

BANDITS LOOT FREIGHT TRAIN AT KOMOKA

Egyptian Cabinet Resigns As Protest Against Demands

SAME BAND SOUGHT FOR 3 ROBBERIES

Thieves Break Into Freight Train at Komoka—Steal Hams and Tobacco.

TAKE 20 MINUTES

Police Believe Raids Work of Organized and Trained Gang.

The daring band of thieves who so successfully robbed the general store of W. C. Barons at Belmont last week of $800 worth of goods, are believed to be the same men who broke into the C. N. R. station at Hyde park, Friday night.

Their latest robbery, however, and the most daring of all, was the one perpetrated Saturday night, when they stole 20 hams and a quantity of raw leaf tobacco from a C. P. R. freight train on the Komoka siding and got away without being seen.

Twenty Minutes.

The freight pulled into Komoka from the west at 10 o'clock and waited 20 minutes on the siding for the passenger train from London to pass. During that 20 minutes the thieves broke the seals on seven cars, but disturbed nothing until they reached the car containing the hams and tobacco, consigned by American firms to Eastern Canada.

When the train arrived in London, it was discovered that the cars had been entered, and a quick inventory showed the amount of goods taken.

C. P. R. detectives have been working on the case, but no clues have yet been uncovered. The hams were all marked with the name of "Morrell," the American packing firm that shipped them, and all local and country butchers are asked to keep an eye open for strangers offering hams for sale.

Same Gang.

"I think that the gang that robbed the Belmont store and the C. N. R. at Hyde park and the same men that worked the C. P. R. car at Saturday night," said an official. The C. N. R. freight shed was entered at Komoka, but nothing was taken. At Hyde park the Canadian National lost two boxes of soap from the station where the lock on the door was picked.

"They must be an expert bunch to open seven cars in 20 minutes and get away with the stuff they did. We are not saying much about it, but every effort is being made to get this gang."

DUTCH AIRMAN ENDS TEST FLIGHT TO JAVA

Vanderhoop Lands at Weltevreden, Completing 9,300 Miles.

Associated Press Despatch. Weltevreden, Java, Nov. 24.—The Dutch airman, Vanderhoop, who started from Amsterdam on Oct. 1, arrived here this morning successfully completing his flight of more than 9,300 miles.

Vanderhoop, who was accompanied by a mechanic and an observer, undertook the journey to test the possibilities of commercial aviation between Holland and Java. The principal points touched on his flight were Constantinople, Calcutta, Rangoon and Singapore.

Weltevreden is a suburb of Batavia, the capital of the Dutch East Indies. Vanderhoop was delayed during his flight by an accident at Philippopolis, Bulgaria, necessitating repairs to his machine.

MUSSOLINI SUSTAINED BY CONFIDENCE VOTE

Italian Premier Becomes More Conciliatory in His Attitude.

Associated Press Despatch. Rome, Nov. 24.—The chamber of deputies Saturday voted confidence in the Mussolini government, 337 to 17. Premier Mussolini closed the debate, which centered on the government's internal policy. He concluded his speech with an appeal for a vote of confidence. Mussolini displayed the most conciliatory attitude since the Fascist came into power. There were none of the "big stick" methods that have so often characterized his parliamentary utterances.

A premier adopted the line of argument that whatever may have been wrong with the Fascist government, it was by far the best that could have been in the country, and the continued confidence of the party it still would be able to bring Italy through troubled years to pacification.

WHY ANDERSON?

The Advertiser believes John Anderson should be elected mayor of London and here are its reasons—good will from twelve aldermen—character and ability—an end of squabbling.

What claim has Alderman John Anderson to become mayor of London?

There is little to be gained in choosing Anderson merely because one believes that two years of Wenige are enough. There must also be proper grounds for believing that Anderson will be an improvement—a better mayor than Wenige is today.

Quite apart from the objections to Mr. Wenige, John Anderson will make a good mayor for two reasons: FIRST—His relations with the city council. SECOND—The character of the man himself.

ANDERSON AND THE CITY COUNCIL. John Anderson has the goodwill, friendliness and support of every alderman on the city council. Anderson has served on the council this year as alderman from ward one and these men know him better than anyone else can know him. They have watched him in committee meeting and in council. AND THEY ARE ALL FOR HIM.

All the members of the city council and all London's officials at the city hall are for John Anderson because they know from intimate experience with him that he will make a reasonable, level-headed, firm-handed leader. They know that he will not take for himself credit for the work they have done. They know that he is neither a boaster nor a bull-dozer. They know that with him they can attend to the city's business instead of quarrelling and waiting for action.

The aldermen and officials all know these things because THEY KNOW ANDERSON'S MOTIVE in standing as candidate for mayor.

Anderson has seen enough in his year on the council to convince him that no twelve aldermen can ever work properly with George Wenige as mayor. He saw that an effort should be made to prevent Wenige from coming back for a third year and he decided that if no one else would tackle the job he would try it himself.

Anderson's motive in standing for mayor is TO GET RID OF SQUABBLING AND TO BRING UNITY and harmony to the council. And the success of his purpose, if elected, is guaranteed in the support he already has from every alderman and every official.

In other words, Anderson's motive and his relations with the city council provide exactly what is needed to overcome one of the greatest objections to Mr. Wenige's performance as mayor—the chip-on-the-shoulder attitude—the unfortunate conceit which expresses itself in quarrelling with everyone about everything.

If Wenige goes back as mayor he will have a council and officials on more unfriendly terms than ever.

If Anderson goes in he will have a council and officials who like him and want to work with him.

And the latter condition is the very starting point of all good government for the city.

John Anderson has done well in his year on the council. He has not tried to make a noise nor to secure self-advertisement. He has attended to his job quietly and efficiently. He has had one year's experience—THE SAME EXPERIENCE WHICH WENIGE HAD when he first offered himself as mayor in December, 1921. Mr. Wenige merely condemns himself when he tells his friends that Anderson lacks experience.

JOHN ANDERSON HIMSELF. The Advertiser believes that Anderson is qualified to become a good mayor because of his own character and ability apart from any other considerations.

Anderson will never be a nimble politician like Wenige and on the public platform he does not try to juggle arguments with Wenige's remarkable dexterity.

BUT ANDERSON HAS THE GOODS.

The Advertiser knows John Anderson—look care to know him before advising his readers to vote for him. Anderson is a thoughtful, reasonable type of man, fair-minded toward the opinions of his opponents, deliberate in his judgment, and determined in his decisions. He is not a brilliant or a flashy type, but he is dependable, unafraid, and intelligent. He has an honesty of mind, a frankness and a friendly sincerity which one can both respect and admire. Anderson's character is all wool and a yard wide.

HE HAS ABILITY.

And Anderson has ability. He has proven it in the ten years during which he has built his business from an obscure failure to a first-place success. He proved it last December when ward one gave him the biggest vote any London alderman has ever received. He has proved it during his year on the council, when he won the confidence and friendship of everyone with whom he worked.

There are three good reasons why Anderson should be mayor. THE FIRST is his relation with the city council. THE SECOND is his character and ability. THE THIRD is—WENIGE.

TWO YEARS OF WENIGE ARE ENOUGH—IT IS TIME FOR ANDERSON.

WOMAN DIES, CAR DRIVER FACES CRIMINAL CHARGE

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Nov. 24.—Mrs. Helen Peck, aged 35, of Toronto, was fatally injured Saturday evening when she was struck by a motor car driven by Herbert Dale. She died in St. Joseph's hospital two hours after admission, of a fractured skull. Dale was taken into custody on a charge of criminal negligence.

PLENTY OF WORK SEEN IN THE BUILDING TRADES

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Nov. 24.—There is little likelihood of unemployment in the building trades in Toronto this winter, judging from reports of the steel workers' union and the building laborers' union, both of which state that not only is there no unemployment in the various organizations affiliated under the groups, but that there will probably be a shortage of good mechanics in this city before the end of the current year.

MAN LOCKED IN GARAGE AFTER $1,050 ROBBERY

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, Nov. 24.—Two armed bandits, after holding up Eugene Gaxiz and relieving him of $1,050 in cash, pushed him into his garage and locked the door. He was released a half-hour later when a neighbor heard his shouts. The hold-up was the third within 48 hours, in which large amounts of money were taken. A north-end butcher reported being robbed of $900 Sunday morning by two masked men. On Saturday morning the Imperial Pin Company's clerk was robbed of his cash box containing $1,000. No arrests has as yet been made in any of the cases.

CONTRACTOR KILLED

Canadian Press Despatch. Quebec, Nov. 24.—Louis Roberge, 62, a contractor of St. Comedee de Beauce, was killed yesterday when his automobile turned over into a ditch and he was thrown through the windshield. A companion was thrown clear of the car.

NEW LIGHTS FOR LONDON CONSIDERED

Test of Two Streets May Mean Improvement All Over City.

FUND IS READY

Utilities Commission Would Act at Once If Results Obtained.

London, long notorious as a city of indifferent street lighting, seems likely to become one of the best-lighted cities on the continent. The public utilities commission has decided to install the halophane lighting system, similar to that which has been in operation on King street for some months past, on Queen's avenue and Waterloo street.

The Advertiser has learned from a reliable source that if and when the further test of the halophane system proves satisfactory, then all the main streets of the city will be similarly equipped almost immediately thereafter.

Since 1914 the commission has been setting aside each year 2.5 per cent of the revenue from the electrical department as a reserve fund, which has amounted to $440,564.44. Of this sum there has been spent a total of $31,140.61. While at first glance the 2.5 per cent may appear to be a trifling high, the percentage is based on good engineering's practice.

Fund Loaned. Almost the entire reserve fund is loaned by the commission to itself at 4.5 per cent interest, to provide working capital for its operations. As may readily be seen, such a policy is based on sound business principles. The commission is able to secure all its needs at a low rate of interest. Please See Page 3, Column 7.

MAJOR E. A. SEELY-SMITH.

The official militia defense orders today announced the promotion of Major E. A. Seely-Smith to lieutenant-colonel and to the command of the Royal Canadian Regiment, Wolseley barracks here, following Lieut.-Col. C. H. Hill, D.S.O., who was transferred to Ottawa, when promoted to duty at the national defense headquarters, Ottawa.

HASTINGS CAMPAIGN HOTTEST ON RECORD

Record Vote Is Expected To Be Cast Tomorrow in By-Election.

Canadian Press Despatch. Belleville, Nov. 24.—Last-minute details of organization occupied the two candidates and their supporters today on the eve of the federal by-election in West Hastings riding for the seat made vacant by the resignation of E. Guss Porter, Conservative. Nominations for civic offices in Belleville this morning temporarily eclipsed interest in the federal issue. These disposed of, however, the electors returned to the consideration of the arguments put forward by the two parties in favor of their candidates.

Mr. Porter is running for re-election on the opposition ticket, and he is opposed by Charles Hanna on behalf of the government party. There will be several wind-up meetings in the riding tonight. The campaign, which closes tonight, is undoubtedly the hottest ever seen in this riding. The main issue is on the question of whether Mr. Porter was justified in bringing on a by-election to secure the approval of the electors of his action in making a vote of censure in the house of commons on Hon. James Murdock, minister of labor, or whether he should have accepted the report of the privileges and elections committee of the house, which exonerated Mr. Murdock. A record vote is expected tomorrow.

POKER PLAYERS ROBBED. Shaunavon, Sask., Nov. 24.—Fifteen poker players in a hotel here early Sunday morning were held up by a lone bandit, who escaped with $500.

George Wenige is fond of getting city officials to sign documents for his own use. The other day he approached these three chief permanent executives of the city: Engineer Near, Treasurer Bell, and City Clerk Baker, with the request that they sign a statement, telling of the mayor's cooperation in their work, and advocating his election for a third year.

TEA PRICES HERE AGAIN ADVANCED

Wholesale Grocers' Chief Attributes Rise to Troubles Abroad.

Another fractional advance in tea prices was recorded this morning bringing the lowest grade up to 75 cents a pound and the better grades up to $1.50. This represents a clear increase of 15 cents a pound over the range of prices prevailing eight months ago.

William Turnbull, president of the wholesale grocers of Ontario, attributes the advance to a variety of causes, notably the severe floods in India coupled with labor troubles. The demand for both tea and coffee exceeds the supply.

"Consumption has increased substantially within the past year," he said. "The big shortage of the Indian crop and disturbances in China resulting in a diminished yield are factors which have to do with the high prices. Retailers are selling tea and coffee at a close margin in the hope of a drop but we cannot expect any reduction until the new crop makes its appearance around next August."

The advance in coffee is due principally to the attitude of the Brazilian government which allows only a limited amount to be exported.

TURKISH PREMIERSHIP AGAIN GOES TO BEY

Crisis Within His Party Caused Resignation of Ismet Pasha.

Associated Press Despatch. Constantinople, Nov. 24.—Fethi Bey, who held the premiership of Turkey for a brief period last year, has agreed to again take the post, succeeding Ismet Pasha, who resigned Saturday.

Although ill health has been assigned as the reason for Ismet's resignation, it is generally felt that the more probable reason is that it was due to the recent crisis within his party which caused the defeat of many of its most prominent members.

