Attacked on the Front Between Sarlepont and Fontenoy Average Advance is Two Kilometres in Depth

SEVENTEEN HUNDRED PRISONERS TAKEN IN SUCCESSFUL STROKE

French Made Progress in Attack Launched Last Night; British Also Gain Ground Near Merville, at Apex of Lys Salient

By Courier Leased Wire.

PARIS, Aug. 19.—Bulletin.—Between the Oise and the Aisne, French troops attacked at six o'clock last night over a front of 15 kilometres between Sarlepont, about four miles east of Ribecourt and Fontenoy, approximately six miles west of Soissons. They advanced an average distance of two kilometres over the whole front, according to the official issued by the war office today. The French have occupied the plateau west of Nampool, about seven miles north-west of Fontenoy, and the edge of the ravine south of Andignicourt, two miles and a half east of Nampool, according to the statement. Nouvron-Vingre was captured. Seventeen hundred prisoners including two battalion commanders were taken in the operations.

There were violent artillery actions north and south of the Aisne during the night, according to the official statement issued by the war office today.

BRITISH MAKE PROGRESS.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—Near Merville, at the apex of the Lys salient, the British have made further progress, says the official statement from Field Marshal Haig today. Fifty prisoners and a few machine guns were captured.

A German counter-attack between Outterstern and Meteren was broken up by the British artillery, the statement says.

The text of the French official statement reads: "During the night there were violent artillery actions north and south of the Aisne."

"The number of prisoners counted in the region west of Roye yesterday exceeds 400."

"Last evening about 6 o'clock, French troops attacked the front between the Oise and the Aisne. The attack was over a front of 15 kilometres from south of Carlepont to Fontenoy. We realized an advance over the whole line to an average of two kilometres, approximately."

"We have occupied the plateau west of Nampool, reached the southern edge of the ravine at Andignicourt and captured Nouvron-Vingre. Seventeen hundred prisoners, including two battalion commanders, were captured."

"The night was calm on the rest of the front."

ALLIES HOLD INITIATIVE

By Courier Leased Wire.

New York, Aug. 19.—The Associated Press this morning issued the following: "German efforts to hold their line in the sector between Roye and Lassigny have been challenged by the French and with success. Since the general fighting in Picardy died down, the French have been pushing relentlessly north-eastward between Roye and Lassigny with the evident purpose of outflanking both positions. The Germans have been pressed back in violent combats as a salient driven in here might easily prove disastrous for the entire enemy defense system on the present line."

From Bailleul, which is on the northern side of the Lys salient, to the apex of the salient near Vieux Berquin, the British have been pressing back the Germans steadily and now apparently have them off all the high ground on this sector. The latest British gain was on a front of four miles between Bailleul and Vieux Berquin for a distance of more than half a mile. The enemy also lost 400 prisoners.

Field Marshal Haig's men re-occupied Outterstern about three quarters of a mile of Merville, which probably marks the maximum progress in this region in the last week. South of the Bailleul-Vieux Berquin road the terrain slopes gradually to the valley of the Lys, on the eastern bank of which it rises again. Apparently the Germans have been pushed across the road. Further British progress towards the Lys would endanger the German hold on Mont

BITING IT OFF.

How Marshal Foch is applying the allied pincers to what is left of the German salient on the Somme. The British are applying pressure to the upper jaw, while the French lower jaw is nipping pieces off the salient at Lassigny.

TEUTON PROPAGANDA SOWED BEFORE WAR

Germany Plotted Against America as Early as 1908, German Agent Confesses—Ramifications Of Teuton Intrigue Revealed

By Courier Leased Wire.

New York, Aug. 9.—A detailed statement intended to show some ramifications of Germany's scheme to include America in a world-wide propaganda campaign launched even before the outbreak of the war, was issued last night by Alfred L. Baker, deputy state attorney-general, who declared his department is fast welding together the evidence.

George von Skal of New York, who worked under Captain von Paken, military attache of the German embassy, had been arranged with as early as 1908, he has admitted, according to Mr. Baker.

I happened to be in Berlin in 1909, and met the chief of the intelligence office, Mr. Becker says von Skal stated. He told me he had often thought of me, because if a war broke out they wanted to have somebody here in the military attache's office who could be in touch with the press, and who could tell them what might be done with the press. von Skal, who is a naturalized American, agreed to do the work as long as America did not become involved in any way, according to Mr. Becker.

Evidence also has been secured, Mr. Baker declared, showing that Germany began propaganda work in Turkey at least a year before war was declared on France and Russia.

Sali Gurdji, now living in New York, but formerly president of the Ottoman Telegraphic agency, the official news organization of the Turkish government, was approached by the German ambassador in Constantinople and offered 40,000 marks to exploit German propaganda through the agency. He later was offered 100,000 marks but refused both offers.

Then, according to Mr. Becker, he was summoned before the chief of police and ordered to close his agency, which was taken over by German agents. Gurdji fled for his life and it took all the skill of neutral diplomats to save the lives of his family.

FRENCH TENTH ARMY ADVANCES TO DEPTH OF NEARLY 2 MILES

Penetrates Enemy Lines Between Oise and Aisne, Despite Desperate Resistance of German Guns and Aircraft—Progress Continues

By Courier Leased Wire.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—Bulletin.—The French Tenth Army, which attacked the German positions between the Oise and the Aisne last night, has penetrated to an extreme depth of nearly two miles. The enemy machine gunners are resisting desperately, and the German air service is also very active.

St. Mar les Troit, a little over a mile southwest of Roye, was taken by the French yesterday, according to reports from the battle front. The French also captured the town of Beuvraignes, two and three quarter miles south of St. Mar, according to dispatches.

The new French line runs from Fontenoy to the ridge south of Andignicourt. From there it runs to Nampool, which the French have surrounded, and extends to the edge of the Montagne forest. It passes about fifteen hundred metres south of Carlepont, and finally joins the old line north of Tracy-le-val. The French now hold rather important high ground to the south of Andignicourt.

Counter Attack Beaten Off

With the British Army in France, Aug. 19.—Bulletin.—By the Associated Press.—British troops, after capturing Outterstern ridge, in front of the town of Merville, have beaten off a vicious counter-attack, and inflicted heavy losses on the enemy. More than 500 Germans were captured by the British.

The ridge was captured by the British yesterday, and the Germans counter-attacked last night and this. The position which overlooks considerable ground held by the enemy in the direction of Bailleul is now firmly in British hands.

"SECTOR TROOPS" TO FORE

By Courier Leased Wire

With the French Army in France, Sunday, Aug. 18.—(By The Associated Press).—The victories of the French armies on the Aisne and at Thiesscourt were won by some of the best reformed divisions, which generally are known as "sector divisions."

These divisions with a glorious past to inspire them, and without reinforcements to strengthen them, Continued on Page Two meaning divisions charged with holding parts of the line while the duty of attacking the enemy was assigned to units that had earned the title "shock troops."

Count Ernest von Reventlow, chief editorial writer of the Tages Zeitung of Berlin, recommends an "effective counter-offensive against the extension of the propaganda contained in masses of pamphlets spread over Germany aiming at the confusion, and excitement of the incompetent masses."

Count von Reventlow mentioned pamphlet entitled: "The happiness of the future—A peace league of nations." And another containing articles, one of which praises the revelations of Prince Lichnowski, while a third reproduces the letter from Dr. Wilhelm Meulhorn, former director of Krupp's, former chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg.

BOY HERO MAY YET RECEIVE RECOGNITION

Steps Taken to Honor Teddy Richards For Rescue of a Comrade

NEWS FROM SIMCOE

Simcoe, Aug. 19.—(From Our Own Correspondent)—Teddy Richards may yet receive recognition for his life-saving of his little chum one year ago.

Mrs. W. D. Tomlinson called us by phone on reading Saturday's Courier, to say that she had promptly sent the particulars of the case to headquarters last August and had received advice that the necessary forms had been sent to Col. Atkinson to be completed and returned. We were unable to get in touch with the Colonel up to the moment, but hope that the matter may be taken up and carried to completion without delay.

