

VIOLENT SCENE WHEN FRENCH HOUSE OPENS

Personal Attack On Premier And Minister Of Labor By Catholic And Socialist Members.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE IN GOVERNMENT

Paris, Nov. 9.—Another tumultuous session of the Chamber of Deputies was held today. The Catholic members made a violent personal attack on M. Lafferre, Minister of Labor, who, they declared, was unfitted for a place in the ministry, because as a leader of the Free Masons he had defended the alleged system of denunciation of army officers suspected of clerical leanings in 1904.

Premier Briand, who was also bitterly attacked by the Catholics and Socialists, elaborated his ministerial declaration by proposing the appointment of a permanent arbitration commission to deal with future labor conflicts. If this was not accepted, however, he said, the government would not tolerate a strike among the employees of public services, such as the railroads, which might result in throwing open the frontiers to a possible enemy and endanger the security of the republic.

A vote of confidence in the government was adopted.

MAYOR HELPS THE STRIKERS

Gaynor Refuses To Allow Unlicensed Drivers To Act As Strike-Breakers — Rioting Continues.

New York, Nov. 9.—Mayor Gaynor issued two characteristic letters to-night which promise to bring the strike of express company employes to a head tomorrow. Briefly, he forbids the operation of wagons by unlicensed drivers, thus eliminating the strike-breakers upon which the companies have depended. Mayor Witt, penn of Jersey City had already taken this stand and a test case is now in the Jersey courts. It is hoped that a settlement will be reached.

More than 10,000 drivers and helpers, augmented by most of the taxicab chauffeurs in New York, are still on strike and rioting is unabated. Packages numbering millions are awaiting delivery. John Williams, state commissioner of labor, is due here from Albany tomorrow, and with Mayor Gaynor's action and promise of state intervention, it is hoped that a settlement will be reached.

The mayor's letters, made public tonight, are addressed to the American Express Company, and Mayor Wittmann of Jersey City, respectively. To the company he said: "Although this strike has been on for over two weeks, the express companies have not, up to today, caused their new drivers to present themselves and be vouched for and licensed as required by law before they may act. I must now require that this condition cease. The sight of the city protecting by police escorts, wagon drivers by unlicensed drivers in violation of law, is exciting just criticism."

Answers one company. In his letter to Mayor Wittmann, Mayor Gaynor reviews the men's demands for an 11 hour day, pay for over time and recognition of the union. "At my request," he continues, "the men withdrew their demand for a recognition of the union and also agreed to leave the settlement of hours and wages until after they had resumed work. I supposed, of course, that this would settle the strike, but when I presented it to the companies, they refused, at the instance of one company or one man, to accept it as a basis of settlement, but wanted an additional condition that they should be free to reject or discharge anyone on the ground that he had joined the union. They rejected what is called the 'open shop.'"

The "one company" and one man alluded to are said to be the United States Express Company, and Frank H. Platt its president. No decision has been reached by the coal drivers on the question of a sympathetic strike, nor has a general strike been ordered. A mass meeting to consider the advisability of a general strike, has been postponed indefinitely. The police began holding up express wagons manned by unlicensed drivers almost immediately after the Mayor's letter was issued. Vehicles, thus seized were held in the corporation yard just as peddlar carts are held.

A gang of seven strikers overturned a loaded Adams Express Company wagon tonight, and after driving off three of the wagon men, attacked John Smith, a guard. When they had beaten him nearly senseless they cut squawking to the forewinds. The police arrived too late to make any arrests.

DEMOCRATS WILL HAVE THIRTY LEAD

THE DEMOCRATIC DONKEY PROCEEDS TO PRAY.

Gain Complete Control of House of Representatives and Cut Down Senate Majority—Some Republicans on New York State Ticket May be Elected—Socialist Gains.

The political upheaval of Tuesday, in the United States, was followed yesterday by a general survey of the field which disclosed with greater detail and precision just what results were accomplished. Latest calculations on the national House of Representatives based on complete, but unofficial returns, show that the Democrats will have a safe working majority of thirty. The outcome of the United States senate is now definitely settled. The Republicans are assured of sixteen new senators which, with thirty-four hold-over senators gives them a total of 50 and a majority. The Democrats are assured of fifteen new senators, which with 25 hold-overs, gives them a total of 40. Two senatorships are in doubt, namely, the succession of the late Mr. Dooliver in Iowa and of Mr. Carter in Montana, where there is a prospect of a tie.

The governorships in two states are not yet reported, as being beyond doubt, namely, Colorado and Idaho. 29 At Least in Congress. Chicago, Nov. 9.—62nd Congress: Democrats elected 225; Republicans elected 164. Socialists elected 1. Doubtful district, 1. Total 391. Majority of house 196. Democratic majority in house 29.

Complete returns on the election of representatives in congress indicate that the Democrats will have a working majority of 29 in the next house. The number of Democrats elected to congress, according to the latest unofficial returns is 225. The Republican representation will be 164, or 165, or 8 seats less than the Democrats have in the 61st congress.

Cabinet Takes Story. Washington, Nov. 9.—The election and its lessons and pressing forward the administration "legislative programme so as to get it out of the way before the Democrats control congress next year," were among the subjects discussed at a cabinet meeting today. Chief among the administrative measures will be the plan for meeting second class mail abuses by requiring magazines, not newspapers, to pay increased postage on their advertising sufficient to eliminate postal deficits and warrant establishment of one cent postage on first class mail for the future. This is Postmaster General Hitchcock's project. The plan will be urged upon the congress at the coming short session and a number of magazine publishers already have expressed their disposition to cooperate.

Hoxsey Fails To Fly High. Baltimore, Mr. Nov. 9.—A series of flights totally eclipsing in interest anything yet seen in Baltimore, save Latham's wonderful flight over the city on Monday, marked the Baltimore aviation meet today. Hoxsey five minutes after the opening bomb, began a flight for a distance in an endeavor to win the $2500 prize offered by the American and the Star to the first aviator to reach during this meet, a height of 10,000 feet or more. He was in the biplane in which Johnstone sailed skyward over 9700 feet, making a world's record but today he scored only 5330 feet.

At the height named his motor went wrong and he was compelled to descend about 3 miles from the aviation field unharmed. His Wright biplane, however suffered considerably, but Hoxsey later stated he will again go after the altitude record tomorrow in another machine. Sen. Elkins Not Improved. Elkton, Va., Nov. 9.—Comfortably placed in the private car of President Willard, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, Senator Stephen B. Elkins, was taken to Washington today. He was accompanied by Dr. Golden, his family physician. Senator Elkins has not improved during the past few weeks, as his family expected, and it was the desire of his doctors, that he be nearer the hospitals of Washington and Baltimore should an operation become necessary. It is stated here that the mysterious disease from which he is suffering, is something more than mere exhaustion, and an operation may be necessary to remove the pus said to have formed recently and which is giving him great pain at times.

PREMIER DID NOT REFER TO CONFERENCE

Asquith Gives No Hint Of Successful Issue Of Negotiations On Veto Problem—Predicts Disarmament.

GOVERNMENT TO PUT DOWN DISORDER

London, Nov. 9.—The expectation that the prime minister would enlighten the public on the progress of the veto conference in his speech at the Lord Mayor's banquet at Guild Hall, tonight was not realized. Mr. Asquith made only a passing reference to the conference proceedings which have been the subject of much speculation, owing to the fact that the results arrived at must be disclosed to Parliament which will reassemble on Nov. 15. Although the conference probably will hold one or more meetings there is hardly the faintest hope of a successful issue. After assuring the gathering that the government will use every force necessary to put down such lawlessness as is prevailing in Wales, the premier spoke briefly of foreign relations. It might seem Utopian, he said, but he hoped that, under the growing pressure of public opinion the political feeling would become such as to put an end to the competition for armaments.

MAN LYNCHED WAS MEXICAN

And Government Of His Country Demands Deportation From The United States—Confessed To Murder.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Protesting vigorously on behalf of the Mexican government, Senor De La Bara, ambassador to the United States from Mexico, presented a claim for reparation to the state department today because of the lynching of Antonio Rodriguez at Rock Springs, Texas, on November 3. Rodriguez, who was a Mexican citizen, confessed to the murder of Mrs. Lem Henderson at Rock Springs, and was burned at the stake. Senor De La Bara had a lengthy talk with Alvey A. Adee, second assistant secretary of state, in which he was assured that the United States would do everything possible to apprehend the guilty persons. The Mexican ambassador tonight expressed confidence that the American government would see that justice was done, and had communicated this information to Mexico with the hope too, of allaying the ill-feeling towards the United States, which seems to have arisen there over the affair.

