LOOT IS RECOVERED

AFTER THREE YEARS

SHELIAC, Oct. 15—Part of the loot taken by burglars three years ago from the garage and repair shop of L. Coughlan has been found by Chief of Police William Gunn and Mr. Coughlan. Several things were located at a house in Meadow Brook, about 10 miles from town. It is suspected that the garage break was made by two men. The pair is also suspected of robbing the store of Dr. James E. Vane here at about the same time—October, 1922. This store was robbed for a second time last spring.

Norman Finney, of Sackville parish, and Albert Bugley, of Tidnish, N. S., who were arrested in Newcastle last summer for the last offense, are due to be tried, if indicted, at the October session of court which, however, may be adjourned on the opening day, Oct. 29, because of the general elections. Bugley and Finney are serving a two years' sentence in the penitentiary for an attempt to break out of jail.

VOTE FISH IN NORTHUMBERLAND

That the selection of a good candidate means much to the winning of an election is unquestionable and unquestioned. It is not a thing to depend upon alone, however.

The feeling that Fish will be elected may be ever so general, but let it be said again—nothing but the votes counted counts.

Therefore, make sure that no misadventure happens this time. Get out the Fish vote. Do some of the necessary work to get out the vote. See that your own name is on the list. See that the votes in your own household, and the votes of your neighbors, are cast. It is better to be in doubt and to work till the last minute than to be confident and fail. This time there will be no failure if the vote that favors the election of Mr. C. E. Fish is fully recorded.

Ald. Ritchie reported that he had received a request from Mr. Norton, Fire Prevention officer of the C. N. R. for the privilege of making a connection with the Town Water Main on George Street to be used in case of fire on C. N. R. property and the matter was referred to the Light and Water Com. for attention. Major A. L. Barry was present on behalf of the Assessors and on motion he was heard before the Council. He submitted a number of recommendations, which the Assessors felt would improve our present mode of Assessment and explained their contentions. After discussion it was decided that a copy of the recommendations be placed in the hands of each member of the Council and the matter be discussed at a future meeting.

It was moved by Ald. Ritchie, seconded by Ald. Mackay and carried that the Bye Law Committee be requested to bring in a report on the proposed amendment to the Building Bye Law, defining different fire districts in the town.

On motion the Council adjourned.

DICKENS AND PARKER HOUSE
Many regrets are being heard and read over the unwritten history that will soon pass out of memory when the Parker House in Boston has been finally demolished. Already many of the events connected with this famous hostel have become traditions, and while a number of outstanding events have found a permanent home in this or that anecdote or reminiscence, there are still a number connected with the political, social and literary life of its earlier days that have been forgotten. Here it was that Charles Dickens came when he visited America in 1867 and here in the Crystal Parlor, then a "salon" of magnificent magnificence, he met many of the distinguished men of the literary circles of the day, a circle that included Boston, Concord and Cambridge, and that numbered men like the Fields and Ticknors. The Bailey Aldrichs and the Longfellow, all of whom have written concerning Dickens and his stay at the Parker House. The Crystal Parlor with its mirrors and windows, its shining chandeliers and glistening pendants will be the scene of a notable company on October 19 when the Boston branch of the Dickens Fellowship will hold a farewell meeting in this room where it has foregathered from time to time to do honor to the memory of the English writer who was among the first of the long procession of English readers and lecturers who have since followed in his footsteps. Not only with the Crystal Parlor who to story and reminiscence, but the suite of rooms where Dickens and his manager Dolby lived during that never to be forgotten winter has also been engaged for the occasion and here the devotees of the greatest character artist and delineator will recall the incidents of that time. Changed is most of the furniture but the large mirror before which, says tradition, Dickens rehearsed his characterizations before going on to Tremont Temple is still in the self same position, and it may be that some sympathetic guest will see within its shadowy depths a vision of the genial, kindly man whose sense of humor was at times greater than his sense of decorum, hence the sketches of his adoring hosts which it has taken all the combined wisdom of the years and the loyalty of the Dickens Fellowship to soften. It will interest readers of Dickens to remember that it was in the Parker House that the dinner following the "Great International Walking Match" was held and of which Mrs. Thomas Bailey Aldrich, who recalls the occasion, says in her "Crowding Memories" that "the host was the incarnation of joy on a cruise of pleasure, and that even the youngest and shyest guest who had nothing to contribute to such a company but her youth and appreciation, forgot to be self-conscious." And Alice Longfellow whose father was one of Dickens' dearest friends, has also recollections

WHAT TO DO WITH LEFT OVER EGG YOLKS?
All custards—soft custards, cup custards, or pie—are much richer and better when made with yolks alone than with both yolks and whites. Allow two yolks (or more) to each cup of milk. You get a smooth, solid custard without holes in it when the yolks alone are used, and the flavor is richer. Yolks can be used for scrambled eggs. They can be used to bind stuffings, croquettes, or meat loaves; allow two yolks for every whole egg called for in the recipe. They can be used in rice puddings, in bread puddings, and to beat in with mashed potatoes to make potato croquettes, which are to be lightly browned in the oven. Placed in greased cups and cooked in hot water until hard, they can be chopped into a white sauce to pour over slices of toasted bread for egg toast; or the sauce can be used with boiled or steamed fish or vegetables. Or the hard-cooked yolks, pressed through a sieve, make the prettiest garnish for spinach, salads, and many other dishes. Cream soups are enriched by the addition of the last thing, of beaten yolks stirred into them before removing from the fire, or by a garnish of chopped or sliced yolks after they are hard-cooked. They can be used, instead of whole egg, lemonade, and make a delicious and nourishing beverage. The very rich French ice creams, which are based on frozen custards, a great quantity of egg yolks are used in making the custard, as many as from seven to fourteen to a pint of milk or thin cream. There are several other ways to use them which do not, this moment, come to mind, but we can assure you that a lot of yolks are by no means an embarrassment of riches for most people welcome them, and in the dishes we suggested the waste of the egg is merely tolerated, to avoid waste, for they are so much better made with yolks alone.

