William Wallace—Scotland's Great Patriot

FOR nearly seven hundred years the sons and daughters of Scotland have revered the memory of Wallace. It is not too much to say that this will continue for seventy times seven hundred years. When but a youth the love of Personal and National Liberty burned so fiercely in the breast of Wallace that he revolted against England's tyrannous rule. At the head of his gallant band of riders he won skirmish after skirmish, and finally, at the opportune time, quickly organized an army and routed the English at Stirling Bridge. William Wallace admired a good Barley-Malt brew just as do the Scotchmen of to-day. Prohibition has ever been a detestable word to the Scotch people. They will not have it enter into their private lives, and the Scotch vote is always registered by a large majority against such sumptuary legislation. In America they have done much to build up the country. Thousands of our solid Scotch citizens are patrons of the honest brews of Anheuser-Busch and have been constant users of BUDWEISER. They have helped to make the annual sales of this world-famed brand exceed those of any other beer by millions of bottles.

HOLY NAME CAMP PLEASANT FOR BOYS

Among Other Things, Lads Are Made Proficient Swimmers—Baseball Played.

The Holy Name camp for boys, picturesquely situated near the lake at Clarkson, two and a half miles from Clarkson station, altho but two months in existence, is supplying a long-felt want amongst the Catholic community, and has fully justified the sanguine hopes of those responsible for the inception of the scheme.

Another contingent of boys, in charge of Rev. Brother Jarlath, left the Union Station at noon yesterday for the camp. Arriving at Clarkson station, the party were met by a conveyance, which arrived in time at the camp for dinner, to which ample justice was done.

It is noteworthy that boys who are unable to swim on arrival are made into proficient swimmers under the tuition of the manager in a few days. A game of baseball follows, after which supper, then league ball games and a varied program of recreation until 9 p.m., when prayers are said, and after to bed.

The camp rises at 7 a.m. and mass is said at 8 a.m., after which camp duties, recreation and swimming comprise the morning program. The camp comprises three frame buildings; a dining hall, kitchen and bunk house, and large tent near the shelving beach for dressing.

Big Playing Ground. The playing ground covers 20 acres and the games comprise lacrosse, baseball, quills, football, etc. The one thing necessary being a gramophone for the loan of which with a supply of records, the camp would be grateful. The quality of the music supplied leaves nothing to be desired. Everyone who has visited the camp since its opening has been unparalting in his praise of the bill of fare supplied. As an example of the popularity of the camp, 40 visitors were entertained here last Sunday. The rate charged for boys is $2.50 per week, and application should be made to Blake's Catholic Repository, Church street, city.

Three rules must be observed in the camp: First, no firearms or air rifles allowed. Second, swimming is permitted only at specified times, and under the supervision of the director of the camp. Third, smoking is absolutely prohibited. Violation of these rules means instant dismissal.

RUSSIA IS SHAKEN BY STRIKE WARFARE

Armed Conflicts Occur in Streets of St. Petersburg—Many Wounded.

Canadian Press Despatch. ST. PETERSBURG, July 22.—The strike situation in Russia took on a very serious aspect today when armed conflicts occurred in the streets and resulted in the wounding of many police, Cossacks and strikers.

Just outside the capital a passenger train on the coast line to Finland was held up by strikers. The engineers were forced to quit the locomotive under threat of being shot and the passengers all driven out of the cars. The strikers engaged in this outrage numbered 200, and they then proceeded to cut down the telegraph poles and raise obstructions on the tracks.

A detachment of Cossacks and gendarmes arrived quickly on the scene and drove off the strikers. Traffic was then resumed, but every train was conveyed by a locomotive with an armed escort.

At Riga the strike movement was reported to be spreading, and it was said that 40,000 men in that city had struck work, while in many of the other large cities in all parts of the empire thousands of men had left their employment.

The majority of the 259 appeals against the assessments filed this year by the city in ward two, come from the North Toronto, Moore Park and Rosedale sections, which are said to be most affected by the $12,000,000 assessment increase. In North Toronto 81 appeals are made, many of them by owners of Yonge street and Golddale avenue properties.

There's No Place in Life For a Broken Heart

By Winifred Black

Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Winifred Black

There is no such thing as a broken heart. It's a broken mind under the wrong name. Melancholia is a disease of the brain—it has nothing whatever to do with the heart.

So declares Dr. W. A. Evans—the man who tells us all whether to sleep on the porch when the weather's below zero or not, and why breakfast food is not always the only thing you need to keep you alive. A thousand thanks, Dr. Evans—we're all obliged to you—again.

