

LOCAL BUSINESS MEN DETERMINED TO BE HEARD

Organization For the Promotion of Winter Sports Here is Proposed

WESTERN MAN IS SURPRISED AT LACK OF INTEREST IN WINTER SPORTS HERE

Expressed his idea of East in recent chat with Graphic's representative—Thought, N. B. A Land Of Great Outdoor Winter Activity—Was Keenly Disappointed—Organization Along This Line is Suggested.

The fact that many visitors to this part of the Dominion wonder at our lack of interest in outdoor winter sports in view of the facilities here for such activities is more or less known. American tourists and also visitors from Western Canada have frequently commented on the exceptional opportunities here for winter athletics. Having lived here all our lives we pass these blessings by without appreciation and leave our less fortunate neighbors to marvel at our strange indifference.

A Westerner's Idea
This volume of comment was recently added to by a gentleman from Winnipeg while in conversation with the writer.

While the Continental Limited—of the Canadian National Transcontinental Service between Montreal and Vancouver—was speeding Westward a few weeks ago, the Graphic's representative got into conversation with the gentleman referred to above as he was enjoying the solace of an after supper smoke.

"It's a great wonder to me," declared the stranger, "why you folks down here don't take more interest in winter sport—I mean socially. Of course I know that in the larger centres like St. John, N. B., in Nova Scotia and in Quebec particularly you hold annual skating meets and carnivals. The winter sports at Quebec and Montreal are practically world famous—at least I believe they are becoming so. But what I mean particularly is participation in winter sports by the individual. I have been down through Eastern New Brunswick several times and I was surprised to learn that there is comparatively little activity in outdoor sports in that territory considering the facilities you have at hand."

Was Disappointed
"In passing through southern Quebec and New Brunswick" continued the man from the west, "I fully expected to see people on snowshoes and skis and evidence every where that the natives were enjoying their outdoor recreation—going in for it wholesale, so to speak. Perceiving that my impressions were faulty, I began to ask questions and I was surprised to learn that a comparatively small percentage of your people down there take any active interest in any winter sport except hockey. I stopped over at Mont Joli, Bathurst and a place called New—something—'whereabouts' we ventured to supply."

"Yes, I guess that's what it is," the other replied. "Anyway at these places I expected to see parties of skiers, snowshoers and toboggan riders on the hillsides and I must confess I was disappointed. The weather was cold but with those clear crisp nights that a fellow likes to get out of doors and the only signs of activity in winter sport besides a number of youngsters sliding was a small mittens pay more attention to the group of young people returning from their efforts would doubtless be re-

REV. FR. WALLACE LOSES RESIDENCE

Presbytery at Nelson Burned to Ground Tuesday morning

Nelson, N. B., was visited early Tuesday morning by a disastrous fire which raged to the ground the beautiful residence of Rev. Father Wallace. About a quarter past one an alarm for help was sent in to the Newcastle Fire Company and the steam engine and a number of firemen were immediately dispatched to the scene of the fire. When the alarm was sent in the surrounding district was brightly illuminated as it was felt at the time that the building was doomed before assistance could be secured. Such proved to be the case and shortly after the steam fire engine left, word was sent in that all danger was past as the building was totally destroyed. The Roman Catholic Church which was in close proximity to the building burned, was for a time in grave danger, the inside becoming extremely hot, but being built of stone—without the heat of the flames. Fortunately a sleet and rainstorm was falling at the time and the elements assisted greatly, the efforts of those fighting the fire. The building was repaired last year and the loss will be a heavy one to the parish.

the water and never learning to swim. At any rate, I should think that winter sports would be one of the big enjoyments of life down your way and that participation in them would be not only engaged in by the individual but promoted through clubs and social bodies of one kind and another."

Thus we have a stranger's opinion of us and our lack of interest in winter sports. There is nothing particularly new about this. Strangers always see more in this country than we have been able to find. In regard to winter sports, no part of the Dominion has better natural facilities for such activities and yet we refuse to grow enthusiastic.

