

POCKET PICKED AT G. T. R. DEPOT

Mr. J. A. McKellar Was Jostled and Robbed by Three Men While Boarding Train.

A GANG OF PICKPOCKETS

Police Believe There Are a Number of Them Here to Work the Game.

Mr. J. A. McKellar, contractor, 145 Marley Place, has reported a rather daring case of pocket picking, in which he lost $20. According to the story, Mr. McKellar told the detectives he was getting on a Grand Trunk train to go to Grand Rapids, and while stepping up was jostled by three men. The men bumped into him very roughly. Mr. McKellar thought nothing of it at the time, and it was not until he was some miles away that he missed his wallet from his hip pocket. As soon as possible he communicated with the police, and was able to give a very good description of the men.

Gang of Pickpockets.
"We think it was done by a gang of pickpockets who were here during the races," one of the detectives told The Advertiser today. "They are likely out of the country by this time." It was reported that other cases of pocket picking had taken place, and that one man had been robbed of $100, and another of $25.

The police, however, state that the case reported by Mr. McKellar is the only one they know of.

JOHN THORNER IS DECLARED TO BE NUISANCE

Young English Giant Arrested at Belmont Demented, Say Doctors.

John Thorner, the young English giant, who was arrested some days ago, charged by John Byrnes, of Belmont, with being insane and dangerous to be at large, was visited this morning by Dr. MacArthur and Dr. Robinson, superintendents of the asylum, and Squire Chittick. Thorner was found to be insane and was committed to the asylum by Squire Chittick.

SUIT ON THE BEACH NOT THAT OF DROWNED

A Bathing Suit Mystery at Port Stanley That Is Partly Cleared Up.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Port Stanley, July 12.—There was considerable excitement here on Sunday when a suit of clothes were found in one of the bathing stalls on the beach, and it was feared for a time that a drowning had taken place. It appears that a man rented a bathing suit from the proprietor, and went in to one of the dressing rooms. As he did so the proprietor noticed that the individual carried three or four suits, but he only laughed when the fact was remarked. No more was thought of the matter until the old suit was found. In one of the pockets was an envelope addressed to John Godfrey. The belief is prevalent that the party merely disappeared with the brand new bathing suit, and left the old garments as a sort of restitution for the proprietor. It is said the man of many suits came from London or Cleveland.

It was learned by The Advertiser that a young man, John Godfrey, of 920 Waterloo street, had left home last week against the wishes of his parents, and had stated that he was going to Port Stanley, and from there to Cleveland.

Godfrey had been going with a young lady, and had stated to her that his name was John Godfrey. It is supposed that the clothes on the beach belonged to him, though why he should take such a strange way of disposing of them is as yet unexplained. His relatives here have received no word from him, and are quite anxious. Godfrey is about 18 years old, and several times recently said he was going away.

A report from Port Stanley this afternoon states that Godfrey returned shortly before noon and claimed his clothes. He gave no explanation of having left them on the beach.

TWO COMMISSIONS.
Ottawa, July 11.—The imperial army council has intimated that two commissions in the Royal Army Medical Corps will be granted annually to candidates who have qualified in the medical schools of Canada on the following conditions: One candidate to be nominated half-yearly, and to arrive in England not later than the middle of January and July, respectively.

Candidates must be registered under the medical act in force in the United Kingdom before they can be commissioned, and will be required to meet the physical standard laid down for admission to the Royal Army Medical Corps.

NATURAL GAS IS A LONG DISTANCE OFF

In City Hall Circles It Is Claimed It Will Not Be Here for Years.

It was said today that the city hall this afternoon that there would be no natural gas in the city this year or the next.

In spite of the fact that several companies, claiming to have sufficient gas to supply the city, have said they would make offers, none of them have come up with a definite proposition.

It is now claimed that the New York promoter has failed to carry out his part of the bargain, and that another company is negotiating with the London and Western Counties Pipe Line Company for their holdings.

Nothing has been heard from the deal made the gas will not come to London, but will be piped to Hamilton in all probability.

DYING MAN WAS STOPPED AT BORDER

Canadian Was Being Rushed to Buffalo Surgeon.

WAITED FIVE HOURS

Patient With Fractured Skull Cleared as "Disabled Alien" by the United States.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 12.—Frank Scopio, of Sheraton, Ont., whom a Canadian village doctor was hurrying to a Buffalo hospital last night for treatment that might save his life, and who was refused permission to land from the excursion steamer Americana, was brought here shortly before 4 o'clock this morning.

Scopio had his skull fractured in a game of duc on the rock at Ridgeville, Ont., three miles inland from Crystal Beach. No adequate treatment could be given him there, and he was put on board the excursion steamer Americana which lies between the beach and Buffalo. When the steamer arrived here Immigration Inspector Spaulding refused to allow the doctor to bring Scopio ashore on the ground that he was a disabled alien.

For five hours the ambulance stood idly at the dock and the wounded man remained on board the steamer. Finally Chief Inspector Buchanan was reached and consent was given to bring Scopio ashore under a guarantee from the local hospital surgeon that he would not become a public charge.

At 9 o'clock this morning, it was reported that Scopio was being operated upon, but they were unable to speak of the outcome.

MR. R. A. LITTLE DOCTOR OF PEDAGOGY

Popular Collegiate Teacher Secures His Degree.

Mr. R. A. Little, of the Collegiate Institute staff was one of those to receive a degree at the recent examinations in the faculty of pedagogy, made a doctor of pedagogy. Dr. Little is the classics master and vice-principal of the Collegiate Institute of this city, and is widely and most favorably known in educational circles throughout the province.

Of still more importance to London, Dr. Little is a most successful teacher of the Latin language, and has a large number of pupils. Dr. Little has been connected with the Collegiate for a quarter of a century and has through this and other channels played no mean part in the life of the city. He is a member of the Baconian Club and other kindred organizations, and his many friends are glad to learn of this honor which has been so well earned.

A MEMORIAL FUND FOR BRAVE TECUMSEH

Monument Will Be Erected to Indian Chief Who Helped the British in 1812.

A Tecumseh memorial fund has been opened by the Canadian Club. Some time ago Miss E. H. Johnson, of Troy, N. Y., wrote to the club, advocating such a step.

The executive considered the question carefully, and decided to encourage the project.

Miss Johnson was notified of the decision, and on Sunday she sent a check to Mr. A. M. Overholt, secretary of the club.

The "oney was turned over to the treasurer, Mr. W. D. H. H. Johnson, who has opened a Tecumseh memorial fund in the Imperial Bank.

Donations will be received by the Canadian Club, and the purpose of the society to commence a campaign for the erection of a suitable memorial to the brave Indian chief, who bulks large in the history of the Dominion, especially in this section.

TWO BREAK OUT OF PORT STANLEY LOCKUP

Were To Be Tried for Creating a Disturbance—Police Hot on Trail.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Port Stanley, July 12.—The police here are hot on the trail of two Detroit men, who were arrested on Saturday night for creating a row in a poolroom, and were committed for trial by Squire Price. The men were but a short time in the lock-up when they "drew the coop," and have not been seen since.

BAD DOG IN LONDON BITES HEN'S HEADS OFF

Rare Havoc Wrought in Both North and South Ends of City.

The police have had very numerous complaints in the last few days from people in different parts of the city that their chicken coops have been broken into and all their young chickens killed.

Mr. Henry Gorman, of Wellington road, had 23 chickens killed on Saturday night, and he says that apparently they were all killed by a dog, as their heads were bitten off.

Mr. McIlhenny, of Ottawa avenue, also had a number of his young birds killed.

A lady in the northern part of the city had 75 Black Minorcas killed in a similar manner recently, and a number of other people have had chickens killed also. The police are investigating the various cases.

THERMOMETER TOWERS NEAR THE NINETIES

Very Warm Weather in London During June and July—The Figures.

The prediction of lower temperature for tomorrow will no doubt please most people, in this section of the country, at least, some of whom may have forgotten how they "kicked" about the cold weather in May. Mother Earth has certainly received the warming up that was so generally desired a few weeks ago. The following little table tells the story:

THE NEW BUTTER FROM PETROLEUM

Chicago, July 12.—A special from Alton, Ill., to the Record-Herald says: The first roll of petroleum butter, the Standard Oil's latest product, is to be turned out at the Wood River refinery near here.

Preparations are being made to manufacture the product here, and the machinery has been shipped.

The new product will be known as "Petrol Butter." It is said to be of the same consistency as lard butter, but brown in color. It lasts a great deal longer than real butter. It is said, and does not become rancid.

C. E. CONVENTION.
St. Paul, Minn., July 12.—The delegates to the twenty-fourth international Christian Endeavor convention today entered on the last day of the convention with the quiet hour service begun at 7:45 a.m. Conferences and addresses in several churches of the city took up the next hour, followed by a meeting in the auditorium. Simultaneously with the auditorium meeting an exposition of civic moral and religious progress of Christian Endeavor was held in the Armory. At noon an evangelistic service was held.

LONDON BADLY NEEDS A PUBLIC ABATTOIR

City Council Will Again Take the Matter Up Shortly.

It is quite possible that the city council will take up the question of a public abattoir within a short time. Several of the aldermen are in favor of such a move, and it is possible that such will be done.

The city at the present time has power to erect such an abattoir, the Legislature at the last session refusing to transfer the right to a private company.

It is time we were up to date in this matter," said Acting Mayor Joshua Garratt today. "It would be a paying institution from the start, and in a few years the city would obtain a good revenue from it. There would be no danger in such an enterprise."

Several other aldermen gave opinions along the same line, and it is quite possible that something will be done shortly.

CHARLES GODFREY CLEARS UP MYSTERY

Tells How It Happened That His Old Suit Was Found on Beach.

Charles Godfrey, the young man whose clothes were found on the beach at Port Stanley, and who, it was feared for a time, had been drowned, telephoned his relatives this afternoon that he was all right, and was still at the Port. According to Godfrey, he had two suits of clothes, a new one, and the other old.

When he went in bathing he took off the old one and left it on the beach, and checked the good one at a bathing house. When he came out he went into the bathing house, intending to put on the good clothes, and while there someone found the old suit on the beach, and at once started the story that someone was drowned. Mr. Godfrey in the meantime had gone on to his home, and did not hear about it until some time later, when he was at once able to clear up the affair.

PAY YOUR DOG TAX OR APPEAR IN COURT

Several Citizens Appeared in Police Court Today—Other Cases Dealt With.

A dozen individuals who have failed to pay their dog tax were summoned in the police court this morning. Several of those summoned failed to respond, and Magistrate Love at once ordered warrants to be issued for their arrest. Several of the others at once paid the tax and the 85 cents costs, and withdrew. William Rowe, for spitting on the sidewalk was fined $1.

Thomas Shobottom, a youth who acted in a disorderly manner, was fined $1.

John Smith, a drunk, was fined $10. William Andrews, a young man arrested on a charge of assaulting Gorman, was remanded until tomorrow. Andrews, it is stated, was with Fred Fortner when they attacked the Chinaman. Fortner was in court on Saturday and was remanded for a week.

William Clarke, arrested for being drunk, was too drunk to appear, and his case was left over until tomorrow.

MISS LIZZIE THOM, Of this city, a graduate of the Victoria Hospital Training School for Nurses, has just completed a post-graduate course in Cook County Hospital, Chicago, with the highest honors. Miss Thom has won a gold medal and diploma and has been offered an important position of head nurse in the hospital in which she took her post-graduate course. Miss Thom's many London friends will congratulate her on her splendid success.

It was estimated that fully 10,000 visitors a re in London today. Every train coming into the city was crowded with passengers. Special trains were run on all lines.

ADVERTISER LADIES HAVING SPLENDID TIME

All Are in High Spirits and Are Enjoying the Trip Immensely.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]
Edinburgh, July 12.—We have spent two memorable days here, and have taken in all the principle points of interest. We visited the castle where so much of the history of Scotland centres, and from there went to the beautiful Holyrood Palace, where everything seems to speak of the unfortunate Mary. We also saw many of the memorials of Burns and Scott and Knox and Stevenson and many other noted Scotchmen. Sunday we went to service in the great St. Giles' Cathedral, and were greatly impressed with its beauty and grandeur. Nothing could surpass the delight of all the party in the scenes visited. All are in high spirits and the best of health, and are looking forward with eager anticipation to the further scenes before them.

MAN WET INSIDE GOT WET OUTSIDE

Inebriated Individual Had Close Call From Drowning on Sunday.

An unknown man, who was in an intoxicated condition, fell off the pier at Port Stanley yesterday afternoon and had a very close call from drowning. A number of people were about the docks at the time, and saw the man struggling in the water, but made no attempt to assist him. He was finally rescued by Roy Walters, a young man from Detroit, who is summing at Port. As soon as Walters arrived on the scene he at once jumped in and swam with the man to the beach. The life-saving crew were called out, but before they reached the spot Walters had the man in, and he was assisted to a house where he is thought to be stopping.

