DENISON'S METHOD APPROVED BY JUDGE

Investigating Counsel Makes Himself Unpopular at School Inquiry.

HELD TWO POSITIONS

Board of Education Employed Did Government Jobs as Side Line.

Huron street school annex was featured at the board of education inquiry yesterday. This addition was first planned to project over the street line as set by the city by-law, and considerable work had to be done over again on a different area. Shirley Denison, K. C., brought out evidence from the records of the building department to show that after the rearrangement as to site another mistake with respect to location was made of several feet, which had to be rectified at the expense of the board of education.

Shirley Denison, K. C., the examining counsel, smilingly admitted that A. D. Waste, assistant superintendent of the building department, had "spiked" his "runs" when the question of the contractor's accounts for the completion of the new Givens street public school was brought up. Mr. Denison remarked that "the amounts were considerable under the circumstances."

Mr. Waste said "no, not under the circumstances, as they arose out of the delay caused by the occupation of the building by the military when it was incomplete, and the contracts had to be renewed after the war price rise had attained considerable headway. The witness then called the attention of Mr. Justice Lennox and Mr. Denison to the fact that Colonel McGiffin had asked for the accounts to be held over for the final adjustment with the munitions board respecting the amounts due both for the Givens and Ketchum schools. It was decided to leave the accounts over pending the adjustment.

buildings, Government House and Normal School. The witness stated that on the suggestion of Mr. Waste, he resumed his work for the board of education gratis to see that the work on certain jobs was properly finished.

Mr. Denison thought that $4229 was quite a lot of money for painting the High School of Commerce. J. Stewart: "No, that's quite all right. There were additions put to the school during 1914 to 1916." H. C. Jarvis of the Don Valley Brick Co., testified respecting the purchase of land from the late R. Davis, at $12,000 an acre.

medical certificates issued, prescriptions granted, the number of spotter's employed, etc., under the Ontario temperance act. Applications to have fines remitted were made to the board, but depend finally upon the attorney-general, and the number of doctors' prescriptions for liquor would run over half a million. The number of spotters employed by the department has been increased under the O.T.A.

Mr. Flavelle does not like the word "spotters." He has met most of these personally in the department. Colonel Machin: Pleasant company! Mr. Flavelle: Better company than a good many other men. Do the spotters receive any part of the fines imposed? Absolutely no. Do you ever hear of bogus spotters like the man who drove up to a house the other night and drove away again with a man's goods? I am not certain, but I think so.

Colonel Machin: I have a distinct recollection of complaining myself on the 4th March. Mr. Flavelle said there are in Ontario only seven liquor vendors' shops under the O.T.A., two in Toronto and one each in Hamilton, Windsor, London, Kingston, Ottawa.

with Simpson, because, he said, he was unable to get the work he wanted done by the men in the department. Morrison had been in the department since 1904.

Col. Machin asked concerning two of the Simpson accounts covering 45 days' work in Timmins and Porcupine which such items occurred as "drinks and incidentals" in securing evidence $86.50 and $11.80.

Mr. Flavelle explained that the act permits the purchase of liquor under such circumstances. Col. Machin: Conclusively a breach of the law? Mr. Flavelle: Specially provided for, liquor because they had had warm words. While large quantities of liquor were stored in the parliament buildings, the only key to the cellar was held by Accounts Mowat. The liquor is now kept in Foy's warehouse and in another warehouse. A pretty check on the quantity seized and stored has been kept for the past three weeks. A very unsatisfactory way previously prevailed of dealing with it. In fact, there was no system up to that time. Possibility of the liquor had been spirited away coming to the parliament buildings.

Mr. Flavelle explained the duties of different inspectors. Gordon does the checking for the department. Morrison is in charge of law enforcement in the north. Sarvis is in charge of law enforcement of special officers. Snider keeps track of the standard books. Broomey is in charge of law enforcement in the eastern part of the province. Corey is in charge of law enforcement in the west. A number of names were mentioned as employed by the department. The money was checked out of the law enforcement fund. No vouchers from the special officers were asked for.

Mr. Flavelle: I have confidence in Sarvis. Mr. Dewart: And you trusted Mr. Morrison. Now I will question you, which are of the Simpson accounts, amounting to $14,227.14. These accounts show for the services of two operatives, $5 a day each, for $40, in addition to a traveling allowance of $125.50 each and items of $82.50 and $74.50 for drinks. That account comes to $880.05. Have you any recollection of benefit to the province from that account? Mr. Flavelle: I do not think I could give the results definitely. It was an expensive way of doing it, but was warranted by the general results. Morrison would be the man to say how long the men were employed. They were employed on his advice absolutely.

Mr. Dewart: I find the accounts marked "O. K. G. E. Morrison, provincial inspector." Mr. Flavelle: Mr. Mowat was authorized to refuse these accounts if he thought they were wrong. Mr. Dewart pointed out that the department received only $2 to $3 a day, while Morrison's men got $5. Mr. Flavelle: It was not my special desire that it should be done. At this stage there was a little disorder, three or four members talking in between Mr. Dewart and the witness. Mr. Dewart protested. The proposition was effective.

GEARY'S REPORT IS AGAINST PURCHASE

Metropolitan Deal Should Be Submitted to Electors, Thinks Counsel.

Corporation Counsel Geary's report on the Metropolitan purchase was submitted to the board of control at its meeting yesterday. In part it is as follows:

"If the agreement is entered into and confirmed by the act enclosed with counsel's letter, the rights, franchises, privileges and assets purported to be transferred under the agreement will become fully vested in the city.