Why Not Organize?
In view of our opportunities, why not organize? In upper Quebec and Ontario numerous winter sport clubs have been formed, composed of young people. Social groups of this kind can easily arrange for a few months of outdoor sport that, in a way, even surpasses the enjoyment of summer recreations. A Winter Sport Club should be ready support in Campbellton. Snowshoing, skiing and tobogganing could be the major attractions and suppers and social entertainments could be made to round off special nights in a most satisfactory way. Local societies already organized could also arrange to have their social or entertainment committees give more attention to the group of young people returning from their efforts would doubtless be relief would help to increase interest in their activities and add new members to their ranks. On the whole, it seems too bad that our opportunities for participating in winter sports are not more generally taken advantage of by our young people. The Graphic would welcome a natural facilities for a glorious correspondence in regard to this matter. To give any movement in this direction, the publisher like a fellow living near it deserves.

The Spirit of Christmas

Once again the steady march of time has brought us to another happy Yuletide Season, the Christmas Season of 1924. And because of its salient significance as an epochal event in the history of Mankind and its inseparable association with the progress of Christianity down through the ages, civilized people everywhere openly or secretly welcome this most memorable of all anniversaries, no matter what their condition or status in life may be. Every human heart instinctively welcomes the Spirit of Christmas.

The joys and sorrows of the year that is drawing to a close are gone forever. The events which have gladdened or saddened our days during the last twelve months, whether spelling success or failure for us in their passing, must for all time be consigned to the history of a chapter of our lives that has been lived and a period which we have no power to recall. But whatever the unpleasant memories of the past year, the Spirit of Christmas heralds at least a brief respite from our personal burdens and fills our lives with a fellowship and good-will which it would seem impossible to achieve at any other season of the year.

There is, perhaps, no power on earth so miraculous and so far reaching in its effect as the Spirit of Christmas. With the Dawn of Christmas Morn young hearts and old the whole world over will joyously respond to the mysterious cheer peculiar alone to the Christmas season. In all corners of the globe where'er lanterns are lit the Spirit of Yuletide will find its way from the squalid attic of destitution to the palatial homes of the rich.

The Spirit of Christmas knows no limitations, no fettering conventions, no barriers of caste or creed, no impartiality or pride, it is a worker of miracles the world over, a dispenser of gloom and selfishness, a harbinger of hope and happiness. It renews the youth of the aged and gladdens the heart of youth. It gives us a stupendous example of the wonders that may be worked through kindness. It fills the world of children with boisterous delight. It softens the seared souls of those who have grown bitter against Society and corrects their distorted vision on the business of living. It melts the rigid heart of a cold world and moves milions to generous impulse. It brings back lost smiles to saddened faces, forgotten music to downcast hearts and erstwhile harmony to drab and cheerless homes.

It is the wonderful alchemy which transforms the dross of life into the gold of things worthwhile. It annihilates the ugliness of human existence and reveals the hidden beauty in every human heart. Christmas too, is essentially a time of thankfulness and it is partly this consciousness of gratitude that makes it what it is. In Campbellton we have much to be thankful for. Recent years have recorded progress in all departments of our social, religious, educational, industrial and municipal life which should inspire profound gratitude in every breast.

A few short years ago the celebration of Christmas might have seemed the cruellest irony of the age, for, as we sang of "Peace on Earth, Good-will toward Men," the familiar Christmas picture was veiled in the smoke of battle, the Christmas bells were drowned in the incessant crash and thunder of the guns and the Yuletide snow was reddened with the blood of the slain. But today all that is past. A measure of peace reigns over the world. Conditions are readjusting themselves, the outlook for the future is most cheering and gives promise of even greater prosperity to come. A Kind Providence has been most lavish in His Blessings and there is every reason to be deeply grateful.