Only meagre details have reached the state department from Texas about the lynching, but the officials today telegraphed to Governor Campbell of Texas, to investigate the case and to take proper steps to punish the offenders. The matter is considered to be solely within the jurisdiction of the state authorities.

COUNTERFEITER DREW PISTOL ON OFFICERS

Italian Arrested In Philadelphia Railway Depot After Struggle With Secret Service Men—Made Bad Quarters.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 9.—Suspected of being one of a New York gang of counterfeiters who have been passing bogus quarter dollars in this city, Giuseppe Galucci, of New York, was arrested today, after a struggle by United States secret service agents, as he was about to board a train for New York in Broad street station. Matthew S. Griffin, chief federal agent here, and Tyrell, his assistant, accosted Galucci just as he was passing through the train gates. As Griffin grasped Galucci's arm, the man thrust his other hand into his pocket and drew a revolver. Tyrell, close behind his chief, caught the suspect's wrist, and the two agents succeeded in disarming the prisoner, although he put up a fight. Galucci was taken to the central station and will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Craig in the federal building tomorrow. When searched a package containing 120 of the bogus coins was found in his possession.

NOT ELECTED SOON ENOUGH. Scranton, Pa., Nov. 9.—Congressman elect Benjamin K. Focht, of the 17th Pennsylvania district, today filed a bankruptcy petition here. His liabilities are given as $275,000 and the assets $175,000.

TEN THOUSAND CHEER AT DENUNCIATION OF LAURIER

SIR WILFRID:—"That fellow Bourassa must be cutting some ice."

DID NOT TALK RECIPROCITY

Commissioners Fail To Meet Yesterday—Visitors From Washington Not Surprised At Result Of U. S. Elections.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 9.—There was no meeting of the tariff commissioners today, referring to the negotiations which have been in progress, Hon. W. S. Fielding said today that the discussions were necessarily of a confidential character, but when the right moment comes, whatever is available will be given to the press. "What do you think of the results of the elections in the States yesterday?" Messrs. Pepper and Hoyt, two representatives of the United States government now in the city discussing reciprocity with the Dominion government, were asked. "When an avalanche starts it usually carries everything before it, and that is what happened in this case," was the laconic answer. "Do you think the results will in any way affect the reciprocity situation?" "We don't see it can in the slightest," they said. "Were you surprised at the results?" "Not in the slightest; we expected just what happened."

40,000 BARRELS OF OIL EXPLODE

One Man Killed And Several Others Seriously Injured While Property Loss Will Reach $15,000.

New York, Nov. 9.—Forty thousand barrels of kerosene oil in a tank of the Tidewater Oil Company at Bayonne, N. J., went up with such a roar tonight that the countryside trembled for miles around. One man working near the tank is missing and is believed to have perished. Five others were seriously bruised and burned. The fire, confined by hard work to the one tank, promises to burn all night, illuminating the harbor like a giant torch. Ashbury Park, Manassas, near 25 miles away on the coast, felt the force of the explosion. In Bayonne considerable damage was done. The explosion crushed in one side of the company's office building, a three story brick structure, and the flames soon destroyed it and contents. The total loss will exceed $75,000.

HOTEL KEEPER FINED AND LICENSE REVOKED

Special to The Standard. Montreal, Nov. 9.—The hotel license of A. Belliveau, was cancelled today and he was fined in addition as a result of the scandal arising from the Michand murder mystery. It was at Belliveau's residence that the Michand girl was entertained and possibly drugged the last time she was seen alive. Belliveau admitted selling liquor on Sunday and also selling to minors. Prompt action was taken by the court with the above result.

Nationalist Leaders Throw Down Challenge at Greatest Political Demonstration Ever Held in Montreal.

Special to The Standard. Montreal, Nov. 9.—Fully ten thousand people gathered in the Ontario Hotel, one of the largest structures in the east end of the city tonight and tumultuously cheered Messrs. Monk, Bourassa, Gilbert and other Nationalist leaders, and hooted every mention of the name of Laurier, Brodeur and other Liberal leaders. The meeting, which was held to celebrate the great Nationalist victory in Drummond- and Arthabaska was one of the most memorable political gatherings ever held in Montreal. The Standard correspondent has assisted at political meetings in the City of Montreal for the past quarter of a century, but never has he been at one at which the enthusiasm was so sincere and intense as it was at tonight's gathering. At times the scene was dramatic, the most striking scene of the whole being when Henri Bourassa, the Nationalist leader, at the close of a striking and eloquent address, challenged Sir Wilfrid Laurier to open St. Marys, St. James, Hochelaga or Maisonneuve and present himself as a candidate. There was wild cheering when the Nationalist leader made his challenge. There was another dramatic scene when the Nationalist leader submitted the resolution condemning the government's naval policy. The thousands of electors who packed the immense structure listened to the reading of the resolution in silence. Then Mr. Bourassa raised his hand and said: "I ask all those in favor of the resolution to raise their right hand." Instantly as if by one common impulse, every hand in the great audience went up and wild cheering followed. Only Four Offered. "Wait," said the Nationalist leader. "We are for British fair play, and I ask any in this audience who are conscientiously opposed to the resolution, to raise their hand without fear." There was a moment of silence almost painful in its intensity. The Nationalist leader with his piercing eyes, was looking at the speaker, when he said impressively: "I have counted the votes against and they are only four." The cheers that followed lasted for several minutes. These were the dramatic touches of the gathering. There were other significant features. One of the most significant was the British tone. The platform was draped with the Union Jack and every speaker took occasion to repudiate the idea that the Nationalist campaign was dictated by racial considerations. A Great Change. The meeting showed clearly the marked change that has taken place in public sentiment. Where only a short while ago Laurier was the popular idol and where it would not have been safe for anyone to even question his supremacy, the mere mention of his name was received with a storm of hoots. In fact, it is questionable whether Laurier would be able to face an audience in his former strong holds today, so bitter is the feeling against him and his following. And this feeling is not dictated by any anti-British sentiment, but by the conviction that Laurier and his entourage have been fooling the electors for years, whilst graft has been rampant on all sides.

LOS ANGELES TREBLED POPULATION IN 10 YEARS

Washington, Nov. 9.—The population of Los Angeles, Calif., is 319,198, as compared with 102,479 in 1900, as announced by the census bureau today. This is an increase since 1900 of 216,719 or 211.5 per cent.

NOVA SCOTIA HEARS CALL

Conservative Candidate In Digby By-Election For Local House Likely To Redeem County—Strenuous Fight.

Special to The Standard. Digby, Nov. 9.—Fearful that the voters of Digby county will on Tuesday next notify the local government to make room for a Conservative administration, Attorney General MacLean, E. H. Armstrong, M. L. A. of Yarmouth and Robert R. Finn, M. L. A. of Halifax are stumping the county for the Liberal candidate. As an offset the Conservative candidate's interests are to be looked after by Messrs. Madden, M. P. of Cape Breton and E. T. Tanner, of Pictou, who arrived here today and left for the outlying districts accompanied by Dr. Clarence Jameson, M. P. They are following in the wake of the MacLean-Armstrong and Finn meetings. Digby town is to have two big political poppows this week one on Friday night by the Liberals, and one in the same hall Saturday night by the Conservatives. Mr. VanBarcom is putting up a splendid fight and his chances for redeeming Digby county are indeed bright.

VAIN BATTLE FOR HIS LIFE

Toronto Man Fought Desperately In Water For An Hour But Disappeared When Help Was Near.

Special to The Standard. Cobalt, Nov. 9.—Details of the drowning of P. Cohen, of Toronto in the Frederickhouse river show Cohen made a desperate fight for life for an hour on the edge of an ice hole. John Roberts and Wm. Jones, prospectors, were coming along the river bank, when they heard cries for help. They found Cohen in the water up to his middle and crying for help pitifully. Cohen told them he had been in the water for over an hour endeavoring to climb out. He was purple with cold and half blind with frost. A pole was thrust out to him and Cohen raised himself half out of water, but he was so benumbed that the effort exhausted him and he sank back again and disappeared. The water at this point is 16 feet deep. Cohen is the second man to be drowned in Frederickhouse within a week.