The draft agreement proposes infringements of certain statutes, and while the act referred to, if passed, would cure the defect, in view of the fact that the instructions to the legal department have been to oppose such infringements, they should be pointed out.

McCre's Attack on Guelph Revenges Sudbury 'Little Italy.'

Cecil S. Wainwright, who has been appointed secretary of the Western Assurance Company, in succession to C. C. Foster, who has retired.

In the legislature yesterday Hon. Mr. Henry introduced two bills, one to amend the Corticous societies act and the other to regulate the purchase of cream.

Mr. McCre got back at Sam Carter by calling attention to the moral condition of Guelph. It will be remembered that some time ago in looking over the nickel mining situation in Sudbury Sam Carter beheld 'Little Italy,' the foreign section of the northern capital.

Several minor bills had a second reading. One of the most important is Mr. Sinclair's bill giving municipalities power to issue $50 debentures to encourage small investors.

The house went into the committee of the whole on the bill to provide for the establishment of the office of public trustee.

Mr. Proudfoot said he saw no objection to this legislation at this time. He had heard of no public demand for the legislation.

Strong objection was registered to them by Mr. Proudfoot, Mr. Dewar and Mr. Elliott.

Under the first of the two sections laid over the lieutenant-governor in council was given power to make regulations respecting the office of the public trustee, prescribing the trusts or duties he is authorized to accept or undertake, and the security, if any, to be given by the public trustee and his officer.

Attorney-General Lucas: It could not possibly be done. The attorney-general said that it was intended that the public trustee should take over the duties with regard to the administration of estates now developing upon his own department, and the department of the provincial secretary.

The attorney-general explained that the charges were to be regulated in keeping with maintaining the department. The charges for administering

The house went into the committee of the whole on the bill to provide for the establishment of the office of public trustee.

Mr. Proudfoot said he saw no objection to this legislation at this time. He had heard of no public demand for the legislation.

Strong objection was registered to them by Mr. Proudfoot, Mr. Dewar and Mr. Elliott.

Under the first of the two sections laid over the lieutenant-governor in council was given power to make regulations respecting the office of the public trustee, prescribing the trusts or duties he is authorized to accept or undertake, and the security, if any, to be given by the public trustee and his officer.

Attorney-General Lucas: It could not possibly be done. The attorney-general said that it was intended that the public trustee should take over the duties with regard to the administration of estates now developing upon his own department, and the department of the provincial secretary.

The attorney-general explained that the charges were to be regulated in keeping with maintaining the department. The charges for administering

Q. O. R. ACTIVITIES. The first of a series of weekly luncheons was held yesterday by the officers of the Queen's Own Rifles, including overseas officers of other units who graduated from the parent regiment.

It has been decided to erect a temporary memorial in the armories to the late Major-General Malcolm S. Mercer, formerly commandant of the Queen's Own, and the other officers, m.c.o.'s and men of the regiment who gave their lives in the great struggle.

Plans are being made in conjunction with other units by the Q. O. R. to assist in a grand reception to the 3rd Battalion, which will sail from England on April 12, the Q. O. R. being one of the three Toronto regiments from which the famous "third" was originally recruited.

CROP CONDITIONS LOOK FAVORABLE

No Winter Injury to Orchards and Fall Wheat Likely. The Ontario Department of Agriculture in its report on farm conditions throughout the province, states that a considerable amount of spring plowing has already been done in some of the southwestern counties in Lambton and Kent some spring wheat and oats have been sown already.

Edmund Brbstol, K.C., M.P., will be the host at the banquet to the returned men in the armories this evening. The plans of the Citizens' Repatriation League in connection with the affair call for a bigger and better event than before.

Brigadier-General Gunn, in a letter to the board of control, has made the announcement that every soldier from Toronto who has seen overseas service will be given a certificate, showing his service record. The cost of the certificates and the engraving will be borne by the proceeds raised at the St. John tag day.

Galt, Ont., April 2.—The public accountants' committee of the provincial legislature having approved of the Galt bill for the issue of debentures to purchase a soldiers' memorial home, it was announced by the local branch of the G.W.V.A. that they would next week take over the home purchased from J. S. Moffatt, on Wainwright street. The building is a very substantial one and ideal for the purpose.

Still Pleading for the Grand Trunk!

The Toronto Globe and The Montreal Gazette are still both fighting for the Grand Trunk. The Gazette says it shouldn't be taken over at all; that a further advance of seven million dollars be given it; that no demand ever be made that it fulfill obligations signed when it induced the Canadian government to spend half a billion of money on a trans-continental road. Let the poor old road be freed from its commitments in regard to the Grand Trunk Pacific and Transcontinental; give it some more money, and then let the old Grand Trunk have a chance to get on its feet again. That is the best The Gazette has to offer.

The Toronto Globe, while stepping down its demand for a large payment to the Grand Trunk for turning over its line in consideration of the default on accounts of the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Transcontinental, says that the Grand Trunk system must be turned over to the nation "at a price that will permit of its operation at a profit," and eventually liquidate the huge debt burdens accrued by the adventures in the Transcontinental of the late Charles M. Hays. It also says that in case of any further default of the Grand Trunk Pacific, the Grand Trunk must be taken over even if the question of compensation has to be left for a future occasion.

