The mayor only offered a mild rebuke, and the two pollcemen stationed at the doors did not make any attempt to restore order.

The mayor only offered a mild rebuke, and he said it was the most council chamber. He did not believe there was a member of the council who would barter away his honor. It was the most violent insult that could be hurled at an allerman and any person who attempt.

would barter away his honor. It was the most order.

That something important was in the wind was easily discernable before the council met. There was considerable talk in the members' room, and a spicy session was promised by some of the members who were supposed to be cognizant of the coming storm. When it did come it did not come, as the saying is, like a thunderbolt from a clear aky. It was expected on the floor of the chamber, but it caught the noisy gallery in the most approved manner.

Ald. Larvie was the first one to start the hall rolling. Without preface or ceremany har rose from his place in the semi-vircle and announced that he had heard various rumors about attempts to bribe any of them. So would be any good to him.

Mayor Boswell—It would be desirable to learn the person's name that had made the soffer to Ald. Hastings.

Several voices demanded the name, but Ald. Hastings did not furnish it.

The mayor said he hoped a searching investigation would be made into the charges. "It would have been much better," the mayor continued, "if the worthy aldermen who allege they were approached had made the council aware of it at Friday night's meeting. The necessary we have that had been "approached."

Ald. Brandon took up the assertion on the stated that as far as he knew Mr. Lineen of the Holly company that gentleman had always acted in the most corteous and straightforward manner. When he (the Imagor) and the waterworks committee mayor) and the waterworks committee most voicent insult that could be hurled out of sight—if the aldermen were able. Ald. Davies supplemented his former statement by saying that Ald. Hastings had told him (Davies) that he (Hastings) had been asked if $400 would be any good to him.

Estate and insurance agent do solemnly declare,

First—That one Edwin P. Pearson of the said city of Toronto, insurance agent, called at my office, No. 1 Victoria street, Toronto, on the 11th day of June and asked me to vote in council for the Holly Co.'s tender. He asked me to make an appointment to meet him on the make an appointment to meet him at his office in order to convince me that I should vote for the Holly tender. I called at the said Pearson's office at 120 clock noon but he was not in. A boy in his office said that the said Pearson had left word that if anyone should call to be sure and ask the person to wait.—I did not wait, and as I was leaving I met one Robert Lovell, a brother-in-law of the said Pearson, who walked with me along Adelaide street to Yonge street and along Yonge street to Cox & Son's restaurant. He (the said Lovell) said that the Holly company had any amount of money to spend, and that there was no reason why I should not get a share of it, and that if I would support the Holly company's tender he could arrange it for me. He said it was foolish for the said Pearson to call at my office as it was pretty well known that he was working in the interest of the Holly company. He also asked me if I had seen the draft of a circular which said Pearson had, to which I answered yes, but that I had not time to read it. He then urged me again to vote for the Holly engine. I told him I could not conscientiously do so as I had made up my mind to vote for the Toronto firm and that my constituer, to had signed two petitions in favor of the "voronto firm, and that my reputation was weath more to me than any amount of money offered to influence my vote. He said that he could so arrange matters that if I accept a sum of money no one would be a bit the wiser, and that I was beaten next year I would come out ah

Ald Davies was the next to be heard from. The gentleman from St. Lawrence, ward said he had been "approached" in a practical way, but he had not been offered pumping engine agents.

It subsequently came out that Ald,
Denison and Woods of St. Mark's ward had made a bet of $20 as to how Ald. Mc Connell would vote, one claiming that he would vote for the Holly engine and one that he would not.

As these scenes progressed the interest increased and the gallery seemed to enjoy the fun immensely. Ald. Blevins all the while had been industriously laboring at a

Ald. Davies announced that he thought he mayor was going out of his way to make this statement.