Twenty Bushel Flax.

Geo. Crooks, threshing for Wm. Watson of Marburg, on Friday or Saturday is said to have separated 59 bushels from the crop on three acres. But the seed was sown half bushel to the acre and Mr. Watson got 2 1/2 bushels. It is quite probable that Mr. Watson had five acres of flax, and a 20-bushel yield at $4.50 is good enough. It is quite common for the acreage to shrink between seeding and threshing time. There are fish stories on the farm, too.

Press Photographs.

Rev. M. S. Fulton was home yesterday for services at St. Paul's. Sergt. Kenneth McLachlan was home from Camp Borden, for the week-end.

Odd Ends of News.

Complaint has been laid for non-delivery of mail at the Victoria post office. A letter addressed to one of the farmerettes there, and mailed from Simcoe weeks ago, returned to Simcoe on Saturday, though the party to whom it was addressed, had called daily for her mail through all this time. Her letters from and to this farmerette camp are said to have never reached their destination. Victoria farmers and gardeners want the farmerettes next year. One berry grower gave the girls a picnic the other last week, at the close of the berry season, providing teams and wagons to transport the party.

It does not pay to steal garden plot tomatoes. The man who got the basketful from the splendid vines in the residence garden of H. S. Falls, left his spectacles behind. A new pair will cost more than the tomatoes were worth. And then, the sneak thief idea of it all.

Every good citizen of Simcoe should cultivate the observation of a detective for the next six weeks. Watch for the man with a basket or with a bag tucked under his coat, or any other stranger to the district. This sneak thieving can be brought to an end only by concerted assistance of citizens.

The passing of the late Henry Albitz recalls to some of our oldest citizens the drowning of a brother of his about 50 years ago, in the pond now known as the Norfolk Milling Co. pond. The victim of the tragedy had been stinging the house second door south of the farmer's feed barn on Water street, and went down to the pond for a swim. He was found in 2 1/2 feet of water. Another story is that he had been cutting wheat on the site of the L. E. and N. property about the depot.

The Courier's story, just concluded, was greatly appreciated in Simcoe. We have a few copies of Saturday's issue for any who wish to subscribe now and get the new story from the same author.

SITUATION TO-DAY

By Courier Leased Wire.

New York, Aug. 19.—The Associated Press today issued the following: Launching what was described as an extensive local attack, the French on Sunday evening broke through the German positions along the vital sector connecting the Marne and Picardy battlefields.

This attack was over a front of approximately nine miles from near Carlepoint, east of the Oise, to Fontency, on the Aisne, about six miles west of Soissons. It is officially reported that an advance to an average depth of 1.4 miles was made all along the front of attack. A total of 1,700 prisoners is reported from Paris. It is reported from London that an extreme penetration of two miles has been made. The villages of Nampcel and Nouvron-Vingre have been captured, and the French have the southern edge of the ravine at Andignicourt between Nampcel and Nouvron-Vingre.

Since the situation along the Aisne and Vesle and in Picardy has seemed to be approaching a deadlock, indicating a return to the old trench warfare of the first two years of the war, an attack in the sector between the Aisne and the Oise has been expected. This line is vital to the German positions on each side of it. If it should be broken, the whole German defensive scheme would be thrown out of joint.

While the front over which the assault was launched is short, compared with those of the Marne and Picardy drives, the success attained by the French appears to point to a possibility of Marshal Foch breaking the enemy's resistance by a flank attack instead of a direct assault against the strong positions now held by the Germans between Soissons and Rheims, and between the Oise and the Aisne.

The region in which the attack was made is quite rough, and would seem to be well adapted to defensive warfare. It is intersected by ravines of some depth, and has high wooded ridges here and there. It is an extension of the hilly district along the Oise, where savage fighting has been going on for the past week.

Along the Picardy battle front, there have been local actions in which 400 prisoners were taken by the French. London reports that the French have captured St. Mard and Beauvraignes, near Roye, thus increasing the peril of that bastion of the German line west of the Somme.

Further north, the British have penetrated the German positions near Arras. The German attacks in the Flanders sector have been repulsed.

In the Merville sector the British have made a new advance, probably by following up the Germans who have been retreating in this part of the Lys salient for the past week.

AIRMEN FIGHT IN DARK.

Learning How to Meet German Air Raiders in England.

The activity of British airmen in connection with recent air raids on London indicates that they are learning rapidly the art of fighting the Goths in the dark. Until a few months ago there was little air fighting at night, even in France, and raiding craft enjoyed a marked advantage because their object was solely to avoid attack while dropping their bombs.

It is evident that they are able no longer to avoid attack. For one thing, the British pilots have learned to see in the dark as a result of numerous night flights in search of enemy machines. Now they are able to spot Gothas at distances which would have been considered impossible in the early stages of night raids.

They have learned also how to take the best positions for combatting the enemy and how to keep those positions. The Gotha, being an extremely heavy machine, is apt at slipping away. By a sudden plunge in front of the attacking scout it can create a "backwash" and leave the attacker struggling to right his machine.

The British pilots now know how to cope with that trick and to keep within thirty or forty yards of the raider all the time.

There are many perilous positions round the Gotha, whose two gunners can fire in almost any direction. Only highly skilled handling of the attacking machine enables the pilot to maintain a place in which he can continue the fight until he hits the raider in a vital spot.

"SECTOR TROOPS" TO FORE

attacked the Germans with an ardor that shows the fine spirit displayed by the shock troops pervades the entire army and while some divisions are more renowned than others, all are worthy of the great task before them. These so-called "sector divisions" have obliged the Germans to bring up reinforcements and to resort to all expedients to stiffen the resisting powers of their troops.

Several fresh divisions participated in the enemy's counter-attacks upon the positions recently captured by the French around Ribecourt and Canny-sur-Matz. In the Thiescourt region Bavarians have been brought up to lend aid to the Prussians. In the confused mixture of units, some of these reinforcements have been brought up escorted by cavalrymen, according to prisoners. This precaution, they say, is the result of the inclination of men to disappear on the way to the fighting line. The German artillerymen now are provided with hand grenades as a measure against surprise by the French infantry. Some of these grenades captured said they preferred to be taken prisoner rather than fight with grenades. The artillerymen also were disconcerted because the advances to reinforce them were without sufficient training, some having been sent to the batteries after a fortnight's preparation, prisoners asserted.

MOST MAGNIFICENT VICTORY.

By Courier Leased Wire
Ottawa, Aug. 19.—"The victory was the most magnificent which the old corps has yet achieved." This is the text of a cablegram which Hon. N. W. Rowell, president of the Privy Council, has received from Lieutenant-General Currie, commanding the Canadian army corps.

ALLIES HOLD

Kemmel and the high ground in that region. The British also have made a slight advance southwest of Merville.

Marshal Foch has not followed up his success of Saturday when he drove the Germans back between the Oise and Soissons in the region of Autrech. The terrain there is most difficult and further operations probably will depend upon the situation in the Lassigny-Roye area west of the Oise. Apparently the French effort was made more as a diversion than as a determined effort to force the enemy back to the Oise, as he probably would have retired to the river if the French captured the present Gerusa line through Roye, Lassigny and Novon. The situation along the Aisne-Vesle sector is unchanged. The enemy continues his harassing attacks, using artillery and gas, but the French and Americans manage to cling to their bridgeheads north of the Vesle. In the Vosges American troops have advanced slightly near Frapelle, capturing that village Saturday. The Germans have been shelling the village heavily. Austrians efforts to regain the left bank of the Lower Piave, taken last week by the Italians, have failed. In a counter-attack the Italians drove the enemy back and took 40 prisoners in the mountain region the artillery has been active at isolated points.

REMEMBER BY GIVING

AT any other time than this, the heroism of the men of the Merchant Marine would fill the newspapers. As it is, you simply read of so many tons of shipping sunk by submarines.

Yet from the few words you read, you must picture scores of scenes like the illustration. 15,000 men of this service, not officially recognized by the governments, have suffered death in order that soldiers, munitions and food may cross the ocean. Remember their widows and orphans, dependent for life itself on your generosity.

