REFINERY STRIKE MAY BE SETTLED

Reported Today That Prospects For Agreement Are Brighter

A meeting of the employees of the Atlantic Sugar Refineries was held this morning when various phases of the strike situation were gone into. It was understood that an adjustment of the trouble was expected during the day, but nothing of a definite nature was reported up to the time of going to press.

Mr. Seidenstecker, manager of the Atlantic Refineries, Ltd., said today that the company had signed on quite a number of men today. The plant was running and sugar being produced. Otherwise there was nothing new in the situation.

E. G. McQuirk, representative of the department of labor, said this morning that he considered the prospects for an early settlement of the strike excellent. Mr. Quirk had a conference with Mayor Hayes this morning. In conversation with some of those who are interested in the men's side of the case it was learned this morning that there is a tendency on the part of the men to accept the forty cent per hour rate offered by the company. There is one obstacle in the way of a settlement, however, and that is the attitude of the company towards some of the former who joined the strikers. It is said that the management is willing to take these men back but not on their former capacities. The other men insist that the former should be reinstated if they return to work.

THEY SAY NEW YORK IS DRY, BUT NOT SO AWFULLY DRY

After Three Months of Prohibition The Streams of Strong Waters Still Flow Freely in Some Parts of The Metropolis.

(New York Times.) Prohibition has now been in effect for nearly three months. It has had a chance to settle down a bit and establish itself. So it seems a good time to ask questions.

"It is hard to get a drink in New York?" Or perhaps it would be more accurate to ask:

"Is it easy to get a hard drink in New York?" For these are now almost as many "fountains" pushing "soft stuff" as there are throats to receive it.

The answer to the above question, so vital to some, really depends on who you are and where you go. In the case of saloons, with one or two exceptions, it is essential that they should have at least a nodding acquaintance with the bartender. It won't do to sing out cheerily:

"I'll take a drink, please." Unless he really recognizes you as a "regular" customer the man in the bartender's coat won't respond properly. What he will do if he doesn't know you is to look at his personal character. Some bartenders in such cases assume an injured air, as if you had proposed to injure them.

Two sappers were sent out one night to repair a telephone wire, broken in several places by shell-fire. All day long the German guns had been searching the rear of a small hill, and by evening the place was a wilderness of yellow clay, pocked by shell holes.

There was no moon, and heavy clouds had blotted out the stars. In a darkness that could be felt the sappers shouldered their tools and supplies, and using a tiny battery-lamp at infrequent intervals, picked their way to the place designated in orders.

German registration was excellent, and from time to time shells came over. After four hours of laborious effort the sappers were almost effected and one of the lads turned towards the base. The other remained to complete a connection. A long white line in the air above him was followed by an explosion, and an iron shrapnel tore a hole in the boy's leg.

He finished his work hastily but efficiently, then turned over with a sigh of content and died in the darkness. Personal rough treatment, hastily contrived, might have stopped the bleeding, but the sapper needed both his hands to complete his work. He took the chance, giving his life for the lives of a thousand comrades. That is an instance of national service at its highest potency.

BE SUSPICIOUS OF TENDER GUMS

Be suspicious of any tenderness or bleeding of the gums. This is usually the first stage of Pyorrhoea—an insidious disease of the gums that destroys the teeth and undermines bodily health.

Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame, then shrink, thus exposing the unarmamented tooth-base to the ravages of decay. Tiny openings in the gums form gateways for disease germs to enter the system. Medical science has traced many ills to these infecting germs in the gums weakened by Pyorrhoea.

They are now known to be a frequent cause of indigestion, emaciation, rheumatism and other serious conditions.

So watch carefully for that first tenderness or bleeding of the gums. Try Forhan's immediately. It positively prevents Pyorrhoea (Gingivitis). If used in time and used consistently.

And in preventing Pyorrhoea—it guards against other ills.

Forhan's (For the Gums) cleans teeth scientifically, erases, brushes your teeth with it. It keeps the teeth white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

ST. JOHN MUST RESPOND

What is St. John going to do with the appeal of the Navy League? It will respond heartily of course. It cannot do otherwise and retain its self-respect. Mr. C. B. Allan pointed out at the meeting of the local branch on Friday that while New Brunswick had contributed $30,000 last year it had got back about twice that amount. The Seamen's Mission in St. John had been given an endowment of $50,000, besides $5,000 in cash.

THE BRITISH STRIKE

The railroad strike in Great Britain has been settled and the government wins. The men have gained some concessions, but not enough to counterbalance the loss of public sympathy, and probably nothing that could not have been gained without a strike. Premier Lloyd George comes out of the affair with added prestige, because of the firmness he displayed in dealing with a critical situation.

FIRE PREVENTION

On Oct. 9, in all the schools of Canada, the subject of fire prevention will be brought to the attention of the pupils. That day, by royal proclamation, is designated as fire prevention day, and special instruction will be given in the schools. When it is remembered that the average fire loss in Canada per year is about 200 lives and $300,000,000, the vital importance of fire prevention effort is made clear to old and young.