of that memorable dinner. It is perhaps from Edwin D. Mead, who at that time was a boy in the employ of Ticknor and Fields and who heard all of the eighteen readings given by Charles Dickens, who has written most fully and most entertainingly concerning the author and his association with the Parker House. Recently in an article, Dickens in Boston, Mr. Mead pointed out his own earnest desire for a memorial of some kind to Dickens in Boston, hoping at the time it might take the form of a room in the Parker House which to many others than Bostonians seemed as permanent as Boston itself. In this connection Mr. Mead called attention to an interesting feature of the House itself, "one of whose corners rests on the site of the old Latin School where Benjamin Franklin was a pupil; another on the birthplace of Edward Everett Hale, while its later extension reaches out to the site of Oliver Wendell Holmes' early home."
The Dickens' interest is, as has been said, but one of many that form a bond between the Parker House, Canada and England. Its parlor walls, its lobbies, and its hall could tell many a tale of gatherings innocent in all appearance but hiding in their midst great and important events. It has been a meeting place for noted families and for distinguished men. Its registers record many noted names and when its story shall be fully told it will form not a story of a pleasant Boston hotel, but of a House that was linked up with many of the important events of two continents and was connected with the lives of many personages, rich and poor, famous and some may it be said, infamous, known and unknown, and for all it had the charm that comes from a desire to welcome the coming and to speed the parting guest.

DRIVING IT HOME.
That the main issue before the electors is "the tariff tinkering of Mackenzie King and the deadly results of that tinkering," is the contention of an article in the Kingston Standard. To drive the idea home it invites readers to consider the answers that should be given to the following questions:
"Are you yourself better or worse off since the King Government came into power? Are you more prosperous or are you less prosperous?
"Is your neighbor better or worse off; is he more prosperous or less prosperous?
"Is your city better off—more prosperous or less prosperous?
"And the country, what of it? Is there more employment or less employment than in the old days? Is there more prosperity or less prosperity? Have we gained population or have we lost population?"

CARD

To the Electors Of the County of Northumberland

As the Nominee of the Liberal Conservative Party I wish to remind you, that this is the Peoples Fight, and calls for their united effort to change the Policy of "drift" as in practice by the MacKenzie King-Progressive combination at Ottawa.

During the past four years of Government by them, through experimenting with the Tariff-gross increase of Railway deficits--neglect of the interests of the Maritime Provinces, and exodus of many of our best men and women, in consequence of industrial depression due to their inadequate Policies, a feeling of discontent is general throughout our Dominion.

It's in the air, that we need a change---we cannot be worse than we now are, and I respectfully solicit your influence and support on Oct. 29th for election to the Federal House.

Respectfully Submitted

PAINS ACROSS THE BACK

Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mitchell, Ontario.—"I have taken your medicine for a number of years. I do not take it steady all the time, but I am never without it. I always keep it in the house. I took it first for pains in the abdomen and bearing-down pains, headaches and pains across the back. I have my home to look after and many a day I could not get up at all. I saw the advertisement in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Mrs. John Miller told me about it, too. Every time I take it, it makes me feel better and I always recommend it to my friends. I am willing to answer letters from women asking about this medicine and you may use this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. F. J. WASSMANN, Mitchell, Ontario.

The merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is told by women to each other. Many women know by experience what this medicine will do and they are anxious for others to know. Such testimony should cause any woman suffering from the troubles so common to her sex to give this well-known medicine a fair trial.

Do you know that in a recent canvass among women of the Vegetable Compound over 220,000 replies were received. To the question, "Have you received benefit by taking this medicine?" 98 per cent replied "Yes." This means that 98 out of every 100 women are in better health because they have given this medicine a fair trial.

INTEREST IN SHEEP RAISING IS INCREASING

Interest in sheep raising in New Brunswick seems to be increasing this autumn. There is a demand for pure bred rams to be used with grade flocks which is too great to be met by the production of New Brunswick rams. The result is that there is to be an importation from Ontario of Shropshire and Oxford rams which will be distributed to flocks in this province. A. E. McLaurin of the Live Stock Branch, Ottawa, is making the selection in Ontario and a carload of the animals is to arrive here November 10th.

At the small livestock fairs which have been held at many places in New Brunswick there has been a display of interest in sheep. At Rogersville, Northumberland, although the fair was small, orders were given for eight rams.

A Fishermen's Race May Be Held This Fall

The possibility that an international fisherman's race may be sailed in November was indicated when the trustees of the fishermen's trophy addressed a telegram to the American Fishermen's Race Committee outlining a tentative arrangement.

The message was in reply to a challenge to Canadian fishermen recently issued by the owners of the schooner Columbia, through the race committee which has its headquarters at Gloucester, Mass. It was suggested that a race might be arranged to be held off this coast, combining elimination and final races.

The text of the reply of H. R. Silver, chairman of the trustees' race, in part: "Owing to season being so far advanced will be difficult to arrange race this year and even difficulties overcome, race could not be sailed until between fifth and fifteenth November. Would you agree these dates?"