A nice little tift followed between Ald.
Defoe and Turner. Ald. Defoe said that if the council had had fair play at its Friday night's session the engine question could have been settled. He accused Ald. Millichamp of reading out of pamphlets what had been scattered broadcast at 3 o'clock Saturday morning just cast at 3 o'clock Saturday morning just to kill time.

Ald. Turner said this was a most extraordinary statement for Ald. Defoe to make. He (Ald. Turner) remembered when he had to leave the chamber not long when he had to leave the chamber not long ago because Ald. Defoe was taking against time. Ald. Defoe replied that he was "making an intelligent speech on that occasion, and he did not have to read from old reports either."

Ald. Farley followed with an indignant protest against the imputations that cor-protest against the imputations that cer tain persons had made against members of the council and Mr. Lineen. He said of the council and Mr. Lineen. He said he believed the Holly engine was the best, and that it was getting support from the best wards in the city. The crowd in the gallery hooted, yelled and hissed, and the alderman from Old St. Andrew's turned his eyes defiantly on the crowd and said he believed Inglis & Hunter had paid them to come to the meeting to disturb it. This remark called forth another volley of hisses and an old man in the centre of the gallery yelled out: "Shut up, Billy; what about your own engines."

Ald. Jones here offered a solution Ald. Jones here offered a solution of Ald. Davies' pump story. He said that when the water committee were in Saratoga Mr. Lineen remarked that Ald. Davies seemed to understand a good deal about engines. Later on Mr. Lineen came to Toronto. He went down to see Ald. Davies' brewery in which he was shown a pump that Ald. Davies had bragged a good deal about. Mr. Lineen said if he owned the pump he would throw it out, and added: "And if Mr. Davies was not an alderman of the city of Toronto was not an alderman of the city of Toronto I would give him a pump myself." Ald. Davies, he thought, construed this into an attempt at bribery.

Ald. Davies said if Mr. Lineen would de-Cries of "No," "no;" "wait for the investigation," greeted this anticipated ward said he had been "approached in a practical way, but he had not been offered mone" Mr. Lineen of the Holly common defered him a new pump for his verificial to be an overture from the Holly agent to support his tender.

Ald. Barton was the next gentleman served up. Ald. Harvie having mentioned him among the persons "approached" he was called upon to explain. Ald. Barton said he had not been approached himself, but a person whom he did not know had asked him if he did not think that Ald.

McConnell could not be bought over to support the Holly tender.

This statement brought the ex-reeve of Brockton to his feet like a flash and he gave a most emphatic denial of any overtures of whatsoever kind from any of the pumping engine agents.

Out of the defend himself. He would be in favor of giving him five minutes. The council, however, would not consent to this.

Ald. Turner then announced that Mr. Lineen had informed him, and he would inform the council, that he gave the most emphatic denial at any attempt on the part of any of his agents, either direct or implied, to bribe or corrupt any member of the council. "Mr. Lineen," Ald. A Bribery Scare at the Council Chamber An exciting scene was witnessed in the city council chamber last night, which is fully recorded in our local columns. James Brandon, one of the aldermen for St. Patrick's ward, made an affidavit that he had been "approached" by an agent or representative of the Holly pumping engine company and offered a sum of money to vote for that engine. In face of this grave charge the council wisely decided to suspend action on the purchase of an engine; and an investigation will be held before the county judge. There may or there may not be anything in the charge, but it is very desirable that a full investigation should be made at once. Aldermen Baralso mentioned as having been "approached." The latter gentleman however gave an emphatic denial to the assertion

The Mall's Abuse.

The local government is curiously composed. There are four of them mainly engaged in this enquiry, Messus, Frasor, Hardy, Pardec and Mowat. Any one may see the social equals and fitting companions of three of them any evening at the corners of the streets, spitting tobacco juice and talking grit politics between horns of whisky. They are simply low fellows with a corrupt political majority in the assembly. As for the fourth it would be impossible even in satirical literature to find his equal in cunning, in cant, in hypocrisy, and in a talent for whining false-hood.