QUEBEC BAR BANQUET IS BRILLIANT FUNCTION

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, Nov. 24.—Men prominent in the political, judicial and professional life of the dominion gathered here Saturday evening at the banquet to commemorate the 75th anniversary of the Quebec bar, when over 500 guests took part in one of the most brilliant functions held here in recent years.

Addresses on topics of general and professional interest were delivered by the lordship of the chief justice of the supreme court of Canada, Premier Taschereau, J. W. Cook, C. G. B. Patenaude, former secretary of state, Mr. Justice Greenshield and others.

U. S. CITY MAY DEMAND WOMAN CUSTOMS OFFICER

Canadian Press Despatch. Brockville, Ont., Nov. 24.—In retaliation for the appointment of a woman customs officer for Prescott and Brockville to check petty smuggling, Ogdenburg merchants are threatening to press for the appointment of a similar official on the United States side of the river, claiming that women of that city are making large purchases of dress-goods, and particularly woollens, in Prescott and Brockville without declaring them on their return.

WENIGE WANTED THEIR SIGNATURES.

THAT $500,000!

George Wenige's little fairy tale of the bloated millionaire.

A few days ago The Advertiser told the story of John Anderson's business career—his start ten years ago with a little butcher shop and a thousand-dollar debt—its growth to a concern doing $500,000 worth of business a year.

It is a record for any man and any city to be proud of, because it has been done through honest, hard work, and nothing else.

George Wenige has used the figure $500,000 to give the impression to his listeners that this is John Anderson's income each year, and that Anderson is a very wealthy man—a "captivist," whom all good people should condemn—a bloated millionaire.

The truth is that Wenige is a wealthier man than Anderson. With twelve years' business head start on Anderson, Wenige today has more sources of income than Anderson, owns more property than Anderson and drives two cars to Anderson's one. All of which is to George's credit, but—

John Anderson in his home represents the average citizen. He looks after his own furnace, and his wife does her own housework, like thousands of other families in this city.

The fact remains that John Anderson has achieved a remarkable success in his business under the unfavorable circumstances with which he started. Anderson has made good, cleanly and fairly. Wenige should be fair enough to acknowledge it.

FARMER'S WIFE AND HIRED MAN MADE PLANS FOR ELOPEMENT

Husband States He Will Never Take Wife Into Home Again.

TWO CHILDREN

Ernest C. Ferguson, London township farmer, whose wife ran away with his hired man Saturday, declared today that he would never take her back. Although grieving over her action, the injured husband told The Advertiser his decision in this regard was inflexible.

Mr. Ferguson reported to the police yesterday that Frank Jamison, his hired man, had run off with Mrs. Ferguson, leaving behind two small children, on a five-months-old baby. They left in Ferguson's horse and buggy, which were recovered in a local livery stable Sunday afternoon.

According to Ferguson, the affair had been arranged some days before the elopement.

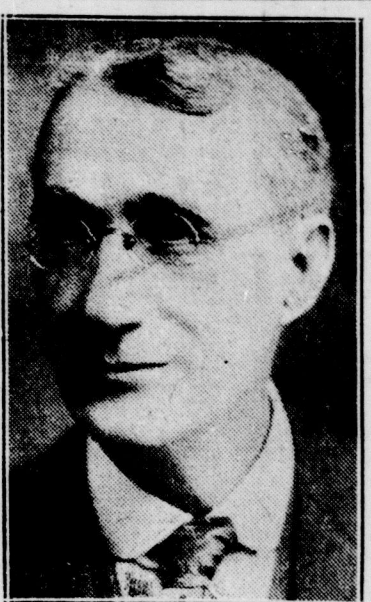

Planned Elopement. Mrs. Ferguson had evidently planned leaving her husband for a long time, according to the latter's story. On Friday she took a quantity of turkeys to market, sold them and kept the money. To disarm Ferguson's suspicions, Jamison pretended he was sick that day.

Ferguson and his wife had planned to go for a drive on Saturday evening and she had arranged to call him from the fields when she was ready. Jamison remained off for some time, plowing and waiting for his wife's call. When he received no word he returned to his home.

"When I came in and found both gone I noticed that there was liquor on the table in my house," Ferguson said. "She has abandoned two babies and left me to stand the moral condemnation and disgrace. I will never take her back."

On Good Terms. Mrs. Ferguson, who is 22 years old, seemed quite happy and was on good terms with her husband. Her disappearance came as a heart stab. Jamison, who is 32, had been working for Ferguson a short time and lived in the Ferguson home.

Jamison's description, as furnished the police, is as follows: Height 5 feet 5 inches, peaked face, Roman nose. His upper teeth project. Mrs. Ferguson is described as having light hair and brown eyes. She is about 5 feet 2 inches in height. She wears glasses and had on a blue coat trimmed with fur.

WENIGE WANTED THEIR SIGNATURES.

NEW CABINET IN EGYPT TO EASE CRISIS

Zagloul Pasha and Ministers Resign as Official Protest.

KING ACCEPTS

President of Senate, Ziaul Pasha, Agrees to Form Ministry.

Associated Press Despatch. Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 24.—The Egyptian cabinet, headed by Zagloul Pasha, tendered its resignation today to King Fuad, who accepted it.

The king summoned Ziaul Pasha, president of the senate, who consented to form a cabinet.

The acceptance of the premiership by Ziaul Pasha, who was expected to complete the task of forming a cabinet this evening, is believed likely to ease the present tense situation quickly, as Ziaul is known as a moderate man and universally liked. It is even thought in some quarters that a new political outlook will be produced which will obviate the taking of the further measures which the British have considered necessary.

CRISIS EASED.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Nov. 24.—That the Egyptian crisis has been greatly eased by the resignation of Premier Zagloul Pasha is the view understood to have prevailed at a session of the cabinet called this noon and lasting an hour and a half, to consider the Egyptian situation in regard to the resignation of the British government's action, though it is understood the cabinet will reiterate Marshal Lord Allenby's statement that the British government would not enforce the demands not yet granted by Egypt.

Austen Chamberlain, secretary of state for foreign affairs, was expected to instruct Lord Allenby to announce the cabinet's decision to the Egyptian government, but it was considered probable that the high commissioner in Egypt would be instructed to confer first with Ziaul Pasha, who is succeeding Zagloul Pasha as premier.

EGYPTIANS AGREE TO PAY "OLD BIBLE" RUTHS ARE CHAMPIONED

Government of Egypt Accedes To Britain's Demands For $500,000 Indemnity For Death of Sir Lee Stack—Agrees To Apologize and Promises Punishment of Slayers.

BALKS AT OTHER DEMANDS—CRISIS ARISES

Cairo, Nov. 23.—The Egyptian government's reply to the British note in connection with the assassination of Major-General Sir Lee Oliver Stack, governor-general of the Sudan and sirdar of the Egyptian army, agrees to Great Britain's demand for an apology, punishment of the assassins and an indemnity of £500,000. It also promises to prevent any disturbance of the peace by demonstrations.

The reply says, however, that the British demand regarding the Sudan breaks the status quo, and is contrary to the constitution, under which King Fuad is commander-in-chief of the Egyptian army. It considers the demand regarding the Gezira irrigation project premature. The communication further says the position of foreign officials is regulated by diplomatic agreement, and cannot be modified without the consent of parliament.

Act on Refusal.

Field-Marshal Viscount Allenby, the British high commissioner, promptly replied to the Egyptian note, which was signed by Zaki Pasha, the Egyptian premier. General Allenby said that in view of the refusal of the Egyptians of the British requirements numbers five and six, instructions were being sent to the Sudan government to effect the withdrawal from the Sudan of Egyptian officers and units with the specified changes resulting from these measures, and that the Sudan government was at liberty to increase the area of irrigation in the Gezira district to an unlimited extent.

General Allenby's reply to Zakiou requests the payment of indemnity of £500,000 by noon Monday, and adds:

"Your excellency will learn in due course what action is being taken in view of your refusal of requirement number seven regarding the protection of foreign interests."

Small anti-British demonstrations were renewed in Cairo today, as students and British troops marched through the city.

Use Aeroplanes.

Two aeroplanes from Cairo flew over Tantah, where some restlessness among the natives had been observed. The publication of the British note caused a sensation in Cairo. Special editions of the European vernacular newspapers were exhausted early in the day.

Russell Pasha, chief of Cairo's police force, at the head of 150 mounted policemen wearing steel helmets, made a demonstration in the streets of the city. While the thoroughfares were crowded the populace remained tranquil.

Zakiou Pasha read his reply at an open session of parliament today, after which the house adopted a vote of confidence in the government with only one dissentient voice.

The reply again expressed sorrow and horror at the execrable murder of Major-General Stack, but said the Egyptian government could not admit that it was in any way responsible; neither could it admit that the crime was the natural result of the Egyptian situation. Nevertheless the government agreed to the payment of the indemnity demanded.

Continuing, the note quoted article 4 of the constitution in reference to the Sudan, by which the king is commander-in-chief of the army. It said the Gezira irrigation demand was, in the least, premature, and remarked that Britain always had promised that an increased cotton area would be arranged under an agreement taking cognizance of Egypt's agricultural interests.

The Egyptian government further maintained that law number 28, which is a diplomatic agreement, regulated matters concerning foreign officials, and said that, in any case, it could not repudiate this, pointing out that the British note did not specify what modifications were desired.

Premier Cheered.

Parliament was charged with tense emotion as the premier read his reply, prefacing it with a statement in which he exhorted his hearers to show the greatest patience and endurance, for he was bringing about the most terrible consequences.

He then read the formal note of the Egyptian government, and in its conclusion one opposition deputy arose and characterized the document as ridiculous acquiescence in the country. The premier declared that the confidence he had betrayed the confidence reposed in him.

Zakiou in reply said: "I have done my duty and have not betrayed the confidence of the country. I am prepared to give up my place to anyone better qualified to lead the country through its difficulties."

At this remark the Zakiouist deputies, rising in their places, gave the premier a great ovation. Two hours later the secretary of the presidency handed to Premier Zakiou Viscount Allenby's reply.

The talk among the opposition deputies later was that the Egyptian reply was weak, and that the British conditions would ultimately be accepted.

STERN MEASURES.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Nov. 23.—The British government's note to the Egyptian government on the assassination of Major-General Sir Lee Oliver Stack, governor-general of the Sudan and sirdar of the Egyptian army, is even sterner than at first indicated, inasmuch as the Egyptian government is held directly responsible for the assassination because it failed to take account previous warnings from the British government. "Appropriate action" is expected that the Egyptian government will comply with the demands of the foreign office last night issued in the form of two notes. The first note, referring to the brutal murder of General Stack, says:

"His majesty's government consider his murder, which holds up Egypt as at present governed, to the contempt of civilized peoples, is the natural outcome of a campaign of hostility to British rights and British subjects in Egypt and Sudan, founded upon a headless iniquity for benefits conferred by Great Britain, not discouraged by your excellency's government, and fomented by organizations in close contact with that government."

Gave Warning.

"Your excellency was warned by his majesty's government a little more than a month ago of the consequences of failing to stop this campaign, more particularly as it concerned the Sudan. It has not been stopped. The Egyptian government has now allowed the governor-general

The Demands

The British government requires that the Egyptian government shall first present an ample apology for the crime; secondly, prosecute an inquiry into the authorship of the crime with the utmost energy and without respect to persons, and bring the criminals, whoever they are and whatever their age, to condign punishment; thirdly, henceforth forbid and vigorously suppress all popular political demonstrations; fourthly, pay forthwith to his majesty's government a sum of £500,000; fifthly, order within twenty-four hours the withdrawal from Sudan of all Egyptian officers and purely Egyptian units of the Egyptian army, with such resulting changes as shall hereafter be specified; sixthly, notify the competent department that the Sudan government will increase the area to be irrigated at Gezira from 300,000 feddans (a feddan approximately 1.5 acres) to an unlimited figure as the need may arise; seventhly, withdraw all opposition in respect to the Sudan government's wishes of protection of foreign interests in Egypt.

eral of the Sudan to be murdered and have proved they are incapable of unwilling to protect foreign lives.

"Failing immediate compliance with these demands his majesty's government will at once take appropriate action to safeguard their interests in Egypt and Sudan."

The second note details the specific requirements respecting the army in Sudan and the protection of foreign interests in Egypt as follows:

"Firstly, Egyptian officers and purely Egyptian units of the Egyptian army having been withdrawn, Sudanese units of the Egyptian army shall be converted into a Sudan defence force, owing allegiance to the Sudan government alone and under supreme command of the governor-general, in whose name all commissions will be given."

"Secondly, the rules and conditions governing the service, discipline and retirement of foreign officials still employed by the Egyptian government and the financial conditions governing the pensions of foreign officials who have left the service shall be revised in accordance with the wishes of his majesty's government."

Must Maintain Posts.

"Thirdly, pending the conclusion of an agreement between the two governments regarding the protection of foreign interests in Egypt, the Egyptian government shall maintain the posts of financial and judicial advisers and preserve their powers and privileges as contemplated on the abolition of the protectorate and shall respect the status of the British consular posts in the Sudan, as already laid down by ministerial order, and give due weight to suggestions from the British government-general may make upon matters falling within his sphere."