Let Your Donation Be An Appreciation of This Sacrifice!

As each day sees new victims of the U-Boat, more and more mouths wait to be fed—widows and orphans, who cannot look to governments for relief.

"They shall not want!" Say this in the only way that counts—by your contribution.

WE MUST listen to the call that comes from the deep—"Remember the Lusitania! Remember Captain Fryatt! Remember the 176 vessels lost, together with all trace of crew and cargo! Remember the 15,000 men of the Merchant Marine, who have already made the supreme sacrifice! Remember the widows and orphans!"

LONDON IN GRIP OF TRAM STRIKE

British Metropolis Without Service—May Inconvenience Business

London, Aug. 19.—Following the outbreak of the bus and tram drivers and conductors in the northwest district of London yesterday, a general strike was declared at 3 o'clock this morning.

A few steam buses owned by one company are running, however, as well as the trolleys, so the city is not greatly inconvenienced, but if the strike continues to-morrow there will undoubtedly be much inconvenience, especially munitions workers and those employed in government departments.

The women street car conductors refused to take out their cards until they had been granted a five-shilling a week bonus, which had been given the men but not the women.

Official sanction has not been given the strike by the union, which have been working for a settlement, and have already entered into negotiations with the company.

LIQUID FIRE ON CAPTIVES

Terrible Cruelties of German Officers and Men to Prisoners

BURNED TO DEATH

London, Aug. 18.—The first details have been officially published of gross outrages, perhaps unparalleled for fiendish cruelty, upon British prisoners and wounded men, in March last.

Highlanders tells how he and a number of his comrades were surrounded and compelled to surrender near Monchy on the 23rd of March.

Our rifles and equipment were taken from us. We consisted of one officer and fifteen men, ten of whom were wounded.

We were lined up on the original front line trench and left without a guard some time. Then a German officer and two men appeared on the edge of the trench. One man carried a container on his back, and the other was armed with a rifle and short bayonet.

The officer gave an order and the man with the container turned a stream of liquid fire straight down the trench in which we were standing.

The witness added that he and a few companions who were able to move scrambled down a communication trench and got over the top to the British lines.

One had no rifle or equipment," continued the private. "He carried a revolver and appeared to be an officer. The other also wore no equipment, but had strapped on his back a cylinder with a flexible pipe over the shoulder, and the end of which he carried in his hand.

Just as he reached the entrance to the enclosure a flame spurted out in a stream from the pipe and caught the men nearest to the trench. The other men lay in heaps round and partly on me. I heard a hissing sound for a short while, then it stopped, and started again. During this time the men were shrieking and writhing about. The flame reached right back to where I was. My overcoat and tunic caught fire. By this time all the men were on the ground.

This soldier managed to crawl up the slope and get away. Another private shows how an officer wounded in the head and foot along with four wounded and three unwounded men, including the narrator, were in an old trench, when two Germans came up with liquid fire.

One stood with a revolver in his hand and ordered the party to get back to the German lines. The narrator's hands and right ear were burned. Three of the party managed to run away and reach the British lines.

The Germans must either have suffocated or burned all five of the wounded men. Nothing further was heard of these wounded.

The British Government has protested to the German Government against these outrages.

Cold-Blooded Murder. "One had no rifle or equipment," continued the private. "He carried a revolver and appeared to be an officer. The other also wore no equipment, but had strapped on his back a cylinder with a flexible pipe over the shoulder, and the end of which he carried in his hand.

PROGRESS BY FRENCH

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Aug. 19.—French troops penetrated into the village of Le Hamel, on the hills west of the Oise and northwest of Ribecourt, today, according to the front news.

The fighting today the French were on the aggressive, and made some slight headway against the determined German resistance between Lassigny and the Oise.

With the American Army on the Vesle, Aug. 18.—By the Associated Press.—The Americans who have dug in along the Vesle, continually are being harassed by German artillery and gas projectiles.

The Germans made a vicious gas attack Saturday afternoon aimed at those Americans who are situated on the north side of the Vesle.

They used artillery first and then followed the fire of their guns with gusts of mustard and sneeze gas.

These attacks have not met with any apparent success, and the Germans evidently are aware of the fact.

This is indicated by their having sent over four airplanes which by wireless or other means endeavor to direct the firing of their noxious fumes so that they would be more effective.

The Americans have protective measures against such attacks, and on one occasion wearing their gas masks, continued working on a bridge which the engineers were building across the Vesle.

Notwithstanding the gas turned against them by the enemy, anti-aircraft guns and shrapnel drove off the enemy aviators who were trying to point out locations for attack by enemy guns, and finally the gas shells ceased falling.

The next morning the bridge has virtually been completed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—No general exemption of married men simply because of their married status, is contemplated by the war department in preparing for the proposed extension of draft ages.

Secretary of War Baker declared today in a statement before the house military committee on the new administration man power bill.

Mr. Baker said his previous remarks on this subject had been misconstrued, and that married men who do not support their families and who are not engaged in a useful occupation, will continue to be called.

"There are many married men in the country, who ought to go and fight as freely as single men," he added.

The War Secretary with General March and Provost Marshal General Crowder, appeared before the house committee at open hearings to reiterate their explanation given the Senate that the immediate enactment of the man power bill is imperative in order to carry out the enlarged war program.

The secretary announced that because of objections to calling boys of 18 he had planned to defer their call until long after the war would not object to placing a provision in the bill making a separate class of men between 18 and 19 years and for deferring calling them "as far as practicable" until after others in class one had been exhausted.

As to how long before men called under the new law will go across, Mr. Baker said not more than six months' training would be given at home.

When committee members complained that too many men are being taken off farms, the secretary said it is not intended to draft more farmers under the new law and that the present policy will continue.

Secretary Morrison of the American Federation of Labor interrupted to oppose the "work-or-fight amend-

"There are many married men in the country, who ought to go and fight as freely as single men," he added.

The War Secretary with General March and Provost Marshal General Crowder, appeared before the house committee at open hearings to reiterate their explanation given the Senate that the immediate enactment of the man power bill is imperative in order to carry out the enlarged war program.

The secretary announced that because of objections to calling boys of 18 he had planned to defer their call until long after the war would not object to placing a provision in the bill making a separate class of men between 18 and 19 years and for deferring calling them "as far as practicable" until after others in class one had been exhausted.

As to how long before men called under the new law will go across, Mr. Baker said not more than six months' training would be given at home.

When committee members complained that too many men are being taken off farms, the secretary said it is not intended to draft more farmers under the new law and that the present policy will continue.

THE SITUATION.

At this writing the Allies are still more closely surrounding Roye, and the fall of the town was then hourly expected. The place is the centre of German communications between Chaulnes and Lassigny, and four main highways used by the enemy run in to the town. With Roye gone the foe will almost certainly have to retreat to the Somme.

French and British pressure continues to be unabated at all points. Haig's men have made progress on a five-mile front west of Arrertrons, and the French have also advanced along a similar distance to the depth of a mile. Over two thousand prisoners and many guns have been taken as the result of the two operations.

The eastern aspect of affairs is commencing to more and more challenge public attention. Details have been received of the arrival of Japanese troops at Vladivostok to join with the British and French forces, and it is stated that they marched through the streets between rows of absolutely silent people. American troops from Manila have also arrived. One report has it that the Russian port of Kronstadt is in German hands, and another belated dispatch says the Czech Slovaks have taken Irgauk, an important lake Balka port of the trans-Siberian railway. The Austrian government has issued a manifesto denouncing British recognition of the Czech-Slovak, and declaring that members of that army will be regarded and treated as traitors by Austria-Hungary. Of one thousand officers arrested at Petrograd and Moscow because of counter-revolutionary tendencies against the Bolshevik, 236 were summarily shot. The Japanese government has sent troops to Manchuria, which borders on Siberia, in view of the growing activities there of armed German and Austro-Hungarian prisoners. The step is stated to have been taken with the full consent of the Chinese government. Meanwhile Hols of a serious nature are reported throughout Japan. These are regarded not so much as a protest against participation in the war as manifestations of social and industrial unrest. It remains to be seen how far the Allies can counteract the undoubted advantage which Germany has possessed by the secret co-operation of Lenin and the rest of the Bolshevik leaders.