DARK DAYS

There is trouble everywhere, as the day's dispatches show, discontent is in the air, every fellow has his woe. From our homes in Easy street we come charging forth, each day, asking in the name of Pete, for all kinds of higher pay. In our gaudy cars we ride, up and down the crowded sidewalks, and we are denied luxuries enjoyed by Mike. In our ed pike, rousing and sneeze. And the flu, as you've been told, ran its course lately made us sneeze.

CANADA—EAST AND WEST

A GREAT RAILROADER

A typical Canadian and one of the Dominion's greatest is Lord Shaughnessy, chairman of the Board of the Canadian Pacific Railway and until recently president of that great company. Born in Wisconsin on Oct. 6, 1853, of Irish parentage he drifted into railway work making very rapid progress in the beginning of his career. He was just 31 years of age when he became assistant to the general manager of the then incomplete C. P. R. Ever since his activities have been connected with that line and he has watched it develop from a route prophesied to fail to pay the cost of the grass required for the trains to an Empire factor in transportation.

LIGHTER VEIN

A Memorial Day address at Northfield Falls, Massachusetts, contained the following: "Our glorious republic is now clouded by a greater darkness than the chain of Prussian autocracy in the form of the crawling lion of the East—Bolshevism. Now close the time for our crash this poisonous serpent beneath our heel!"

Fed Up On Strikes

Upon his return to school, Willie was told to write a composition on "How I Spent My Vacation." This, says Willie, is what he wrote: "We reached Oceanville, by good luck three days before the strike of the B. H. & R. The strike cut off our supply of Grade 'A' certified milk from the city, so that we had to get along on milk from the cow. I went in swimming every day until the lifeguards struck and the beach was closed. So I got a job as a caddy which lasted until the caddies went on strike. After that I spent the day at the movies, until the movie operators went on strike. So then we came home and found the cook on strike, the trolley men on strike and the cat gone. If they only would have a teachers' strike I would be happy again."

TO INQUIRE INTO COST OF MILK IN MONTGON

Montgon, Oct. 5.—Milk prices in Montgon were discussed at an inquiry held in the town hall here on Saturday afternoon with W. F. O'Connor, vice-chairman of the Dominion board of commerce, presiding. The session was largely attended by producers and consumers and much information was placed before the commission. The session was largely attended by producers and consumers and much information was placed before the commission.

There is trouble everywhere, as the day's dispatches show, discontent is in the air, every fellow has his woe. From our homes in Easy street we come charging forth, each day, asking in the name of Pete, for all kinds of higher pay. In our gaudy cars we ride, up and down the crowded sidewalks, and we are denied luxuries enjoyed by Mike. In our ed pike, rousing and sneeze. And the flu, as you've been told, ran its course lately made us sneeze.

THE NEW ZEALAND GRATUITY

There is not much encouragement for the returned men now awaiting for the payment of a $2,000 cash bonus to all Canadian soldiers who served in France—irrespective of the length, or the nature of such service—in the decision of New Zealand to pay a gratuity to all New Zealanders who served overseas. The amount payable is to be calculated on the number of days that elapsed between the embarkation of the New Zealand soldier for service abroad and the signing of the armistice.

NEWSPAPER REFORMS

Wishing to reform the typical American newspaper which he finds "essentially provincial and made up with a view to pleasing frivolous readers," a writer in a weekly periodical addresses serious advice to its subscribers in their capacity as members of the newspaper-reading public. The reform, he says, must begin with you, the readers. You must first of all recognize your own frivolous and provincial tastes and resolve that you will not be interested in larger things than you now desire. When you come to the point of being dissatisfied with the daily food your newspaper feeds before you, let both the editor and the publisher know it. "Taken in conjunction with the writer's opinion that the 'frivolous public' may perhaps take him seriously and set about following his direction."

HEALTH PLEA FOR DAYLIGHT

Dr. Robert S. Copeland, Health Commissioner, has written Robert L. Moran, president of the Board of Aldermen, approving the ordinance proposed by Mr. Moran to continue the daylight saving plan in New York City. The letter read in part: "I have never been able to understand how the opponents of daylight saving could deny the good the scheme has accomplished for the public health. It is my conviction that this hour of daylight has taken into the fresh air and sunlight, thousands, and indeed millions, of people who otherwise would not have the opportunity. Unquestionably, this benefit has resulted in great good to the public. If there were no other reason than the argument in favor of improved health that would be sufficient in my opinion for the daylight saving."