MURDERER LEON LING REPORTED AT BUDAPEST

Slayer of Elsie Sigel Said To Be at the Hungarian Capital.

Vienna, July 12.—A telegram received here today from Budapest declares Leon Ling, the Chinaman who on June 9, is supposed to have murdered Elsie Sigel in New York, is in that city.

The communication says that the Budapest police received an anonymous communication that Ling was staying with a Chinese family, and they at once began a search of the Chinese quarter for him.

2,500 ORANGEMEN PARADE TO PARK

Followers of King William Are in London in Large Numbers.

ACTING MAYOR WELCOMES

Many Spectators Saw the Big Parade—Plenty of Music From Many Bands.

The Orangemen are here in thousands, and the 13th of July demonstration bids fair to be one of the largest ever held in the city.

Just 50 lodges registered with the central committee, from the counties of Middlesex, Lambton, Huron, Oxford and Elgin.

There were over 2,500 followers of King William in the procession, and as many more went to Queen's Park on the cars.

It was estimated that fully 10,000 visitors a re in London today. Every train coming into the city was crowded with passengers. Special trains were run on all lines.

The Grand Trunk brought nearly 3,000 on their lines. The C. P. R. brought in about 1,500, and the Michigan Central special was good for 1,000 more.

In addition, hundreds came in over the Traction Company, and many drove to the city. Brass Bands.

Practically every lodge in this district was well represented, and there were individual members from lodges throughout Ontario.

The majority were accompanied by the fife and drum bands, while many brought brass bands with them.

The Highland pipers were also conspicuous, and the skill of the bagpipers could be heard on all sides.

The trains brought the crowd in well on time, and before noon all the arrangements for the parade had been made.

The Parade.
Wor. Bro. J. Showler had the parade organized early, and with the assistance of the county marshals had the procession well arranged.

Big Crowds Out.
The line of march was thronged with spectators. On arriving at the park the visitors were welcomed by Aid. Josh Garratt, who was acting mayor in the absence of Mayor Stevely.

He congratulated them for choosing London as their place of meeting.

Then followed a programme of addresses in which Lieut.-Col. Belcher, of Southampton, from Genoa; Montclair, East Middlesex; Dr. Williams, Woodstock; Rev. Robert McIntyre, Bridgeport; and Rev. William Lowe, right worshipful grand chaplain, Ontario West, delivered short addresses. Bro. W. B. Walker, County Middlesex, presided.

A fine programme of sports was given in front of the stands. It is estimated that 15,000 people were present.

No accident marred the pleasure of the occasion, so far as could be learned.

The Committee.
The committee in charge were as follows: Bro. W. B. Walker, county (Continued on Page Nine.)

WYLLIE'S MURDERER CALLS HIMSELF PATRIOT

Makes Harangue Justifying Foul Deed When Being Committed to Trial.

London, July 10.—Dhinnagri, the Indian student, who on the night of July 1, at the conclusion of a public gathering at the Imperial Institute shot and killed Lieut.-Col. Sir William Hutt Curzon Wyllie and Dr. Cawas Lalacca, was today committed for trial at the Old Bailey for murder.

The police court proceedings lasted the whole day long, and but little new evidence was elicited. The prosecution placed before the court documents containing the prisoner's handwriting, which seem to show conclusively that the crime was long premeditated and in revenge for alleged wrongs to India. The prisoner, in a brief statement, said: "I do not wish to say anything in defence of myself, but simply to prove the justice of my deed. As for myself, I do not think that an English law court has any authority to arrest and detain me in prison or to pass on me sentence of death.

"That is the reason why I have not employed counsel. I maintain that if it is patriotic for Englishmen to fight against the Germans, if they occupy this country, then it is much more justifiable and more patriotic in me to fight against the English. I hold that the English people are responsible for the murder of 80,000,000 of my countrymen during the last 50 years, and that they are also responsible for the killing from India of £100,000,000 every year to this country. I also hold that they are responsible for the hanging and deportation of my patriotic countrymen, who do just what English here are advising their countrymen to do. If the Germans have got no right to occupy this country, then the English have no right to occupy India and it is perfectly justifiable on our part to kill any Englishman who is polluting our sacred land."

Expressing surprise at the "hypocrisy with which the English are posing as champions of the oppressed in the Congo and in Russia," he continued: "In this case this country is occupied by the Germans, and if an Englishman, angered at seeing the Germans walking about with the insolence of conquerors in the streets of London, kills one or two Germans, and is upheld as a patriot, then certainly I am a patriot, too. In working for the emancipation of my motherland, I make this statement not for the purpose of pleading for mercy or anything of the kind. I wish the English would sentence me to death, for in that case the vengeance of my countrymen will be all the keener. I put forward this statement to show the justice of my cause to the outside world, especially to our sympathizers."

15 INJURED IN TROLLEY WRECK

New York Motorman Stops Car to Prevent One Crash and Causes Another.

New York, July 11.—The prevention of one wreck was the cause of another and a bad one, in which 15 trolley car passengers were injured on the Williamsburg bridge, over the East River today.

Charles Hannon, motorman of a local car, which was crowded with passengers, was making a start to fall speed toward Williamsburg when he discovered that he was dangerously close to a car ahead. He put his brakes on in time to avert what looked like certain collision ahead, when his car was struck from behind by another car which had been running close in the rear.

Both cars were derailed and passengers severely injured, but none fatally. Anna Knorr, 16 years old, was the only woman injured. Most of those hurt were Hebrew or Italian men and boys. Of these four sustained broken legs.

Bridge traffic was tied up for nearly an hour.

SUNDAY A SCORCHER LONDONERS SWELTERED

Nevertheless, One Man Was Cold and Wore an Overcoat on G. T. R. Depot.

Yesterday was one of the hottest days of the year.

Everybody is well aware of this fact, it being quite unnecessary to inform them that the weather was as hot as they well could stand.

The maximum temperature was the same as on Saturday 87, and this was the highest point reached in Canada.

On Saturday, however, the temperature at 8 a.m. was 59, while yesterday it was 57, a considerable difference.

The heat was sweltering from early morning until evening, when coming thunderstorms lowered the temperature.

As there was little to do, the citizens generally felt the heat worse than on Saturday.

No Prostrations. No cases of prostration are reported, although many suffered considerably from the heat.

The coolest man in town was discovered at the Grand Trunk depot yesterday afternoon. At this period Old Sol was doing his best. A man, a stranger in the city, was seen on the depot, and this is an inventory of what he had on—a business suit, not light, a short, light spring overcoat, a pea-jacket with large collar, and a straw hat. While everybody else was going without a coat and everything else, this gentleman had three heavy coats on, and then did not appear any warmer than the others.

He was admired in his light summer costume, so much so that some of those at the depot wondered if they had not forgotten some of their apparel.

Nevertheless it was warm. The thunder shower at night cooled the atmosphere appreciably.

SIXTY CONVICTS MADE ESCAPE

Seattle, Wash., July 11.—Information concerning the escape of a band of 60 convicts in the interior of Siberia, who are making their way towards East Cape, on the extreme east coast, in an effort to reach Alaska, was brought to Seattle yesterday by John W. Kelly, who has long been identified with affairs in the Arctic, both in Alaska and Siberia.

"The first word of the escape of the convicts reached Captain N. E. Killip, acting governor at Nichay, Kalmak, 1,500 miles from East Cape on March 13," said Kelly. "Immediately he sent a detachment of his men in pursuit. They overtook and engaged the exiles 100 miles from the coast. The Cossacks were defeated and seven of them killed. Several of the exiles met the same fate.

"Reduced in numbers by death from exposure and many having been killed in battles with natives, the band numbered 20 when last heard from. They have looted villages and killed natives when their demands for dogs, food and reindeer have been refused.

"The escaped convicts are not of the low criminal class, but are political prisoners."

THOMAS SMITH OF SARNIA ROAD DEAD

A pioneer resident of London Township died at his home, lot 17, on 2, on the Sarnia Gravel road yesterday, in the person of Mr. Thomas Smith. The news of his death will come as a surprise to a host of his friends, as on Tuesday last he was in his usual good health. On Wednesday morning he was attacked with paralysis and gradually sank until his death occurred.

Mr. Smith was in his eighty-third year and had been a resident of London Township for nearly ninety years. He came to this country from Ireland with his mother and grandparents when he was four years old. The family settled first near Hyde Park and remained there for forty-six years. Later Mr. Smith moved to the farm on which his death occurred and had lived there continuously for thirty-three years. Besides his wife he is survived by two sons and three daughters: Crowell, who lives on the old homestead, at Hyde Park; Thomas, of Hyde Park; Mrs. James Knight, of London Township; Miss Maria, of Toronto, and Miss Rose at home. Mr. Smith was one of the oldest members of St. George's Church, West London, and the funeral, which will be held on Tuesday afternoon at Hyde Park Cemetery, will be conducted by Rev. G. B. Sage.

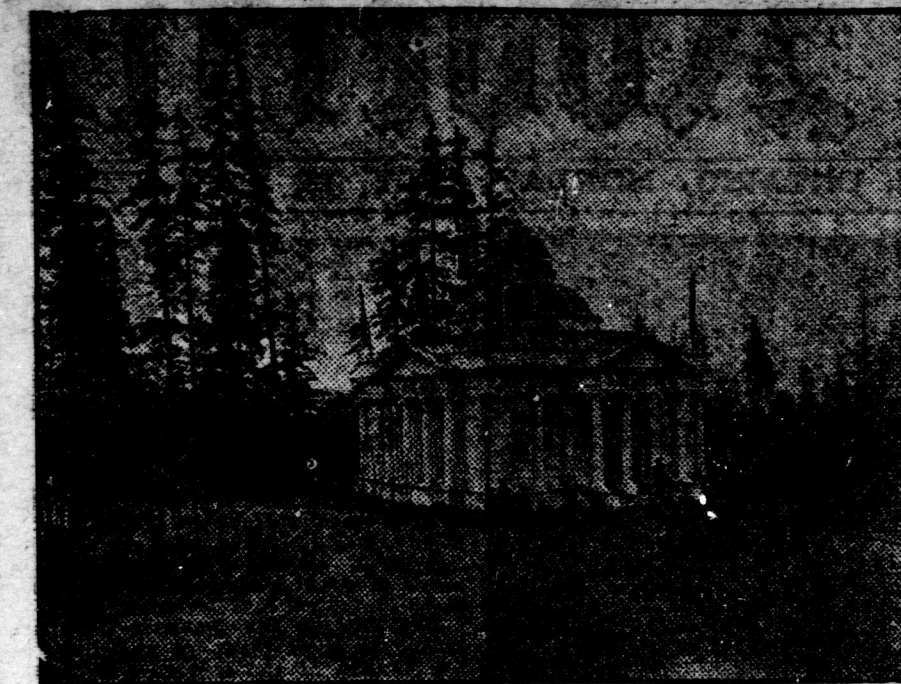

BURGLARS AT CHATHAM

Chatham, July 11.—A amateur burglar operated in the residential district on King street west last night. The residences entered were those of John Pigott, A. J. McGregor, J. B. Smith, Thomas Richardson and A. C. Trudell. The thieves threw things around pretty much, but they did not succeed in getting money. They had lunch while rifling A. J. McGregor's house. The police have a clue which may shortly result in two arrests.

GRAND TRUNK AT SEATTLE FAIR.

The building of the Grand Trunk Railway system at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition is a beautiful and ornate structure standing near the Canadian National Building. It is elaborately fitted and decorated throughout. In the dome is shown a series of pictures, composed of grasses and grasses, illustrating the various resources of the country tributary to the Grand Trunk system.

The walls are covered with colored transparencies of scenic agricultural and mineral sections of Canada and British Columbia, and these represent the highest art in exploitation illustration. Literature and valuable information has been assembled in attractive form, and this is distributed to exhibition visitors. It is the only strictly railway building on the grounds, and is a place visited by a great number of people from every part of the world.

All Is Quiet At Glace Bay Now

Glace Bay, N. S., July 12.—Monday morning finds the conditions practically unchanged in the great colliery districts of Southern Cape Breton, where the United Mine Workers of America, and the Dominion Coal Company are at war.

Half of the mines are still closed up and the remainder are being operated by less than the number employed before the strike.

An attempt will be made today to start No. 2 mine, which has been idle since Tuesday. All the United Mine Workers of America men have remained loyal. The company has about 300 more men at work than on Tuesday, but they were acting as special police and the soldiers have taken their places.

Scores of workmen are leaving town to fight to the finish, but so far everything is quiet.

The U. M. W. men, 600 strong, employed at Inverness mines, have gone out in sympathy with the Dominion Coal Company's employees. Two hundred soldiers have been called from Halifax to keep order there.

