How to Re-cure Pains.
The great sufferer from rheumatism, for a year tried many medicines, but found no relief until he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He found it had been applied to a different part of the body, and it afforded no relief. It makes resting at home impossible.

It is quite true FERROL is an emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and a particularly good one at that. But it combines with Iron and Phosphorus with the Oil, and these are just what are needed to make the emulsion perfect, and they are just what all other emulsions lack.

FERROL

It is unique because it combines Iron and Phosphorus with Cod Liver Oil.
It is pleasant to take and easy to digest.
It holds the record for increasing the Sanctum Suggestions.

The suit brought by Mayor R. P. McCreith to recover $50,000 damages against the Halifax Herald for an alleged libel published in reference to his connection with the now famous Halifax round-house property, has resulted in a verdict for the Herald and a signal triumph for the freedom of the Press. The evidence adduced at the trial formed a sickening story of graft and loot, and coming as it did in most part from the mouths of witnesses friendly to Mr. McCreith, threw a ghastly light upon the modern methods of conducting public business. The Herald seems to have been amply justified in making the grave charges which it did, and had the case resulted differently it would have been nothing less than a public calamity. Fortunately the jury, which we understand was composed of six liberals and three conservatives, turned their party prejudices and arrived at a verdict which will tend to encourage the application to such crimes against the public, of the only effective cure, that of public exposure. The Herald has been putting up a great campaign against public dishonesty and the verdict in this action gives it a splendid warrant for going forward in a good work.

The provincial legislature prorogued yesterday after a somewhat protracted session. Those who ought to know say that the term was needlessly prolonged, and that if business had been carried on with the same despatch from the first as was shown during the last few days the session would not have lasted for more than four or five weeks. The feeling prevails that time was wasted and the session prolonged so as to provide an excuse for the increase in the session allowance promised by the government to its supporters last year. A measure was passed during the last hours of the session providing for an increase of the members' pay from $500 to $600. THE ACADIAN last week predicted that such legislation would be introduced. The movement was opposed by Mr. Tanner, the bill passing by a straight party vote—Mr. Campbell voting with the opposition.

It would be impossible to find a magazine containing more timely and interesting articles than the April number of The Busy Man's Magazine. This number opens with a character sketch of George W. Stephens, M. P. President of the Montreal Harbor Commission and Canada's most successful business man. A short history of the career of Sir Percy Girouard, a Canadian by birth, and recently appointed High Commissioner of Northern Nigeria, is also given. There are several strong articles on travel and description, such as Cobalt, the Chain of the North, Nearest the North Pole, Edmonton, the Women of Great Fur Mart. Gwyneth Smith in an article entitled 'The Perils of the Republic,' enumerates some of the dangers confronting the United States. This article is of great importance, since these same problems are confronting our government. A host of entertaining short stories serves as mental relaxation to the tired mind. Other articles of special interest are: Working-men's Gardens in France, 'Heroes of Everyday Life,' 'The Man Who Lives on his nerves,' 'When Shall We Fly?' 'World's Greatest Gambling House—Lloyd's,' 'Homeless England,' In fact the April Busy Man's contains much which no up-to-date person can afford to miss.

Good Roads Policy.

The Commissioner of Works and Mines, Hon. C. P. Chisholm, has introduced bills dealing with our Nova Scotia roads and bridges. A Road and Bridge Department is to be created, and an experienced road engineer is to be appointed as the head official. He is to be solely responsible for the expenditure of Provincial road moneys. He is to have an assistant engineer, whose duties are defined by the Act.

Each county will have one or more inspectors, who, under the Provincial Commissioner, will be responsible for the roads and smaller bridges in their particular county.

Each polling district is to have its road master.

The entire Provincial road appropriation is to be under the supervision of the best road experts to be obtained in the various counties, and all will be directed by the central authority.

The provincial moneys are to be centralized in one fund. The interest on the capital expenditure for the greater bridges is to become a Provincial charge.

The provisions of the new Road Bill are to be enforced by the Municipal Council, and the Bill provides for assessment for the maintenance of the roads.

The illness of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain is so serious that his wife's mother and brother have left Boston for his bedside.

The Municipal Council of Annapolis county has decided to adopt the Torrens system of registration of titles to land.

PATERSON'S COUGH DROPS. THEY WILL CURE.

Bazar at Kentville.

A Bazar and Festival given under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. of Kentville was held at that place on the afternoon and evening of Thursday and Friday, Apr. 18 and 19. The Opera House was thronged and on all sides was heard the cordial praise of the tasteful arrangements of the room. In the evening, under the radiance of the electric lights, the effect of the whole was enchanting, and the Bazar, by far the most considerable affair of the kind ever attempted in Kentville, proved a most unqualified success.