CANADIAN KILLED HIMSELF FOR GIRL

Winchendon, Mass., Nov. 9.—"Allow me to write you a word to tell you that I am to die in a few moments for you. I have lost my head, Adieu, Adieu." This read a note which was found beside the body of Christopher Blaire, who shot himself through the heart today. The note was addressed to Miss Nellie Lantry, Thorndike, Mass. Two other notes, also in French, were found addressed to brothers living in Canada and informing them of the writer's intention to take his own life. Blaire was 32 years of age, and was employed in a local factory. He resided at a boarding house on Mill street where he committed suicide.

PUSSLEY CASE IS CONSIDERED

Argument by Mr. Teed on Behalf of Defendant Heard by Supreme Court Yesterday-- Ten Barristers to be Admitted

Frederick, N. B., Nov. 9.—The Supreme Court was occupied the entire morning with hearing the appeal case of Pugsley vs. the New Brunswick Coal and Railway Company.

Only three judges sat on the appeal, namely Judges White, Barry and McKeown. The Chief Justice heard the case in Equity, at St. John, and so sit on appeal from his own judgment.

Judge Landry, having been one of the commissioners that investigated the affairs of the company, was excluded from sitting on that ground, and Judge McLeod on the ground of being related to one of the parties in the suit.

The case was heard in St. John when Mr. Wallace appeared for Dr. Pugsley and Mr. Teed for the company. The action was brought by the plaintiff to recover an accounting from the defendant.

Mr. Teed demurred to the bill in equity, taking the ground that Dr. Pugsley had not the power under the provisions set out in his bill to bring the action and his contention was upheld by the Chief Justice. It was taken, this morning Mr. Wallace argued at length in support of the appeal and was replied to by Mr. Teed. The argument was of an entirely technical nature and numerous authorities were cited. Mr. Teed in the course of his address said that the statement made that the decision was based on the ground that Mr. Pugsley being a director could not bring the action, was erroneous. It was more than that, even admitting he was a director he had not shown sufficient interest to institute an action. Mr. Teed, however, claimed that the plaintiff had not only no interest, but he was not even a director. When he ceased to be an attorney general he was no longer a director and the office passed to his successor. The government was the party to bring the action and not Mr. Pugsley. The court considers.

The court court appeal of Jones and Lockhart put over to next term and that of Culbert and McCall Company was put over until tomorrow on motion of George Fowler, K.C. for K. C.

Before the Supreme Court Edward Row, Ralph St. John, Fred, Thomas Colpitts Weyman, Albert Edward Peirson, Arthur Neville Vincent, U. Z. King, D. King Hazen, James Starr Tait and George Roy Long will be admitted as barristers.

The fourth session of the fifth legislature of New Brunswick will probably open about Thursday, the sixteenth of February, although it is possible to be a week earlier or as much later.

GEN. ECKERT'S WILL PROTESTED BY SON

Favoritism Shown By Western Union Magnate in Dividing Estate Leads to Squabble Between Two Brothers.

New York, Nov. 9.—Charges that "fraud and undue influence" induced General Thomas T. Eckert, former head of the Western Union Telegraph Company, to bequeath the bulk of his $3,000,000 estate to his elder son, Thomas T. Eckert, Jr., are made by James C. Eckert, the younger son, in proceedings begun today to set aside the will. It is also alleged that General Eckert was of unsound mind when he drew up the document.

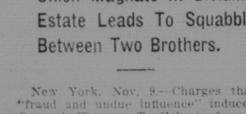

James C. Eckert, under the will, is to receive $50,000 outright and a life interest in an additional $100,000. In filing the contest he places this in jeopardy for the will provides that any beneficiary who takes such action is to forfeit his interest.

With the exception of a few minor bequests, to relatives, the balance of the estate, including the country home at Elberon, N. J., is given to Thomas Eckert Jr.

MARKET RULES OFTEN VIOLATED

Evidence of Clerk Dunham Reveals Frequent Disregard of Regulations-- Forestalling Carried On While Business Men Are Allowed to Occupy Stalls.

The market investigation was started last evening. Director Wisely, W. H. Dunham, deputy clerk of the market, and Percy Alley, occupier of a stall in the market, were asked a number of regulations had been violated.

Mr. Alley declared that he had leased his stand from Roy Potts, the lessee of the market stalls, and that while doing a commission business on his own account he was acting as an agent of F. C. Williams. The Director of Public Safety swore he had never received a cent in connection with the leasing of any market stalls.

Recorder Baxter conducted the examination of the witnesses.

Ald. Jones presided, and there were present Ald. Hayes, Wigmore, Elkin, and the Mayor, Ald. Vanwart, Potts and White, the Common Clerk, the Recorder and Director Wisely.

After the committee had organized the Common Clerk read the order-in-council appointing the committee to conduct an investigation under oath, and produced the records of the last sale of market stalls, stands and stalls.

The Recorder read the terms of sale of commission stands and market stalls, and the names of those who had rented stalls. The complaint of Stanley Hopkins that he had bid $1 more for racks than the auctioneer had accepted, was read as well as the action of the council upon it.

Director Wisely's Evidence.

Director Wisely was then sworn. In reply to the Recorder he said stands A to I were for country people. He supposed people selling on commission were allowed to occupy them. "I never sold a stall or took a cent for the renting of any of them," he added.

Q.—You have not been charged with doing so yet, Mr. Wisely.

Continuing witness said he only knew of one stand being sold outside of those disposed of by public auction. This stand had been sold to Charles Hamm. He thought Mr. Hamm paid $40 for it.

The Recorder—Do you remember being present at a conversation with Mr. Dunham and Ald. Potts before the stalls were sold?

A.—No.

Q.—Was it ever said in your presence that the stalls would be sold as previously, by the lessees of the stalls?

A.—No.

Q.—Did you know that the stalls were sold by the lessee of the stalls in previous years?

A.—Not to my knowledge.

Continuing witness said he had control of the market and saw to the repairs. He was clerk of the market under the union act, but he did not interfere with Mr. Dunham. He advised Mr. Dunham in connection with the interpretation of the by-laws. The questions of citizens occupying the market had come up. But he did not remember the circumstances.

The Recorder—Who were the men referred to?

The Director—I can't say now, I'm here to protest myself and show that I've done nothing wrong.

After some further questions which Mr. Wisely was not able to answer, the Recorder said his examination had been postponed till he was better prepared.

Clerk Dunham.

W. H. Dunham, was then sworn. To the Recorder he said he had been deputy clerk of the market for nine years. The Recorder asked him to prepare a rough plan of the market.

Ald. Elkin—Is there no plan of the market?

The Recorder—I believe not.

A rough sketch was prepared by the Recorder and Mr. Dunham and another by Ald. Potts.

In reply to further questions witness said Mr. Belyea occupied a stand by his leave. When the market was sold some years ago R. L. Potts bid the market in. Afterwards Ald. Potts, Roy Potts, the director and himself went to the office and Ald. Potts asked if Roy Potts would be the same privileges as he had enjoyed. The director said that would be satisfactory.

Q.—Was there any explanation of what those privileges were?

A.—When Mr. Potts had the market, he formerly leased some of the stalls.

Q.—How do you know that?

A.—Mr. Potts occasionally asked me whether it would be agreeable to me to allow such and such a person in a stall.

Q.—Did you know of any other privileges except leasing the stalls?

A.—No.

Q.—Prior to this, did you know of anybody occupying stands not leased by the city?

A.—A number, Jones Bros. and Fenwick occupied stands in 1906, the year of the trouble.

Continuing witness said he knew of other parties occupying stands not leased by the city. This year there were six men in this category. Belyea, Hamm, Babkirk, Howe, Alley and Bell. Alley Babkirk and Howe had stands last year.

Q.—Did you assign these stands?

A.—F. L. Potts asked me if I would have any objection to Alley occupying a stand?

Q.—How do you account for Alley and Howe getting stands?

A.—They had stuff in the lower end of the market in the previous year. They came up last year.

Q.—Of their own accord?

A.—They asked permission.

Q.—How did they get in near the German street end?

A.—They came in 1906 when the stands were leased. In 1906 the board put up a number of stands—these were sold by auction, and all bid in by Mr. Daly.

Introduced in 1907.