The output on Saturday was less than 4,000 tons. Both sides are determined to fight to the finish, but so far everything is quiet.

Tramp Puts Torch To a Bridge

Montreal, July 11.—It is suspected that the Canadian Northern has been suffering from the attentions of an incendiary tramp who has burned two bridges, one at Burrin, near Shawinigan Falls, and the other at St. Paulin, on the Riviere du Loup branch.

The first fire was caught before it had gone far on Thursday night, and a repair gang sent out. While they were at work, however, at St. Paulin, a second fire, high, and with many sparks, was reported on fire, and before it could be extinguished eleven spans were partly destroyed.

A special train was sent from Montreal with a big gang of men, who have worked night and day repairing the break. Work remained here in order to take in the picnic.

The programme was participated in by a large number of men from different parts of North Waterloo. Splendid prizes were given to the successful contestants, a handsome clock was given to the winner of the five-mile race this evening which was won by Oswald Lyeve, Berlin.

A Big Crowd Honors Minister King

Berlin, July 12.—The big picnic tendered by the friends of Hon. W. Mackenzie King, M.P.P., in honor of his recent elevation to the Dominion Cabinet as the first minister of labor in Canada, was given at Victoria Park Saturday afternoon.

A large crowd of people from all parts of North Waterloo arrived this morning and nearly all the farmers who attended the market remained here in order to take in the picnic.

The programme was participated in by a large number of men from different parts of North Waterloo. Splendid prizes were given to the successful contestants, a handsome clock was given to the winner of the five-mile race this evening which was won by Oswald Lyeve, Berlin.

RATIONAL SUNDAY LEAGUE BOLT OF LIGHTNING ISSUES CALL FOR FUNDS

A Letter From Secretary Tells What the Organization Has Accomplished.

Toronto, July 11.—J. Enoch Thompson, secretary of the Canadian Rational Sunday League, is sending out letters asking the members of the league and others to contribute to the funds so the league can keep things moving.

"Since our organization we have entirely stopped the raids of the Lord's Day Alliance on the public treasury," the letter says.

"We have also influenced the Government to discontinue allowing the crown attorneys to prosecute the Lord's Day Alliance suits; consequently these gentlemen, rather than carry them on at their own expense, incite police officers to act as their agents."

Instructed by the board, our solicitor appeared before the railway commission, both in Toronto and Ottawa, to oppose the interference of the Lord's Day Alliance with the moving of through freight on Sundays. I am informed our representative made the principal argument, though our interest in the matter was only sentimental. However, it cost us $290, and the formal judgment extended the same privilege to all railways.

"I would also remind you that the Methodist conference has voted $10,000 to employ an expert lobbyist to secure further restrictive Sunday laws, and we are the only organization that is opposing them. The Lord's Day Alliance has increased the salaries of their officials, who contrive to harass and annoy respectable citizens for petty infractions of their tyrannical laws."

"Under the circumstances I trust you will grant a donation, to assist us in keeping up the fight, or this country will be run by fanatics. Only the indifference of substantial citizens allows this small and aggressive minority to become influential with the lawmakers, and if no one opposes them the Government justly believe that they represent the great majority of the people."

The philosophy in life is in spending less than one's income, and it is painful to reflect how few philosophers there are.

DUNCAN CAMPBELL DEAD

One of the Old Ontario Pioneers Passes Away at Toronto.

Toronto, July 10.—Another of those old Scotch pioneers who helped to build up Ontario into the prosperous province it is today, passed away at 41 Alexander street, in the person of Duncan A. Campbell, late of Wingham. He was in his eighty-fifth year.

Born at Donaghmore, Lsley, Scotland, he came to this country when but seven years old and settled in Peel County. There he became engaged in the rough, hard work of clearing up the land. Later in life he became connected with the firm of McDermid & Logan, of London, Ontario. Deceased was a brother of the late Prof. John Campbell, of Victoria University, and he himself was a Methodist local preacher of great eloquence, and a staunch liberal in politics. His wife died in Wingham about five years ago, whereupon he removed to this city and took up his residence with a daughter, Mrs. W. H. Barlow, on Alexander street, where he died. The late Mr. Campbell is survived by five sons, all of whom are in the western provinces, and three daughters, Mrs. W. H. Barlow, Miss M. Campbell and Mrs. Albert W. Campbell. The funeral takes place to Wingham, today.

LEVELLED BY STORM. St. Louis, Mo., July 12.—Special dispatches from Pana, Illinois, and Venia, Illinois, say that tornadoes struck those towns yesterday. At Xenia four persons were injured and several buildings were destroyed. No one was hurt at Pana, but the property damage was considerable. Grain was levelled by both storms.

SOVEREIGN BANK SHARES. Toronto, July 10.—Directors of the Sovereign Bank had a special meeting today to receive and consider the financial report that will be made to the shareholders at the annual meeting on Tuesday next. Mr. Aemilius Jarvis, president, for the Sovereign Bank, said today that he did not think that the shareholders would be called on to pay a call on their shares.

SEARCH ALL STEAMSHIPS

Police Are on Watch For Men Who Stole $500,000 in Jewels.

New York, July 10.—In a search for thieves, who are reported to have successfully engineered a $500,000 jewel robbery in London a week ago, New York detectives boarded the liner Mauretania before she docked here, and went over the vessel thoroughly. Both cabin and steerage passengers were scrutinized, but no arrests resulted.

Other incoming boats for the next fortnight will be subjected to a similar search. The robbery was reported last week by cable, was one of the boldest which has occurred in London in many years. A Paris jeweler named Goldschmidt was the victim, and the loot, which was owned by a syndicate of French merchants, included ten pearl necklaces and a large quantity of loose pearls and diamonds.

Goldschmidt was held up and robbed in the lavatory of a Regent street restaurant. The thieves, it is believed, by Scotland Yard, are well-known continental experts. They are supposed to have started for America to market the gems.

AGED COUPLE BURNED TO DEATH IN BED

New York, July 12.—An aged couple who lived on the outskirts of the village of Patchogue, L. I., supported by a weekly allowance from a son in New York, were burned to death in their beds early yesterday. The victims were Townsend Gerry, 90 years old, and his wife Cynthia, who was 82. The police are disposed to believe that the old couple were victims of a robber and incendiary, but neighbors think that the lamp which Mr. and Mrs. Gerry kept burning in their bedroom all night may have started the fire.

When the fire arrived from the village, a quarter of a mile away, they found Peter Zerkaitch, the landlord

A Prince of Sinners

BY PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM.

Author of "A Lost Leader," "The Malefactor," "A Maker of History," Etc.

"Amy Harding!"

There was a howl of derision from the rear. The girl, pallid, with large dark eyes, a somewhat tawdry hat and torn skirt, turned angrily around.

"Who yee shouting at, eh? There ain't so many of yer as knows yer own names, I dir say, and 'Arldinge's as good as any other. Leave a body be won't yer?"

She turned round to Brooks, and disclosed a most alarming rent in her gown.

"Look 'ere, guv'nor," she said, "that's my name, and I 'as a room be hind old Connel's fish-shop next door but one to 'ere. If yer want to give away things to them as wants 'em, wot price is a new skirt 'ere, eh?"

A woman from the rear leaned over to Brooks.

"The 'ussy," she said, "Don't you take no notice of 'er, sir. We all knows 'er—and precious little good there is ter 'er."

Miss Harding was not unreasonably annoyed. She turned round with flashing eyes and belligerent attitude.

"Who the hell asked you anything?" she exclaimed. "Can't yer keep yer bloomin' mouths closed?"

A pale-faced little man pushed his way through the throng. He was dressed in a semi-clerical garb, and he tapped Brooks on the shoulder.

"Can you favor me with a moment's private conversation, sir?" he said. "My name is John Deeling, and I am a minister of the Gospel. The Mission House in Fennell street is my special charge."

"Glad to know you, Mr. Deeling," Brooks answered, "but I can't spare any time for private conversation now. Can't you speak to me here?"

Mr. Deeling looked doubtfully at the girl who stood still before the desk silent, but breathing hard. A sudden shade had fallen upon her face. She looked like a creature at bay.

"It is concerning this unfortunate young person," Brooks said, dipping his pen in the ink, "that no recommendation is necessary. I shall do what I can for her."

"You misapprehend me, sir," Mr. Deeling said, with some solemnity. "I regret to say that no recommendation is possible. That young person is outside the pale of all Christian help. I regret to speak so plainly before ladies, sir, but she is a notorious character, a hardened and incurable prostitute."

Brooks looked at him for a moment fixedly.

"Did I understand you to say, sir, that you were a minister of the Gospel?" he asked.

"Certainly! I am well known in the neighborhood."

"Then if you take my advice," Brooks said, sternly, "you will take off those garments and break stones upon the street. It is to help such unfortunate and cruelly ill-used young women as this that I and my friends have come here. Be off, sir. Miss Harding, this young lady will take you to our clothes store in the inner room. I hope you will permit us to be of some further use to you later on."

The girl, half dazed, passed away. Mr. Deeling, his face red with anger, turned towards the door.

"You may call it a Christian deed," he exclaimed angrily, "to encourage the worst description. We shall see what the bishop, what the press, have to say about it."

"I don't care a snap of the fingers what you or the bishop or the press have to say," Brooks rejoined, equally, "but there should be those here who agree with your point of view, if they hear this filth once, to prevent misunderstanding. We are here to help to the best of our ability all who need help, whatever their characters. They are equally welcome to what we have to offer, whether they be thieves, or prostitutes, or drunkards, or respectable men and women."

If I were asked what really brought me here, for what class of people in the world my sympathy and the sympathies of my friends have been most warmly kindled, I should say, for such as that young woman who has just presented herself here. If she asks for them, she will have from us food and clothes and the use of our bath and reading-rooms whenever she chooses, and I will guarantee that not one of my women friends here who come in contact with her will ask a single question as to her mode of life, until she invites their confidence. If you think that she is responsible for her present state, you and I differ—

Brooks said, "one shadow of blame rests upon her, we differ again. And if there are any more like her in the room, let them come out, and they shall have all that they ask for, that is within our power to give."

"Hear, hear, guv'nor!"

"That's ginger for 'im."

"Out of this, old white choker. There's beans for you."

They let him pass through. On the threshold he turned and faced Brooks again.

"At least," he said, "I can promise you this, God's blessing will never be upon your work, I doubt whether you will be allowed to continue it in this Christiania country."

Brooks rose to his feet.

"Mr. Deeling," he said, "you and your mission system of work amongst the poor has been fighting a losing battle in this country for fifty years, and more. A Christian country you call it. Go outside in the streets. Look north and south, east and west, look at the people, look at their children, look at their homes. Is there one shadow of improvement in this labyrinth of horrors year by year, decade by decade? You know in your heart that there is none. Therefore if new means be chosen, do not condemn them too rashly. Your mission houses, many of them, have been nothing but breeding-places for hypocrisy. It is time the old order was changed. Now, sir, you are next. What can we do for you?"

A weary-looking man with hollow eyes and nervously twitching fingers found himself pushed before the desk. He seemed at first embarrassed and half dazed. Brooks waited without any sign of impatience. When at last he spoke, it was without the slightest trace of any Cockney accent.

"I beg your pardon, sir! I ought not perhaps to intrude here, but I don't know who needs help more than I do."

"He's or right, sir," sung out the costermonger. "Is a bit queer in the 'ead, but he's a scholar, and fair on his uppers. Speak up, Joe."

"You see, my friends are willing to give me a character, sir," the man remarked, with a gleam of a smile. "My name is Edward Owston. I was clerk at a large drapery firm, Messrs. Appleby, Sons & Dawson, in St. Paul's Churchyard, for twenty years. I have a verified character from them. They were obliged to cut down their staff, owing to foreign competition, and I have never succeeded in obtaining another situation. There is nothing against me, sir. I would have worked for fifteen shilling a week. I walked the streets with my hands hung around me like rags. It was bad luck at first afterwards it was my clothes. I have had brought me for a month in a week."

"How old are you?" Brooks asked.

"Thirty-four, sir."

"What?" he exclaimed.

"Thirty-four, sir. It is four years since I lost my situation."

The man's hair was gray, a little stubby gray beard was jutting out from his chin. His eyes were almost lost in deep hollows. Brooks felt a lump in his throat, and for a moment he pretended to be writing busily. Then he looked up.

"We shall give you a fresh start in life, Edward Owston," he said. "Follow this gentleman at my left. He will find you clothes and food. Tomorrow you will go to a cottage which belongs to us at Hastings for one month."

"If it is partially true, we shall still find you something to do. If it is altogether false, we cannot help you for absolute truth in answering our questions is the only condition we impose."

The man never uttered a word. He went out leaning upon the arm of one of Brooks' assistants. Another, who was a doctor, followed them. When he returned, after about twenty minutes' absence, he leaned forward and whispered in Brooks' ear:

"You'll never have to find a situation for that poor fellow. A month's about all he's good for."