A CONNEMARA ROAD

The road to connemara lies white across the memory, white and quiet, in that far west Galway, the silence dwells pure upon the spacious country, down to where the Twelve Pins make a gallant line against the northern sky. It comes in the heathery wind it borrows peace from the white cottage walls on the hillside. It is accentuated by the creeping approach of the turf cart, rocking back and forth on its wheels. Little else stirs, save the ducks that sail on a wide pool to the push of their yellow propellers away from the post, on a narrow oasis of arable soil, a couple of women are digging potatoes; their persistent voices are borne on the breeze that blows warm over the blossoming boglands and pink heather.

TO BUSY TO TALK

"These roads in an terrible condition," exclaimed Mr. Cluggins. "You're lucky," remarked Farmer Corrodon. "Most of the automobilists who got this far are so busy looking for a blacksmith shop or a garage that they don't have time for friendly conversations 'bout the roads."

Teacher's Memory

A school teacher who had been telling a class of small pupils the story of the discovery of America by Columbus said: "It is true," said he, "that my returns are not great, but they are enough. Tell the truth when I say that the situation from my property still represents a fair return on my investment. Why then would I take advantage of my tenants' wonder, said, after a moment's thought, 'Gee! What a memory you've got.'"

No Monoplist

"That girl in the breakers is evidently in distress. Why don't you swim to her rescue?" "It would be very bad form. I rescued her yesterday."

AMERICAN SETTLERS COMING
Farm lands in the good agricultural districts of the west will be much in demand in the next two years, according to Arthur Jackson, Winnipeg farm land agent, who says that the movement of American farmers to Western Canada has only just begun. That the Americans who are already flocking into the country intend to settle down is evidenced by the fact that they are bringing stock and implements with them. The reason for the influx of Americans is the boom in Middle West farm lands. Farmers in Iowa and similar states can sell their land now for as high as $415 an acre, and coming to Canada purchase the best of our western lands for from $20 to $25 an acre, depending upon location. So great is Mr. Jackson's faith in the marketable value of farm lands in West-

ONE THOUSAND BEFORE MONTREAL JUVENILE COURT

(Montreal Herald)

The Juvenile Court promises, unless all signs fail, to have a year of record activity. Since the first of January it has sat every judicial day, and to date the presiding officer has never been able to earn the traditional "white gloves." The records show this year 922 children have appeared before it who have never been the subject of sworn complaints.

Of these only 60 boys and 20 girls have been sent by the court to reformative institutions by the order of the court, though quite a number of others have been placed there by their parents for shorter or longer periods.

Most of the majority of the cases have been placed "on probation" either with their parents or in foster homes, or sent home with a warning. A few have been fined small amounts, usually for such offences as riding bicycles on the sidewalks, riding without lights, driving vehicles without a license, or disturbing the peace in various ways.

Some Children Abandoned

Among the complaints dealt with have been some regarding children who have been abandoned, neglected or ill treated by their parents or guardians. The number of these would seem to be slightly on the increase. These cases are always most carefully investigated, and it has been found necessary in not a few of these cases to remove the children from their former surroundings and place them with foster-parents or in charitable institutions in order that they may receive the care and attention that they formerly lacked.

Unlike the larger courts, the Juvenile Court was most actively in session during the summer, the freedom from the restraint and discipline of school life apparently having a bad effect on many youngsters. On one occasion more than fifty appeared in a single morning. It was found necessary in some cases for the liberty of the young offenders to be curtailed until the schools opened again in the fall, when they were released on the understanding that they should attend regularly to their scholastic duties. Most of the cases, however, were for minor pranks as most children indulge in when free from restraint, but which do not find favor in the eyes of the authorities. With the coming of fall and the reopening of schools, the number of cases comparatively quiet.

Young Runaways Frequent

Besides the large number of children who belonged to the city itself, the court has also had to deal with young runaways coming from a distance who had been lured from their homes by the attraction of the "white lights." One youthful citizen of Toronto gave as his reason for running away that "he wanted to see the Mountain." A little girl from one of the smaller centres of Quebec, claimed that she had come to town to see the big stores whose wonders she had seen so vividly displayed in the papers.

Another boy came from the west in the train of a traveling circus. This desire for travel also attracted not a few natives of Montreal, two of whom went as far as New York.

Remarkable Achievement for Purely Canadian Concern

As evidence of the way in which one enterprising Canadian firm has pushed the sale of its product into the corners of the earth, it is interesting to know that the "Salada" Toilet Compound, sold their product not only through the United States, but in France, Belgium, Spain, Portugal, Canary Islands, Algeria, Morocco, the Gold Coast, every British West India Island, Mexico, Cuba, British Honduras, the Ghanas, Columbia, Venezuela, Brazil, Paraguay, Chile and the Argentine.

They have lately made a large shipment to Iceland, and have received inquiries from Egypt, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Turkey, Norway, Alaska, Switzerland, Peru, Denmark, Sweden, etc., etc.

The cans shipped to these countries are exactly the same quality you buy under the same familiar labels in any part of Canada or the United States. The popularity of this tea during the past year has made "Salada" a household word in America.