In 1907, introduced the witness, the practice of buying from the lessee of the stalls came in. Mr. Hamm bought from the lessee in that year, or in 1908. That seemed to him unusual, but he did not report him. He had Mr. Hamm moved once. Mr. Hamm are also hopeful that complete reversals may result in their election. William P. Rudd, of Albany, was elected as supreme court justice in the third judicial district over Joseph Lawson, the Democratic candidate by 584 according to the latest returns although Mr. Lawson claims a majority.

New York, Nov. 9.—With a safe Democratic majority assured in the next state legislature, which will select a United States senator, political prophets are picking a probable successor to Chauncey A. Depew. Several candidates are expected to seek the position, and in the opinion of political observers, the race promises to be interesting. Among the names of four who make this city their homes have been advanced by their friends as having performed party services, meriting this reward. They are Wm. P. Sheehan, Judge Alton B. Parker, Edw. M. Sheppard and John B. Stanchfield.

In view of the fact that many of the changes which made Democratic control of the legislature possible occurred up state, it is considered that the claims of men residing outside of New York city will be advanced but few, however, no names of up-state Democrats have been mentioned.

Parker and Sheehan are law partners. The latter is a former speaker of the house and former lieutenant-governor. Edward M. Sheehan, of Brooklyn, was the Democratic candidate for Mayor of New York in 1909. He was one of the men mentioned prominently for the gubernatorial nomination at the Rochester convention. John B. Stanchfield was the Democratic nominee for governor in 1909, and received the complimentary nomination of his party for United States senator in 1901.

Boston, Nov. 9.—Undismayed by the decisive defeat of the Republican speaker of the house, yesterday, where he has arisen for election in Massachusetts with aspirations to lead the party to victory a year hence, in Joseph Walker of Brookline, speaker of the house of representatives, announced tonight that he would be a candidate for the nomination for governor next fall.

Walker's statement was as follows: "I have been elected to the legislature of 1911. I am a candidate for speaker of the house of representatives. I shall not accept another election to the house, but shall run for governor of the commonwealth next fall. I believe that the greatest evil in politics today is the excessive use of money. Unless the country of my party comes to me without the use of money, directly or indirectly, I do not wish it."

WHARF REPAIRS ORDERED.

The engineer reported that the wharf at the end of Main street in Inlandtown was tumbling down, and should be replaced at the expense of the government. The matter was referred to the engineer.

A communication was received from the Board of Trade expressing the opinion that the city should have the wharf repaired before the Railroad Commission in connection with the demand of the Halifax Board of Trade for the abolition of the differential railway rates.

Ald. Elkin said the board of trade should send a representative before the commission to discuss the matter. Mr. Black thought it was not a matter the city should take hold of.

Ald. Elkin said he did not believe in trying to fight against Halifax if that city got the same rates as St. John, no harm would be done.

The communication was filed.

SON OF MILLIONAIRE GREEK A SUICIDE.

Waycross, Ga., Nov. 9.—Either to escape arrest on a charge of assault or despondent over business matters, John Burbane, Greek, son of a millionaire soap manufacturer at Constantinople, committed suicide by shooting in a hotel here last night under an assumed name. Burbane came to Waycross a month ago from Lynn, Mass. The warrant charging him with assault was sworn out yesterday.

BOARD OF WORKS TAKES OVER PAVING

Recommend to Adopt Engineer's Report on Completion of Main and Water Streets-- Fire Wall Considered.

A special meeting of the Board of Works was held yesterday afternoon, at which the recommendations of the city engineer to take over the Water and Main street paving from the Hastings Co. were endorsed. The construction of a fire-wall at the head of No. 6 berth, with the repairing of the wharf at Inlandtown and other matters were dealt with. The improvements on Main street cost $18,266.23, and on Water street $7,549.90.

Ald. McGoldrick presided, and there were present, Ald. Jones Smith, Likier, Elkin, Willet, McLeod, Potts, Sproul, White, Hayes, Holder, Christie, Vanwart, with the common clerk, the city engineer, the harbor master and his deputy.

J. K. Scammell wrote asking that arrangements be at once made in connection with the fire wall which the government has been asked to build in connection with the extension of No. 6 shed at Sand Point. He asked that the city engineer be instructed to furnish him with a sketch, approved by Peter Clinch, of the New Brunswick underwriters.

Mr. Scammell also asked that the recorder be instructed to prepare a lease of 54 feet of land at the end of No. 6 shed, which the government wishes to build on.

Referred To Engineer.

Some discussion took place on the advisability of erecting a fire wall. On motion, the recorder was referred to consult with the Board of Fire Underwriters. The matter of the lease was referred to the recorder.

Mr. Scammell also asked for information in connection with the heating and water supply of the new warehouse at Sand Point. The engineer was instructed to furnish the information required.

Mr. Scammell also complained of the removal of sand and gravel from the Beacon Bar in the vicinity of the proposed extension of the Sand Point wharf. He said the sand and gravel had to be replaced at the expense of the government. The matter was referred to the engineer.

A communication was received from the Board of Trade expressing the opinion that the city should have the wharf repaired before the Railroad Commission in connection with the demand of the Halifax Board of Trade for the abolition of the differential railway rates.

Ald. Elkin said the board of trade should send a representative before the commission to discuss the matter. Mr. Black thought it was not a matter the city should take hold of.

Ald. Elkin said he did not believe in trying to fight against Halifax if that city got the same rates as St. John, no harm would be done.

The communication was filed.

Manager of B. N. A. Branch Bank at St. Martin's Honored Before His Departure to Ottawa.

St. Martin's, N. B., Nov. 9.—A large number of friends of John Black, Jr., gathered at the St. Martin's Hotel for the purpose of giving him a farewell dinner.

Mr. Black was the manager of the St. Martin's branch of the Bank of British North America, and has been transferred to the bank at Ottawa as accountant.

Mr. Black's genial countenance will be missed in St. Martin's, but the best wishes of its people go with him for his success and prosperity.

After a sumptuous dinner was served, the chairman of the meeting, Dr. G. W. Bailey, on arising, spoke of the great pleasure it gave him to preside over so representative a body of citizens, which were gathered there to honor Mr. Black. While one and all would deeply regret Mr. Black's departure from the village, he was going to a larger centre of financial activity, and was elevated in the service of the bank. "It is very seldom," said the speaker, "that a stranger can come into a town and win the respect, confidence and esteem of the people so rapidly and completely as Mr. Black had done."

The bank had made a wise selection in sending Mr. Black here to open the new branch. That the new manager, Mr. Kirk, would prove a worthy successor he had no doubt, and he was sure that the citizens would give him a cordial welcome.

On behalf of those gathered he presented Mr. Black with a small token of their best wishes, in the form of a pipe. He trusted, he said, that Mr. Black smoked it and watched the smoke wreaths ascend, he would have many a reverie in which his St. Martin's friends would be with him again. Mr. Black made a telling reply, thanking the gentlemen present for their kind regards for his welfare.

The following programme was then carried out: Gramophone selection; speech, A. F. Bentley, M.P.P.; solo, Emery Titus; speech, Rev. Wm. Snelling; solo, Ernest Bentley; speech, Michael McDade; quartette, Stein song; speech, F. M. Cochrane; solo, John Black, Jr.; speeches by Warden Connelly, Fred Black, P. Mosher, Dr. H. E. Gillmor, W. are also hopeful that complete reversals may result in their election. William P. Rudd, of Albany, was elected as supreme court justice in the third judicial district over Joseph Lawson, the Democratic candidate by 584 according to the latest returns although Mr. Lawson claims a majority.

New York, Nov. 9.—With a safe Democratic majority assured in the next state legislature, which will select a United States senator, political prophets are picking a probable successor to Chauncey A. Depew. Several candidates are expected to seek the position, and in the opinion of political observers, the race promises to be interesting. Among the names of four who make this city their homes have been advanced by their friends as having performed party services, meriting this reward. They are Wm. P. Sheehan, Judge Alton B. Parker, Edw. M. Sheppard and John B. Stanchfield.

In view of the fact that many of the changes which made Democratic control of the legislature possible occurred up state, it is considered that the claims of men residing outside of New York city will be advanced but few, however, no names of up-state Democrats have been mentioned.

Parker and Sheehan are law partners. The latter is a former speaker of the house and former lieutenant-governor. Edward M. Sheehan, of Brooklyn, was the Democratic candidate for Mayor of New York in 1909. He was one of the men mentioned prominently for the gubernatorial nomination at the Rochester convention. John B. Stanchfield was the Democratic nominee for governor in 1909, and received the complimentary nomination of his party for United States senator in 1901.