Broken hearts are entirely out of the fashion—and I'm glad of it. I shall never forget the first time I ever met any one with a "broken heart."

I was a young person of some sixteen summers—and winters—hard winters at that, in the part of the country where I lived then. You had to put a copper cent on the window pane to see out, most mornings from December to the middle of March. And any one who wore gloves instead of mittens after nightfall was rather apt to come home with frost-bitten fingers.

I had heard about the woman with the broken heart—her sweetheart had deserted her for another girl—and the woman with the broken heart never smiled again.

We were all crazy to see her. And when I heard that she was coming to visit right in the family I felt as if Garibaldi, or Gen. Funston, or Florence Nightingale, or any one else distinguished and "different" had bought a ticket to our town, and was going to sleep in the bedroom, and look out from behind the best blue curtains of that bedroom's windows.

I expected—I don't know what—something better, and satirical, and heart broken and wildly emotional—all hidden under a strange calm—and just a flash of the eye, now and then, to show the torment of the troubled soul. A Lord Byron in petticoats—or something like it.

When the woman with the broken heart came—she proved to be at least thirty-five. She had a very long nose, a very short chin, not any too much thin, sleek, faded hair, and a pair of eyes that couldn't have flashed to save the life of the owner of them.

Poor thing—they say tears are bad for the eyes. And she had shed enough of them—and more than enough.

For a day or two it was rather interesting—and then I slowly woke to the consciousness that the woman with the broken heart was just a selfish, peevish, emotional, unreasoning, silly old maid. Her "broken heart" saved her from hard work. Who wants to ask a Broken Hearted One to make up a bed, or stir the preserve-kettle?

She was a frightful bore—a kind of fussy Niobe, all tears, and all little selfish ways of self-pity and self-petting. I have never cared for people with broken hearts since.

Now, if that woman lived today, we'd either laugh her out of her ridiculously prolonged grief, or we'd put her somewhere in a sanatorium and have her treated for a broken brain, and see if it wouldn't help her broken heart. And quite right it would be, too.

There is no time, no place, no room in this world for a "broken heart." No heart that is worth beating even stays broken very long. There isn't time. Selfishness has gone out of the fashion, too, and so has cowardice, and less self-indulgence in grief. Courage is the mode today, and a brave and salted mode it is.

I met a woman the other day whose husband turned her out of her own home because he fell in love with a silly little girl.

The woman had given up a great deal for her husband and she had spent some of the best years of her life with him—trying to make a man of him. Foolish, ill-spent, wasted years. When it all came upon her how foolish and ill-spent those years had been—it nearly killed her—for a little while.

Today's Better Fashion.

If she had been an old-fashioned woman, she would have gone somewhere into the country and lived with her children on the pittance the man who had promised to love, cherish and protect her sends her grudgingly—and she would have worn a widow's dress and wept a widow's miserable tears.

REPOSE IS SECRET OF ART

Eleanor Brent in "Everywoman."

Eleanor Brent Tells How She Acquired Calmness

By ELEANOR AMES

WHENEVER a girl asks me if I would advise her to go on the stage, I chatted Miss Brent on the cool porch of her summer home, "I always take both her hands in mine and, Yankee-like, answer her question by asking another:

"How are your nerves, my dear? No, not your nerve, but your nerves?"

"And the girl is always surprised, for it is the last thing in the world that she expected me to ask her about, and yet, it is the most important of all the qualifications the stage demands.

"I did not know this when I accepted my first part, but six months of travelling taught me. At the beginning of the second six months I faced a battle with myself. It was the battle of success against my nerves—I would have to conquer them or they would conquer me. So I set about conquering them as calmly as I could.

"No matter what happened I would not let it bother me. Every hardship and seeming disaster I smoothed by sleep into a little annoyance. And then I made the personal discovery that occurs—resters that look like huge distasteful to a nervous person are to the calm person just little annoyances. I am a self-educated woman in the art of calmness.

"I paid the price of what little success I have won by taking care of my health, and health on the stage means more than ordinary good health. It means health plus nerves that never know weariness and are always in repose.

"Repose is the secret of the art of acting. To appear to do the most difficult of things easily is the height of any art. And repose, I have found, is simply the outer reflection of inner calmness and good nerveless health."

This is an advance hint given by a modiste who sails soon for Paris. There are only vague whisperings yet of what the fall will bring forth, but every one is prepared for fitted gowns, made with seams and possibly held in place with ivory buttons, for they know that the low-busted corset will be retained, and the waist line, and that waist line must be a little under the 30-inch limit which the women of today allow herself before she begins to start a reducing regime.