Let us try to realize this more fully as the Joyous Christmas Season approaches and let us try to remember it after the happy day is past and gone. Lastly the true Christmas Spirit is a spirit of Unselfishness, spontaneous Good-will and sympathetic understanding of the rights and needs of others. So let us hope that as the years come and go we will not only continue to wholeheartedly welcome the Spirit of Christmas but honestly endeavor to retain something of its noble sentiments in our hearts the whole year round.

BUY MARITIME GOODS CAMPAIGN

R. A. MacAuley is Touring Nova Scotia to Organize Towns and Cities

R. A. MacAuley, field organizer for the "Buy-at-Home" and "Maritime-Made" campaign, left St. John Wednesday bound for Truro, Amherst and Halifax, N. S., where he will deliver addresses and distribute "Buy-at-Home" literature. Upon reaching a town the organizer's first move is to have window cards displayed in every store. This system has been carried out in most of the principal towns of New Brunswick, and has become a recognized announcer of the fact that the "buy-at-home campaign" is in town, an apt expression coined by commercial travellers who frequently meet the organizer on the road. Just as soon as these cards appear in the windows Mr. MacAuley's time is in great demand by interested business and public men.

Miss Argene Bransford is visiting in town the guest of Mrs. Alex LeBlanc.

Gaspe Member in the Federal House Wins Praise from the Press

Mr. Rodolphe Lemieux, Speaker of the House is Held in Highest Esteem by Fellow Members on Both Sides.

Big men and those who rise to leadership by virtue of sheer ability are produced in this part of the country as well as elsewhere and it is with a sense of pride that we reproduce a paragraph from the Quebec press which refers in complimentary words to the liberal member for Gaspe in the Dominion Parliament who is speaker of the Federal House.

Our Gaspe readers will be particularly pleased to learn through the press of the general high esteem in which he is held by fellow members on both sides of the House.

The paragraph, which appeared editorially in the Quebec Telegraph yesterday, follows: "Thoughtful Canadians, and especially those who take a keen interest in the public affairs of the Dominion and of its national institutions have been manifesting a desire for some time past for the stabilizing effect in parliamentary usage here, which has been so materially assured to the British Parliament by the election of a permanent Speaker—permanent at least—of course—so long as he retains a parliamentary seat. It is by no means surprising that this desire should have become uppermost in men's minds at the present time, when the Speaker's chair is occupied by the Honorable Rodolphe Lemieux, the model parliamentarian and presiding officer, who probably counts as many personal friends on one side of the House as on the other, and is equally popular with all his fellow members, by whom he is held in the highest possible esteem for his fine judicial temperament and strict impartiality. It is true that his occupancy of the Speakership deprives the ordinary debates of the House of the eloquence of one of its most brilliant, most scholarly and talented debaters, but this is more than compensated for by the possession by its presiding officer of that long parliamentary experience and intimate knowledge of procedure and precedent and parliamentary history so essential to a successful Speaker, and which as pre-eminently distinguished the present occupant of the Chair. For all these reasons the Telegraph does not hesitate to say that the election of the Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux as permanent Speaker of the House of Commons would be in the interest of the Dominion at large, as well as of the dignity of parliament, and while following strictly in the line of British precedent, would be popular with all parties composing the House of Commons as was his recent very tactful address here before the Canadian Club upon Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

LOCALS WIN FROM MONCTON

Campbellton Bowlers Defeated Visitors on Saturday Night with Margin of 20 Pins

Campbellton bowlers again distinguished themselves on Saturday night on Boudreau's Alleys in the basement of the Chateau Restigouche when a picked team of locals won by 20 points over a quintette from Moncton. The match was an interesting one to witness and standing room on a premium during the spirited engagement. No exceptional scores were made by any of the bowlers but excitement ran high at times. W. Pratt made the highest score for the locals reaching 101 on one string, while Lamb knocked over 100 in the second period for the visiting team.

LOVELY WINDOWS HERE THIS YEAR

Local Store Windows Artistically Arranged in Colorful Christmas Dress

A survey of local shop windows in all the color of their Christmas dress leads one to believe that the window displays of Campbellton this season surpass those of other years. We have not yet had an opportunity to see them all but there are several which come to mind now as deserving of special mention.

