FRENCH BREAK UP HEAVY GERMAN ATTACKS

1,000 CASUALTIES BY EXPLOSION IN AUSTRIAN FACTORY

CANADIANS WORRYING ENEMY WITH MANY MINOR ATTACKS; COUNTERS INVARIABLY FAIL

Day and Night With Artillery, Patrols and Raiding Parties, Boys From the Domini on Continue To Harass the B osches.

London, June 23.—The following communique is issued by the Canadian War Records Office: During the past week no infantry actions on a large scale have taken place since the extensive raid, during the night of June 8 and 9. The enemy has shown little offensive activity. On the morning of the 12th of June a Canadian raiding party took possession of four enemy gun pits in the neighborhood of La Coulotte. In this enterprise our troops captured two light machine guns, together with a large supply of bombs. Later in the morning of the same day a small party of Canadian infantry attacked and captured an enemy concrete strong point and machine gun position north of the Souchez River and also a portion of the hostile trench system. These trenches have now been consolidated in this affair. We captured 16 prisoners belonging to the 118th Regiment.

Good Work By Patrols.

During the early part of the night of June 12 and 13 the enemy attempted by a counter-attack to retake the positions captured from him. During the day our artillery at once opened up and the enemy's infantry who appeared half-shaken by our barrage was completely driven back by the Lewis gun and rifle fire of our troops. Our patrols have been by no means idle, and several minor encounters have taken place in which enemy parties have been dispersed by our Lewis gun fire.

Artillery Less Active.

During the week the hostile artillery fire has been somewhat spasmodic and less active than usual. We have carried out our usual program of harassing fire by night, both with artillery and machine guns. Much work has been carried out along the whole Canadian front in conenction with the improvement of our forward positions and rear and lateral communications.

The weather has been intensely hot during the period under review, thus making life in trenches extremely trying.

GERMANS TOLD WAR PRISONERS CONSPIRE TO DESTROY WAR WORK OF INTERIOR

Accuse Captives of Arson. Crop Destruction and Water Poisoning.

Copenhagen, June 23.—The German newspapers today have been furnished with elaborate material for declaring that prisoners of war in Germany, particularly the French, Russian and Serbian, were participating in a gigantic conspiracy to interfere by sabotage with war work in the interior and were engaged on a large scale in arson, crop destruction and attempts to injure machinery. The papers were given dime novel details about the dispatch of materials for arson in double-bottomed jam pots and of cigarettes containing disease germs for infecting cattle, etc.

It is difficult to tell how much these tales are due to the honest belief of the officials, and how much to a deliberate design to put the people on guard against possibilities. The general staff employed this manoeuvre on a large scale at the outbreak of the war to obtain popular co-operation in their efforts against espionage. They deliberately invented and launched tales of gold-laden automobiles traversing Germany from France to Russia and attempts of foreign agents to poison the water supply, blow up tunnels and carry out similar exploits.

The plan was more than successful. Military automobiles were stopped everywhere, and Gen. von Heering, traveling in haste to assume a command in the army, was held up and greatly delayed. Staff officers engaged in important missions were arrested by voluntary spy catchers, and were lucky if not badly beaten and mobbed. The military authorities were soon begging the people to forget about the spies.

COULDN'T GET PRIEST TO HEAD RECRUITING OF FRENCH-CANADIANS

Montreal, June 23.—Major the Rev. C. A. Williams, stated in the House of Commons by the Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux to be the chief recruiting officer of Quebec, explains that he is only officer in charge of English-Canadians in Military District No. 4. Major Williams says attempts were made to get a priest to look after the French here, but without success. Military laymen undertook this work.

AMERICAN RED CROSS WILL HELP RUSSIANS

Washington, June 23.KThe Red Cross will send an American commission to Russia to work along and behind the battlefront in the same way as similar commissions operate in France and Belgium. In that way ambulances and other relief for the Russian army will be supplied.

AMERICAN WOODSMEN MAY AID THE FRENCH

Paris, June 23.—Among the latest reinforcements to the American military mission is Major Harry Solon Graves, chief forester of the United States, who was commissioned a major in the reserves when he volunteered to investigate forestry conditions in France. Major Graves will consider the feasibility of bringing over a regiment of American woodsmen to aid in the conservation of French forests, if such assistance should be necessary.

LABOR AND BAPTISTS WANT WEALTH TAXED

Edmonton, Alta., June 23.—The Baptist convention of Alberta has passed a resolution favoring "selective conscription" of manhood, and its conviction that the "available wealth of the country should not escape levy."

Calgary, Alta., June 23.—The trades and labor council has decided to oppose conscription until "the wealth of the country has been conscripted."

CONFESSES SLAYING OF NEW YORK GIRL

Cocchi, Held in Italy, Admits That He Killed Ruth Cruger.

Bologna, June 23.—Alfredo Cocchi, under arrest here, today confessed to the Italian authorities that he had murdered Ruth Cruger in New York.

Cocchi went to Bologna from New York in February after the disappearance of Ruth Cruger, a girl 18 years old. When the girl's body was discovered in the basement of Cocchi's motorcycle shop in New York, Police Commissioner Woods cabled to Italy, asking for the man's arrest on a charge of murder. Tais was followed by a request to the same effect by the state department at Washington, and Cocchi was arrested on June 20. He at first vehemently protested his innocence and insisted that he left America on account of trouble with his wife. The man's nerve broke down after he was placed in solitary confinement, although he retained a lawyer and announced his intention of fighting extradition.

Cocchi said he murdered Ruth Cruger in a fit of furious jealousy because he failed to win her love.

WILL BRING HIM BACK.

New York, June 23.—With the announcement from Italy that Alfredo Cocchi had confessed to the murder of Ruth Cruger, police efforts here turned today to the problem of having the motorcycle dealer brought back to New York to face trial.

District Attorney Swann announced he conferred personally here last night with Councillor Polk of the state department, and was assured the United States would exert every energy to have Cocchi returned to this country.

VON BULOW "HOPES" FOR PEACE AND AN INDEMNITY FOR GERMANS THIS YEAR

Paris, June 23.—The Zurich correspondent of the Petit Parisien quotes Prince von Bulow, former German chancellor, as saying in reply to birthday greetings from the city of Bromberg, Prussia, that he hoped this year would bring to the German people the longed-for peace, a peace with compensations for their sufferings and sacrifices and an indemnity which would permit Germany immediately to resume the position she occupied before the war. This is the first time Prince von Bulow has expressed himself on the subject of Germany's war aims.

Since Italy's entrance into the war, Prince von Bulow, who at that time was German ambassador at Rome, has been living in retirement in Switzerland. It has been stated repeatedly that his presence in Switzerland was connected with German peace efforts, which he was supposed to be furthering, but according to other reports he is not in the good graces of the German Government.

FOUR GUNS CAPTURED FROM THE AUSTRIANS

Rome, June 23.—Among the booty taken by the Italians when they captured Austro-Hungarian positions on Monte Ortigara in their offensive on the Trentino front June 19 were four guns. It was announced today in the official statement issued by the Italian war department.

BERNSTORFF IN TROUBLE

Amsterdam, June 23.—Unless a Government statement is previously forthcoming, says the Berlin correspondent of the Weser Zeitung, an explanation will be requested in the Reichstag of an utterance attributed to Count von Bernstorff that Germany purposely refrained from taking steps to obtain a most-favored nation treaty with Brazil out of consideration for the United States. The former ambassador to America is credited with saying that Germany wanted ao avoid detrimental interference with the commercial relations between North and South America.

The story has caused lively astonishment in German commercial and industrial circles, seeing that North American goods enjoy a preferential treatment from Brazil, which is denied to German imports. The Dusseldorf Chamber of Commerce, in co-operation with other chambers, has decided to bring the matter before the foreign and home departments.

ONE THOUSAND KILLED, HURT, BY EXPLOSION IN HUNGARY

Munitions Factories at City of Bloeweg Blown Up.

Amsterdam, June 23.—More than 1,000 were killed or injured or are missing in consequence of an explosion in munitions factories at Bloeweg, in Hungary, according to an announcement made in the lower house of the Austrian Parliament by the minister of defence, as forwarded in a dispatch from Vienna.

FRENCH WILL BUILD MORE TRADE SHIPS TO MEET EMERGENCY

Govt. Says Tonnage Is Greater Than When War Began.

GERMANY IS BLUFFING

Enemy Not Constructing Hundreds of Vessels as Claimed.

Paris, June 23.—The resolution adopted by the Chamber of Deputies calling for the work of increasing the French merchant marine to be placed under the control of one department was accepted by the Government and voted by a show of hands. The resolution was signed by forty-four members of the merchant marine committee and invited the Government to centralize the work of building, buying and chartering merchant ships, a task which has been up to the present divided among several ministers.

Greater Than Before.

Louis Nail, undersecretary for the mercantile marine, answering criticisms, said that the French merchant fleet was 2,500,000 tons at the beginning of the war, and since that time had lost 560,000 tons, 460,000 by acts of war. During the same period 680,000 tons had been built or bought, and another 140,000 tons on stocks, so that they were actually greater now than before the war. Secretary Nail then pointed out that Germany had lost 2,500,000 tons, 50 per cent of its entire fleet, and declared that reports that Germany was building hundreds of ships were mere bluff.

Deputy Boulsson declared that the secretary was too optimistic, that the merchant fleet was in a dangerous situation, and that it was due to the Government's inertia. He said that ships must be built at once or France would not be able to feed herself. The deputy declared that the question took precedence over all others, even that of effectives, and that England preferred to lend France ships and build for herself. He concluded by demanding that the Government insist upon the Allies giving France the help they owe her.

Munitions First.

Premier Ribot then mounted the tribune. He said he recognized that the situation was not satisfactory, but he pointed out the difficulties in buying ships. Commissioner Tardieu had bought some in America and had asked the French shipowners to buy others, but the premier said that he must admit that they were slow about it. The question of paying cash was another difficulty and while it would be better to build, he declared that the nation's activity must be concentrated on the manufacture of munitions. In addition raw materials were scarce, and skilled labor insufficient.

Minister of Subsistence Violette said that as there was no longer a pressing need of ships to import cereals, the desire of the Chamber to place the merchant marine under one control could be gratified. He said that he would not raise the question of confidence as the debate was not political.

300 CANDIDATES NOW WORKING IN BIG CONTEST

Nearly Every Section of Western Ontario Represented by Contestants—Field Wide Open With Room for Scores of Others.

More than 300 wide-awake candidates are at work in The Advertiser's popularity contest, and the list is being added to daily. In nearly every section of every county between Georgian Bay and Lake Erie, the big fight is under way.

Although the campaign has been in progress only a week, it is becoming keen everywhere, and promises to grow in interest until the final day, August 25. The list of contestants to date is published on another page, but without the standing. While a large number have turned in subscriptions, others have given merely verbal reports of the progress they are making, and as it is the policy of the contest manager to give no credit until the returns are actually in the office, it is not possible to form any estimate at this time as to how the list stands.

Thousands of people throughout the territory are clipping coupons for their favorite candidates. Each coupon counts 100 votes, and so long as this coupon is run in The Advertiser, the contestants should see that none goes to waste. While the coupons are valuable, the real count will depend upon the new subscribers received, for the votes on these will mount rapidly. In this connection contestants should remember that the field is wide open. Every person in Western Ontario is a possibility, either as a new subscriber or as a renewal. Every present subscriber should be willing to pay a year or two in advance, because in these days of rapidly-increasing prices, there is no certainty that The Advertiser or any other first-class daily paper can continue to sell at present prices. Owing to this condition, contestants have been asked not to take subscriptions for a longer period than three years.

New subscribers are those not now receiving The Advertiser through any source. A transfer from an agent to a carrier boy or vice versa does not constitute a new subscription, but a renewal, and will be counted as such.

There is room for hundreds more candidates, scores of them in every county. The prize list will insure a reward worthy of the effort. This prize list, stupendous as it is, has not yet been completed, and may run in value considerably higher than has been announced.

If you wish to secure one of the automobiles or other valuable gifts, or assist some patriotic organization with a substantial cash contribution, send in your nomination or that of your friends at once.

PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT FOR EXCELLENT CROPS IN WESTERN CANADA

Toronto, June 23.—A crop report pointing out that prospects are bright at the present time for a good crop in the prairie provinces was received at the head office of the Canadian Northern Railway here this morning. It is said that despite the fact that several degrees of frost were reported in various parts of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta during the week, no material damage to the crops have been shown. The temperatures now are excellent for the growing grain.

The Canadian Northern also reports a rush of settlers from the United States. During this week, 79 persons settled in Manitoba, 147 in Saskatchewan, 12 in Alberta, and 3 in British Columbia. Of these 144 were farmers or farm laborers. Two hundred and forty-seven homestead entries were made during the week, 37 of them in Manitoba; 87 in Saskatchewan, and 127 in Alberta.

G. C. ARMSTRONG DEAD

For Many Years With Ogilvie Mills Company—Born at Paris, Ont.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Winnipeg, June 23.—The death of George C. Armstrong, for the last 30 years with the Ogilvie Mills Company, occurred in Vancouver last night. W. H. and Robert Armstrong of the contracting firm of Armstrong & Morrison, are brothers.

Deceased was born at Paris, Ont., 57 years ago, and resided for a number of years at Winnipeg. In addition to his brothers, he leaves a sister Margaret at Vancouver and wife and four daughters at Medicine Hat, where for the past four years he was manager of the Ogilvie mill. One son has been in the trenches in France for two years.

GALLANT FRENCH DUKE.

Paris, June 23.—Paul Deschanel, president of the Chamber of Deputies, yesterday delivered a funeral discourse over the body of Jean de Dieu Delle Soult, Duke of Dalmatia, who was a member of the Chamber of Deputies for Tarn. The duke, who was 29 years old, was killed by a German battery near St. Quentin. While commanding a section of an automobile battery, he was wounded by the fragments of one shell. He continued to advance, however, until he received a mortal wound from another shell.

TERRIFIC HEAT WAVE BURNING FOE'S CROPS

Vegetable Crop Will Be Failure Owing To Drought.

Copenhagen, June 23.—The period of intense heat continues, according to reports from Berlin, over the greater part of Germany, the only exception being in the western part of the country. The drouth in Denmark has been broken by heavy and prolonged rains.

Berlin on Wednesday experienced heat exceeded only three times in 70 years, and then in mid-July. Very little rain has fallen throughout Germany, and the Berlin Tageblatt is informed there appears to be slight prospects of a change. Extension of forest fires is reported in various parts of Germany, owing to the continued drouth, and soldiers have been called in to assist in checking them.

According to an authoritative statement in the Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin, the protracted heat and dry weather, following the late cold spring have had a most unfavorable effect on the yield of fruit, and particularly of early vegetables, which this year are of especial importance owing to the disappearance of potatoes. Notwithstanding the planting of double acreage of vegetables compared with peace times the yield is disappointing. Extra plantings probably will not result in any increase in the total production.

GERMANS FIGHT DESPERATELY TO HOLD LENS CITY

Last Outpost Guarding Lille Industrial District.

ALLIES CREEP NEARER

'Impregnable' Ridges at Messines and Vimy Already Gone.

BY STEWART LYON,
Special Correspondent of the Canadian Press in France.

Canadian Army Headquarters, June 23.—The furious resistance offered by the enemy to any further advance along the Souchez valley in the direction of Lens indicates his intention to hold that city at all costs as a sole remaining outpost protecting Lille and the great industrial region of which Lille is the centre.

Lost the Ridges.

A little over two months ago the enemy's hold appeared to be as secure as at any time since the beginning of the war. The two ridges, Messines, about ten miles northwest, and Vimy, about eighteen miles southwest of Lille, were held in such strength that their impregnability was subject to frequent boasting. Now both Vimy and Messines ridges are firmly in our possession and to the northeast of Lille the advance has been pushed almost to the bank of the Lys, which is a poor defensive substitute for the commanding heights surrendered to the impetuous assault of Haig's army.

Important Progress.

The progress in the south has been less spectacular, but nevertheless important. The enemy's defences are unquestionably crumbling beneath the unending shelling. In the picturesque phrase of an officer: "We have been throwing foundries and munitions plants at the Boche."

The capture early in the week of a small triangle of German trenches west of Reservoir Hill has been followed by most persistent efforts on the part of the enemy to recover the lost ground. On the front south of the Souchez stream the enemy has been equally unquiet. Gas shells have been freely used by both sides. This involves the frequent use of gas masks. The gas shells are more often discharged by night than in the daytime.

On other parts of the line prisoners have been captured who were recently serving in Eastern Europe. There is a marked increase in the number of young lads in the enemy's trenches. Recently a few boys have been captured of the 1919 class—that is immature lads of eighteen.

LE CANADA SAYS RIOTS POSSIBLE IF BILL PASSES

Warns Borden Government by Recalling the Northwest Rebellion.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Montreal, June 23.—Le Canada, answering today editorially, the question, what will happen if the conscription bill passes, recalls the Northwest Rebellion of 1885, which resulted, says Le Canada, when Sir John MacDonald turned a deaf ear to warnings. The Canadian people, says the editorial, are now agitating and clearly showing their resentment because a majority in Parliament seems ready to usurp their rights.

"If, without taking that into account, Parliament adopts the Borden project, it is to be feared that these demonstrations will become disorders and perhaps riots. One should also take into account the fact that it is not only in the Province of Quebec that these manifestations are taking place, and that disorder may be provoked elsewhere. Organized labor from east to west is absolutely opposed to conscription, and it is perhaps from them more than from the peaceable population of the Province of Quebec that trouble is to be feared. There is none deafer than he who will not hear."

CROWN PRINCE AT HEAVY COST FAILS TO SHAKE PETAIN

Many Violent Attacks of Germans Along French Aisne Front Prove Complete Failure.

Paris, June 23, noon. — Continuing their offensive on the Aisne front, the Germans last night made repeated attacks in the region of Vauxaillon and southeast of Filain. They also multiplied their efforts against the French positions north of Froidmont, where they failed yesterday. Today's official statement says the Germans made considerable sacrifices without gaining the slightest advantage.

The statement follows:

"The night was marked by violent bombardment, followed by a new series of German efforts against the points attacked on the preceding day, in the region of Vauxaillon on the one hand, and southeast of Filain on the other. All these attacks were repulsed, and the enemy, whose losses were serious, gained no advantage.

"The fighting was particularly spirited between Royere Farm and Froidmont Farm. The Germans, who enlarged their attacking front east of Epine-de-Chevregny, as far as to the north of Froidmont Farm, multiplied their efforts to capture these positions. Their attacking forces, broken up by our fire, were not able to approach our lines or debouch from the salient penetrated yesterday.

"Other efforts of the enemy, east of Chevreux, east of Cavaliers-de-Courcy, and in the sector of Chambrettes, also were repulsed.

"We penetrated the lines at several points and took prisoners."

ONE SMALL SUCCESS.

Berlin, June 23—Via London.—A French position southeast of Filain, on a front of 1½ kilometres, and 500 metres deep was captured yesterday by German troops, army headquarters announced today. Prisoners to the number of 300 were taken.

THE WAR SITUATION

Heavy attacks by the Allies are continuing along the Aisne front, with the fighting at times assuming almost the proportions of a general engagement.

No substantial successes have attended the crown prince's efforts. The latest bulletins from the front, indeed, indicate the fighting to be turning even more favorable for the French, whose artillery is proving that it has lost none of its effectiveness in breaking up attacks.

The crown prince's primary purpose apparently is to forestall the renewal of the French offensive movement which was expected in this important sector, southwest and south of the fortress of Laon, the German key position, which would be seriously menaced by any further French advance. So far as appears, General Petain has lost none of his commanding positions, while the Germans have sacrificed heavily for such small gains as they have been able to effect.

The plan of the Germans seems to be to launch heavy forces on comparatively narrow fronts in the area under attack.

They penetrated a salient in the French line yesterday on the Chemin-des-Dames, in the neighborhood of Epine-de-Chevregny, in one such attack. Last night they tried to debouch from the ground thus gained, but found all their efforts broken up by the French fire. Other attacks in the region of Vauxaillon, to the west, and near Chevreux and other points to the east, were likewise futile.

SWISS INVESTIGATING PRUSSIAN INTRIGUES TO SEPARATE RUSSIA

Paris, June 23.—Dr. Hoffmann, the former Swiss foreign minister, according to the Geneva correspondent of the Petit Parisien, forwarded correspondence between Count von Bulow at Lucerne and certain Italian anti-interventionists at Rome to the Swiss diplomatic pouch. According to the Matin, Dr. Hoffmann also negotiated for the return of Lenine and other Russian Socialist refugees to Russia through Germany.

The foreign affairs committee of the Chamber of Deputies examined yesterday the detrimental situation caused by German intrigue in Switzerland. Premier Ribot and Deputy Andre Lebey communicated a series of documents relating to the Grimm-Hoffmann incident and respecting agents who, in agreement with the Berlin Government, directed from Berne and Zurich the anarchist peace campaign in Russia.

RUSSIANS LEAVE TO FIGHT FOR REPUBLIC

Several Russians, employed in local factories, are leaving London for Russia to join the army. Two went to New York this morning and others will follow very shortly.

They refused to give their names or discuss the question.

HART RE-ELECTED.

Victoria, B. C., June 22.—Hon. John Hart, minister of finance in the Brewster Government, was re-elected today by a majority of 159, the vote being 1,798 for Hart, to 1,639 for Hall. The total vote today was 3,437, as compared with a total of 6,709 in the general election of September 14 last. After the result of the poll was known there was a gathering of Liberals at the headquarters, addressed by the premier and other ministers. The by-election was caused through the death of Ralph Smith, minister of finance, and the appointment of Hon. John Hart as his successor.

FRANCE WAS SAVED BY ITALY'S ACTION, DECLARES MARCONI

Her Refusal To Join Germany Stopped Drive for Paris.

UPSET KAISER'S SCHEME

Latter Hoped To Keep Million French on Borders of Italy.

New York, June 23.—Senator William Marconi, a member of the Italian war mission to the United States, which is headed by the Prince of Udine, speaking last night at a dinner given by Mayor Mitchel in honor of the mission, declared that his country's prompt refusal to join Germany in a war of aggression was the decisive factor which enabled France to stem the tide of invasion.