There was no indication in the communication from the foreign office that the British government demanded within 24 hours, but it is thought that this was communicated verbally to Premier Zakiou by Viscount Allenby.

Gezira, mentioned in the note, is on the Upper Nile. Irrigation of the area under cotton cultivation in this district has hitherto been limited to 300,000 feddans, in order not to deprive Lower Egypt of water. This area may in future be increased to an extent without regard to Egypt's special interests.

Fallacy of Many Interpretations Denounced by Henry B. Ashplant.

Addressing the brotherhood of the King street Presbyterian church yesterday, Henry B. Ashplant championed the truth and reliability of the "Old Bible" as against the fallacy of many popular interpretations of its teachings. Mr. Ashplant said: "We know that in the navigation of any sea, much more than a chart is essential to a navigator. A correct interpretation of the chart is of immense importance."

"The Bible, therefore, must be correctly interpreted for the purpose of spiritual navigation, and at this point the obligation of the church is heavy, because there is such a possibility of spiritual shipwreck, a real religious disaster, as a result of bad piloting and an incorrect reading of the chart. That brings us to the very important question of what it is that fails society in its hour of crisis. Is it truth that fails or error? Has the theologian, with all his good intentions, led us to the still waters and to the green pasture, where we may find peace that passes understanding? Have we been taught emancipating truth, as it was expressed in the teaching of Jesus; such truth as caught the ears of the people of the contrasted and disturbed peace of mind of the rulers of society?"

"I am inclined to think," said Mr. Ashplant, "that the Bible is true if persons, and being the correct, the Scriptures are far more reliable than the use that has been made of them. It is error and not truth that has failed us in our time of trial, and the proportion of error that has come to be embodied in our teaching and interpretation of spiritual law is the measure of our social confusion and of the deplorable world situation at the present time. The Bible, as a chart, is absolutely reliable, but we must, however, eliminate all error from its interpretation if we are to realize the salvation which it assures."

"I would leave with you this morning a conviction, strong as I hold it myself, of the permanent value to society of this volume of Scripture literature, which has come down to us from a venerable past and retains in 1924 the position it has held for many years in competition with the literary output of all nations as the greatest seller for the year in the world book market—the Bible."

"In an age of doubt, when the older generation has learned to realize that much which it formerly trusted as truth has proved in the test of life's severe experience to be false and unreliable, when the younger generation has begun to ask if it is not being deceived by much that it is trained to place confidence in, it is nothing to reach a conviction that all the essential points which are emphasized in these Scriptures have been reliable in the experience of centuries, and particularly verified in the tragedy of very recent years in European affairs."

VISION OF CHRIST IS ONLY SOLUTION

Transfiguration Is Subject of Sermon by Rev. W. G. Oliver Sunday.

Rev. W. G. Oliver, preaching in the First Presbyterian church last night on the transfiguration and on the vision of Jesus obtained by the disciples when on the hill, urged a similar new vision of Jesus as the only solution to "the trouble now confronting our church."

"By a new interpretation of the life and sufferings of Jesus on the cross can we attain to a solution of our troubles as a church," he said. "The trouble of Christ. The future will belong to us only in so far as we are followers and lovers of Christ. Who will be the Jesus in this trouble, which confronts us is seeking to give us a new vision of Himself as He did to the three disciples in the transfiguration."

When Peter, James and John looked up after the transfiguration we read that they "saw Jesus only." There should be nothing and no one else before our eyes. The transfiguration is referred to as the transfiguration of Christ, might also be called the transfiguration of the disciples. While they were with Christ on the hilltop, they changed under the influence emanating from Him. And because they too were changed obtained a new vision of Him. It was then that Jesus explained to them the work of His church.

"But it is no use seeing a vision if we do nothing. The life of Christ means nothing unless we interpret it in terms of our daily lives. It is one thing to be on the hilltops in a moment of supreme transcendence. It is another to be down on the commonplace levels of everyday life. But if we have seen the new vision of the Lord, then we shall put the teachings of Christ into practice, solve all our difficulties as a church and individually and make Christianity a living force in the affairs of the day."

The session of New St. James' Presbyterian church, north London, has appointed a committee to draft a ballot on church union, to be submitted to the congregation for its approval at a meeting on Dec. 22. The committee has instructions also to prepare a list of those members of the congregation who are entitled to vote on the question.

Only those who were members of the church in good standing prior to July 19 last, the date of the passing of the church union bill, are entitled to vote.

The committee includes Rev. James MacKay, moderator; Rev. Frank Balfour, roll clerk; W. D. Beamer, and W. A. Tanner.

PROF. MANLY BAKER IS ALUMNI SPEAKER

Queen's University Graduates in Western Ontario Plan Banquet Friday.

Prof. Manly Baker, of Queen's university, will be the speaker at the annual banquet on Friday of this week of the Western Ontario Queen's Alumni Association.

Prof. Baker is a member of the faculty of the school of engineering and science and is head of the geology department at the university. He is one of the outstanding professors at Queen's and has been associated with the university for over 15 years.

Inspector V. K. Greer, the present president of the association, will preside at the banquet, which is expected to be attended by between 60 and 100 graduates of Queen's university in Western Ontario.

A genuine effort is being made this year to secure a more representative attendance at the banquet from among the 200 graduates in London and this portion of the province. The election of officers for the ensuing year will also take place at the banquet, which is being held at 6.30 p.m. at Smallman & Ingram's.

HEREDITY DANGER SHOWN IN SERMON

Rev. H. B. Storey Speaks in Southern Congregational Church Sunday.

The possibility of a divine heredity which would overcome the trend toward sin in physical heredity was maintained by Rev. H. B. Storey in the Southern Congregational church, yesterday. "Recent research," said Mr. Storey, "has revealed how immense a force heredity is in daily life. It demonstrates itself in the transmission of likeness, whereby we distinguish a Chinaman from a Hindu, also in facial characteristics, tastes and inclinations. Morally, also, heredity mysteriously shows itself in inherited sinful tendencies."

"Sin is not a private matter, and salvation is not mere between the individual and God. We distinguish a Chinaman from a Hindu, also in facial characteristics, tastes and inclinations. Morally, also, heredity mysteriously shows itself in inherited sinful tendencies."

Associated Press Despatch.

GERMAN GENERAL WILL HAVE TERM REMITTED

French Government Reported To Be Planning Acquittal For Von Nathusius.

Associated Press Despatch.

Lille, France, Nov. 24.—The sentence of one year's imprisonment pronounced last week against the German general von Nathusius for theft alleged to have been committed during the war will be remitted, the newspaper Revell du Nord says it understands. The paper points out that von Nathusius was condemned "on the vague testimony of a single witness," and that he owes his conviction largely to the attitude he adopted during the hearing.

The Revell adds that the government will inspire the granting of a pardon and that von Nathusius then can return to his country, which he ought never to have left, and "may more disturb the slumbers of the diplomats whom his somewhat ridiculous adventures put in an awkward position."

"Science tells us we are the inheritors of the sins of our fathers," said Mr. Storey. "We are not responsible for inherited tendencies, but God holds us responsible for the use we make of the moral and spiritual capital handed down to us in the sense of tendencies for good or evil. God knows all about your struggle with the past, my friend, and He will not be harsh in judgement, we have all a battle to fight with our own inclinations and dispositions."

Are Not Responsible.

"Now, if we are helpless inheritors of evil tendencies, are we responsible for wrongdoing?" asked Mr. Storey. "We are not responsible for inherited tendencies, but God holds us responsible for the use we make of the moral and spiritual capital handed down to us in the sense of tendencies for good or evil. God knows all about your struggle with the past, my friend, and He will not be harsh in judgement, we have all a battle to fight with our own inclinations and dispositions."

"General Booth was the son of a drunken pawnbroker. Will Crooks was born of wicked parents in a squalid slum, but he became a stalwart Christian M.P. A completely changed ancestry alone can deliver us from the all-encompassing taint of sin. Only an ancestry which is untainted can give us what we need. This is provided for us," concluded Mr. Storey, "in the personality of Jesus Christ. Through His influence the place of the sinner and holy lineage. Day by day, and month by month, the wondrous new descent works out. We shall be satisfied when we awake with His likeness. This is the heredity that is divine."

330 LBS. OF DIAMONDS OFFERED FOR SALE

Russian newspapers claim 330 pounds of diamonds which were confiscated by the Soviet government, are being sold in Paris and New York. These diamonds are not of a high standard. Nothing is known as to how they were obtained. The diamonds are sold by John A. Nash, Ltd., My Jeweller, London and Windsor. "Where you will eventually buy."

Thieves Take Dray When Truck Fails

Robbers Steal Provisions, Car, Horse and Wagon.

Sault Ste. Marie, Nov. 22.—The warehouse of the National Grocers Limited was broken into last evening by thieves who loaded a large quantity of provisions on a motor truck which they had previously stolen from a garage. The truck, however, got stuck in the railway siding just outside the warehouse, so the thieves broke into the stable next door, took a horse and dray and transferred the goods to the dray.

BROTHERLY LOVE URGED BY BAKER

City Clerk Addresses Askin Street Men's Brotherhood.

City Clerk Samuel Baker, speaking to the men's brotherhood at Askin street Methodist church yesterday morning, made an eloquent plea for the beautiful life, for the brotherly love of true Christianity and for the philosophy of daily kindness toward the people we meet each day.

Taking as an example the life work which graced the heads of the two chief pillars of Solomon's temple in Jerusalem, Mr. Baker likened human character to such a pillar, which had not only the strength to support the temple, but also the beauty and adornment to attract and please the eye.

"The man who goes through his everyday work in his office," he said, "without making any effort to find a smile for his fellowman with whom his business brings him in contact is building only a pillar of strength without any of the grace and beauty which Solomon, the artist, found necessary."

"The fruits of brotherhood are built on strength of character, and strength and beauty are inseparable. Beauty of spirit is synonymous with simplicity. In the life of Jesus we have this beautiful simplicity most gloriously illustrated. We know that he went about doing good, and it is this Jesus which is the ideal of the human soul."

Mr. Baker maintained that the utilitarian view of life was imperfect. "If people," he said, "can only be convinced of the benefit of goodness from an economic point of view, then the system is essentially wrong."

"To attain the full beauty of life is life's supreme opportunity. To mould our lives on the Divine pattern and to shape our character in the fashion of the life of Christ is the great achievement of this world. Beauty of life is simple goodness expressing itself in actions, just as we see Jesus going about in His everyday life on earth. To miss the beauty of life and to neglect the life work at the head of the pillar of character is to miss the great opportunity of existence and to forego the wonder of 'walking' like Enoch 'with God.'"

MANY VARIETIES OF SHOPS MAY BE RUN BY WOMEN

OPEN SHOP LATER

By JULIA HOYT.
There are of course many shops—
in fact every kind of shop—which can be organized and run by a woman, but everyone cannot raise the capital for the initial expense of renting even one room for use as a shop.
There are of course some businesses
where a shop is essential, for instance furniture, but there are many where it is not.

For example, suppose that you want to sell negligees and wrappers, you can quite easily get started by arranging to take and show them to a few people at their houses. If they are attractive, these people will buy some and send you to other people.
In this way it will not be long before you will have enough capital to rent a small room for headquarters, should you still want one. I know a number of women in America and some Russian women in Paris,
who started out exactly in this way
and now have extremely successful businesses.

Always Something New.

The thing to remember in any shop is always to be on the lookout for something new or original to offer.
There is nothing that will make a place known and popular as quickly as that. It makes no difference if it is something entirely at variance with your main line of wares; the important thing is to have something that is a little different from that which everyone else has.

Another good thing to remember is that it is better to have to refuse business than to have greater overhead expenses than your business warrants. In other words, keep your shop simple, don't become carried away by success and drift into large expenses. I have seen many businesses, which were successful in a small way, fail by trying to enlarge too quickly, by "biting off" more than the business "could chew." On the other hand, enlarge the business by degrees if you have a success that warrants it.

Start one with negligees and wrappers which need very little fitting,
and if really successful add sport clothes of the simple kinds; but unless you can afford first-class fitters
don't suddenly plunge into tailored suits and evening clothes. You will only lose your wardrobe and needcustomers by making them badly-fitting evening dresses.

Low Prices Will Help.

Another thing that will help the

MRS. H. COCKSHUTT,
who is holding a reception at Government house, Toronto, on Thursday, Dec. 4.

starting of a shop enormously is low prices. Be content with a very small profit at first for the sake of the reputation you will gain by reasonable prices; always provided, of course, that the things you offer for sale are attractive. That seems unnecessary to say.

In addition, be sure that what you do sell is good. Economize by having a small stock, but never by having a poor one. After all, the main thing to be considered in any business is that your customers come back again and that they cause others to begin coming. Poor goods, badly-made things that make a bad effect on the surface only to be found had underneath, are the stupidest and worst kind of economy.

Another thing, be sure that the business you engage in is one in which you are genuinely interested in and know something about. People usually sense that, and it is the quality that constitutes a good or a bad saleswoman. We must have a feeling for something ourselves before we can expect to make others have it.

WOMEN and THE HOME

DRESS By MARY MARSHALL

Tiny Children Are Now Permitted to Wear Gay Baubles of Jewelry.