"It would facilitate matters if we could combine elimination and international races here. There would probably be two or three competing from here and we would not object to your entering other vessels with Columbia. Cannot guarantee that even this possible, but if you will consent will see what can be done. Wire."

Motor Vehicle License Fees Over Half A Million

Motor vehicle license fees receipts at the Provincial Department of Public Works have already passed the half million dollars mark and the fiscal year will not close until the end of October. Last year's receipts from automobile fees reached $452,489.32, which was a new high record.

The number of cars licensed in New Brunswick this year are over 20,000 and registrations show many cars sold this year. Last year there were 18,310 cars and 1,448 trucks licensed.

It might be interesting to the public to learn how much it costs to collect this half million dollars of revenue. It would seem to be money very easily collected. It is all very well to announce the amount collected, but whether the expense of collecting is large or small is another matter.

Archbishop Urges Better Sermons

EASTBORNE, Sussex, Eng., Oct. 6.—A severe admonition to the clergy for the inadequacy of present-day sermons which fail to draw people from golf, motoring and other Sunday diversions, was the feature of an address by the Archbishop of Canterbury at the opening of the Anglican Church congress here today.

The keynote of the congress is "World problems and Christianity." Choosing for his text verses 12 to 14 of the Forty-eighth Psalm the Archbishop enjoined the clergy to make a closer study of the needs of present-day living. "The average sermon has not kept pace with the advance in education or with the average man's and woman's wider interest in all sorts of human knowledge and world affairs," the Primate asserted.

BRITISH REDS RAIDED BY POLICE

The British Government is hard on the heels of the Communists whose alleged activities recently in broadcasting pamphlets inciting soldiers and sailors to mutiny has fed the flames of popular anger against them. Raids were made Wednesday night on Communist headquarters and at least one other Communist center in London. Although they were sensational in their suddenness, it had been suspected by both public and the Communists themselves that they were in preparation. When the net had been drawn tight, it was found that a considerable number of the followers of the Red banner, were in the toils, some of them of considerable prominence. All of them are charged with conspiring to incite sedition and mutiny.

Home Secretary Hicks, in reporting to the outcry of anti-Communists during recent speeches, made no secrets of the fact that the Government was taking a serious view of the situation, and was prepared for repressive action if it found a strong case against the Reds.

The difficulty in dealing with the extremists, Mr. Hicks said in a speech at Liverpool, was that they were British subjects, and as such, entitled to the government's protection as long as they did not pass the very narrow line which separated what was constitutional, and what was unconstitutional.

It is known that the Attorney General and the Solicitor-General for some time have been investigating Communist activities, and it is presumed that they now have decided that the Reds have passed over the "narrow lines" to the wrong side. Whether the incitements to mutiny actually were due to the Communist party, or to individual Communists acting independently, is yet to be proved, but the charge brought against those taken into custody, Wednesday night, together with the seizure of wagon loads of documents, papers, account books, posters and bills, and the like, seemingly would suggest that the government believes that the Communists party itself responsible.

It has been charged unofficially against the Communists that they have been preparing a campaign of violence with a view to terrorizing the public and undermining confidence and also, that they were arranging to bring alien criminals from various parts of Europe to aid in carrying out their plans.

Wednesday night's raid seemed to have been decided upon quickly. Warrants were obtained in private from the Bow Street magistrate, and the Scotland yard men acted so swiftly and so secretly, that hours passed before the news leaked out. It is asserted in some quarters that in addition to headquarters and the other communist center raided in London, several private houses in London and some in the provinces also were invaded by the police.

The police chose an auspicious moment to swoop down on headquarters, for most of the leaders were there. Particularly notable was the arrest of Albert Inkpin, secretary of the communist party, who has been one of the most active workers in the communist movement since its beginning here. He has been secretary and national organizer of the party since 1920, and for some time, one of the honorary presidents of the communist international.

John Campbell, editor of the Workers' Weekly, who also was taken into custody, is credited with being the brainiest man in the party. He has been less in the public eye than before he was tried in 1924 on a charge of inciting to mutiny Campbell escaped conviction and it was said this was because the labor government of Premier Macdonald refrained from submitting evidence it had against him.

Harry Pollitt, another under detention, is an energetic public speaker, and often has been in the news. He belongs to the Red international of the labor unions.

E. Cant, a party organizer; W. Rust, secretary of the Young Communists' League, and P. H. Wintringham, a member of the staff of the Workers' Weekly, are among others who are said to be in jail.

Canadian National Railways Earnings

Official figures issued today show that the Canadian National Railways have made a notable advance in net revenues during the eight months period ending August 31st, the net for that period being higher than for any similar period in the history of the company. This improvement has been made in the face of decreased gross receipts.

For the first eight months of the year the gross receipts were 4.25 per cent or $6,511,169 below the corresponding figures for 1924; but operating expenses were reduced by $10,968,497 or 7.35 per cent so that the net position stands at $8,385,692 which is an increase of $4,467,328 or 113.47 per cent as compared with the first eight months of 1924 and an increase of 65.06 per cent over the figures for the same period of 1923.

The upward movement in gross receipts which was noticeable in the July figures was continued during August, the gross increasing during the latter month by $2,423,702 or 13.25 per cent over August, 1924. Operating expenses during August 1925 showed an increase of $418,980 or 2.38 per cent with the result that the net earnings for the same month were increased by $2,004,722 or 280.90 per cent as compared with August 1924.

Letters on file, and orders for parts of Fawcett stoves and furnaces manufactured decades ago, show that some are still in use after forty years of service.

The ruggedness of Fawcett products not based, however, on excess weight which leads to excess cost and excess upkeep. It is due to a scientific study of the relation between one part and another and of all parts in relation to the service they have to stand.