"Germany did not expect us to join in a savage attack on the liberties of Europe," said Mr. Marconi. "She did not even care whether we eventually agreed to remain neutral. Her game was a much deeper and more treacherous one. She wanted us to leave France, our great Latin sister, in doubt as to our intentions.

Refused to Join Germany.

"On the morning of July 30, 1914, the day before Germany declared war on Russia, the Marquis di San Giuliano, who was then our foreign minister, unofficially informed the French ambassador at Rome that Italy would never side with the Central Powers in a war of aggression. This information was immediately wired to Paris, but it was not sufficient to make France feel absolutely certain that Italy's attitude was favorable to her, because there was as yet no official declaration of neutrality on our part.

"On August 2, 1914, three days before England declared war against Germany, at a council of ministers held in Rome, Italy decided formally to declare her neutrality. News was immediately communicated, through our charge d'affaires in Paris, who went to see M. Viviani, the French foreign minister, in the middle of the night.

"M. Viviani, on seeing him, grew pale and drew back, for he was almost convinced that nothing but Italy's decision to join Germany would have brought the Italian charge d'affaires there at that hour.

"The revulsion of feeling when M. Viviani read the telegram was such that he could not hide his emotion. Within half an hour orders had gone forth for the mobilization in the north of nearly 1,000,000 men, which France would have had to keep on her southern and eastern front to guard against a possible attack from Italy.

"That million men helped to stem the advancing tide of Germans, to win the battle of the Marne and to save France. Had there been the slightest wavering on the part of Italy, France would not have dared to withdraw a single man from the Italian frontier, and the history of the world might have been different.

"Gentlemen, is there any man who can think, in view of what I have just told you, that Italy's conduct was not a decisive factor in the war?"

DR. PATTERSON DEAD.

New York, June 23.—Dr. Charles Brodie Patterson, author, lecturer and founder with his wife of the "New Thought" movement in this country, died at his home here last night in his 64th year. Many of Dr. Patterson's works in the occult had been translated into other languages.

THE SOUL OF TINO

I saw him seated on his puppet throne,
With soapy Sophy resting by his side,
The three of us were in the room alone.
And anti-German mobs clamored outside.

"Oh, great and mighty king," I softly said,
"You hear the turmoil and the discontent
"Of people craving to be lead,
"To quell the tide of alien armament.

"Why don't you join the forces of the right.
"And reap the benefit on land and sea?"
King Tino spoke, "Is not right always might?"
"My friend, your talk is just plain Greek to me."

"Why, Brother Willie said the other day,
"That when I join him in the game of war,
"He will immediately increase my pay,
"To twenty bucks per week and maybe more.

"And so you see, my friend, it can't be done.
"The stuff I've reaped I'll start again to sow.
"You can't buy me, can he, Sophy, my Hun?
"I've sold my soul to you, dear, long ago."

SOLDIERS OF SOIL SOON TO GATHER

Boys Working on Farms Will Be Given Big Frolic for Three Days.

TO CAMP AT KILWORTH

Vacation for Lads Helping With Farm Work Has Been Arranged.

The last day of June and the first two days of July have been picked as the dates on which schoolboys who have been working on the farms will enjoy their first real vacation since beginning their share of greater production work last spring.

All the "teen age" boys working on the farms in Middlesex and Elgin counties will gather at Kilworth, five miles west of Springbank, on Saturday evening, June 30. Around the camp fire, camp stories and songs will make up a program, which will be followed by an address from Taylor Statten, national boys' work secretary, Y. M. C. A., and a number of war stories by Lieut. William McQueen, a returned officer.

Sunday morning, C. F. Watson will give an address and in the evening W. H. Vaughan will speak.

Also a Happy Smile.

Monday (Dominion Day) will be spent in fishing excursions and games. Farm Service Corps badges will also be presented on this date. Invitations extended to the boys advise them to bring "blankets, small frying pan, granite cup, plate, knife, fork, spoon, any special eats and also a happy smile." They are requested also to forward $1 to Charles F. Watson at the "Y" headquarters here to cover the cost of provisions.

Favorable weather will make the event a decided success, as all other arrangements have been completed. The camp is part of the soldiers' of the soil campaign, a nation-wide propaganda, with the slogan, "Every Canadian boy a producer of food." Its purpose is threefold—to enlist and encourage boys in food production, to provide attractive incentives for keeping them interested in their work, and to relate this service to their religous growth and development.

Gets An S. O. S. Badge.

Every boy who is producing food or assisting in the production is recognized as a "soldier of the soil," and is entitled to wear an official "S. O. S." badge, if approved by the duly appointed "S. O. S." director. These badges will be presented to local "soldiers" on Dominion Day.

There are two branches in which special recognition is given—the Farm Service Corps and the Garden Service Corps. The Farm Service Corps includes every boy who works regularly on a farm and renders faithful and satisfactory service for a period of at least two months. The Garden Service Corps includes every boy who raises a crop of vegetables in a home garden plot, church co-operative plot, or other land, provided the value set on the crop reaches a standard figure to be determined by a vote of all the "S. O. S." directors appointed by August 1.

Every church has been asked to appoint an efficient and enthusiastic worker as a director.

FINE LOT OF MEN JOIN ENGINEERS

Electrical Engineer Returns From U. S. To Devote Services to Cause.

Among the recent recruits to sign up with the Canadian Engineers is A. E. McKenzie, an electrical engineer, whose home is in Hyde Park, but who is at present engaged in the manufacture of electric starters for automobiles in Detroit. Mr. McKenzie is a graduate of the University of Toronto, and joined the signal section of the Engineers, on account of his familiarity with electrical work and telegraphy.

Another recruit to the signal section of the engineers is J. Vogan, a clerk in the Northern Life Assurance Company, this city.

George Gale of Galt, who also joined the signal section, is an accomplished bandmaster, and is well-known as a cornet player throughout Western Ontario. P. R. Cook, a Canadian by birth, whose home is in Manchester, Indiana, and who has been a telegraph operator on many American railroads, also joined recently.

Many bank clerks and office men are coming into the engineers, and find the signal section most congenial employment on account of the highly specialized work. Information may be obtained by calling on Lieut. H. F. White at the armories.

O-U STARTER For Fords $15

Complete With Primer

We positively guarantee that the O-U Starter will start any Ford any time that hand-cranking will start it. We give the purchaser the opportunity to make a 10 days' trial of the Starter, and, if it fails to do this, we will refund the purchase price. There is no doubt at all about the convenience and mechanical advantages of a self-starter. All the high-priced, perfectly appointed cars are being equipped with them. They are fast becoming a necessity on business and pleasure cars.

You can now have a Starter on your Ford that is as simple, substantial and reasonable in price as the Ford itself.

There are no complicated parts, no electric wiring or batteries to get out of order or that need replacing. Only two working parts, and these so simple that anyone can understand their construction and operation.

The O-U Starter is purely mechanical and attached to the shaft under the hood, and therefore out of sight. It is operated from the seat, and so easy, can be used by any boy or girl. And you don't have to get out in the mud. You don't run any risk of a sprained or broken wrist, for if there is a backfire the O-U Starter is automatically released. It is and probably always will be the final word in safety starting. The market cannot offer anything better. Never has and probably never will.

There is already some conversation on the streets regarding the next municipal elections, and it is rumored that Mayor Stevenson will try for another term. He has intimated as much to a number of his personal friends, and it is considered likely that he will take another chance.

Controller R. W. Shaw is a certainty. He will be a candidate for mayoralty honors. Controller E. S. Little is also mentioned, and may run, in case Mayor Stevenson does not take another chance.

It is rumored that Chairman Philip Pocock of the utilities commission will not run again.

1,000 BOOKS ON WAR ARE READ MONTHLY BY LONDON PEOPLE

Public Library Has Responded To Demands of Public.

MANY ABOUT CANADIANS

Ten or Twelve Volumes Commemorate Deeds of Men in Flanders.

The character of reading that London people are doing is falling into some interesting divisions, much of which is directly traceable to the effect the war has produced upon he public mind. That the war has been directly instrumental in enlightening people in regard to certain subjects connected with it is of course only natural, and may be said to be one of the benefits of the terrible conflict.

In the first three months of the war material of this kind was very limited, but the demand for literature which would throw more light upon the reasons for the war, the national character of the divers belligerents, the various types of war machinations and many other interesting phases and sides of the world conflict, was so insistent that the London Public Library has enlarged its supply of war material to such an extent that it has in monthly circulation over 1,000 books dealing with the all-important subject.

Books About Canadians.

Within the last year there have been issued ten or twelve books dealing directly with the achievements of Canadians in France, and Canada's wartime national aspect.

Books pertaining to religious subjects, about which there was locally much discussion and controversy, have become increasingly in demand, and manuscripts and articles dealing with psychical research have likewise been greatly sought after by the ever curious and magnanimous public.

H. G. Wells' literature has a large coterie of adherents and his books are nearly always to be found, not only in the library, but in the various homes of admiring and perspicacious readers. The book, "Mr. Britling Sees It Through," which was so typical of Wells in his most versatile and alluringly matter-of-fact style, is largely responsible for his great popularity, which bids fair to attain a zenith unsurpassed by modern writers. His "Italy," and his latter book, "God the Invisible King," are much sought after.

Many interesting archaic manuscripts are on exhibition at the library, and afford an interesting deviation for all Londoners.

BADA BOY STEALS ZEPITELLO'S FRUIT

John Zepitello, who runs a fruit stand at the corner of Hill and Wellington streets, appeared in police court today charged with disorderly conduct. According to his story, a number of small boys have been in the habit of gathering in front of his store every night and annoying him. Wednesday night he went after one of them and tossed boy and cart on to the street. Damages to the cart cost him 85 cents today, while the youngster paid up for a bottle of ginger ale that he had absently-mindedly taken from Zepitello's store without leaving the five cents.

CITY TO SECURE BIG HOSPITAL

Committee Assured of Institution To Hold 600 Beds.

CASE IS CLEARLY STATED

Controller Moore Had Facts Ready and Impressed Chairman of Commission.

The deputation which went to Ottawa to lay the claims of London for a military hospital here has returned, assured that the institution would come to London.

When the committee met the hospitals commission, Controller John M. Moore presented plans for the various sites in question. There are at least six, of which Carling Heights and the Western University property, just north of the city, are two. The other sites have not been bonded as yet, although prices have been secured. Mr. Moore explained the values of each place, and their suitability.

Senator's Assurance.

Senator Lougheed, the chairman of the commission, was much impressed with the clear method of explanation, and assured the deputation that the hospital would be located in this city. He did not favor the Huron College site, but thought that the others would do.

He promised to send an inspector to London within ten days, to select the most suitable location, and settle the question.

The commission would build a 600-bed hospital here. The buildings would not be of a permanent character, but for temporary use. The whole establishment would cost about $200,000.

The city would be asked to furnish the land, that being promised by the committee. The cost will run between $8,000 and $14,000, depending on the parcel of ground selected. The buildings will be completed by September at the latest.

Those Who Spoke For City.

The case was laid before the commission by Controller Moore, Controller R. W. Shaw and A. B. Greer, representing the board of trade.

"We are certain to have this big hospital," said Controller Little. "We were asked to furnish the land, which we will do, the cost varying from $8,000 to $14,000, depending on the selection. The matter of location will be settled within ten days, and work will be started on the buildings immediately."

Lieut.-Col. Caldwell left for Windsor this afternoon.

STRICKEN AT SYNOD DIES AT HIS HOME

Rev. W. J. Taylor Expired Following Operation for Appendicitis.

Rev. W. J. Taylor, rector of St. James' Church at St. Marys for 27 years, and one of the oldest Anglican ministers in the diocese of Huron, died last night at his home as the result of an operation for appendicitis, with which he was stricken on Tuesday while attending the synod.

Mr. Taylor was hurriedly removed to his home after the illness came on and was operated upon Wednesday. His age, 72 years, was against him, and he passed away at 9 o'clock Friday night.

He was born in England, where he was employed for some time in the offices of the Colonial Continental Church Society. He had been in the ministry 32 years in this diocese, being rural dean of the County of Perth, rector at Wardsville, and later rector at Mitchell, going from there to St. Marys.

Mr. Taylor's son, Rev. Dr. Taylor, who has been associated with John R. Mott in missionary work in China, was summoned home from Muskoka on his father becoming ill, but was only able to reach Stratford before death had taken his parent.

Two daughters, one at home and another married living at St. Marys, survive. Mr. Taylor's wife died about one year ago.

The funeral will be held on Monday from St. James' Church, St. Marys, at 2:30 o'clock, and will be attended by the bishop and the city clergy.

FATHER AND SON NOW LIE SIDE BY SIDE

Advertiser Illustrations

LOUIS JOBEN, Armless Man, Who Died Thursday Night, and His Son Who Died Three Years Ago.

Louis Joben, the armless old French-Canadian, who has sold pencils from the little "showcase" that hung over his neck, was buried at Woodland Cemetery this afternoon. There were no pallbearers, but an appropriate service was conducted by Rev. C. W. Foreman of St. Paul's Cathedral. A friend from Hamilton, Mrs. Ed. Proud, was present, and several Londoners who had known Mr. Joben well. But, there was no relative to mourn him, and he goes now to lie for his eternal rest beside the son who died three years ago, a smiling happy youth, shown above with his father. The lad died just when he had grown to an age where he was a constant help to his crippled parent. The loss of the boy was a heavy blow for the father, and he never recovered from its effect. And so they are laid in the same plot at the cemetery in that section known as "The Poor Ground."

Dr. Flanders will deliver a memorial address at night, followed by the rendition of the sacred oratorio, "The Holy City" by the choir. The soloists are Mrs. Wyatt, Miss Laymon, Josef Shillisky of Eaton Memorial Church, Toronto, and Wm. Chater. Mr. Jordan will preside at the organ.

PAVING BOTH SIDES OF STREET AT ONCE CAUSES CRITICISM

Method of Engineer's Department Called Shortsighed.

SEEMS A POLICY HERE

Richmond Street Likely To Be Closed All Summer, Says G. A. Wenige.

Much criticism has been aroused concerning the methods in use by the city engineer's department in paving both sides of certain streets at the same time, and thus closing the streets entirely to all traffic until the paving has been completed.

G. A. Wenige, local bicycle dealer, who is greatly interested in the problem of good roads, both in and out of the city, today criticized the action of the city engineer in allowing the paving work on Richmond street north to be done on both sides of the street, claiming that it practically meant the closing of the street for the whole summer.

One Side at a Time.

"Any ordinary engineer would arrange his plans to pave one side of the street at a time," said Mr. Wenige, "and the present practice of paving both sides of the streets is absolutely foolish. The same plan was followed on Beaconsfield avenue, and no doubt the same thing will happen when Stanley street is to be paved.

Made Mistake Here.

"A bump was repaired on the York street bridge some time ago," he added, "and, strange to say, only one-half of the bridge was done at a time. This was evidently a mistake, however, for according to the usual methods of the engineer's department, the whole bridge should have been closed, and South London cut off from the rest of the city while the work was in progress."

COUNCIL BANQUETTED

Bruce County Representatives Have Enjoyable Function at Chesley.

CHESLEY, June 22.—The banquet tendered to the county council by the citizens of Chesley at the McDonald House on Thursday evening was a successful function. An orchestra from town furnished excellent music. Every part undertaken by Mine Host Brenner was carried out with excellent taste.

The after-dinner speaking was above the average, including addresses from Messrs W. D. Bell, Hunter of Kincardine; Warden Izzard, County Treasurer Robertson, Wm. McDonald, M.P.P. James McNeil, M. A. Halliday, J. E. Case, G. Christie, D. Willoughby, C. P. Wilkins, James Douglas and J. A. Bannister. Dr. A. W. Mair, M.H.O., gave a toast to the host and hostess. Messrs. Leitch and Ramage sang in their usual style.

MOTOR CARS CRASH ON "HOODOO" ROAD NEAR SPRINGBANK

One Automobile Is Sent Into Ditch and Damaged.

OTHER'S AXLE BROKEN

E. N. Hart States That Brooks Car Was Traveling at High Speed.

An automobile accident that might have had serious consequences took place on the Pipe Line road last night on the "hoodooed" stretch of road between the dip west of Woodland Cemetery and the Springbank Park gates, when cars owned by E. N. Hart, local produce dealer, and Jack Brooks of London Township crashed together just west of the cross roads, west of the cemetery, where the old hotel used to be. Both cars were damaged, but no one was hurt.

Mr. Hart stated to The Advertiser today that he was going home from Springbank about 10 o'clock with his family, and turned out to pass a car coming from the city. He dimmed his lights to pass the car, and was still hugging the right-hand side of the road when Mr. Brooks' car, with headlights on full, crashed into his car, ripping off the front fender and wheel, and sending it into the ditch. The rear axle of the Brooks auto was broken, and the passengers, Mr. Brooks and two young ladies, were badly shaken up.

Other Car Going Fast.

Mr. Hart also stated that he was not proceeding faster than 15 miles an hour, while the other machine was traveling at a fast clip, and owing possibly to the thick cloud of dust the driver was unable to see properly. Mr. Hart refused to state whether any action for damages would be taken by him.

High Constable Watterworth told The Advertiser this afternoon that there was altogether too much speeding on the country roads, especially the Pipe Line road, and that steps would be taken to curb speed fiends that use the Pipe Line and other good roads as a racecourse.

On One Strip of Road.

"I am not prepared to say that fast driving was the cause of last night's accident on the Pipe Line, but it is a significant fact that practically all accidents occur on that smooth strip of road west of Woodland Cemetery to Springbank," said Mr. Watterworth.

It is expected that county constables will keep a sharp lookout for speed artists in the future, and they will have to watch their step while tooting along Middlesex highways.

ITALIAN SOCIALISTS CONDEMN PEACE PLAN OF TEUTON BRETHREN

Stockholm, June 23.—The Italian Socialists now here were merely appointed to convey the Italian democracy's greetings to Petrograd. They were not authorized to participate in the Dutch-Scandinavian committee's conference. They have, however, conferred with individual members of the committee and the Social Demokraten today publishes an interview with them, setting forth their attitude toward the program of the delegates of the Central Powers.

All four of the Italians are members of the Chamber of Deputies, representing respectively the independent, reform and syndicatist Socialists and the Republicans. They expressed themselves in the interview as satisfied that the Russians would succeed in solving all the problems confronting them. They were united in their condemnation of the peace program of the Austro-Hungarian and German delegates.

The bill for constitutional amendment favorably reported by Harrisburg is one that the federation has been backing, and is now conducting an aggressive campaign for the election of the next governor of the Legislature.

Dr. Dunseith is a brother of Thomas Dunseith, health inspector.

LAST CHANCE TO ASSIST SOLDIERS COMES ON SUNDAY

The House-to-House Canvass Should Bring Big Response.

ONE SOLDIER'S APPEAL

Writes Sir Adam Beck, Asking To Be Removed To This City.

The closing appeal in the "Big Heart" campaign on behalf of the tuberculosis Canadian soldiers will be made in the house-to-house canvass of the city tomorrow morning. Every detail in connection with this last big effort has been arranged, and it promises to be carried through with the best of results. The Sunday morning canvass is intended to give all those who have not been canvassed in any other way during the week the opportunity to do their full part in bringing aid and relief to the hundreds of sick soldiers.

The Official Collectors.

The collectors who come to the doors tomorrow morning will wear an arm badge, white with red letters "Official Collector," and the Big Heart. The collecting box that they carry will also bear the official marking. E. R. Dennis, who is chairman of the committee, having this special collection in charge, is specially desirous that the public should be assured of the completeness of the arrangements and that all money contributed will be taken direct to headquarters. Every contribution of a dollar or over made through the collectors will be acknowledged by headquarters.

The teams that have been out this week have done their work well, and the Sunday morning collection will be a splendid finish to what has been a successful campaign. The need of the soldiers has gripped the big heart of London, and the realization that these men are depending upon their friends at home to give them a fighting chance for life has stirred a deep generosity. The need of the men in England has piled upon it the need of the men right in Canada. London camp has a dozen tuberculous soldiers who must be cared for. And there are men under treatment elsewhere in Canada who would have a better chance of recovery if they could be brought back here nearer their friends. Only this morning Sir Adam Beck received a letter from a returned soldier, who is in hospital at Ste. Agathe, Quebec, pleading that he be brought to London, where he had enlisted and trained, and where he would be close to his own people. With the Sanatorium here filled today and with applications for admissions piled up, there is little that can be done for the man, yet his case is typical of many.

The Last Chance.

Tomorrow is the last chance to have a hand in this "Big Heart" movement for so increasing the Sanatorium capacity that men who have done their bit and have fallen under disease shall not say that their friends at home failed them in the hour of bitterest need. The big heart can be in evidence Sunday morning, and every dollar that is contributed will help some poor sick soldier that much nearer to recovered health and usefulness to himself and his dear ones.

On Monday evening, in the Masonic Temple, there will be a public gathering, at which reports will be received from all the teams and final announcement will be made in connection with the campaign.

LONDON SHRINERS GO TO MINNEAPOLIS MEET

Dr. A. Roy Routledge, acting potentate of Mocha Temple; Recorder W. H. Abbott, K. C. McBride, this city; T. H. MacLaren, Galt, and A. M. Burch, Chatham, left here this morning for Minneapolis, where they will represent Mocha Temple at the annual session of the Imperial Council of the Shrine of North America. The meeting will last three days. The ceremonials, parades, review of the patrols, and other entertainment features have been abandoned, the accredited delegates only attending to transact the business of the year.

On June 29th Mocha Temple Patrol and band will go to Detroit to pay a visit to Moslem Temple, when a ceremonial session will be held.

DUNDAS CENTRE LEAGUE'S FAREWELL TO MR. THOMAS

The regular meeting of the Dundas Centre Epworth League was held recently, with a large number of the members being present. The meeting was in charge of the devotional committee, and the chair was taken by Miss Dorothy Lettney. The subject for the evening was "The Master's Indignation," and was ably handled by Miss Nettie Jones, after which Miss Louise McCullough rendered a very fitting solo.

Just at the close of the meeting, Mr. Harley was called to the platform and read the following address, and Miss Lois Lockwood presented Mr. Thomas with a silver-mounted umbrella, beautifully engraved:

"Dear Pastor,—On behalf of the members of the Epworth League, I have great pleasure in extending our best wishes, on this, the eve of your departure from among us, for your future happiness and prosperity. You have been our good shepherd, guiding our youthful feet in paths of righteousness. The teachings which you have instilled into our minds and memories shall ever last, and in moments of doubt shall guide us rightly.