REGINA'S WOMAN JUDGE FRIEND OF CHILDHOOD

Never Yet Has Seen Child Who Doesn't Tell All the Truth.

(Toronto Star)

Miss Ethel McLachlan, of Regina, Saskatchewan, is the only woman judge of that province. At present she is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Keiso, 21 Prince Arthur avenue for a few days, when she will return to the west. She is the judge of the Juvenile Court not only in Regina but travels all through the province, deciding juvenile cases in every town and city but Moose Jaw and Saskatoon. She says that she has never yet come in contact with a boy or girl, for she takes both, who does not tell all the truth about themselves, what prompted them to commit the crime and how they did them and that fear when dealing with a woman was the last thing they thought of.

Two years ago when Miss McLachlan received her appointment, she visited Toronto and various cities in the United States to learn something of Juvenile Courts. She says that she never studied law, but principally she thinks, received her appointment as judge through the general knowledge she had of children, as she was chief superintendent of the Department of Dependent and Neglected Children in Regina, as well as the attention of women in general for a woman judge for Regina.

Miss McLachlan travels on an average of 2,000 miles a month in Saskatchewan. While the children are awaiting a hearing they are kept in their homes. "And I have never heard in the last two years of a child who ran away from home to escape a verdict," she said.

Paid probation officers are selected by this woman judge in the larger cities to look after the children in their homes before and after trial. But in smaller towns and in the country there are volunteer probation officers who usually are clergymen, school teachers, or Boy Scouts. Only in very extreme cases is a child sentenced to a reformatory, said Miss McLachlan. "As I do not believe in that treatment. Instead, they are sent to their homes again, in charge of the probation officers, who come and visit them and teach them how to do right, and generally act as a big brother. In 1918 out of 216 cases only 17 were committed to the reformatory. Previous to this a great many more children were sentenced to the reformatory, although I cannot give

PROHIBITION IN UNITED STATES

Breaking a three weeks' deadlock, Senate and House conferences reached an agreement late Wednesday on the prohibition enforcement bill. Quick approval of the conference report is expected by leaders and the measure may go to the president early next week.

The bill, which establishes one-half of one per cent on the maximum alcohol content of beverages, will be returned from conference without fundamental changes in its plan for strict enforcement both of the war time prohibition law and the constitutional amendment by the commissioner of internal revenue and the department of justice. Provisions for manufacture and sale of industrial spirits and of spirits for sacramental and scientific use are retained, but rigorous safeguards against manufacture and sale of drinks for any other purpose are provided.

The senate conference, however, succeeded in retaining virtually ever one of the 283 liberalizing provisions adopted by the upper House, which comprise mostly administrative features. The principal "liberal" amendment of the senate permitting home manufacture and consumption of cider and light wines was approved, as well as another senate amendment providing for the application of the constitutional amendment to the Panama canal zone.

For expenses of enforcing the act, the senate members were successful for the bill as amended provides that the government must bear the burden of proof and prove its case in prosecuting those selling beverages by showing that the beverages concerned contain more than the alcohol limit of one-half of one per cent.

Manufacturers, as provided, both by the House and senate bills, must bear the burden of proof that their products contain alcohol only within the amount prescribed.

No change was made by the conference in the provision which would allow a man to have and consume in his own home liquor acquired before the law went into effect.

Other senate amendments accepted included that striking out the clause penalizing drunkenness on public conveyances.

The conferees struck out the House amendment requiring physical examinations by physicians of patients before issue of prescriptions for intoxicating beverages.

For expenses of enforcing the act, the conferees reduced the senate appropriation of $3,000,000 to $2,000,000.

The senate amendment authorizing manufacture and sale of "near beer" and similar beverages containing under one-half of one per cent alcohol were retained, but it is stipulated that other natures shall be used for their designation than beer, ale or porter.

DEMPSEY SAYS HE WAS LUCKY TO LICK WILLARD

New York, Oct. 5.—The truth is out. Jack Dempsey beat Willard at Toledo last July unexpectedly. At least he said as much while in a confidential mood. He told local newspaper men at a dinner at which he was host that he walked into the ring on that eventful day prepared to lose with the belief that it wouldn't hurt his pugilistic reputation if he did. In other words, he felt that he had nothing to lose and all to gain. He knew, or rather felt, that Willard was a big, tough, strong fellow, and that his only chance lay in his landing a good, hard punch. He tried with all his strength in his system and put it all into a single blow, and he was tickled silly when the fight was over. Dempsey has just recovered from the operation on his nose which has not proved satisfactory. Ever since, the heavyweight champion has been bothered with headaches and nose bleeds which rob him of all ambition to even box in a gymnasium. According to himself he is in need of almost continuous sleep. In fact when awake he is all out of sorts. Jack Kearns, who manages Dempsey, with Beckett, the English sensation, Kearns says he has under consideration a number of offers for Dempsey's services in England, but up to date he hasn't seen fit to answer them. At present Dempsey has a profitable engagement with a circus.