TWO BYE ELECTIONS

Voting is taking place today in two bye election contests for the Ontario House. In the riding of North-East Toronto, of which Hon. Dr. Pyne was representative at the time of his recent retirement, the Hon. Dr. Coady, the new Minister of Education, is the government candidate, and he is opposed by Wm. Varley, a returned soldier, who also claims the support of Union Labor. In the last contest Dr. Pyne had a majority of 1687, but the list of voters is much greater this time. There are 48,000 electors who are entitled to the ballot, including 27,000 women. For the first time in the Queen City the polls opened at 6:00 a.m.

In East York, Hon. G. S. Henry, the new Minister of Agriculture is opposed by John Galbraith, who has made a special bid for the votes of the farmers of whom there are a large number in the constituency. In the last general election, Mr. Henry was victorious by a majority of 737. The Courier this evening will bulletin the outcome of both contests.

DIRECT TESTIMONY REGARDING DISEASE INOCULATION

Mrs. Yefich, an Englishwoman who went to the front as a nurse in 1914, and in 1915 married a Serbian who was business manager of a hospital, is now on a visit in Toronto, and during the course of an interview said that she saw such atrocities committed by the Huns against Serbian people that she declares not a German should be in existence after the war. The medical unit to which she was attached was sent to Serbia in 1914 by the British War office to help check the terrible typhus plague then rampant among the Serbians. The disease was circulated among the soldiers and civilian population of Serbia as part of the Hun propaganda in the early days of the war.

Through means of inoculating the typhus germ into Serbian prisoners and by contaminating the wells in Serbia with the germs, the disease spread so rapidly among the people that before it was checked 130,000 Serbians died from the effects. Of the 150 doctors and nurses sent with the English hospital, 72 succumbed from the disease.

Upon arrival in Serbia the hospital was stationed in a town known as Kragujevatz, 22 miles from Belgrade. The typhus fever was then at its height, and the English doctors and nurses lost no time in getting to work.

It took about eight months, Mrs. Yefich said, to control the dread disease, and during that time the doctors and nurses worked persistently night and day. "It was a familiar sight," she said, "to come on duty in the morning and find 75 or 80 Serbians dead in their beds, having succumbed during the night to the disease."

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The Canadian Fall is getting closer and so is that of the Germans.

The fact will not down that after four years of fighting, the Kaiser and his six sons still have whole skins.

Spain has sent an official note to Germany demanding ship for ship with reference to vessels of hers sunk by submarines. And Berlin will tear up the same as another scrap of paper.

Sir Douglas Haig has just been decorated with the French Military Medal. First thing he knows he'll run out of enough chest to carry all the tokens which have come his way.

Dr. Davis, an American who was the special dentist of the Kaiser, states that when he was leaving Berlin after Uncle Sam entered the war, William said to him: "If you should see my cousin the King of England, kick him in the shins for me." Quite characteristic this plan of deputing dangerous work to somebody else.

It is said that institutions established for such purposes have more than one case of mental derangement caused by trying to understand the Russian situation.

Hamilton Herald: "We now have Mr. Rowell's word for it that Sir Robert Borden is in England because it is the unanimous desire of his cabinet colleagues that he should be there; also that the prime minister has been doing important service for this country and for the empire in England that he could not do so well here. Perhaps those journals which have been clamoring for Sir Robert to come home, now that Mr. Rowell has spoken, may be willing to admit that Sir Robert and his colleagues in the government may perhaps have understood the needs of the situation as well as they, the clamorers."

Tricky and Bolshevik still continue to be one and the same thing.

At Burlington, Ont., a magistrate disposed of seventeen cases against motorists in sixty minutes, and pocketed $28 as his share of the costs. He thought to be fined himself for speeding.

Your Problems Solved.

A Oregonian asks if I can throw any light on a prayer and its answer. Dr. Baraduc of Paris claims that he has photographed prayer repeatedly. In earnest prayer appears on a super-sensitive plate like a column of light ascending heavenward and breaking into spray like a geyser. Prayer is a signal to God and the angels, who minister to man, that a human soul is in trouble. Along this column of light, like Jacob's Ladder, the angel of God descend and ascend.

A Rich Man—You complain of the demands made upon you for money. Both you and your money belong to God. Give as much to every good cause as you will wish you had in a hundred years from now. You ought to give, during your life, what you have after having provided for your home, and fitted your children to earn their living. Give away as you go a specific per cent of your income. The minimum demand of the Bible is 10 per cent; you are under obligation to give much more when you are rich. If you want an electric battery of joy installed under the first button of your vest and a light to let you lavish.

WAR CABINET IN CONFERENCE
Sessions Continuous During Past Two and a Half Months

By Courier Leased Wire London, Aug. 19.—(Canadian Press) Despatch from Reuters' Limited—It is officially announced that during the past two and a half months the Imperial War Cabinet has been in continuous session. Every aspect of the policy affecting the conduct of the war and the question of peace has been examined by the Prime Minister of the Empire and the other members representative of all its parts. These meetings proved of such value that the Imperial War Cabinet thought it essential that certain modifications should be effected in the existing channels of communication so as to make consultation between the various governments of the Empire regarding the Imperial policy, as continuous and intimate as possible. It was therefore decided that the future Prime Ministers of the dominions as members of the Imperial War Cabinet shall have the right to communicate on matters of cabinet importance direct with the Prime Minister of the United Kingdom whenever they fit. It was also decided that each dominion shall have the right to nominate a visiting or resident minister, the minister in London to be a member of the Imperial War Cabinet at meetings other than those attended by the Prime Ministers. These meetings will be held at regular intervals. Arrangements have been made to secure the representation of India at these cabinet meetings.

REORGANIZE CABINET

To Send Ministers London, Aug. 19.—The government announces that it has been decided to grant each Dominion the right to send a minister to London as a member of the Imperial War Cabinet at meetings other than those attended by the prime ministers. The meetings will be represented at these meetings. The Prime Ministers of the Dominions have been given the privilege of communicating direct with the British Prime Minister instead of through the Governor-General or Colonial Secretary as at present. This is looked upon as a step toward giving the Dominions a greater voice in the war and in simplifying communication. Discussing the new plan for the Imperial War Cabinet, the Daily Chronicle says: "The cabinet will have a permanent instead of a periodical existence. This cabinet will not in future, any more than in the past, attempt to over-ride or dictate to the constituent governments. It will rest with them to carry out its decisions which will be arrived at by the knowledge of and full reference to their various policies and programs. The Dominion premiers and the premier of the United Kingdom will constitute a common body, co-ordinating the needs and policy of the whole. It is important to remember that with all this attachment of the constituent parts to their autonomy and nationhood has been in no way lessened."

SOVIET GOV'T. TO DECLARE WAR?

By Courier Leased Wire Amsterdam, Aug. 19.—Telegraphing from Petrograd, the correspondent of the Dusseldorf Nachrichten quotes the Russian newspaper Pravda as saying: "The Soviet government will declare war on the Entente Allied countries. Soviet officials have issued an appeal stating that Russia's position is alarming."

Russia's intervention in the war is necessary. The removal of the government to a safe place, consequently, has been decided upon and Cronstadt the fortress of Petrograd has been chosen as the seat of authority. All preparations have been made to move the government offices there. Washington, Aug. 19.—Sweden has been asked by the Swedish consular office at Moscow, acting for the American and Allied consuls there, to send a ship to Petrograd to take away 200 refugees or, if this is impossible, to obtain permission for these persons to pass through Finland.