"We very much regret that after so pleasant a sojourn with us you are called to another field of labor; however, our loss is others gain, and we will have profited greatly by your association with us. You take with you the goodwill and best wishes of every member of our league. We hope God will bless you and keep you, and permit you to be his active agent for many years to come, in many parts of his kingdom. We also hope that you will ever remain as enthusiastic and untiring in your efforts to teach his word as you have been while with us."

"We again wish you every happiness, and that your life may be filled with sunshine, but should ever the clouds arise or a storm come up, just take this umbrella along, a slight token of our esteem, to remind you of Old Dundas Centre Epworth League."

Mr. Thomas made a suitable reply, referring to his work among the young people of the league.

The meeting was closed with prayer by Mr. Thomas.

SMILE AT THREATS OF VON HOLLWEG TO STARVE ENGLAND

Baron Rhondda Says U. S. and Britain Have Upper Hand.

LONDON, June 22.—The United States and Great Britain, working together on the food supplies problem, can smile at German threats to starve England, Baron Rhondda, the new food controller, declared today during an informal talk with newspaper correspondents in regard to the food situation. Baron Rhondda said that he wished to work in the closest co-operation with Herbert C. Hoover, the American food administrator, and they should keep in constant touch with each other in dealing with the food problem.

Baron Rhondda inquired of the American correspondents regarding the progress of the food bill in Congress, but made no comment on its status. Later, however, he explained that the powers conferred on him as British food controller are as comprehensive as those which President Wilson is asking Congress to grant Mr. Hoover. He declared his move would be to reduce the price of necessary food articles, bread, sugar, milk and meat being the first things with which he would deal.

Women! Keep This On Dresser! Never Let Corns Ache Twice

Instantly! Few drops stop corn-soreness, then corns and calluses shrivel, loosen and lift out with fingers—No pain!

The world owes thanks to the genius in Cincinnati who discovered freezone, the new ether drug.

Small bottles of the magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents. You simply apply a few drops of this freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a hardened callous. Instantly the soreness disappears, and shortly you will find the corn or callous so loose and shriveled that you lift it out with the fingers. Not a bit of pain or soreness is felt when applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the skin or flesh.

For a few cents one can now get rid of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, as well as painful callouses on bottom of feet. Everyone who tries freezone becomes an enthusiast, because it really doesn't hurt or pain one particle.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of genuine freezone. Each bottle is packed in a little round wood case. Don't accept anything else.

Sir Percy Sherwood of Dominion Police Orders His Detention.

HAMILTON, June 22.—The local police, who placed Capt. De Willoughby under arrest, were requested by Sir Percy Sherwood, chief commissioner of the Dominion Police, to hold him on a charge of vagrancy until extradition proceedings could be taken. His message said that De Willoughby was wanted in Boston on charges of fraud and false pretences, and that the British authorities at New York also requested his detention.

After De Willoughby, who offered himself as a private in a construction corps, had passed the medical examination, the detectives called at the drill hall, and Lieut.-Col. Robertson said to him: "I'm sorry, but we will have to detain you for a few days," to which De Willoughby replied: "I expected that, for I saw a telegram to that effect on your desk."

A dispatch from Syracuse says that Louis Hueber, a millionaire contractor of that place, and father of De Willoughby's bride, was taking steps to have his daughter's marriage annulled.

CANADIAN OFFICERS TO ADVISE RUSSIA ON WAR RAILROADS

Cols. J. W. Boyle and J. A. MacDonnell on Mission.

LONDON, June 22.—The American committee of engineers in London, a body of prominent engineers organized to render advisory and practical assistance to the United States Government and the Entente Allies during the war, has sent to Russia a committee of two military railway experts to offer advice and aid in reorganizing the railroads already built. The London committee also will give its assistance to the American railroad commission now in Russia.

The London committee's representatives are Lieut.-Col. J. W. Boyle of the Canadian militia, and Lieut.-Col. J. A. MacDonnell of the Canadian pioneer and railway battalions. They carry credentials to the British and the American ambassadors, and the Russian Provisional Government from members of the British Government and representatives of the United States and the Russian Government in England.

Experience in France.

Both Lieutenant-Colonels Boyle and MacDonnell have had wide experience since the war began in the construction of military railways in France, and prominent Russians in London express the belief that their advice and assistance will be of great value to the Russian Government. Lieutenant-Colonel Boyle probably is better known in America as a mining engineer, especially for his work in the Klondike. He also is a transportation expert and was instrumental in organizing the first Canadian pioneer battalion of railway troops. Canadian engineers, because of their efficiency now are doing all the light railway work behind the British lines in France. Lieutenant-Colonel MacDonnell, who is noted for prodigiency in handling men, is well known among American railroaders. He was selected as engineer to take charge of the first Canadian pioneer battalion, and has since then served in France.

Russia's Need Is Great.

Representatives of the Russian Government located in London have expressed their keen satisfaction that it was possible to obtain the services of Lieutenant-Colonels Boyle and MacDonnell at this critical time. It is stated that the Russian military lines are sadly in need of expert reorganization and the building of additional lines is most necessary.

The committee's representatives will remain in Russia as long as they can be of any assistance to the Government there. It was originally planned to send a numerous representation to give advice on the reorganization of the whole Russian railway system if the Russian Government so desires, but this plan was abandoned when it was learned that the American railroad commission was starting for Russia.

"This box contains highly inflammable powder, the chemical nature of which has not yet been determined. To operate the bomb a special apparatus is necessary, which within about half an hour of being set working ignites the powder contained in the box and sets fire to the surroundings."

Demand for Tanlac Breaks All Records

TANLAC COMPANY TO HAVE BRANCH PLANT IN CANADA

Modern Laboratories To Be Erected to Care for Canadian Business.

Mr. G. F. Willis, a well-known capitalist of Atlanta, Ga., and one of the South's most successful businessmen, is now in Toronto. Mr. Willis' coming has attracted much attention because of the announced purpose of the interests he represents to begin at an early date the distribution and sale of Tanlac, the celebrated medicine, and to erect in Canada a modern laboratory for its manufacture.

The company's plan at Dayton, Ohio, occupies 60,000 square feet of floor space, and is said to be one of the best equipped plants in the world, and has a daily capacity of 30,000 bottles.

Accompanying Mr. Willis are Mr. E. C. Harris, his private secretary, and Mr. L. T. Cooper, of Dayton, Ohio.

In speaking of the visit of Mr. Willis and his party to Canadian cities Mr. Harris said:

"Mr. Willis is the head of a large sales organization, which controls the distribution of Tanlac in the United States, and is associated in this work with L. T. Cooper, noted health expert and millionaire manufacturer of Tanlac.

"Mr. Cooper's unique theories on health and right living have attracted attention all over the country, and have been the cause of considerable scientific discussion. It is conceded by all well-informed persons that he is a man of extraordinary ability and wonderful insight into the fundamental principles of physical hygiene. His preparation, Tanlac, which promises to mark a new era in medical science, was perfected only after years of study and experimenting.

"The broad and progressive and splendid selling organization originated and perfected by Mr. Willis in the States," continued Mr. Harris, "are among the best examples of method yet produced in business. His constructive policies have resulted in the establishment of a lasting and permanent demand for his product.

"The phenomenal success of Tanlac, which has caused the business to grow to such large proportions, has been reflected into the Dominion, and plans are now being perfected for the establishment of a modern laboratory in Canada, which will give employment to a large number of people."

In explanation of the record-breaking demand for Tanlac, Mr. Harris said:

"There is only one explanation, and that is very simple. The inherent purity and wholesomeness of the medicine has confirmed it in the minds of the people, and made it a household word throughout America. Mr. Willis has always been a firm believer in the principle that the best advertisement is a satisfied customer. To that end he has always sought to make customers—not mere sales. That, and that alone, is the secret of the marvelous expansion of our business.

"Just what has been done in the leading cities of the United States, including New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Detroit, Atlanta and other centres, will be duplicated in Toronto and throughout Canada."

HUGE ORDERS FOR TANLAC ARE GIVEN

Big Plant at Dayton, O., Doubles Capacity — To Have Daily Output of 30,000 Bottles.

What is probably the largest single order ever given for a proprietary medicine was one for fifteen (15) carloads of Tanlac, received a few days ago for immediate delivery by the Cooper Medicine Company from G. F. Willis, southern and western distributor, with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga.

Ask the manager of the Cooper Medicine Company at Dayton, Ohio, and he will tell you that there are 1,060 dozen of Tanlac to the carload, or 12,720 bottles. This means, therefore, that 215,800 bottles will be shipped to the south and west within the next few weeks to supply the tremendous demand. This is in addition to numerous single carload orders received from the same source during the last 30 days.

Although the big Cooper laboratories at Dayton are now capable of turning out 15,000 bottles daily, the rapidly increasing demand has made it necessary to double their capacity, and in a few weeks' time they will have a daily output of 30,000 bottles, which is probably the largest in this country.

Tanlac Is Indorsed by Louisville Druggist

Louisville, Ky., June 1.—"We are convinced," said E. G. Isaacs, president of the Taylor-Isaacs Drug Company, 244 West Jefferson street, Louisville, "that Tanlac is a medicine of distinct individuality. More than 80,000 bottles of Tanlac have been sold through our store in the last few weeks.

"The results from the use of this medicine are truly remarkable. We do not hesitate to recommend Tanlac as a medicine different from the usual kinds that are exploited in the advertising columns of newspapers."

Over Seven Million Bottles Sold in United States in Two Years' Time

GROWTH IS REMARKABLE

Story of Marvelous Development More Like Fiction Than Actual Facts.

Never before, perhaps, in all history, has the demand for a proprietary medicine ever approached the wonderful record that is now being made by Tanlac, the celebrated medicine which has been accomplishing such remarkable results in all parts of the United States.

The first bottle of Tanlac to reach the public was sold just a little over two years ago. Since that time there has been sold and distributed something over seven and one-half million bottles, and a romance which has no parallel in the modern business world was begun. From coast to coast, and from the Gulf to the Great Lakes, Tanlac is known and honored. Millions have taken it and have pronounced it the greatest medicine ever given to the people, and the only explanation of Tanlac's triumph in the commercial world is Tanlac's true worth. Back of Tanlac's triumph in the drug stores stands Tanlac's triumph in the homes. It is the people's medicine, and the people themselves have made Tanlac what it is.

No matter where you go, Tanlac is a household world, and it is now unquestionably the most widely-talked-of medicine in the world today. One person invariably tells others about a medicine that helps him, and in this way scores, or even hundreds, may hear of Tanlac as a direct result of one bottle in a single home.

WHY TANLAC'S SALES ARE LARGE

Remarkable Success Due to Absolute Merit of the Preparation

In scarcely more than two years the Tanlac industry has sprung into fame, which has spread beyond the limits of the continent, and with sales now numbering millions of bottles every year, it has become the medical sensation of the century. The people of the United States have watched its growth, wondered, and applauded it.

Tanlac was not the product of a day; it came only as the result of years of careful study and experimentation. Combination after combination was brought together and tested; patiently the founder, with his associates and chemists, sought for the ingredients necessary to make a perfect stomach medicine and reconstructive tonic, and it was only when this was accomplished that the manufacture was begun on a small scale. The chief problem at first was to let others know about it, because there was never a question that when they did know they would tell others, and that the fame and popularity of Tanlac would spread like wildfire.

That's just what happened. From a few hundred bottles at the beginning, its sales jumped quickly to thousands, then hundreds of thousands, until now there are millions of users of Tanlac from Maine to California, and from Canada to Mexico.

There is, of course, a reason: Tanlac is a remarkable medicine, and has been so proven. Composed of the most beneficial herbs, roots and barks known to science, it is a purely vegetable preparation, which acts directly upon the mucous membrane, stimulating the natural flow of the gastric juices of the stomach, so necessary to healthful digestion and the proper elimination of waste matter.

The building of Tanlac is just a case of the remarkable success of an industry, because its product is pure and wholesome, and because it is just the medicine so many need.

Not a day passes that does no bring scores of statements from the people concerning the good this medicine is doing, and reciting the circumstances of remarkable cases that would convince the most skeptical.

700 BOTTLES ARE SOLD IN ONE DAY BY ATLANTA FIRM

Sales in One Year Have Reached the Astonishing Total of 64,000 Bottles

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 24, 1916.

Mr. G. F. Willis, Fourth National Bank Building, Atlanta, Ga.:

Dear Sir,—Replying to your inquiry of yesterday, we are pleased to advise that we are now selling Tanlac at the rate of considerably over 2,000 bottles per week.

On one Saturday alone we sold through our eleven Atlanta stores approximately 700 bottles at retail, direct to consumers. On referring to our records, we find that out sales, since its introduction here something over a year ago, have reached the astonishing total of 64,000 bottles.

This record is far in excess of any we have ever made before in the distribution of any one preparation; in fact, we have never handled anything that even approaches it as a seller.

Thousands of our best people are now using the preparation with the most gratifying results, and we can only account for the phenomenal demand we are having by the fact that it is a medicine of extraordinary merit.

Assuring you of our high appreciation for the splendid co-operation you have accorded us, and with best wishes for your continued success, we beg to remain, yours very truly,

JACOBS PHARMACY CO.,

BIG DRUG FIRM SECURES AGENCY FOR THIS CITY

Standard Drug Stores Will Control Distribution in London.

"The Tanlac agency for London has been awarded to the Standard Drug Stores," was the brief statement made by Mr. G. F. Willis, the Canadian distributor of Tanlac, when seen yesterday.

"In awarding the agency to this well-known firm," continued Mr. Willis, "I am merely carrying out our established custom of having only thoroughly responsible and centrally located representatives in each city, and in this connection will say that no matter where you go in the United States, you will always find the Tanlac stores to be thoroughly reliable and representative.

"Just such firms as this are always anxious and willing to co-operate with us in promoting the sale of Tanlac, not only because of its superior merit as a medicine, but because of the prominence and valuable publicity they receive from its enormous sales as well.

"Arrangements have already been made," continued Mr. Willis, "with our American plant, whereby a large consignment of Tanlac will be received by the above firm in time to place it on sale at once.

"Having heard through absolutely reliable sources of the remarkable and rapidly growing demand for Tanlac throughout the United States, this well-known London firm did not hesitate for a moment to accept the Tanlac agency and to assure us of their full and hearty co-operation in making Tanlac just as successful in Canada as it is in other countries.

"Both Mr. Cooper and my associates have long regarded Canada an excellent field for the further development of our business, and as previously announced, arrangements are now being made to establish a modern plant in Canada.

"Together with my associates, I shall remain in Canada long enough to superintend the introduction of Tanlac, and from what I can see and hear of your enterprising, hustling city, I do not believe it will be a great while before Tanlac will be selling equally as well in London as in Detroit, New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other leading American cities."

MEMPHIS FIRM SELLING TWO CARS EVERY MONTH

"Tremendous Sales, Phenomenal and Bewildering, to Say the Least."

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 7, 1916.

Mr. G. F. Willis, 1101 Fourth National Bank Building, Atanta, Ga.:

Dear Sir,—It would be a very hard matter for us to write a letter expressing just our feelings and experience in regard to Tanlac. We know that the day of miracles is past, and we all know that there are no unfathomable mysteries in the drug business, and yet this Tanlac business smacks of both. For one firm to be able to sell at the rate of one carload every two weeks, and for this record to keep up until now we have sold more than nine carloads, and have another one coming, it is just the least we can say, phenomenal and bewildering.

Tanlac is giving entire satisfaction to our trade, and is a constant and regular repeater from the same sources, and our customers write us that their demands are persistent in the way of repeat orders as well as from new users.

The uniform courtesy and consideration—the splendid business policy displayed by Mr. Willis with us as his wholesale distributors, and through us our agents, has been everything that we could ask, and we wish you continued success, and hope that you will realize on your wishes to in every way stapleize and permanently perfect the popularity and continued sale of Tanlac. Yours very truly,

THE HESSIG-ELLIS DRUG CO.,
(Signed), R. R. ELLIS, President.

LARGEST BUSINESS IN THEIR HISTORY

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 6, 1916.

Mr. F. G. Willis, 1101 Fourth National Bank Building, Atlanta, Ga.:

Dear Sir,—It gives us pleasure to state that the wholesale distributing agency of Tanlac for this territory, secured from you about one year ago, has proven very satisfactory to us.

Our books show that during the year we have bought and disposed of over ten cars of Tanlac in this immediate territory, thereby setting a record as the largest sale by us in a given time of any proprietary remedy in the history of our business.

These sales have been made with no effort on our part, and without complaint on the part of our patrons and sub-agencies.

With best wishes for your continued success, we remain, yours very truly,

SPURLOCK NEAL COMPANY,

Vice-President and General Manager.

Tanlac To Be Sold Throughout Dominion

In only a few weeks' time Tanlac will be placed on sale in practically every large city, town, village and hamlet in Canada.

A number of agencies already have been established in a very limited time, but it is my desire that the distribution be made more complete and far-reaching.

With this end in view, I take this means of notifying druggists and dealers who are interested to write or telegraph G. F. Willis, Fourth National Bank Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Are the Winners' Names In This List or Will They Be Sent In Later?

First published list of nominations received is given below. If your name is not among them send it in at once. There are eight districts, and in each district will be given a Chevrolet Five-Passenger Automobile, a Mason & Risch Piano, a Walnut Bedroom Set, a Cabinet of Silver and many other costly prizes.

Then there is the Grand Prize—a large McLaughlin Touring Car—which will be given to the candidate getting the greatest number of votes irrespective of districts. The winner of the Grand Prize will be given $1,000 in cash, which is to be donated to some patriotic organization in the district in whch the candidate lives.

To the winner of the first prize in each district will be given $125 in cash, which is to be donated to some patriotic organization in the district in which the candidate lives.

This means that some one of the eight districts will win four prizes—the Grand Prize, the $1,000 in cash, one Chevrolet Car and $125 in cash—outside of the regular list of prizes arranged for each district.

It is not too late to enter. The winner of the Grand Prize in the last contest conducted by the manager of this contest entered the contest three weeks after the first announcement. What this young lady accomplished in seven weeks you can do here.

FIRST PRIZE IN EACH OF THE EIGHT DISTRICTS.

Eight Sweet-Toned Mason & Risch Pianos Value $400 Each

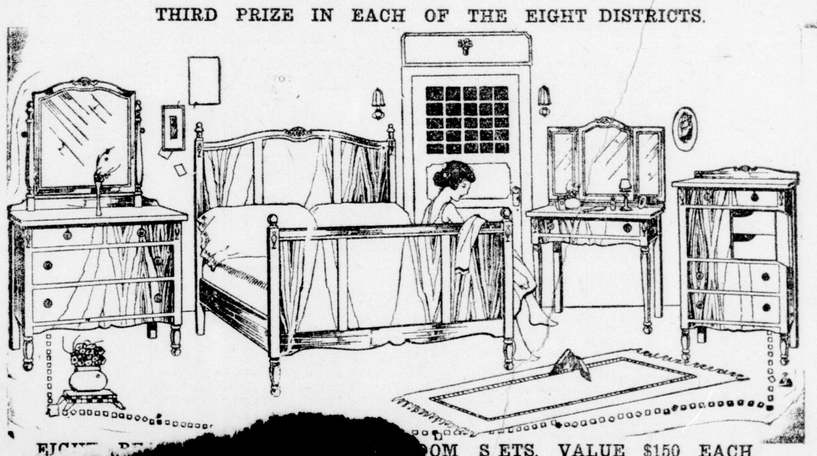

Second Prize in Each of the 8 Districts

A contest such as is being conducted by The London Advertiser is sufficient to attract unbounded attention, but the offer of a piano the calibre of the Henry Herbert Piano, manufactured by the old and established firm of Mason & Risch, Limited, Toronto, was bound to create unlimited enthusiasm.

It is little wonder, therefore, that the local Mason & Risch branch daily have contestants call to see these beautiful instruments, which are on display at the firm's local warerooms, 248 Dundas street.

A piano selling at $400.00 constructed on the principle of a Grand is this instrument—height 4 ft. 6 in., depth 2 ft. 3 in., length 5 ft. 3 in., built in either Mahogany, Walnut, Fumed Oak or Mission Oak cases. The winner of same in her respective district is sure to be proud of her prize and feel more than repaid for her effort when Canada's premier piano is delivered at her home.

REAWAKENING NEEDED.

F. F. PARDEE, M.P., asks: "Does the thought ever strike us that very possibly the Canadian people are commencing to take this war as a matter of course? Do we not need an awakening?"

We, as a people, are beginning to take the struggle as a matter of course. It has continued so long that a great many regard the war news, appeals for the Red Cross, etc., with no more interest than they read the doings of the city or township councils. It is a condition that is almost inevitable while we are so far removed from the theatre of war, and unable to realize thoroughly what is being done.

Yet it is a condition that must be fought and overcome. The battle is just as deadly to those on the firing lines as ever; the need of comforts for soldiers, of ammunition, of socks, bandages, medicines is increasing, and the call for more men is urgent. If this lethargy extended to the men at the front, it would mean defeat instead of ultimate victory, but they are as much in earnest today, as keen and as ready to obey orders as they were in 1915, and those at home must renew their enthusiasm, take a deeper interest in every phase of war work and be as ready to spend themselves as are those in France if success is to be assured.

DEVELOPMENT OF NATIONALISM IN QUEBEC.

WHAT point is there in Quebec Nationalism other than secession? But why has this secession spirit sprung up? Did it not become noticeable at the time of the Boer War and the new immigration? The census of 1901 showed a relative gain for Quebec in the population of Canada, as the exodus had depleted the English provinces more, while the birth rate was high in Quebec. The idea had begun to germinate that Quebec might yet dominate Canada, pushing its population northward, eastward and westward into the other provinces. But the British character of Laurier's policy on the one hand, and on the other the alarming extent of the non-French immigration, the filling of the Northwest, the checks imposed in various provinces upon the aggressive and ambitious French movement, and finally the revelation in the census of 1911 that French-Canadians, and their religion too, were definitely losing ground, comparatively speaking, all this turned the idea of domination into one of practical secession, a determination to consider Quebec alone, and to have no part in the British Empire.