But in any case The Globe is still out for something being paid to the Grand Trunk. This seems to be the main part of its discourse in all the articles it has written for many months now on the subject. The World would think that the main topic of its discourses ought to be the fact of the enormous default of the Grand Trunk to the people of Canada, and that when its owners signed the agreement they signed with full knowledge that if they went into default they would have to take the consequences that any other person does who gives a mortgage. It will be time enough to talk of some consideration for the Grand Trunk shareholders after they have admitted default, confessed inability to pay and asked for clemency. Up to the last minute they have defied the people of Canada, on whom they have unloaded a debt of half a billion of money.

The city article of The London Sunday Observer of March 16 is also very much astray in regard to the Grand Trunk, because it in substance says that the Grand Trunk finds itself in its present difficulties "for no fault of its own." Now this is plain misstatement. The Grand Trunk went into the matter of its own accord, asked parliament to build the road for it and to guarantee its bonds and framed up the whole proposition. It is too late in the day to plead that the man who gives a mortgage gives it "for no fault of his own." This plea of the Grand Trunk really damages its shareholders and heads off any claim they might make for clemency.

Check Militarism in Canada.

Sir Henry Pellatt, who has had an association with the militia of Canada for nearly half a century, is to be commended on the stand he has taken to prevent unnecessary militarism in Canada. This country has always shown ability to take care of itself against invaders; and when the occasion arose to take full share of responsibility in military matters as part of the British empire, British-ers are natural born soldiers, and the recent great conflict has demonstrated that civilian Canadians can be put in the battle front with short preparation. What Canada has had and what it needs is the services of such men as Sir Henry Pellatt, who have made a hobby of peace-time soldiering, to form a substantial nucleus for the more stern business of war, should occasion arise. The government owes it to Toronto to see that the present and perhaps new militia units are properly housed and outfitted, and this involves more than an armory; but let us cut out any attempt to imitate the Germans by fastening a military service inquisit about the neck of every male.

The United Farmers' Organ.

The Farmers' Sun is the name of the reorganized Weekly Sun, which made its appearance yesterday as the official organ of the United Farmers of Ontario. W. D. Gregory, on behalf of The Weekly Sun, publishes a valedictory, and Colonel Fraser, president of the Farmers' Publishing Company, which is the new proprietor, signs a word of greeting as an introduction to the new venture.

Colonel Fraser says the paper will support the farmers' platform as ratified by the Canadian Council of Agriculture and any policy for Ontario defined by the provincial organization of the U.F.O.

The Farmers' Sun, in its new shape, demands the repeal of the war time elections act and all the restrictions therein contained and a return to the old-time method of parliamentary elections.

"Verboten" Regulations for "Movies."

It is reported that Ontario is to follow the example of Quebec in making the picture houses taboo for boys and girls under 15, and perhaps a year or two older. There will be little public sympathy with the present suggestion. If the pictures are not good enough for lads and lassies of fifteen to see they should be closed up altogether. This is a matter for censorship, rather than of exclusion from the performances. The one reform that is required in the houses as a rule, that is the smaller houses, is better ventilation and more fresh air.

Except for this the average boy or girl would be much better in the moving picture house than on the street. There is little in the pictures that will anticipate what he does not already know, and children that become acquainted with the seamy side of life before they actually have to plunge into it do not as a rule suffer from the experience.

It is contended by some that an increase in the statistics of juvenile crime was to be attributed to the "movies." There are several reasons for an apparent increase and one or two for a possible real increase. More attention is being paid to the question. More prisoners are being rounded up than formerly. It is on a par with a statement made by some wiseacre in a letter to the newspapers recently when running down the health department; he said that there was actually more tuberculosis now than there had been before the proper precautions were taken.

This "increase" in tuberculosis was simply due to the greater efficiency of the system in discovering the sick and killing and getting them on record for attention by the authorities. Tuberculosis is less, but knowledge about it is more.

The greatest cause of real increase in juvenile crime in Toronto by all odds, is Judge Boyd's court if this institution were investigated. But the war has undoubtedly increased the freedom and the lack of restraint on children. It has taught them to be independent and the vast sums earned by munitioners has led to more pocket money than was wholesome for the ordinary child. It was more profitably spent in the "movie" probably than anywhere.

By making things "verboten" we are beginning at the wrong end. We do not want the German principle established here and our children brought up in servility to officialdom. It is our business to protect both adults and children from debasing influences. We should not license degrading performances to begin with. The censorship should see to that. The surroundings of all amusement houses ought to be safe for children. If these conditions are right, as they ought to be, and as the moving picture industry we believe wishes it to be, the idea of raising the age of exclusion for children any higher is ill-considered and inadvisable.

EARLY CLOSING OF STORES.

Editor World: I cannot see why all the stores in Toronto should be kept open to 10 and 11 o'clock at night to accommodate a few drones. Nine out of every ten people who come into my store after 7 o'clock could easily purchase the few things they buy before 7 o'clock, but knowing they can purchase any time they wish they don't bother, and as all trades in the city are getting shorter hours I don't see any need for stores to work after 7 o'clock. There are a good number of fruit stores who hang on all hours, afraid the other fellow will get ahead of him a nickel or two. There are about 50 stores who stay open from Dundas and Roncesvalles, down Roncesvalles and along Queen to the church which had no roof a few years ago, and I honestly believe one store could do all the trade the lot of them do after 7 o'clock. WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?

Ida re the Whiskey Investigation

By IDA L. WEBSTER.