The Mail does not improve as it grows older. Its argument is one of abuse, and one of misstatement of facts : it does not believe in fairness to opponents, it does not believe, or professes not to believe, that a read if they have to take to the paint pots. man can be honest and be a :eformer. Just now its managing director is charged with a grave political offence, is charged with conspiring to attain his end by The mixture employed, however, is too dors, attaches, charges-des-affaires, fleets one would imagine that his paper would be somewhat temperate in its language. But it is the very opposite. It is trying to defend Mr.

If Mr. Bunting has no explanation of his own conduct to offer with the exception of abuse people will begin to imagine that there is a sufficient reason therefor, namely, that he is guilty of the crime with which he is charged. As for the conservative party they are only injured by such writing as the above. Every day The World learns more or less of dissatisfaction in the conservative ranks with the style of writing employed in the Mail when dealing with political opponents, and the conservative party will find that if it wishes to hold its own it will have to force a change in the style of its

The Chinese in San Francisco.

The Montreal Witness has been a pretty constant advocate of Chinese immigration, as something to be encouraged rather than prohibited. Our contemporary has, however, the fairness to publish a letter from a correspondent, giving fact and figures from the experience of San Francisco, which are calculated rather to cool the ardour of Caucasian defenders of the Chinese plague in America. We are sure that the working men of Toronto will be interested to read the statements made by Mr. W. H. Stevens, the correspondent referred to. He says:

About the year 1870 the Chinese were first employed in the boot and shoe trade. Previous to that white shoemakers of San Francisco had plenty of work. This committee of workmen at the date of 1882-3, says: Two large boot and shoe factories, owned entirely by Chinamen, have recently been opened, each capable of accommodating three hundred workmen. They are fitted up with all the most recent improved machinery. These factories employ white superintendents and white cutters, to whom they pay high wages, with one year's engagement — the

An Advance on East-Bound Freight. The through railways appear to have got tired of the unprofitable war of rates, for now some time going on, and last week, at New York, the joint executive committee of the trunk lines unanimously arrived at an agreement to advance rates on eastbound freight from Chicago. The advance makes rates on the basis of 20 cents for grain and 30 cents for provisions from Chicago to New York. The new schedule goes into effect on June 24, at which time also the new interior freight pools from Indianapolis, Cleveland, Peoria and Toledo go into operation. It was also decided to make another advance of five cents per hundred pounds in grain rates on July 21. ton. The customs department at Ottawa has refused an application to be allowed to import an article called "tea dust." This is right, and it is to be hoped that the vile stuff may not be smuggled past the custom houses, in default of being able to enter it as merchandise. The attempt is being made to create alarm in the public mind in connection with alleged difficulties between the finance department and the banks. The truth of the matter appears to be that the banks have been taking advantage of the "squeeze" in New York to lend money there on the rare combination of high interest with very good security, as they have a perfect right to do. Such changes in should at all events be free from this very great danger.

To the Editor of The World. SIR: The proposal of independence ha been received in some quarters with the objection that the expense of government would be much greater than at present that we should need consuls and ambassa one knows how many other things.

But if we come to actual matters of fact we find that many European and other thing of this sort which they find necessary, and do so on incomes less than the Canadian-not to mention two other facts on the right side of the balance, namely, that many of them maintain a number of Canada would not need; and secondly, that there would be, under such circumstances, every chance of our income greatly increasing. In fact, comparing our expenditure with that of many of these countries-I do not mean, of course, the great leading nations of the world, but those in some degree corresponding with our own nection to disgust. The vendors of antiin population and standing—then calculating our rate of taxation per head, and what we get for it, I am very much mistaken if it will not be found that ours is the expensive system and that some of these other countries, with the whole paraphernalia of independent government on their shoulders, manage the business much more cheaply than we than we.