Boston, Nov. 9.—Undismayed by the decisive defeat of the Republican speaker of the house, yesterday, where he has arisen for election in Massachusetts with aspirations to lead the party to victory a year hence, in Joseph Walker of Brookline, speaker of the house of representatives, announced tonight that he would be a candidate for the nomination for governor next fall.

Walker's statement was as follows: "I have been elected to the legislature of 1911. I am a candidate for speaker of the house of representatives. I shall not accept another election to the house, but shall run for governor of the commonwealth next fall. I believe that the greatest evil in politics today is the excessive use of money. Unless the country of my party comes to me without the use of money, directly or indirectly, I do not wish it."

GIFT AND ADDRESS FOR RETIRING PASTOR

Rev. Samuel J. Perry Suitably Remembered on Eve of Departure from Lutes Mountain Pastorate.

Lutes Mountain, Nov. 5.—A number of the Baptists, Reformed Baptists and Methodists of Lutes Mountain and vicinity met at the Baptist parsonage on the 4th inst. and presented the retiring pastor, Rev. S. J. Perry, a well filled purse, and on appropriate address, Rev. Isaiah Carpenter was chosen chairman and made a very interesting speech, contrasting the past with the present condition of the pastorate. The address was read by Lieutenant H. McCutcheon, pastor of the Reformed Baptist church.

Dear friends.—May we assure you that it is with much regret and great disappointment that we learn you are about to sever your connection with us and directly assume work in a new field of labor. Dear Brother Perry, in you, whether as pastor, Christian worker or friend, we have always found a true brother, a strong principled man, a truly courageous and consecrated minister of the Gospel; you have always been true to the voice of duty, conscientious in all acts, truly sympathetic in disposition, firm and decided in your pulpit efforts, confidential and unchangeable in your friendship, clear in your perception of duty, positive in your denunciations, ever showing an interest in every branch of Christian service, ever mindful of the others. You have developed in your sphere of activity a strong influence of inter-denominational felicity among all Christian bodies, so that we, whether United Baptists, Methodists, Reformed Baptists, etc., feel that we will sustain a great loss in Christian fellowship by your removal from amongst us.

Dear Sister Perry.—We have appreciated in the fullest sense your efforts on our behalf, and your social tasks and strong Christian character, dear sister and brother, we bid you Godspeed in your departure, and we humbly pray that the great head of the church may abundantly bless you.

We earnestly pray that God will direct and bless your son and make him a blessing and comfort to you in your old age. Before parting may we present to you this little token as an indication of our fellowship and appreciation of your efforts amongst us and interest in all that pertains to our social, moral and religious welfare. May God abundantly bless you in the prayer of each here tonight.

Mr. Perry replied in a spirit of himself and family, thanking them for this very tangible expression of love as well as the kindness and good will showing them during his pastorate here. Speeches were made by Deacon Oliver Trites and Mr. McCutcheon, after which the Hymn Blest be the Tie that Binds, was sung and Mr. Carpenter led in prayer. Cake and coffee was served by the ladies, and a very enjoyable time was spent. Mr. Perry goes to the North River field.

SAINT JOHN, THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 10th, 1910

HOIST WITH HIS OWN PETARD.

The government papers are making a vast potter over the unfair electioneering methods used by the seceding members of the Liberal party in Drummond-Arthabaska, and especially are they denouncing the representations made as to the object and effects of the Laurier navy.

Mr. Brodeur was then a member and one of Mr. Laurier's trusted lieutenants. Under Mr. Laurier's eye and with his sanction, he expressed his opinion that rifles were not necessary, and if they were purchased the British government should foot the bill.

"I regret that the government has bought these rifles from the English government and that the same government asks us to be repaid. Is that the kind of protection promised by England to Canada? Is that the situation which is destined for this colony? I think we have a right to expect another treatment on the part of England."

In the elections in Quebec in 1896, this same Mr. Brodeur and his fellow workers flooded the constituencies with speeches and literature which represented the Conservative government as conspiring with the French government to make "cannon food" of the French youth.

"Why these armaments? Why fight for England? These rifles, these guns, will have to be manned by the electors. You are looked upon as only fit food for cannon."

"The Tappers, the Angers and the Tallons will sit quietly in their cabinets and will send you to death joyfully, while they drink champagne."

"They will send your sons to Africa or Asia, whence they will never come back."

"Vote for Laurier if we do not want some day to be sent to foreign countries, leaving at home our wives, our children, and our dear ones."

These appeals were known to Mr. Wilfrid Laurier, were permitted by him, were encouraged by him, and he accepted the votes and the supporters gained for him by such methods. It was fine fun then for the leader of the Liberal party. He was "dishing" the Conservatives even whilst he was hood-winking the habitants. He recked little of the kind of seed sown, or of the miserable after-crop, or of the effect on national or Imperial instincts. The statesman was swallowed up by the partisan, the fair fighter displaced by the petty-trickster, the future interests of Nation and Empire sacrificed to the personal and party success of the moment.

The soil of Quebec is a fertile receptacle for the seed of prejudice and misrepresentation. Race is always sensitive, but especially so when in a minority. Information is scanty on subjects of general and wide importance, and its purveyors are not numerous or very exact. The glib tongue of the young platform orator, and the insidious appeal to fears and prejudices work wonders in swaying political action. The convictions of accurate knowledge and sound thinking are mainly conspicuous by their absence, and so the incendiary succeeds, where the careful and conscientious make no headway.

The Wilfrid Laurier of 1896 knew all this, but he did not hesitate to exploit the situation to his own benefit, and by these methods. What he forgot in 1896, or, opportunist-like, ignored, is that all such mischievous seed sowing has its sure after-crop. He knows now, and has to eat the bitter bread prepared from his own seedling. His disciples and admirers of 1896 have become his opponents and enemies of 1910. They left their master, but they appropriated his tools, and utilized to the full the lessons he taught them in 1896. In Drummond-Arthabaska they paid out Hon. Louis Brodeur and Sir Wilfrid Laurier in their own current coin of 1896, and paid with interest. They appealed to the ignorance and prejudices of the habitants, they worked on their fears, and the fears of their wives and mothers. They represented Laurier as in league with Britain, and his navy as the instrument of conscription, and murderous wars on distant soil, and pictured in lurid colors the tearing of French youths from their peaceful homes to make "cannon food" for Britain's wars.

It was all horrible and disgusting, no doubt, just as horrible and disgusting as when Laurier and Brodeur played the same low game in 1896—but it succeeded, and poetic justice was meted out to the inventors and beneficiaries of the original scheme. Every decent man and good Canadian deprecates such political methods, and prays for their speedy passing. If the experience of Sir Wilfrid teaches public men to avoid them as dangerous to themselves, they will pass all the more quickly.

BREAKING IT GENTLY.

Mr. Pugsley on the prospects of a St. John dry dock at the opening of the Dominion Exhibition, September 3rd, 1910:—

"I may state that I am disclosing no great secret when I tell you that this work will be undertaken in the near future. The negotiations are proceeding satisfactorily and the undertaking will be commenced at your port."

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—(Special to The Telegraph).—It is learned that the government has by no means decided that an arrangement cannot be reached with Sir Robert Perks and his associates for the construction of a dry dock and ship-building plant at St. John. If private companies do not undertake this work, it is understood that the needs of the navy are such that the government will likely undertake the construction of the Levis and St. John docks. However, this has not yet been considered in council.

Is the dry dock going to prove another of Mr. Pugsley's optimistic visions? The hint which his organ, the Telegraph, conveys that the government may construct the dock is pure surmise. The matter has not even been considered by the council. The dispatch from Ottawa leaves the impression that Mr. Pugsley, having soared too high, seeks the necessity of letting himself down gently.

The Globe pointedly remarks:—"References to the dry dock business in some of the ministerial organs convey the idea that the public mind is being prepared to receive the news that there will not be as many dry docks as was at one time supposed. So much has been said in St. John in regard to the necessity for a dry dock here, that it is plain the one promised to St. John should be commenced first."

The moral of this little incident is that when Sir Robert Perks or some other contractor announces definitely that a dry dock will be built in St. John, we will know that we are going to get it, and not before.

AN AGGRAVATING EXPERIMENT.