The shameful alliance of mouthpatriot Borden in 1911 with the disloyal and virtually secessionist, anti-Laurier French faction greatly strengthened its hold. The admission of its leaders to cabinet positions was an act of treason to Canada and the Empire. It encouraged the Nationalist element to go on and prosper—anything to beat Laurier, the honorable and patriotic leader, our one statesman.

And now there is even open talk of forcible resistance in Quebec to Canadian law. Things will probably not come to that. But such talk is disconcerting, and may be dangerous. When South Carolina talked in 1832 of resisting or "nullifying" a federal law within its borders, the thing passed over without much trouble, but thirty years later there was trouble enough, nullification being the first stage of secession and civil war. We must try to avoid such divisions in Canada while there is plenty of time. The blunders of Bordenism have to be cleaned up.

RAID ESSEN AND KIEL.

OVER a year ago H. G. Wells, the English novelist, suggested that a most effective blow could be dealt Germany if an Allied air raid, on an immense scale, were made on Essen, the home of Krupps, and the Kiel Canal. He advised that 1,000 or more airplanes be used in the raid, and pointed out that the loss, even if half of them were destroyed, would be more than compensated for if the great munition works or the hiding place of the German fleet could be seriously damaged or made useless. Beyond some newspaper comment, little attention was given the idea at that time.

Now a correspondent of an American paper voices a similar suggestion, believing that Germany would soon sue for peace if the plan succeeded.

Time has made the possibilities of this scheme appear greater. From the front all accounts agree that the Allies dominate the air, and have assumed a mastery like that held over the seas. In this they are confirmed by letters written by German soldiers telling their relatives that the Teuton airmen are helpless, and even unable to direct artillery fire. This being so, it would appear a not too difficult matter to organize a raid along the lines mentioned which would have an excellent chance of achieving really big results. Already German warships sheltering at Zeebrugge have been forced out to sea by airplane attacks, and it might be just as easy, if larger numbers were employed, to drive out the greater fleet from Kiel. Once out to sea, the British navy could be trusted to see that the ships did not escape lightly.

At Essen, showers of bombs from some hundreds of airplanes, would reduce the great works to a rubbish pile, and cripple Germany seriously, besides having an unnerving effect on the populace. As Wells pointed out, the loss in life and aircraft, even if unexampled ill-luck attended the raid, would not be as heavy as that frequently sustained in an effort to capture one salient held by the foe, in land fighting; there would not be more than two men to a machine, which would mean 2,000 men and 1,000 airships engaged.

The United States is about to begin building aircraft at the rate of 2,000 a month, and it would not be surprising if this plan has been adopted with some tremendous raids in view. Perhaps we may yet receive word that Essen and Kiel have been shattered like Louvain and Rheims, and that by a few hundreds of intrepid flyers.

CUBA GOT OUR POTATOES.

CANADIANS who have been potato hungry during the past winter or early spring, and who have found the prices too high for them to pay, may console themselves with the thought that their loss has been the Cubans' gain, if they can find any consolation in the fact, for Canadian exports of the tuber to Cuba during the season were more than two and a half times as large as ever before.

This interesting information is contained in the report of J. C. Manzer, Dominion Department of Trade and Commerce representative in Havana. Writing to Ottawa on May 25, he says that the steamer Limon, from Boston, with considerable quantities of Canadian potatoes was being unloaded and that other steamers which were to have left Boston for Havana with Canadian products, mainly potatoes, were just waiting for the end of the strike at the Cuban port. Giving some statistics of the potato imports from Canada, he says there have been received 400,000 packages, which sold in Cuba for over $2,500,000, and that this is the first season the shipments have exceeded $1,000,000 in value. The price paid at Havana for the potatoes was $11 a sack of 180 pounds, or $5.50 for the sack of 90 pounds, which is the size used here.

We have heard contradictory stories, some declaring the potato crop a failure last year and others denying this, and pointing to the large exports as causing the shortage and high price. The evidence from Cuba points to the latter statement as the true one.

TUBERCULOSIS AND WAR.

FAMINE and tuberculosis are said to have carried off hundreds of thousands of Russian prisoners in Germany, who are receiving less than half a pound of bread each day, with some unwholesome potatoes and bad coffee. The two afflictions go hand-in-hand; lack of nutritious food causes the rundown condition of body which throws the door wide open to tuberculosis' attack.

When the results of the terrible world war are tabulated, one of the most disheartening and terrible will be the enormous increase in tuberculous people. In parts of France, in Serbia, in Belgium, Russia, Germany food has been scarce, and of poor quality, and the white plague has worked havoc. Even in the British army, fed and cared for as no army ever was before, the toll has been heavy, so what has it been in other armies?

Not content with permitting the spread of the disease, the Germans are said to have encouraged it, injecting germs into helpless prisoners of war and forcing those whose health was good to eat, to work and to sleep with the infected in order that they might contract it.

Years of labor and thought have been expended in trying to find a cure for the terrible malady, and some measure of success had been attained. Now the disease is more rampant than ever in Europe, and the danger of increase fearful. This is another thought which may lend its horrors to the kaiser's waking moments, if he yet has soul and brain.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Members of parliament are now to have forenoon sittings. They'll soon be doing a real day's work.

Ex-Queen Sophie will have a chance to speak out freely when she reaches Germany, and the Allies' ears will surely burn.

It would be interesting to see the ex-czar placed on trial in Russian courts, but rather like kicking a man when he's down.

The "Knights of Death" are to fight conscription, by armed resistance if other means fail. They should be called the Courters of Death.

Germans declare they are fighting for the freedom of the seas. Judging by reports from the front they will have to fight next for freedom of the skies.

Without conscription, Canada would soon be, apart from the British-born recruits, not much more enthusiastic an assistant of the mother country than the United States.

It seems strange that a decision as to whether the Canadian militia act empowered the Government to send troops abroad was not reached when the act was passed.

The fact that there are 10,000,000,000 men of prime fighting age in the United States probably shocks Bill Hohenzollern as much as it does Pancho Villa.—Quebec Telegraph.

Most people thought there were only 10,000,000, honestly.

What a chance for increasing collections the synod missed by refusing to let women be church wardens! That spring millinery which the bishop fears would have aided in dragging the coin from men's pockets.

NOTHING FOR YALE.

By Oscar Hobace.

When old Josiah Hardman was sixty years old he became the guardian of little Rose Stevens, who was a distant relative of his. When he died she was nineteen years old. The old man was pretty rich, and most people called him eccentric.

In making his will he proved that they were right. In fact, if they had called him a half fool they would not have been far from the truth.

Old Josiah left his ward half a million dollars. He left his housekeeper, who was also the chaperone, a fifth of that sum. He left three brothers small fortunes each, and then proceeded to reveal his idiocy. He had a nephew named Earl Windham. He had not seen nor directly heard from this nephew in twenty years. He had heard in a roundabout way that Earl lived in Boston and was an oculist and not married yet at the age of twenty-three. He had been told that Mr. Windham was a smart and steady young man, and that was all he had to go on.

The old man was not a matchmaker, but he proceeded to meddle with the business. Whether his ward wanted to marry a man with red hair or black did not make any difference to him. She might marry a man of twenty-five or an old man of seventy, so far as he knew her mind. In his will he left a million dollars to be inherited in this way. If Mr. Earl Windham married Miss Rose Stevens within a year the money was to come to them as a bridal gift. If they did not marry, it was to go to Yale College. That was the up and down of it. The lawyer who drew the will vowed that it could not be broken.

Here was eccentricity with a vengeance. Miss Rose had never seen Earl, and his name had never been mentioned in her hearing, but two or three times. Young Mr. Windham had heard that Rose was the ward of his uncle, but nothing further. He never felt called upon to visit old Josiah, and, consequently, he had never seen the girl.

The young man was in California when he read in a newspaper that his uncle was dead and had left a strange sort of will. His first thought was of defiance. His uncle had no business to leave things in that manner. Mr. Windham wasn't going to permit an uncle or anybody else to bribe him into taking a wife. He was fairly well to do and getting along nicely in his profession, and he said to himself that Yale might get the money and be hanged to it.

Miss Rose felt a spirit of defiance as well. She could live nicely on that half million, and she wasn't going to marry any man for the sake of any more. She had some curiosity about Mr. Windham, but she didn't care much whether she ever saw him or not. She imagined him to have light thin hair, a receding chin, shiny blue eyes and to be a sort of invalid, and her love should not go to any man like that.

Six months of the year had gone by and the young oculist had wrestled many times with himself. Half a million dollars was an enviable sum. It might just happen that old Josiah's ward was a fine girl, and that Earl would lose a good thing if he lost her. Why not at least go east and see her. He could do it without revealing his identity. If he did not like the look of her he could walk off and let the time expire and let Yale get the money. Mr. Windham kept saying to himself that he had no curiosity whatever on the subject, but he felt it a sort of duty to the girl. She ought to know whether that half million dollars was going to Yale or not. She might be fretting and stewing over it, and it was hardly a manly thing to keep her in that situation. Therefore Mr. Windham packed his bag one day and started for the east.

Miss Rose Stevens lived in a fine house in the city. The day of his arrival Mr. Windham went and looked at the house. The exterior pleased his eye, but he did not muster up courage to walk up the steps and ring the bell. He waited until the afternoon of the next day, and then he had a strong inclination to run away before the bell could be answered. It so happened, as it does hoppen in the best of houses at odd times, that the butler had been sent on an errand, and there was no one about to answer the bell except Rose herself. When she opened the door it was to see a fine young man standing there. Mr. Windham had forgotten his card case, but he introduced himself by his proper name, and the girl, who had forgotten about such a name, smiled and said:

"Oh, you've come to inspect the water and gas pipes, have you? They generally send a man here every three months. Come right in, and I will go over the house with you."

"But I am not an inspector," was the confused reply.

"Were you sent to see about the leak in the roof? It ought to have been fixed a week ago."

"I—I don't think I was."

"You didn't want to see Miss Johnson, did you? Because if you do, she has gone out for the day, and you will have to call again. Will you call?"

Mr. Windham felt as if someone had given him knockout drops. The girl before him did not understand. He had pictured her wrongly to himself. He was not agreeably surprised to find her what she was. He hesitated for a moment, and then turned and went slowly down the steps. Before he reached the bottom one she came out and called to him:

"Oh, someone has left our can of ashes right by the steps. It was a careless trick and I shall complain about it. Won't you please move the can a little as you go out?"

Mr. Windham raised his hat and, when he reached the can, he moved it out of the way, and felt so angry and humiliated over things in general that he got out of the neighborhood as soon as possible. He walked around for an hour, and then went back with a card in his hand, and was properly announced.

"Oh, it's you come back, is it?" greeted Rose as he was received. "Why on earth didn't you tell me your name? I guess I didn't hear it correctly. Now, then, Mr. Windham, you have come about that half-million dollars. You have come to look me over. You want to see if I am worth the money?"

"Oh, no," he repled.

"Let us be honest," she said. "I have wondered sometimes what sort of looking man you were, and what sort of husband you would make, and you must have wondered more or less about me. Here we are face to face, and now what are we going to do about it?"

"Why—why, I don't think that mon... ought to go to Yale," he answered w... a woman's blush spreading all over ... face.

"You are a very prompt young ... but I cannot be so prompt. I ... stay around for a week or t... here every day—but I warn ... vance that, if we get that h... dollars, half of it goes in th... my name."

Now that it has been settled that women are people, will somebody please explain why is a suffragette?

Rev. J. G. Inkster warned against the tyranny of women. It takes a married man to speak feelingly on this subject. Gadzooks, there will be trouble over this.

Canada could sing that pathetic ballad to Sir Robert Borden, Sam Hughes and others "You Made Me What I am Today, I Hope You're Satisfied."

The political parties today are showing much catch-as-catch-can spirit. There is little discipline anywhere.

The hardest lesson in the world to learn is that one is growing old. The conductor tried to play ball the other day, and in his crippled condition he is getting little sympathy from friend wife. Tuff world.

Ex-King Constantine's favorite ballad these days is "Sympathy." He has to have the German words and music, too.

As there is no simple test to distinguish mushrooms from toadstools, we would advise everybody not to monkey with toadstools at all. Simple, is it not?

The only sorrow over the dumping of ex-King Constantine was manufactured in Berlin, Germany.

The sob journalists are doing a lot of stuff regarding the stand of politicians at Ottawa. The weep stuff is all right at a funeral, but it does not get much elsewhere. If they were so interested in principles, why weep over them?

An Ohio baby is said to have weighed 22½ pounds at its birth. That kid's father who tells the story must be quite an angler.

For a baby republic, that Russia is the squally thing. Nobody seems to be able to make it behave.

* * *

A New York man shot his wife because she would not give him $6. Probably she deserved to be shot for having such a husband.

* * *

Ex-King Constantine will be able to give some good advice on not marrying all the wife's relations.

* * *

The Germans are said to be preparing some "surprise" inventions. Probably they intend to quit killing women and children.

* * *

The King of Spain is having some trouble with the nation of bull fighters, and it looks as if he might be tossed out of the arena.

* * *

If Sir Robert Borden still wants to decorate folks, he should have Sevigny invested with the Ancient Order of the Fat Head. He's qualified.

* * *

Currie's Canucks will do a little better than the Byng boys, which is doing quite a something.

* * *

Inspector Keenleyside might deliver a lecture on the subject, "Strong Drink Is Raging."

* * *

War may cause a better distribution of money, as some folks believe, the only trouble being that there won't be much money.

* * *

Fighting with gab at Ottawa does not lead one to believe that there is such a crisis as the politicians would have us believe. Less talk, and more "pep" would do all right.

* * *

Let's get together. Plenty of opportunity here for leadership.

WORTHY OF IRON CROSS.

[New York Herald.]

The German who "discovered" the documentary evidence used in the Prussian White Book to prove that Belgians fired on the kaiser's soldiers is a drunkard, a morphine fiend and a moral degenerate, all this being proved in a German court, where he was convicted of extorting $30,000 from the mother of a soldier. In other words, he was a typical product of Prussian Kultur.

"We have used 'Fruit-a-tives' in our house for over three years and have always found them a good medicine. Our little girl, Hattie, was troubled with Kidney Disease. The doctor said she was threatened with Dropsy. Her limbs and body were all swollen and we began to think she could not live. Finally, we decided to try 'Fruit-a-tives.' She began to show improvement after we had given her a few tablets. In a short time, the swelling had all gone down and her flesh began to look more natural. Now she is the healthiest one in the family and has no signs of the old ailment. We cannot say too much for 'Fruit-a-tives' and would never be without them."

SUFFERED WITH HEART FOR TEN YEARS

Would Nearly Smother.

There is nothing that brings with it such fear of impending death as to wake up in the night with that awful sense of smothering. The uncertain and irregular heart action causes the greatest distress of both mind and body.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the only remedy that can give prompt relief and effect a complete cure in cases of such severity.

They strengthen and invigorate the heart, so that it beats strong and regular, and tone up the nervous system so that the cause of so much anxiety becomes a thing of the past.

Mrs. M. O. McCready, Wapalla, Sask., writes: "I am not much of a believer in medicines, but I feel that it is only right for me to let you know what your wonderful remedy has done for me, and in a very short time, too. I had suffered terribly with my heart for nearly ten years, could scarcely do any work, and would nearly smother at times. I had many remedies, some only relieving me for a time. I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and felt so much better that I kept on using them, and can truthfully say I feel like a new woman.

"I would advise anyone with heart trouble to use them."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c or three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The Modern Metal Bed

—THE BED FOR ALL TIME

Of all the articles that make up the modern home, the Metal Bed is the most durable and the least expensive.

Pianos lose their sweetness of tone; rugs wear thin; Chesterfields become uncomfortable; wooden beds warp, crack and shrink; but the Modern Metal Bed is the same strong, sturdy, handsome bed after a lifetime of use.

"IDEAL" METAL BEDS

are happy blends of strength and artistic beauty. They are light enough to be easily moved and taken apart, yet are so strong that no part can possibly work loose. They are the cleanest and most sanitary of all beds, and not affected by changes in climate, as all wooden beds must be.

The complete range of designs in "Ideal" Metal Beds—in four standard sizes—insures all tastes being suited.

Help to Solve Percy's Perplexing Problem

MARY'S letter is surely a puzzler. She has so mixed up the letters in the names of things she would like Percy to give her for her birthday gift that they spell something different entirely. Sometimes she has even made two or three words out of one name, as in number nine, which undoubtedly is "Diamond Ring."

Each of the names in Mary's letter represents a present that any girl would like to receive for her birthday. You know one of them; now try to solve the remaining names, and when you do, re-write Mary's letter, substituting what you consider the correct names and send your solution to us. In this interesting contest we offer

PERCY'S PLAN WILL HELP YOU

THE first thing Percy did was to walk through the stores and make a list of all the things that would make nice presents for a girl, so that he could compare his lists with Mary's and see how many names would fit the puzzling words. He was surprised to find the number of nice things one could get for a girl, for very soon his list contained the following: Sewing set, umbrella, wrist watch, silk waist, manicure set, jewel case, kid gloves, lace handkerchiefs, napkin ring, earrings, silver thimble, diamond ring, candy, photo frame, necklace, books, bracelet, slippers, card case, travelling bag, purse, brooch, shawl, toilet set, perfume, flowers, set of furs, lace collar, etc., etc. These suggested presents may help you. Get a pencil and paper and try!

How to Send Your Answers

USE one side of the paper only in writing out Mary's letter and keep it the same in form as given above, careful in substituting your solution of the proper names in place of the jumbled ones. In the lower left hand corner instead of the postscript put your full name (stating Mr., Miss or Mrs.) and your full address. Anything else must be written on a separate sheet of paper. Do not send fancy, drawn or typewritten answers. A contestant may send as many as three sets of answers to the puzzle but only one set may win a prize, and not more than one prize will be awarded in any family. Entry to the contest is barred to all employees of this Company and their relatives.

A PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letter can be answered privately.]

Garden Grows Fine.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I am again. I was afraid to venture back, as "Mrs. Farmer" sat on me hard. Well, I am bringing a little help this time. saw where someone had iron rust on white goods. If she uses oxalic acid, scalded, and rinses well with hot and cold water, the stain will disappear. I see where some one sent in a war cake recipe, so I will send in mine. We like this cake very much. I wonder if any of the pageites could tell me how many stitches to set up a child's stocking, about 5 years old?

Well, my garden stuff is growing. Our peas are in blossom and the potato bugs numerous. My little girls think it fun to pick off the bugs.

A while ago I asked if anyone had a recipe for saffron cake. I don't think there were any sent in. My husband had some while in England, and I would like to make some to send to him. I send him The Advertiser after I have read it, but he doesn't always get it.

Well, I must close, or this will find the W. F. B., which would be an awful calamity, so here goes. With best wishes to all.

4TH BATT. S. WIFE.

Ans.—There were two responses in answer to your request for saffron cake, and I am sorry you failed to see them, especially so as I do not find the clipping of either.

Can anybody send a hint re the childie's stocking?

Send Your Address.

"Helpallyoucan"—I'm still holding some recitations sent for you by "Buttercup." A stamp will insure their speedy mailing!

Worthy of Kindness.

Miss Grey,—From time to time I read in the Mail-Box of lonely soldiers' names wanted. I have known this young man for a few years and know him worthy of kindness. I have a soldier boy in the same battalion.

MRS. X.

Ans.—It is surely something to be thought "worthy of kindness." I am sure some reader will want to "adopt" this lad.

Where, Oh, Where?

Miss Cynthia Grey.—Here I am again. How are all the Pageites?

1. Where can you get music lessons free?
2. Also drawing lessons by mail?
3. What day did January 26, 1900, come on?

Well, I will close, with love to all Pageites. Thanking you in advance.

SWEET HAWTHORNE.

Ans.—But "Hawthorne" dear, I really do not know where one can get free music lessons, and could not print the addresses here if I did. Study up various magazines and you may find advertisements of what you wish.

2. A Friday.

For "Saucy Kate."

Dear Cynthia,—A few months ago I saw a letter from "Saucy Kate" offering to exchange some good comic recitations. If that offer still holds good, I would like to correspond with "Saucy Kate." Inclosed find stamped addressed envelope. WOBBLES.

Ans.—"Saucy Kate," please let us know. I have "Wobbles'" address.

For "English Genevieve."

Dear Miss Grey,—I see "English Genevieve" has accepted the offer of boy's middy suit pattern. I think if you sent me her address I could send it direct to her and save you the trouble. As before,

ONE FROM OLD ENGLAND.

Ans.—The address has been forwarded you with pleasure. Thanks for your kindness in loaning the pattern.

For Her Husband.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am sending my husband's name and number. May be somebody would like to send him a box once in a while. I can't send him so very much, for it takes so much to keep the children fed and clothed nowadays. I am sure he will be more than glad to receive them. Yours truly,

SOLDIER'S WIFE.

Please would you like a snap of this soldier's kiddies?

Ans.—I have a little "photo gallery" of quite a few Page kiddies, so the little "soldiers" will be quite welcome if you send along the snap. Shall also see that the address is taken care of.

Hair and Terraces.

Dear Miss Grey,—This is the first time I have visited your Mail-Box, and I am coming for help where there are so many kind hearts ready to help the needy. My trouble is this. For the last four or five weeks spots about the size of a copper have appeared on head, and the hair has dropped off, leaving the scalp as smooth as glass. If anyone can tell what is the cause and a cure, I will be very grateful.

2. If anyone can give directions how to build a terrace around a house, I will be much obliged. Will sign myself

ANXIOUS.

Ans.—Would advise you going at once if possible to a scalp specialist for examination and treatment. The spots may result in baldness if something is not done to check the falling of hair. Has any reader had a similar experience?

2. I am hoping some of our gardening experts will come to the rescue and give the information. "Irish from Sarnia, can you give any help."

"Curly Nig" Again.

Dear Miss Grey,—Saw in the paper where "Lover of Crocheting" wished my address to send me some crochet patterns. Sorry she could not do butterfly by written directions, but if she sends me her address when she sends crochet patterns, I'll send her a pattern of butterfly if she likes. I have a couple more patterns of butterflies, but they are for insertions and lace.

"Scottie Frae Dundee" will sure get some letters if everyone writes that got his address.