CANADA AND THE STEEL STRIKE IN STATES

In its summary of the iron, steel, metal and machinery markets for the week ending Oct. 2, Canadian Machinery and Manufacturing News, Toronto, makes the following comment: How long can Canadian industry stand the steel strike in the United States? That question is concerning middle aged women just now. There are plants that will not feel the pinch for weeks yet. On a broad basis, though, it can be accepted as a fact that it is not possible for industry on this side of the line to prosper while the same business across the border is in the throes of a desperate strike. The strike came at a bad season for the year for Canadian business. Warehouse stocks are very low in many lines. Roughly speaking, plates, tubes and large structural steel are the lines that must import and there are certain shortages in sheets that are met in production capacity in Canada. Buying from warehouses has been very brisk for several weeks, in anticipation of strikes, with the result that these prices are pretty well cleaned out. Prices will be firm and higher on many lines. One user of sheets, for instance, who wanted twenty tons, found that by the time he had made the rounds of several houses to secure his requirements he had to pay $400 more than he bargained for. Although the actual lists may not be altered, the chances are that premiums will be secured on good many lines where there is any chance of delivery. It might be supposed, at first glance, that Canadian steel mills would benefit largely from the strike. They may for a short time, but not for long. For instance, if a factory cannot secure steel, it will be only a matter of time before it will close and the market as a buyer of those lines the Canadian mills are in a position to ship.

WOULD RATHER RENT THAN BUY OWN HOME

(Financial Post). "People are not buying our houses because we cannot convince them that it is cheaper for them to own their own houses than to pay rent," said W. Swain, secretary of the Toronto Housing Commission, explaining to The Financial Post one reason why the commission has a surplus of homes on the market, that they cannot find buyers for. At present the commission has 229 houses under construction, which will be ready for occupancy within the next month or two, but only 100 persons have seriously offered to purchase. There are about a dozen completed homes on the market, $8,500 on the average. A payment of $10 per cent is demanded, and terms are arranged for the remainder so that the principal, interest, taxes and insurance amount to about $30 a month. The fact that similar houses throughout the city rent for $30 and $40 a month, "people refuse to buy the Housing Commission's houses. Mr. Swain tells a woman who asked how much it would cost to buy a house from the commission. She was told that it would cost her $31 a month. She refused to buy because her rent was only $20, and no amount of argument would convince her that part of her $31 a month constituted an investment while her $20 a month was an unrecoutable payment. "There has been some objection to making the $30 initial payment, but it is deemed advisable the commission has reduced the amount, and in the case of returned soldiers, assignments of war service gratuity have been taken. The commission claims that the homes could not be duplicated at the price under conditions today, though one Toronto real estate dealer is quoted as saying that the homes are not good value at the price of $3,500.

NEW ASSOCIATION MAY SUCCEED OLD ORGANIZATION AT FAIR VALE

At a special meeting of the Fair Vale Outing Association called Friday evening by the president for the purpose of electing trustees the question of purchasing the Garde property for the erection of a pavilion arose. The deal had been closed and the committee ordered to purchase, but in the meantime some objections arose and the pavilion question was thoroughly gone into. As a result a vote was taken and when counted was a tie. A motion was then made that the funds now on hand be dispersed with, $500 to be given to the Protestant Orphanage and $500 to the Catholic Sisters of Charity; that all bills be paid and all material and land owned by the association be sold at public auction and the money equally divided between the Protestant and Catholic orphanages. A resolution against the removal of present railway station was also passed and it was agreed that if a railway station was to be erected it should be on the present site. The present outing association is a matter of history but it is said that a stronger and better association is to be formed in the near future. Lightning has a peculiar effect on Miss Sinclair of Monaca Pa. During a thunderstorm recently there came a flash which caused her right hand to clasp rigidly, and it required the efforts of four men to open it sufficiently to place it in a splint. Miss Sinclair has suffered six similar incidents in the past two years.

MARCEL KNECHT TELLS OF FRANCE'S DEBT TO HARVARD

New York, Oct. 5.—Dr. Marcel Knecht, director of the French High Commission in New York, yesterday spoke of the great educational debt that France owes to America and expressed the sincerest admiration of the French people for Harvard University as a leader among American institutions of higher learning in the development of Franco-American relations. Dr. Knecht, before coming to the United States on a war mission for France, had long been prominent in education in France. He manifests a keen interest in the solution of the great financial problems now facing our colleges and universities.

Dr. Knecht, in speaking of the meaning of Harvard University to France, said: "It is an honor and a sincere pleasure for any Frenchman to pay a tribute of admiration and of affection to the great University of Harvard, which has played such an important part in the development of Franco-American relations. Our former ambassador, Monsieur Jules Cambon, one of the members of the Peace Conference, was already a friend of your university, and our present ambassador, Monsieur J. Jusserand, one of our leading diplomats, thinkers and writers, has been in such close personal and intellectual co-operation with you, that you made him an honorary doctor of your institution."