"How shall she accomplish it?" said the modiste in reply to my query. "I don't exactly know, but rest assured, if it is to be done, it will be done by women who manage to meet every style demand. They are thin as shadows when they should be thin, and they allow themselves to have curves when curves are worn."

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Why an Excess of Sugar May Not Mean Diabetes

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

THINGS, says the poet, sweet to taste prove in digestion sour. This melodious dictum has its proof in "diabetes" that great and illy understood disorder. This affection keeps such an excess of sugar in the contents of the blood stream that the kidneys are not endowed with the capacity or strength to keep the sweet stuff from passing forth.

Thus, there has arisen a fallacious understanding that this sugar disease is a kidney distemper. Nothing could be more absurd. You may as well consider childbirth a disease of the mind.

Thus it comes about that a craving for sugars and spice and sweets which are nice are anathema to the "diabetic." These words may rob the living bees, and therefore, leave them honeyless, but sweets are bitter substances to these very bones who long most for them. If you, by an analysis of the waste fluids, are told that you have diabetes, then "sweets to the sweet farewell!"

Yet, despair not, for there are many disorders, actually not diabetes, which throw out lots of sugar into the blood and into the kidney torrents. "Goitre," or a large thyroid, is one of these.

Infections of the liver and affections of the medulla oblongata—the tail of the brain—also cause either a diminished destruction of sugar by your muscles and flesh, or an increased outpouring of sugar into the blood.

The perverted grinding up and structural use of starches, sugars and similar "carbohydrates" exaggerates the real and the pseudo-sugar complaints. An analogous distorted absorption of fats and heavier foods—called "proteins" or "egg whites"—results in a formation of pseudo-acetic and butter vinegars and similar poisonous acids in the scarlet canals.

Diet more surely than drugs determines the trend of sugar maladies. The victim of these ailments is neither killed nor does he suffer more than the annoyance of absent starches and sweets. A new remedy for diabetes has just been tried by Dr. Marcel Labbe. It consists of a diet of dried vegetables. To aid his treatment the doctor prescribes 10 ounces of dried vegetables with fresh eggs, and a small quantity of fresh vegetables and wine.

Dr. Hirschberg will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. He will not undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest letters will be answered personally, if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. L. K. Hirschberg, care of this office.

Society Is in Training For the Smaller Waist

By MADGE MARVEL

BEGIN to draw in your waists. The first sign of the fall will be fitted garments and smaller waists. So, all this beautiful freedom we have enjoyed will be curtailed and we shall probably have to endure some of the old misery of lacing.

This is an advance hint given by a modiste who sails soon for Paris. There are only vague whisperings yet of what the fall will bring forth, but every one is prepared for fitted gowns, made with seams and possibly held in place with ivory buttons, for they know that the low-busted corset will be retained, and the waist line, and that waist line must be a little under the 30-inch limit which the women of today allow herself before she begins to start a reducing regime.

"How shall she accomplish it?" said the modiste in reply to my query. "I don't exactly know, but rest assured, if it is to be done, it will be done by women who manage to meet every style demand. They are thin as shadows when they should be thin, and they allow themselves to have curves when curves are worn."

"I have been tending toward the fitted waist for some time. The blouse has looked a bit out of date all summer. The lower prices of excellent gowns with kimono sleeves and floured seams waists have been a sign of future changes. Expert makers have fitted all their costumes closely since last winter.

"Two years ago Faquin showed the fitted, pointed bodice. Women would have none of it. When a woman won't, she won't, even in the world of fashion. Eventually she has been getting ready for it.

"Now she demands that her dresses be fitted and blouses done away with. She knows she must have smaller waists. Therefore she is already in training. She eliminates sweets and starches, and after afternoon tea, obeys her massages and exercises.

"Faquin and Cheruit both appeal to the American type. They are both pretty much in accord. Both believe in the fuller skirt and the closer waist."

The American buyers and fashion importers begin to appear in Paris early in July. They will go to Deauville, Trouville, and all the places where smart women gather. They will watch with eagle eyes, for they know they have a way of indicating the direction of the wind.

The 15th of August, Paris begins to show the autumn styles. By the middle of September the Americans are back on their feet with a fairly comprehensive idea of the next season's clothes. There may be minor changes and innovations, and there are sure to be adaptations, but the salient features of style are settled then.

A Woman's Silence

MY mother-in-law was packed off to bed after her fit of hysterics and her "talking faint," and Mary and I went home in terrible silence. That I should be ostracized for days I knew very well. I did, however, hate this uncertain pail of silence.