Great stress is laid in some quarters on the alleged impossibility of Canada's defending herself, if independent, in case of war. But, in the first place, it should ever be remembered her assuming an independent position is, of all things in the world, most likely to prevent the occurrence of a most terrible war—one between Britain and the States. While her continuance in the colonial relation is, on the other hand, of all things most likely to keep matters in train for its occurrence. If independent we should at all events be free from this very great danger.

The most freed in proved machinery se factories employ white superintendents white cutters, to whom they pay high every appearing to be to compete with white manufacturers in the finer class of ids. The London two gentlemen to whom you have com-

The present militia system of Canada gives us, in time of need, perhaps thirty thousand men who are partially drilled to act in concert, but very few of whom are able, from lack of practice, to use efficiently the weapons they carry. An enemy would calculate that he would meet, among the levies raised to oppose him, it might be fifty thousand men who, after some camp practice, would be very useful in preserving steadiness of movement among those around them. But this is all. There is next to no-ball practice. Transport service or commissariat they have apparently little of. We have so many men who have some knowledge of obeying the word of command. No more. It is a small item of defence for our frontier. Grant would would have thought little of it. Lee would have pitied it. Moltke would have laughed at it.

would have thought little of it. Lee would have pitied it. Moltke would have laughed at it.

But what if, as has been proposed more than once, a different system were tried? The present one seems intended to train men to stand in good order and upright position for the enemy to shoot at, by way of helping which, too, we dress them in colors which Bob Acres could acarcely have missed. What if, by way of change, they were taught to shoot at the enemy? It would be perfectly possible to institute such rife competitions all over Canada by supplying weapons and prizes, and taking care also to deal out with no stinted hand ball cartridge to those willing to practice, as to make it certain that among the whole body of the young men of Canada there would hardly be one who was not a fair shot, while there would be a vast number excellent, and many who might be called deadly. Another result is, in such a case, that new weapons are continually tried and better ones substituted. The matter is thought one of public necessity, and the nation gets a reputation which makes much larger nations very backward in quarreling with it. But, it may be asked, can not the larger nation acquire expertness? They are not likely to; they have not the pressure of necessity which forces the smaller. These are the weapons which decide modern contests. Cannon frightens; rifles kill; and the rifleman who knows he can kill is not so easily frightened by the cannon. The men who came back from the American war used to say, "The shell makes an awful screech, and it may hit somebody but a thousand to one it mayn't. If you're going to be killed somebody with a gun is going to do it." People do not like to quarrel with a nation, however small, of good marksmen; and when they do so unawares they sometimes evince a ludicrous rapidity of making terms with them, something of which was apparent in the negotiations with the Boers a little while ago.

In fine, if Canada chose to put into weapons and their use the sums she now spends in practically uscless mili

Free Whiskey in Halton County. To the Editor of The World SIR: The war against the Scott act i to a close. The enemy has tried another stratagem, but with appalling results; every one, even of those most outspoker against this protective law, are disgusted at the last trick, which has defeated its regular troops and ships of war, which | bold intentions and carried confusion into the camp. The anti-Scotts have formerly declared that the law has increased the consumption of intoxicating drinks, a statement which has surprised both friend and foe; it turns out, however, that the assertion was intended to be a prophesy, not a record. The facts of the case might scott act drink have all but produced a phenomena. It certainly must seem strange to many persons that the dealers in intoxicants should have become suddenly liberal handed, but there can be no doubt that five gallon kegs of free whiskey have within the last two weeks been scattered broadcast over this county, not the higher and best quality of the article, but a brand known as "Dead Shot." The temperance folks of Halton are not the only persons disgusted with this pretended liberality, and in this town (persaps in all the towns) only the hardest topers and some young boys would take the bait. The matrons of Oakville are pleading harder than ever for a removal of the curse. What mother can be silent whilst her sons are thus enticed to ruin? A sad feature in this tragedy is the fact that in most cases the distribution was entrusted to women. Shocking degradation! The plea that the women to whom consignments were made could not suffer loss, having no character to lose, is fallacious.