Once again the meeting of the police commissioners went by and still a verdict in the whiskey affair from the Pape avenue station was not made public. This trip, we understand, the reason given was that of Judge Winchester's illness. The same cause was used a week ago. If you will remember it was not possible for a decision to be reached during the first part of the investigation, or rather, right after the fact had been disclosed, because his worship the mayor had not had a chance to read the evidence. Thomas L. Church was in the room, as was the other members of the commission, as well as the chief of the department himself, while the evidence was given. Now, you know that if there is one thing which "Tommy" does well it is merely to say "pending," pending the very word that was said and he formed his own opinion, just as did everyone who was in the room, or perhaps we should say, as everyone else should have.

There is rarely a day passes that some citizen or other is not hauled up before one of the magistrates and fined the usual "20," with oftentimes a bunch more added to it. And all this because the people are found with it in their possession or they are found to be selling it. You will recall that in the cases we are now mentioning the liquor is absolutely the property of the persons caught with it. But the offence is because it is now in the O.T.A. says it must not be done.

In the Pape avenue case the whiskey was the property of the government, because it had been collected and was being held in custody until such time as it would be removed to the parliament buildings or where it is now kept, pending the time when it is sent to the vendors to be resold at a fabulous price. The offence, therefore, was the giving away and receiving of something which belonged to the government and which could not have been for sale unless a long roundabout method had been pursued that is legally.

It is all very well for this one or that one to say that there is nothing to be gained by a few bottles of liquor, whether it be in a legal way or otherwise. There is just this much to it: that as long as the police department or the law which governs it continues to prosecute taxpayers and others who break the law of the O.T.A., just that same length of time it is absolutely necessary for those connected with the department to be mixed up in the business in any way.

There was apparently no reason on earth why the findings of the police commissioners could not have been made public before this. They owe that much to the citizens at least. And not only that, but there is not the slightest doubt but what this same statement will be called for in the legislature by one of the members. So why keep things so dark? Certainly it is too bad to have to keep "harping" on any one subject, but until we hear the finding it is going to be our painful duty to keep right on harping this one. And that goes even though we may lose another subscriber, which is tough luck in these hard times, but duty must be done and we are here to do it; so expect another essay if there is nothing doing next week.

THE DAY AT OTTAWA

By TOM KING

Ottawa, April 2.—Sir Thomas White in the house of commons this afternoon made a good defence of the recent merger by which the Bank of Nova Scotia absorbed the Bank of Ottawa. He said the Bank of Ottawa was a sound and well-managed institution which admittedly served a rather limited constituency. That its various branches it gathered deposits to a large amount from the Ottawa valley and surrounding districts. Unfortunately it had not expanded as other large banks had done; with the result that its deposits increased out of proportion to its discounts. That depositors of the bank brought in more money than the bank needed for the accommodation of its customers. The bank was, therefore, compelled to invest considerable sums of money in high grade securities which would have been better employed in stimulating the commercial business of the country. This, said Sir Thomas, brought the Bank of Ottawa to the horns of a dilemma. It must either establish a number of branches in the west, or have its business taken over by a stronger bank with more extensive connections. Personally he thought the directors of the bank had acted wisely in amalgamating the Bank of Ottawa with the Bank of Nova Scotia. The banks in question had few overlapping branches. They competed only at seven points in Canada, and at all these points a number of other banks had already established branches. Each bank, therefore, was a complement to the other. Never in his experience had he known of a bank merger to which there could be so little objection.

The finance minister spoke to a resolution proposed by Hon. R. Levesque calling for a copy of the correspondence and other data in connection with all bank mergers since October, 1911. The minister might well have confined his remarks to the amalgamation of the Bank of Ottawa with the Bank of Nova Scotia, but he took advantage of the occasion to defend bank mergers in general, and referred with approval to the recent startling concentration of banking capital in the United Kingdom numbered 38 and the banks owned by joint stock companies. In 1918 the number of private banks had decreased to seven and the number of joint stock companies' banks to 34.

Turning to Canada, Sir Thomas lauded the mergers in recent years which the Royal Bank had absorbed, the Traders' Bank and the Northern Bank, and the Bank of Montreal had absorbed the Bank of British North America. These transactions, he said, made for strong banks which could handle a situation like that created by the war. They would be much better shut his eyes to the public with suspicion and alarm. Within ten years the number of chartered banks in Canada had decreased from 30 to 19. Ten years ago 30 banks had deposits aggregating $335,000,000; today 19 banks had deposits aggregating $1,754,000,000. There were some exceptions, of course, Mr. Fielding admitted, where a bank merger on a smaller scale might be necessary to save a failing bank from bankruptcy. Except for such cases, Mr. Fielding would have no hesitation in saying that no "money amalgamation" should be permitted unless and until the same was submitted and approved by parliament.

Mr. C. R. Harrison, Union-Canada member for Nipissing, made a strong plea for the government going ahead with the canalization of the French river between Lake Nipissing and the Georgian Bay, and he received strong support from the representatives of New Ontario.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE By JANE PHELPS. Barbara is Enlightened as Her Husband's Schemes.