When a woman is absolutely silent, you may depend upon it there are terrific forces at work. And you may be sure of their nature. She may be considering murder or apology, a grievance or a feeling of guilt, but, if she stays absolutely silent, you may rest assured that she is taking a tantalizing delight in your ignorance. It's like having a woman bickering over money—away from the daily work of making one dollar do the work of two—away from the eternal clash of sex.

French housemaids have a pet superstition that it is unlucky to kill a "money-spinner," i. e., spider, and therefore spare many webs in situations where they can be left without suspicion of negligence.

In almost every country in Europe there is a current belief that the presence of crickets in a house is a fortunate omen, and that the singing of the cricket at night betokens good luck for the next day.

One of the superstitions perpetuated from age to age among the common people is that the human body weighs more after a meal than before. If no more after a foundation of fact in this article at night betokens good luck for the next day.

Advice to Girls

By ANNIE LAURIE

Dear Annie Laurie: I note your advice to some young girls is: "Don't tie one's self down to one friend, but, instead, have a number of admirers."

Do you not think that a young girl about 19 would soon get the name of being a flirt if she were seen out with a different fellow every time? Not only that, but I know some girls who seem to have taken your advice in this matter, until at the present time they have some half a dozen young men taking them to the theatre and other places.

This seems to me to be the final outcome of your advice regarding "more than one friend."

I do not think that a young girl about 19 would soon get the name of being a flirt if she were seen out with a different fellow every time. A young girl of 19 has no business being seriously in love with any one—she's too young to "settle down"—and "make up her mind." And how is she ever going to make it up, pray tell, if she never meets more than one man?

And—tell me true and tell me honest, G. C.—don't you think that a girl can have a good time with a man, and give him a good time, too, without being in love with him? Isn't there any such thing as a companionship or friendship in your scheme of life?

I have a dozen friends—men who would go half across the continent to do me a serious favor, and I would make great sacrifices to be of real help to any one of them—and not one of them ever thought of such a thing as being in love with me for a minute.

Can't a man enjoy taking a pretty girl to the theatre without having her expect him to be madly in love with her? Why shouldn't a girl have some half a dozen young men take her to the theatre—if the young men want to ask her—and why shouldn't a man invite any girl he likes to go to the theatre with him, or anywhere else that is respectable and interesting?

Get the engagement and marriage faded out of your head, G. C., and get it out quickly. It doesn't belong in a good, sensible head like yours at all.

When the right man finds the right girl there won't be any trouble about the other men and the other girls. Until that time it is not only perfectly right, but perfectly sensible, for a girl to have as many friends as she likes, so long as they are decent, self-respecting chaps who respect her and who are—nothing but friends.

Miss Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. They should be addressed to her, care of this office.

GREEN EYES V. BIG EYES.

What appears at first sight to have been an ingenious advertising dodge was worked off on The Evening Telegram last night, and a large amount of attention was given to it.

The Telegram further reflects on Controller McCarthy because a letter written by that gentleman last January repeating certain statements he had made about the shortage of houses in the city before the clay products convention, was reproduced in the prospectus.

There appears to be a distinction made, however, in this matter. Controller McCarthy was out in Hunnyden on Tuesday evening with Mr. Home Smith, advocating the annexation of that district and other large tracts of real estate in the Humber region, in the development of which Mr. Home Smith, and from its strange silence and acquiescence, everybody understands The Telegram also, is deeply concerned.

The proposed annexation in the east end is of a tract of land the western boundary of which lies one mile from Yonge street. The western annexation about which The Telegram has so complacently written from six to seven miles from Yonge street. The World has not opposed Mr. Home Smith and The Telegram in their project of developing the Humber Valley.

Why The Telegram should show nervousness for the prospects of the west end by its campaign against the east end is incomprehensible to outsiders, for nothing but the nervousness of a heavy investor would explain or make intelligible the bitter hostility exhibited by The Telegram against all east end projects. The city is quite large enough, and there is ample room enough for all the development plans now before the city, and the fact that a real estate company advertised in England and got a large free advertisement out of The Telegram, is no reason why Toronto should not continue to grow.

PHASES OF IMMIGRATION POLICY

Since every question has at least two sides, it is not surprising that the movement of population from the old world to the new is variously regarded. Emigration from Germany has practically ceased because the remarkable rapid industrial development of that country has drawn so many from the field of agriculture as to require their places to be filled by foreign laborers.