"Several Frenchmen who became great statesmen and famous writers have been professors and lecturers in Cambridge; one of them, Monsieur Aristide Briand, has probably been better prepared for his capital task of High Commissioner of France in the United States in the inspiring atmosphere of your faculties. The victor of the Marne, Marshal Joffre, felt as honored by the degree which Harvard conferred upon him, as the university itself felt honored with his presence."

"Harvard University rendered the warmest hospitality to our French professors and writers, to the historian, Louis Madelin, son of Saint Die, god-mother of America, to the philosopher Henri Bergson, to the well-known educator and academician Levy Bruhl, who will be your official French representative this winter."

"Our French military mission will never forget the splendid results which it obtained from the patriotism and from the discipline of your students. Many years ago those of us who tried in France to prepare practical Franco-American relations were happy to find in the visiting Harvard professors an unexpected and precious help."

"When, on the border of Germany, in front of an Alsace-Lorraine, which had been transformed into fortresses of German Kultur, the University of Nancy was making strenuous efforts to prove to American universities the value of French education, Harvard envoys, Professor Santayana, Professor Archibald Cary Coolidge, Professor G. P. Baker were successively our welcomed guests, and, after having explained to us the spirit and institutions of America, realized the thoroughness and the broad-mindedness of our superior teaching."

"It is not in Harvard that a group of young heroes, brothers of Norman Prince and Chateaubriand decided to create this illustrious Lafayette squadron, for which the French Nation has so much respect and admiration?"

"It is also in Harvard that former Assistant Secretary A. Platt Andrews organized the American Ambulance Field Service in which so many of your students enlisted during the neutrality of your country. America possesses extraordinary resources and the energy of its citizens always produces splendid results. You love action, initiative, organization; there is in your atmosphere a certain magnetism which induces you to push ahead. Your young men, and even the older generations, have not as much time to read and to enjoy the charm of culture as in Europe."

"Universities of the quality of Harvard are institutions absolutely necessary to the perfect balance of our intellectual and physical capacities, your men of action, those who 'will do things' as you say, so strikingly, must learn the basic principles of science, of literature, of history, of the life of humanity and of your own people. Whilst young, they can sacrifice entertainment or amusements to study; the American student ought to be more prepared, before entering into active life, which will absorb his brain and physical power."

"For that only reason, the appeal issued by the Harvard Fund Committee has a national meaning; you need excellent professors to obtain a good student, and an efficient citizen. Professors can only be good if America succeeds in inducing your best brains, not to follow exclusively prosperous professions as industry and commerce, but to become the intellectual leaders of their fellow countrymen. Modern life will only maintain the high standard of education if it encourages morally and also materially the unselfish young men, who devoted their time to the pursuit of truth and of equity."

FREE STREET CARS

Washington, Oct. 3.—Street cars should be run by cities as elevators are operated by owners of sky-scrapers, without charge to passengers, Ralph S. Bauer, resident of the Associated Boards of Trade of Essex County, Massachusetts, told the federal electric railway commission today. The business community would be glad to pay the expenses, he said, because carriers are "messengers of prosperity."

"If it is good business for the public to take tolls off roads and bridges and send millions to keep them up for the use of the people," Mr. Bauer said, "it is better business publicly to take over the moving highways and give people free. The service is almost strictly a social and not a transportation problem."

Budapest is Now Hungriest of Big Cities in Europe

Green Pepper Stuffed With Rice and Tomatoes Fashionable Hotel Supper

Budapest, Sept. 5.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—This probably is now the hungriest of the great cities of Europe. From France eastward there is a gradual tightening of the belt and an increasing absence of nutritious food, until here there is a dearth of food of any kind.

On meat days one light ration of beef, mutton or veal of poor quality is to be had at the midday meal in the larger restaurants that remain open but on such days supper is meagre. Tonight at the largest and most fashionable hotel in the city supper consisted of a green pepper stuffed with rice and tomatoes, boiled spinach and a fragment of poor pastry. The Roumanian occupation made harder an already serious situation. The Roumanians scour the surrounding country for supplies. Interruption of railway traffic, due to the coal shortage, is another factor. As this is written Hungary is passing through the government crisis that followed the resignation of Archduke Joseph as Chief of State, and this, with its uncertainty as to future developments heightens the general depression of this once gayest of cities.

The magnificent streets present blocks of great shops with shuttered windows. Only here and there is a store open and usually its poorly filled windows represent about its stock in trade and at exorbitant prices despite the low value of the kronon. Few of the restaurants and cafes that once made Budapest famous for food and music and splendidly dressed people are open and idle and poorly dressed crowds fill the popular streets.