CHAPTER XLIX. After that they talked more quietly, I tried to listen very closely to catch anything of what they were saying. But they seemed to be arguing. Neil spoke more loudly than the other men and I would occasionally catch a sentence. "Others do the same thing," was one. "Why shouldn't I make a little money selling shares in oil lands as well as other men?" was another. Then: "You know as well as I do that oil has been found on that tract. Where it has been found once and so near, it is a good gambling chance it may be found on my land." "Do you own that land?" it was Frederick who asked the question. "I have an option on it." Just then there was a scuffling of chairs and I hurriedly abandoned my position and scurried upstairs. What did it all mean? Surely, as he had said, Neil had as much right to make money as other men. If oil had been found, wasn't he also justified in thinking that it would again be found on land evidently so near other wells? Then he had told Frederick that he had an option on the land. Why in the world wasn't he all right in his business ideas? They seemed sound to me. Yet Mr. Frederick said he thought otherwise—had even talked of "jail." I shuddered as I recalled his words: "I tell you, Forbes, they could put you in jail for what you have done. Then: "For God's sake, man, stop it!" Would a man of his (Frederick's) type, say such a thing without having a good reason or what he thought one? I felt sure he was speaking honestly, yet like many other wives I gave Neil credit for being a better business man, knowing a bit more about making money than other men. "Mr. Frederick didn't understand," I thought as he left the room. He would be up soon and he had to see me this evening so late, especially since baby came. It was nearly an hour later when Neil came upstairs. I was awake and so sat up in bed to talk with him while he undressed. "What in the world were you men quarrelling about?" I asked. "We weren't quarrelling." "You talked awfully loud." "Who is Mr. Black?" "One of the company. How did you know he was here?" "I heard the name when I passed the door." Neil looked sharply at me but said nothing. At first I was inclined to tell him what I had heard, but Mr. Frederick had said. Then I looked at him and I just couldn't. I could not insult him by repeating what I had overheard. He looked so far from being a man who would do anything but the least bit crooked that I felt myself blush and was glad of the half-light so that he would not see it. "What else did you hear?" The question was so unexpected I started. Should I tell him? He himself had given me the question. Then I found once more as I looked at him I found it impossible to accuse him of anything wrong and hastily prevaricated: "I came upstairs to get a book, and while I heard talking, it was impossible to tell what you were saying." "That means that you lied." "I did not stop on the stairs, if that is what you mean. I came directly up. Again I had evaded the truth. Well, we had it hot and heavy. Frederick is an old crank. He is about a thousand years behind the times in his business methods. This is a bustling age, I can tell you, and you have got to get ahead of the other fellow or he will get ahead of you as sure as shooting." My uneasiness returned. Get ahead of the other fellow. It was such a thing as that that I had evaded the truth. Well, we had it hot and heavy. Frederick is an old crank. He is about a thousand years behind the times in his business methods. This is a bustling age, I can tell you, and you have got to get ahead of the other fellow or he will get ahead of you as sure as shooting. My uneasiness returned. Get ahead of the other fellow. Federal Government Proposes New Provisions for Making of Alcohol.

Ottawa, April 2.—A number of important amendments to the inland revenue act have been given notice by Hon. J. D. Reid, acting minister of customs. It is proposed to enact new provisions governing the manufacture in Canada of alcohol without the admixture of any denatured and denatured alcohol, intended for use in the arts and industries or for fuel, light and power purposes, with restrictions as to the place of manufacture, sale, delivery and transport. Another proposed amendment provides that no less quantity than five thousand gallons shall be entered for export, no less quantity than two thousand gallons shall be ex-warehouse by one entry. Acetic Acid Duty. It is proposed to place an excise duty upon acetic acid, produced in Canada by the destructive distillation of wood or by any other process. The duty will be four per cent of every gallon of six per cent acid and it shall apply in similar proportion for any greater or less strength. Under prescribed conditions there is to be a remission of duty on acid used in the manufacture of vinegar and the department will be empowered to authorize the preparation of tobacco and cigars in packages of such size as may be advisable.

FIRST BASEMEN RECORDS PUZZLE

Hal Chase, Who is Considered the King, Down at the Bottom of the List.

New York, April 2.—The ranking first basemen of the National League, rated according to the official fielding records for the 1918 season, is on the market and may not be seen in the majors in the coming campaign. The runner-up has been traded to another club since the close of last year's race. These players are Ed Konetchy of the Braves, who compiled the best fielding record of National League first basemen, and Jake Daubert of the Robins, who finished only one percentage point behind Konetchy. Down at the bottom of the list one finds the name of Hal Chase, who is generally regarded as the best first baseman in his league, in fact in both leagues.

Such is the puzzle furnished by a glance over the fielding records of the first basemen in the two major circuits. In the American League one finds Chick Gandil at the head of the list and below him comes Steve Mullaney, who played for the Sox and George Sisler of the Browns. Two players who rank as the classiest fielders of the American League are first basemen. In each league the New York representative led the second division, both Fipp and Holke making five among the players who might be classed as regulars.

The list of first basemen was quite large last season, due to the changes brought about by war conditions, and only those players are considered who competed in at least half of the games played by a particular club.

In the appended list, showing how the regulars ranked last season, the Detroit club is not included, the reason being that the Tigers did not have any player at this position for a total of 40 games. Dressen started the season, but quit the team and Hellman was sent to first base. Later he was shifted to the outfield and Art Griggs assigned to the bag. In the meantime Ty Cobb was a first baseman for 13 games, and both Bobby Jones and Marty Kavannah had a fling at the position. Hellman was at first base in 37 of Detroit's 126 games, and thus is the top figure reached by any of the players who were listed at this position by Manager Jennings.