The temperance movement is a grand, elevating effort. Not only will the poor

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS

THE INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION IN SESSION AT LOUISV ILLE.

Interesting Statistics of the American Continent—How the Session Committee Does Its Work

Leuisville, Jun' 11. - The International Sunday school convention, now in session in this city, i, without exception, one of the most ir pertant religious gatherings of the year. Almost every section of the southeast one morning, when the captain, seats in the body at fifteen, which is pronably near the mark.

But a better idea can be formed of the immense constituency which is directly or indirectly represented by it. So far as statistics have been obtained, the number of Sunday-schools in the United States is 98,303. The teachers working in these schools number 1,043,718, and the scholars attending them aggregate 7,668,833, making a total of 8,712,718. The grand total of teachers and scholars for the Dominion of Canada is about 500,000. For Great Britain the grand total of Sunday school attendants and workers is a little less than 7,000,000, and for the whole world the figures are as follows:—

Total.

Total. use in Sunday schools are translated into no less than twenty-six languages, and are used, wholly or in part, in the Sunday school work of the United States, South America, Canada, Great Britain and her colonies, Germany, France, Switzerland, Sweden, Italy, Spain, Syria, Turkey, India, China, Japan, Persia and Africa. Possibly, indeed, this list is not complete, for so rapidly are the lessons being adopted in foreign lands and so well nigh universal is their sway that it is difficult to tell at any given time just where they are used any given time just where they are used There is a widespread curiosity to know how this international lesson committee does its work. The plan of having uniform lessons was first adopted by a national Sunday school convention held at Indianapolis in 1872. It was vigorously opposed at the time as tending to throw restrictions around the study of the bible, but when the time for decision came only ten persons voted against it. Simultaneously with this action it was resolved that what had up to that time been a national convention should become interna-tional in its scope, and the first in-

Dr. J. H. Vincent of the M. E. church; the other members being Dr. John Hall, presbyterian; B. F. Jacobs, baptist; Dr. Warren Randolph, baptist; Philip G. Gillett, M. E. church; Dr. Richard Newton, episcopalian; Dr. B. M. Palmer, southern presbyterian; Dr. W.G. E. Cunnyngham M. E. church south; Franklin Fairbanks, congregationalist; Dr. John A. Broadus, baptist; Dr. Henry L. Baugher, lutheran; Dr. James A. Worden, presbyterian; Dr. D. H. McVicar, presbyterian, of Canada, and Dr. John Potts, methodist church of Canada. It will thus be seen that six schools of faith are represented on this committee, the methodists having four, the presbyterians four, the baptists three, and the episcopalians, congregationalists, and the episcopalians, congregationalists, and lutherans one member each.

Shortly after the inauguration of this plan, the Sunday school union of London expressed a wish to co-operate, and accordingly the lessons selected are forwarded to London before being announced in this country, to see if marded to London before being anmounced in this country, to see if any changes are desired. Still later, the Sunday school union of the British wesleyan church expressed a similar wish, and the selections are now submitted to that body also. I am told that in past years changes have been quite numerous, but the committee announce with special pride that the lessons appointed for the year 1886 have given entire satisfaction to the British wesleyan church, and that only a single change has been asked by the Sunday school union of the city of London.

This afternoon are executive consistent with the same and the same asked by the sunday school union of the city of London. This afternoon an executive committee of one from each state and territory was of one from each state and territory was appointed. The executive committee elected the following officers for 1884-1887: Chairman, B. F. Jacobs of Chicago; treasuer, S. A. Bigelow of New York; secretary, James B. Phipps of Baltimore.

The Presidential Candidates. WASHINGTON, June 14 .- The Blaine men here are visibly disturbed over the republican revolt against their Chicago ticket. Every day's mail increases the bad news for them. The gloomiest among them are the republican congressmen from Massa-chusetts. The information which they get in letters from home is much more unfavorable than anything published in newspapers.

