middle of the river, saying that the shore ice was subject to poor condition due to tide-wash and current. However he went alone and disappeared in the same spot the late fatality occurred, though his friends got him out with numerous "I told you so" remarks. A country team got in the same hole several winters ago, though all the wide stretches of ice roundabout seemed secure. Just at present teams are still crossing at Millidgeville by the marked roadway but it is thought a fortnight will make it pretty shaky.

GETTING THE FIGURES. Commissioner Thornton has instructed the chief of police to secure from each member of the force who was dismissed and reinstated a statement of his earnings while he was off the force. This will be deducted from the amount which the men would have received if they had been on duty continuously and the difference will be paid to them after they have sworn that their statements of earnings are correct.