Brooks looked around shocked.

"What is it—drink?" he asked.

"Not a trace of it," the doctor exclaimed. "If I hadn't been with him just now he'd have been dead before this. He's fainted away."

Brooks half closed his eyes.

"It is horrible!" he murmured.

The costermonger was next. Brooks looked around the room and at the clock.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF BRADSTREET'S Commercial Conditions at All Chief Centres of the Dominion.

Montreal reports to Bradstreet's say general business continues of good volume. Crop conditions continue very favorable and the general outlook for future business retains an easy tone. The movement of most lines of wholesale goods continues satisfactory. The sorting trade in drygoods has been good during the week and fall orders continue to come forward in good volume. Values generally continue to show an advancing tendency. The clothing trade reports an excellent outlook for fall business which will open shortly. Staple hardware lines are moving fairly well. There are signs of increasing business in metals. Offerings of iron are not heavy, but the demand is fairly good. Sugars are more active as is usual at this time of the year. The export shipping trade is generally of good volume, although grain shipments are still light. Country trade is fairly active. Produce comes forward well and prices are generally steady. Receipts of butter are light, although cheese comes forward fairly well. Prices continue to hold steady to firm. The arrivals of hides are light and prices are firm on a good demand. There has been little change during the week in the matter of collections, and they are variously reported, ranging from fair to good.

Good at Toronto.

Toronto reports to Bradstreet's say: The general trade situation is unchanged. The dominant feeling is one of sincere optimism for the future, based upon excellent crop reports that are coming in from all parts of the country. On the strength of these reports retailers are showing a tendency to order more liberally than they have done for some time, and this feeling of confidence seems to grow stronger as the season advances. Fall orders to the drygoods trade are of good volume and they cover a wide range of lines. The sorting trade, too, is keeping up well. Wholesale trade in furs has been good, but there is some talk of lower prices. Jewelers are looking forward to a good trade from August on. Business has been quiet in this line for some time, and activity will be welcome. Other lines of trade report excellent prospects. Western orders are generally quite good and large shipments of goods are going forward. Conditions in local industries corroborate the statements of the wholesalers. Factories are generally busy and are good buyers of supplies. Country trade is fairly good. Collections are about satisfactory. All kinds of fruit promises to be plentiful, and general produce is coming forward well and holding at about steady price.

Winnipeg's Report.

Winnipeg reports say there is no change to the story told by business men generally about conditions here. Crop prospects continue roseate, and there is a reflected feeling of absolute confidence in future business. Retailers are disposed to make fairly liberal commitments for fall, they do so carefully and it is apparent there will be little or no over-stocking unless at the last moment climatic conditions take a sudden turn against the grain crops. Collections are fair. Money is moving freely and local industries are actively engaged. Large shipments of goods are moving into Vancouver and Victoria reports say a good steady trade is moving all along the coast. The demand for retail lines is active and wholesalers report a good sorting trade in fashionable goods. Fall orders being placed are good. The shipping trade is actively engaged, and it is expected a large katchewau will visit this year leaving the country through British Columbia ports. Provincial remittances are busily engaged and collections are generally good.

Active at Quebec.

Quebec—Retail trade has been fairly active during the week. Wholesalers report no improvement over the preceding week. Crops prospects continue favorable. Country remittances are still active and an improvement is not anticipated until the season is more advanced.

Hamilton reports say all lines of retail trade there report a good demand for reasonable lines. As a result the sorting trade is active and collections are reported to have improved. Fall trade is being large and good. Manufacturers are in receipt of good orders and are generally looking forward to a busy fall and winter. Country trade in the district is good, and crop reports continue most encouraging.

London reports say general trade is moving very satisfactory. The outlook for crops in the surrounding country is exceedingly bright and retailers are placing good orders for fall lines. Hardware merchants report a good demand for builders' supplies. Values of commodities generally are steady to firm.

Ottawa reports say there has been little change in the situation there during the past week. Excellent prospects for fall trade are giving some impetus to general business, and orders have been good. Country trade is moderately active. Produce offers freely, but in most lines prices hold steady.

FARMERS TO REAP A VAST HARVEST

U. S. Government July Crop Statistics Indicate Nation's Largest Yield.

Chicago, July 10. — The greatest crop of cereals ever raised in the United States is growing to maturity, according to indications in the July report of the department of agriculture. A gain of 722,000,000 bushels in all grains over the totals of 1908 is promised and the record yield of 1906 will be exceeded.

Corn for the first time passed the 3,000,000,000 mark, and oats are put at more than 1,000,000,000 bushels. The values of these great farm products, on the basis of probable prices, will approach $2,750,000,000. December corn closed on the board of trade yesterday at 66 cents. Figuring the crop at worth 50 cents to the farmer, wheat at 90, oats at 40, rye at 70 and barley at 50, these totals are obtained:

Corn $1,558,000,000
Wheat 623,000,000
Oats 412,000,000
Barley 95,000,000
Rye 21,000,000

Total $2,709,000,000
The report of the department of agriculture does not indicate that there will be a serious shortage of breadstuffs in this country this year, although the figures to date show a considerable loss in winter wheat as compared with a year ago, the estimated loss in round numbers being 41,000,000 bushels.

To a considerable extent this is offset by a larger acreage and a greater yield of spring wheat, which brings the total indicated crop of wheat up to 693,000,000 bushels, as compared with 654,000,000 bushels at the same time in 1907.

The preliminary estimate of the area of corn planted is placed at 69,000,000 acres, an increase of 7,218,000 acres, or 7.1 per cent as compared with the final estimate of last year's acreage. The average condition of this crop on July 1 was 89.3, as compared with 82.8 a year ago, and suggests a crop of 3,417,000,000 bushels. This is the largest indicated yield in the history of the agricultural department.

It is estimated that Michigan will yield 1,976,000 bushels of corn.

UNION WILL WAR ON STEEL TRUST

Organizers Start Work in Pittsburgh Strike District.

Pittsburgh, July 10. — The American Federation of Labor has taken up the fight against the United States Steel corporation and has sent organizers into the Pittsburgh strike district, for the purpose of attacking the corporation which for years has been exempt from the work of organization by officers of the Amalgamated Association.

An earnest effort will be made to regain the territory which was lost by organized labor years ago to the steel corporation, and if the statements of the Amalgamated Association heads are to be believed there is now good hope for re-unifying all the plants of the steel corporation.

Three federation men reached Pittsburgh today direct from the Federation of Labor headquarters at Washington, and placed themselves under President P. J. McCardle, of the Amalgamated Association.

It developed today that one of the agreements between the Amalgamated Sheet and Tin Plate Company, of the corporation, was that during the life of the wage scale now expiring, there was to be no effort on the part of the Amalgamated to unionize other corporation plants, which were admittedly open shops.

The expiration of the scale and refusal on the part of employers to re-sign has invalidated the agreement, and the Amalgamated has sought and obtained assistance from the Federation of Labor to attack all plants of the corporation.

An effort to start the mills at Newcastle, Pa., today, with non-union men under William Oliver, Baltimore, were slipped through the picket lines of the strikers last night, but the strikers got to them this morning before a wheel was turned and induced them to go back to Baltimore.

CHINATOWN IS DEAD

Otto, Chuck Connors' Heir, Suspects He Knows the Reason.

New York, July 10.—Chinatown seemed again last night the peaceful village that it was before the invasion of police and newspaper men. The Chinese has resumed his mask of indifference and appears to have lost interest in the detectives who mysteriously sit here and there. But those who depend upon Chinatown and its tourists for their beer and cigarettes are greatly aroused over the reduced influx of touring innocents.

Otto, who steers the "swell parties" through Chinatown now that Chuck Connors has retired to the stage, voiced the opinion of the guides last night.

"Nobody," said he, "wants to see Chinatown when they reads that it is built on vice and crime. There ain't any more here than anywhere. You ain't safe from crime in your own home."

"Long ago we—that is, some of us—used to take up stories about the harrows of Chinatown. One guide, Blink it was, had a good crowd of Sunday school folks one night. Walking through Pell street he points to the windows of a tenement—0. 11½ it was—and says that in that building many murders are brought off. Bodies used to be thrown from the windows, he says. And just as he says it a nigger cleaning windows across the street loses his grip and falls at the feet of his crowd."

"Nowadays if we ever get a party we do nothing but tell them that there ain't no harrows in Chinatown."

WOULD LET MAN SHOOT HIM DEAD

Slayer of New York Woman Blames Husband for Crime.

New York, July 10.—Frank Schmidt, alias John Smith, the wounded burglar, who admits that he killed Mrs. Sophia Staber in her bedroom early yesterday morning, when he was caught robbing the Staber house at Flatbush, gave the district attorney today his version of the moral to be drawn from the crime.

"Mr. Staber and his son are the ones to be blamed for this killing," he said. "They were fools to try to stop such men as us when all we wanted was to make a get-away. If we had been left alone there would have been no shooting."

"If Staber will take a gun I will gladly stand up in front of him and let him shoot till I drop dead. That's how much I regret this affair."

Schmidt's pal, Carlo Ciro, alias Metzler, who was silent at first, made a full confession today, in which he tried to lay all the blame on his mate.

Advertiser Patterns DESIGNED BY MARTHA DEAN.

A GRACEFUL HOUSE GOWN—NO. 8616.

The comfort and ease suggested by this pretty model, as well as its graceful simplicity will commend it at once to the home dressmaker. The front and back are gathered to a square yoke and fall in straight folds to the hem. It may be confined at the waist by a ribbon girdle or a belt of the material attached in high waistline effect. Challis, albatross, crepe de chine and the soft silks will all develop nicely after this design. The pattern is cut in six pieces—32 to 42 inches, bust measure. Size 36 requires 5 yards of 27-inch material. Provision is made for either high or low neck. The pattern illustrated will be mailed to any address upon receipt of ten cents in stamps or silver.

We make Sunshine Furnace firepot in two sections—so constructed with fins that they throw off every unit of heat, so constructed with straight walls that it is impossible for ashes to gather and intercept the heat, so constructed that the upper section can expand independent of the lower, thus making it impossible in a Sunshine Furnace for any heat to loaf around the firepot, any heat to be nullified by ashes, any cracks to take place as a result of the shock following contraction or expansion.

SUNSHINE FURNACE

Because steel is more powerful than gray iron, we make Sunshine Furnace firepot of semi-steel. This is an exclusive feature, and indicates that in Sunshine Furnace firepot alone you find smooth-as-glass surface, secure maximum fire-resisting strength, can rely on only minimum disintegration and can be assured of long life.

CANADA'S NATIONAL ROAD
REVEALS NEW DOMINIONScenic Wonders and Agricultural Possibilities of North-Western Ontario.

Great Canyon Lake, Ont., July 10.—

Nine Ontarians out of ten do not know of this lake at all; much less could they locate it precisely as 170 miles from Winnipeg on the National Transcontinental. What Canada does not know about Canada is tremendous. Trudging the ties from the present western terminals of the N. T. R. at St. Boniface, which is just outside of Winnipeg, I have seen what is, to the mass of Canadians, an undiscovered country, rich in possibilities, and of scenic beauty almost unsurpassed.

I have seen the magnificence of these newer lands and the conclusion has been forced upon me that Southeastern Manitoba and Northwestern Ontario have been under-estimated, the former as a farming country, the latter as a sportsman's paradise, whose rich verdure and fat valleys are rich with promise, whose lakes teem with fish, and whose rocks are stored with valuable minerals.

I have seen, too, the tremendous difficulties under which the road is being built. At Winnipeg River a steel bridge with a span of 300 feet is just being completed, one of the longest and heaviest ever built in Canada. The levels of two lakes have had to be lowered, bogs have been filled, tunnels have been cut.

Holes With an Appetite.
One of the most troublesome obstacles to overcome has been the tendency of two large sink holes near Long Lake to absorb all the filling available and then ask for more. Fifteen months ago the surface, which had carried a team without trouble, began to sink under the weight of the ballast. Since that time about 100,000 cubic yards of ballast has been dumped into one hole, and 90,000 into another, but the tracks have kept sinking. They think they have them nearly filled now.

On the line east of Rennie there are few exposed trestles and bridges. There is a huge one near Cross Lake, however, 1,095 feet in length, and rising to a height of 85 feet. This sort of thing makes construction costly. Around Canyon Lake it has averaged $100,000 per mile without steel, as the work is almost altogether through solid rock, including four tunnels ranging in length from five to six hundred feet. It took nearly a year to pierce each of them.

Southeastern Manitoba.
But the transcontinental is interesting chiefly because of the country which it reveals. It has re-discovered Southeastern Manitoba. For fourteen miles from St. Boniface the road runs through a prosperous farming country settled for thirty years. Ten miles further on, the station at Freepoint marks what has been the limit of regular settlement, but the country to the east of this is quite as susceptible of development as that to the west. Within fifty miles of Winnipeg the transcontinental crosses a country suitable for dairy farming, and milk trains to Manitoba's capital will be a regular feature of the new traffic.