When you buy a Fawcett you buy the accumulation of three quarters of a century of experience.

For Churches

"We had a Fawcett Pipeless Furnace installed in the manse at Murray Harbour—North, and also in the church and both gave perfect satisfaction."—Rev. J. S. MacKay.

For large buildings like churches, that have to be heated quickly and fully part of the time while perhaps unheated on other occasions, the Fawcett Pipeless is ideal.

We will be glad to send details of various Fawcett installations to cover cases of this kind, coupled with the unbiased reports of the users.

KING CANNOT GET A MAJORITY

The dominating desire of the people in this election is the return of self-reliant government with an independent majority. The outstanding fact regarding the election is that Mackenzie King cannot secure such a majority. On Liberal concessions alone he is bound to have a smaller following than in the last Parliament. The Government concedes heavy losses in the Maritimes. It admits of no hope of retaining a solid Quebec. Nobody gives it a chance of enlarging its following in Ontario. Where, then, can it possibly procure a majority? Even the largest possible gains in the west cannot overcome the admitted losses in the east.

If Mackenzie King were returned to power it would be only by virtue of having the largest group. He admitted he was powerless during the last four years with a majority of one. He would be even more powerless in the next Parliament and more dependent than ever on the Progressives.

The whole hope of the Government is centered on the west. Recognizing the inevitability of losses in the east, Mackenzie King is going to lengths no leader in the course of Canadian politics has ever gone in order to purchase support in the west. He opened his campaign with announcements of Cabinet reorganization. He went to the prairies and told the people there that he would scrap that reorganization and give them all manner of cabinet representation if they would give him the votes he wants. He did not tell them whether in his opinion the completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway was a proper undertaking. He merely told them they could buy its completion with votes. For the purchase of support in British Columbia and Alberta he has unblushingly subordinated the Railway Commission to the purpose of party.

As evidence of the manner in which this shameless attempt at the wholesale purchase of the electorate is offending the public conscience, witness the scathing comment of the Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph, a newspaper that is not opposing the Government:

"Premier King, speaking here in Quebec some ten days ago, was at pains to tell his audience that he was making the same declarations to them that he had just been making to the people of the Maritime Provinces. We have not heard, however, that he has told the prairie electors that he is making the same declarations to them as he made in Quebec. If he did so it would certainly cause much amazement to citizens of the Ancient Capital who have followed his western discourses through press despatches.

"Premier King did not tell Quebecers that he intends to complete the Hudson Bay Railway. But he has told Westerners so.

"Premier King did not tell Quebecers that he intends to push forward his ideas of Senate reform as rapidly as possible. That is what he has told the West.

"Premier King did not tell Quebecers that, if re-elected, he will continue in a policy of tariff reductions. Yet he allowed it to be said in his presence and from the same platform by Premier Norris of Manitoba, one of his political friends.

"Premier King did not tell Quebecers that his cabinet reorganization was only a stop-gap affair to ride him over the elections. Yet he has appealed to the West to elect four Liberals so he may give them portfolios; among them that of Immigration, which he has only just conferred upon Hon. Mr. Gordon of Peterborough.

"From the point of view of the ethics of public life, the Chronicle-Telegraph desires to register a firm protest against this collective bribery of the electorate, which would be bad enough in a private Member but is absolutely indefensible in a Prime Minister."

But even with this bribing of the western electorate it is patent that he cannot be returned with an independent majority. If he should be placed in a position through the result of the polling where he would have to attempt to carry on the government he would be entirely dependent on the support of the Progressive group. The experience of the last four years, during which, he admits himself, he was unable to tackle the problems pressing for solution, would be repeated and magnified. His utmost hope is of coming back with the largest group, a smaller group than he had in the last House of Commons.

If the country is to have a self-reliant and independent Government during the next four or five years the one thing it must do is turn the King Government out of office. The best King can possibly do is to provide it with a more dependent and powerless administration than that of the last four years.

N. B. Liquor Board Profits to Show Big Reduction

Fredericton, N. B. Oct. 16—New Brunswick's revenue for the fiscal year ending October 31st, will suffer a reduction of at least $150,000 as the result of a falling off in profits of the New Brunswick Liquor Commission, it was said today.

The audit of the commission's accounts which has been carried on in connection with an inventory of and checking up of the stock on hand by Richard Sullivan, of St. John and his assistants, is said to have revealed profits for the year up to about October 1st, of about $300,000. Profits last year ran up to almost half a million dollars and inasmuch as there is only another month to go of the present fiscal year, it is estimated that this year's profits will probably be at least $150,000 behind last year.

It is understood that Mr. Sullivan's final report to the Government regarding his investigation of affairs of the Commission will not be made until the November meeting.

Partridge / re To Be Examined

Specimens of partridge are to be taken this season and forwarded for examination by a committee of the International Game Association, appointed a year ago to investigate the story that an epidemic over all the eastern continent had tremendously reduced the number of partridge. One of the large United States universities is to assist in the investigation with its research department. One story was that blue lice infected the birds and killed them.

The open season for partridge in New Brunswick will open on Tuesday, Oct. 28, continuing until Nov. 10th. This short season was adopted as a measure of protection to this game bird the most important which New Brunswick has. The scarcity, which seemed to be general last autumn, brought about the action and reports so far this fall indicate that conditions are about the same.

Until the legal hunting season opens only observation can be used to tell the number of the partridge. Reports received so far by the Department of Lands and Mines indicate that they are scarce in the greater part of the province.