Mothers of the twentieth century have rather prided themselves on the fact that their children were not permitted to wear jewelry. We have turned back to old family portraits in the plush-covered family photograph album and looked with a bit of superior amusement at the children
there who wore necklaces and earrings.

"How unenlightened grandmother was to let Aunt Minerva wear earrings at six," we comment.

The children of recently arrived foreigners who have not thoroughly assimilated our ideas about things sometimes wear earrings. There is a notion among some of them that to have the ears pierced and to wear earrings at an early age is a charm against deafness.

Now apparently taste is changing
in this matter of children's jewelry, as in so many other things. To be sure we do not permit six-year-olds to wear earrings. But bracelets and necklaces, pendants on cords, even baby combs and vanity cases are finding a place in the very little girl's wardrobe.

To be in good taste these must not be replicas of those worn by their mothers—but of a style especially suitable to tender years.
Precious stones are quite taboo, and any sort of jewelry is considered inappropriate for the girl in school,
but for the years that come before school days little girls may now satisfy their taste for gay baubles if they like.

These trifles are made of bone
with charming painted designs, little cats or dogs or ducks—or other animals that figure in the nursery rhymes. Some of these things are made of what seems to be celluloid in gay and attractive colors. There is a little pendant pony on a cord, and a Dutch boy in gay colors that likewise hangs from a cord to go about some little girl's neck.

The one exception that seems to be made to the rule against precious stones for children is in favor of pearls. Diminutive necklaces of small pearls are considered quite appropriate for small girls in their very best party clothes and as an inducement to some very little lady to learn to tell the time of day there is a diminutive enameled wrist watch.

Jewelry for tiny tots in bright colors,
with hand-painted and pasted figures and designs. Vanity cases, bracelets, baby combs, and charms on colored cords. Tiny pearl necklace and enamel wrist watch.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

"NEAT AND UNBECOMING"

"A hard little hat, neat and unbecoming, a complexion keeled high,
and hands and feet so trim and attractive that there is no fault to be found with them at all, and there you have an every-day silhouette from Paris." So writes a visitor in Paris, who adds concerning the French woman: "She has set up a standard of smartness which it is hard for woman or other nations to live up to, though some of them do. She is the product of trained taste, perhaps a little over-trained sometimes, but wonderful to behold."

The words that are most interesting about this comment are "neat and unbecoming." One wonders how many Canadian women would proceed to choose a hat that gained in smartness and neatness while it lost out in becomingness. Often, you know, colors that are smart are unbecoming and sometimes a style of frock or suit that is most becoming happens to be out of fashion as to appear positively dowdy. But the French woman usually chooses in favor of smartness, neatness, while Canadian women more usually select first that which is becoming and after that strive to produce the effect which is neat and smart.

R. C. R. BAND GIVES EXCELLENT CONCERT

Mrs. Laurence K. Harrison, Wife of Able Conductor, Is Assisting Artist.

The first band concert of the season was held last night at the Grand theatre under the auspices of the Campbell Becher chapter, I. O.
D. E. The R. C. R. band gave a very fine program under the direction of Laurence K. Harrison, L.R.A.M.,
through the permission of Major E.
A. Seely-Smith. Mrs. Laurence K.
Harrison, contralto soloist, was the assisting artist, and was received with prolonged applause by the audience. Mayor George Wenige acted as chairman.

The program offered by the band was of a very high order, beginning with the Tannhauser grand march.
Most of the selections were from the great operas and showed the excellence of the band, working under a capable leader.

"Queron" by Weber, beautifully rendered, followed the Tannhauser number. This number gave the band plenty of scope for color work. The fantasia from "Lohengrin" was another attractive number of the evening's program, full of novel effects of orchestration, and striking in dramatic concept.

The band numbers were delightfully varied and included "Valse Des Fleurs" from the Casse-Noisette ballet (Tchaikowsky), and numbers
from "Der Geist Des Volveden" (Grossmann), such as "None But a Lonely Heart" and "The Sleeping Beauty in the Wood," ending with the grand finale to overture "1312".
There was also played "From Foreign Parts" (Moszkowski), with Italian, Polish and Hungarian motifs and others.

The songs sung by Mrs. Harrison were well chosen and suitable to her rich contralto voice. They included
"A Little Coward's Prayer" (Barbara Hope), and "A Happy Summer Song" (Kahn).

SOUTH COLLEGIATE CONCERT.

A most successful concert was held in the Victoria school gymnasium recently, when the program was given by the Girls' Athletic association of the South London collegiate under the direction of Miss A. Oakes. One hundred and seventy-five girls were in attendance.

The program included a clever little play, "The Enchanted Doll," the representation of the filming of a popular play, folk dances, a sing-song led by Miss Edith Essex with Miss Ruth Hexamer as accompanist. Following the program refreshments were served. Miss M. K. MacPherson is president of the association with Miss Dorothy Dennis, the vice-president.

KNOX CHOIR HONORS HERBERT N. ALEXANDER

Elder of Church Leaves City
Shortly to Make Home in Palmerston.

The members of the Knox Presbyterian choir entertained at a delightful social evening in the gymnasium of the church after a short choir rehearsal on Friday night. The guest of honor was Herbert N. Alexander, who is leaving the city to make his home in Palmerston, Ontario.

Mr. Alexander has been a very faithful attendant and worker in the choir, and also was an elder in Knox church. It is with much regret that the members of the choir have accepted his resignation, and as a token to his services, he was presented with a handsome painting by T. T. Francis, the English artist. The presentation was made by Miss Lola Mc-Leish, the president, after a very fitting address by Charles Percy, the organist of the church, who spoke

MR. AND MRS. C. SMALL MARK GOLDEN WEDDING

Hold Reception Today at Their Comfortable Home
on Stedwell Street.

Many old friends called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M.
Small, Stedwell street, today on the occasion of their golden wedding.
Fifty years ago they were among the principals at an interesting double wedding. The other members of the bridal party were Miss Martha Hope and Mrs. Small's brother, John L.
Fairbrother.

The ceremony was performed at the home of Mrs. Small's sister, Mrs.
Otto Kennegrewer, Rev. William
Tilley, rector of the Cronyn Memorial church, officiating. Today Mr. and Mrs. Small are the only survivors.

The reception was held between 3 and 5 o'clock this afternoon, and will continue between 8 and 10 o'clock tonight. Four children are present on this occasion, including Mrs. Levi

Smith of Glencoe, Mrs. Ada Crawford at home, and Arthur E. Small, of London.
Another daughter was the late Mrs. Alice Collins of Windsor.
Before her marriage, Mrs. Small was Miss Sarah Fairbrother, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Fairbrother, and Mr. Small was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Small of Dorchester.
During the early part of their married life they resided on a farm at Dorchester, leaving it to come to London nineteen years ago. Congratulations are today being received from many points.

Wenige or Anderson

The All-Important Question and Some Assistance In Finding An Answer

WENIGE—

He conducted a clean campaign and won in 1922.
An acclamation was accorded him in 1923.
With another clean campaign he WILL WIN
IN 1924.

He doesn't indulge in petty bickerings and refrains from making charges without foundations.

On 267 occasions during the past year Anderson voted with Wenige and 95% of these votes were backed by the majority of the Council. This is on record in the minutes of the City Council.

Some people say that Wenige is not a good leader, but the test of good leadership is cooperation. Anderson voted 267 times with Wenige.

Page 83 of the Council minutes tells of the City Engineer asking for $2,000 for his department to reinforce the concrete pipes on the High street sewer in order to make the job a lasting one. Here was work for the unemployed and a permanent, necessary improvement for the City of London. Wenige voted YES.

At a discussion in one of the Council committees
the question was brought up of raising the rents of the butcher stalls in the market. Wenige voted YES.

Page 59 of the City Council minutes records the fact that a motion was presented to supply additional funds for tree trimming purposes in order that unemployment might be relieved.
Wenige voted YES.

A motion was made in Council to commence the Quebec street storm sewer, which had been approved by the attorney-general and the city solicitor. The work was not only necessary, but absolutely vital. Men were walking the streets looking for work. Fellow citizens were in distress. Some people were living with required assistance, but they did not want charity.
Wenige voted YES.

A meeting was called regarding unemployment.
Both Anderson and Wenige were invited to attend. The mayor was there, willing to do anything and everything in his power.

Page 61 of the Council minutes states that a motion was made to appoint a special committee to investigate and report on the unemployment problem. Wenige voted YES.

Page 336 of the Council minutes presents a motion to make a presentation of $3,200 in cash
to a retiring city official who, for many years, had been holding a soft job at $2,400 a year.
Wenige voted NO.

During the past year hundreds and hundreds of unemployed people have presented their cases to a sympathetic man named Wenige and have received the utmost courtesy and consideration.

Anderson talks of consideration for every taxpayer.

Anderson states that he will give the people
the facts.

Page 160 of the Council minutes states that a motion was made to finish the pavement on Brydges street. This would have given work to many men for some time and would have completed the industrial area, so that more industries would have been brought in to employ more men. Wenige voted YES.

ANDERSON—

At the first civic meeting in the Riverview School, last Wednesday night, he claimed that the civic budget had been padded. When challenged to make good his statement he evaded
an answer. IS THIS CLEAN CAMPAIGNING?

He claims a lack of harmony and co-operation,
but, nevertheless, he voted 267 times with Wenige
during the past year. THERE MUST HAVE BEEN SOME HARMONY AND A LOT OF CO-OPERATION.

When Anderson voted against Wenige was he voting in the interests of the people of the City of London? YOU KNOW THE ANSWER.

Anderson voted NO.

He voted NO. Yet they say he has a half a million dollar business.

He has lots of money and is never unemployed.
But HE VOTED NO.

He voted a cruel NO.

HE WAS ABSENT.

He must have been indifferent, for he voted NO.

This time he voted yes. Was he a real friend of the citizens of London?

How many unemployed people have appealed to him?

Are the unemployed taxpayers, and what consideration has Anderson given them?

Does he not know that Wenige has always given the facts to the people. Wenige went so far as to publish, in the Year Book, civic details that had never been dreamed of before. For instance, civic salaries, and has made public other information the people were entitled to.

He voted NO.

HAS ANY CHARGE EVER BEEN MADE AGAINST WENIGE
THAT IN ANY WAY CONCERNED HIS HONESTY OR INTEGRITY?

Sarnia Leads at Home Puts Imperials Into Intermediate Rugby Finals

Tunnie City Grid Squad Battles Hamilton Tiger Seconds To Six-All Count

Ability To Hold Mountaineers Down On Home Lot Qualifies Border Twelve To Oppose Camp Borden in Playoff For Championship.

VICTORS NOT EXTENDED

By C. S. GRAFTON, Sporting Editor, Advertiser.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 23.—Sarnia Imperials took the hardest obstacle of all in their run for a second consecutive Intermediate O. R. P. U. championship here this afternoon by holding Sammy Hamilton's Bengal Cubs to a 6 to 6 score, and winning the game by the 12-point margin, 12-6, against the Tiger line.

Sarnia Imperials were not even extended at any place over the route to hold the 12-point lead intact. They started out by playing on the defensive largely, but as the game wore on they let up with the hope of making Tiger's defeat complete by beating them in their own backfield. They would have done this very thing had the officials not ruled that Sarnia's fourth point was a route instead of a touchdown. Rodick tried to run out then kick punt from behind the Tiger line, and three Sarnians pounced on the ball as it was jarred from his hands. The ball was ruled dead, however, and only one point counted.

Kicked Selves. Tiger's great line tearing through the Sarnia line at midfield, but the real strength of the Borderers was shown when the Cubies reached anything like the dangerous area. One time Tiger, killed into the idea that they were playing havoc on the Sarnia front wall, elected to plunge in yards for a touchdown, but was fumbled back to the ten-yard line.

Tiger had only the consolation of discovering a few embryos of a touchdown, but these were not taken too seriously in view of the fact that the Sarnia players were not only playing on the defensive, but were nursing themselves carefully. Tiger fans readily granted the Sarnia intermediates a good game as they were senior rating. The half line, as it always has been, stood out of the line of Mount Everest. The Hamilton booting was fairly good, but the Sarnia line caught faulting in the second half, and various times their versatility either as broken field runners or plungers.

End Run Weak. The Sarnia line attempted few plunges throughout the first half, but they hit the Tiger harder in the second half, and the Sarnia line was the only one of both teams provided little in the way of threats. The play had to be limited to the slippy footing, but in this department the passing of the Sarnia was not only good, but the Tiger end prevented any big gains. The Sarnians showed superb condition, justification of the Sarnia methods at the first of the season. They haven't been burned out and are not at all state, as the Tiger fans say they not taken the chances they took against London and conditioned slowly.

First Quarter. Smith kicked on touch at Sarnia's 20-yard line. He kicked, Karn took the boot and ran out of touch on the line. Tiger's line went back ten yards on offense. Karn kicked to Peter, who was not on the line. Nolan ran the ball to midfield around the end, and tumbled. Wilson taking the ball on the line, Tiger's line went back ten yards on offense. On the first down, Sarnia's line went back ten yards on offense. On the first down, Sarnia's line went back ten yards on offense.