Farming a Swamp.
Pushing on eastward, I saw many little scenes indicating the progress of settlement. In what I considered a swamp tamarack grove I came upon a modest shack in which the woman was gaily attending to her household duties. I perceived the husband engaged on the other side of the tracks in the work of clearing. He had already reaped an acre of garden truck which presented the most appetizing appearance. He had drained his land by cutting deep ditches which carried off the water to the railway.

The settlers here can get a start from the sale of cordwood, of which I saw cords upon cords already piled up along the track awaiting the advent of the railway train.

Real Estate Values.

Fifty miles east of Winnipeg the C. P. R. inclines close to its new rival, and this part of the country is, of course, already far advanced. The farm houses are modern and comfortable. Just six miles south of White-mouth, on the C. P. R., I was present at the turning of the sod of the Transcontinental station of Elma. Here a townsite has been located and plotted.

Expectations may be measured by the fact that $200 is asked for an ordinary building lot, while $700 is the upset price for a larger lot.

Has a Gold Mine.
It is when the N. T. R. leaves the flat lands and takes a course northward from Rennie, that it enters the heart of the scenic and mineral regions of New Ontario. The direct rail route into the heart of the lake region around the height of land will result in an influx of pleasure-resorters and prospectors.

At Rennie, just east of where the Transcontinental crosses the C. P. R., James B. Welsh, a sub-contractor, claims to have a gold mine on the right of way which would show that the mineral formation extends further west than was ever expected.

Mr. Welsh has shown his faith by expending some $15,000 on his mine, which comprises several shafts, and he is credited with having refused an offer of $40,000 for the property.

There is timber of considerable economic value in this section. Hundreds of thousands of trees have already been cut, as well as some larger timber. The numerous waterfalls should render the establishment of pulp mills relatively easy.

Lake Brereton, north of Rennie, a fine sheet of water three and one-half miles long, with sand beaches and numerous islands marks the entrance to the lake region. From thence eastward you can hardly walk a mile along the Transcontinental without getting a glimpse of some lake, large or small, whose silvery waters glisten out of the deep verdure of the surrounding hills. This country has not the opulent grandeur of the Rockies, but it nevertheless combines admirably those elements of landscape beauty, the woods, the rocks and pure water.

Where Fish Abound.
All of these sheets of water, many of them nameless, abound in fish, pickerel and even trout. When it is considered that they are all connected with other bodies of water flowing northward some idea will be formed of the extensive field offered to the sportsman.

Coming still further east, there is an almost continuous chain of lakes contiguous to the railway, which have been found of immense value in bringing in supplies. From Flood Lake to the east end of Canyon Lake, there is a continuous stretch of water of 25 miles, flowing between high shores, whose picturesque beauty equals that of the Hudson River. This is the highway of the Indians from the English River, when they wish to go to Kenora. Steamers have been placed on these lakes since the construction of the railway began, and it will not be long before the shores team with tourists.—Toronto Star Correspondent.

FIGHTING THE TRUST.
Pittsburg, July 10.—The American Federation of Labor has taken up the fight against the U. S. Steel Corporation, and has sent organizers to the steel strike district for the purpose of attacking territory which for years has been exempt from the work of organization by officers of the amalgamated association. An earnest effort will be made to reclaim the territory which was lost by organized labor, and if the statements of the amalgamated association heads are to be believed, there is now good hope for reuniting all the plants of the steel corporation. Three federation men reached Pittsburg today, direct from the Federation of Labor headquarters at Washington, and placed themselves under President P. J. McArdle, of the amalgamated association.

A LITTLE CHURCHILL.
London, July 11.—Mrs. Winston Churchill, wife of the president of the board of trade, has given birth to a daughter.

LONDON'S DECREES AS TO WHAT MEN MUST WEARCoats This Season to Have a Skirt Effect and Vests Shorter.

London, July 11.—A special to the New York Sun says: There are some radical changes in the styles for men for this season. Last season coats were invariably cut only medium length, and never full either at the chest or hips. This season the very opposite holds good.

The coats are extremely lengthy, verging on a skirt effect in their full hips, but the extreme features are modified by one another, so a coat with plenty of skirt is cut fairly full across the chest, and whatever shaping is done around the waist is exaggerated in the sides so as to give a clean base on a silhouetted emphy pamiw curved and more inclined to give a flat effect.

Vests are not quite so long. They are being made to button tightly around the waist line, and with very little fullness around the chest. Last year the very dressy man had his vest cut very full across the chest and fitting tightly at the waist, so that when sitting down the chest of the wearer was nicely exaggerated. This feature is now pleasantly modified. The points of the vest, which were formerly broad, are cut quite square, and come fairly close together, so that the natural curve of the vest back over the hips gives a very dressy effect. Extreme sharp points and very low cutting of the points are no longer proper or in good taste.

In trousers the tendency is to cut them quite full and straight. The peg-top idea has lost its popularity for the time. This style accords well with the lines of coat and vest in giving a straight-lined effect that is very attractive. But when the coat is cut with a more flaring skirt the trousers are made narrower. This is explained by good cutters as being necessary to offset the effect on a small waist which a coat of this style gives.

For business men, as well as society men, the morning, or cutaway, coat has become quite the vogue. This is brought about by a revival of the silk hat for day wear; for a frock coat is never correct without the hat. The best tailors agree that in cutting this coat the tails should not go below the knee line, and some of the smartest men wear them cut an inch higher. The buttons of the back are set right at the waist line. To have them just above the hip line is incorrect and makes the coat look slouchy.

For trousers the straight effect is most correct. A rather full style is also popular, with home cut turned-up cuffs. This works very well with some trouser fabrics. Heavy material, of course, does not need cuffs to preserve its hang, while in the light materials the cuff frequently causes vertical wrinkles that do not look well. The frock coat has become a distinct back number, so far as the average man is concerned. At several recent society functions where day dress was permissible the morning coat was always in evidence, while the men who wore frock coats could be counted on the fingers of one hand. This was true of weddings just as much as garden parties or receptions.

"DIVORCE A BLESSING"

Ex-Justice Brown Disagrees With Cardinal Gibbons.

Old Point, Comfort, Va., July 10.—"Divorce, when fairly obtained, without fraud and upon due and personal notice to the other side, generally redounds to the welfare of both sides and proves a real blessing," said ex-Justice Henry B. Brown, of the United States supreme court, in an address on "The Law and Procedure in Divorce," before the Maryland State Bar Association today.

He treated the marriage relation as a civil contract. "There is no question connected with the administration of the law so fertile of litigation," he said, "and so exacting of public attention as divorce. Thousands of decided cases have turned upon their validity. The clergy have made divorces a specialty, and have generally been outspoken in denunciation of the acknowledged evils and discreetly silent in respect to their utility, ignoring the distinction between the causes for which they may be granted and the procedure by which they are obtained. "The head of the Roman Church in America, a man for whom I have profound respect, has painted divorce as a monster, licensed by the laws of Christian states to break hearts, wreck homes and ruin souls. This is certainly a gruesome picture. I cannot recall a divorce fairly obtained, without fraud and upon due and personal notice to the other side, that did not apparently redound to the welfare of the parties and prove a real blessing."

THE MEDICAL COUNCIL

Proposal to Treat With Michigan Reciprocally Is Lost.

Toronto, July 12.—The Ontario Medical Council concluded its labors on Saturday.

A motion to appoint a committee to treat with Michigan regarding reciprocity of registration was lost after a brisk discussion. "I don't care anything about the flag or where the beaver bobs up," said Dr. Jarvis. "Politics have nothing to do with it. Anyway this is not the standard to be set by a body of this standing. I think British Columbia has treated her sister province in a scandalous way by refusing our approaches for reciprocity."

Dr. A. J. Johnson thought they should wait till the Michigan standard was as high as their own.

"They have as high if not a higher standard than ours is now," said Dr. Henry.

Dr. Hart declared that there was no expert they could so ill afford as that of competent, well-educated young men.

The complaint committee allowed the appeals in the matter of marks given

CELEBRATION POSTPONED

Recent Disorders in the Bolivian Capital the Cause.

La Paz, Bolivia, July 10.—The celebration that was planned to be held in this city on July 15 has been postponed as a result of the disorders which occurred here today, and because it is feared the disturbances will be continued. The trouble is the outcome of the decision rendered by President Alcorta of Argentina in the boundary dispute between Peru and Bolivia. Strong guards were placed around the Peruvian and Argentine legations today for the protection of the ministers, as it was reported that the people intended to stone them.

CASTRO'S NEW PLOT

Using Colombian Revolt in Attempt To Get Back Venezuela.

Washington, July 10.—That former President Castro, of Venezuela, is furnishing funds for the revolutionary movement in the neighboring republic of Colombia, is the latest rumor received in Washington from South America. Vague rumors reported to the state department allege that Castro wishes to make use of the revolutionary forces of Colombia as a means of reinstating himself in Venezuela. Information has been received at the department that Colombian troops have been dispatched to Honda, a town on the Magdalena River, ostensibly to intercept any revolutionary forces ascending towards Bogota, the capital.

THE NEW CABLE.

St. Johns, Nfld., July 11.—The work of laying a cable connecting New York and St. Johns direct will be begun this week by the Steamer Colonial, of the Commercial Cable Company, which arrived here today. The new cable will be connected with one of the trans-Atlantic cables which now land at Flemish Cape, just east of St. Johns, and will form the first direct cable line between Europe and New York by way of Newfoundland. The Colonial has on board 2,000 miles of new cable.

Family Physician Said Incurable

She Was Cured Completely by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE WITH INDIGESTION.

Another example of the marvellous merit of Dr. Hamilton's Pills comes from Kingston, where Mrs. E. V. Holton was snatched from the grave and restored to sound health by this wonderful medicine.

"Three weeks ago I was taken suddenly ill. My head throbbed and ached and I became so dizzy that I had to go to bed. There was a terrible feeling of weight and fullness in my left side and all the region of my stomach and liver was sore even to touch. I was in a terrible state—had no appetite, in fact I was afraid to eat because of the suffering I had to endure after meals. I got so bilious and had such pains across my eyes that I could scarcely see. My doctor said I had incurable indigestion.

"As a last hope I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I saw clearly they were doing me good and continued the treatment. My appetite and strength gradually returned—my color improved and day by day the stomach and liver derangements were less troublesome. All symptoms of biliousness and indigestion have now passed away. I am cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

The same medicine that so wonderfully cured Mrs. Holton will cure anyone else of biliousness, constipation, indigestion, headache, poor color and stomach trouble. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills today—refuse any substitute, 25 cents per box, or five boxes for $1. By mail from the Cataract Company, Kingston, Ont.

SLEPT ON TRACKS.

Montreal, July 11.—A fondness for sleeping outdoors and on railway tracks proved fatal to Felix La Franchiser, a septuagenarian Montrealese, last night.

The old man was fond of walking out to the fields and sleeping on the grass in hot weather, but on Saturday night he accumulated too much liquor, and, falling across the Park and Island Railway tracks, promptly went to sleep.

A car coming along later killed him instantly, cutting off a leg and an arm.

STRUCK BY FLYER.

Toronto, July 10.—Adam K. McIntosh, aged 50 years, of Earl street, Toronto, traveller for F. McIntosh & Sons, and one of the best known florists and feed men in the business, was instantly killed at 6:50 this morning by being struck by the Grand Trunk express from Montreal, a short distance west of Rosebank, where he was summing up with his family.

He was crossing the bridge with his son, Harold, aged 15 years, on a fishing trip, when he was struck, and the lad witnessed his father's fatal jump down the embankment. He was saved only by a few seconds. Mr. McIntosh leaves a widow and four children.

roy, had sold that fine pacer Ian Bars to Gerwin Brothers, of Brantford, for $1,725. It is his intention of starting him in the 2 1/2 class in Port Huron. This seems like a reasonable price for this youngster, who certainly has a number of races left. He is a handy one on a half mile ring in any event, regardless of what he can do on the big ring. The Gerwins had also concluded a deal with Hefferman of Arthur, for Flora Coffee, the price agreed on being $1,550. However Hefferman changed his mind, and sent back the check. The mare was worth the money, as she is a real good one.

BOY THREW GREEN APPLE MADE AUTO MAN MAD

North End Escapade Aired in the Police Court This Morning.

In the police court this morning G. Guymer was found guilty of assaulting Willie Foxworthy, a 15-year-old boy, and was bound over to keep the peace for one year in the sum of $100.

The charge was laid by Mr. R. Foxworthy, father of the boy, and in giving his decision the court reminded him that his son had had a very bad reputation in the past, and had been in trouble several times. In addition, many complaints have been made of late regarding his conduct.