It is assumed here that the refugees are American and Allied citizens seeking escape from Russia. Under date of August 17, the Swedish consul-general at Moscow reported that the German government had refused his consular officers, and it was believed this refusal would stand until negotiations were concluded with Finland concerning the treatment of Germans in China. A report dated August 16 said the Bolshevik authorities had agreed to permit the consuls to depart, and that the military missions of Great Britain and France were preparing to leave Moscow by way of Astrakhan and Persia. When these dispatches were sent, efforts were being made to obtain the release of British and French citizens held as hostages by the Bolsheviks. Some were released several days ago, but nearly a hundred were held.

The Swedish consul-general said the negotiations would be greatly facilitated if the Allies would promise protection of Soviets in northern Russia. The right accorded the Prime Ministers of the Dominions to communicate direct with the Premier of the United Kingdom in really important matters is a thoroughly necessary change. Hitherto the Colonial Office had been the channel of communication between the dominion premiers and the British War Cabinet. The system was inconvenient and caused unnecessary delays and has been increasingly irksome since the war began. If for no other reason than this change was needed, but the dominion premiers became members of the Imperial War Cabinet beginning 1917, the communication through the Colonial Office became an intolerable anachronism because it was a survival of the days when the self-governing colonies ranked little higher in the Imperial scale than the Crown colonies. Endorsement and because it did positively obstruct a necessary consequence of their new position of equality in the war government of the Empire. The new arrangements will do away with that inconvenience and will finally mark the emergence of the dominion from the status of children to that of partners."

THE WIFE
 BY JANE PHELPS, AUTHOR OF "MARGARET GARRETT'S HUSBAND," AND OTHER NOTABLE STORIES.

CHAPTER II
 Sangline Youth
 It was not only in house furnishings that Ruth revealed; she loved also, dainty soft fabrics to wear. Her house gowns she fashioned herself, often out of odd Oriental fabrics, and her underwear was always of sheerest softest lawn or silk. Her street clothes were always simple, so is always the case with people of taste. She had little use for evening or party dresses, as the town was small and her aunt mixed with few of the people.
 Strangely Ruth never had seemed to mind this. There were two or three girls quite near her own age with whom she was intimate, after a fashion, and a few young men whom she condescended to talk to if it were unavoidable. But mostly she and her aunt were together, each seemingly satisfied to have it so. Until Brian Hackett came to visit his relatives. Brian's uncle happened to be the father of one of the girls whom Ruth visited. She had no particular interest in college man—even if he had worked his way—and was different from the slow-going southern boys in whom she had no particular interest.
 Brian Hackett was twenty-five years old when Ruth met him. He was tall, straight and broad-shouldered. His finely-shaped head, brown hair and eyes, white teeth and winning smile, were partly what had attracted the beauty loving Ruth. For no one could deny that Brian Hackett, was handsome. Yet there was nothing in the least effeminate about him.
 It was on the occasion of his second visit that he proposed to Ruth, and she had accepted. It probably would have made no difference to her, had she known that he had hesitated to make the second visit convenient and caused unnecessary delays and has been increasingly irksome since the war began. If for no other reason than this change was needed, but the dominion premiers became members of the Imperial War Cabinet beginning 1917, the communication through the Colonial Office became an intolerable anachronism because it was a survival of the days when the self-governing colonies ranked little higher in the Imperial scale than the Crown colonies. ## ACTION RE HIGHWAYS NECESSARY

Brantford and Brant County Should Approach the Legislature TO TAKE OVER ROADS

Residents of both Brantford and Brant County have been asking themselves lately why those municipalities, who have always regarded themselves as among the most progressive, have lagged so far behind surrounding counties in the matter of a highways policy. While other municipalities have secured action by the Provincial Government to improve and maintain their roads, Brant County has been dormant and inactive, with the result that her highways have become almost a by-word throughout the Province for all that signifies neglect and want of repairs.

A year ago Brantford and Brant County, in conjunction with representatives from the counties to the west, east and south, formed a large and influential delegation which waited on the Provincial Government in an endeavor to have that body designated as an inter-provincial highway, forming an integral part of the Montreal-Windsor highway, the road running from Hamilton through Brantford, Woodstock and Ingersoll.

Consideration of this request was promised by the Legislature, but no definite statement as to the route of the highway was given, and little, if any, further action, has been taken by either the city or the county in the matter. In the 1917 statutes of the Province, the following clause was inserted in the Ontario Highway Improvements Act:

"The Minister may designate any main highway of a county road system to be known as 'provincial county road,' toward the construction of which a provincial subsidy of 60 per cent. may thereafter be authorized and paid, and also a like percentage for maintenance."

The above clause is distinctly different from that under which the Provincial highway was to be laid out and maintained, as under the latter the Government was to take over the road and to pay 70 per cent of the cost, while the road was to be practically limited to one highway running from Windsor to Montreal. The route of this highway was the object of strenuous contention between three groups of municipalities: Stratford, Kitchener, Georgetown demanded that the northern route, which would embrace their municipalities, be followed; Tillsonburg, Aylmer and St. Thomas advocated a southerly route, while Brantford, Woodstock and Ingersoll favored the central route from Hamilton onward.

Acting under the authority constituted in the amendment to the Highways Act, a number of Ontario municipalities have since brought sufficient pressure on the Government to have certain highways taken over as "provincial county highways." A short time ago the municipalities between Hamilton and the Niagara district, together with those between Hamilton and Owen Sound, waited on the Government and were successful, after bringing considerable pressure to bear, in having the road from Hamilton to Niagara Falls taken over as a provincial county road and the other as a provincial county road under the revised statutes. A number of roads leading out of Toronto have also been taken over under the latter act, as well as many in other parts of the Province. The County of Brant up to the present time is without either provincial or provincial county roads, and to the minds of most, the time for action is here. A meeting to be held in the city the first or second week in September has been arranged for, at which this important question will be discussed, and representatives from outside municipalities will be invited to attend and give their views. As a result it is hoped to be able to approach the Government in sufficient strength to induce that body to take over the road from Hamilton to London, through Brantford, Woodstock and Ingersoll as a provincial highway.

This, while a step in the right direction, does not go far enough, as matters stand to-day; the city and county should take steps to secure the co-operation of the municipalities to the north and south, for the purpose of having a highway at least from Port Dover, through Simcoe and Waterloo, to Brantford, and thence on to Galt, taken over as a provincial county road. With the Hamilton and London road created a provincial highway, the formation of such a road from Dover northward would give Brantford and the surrounding district a splendid communication with all parts of the Province. It's a matter which calls for the serious consideration and enthusiastic support of every citizen of city and county.

OBJECTORS ON TRIAL

By Courier Leased Wire
Niagara Camp, Aug. 18.—Two conscientious objectors, Johnson Marks and Herbert Normandy, of the 2nd C.O.R., were tried by general court-martial here today under the Military Service Act. Marks' explanation of his defiance of military authority was as follows:

"The teachings of the Lord Jesus forbid me from putting on the uniform and doing military service either as combatant or non-combatant." Marks said he did not belong to any sect, but belonged to "Christians gathered unto the name of Lord Jesus." "I do look similar grounds for his refusal to do military service."

Major N. M. Young, O.C. of the First battalion, First C.O.R., was the president of the court.
Captain Thomas Morrison, assistant director of medical services, Niagara Camp, has been promoted to major.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

CAMPAIGN IS TIMELY

Present is the Time to Rouse Citizens to Need of Improving Mohawk Park

MUST MAKE PARK PAY

Since The Courier first set on foot the movement for the improvement of Mohawk park there has been but one criticism advanced. No one has yet been found who disputes the need of improving the park, or the benefits which would result from such a course of action; the only criticism offered, "It is too late in the season." It is never too late to draw public attention to a condition of affairs within a municipality which is crying for reform. If Mohawk Park has been allowed to lie dormant until the present that fact is a potent argument against further delay. Neither The Courier or any right-thinking citizen expects to see Mohawk Park transformed in a day nor in a week, for it is an undertaking which will require time, attention and money. Little, it is true, can be accomplished insofar as renovating the park this summer is concerned but the time is more than ripe to call the attention of the citizens at large, and of the railway and parks commissions, to the need for improvements.