BY T. O. Charlie Watkins and I were apprentice on board the brig Layard. In the spring of 185-, the vessel was lying in Mossel bay, a little bit of a port on the south coast of Africa. There was a wooden pier there about eighty yards long for boats to lay alongside, but it was only available in other times necessitated beats being

I said. "If you're a coward and afraid to go.
I'll send Tom in your place," he answered, sneeringly.
"I'm not afraid, but it'll take us all day to pull back," I replied sulkily, as we shoved off.

The green waves, crested with foam, looked grandly beautiful, as they lifted us high on their breast, bore us swiftly along for a while, and then rolled on ahead, leaving us in the receding abyss.
"We shall have to beach her, Charlie jump out quickly, as soon as she grounds, and lend a hand to run her up," I said, as

There was another part of the bight where we used sometimes to beach, and I saw a throng of fishermen congregated off, but rocks lay between, and we should have to pull nearly broadside on the surf; moreover, each roller sent her further in

"After this wave, back like thunder, and I'll pall you round, then pull for your life," I said, in as firm a tone of voice as I could command, for I knew Charlie could not swim, and the extreme danger we were in was evident.

He followed my directions, and by pulling her bow well up to the sea, we were getting along famously, when, at about twenty yards distance from the shore, my oar broke, and the next wave catching us broadside on, capsized the boat I grabbed Charlie by the collar of his shirt as we floundered in the water, carefully avoiding his "agony clutch," which I knew would be death to both. As we rose to the surface my shoulder struck something floating, which I eagerly grasped. I saw at once that it was a primitive buoy fashioned out of a hyre lear of read with ternational lesson committee was appointed. This committee was instructed to select lessons for seven years, covering the whole bible in that time and iternating from the old to the new tecament, as they might judge best. In 1878 a new committee was appointed, with similar instructions, and as the Sunday school lessons of the last five years and those of the two next to come have been selected by the gentlemen composing this second committee, I give their names and the denominations they represent. It is a thing floating, which I cagein, graphy I saw at once that it was a primitive buoy fashioned out of a huge log of wood, with a rope grommet for a ring—evidently some whale-boat's moorings. I dragged Charlie's head above the log and passed his arm through the ring. He spluttered a good deal, but had sense enough to cling boldly on. Every fresh wave buried us, but to let go would have been madness, for the sea was running parallel with the beach we had striven to gain, and drove right against the sea-wall. I was nearly blinded by the salt foam that dashed over second committee, I give their names and the denominations they represent. It is a gainst the sea-wall. I was nearly committee of fourteen, and the chairman is Dr. J. H. Vincent of the M. E. church; the other members being Dr. John Hall, presbyterian; B. F. "Now, Charlie, pass both arms round the rope and haul yourself ashore. I'll follow you," I said, as the men on land tightened the line. Plenty of pluck had Charlie, good, strong arms, too, and though their under nearly the whole of the time, he never let go unti he reached the beach, when he fell insen sible from exhaustion. Of course the feat was not so difficult for me, as I could swim well, and by using the rope merely as a guide to keep me up to windward I soon accomplished it.

Catarrh-A New Treatment Perhaps the most extraordinary su that has been achieved in modern so has been attained by the Dixon treats for catarrh. Out of 2000 patients treated during the past six months, fully ninety per cent have been cured of this stubborn malady. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five pe cent of the patients presenting themselv fine weather, as the heavy surf rolling in at to the regular practitioner are benefitted while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. Starting with the claim now generally believed by the most scientific men that the American continent is represented in it, and there are a number of delegates from abroad. How many denominations take part has not been definitely ascertained. The chairman of the executive committee puts the number of denominations having seats in the body at fifteen, which is probably near the mark.

But a better idea can be formed of the importance of this assembly from the importance of the interval of the importance of the importance of the interval and can be done at nome, and the present season of the year is the most favorable to a speedy and permanent cure, the majority of cases being cured at one treatment.