The arrangement of the booths was effective and artistic. The centre of the hall was occupied by a flower booth, delicately festooned in green and white and presided over by several ladies of Kentville. This booth with its beautiful cut flowers and potted plants was a charming spot of color and perfume. At the head of the hall was the Auxiliary Booth gaily trimmed with red, white and blue. The beautiful fancy articles shown here were contributed by various Y. M. C. A. auxiliaries in different parts of the Dominion and also in Maine and Massachusetts. In compliment to the American donors the Union Jack was crossed by the Stars and Stripes. The booth was presided over by several members of the Kentville Auxiliary.

Next to this booth was a space devoted to the generous donations coming from Winnipeg. Here were shown numerous useful and beautiful fancy articles which were viewed with much appreciation and which found a ready sale.

Conspicuous among the many tasteful booths was that of Wolfville, the artistic construction and decoration of which indicated clearly the character of that town and its people. The colors were mauve and white and the articles exhibited here—over one hundred in number—consisted principally of exquisite needle-work. This booth was efficiently presided over by Mrs. (Dr.) DeWitt, Miss Melinda Higgins, Misses Ethel and Stella Heales, Miss Enid Tufts and Miss Evelyn Starr.

Next in position to this booth was the ice-cream and candy booth. The delicious wares sold here were contributed by Canning, Canard and the surrounding districts. This booth was the scene of activity from early until late and, in financial results, ranked first among the outside booths. Those in charge aimed at the hundred dollar mark and fell only slightly short of that sum. The prominent workers here were Mrs. Herbert Stairs, Mrs. Starr Eaton, Misses Pauline Eaton, Nellie Belcher, Irene Rand, Alice Stairs, and others.

On the opposite side of the room was a most attractive rustic, candy booth conducted by Kentville ladies and constantly surrounded by purchasers. Adjoining this booth was a delightful production of a Japanese tea set.

Here tea was served by ladies whose dainty Japanese costumes harmonized so well with their surroundings that one was carried in thought to the oriental land of sunshine and flowers.

Next came the Kentville booth, decorated in royal purple and white. The word 'Kentville' stood out in gold letters in front of the booth and under this sparkled a brilliant jewelled crown. Twenty-four miniature electric lights, in various colors, gave additional beauty to the scene. This booth was laden with contributions from manufacturers and wholesale houses in different parts of the Province; with contributions from the Kentville people themselves, and from outside friends of the Kentville people. Thus, representing as it did, donations from such varied points the booth was a visible manifestation of the wide spread sympathy and interest aroused by the work of the Y. M. C. A.

No less interesting were the attractions in the rear end of the Opera House. A typical gypsy tent furnished amusement to old and young, and the two gypsies themselves, dressed in the vivid and picturesque costumes of their race, gave additional brilliancy to the scene when they sallied forth, as they did at times, among the more soberly dressed spectators.

The fishing booth proved an attractive resort not only for the children but also for the boys and men of a sporting mind, and evidently the catches were good, judging from the excitement of the eager fishermen surrounding the green tree covered brook.

The thirsty were looked after at Rebekah's Well, situated near the entrance. This made a unique feature in the arrangements, and we are quite sure that the water drawn from the ancient well of Rebekah was not more pleasing to the taste than that furnished here.

To the right of the entrance, an exhibition of art commanded the attention of all passers by. The many who entered this studio, reappeared in delight bearing a life-size portrait of themselves.

Near the stage, daintily dressed in shades of green, was the Secretary's booth.

All around the room, in conspicuous places, was arranged the advertising matter sent by the different firms contributing, which was not only a recognition of the kindness of the contributors, but added to the artistic effect as well.

The stage was draped with flags and bunting and dotted here and there with small tables tastefully arranged, where tea was served. The manager of the Kentville Electric Light Company had exercised most skilful ingenuity in the arrangement of lights, and the scene from the stage, with the moving crowd of people, presented a veritable fairy land. The contribution of money from Berwick was no less appreciated coming in that form.

Aside from the features already mentioned most attractive programmes for both evenings were rendered. On the first evening excellent music was furnished by the orchestra of Hiawatha Lodge, I. O. O. F., and addresses were given by President and Gen. Secy. of Kentville Y. M. C. A. and Mr. P. J. Moriarty, Gen. Secy. of Halifax Y. M. C. A.

On the second evening an exceedingly interesting entertainment was given, participated in by the Orchestra, Miss Alice Chipman, of Chipman Corner, Miss Woodworth, of Aylesford, Miss Jennie Eaton and Miss Johnson, of Wolfville, Mrs. Grace Patrinquin Bigelow, of Canning, Mr. J. E. McIsaac, of Canard, and Messrs. Balcom and Adams, of Acadia University, Wolfville.