The continental nations of Europe discourage emigration because it diminishes their available strength in time of war. Austria's dread in that regard led to the recent drastic action against the activities of the steamship companies' agents.

In the opinion of Mr. Walter W. Husband of Vermont, who, as representative of the United States Labor Department, has been investigating conditions in Russia and Southeastern Europe, the time has come when the activities of railroad and steamship companies in the way of the artificial promotion of emigration should be checked.

UNIVERSITY FINANCE.

One of the toughest problems the provincial treasurer has to tackle is the income of the provincial university. The provision made for it some years ago, which was dependent on the amount of the succession duties, has been inadequate, owing to the longevity of the millionaires or their scarcity, or for other reasons. At any rate, it has not increased in the ratio anticipated.

Facing the university authorities, should funds fall, there are several courses. Fees may be increased until only well-to-do people can have their sons go to the university. The number of students may be arbitrarily limited either by excluding all but provincial residents or by raising the examination standards.

OPEN-AIR MEETING AT TODMORDEN

Opponents of Annexation Gave Reasons for Their Stand. SPEECHES INTERRUPTED. Discussion Was Discouraged—All Were Not Given Fair Hearing.

The residents of Todmorden were present at the open air meeting held last night on Mark Maynard's lawn at the corner of Pape and Woodville avenues.

The meeting was opened by Mark Maynard, who moved that J. A. Macdonald take the chair. It was debated as to whether a time limit should be fixed upon the speakers, but it was finally decided that the duration of the speakers' times should be left to the discretion of the chairman.

George Leggett, the vice-president of the Todmorden Ratepayers' Association, was the first speaker to address the meeting. He declared that the ratepayers of Todmorden were present to defend a cause which lay dear to their hearts; that they were there to prevent their birthright being sold, and that they had to prevent the machinations of a gang of land sharks.

Speaking of the increased taxation which the district would have to face, Mr. Leggett stated that, instead of water they would be asked to accept a tax of milk as a substitute. Aid. Hiltz was the only member of the city council who was present at the meeting, and he was not able to attend, and announced that he would do all in his power against annexation.

Mr. Jerry Nelson said: "I do not think it wise to come into the city on the terms offered by the city council. I do not think it fair to have to pay the entire cost of sewers, sidewalks and other local improvements. You are not giving us a chance to express his views, but the crowd wouldn't grant it."

Mr. Albert Jennings, president of the Cedarvale Ratepayers' Association, referred to the boulevard scheme as a committee consisting of M. Maynard, G. Moses, J. Westwood, M. Leggett, J.

Mr. Harris, a law student with Geo. H. Klimer, characterized the Davies proposition as a hold-up. Notwithstanding the provisions of the Local Improvement Act, all the expenses of this nature would have to be borne by the ratepayers of the district.

Howed Down. W. Diamond started to speak in favor of the district being annexed when the crowd howled and refused to give him a hearing, and his words were drowned in the din that followed. Again he tried: "I say we want annexation and we will have it," but was met with cries of "No," "Give us time to get the speaker's hearing, but we will have it," and Mr. Diamond left the platform shouting that he would vote for annexation every time.

Didn't Get Hearing. This was as far as the speaker got, and he had to submit to the yells and execrations of the crowd and retire. A number of the audience requested that he get a square deal and a chance to express his views, but the crowd wouldn't grant it. Mr. Busell asked that a motion be passed that the city could not reopen the question for at least five years. He was in favor of annexation on proper terms, but not on those offered, especially when they were free from debt.

CHARLES C. NORRIS DIED YESTERDAY

HEART TROUBLE FATAL

Veteran Publicity Chief Had Successful Business Career in Toronto.

Mr. Charles C. Norris, president Norris-Patterson, Limited, Advertising Agency, Mall building, died at noon yesterday at his residence, 106 Crescent road. Mr. Norris had been in ill health for the past three years with heart trouble, and had been gradually sinking for the past few weeks, and his death was not unexpected.

Born in Keokuk, Iowa State, 55 years ago, late Mr. Norris came to Canada with his parents when an infant. The family settled at Eglington, North Toronto, where they lived for many years. Mr. Norris received his primary education at the model school and later attended Jarvis Collegiate Institute, from which he graduated when about 18 years of age. Some time later he accepted an offer from The Globe and Empire to enter the advertising business very shortly after leaving school, having been employed in the advertising department of Toronto Saturday Night. Some time later he accepted an offer from The Globe and Empire to enter the advertising business very shortly after leaving school, having been employed in the advertising department of Toronto Saturday Night.