School Children May Honor Memory of Late Bonar Law

A suggestion has been received from Richibucto, on Sept. 17 by the Committee in charge of the memorial service and unveiling of the cairn to the memory of the late Hon. Bonar Law, that the committee arrange with the School Trustees of Rexton and vicinity for annual observance of the date by the children. The suggestion added that it would be a good thing to make the date the occasion for a half holiday and to have the school children assemble at the memorial cairn and engage in patriotic exercises during which particular reference be made to the life of the late Bonar Law.

Dr. Murray MacLaren, of Saint John, who was chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the erection and unveiling of the cairn to Law's memory stated that the committee greatly appreciated the suggestion and that they considered the idea a very worthy one. He intimated the committee would make some move in the matter.

DR. TAYLOR'S COMPLAINT.

Dr. F. R. Taylor has ample reason for his complaint of the socialist tendency of much modern legislation. Also, he is doing the right thing in directing the attention of law students to their opportunities and responsibilities. A much wider audience, however, must be got to give heed to Dr. Taylor's warning words before there can be hope even of checking the tendency which he deplores. This is an age of fads. All over the world noisy minorities are winning public and political support for well meaning but far too often undesirable projects for bettering social and business conditions. The tendency is not confined to one country or one class among the people. Rich and poor contribute their hundreds to the ever growing multitude of reformers, advocating all kinds and sorts of reforms. It is almost an impossible task to sift the good from the bad, the practical from the impractical, and so the busy world accepts far too many of them and passes them to legislatures who answer the demand with laws, far too many of them useless or positively harmful, and all of them expensive. What we call public opinion is responsible for the tendencies which Dr. Taylor deplores, but public opinion itself appears to be afflicted with a deadly and fearfully contagious disease. Instead of standing out against fads and notions its whole effort today appears to be to get behind every new fad and boost it as a life saver. The church, the law, business, the press, the worker and loafer, are all susceptible to this modern disease, and to that susceptibility is to be attributed the amazing growth of the evil of which Dr. Taylor so forcefully complains.

WHEN EDITORS TELL THE TRUTH

Only a short time ago the editor of a paper in India grew tired of being called a liar, and announced that he would tell the truth in his next issue, which accordingly contained the following items:

"John Benin, the laziest merchant in town, made a trip to Beeville last Monday"

"John Coyle, our groceryman is doing poor business. How can he expect to do much?"

"David Conkey died at his home on Tuesday. The doctor gave it out as heart trouble. Whiskey killed him."

"Married—Miss Sylvia Rhodes and James Collins, last Saturday at the Baptist Parsonage, by the Rev. Gordon. The bride is a very ordinary girl who doesn't know any more about cooking than a jack-rabbit and never helped her mother three days in her life. She is not a beauty by any means and has a gait like a duck. The groom is an up-to-date loafer. He has been living off the old folks at home all his life and is not worth shucks. It will be a hard life.

The Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen

Two forces are in conflict in the present election Campaign. They are as in all great natural movements, positive and negative. It is not difficult to see that the party which has been identified in recent years with the policy of drift, represents the negative force, while the active, constructive policy advocated by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen is positive in its inspiration and procedure.

The two leaders are typical of the quality of their policies. Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King has won his reputation as a "stand-patter", the negative instrument of a torpid statesmanship. In the pressure of a supreme national crisis he has nothing to suggest but to keep on doing no better.

Mr. Meighen on the other hand, sees the great necessity of the nation—Canada, with the heaviest per capita debt in the world, her life blood bleeding from every artery that leads into the United States, and he offers a remedy, change of treatment, revival, health and prosperity.

Mr. King admits that there are four things requiring attention politically—transportation, immigration, senate reform, and the tariff. Mr. Meighen, with keener judgment, sees that three of these are symptomatic, that the vital one is the taxvantage of sectional difficulties created by the nature of our national domain. But Arthur Meighen is not a man to think of the need for courage. Action being necessary, he goes into it. He may not be strong physically, but physical delicacy has never stopped the hero. He does not spare his strength. Like a sword of flame is the spiritual will of mighty hearts in a righteous cause. He is one of the Bondsmen of the Blood, in the line of the noble traditions which is called the British Empire, a true example of that special modification of the British spirit which is Canadian born of the soil, unmingled with the culture of the United States upon which Mr. King has drawn so freely. One of his opponents Hon. Mr. Vincent Massey, has not refrained from acknowledging his quality. "I have a high personal regard for Mr. Meighen," he says; "I admire his sincerity, his candour, and I respect his courage and tenacity in upholding a dogma that can never be accepted by the people of this country." Mr. Massey's heart is truer than his head. One is reminded of Goldwin Smith's comparison of Wolfe and Nelson, and many others of frail physique, and does Mr. Meighen's bearing not recall the dominant souls that were never stayed by bodily weakness but like Wolfe and Nelson, conquered in spite of all.

RT. HON. ARTHUR MEIGHEN

and that everything turns on employment. If our young men cannot be supplied with labour sufficient to maintain themselves and they are driven from the country that bred them, that country is doomed. The tariff is the remedy, and therefore the problem of the day. As Mr. Meighen said last month at Amherst:

"The brains of the Liberal party in Parliament and the mass of that party in Canada believe that Protection is essential to the Dominion. There is no use trying to cajole people to come to Canada if we can't keep our own native sons here."