Threw Green Apples.
The cause of the trouble was that one evening last week when Mr. Guymer was passing in an auto a group of boys, of which Foxworthy was one, threw green apples. Some of them hit the machine, and finally Guymer, thinking it was a stone, at once jumped out and went back to the boys. He threatened to beat the lads, and it is alleged, Foxworthy called at night, and named Guymer caught the lad about the throat and pushed him away from him, and also threatened to kick the top off another boy's head.

Some Provocation.
"You should not have used such language," said the court, "although I admit you had every provocation. These boys were breaking the law by loitering about the street, and I have had many complaints from owners of autos regarding the damage done by boys throwing stones. You should, however, have seen Foxworthy's parents, and let them chastise him."

Keep the Boy In.
Mr. Guymer explained that last year his relatives had complained many times to Mr. Foxworthy, and had no address, and finally had to take the matter to the police court.
"There is no question about it, Mr. Foxworthy," said the court. "You should keep your boy in at night, and not allow him to be out about the streets, where he will learn no good. I have heard many complaints about his conduct, and hope this will be a warning to you."

Stanley Hallam, of 161 Wellington road got into a fight in a Richmond street poolroom on Saturday night and was injured so badly that he had to be taken to Victoria Hospital. For a time it was feared that his injuries were very serious, but since he has recovered somewhat.

John Murray and F. E. Osborne, proprietors of the poolroom, were charged with assault in the police court this morning, and were bailed in the sum of $500 to appear in a week.

WILL NOT RESIGN

English Cabinet Not to Quit If Lords Reject Budget Bill.

London, July 11.—In English politics the supreme question of the day is, What will the lords do with the budget bill, and the other members of the Upper House rejecting it, what course will the Government pursue?

I have had the opportunity of hearing the views of one of the leading cabinet ministers and of one of the most important members of the Opposition. The cabinet minister said:

"Do you think we are so stupid as to resign if the Lords throw out the budget? We shall not play into their hands. Our duty is clear. We will first follow the usual procedure of calling a conference of Lords and Commons; then we will send up the finance bill to the Lords for the second time. If they do not accept it, we will call upon the Commons to pass a set of resolutions denying the right of the House of Lords to interfere with a money bill, and will go to the country on the issue."

The member of the Opposition said: "The Lords will reject the finance bill. There will be a meeting of the two Houses, and we shall probably agree to the Government withdrawing the land taxes and then pass the bill. It is impossible to believe that these negotiations will end in failure. The only danger is that the Government supporters will quarrel with the Government for dropping the acceptance of the bill this year, in which case the Government may resign."

"Even now, as the land taxes will only bring in £9,000,000 this year, it is highly probable that the Government will agree to send up the finance bill without them."

HANGED HIMSELF FROM BRAKE BEAM

Ottawa, July 12.—Robt. McCorkle, an Ottawa Electric Railway conductor, was found this morning at 8 o'clock hanging by his own neck from the brake beam of a box car. He had been missing since Wednesday last. Temporary arrangements, brought on by drink, is supposed to have been the cause. He leaves a widow, but no children.

VON BUELOW'S SUCCESSOR.

Berlin, July 12.—Emperor William has sent a message to Chancellor Von Buelow announcing his return to Berlin on Wednesday to consider the question of his successor in office, and it is possible the announcement of the name of the new chancellor will be made within 24 hours after this conference.

Dr. Von Bethmann-Holweg, secretary of the interior, and vice-chancellor still, is regarded as the most likely successor to Prince Von Buelow.
The chancellor has said farewell to the foreign ambassadors still in Berlin, announcing at the same time that his retirement was imminent. He has sent a letter to Ambassador Hill, who is at Geneva, expressing regret that circumstances prevented a personal interview, and bidding him good-bye.

CONTRACTOR MOORE A SUICIDE.

Lyons, N. Y., July 11.—Charles H. Moore, of this village, railroad contractor and dealer in cooperage stock, hanged himself in the basement of his home this morning. Moore was a member of the firm of Holmes, Moore & Courtright, of Inwood, Ont., and was known in Western New York and the Canadian province. His age was 68 years. Ill-health is given as the cause of the man's act.

THE ARGENTINE MAY WAR ON BOLIVIAN

Former's Citizens Continue To Be Insulted.

Buenos Ayres, July 12.—The Argentine Government is in direct communication with the Government of Bolivia through Senor Fonseca, who Argentine minister at La Paz, who has presented to the Bolivian Government a demand for an explanation of the attitude of the Bolivian minister here as well as for the recent attacks upon the Argentine legation at La Paz. Senor Fonseca has informed the Bolivian Government that he will withdraw from La Paz if the present situation does not improve.

The Argentine minister of foreign affairs today received a dispatch from Senor Fonseca announcing the fifth hostile demonstration against Argentina in spite of the presence of the Bolivian troops at the legation. The body of men started to attack the legation building from the rear. The personnel of the legation asked for the protection of soldiers. Troops were thereupon sent forward and prevented the continuance of the movement. The Argentine legation is now guarded by 800 soldiers.

CLAIM TEN WIVES SOME CANADIANS

The Trail of the Victims Started at Toronto and Hamilton.

San Francisco, July 11.—John Madison, alias Christian C. Johnson, and half dozen other names, is under arrest here, charged with having married at least half a score of women. The trial of women has alleged to have married and then deserted from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast. His arrest ended a pursuit of nine years, begun in 1900 by the New York police.

The police say they have now proof that since then he has married ten women, has probably married at least fourteen others, and has "borrowed" more than $30,000 from the "brides" he deserted the moment he could obtain their wealth.

The specific charge on which Madison is facing trial here is the defrauding of Mrs. H. Leopold out of $500, following their marriage a few days ago. But since his arrest the police have been literally deluged with complaints from other women all over the country.

Denies He Wed Her.
Madison denied his identity, but admits his marriage to at least one of the San Francisco women who claim him as a husband. "I'm not Madison," he declared, "I never married a woman in the East in my life."

Nevertheless, the police say that with the aid of the New York authorities they have obtained the marriage record. It began when he married an Oyster Bay widow in September, 1900, and ended in October, 1901, when he married Miss Julia A. Fredericks, a domestic in the employ of Truman Hanks, a prominent lawyer. Miss Fredericks married him; gave him all her savings to buy the same ranch, and then found herself similarly bereft of a husband.

Madison then went to New Jersey, swindled Miss Carrie Bradford, of Roselle, out of $1,000 on a marriage proposal, and then married her. He then married Bertha Love, of Newark, for the same amount, and then fled westward.

Worked in Many Cities.
Madison's record includes dealings with women in Cincinnati, Ohio; Louisville, Ky.; Kansas City, Mo.; Olean, N. Y.; Toronto, Canada; Los Angeles, Stockton, San Francisco; Detroit, Mich.; St. Louis, Mich.; Hamilton, Ontario, and in Germany.

His alleged dupes were mainly widows with children, and his favorite method was to win women's hearts by kindness to their children. Here is a list of women he is said to have married:

Mrs. Mary Higgins Brown, Springfield, Mass. Dec. 5, 1904. He took her to New York, got $500, and disappeared. She got a divorce and died later.

Mrs. Elizabeth N. E. Jackson, Iola, Kan., wealthy widow. Married in the fall of 1903; got $1,400 and disappeared.

Mrs. Sylvia Pollard Debonnett, San Francisco, married August, 1908, under name of Johnson. She sold a house to procure money for him.

Mrs. Henrietta Leopold, San Francisco, married April 13, 1909, under name of Johnson; secured $620 of money and deserted her within two hours.

Mrs. Jessie Threthway, Stockton, married May 15, 1909; she discovered a letter written by him to another woman and threw him out of the house after he had attempted to borrow money.

Johnson denies that he is Madison, but Mrs. Debonnett has positively identified a picture of Johnson as that of John Madison. Letters were found on him addressed to Madison.

Johnson is a good-looking man of middle age, and talks like a preacher. He is remarkably persuasive, and is a keen judge of human nature. He dresses well and is apparently refined in taste.

MISS MORGAN DEAD.

Lenoir, N. C., July 12.—Miss Mary Morgan, eldest daughter of the late Senator Morgan, of Alabama, died here yesterday. Miss Morgan was for many years secretary to her father, and had a wide acquaintance in America and Europe. The body will be sent to Selma, Alabama, the old family home for interment.

WARSHIP IMPERILED BY A CIGARETTE

Electrical Worker Was Smoking
Near Magazine—Promptly Dismissed.

New York, July 11.—It has become known that the officers and crew of the United States battleship Nebraska, now at the Brooklyn navy yard, had a narrow escape from being blown up several days ago by an electrical worker who smoked a cigarette.

That the warship was not destroyed was due to the action of a marine who was doing sentry duty near a powder magazine. This magazine was filled with 700 tons of ammunition, and a double force of marines was detailed to guard it. One of them discovered an electrical worker smoking a cigarette within touching distance of tons of ammunition. The sentry sounded an alarm and rushed at the workman, clapping his hand over the burning cigarette as he did so. Several masters-at-arms answered the call and found the sentry struggling with the electrical worker. The smoker could not realize the enormity of his offense.

The sailors who came to the magazine in answer to the alarm had all the time to get the workman away from the danger zone. He fought all the way up the gangway, and on the after deck he was ordered in irons. It was not long before every man on the Nebraska learned of the foolhardy act and the narrow escape the ship had from being blown to pieces. Many threats were heard, and but for the discipline of the battleship a riot might have occurred.

Charges were preferred against the offender, and he was summarily dismissed. The matter was kept secret until the electrical worker's helper came to the yard and demanded his pay. It is said that secrecy has been commanded until an investigation is completed.

As the cigarette smoker was a civilian employee, his dismissal ended the matter so far as he was concerned, but it is said the officers of the Nebraska are conducting an investigation to find out who was responsible for letting the electrical worker get so near the magazine with a lighted cigarette.

A SEASONABLE SERMON.

A seasonable sermon was preached by Rev. T. T. Shields yesterday morning at the Adelaide Street Baptist Church, from Genesis, chapter 11. "And Lord appeared unto him (Abraham) in the plains of Mamre; and he sat in the tent door in the heat of the day." The preacher pointed out that Abraham was not deterred from his duty as a servant of God by the heat of an Oriental summer's day. As a result of his faithful service, he was greatly blessed. He not only "entered angels unawares," but was visited by the Lord himself, from whom he received the promise of a son.

He was told of the impending doom of Sodom, and in answer to his importunate prayer the life of his kinsman, Lot, was saved, when the cities of the plain were destroyed.

PELLETIER MADE A DARING DASH

Thrilling Story of Expedition
Across the Canadian Wilderness.

A REMARKABLE FEAT

First Official Account of Mounted Police Expedition, Edmonton to Hudson's Bay.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

Ottawa, July 9.—Last autumn there was a notable meeting in the far north of Canada. It had been planned a year before and the schedule carefully worked out on the map, and from the experience of the Northwest Mounted Police in the work. That the men who do the planning and the men who put the plans into execution for the mounted police, are thoroughly capable, is demonstrated by the fact that three parties came from three different directions, and according to expectation arrived at the same point within the same time. Each of the parties had made their journey without the sight of a white face, for the point of meeting was on the northern shore of Hudson's Bay. A whole boat brought the first arrivals and they came from the north, the police post at the upper extremity of Hudson's Bay. They had come a hundred miles. The third party came by sailboat from Churchill, four hundred miles to the south. The second party, and this was the one that the others were to meet, arrived by canoe, and had come from the west with two thousand miles of travel behind them. This was the party under Inspector Pelletier, which made one of the most workman-like journeys that has ever been accomplished through uninhabited Canada.

A Notable Feat.

The report of the trip has recently been received, and constitutes another distinguished chapter in the notable annals of the Northwest Mounted Police. The report is a bare record of paddle and portage, but there is much to be read between the lines, and not a little in the words actually set down. It contains new glimpses of the north for those of us who have been told that the north is a barren waste of ice and snow. The north has been obtained from the hazy maps of the school geography and the general impression that the north of Canada is bleak, barren, hungry, and altogether undesirable. From the simple statement of facts recorded by Inspector Pelletier, the north is a land of great beauty and interest. There are valleys where herds could be grazed and the soil tilled. There are views of great waterfalls, broad lakes, where the waves threatened to overwhelm the tiny timbered banks and great wealth of fish. There is an appalling impression of the size of the country and absence of man, white, red or brown. There is also an unforgettable record of the fact that here where nature is cruel to men, men are good to nature. The help of a few men is enough to make the north a land of life and interest. Finally there is the conviction that Inspector Pelletier and his three companions were thorough men of their hands and head, competent to deal with all conditions.

Inspector Pelletier.