An interesting experiment is reported by the Cleveland Plain Dealer from a town near Toledo, although like many experiments of the same character it leaves much to be desired. It appears that a rural mail carrier had instructed his wife in the details of his work so thoroughly that she could cover the route in a satisfactory manner. This enabled him to take his annual vacation with the knowledge that the government's interests in the matter would not be imperiled by an incompetent substitute.

Of course the absence of the wife from the home broke up the domestic harmony of the household, and would have done so if the husband hadn't suggested a transposition of duties. While the wife was making her official rounds the husband looked after the kitchen and bed making, and sweeping and dusting, and mending and baking, all those other worries that feminine flesh is heir to. It was an odd agreement and lasted just two weeks, the husband, tired of his experience with pots and pans and rolling pins and brooms, cheerfully returning to his route and the wife resuming her way in the household.

The husband was thoroughly tired of the experiment. He found his new duties monotonous, irksome, disagreeable. He was glad to wash his hands of the dish washing, and shake off the odor of the roasts and stews. But what of the wife? Did she tire of juggling around her? Alas, we do not know. We simply understand that the husband threw up his hands and cried "enough," and the wife thereupon meekly handed over the mail bag and went back to her old duties.

And this is why the experiment seems aggravatingly incomplete.

In a recent speech, at the unveiling of a memorial tablet to the late Mr. E. E. Ellis, who was chief Liberal whip during the Rosebery administration, Mr. Lloyd-George gave a notable description of three classes of men in British public life. He said:—"As a rule, you will find three classes of men in political life. You will get a man who takes an honorable pride in representing his fellow-citizens in the greatest parliament in the world. That represents the climax of his ambition. As a rule, honest, straightforward, sincere, ready to make sacrifices for his party because he firmly and conscientiously believes that is the most effective way to serve his country and generation. This is the most numerous class. There is another class of men who are possessed and controlled by insatiable ambition. Their compass may appear to be unsteady, but if you watch, it points unerringly in one direction, that of their own personal advancement. This is a very small class. Then there is the third class, men who do not despise honorable positions, who are anxious to attain and are proud when they succeed in reaching them, but whose principles are inflexible and who whenever there is any variance between personal advancement and devotion to principle, would have no hesitation in pursuing the course indicated by principle."

Current Comment

(Ottawa Journal.)

Nova Scotia strenuously objects to any further loss of parliamentary representation, whatever the census of 1911 may require. But there is still another loss which Nova Scotia may soon have to face. At present that province with its eighteen members has two important cabinet portfolios, while the west with its thirty-five members, soon to be increased to about fifty-five has but two. Unless the cabinet is increased by an extra portfolio, it is difficult to see how justice is to be done the west in this respect without a reduction of the Maritime Province portfolios.

There is consternation among the Quebec Liberal members. Each one of them is wondering if Henri Bourassa is going to run in his constituency at the next election, and is hoping that he will not. They are not challenging Henri just now, but on the contrary, are trying to dodge him.

The English are the best after-dinner speakers in the world, according to a Paris paper. "Their speeches are brief and tactful," it says with admiration. The briefest and most tactful after-dinner speech ever heard, however, was:—"Look here, old chap, I'll pay for this."

CLOSING STOCK LETTER.

By direct private wires to D. C. Mackintosh & Co.

New York, Nov. 9.—Whatever may have been the gratification felt in the business and financial world at the results of yesterday's elections, today's stock market failed to enthuse. In fact there was little or no increase of outside interest and the session, as a whole, was given over to heavy and persistent realizing by operators who had bought stocks in anticipation of a democratic victory. The truth seems to be that some such results had been anticipated in the advancing tendency of prices which preceded the election and today's reaction, all things considered, was natural and in the opinion of many observers, most desirable. The aftermath of yesterday's political battle, however, is distinctly a cheerful and pleasant one. In the opinion of many banking and business interests political disturbance and uncertainty has been greatly minimized as an industrial factor and the situation at large is now left to shape itself in consonance with fundamental business developments. The country has been blessed with abundant crops and the results are already being realized in a modest way at the business centers through the agricultural regions. Sooner or later the season's harvests must lend stimulus to business at large and in the opinion of many observers, the general business confidence should return also and then railway and industrial corporations will be able to finance needed improvements with ease. This revival may be retarded but the fact remains that a great cloud has been lifted from the business and financial horizon.

CLOSING COTTON LETTER.

By direct private wires to J. C. Mackintosh & Co.

New York, Nov. 9.—The volume of offerings which appeared in the cotton market at the opening today suggested that it had been placed unquestionably on what the ginning report would show, on the theory apparently, that the figures had been actually discounted. Nevertheless, the exhibit tended to increase the disposition to realize as the session proceeded, for an early advance of 5 or 6 points disclosed heavy offerings and in the result, final prices ranged from 10 to 20 points lower. The bullish interpretation of the ginning figures was stoutly disputed by the bull element, the argument being that the crop which admittedly was larger than last year, was obviously not of such proportions as to supply the demand for the staple in view of the last year's shortage. Nevertheless, there was persistent liquidation throughout the day. According to the census bureau 7,239,933 were ginned to Nov. 1st, as compared with 7,017,849 last year, when 69.7 per cent of the crop had been ginned. This latter percentage is more than 10 points higher than average percentage of the crop ginned for four previous years, which average under 60 per cent. The weight of mathematical estimates based upon today's figures is favorable to a crop of 12,000,000 bales or more. As against this it is estimated that the consumption of American cotton this year will exceed 12,000,000.

Many people think that it is wise to delay the use of glasses as long as possible. Do you think so? Many people think that if they can see without, there is no necessity for wearing glasses. Do you think so? Some people suffer with headache which glasses properly fitted would cure. Do you think so? Some people KNOW that glasses are sometimes necessary even when the vision is good; and that it is best to wear glasses just as soon as there are symptoms of eye strain. Do you know this? We want you to know that we use modern scientific methods of eye-testing, that we supply glasses only when they are necessary, that we advise the best qualities because we believe you can't afford to take chances with your eyes.

Crushed Coffee— what it is

By a process of crushing between steel rollers, instead of grinding, the skin, which remains in the eye of the bean after roasting, is separated from the kernel and removed by air suction, while the kernel is broken into small even grains. These grains when steeped, being free of the skin or chaff, settle quickly, leaving the liquid clear and bright, and give the true coffee flavor.

Estabrook's Red Rose crushed Coffee is as easy to make as Red Rose Tea. Directions are in each tin.

Mr. F. D. Monk Speaks on Naval Policy

Declares it is Not Racial Question but One for the People to Decide.—If Electorate Approve Then He is Willing—Government's Course Contrary to British Precedent.

(Montreal Gazette, Tuesday.)
Before a large audience of young men at the Y.M.C.A. last night, Mr.
F. D. Monk, M.P., spoke on "Why I am opposed to the Naval Policy."
The president of the Debating Society, in connection with which the gathering was held, disclaimed any political bias of the society, remarking that as young men they only wished to hear all sides of public questions.

Mr. Monk after paying a tribute to the educational character of the work of the Y.M.C.A., remarked that he was particularly glad to appear there, for though he had spoken at several French meetings on the subject of the naval policy, he had so far had little opportunity of laying his arguments before English electors in the province.

Everybody he believed would admit that Canada was at a turning point in the relations which had existed for an era between the Imperial government and the dependencies. No man who would for a moment consider what had been done in the last two or three years could come to any other conclusion, but that the project which had been submitted to Parliament and discussed throughout the country was a new one, the effect of which was to change our relations with the Mother Country, and, therefore, was a very important question. His answer to the question, "Why am I opposed to the Naval Policy?" was to be found in the verdict rendered by the people only two or three days ago in the constituency in which a most memorable contest had taken place.

A Packed Constituency.
There was a constituency picked and chosen by the government as the most probable throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion to be favorable to the government. The selection of the time, place and candidate was made before the Imperial government, who knew their policy would be called in question. The opposition, he need not say, fought under great odds. Governments always had means of influencing the electors which their adversaries lacked. The government majority had been nearly 2,000, and it seemed to Mr. Monk under the circumstances the verdict
by the electors was an indication that his party were right when they contended in the House of Commons that this being an entirely new question, should be submitted to the people.

Entering into an historical survey,
Mr. Monk pointed out that ever since Canada had been a self-governing dependency, and even long before, one principal had been admitted, that this, as well as any other country, was obliged in the nature of things to provide as far as possible for its own defence. From the very beginning, however, we had claimed that the forces we provided should be under our own control, and that had never been denied by England.