It has taken courage and force of character to assume the leadership in this fight for the life of the Dominion in the face of plausible but specious arguments from a strongly entrenched Government taking ad-

DAVIDSON STEPHENSON
Queen Square United church, St. John, was the scene of a wedding of great interest to a large circle of people, Wednesday, 14th, inst. when Rev. Henry C. Rice, B. A., pastor of the church, solemnized the marriage of Miss Daisy Mae Stephenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Stephenson, Orange street, and William Harold Davidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Davidson, of Newcastle.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, was becomingly gowned in a taupe broadcloth, trimmed with grey squirrel fur, with hat, gloves, shoes and stockings to match. She carried a bouquet of butterfly and sweetheart roses, lilies of the valley and white heather. The heather was a special gift sent from friends in England.

A little flower girl, Miss Elizabeth Gray, attended the bride. Looking very beautiful in a gown of blue crepe de chine, with poke bonnet to match and carrying a basket filled with flowers similar to those carried by the bride.

Dr. Gordon C. Smith and Alfred E. Stephenson, the latter a brother of the bride, were ushers and wore boutonnières of the white heather. Mrs. Blair McLean, organist of the church, presided at the organ and played the wedding march from Lohengrin when the bridal party entered the church and Mendelssohn's march when they left. During the ceremony the choir, of which the bride has been a member, sang "O Perfect Love," and while the register was being signed Mrs. Fred G. Spencer sang "I Love You Truly," by Carrie Jacobs Bond. The church was decorated with rowan berries and autumn leaves, tastefully arranged.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Davidson left for a honeymoon trip to Ontario and Quebec, after which they will return and reside in Newcastle, where the groom is a prominent lawyer. He was in the 26th Battalion overseas, serving as lieutenant during the war.

The bride was a leader among the young people of Queen square church and was very active in the Royal Arms Chapter, I. O. O. E., making herself very popular by her kind deeds and sweet personality. She received many lovely gifts and was the occasion of several showers.

BOLD ROBBERS STEAL SEIZED RUM AT BUCTOUCHE

The Customs House at Buctouche was entered early Monday morning and a large quantity of liquor was stolen. This liquor had been recently seized from a prominent rum runner in Kent county. An officer well trained in police experience had been left on guard, and the Collector of Customs at that place lived in the same building. It seems the collector was sleeping soundly and the man left in charge for some unknown reason left his post, when two automobiles with five or six men came along, opened the door and made off with the liquor.

The liquor was to have been taken to Saint John, by one of the seizing officers on the 8 o'clock a. m. train, but when that officer arrived at 6 a. m. from Chatham, he was met with the story of the burglary.

Statements from the men left in charge were taken, and likely the Department will have an investigation into the affair. The officers say they expect developments which they do not care to give to the press at present. (Gazette.)

THE PEOPLE WANT TO KNOW BRITAIN PLANTING 39,000,000 TREES

If this country has been "bled to death" under and in consequence of a customs tariff which, during four years--1921 until the present day--has been in the control and under the operation of the MacKenzie King Government, the people of New Brunswick want to know:

1. WHY the MacKenzie King Government has not changed that tariff?
2. WHY the MacKenzie King Government has not cut out of that tariff every vestige of protection that is causing the alleged fearful destruction to this province?
3. WHY the MacKenzie King Government, and all of its supporters in Parliament, in 1923 and again in 1925, in Parliament, voted solidly against freeing this province from the alleged "curse" of protective tariff?
4. WHY the MacKenzie King Government thus voted against doing the thing which the Liberal convention of 1919 set itself to do and pledged the Liberal party to do; and which Mr. MacKenzie King, leader of the Government since 1921, in his place in Parliament in the session of 1920, pledged himself and his government to do in these words, recorded at pag. 1920 of Hansard: "Sir, I was chosen for the responsible duties that I am seeking to discharge at the Liberal convention at which the platform of the Liberal party was laid down, and by that platform I intend to stand or fall."
5. What is the value of a promise or a pledge--or the word of politicians, in regard to the future who, during four years of power, have nothing to show but broken promises on this subject?

Gave Account Of Maritime Synod

Mr. W. J. Sutherland, delegate from Newcastle to the Maritime Presbyterian Synod meetings held last week in New Glasgow, N. S., returned last Friday evening. At the Sunday evening service held in the Opera House, Mr. Sutherland gave the congregation an account of the Synod sessions.

By next spring more than 39,000,000 new trees will have been planted in Great Britain, according to the London Daily Mail. This is the programme arranged for the planting season by the Forestry Commission which has already been engaged for five years in the work of restoring the forests of England, Wales and Scotland.

By the end of the season these trees will occupy 22,000 acres of what would otherwise be chiefly waste land, the proportion being on an average 1,800 trees to an acre.

Since it began its work the Commission has planted 52,500 acres and assisted local authorities and private owners to plant another 50,000 acres. This has resulted in 184,000,000 new trees being planted.

The programme, spread over ten years, provides for the planting of 250,000,000 acres with 450,000,000 trees.

The largest English plantation is at Thetford in Norfolk, where a forest of about 21,000 acres, about the size of the New Forest, is being created.

Most of the trees planted consist of different varieties of fir and spruce; and 20 years from the first planting they will begin to show returns. At present we import 50,000,000 worth of timber annually.

All the trees are grown from seed in the Forestry Commission's own nurseries, which now covers 482 acres. They grow for three years from the seed before being planted out.

An interesting development of the work is the institution of forest holdings. Approved forest workers will rent a maximum of ten acres of plough and pasture land and a cottage near the new forests. They will be guaranteed 150 days' work a year in the forest during the autumn and winter and during the rest of the time will work on their own small holdings.

More than 150 such forest holdings will have been created by the end of the year, and in Scotland the Commission is erecting Weir steel houses for them.