Inspector Pelletier himself was at the capital some time ago. To see him and talk with him was a great interest. He is a light-hearted French boy with blue eyes, yellow hair, a merry laugh and not a care in the world. His record shows that there is resolution and ability behind the mask, for he was one of the first contingent, having gone to the north with a party of men serving with distinction at Paardeberg. There, in the thick of the fight, he stood up in the face of the Boer fire and steadied a wavering section of the line by compelling, in men who were looking to the rear, more fear of their officer than of the enemy.

When the mounted police show the road men follow; slowly, perhaps, but they follow. That is the reason the head of the police, Colonel White, ordered a patrol to be sent by a northerly route from Edmonton to the way of Slave Lake to Hudson's Bay, where a Chartered Inlet Indians the shore line. Inspector Pelletier was chosen for the journey, and he took with him Corporal M. A. Joyce, Constable R. H. Walker and Constable P. R. Conway. They left Port Saskatchewan on the last day of June, 1908, and after a long journey, they arrived at Hudson's Bay, where they met their appointment, for at noon on the 21st day of August they beached their canoes on Ellis Island, and were greeted by the police detachment which had arrived the day before. The three months' journey is one long story of paddle and portage; of carrying canoes or being carried by them. The note of the story is "hasten." In the mind of each of the men was the idea—the way is long, the winter comes early; let the ice lock the way against the canoes, and we starve in the wilderness during the winter. This strengthened the arms that dipped the paddles and drove the canoes.

Travelled by Canoe.

The start of the trip by water was at Athabasca Landing, on the scows of the Hudson Bay Company. Port McMurray was reached June 13, and on the 16th the steamer Graham took them to Port Smith. After a twelve-mile portage the party was disappointed in finding that the Hudson Bay Company steamer Mackenzie would not set out for the north until the middle of July. Therefore the supplies were packed into two eighteen-foot canoes, and on June 26 the men began bending over their paddles. Each canoe contained a thousand pounds in fifty-pound parcels for portaging. There were three months' provisions for four men. Port Resolution was reached on June 30, after three days' hot paddling and a bitter time with clouds of mosquitoes. Two half-breeds were secured to show the way across a stormy arm of Great Slave Lake. The thirty-five mile arm was crossed on July 1, and parties of Yellowknife and of Dogrib Indians were seen going down to Port Resolution to meet the representative of the Indian department, and draw their annual allowance from the Government. For three days the wind lashed the lake and held the travellers fast on the shore, and it was not until July 5 that the "travellers" were finally crossed, and the half-breeds started back. From this on the party was without the help of guides or natives. There is lots of wind on Great Slave Lake, and the waves of July 8 almost swamped the canoes in Christie's Bay. The canoes were driven back and not until 11 at night was it deemed safe to venture the eight miles involved in the crossing. "Here," says Inspector Pelletier, "the shore became more accidented and rocky. The northwest side of Deer Island, which we followed, drawn as straight as a survey line, perpendicular from two to four hundred feet high, and every two or three miles there is a break in the form of a little bay, giving good shelter in time of storm. In places the cliffs appear to be on the point of sliding down. While passing one of these little bays we found ourselves in the midst of such waves that we had to pull for shore and reached it with difficulty. The weather was dead calm and the only explanation I could give for such commotion was that a cliff had slipped into the lake some distance up. We pulled out again at noon and travelled until sundown. In looking back we could see, as far as eye could reach, a line of perpendicular cliffs, drawn as straight as a survey line, and forming a most imposing sight." Not until the 14th of July was the end of the lake reached, as the wind blew with such persistence that the canoes had to follow the shore of great bays which they could have boldly crossed in less turbulent weather.

At the end of the lake it was found that all the remains of the historic Fort Reliance was a stone chimney. An interesting discovery was made at the "beginning of the portage to Artillery Lake in the shape of a long line of permanent but unoccupied teepees and a number of "York boats," dragged well up on the shore. They are used annually by the Yellow Knives and the Dog Ribs in their pilgrimages to Fort Resolution. "A short way up the portage there is a cemetery fenced about and well kept." The journey on Great Slave Lake, which should have been 240 miles long, was made 280 miles by the winds, which compelled the travellers to follow the shore. "Great Slave Lake is an immense sheet of water and difficult for a canoe. On account of the size of the lake the wind off the water raises a dangerous sea. We found fish plentiful and took a 20-pound trout as well as smaller trout, which are better food. Whitefish are plentiful and of splendid quality." Inspector Pelletier says that on the south shore of the lake there is much good timber, but on the north shore it is poor and scattered.

Surrounded by Deer.

On the fifteenth of July the two canoes entered the chain of lakes and streams which carried them over the height of land with many back-breaking portages, and the sight of herds of caribou. While on the first portage a large herd of deer was seen and one killed. "The deer were not much frightened of us and although they kept at a respectful distance they were in sight all the time that we were portaging, and that required four days. Then from Lake to Artillery Lake we were practically surrounded by deer. We camped for the night of July 21 north of Toma Lake, and during the night the deer kept passing to and fro close to our tents in large numbers. On July 22, at the foot of Artillery Lake, we saw thousands and thousands of deer, mostly bulls, coming over the ridge behind our camp, making for the water, and swimming across the lake. The water was about a half-mile wide. Gradually the ridges on each shore and the half-mile of water between became covered with deer. It was a wonderful sight, and the passing of the great herd was still going on when we rolled into our blankets for the night. On the following day, the wind was favorable and we hoisted sail. But our passage down the lake was several times stopped by the throng of deer crossing the lake at various points. During the morning we must have seen from thirty to forty thousand deer. The hills on both sides were covered with them, and at a dozen or more places where the lake was from a half to a mile wide, solid columns of deer, four or five abreast, were swimming across, so closely packed that they did not dare venture through them. Had I not seen them I would never have believed that so many deer could live in the north. We found a small camp of Dog Rib Indians and they told us that we had not seen the main herd of deer, but only a wing, as the main herd was a few miles up the lake on the west shore. I wonder what the main herd could have been like." The natives were killing a few deer and preparing them for their winter needs. They were well-dressed and prosperous, being provided with rifles, with which they fired a salute of welcome. Tobacco was changed for moccasins, a meal was shared, and the white men pushed on, not knowing that these were the last human beings they would meet for almost a month, and that the next would be Esquimaux from Hudson's Bay.

From this on, for some days food was scarce and the party had to cook with a little oil lamp which they had. This was not the end of the deer, for there was another large herd encountered crossing Sifton Lake, and on the last day of July as the canoes were shooting a rapids with a ten-foot drop the canoes were swept right into a column of deer. "We could not stop and therefore made all the noise we could. The deer sighted us, and becoming alarmed made an opening through which we passed. They were so near we could have touched them with our paddles. Owing to our attention being taken up by the deer

we scraped on a rock with one of the canoes." The party was now on the eastern slope, and in the Hanbury River had to portage around two beautiful falls within ten miles, the first having a fifty and the second a sixty-foot drop. "We reached the Thelon River on August 7, and saw no more deer at this point, but a great many wolves in a pack. The Thelon is slow, wide and clear and deep. On the 9th of August we saw a musk-ox sleeping on a small island, looking like an overturned stump, until he suddenly rose and astonished us by his size. I had heard that the musk-ox was not a large animal, but this was a bull of thirteen hands height, of great thickness, and looked as if he would weigh fifteen hundred pounds. The long hair reached nearly to the ground, and when he finally decided to run away from us the fur was of such thickness and length that it waved up and down at every jump, looking like the wings of a flying bird. A few miles further down we sighted another musk-ox sleeping on the top of a grassy bank. We made a noise to attract his attention, and he rose and looked at us, giving me a chance to make a photograph. I climbed a hill here and saw through my glasses an immense tract of peat country, growing good grass. There were low trees in the distance. If more accessible this would be the very best of ranching country, and there are many more stretches like it on the Thelon River."

On the 12th of August frost on the ground and the beginning of ice on the coast warned them of the need to hurry. Altogether Inspector Pelletier thinks the Thelon Valley a fine place, with fertile soil, strong grass, stretches of prairie and timber. In one place there was a sixty-mile stretch of spruce, running from six to ten inches. Beyond this he met the Esquimaux who do not like the timber on account of flies in summer and soft snow in winter, preferring the open barren coast where the winds have full sweep, where the snow packs hard in winter, and where game is to be found permanently. The Thelon is uninhabited. The Indians do not live there because it is far from trading posts, and because there is no birch for canoe making. "It is a good country for prospectors who would find timber for building and fuel. Fish are to be had, and in season deer and musk-ox are abundant. In many places along the Thelon there are great sandbars, and creeks flow into it over gravel beds. From appearances I expect to hear of placer gold being discovered in this country when it is prospected."

The first of the Esquimaux were met August 12, a camp of seven prospectors, jolly fellows with ten fair children, the men being away at Hudson's Bay trading. There were dogs and beads in abundance and plenty to eat. To their joy Inspector Pelletier presented them with fish-hooks, tobacco and tea.

On the 14th of August on the shore of Beverly Lake, a camp of Esquimaux was sighted, and here the white men got the surprise of their lives. "On approaching the shore," says Inspector Pelletier, "I called out 'Chimo, chimo,' which is the usual form of greeting when one meets Esquimaux. To our surprise the answer we got was 'Good morning.' Walker exclaimed, 'Holy smoke! The native, misunderstanding, replied, 'Me no smoke, me got no tobacco.' I discovered this was 'Lucky' Moore, one of the natives who accompanied Hanbury on his long trip to the Coppermine River and the Arctic coast. He speaks good English. He still has the canoe Hanbury gave him. He was well dressed in white man's clothes, and was much interested in the maps I had, and recognized with great glee every prominent point on the tracing, which speaks well for these maps made by W. T. Friel. We gave them presents of matches, needles, tobacco, knives, hooks and similar articles, and in return they gave us deer-skin shirts and boots, which they told me we would need before many days. They expressed surprise on learning that we had made the trip across the country without the aid of native guides.

Schultz Lake proved rough, cold, hazardous work. August 27 tide was reached in Baker Lake. "Here we were surrounded by Esquimaux in canoes racing all around us, and manifesting great pleasure. On August 28 I sent on two natives in their canoes to whoever was in charge of the relief boat at Ellis Island. I showed them the exact spot on the map. They assured me they would also only twice on the way which would mean that they would reach the spot before the night of Aug. 31, and they made good their promise. Inspector Pelletier reached the rendezvous at noon on August 31. Constable McMullen had come down the lake before with a whaleboat from Fullerton, but the boat was not with him. The relief party down to Churchill and could have done so in a few days. But after being becalmed for two days a gale wrecked the sail boat on September 3. The whole party had to go north to Fullerton, wait until the ice took and had to follow the dogs over the ice and snow for the four hundred and fifty miles to Churchill. Inspector

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

LIVE HOGS SOLD
AT $7.75 CWT.

Were Not Very Plentiful, However, and the Demand Was Keen.

MARKET A SMALL ONE

Old Hay Brought $11.25 to $12—New Hay at $9—Other Quotations on Local Square.

There was a very small market this morning.

There were only three loads of hay offered for sale, one of them being new, hay and brought $9. Two loads of old hay brought respectively $11.25 and $12. There will, it is expected, be a very strong demand for hay tomorrow, as the supply for the past few days has been very light. And the price is likely to be strong.

There were no berries of any description offered today, and it seems that the crop in this vicinity is about finished.

Other prices remain as follows:

COFFEE.
New York, July 10—Coffee—Futures opened steady at unchanged prices, which was rather better than due on the decline of one-quarter from at Havre. A decline of 8 1/2 cents was reported in Havre on July 10, presumably for delivery on July contracts here, and near London on July contracts. The market was steady, with late months seemed to be being steady, not unchanged to 5 points lower, with June showing a loss.

Toronto, July 12.—Noon quotations on the Standard Mining Exchange: Beaver, 20 1/2; Green-Mountain, 20; Rochester, 14; Chambers-Ford, 20; Kerr Lake, 13 1/2; Nova Scotia, 70; Crown Reserve, 2 1/2; La Roca, 1 1/2; Silver Leaf, 1 1/2; Cobalt Lake, 1 1/2; Little Nipissing, Silver Queen, 2 1/2; Conlaga, 6 1/2; Nipissing, 10 1/2; Temiskaming, 10 1/2; Foster, 24; Orléans, 45; Tremblay, 1 1/2; Peterson Lake, 28.

By private wire to H. C. Becher, London, Ont., from Harris, Wintrop & Co., New York, July 12.—The whole market showed a very strong undertone, and nearly all the standard shares are at fair values for the day.

There has been some foreign buying of stocks here, and indications are that the standard shares will go further on the advance before the close.

The market is a narrow one. Reading has been one of the features, and the buying of this has been also impressive.

Buying of Illinois Central has been the best since the rise in the market. The market looks very good at the opening of the week.

FORMER LOBO LADY

Death of Mrs. Christina Root in Chicago.