If the reader that wished to get a book explaining different stitches in crocheting would send me her address I could get her one, as I intend going soon to the same place where I got the one I have for myself, so hope she sees this from CURLY NIG.

Ans.—The address has been sent to "L. of C.," so I hope you will shortly be in direct communication. Two clippings giving directions and a pictured chart were received for forest, so maybe she will not need to trouble you. The offer is kind, though.

A Fairy God-Mother.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have been an interested reader of your Page for some time, so I wonder if there is room for another member? The letters are so cheery and helpful in a good many ways. I wonder if there is any soldier lad who does not get letters and would like to hear from a soldier's sister? My brother says the boys do appreciate letters so much, and it seems a small thing for us to do, for those who are doing so much for us. I am ashamed of myself when I think of others knitting and I don't even know how, but I am going to learn. I have a god-son in England. Of course you have heard of the "Fairy God-Mother's League." We write letters every three weeks and send parcels, and they do seem to enjoy getting them. Well I'm sure I have talked too long, so I will stop. Am inclosing stamped addressed envelope, so if you know of a lonely lad, will you please send me his address, and I will write him. Wishing you and the Page every success. I remain, yours sincerely,

SISTER SUE.

Ans.—There's always room in our Mail-Box for a "Soldier's Sister Sue." Tell us more about the "Fairy God-mothers," won't you? Personally I know next to nothing about it, and it sounds so interesting. The name and address has been sent you.

Attention, Geraldine!

Geraldine:—The address is still the same, or was a month or so ago. I scarcely think the person in question will dare use your name without permission, as it was given in all confidence. Am sure he would be liable for damage suits if he did so. Let me know how you fare, won't you?

Technical and Art.

Keith—1. Scarcely think so, for this reason. You might graduate in technical subjects of one kind and another and not be qualified to enter an "arts" class, where the studies would be so very different.

2. Usually at least one or more years at a collegiate is required, then special courses at a training school. There are two or three schools in Toronto in connection with various religious bodies.

3. Writing is fairly good.

Canning Without Sugar.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have not noticed a recipe for canned beans as I can mine; and I have given several people a taste of them, and they all think they are fine, and are doing them down themselves now. I hope this is what "Brown-Eyed Betty" is looking for.

String and cut into inch lengths; boil them until about half tender, then to every four quarts of beans add half pint of salt; boil ten minutes longer, put into sealers and cover well with the liquor in which they were boiled. When using, drain and boil in fresh water and season to taste.

I am also inclosing a sheet of crochet directions for "Frest" (June 18).

I see in this morning's paper where "Tina" is asking about putting fruit down without sugar. I tried two quarts of peaches last year and they were just like fresh. I poured boiling water over them, that was to peel them, and after sterilizing the bottles I filled them to the neck with the fruit and then filled them to overflowing with water and sealed them, and when I used them this spring I drained the water into a granite kettle and put just enough white sugar to sweeten it and boiled it up once, then poured that syrup over the fruit. I intend to do the biggest part of my fruit down this way this year. I was undecided which department to send these two recipes to, whether to the Mail-Box or Consumers' League, so I will let you decide for me, or if you think it might benefit more people by putting them into both departments you are at perfect liberty to do so.

I noticed also that "Mrs. Gay" sent in a croup cure that is a sure cure, as my mother used to give me the same dose. As ever, MYSTERY.

Ans.—"Mystery" or not, your very practical help is exceedingly appreciated. I was selfish, you see, and used your recipes on "our" page, largely because "Tina's" query appeared there and she may look for an answer in the same place. You are a real Mail-Box friend, "Mystery."

SALADS

Banana Salad—Take one-half cup of walnut meats, chop, and dry on brown paper near heat; have mayonnaise dressing ready; peel bananas and cut in two crosswise, lay lettuce or other greens on salad plates; roll bananas in dressing, then in chopped nuts, lay on greens, and put candied cherries (or preserved cherries squeezed free of juice) one at a time in a row on top of bananas.

Potato Salad—Six medium-sized potatoes boiled and diced, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley or celery, ten drops of onion juice, one large fresh cucumber diced, one teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful pepper, six tablespoonfuls melted butter and four tablespoonfuls vinegar. Stand in refrigerator until ready to serve, then mixed with enough cooked dressing to make palatable. Garnish and serve. In winter, one-half cup chopped walnuts or one cup of celery, chopped fine, may be substituted for the cucumber. This may be garnished with hard-boiled eggs.

Dressing — One-quarter tablespoon salt, ½ teaspoon mustard, 1½ tablespoons flour, 2 eggs (yolks only), 1½ tablespoons melted butter, ¾ cup milk, ¼ cup vinegar. Mix dry ingredients, add yolks of eggs slightly beaten, butter, milk and vinegar very slowly. Cook over boiling water until mixture thickens. Thin this mixture with cream and vinegar and pour over layers of cold boiled potatoes, sliced with a little raw onion, and hard-boiled eggs. Half of the quantity will make enough for a nice salad bowl full.

A "FOULARD" SEASON

America, evidently, has made up its mind to accept foulard, and no wonder, for it is an admirable fabric for the warm weather of the continent from now until October. But, mind you, foulard is no Cinderella of material, sitting in the ashes. It is on a pedestal. For brilliant afternoon gowns, and even informal evening frocks that will serve for the theatre when one is not attached to a large party, the new kind of foulard is used, says the Fashion Review.

There is one most satisfying frock in it—designed right in New York, by the way, in a deep, sparkling blue on which is stamped a huge silver flower at wide intervals. There are two skirts, in the modern manner, the lower one narrow and plain, the upper one draped in a deeply pointed tunic, also plain.

The slim bodice that clings to the figure is cut in a square decollete and its whole surface is covered with loosely draped tucks of dark blue chiffon, which are mounted over a silver lace band across the chest and turned into a neck drapery.

VALUE OF FISH.

In these days of the high cost of everything, we read a good deal about the economic value of fish as a food for frequent use. In the United States the Government has issued a book-circular, which has been sent broadcast over the country, urging people to eat more fish, and giving housewives recipes for cooking various kinds.

There are many little points to observe in the preparing and cooking of fish for the table that every housewife may not know. To these the following may be of interest:

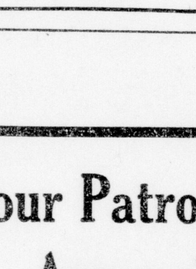

Do not let fish soak in water, as that extracts the juices and detracts from the food value of the fish. While uncooked fish should be kept very cool in warm weather, do not let it touch the ice, as that is apt to soften the fish. Do not place in refrigerator near milk or butter.

If fish are dipped into hot water for a minute they will scale much easier. As soon as fish are cleaned, wash once or twice, and sprinkle salt around it well before placing in a cool spot. The salt helps to check the outflow of juices.

Fish is highly nitrogenous and requires an abundant use of starchy food in combination with it to give a sufficient amount of heat-giving material. In baking fish, dredge it well with flour before placing in the bake-pan, and taste often. This prevents the skin cracking.

RED ALLEN WAS EASY FOR FLEMING

QUEBEC, June 22.—Franklie Fleming, Canadian featherweight champion, made a chopping block of "Red" Allen, the Brooklyn scrapper, before the Irish-Canadian Club here tonight. Allen weighed 148 and Fleming 125. The bout was to have been a ten-round affair, but Allen failed to make 138 pounds, and Fleming, rather than disappoint the crowd, agreed to fight six rounds. And he certainly fought all the way, treating the crowd to a fine display. Allen did his best to land a knockout, but took a bad lacing from the little fellow.

SOUTH BEND GIRL WINS AT BAY CITY

Hoosier Mare Takes Feature Pace — Jim Thorpe Breaks Leg.

BAY CITY, June 22.—Today was Red Cross day at the Michigan "shortship" meeting, and owners as well as the public contributed freely.

The feature was the 2:13 pace for a $1,000 purse, in which twelve candidates faced the flag. Five heats were necessary to decide, and first money went to Southbend Girl. The Hoosier mare took two heats to warm up property, but after that had no trouble in keeping well in front, taking the last three heats.

In the first event, the 2:24 trot, Jim Thorpe, a Detroit-owned gelding, fell and broke a leg. The accident happened just as the horses were going into the stretch in the first half. An effort is being made to save the animal. The race otherwise was uneventful, Directress banks, a Tiffin, Ohio, Ohio mare and favorite in the pools, winning in straight heats. The card and the race was called off.

CANADIAN SYSTEM OF SPORTS TO BE RULE IN UNITED STATES ARMY

Dominion Organization of Games To Be Followed by Americans.

By Robert Edgren.

Washington, June —.—I have just been among the whirling wheels and cogs of the American war machine. The people of Europe and those Americans who thought it would take years for the American giant to rouse himself will be surprised within the next few months. The giant is up on his toes. He is wide awake and determined. Above all he is actively up-to-date in the methods of his training and preparation for war. Every modern idea that has been tried out in the past two or three years, the past two or three months, or weeks, or days, is being seized and tested. We'll have no obsolete training methods in THIS war.

The Americans of the North—the Canadians—went into the war exactly as we are going into it. Their people were like our people, peaceful citizens of good stock, and except for a small minority, untrained in military affairs. Yet the Canadians, from the first heroic fighting of the famous "Princess Pats" to the taking of Vimy ridge, have been second to none on the firing line. Today they are counted among the strongest, most enduring most aggressive troops that have taken part in the great war.

And one of the most important factors in Canadian military preparation has been active athletic sport, both in the training camps and at the front.

The men who more than any others have been active in the athletic side of Canada's military training are Col. Greer and Capt. Tom Flanagan of the Athletes' Battalion. Col. Greer, a prominent lawyer of Toronto, whose military experience began with the war, has given his trained intelligence to the problems of organization, while Capt. Flanagan has furnished the wide knowledge of athletics and of men gained in years of promoting professional and amateur sport.

England Has Adopted Flanagan's Idea.

The athletic side of Canada's military training was so tremendously successful that England has adopted the Canadian methods in every detail. In fact, English authorities speak unofficially of the work as the "Flanagan system." Capt. Flanagan doesn't speak of it that way. He regards himself as only one of the cogs—not even one of the important cogs—in the great machine. It is the same with Col. Greer.

Knowing the importance of the work carried on by those two officers and their associates, the Evening World invited Col. Greer and Capt. Flanagan to come to this country for the purpose of giving Americans the benefit of their experience. The invitation was accepted.

Col. Greer, Capt. Flanagan and I went to Washington.

The capital is the busiest city on this continent. The president and the secretary of war have every minute of their time occupied with military problems. But our Government is no one-man affair today. There are commissions to handle every detail. The commission that covers athletic work in the army is known as the commission on training camp activities. In a certain building there are offices for this work—extremely busy offices. There are no banners or signs outside to announce the importance of the work done there. Over the outer door is a small brass plate, with the name of the commission on it in small black letters. Inside, after passing through a room filled with hustling stenographers, we found Chairman of the Commission Raymond Fosdick, the man who has been appointed by the secretary of war to have charge of all vocational and recreation affairs for the soldiers.

Commissioner Fosdick Full of Enthusiasm.

Commissioner Fosdick is typical of the American war government. He is young enough to be full of pep and enthusiasm, yet he is a man of wide experience. He made a great record as commissioner of accounts in New York City. He is tall, athletic, keen, up to the minute. And he, too, regards himself only as a cog in the great machine. He is a "we" man, not an "I" man.

"We know all about you and your work," he said quickly as he shook hands with the Canadian visitors. "We have been studying the results of your athletic organization in Canada and in England. We have already begun working on similar lines, and we will be very glad to have any assistance you can give us."

HAY CROP LATE.

ILDERTON, June 22.—It is expected that the hay will be quite heavy, but about two weeks later than usual this season, as even clover has not yet headed out. Fall wheat and oats look well, but will be somewhat later than usual.

The apple crop through the district will be light, as on the few trees that showed any vermin have little fruit.

AGAIN in Montreal.

THE Chicago traffic test has been beaten by the Canadian Chalmers. This time the run was made on high gear through the crowded traffic of Montreal.

In 24 hours of steady driving, the low and intermediate gears removed, not a stop for the motor, the Chalmers ran up a mileage of 590.7. This beats the famous Chicago test by 4 miles. In spite of the constant stopping at crossings and slowing down, the gasoline gave an average of over 20 miles to the gallon.

This car was a stock 5-passenger Chalmers, the comfortable Chalmers, so much admired for its luxurious finish and smart design.

Here is a further proof of the smooth-running of the Chalmers Motor, its wide flexibility, its vast reserves of power for hills and heavy roads.

In Detroit a slow-speed test was made. High gear again. Speed never exceeded 3 miles an hour. 71.7 miles were travelled in the 24 hours. 12 miles to the imperial gallon.

In Grand Rapids a non-stop test was made on high gear, running up 603 miles in 24 hours.

These tests prove flexibility beyond question. They prove the fine action of the Chalmers under most trying conditions. They prove the cooling, the oiling, the economy.

But, in Minneapolis and St. Paul came the supreme test of the lubrication and and cooling. The Chalmers ran for 24 hours on LOW GEAR without Motor stop. 257 miles; using only 3 quarts of oil, 4 gallons of water; 8.8 miles to the gallon of gasoline.

This is the sort of car your Chalmers will prove for you. Test it yourself. Any time.

THREE MORE LIBERALS DEMAND COMPULSION; WEALTH TO BE TAXED

White Promises to Mulct the Rich Shirker.

MINISTRY WELL SCORED

Blunders in Killing Recruiting Shown Uy by Debate at Ottawa.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, June 22.—This was conscription day in Parliament. Five men spoke; two of them were Conservative, three of them were Liberal. All of them announced that they would vote for the Government's compulsory service bill and against the referendum amendment.

Hon. George P. Graham was the first of the Liberals. He declared that the Government had not done as well as it might have done with volunteering, but the mistake had now to be repaired by the application of compulsion. Therefore he would vote for the bill. He predicted a general election that would give the people the opportunity of passing upon the question.

Sir Thomas White intimated that there should be more war taxation, and gave the House to understand that in his next taxation plan he would get after the wealthy shirker.

Cockshutt Warns Government.

W. F. Cockshutt, Conservative, was for the conscription of men as well as the control of food and fuel. He told the Government that if it did not apply all of these measures promptly and thoroughly they would soon be without his support.

E. W. Nesbitt, Liberal, was extremely critical of what the Government had done, but would vote for the second reading of the bill. He might vote against it on the third reading if the Government did not show some determination in the matter of conscription of wealth.

W. S. Buchanan, Liberal, was for conscription and income tax.

The debate goes into next week with both a division and morning sittings coming. The end of the session is not in sight for the Government today permitted the Senate to go home until July 9.

So far the tone of the debate has been kept within bounds of moderation, and it is now hoped that the division may be reached without the predicted row.

Graham for Conscription.

As the greater portion of his life had been devoted to the defence of minorities, Hon. George P. Graham said that today, being in the minority among his own friends, he asked from them the kind consideration he had always sought to give. The men of Canada were asked to be ready, and it was time for the House to be ready. This was a time when men should curb their passions and prejudices. Every man in the House, no matter from what province he came, believed in his country and believed further, that its destiny was bound up with the British Empire. As one of the minority on his side, he spoke without trepidation.

"Liberalism," he said, "allows the fullest freedom of thought to every member that advocates Liberalism, and while I differ from my revered leader, I have his absolute consent to take whatever course I think best at the present time. Every member on this side of the House is at liberty to act, to speak, and to vote as he chooses, and by so doing is not severing the ties that bind him to his grand old chieftain. Neither is he slinking away in any sense from the great Liberal party."

Leader May Be Right.

Mr. Graham said he resented attacks on his leader. "May I be permitted to say that I may be wrong, and he may be right. Young men forget that when they were boys the Liberal chieftain was fighting for the great principles, the benefits of which they now enjoy." He held that Sir Wilfrid was right in standing for provincial rights in 1896, and was right in standing for a Canadian navy in 1911. As to Quebec, he said: "We cannot get anywhere by recrimination. The fact that We are today a portion of the British Empire is due in a measure to the loyalty of the French-Canadians of Quebec in years gone by."

Mr. Graham declared that "the French-Canadians are brave, chivalrous, truthful and, above all, logical. Having been told time and again by the leader of the Government and the leader of the Opposition there would be no conscription in Canada, they hardly believed it possible that conscription has been brought in; they are logical, but we are not."

Three Classes in Canada.

There were three classes of Canadians—those who have gone to the front; those who cannot go; and those who ought to go. Of those who have gone nothing too good could be said. Recruiting had not achieved the results it should have achieved largely because there was not a proper organization created by the Government. The work was largely done and paid for by civilians. A proper government organization would have given 25 per cent greater results. The Government, it was true, had recruiting officers, but they were not the right sort of men to get recruits; many of them were a hindrance to the civilians. No man could hope for success in recruiting when he began by abusing men and calling them slackers. There had been too much of that in Ontario. Sir Sam Hughes had retarded recruiting by making a statement that he was getting too many men. Then the House had it on the authority of Gen. Hughes that the prime minister had asked that there be a let-up in the pressure for recruits.

Sir Robert Interrupts.

Sir Robert Borden interrupted to say that he had made in February one statement on this subject, and before the debate closed would make another. "On no occasion did I ever ask recruiting to be slackened or interfered with. What I did do, and what I have stated many times in this House, was to endeavor to have recruiting officers to direct their efforts that men who were of more service to the country in the occupations in which they were engaged, should not be taken when other men capable of going to the front and not of so much service to the state at home could be gone after and possibly secured."

Continuing, Mr. Graham attributed the failure of Quebec to raise more men to the appointment of a Methodist clergyman as the chief recruiting officer for that province. Another reason was the fact that when war broke out the Government was represented from Quebec by three ministers who had preached at the church doors of their province that Quebec owed nothing to Britain. They had educated the people of that province to that belief. When these men went to Quebec after war began and asked the young men to enlist their sincerity was challenged.

Not the Least Blunders.

If there had been proper organization the country would not now be facing the need for conscription. However, the blunder had been made and the need was here. This had not been the least of the blunders. After the prime minister had returned from England the Hon. Robert Rogers had stated that there would be no need for conscription. Then conscription was announced without warning. There were men needed in the front ranks; there were men in Quebec and the other provinces who should go. This bill should have the effect of filling up the gaps in the fighting battalions, so he could not bring himself to vote against a measure that would help to do this.

Mr. Graham said he believed in referring such matters as this to the people and he believed that this question would be referred to the people in a general election. Members would have to go to the country on their personal attitudes. Therefore he felt disposed to vote against referendum and for the bill.

Sir Thomas White Speaks.

Sir Thomas White said that he proposed to discuss the measure in the spirit of moderation that had characterized the greatest debate that had ever taken place in the House. Canada's effort in volunteering had produced results that commanded the admiration of the world, but it had run its course. On the western front the Allies had made gains, but they still had before them the greatest enemy that had ever faced mankind. The power of the Canadian militia act to raise men and send them from the country was not the question. The question was how to win the war.

"If we desert our men at the front, God might desert this country," declared the finance minister. The bringing of this measure into force would do more than anything else to stimulate activity in Canada for the winning of the war.

More Taxes Coming.

To Dr. Pugsley, Sir Thomas said that if this bill passed Parliament it would represent the will of Canada. Mr. Graham had a resolution on the order paper calling for the conscription of wealth. The Government had not been slow in the taxing of wealth, for the business war profits tax was one of the severest in the world. At the close of the present fiscal year the Government would have raised $2,000,000 by special war tax. He gave the House to understand that the Government had not reached the end of its program of taxation and "we will continue to take the steps necessary to find the money needed to finance this war."

He said that income taxes, succession taxes or land tax would be applied if there was need, but taxation would not be imposed for the purpose of punishing anybody. Many of the rich men of Canada had contributed most generously to the Red Cross and the patriotic funds, but the agitation for the conscription of wealth had arisen because in every town and city there were to be found a few rich men who were close and who were not contributing. He said that he would make them contribute if he could and intimated that if he brought down income tax he might exempt amounts that had been contributed to patriotic funds. He closed with an appeal for loyal support of the bill.

"Chickens Coming Home."

E. W. Nesbitt, Liberal of North Oxford, in announcing his decision to vote for the bill, said that he would do some criticizing. He blamed the prime minister for not having produced more information for the people of the country as to the need of conscription. He did not think that the voluntary system had failed; that recruits were failing off was due to the Government. One of the worst deterrents of recruiting was graft and corruption, continual stories of which were sent out. Another was the appointment of husky majors at high salaries who stood upon platforms calling for men to go to the front when they had no intention of going themselves. Another was the campaign for munition workers. They were being praised for winning the war and were being paid from $2.50 to $8 a day, while the men in the trenches were in posts of danger at $1.10. The Government paid $60,000 in a campaign to get munitions workers. The shortage in volunteers in Quebec was a case of "chickens coming home to roost." It was the result of an educational campaign begun in Drummond and Athabasca by men who were now in the Government. The war had been carried on in a partisan manner from the beginning, yet from his county there had gone more Liberals than Conservatives.

Must Conscript Wealth.

In conclusion Mr. Nesbitt said that he proposed to vote for the bill on second reading, but reserved the right to vote against it on the third reading if the Government did not bring down a measure for the conscription of wealth.

Mr. Cockshutt, Conservative of Brantford, said that this bill was the first out and out war measure that he had ever seen proposed in Canada. He said that if the Government did not mean business and delayed the application of the measure it would not have his support very long. This bill and the food and fuel control bills were real war measures which should be carried through without fear or favor.

W. A. Buchanan, Liberal of Lethbridge, announced his policy in the words: "I am in favor of conscription, because this is Canada's war and we are fighting for our own defence and our own existence. We must give the last man and the last dollar if necessary to win this war. We have sent thousands of men to fight for us. They went voluntarily; they are in the trenches. We cannot through volunteering get the numbers needed to support these men and I am going to vote for some measure that will enable us to carry out our obligations to them." He favored an income tax that would hurt and make people realize that we were in the war.

COURT REFUSES TO SET ASIDE WILL

The action brought by the three sons of the late James Tune to set aside their father's will, in which he left his entire property, amounting to $3,677.74, to another son, the late C. H. Tune, was thrown out by Mr. Justice Middleton at the supreme court sittings yesterday. The plaintiffs claimed that their father was in an enfeebled condition when he made his will, and that undue influence had been brought to bear on him.