Sarnia 1, Tiger 0. Nolan and Hutton made yards on the line. Rankin made five yards through the line. Smith balanced the distance. Play was recalled because of interference. Hutton kicked short, and Perry fumbled on the line. Sarnia took the ball, but Karn kicked to his own line before back could fall on it for a try, a Sarnia goal of touching on had's part.

Tiger got the ball on the first down, when there was an offense on Wilson's line. A back and forth game followed around. Sarnia got the ball when Nolan's kick failed to work. Karn kicked to Peter, who was not on the line. Nolan took him to Sarnia's 35-yard line from his own 25. Karn was dropped when he kicked. Nick Smith kicked on touch at Sarnia's 20-yard line. WALKERVILLE HIGH WINS WOSSATILE

Takes Cup by 1-0 Win Over South C. I. in 20 Minutes' Overtime.

After a hard battle which was decided only after a twenty-minute overtime session on Saturday afternoon the Walkerville high school soccer eleven became W.O.S.S.A. champions of 1924 by defeating London South C. I. by a score of 1-0 in the second game of the final series at Thames Park.

With but three minutes of the overtime stanza left to play Turner, the star forward of the border city crew, on a corner kick from Allison broke up the game when he placed the ball behind Hayson, the S. C. I. goalie, who had no opportunity to stop the shot.

The playing of the Walkerville forwards was pretty to watch. Time and again they worked the ball down the field, only to be turned back by the south backs, Sinclair and George. They showed up well. Riddle and Norris played a clever game on the offensive, being effective in scoring what looked like sure goals only by the heady work of Van Luyven, the big Walkerville defender, who turned aside many South attacks.

Stewart Good. In Stewart, Walkerville had a brainy little player, who worried the south backs throughout the game.

The crowd of 500 fans who attended the game were treated to an hour and twenty minutes of fast soccer. During the first two halves South looked the better team, having several close shots on the Walkerville goal, but the fast clearing of Croucher and his fast clearing saved the situation several times. Camp Borden crew showed more spirit in the second half, when Stewart of South fouled in the penalty area, the referee awarded the Walkerville a free kick. Jimmie Stewart of the Walkerville crew, who kicked the penalty, placed the ball over the goal post.

Turner's Shot Wins. In the second half, Walkerville had the better of the play, keeping the ball in the territory most of the time.

When Turner counted for the border city crew, with only three minutes to go, it clinched the argument for Walkerville. Chatter, the St. Thomas half, went into action against the Sarnians.

Referee Parr of St. Thomas handled the game in a satisfactory manner to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The teams: Walkerville—Croucher, goal; Van Luyven, Young, backs; Riddle, Ryan, Kid, half backs; Stockton, Gibson, Turner, Stewart and Allison, forwards; Sinclair, George, substitutes.

South C. I.—Hayson, goal; Sinclair and George, backs; Riddle, McEachern, Stratford, Norris and Dale, forwards; Burgess, sub goalie.

SARNIA AND CHATHAM TEAMS PLAY TO 1-1 TIE

Special to The Advertiser. Chatham, Nov. 23.—Sarnia and Chatham Hayes teams played to a 1-1 tie in the final game of the Bates' cup. The game was the best exhibition of soccer played here in years.

Manore also had a good hand for grabbing a Tiger outside kick out of a pack of Tigers and running it back 10 yards.

R.M.C. put Sarnia out last year, but Sarnia is coming back with a vengeance. It will be a great battle, for Queens is probably stronger than the Sarnia team, but Sarnia had had a case of stage fright or something last season.

The Sarnians even had an Imperial Oil fire bucket along to carry the team, and the waterman was much in evidence.

McCutcheon Cup Retained By Maple Leaf Eleven

Ty Cobb: Remaker of Baseball Closely-Fought Replay of Tie.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Nov. 23.—The McCutcheon Cup was retained by the Maple Leaf eleven in a closely-fought replay of a tie between the two teams.

The curtain was rung down on local soccer on Saturday, when the Maple Leafs defeated the C. N. R.'s 1 to 0 in the replay of the McCutcheon cup final at the C. N. R. ground after a very exciting contest and before a very large crowd of fans.

The game was strenuous all through and the only goal of the match, which was scored by Dave Smith, should have been scored at the end of the first half, but the referee made no attempt to save. The game started with some brick exchanges, both teams attacking in the first half, but the Maple Leafs were the better of the two.

The second half started with the Leafs attacking, but the defence of the C. N. R. was very strong. After fifteen minutes of the second half had gone when Dave Smith scored the goal, which proved to be the winning goal. Both teams tried desperately to score, but the Maple Leafs were the better of the two.

Taxes On Vacant Land.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., has discovered that vacant land on which it cannot collect taxes is a liability rather than an asset. That municipality now has $400,000 worth of property on which taxes have not been paid. At 40 mills, the present rate, that is $16,000 per year.

Speculation is no doubt to blame for some of this. It was an attractive venture a few years ago to buy up vacant property on the line of growth, waiting for some party to come along and by investing in permanent improvements, make the property valuable. The sum total of money lost in this way must be as great, if not greater, than the profits made.

Sault Ste. Marie can sell this property for taxes if it desires, but who is likely to buy it when present owners do not consider it a good enough investment to protect by paying up the taxes?

There are many people right here in London holding on to vacant land, and they find it is eating its head off with taxes. A person holding such property finds himself in a peculiar position. He probably bought at a price that looked attractive, hoping to turn it over at a profit. Each year, by the payment of taxes and local improvements he is forced to increase his investment, and there being no other course open, he adds this yearly levy to the price of the lot. By the time a few years have gone around he finds that the amount he has tied up in the place is more than he can expect to realize on it, and his adventure, instead of becoming a source of profit, has been turned into a loss.

He must make his decision on whether it is advisable to take his loss now or hold on with the chance of a favorable sale later on to some urgent purchaser. That is exactly the position in which a number of large and small speculators in London and elsewhere find themselves. One man who has gone through this experience stated his only way out was to build houses on the property in order to get back the money he had tied up in the vacant land in the first place; he admitted he would do well to break even, because building had cost more than he expected, and he had to add in taxes for the period of years the lot had remained non-productive; another admitted he had sold at a loss for a cash deal, and was glad to get out of it.

The high taxation levied in nearly all Canadian cities now makes speculation in vacant land too venturesome to be tackled, unless the buyer has a fairly well-defined idea of what he is going to do with the property.

The Smallest Issue on Record.

Perhaps never in the history of the dominion has a by-election been fought out on as small an issue as that held before the electors of West Hastings for some days past.

The whole circumstance that make up the stage setting for an election for which there was never any reason that recognized common sense as having a part in public life, have been small to a point of picaresque.

Hon. James Murdock had $4,000 in the Home Bank; he drew it out two days before the bank crashed. A committee of the House of Commons investigated charges brought by Guss Porter, Conservative member for West Hastings, that Mr. Murdock had secured inside information and acted on it to save his money.

The investigation revealed that Mr. Murdock was not at the cabinet meeting where the Home Bank affair was discussed, but had been led to believe from a conversation with Deputy-Speaker Gordon that the bank was not sound.

Mr. Murdock drew out just the money that belonged to himself, apparently all that he had, for office has not made him rich. The committee voted that Mr. Porter's charges were not substantiated, whereupon Porter handed in his resignation and opened the seat in West Hastings.

And around this issue has been built all the machinery of a by-election, carrying with it the big speakers from both parties in parliament. The best feature is that voting will close the incident on November 25.

Leave Police Commission As It Is.

Kitchener is to vote on the question of enlarging the police commission to five members, the two extra ones to be named by council or elected by the people.

London is to vote on the same question on December 1, only here the question is a plain proposal to elect two members. The mayor, an elected member, is also on the commission, so three elected members on a board of five constitutes a majority of elected members, and gives something that the law of the province has very wisely refused to sanction.

As far as finances are concerned, the city council of London or any other city is in control of the police department. The city of Peterborough had occasion to fight that point out before the courts, and that was the finding.

If the police commission were made an elective body those running for positions on the board would have to get enough votes to be elected. When it came time to be elected they would have to have a platform, and that platform would contain promises of what the commissioners would do if elected. These promises would not be the seasoned judgment of men who had given the matter mature thought; they might very well be the hasty conclusions of those who knew nothing about the matter. Even if their ideas were all wrong it would be their aim to bring them before the commission and press for their acceptance.

The elective idea would open the door to influence being brought to bear on members of the commission by those who had voted or worked for them. If bylaws had been broken or if parties were in trouble, with the police dealing with them, the most natural thing would be to appeal to a friend on the commission, and the fact that he would have to come back for votes at the end of his term would be a powerful argument to use with him.

The police department is part of the administration of justice, and it must be done with strict neutrality. The present commission is made up of the county judge, the magistrate and the mayor, and is a very wise system of securing an even-handed administration of justice.

For these reasons The Advertiser believes ratepayers of London should turn down decisively the move for the enlarging of the police commission to five, the two additional members being elected by the people.

There is no good or sufficient reason to be advanced for making the change, and there are many reasons against such a move. Vote NO on this bylaw.

$150 Per Day and Expenses.

Victoria county council has been looking over the bills in connection with a recent murder trial held at Lindsay. A number of them caused little comment, but when they came to the bill of a Toronto alienist at $150 per day and expenses, the county fathers threw up their hands and decided to get a letter off to the attorney-general asking him what could be done about it.

This business of being an alienist looks like a fairly good calling, provided, of course, there are enough people who want to be alienated on, or whatever it is that an alienist does.

There's something mysterious about it, too, and it's in these mysterious callings that the money comes fast. If a man has corns on his feet, he can see them, or if a wart grows on the end of his nose, he can observe it himself. For his corns he spends a quarter for some plasters or drops, and when they're ripe for picking he removes them and walks joyfully once more. Same with a wart on his nose—gets a caustic pencil and paints away until the wart calls "Kamerad" and quits its dugout.

But this alienist business is different. It has to do with a man's brains and the manner in which they are hitting. If the man under survey looks like a four-cylinder chap the alienist proceeds on his blue-print to find out if the cylinders are firing in order. He asks him a number of questions and notes the answers. When he finds the answers rather weak he takes his pencil and puts a mark against cylinder No. 3; he proceeds then to work on that one. Once more, it's not simple, like taking out a spark plug and having the carbon brushed out. The whole business, to borrow the pet phrase of the police when they're stumped, is shrouded in mystery.

Plenty of people can stand on the back porch in winter time and shove the broom handle in a fresh fall of snow and tell that it's two feet, but defects in a man's thinking plant can't be discovered with a broomstick.

That's how it comes that this Toronto alienist was able to go to Lindsay, collect his railway fare, board and laundry, and $150 a day as well. It does look like a fairly good line of business, even if there were a few slack days in between patients.

Note and Comment.

Labor leader in Toronto has been accused of wearing spats. Truth is many a man wears them who faces winter with nothing but a pair of low shoes.

Husband and wife from Stratford are both in jail at Kitchener. No doubt one of those couples of whom the neighbors say, "You never see her unless he's along."

Sporting writer, after watching the Stratford-London game, says "the defence stood out defensively." Would it follow that the man at center would stand out centrally?

Two Houses

I know one house where I go to. I ain't a-callin' there no more, because I was in agony right from the time I crossed the door. Why in that place they've rugs and mats that cost a thousand dollars, I bet, and they've got chairs and stools and such whereon the company is set.

And they've got hardwood floors that shine, they're polished sixteen times a week, they're finished like the glow what dwells on some hard drinker's rosy cheek.

I know it's nice to look around and gaze upon such things as these, but when I'm visitin' in there I'm never feelin' quite at ease, because the misus of the place is always fidgetin'. I know, for fear folks go and plank themselves some place they shouldn't ought to go.

And then she tells of other folks who come and entered in and sat, and how when crosstin' through the hall they put their feet upon a mat, and on their hoofs there was some dirt. It took six hours to fix the spot, it was the most expensive rug what folks in town had ever bought.

And while she's talkin' on like this I draw my feet up in a knot, and chillis they camp upon my neck, and make me feel both cheap and hot, a-fearin' that upon my feet six o'clock of mud is firmly laid, and she'll be talkin' when I'm left about the awful tracks I made.

I'd rather go to some place else, I know a spot that suits me fine, there's youngsters playin' in the hut a-rangin' from two years to nine. And when I enter in that spot they grab me by my chillsy mit, and I ain't spendin' half my time a-wonderin' where and how to sit.

The carpet is an old affair, the chairs and things is much the same, but they just seem to wink at me to come and park my weary frame.

And when they talk they never knock the folks what's come to call on them, they're powerful glad to see 'em all, a-hopin' as they'll come again. The color scheme they have in there it's neither rose, nor brown nor blue, but it's a mixture of 'em all what pleases folks like me and you.

They haven't cushions in that place what's just to look and gaze upon, or that they'll moan and groan about the minute that you've went and gone.

That's where I like to go and call, it cheers me up when feelin' blue, for I ain't fearin' all the time I'm sittin' like I shouldn't do.—ARK.

Our Own Fault

This article is one of several prepared by the Kivans club of London in the interests of better civic government, and with the idea of encouraging a thoroughly representative vote at the elections on December 1.

Will you take this pledge?

"I pledge myself to vote at the coming municipal election."

Before despairing of our present form of civic government, or trying to effect reform by strange, rude devices, it might be well to give our present system a more thorough trial. It might be wise for citizens to avail themselves of such privileges as they already possess.