Mr. Norris was recognized as a rising man in the publicity world and became known not only in Toronto, but throughout the country. He resigned from the staff of The Globe to become advertising manager of The Mail and Empire, and during his 18 years incumbency in that office he was conspicuously successful and became one of the most prominent advertising men in Canada. He resigned from The Mail and Empire to enter the advertising field on his own account, and became associated with Mr. J. H. Woods Advertising Agency, under the style of Woods-Norris, Limited. Mr. Norris was a prominent Mason, having for years been a member of York Lodge, in Toronto since 1890. He was also a member of the Independent Order of Conservatives, the A.O.U.W., the Royal Arcanum and Rameses Temple of the Mystic Shrine. He was also a member of the National Club, Royal Canadian Yacht Club, Canada Lawn Bowling Club, Ontario Jockey Club and Toronto Ad Club. His only venture into public life occurred some years ago when he sat on the board of education as trustee for ward one.

Mr. Norris was a member of the Anglican Church and attended St. Paul's Church, Bloor street, in Toronto. He was also a member of St. Matthew's Church and was a churchwarden there. He was always ready to assist worthy benevolent undertakings.

The funeral will take place Friday afternoon at 2:30, from his late residence, 106 Crescent road, to Forest Lawn Mausoleum, and will be under the auspices of the Masonic Order.

DEAN GALBRAITH Head of School of Practical Science, who died yesterday.

education there came to Toronto. He made lifelong friends during his years of study at the university, and after his graduation did exploration work in New Ontario, then a very wild country.

But he was a wider vision. He saw the lack of a school to make engineers, and so against opposition and with no support, he founded the "school" and it has grown and he has perfected it until it came to have its present reputation. In the early days all lectures were given by Dean Galbraith. He also was field instructor, and his personal work then made him friends among the students, and after they graduated they more than before realized his worth. These men are today seeing very clearly all that he has been to them.

Made Friends Outside of School. Dean Galbraith was widely known outside the field of his profession. He was what is called a "mixer" loved the out-of-doors and the companionship of others. He was one of the founders of the Science Club of the university and in 1908 was elected president of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers. He served with Henry Holgate, C.E., Montreal, and J. G. Kerry, C.E., Campbellford, on the commission of enquiry into the Quebec bridge disaster in 1907.

At the close of the last school term, Dean Galbraith was urged by his family to take a much-desired rest. At their summer place at Go Home Bay he was spending the vacation when death came suddenly. A widow, two sons and one daughter survive. John S. is a member of the engineering staff of the Toronto Harbor Commission. R. Douglas, who graduated from the S.P.S. last spring, is an engineer with the Foundation Company, New York. Beatrice, the daughter, lives at home.

W. E. SUCCESSFUL SHOP ATHLETICS

The noon hour athletic events conducted by the West End Y.M.C.A. at five of the factories in the west end of the city finished last week. For two seasons these events have been held and the one just closed has been by far the best. More interest has been taken by the men of the different factories, and the scores have been much closer. The fight for the factory championship certainly was very close, but F. Gandy of the Russell Motor Co. won from Pethick of the Standard Sanitary by three points. The factory championship was also won by the Russell Motor Co. for the second time. All of the events were completed in with the men wearing their regular working clothes and a glance over the summary will show that the performances are very good.

Ribbon prizes are given by the association to each factory for first, second and third places and medals to the individual winner of each sport. Summary: Factory points—Russell Motor, 1495 1/2; Standard Sanitary, 1473 1/2; C.P.R., 1460; Moffat Stove, 1338; Canada Foundry, 1200 1/2. Records: Shot put—Halley (Moffat Stove), 34 feet 10 inches; Ballie (Russell Motor), 34 feet 10 inches.

There was a good turnout of railbirds at the Woodbine this morning watching the horses training for Green Bush. P. P. Phelan worked High Peak a mile on the flat in 1:48. He then schooled Half-Day two turns of the field, with "Pinky" Brown up. Bob Hodgson schooled Allan Case's half-bred Burleigh one turn of the field, who performed in faultless style.

Kilgour's string—Black River, Morphett and Jim O—every morning on the sand roads at Leaside.

In conversation last night he stated his horses would all be "in the pink of condition" on Aug. 1. Bob Hodgson and George Elliott will do the "training" for this stable. Mr. Croft stated last night that Frank Proctor had consented to ride his good half-bred, The Squire, in the Newbrook Steeplechase.