The evidence went to show that Mr. Tune had been particularly active and in his right senses at the time the will was made.

Studebaker

The Reasons for Studebaker's Leadership

STUDEBAKER is supreme in Canada because Studebaker Cars stand up and give the service.

The Series 18 Studebakers are even better than the Series 17.

They are maintaining the leadership the Series 17 established throughout the Dominion.

Because they embody ninety distinct improvements in mechanical construction, convenience and comfort over the Series 17.

Because they offer all the improvements, all the refinements suggested by four years' close study of the performance of 300,000 Studebaker Cars in actual service in every part of the world.

In them Studebaker gives you the QUALITY that stands up and gives service under the hardest tests on Canadian roads.

In them the many economies made possible by vast resources, the savings obtained through the development of steadily improved manufacturing methods and the installation of the latest and best labor saving machinery are turned to your advantage.

That is why Studebaker is able to offer you so good a car at so low a price.

That is why the Studebaker is a most economical car to buy.

It is economical to operate because Studebaker's "made-in-Canada" quality reduces "upkeep" to its lowest possible terms.

It is economical to drive because of great gasoline economy in ratio to power, because of great tire economy in ratio to weight and carrying capacity—Studebaker owners frequently get from 8,000 to 10,000 miles on a single set of tires.

It is economical to own, because it brings a very high second-hand value in case of re-sale or trade-in.

For these reasons you owe it to yourself to investigate the Canadian-built Studebaker before you buy a car.

Let us give you a Studebaker demonstration today.

THE PATRICIA HAS BECOME A FAVORITE WITH LONDON THEATREGOERS

Manager Stewart, proprietor of the Patricia Theatre, has not only provided the city with a place in which they find comfort and courtesy at all times, but he has shown showmanship of such an order as to give his theatre in a few months' time an absolutely definite place in the city and the province. He is able to command high-class pictures and he has done things in a broadminded spirit since he remodelled the place. It has fine ventilation, six ventilators changing the air every eight minutes. The seats are the latest model, pneumatic cushion. In all respects the playhouse is a credit to the city and its able manager.

FINE PROGRAM OF GREAT FILMS FOR PATRICIA

GAIL KANE AT "THE PATRICIA."

Gail Kane, the fascinating young Broadway favorite, whose success in "The Hyphen" gave her a vogue that resulted in a bombardment of motion picture contracts, is at her best in "The Serpent's Tooth," a production just completed for the star under American-Mutual auspices, which appears at the Patricia Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Miss Kane herself believes that "The Serpent's Tooth" is the most effective photodrama in which she has ever appeared, her role being that of Faith Channing, a New England girl, who has been reared under a strict Puritan code, but who is driven to a frenzy of fast living by a brutal husband.

As the story runs, Faith Channing and Jack Stilling, who are both descendants of Puritans, have grown up together. Stilling becomes a doctor. He is in love with Faith yet, but being poor, dares not offer her marriage. Jim Winthrop, a wealthy young man, returns from college, marries Faith, tires of her, is cruel and unfaithful, and dies from drink, whereupon Stilling essays the task of reclaiming Faith from the evil associations of her late husband's set and succeeds.

It is a thrilling drama and one in which Miss Kane makes the most of her emotional opportunities.

At the Patricia next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

ROSCOE "FATTY" ARBUCKLE IN "A RECKLESS ROMEO," COMING TO PATRICIA.

Paramount Pictures Corporation has announced "A Reckless Romeo," the second of the series of two-reel comedies in which Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle is the star, and which Paramount is releasing to all exhibitors, irrespective of the present program system of releases of their five-reel features.

This picture will be seen at the Patricia Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and is claimed to be one of Arbuckle's best comedies.

So wonderful has been the success of the first comedy, "The Butcher Boy," and so great has been the clamoring for additional pictures of this class, that Paramount has decided to release the second picture one month after the first feature was shown.

Paramount has established in each of their 27 exchanges Arbuckle departments, which are handling these comedies separately from their feature program, and in every section of the country they have broken all previous records for contracts on a two-reel feature in the industry. While there were 153 prints on the first comedy, Paramount is preparing to have over 200 prints on the second production.

"A Reckless Romeo" is the most elaborate production that Mr. Arbuckle has ever produced. The interior settings are without a single doubt the most stupendous that have ever been used in a two-reel comedy, and there was nothing left undone by him in the production to make it the most attractive bit of work from an artistic standpoint that had ever been issued in connection with his name. Many of the exteriors were taken in Palisade Park, Fort Lee, when this amusement place was in full swing, and the exterior situations gave "Fatty" the most wonderful opportunity of his life to "get away with murder," as he himself expressed it.

"THE LAD AND THE LION."

"The Lad and the Lion" is the very latest of the wonderful tales from the pen of Edgar Rice Burroughs, who wrote "Tarzan, of the Apes," etc. It has been filmed as a Selig-K. E. S. E. drama by Director Al. Green and Vivian Reed, the girl with the million-dollar smile, plays the leading role. Vivian Reed scored recent artistic triumphs in "Little Lost Sister" and "The Princess of Patches." "The Lad and the Lion" tells of the son of an American millionaire, who is shipwrecked, and finally lands on the African coast with only a lion as a companion. The two live together. They save beautiful Nakhla, daughter of a desert prince, from brigands and thus it is that the Lad won the love of the maiden. Ben Saada, arrogant chief of an outlaw band, abducts Nakhla. The lad and the lion rescue the girl and punish the outlaw. And then the lad regains his memory, which he has lost through a blow on the head, and there comes to him as in a flash his identity. But he does not forget the beautiful girl whom he has wooed under the desert moon, whom he has saved from worse than death. Together they—But see "The Lad and the Lion" at the Patricia Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, matinee and night. An enthralling story with beautiful photography and wonderful scenic effects.

"TWO MEN AND A WOMAN."

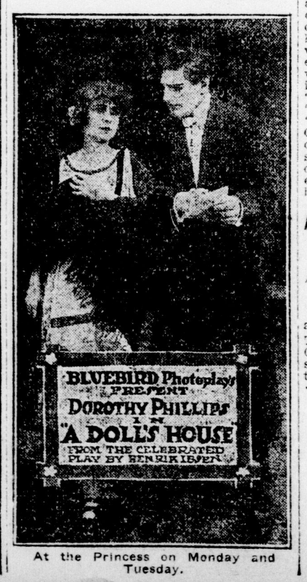

The Ivan Film Corporation has again gathered well-known artists in its selection of the principals for its latest production, "Two Men and a Woman." The story, which was written by Willard Mack, whose latest theatrical success, "Kick In," has been a prominent feature of the season, includes America and Japan in its locales, and was produced under the direction of William Humphrey, formerly of the Vitagraph producing staff. The cast, every member of which was selected for his or her special adaptation to the character to be presented, includes James Morrison, Christine Mayo, Guy Coombs, Rubye de Remer and Helen Arnold and John Reinhard.

James Morrison and Miss de Remer were prominent in the Abramson play, "Enlighten Thy Daughter," now running at the Park Theatre and packing the house at each performance.

Another feature of the photoplay is the initial screen appearance of Countess Yaki Yamkura. The countess gives a remarkable impersonation of a Japanese secret agent operating in this country. This picture appears at the Patricia July 2, 3, 4

FAMOUS HOYT COMEDIES COMING TO THE PATRICIA.

The famous comedies of Charles Hoyt, which have delighted thousands of more than one generation, have been made into photoplays, and Manager Stewart of the Patricia, in an effort to secure the very latest productions, has booked the entire number. The plays will commence on the week of July 2 and one will be shown every two weeks. Some of the plays which will be produced are, "A Hole in the Ground," "A Brass Monkey," "A Rag Baby," "A Contented Woman," "A Runaway Colt," "A Midnight Bell," "A Dog in the Manger," "A Trip to Chinatown." Laugh provoking as these comedies were when produced on the stage, they have been improved wonderfully by the wider scope for scenic effects and numerous settings offered by motion pictures.

At the Princess on Monday and Tuesday.

AT MAJESTIC TODAY.

The two charming young stars, Louise Huff and Jack Pickford, will be seen at the Majestic today, in Marian Fairfax's photodramatization of Gene Stratton Porter's celebrated novel, "Freckles."

The story is probably one of the most familiar in the English language. As a novel it had a great circulation, and failed to notify some of the citizens that they were in the employ of the motion picture company, consequently when the cowboys, whooping and hollering, and firing revolvers, dashed down the street, a number of the residents thought the expected invasion had arrived and promptly sought places of safety.

Tom Moore, the clever young leading man who scored such a success as the doctor in the Lasky-Paramount production, "The Primrose Ring," was especially engaged by the Lasky Company to play in the cast supporting Sessue Hayakawa. Others in the cast are Marjorie Daw, Tom Forman, Mabel Van Buren and several other popular Lasky players.

WM. S. HART IN "THE DESERT MAN."

William S. Hart will appear in a somewhat different role than those he has lately portrayed when his new picture, "The Desert Man," a Triangle production, supervised by Thos. H. Ince, is shown at the Majestic Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

The star has earned the title, "the good bad-man," by such characters as those in "The Fun Fighter," "The Aryan" and "The Devil's Double." As the desert man he is just as determined and just as quick with the six-shooter, but his strength and courage is founded on a splendid philosophy, a belief in himself and in the power of right.

Besides Margery Wilson, the supporting company includes Buster Irving, Henry Belmer, Milton Ross, Jack Livingston, Walt Whitman and Josephine Headley. The production was directed by Hart and photographed by Joe August. Robert Brunton was the art director. It is a great production.

HENRY B. WALTHALL IN "PILLARS OF SOCIETY."

The story of "Pillars of Society," the new Triangle picture to be shown at the Majestic Theatre Friday and Saturday, June 29 and 30, takes place in a small town in Norway.

Karstan Bernick, last of the House of Bernick, whose shipyards are the mainstay of the town, is forced to return home from a Bohemian life in Paris to assume the management of the business, which is nearly bankrupt. Knowing the dependence of the townspeople on Bernick Company, he feels forced to break his secret engagement to Lona that he may marry Betty, her rich half-sister. With her fortune he saves the company. From this unwilling hypocrisy grow others till Karstan is hailed as a Pillar of Society, with projects of great importance dependent on public confidence in him.

He is approaching the height of his career when a certain Mme. Dorf, an actress, arrives in town and threatens to reveal an old scandal of his Paris days. The threat comes at a time when loss of public confidence would spell ruin, not only to himself but to others. To protect himself, therefore, he persuades his brother-in-law, Johan Tonnesen, to take the blame for him. Johan agrees to do so for his sister's sake, and leaves for America with Lona, who has grown weary of her narrow environment.

Mme. Dorf dies and leaves her little daughter, Dina, to Karstan's care. Karstan fears to refuse the guardianship of Dina and is given further credit for being a benevolent citizen.

As the years pass Karstan assumes the leading place in the community and feels secure, when Johan an Lona suddenly return, the former to clear his name, the latter to persuade Karstan, whom she still loves, to establish his position as a Pillar of Society on a foundation of truth instead of lies, she having just learned from Johan the truth of his disgrace. Karstan defends himself vigorously on the ground that a Pillar of Society must resort to subterfuge and even deception to protect the society which is dependent on him.

Johan falls in love with Dina and renews his insistence that Karstan clear him before the public. Desperate, Karstan connives at their departure on an unseaworthy ship, but his terrible plan reacts on himself, for his only child Olaf has run away and has been discovered on the ship as a stowaway. The ship catches fire, and there is a thrilling rescue of the little boy by motorboat.

Karstan is awakened to the truth of his position and at a reception given him by the townspeople as a tribute to their leading citizen, he confesses the truth.

O. HENRY STORIES IN FILM AT THE UNIQUE

To a conspicuous degree O. Henry, the famous short story writer, loved to dwell upon the principle of friendship. He wove some of his most winning plots from the loyal regard men hold for men, and women for women. Perhaps the most delightful of these plots is in "Friends in San Rosario," one of the O. Henry stories filmed masterfully for the General Film Company, and which is to be seen at the Unique Theatre on Friday and Saturday of next week. Other O. Henry plays will be seen each week at the Unique.

The old friendship between two country bankers in Texas is beautifully brought out during the sudden swoop of a federal bank examiner into their lives simultaneously. One of the banks is caught in an embarrassing fix. The first banker details the examiner by arts which are ingenious, but sometimes comic and sometimes pathetic. Across the street the banker in difficulties moves heaven and earth to get his accounts into shape for examination, and just as his friend's resources are exhausted he manages to do so and is saved. A pretty story of gratitude for past sacrifices is woven into the picture as part of the action, giving the drama the grapple touch that O. Henry had to express only in words. Mildred Manning and J. Frank Glendon are featured in the release.

MAJESTIC CONCERT ORCHESTRA OF TEN PIECES RENDERS GREATEST OVERTURES

AT MAJESTIC MONDAY AND TUESDAY, "JAGUAR'S CLAWS."

The idea of the hated Yankees purchasing a Mexican village for motion picture purposes in these present perilous times, seems more or less unbelievable, but nevertheless, this feat was accomplished by the Lasky-Paramount Company for the filming of the scenes in "Jaguar's Claws," in which Sessue Hayakawa will be seen at the Majestic on Monday and Tuesday, supported by a cast of unusual excellence. The story has to do with the adventures of a particularly villainous Mexican bandit, and in order to secure the proper atmosphere and settings, the Lasky Company sent a representative to negotiate with the local jeffe, or mayor. The entire town, including the calaboose, was rented for several days to the Lasky Company. Everything progressed most satisfactorily until it became necessary to film the scenes where a band of American cowboys ride through the town. The cowboys with their horses were brought down by special train and were then instructed to charge through the principal street. Unfortunately the jeffe had train of adventures; a feature in five acts.

AT MAJESTIC MONDAY AND TUESDAY, MATINEE ONLY.

Earle Williams and Dorothy Kelly will appear at the Majestic next Monday and Tuesday, matinee only, in the latest Greater Vitagraph production, "Maelstrom," a story of a meeting in a fog that carried in its wake an astounding later was dramatized and played on the stage. WHY ALL THIS AGONY IN BEAUTIFUL JUNE?

A Minor Suggests Change in Examination Period.

CHARMING NATURE CALLS

Pupils and Teachers Get No Chance to Enjoy the Days So Rare.

Just at the time of the year, the end of May and the first few weeks in June, when the world is at its most beautiful, and youthful best, it seems the irony of fate that this should also be chosen as the examination time of the year. All of the outdoors is calling to come out and play, the summer sunshine, the blue skies, the fleecy clouds, the glancing waters, the green of the grass, inviting enough to roll in, and the fragrance and beauty of blossoming shrubs and other flowers.

The boy dreams of his fishing rod as he plugs away at his books, and the girl of daisy chains and ferns growing in the dim aisles of the woods. Either would gladly go out and dig, even if it was only fishworms. But stern duty demands that instead of enjoying the world that God has made, he and she shall individually and collectively dig into examinations.

The educational system isn't the only sinner in this respect. Musical institutions, with a surprising lack of originality, have gravely fallen in with the goose-step, and decreed that the section of humanity which is endeavoring to develop its musical talent or to learn to execute music, shall further be deprived of the right to live for the sake of living in early June. In other words, it has been decreed that musical examinations shall take place in June, which is all very uniform.

The poet once raised the question: "Then what is so rare as a day in June?" his very manner of doing so defying anyone to find anything rarer. There is something even rarer than a day in June, and that is the man or woman or child who in this busy age has time to go out and see it, particularly the ambitious student.

Oh, it's scales and arpeggios and thirds, and technic and pieces and studies, till fingers grow weary, backs ache, eyes are blurred and the muscles of the throat become strained, partly through overwork, partly through nervousness. "The examiner is coming, and he'll git you if you don't watch out," is the nightmare which drives to redoubled efforts and collapse, meantime "heaven trys the earth if it be in tune, and over it softly her warm ear lays." Does this mean that poor Mother Earth is undergoing a musical examination.

In any case, Mother Earth comes out with flying colors, and proves herself a thing of joy and beauty to those not to obsessed with other things to take pleasure out of companionship with her.

Coming out with flying colors is what many of the students also do. This is the compensation for the discipline of practice, and the fears of failure which have victimized, not only the pupil, but the teacher as well in the latter case.

Make no mistake, it isn't all fun for the teacher. In fact, the musical reputation of the teacher is staked upon the success met by the pupils in the examinations. Teacher, too, would like nothing better than to go out and "hear life murmur and see life glisten." But teacher can't eat sights and sounds, agreeable as these may be.

Teacher's fame achieves added lustre with every pupil who is ranked with the wheat instead of chaff after the fanning-mill process of examinations.

But why all this extra battering of pianos, this sawing of violins, this pouring out of deluges of "liquid" notes, this tying of brains into tight knots over strenuous recitalling in the leafy June?

Why not fix the examinations for cool, barren, bleak, gusty, blustery months in the year (no reflections on March)? Why not give the people who are trying to become musical artists and to develop artistic talent in others the grand opportunity of obtaining inspiration by going out and watching humble clouds "climb to souls in the grass and the flowers?"

"Them's the sentiments" of A Minor, who has been through June musical examinations, and, worse crime still, battered other poor helpless creatures into shape for them. Anybody else got anything to say on the subject?

CONFOUND THEIR POLITICS, SAYS ANGLICAN DELEGATE

And Says He Will Continue to Sing It, Despite the Book of Praise.

According to inside information, the other day, after the Synod of the Diocese of Huron passed a resolution favoring selective conscription as at present under consideration by the Dominion Government, the august body rose to its feet and Cronyn Hall echoed to the melody of the National Anthem, tunefully, sonorously and reverently sung.

The last note wasn't permitted to die away decorously before a militant clergyman, and perhaps some others as well, was launched upon the second verse, which, it is understood, is excluded from the new book of praise. Anyway, he and the other militants seemed to get any amount of satisfaction from "confounding the politics" of the enemy, judging from the gusto with which they sang it.

The attempt of others was decidedly half-hearted, while still others dropped out, as if not quite certain of the good taste and ethics of chanting a hymn of hate in an ecclesiastical gathering.

The next day, when reference was made by the bishop to the hymnal committee, a delegate wanted to know "Is that second verse left out in the new book?" His lordship quickly assured him it was, and nobody needed to ask to which verse reference was made.

"Humph!" said a delegate who had a mind of his own, continuing in a stage whisper, "I don't see what they want to be so mealy-mouthed about it for. Isn't that exactly what we want to do—to confound their politics? Then what is the earthly use of beating about the bush? It's all right, that second verse, and I'm going to sing it, if it takes special permission to do so."

MISS CLARE PROMOTES INTERESTS OF HER CITY

"Gamut Club" Organized in Regina by Well-Known Pianist.

Miss Eva Clare, the gifted Canadian pianist, a recent visitor in the city, has accomplished, among a number of notable achievements in the way of promoting musical interests in the west, that of drawing together in an organization the professional musicians of Regina, the capital of Saskatchewan.

To her is due the credit for founding the "Gamut Club" for professionals with a membership limited at the present time to 25, and the following objects: 1. To promote good fellowship among the musicians of the city. 2 | To entertain visiting artists. 3. To hold monthly musicales, devoting entire attention to modern music and ensemble work.

The organization is most informal, its destiny guided by an executive of five members called "The Dominant," a chairman and a secretary-treasurer, also heads for the piano, vocal and violin departments.

From the beginning "The Gamut Club" flourished and aroused great interest. In time it is hoped to have a permanent club room when membership will be increased. One of the institutions of the club is the office of "critic," which changes each month. The duties of the critic are confined to writing up the programs with comments, not the sinecure it might appear, as has been found out.

The following is a typical program:

1. Arensky .....Suite Op. 15
   Romance and Waltz.
2. Vivaldi .....Concerto for 3 violins
3. Moussorgsky .....Cradle Song
   Death and the Peasant.
4. Mozart .....String Quartet

The closing meeting of a year ago had as a feature an act from "Tannhauser" with the "Pilgrim's Chorus," sketchily done, but described by some of those who took part as "great fun."

Miss Clare, who won from a number of competent musical critics in this city who heard her play the tribute "the finest woman pianist I have ever heard," left this week for her home in Neepawa, Manitoba, where she will spend the summer.

BIG BILL FOR WEEK AT PRINCESS THEATRE

IBSEN'S "DOLL'S HOUSE" ON THE SCREEN.

When Torvald Helmer was promoted to the position of manager of the Joint Stock Bank, one of his first actions was to discharge Nils Krogstad, an old employee, whom he knew to be dishonest. This move worked dire disaster in Helmer's home, for his wife, Nora, had secretly borrowed some years before, a large sum, giving as security a note to which she had forged her father's name. In revenge for his dismissal Krogstad exposed to Torvald his wife's crime and Torvald, thinking only of his own reputation and personal honor, flew into a violent rage and denounced his wife as a criminal—a forger. Having set the domestic pot boiling, Krogstad relented and surrendered the forged note, thus destroying all evidence of Nora Helmer's crime. Then it was Nora's turn to declare herself, and in unmistakable terms she informed Torvald that he had, by his selfishness, killed every spark of love she had for him—and Nora went out into the dark Norwegian night, never to return. This is a synopsis of Henrik Ibsen's famous work, "A Doll's House," now presented for the first time on the screen by Bluebird photoplays, at the Princess Theatre, on Monday and Tuesday. Dorothy Phillips will impersonate Nora Helmer, a role that has served many famous stars of the stage to increase their popularity and display their histrionic talents. Wm. Stowell and Lon Chaney will lead Miss Phillips' supporting company. The production was made for Bluebird by Joseph De Grasse.

"VILLAIN MOST DIFFICULT ROLE," SAYS CARTER.

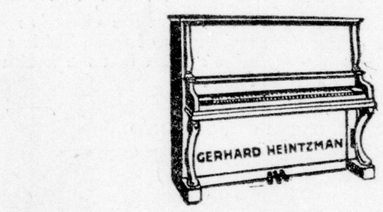

"To play the part of a villain consistently and well—that is an achievement to be proud of."

So says Harry Carter, the villain of the Butterfly picture, "The Circus of Life," which comes to the Princess Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, who has created such a widespread impression with his portrayal of heavy roles. His reputation has expanded with remarkable rapidity in the film world; those millions who follow the "flickers," particularly the gentle sex, hate him with the same degree of vigor which characterizes their admiration or love for screen heroes. And it is an honor to be hated like that.