UNDERWRITERS' FIRE BAROMETER RECORD

NEW YORK, Oct. 11—What type of fires to expect in selected months can be foretold with reasonable certainty by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

The Board has found that the arson curve reflects not only the ebb and flow of prosperity, but also, with unvarying regularity, the closing of the special seasons in certain commodities. A precise relation between incendiary fires and industrial seasons is known to exist.

With the approach of the Christmas season, the fur manufacturing trade concludes its brief "year," and as the cutting and sewing machines slow down, the number of conflagrations in these shops increase inordinately with other months. Some important sections of the garment trades season ends in April, and from the middle of that month, underwriters assert, they may expect a sudden increase in calls for fire settlements. Similarly with the sporting goods manufacturing, and other industries whose period of output occupy only a portion of the calendar year.

A trade map of the country warns the insurance man where to expect sectional conflagration of unusual frequency. This year they are said to center in New England where the textile industry is below par, but the wave also has touched upstate New York, and in the last two years the finger pointed to Texas, then Georgia and to Southern Illinois.

Some estimates lay as high as 40 per cent. of the $500,000,000 annual fire loss to the gruesome hand of the "fire bug." His work is marked by death as well as by destruction. For of the 15,000 people who perished in flames in the United States last year many died in conflagrations of deliberate origin.

In William Street, which is to insurance what Wall Street is to finance and Maiden Lane to gems, there is issued a monthly chart for the information of underwriters. It shows in parallel columns, the fires which have occurred in various trades and the "business embarrassments" noted in the same industries. "What fires are running now?" is a common inquiry of an insurance agent returning from a short vacation.

"Clothing" or "leather goods" or "trimmings" may be the reply. Adjusters and investigators have been warned to scrutinize carefully reports in the trade which, for the time being at least, is known to be undergoing an extra hazard.

Even the weather has a not inconsiderable influence on commercial fires. If summer lingers, throwing the fall trade sales behind, the facts noted by the underwriters' loss committee; if the winter is unusually severe, a closer watch is kept on the spring trades for straw hats and flimsy dress goods will be retarded on their way to market and the weaker elements of those trades may be pinched.

Unassimilated aliens often are the blazers of the arson trail. Underwriters hold this type responsible for many devastating conflagrations. Although declared to be widespread, arson is a difficult crime to prove and many claims are settled that just failed to bring a criminal indictment.

Those who fight incendiaries have little sentiment about fires. In William Street they give credence to the story that Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over a lantern and so burned Chicago half a century ago, and that a lone Pennsylvania crow short-circuited two high tension wires last June and caused a dozen or more blazes. These were fires of fate, accepted as such.

More concerned, however, with the national toll of preventable fire losses, underwriters and fire fighters have joined forces to see that there are no more Mrs. O'Leary's cows.

Presbyterian Teaching

Plan to Affiliate Pictou Academy with McGill

New Glasgow, N. S.,—Oct. 7—

The Maritime Synod of the Presbyterian Church in session here today heard reports of the work of the church in New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Cape Breton. That progress had been made through the province of New Brunswick was the report of Rev. Finlay G. MacKintosh, home missionary secretary of the Continuing Church in the Maritime Provinces. In every former Presbyterian church that had gone into union, he said, there was a minority group strong and enthusiastic, and from one end of the province to the other there was a strong vital church.

"There is a Presbyterian cause with out intermission," he said. "Our line of continuity is not broken anywhere. All that is needed is sufficient ministers to lead the people."

The educational policy that will in future be pursued by the Presbyterian Church of the Maritime Provinces was the subject of discussion. Rev. Frank Baird and Rev. Robert Johnston, the Moderator, outlined a proposed arrangement by which Pictou Academy might be affiliated with McGill University and Toronto in the training of students in theology. The plan, which is not yet fully matured, but which was discussed at length by a number of the leading members of the Synod, was the effect that the Presbyterian Church take over the boys' residence in Pictou and finance it. In return the Pictou Academy Foundation will be asked to make the Academy a collegiate institution with a two years' arts course instead of one as at present. This would form the centre of the educational policy of the Church in the Maritime Provinces.

There were some questions as to the advisability of feeding Central Canadian universities and passing by those of the Maritime Provinces. The insistent feeling was that the atmosphere of Halifax was not conducive to good Presbyterianism. That the Church would have about eleven hundred preaching stations and one hundred and fifty thousand members, was the statement of Rev. A. S. Reid, of Montreal, who pointed out that the most serious problem at the present time was the securing of sufficient ministers. Between three and four hundred ministers are needed to man the various fields properly. Within six months, Mr. Reid stated, he expected that a supply of men would be secured to help fill the gap.

Mr. Reid brought greetings from the Synods of Ottawa and Montreal. That the United Church of Canada was in grave danger of lapsing into unitarianism was the expressed fear of Mr. Reid, and he was confident, he said, that a great body of the Evangelicals, former Methodists, Presbyterians and Congregationalists, would swing back into the Presbyterian Church.

LET THEM SPEAK UP

Apparently the King Government or its candidates in this province cannot be either coaxed or driven into attempting to give the people of New Brunswick a reason why the Intercolonial Railway's western terminus is at Riviere-du-Loup.

Was it not a part of the pact that the Intercolonial would run to that centre of population?

Did it not for many years run as a transportation entity to Montreal?

Did not the Maritime Provinces have a vested right—unchallengeable—to a through line operated and managed from the waters of the Atlantic to the city of Montreal?

When these questions are asked, the Government and its candidates are dumb. They cannot be persuaded to open their mouths.