Veterans about among the first basemen in each league, with the National League recording more years in service than the American League. In the National age Chase, Merkle, Daubert, Konetchy and Luderus, who have been first basemen for many seasons. Merkle is the veteran of the other league with Gandil and Johnston dating several seasons back. Following are the fielding figures for the two leagues:

GALAXY OF STARS WITH THE YANKEES

In Their First Major League Engagement—Dave Fultz in Centre Field.

Copyrighted 1919 By Al Munro Elias. The New York Club joined the American League in 1903, the fourth year of the league's existence. The first president of the club was Joseph V. Gordon and Clarke Griffith was the first manager. In this, the first season of the club, the Yankees won 72 and lost 62 games, finishing fourth, with a percentage of .537. The team hit .266 and fielded .884.

The Yankees' first game box score fairly bristles with the names of players who made major league history. Foremost of these comes Billy Keeler, the most scientific batter of all time. Jack Cherman, who created a major record for pitching victories by copping 41 games for the Yankees in 1904; Dave Fultz, who played centre field in this contest; Lefty Davis, who recently was ruled out for the last time by the greatest of all Umpires; Herman Long, one of the truly great shortstops; John Ganzel, who is winning fame as manager in the American Association, and that wonderful slugger of days gone by, Ed Delahanty, who on July 18, 1906, slugged Bill Terry's shoebats for four home runs and a single during a game's play, thus equalling the record held by the year previous by Bob Lowe, these being the only two players to ever perform this great feat, and lastly Al Orth, who won greatness as a hunter, then an umpire in the National League, and who is now doing duty overseas as a secretary.

Pinehurst, N.C., April 2.—Nearly all the favorites lost their first round matches today in the north and south amateur championship tournament, and Irving S. Robinson, the title holder, and F. C. Newton of Brookline, recently Pacific coast champion, are now the most likely contenders.

J. M. Mitchell of the Lambton Club was defeated in the fifth sixteen at the Pinehurst, but several years a resident of Toronto, but never registering from Fittsburg, he is now a resident of Pinehurst, N.C.

HARVARD LOSES RUGBY COACH.

Boston, April 2.—The retirement from football activities of Dr. Haughton, for nine years coach of Harvard eleven, was announced by him today. Mr. Haughton, recently discharged from his commission as major in the army, said that business interests would occupy his time. No information was available tonight as to Haughton's probable successor. Haughton, a crack end on Harvard eleven in undergraduate days, has been coach of the football team in 1909. Teams coached by him since that time have won seven of the fifteen titles which the success of Harvard's football season is annually judged, in five of the nine years and two ties.

STANLEY CUP STAYS EAST FOR ONE YEAR AT LEAST

Seattle Makes No Claim—Canadian Players Improving—Fifty-Fifty Split.

Seattle, Wash., April 2.—The famous Stanley Cup, emblematic of the world's hockey supremacy, will be without a home the next 12 months, and for the first time in history a championship series has ended in a tie.

With five of the Canadian players under the care of doctors, and the rest believed to be influenza, officers today stated that it would be impossible to settle the long-standing dispute between the Frenchmen and Seattle. The ice has been taken out of the arena, and the hardest fought series since the Stanley Cup was put up for competition, has reached an unsatisfactory ending.

Jack McDonald and Joe Hall, two visiting defence players, were yesterday removed to a hospital. Their condition is reported serious.

Neway Lalonde, Manager Kennedy, Couture and Berliouette are all under the care of nurses, and will not be removed from their hotel until their condition becomes worse.

Late last night the condition of Joe Hall and MacDonald was reported to be improving. The doctors, Couture and Berliouette are all showing signs of an early recovery. Their temperatures were reported as normal last night, and the doctor expects them to be up in a few days.

HUCKVALE BOXING CHAMPION AT U.C.C.

Defeated Hyland, Heavyweight Champion, by Clever Work—How They Fared.

The twenty-fourth annual boxing championships were decided at Upper Canada College yesterday afternoon, and provided entertainment for the large gallery. All the bouts were keenly contested, and each one went to a decision.

The Sir John Willison Challenge Cup, which goes to the winner of the college championship, was won by E. B. Huckvale. This bout furnished the biggest surprise of the day. H. H. Hyland, the heavyweight champion, won the cup last year, and was naturally favorite when he met E. B. Huckvale, the winner of the middleweight honors, in the bout to decide the college title.

Hyland rushed in to and the bout quickly ended in his favor. He showed cleverness and used a good left jab that soon took the punch out of Hyland's right jab. He was clever and showed better condition than his opponent.

"Sir John Willison was unable to be present, and the cup was presented to the winner by Major W. A. Willison. The judges were as follows: Lean, Lieut. A. C. Dean, C. G. M. Greer, Referee—Mr. Cochrane.

—Bantam Semi-Finals—D. Slight defeated F. C. Wilson, decision.

Veterans' Night at McCormick Centre

Last night the gymnasium of the McCormick Recreation Centre echoed and re-echoed with the voices of boys who had returned to McCormick after being overseas for three years. It was veterans' night, and as a headliner a basketball game was played between the returned boys and the senior team. It was one grand battle, fast and furious all the way. The seniors held the lead until the second half, then "Irish" Eagleton, the veterans' star, hit his six-pointer and dropped them in from any part of the floor.

Considering their long absence, the Vets. played a fine game, and when the final whistle sounded were leading by a single basket. The teams were: Veterans—Eagleton 20; H. Good 2. R. Booty, 4; A. Day, 8; Y. Kinsey, 6.