Reviews History.
It was in 1862, said Mr. Monk, that the Duke of Newcastle, representing the Home government, sought to have it admitted by Canada's government that the legislature should vote money sufficient to cover our military defence for five years, and that the control of that money and force raised should be under the control of the Crown. At that time we admitted our liability to our mother country, but it should be under the control of our government.
At a later date the Imperial Defence Committee had been constituted, and that committee had come to the conclusion that the colonies and the outlying portions of the Empire might participate in a plan which had matured with great care for the defence of the Empire without assuming in any way responsibility such as was later suggested. That plan simply was that Great Britain should take charge of what is called the supremacy of the seas.
That was no concern of Canada's;
what Canada was then asked to do was to provide as far as possible for the care of her coasts and the extension of her ports and maintenance of harbors of refuge. But in time there arrived another school, commonly called the Imperialist school, the claims of which went far beyond this plan, and which claimed that the colonies should share in a general defence of the Empire throughout.
The efforts of that school became evident when the Colonial Conference began, the first of which was in 1884. At that conference a project was laid before the delegates in which the colonies were to be asked to take part in this general defensive scheme; but at that conference our delegates declared that they could not accept these proposals.

Delegates Upheld.
Our ministers returned here and were received with every outward show of approval. The press declared that they had properly sustained the interests of our country at that conference. Nobody rose in Parliament to complain of the attitude adopted by the delegates. Parliamentary sessions had been held from 1902 right up to just before the last general election, and the objects had been raised in any way to the action taken at that conference. W. F. McLean had asked why such an answer had been given and the premier replied that he could not have given any other answer, because any other undertaking would have meant suicide for our people and destruction to our autonomy.

During the general elections of 1904
Mr. Monk said he had travelled far and wide, but had never heard criticism of the course of our delegates at that conference. The elections took place and unlimited praise was bestowed on the prime minister for his attitude at that conference, both in this and other provinces.

Different Policy in Past.
Coming to the conference of 1907,
Mr. Monk said that new proposals were put forward, amongst them the proposition of Dr. Smarr, of Cape Colony, which was to the effect that the colonies should contribute to Imperial naval defence, but by a monetary grant or by the construction of a local navy.
To that the answer of both Mr. Brodeur and Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been that Canada was not to be asked what was being done, and had no intention of participating in such a scheme; and in consequence of this opposition the proposition was not put to a vote. Returning from that conference the delegates had again been received with popular manifestations of approval of their action. Documents were prepared, but the time had come for Canada to provide for the defence of its coasts and ports, and to make a naval expenditure. That motion had remained on the order paper for a long time.

Time Opportune.
Mr. Monk said he had been unable to support Mr. Foster, because he deemed it inopportune for us at the present time to make that expenditure when we were in a position to save an expenditure. It was in the month of March that there came the German panic in England. That panic had its effect in that country, and in March, by an agreement with the Prime Minister, Mr. Foster brought his motion to the knowledge of the House.
At the conference of 1907, we had agreed to an organization of an Imperial General Staff, whose mission would be to seek the best methods of defence throughout the Empire. The Imperial General Staff had prepared a plan, and had communicated it to our government. In the month of February, when Parliament was sitting, the government took upon itself to accept that plan, which had not been communicated to parliament, and passed an order in council approving of this plan in toto, and a despatch to England, in which it was stated that we were in agreement with the Imperial General Staff. Such a thing would never be tolerated or dreamt of in England, where they understood parliamentary usage.

Not Racial Question.
It had been suggested said the speaker, that only in the province of Quebec was there objection to the naval plan, and he contended that it was objected to in Ontario, and in support of this quoted certain agricultural papers. The principle dear to all Anglo-Saxons was that expenditure must be conscientious and representative. This was a radical fault of the naval bill, that it was not a question of race or religion. Certain zealous journalists who had recently been to London,
where they had been dined and wined, had come back bragging of their triumphs in England every man, woman and child was allowed to hold
and express an opinion freely.
In face of all these difficulties, and before the reversal of all traditions, the people, Mr. Monk concluded, should have been consulted. If a popular vote were taken and it were shown that the people wished for the navy, then they should be consulted first. He asked that his hearers should base their opinions on the merits of the case, and not on appeals to race and prejudice, and stated that the recent election had shown on the arguments he had adduced to this advantage.

MICHAEL KELLY REVISITS THE CITY

Temperance Lecturer Has Concluded Successful Tour
of Charlotte Co. and Passes Through to Digby.

Michael Kelly, the well-known temperance lecturer, who has been speaking in the western counties of the province, was in the city yesterday
on the way to his new home at Digby.
The temperance cause is gaining strength, he said, there is not one town in the amount of liquor sold in the small towns that there was a few years ago. But the people will never be content with anything short of prohibition.
Landing at Grand Manan on September 12th I addressed meetings at North Head, Castalia, Woodward's Cove, and other places. After spending two weeks on the Island I sailed for Campbellton, where I addressed meetings at Wilson's Cove, North Road, and Welsh Pool.
Leaving Welsh Pool I sailed for Digby Island, landing at Fairhaven, and addressing meetings there and at Chocolate Cove, Lambert's Cove, Lord's Cove, and Leonardville. I spent about two weeks on the Island. While there I received most valuable assistance from Rev. C. A. Brown.
On October 15th I went to St. Andrew's, addressing meetings there and at Bayville, Chamcook, Bowater, Elm-ville, Rolling Dam, Lever Settlement, Dumbarton and Lawrence Station.
Among those to whom I am indebted for assistance are Rev. B. A. Turner of Louisburg, and the officers and crews of the steamers Aurora and Viking.
The railway officials also gave me splendid assistance. Mr. Kelly will resume temperance work about January 20th.

NOVA SCOTIA STEEL 5's

NOVEMBER AS ELECTION RESULT

New York, N. Y., Nov. 9.—The stock market turned its back on the results of the elections with characteristic preference for future over past influences as a field in which to search for motives of action.

The demand which was hoped would be stimulated by the passing of the elections, failed to materialize and selling to take profits had to be done on a descending scale of prices in consequence of the accumulation of speculators in anticipation of this hoped for demand has been on a large scale for several weeks past.

Consequently the actual period of profit taking sales was correspondingly large and the effect on prices became acute and of growing effect as the day progressed. Final declines reached from 3 to 3 1/2 points for leading stocks.

Turning from the elections and looking ahead there were found several matters of disquietude, which had their part in pushing the selling movement. The passing of the dividend on Sloss-Sheffield steel has been looked forward to for some time past, and the officials of the company had as part explanation an accident to apparatus which had embarrassed operations. The minor part allowed in the execution of the existing depression in the iron market and the accumulation of production did not prevent the stock market from being sharpened by the belief that tomorrow will see a report from the United States Steel Corporation of the tonnage of unfilled orders on hand on Nov. 1st, which will carry a lower figure than any statement ever before issued by the corporation.

Most of the day was spent in the confidence in improvement in the steel trade which has been diligently fostered in connection with the speculation for the raise in stocks. The taking of a strike vote by locomotive engineers of western railroad lines directed renewed attention to another source of embarrassment confronting the railroads.

The expiration of the term of agreements with railroad employees of various classes within the next few months, will precipitate this subject into the field of active factors in the passage through New York streets of the express wagons escorted by policemen on account of the strike, gave the subject of labor troubles a steady force in shaping stock market sentiment. The German potash law was specific cause for the weakness of the Berlin market. The granting of higher freight charges in southeastern territory by the interstate commerce commission, was equally specific in strengthening the southern railway stocks.

Call money went no higher than 4 1/2 per cent, and yielded to below 4 per cent, but time money rates were firm. The subject of exchange market was firmer at higher rates. Total sales, par value, $2,137,000. U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

Settled Out of Court. The case of Fred. Condon, charged with assaulting Arthur C. Ellis, in the office of the St. John Street Hall, was settled out of court yesterday. The complainant had no desire to prosecute.

Change in Captains. Captain Buckingham, in command of the Furness line steamship Rappahannock, now in port, will, it is stated, leave the steamer on her arrival on the other side, to be succeeded by Captain Hanks, of the steamer Almeria. Both captains are well known in this port.

Cow Under Arrest. Policeman George Corbett found a cow wandering about Rockland Road last night, and as the animal could not give a satisfactory account of itself, the officer drove it to McCarthy's barn on Simonds street. The owner of the cow can pay the price of a night's lodging and procure the animal this morning.