Mrs. Christina Root, who passed away on Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. E. Ferris, Chicago, Ill., after an illness extending over six months, was a daughter of the late Douglas McMurphy of Lobo.

She was born in Argyleshire, Scotland, in October, 1839, coming to Lobo with her parents while still an infant.

In 1867 she was married to the late Peter Whyte, of Lobo, who died in 1872.

Some years later she married Mr.
Daniel Root, of Strathroy. She is survived by her family of four children,
Mrs. S. E. Ferris, of Chicago; Mrs.
T. H. Norman, of Mishawaka, Ind.;
formerly of London; Dr. Peter D.
Whyte, Hardwick, Minn.; and Arthur
N. Root, of Chicago; also three sisters: Mrs. N. A. Edwards and Mrs.
James Campbell, West London; Mrs.
A. L. Rowe, of Brandon, Man.; and one brother, Douglas McMurphy, of Buchanan, Sask.

She was a member of the Strathroy Baptist Church, a devout Christian woman and a devoted mother.

The funeral will be held from the residence of her sister, Mrs. James Campbell, 155 Wharncliffe road, West
London, at 10 a.m., Tuesday, July 15, to Ivan Cemetery.

RED CROSS DEFENDED

Denial That Order Has Discriminated Against Catholics.

Washington, July 10. — Denouncing as untrue the charges that the American Red Cross has discriminated against Catholics in the training and educating of orphans, resulting from the Italian earthquake, Major-General Davis, chairman of the central committee of the society, today made public a letter he addressed to Andrew Matre, general secretary of the American Federation of Catholic Societies.
Mr. Matre published an open letter last spring making this charge.

General Davis bases his denial on an investigation made by Ambassador Griscom at Rome, whose report is ready has been published.

A Near Drowning.

Gordon Constable, a newsboy, living on John street, went swimming in the river near the powerhouse on Saturday morning, and got beyond his depth. An alarm was given, and the young lad was pulled out by Mr. Chas.
McGeary. He was revived without much trouble, and was on the street selling papers in the afternoon, none
the worse for his experience.

A man living in the Rue de Minime, in Paris, summoned the fire brigade to rescue him from an army of caterpillars which had invaded his house from a neighboring park.

SEWAGE NUISANCE
MUST BE ABATED

Board of Health Will Not Allow County to Pollute the River.

The board of health are going to insist that county buildings and jail disposal of their sewage differently from what they are doing at present, and the result will be that the city will insist that the county build a proper sewer to connect with the city system.

Dr. Niven, the chairman of the board, and Dr. Hutchinson, medical health officer, are determined that the sewer must not be extended to the centre of the river, and in this they will probably be supported by the board of works, although that body did recommend that the sewer be continued to the middle of the river.

"This thing must be settled properly for once and for all," said Dr.
Hutchinson. "A box to the centre of the river will not do. We will insist that a proper sewer connecting with the city system be erected. We want the nuisance abated."

"I will insist that the sewer be properly constructed," said Dr. Niven.
"No haphazard measures will do. We will insist on the county abating the nuisance properly, or know the reason why."

CHADWICK FINED

Appeared in Police Court for Being Drunk.

David Chadwick, a middle-aged man, who has on several occasions appeared in court, was fined $10 and costs or 21 days Saturday morning for being drunk. He denied that he had been drunk.

"What were you drinking?" asked the court.

"Oh," he said most nonchalantly, "I only had three glasses of ale and porter at one place, two glasses of whiskey at another, and two bottles of lager at another."

"Go on," said the court.

"Oh, I was finished then," said Chadwick.

"I think you must be one of those kind of drunks who the more drunk they get imagine that they are sober," said the court.

Thomas Sullivan and James Stewart were each fined $10 and costs for being drunk.

BLAZE AT DUNCHURCH

Fine Tourist Hotel Destroyed—Loss
About $15,000.

DunChurch, Ont., July 10.—At Ahmic Harbor yesterday fire started at noon in the Ahmic Hotel, totally destroying this fine tourist hotel, owned by Mr. Quinn, valued at $10,000 and insured for $2,000.
The household effects of the tenant, Mr.
Macdonald, were valued at $3,500, and insured for $3,500. The stock was valued at $2,500, no insurance.

The fire spread rapidly, destroying S.
Paul's blacksmith shop, residence and workshop; loss, $5,300, including $300 in money. Mrs. Johnston's residence, W.
Jones' new residence and Jules Brown's large general store, which was damaged to the extent of $700; insured.

The fire spread through the bush during the night, threatening Robertson's mill and settlers' houses, but the wind abated and rain saved the situation.

The new receiving tomb in Greenwood Cemetery, said to be the largest in the world, has just been completed.

MR. W. C. BOWDEN GIVEN SENDOFF

Member of Prudential Co. Staff
Leaves for Calgary.

Mr. W. C. Bowden, of the Prudential Life staff in this city, and who is leaving for Calgary shortly to accept the position of superintendent of the staff there, was given a rousing send-off by his fellow-workers at the Tecumseh House on Saturday evening. Prudential men from all over the district gathered in the city, and in addresses made by them they spoke in the highest terms of the work that Mr.
Bowden had done, and extended every good wish for his success in Calgary.

A Presentation.

Mr. George H. Davis, superintendent of the London district presided, and after an enjoyable banquet had been finished, called upon Mr. Ward, assistant-superintendent, who made a neat address, and amid great enthusiasm presented Mr. Bowden with a very handsome travelling bag. Mr. Bowden replied suitably.

During the evening Messrs. Griffiths,
Coldham, Swazie, Mountjoy, Elliott, Mantle, Pope, Avery, Reardon, Francis and Newton were presented with fountain pens as an appreciation of the good work they have been doing for the company.

Speeches were made by a number of the insurance men present, and all spoke most enthusiastically of the success they have met with since work was commenced in the London district five months ago. The staff is being constantly added to, and new agencies are being opened very frequently.

Mr. Fred Screamton was one of the guests of the evening, and spoke in a particularly happy vein of the future of Canada.

Those Present.

Among those present were P. W.
Wettlauffer, Ingersoll; E. B. Elliott, H.
H. Simmonds, Ingersoll; W. H. Ford,
E. J. Avery, Charles L. Mountjoy, P.
C. Alliston, assistant superintendent;

superintendent; P. C. Pope, C. R.
Swazie, F. E. Coldham, E. J. Griffith, H. E. Parsons, assistant superintendent; F. N. Everett, of the head office staff; W. C. Bowden, Thomas H.
Ward, assistant superintendent; George H. Davis, superintendent of London district; Fred H. Screamton, W. A.
Snowden, John H. P. Wood, Albert F.
Mantle, Frank Francis, Andrew Rouse,

PRINTERS HELD BIG PICNIC AT PORT

Employees of Lawson & Jones
Spent Enjoyable Day
Saturday.

The annual picnic of the employees of Lawson & Jones was held at Port Stanley on Saturday, and, as usual, all had a fine time.

The party numbering 150, left at 7 o'clock in the morning via the Southwestern Traction Company. A fast run was made to the Port, and then the day's fun began.

There was no special programme prepared. It was most informal, and the enjoyment was the more pronounced.

The feature of the morning was the baseball match between teams captained by Bert Orr and Roy Hawthorne, the former winning a well-played contest by 4 to 3.

The famous kazoo band of the office made life interesting for the party.

In the afternoon a ride was taken on the lakeside, and this proved to be one of the best features of the day.
The boat is well handled, and makes fine time.

The committee in charge were Messrs. Ed. Howson (chairman), Harry Dyson, Slade, Harry Jones, Donahue, Funnell and Shawcraft.

DAUGHTERS OF REBEKAH
PICNICED AT PORT

Splendid Programme of Sports
Was Enjoyed by All.

One of the most enjoyable picnic parties at the Port was that of May Queen Lodge, Daughters of Rebekah.
The party went to Port Stanley over the Pere Marquette on Saturday at 1 o'clock. A most interesting programme of races was run off, and other sports indulged in.

The results were as follows:
Girls' race, under 12 years—Ruby Bos, Grace Lashbrook, Lena Smith.
Boys' race—Edison Morrow.
Married men's race—John Collar,
Walter Scott.

Married ladies' race—Mrs. Morrow.
Young ladies' race—Miss L. Weir,
Miss K. McKenzie.

Young men's race—T. Beattie, W.
Smith.
Companion race—Miss L. Weir and John Collar, Miss Watts and R. Draper.
Biscuit race—Miss K. McKenzie,
Miss A. Armes.

Consolation race—Miss Brooks, Miss
L. Fitzgerald.

The committee in charge were:
Misses K. McKenzie, L. Watts, L. Weir,
Buckard, Redie, Bryden, Mrs. Walter
Scott, and Messrs. John Collar, Felker,
G. Watts, Fitzgerald and Walter Scott.

MAPLE LEAF PARK TROUBLE.

Hamilton, July 10.—The financial matters of the Maple Leaf Amusement Company, owners of Maple Leaf Park, have reached such shape that a meeting of the creditors will be held here on Monday night. It is thought that some arrangement will be arrived at whereby the park will continue in business until September.

PEOPLE OF LONDON READ GOOD BOOKS

Circulation of General Works
(Minus Fiction) Shows Big Increase at Library.

For the purpose of taking stock and introducing their new charging system in the public library, it was found necessary to close the fiction stackroom from July 5 to 24. One week of the time has passed, and of course no fiction could be obtained
during that time.

It is interesting to note the comparison between the circulation of non-fiction, or general works, during the week mentioned and the week ending June 28. The latter week is chosen in preference to the week ending July 3, as a holiday comes into the latter, which would make the comparison unfair.

In the week without fiction" the total circulation of general works shows an increase of 207 per cent. In classes the per cent increases are as follows: Miscellaneous, 380; philosophy, 130; religion, 50;
sociology, 178; nature and science, 201;
useful arts, 100; fine arts, 100; literature, 225; history, 109; travel, 362; biography, 272.

It was surprising how well the patrons of the library took to the department being closed for the short period. "The great majority of the people said, 'Why, I didn't know that there were so many interesting books outside fiction.'"

It must be recognized, however, that the circulation of general works and the use of the reference department are strong features of our library. The use of these departments has been running at the rate of 51 per cent since the first of the year, fiction only showing 49 per cent.

ARE YOU USING AN OILY LINIMENT?

Beware of Any Thick, Greasy Liniment That Contains Acids and Strong Ammonia.

No doctor would think of prescribing a greasy, thick, ammonia liniment
—they can't penetrate and in consequence are unable to reach the source of pain. The best liniment for general household use is "Nerviline," which is sold under positive guarantee to cure pain.

Nerviline is sure to cure pain because it is immensely stronger than other liniments, because it is more penetrating, because it relieves the congested condition that excites pain, because it restores circulation of the part. Now you understand why one person in three throughout the Dominion of Canada uses Nerviline.

These people have tested it. They know how good it is, because in the hundred and one minor ailments that afflict us at odd times they found Nerviline always cured. Nerviline is an absolute antidote to pain, powerful, soothing, and certain in its action.

Nerviline is inestimably the finest remedy for pain found in the world.
Not an ache or pain anywhere that Nerviline does not cure.

Try Nerviline for neuralgia, headache, sciatica, lumbago, stiffness, rheumatism — wherever there is sore-ness or pain, rub on Nerviline and oid.

ORANGEMEN AT CHRIST CHURCH

The Church Was Filled at Services on Sunday.

Christ Church was filled to overflowing yesterday afternoon when the Orangemen of the city lodges paraded there to hear a special sermon by Grand Chaplain Rev. William Lowe, of St. Matthew's Church, Members City,
No. 762, Anaghlin, No. 230, Byron, No.
2060, William Lowe Lodge, No. 2018, Boynes, No. 288, and Covenant Precep-tory Royal Black Knights were present. Rev. William Lowe preached particularly to Orangemen's day here, and said it would be one of the biggest that had ever been held in London.

Rev. J. P. Gerrie, B. A., of the Congregational Church at Stratford, exchanged pulpits yesterday with Rev.
D. S. Hamilton. Mr. Gerrie preached two excellent sermons, and large congregations were present at both the morning and evening services.

HIGH RAILWAY BRIDGE FIRED BY WRECKERS

Reward of Five Hundred Dollars for Apprehension of Guilty Parties.

Montreal, July 10.—Dastardly attempts to wreck trains and bring about loss of life on the line of the Canadian Northern Quebec Railway have been made during the latter part of the past week.

Thursday morning a large ridge at Burlin near Granbriere, 80 miles east of Montreal, was found to be on fire and one span was destroyed.

At 2 a.m. this morning a bridge 156 feet high crossing a deep ravine between Charette Mills and St. Paulin, about 70 miles east of Montreal, was found to be on fire, and eleven spans were consumed.

The company has sent detectives to investigate, and has offered a reward of $500 for the apprehension of the guilty parties.

The roller coaster at Port Stanley is the best fun of all. For young and old.