No system of government short of an autocracy backed by bayonets can work satisfactorily if the voters upon whose suffrages the whole scheme rests are too slack, indifferent and selfish to exercise the simple function of registering their wills at the polls.

Possibly there is no use railing at human nature. Men and women are more interested in the pursuit of pleasure and selfish interests than in the debates and committees of councils or parliaments. But how escape the fact that the prosperity and happiness of all of us are tied up with the efficiency and conduct of government? If we are too selfish to interest ourselves in such affairs we must pay the price of selfishness.

Whenever the time comes that we grow tired of paying the taxes we are paying now, of having servicable legislation hindered or defeated, of having improved conditions for our city delayed or shelved, because of incompetency or through warring factions in our councils, whenever we grow sick enough of trickery, incompetency, and a lowering of the standards of our administrative bodies, we have the remedy in our own hands.

What we must do is to care deeply enough to use it, no matter how drastic.

If we have men in our elective administrative bodies who are not playing fair it is our own fault. We either voted for them or we didn't vote against them.

Whenever we realize that we can have no business which is so important to us as the business of having good churches, good schools, and elective governing bodies that shine with honor and integrity, we will begin to get somewhere. Then, and then only, will we begin to show results of which we may be proud.

However, the important question is not whether some 50 per cent of the electorate are going to stay at home this election or go to the polls. If they march to the polls only because they are asked to they had much better stay at home.

What we need isn't simply more voters. We need less indifference to our governing, whether voting is going on or not, and whatever else may be said about it, that huge stay-at-home vote must include a large mass of indifference to politics.

Voting is not enough. Everyone should get some ideas of his or her own as to why they should vote, and how. It isn't a subject that should daunt any person with average intelligence. Informing yourself about it is no great task; you cannot afford to ignore it.

Arouse to your duty, make a study of the bylaws to be submitted, and of the men in nomination, select those you think best, and then if you love your city do your duty fearlessly and faithfully. There is no other way by which we can have the things we should have except and save through the mighty power of the ballot, which makes of every man and woman in our land that thing which has so aptly and wisely been designated as the Sovereign Citizen.

Vote as you please—but please vote.

To the Editor

Doctrinal Insecurity.

Londoner Believes That Changes From Original Westminster Standards Have Weakening Effect.

Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—The strength and security of the future united church, as well as its influence as a witness to Christianity, will depend upon its loyalty to scripture truth. Will it have that security?

When the union committee sat down to draw up a statement of faith what did they do? They laid aside the confession of the faith. Did they write a statement out of their own souls, expressive of the common faith of the three churches? No, they imported two statements, one from England, and one from the U. S. A., made selections from them, deleted anything peculiar to our own faith, introduced some alien doctrines, and presented it to us as an expression of the faith of our people.

When the basis was submitted to the late Prof. B. B. Warfield, D.D., of Princeton, he said: "It lies on the surface that the doctrinal basis is poor and thin as compared with the Westminster standards—suppresses some precious truths, obscures others and displaces others with error. And Christian men are not permitted to sell the truth in order to purchase comfort, or assent to much less the glory and worldly strength of a great organization. The strength of a church is in the amount of the divine truth it possesses, and confesses, and makes available for the moulding of life. And no tendency of our time is more full of evil promise than the tendency to subordinate the confession of scripture truth to size of organization."

That the authors of the basis did this may be seen when we compare the basis with the confession, and also with the documents from which they made selection. The confession may need revision, and it would have been revised before this but for the opposition of the unionists who opposed it in assembly, but when it is revised our church will not cut out the confession of the eternity of the divine purpose of grace in Christ for His people as the authors of the basis did. When they quote "We believe that God, from the beginning, in His own good pleasure, gave to His Son a people," etc., they omit "from the beginning." This led them also to omit the other doctrines of our confession consequent on this and leaves the church open to the charge that she has departed spiritually from the faith, and has no legal or spiritual claim either on the people or property of the church. When they quote "We believe that the Lord Jesus Christ, the sole head of his church, has appointed its worship, teaching, discipline, and government to be administered according to his will revealed in holy scripture," they omit "revealed in holy scripture."

But the tendency that led them to depart from our confession has led them to hold loosely to the basis as well. Only as in substance agreeable to scripture do they present it to the church. The examining committee are to ask candidates if they are in essential agreement with it. The conference in the vows put to men entering their ministry will ask them nothing of their attitude toward the doctrines of the basis. All they require of them is to promise to teach what they believe is according to scripture, and any person of any sect in Canada could promise the same.

But this is not all. Their declaration of spiritual liberty in sec. 25 of the bill allows the courts of the church at any time to change their statement which they hold so lightly and unite by compromise with any other church. Thus is the security of the faith further endangered, and the security of the property of the church as well.

But we are living in an atmosphere surcharged with modernism. To the modernist the phenomenal or seen is the real, and the supersensible or supernatural is unreal, and because it is unknown. This movement has spread from Germany over Britain, the U. S. and Canada. It is being taught to the students of our colleges. Multitudes of our ministers believe it. It aims at calling the church back from its creeds and from apostolic Christianity to the natural man Jesus and founding the church on him. The church has believed in Jesus Christ. They would have us believe merely in Jesus. This would mean that we have to surrender our faith in the pre-existence, the supernatural birth, the conviction of divinity, manifestation of divine power, the sacrificial and atoning merit of the death, the resurrection, and the ascension to glory and the coming again of our Lord. At present this is the battle ground in all our churches. The battle will next move to faith in God himself, and the battle will be between atheism and faith in God. The logical modernist believes that the only God there is is man himself. What security is there for the united church against this flood?

CAPTAIN IS KILLED WHEN SHIPS CRASH

Crew Rescued After Hanging To Rigging For Two Hours.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Nov. 23.—Captain A. J. Wilson of Fairhaven, Mass., master of the schooner Perry Setzer, was instantly killed Saturday morning when his ship was rammed and virtually cut in two by an unidentified steamer in a fog 30 miles south of Cape Hatteras, according to information brought here tonight by the United Fruit liner Calamares from Cuba.

The eight members of the crew of the Perry Setzer, after hanging to the rigging of the almost submerged schooner, were rescued by the oil tanker Solona, 15 miles north of Cape Hatteras at 2 a.m., Saturday, two hours after the collision. It was reported. According to radio messages picked up by Captain Harry Spencer of the Calamares, it is believed the City of Montgomery of the Ocean Steamship line may have been the vessel in collision with the Perry Setzer. The City of Montgomery sent out a message late Saturday night that she was returning to Savannah after being in collision with a schooner 30 miles south of Cape Hatteras. Her damage was not given.

WHITE ADVOCATES SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Truck Drivers Complain, Rolling Mill Manager Declares.

BOY IS KILLED

C. H. White, manager of the London Rolling Mill Co., Ltd., has written the board of education and the police commission protesting against the practice of school children hanging on automobiles.

Mr. White states that last week's accident, in which a schoolboy lost his life, had led one of the truck drivers for his company to make a formal complaint about the practice. He suggests that an educational campaign be undertaken in the schools by way of instructing the children against continuing the dangerous habit.

Secretary W. A. Tanner, to whom Mr. White's letter was addressed, is forwarding a copy of the letter to the principals of the different schools, with the request that the matter be urgently taken up with the children immediately.

Writes to Secretary.

Mr. White's letter, dated Nov. 21, to Secretary Tanner, is as follows: "We are inclosing herewith copy of letter which we have addressed to the police department and the city council regarding the very dangerous habit many boys and men have of clinging to motor trucks."

"The school children are probably the worst offenders, and the hardest for a truck driver to handle, and we think it would be well if the matter were brought to their attention very forcibly through the teaching staff."

"Probably this has already been done as a result of the unfortunate accident of last week."

Mr. White's communication to the police commission is as follows: "The accident on William street south Wednesday at noon, when a boy lost his life by being run over by a heavy motor truck, has caused our truck driver to make complaints as to the trouble he has in keeping people off our trucks."

"Our machine is of about four-ton capacity, and consequently very heavy, and not very speedy. Our driver says that he is stopped frequently and drive both boys and men away from the truck, although school boys are the worst offenders. Often his efforts are rewarded by abuse and sometimes the throwing of stones."

Trouble With Bicyclists.

"He has also had trouble with bicyclists holding to the back of the vehicle, which practice he understands, contrary to the motor vehicles act."

"It is practically impossible for a truck driver to stop his truck and catch the offenders or get their names."

CHAPLIN'S WEDDING SEEN AS HE LEAVES FOR MEXICO

Comedian Mute When Asked If He Intends to Marry Lita Grey.

RUMOR DENIED

Departure For Guaymas Called "Business Trip" by Fairbanks.

Associated Press Despatch.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 24.—Charles Chaplin, motion-picture comedian, reported in Mexico City despatches, as expected at Guaymas, a Mexican West Coast port, to marry Lita Grey, his young leading woman, passed through Yuma, Arizona, bound for Guaymas last night.

Chaplin was aboard a Southern Pacific train for Nogales, where his car would be switched to a train for Guaymas. Chaplin refused to discuss reports that he was to marry Miss Grey, but admitted he was going to Mexico. Miss Grey has been in the Mexican city on "location."

Chaplin's departure from Los Angeles late yesterday was not preceded by publicity. Even at his own residence where the Mexican report was termed entirely groundless it was pointed out that the comedian had been in Los Angeles the day previous, and no doubt still was "somewhere in Los Angeles."

However, W. E. Curry, grandfather of Miss Grey, gave out information that he had accompanied Chaplin to the train. He declined to state whether Miss Grey and Chaplin were engaged, though he said: "She has been out with him a lot."

Douglas Fairbanks called Chaplin's departure for Guaymas "a business trip," as did others who knew the comedian had planned to leave for Mexico.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH EFFORT COMMENDED

Rev. Albert Laird Sends Letter of Congratulation Upon $2,460 Contribution.

First Presbyterian church has been congratulated by Rev. Robert Laird, D.D., treasurer of the Presbyterian church of Canada, upon its generous contribution of $2,460 during self-denial week for the deficit of the church in Canada.

Dr. Laird's letter to the pastor of the church, Rev. William Beattie, D.D., appeared in the weekly bulletin yesterday as follows: "I congratulate you and First Presbyterian church most heartily on the generosity of your special thanks giving offering. In view of the financial strength of your congregation I know of no finer response anywhere in the church this autumn. What you have done is an inspiring revelation of the sacrificial spirit, and will be of the highest value in stimulating self-denial and larger gifts in other congregations."

Dr. Beattie received a letter also from Rev. Alfred W. Gandler, D.D., principal of Knox college, Toronto, and immediate past moderator of the general assembly, who was the anniversary preached just a week or so prior to the holding of the self-denial campaign.

Dr. Gandler's letter, in part, is as follows: "It is very fine that almost immediately after their anniversary offering the congregation should make so liberal an offering for the deficit of our budget. If my services anniversary Sunday had any small part in preparing the people for this offering, I am thankful, but I am sure it is evidence that the congregation are in good heart and that the minister is doing the right kind of work among them."

THIEVES ROB OVERCOATS AT SALVATION RALLY

Thieves entered the basement of the Masonic temple on Saturday evening, ransacked the pockets of overcoats belonging to Salvation army members attending a demonstration, and made away with money, jewelry and other articles.

Detectives were called and an investigation was made. The demonstrations were held in the auditorium of the Masonic temple in connection with the young people's work. The basement was used as a cloak room.

SUPREME COURT SESSIONS OPEN

Seven of 19 Cases Are Settled, Forecasting Shorter Proceedings.

Although Mr. Justice Kelly, presiding at the non-jury supreme court sittings at the courthouse, asked that court be convened at 10 o'clock this morning in order that he might finish the list by Friday night, it is more than likely that his lordship will be back in Toronto long before that time, as seven of the 19 cases have already been struck off the list.

Five cases were put over to the next court at the request of counsel, while two cases were settled out of court. Half an hour after court convened an adjournment was taken at 1:30, when the case of the Greene-Swift company against E. J. Belman of Collingwood was commenced. The plaintiffs are asking $2,072.64 damages for breach of a contract, alleged to have been assumed by the defendant.

Settlements in the case of Parsons vs. Boyce and the Premier Trusts company vs. Raymond were announced by counsel.

The action of the Bank of Nova Scotia vs. Shaw was laid over till the next court as were four actions brought by the Imperial Bank against four Londoners over notes given in payment for stock in a concern.

COAL CHUTE SLUMBERS UNLUCKY FOR WM. SCOTT

William Scott arrived in London Saturday night during the course of a country-wide search for work. He had no money and intended to put up at the police station, but the hour was so late that a comfortable coal chute was given to him by a good Samaritan.

He was rudely awakened from a deep sleep by a police officer, who invited him to spend the remainder of the evening at the police station. He explained his plight to Magistrate Graydon in police court this morning, stating that he intended to leave London as soon as possible in search of work in another city.

"If you have no money how would you travel?" the magistrate asked. "I'd beat my way," Scott replied. "I might be able to get a lift on a brewery wagon."

"There are not many on the road now," his worship replied with a smile. "However, I will discharge you on condition you make good your promise to leave London."