Until the hot weather at the first of this month, citizens had scarcely given a thought to Mohawk Park. With the thermometer registering close to a hundred in the shade their thoughts turned naturally to the spot where they should be able to find shade and recreation. When none was to be found, The Courier took up the gauntlet, demanding to know the reason why. The Park's Board, as a result, have expressed willingness to proceed with the improvements asked for, provided the public will sanction the necessary expenditure. Whatever this may be, it will be fully justified and will be returned to the city within a short time, under the new conditions. If it can be obtained in no other way, it can be voted by the rate payors at the January elections, which are not so far distant as they may appear. It is with this question in mind that The Courier is now asking every citizen.

"How about it. Isn't it time to make Mohawk Park pay?"

Another From Terrace Hill. To the Editor of The Courier. Dear Sir:

I agree with 'Civitas', who wrote to your valuable paper a few days ago, that the extension of the street railway to Terrace Hill is a matter of even greater urgency, and of more importance to the city at large, than is the improvement of Mohawk Park, badly as action on that question is needed. The citizens of the hill have been too long isolated from the rest of the city, and too long accustomed on premises of an extension of the railway system. How many workmen, living on Terrace Hill, are forced to walk from their homes to far parts of the city every morning and the same distance back at night? How many housewives are forced to trudge a mile or more down town to do their shopping? Would not the patronage of these be sufficient to guarantee that a street car line to Terrace Hill would pay? Improve Mohawk Park, by all means, but first give Terrace Hill its rights, that its citizens may be able to reach the park as easily as residents of other districts. Yours respectfully, A TERRACE HILL CITIZEN.

NO CRISIS IN SPANISH SITUATION, SAYS DATO

Nation Will Remain Neutral, Come What May—Denies That Note Has Been Sent to Germany in Serantes Case

By Courier Leased Wire. San Sebastian, Spain, Aug. 18.—Foreign Minister Dato to-day issued a denial to recent press reports that the neutrality of Spain was threatened. He said the cabinet "would not authorize any note, it aside from a policy of neutrality." As to the famous Spanish note addressed to Germany, the minister continued "It is impossible to publish it because it does not exist." He denied that Spain had sent a note to Germany concerning the alleged torpedoing of the Spanish steamer Serantes. He said the sinking was due to a fire in the cargo of petroleum. There have been persistent and apparently well founded reports during the last week that Spain had sent another note to Germany concerning the torpedoing of Spanish ships. Reports from Madrid were that a note had been made public by Foreign Minister Dato. It had been reported that the note included a notice to Germany that Spain would compensate herself for future losses from self-interested German vessels in Spanish harbors. The Spanish steamer Serantes, loaded with 10,000 barrels of oil, was set on fire by two explosions while anchored off 6th street, Brooklyn, on July 13. There have been no previous reports that the Serantes was said to have been torpedoed.

ANNOUNCEMENT

FALL WHEAT SEED

N VIEW of the partial failure of the Fall Wheat crop in this Province this year, it will be necessary for farmers to make early arrangements for the supply of seed which they will need for Fall Sowing. Under these circumstances farmers who have on hand quantities of wheat suitable for Fall Seeding are urged to conserve them for this purpose. If there is no demand locally, the information should be supplied to this Department, or to the Local Office of this Department in your County, so that every effort may be made to have an equitable and satisfactory distribution. The need for foodstuffs justifies a large acreage of Fall wheat in this Province again this year, and the co-operation of the farmers in the mobilization and distribution of the available seed supplies is invited.

TROOP MOVEMENT DELAYED. Peking, Aug. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—The movement of Japanese troops from Chang-Chun on the Mukden-Harbin railroad, to the Manchuria-Siberian front, has been further delayed. This delay is due to the demand made by the Japanese that they guard and virtually control the operations of the Chinese eastern railway. The Chinese officials supported by the Entente Allied representatives in Peking have declined to consent to the taking over of the railroad by Japan.

LEAGUE LEADERS BEATEN SATURDAY

Motor Trucks Lowered Verity's Colors in Hard Fought Game

P. & L. BEAT CORDAGE

One very good game, in which Verity's, leaders of the city league, were beaten 4-3 by the Motor Trucks and one mediocre encounter resulting in a 12-3 victory for Pratt and Letchworth's over the Cordage team, constituted Saturday afternoon's baseball at Agricultural Park. The Cordage got theirs in large and copious quantities at the hands of the Malleable men in the first encounter of the afternoon, while the Malleable makers succeeded in lowering the colors of the league leaders in a close game as the season has yet brought forth. Verity's are still at the head of the column, thanks to their lead gained early in the season, but with the Motor Trucks reinforced, pressing strong upon them, they may yet have to fight for the championship.

While Pratt and Letchworth's walked away with the first game of the afternoon, the fault lay with the losers themselves, who had no less than seven misplays chalked against them. Jamieson, their star twirler, pitched good ball, but received wrecked support in the pinches. He yielded two less hits than Cooper did, pitching for the Malleables, but the latter succeeded in keeping the bingles scattered with the result that from ten hits the Cordage netted but three runs. Their showing was, in fact, almost the poorest of the season. Summerhayes at first, was the chief offender, letting no less than three chances get away from him.

Second Game Close The second game of the afternoon devolved into a genuine duel between Harwood and Anderson, each of whom allowed but three hits. It was anyone's game until the last moment, and the stands were in a agony of suspense which is the half of baseball. Verity's scored one in the first inning, but the Motor Trucks retaliated in their half of the second with a rally which netted three. Baird walked, McDonald hit for two bases, and Everett for three. Anderson was safe on Sears' error. Brown hit into a double play which resulted in Everett's being caught at the plate, but Crandall batted Powell's grounder, and Harwood developed a sudden streak of wildness, walking Patterson and Jeffries and scoring a run. What taker ended the agony when he expired at first. Verity's came back and evened things up in their half. Anderson doubled, but was caught at the plate on Harwood's grounder, after McAuley had taken first on Powell's error. Crandall then stepped into

Won Out 3-2 Against Labor Team in Provincial League At Agricultural Park on Saturday Brantford United, defeated the Hamilton Independent Labor Party, 3-2 in a Provincial League fixture. Hamilton won the toss and Brantford kicked off facing a strong sun. For the first twenty minutes play was kept in mid-field neither side being able to make much headway; eventually however, the Hamilton forwards made a break away and through a misunderstanding on the part of Brantford's defence, Barnes scored for Hamilton, McGrattan having no chance to stop the shot.

Rippling Rhymes

FOOLED AGAIN Said the Kaiser to his men, "Go and wade in gore again, at this pinch for the French, we've bled them white and American's won't fight—it's a snitch. You have heard these rhymes. Perhaps are just suffering for scraps with the Teut? I am Wilhelm, always bright, and I say they will not fight, worth a hoot. There is but a handful here, and 'twill cost that handful dear, bet your boots; just a handful has been brought here to scrap with me and Gott, and my Teutis. They are money grubbing gents; they can't fight worth eighteen cents; take my word; do not fear that bunch of jays, with their awkward backwoods ways—it's absurd. I'll stand upon this hill, I your Kaiser, Unser Bill, on its brow; and I'll watch your mighty ranks going through the yielding tanks, like a plow. Here I take my kingly stand with my sceptre in my hand—go ahead! I will keep you in my view while the crimson fields you strew, with your dead." Thus the Kaiser from his hill saw his mighty legions drill to the tray; and he saw the Yankees come, to the stirring beat of drum, making hay. And he saw his soldiers chased, punished, routed, and disgraced, shot and speared; oh, they struck their hardest trots hitting but the algher spots, as they liked. Who can tell the Kaiser's woe, as he watched the scene below, red and wet? But the Yankees, full of vim, didn't make a hit with him, we may bet.