Harry Carter has not always been the villain, however, when under the grease-paint. His snappy blue eyes and blonde hair, and his six feet of handsome figure, endeared him to a vast portion of the American theatre public as a matinee idol. He has enjoyed a large and varied experience in the best stock companies in America, where he not only acted in the capacity of stage director, but was seen to advantage in leading roles of various description. Still, the physical and mental qualifications which redounded to his success as a lead, have assured his equal success as a heavy.

It was in 1896 that Mr. Carter first went on the stage. He appeared with Mme. Mojeska. Later, he appeared with Klaw & Erlanger's production, "A Ward of France." This was followed by an engagement with Chas. Hoyt's "A Tin Soldier," in which he played the light comedy juvenile. Then came an engagement as leading baritone in Sousa's "El Capitan." In this he was assigned, after a few weeks, to the title part, De Wolf Hopper's role, and in this he was featured successfully for 40 weeks on tour throughout the country. A summer engagement followed with A. H. Chamberlain's company of "Boston," "The Belle of New York," "The Lady Slavey" and "The Cadet Girl," all gave him leading roles. With Raymond Hitchcock in "King Dodo," playing of The Eminent Dr. Fizz, he did unusually fine work.

FILM EXCHANGES DO NOT STAND FAIR SHARE OF ADVERTISING

Give Little Co-operation to the Local Theatre in Attracting the Public to the Theatre—Great Future for the Man Who Leads.

BY "FIRST NIGHTER."

"The first film producers who have the capital and the enterprise to advertise extensively in the daily newspapers will soon come to dominate the moving picture market," said a local manager to The Advertiser.

"The public at present has only a passing knowledge of what a certain producer's name means when it is placed on the film," he aded. "There are so many producers in the field that at present the public classes the exchanges as good, bad or indifferent. Some day a firm will come forth, which will stand head and shoulders above all others. It will advertise its productions, and every motion-picture house of size will find it necessary to show the films.

"The moving-picture business has not yet come to learn fully the value of newspaper advertising. When this is made plain, the attendance will be three times as large and the houses will do three times the business. At the preent time the advertising is left altogether to the local theatre, and it is impossible for them to stand the whole burden. Yet the film exchange could increase attendances and improve pictures and the whole business by doing a scientific advertising campaign. The film exchanges are commencing to do this and they are successful in it. They have not yet come to this realization generally, however, as the manufacturers of almost every other article have done. It is time the local managers began to agitate for more advertising by the exchanges."

MYSTERY FILM IS SHOWING AT STAR

The second episode of the fine film, "The Mystery of the Double Cross," will be shown at the Star Theatre next week. The first pictures aroused keen interest. In the second episode Peter Hale, wealthy young gentleman of leisure, is thwarted in a bold attempt to discover the identity of the girl branded with the mark of the "double cross." Driven to desperation by the perplexing problem he resolves to learn through force if Philippa Brewster, daughter of Hubert Brewster, is the mysterious lady of the ship, with a double cross branded on her right arm. Peter's inheritance of his father's estate depends upon his marriage to this girl who, his father's will stated, is perfect in mind and body and who has been trained to be his mate. Peter believes that in Philippa Brewster he has found the girl. However, she puzzles him by accepting his attentions at one time, and at the next meeting denying with a great show of indignation that she knows what he is talking about. After several experiences of this kind Peter meets Miss Brewster in a garden, where he had hurried after overhearing a plot of a social gangster. He seized Philippa in his arms and was struggling to tear away the sleeve of her right arm when he found himself staring into the muzzle of a gun held in the hands of a masked figure in the dress of a boy, with cap pulled down over his face. The stranger warns him never to repeat his act, that Philippa is not the girl he seeks, and that he can find the girl of the double cross by love alone. Earlier in the evening Peter had seen the stranger entering Philippa's room and burst open the door only to find Philippa there, seated and smiling bewitchingly at him. She tells him she loves him and makes him promise that no matter what happens he will trust her. Peter, however, soon has cause to regret his promise and a door opens and the stranger comes out. Peter rushes at him infuriated, but finds himself in a heap a few seconds later at the bottom of the stairs, and looking up sees Philippa with the stranger.

Tomorrow is "BIG HEART" SUNDAY

Tomorrow is the day selected by the citizens of London to demonstrate their belief in the work of the Queen Alexandra Sanatorium.

Every man, woman and child is urged to contribute liberally, so that the Sanatorium's fight against tuberculosis may go on aggressively and successfully, and that the returned tuberculous soldiers may be properly provided for.

300 citizens have volunteered to make a house-to-house canvass Sunday, collecting the contribution envelopes left by the postman at every home in the city.

By 9 o'clock—or shortly after—a collector will be knocking at your door. Have your envelope filled and ready for him. Don't just open your small-change purse. Don't merely give the loose dimes and pennies in your pocket. Don't just say, "I guess that will do!" For if you do the campaign will fall flat. Let everyone in your household give generously and help the soldiers back to health.

The Queen Alexandra Sanatorium is doing a great work for the citizens of this community and surrounding district. It is saving lives and also protecting homes in London and Western Ontario by fighting against the spread of "The great white plague." The Sanatorium needs help. Its resources are not equal to the task before it. Money is needed to carry on and extend the work—therefore, this appeal to you.

SAVE A SOLDIER!

$57,300 is the Amount Required For Improvements at the Sanatorium

NOTE: The collectors will carry an official box and badge to identify them. All contributions of one dollar or more will be acknowledged by a receipt.

Until a little while ago she thought them unavoidable. If you have corns don't blame yourself too much. Many an old person has had them fifty years.

YET they have done what you do—pared them and used old-time, useless treatments.

But what folly it is when nowadays about half the world keeps free.

The chemist who invented Blue-jay made corns forever needless.

Last year some 17 million corns were ended in this simple, easy way.

Just try one corn.

Apply a Blue-jay plaster in a jiffy. Then forget it. It will never pain again.

In two days take the plaster off. The corn will disappear. Only one corn in ten needs another application.

You will laugh at the old ways when you try Blue-jay. You will wonder why people ever let corns hurt. Please start tonight. You have suffered long enough.

FOOD CONTROL TO BE PUT INTO OPERATION AT ONCE BY HANNA

At Present Conferring With Hoover in Washington.

ALIKE IN BOTH COUNTRIES

Problems Are Identical, Even to Matter of Present Year's Crops.

WASHINGTON, June 22. — Food control in the United States and Canada will be made as nearly alike as conditions in the two countries will permit. In many respects it will amount almost to a joint control, it was said today, after a conference between Herbert C. Hoover and Hon. W. J. Hanna, the newly-appointed Canadian food controller.

Food laws already enacted in Canada, Mr. Hanna said, closely approach the United States administration's food legislation pending in Congress. The purpose of his trip to Washington was to permit him to study the American program, that Canada might follow it as closely as possible. In most respects, Mr. Hanna explained, the United States and Canada have identical food problems. Both are exporters of grain, and this year will have smaller crops than normal.

Start Here at Once.

Mr. Hanna will remain here several days for conferences with officials of the temporary food administration. He thinks food control will be put into operation in Canada as soon as he returns, and is pleased with Mr. Hoover's intention of operating it wherever possible through the voluntary assistance of food interests, instead of invoking harsher methods.

Millers from the west and south met Mr. Hoover today and pledged their co-operation for the food administration.

Bill Comes Up Today.

All other phases of the rather perfunctory fight in the House over the food control bill were overshadowed tonight by interest in preparation by prohibition advocates for a determined effort to insert a stronger "dry" provision before the final vote tomorrow.

The section which would authorize the president to limit, regulate, prohibit or reduce the supply of food materials or feeds used in making alcoholic liquors falls short of the demands of most of the anti-liquor elements. A majority hopes for absolute prohibition of the use of grain for beverage purposes during the war. They are not agreed on any one proposed amendment, however, and their divisions may result in leaving the present provision unchanged.

Except for the prohibition drive, nothing was in sight tonight to prevent the passage of the measure tomorrow in the House, and the outlook in the Senate for quick action was also considered good.

PLAYED WITH SIR A. CURRIE.

WINNIPEG, June 22.—It is interesting to Middlesex people that a Winnipeg woman, Mrs. Harry Johnston, Tandosa Apartments, Winnipeg avenue, is a first cousin and child playmate of Sir Arthur Currie, commander-in-chief of the Canadians in France. Sir Arthur and Mrs. Johnston were raised together at Strathroy, Ont. Mrs. Johnston has two sons overseas. Leslie H. is attached to a draft of Lord Strathcona's Horse, now at Shorncliffe. The younger son, "Bert," who is just 17 years of age, went overseas with the 90th Rifles and has been in the trenches since September last. This young soldier came through the Vimy Ridge engagements with just two slight wounds.

SWISS MINISTER IS ORDERED TO REPORT ON THE GRIMM INCIDENT

Berne, Switzerland, June 23.—The Federal Council has ordered the Swiss minister at Petrograd to come to Berne and make an oral report on recent incidents, including the expulsion of Robert Grimm from Russia and his relations with Dr. Hoffmann, former Swiss foreign minister.

PASTOR'S WIFE DEAD.

Glencoe, June 22.—The death of Mrs. Ford, wife of the Rev. Mr. Ford, took place this afternoon at her home in Concession street. The deceased had been in failing health for a number of years, and she had the misfortune to fall this spring, breaking her hip.

Rev. Mr. Ford was pastor of the Methodist Church here several years ago, and upon retiring from the ministry, settled in Glencoe. Mrs. Ford will be greatly missed in this community, as she always took a prominent part in church affairs up to the time of her sickness.

GENERAL BROADWOOD DEAD.

LONDON, June 23.—Announcement is made that Lieut.-Gen. Robert G. Broadwood has died of wounds received in action.

General Broadwood was born in 1862 and had held numerous important commands in chief, notably in South China and Africa. He fought with the Dongola expeditionary force in 1896, in the Egyptian war in 1898 and in South Africa in the Boer war. He had received numerous medals for his brilliant services and frequently was also mentioned in dispatches.

LITTLE WORRIES IN THE HOME

These Bring the Wrinkles and Pallid Faces That Make Women Look Prematurely Old.

Almost every woman at the head of a home meets daily many little worries in her household affairs. The care of her little ones, the work about the house all contribute to these worries. Most of them may be too small to notice an hour afterwards, but they constitute a constant straining that affects the blood and the nerves and make women look prematurely old. The effect of these little worries may be noticed in sick or nervous headaches, fickle appetite, tiredness after slight exertion, and the coming of wrinkles, which every woman dreads. To those thus afflicted Dr. Williams' Pink Pills offer a speedy cure; a restoration of color to the cheeks, brightness to the eye, a hearty appetite and a sense of freedom from weariness. Among the many thousands of Canadian women who have found new health and strength through these pills is Mrs. G. Strasser, Acton, West, Ont., who says: "I am the mother of three children, and after each birth I became terribly rundown; I had weak, thin, blood, always felt tired, and unable to do my household work. After the birth of my third child I seemed to be worse and was very badly rundown. I found the greatest benefit from the Pills, and soon gained my old-time strength. Indeed after taking them I felt as well as in my girlhood, and could take pleasure in my work. I also used Baby's Own Tablets for my little ones and have found them a splendid medicine for childhood ailments."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or you can procure them by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

SIR RODMOND ROBLIN'S TRIAL SET FOR MONDAY

ROBLIN AND OTHERS TO BE ON TRIAL MONDAY

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINNIPEG, June 22. — Sir Rodmond Roblin, Hon. George R. Coldwell and Hon. James P. Howden will be again placed on trial Monday afternoon on a joint indictment charging conspiracy to defraud the province.

"The crown is ready to go on," declared R. A. Bonnar, chief crown counsel, when questioned as to whether decision had been arrived at by the attorney-general.

A. J. Andrews, K. C., counsel for the ex-ministers, declared Sir Rodmond and his co-defendants are ready to proceed at once with the trial. He said it would be better for Sir Rodmond to have the trial gone on with now than later in the hot weather. Sir Rodmond's condition was caused largely through worry over the trial. Mr. Andrews stated that as to the expense of the trials, his clients probably would be ruined in any event, and they did not desire any delay.

OVER THREE BILLIONS FOR THE LIBERTY LOAN; FOUR MILLION PURCHASE

Washington, June 22.—Liberty Loan subscriptions total $3,035,226,850, an oversubscription of nearly 52 per cent.

The final tabulation was officially announced tonight, showing that more than 4,000,000 persons bought bonds.

Ninety-three per cent of subscriptions, or those of 3,960,000 persons, were for sums varying from $50 to $10,000, while twenty-one subscribers applied for allotments of $5,000,000 each or more.

The New York Federal Reserve District led the list with subscriptions totalling $1,186,788,400, or more than three times the amount subscribed in the next district, Chicago, $357,195,950.

WASHINGTON, June 22. — Reported contributions to the $100,000,000 Red Cross "Mercy Fund" tonight reached $77,000,000, of which $33,000,000 was from New York, and the remaining $44,000,000 from the remainder of the country.

Three days, including Sunday, remain in which to raise the additional $23,000,000 of the fund.

AIR REPRISALS BY BRITISH WOULD BE DIFFICULT MATTER

Necessary Raid Must Be Far Into Enemy's Territory.

London, June 22.—Public agitation for the adoption of air reprisals against German cities as a reply to recent zeppelin and airplane raids on Great Britain has been the subject of several private conferences between military and political leaders here. The hope was expressed at these meetings that public clamor would not override the saner strategic considerations, and that any elaborate system of reprisals would be postponed until the assistance of American airmen is available.

A Difficult Job.

"The German air raids," said an official to the Associated Press today, "were comparatively easy to perform because they were largely over territory in German possession or across the sea, where the enemy airmen could travel unseen and unopposed. On the other hand, British airmen in executing a reprisal must carry a load of bombs over a route that from the start crosses hostile territory. Throughout the flight, our airmen must run the gauntlet of land guns and air fighters. The most expert airmen would be necessary for such ventures, the percentage of losses would be large and the strain terrific on the fliers, and the element of surprise largely would be lacking against the enemy."

Cannot Spare Pilots.

Thus it becomes a question whether the number of skilled pilots and the powerful machines required can be spared without impeding far more important military operations. Although the British army flying corps has a tremendous number of airplanes and maintains aerial supremacy on the battle-front, it must be remembered that the airplane in recent months has been devoted exclusively to military operations. Diversions of even a small number of these eyes of the army would create a serious problem.

According to the Associated Press' informant, army leaders while admitting the military value of reprisal raids on German industrial centres, declare that such expeditions, to be effective, must be carried out on a large scale and an extended and long-continued program. This would involve the use of airplanes to a number which the army heads are unwilling to agree, in fact they distinctly feel the necessary airmen could not be spared without actually crippling the vital business of the army at the front.

WHY DREAD OLD AGE?

IT should be the pleasantest time of life and if coupled with good health it is. Many of our most remarkable men and women have won fame and prominence after reaching the sixties, and in lots of cases they have not been robust in youth.

The secret of health in old age is the prevention of bowel disorder. Constipation is the foe to be dreaded. Care in diet is necessary, also the avoidance of harsh cathartics, which only aggravate the trouble.

The ideal laxative for aged people is Chamberlain's Tablets

On account of their mild and gentle action, you hardly realize that a medicine has been taken. Yet the effect is none the less certain, and the tonic properties of these Tablets so build up and strengthen the digestive system that the health is greatly benefitted. Try a bottle today.

HOW TO OBTAIN A SAFE AND CERTAIN 5% FOR YOUR SAVINGS IN PLACE OF THE USUAL 3%.

To increase the rate of interest earned by your savings is to increase the savings themselves in a very marked way. Thus, if you save $100 every six months for 10 years, at the end of that time you would have $2,618.33 if invested at 5 per cent., but only $2,347.05 if invested at 3 per cent.

That is, while the yearly amount saved is the same in both cases, the higher rate of interest has added over $271.00 to your capital.

This result can be safely and easily secured by investing in Standard Reliance Mortgage Corporation 5% debentures, which are issued in amounts from $100 to $10,000.

Interest at 5% is payable in cash at your local bank on the day it is due. Principal on the date agreed upon.

An interesting booklet about "PROFITS FROM SAVINGS," which gives some very valuable advice, will be sent free on request. Write for it to-day.

HOW MANY OF THESE COULD YOU ANSWER?

Grammar was the subject which occupied the attention of the entrance candidates on Friday morning. The paper contained six questions. The first outlined a paragraph from one of the school readers and required the pupils to write out in full the subordinate clauses, giving the kind and relation of each; to write out the adverb phrases and state what each modified; to parse a number of italicised words. The second question required the complete analysis of two sentences as the answer. The third required eight forms of the verb "strike" written in the third person, singular. Six sentences in the fourth question each contained a word which the pupils were required to parse.

The fifth question required the writing of the following sentences selecting from the brackets the proper word and giving the reason for the selection:

(a) The water had (raised, risen), two feet during the night, and the river had (overflowed, overflown), its banks.

(b) I was determined that he (should, would) obey me.

(c) Each one of us (has, have) many faults, which (we, he) should try to correct.

(d) You are not as strong as (she, her).

(e) He has often (shook, shaken) with laughter when he has heard us make that mistake.

The final question called for the plurals of chimney, chief, solo, manservant; the possessive singular and plural of wolf and workman; the principal parts of the verbs bring, mow and throw; the other degrees of comparison of noisy and most.

The entrance examination board met this morning in Inspector Edwards' office to discuss the marking of the papers.

Reports have reached them that there is a great deal of complaining about the papers, particularly the arithmetic paper. This was a very hard test, a tricky one, and many pupils failed to take good marks.

It is expected that some allowance will be made. Many were greatly distressed about it.

PROVINCIAL ARCHITECT COMES TO INSPECT DAMAGED BUILDING

Temporary repairs to the administrative building at the asylum, the roof of which was destroyed by fire on Wednesday morning, will probably be started Monday morning. It was hoped that the work would begin today, but the rain made this impossible. F. R. Heakes, provincial architect, conferred with Dr. Robinson on Friday, and made arrangements for the repairs. Dr. Robinson could not say whether the permanent addition to the building would eliminate the attics, as is the case in the modern buildings. The attics, as they are unoccupied, present the greatest fire danger.

The lower floors of the damaged building have been cleared of all traces of fire, but the building will not be reoccupied for some time yet. Patients whose quarters were destroyed are now stationed in the amusement hall.

CROFT—FEICK.

STRATFORD, June 22.—A pretty wedding took place Wednesday when Pearl Feick, daughter of Conrad Feick, was married to Dr. Wilbert Croft, V.S., of Wellesley, son of Dr. Croft of Tavistock.

MARKED IMPROVEMENT IN RUSSIAN SITUATION; COSSACKS WITH GOVT.

Separate Peace Plan Is Being Generally Repudiated.

Petrograd, June 23.—In spite of disorders at Sebastopol and anarchists' threats here there are indications of a marked improvement in the situation, with a growing support of the Government and a growing animosity against the forces which make for disintegration in the army.

The resolution passed on Thursday by the pan-Russian congress of councils of deputies is regarded as a signal defeat for the extremists and pacifists, the motion supporting the Provisional Government being passed by a majority of more than four to one. A further significant resolution admits that the transfer of all power to the democracy would weaken the revolution. This is the democracy's own admission that it needs the knowledge and experience of the educated classes.

Repudiates Separate Peace.

By declaring for the speedy attainment of "a general peace" and at the same time for "an increase in the fighting capacity of the army," the congress tacitly repudiated the program of a separate peace. Equally important was the unanimous vote of the peasants' congress representing 130,000,000 people, approving the expulsion of the German pacifist agent, Robert Grimm, and inviting volunteers to enter the army and strengthen it by their example.

Speeches of similar tenor in the Cossack Congress were still more emphatic, so much so that the extremist anarchist organs today speak of "the resurrection of the nagaika," the Cossack whip formerly used for suppressing disturbances. A representative of the Amur Cossacks declared that 8,000,000 Cossacks were ready to fight in support of the revolution. A representative of the Kuban Cossacks added: "We shall support the Provisional Government if necessary with rifles and swords." A delegate from the Ukraine, formerly the location of the famous Saporoo Cossacks, declared that his countrymen would fight side by side with the Cossacks until Germany was beaten into dust.

SOUTH SIMCOE CONSERVATIVES.

BEETON, June 22.—With 500 present, South Simcoe federal Conservatives passed a resolution favoring the conscription measure introduced by Sir Robert Borden in Parliament.

WANT JUSTICE MIDDLETON.—The Toronto Board of Education, at a meeting Friday, asked that Mr. Justice Middleton, who has been presiding all week at the supreme court sittings here at the courthouse, be appointed by the minister of education to investigate the building department of the board of education. At the conclusion of the court Friday, the judge stated that the nine remaining cases would have to be held over till the fall sittings. However, Mr. Justice Lennox, who will preside at the weekly court Tuesday, may possibly take up one or two of them. Several actions have been settled out of court.

When they investigate the matter, find they have a big common need — good roads. They are also in accord as to the material of which these roads should be built—CONCRETE

The man-in-the-city and the man-on-the-farm are getting together on the road question. They are finding out that what is good for the one is good for the other. They are both beginning to realize that their greatest common need for greater prosperity is the building of more

Permanent Highways of Concrete

All Canadians must eventually realize that their great national road waste is a criminal folly—that the money that now goes into the repairing of old-style roads would build hundreds of miles of Concrete Pavements which need practically no repairs.

Modern traffic conditions, with the introduction of motor car and motor truck, are forcing these facts on our attention. What we need is a nation-wide interest that will result in the converting of our present wasteful, rut-filled, short-life roads into the hard, clean, durable roads which Concrete alone can give us.

CONCRETE FACTS ABOUT CONCRETE

1. Concrete roads endure, have even surfaces and are devoid of ruts
2. Are free from dust, and are quickly cleaned by rain.
3. Help to keep down the cost of living, by reducing the hauling cost of farm produce.
4. Low in maintenance cost, and cheapest in final cost.
5. They ensure least wear and tear on vehicles and harness.
6. They have a non-slip, non-skid and hole-proof surface.
7. Concrete roads give service 365 days in the year.

FINANCIAL, MARKET AND COMMERCIAL SECTION

THE LOCAL MARKET

New lines of vegetables and fruit were features of the local market today. The attendance was small because of the rain, but a good quantity of produce was brought to the city.