The factories are closed for lack of coal and raw materials. More than 200,000 persons have flocked to the city from the surrounding regions. The streets are filled with soldiers, both Hungarian and Roumanian, and detachments of the latter march continuously through the city. One custom still survives in spite of want and general dreariness of the city. That is the afternoon promenades on the splendid terraces overlooking the Danube, but the poorly-dressed throng is a

Why Every Canadian Will Buy Victory Bonds

TRIUMPHANT, Canada emerged from the war, a nation great in arms and great in trade, a nation respected and admired by the world.

And Canada will continue to hold high her head.

Our obligations to the heroic dead, to the crippled and disabled soldiers, and to the men who were so fortunate as to return, will all be met.

That is Canada's duty.

To fulfill it, every Canadian will do his part.

Canadians will keep the machinery of prosperity humming, the factory chimneys smoking, the sea and lake ports bustling with activity, and the surplus products of farm and factory going forth to Great Britain and other lands.

But to accomplish all this more National Working Capital is needed.

The money is here, but it is in the hands of individuals rather than in the hands of the nation. It is in the savings banks, loan companies and generally scattered throughout Canada. For instance, our deposits in banks and post offices have increased in five years from one billion ($1,086,013,704) to a billion and three-quarters ($1,740,462,509), an increase of nearly two-thirds of a billion ($654,448,805).

The people will loan their individual savings to the nation to be used as National Working Capital in maintaining our commercial prosperity.

Every man and woman from every walk of life is interested in maintaining this prosperity. Therefore, every man and woman from every walk of life is personally interested in making the Victory Loan 1919 an overwhelming success.

It will serve to keep Canada in its present place, far up in the vanguard of World Progress.

UNITED FORWARD MOVEMENT OF CHURCHES BEGINS

The great united forward movement of the Protestant churches was launched throughout the dominion yesterday. In the city churches the messages from the house of prelates of the Anglican church, of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, and of the general conferences of the Methodist and Congregational churches were read. Inspiring addresses were listened to and special music and prayers marked the occasion as a most notable one in the history of Christianity in Canada. The combined simultaneous movements all with one aim in view must have a deep-rooted and lasting effect on the church life of the community and the dominion.

The Baptist churches in the city having still two years of their five year programme of special endeavor before them have not taken any definite part in the forward movement. Their own programmes is, however, much along the lines of that laid down by the other denominations. No special forward movement observances were made in any of the Baptist churches in the city.

The national campaign inaugurated yesterday will reach its climax in the second week of February, 1920, with a great peace thank-offering of $12,000,000 for the equipment and extension of the work to which the churches of Canada are pledged.

Brought together by unity of spirit, by common purpose, by the very greatness of the tasks before them in the dominion and in the world field, the Anglican, Methodist, and Presbyterian churches are appealing in this united campaign, to the nation to come forward and strengthen the church in her spiritual power, and in her organization and plans, by prayer, by service, and by financial support, that in these times of unsettlement and of insidious propaganda which threaten the body politic, she may be given the vision, the power, and the means, to meet her full duty in stabilizing personal and national virtue and stabilizing national ideals and conduct. In strong conviction of the call of the hour, in abiding confidence that there is available to the Christian church in its members, and even those not definitely attached to it, a wealth of faith in spiritual values and in Jesus Christ, as Saviour and King, equal confidence that all such are ready to answer to a stronger challenge to service and to a renewed personal consecration for the leaving and control of the whole life of the nation and by Christian forces, there has been issued in behalf of the united national campaign this call and challenge for a forward movement—forward in equipment and resources, forward in men and women, and, above all, forward in spiritual power.

Are Photographing The War Graves

London, Sept. 29.—(By Mail)—The Secretary of State for War announces that the directorate of Graves Registration and Enquiries is unable to receive any further applicants for photographs of graves in the various theatres of war, but that it is hoped that the requests already received will be completed before the close of the present year.

The work of photography was originally undertaken by the directorate owing to the prohibition on military grounds of the use of private cameras in France, and as otherwise relatives would have had no other means of obtaining a photograph of a grave. The joint war committee of the British Red Cross and Order of St. John have generously provided sufficient funds for the purpose of supplying the cameras and the material required, but contributions from these funds will cease on the first of October. Moreover, as there is now no prohibition on the taking of photographs, the necessity for the work done by the military photographers, attached to the directorate of Graves Registration and Enquiries, no longer exists.

Since the work was undertaken 120,000 photographs taken in France and Belgium, and 2,400 photographs taken in other theatres of war have been supplied to relatives. The outstanding requests have still to be dealt with number 35,795.

SHIPS PAY MORE TO PASS THROUGH THE PANAMA CANAL

Washington, Oct. 6.—Increase of approximately 15 per cent in revenues collected from the Panama Canal is provided in a bill changing the system of measurement of vessels passing through the canal, which was passed today by the House and sent to the Senate.