Seniors—C. Reaver, 22; R. Hill, 8; G. Langdon, 4; B. Bookers, 2; G. Galtcher, 0.

McCormick is very proud of its honor roll, consisting of 182 names, and with boys returning every day it looks like a banner year in sports for McCormick.

Guelph Club Will Hold Open Tourney

Guelph, Ont., April 2.—The Guelph Lawn Bowling Club is ready for the 1919 season, and, with exceptionally bright prospects for a successful year, there was a recent attendance at the annual meeting, and the financial report was the most satisfactory in years.

The question of holding an open tournament this year was one of the important matters discussed, and the final decision was that such a tournament should be held on July 1 and following days. It has been several years since the club has held an open tournament.

John Easton, chairman of the executive committee, announced that a handsome trophy had already been donated for the tournament by George Wallace, which will be known as the George Wallace Challenge Trophy. The club expects to place Wallace's offer, and thanks were extended to him for his generosity. Invitations will be extended to all clubs in the province to participate in this tournament.

The section of officers resulted as follows: Hon. president, C. L. Niles; hon. vice-president, Dr. Binmer; hon. chaplain, Rev. E. A. Taylor; hon. secretary, C. Haddon; vice-president, John Easton; secretary, E. H. John; treasurer, G. M. Yates; executive committee, E. H. John, R. Aitken, J. B. Huther, W. H. Jones, and R. Marsland. R. H. Brydon was appointed to defend the Bowman Cup in the first time it is challenged for. Central Ontario tournament skips: J. C. Haddon, B. H. Hoover and C. Haddon. Representatives to Ontario Bowling Association: Dr. G. T. Freeman; Western Ontario Bowling Association: C. Haddon. Dominion Bowling Association, H. Macdonald. Guelph will this year have the honor of holding the Central Ontario tournament. This will take place in June, and the club officials will immediately begin to make preparations for it.

Kingston Veterans Out With Sport Program

Kingston, April 2.—Kingston branch of the G.W.V.A. is to have a share in sport this year. A big field day will be held during the summer, and various branches of sport will be taken up. A football club is to be formed, and an effort will be made to have a G.W.V.A. league organized to take in Napanee, Gananoque, and other nearby towns. Kingston has eight neighboring branches. In addition the G.W.V.A. intends to enter the city football league. A baseball club is also proposed, and as there is an abundance of material in the association for a good time, the veterans look for a successful season.

All signed players of the Lanarkshire Club are asked to turn out at Ketchum Park this evening at 8.45.

Statistician Discovers That Ty Cobb Holds Record in Leading Triple Steals

Another record has been discovered for Ty Cobb. It was supposed that all the ways in which Ty leads the baseball brigade had been put in the box, but Ernest J. Langman, by digging into the past, has found something du Georgan. It is in showing the way for triple steals. Langman's dope shows that 24 of these have been pulled off in the major leagues, the Indians of Cleveland being credited for five, and three credited to the Detroit team Ty Cobb led the way in each. And taking part in three triple steals is a record.

Two other players besides Cobb have inaugurated more than one triple theft. Eddie Collins of the White Sox and Bobb McClellan of the Athletics were the pastime's so credited. Each led a triple steal against Washington in 1917 and one triple steal against Boston last year.

This wholesale larceny in which he was involved and in which the Red Sox were victimized came in a game in which Boston was beaten 14 to 7. The date was June 7.

The first triple steal on record was made against the National League team that took credit for a feat of this kind—Chicago. It was perpetrated at the Polo grounds on Sept. 14, 1900, by Jack Doyle, George Davis and Kid Gleason. Johnny Kling being behind the bat for the Cubs at the time. Kling had just joined the Chicagoans and made good from the start with the exception of thwarting the triple larceny staged by Doyle, Davis and Gleason.

In the American League triple stealing started in 1904, with Dick Padden, Joe Sugden and Jesse Burkett of the Browns forming the Nationals, then called Senators. There was one triple steal in the junior league in 1909, one in 1910, one in 1911, four in 1912, six in 1913, two in 1914, one in 1915 and one last year.

Cobb as told, led three and Eddie Collins and Roth two. Men who were on the front end of one were, besides, Dick Padden, Harry Davis, Harry Lord, Felix Chouharrad, Jack Grady, Arnold Gandil, Harry Hooper, Bert Shotton, Buck Weaver, John Collins, Ernie Johnson and Amos Strunk.

Detroit is not the pacesetter in the majors in these applause making stunts. The Chicago White Sox are, with a total of five. The Indians of Cleveland have the same number of triple steals to their credit as the Tigers and so have the Browns.

The Athletics have pulled two burglaries where a trio of base runners moved across in the pool of the Bowman Cup. The Red Sox have pulled two triple steals. The front end of one and on the rear end of the other. The Nationals have one triple steal to their credit.

BUNTED A HOME RUN.

Slim Luce knows the embarrassment that seizes a pitcher who is expecting a bunt and then has the batter cross him with a home run.

It happened in a game he was twirling two seasons ago against Boston. The score was close, and when Schang was to be desired and Schang was up with a man on second and none out on the front end, there; let him bunt and get out of the infielders were scouting at "slim."

But he did just as he was instructed and came in with the pitch ready to jump on the bunt with hopes of seeing the runner going to third.

"The trouble was," Luce explained, "that Schang did not do as I had said. He would. He hit a liner to left, barely missing me. The ball was mounting and never stopped until it reached the fence. Before it was returned, Schang had scored."