MOTORCYCLE RACES AT THE EXHIBITION

The Ontario Racing Association's inaugural program Saturday at Exhibition track looks good enough at this distance to warrant a crowded stand. Three professional motorcycle races, with man, Barclay Brothers and Burchall, the saucer track riders, facing on their own favorite surface, Harold Cole, Joe Beau and Ernie McIntosh, the local dirt track champions, and three amateur events, form the substantial background for a five-mile motor paced bicycle race, a two-mile cycle handicap and a whippet dog race in all nine pro motorcycle riders, sixteen amateurs, thirty cyclists and eight or ten whippets will show their wares. The men behind the meet know their business, and the afternoon's sport should be worthy of excellent patronage.

Wheat Market Closed Firm—
Corn Showed Good Advance in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 22—Black rust and heat spolling the outlook for even an average yield in the spring crop belt made the wheat market tend to soar.
The close was firm, 7-8c to 1c and 1 1/4c above last night. Corn showed a net advance of 1/4c to 1 1/2-8c. Oats were 1/4c off to 1-8c up. In provisions the outcome ranged from 2 1/2c declining to a gain of 2 1/2c to 3c. It was generally admitted for the first time that all prospect of a big crop of wheat this year in the northwest was gone.
Far Below Normal.
Some experts contended that the yield in Minnesota and the Dakotas would prove to be far below normal and there seemed to be no doubt that virtually the whole territory throug the three states named had been over-spread to a greater or lesser degree by black rust. On the other hand, there

What the Grain Brokers Say

Ware & Leland: Unless the situation of spring wheat should assume more serious aspect than now it is unlikely that the present level of prices can be maintained.
Finley, Barrett & Co.: Sales of wheat should be about on par with last year.
Harris, Winthrop & Co.: Expect a nervous wheat market all this week while northwest crop is running.
Thompson McKinnon: It looks to me crop in our country we have lost sight of the fact that abroad making for a market

Damaged Corn.
Predictions that the United States Government would stop altogether the importing of damaged corn from Africa, and turning it into the corn market. Complaints of drought condition, but were offset in part by news of scattered showers. There was a noticeable softness of receipts.
Hedging sales kept the oats market relatively weak. New crop holders were said to be letting go freely. Pork and lard broke under unloading by some of the principal long. Ribs alone received support.

RURAL CREDIT BANKS OF QUEBEC NEARLY DOUBLED IN PAST YEAR

Measure Now Under Preparation by Dominion Government Will Pave the Way for Establishing Banks on Same Lines Throughout the Dominion—Farmers May Be Able to Get Cheaper Money.

Cheaper money for the farmers is anticipated in a measure now being prepared by the Dominion Parliament. The bill, it is stated, will pave the way for the establishment of rural credit banks throughout the Dominion, as these lines through the Dominion without adequate protection in the Province of Quebec.

During the past year the number of rural credit banks in the Province of Quebec has nearly doubled, the movement being the result of the protection and encouragement of the Dominion Government. The bill, it is stated, will pave the way for the establishment of rural credit banks throughout the Dominion, as these lines through the Dominion without adequate protection in the Province of Quebec.

The system established in the Province of Quebec has been largely due to the enterprise of Mr. Joseph P. Desjardins, founder of the People's Bank of Quebec, in a very carefully prepared speech read on Mr. Desjardins' behalf at the Agriculture section of the recent Social Service Congress held in Ottawa, the details of the scheme were outlined, and the Dominion Government has since then been working on the bill.

QUALITY PREMIUM ON EGGS PREVENTS LOSSES IN BUYING

Large Sums Dropped by Farmers Each Year Through "Case Count" System of Purchasing Have Stirred Wholesalers to Search for Remedy.

During the past ten years Canadian farmers have been losing large sums of money through the marketing of bad and inferior eggs. This has largely been the result of the "flat rate" or "case count" system of purchasing, whereby eggs have been bought by number without regard to quality.

Some years ago, when eggs were worth only one-half or one-third as much per dozen as they are now, there may have been some excuse for this system, but today when eggs represent a big item in the annual receipts from the farm it is time that an improved system of marketing was adopted.

The "Case Count" system of purchasing was adopted by farmers and wholesalers alike. It has made possible the disposal of eggs in all stages of decomposition and has encouraged farmers and local buyers to hold quantities at certain seasons of the year when they have no satisfactory means of storage.

SELECTING THE BREED OF SHEEP

This is a Question Which Every Farmer Should Give Careful Attention.

Farmers who contemplate the raising of sheep on their farms should give the question of selecting a breed of sheep careful consideration. There are in all about 30 breeds of sheep that have been fixed; of these perhaps 12 are well established and are gaining in popularity. Each of these breeds has its own group of supporters, and after browsing over some of the more famous breeds, the farmer will have to make a selection from four or five of the most prominent. At all events, it is well to remember that any breed is better than no breed.