One of the windows of Andrews' Clothing Store, dressed by Mr. Pat Wetmore and presenting a miniature scene in Switzerland, is one of these. The work is exceptionally well done and has attracted considerable attention. The windows of the Linmac are also dressed in a way that has elicited much praise from patrons. These are the results of the efforts of Mr. L. Sullivan and Mr. Wetmore and their works present a harmony of colors and a tone and finish that is rarely achieved by the amateur.

In addition to these are many other examples, most of which were not completed when we last looked them over. These are those of Ferguson & Wallace, Geo. G. McKenzie Co. Ltd., Oak Hall, Shephards, The Subway Grocery, W. H. Millers, Guidrys, I. W. Stevens and Marquis & Co. Ltd.

The old historic cannon at River-side Park, as well as the captured German gun here, have been really amounts to add something to the appearance of the park.

As a result of having made no progress with a recent request to railway authorities for adequate train service between Campbellton and Causapsal and other points in southern Quebec, local merchants and business men today got down to business in earnest and held a meeting at three o'clock this afternoon to thoroughly discuss the problem.

That local business men are thoroughly aroused over this matter was quite evident from the atmosphere of this afternoon's meeting as well as from the statements made by those who attended. They evidently mean business. They are confident of their rights and—as they should be—they seem resolved to stand back of them and get what they have asked for or find out why it is denied.

The meeting this afternoon was well attended. Representatives of the Town, the Board of Trade, the Retail Merchants Association, several local merchants and business men and also representatives from outlying districts were all on hand and discussed the matter freely. With wisdom that provokes admiration the meeting discarded the usual petition or resolution procedure which has been Campbellton's downfall on several occasions and decided that a delegation be sent to Moncton to interview Mr. W. S. Appleton, General Manager of the Atlantic Region of the Canadian National Railways. Consequently about Monday a strong delegation will board the Limited for the Hub City and make an honest effort to find out AT ONCE why Campbellton's very reasonable request is not receiving the attention it merits. This delegation will include members of the Board of Trade, the Town Council, the Retail Merchants Association and representatives from various points west of Campbellton whose citizens are keenly interested in the question.

An Alternative
Although everyone may not realize it, a satisfactory solution means a great deal to local business men and they are determined if it is at all possible to have this serious state of affairs remedied at once.

Those seeking redress have been put off time and again and nothing has been done. Should the delegation to Moncton fail to bring the desired results, it has been suggested that public meeting be held and plans formulated to immediately take up the matter with the Railway Commission or the Minister of Railways in a further effort to eliminate this deplorable condition.

Some Facts
noon's meeting that there is a population of from 20,000 to 25,000 people between Campbellton and Causapsal and absolutely no suitable accommodation in train service by which they may reach Campbellton—which many have come to regard as their shopping headquarters—without coming in late at night and losing considerable time. Some years ago when the population of the area was one quarter of its present figure a train service was always maintained, but now when the trade between the two points really amounts to something worthwhile it is cut off.

A DEMAND FOR SERVICE

The matter of obtaining adequate train service to Campbellton and points along the North Shore and southern Quebec seems a task that devolves upon merchants and business men here have courage enough to recognize their rights and demand them. Such a demand is being made at the present time and those behind it are determined that they shall have an immediate hearing.

At present there is no railway "day service" between Campbellton and points west through the Matapedia Valley. The absence of this accommodation is bound to seriously interfere with people who would naturally do their Xmas shopping in Campbellton and, as a result, local merchants are bound to suffer a considerable financial loss thereby. This applies to other seasons of the year as well but at the Christmas season, considerable trade that would naturally flow in this direction will, as a result of this unfortunate condition, go to distant mail order houses.