SUMMER HOMES AT PORT NUMBER THREE HUNDRED

According to Miss Lena Going, town clerk of the village of Port Stanley, there are over 350 summer cottages in Port Stanley, the number increasing each year.

Most of these are situated on Willow Beach, and the rest are located at Orchard Beach, Erie Beach, and Inverie Heights.

From 30 to 40 new cottages are built at the resort each year, about 30 being completed this year. Thirty years ago a 100-acre farm used to extend out where the lake is now. Here a few tents were put up for the summer and thus Port Stanley started to become Western Ontario's "Coney Island." Matthew Payne, one of the old residents of Port, remembers this quite well.

BISHOP LAYS CORNER-STONE OF NEW BRESCIA HALL

Bishop Fallon laid the cornerstone of Brescia hall on Saturday afternoon at 3:30. His lordship was assisted by Rev. Father Mahoney and Rev. Father Pocock.

The ceremony was of a semi-private nature, only the members of the advisory board and a few others being present at the ceremony.

The new building is rapidly taking form, although it will not be completed until September next.

Storm On Lakes Delays Shipping

Canadian Press Despatch.

Port William, Nov. 24.—While the weather at the head of the lakes yesterday was not as stormy as it has been previously in this season, shipping on its way up was delayed and some of the fleet of grain boats which was due here arrived yesterday. It is expected that all the boats will be able to come through today.

NEW CABINET TO EASE THE EGYPTIAN CRISIS

condemnation on the part of the Laborite press and political writers. Inasmuch as the demands for withdrawal of Egyptian troops from the Sudan, and payment of the £500,000 indemnity were the only two requirements in the British ultimatum compliance with which within twenty-four hours was specifically mentioned it is assumed that the Egyptian government will be allowed a reasonable time to fulfill the other stipulations. There is no expectation, however, of any weakening in the British determination to see the terms of the note strictly observed.

Course Was Necessary.

Commenting editorially on the situation the Times today says there can be no reasonable doubt that the course adopted by the British government was a necessary one not only for its own independence, as does the interest of all civilized nations. The paper remarks that all the demands made in the note presented by Lord Allenby fall within the four points reserved to the discretion of his majesty's government when the independence of Egypt was recognized.

The Morning Post and Daily Telegraph, Conservative organs, the Daily Mail, Independent, and the Westminster Gazette, Liberal, entirely unambiguously support the British position. The Independent Daily Express with the exception that it regrets that the indemnity exceeded the amount intended for the victims' families.

The size of the indemnity is also among the objections raised by the Daily News, Liberal paper. The demand for Egypt's withdrawal from the Sudan is a very grave decision, which may have serious consequences in Egypt, adds this paper, which also suggests that the Sudan should be administered under league of nations mandate.

Laborites Condemn Demands.

The Daily Chronicle, Liberal, while favoring strong measures, regards some of the demands as needlessly and unwisely severe.

The Laborite Daily Herald denounces the whole British action as "terribly reminiscent of the Austrian note in Serbia, which led to the great war," and says it constitutes the severest blow yet struck at the authority of the league of nations, to which body the matter should have been referred.

Special despatches from Cairo say the note caused the greatest satisfaction among the British residents in Egypt who, however, would have preferred the conditions to include compulsory restraint on the native press. It is remarked that unless the crisis is speedily settled the tourist season in Egypt will certainly suffer, with consequent great pecuniary loss to the Egyptians. The season has already begun, and large steamship accommodations have been reserved. Many of these doubtless will be cancelled unless a peaceful outcome is quickly assured.

AWARDED DECORATION.

Lieut.-Col. R. Emmerton, officer commanding the Bruce regiment, has been awarded the colonial and auxiliary forces officers' decoration. The award follows in consideration of 20 years' service in the Canadian militia. The officer has been appointed to continue in the command of the Bruce regiment for a further period of one year, expiring October, 1925.

The fear that summer cottages on Orchard Beach, Port Stanley, were being looted lately was proved Saturday when residences with the locks torn off were found.

ROBBERY VICTIM MADE TO DISROBE

Leamington Merchant Is Double Loser as Bandits Raid Garage.

THIEVES CAUGHT

Special to The Advertiser.
Windsor, Nov. 23.—At a few minutes past seven o'clock this morning two men in a big touring car, bearing Michigan license No. 135-775, drove up to the gasoline garage of Herschel May, Leamington. Both were heavily muffled and carried revolvers in their hands.

When May came out to learn their wants, he was told to elevate his hands and to "keep 'em there." He did so, and the men backed him inside his office, forced him to disrobe, and then, after rifling the till of $75, drove away in the direction of Windsor.

Within a few minutes May notified Leamington police, and they in turn got in touch with Windsor police department. Two patrolmen were detailed to keep a watch for the car.

At 8:20 a.m., a trifle more than an hour after the robbery had been committed, an automobile closely

"Minstrel Chuckles" Boasts Best of Comedy and Music

Orient Club Will Present Big Production at Grand Nov. 27, 28 and 29.

CHORUS GIRLS, TOO

"Minstrel Chuckles," the show to be staged by the Orient Club at the Grand on November 27, 28, 29, is a show replete with music of every description suited to this type of production. Rehearsals reveal medleys of popular songs, rendering of which requires almost professional talent.

Dances of every nature done to these numbers are surprisingly intricate and in every scene furnish the finesse which is not often viewed in an amateur production.

Chorus girls, chorus men and soloists singing ballad and comedy numbers, vie with each other in volume, verve and tone quality. But the productions seem so evenly balanced that it is neither easy nor wise to venture an opinion as to which is the more dominant.

Enthusiasm rampant.

Enthusiasm is so rampant regarding the show that, needless to say, packed houses for all performances are expected.

It would be hard to imagine a more astonished or pleased group of people than members of the cast of "Minstrel Chuckles," the show offered by the Orient Club at the Grand on November 27, 28 and 29, as Director George Zarfas passed out their costumes. From the girls there were "Ch's, ah's and isn't that lovely"; from the men, "Boy, ain't that the stuff" and "Hot darn you, mama," as Director George Zarfas supplied one after another with his or her regalia.

All costumes cannot be true to life and be silks or satins, but the very best materials suited to the character of the costume are used. The costumes for the minstrel first part are of satin, as are those of the "Eskimo Maids," and so on throughout, until an entire cast is costumed in a manner, without exaggeration, that has never before been approached in any local amateur theatricals.

Working Hard.

The members of the large cast are working hard to put the production over in the way it should go. Among the many taking part are: Miss Elsie Crocker, soprano of the production; Miss Marge Biggs, leading lady in the "Tut Tuttle" act; Misses Virginia Dyer, Doris Thorne, Margaret Macland, Kathleen Dickerson, Dorothy Dickerson, Gene Macland, Bessie McCullough, Nellie Crocker, Doris Drake, Stella Yake, Marge C. Ibert, Iris Graham, Nora Norris.

Now for the end men, who are to dispense icy "S.P." Hamilton, Charlie Boyce, Jack Murray, A. "Dago" Henry, Walter Finch, Charles J. "Chuck" Crosby and Russell Hodgins. The men in the front row are: L. Elliott, J. Borden, R. Malone, H. Logan, H. Ball, G. Rush, M. Russell, V. Freil, E. Nickle, M. Walde, B. Jones, R. Sage, K. Drummond, F. Gammage, J. Burgess, H. Shaw, F. Downing, G. Ruse.

In the second row will be found the following harmonists: B. Loney, A. Ingram, S. Young, A. Harrison, W. Parkinson, H. Boyce, F. Parker, A. Guisher, F. Chambers, R. McLaren, K. Kirkpatrick, G. Erskine, A. Tisdale, S. Chaffe, R. Steik, Doc Ruse, M. Fysh, D. Hodgins, H. Ross, H. Ashplant, D. Logan, J. Brighton and J. Pethick.

PRESENT ACCOUNTS.

Road foremen of the county of Middlesex descended in force on the county engineer's office on Saturday with road accounts for the month.

The county books for road expenditure close next Wednesday, and no more payments will be authorized till the beginning of the year.

TORONTO WATCHES AS CROSSES BURN

Provincial Capital Has Its First Experience With Ku Klux Klan.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Nov. 23.—In the burning of a "Flery Cross" by white-robed figures in the northern section of Trinity College grounds and simultaneously another in North Toronto last night, Toronto experienced its first contact with the Ku Klux Klan.

Eye witnesses report that about 8:30 p.m. eight or nine white-robed figures came into view from the west side of the college building. The men forming the group were walking in two's and carrying with them a wooden cross. On arriving at the edge of the ravine, the cross was fastened to an iron pipe stuck in the ground, and set afire. There was no trouble in making it burn for straw had been fastened to it. While the cross, which was nearly six feet high, burned, the white figures went through a ceremonial, one of them, who seemed to be the leader, running a number of times around it. The robes of each one taking part were decorated with a large skull and cross-bones, and also a large cross.

After the ceremony had been in progress for about ten minutes the leader of the group gave a signal and his followers ran across the university grounds and disappeared. The police, on being notified, patrolled the grounds the rest of the evening.

The cross burned in the northern part of the city was much larger, being eight or ten feet in height. Before lighting, the cross had been soaked with oil and bound with oil-waste.

CHIEF CLERK HONORED BY C. P. R. EMPLOYEES

R. Rowan Presented With Purse On Occasion of Marriage.

R. Rowan, chief clerk at the Canadian Pacific railway roundhouse, Quebec street, was given a surprise party at noon Saturday, when representatives of the mechanical department, bridge and building stores and Quebec street station staffs, invaded his office, lifted him and his pet chair and carried him into the roundhouse, where Leonard and Hartman, timekeeper, presented him with a purse.

The gift from his many friends came as a complete surprise. Mr. Rowan and Miss Hilda Menzies were married quietly a couple of weeks ago. The event did not go unnoticed in railway circles, and at the first opportunity the boys got together to tender their congratulations.

Mr. Hartman read a humorous address concerning the good ship matrimony on which the happy couple had embarked. It was the hope of all that Mr. and Mrs. Rowan would avoid the rocks and shoals in the sea of life and reach the port of happiness safely.

On behalf of the engineers and firemen F. Shortall spoke of the esteem in which the chief clerk was held by all those with whom he has been in contact, and asked that he accept a purse along with their congratulations.

"There is no other way in which men can be reached and saved but through a fearless and complete proclamation of the word as it is revealed in this book."

Mr. Brownlee concluded that there was a tendency in many places now to depart from this old plan and to deal with problems of the day, and denounced the idea that by environmental and proper training a child could grow up to a perfect manhood and thereby fulfill the demands of the Scriptures. It was as true today as ever before that the natural heart was at enmity with God, and it was not possible to change this disposition by either training or environment. He stated that the doctrine of the new birth was a fundamental that could not be forsaken, and that the death of Christ must still be regarded as the great and only way of atonement. Drifting away from these fundamentals opened the doors to all manner of difficulties and dangers. Dr. Brownlee concluded his appeal with the same appeal with which he opened: "Don't Drift."

ROSES ARE BLOOMING IN PORT STANLEY NOW

Roses are still budding in many gardens at Port Stanley and, in fact, a full sized bloom was picked yesterday in the gardens of one residence on Hillcrest.

Lilacs and other shrubs and flowers are also budding and little leaves are not uncommon on the lilacs.

Local gardeners say that this is due to the nearness of Port Stanley to the lake and the fact that the resort is thirty miles further south than London.

The warmer weather at Port Stanley yesterday greatly enhanced the possibility of large roses for next week.

REV. JAMES MACKAY URGES ALL TO ATTEND

Pastor Asks Congregation to Consider Both Sides of Union Question.

Rev. James MacKay, pastor of New St. James' church, at both services yesterday urged the members of his congregation to attend the church union mass meeting in the First Presbyterian church, Thursday, Nov. 27, when Dr. George Pidgeon and Dr. J. R. P. Selater will address the meeting on church union from the unionists point of view. Mr. MacKay is opposed to union, but told his congregation they should hear both sides and judge for themselves. One member of the congregation, after the service, stated that though he disagreed with Mr. MacKay on the subject of church union, he cannot help but admire and respect Mr. MacKay's generous spirit of fairness in dealing with the matter with his own congregation.

SNOW BIRDS HERALD WINTER AT PORT STANLEY

The appearance of winter at Port Stanley was further heralded yesterday by the coming of snowbirds in large numbers. Their chattering could be heard at quite a distance.

Hunters are realizing the good hunting that can be had in the Port Stanley district, and this morning three were seen heading towards the woods which surround the port.

Rabbits are the most plentiful game at the present time, a light snow being the only thing needed to make excellent hunting.

MOTHERS LIKE TO TREAT COLDS WITH VAPORS

Direct Treatment with Vaporizing
Salve Immediately Reaches Inflamed Air Passages.

It is no longer necessary constantly to dose the children in treating croup, bronchitis, sore throat, or deep chest colds. Many Canadian mothers now use the "outside" remedy, Vicks VapoRub, for the cold trouble of all the family, because it is just rubbed over throat and chest—there is nothing to take. When so applied Vicks gives off medicated vapors which are inhaled directly into the inflamed air passages, loosening the phlegm and making the breathing easier.