Much appreciation is felt in Kentville of the generous response from outside to appeals for assistance in this cause. The success of the Bazar shows how important an organization the Y. M. C. A. has become and in the Ladies' Auxiliary of Kentville and the willing and tireless workers from Wolfville, Canning, Canard, Hillston and other places, the Association had most able support.

We feel that we have reason to hope that the hearty co-operation shown on this occasion is indicative of future extension on the work of the Y. M. C. A. and that in the future, rooms may be opened in Canning, Berwick, Wolfville, or elsewhere, the work to be centralized in Kentville and all under the general supervision of a trained man. In this way the benefit for good extending over the entire county.—Com.

Winnipeg was incorporated as a city in 1874. It now has a population estimated at 100,000 and covers an area of 13,999 acres, and its assessment totals over $80,000,000. There is a fine system of parks covering 316 acres. Last year nearly $13,000,000 was spent in new buildings, and the city spent for local improvements nearly $1,500,000. The future bears promise of still greater things, and it is fully predicted by sanguine individuals that Winnipeg will rival Chicago in size.

Never Expected to Walk Again. Mr. John Best, Thamesville, Ont., could not walk a step when he began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, could scarcely feed himself and had pains in his back and sides. His doctor treated him for locomotor ataxia, but told him he could never get better. He could not feel the needles the doctor stuck into his legs.

Three months after beginning the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, Mr. Best wrote as follows: 'I am glad to tell you that I have been wonderfully benefited by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I can now walk all over without crutch or cane, can sleep and eat well, and do lots of work about the farm. In fact I am the wonder of the neighborhood where I live, for I never expected to be able to walk again. Thanks to God and your wonderful medicine, I am around again and tell every one what it has done for me.'

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused it to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estlin, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 18, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert her mother, combined forces to restore the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their woman friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world. The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkham sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising for thousands of years commended it to others, and the demand gradually increased. In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence a business in the city of Lowell, Mass., that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture. Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed her reward years ago, but not till she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—were those who had received careful study and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence. To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work which its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work she has done when first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen, the mother of a large family, took it up. With womanly persistence, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the office of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health" freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.

Opium, Sedatives, Narcotics, Worse Than Useless. Produce No Permanent Good.
Worry, overwork, over-study and indigestion cause insomnia. Healthy, natural sleep can't be produced by drugs. First, the blood circulation must be improved. Congestion of blood in the head must be removed. Irritation in the brain must be relieved. It's because Ferrozene equalizes circulation, because it soothes the irritation, because it removes congestion that it does ease insomnia. For building blood and nerve, for instilling force and life into overworked organs, for establishing strength and vitality, where can you find anything so sure as Ferrozene. Remember, sleep is just as important as food. You must sleep, or break down. You can't if you'll use Ferrozene and they remove the conditions which now keep you from sleep. Ferrozene is not a narcotic, not a dope; it is a health-giving tonic that any child or delicate woman can use. Absolutely safe is Ferrozene. Take it for a month, take it for a year—no harm, but immeasurable good will result. To sleep well, look well, feel well, to be free from depression, nervousness or blues—use Ferrozene. It's a food tonic, a healer to the weak and wretched, a boon to the sleepless—sold everywhere in 50c. boxes. The regular business meeting will be held in the Board of Trade rooms the first Tuesday evening of each month.
The Rum Traffic.
First and foremost, as always, is the fact that the sale of liquor results detrimentally to the community, individually and collectively.
A few men are prospered financially by the licensed sale of liquor, but the vast majority are made poorer by it, and thousands are subjected by it to extreme hardship and misery.
There is not a single sound argument, moral or material, that can be advanced in favor of the sale of liquor.
Many good citizens vote 'Yes' year after year on the assumption that the sale of liquor cannot be stopped by a 'No' vote, and that it is better to have the business regulated under license.
Many others vote 'Yes' because of the money the sale of licenses brings into the city treasury.
Neither of these reasons justify the infliction upon the community of the evils of the rum traffic.
There has never been any honest attempt to regulate the liquor traffic under license.
A computation of the extra burden of expense entailed upon the city by the rum traffic through the police and pauper departments would show that the city pays out more than it receives on account of it.
Add to what the city pays in extra police and pauper appropriations the amounts expended by the churches and charitable institutions and by individuals in caring for the victims of the pauper breeding traffic and the amount received from liquor licenses appears only a drop in the bucket in comparison.
Then the loss of income to many families entailed by drunkenness which results in the loss of time or the loss of jobs must be taken into consideration.
Account is rarely taken by the average voter of the greatest evil of all; the hardship, misery and suffering the rum traffic entails upon the wives and children of its victims.
Children are deprived of education and of opportunity to prepare for success in the struggle of life by the rum traffic.
Homes are blasted and families are broken up by the rum traffic.
The rum traffic has been responsible for more hardship, misery, suffering and death than all the wars in which the country has been engaged.
Out of each war has come good, but out of the rum traffic has come nothing but evil.—National Advocate.