Is not restoration of a continuous Intercolonial to Montreal a right of the Maritime Provinces?

Might it be said to be right. It was might that deprived this province of its rights. The strong wrested the right from the Maritime Provinces. From these provinces the little they had was taken away and given over to others.

The people want an answer— if one can be given on this subject.

That stretch of railway from Riviere-du-Loup to Montreal is known to be a rich portion of the Intercolonial. It was taken from the Maritimes and donated to the Central Region. It was taken with this no-ive back of tie action: To make a poor showing for the Atlantic Region and enrich the Central Region.

The King Government saw the invasion of Maritime Rights committed—and approved of it. The "Solid Sixteen" from Nova Scotia and the liberal members from New Brunswick watched the invasion and have allowed the wrong to continue.

Why should New Brunswick electors again trust their interests in the hands of men who thus betrayed them; and who remain dumb when challenged to justify their conduct?

FRANCE FINDS A TAX HARD TO DODGE

The latest tax in France is a tax on "unproductive personal property." Objects of art are included. And, then, will parliament approve?— is the hand of the tax-gatherer to be licensed to take toll of the sacred things that genius has given a nation where genius is idealized?

If the measure passes the Chamber of Deputies it will make possible a levy on pictures, tapestries, silver-ware, jewelry and precious stones, in short, on works of art of all descriptions, provided the possessor's income is over 7,000 francs (paper), and the things here specified in hand of over 50,000 francs (paper) in value. The estimated revenue from this source will be 80,000,000 francs.

It will be a hard tax to dodge; the insurance records are available, and the sales tax, and an expert valuation, failing these, This aspect opens up possibilities for the artistic valuers. Foreigners living in France are not wholly exempt.

The contingency of valuable art treasures being taken out of France to escape the tax, is conjured up; the needy aristocrats foresee a partial sale of their heirlooms, in order to pay the levy on the rest.

It is an annoying tax, a levy on capital of a special sort. The Rightists in the chamber will fight it, and it will doubtless appeal to the Radicals. The very idea of such a measure, however, illustrates France's need, as well as the determined attitude of M. Caillaux to meet that need.

Teeling off for a "Round-the-World" Trip

(1) Captain R. G. (Jock) Latta, commander of the Empress of Scotland just prior to teeling off from the deck of his ship as a member of the "Round the World Golf Club." (2) Captain R. G. (Jock) Latta, commander of the Empress of Scotland, splitting the fairway in the first stroke of the "Round the World Golf Club" tournament. (3) S.S. Empress of Scotland, flagship of the Canadian Pacific fleet, which will sail on a tour of the world from New York December 3rd next.

Here you see Commander R. G. (Jock) Latta, of the S.S. Empress of Scotland, flag-ship of the Canadian Pacific fleet, just before and in action as a member of the "Round-the-World Golf Club", teeling off from the deck of his ship and splitting the fairway far into the ocean with the first ball of the tournament. The idea of the club was first started by I. O. Upham, of the San Francisco Golf Club, who on a $50 bet went ahead with the notion of teeing on foreign golf links across the world, playing one hole on every course with the same ball. He had all kinds of sport from losing his ball on a Chinese links and hiring twelve men to search for it, to finding the Copenhagen Golf Club, Denmark, occupied by the whole Danish army. Before returning to San Francisco he had played on 55 courses. Captain Latta is one of the latest members of the Club and a number of fellow members will sail on the Empress of Scotland on December 3rd from New York on the fifth yearly cruise of the globe undertaken by C.P.R. Vessels. The coming trip will cover 27,320 miles, nineteen countries, every kind of climate, race and tongue, and will return to New York April 10, 1926 from a trip occupying 129 days.

RED BLOODED MEN AND WOMEN

Get More Pleasure Out of Life and Are of More Use in the World Than Sickly, Run Down People

There are people who lack the red blood to give color to their lips, warmth to their hands and brightness to their eyes.

These people tire easily and cannot compete in school, store or shop with the more energetic. Their blood being thin they are nervous and do not sleep well. Arising in the morning unrefreshed they begin each day badly and miss much of the pleasure of living.

To become active and energetic, like most red-blooded Canadians, these people need a blood-building tonic.

A tonic that gives strength, that revitalizes weak nerves—that increases the appetite and aids digestion, will put color in the cheeks and lips and give vigor to the step. That means new joy in living, increased usefulness and longer life.

Where ever you find a person who has taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills faithfully you find an enthusiastic friend of the tonic that has made life mean more in many ways. These blood-making pills have been used by three generations of Canadians and in almost every community, however small, can be found those who owe health and happiness to this famous household remedy.

Weak and Run Down.
"I wish in my heart I could persuade every person who is run down in health to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial." Thus writes Mrs. Louise Mitchell, Oak Point, Man., who further says:—"About a year ago I was a weak woman, suffering from a run down system and impoverished blood. Any little exertion would cause my legs to tremble and my heart to throb violently. I could not sweep a room or walk fifty feet without being exhausted. Then I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking only six boxes I am as well and strong as ever. I can walk and run without stopping every few seconds gasping for breath as previously. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be my stand-by in the future if ever my blood needs aridling up again, and I shall always find pleasure in recommending them to anyone needing a tonic."

Help for Nervous People.
Are you pale and weak, tired most of the time, out of breath on slight exertion?
Are you nervous, is your sleep disturbed so that rest does not refresh you?
Is your appetite poor, your digestion weak and do you have pains after eating?
If you have any of these symptoms you need the help of such a reliable tonic as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Read what Mr. W. W. Francis, of Calgary, Alta., says of this tonic.