PRICES OF CORN MOVE SKYWARD

Announcement by U. S. Food Administration Causes Wild Rush to Buy.

Chicago, April 2.—Corn shot skyward in price today 7 1/2c a bushel, compelled by an announcement that owing to scarcity of wheat the United States food administration would purchase instead of liberating countries of Europe corn flour and other substitutes, and that other neutral countries buying from the United States would be debarred from acquiring wheat or flour. Trading in corn was on a big scale and the market was a narrow close at 4 1/2c to 5 1/2c net advance, with May $1.57 1/2 to $1.57 1/2, and July $1.46 1/2 to $1.46 1/2. The advance was 5 1/2c to 7 1/2c, and provisions 50c to $1.

In the face of a general rush for ownership of corn, the market advanced until all high price records for the present crop had been far exceeded. Then heavy selling of profits was the only thing of a reaction in values, but new waves of buying orders carried the market higher than the previous day. The most strength, big price increase on eye and barley were decided additional bullish factors. These grains were holed, not only by export demand, but also as a result of the municipal election in Chicago. The election outcome was regarded by many traders as a blow to the domestic demand for both barley and rye. Oats jumped with corn and other cereals.

Provisions in provisions were stopped only by the maximum limits.

ON CHICAGO MARKET

Hughes, Harcourt & Co. received the following wire at the close of the Chicago market yesterday:

The grain markets today were very bullish and higher, drawing an inspiration from the action of March corn, in going out at higher prices and partly from the bullish talk in the newspapers from Mr. Barnes. Cash corn was in good demand, values quoted unchanged to two higher. Most of the receipts were disposed of before the last advance in the futures. Inquiries from the country were numerous for 30-day shipment; however, buyers were not inclined to buy further ahead than five days.

Early sales of cash oats made a basis of one under May for three whites and May price for standards, but a better demand developed later, premium standards being 1 1/2c on standards. Country offerings were of fair size, but they were for outside markets. St. Louis paying 1-2 over May, as compared with 1-4 under here. Cairo and New Orleans also were good bidders for oats to arrive. The rye and barley markets showed the same relative strength as the other grains.

WASAPIKA, DAVIDSON AND LAKE SHORE ARE FEATURES — BALDWIN IS LIQUIDATED.

The mining market presented a stronger appearance yesterday, with a number of fairly substantial gains scattered thru the list, while the day's transactions, 123,640 shares, indicated an enlargement of public interest. The only disturbing incident was a sharp break in Baldwin, which, for a number of weeks, has been holding steady at from $4 to $5. The price slumped abruptly to 30 yesterday, after opening at $4, with a rally to 22 at the close and the final bid 25 with 26 asked. Transactions in Baldwin amounted to 21,200 shares. It is stated, in explanation of the drop, that an estate, believed to be the James Edward Estate of Montreal, started unexpectedly to unload a block of about 25,000 shares. The behavior of Baldwin toward the close indicated that the worst of the selling pressure was over.

Wasapika made more market history by advancing to $4, half a point higher than the stock had ever sold at before, and closing at the top. Good buying from New York and other outside centres was reported, to the accompaniment of rumors that an important deal, previously mentioned, for the acquisition by United States interests of a controlling interest might be consummated soon. West Dome sold up half a point to 15 and Kirkland Lake was up 1 1/2 at 50.

Davidson was not traded in, but showed firmness, the bid being advanced a point at $7 1/2, while the ask held at $3. At the annual meeting held yesterday the statement of H. H. Sutherland, the managing director, was read and reported that high-grade ore was being treated, and the shareholders appeared well pleased with the development. Development work is proceeding at an undiminished rate. The first big announcement concerning operations in the new shaft came late last year, when the shaft was being put into a wide open body. This proved to be an offshoot from the main ore body. A crosscut soon picked up the shaft, and a few feet away from the shaft, a vein of ore was discovered. Up to the 25th of March progress of 50 feet to the mill and the ore is being sent to the mill and a substantial amount of the most sanguine expectations of the management.

At the moment the mill is operating at less than half capacity. The development ore being treated will return, on a conservative estimate, at least $350 a day, or at the rate of $11,000 a month. It is expected, when the mill is running at capacity, when a substantial gross revenue will be returned. It will not be long before a large mill is operating on the property.

A case is being installed in the shaft and the entire works are being put in shape, where production costs will be reduced.

Lake Shore sold up to 39 1/2, an advance of 1 1/2. Lake Shore is now selling at the highest price on record considering that immediately adjoining the Holding on the output of the Lake Shore mine in February and March is estimated to be about the same as in January, slightly better than $45,000 each month. The company is earning a good deal more than it is paying out. The ore now in sight is sufficient to maintain the mill at present capacity for three years, but a large tonnage is added to the value of known ore this year.

There was some irregularity in the silver market yesterday. On the whole, the entire world showed reactionary tendencies after the strength of the previous day. The loss of a similar fraction was shown by Ophir at 10. Crown Reserve held at 12. The market was steady at 1 1/2 to 1 1/2. Nipissing at $8.80 and Threeway at 40 were unchanged.

The most interesting feature of the Davidson Gold Mines, held at the head of the lake, is the extensive Ophir mine. The remarks of the managing director, H. H. Sutherland, who reviewed the operations of the mine during the past year, were of a nature to indicate that the mine was a success. The mine has been operating for several years and has produced a large amount of gold. The mine is now being developed to a larger scale and it is expected that the output will be increased.