Brantford now took the play to the other end of the field, after goal work by the forwards. Joe Holland, equalized with a shot which completely baffled Shaw. Half-time: Brantford 1, Hamilton 1. The second half proved to be faster than the first, both teams trying hard to gain the lead. Ten minutes after the re-start Richardson, scored Brantford's second goal. Brantford was now having the best of the play, and Hamilton's defence was kept on the alert. Perrin received a well placed pass from Richardson, and added Brantford's third goal. Five minutes from time McKay scored for Hamilton. Result: Brantford 3—Hamilton 2. Notes on the Game. McGrattan, was in fine form of Saturday and stopped two very difficult shots. Rogers, of Hamilton, played a good game and was easily the best tack on the field. Russell and Barnes were Hamilton's best forwards. Joe Holland, was Brantford's best half-back, while Richardson, and Perrin, were the pick of the forwards. Brantford has four players on the injured list, namely Lynn, Vipond, Taylor and Usher.

Railway Heroes at the War

WRITING from war correspondents headquarters in France, Roland Hill says: "The men who drive the big engines of Canada's ocean-to-ocean trains across the prairies and through the mountains are made of stern stuff, and have nerves as steady as the steel rods they travel. You may meet many of them at the war. Under the most trying circumstances these men are carrying on the most difficult work right up behind the fighting lines. The train tracks are often broken and the rail beds damaged by enemy shell fire. Men less skilled would not risk running a train over them. It takes expert Canadian engine drivers to pilot their cargoes along lines that seem impossible. They bring up troops, food supplies, guns and ammunition, and they bring back the wounded to the hospitals. Nothing daunts them. Roland Hill tells of a young sergeant who in days of peace drove the Imperial Limited, from Moose Jaw to the West; this man backed up his engine to a shell dump where there were $200,000 worth of shells. Part of this dump was on fire and the shells were bursting around the brave sergeant. He coolly connected a hose with his main steam pipe and for half an hour pumped steam into the burning mass, and finally overcame the fire. His engine was bored with shrapnel holes. The flying fragments tore his clothes, and his escape was miraculous. His gallantry during the fire, rallied others to his assistance. Many of these were wounded; he utilized his damaged engine to bring them to an adjacent hospital.

Private James Peter Robertson, of Medicine Hat, Alberta, was one of the C. P. R. engineers to win the Victoria Cross, the most coveted distinction in the army. A letter, despatched says: "Number 55345, Private James Robertson, late infantry, collected at Macleod, displayed the utmost bravery and outstanding devotion to duty in an attack when his platoon was held up by uncut wire and a machine gun was causing many losses. Private Robertson dashed to an opening on the flank, rushed the machine gun, and after a desperate struggle with the crew, killed four men and turned the gun on the remainder, who were some by the fierceness of his onslaught, were sent running towards their own lines. His gallant work enabled the platoon to advance. He captured the enemy, and then, carrying the captured gun, led his platoon to the final objective. He had selected an excellent position for the gun, and got the gun into action, firing and got the enemy, who by this time were demoralized by the fire brought on them. His courage and coolness showed his command and inspired them to utmost effort. In carrying a wounded man he was killed in front of his own trenches."

But not only have the engineers been doing great things in the war; men from other branches of the service of the C. P. R. have been doing nobly, as well. At present there are 2,500 employees of the company in the fighting lines, and they are everywhere there is a fight or the prospect of one, on sea or land, and some are training at home. Many have risen to the highest official positions, and many are being promoted every day.

Private Michael James O'Rourke, of New Westminster, British Columbia, was enlisted in the boxing of Rogers Pass tunnel, where the C. P. R. passes through the Rocky Mountains when the war began. At Moose Jaw, he won the military medal after being a short time at the war. On this occasion, he spent three hours in a sap bombing Germans, and when his supply of bombs ran out the day in a shell hole sniping the enemy. He was subsequently helping at a Lewis machine gun, and went away to get ammunition. While absent the gunner was killed. O'Rourke got another gunner who aimed a bomb, then O'Rourke received a bomb, killed a German with it, took a lot of bombs from the German and hung them on the German lines.

Private O'Rourke was in the thick of the fight for twenty-eight months without receiving a serious wound. Some months ago he won his Victoria Cross. He was in the thick of the fight. He was a sweeper-bearer, working without halt going into No Man's Land and bringing in the wounded and dead, and getting them food and water. On one occasion he saw a wounded man, blinded and stunned, blinding ahead of him, who was being fired on by the enemy. O'Rourke, fired on by the enemy. Regardless of his own safety O'Rourke guided that man into safety. On another occasion he went out fifty feet in front of the British barrage where he was exposed to very heavy shell and struck eight times during the removal to the rear.

No Man's Land O'Rourke dragged no fewer than six wounded into the shelter of a trench. Throughout the entire operations the area in which he worked was subjected to incessant fire of all kinds, but this hero was all the time absolutely reckless regarding his own safety, and though almost exhausted stuck to his task unflinchingly.

and the Canadian Pacific's great railway, is another to win the military medal. He piloted a number 18 howitzer gun that had been left in a dangerous position and was liable to be put out of action by the enemy. The gun was taken back four miles under a terrific shower of shrapnel which lasted for four hours and was removed to the rear.

Lieutenant A. A. Coulin of the 22nd Battalion was awarded the military cross for splendid work in rescuing the wounded under heavy shell fire during the battle of Passchendaele. Previous to enlistment he was employed in the passenger department of the C. P. R.

There are only a few instances of the heroism displayed by the soldiers recruited from the service of Canada's great railway.

HOW PARVILLERS AND DAMERY WERE TAKEN BY CANADIANS

Splendidly Organized and Executed Operation, Which Has Resulted in Straightening Out of Dominion Troops' Line—Enemy Fails to Cut Off the Canadians.

By J. F. B. LIVESAY.

With the Canadian Forces in the Field, Aug. 16. (via London Aug. 18.) A splendidly organized and executed combined operation by the troops has resulted in complete straightening out of our line of our right, northwest of Roye, by the capture of the strongly held villages of Parvillers and Damery. The latter place fell into our hands yesterday afternoon. Witnessing our success the French immediately south of us, gave a fine example of their traditional dash and dash, and made a brilliant attack. They carried the Wood of Damery, Villers-les-Roye and Saurin. When they had brought their line up parallel with our own, as a result of a week's fighting, which the originally selected field of assault was extended by our French allies many miles south, and east, the entire line from Albert to Solbos, was straightened out, and we were no longer in a position to offer no salients to an enemy thrust, even if he were in an adventurous mood. The victorious course of the second battle of Amien developed a loss to the enemy of some thirty thousand prisoners and well over six hundred guns besides thousands of machine guns, immense stores of material of all kinds, and almost the entire fruit of his great drive of last spring.

The initial attack of Parvillers was opened at a quarter past six by a terrific bombardment by specially concentrated artillery. Another wonderful show by our magnificent gunners. Fifteen minutes later the men went over the top and captured the village with only five casualties. One unit with a very distinguished record pushed on straight through the village, but found that a large enemy force had worked around to their rear. Nothing daunted, our men faced about, and, fighting a rearguard action on their former front, fought their way back and out of a critical situation, re-emerging behind a line of enemy trenches. They later, with the aid of other troops, took the village by a concentric movement.

All the enemy's attacks here failed. He made three distinct assaults, coming on four deep from two directions, and leaving several hundred dead before the village. One officer described it as the hardest infantry fighting since Montest Farm.

Not less splendid was the action at Damery. The assault was entrusted to a force of New Ontario troops. After capturing the village in brilliant fashion they beat off the counter-attack of three battalions, capturing some 250 prisoners and leaving in front of them several hundred enemy dead. This force

KENNEDY GAINS FIFTEEN POUNDS

Wouldn't Give Tanlac For All The Other Medicines on Earth, He Says

"I tell you what, I wouldn't give Tanlac for all other medicines in the world, for it not only relieved my stomach, but indirectly but I have gained 15 pounds besides," said S. L. Kennedy, of 224 Dundas St., Toronto, the other day. Mr. Kennedy is a retired vegetable grower who spent 18 months in France as a member of the 74th Battalion, nearly half of the time in the front line trenches.