Opposition to the measure came largely from Pacific Coast members who complained that charges on deck cargoes, resulting from the change of measurement rules, would work hardship on West Coast shippers, particularly lumber interests.

SOME LESSONS LEARNED FROM WAR ECONOMIES. Many Took First Lesson in Thrift, And Many Learned Meaning of Extravagance For First Time.

A great many persons have taken their first lessons in thrift during the last few years. Whether the experience will make a lasting impression upon them remains to be seen.

Now that the pressing demand has passed there are some of us who feel relieved of a great burden. We welcome the return of the opportunity to do with our money as we see fit, and when we see our bank accounts dwindling we try to save our consciences by placing the responsibility on the high cost of living.

That probably has a good deal to do with our inability to save for the proverbial rainy day, but on the other hand we must not neglect to take into account the fact that the majority of wage-earners are today making more than they ever made before.

Food prices still soar skyward, the housekeeper's problem grows increasingly difficult and a large part of the "easy" money goes into the market basket.

But, and here lies one of the big reasons for our inability to save, even their high cost does not excuse the reckless extravagance with which women pick clean the dry goods shelves.

Perhaps if we were willing to hold ourselves down to a frugal or two, perhaps even three or four, we might be in a position to fold the wings on some of those "easy" dollars and put them in a secure place where they can't fly away.

CINCINNATI WINS THIRD GAME OF WORLD'S SERIES

Count Now Stands Three to One in Favor of The Reds—Large Crowd in Attendance. By defeating Chicago Saturday afternoon by a score of 2 to 0 the Cincinnati Reds won their third game in a series of nine to decide the championship of the world.

As has been the case in all four games played so far in the series, the loss of the game can be indirectly attributed to the Reds clinched the game. In the second contest Williams was wild and his six free passes to first was the cause of his downfall.

That the Reds will clinch the title is practically taken for granted, for they only need two more games, while the White Sox need four, and with pitchers like Reuther and Selie in good trim they should have no trouble winning the great baseball classic.

PREPARING FOR THE FAIR PRICE INVESTIGATION

Mr. Ottawa, drawing attention to the designation of October 9 as fire prevention day. On that day lessons on fire prevention will be given in the public schools; public meetings will be held in many cities and the owners and occupants of property everywhere will be counselled to give special attention to the removal of fire hazards.

The commissioner of public safety said that a certain amount of fire inspection was being made constantly by the fire chief and he thought premises in the city were in pretty good order.

It was agreed that the notice was too short to attempt to arrange for public meetings.

Mr. Fisher moved that the N. B. Telephone Company be given permission to erect poles and, in some cases, guy wires, at several places in the city streets.

Mr. Fisher remarked that the matter had been up before and he wanted to know why the city engineers had not been consulted. He thought they should have the benefit of his advice. He also thought that the city would be better off with a director to look after all the public services and he hoped the day was not far distant when such an arrangement might be made.

The matter was allowed to stand.

A report from the city engineer on the application of Chester D. Beveridge for permission to erect a fruit and confectionery stand on the west side was presented by Mr. Bullock. The engineer approved of other sites at the cross connection between Rodney wharf and No. 6, or at the head of Rodney slip in Union street. Mr. Bullock said that if a lease were granted it would be for a short term, with privilege of removal, at a rental of say $250 a year.

Mr. Jones asked if this would not provide unfair competition for the city's ten Rodney wharf.

The mayor suggested that such privileges might be auctioned each year as the fishery privileges are.

Mr. Fisher thought the applicant was undertaking expenses so heavy that it would be doubtful whether his venture would be successful.

Mr. Bullock replied that $210 is charged for the stand on Rodney wharf. Mr. Thornton could see no objection, provided the approval of the fire underwriters was secured. He seconded Mr. Bullock's motion that permission be given for the first mentioned location.

An application from John Kemp and G. H. Cummings for permission to place a lunch car in Union street, West End, on the place formerly occupied by Mr. Fisher was presented and on motion, granted. The rental will be the same as that paid by Mr. Fisher, which the commission were not sure was $10 or $15 a month.

Wharf Work
A report was received from the city engineer to the effect that when the timbers were removed from the top of the cross wharf in West St. John it was found that more repairs were required than had been estimated. He had arranged to have the contractor do the extra work, the city supplying the timbers. His motion to increase the appropriation by $400 was held over for the council meeting, when additional information will be presented.

Mr. Bullock reported that $347.99 would be required over and above S. H. Mayes' contract for repairs to the east side floats in order to keep the floats in position, and another $500 to replank the top of the wharf used as waiting space for passengers. He moved that the additional amount be provided by bond issue. The motion carried.

On motion of Mr. Bullock he was given authority to pool all unexpended balances in the ferry department.

On account of the municipal council meeting on Tuesday afternoon the weekly meeting of the common council was postponed until Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, standard time.