Campbellton as an enterprising and growing town can ill afford this loss and in the light of conditions it should not be tolerated unless there is positively no way of solving the problem. Campbellton has in the past, been toyed with too much. Governments, railroads and interests of one kind and another have an exasperating habit of denying her due consideration. And just so long as we put up with this sort of treatment, the farce will be continued. In this case it is well to state our mind as a body of people who know their rights and intend to stand back of them; and it is also wise to make our statements in words that will not be bungled or misunderstood. If this is done and the demand is backed by the support it deserves, a satisfactory settlement should be speedily reached.

ENJOYABLE DANCE IN NEW HALL

Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Social Affair Was a Decided Success

The informal dance held in the new Orange Hall on Thursday evening under the auspices of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Lodge No. 138, C. N. R. was, without any doubt, one of the most enjoyable social functions which will be held during the present season. The hall was beautifully decorated the colors blending in a harmony that was rivaled only by the music furnished by a good dance orchestra under the direction of Mr. Frank McCallum. Mr. Harvey Dryden, C. N. R. Roundhouse foreman here read an interesting address which clearly set forth the real aims of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Dainty refreshments were served by the ladies during the evening and this feature of the program elicited much praise from the large number in attendance.

The address read by Mr. Dryden follows:
Ladies and Gentlemen:—

As no doubt there are a great number of people who do not clearly understand the objects and aims of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, I will endeavor to give a brief explanation which will be of interest to those present.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, was organized in 1864, with a very limited number of members, but the organization, after sixty years of continued success, has reached a grand total of ninety thousand members. The purpose of our Brotherhood is to combine the interests of the members, elevate their social, moral and intellectual standing, to guard their interests and promote their general welfare.

Its cardinal principles are sobriety, truth, justice and morality; the true principles of the Brotherhood are to extend help and sympathy to Brothers and their families in sickness and affliction.

The Insurance Department of the organization enables every member to take advantage of protection in both sickness and accident benefits, thus providing for the future welfare of their families.

It will be of interest to this gathering to know that less than five years ago, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, under the able management of our Grand President, Warren S. Stone, have entered the field of finance, and the fifth bank recently opened at Boston, Mass., brings the total capitalization of the banks to $29,000,000. The new bank building now nearing completion in the city of Cleveland, Ohio, containing twenty two stories, is one of the finest and largest structures on the North American Continent. It is the earnest wish of our Grand President, Warren S. Stone, that members of the Brotherhood invest their savings in their own banks, for by so doing they will receive larger dividends than from any other source.

Now ladies and gentlemen, The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Lodge 138, wish that the large gathering present will enjoy a very pleasant evening, starting with the first dance number on the program.

ENTHUSIASTIC GATHERING AT FORMAL OPENING OF THE CAMPBELLTON CATHOLIC CLUB

Spirited Address By Dr. L. G. Pinault Dealt With All Sides of the New Club's Work—Offers Prizes—Fine Musical Program And Splendid Exhibition of Athletic Stunts

Monday night was a happy occasion for the members of the Campbellton Catholic Club when the formal opening of that association which was just organized, was held in the Club building here. The large building, which was formerly the Roman Catholic Church, was filled to the doors and a very enthusiastic spirit characterized the large gathering. Several appropriate speeches were made and the new club most auspiciously inaugurated.

Dr. L. G. Pinault, President of the Campbellton Board of Trade gave a spirited address which was of generous length and a comprehensive nature, dealing as it did, with every phase of the subject at hand. He declared, in opening his address, that every member of the congregation, on entering the building, must be conscious of sentiments of admiration and pride for the promoters of this organization, which led by Rev. Father Verret, had accomplished much with little means, but which required a large amount of energy, patience and good-will to make it a success. Several attempts had been made, the speaker said to establish a gymnasium here for our boys. Providence had decreed however that this congregation, with the help of the Knights of Columbus, should have the credit of equipping the first physical culture hall in this town, a measure of success which is largely shared by our pastors. The speaker continued:

"Physical culture is one of the essential things a boy should have to become a real man. Man is composed of two parts, body and soul, and the two must be properly trained and educated, otherwise man would not play the part assigned to him by the Creator. A man should develop his intellectual nature by the acquisition of scientific knowledge that he may use when in need of it and it is only by study that he will acquire a store of such during life. Besides knowledge, it is necessary for a man to have virtue and faith deeply rooted in his heart for the one who does not believe in God cannot be a real man, able to love those who deserve to be loved and able to have compassion on the poor, the weak or the needy. Among the faculties of the soul which have to be trained, is the love of work, for working makes a man better and more useful in the world, while the lazy man is generally regarded as a poor specimen of humanity, a load to be carried by society. A boy should even be taught how to love and whom to love, for love is a natural need of his nature which cannot be dispensed with but which should be properly directed in order to control the passions which are bound to play bad tricks on those who don't beware.

One hundred years ago Sweden was afflicted with two evils, alcoholism and tuberculosis but today that race is one of the strongest of Europe. What have they done? Stop the sale of alcohol and built gymnasium. The Americans who have the reputation of being energetic have put physical culture on the level with other branches of Education and are educating the body and mind together. Boys take advantage of what has been done for you. Every day do muscular exercises for 15 or 30 minutes at least even if you have to shorten your sleep or amusements to find time to do it. There are eight groups of exercises which should be practised specially—walking, running, jumping, climbing, lifting, throwing, boxing and swimming, certainly at this time of the year you have to limit yourselves to a few of this group, but with the coming summer all should be practiced more particularly.

I want Father Verret to put my name down for a medal for a swimming contest among boys of next summer. I will terminate these few remarks by congratulating our pastors and the E. C. and the organizers for the splendid result which is rewarding their labors and I wish long life and prosperity to the C. C. C.

A variety of interesting features constituted a fine program for the opening. Indoor sports, such as boxing and basket-ball and many unusual stunts were enjoyed. The different events were interspersed with speeches and music from the church band. After a few introductory remarks from Mr. J. W. Howard, who acted in the capacity of announcer, a basket-ball game, explained by Messrs. E. Murray and Ed. St. Onge was lively indulged in, Murray's team winning out, through great skill on the part of J. Murray in being able to place the ball in the basket with ease, by a score of 25 to 19.

NEEDS ATTENTION
The fire alarm system has become a joke. It strikes any old time any old way. Does it need a big fire to wake our Council up to the seriousness of the matter. If every Councillor has a bell striker in his home or place of business perhaps after it had kept them awake for hours, they would endeavour to have something done about the matter.

VESSEL WENT AGROUND
The barque "Alffield" which completed her cargo for the Stetson Cutler Co. Ltd., at the first of the week went aground at Point a la Gardie, while being towed out by the tug "Lord Roberts." A dense fog veiled the bay during the afternoon and as all buoys are up for the winter it was almost impossible to keep to the channel. No loss resulted however as the vessel escaped with a high tide the following day.

THEY WILL EXPECT IT
Christmas Day is drawing near and with its approach every housewife is preparing good things for this annual festival. Don't forget Gray's Velvet Ice Cream. THE POWER INDUSTRY.
There were in operation in Canada last year 632 electric power plants, of which 269 were water and 232 fuel driven. The total capital invested was $581,472,583 and 1,120,000 of Canada's nine million people were customers of these utilities. The business is showing a steady increase year by year, the increase of 1923 over 1922 being nine plants with a capital of $18,000,000. Ontario, of course, leads in the number of plants and in the amount of capital invested and also in the ratio of services to population, with British Columbia second and Quebec third. The power industry has become one of the big enterprises of this country and its growth in the next few years is expected to become very greater, the inauguration of cheap power inviting the employment of electricity for an ever-increasing number of home and business services. In New Brunswick, with the extension of the public department to include the larger water powers of the province, there will follow an expansion of the pulp and paper making which must give a decided impetus to this province.

Mrs. W. Sharpe favored the audience with a violin solo which was much appreciated.