Also it is hardly to be expected that all the farmers in one district will select the same breed of sheep, there are great advantages to be derived from fixing on a breed which is popular among the farmers in the district. For example, when the farmer has decided on a breed, he should also be the average farmer would hesitate to buy them himself. Also, if the lambs are to be marketed, it is better to have the same time, they can be shipped by the carload, or it will pay the buyers to come and look over the flock.

In selecting the breed it must be remembered that in Canada no breed of sheep will be entirely successful if either the mutton or the wool side of the business is neglected. One or the other may be emphasized, but the other must not be neglected.

Breeds of sheep may be divided into three classes, the middle and the long wool and the fine wool breeds. The middle and the long wool breeds have been bred chiefly for the mutton, while the fine wool varieties are bred entirely for the wool. The long wools are the largest sheep and thrive best where they can obtain feed without much trouble.

It is important to remember that grade sheep are rarely worth raising, and that it always pays to grow pure bred sheep. With every succeeding cross of good pure bred sheep the flock is improved in quality, while every time a grade is introduced in the mating the flock is deteriorating.

W. G. Mawhinney of the department of agriculture states that the wool so far received has been in good condition, and in most cases the sacks have been cleaned according to the regulations issued by the department.

AGRICULTURAL LIBRARY. The old State Bank of Fremont, Mich., is working out a new idea in the western Michigan development program. This bank is erecting a new building, and one of the features is a room arranged for agricultural extension work. The room will be equipped with an agricultural library and will be open during banking hours for the use of the bank's patrons among the rural population.

UTICA, N. Y., July 22.—A quarter of a cent advance in cheese prices and a half cent in butter featured yesterday's session of the Utica Dairy Board of Trade. Sales were 2050 small colored cheese and 1600 small white at 13 5/8 to 13 3/4.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 22.—The output of cheese for the Campbellford district is said to be 20 per cent less this year than it was at the same season last year. This is a serious falling off, as last year owing to shortage of pasture the output was below other years. The quality is said to be good.

STIRLING, July 22.—At yesterday's cheese board 600 boxes were offered; 250 sold at 12 3/4c; 200 at 12 1/2c; and the balance at 12 5/8c.

WILL EXPORT LARGE QUANTITY OF WOOL

Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture to Ship to Boston.

More than 50,000 pounds of wool worth approximately $9,000, will be shipped by the co-operative organization of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture during the next few days to E. Leman Bros. of Boston, Mass. This concern has purchased the supply of wool marketed by the government and will pay an average of 17 3/4 cents per pound. The producers will receive between 16 and 17 cents per pound, which is the full current price less the bare cost of the selling.

The branch has sought to give every assistance to the small wool growers, who last year received from eight to ten cents per pound for their clip, and has succeeded this year in getting for them almost double those prices. Besides the small growers a considerable number of the large wool men have taken advantage of the special facilities offered by the government and have sold their wool through the branch.

W. G. Mawhinney of the department of agriculture states that the wool so far received has been in good condition, and in most cases the sacks have been cleaned according to the regulations issued by the department.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

CHICAGO, July 22.—Cattle—Receipts, 13,000; market irregular; beefs, $7.70 to $8.10; Texas steers, $6.40 to $6.35; stockers and feeders, $7.10 to $8.05; hogs, $8.50 to $9.25; calves, $7.75 to $11.25.

Receipts—Receipts, 21,000; market unsettled; light, $8.75 to $9.25; mixed, $8.50 to $9.25; heavy, $8.50 to $9.25; rough, $8.50 to $9.25; stockers and feeders, $7.80 to $9.10; calves, $8.85 to $9.15.

Receipts—Receipts, 14,000; market steady; native, $15 to $16; yearlings, $8.50 to $9.60; lambs, $10.50 to $9.00.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL, July 22.—There was a considerable rally owing to foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat today at a further advance in price of 1/4 to 1/2 per quarter, but owing to the continued strength in the Winnipeg market the higher prices little business resulted. The local market for oats is firm under an improved demand for car lots. The tone of the market for flour is steady, but there is no improvement in the demand for either for local or export account. A fair trade continues to be done in feed and firm prices. In butter and cheese the feeding is firm with a fair trade passing. Since the advance in prices for buttermilk has been considerable business from Vancouver has been supplied at prices which sellers would not accept. Demand for eggs is good.