"Ever since I came back from France," he continued, "my system has been very much run down and I suffered constantly from stomach trouble and indigestion. My appetite failed and I couldn't relish a thing. I would eat but I forced down food on my stomach and filled up with gas that pressed so on my heart I could hardly breathe. If I tried to draw a long breath my side would ache, and I was sure an attack would be on me. I lost over 20 pounds, and was simply miserable all the time.

"An uncle of mine who has taken Tanlac with fine results, induced me to try it, and I sure am glad I took his advice. I have taken three bottles so far and I have a fine appetite now. I can eat anything I want, I never have a bit of trouble with gas or indigestion. I feel that I am picking up right along now, gaining in weight and strength every day, and it certainly is a pleasure to be able to eat down and enjoy a good square meal once more without having to suffer for it afterwards. Tanlac is undoubtedly the best medicine I have ever taken, and I am simply delighted at the way it has fixed me up."

Tanlac is sold in Brantford by Robertson Drug Store, in Paris by Apps Ltd., in Mt. Vernon by A. Yeomans, in Toronto by William Peddie, in Orondaga, by Neil McPhadden.

How Germans Treat Prisoners

Former City Pastor Again Occupied a Local Pulpit Yesterday

An impressive sermon was delivered to a large congregation at the First Baptist church last evening by Rev. Andrew Imrie, a former pastor of Immanuel Baptist church some years ago, now of Toronto. One of the features of the service was a solo "Nearer My God to Thee," sung by Mr. Burrell.

"The glorious vision of God in His power and His effect on men," as recorded in the Book of Isaiah, was the subject dwelt upon by Rev. Mr. Imrie.

When Abraham Lincoln saw the slaves in the slave market in New Orleans, he vowed that, with the aid of God, he would strike at the slave trade and looked forward with eager anticipation to the vision of the result. Years afterward when he became president of the United States, he was able to free the country from slavery. If you are discouraged, look to the vision of the time when you will have no more troubles," pointed out the speaker.

Isiah was sent to reinstate and to re-establish worship in Jerusalem. The prospect of success was not very promising, but Isiah went to do his best with the vision of his success before him, and success attended him. The wise man obeyed, but the unwise man is too proud to tackle the difficult problem. As soon as a person is purified and cleansed of his sins, his willingness to serve is noticeable, and only the one who is cleansed from his sin can ever be used by God in his service.

China is to-day feeling the pulsations of the work of Morrison because of his willingness to do his best, and because he kept a vision of his success before him continually. Great generals have attained their greatness because they always kept the mark at which they were aiming before them. One thing is sure: the one who keeps looking to the vision, and doing his best, is always the one who wins. "Look away from troubles to the time when your troubles will be over, when you are safe in the arms of the Saviour."

REV. A. IMRIE AT FIRST BAPTIST

Former City Pastor Again Occupied a Local Pulpit Yesterday

On the date mentioned Deabrough took to the streets a prisoner of war who was being bullied by a German civilian. The German sent him to a work house, and he obeyed the order immediately, and as he walked away the sentry shot him in the back, death being instantaneous. A fortnight later he was officially reported to have died in a hospital.

About 50 British prisoners of war were taken to the front line trenches, and it is said that civilian workmen often try to make the prisoners to work for them, striking them with iron bars when they refuse. The more cultured British foremen do not use iron bars, but have provided themselves with rubber-piping filled with lead, which they carry in the hands and arms of the prisoners. The rubber pipes do not leave cuts and gashes as do iron bars, they are lighter, more convenient to carry, and in every respect the one who keeps looking to the vision in life.

Another horrible German prison camp is at Langensala. To this camp last April were brought some 4,000 wounded British officers and men. They were put on the bare floor without anything to cover them. For the first three days they still wore their first field dressings, and naturally there were many cases of septic poisoning. The wounded received no hospital diet, and on the third day were put into a wire-fenced compound at the end of the camp. The Nobody was allowed to visit them except one British soldier who was expected to attend to the 4,000 cases needing urgent surgical care. The main street of the prisoners was a path, and though the men were ravenous, they could not eat it. For three consecutive days they had no bread, about the same time 2,000 wounded British arrived at Garding. Most of them had broken limbs. Not one of them had been seen. Special medical chests sent out to the prisoners by the British army were never confiscated by the German Government. One wounded man got hold of one of the bandages for a head wound, but was immediately taken away from him, and he was given a paper of ordinary newspaper with a paper bandage.

There are certain of these camps which are known as punishment camps. Here are sent not only prisoners of war, but German soldiers undergoing punishment, and prisoners of German civilian criminals. The German soldiers are in charge of the prisoners, and the more work they get out of them the sooner they expect their own sentences and are permitted to resume their rank in the army. The bandages they are given to use are made of straw, and they are used upon their helpless charges in these circumstances can well be imagined. The Hainel Kommando is one of these, and is in charge of the notorious Gen. von Hantack. Here it is said that in June, 1917, a British soldier was stripped of the waist and held by two sentries before an open furnace until he had died. His face was covered with blisters. It appears from what the Times correspondent writes, that all the camps under the jurisdiction of Gen. Hantack, who commands the Tenth Army Corps, famed for its brutality, are simply fields and pens of torture for the allied prisoners who are committed to their custody.

There is now no powerful neutral left to see fair play between the prisoners and their captors. Dutch, Swiss, and Spanish inspectors who bring cases under the Geneva Convention to their duty, but they have no authority to enforce their demands, and if they become too urgent in their demands for reform they will be accused out of the country, and the lot of the prisoners would be worse than ever. One form of cruelty which the men find particularly hard to endure is mentioned by the correspondent. He writes that at the end of April, 1918, there had accumulated at Fyrdrefret about 75,000 parcels, the majority being for British prisoners working in the German lines. Repeated applications had been made for names of the command in which these men worked, but they could not be obtained. Many of these parcels, in October, 1917, for unknown reasons, were not sent, and it is said that in March, 1918, they were not sent. It is said that in the parcels had accumulated for one command, known as No. 402, and believed to be situated in the mountains. It is said that in the parcels had naturally gone bad.

Hurrying to the funeral.

LAI D AT REST

One of the oldest and most respected members of Eagle Place has passed away in the person of the late Richard Mulligan, whose body was laid to rest yesterday afternoon in Greenwood cemetery. Mr. Mulligan was born near Milton in the county of Holton, 28th Sept., 1834, and would soon have passed his 85th year. He was married December 11, 1861, and spent 42 years of his married life with his beloved wife, who is in her 81st year, and still hale and hearty. Only one sister of his own family survives him, Mrs. Dinmore, of Midhurst, Ontario. Twelve children were born of this marriage, only five of whom remain. Four boys and one daughter, William, of Davidson, Sask. Mr. A. J. Avey, at home, 20 Superior St., of the city, Harvey, of 83 Port street, Martin, in Detroit, U.S.A., Richard, Lovena, Sask.

In the unavoidable absence of Rev. Alexander, Rev. Andrew Imrie of Toronto, conducted the funeral service. The deceased was a member of his church, being present at its formation, and has been a regular attendant and supporter of this work since its inception. He was in his past two weeks ago last Sunday, but it was observable his strength was falling. His presence and venerable figure will be greatly missed, both in the church and community.

The funeral was conducted from the family residence, 24 Superior St. Imrie and Rev. A. J. Avey, an appropriate address from 1 These, 4: 12-17. "Just beyond the River Jordan," was sung very sweetly by Mr. Green.

The floral pieces were numerous and beautiful. # BOY'S OVERALLS.

The traditional garb of the American boy in vacation time has always been a pair of overalls, and pattern No. 8827 is the regulation style. They are easy to put on, and easy for his mother to make. Dark blue denim or khaki cloth may be used for making. The overalls have a seam at centre front and the opening is at the sides. Three big patch pockets will provide him with plenty of places to keep his treasures.

The boy's overall pattern No. 8827 is cut in eight sizes—2 to 16 years. The eight-year size requires 2 1/4 yards 27 inch, or 2 yards 36 inch material.

To Obtain This Pattern Send 15c to The Courier Office, or two for 25c.