At the same time Vicks is absorbed and stimulates the skin like a liniment or plaster and thus aids the vapors inhaled to break up the congestion.

At all drug stores 50c a jar. For free test size package write Vicks Chemical Co., 344 St. Paul St. W., Montreal, P.Q.

Speech.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Nov. 23.—It is possible that Miss Agnes MacPhail, M.P., will not be allowed to lecture in the Central technical school here next week on
"The School and Peace." Behind Miss MacPhail's proposed appearance is the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, and handbills advertising the meeting have been distributed throughout the city.
The handbills ask the questions,
"Do you want your boys trained to be soldiers?" "Do you know to what extent cadet training has become a part of our boys' school work?"
The distribution of the bills has aroused much criticism, and as a result the advisory industrial committee of the board of education decided that the matter must be settled by Rev. F. E. Powell, chairman of the board, and Administrator W.
W. Pearce, who constitute the "permit committee."

ing that the permit committee will refuse to allow Miss MacPhail to lecture on this subject.

Provincial Treasurer Issues
Statement Showing Improved Position of Province.

DEFICIT $8,500,000

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Nov. 23.—In a statement given out yesterday at the parliament buildings by Hon. W. H. Price, K. C., provincial treasurer, announcement is made of a deficit of $8,500,000, in the Ontario government's financing for the first year under the premiership of Hon. Howard Ferguson.
The statement points out that $3-600,000 of this sum was incurred to clear off old accounts which had been left by the Drury government, so that actually the present government's deficit is said to be only $5,000,000.
The statement compares the present deficit with $15,000,000, which is said to have been the deficit in the final year of Mr. Drury's administration, and claims an improvement for the year of $6,500,000 in the state of public finances.
Revenue during the past year is given as $40,500,642, an increase of $6,390,430 over that of 1922-1923. Expenditure is given as $49,000,642, a decrease of $248,756. In every department total revenue is increased, and in the majority of departments expenditure is lower. The reductions include $667,979, pruned by Hon.
Lincoln Goldie from the operating costs of public institutions.
As a result of the improved outlook
the provincial treasurer intimates that there will be no new taxation except a levy on gasoline consumption.
The present revenue, swelled by the gasoline tax, is expected to prove sufficient for the estimates which the government will present to the house.

ASKS FULFILLMENT OF DUTIES TO GOD

Commissioner Sowton Addresses Salvation Army
Young People.

Inspirational addresses by Commissioner Sowton of Toronto were heard by 400 members of the Salvation Army at the annual young people's convention in the Clarence street citadel at morning, afternoon and evening meetings yesterday.
Commissioner Sowton was in full charge of the convention. He was assisted by Mrs. Sowton, Col. More-hen, Lieut.-Col. Adley, Col. Major Taylor, all of headquarters, Toronto.
In a series of short addresses Commissioner Sowton appealed to the young members of the army to realize the standards of duty to God,
to country, to employers and to self.
He said that only by clinging to the highest standards could men hope to fulfill their duties to God and man.
The evening service was devoted to a final appeal to members of the army between the ages of 13 and 25 to devote their lives to God and service to mankind.
While a composite band made up of the youngest members of the former London bands played martial music of the salvationists, the songsters of Woodstock corps sang again and again their conquering hymns, bringing a whole-hearted response from an auditorium filled to overflowing.
When the last service was over Adjutant Spooner, head of the young people's department, said that it was the greatest convention ever held in the young people's circle here.
Samuel Barker, a young corps cadet of St. Thomas, read a paper on "What my studies as a corps cadet have taught me about the Salvation Army." He said that in the first six months of cadet work he had learned of the history of the army from its founding; of the officers from the general down to the humblest corps officer; of the raising and the handling of army funds.
Study of Bible.
Cadet work meant a comprehensive study of the Bible as well as a study of army life. It was probable that Paul was in fact, though not in name,
the general of the Salvation Army of his day.
One Flowers, cadet corps leader in London, read a paper entitled, "What my corps cadet studies have taught me about the Bible," saying that it was through a systematic study of the Bible that one understood fully God's purpose in dealing with man and His will concerning him.
The first thing learned from the Good Book was its infallibility. This was followed by a deepening of the inner spiritual life, then a broadening of mental vision.
Col. Adley spoke briefly on interesting observations he had made while serving the army in different points.
He told his congregation that boys and girls should prepare themselves for Christ because after the material world disappears the soul remains to fly to God.
Col. Morehen and Major Taylor
also spoke. Brigadier McAmmond and Adjutant Spooner were in charge of the preparations for the conference. The sessions were devoted entirely to questions before young people and the meetings were for them.
So great was the interest taken in the young people's demonstration that the Masonic temple was packed on Saturday night, when for over two hours members of the Salvation Army from all over the London division were entertained by the guards and guides.
The program of eighteen numbers contributed by London, Woodstock and St. Thomas corps was opened by a song and prayer. Commissioner Sowton addressed the audience, expressing pleasure to be with London division corps once more.
Applaud Singers.
The Masonic hall was fittingly decorated for the guards and guides demonstrations. From the ceiling hung garlands of leaves and flowers, and the whole staging was set off
with bright decorations.
Following selections by the drums and bugles of the St. Thomas band and the primary department No. 2, and the life-saving guards of No. 3 corps entertained. Number 1 life-saving guards gave a picturesque drill. The Woodstock songsters received a prolonged applause for their offering.
A primary called "Jonah and the Whale" by the London little ones was one of the features of the evening.

Plunges 20 Feet Truck Continues

Special to The Advertiser.
Delaware, Nov. 23.—To crash through a fence, plunge down a 20-foot embankment, turn over, and while turning throw its driver out, then to land on its field towards the river, until the driver managed to catch up to it and stop the engine, was the experience of a runaway truck—one of the 20 being used by the Warren Construction Company on the highway between Lambeth and Delaware. Neither truck nor driver was injured.
Sigmund Eichenberger was in charge of the truck, and was returning over a narrow piece of road just west of here for a load of cement, when he turned to pass another vehicle, and the accident occurred.

A score of little children gave a juvenile representation of Jonah's adventures. The piece was set to music and the youthful Jonah, only three years of age, brought down the house. Captain F. A. Hawkes was in charge of the children who showed skillful training.
Other numbers were the London Band of Love primary "Mouse Trap," which was beautifully done. The apparent lantern drill and a tambourine drill were more than pleasing. London Life Saving Guards put on the "Jolly Girl Guards" and the Y. P. Songster Brigade rendered a selection, "The Great Review."
Dialogues, marches, camp fire scenes and recitations closed one of the finest entertainments ever put on in London, and one that will be remembered by a host of happy children for a long time to come.

LOVE IN STRENGTH URGED ON MASONS

Rev. Leslie Armitage Addresses Kilwinning Lodge at St. James' Church.

Members of Kilwinning lodge, R. A. M., with George Copeland, the master of the lodge, at their head, attended the evening service of St. James' Church, last night in a body. A special musical service was arranged for the evening. The first lesson was read by George Copeland and the second lesson by W. H. McWilliams.
Rev. Leslie Armitage, rector of St. James', preached for the benefit of the Masons a sermon based on the work and development of Masonry and the Masonic spirit and ideal. He took as his text the 22nd verse of the first chapter of Kings, "and upon the top of the pillars was hily work, and so the pillars were finished."
The two pillars mentioned in the text are the pillars named Boaz (strength) and Jachin (beauty), reference to which is part of the history of the ritual of Masonry.

Relations With World.
Mr. Armitage likened the pillars in Solomon's temple to human character which is used to build up the temple of God on earth. After touching briefly on the history and evolution which had existed in the various guilds of the middle ages, he discussed the spirit of Masonry and its relation to the affairs of the world in business and in life.
"Masonry is religious foundation," he said, and its basis is the brotherhood of man. It demands from its members an individual and personal charity towards all those who are from the story of the temple pillars, which were graced with the beauty of the lilies superimposed on their massive strength, we learn that nothing without beauty is complete. Solomon did not call the pillars complete until they were beautified. Mere strength in human character is not enough. It is fairly common today, but it does not entirely prevent the relation being a lovable one. Our aim should be to add beauty to strength as Jesus did.

Love With Strength.
"In Jesus there was the strength to drive the money-changers from the temple, but also there was the sympathy which forgave the sinning woman, which endeared Him to little children, which made the man in trouble seek Him for help, and which at the last drew toward Him the thief on the cross. This was the beauty which made the world today. Grasping after wealth is the main thing today, as we have seen so plainly in provincial and municipal affairs lately. There is plenty of distention given to the strength and solidity of the pillar of human character and not enough to the hily work of beauty and love which should grace it."

Miss Mary R. Stewart of Clinton was soloist at both morning and evening services. In the morning she sang "Lead Kindly Light," by Bughe-Evans, and in the evening with A. L. Green she sang most acceptably Stainer's "Love Divine."

Beaded Frocks From "Yvette"

The gayeties of Christmas time! Dancing under glittering festoons of silver and green and scarlet! Dining at holly-decked tables with glowing crimson candles and sparkling silver!
When "Yvette" sent us these gowns for the social season, she wrote in her own quaint way—
"I think so much of your Canadian 'Noel' holly wreaths and dancing firelight—everywhere 'la joie de vivre.' Think of these gowns as 'mes etrennes,' for I want them to add to your London Town gayeties."

Dear Aunt Jane:
Some sort of a little luck-sprite must have followed me in my quest of a present for Bob's wife.

I found something most appropriate!
In the first place, it is called "The Bob-bette." What could be nicer than that?
And in the second place, it's meant for outdoors—since Bob's firm moved him to Montreal, he and Ruth have just lived at skiing, and skating, and sledding parties.

"The Bobbette," Aunt Jane, is a glorified sweater coat. It's beautifully warm, because it is made of brushed wool. And it fits in wonderfully with the shingle-mode, for it has a warm, high collar of sheared wool, which is just as near fur as I dare be, without calling itself beaver or seal.

In color, it's a lovely rich henna, and that is sure to be becoming to the dark hair and brown eyes of my favorite sister-in-law.

Christmas shopping is going wonderfully well with me, Aunt Jane. I can only hope that you are having equally good luck.

Judith

GIRL IS MURDERED IN HOUSE ON FARM,

Young Farmer Is Arrested After Fatal Shooting Near Brockville.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Brockville, Nov. 23.—Jealousy and unrequited love are said to have formed the motive for the slay-ing of a seventeen-year-old girl, Beatrice Thorne of Hulbert, Matilda township, at her home Saturday night.

Thomas Collison, aged 26, a farmer of Hulbert, is now in jail at Cornwall on a charge of murder as the result. Following the shooting to death of the girl, Collison is believed to have proceeded to the home of his brother-in-law, Thomas Fawcett, a short distance from the scene of the tragedy, and there is said by police authorities to have confessed that he had killed the girl.

His arrest followed within a few hours of the shooting and he is now held in Cornwall jail on a charge of murder.
The shooting of the girl culminated
a long period of consistent rejection of Collison's advances and was apparently the fulfillment of a long-repeated threats to take the girl's life.

New Trial Frees Convicted Thief

Canadian Press Despatch.
Winnipeg, Nov. 22.—Steve Dutcunyan, who a year ago was convicted on a robbery charge and sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary and a new trial by the Manitoba court of appeals, was honorably acquitted at the assizes here yesterday. He had been charged with robbing and administering a stupefying drug to two men, but Mr. Justice Curran, in his charge to the jury today,
said "there was not a tittle of evidence to connect the accused with the alleged offence."

When her parents were away from the village and went armed to her home, where she was engaged in housework. Peering through a window of the kitchen and seeing the girl walking across the floor the rejected lover fired at her point-blank,
but the bullet missed its mark.

Startled by the discharge of the revolver, Charles Thorne, aged 24 years, a brother of the girl and the only other occupant of the house, buried a lantern at Collison's continued to fire, and the girl fell in a heap on the floor with a bullet-wound in the abdomen and another in the back. Two other bullets were found lodged in the wall of the room.

FRENCH TARIFF CHANGE NOT TO AFFECT CANADA

Dominion Trade Will Remain On Same Basis as U. S.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Nov. 23.—It is not anticipated here that the proposed revision of the French tariff will have a very marked effect on Canadian trade.
Under the Franco-Canadian commercial treaty Canada receives the minimum rate provided for in the French tariff on a large number of articles enumerated in schedule A of the pact. This list comprises 128 tariff items and 14 chemical substances.

With regard to Canadian products which come under the French general tariff, the treaty provides that Canada shall receive as favorable treatment as the United States. The opinion was expressed here that the general tariff only was being revised by the French government. There is nothing in the treaty which binds France not to change her tariff, however, as long as Canada is accorded the same treatment as the United States.

CLOSER EMPIRE BOND SEEN IN CONFERENCE

Greater Co-operation Between Great Britain and Dominions Looked For.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Nov. 23.—The Sunday Times sees in the conference of the prime minister, Stanley Baldwin, with the high commissioners of the British dominions, a propitious omen for the future handling of inter-imperial affairs. It says that the conference sets an important precedent, and hopes that it may be interpreted as a determination to pursue a policy of closer co-operation between Great Britain and the dominions on all subjects affecting their common interests.
"Such a policy is imperative if we are to build up the future of our commonwealth of nations on a sound