The Social Committee then took charge and tea was served and a pleasant half hour of social chat enjoyed.

THE CHRISTMAS STAR

Not to the busy dwellers of the town Filled with their dreams of state

And pleasure early, late, Nor to the mighty ones of far renown—

But to the simple shepherds of the plain, Who watched their flocks by night,

Not to the busy throng along life's street With restless, eager gaze

But to the watchers on the hills of peace Who, silent, look afar—

Who's hearts as temples are Filled with the glory of a great release,

Shines forth the Christmas star.

COUNTRYMANS AUTOMOBILE

Many people seem to think that the possession of great numbers of automobiles by the country folks is a sign that they are making a lot of money.

Many queer superstitions exist with regard to diseases and remedies. Until a few years ago people avoided entering a hospital as they would the plague itself.

Many people living in outlying districts, however, can testify that the automobiles is an absolute necessity for them.

The French population numbers about 6000 and the English 2500. The French and English mainly speak both languages, both being taught in the schools.

The people are honest and industrious.

through lack of the necessary means of transportation. As was further pointed out at this meeting, this district deserves better treatment. There are other sections of the country which do not amount to a row of pins one way or another as far as the commercial life of the province is concerned, where good train service is enjoyed the whole year round.

An Important Issue.

Looking at the matter from an unbiased viewpoint it is no wonder the business men of Campbellton are thoroughly roused. This town needs the business of the surrounding country and moreover it is the logical commercial centre of the North Shore. In addition to this it is one of the largest and most important divisional points of the Canadian National Railways in New Brunswick and should receive due consideration as such.

Campbellton too is a growing town, fast reaching the status of a city. It is no longer in the ordinary small town class and it is time that citizens were refused to be considered in the same lot as the backwoods village. Much can be done through co-operation when a strong body of men assume the proper spirit in support of a project. Let us wait and see the result.

MAKING OUT YOUR XMAS LIST

Making out a Christmas list is always a task that requires thought, and it cannot be done in a hurry. In fact, many of us are revising the old list, and it is dwindling to the family, our most intimate friends and the few obligatory gifts which we feel we must send. Not that any of us are growing less loving and generous, but we are all becoming more discerning and sensible.

The handy needlewoman can make charming gifts of comparatively small cost. The good cook can always gladden her friends' hearts with a plum pudding. The artist can paint gifts. But those who must go in the open market to buy their gifts, especially if they have little to spend should prepare their list with thoughtful care.

There are so many things that we can make, even those of us who have no great talent on which to draw. With silk pieces or samples we can cover talcum boxes daintily, make cushions and sachets. We can get directions and make charming lamp shades out of cotton cloth that has been dyed, black printed or stencilled. We can make shades also out of gingham, cambric, varnished wall-paper, parchment or silk if we are neat and deft with our fingers. We may paint the straw trays a solid gold with colored trimmings, and we can stencil lovely motifs on them, then varnish them, and they will make most acceptable gifts.

Wise mothers lay away toys which during the year have become shabby, but that can be revamped at home. When they are fresh painted, mended, recovered if they are animals, redressed if they are dolls, they help to swell the vanguard of toys, and are welcomed almost as warmly, sometimes more joyously than the new things. A nimble crochet hook and knitting needles make many gifts possible.

A Christmas tree always makes a few gifts seem many, and, here again, many of the decorations may be made at home. Frosted cookies cut in the form of animals and birds are loved by the children, silver and gold paper stars are easily made with a paste-board foundation, and they look very lovely when hung from the candlelight.

Paper cornucopias and baskets can also be made of the silver and gold paper, then decorated with pictures that come for scrapbooks. A few popcorn strings, ropes of cranberries and stockings made of netting, attached with waxed thread, will help in decorating at a small cost.

A lovely tree decoration can be deft with our fingers. We may paint the straw trays a solid gold with colored trimmings, and we can stencil lovely motifs on them, then varnish them, and they will make most acceptable gifts.