Poor Fishing Season. Michael Kelley, the temperance lecturer, who has recently visited Grand Manan, Campobello and other islands, says the fishermen have had a poor season. He thinks that the fisheries are being depleted, and that there is need of revising the regulations regarding the prosecution of the sardine fisheries.

The management of the Globe laundry wish to announce that they have established a temporary office in the building occupied by the Myers machine shop, and have secured the use of the plant of the laundry for their washing. The same help will be employed as in the past. The telephone number is Main 623, as formerly.

Meeting Next Tuesday. The annual meeting of the St. John Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis will be held on Tuesday evening next, Nov. 15, at the Board of Trade rooms, and will, it is hoped, be largely attended. Stevens, vice-president, and managing director. It is very probable that the company will erect a factory in this city.

German Mythology. Miss Purves delivered an interesting lecture on German Mythology before a largely attended meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Natural History Society yesterday afternoon. The lecture room in the Natural History building was crowded, and quite a number had to be content with seats on the stairs. Miss Purves is a charming speaker, and her treatment of her subject delighted her audience. She spoke for about an hour, and gave a masterly summary of Nibelungenlied and the other epics of ancient Germany. At the conclusion of the lecture, Miss Purves was tendered a vote of thanks, moved by Mrs. John Sealy and seconded by Mrs. G. U. Hay.

Mrs. Martha Davidson. The death occurred yesterday of an aged and respected resident of this city in the person of Mrs. Martha Davidson, relict of James Davidson. The deceased lady was in the 81st year of her age, and had been ill but for a few days with paralysis. She was a native of County Fermanagh, Ireland, and had lived in this city most of her life. Her husband pre-deceased her many years ago. Mrs. Davidson is survived by three nephews: Mrs. T. S. Hill, with whom she lived, Mrs. Fred. Watson, of this city, and Mrs. William Kilpatrick, of Newark, N. J. Robert McConachy of Boston is a nephew. The funeral will be held from the residence of Mr. Hill, 95 Brussels street, on Friday morning. Interment will be at Ben Lomond.

WATERLOO ST. CHURCH TURNS DOWN UNION

Congregation Refuse to Consider Merger With Leinster and Brussels Street Churches.

Two of the three Baptist churches which it was stated might unite appointed committees yesterday to consider the question. These are Leinster street and Brussels street churches. The third, Waterloo street church, refused to entertain the idea, the members of the church, to quote their pastor, Rev. F. H. Wentworth, feeling that they would sooner remain as they are at present and preserve the individuality of the church. The question of union of the Brussels street and Leinster street churches will be thoroughly considered at a joint meeting of the committees appointed yesterday. As the matter is as yet in the most embryonic state, it is pointed out that there are many questions to be settled before the union becomes assured. It has been felt that one strong and thriving church body, which would serve the field which is now supplied by the three churches named, would be a greater force for good in the community than the three separate church bodies which are now in the field. On the other hand there is some opposition to the plan from members of both congregations, while the third church has refused to entertain it, and will maintain its separate existence.

May Take on School Building. If the union plan is approved by the men who have the authority to represent their churches in the negotiations it will mean that one or both of the present church buildings will be sold. If the sale is sold the united congregations will occupy the other or, if both are disposed of a new church edifice will be erected. This latter plan will not, however, be considered if the members of the churches decide that one of the present buildings will serve the purpose of both.

Leinster street church building is the larger of the two, and when the portion of the building now occupied by the school board for the purpose of a public school is vacated, as it will be probably next year, there will be room enough for both congregations. This is the idea of some of the church members who feel that a remodelling of the Leinster street church building would be the most advisable course to pursue.

The matter has not been considered as yet, save in a very general way, and it has to be decided upon before any account is taken of the details of the scheme. Consequently any talk of what may be done is but speculation.

The committees appointed by the congregations of Leinster street and Brussels street churches are as follows:—Leinster street—A. A. Wilson, K. C. A. W. Sullis, D. A. Vaughan, Nevin Cameron, Fred C. Jones, James I. Davis, Fred Holman, Isaac Erb, Allan Barbour, Herbert D. Everett. Brussels street—A. H. Chipman, C. J. Stammers, William Alwood, G. W. Morrell, L. A. Belyea, W. J. Stackhouse, W. E. Hopper, C. E. Vall, P. Z. Alwood. One other member will be appointed to make the representation of both churches equal. No date has been set for the meeting of the committees.

WEDDINGS.

Tufts—Holly. Harry A. Tufts, an officer on the tug Lord Roberts, was married last evening to Miss Sarah Holly, of Musquash. Rev. David Hutchinson, pastor of the Main street Baptist church, performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Ramsay, and the groom by Roy Tufts. They will reside on Acadia street. This happy union has a touch of romance, the groom having first met the bride some months ago at the home of a shipmate, and on the latter removing to another part of the city, the young couple decided to make the house in which they had first met their future home.

Nealey—Barnett. The marriage of Albert E. Nealey to Miss Elizabeth Barnett took place last evening at the residence of James H. Fowler, 51 Stanley street. Rev. G. M. Milbury performed the ceremony. The bride and groom are natives of the Old Country, but have been living in St. John for some time. They will reside at 387 City Road.

PERSONAL.

Hon. J. K. Fleming, who was in the city yesterday attending a meeting of the commissioners of the provincial hospital, left last evening for Fredericton. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hilson and child of Regina, Saskatchewan, are visiting Mrs. Hilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McCracken, 171 Chesley street. Chocolates this time? Get Othello's at White's, King street.

PROVES BIBLE WAS WRITTEN BY GOD

Dr. Torrey at His Best Last Evening in Expounding Reasons for Belief in Divinity of Book of Books

Rev. Dr. Torrey addressed the largest audience of his mission in the Queen's Rink last evening. Before the time of commencing the song service, the vast auditorium was filled, and the side aisles also held a number of interested auditors. The selections by Mr. McEwen and the big choir were particularly good, while the accompaniments by the talented young lady who presided at the piano were of a high order of musical merit. Rev. Dr. Torrey's address last evening was particularly forceful and at the close a number expressed the desire to lead a new life. His address was a continuation of the consideration of the subject of the previous evening, "Reasons for his belief that the Bible was written by God." On Tuesday evening Dr. Torrey dealt with five of the reasons and last evening began his discourse with an explanation of his sixth.

Influence Proves Divinity. "My sixth reason for believing the Bible to be the word of God," said he, "is because of the influence of the book, its power to lift men up to God. Nobody can honestly question that there is power in the Bible to beautify, gladden, and ennoble lives that no other book possesses. It is one of the most fundamental axioms of physical science that a stream cannot rise higher than its source and I submit that a book which has the power to lift men up to God that no other book possesses must have come down from God in a way no other book has."

"I believe the Bible to be the Word of God because of the character of those who accept it as such, and because of the character of those who reject it. "Show me a man who denies that the Bible is the Word of God, and I will show you a man who is leading either a life of greed for gold, or of lust, or of self-will, or of spiritual pride, I challenge any man to furnish me an exception."

"My eighth reason for believing the Bible to be the Word of God is because of the inexhaustible depth of the Book. Eighteen centuries of the hardest and closest study have been unable to exhaust the Bible. "New light is constantly breaking forth from it. The human mind is progressing during the eighteen centuries since the Bible. We have outgrown every other book. We have not yet grown up to the Bible. It is not only up to date, it is always a little ahead of date."

Brings Nearer to God. "My ninth reason for accepting the Bible is because as I grow in knowledge and reason and holiness I grow toward the Bible. "The nearer I get to God, the nearer I get to the Bible. When I first began to study the Bible, I had many doubts and problems and perplexities. The more I studied it, the fewer doubts I had. They vanished by twos, by dozens, by scores until there were none left."

"When I and God meet, I and the Bible will meet. "Time and time again, I have reached the parting of the ways where the Bible said one thing and my reason and common sense said another thing, and I feel that I was, I throw the Bible overboard and let the dictates of my reason and common sense—only to find every time that I had to go back to the Bible."

"One of the greatest discoveries I ever made was that God knew more than I did. "My tenth reason for believing the Bible to be the Word of God is because of the testimony of the Holy Spirit to this fact. "To one who puts himself in the right attitude toward God and truth, the Holy Spirit bears direct evidence that the voice which speaks to him from the Bible is the voice of God. "The surrender of the will to God opens the eyes of the soul to see the truth of God."