Giants Slain by Drink.
(TAR REV. C. F. AKED, IN THE "NATIONAL ADVOCATE.")
It is not the rough and uneducated only that the drink demon claims for his victims. From pole to pole of human life he holds his ruthless sway. There is no depth of mortal wickedness he does not plumb, no height of intellect he does not scale. From the mudskin creature in Whitechapel, to men of world-wide fame, whose genius has shone starlight in the heaven of lofty thought, no rank or class escapes him. What names on history's dead roll are stained by the vice of drunkenness! Among the older poets, Parcell, Cowley, and Prior were slaves of the cup. Addison's powerful brain reeled under the influence of strong drink. Hogge, the Ettrick shepherd, was mastered by it. Theodore Hook was wrecked and ruined by his criminal indulgence. Hartley Coleridge, son of the great metaphysician and poet, nephew of Southey, friend and favorite of Wordsworth, possessing something of the genius of each, was reduced to miserable decrepitude by intemperance. The giant memory of Edmund Keen gave way beneath it. Richard Brinsley Sheridan, orator, dramatist, statesman, wit, with gift and faculty almost divine, the friend of princes, the idol of peers, died in a garret, a broken down, miserable old wretch, the bailiffs waiting only until the breath was out of his storm-battered body to arrest the corpse—and that was drink!
Charles Lamb's deplorable servitude to the bottle has been told us with a disgusting fidelity to himself. Campbell, whose verse has the ring of the clarion, and the roll of the ocean, was a drunkard. The weird, fantastic genius of Edgar Allan Poe was not proof against the blight—he died drunk. Burns, strange mixture of gold and filth, was a 'lost laddie' by reason of intemperance—that fatal Globe Tavern brought him to his grave. William Pitt, the younger, lost his health and strength in dissipation. And Byron, the most famous Englishman of his generation, died in the prime of manhood, alone on a foreign shore, affording one more terrible tragic proof that a man who sows to the flesh must of the flesh reap corruption.
The liquor traffic is a cancer in society, eating out its vitals and threatening destruction, and all attempts

A Woman Tells How to Relieve Rheumatic Pains.
I have been a very great sufferer from the dreadful disease, rheumatism, for a number of years. I have tried many medicines but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I found relief before I had used all of a bottle, but kept on applying it and soon felt like a different woman. Through my advice many of my friends have tried it and can tell you how wonderfully it has worked.—Mrs. Sarah A. Cole, 140 S. New St., Dorset, Del. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is almost won't many times its cost. It makes rest and sleep possible. For sale at Rand's Drug Store.
Wiggs—I had an awful dream last night. I dreamt that I was run over by an automobile. Wiggs—At last the horseless nightmare has arrived.
Preventions will promptly check a cold or the Grippe when taken early or at the 'measles' stage. Preventions cure pained colds as well. Preventions are little candy cold cure tablets, and Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis., will gladly mail you samples and a book on Colds free, if you will write him. The samples prove their merit. Check early Colds with Preventions and stop Pneumonia. Sold in 5c and 25c boxes by A. V. Rand.

Gentle and Effective.
A well-known Manitoba editor writes: "As an inside worker I find Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets invaluable for the reason that they are so gentle and effective, clearing the digestive tract and the head." Price, 25c. Sample free. For sale at Rand's Drug Store.
If you don't look after your business, it doesn't take long to get the short end of it.
For Catarrh, let me send you free, just to prove merit, a trial size box of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy. It is a new white, creamy, healing antiseptic balm that gives instant relief to Catarrh of the nose and the throat. Make the free test and see. Address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Large jars 50 cents. Sold by A. V. Rand.

Fatal Blood Poisoning.
Frequently follows the use of cheap corn salves and plasters. The safest is the best and that's 'Putnam's,' which has a record of fifty years success. Refuse substitutes for 'Putnam's' which costs 25c. in every drug store.
Second thoughts are best, for those who have a third think coming are apt to be stupid.
To Cure a Cold in One Day Take LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE TABLETS. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.
Salt dissolved in alcohol will often remove grease spots from clothing.

Whooping Cough.
I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family in cases of whooping cough, and want to tell you that it is the best medicine I have ever used.—W. F. Gatson, Posen, Ga. This remedy is safe and sure. Sold by A. V. Rand.
A short answer often makes a long breach.