New cabbages were offered for the first time, and brought from 20c to 25c a head. The demand was fairly brisk.

Home-grown cucumbers were also sold for the first time this season. They brought from 12c to 15c each.

Imported tomatoes brought from 15c a box up, according to the quality.

Potatoes were not as plentiful as usual, and the price was firmer at $4 to $4.50 a bag. It is likely to remain at that level or go to a higher one until supplies of new potatoes are offered.

There was a good demand for seed plants at 20c to 25c a box.

Green onions had a good sale at 5c a bunch.

Radishes were slow at 4c a bunch.

New carrots were scarce and brought 10c a quart.

Parsley sold for 40c a dozen bunches.

Lettuce for 50c to 75c a dozen heads. Rhubarb was fairly plentiful at 30c a dozen bunches.

Asparagus was slightly cheaper at 60c a dozen bunches.

Spinach was unchanged at 20c a peck.

Gooseberries at 15c a box appeared as the first home-grown fruit offering this season. Only a few boxes were offered and they had a brisk sale.

Strawberries were scarce.

The supply of butter was good and prices were slightly easier. Creamery butter retailed for 42c and 43c a pound. The wholesale price was 39c a pound. Pound rolls of dairy butter retailed for 37c to 38c, while wholesale quantities brought from 35c to 36c a pound. Crock butter was sold retail for 35c and 36c a pound. The wholesale price varied from 34c to 35c.

Spring chickens were easier at $1.25 to $1.60 each.

Hay was unchanged at $12 to $13 a ton and straw was steady at $9.50 to $10.

Oats were rather slow at $2.15 to $2.20 a cwt. One small load brought $2.25 a cwt.

Wheat was unchanged at $2.25 to $2.30 a bushel.

Dressed hogs were steady at $14 to $14.25 a cwt, and fat sows at $11.75. Small pigs, at $12 to $15 a pair, had a slow sale.

Wool prices were firmer, quotations on the unwashed product advancing to 46c and 48c a pound, and on the washed product to 55c and 60c a pound.

GRAIN.

Chicago, June 23.—Wheat prices tended to harden today, influenced by reports of improvement in conditions as to the number of vessels available for shipments to Europe.

Transactions in future deliveries, however, were confined to the September option. The market for that month opened 1c higher, at $1 85, and later rose to $1 90.

WALL STREET.

New York, June 23—Wall Street, 10:10 a.m.—Price changes at the opening of today's market were confined to fractions, with the exception of Sinclair Oil, which recorded a loss of 1¾. Gains and losses in the popular issues were about evenly distributed.

10:30 a.m.—Moderate irregularity was manifested at the outset of today's dealings, but prices soon hardened under the influence of short covering induced by encouraging overnight developments. Trading again centred around the equipment and other war shares, those issues scoring fractional advances. United States Steel soon rebounded from its slight initial decline, and Bethlehem Steel (new stock) rose a point with Crucible, Baldwin Locomotive and Mexican Petroleum. Sinclair Oil and Saxon Motors were the only heavy stocks, the latter falling 3 points to the low record of 20. Rails and metals were inactive at minor changes.

Close.—A sheer descent of 8 points in Saxon Motors to 15, with half way recovery, was the striking feature of the week-end session on the stock exchange. Elsewhere prices improved very generally on the more hopeful viw regarding government regulatio nof prices and latest war tax problems. Dealings consisted largely of short covering, the strength of Liberty bonds being a factor in that connection. War shares accupied their usual place of prominence at gains of 1 to 5 points. United States Steel was in demand, gaining almost 2 points, and coppers and oils also rose with Ohio Gas and Industrial Alcohol. The closing was strong. Sales were estimated at 350,000 shares. Bonds were irregular, except the Liberty issue, which were extensively traded in at par to par and $2.50.

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW.

New York, June 23.—Money ruled the stock market this week to a greater extent than at any previous time in the year. Call loans were made at as high as 6½ per cent, this figure being exceeded, according to report, in cases where all industrial collateral was offered.

Time accommodations also worked higher for virtually all dates, the supply of cash steadily diminishing. In fact, the time money market became merely nominal later, many local leaders withdrawing their funds altogether.

These untoward conditions are expected to continue until the passing of the midyear, with its extraordinary demands due to enormous payments on the liberty loan and the unusually heavy interest and disbursements which mature at that same period.

Next in importance and serving largely to mitigate the rigors of the financial market was the resumption of British gold imports, which approximated $75,000,000 for the week. Sterling rates were strengthened by this influx of the precious metal, but remittances to all the other Entente countries were lower, with weakness in lires and rubles.

Industrial shares were affected by uncertainty existing in connection with the fixing of prices for steel, iron and other commodities for the Government. For private consumption many staples were lifted to higher levels, copper and kindred metals sharing in this movement.

In general, war issues, particularly the equipments, scored substantial gains, with considerable activity in motors and other volatile stocks controlled by professional traders. Rails also were inclined to advance on the theory that the forthcoming decision of the interstate commerce commission would grant the demands of the carriers in part, at least.

Country-wide bank clearings indicated a revival of general mercantile business, but extensive buying of new merchandise was again retarded by adverse weather.

WILL REPORT SHORTLY.

SARNIA, June 22.—The committee appointed at a recent meeting of the War Production Club to investigate and consider the advisability of securing a tract of land to be leased by the club and used for the production of grains and vegetables has been working quietly, and it is expected that they will have a report ready for the next meeting of the club to be held next week. It is stated that there is plenty of land available in the county at the present time, and it is the intention of the club to utilize some of this waste land for the growing of crops, the work to be carried on under the supervision of an experienced agriculturist and the expense to be borne by the club. Whether or not this scheme will be adopted will be announced at the meeting of the club, but the opinion exists among the members that this would be the most feasible method in assisting the campaign for increased production.

WEATHER, AIDED BY DEMAND, CAUSES RISE

Winnipeg, June 22.—Lower temperatures, coupled with a good demand and light offerings, operated today to send wheat prices higher. October wheat, on a light trade, gained 8½c, closing at $2.02 per bushel. Basis contract prices advanced 3c per bushel, and cash prices rose from 3c to 4c. All oats deliveries advanced 1c. There was a somewhat better tone in cash wheat circles today. The Government buyers and a number of others were in the market for practically all grades, straight, toughs and smutty. Spreads were about the same as yesterday.

Offerings were not up to the requirements. Cash oats were in good demand, and spreads narrowed up to the extent of half a cent. The demand for cash barley was slightly improved today, with a slightly better price being realized than ruling quotations for spot offerings.

Cash flax of No. 1 N. W. grade was in fairly keen demand.

Cash grain: Wheat—No. 1 northern, $2.44; No. 2 northern, $2.41½; No. 3 northern, $2.37; No. 4, $2.25; No. 5, $2.01; No. 6, $1.85.

Oats—No. 2 Canadian western, 70⅝c; No. 3 Canadian western, 69⅛c; extra No. 1 feed, 69⅛c; No. 1 feed, 67⅝c; No. 2 feed, 65⅝c.

Barley—No. 3, $1.25; No. 4, $1.20; rejected, $1.09; feed, $1.09.

Flax—No. 1 N. W. C., $2.80½; No. 2 Canadian western, $2.76½; No. 3 do., $2.61½.

Montreal, June 22.—There was no improvement in the demand from local or country buyers for grain today, and the market was dull, but the tone was stronger for oats, and prices were advanced half a cent to a cent per bushel, in sympathy with the higher Winnipeg option market.

Corn—American, No. 2 yellow, $1.75@1.80.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 80½c; Canadian western, No. 3, 78½c; extra No. 1 feed, 78½c.

Barley—Manitoba feed, $1.18.

In the absence of Mr. De Lung, Rev. D. B. Cohoe of Norwich acted as chairman. Among those from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. John Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Meyers, Ed Austin of Rochenville, N.Y., who motored to the picnic, and Mrs. Sarah Goodwillie of Willard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stiples of St. Thomas, Mr. M. FARMERS
SHIP YOUR WOOL DIRECT TO US

The Highest Prices Ever Paid for Wool Are Now Being Paid by Us

Mr. Farmer, you can get more money for your wool by sending it direct to us.

In all probability it will come to us, anyway, at some time, no matter to whom you sell it.

For over thirty years we have been one of the largest buyers of wool in Canada.

We could not continue in business for this length of time if we had not treated our customers fairly and pay top prices.

We send your money the same day as wool is received, only deducting freight or express charges.

We are now paying for wool as follows:

Unwashed fleece, fine	53 to 55c per lb.
Unwashed fleece, coarse	52 to 53c per lb.
Washed fleece, fine	67 to 69c per lb.
Washed fleece, coarse	65 to 67c per lb.

Ship today or write us, telling how much wool you have, if washed or unwashed, and breed of sheep clipped from. We will then quote you a straight price and send you shipping tags with full onstructions.

INCREASED FARM WORK STIRS COUNTY COUNCIL

Essex Solons Rush Business Through to Get Back to Bigger Crops.

WINDSOR, June 22.—Bringing its summer session at Sandwich to a close this morning after a brief discussion of the finance committee's report, Essex County councillors wound up by singing "God Save the King."

Anxious to "make hay while the sun shines" and get back to their farms, the councillors, a majority having increased acreage under cultivation, despite the shortage of labor, worked with patriotic vigor during the week on a long list of routine business, cutting off more than a day from the usual session, which, in peace times, is somewhat of a vacation for the rural legislators.

The council incorporated the front roads from Sandwich to Amherstburg, and from Island View Hotel, Sandwich East, to St. Clair Beach, in the county roads scheme, subject to the approval by the provincial department of highways.

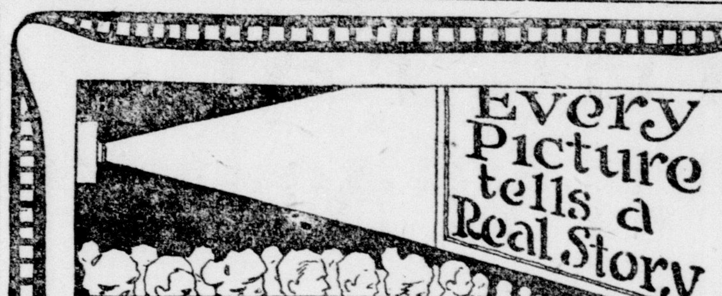

The usual grants to township fall fairs were made, and the council showed a streak of generosity by allowing $150 to the work of the border chamber of commerce, and $100 to the Windsor mothers' club to aid in the establishment of a nurses' registry and training returned soldiers for doctors' assistants and nurses. High Constable J. Smith was given a $50 increase to his salary. The turnkeys at Sandwich received a similar increase.

GIFTS FOR PASTOR

STRATHROY, June 22.—Members of the Methodist Church made farewell presentations to Rev. A. E. Jones and family, prior to their departure for Clinton, where Mr. Jones has been stationed. To Mr. Jones were presented a motor rug and driving gloves; to Mrs. Jones a case of silver and to Miss Madeline a manicure set.

The members of the choir tonight said farewell to Mr. Jones and feeling reference to the good fellowship between choir and pastor was made.

The members of the Brownies Club, after an enjoyable lunch, made the presentation of a water color painting to D. Patterson, in view of his coming marriage.

$100 FINE IMPOSED ON LISTOWEL HOTELMAN

Court Sequel to Temperance Workers' Raid Costly One.

LISTOWEL, June 22.—Accused of violation of the liquor act, Joseph Bothmer of the Queen's Hotel today, at the suggestion of his lawer, E. H. Haverson of Toronto, changed his plea to guilty, and was fined $100 and $40 costs. The case was the outcome of a raid on the hotel Saturday night by four county constables, Messrs. Pelow of Goderich, Ingram of Seaforth, MacMillan of Seaforth, Taylor of Listowel, with Mr. Field of Mitchell, and Rev. E. G. Powell, until recently field secretary for the temperance forces of Perth and Huron, but now engaged with the Committee of One Hundred.

The officers were said to have been given a lively reception at the hotel, the proprietor and bartender putting up quite a scrap.

Besides today's case there are two charges to be heard against the bartender, who is alleged to have smashed one of the three bottles of whisky seized as the officers were engaged in sealing them.

Interest in today's case was more than local, among those from a distance being Rev. Mr. Ayearst, of the license board, and Mr. Amar, secretary of the committee of One Hundred.

Did Not Mean Quebec Would Shed Blood.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, June 22.—L. J. Gauthier, M.P. for St. Hyacinthe, appeared indignant today when he observed that his speech last night had been generally interpreted as a threat of armed resistance from Quebec should conscription carry. "Surely it was plain from my words that I did not mean any such thing," he said. "I said we would use this very bill to defeat the purpose of the measure. That means, of course, that we would either use the tribunals which the bill affords or go to jail as the bill provides, rather than go as conscripts.

"I spoke of suffering and pains and going to the limit. My reference was entirely to the direct consequences which the bill provides, namely, imprisonment. What I promised on behelf of my constituents was passive resistance."

YOUR EYES

Astigmatism is the focal defect where rays of light entering the eye in different planes do not have the same focal point.

The focusing muscles of the eye often overcome slight degrees of astigmatism so that vision is distinct, but much discomfort and even serious eyestrain may result. In more marked cases of astigmatism objects appear distorted or of uneven distinctness.

If you have any indications of astigmatism let us examine your eyes immediately and grind a pair of lenses which will give proper relief.

LONG MISSING, PRESUMED DEAD

Pte. G. A. Mount Never Heard of Since Fighting Last October.

Pte. George Abner Mount, 105 Egerton street, who has been missing since October 8 of last year, has been officially declared to have died on or since that date, according to information received from Ottawa by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Mount.

Pte. Mount left here in October, 1915, with the 34th Battalion, but was transferred to the 13th Black Watch Regiment in England, where he later was trained as a machine gunner. He was reported missing following the action along the Somme.

Pte. Mount was 19 years of age at the time of his death, and was unmarried. He is survived by his parents, four sisters and two brothers—Mrs. C. Doyle of Detroit, Mrs. J. Crossfield of Montreal, Mrs. J. Neve and Miss Edith of this city, Charles of Detroit, and John at home.

Pte. Mount was a pupil of Chesley Avenue School, and had a paper route for The London Advertiser after school hours. He was employed at the carshops previous to his enlistment.

Another Londoner appears among the wounded in the casualty list today, Pte. E. F. Goodhand, son of R. J. Goodhand, 518 Egerton street, this city. Pte. Goodhand, who was with the 11th Canadian Machine Gun Company, was seriously wounded in the neck on June 16, and is now in Manchester Hospital, England.

He left here with the 71st Battalion over a year ago, and is now in the hospital for the second time. He is 22 years of age, and unmarried, and before he enlisted worked in St. Marys.

LAST CHANCE TODAY TO SEE GREAT FILM

By missing the remarkable production, "The Fall of Bapaume," one undoubtedly loses the chance of seeing a spectacle unsurpassed in modern moving pictures. The authenticity of this wonderful portrayal of war's havoc is beyond question. Every branch of military service, every type of armament and instrument of war, is depicted in this vitally interesting picture, which will be again shown at the Patricia today, is genuine. To say that this remarkable picture is the most realistic and the best in so far that it brings home to one the destructive aspect of the battlefield, and portrays war's contrivances as no motion picture has ever done before, is no exaggeration. Only those who have been through the experience of riding on one of the famous British tanks or the new motorcycle machine gun vehicles are able to recount more about those modern devices for the destruction of men and obstacles than those who are taking advantage of the Patricia's fortune in securing "The Fall of Bapaume." They have beheld the splendid picturization of an episode vital in the country's welfare and national existence. Today affords the last chance for the people of London to behold this most entrancing film, and it is hoped that thousands of them will take advantage of the opportunity.

The comparisons in national physiognomy afforded in the phases of "The Fall of Bapaume," where the German Fritzs and British Tommies intermingle, are rather striking, in so much that the German soldier manifests a distinct lack of intelligence contrary to his national reputation, which is, of course, expected, on account of his inability to speak the English language, but even so, he seems so densely stupid and morbid, and therefore so unlike the English soldier, that one cannot help but resort to comparisons and feel glad that the faces of those fighting his battles are consistently radiated with the cheery, never-say-die smile which is so characteristic of their spirit.

It is truly a magnificent production and those who have been unfortunate enough to have missed it should surely take advantage of the remaining day.

SEEKING EDUCATION IN MIDDLE OF NIGHT

Girl and Soldier Found in Vicinity of Simcoe Street School.

"Either you go back to St. Thomas or you'll go to some institution," said Magistrate Graydon in police court today to a pretty girl of twenty years, who hated to admit that she had come from the Railroad City. She was charged with vagrancy, having been found at 1:45 o'clock this morning by P. C. Noonan, wandering round the grounds of that institution of learning the Simcoe Street School with a guard composed of one soldier.

The constable thought that he would make a better guardian, and took her to the police station. She stated this morning that she had a sister living on a farm near London and promised to go there, milk the cows and feed the chickens and otherwise aid production on the farm.

However, if she attempts to come back to stray up and down under hydro's beaming glances, she will be promptly locked up.

Barn raisings are the order in Lobo just now. Alex. Blair had his new barn raised last week and W. A. Zavitz raised the frame of his large new barn today.

A large amount of gravel is being hauled on the roads this week, and the township pit at Coldstream is a busy place these days. Some of the farmers are busy in their corn fields these fine days and report the early sown corn coming on splendidly.

REAR-END CRASH TIES UP TRAFFIC FOR MANY HOURS

Traffic on both main lines of the Grand Trunk between London and Windsor, was suspended for several hours last evening as a result of Grand Trunk wayfreight No. 199, westbound, in charge of Conductor Jewell of this city, crashing into the rear end of Wabash freight extra No. 1878, two miles and a half west of Jeannettes Creek. The Wabash freight was in charge of Conductor Haslam of St. Thomas, and had stopped owing to a small accident. The crash occurred on a stretch of straight track, and just why the G. T. R. train failed to stop could not be explained by railwaymen last night. The Wabash crew saw what was coming and had ample time to escape by jumping. The G. T. R. men also jumped. The big G. T. R. mogul ripped through the caboose of the Wabash train, completely demolishing it, and a boxcar ahead. It then hurled another big boxcar across the eastbound main line. Both main lines were badly torn up. The auxiliary from Windsor was called at once, and after three hours' hard work got the line in shape for the eastern flyer to proceed to London. In the meantime the G. T. R. authorities here had made up a special, and sent a number of eastbound passengers and soldiers as far as Brantford. An investigation into the cause of the crash will be held at St. Thomas today.

COMRADES STAND BY PTE. JAMES KAIN

Because of his previous good record as a member of the 1st Battalion in France, Pte. Bellanger, on behalf of the Returned Soldiers' Association, has taken up the case of James Kain, accused of aggravated assault on License Inspector James E. Keenleyside. Kain was convicted by Magistrate A. Graydon in police court yesterday, and remanded for sentence. He comes up again on Monday, and at that time will be represented by counsel provided by his former comrades-in-arms.

The representative of the returned men visited the convicted ex-soldier yesterday, and was told the same story as Kain revealed in court, that he thought the Inspector was a pickpocket when he felt him searching his pockets. Kain's army records, say his soldier friends, was a good one, and when he comes up for sentence a delegation of the returned men will be present to testify as to his character.

LIVELY ROW BREWING OVER TOWNSHIP SCHOOL

According to information given The Advertiser, a merry row is brewing over the question of a new school in Manor Park. One party, it is stated, is opposed to the school and irregularities are alleged in connection with an election for trustees which was held. One party, it is stated, got all its members out to vote during the morning and closed the polling place at noon. Many of the other side who wanted to vote during the afternoon were unable to do so, it is alleged.

The matter has been placed in the hands of a solicitor and a court fight may result.

BADLY HURT BY FALL FROM WHEEL

Alex. Brown, a former member of the London police force, and now employed at the Ford Motor Company's plant, is in a very serious condition at his home as a result of being hurled headfirst from his bicycle on Waterloo street on Thursday afternoon. He was on his way to the factory when he either struck a stone or something happened which caused his front wheel to smash. He was going rapidly at the time and was hurled about ten feet into the air and landed on his head on the pavement. When picked up he was unconscious and remained so for some hours. Yesterday it was feared that concussion of the brain would develop, but last evening he was reported to be slightly improved.

The bride and groom walked up the aisle, while Mr. Bert Weir, the organist, played a wedding march. Congratulatory addresses were given by Revs. A. J. Thomas, J. E. Holmes, Byron Snell, W. Copeland, on behalf of the clergy, and by Messrs. Brooks and Ball, on behalf of old friends. Two of the oldest members of the Centennial Church, Alfred Allen and J. Golding, then presented Mr. and Mrs. Wickett with an address and a purse of gold. Mr. Wickett replied, thanking all for their good wishes. Rev. H. T. Ferguson, pastor of the church, was chairman. Following the meeting in the church, refreshments were served in the schoolroom by the Ladies' Aid.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY HELPS SANATORIUM

At the regular monthly meeting of the members of St. George's Society it was unanimously decided to make a grant of $50 to the "Big Heart" fund on behalf of the sanatorium work for tuberculous soldiers.

Letters were read from the executive councils of St. George's Societies of Montreal, Ottawa, Hamilton and Toronto, inclosing resolutions in favor of conscription. President Ronald R. A. Emery declared himself in favor, and London members are to have an opportunity of discussing the matter at the first opportunity.

The question of whether it was possible to grant St. George's and Sons of England scholarships to enable sons and daughters of Englishmen of Canada to obtain university degrees and to qualify for the higher positions in the educational system of the Dominion was laid on the table, to be brought up for consideration at an opportune moment.

The question has been before St. George's Society of Hamilton, and Thomas Wickett, of that city, a graduate of School of Practical Science and Engineering and M.D.C.M. Trinity University, Toronto, has the matter in hand.

Those present were: President Ronald R. A. Emery, Secretary Robert Cadwallader, Ex-Ald. John Nunkins, John Heaman, J. Wilking, Walter Richards and George Benbow.

Greetings from the various St. George's Societies in different parts of the world were read, each one containing a cheerful message for St. George's Day and expressing hopes of a speedy victory for the Allies.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. James Anderson and family wish to thank their many friends for the kindness and sympathy shown them in their recent sad bereavement. b
