OUR EXHIBITION EMPIRE EXAMPLE

Royal Commission Suggests Establishment of Others Thruout Empire. A BRITISH BUILDING Report Proposes That English Government Should Erect One Here.

The Dominion royal commission in its final report just received in Toronto, pays a very high compliment to the Canadian exhibition and suggests that not only the United Kingdom but the governments of other dominions erect buildings on the Toronto grounds as an encouragement to inter-imperial trade.

The commissioners also take up the question of inter-imperial exhibitions and suggest that they be held every four years in different parts of the empire in order to stimulate imperial trade and improved tariff relations between the various sections of the empire.

Similarly we found in the dominions a number of witnesses who advocated the establishment of inter-imperial exhibitions on the ground that these would open up new and lucrative markets for products of all kinds, whether raw or manufactured.

We have described the most outstanding example of this kind of exhibition, namely, the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto, in our fifth interim report, and have there recommended that a building should be erected by your majesty's government which should exhibit the products of the various parts of the empire.

NO PROVISION MADE TO INCREASE SALARIES

Estimates Do Not Arrange for Wage Raises for City Employees at the Front.

It has been discovered at the city hall that no provision was made in the estimates for increases in the salaries of the city's employees overseas.

The heads of the departments have placed the responsibility with the board of control by placing on the pay sheets the names of their men on leave overseas, with the increase dating back to January 1.

Some of the controllers, it is said, take the stand that as the men overseas are not now working for the city they are not entitled to an increase; but the heads of the departments take the opposite view and hold that the men are only on leave of absence they should be given the increase.

GODLISH GERMANS AND THEIR DEAD

Use Bodies of Their Own Soldiers to Produce Extracts.

FACT IS ADMITTED

Horror is Defended on the Ground That Nothing Must Be Wasted.

Confirmation of reports that the Germans are using the bodies of their own dead soldiers from which to extract oil, fat and pig grease in these clipping which quote German newspaper articles. An American consular agent in Switzerland, that the Germans were distilling glycerine from nitro-glycerine from the bodies of their dead soldiers were obtaining some part of their explosives. Corroboration of this declaration that German science had adopted a "horrible idea" is contained in these clipping which quote German newspaper articles. German periodicals admit the truth of the report on the grounds that nothing must be wasted. According to the German newspaper strip their dead behind the firing line, fasten them into bundles of three or four bodies with iron wire, and then dispatch bundles to the factory of the German Oil Utilization Company, Ltd., a dividend-paying company with a capital of $1,250,000, and then dispatch bundles to the factory of the German Oil Utilization Company, Ltd., a dividend-paying company with a capital of $1,250,000, and then dispatch bundles to the factory of the German Oil Utilization Company, Ltd., a dividend-paying company with a capital of $1,250,000.

Trains Arrive Full of War Bodies

Trains arrive full of war bodies, which are unloaded by workers who live at the factory. The workers wear oilskins, overalls and masks with moustaches. They are equipped with long hooked poles and push the bundles of bodies to an endless chain, which picks them up with hooks at the end. The bodies go through a disinfectant bath, then into a drying chamber, and are automatically carried into a digester. They are treated by steam, which breaks them up while they are slowly stirred by machinery.

By-products are used by German soldiers. All of the bodies are soldiers, and are attached to the 8th army corps. There is a sanitarium near the plant, and under no pretext is any body taken beyond all count. They are guarded as prisoners in their appalling work. The technical German paper, Chemiker Zeitung, printed the following on Nov. 18, 1916: "On account of the departure of our manager, we require an engineer, free from military obligations, to direct the plant. He must be commercially, our factory for the destruction of dead bodies."

Disagree on Method.

"When we came into power," Sir Wilfrid Laurier admitted, "we had a good deal of private land remaining which was available for homesteads. What proportion of returned soldiers did the minister think would settle on it?"

Settlement of Soldiers.

At the evening sitting of the house on May 7, the minister of the interior moved that the house go into committee of the whole to consider the resolution dealing with the settlement of returned soldiers upon the land. It was the intention of the government, no doubt, said the minister, to bring in a bill dealing with the subject as soon as the resolution was adopted and he would postpone explaining details of the proposed legislation until the bill was before the house.

Financial Aid.

The minister further explained that what land grants could only be made by the Dominion Government in the prairie provinces, financial assistance would be extended to the returned soldiers to enable them to buy land in any part of Canada. This, for example, homesteaders in Ontario and Quebec could borrow up to two thousand dollars from the government, or if a returned soldier, instead of taking the free grant of land, bought a farm anywhere in Canada, the government would assist him financially.

To Increase Output.

The minister replied that the primary object of the legislation was to induce settlement and increase production. After the South African War land scrip for 220 acres had been issued to 7,049 veterans. Nearly all of

The Story of Our Milk The Farmer, the Trainman, the Man in the Dairy, and the Salesman Tell It

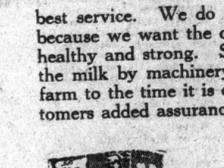

You have often heard the story of The Farmers' Dairy milk told in our words. Now we will let some of the men who contribute to make The Farmers' Dairy milk the best and the service the most satisfactory, tell of the part they fill. The Farmer speaks first.

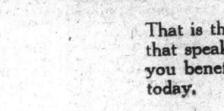

"I've got the health of thousands of men, women and children at heart—and that's all I need to keep me doing my best. For the sake of these people, especially the children, I keep a splendid herd of healthy cows. Don't believe there are any finer for miles around. They are fed well. That stretch of rich pasture down by the stream is great for cows. Down on our farm we are as particular about the time and the way we milk the cows as we are about the way they are fed. Milking time comes round at regular hours every day. They are cleaned carefully before being milked. That is only one of the many ways we make the milk safe. Next thing we do is to pour the milk into sterilized cans (sterilized at The Farmers' Dairy). The cans are sealed and then sent down to the station with the least possible delay. We see to it that the milk is up to the mark when it leaves the farm, and the people at the dairy look after it on the rest of its journey."

Next comes the Trainman. "I know what it means to have good milk. I've got children at home, and the freshness and wholesomeness of the milk has meant much to them. So I am glad to do anything to get The Farmers' Dairy milk to the City folks. I see to it that the milk is handled carefully at the train. I do my part in getting the milk to The Farmers' Dairy quickly so as to keep it fresh."

Let us hear what the man in the dairy has to say. "I was just thinking we men in the dairy have good reason to feel mighty privileged. You see we have the health of thousands of the people of Toronto entrusted to us. Up here in the Dairy we are intent upon giving the people milk that is rich, pure and wholesome. In fact that is why The Farmers' Dairy exists. The leading farmers of Ontario formed the dairy about eight years ago so that the citizens of Toronto could get the best milk and the best service. We do everything we can to make the milk wholesome and safe because we want the customers to benefit. We want their children to grow healthy and strong. So the milk is pasteurized scientifically. Then we bottle the milk by machinery. From the time The Farmers' Dairy milk leaves the farm to the time it is delivered, no human hands touch it. This gives our customers added assurance of its purity and cleanliness."

"We who deliver the milk," says the Salesman, "form the last link in the 'service' chain. When the milk reaches us it is as rich and pure as the farmer and the men in the dairy can make it. The quality of the milk is sure to satisfy. It's up to us to get it delivered regularly every day—in time for breakfast. We believe in carrying the Farmers' Dairy courtesy and service right to the homes of our patrons."

That is the story of The Farmers' Dairy milk. A story that speaks of milk quality and satisfying service. Are you benefitting by it? Start tomorrow. Order tickets today.

MACOMBER HORSES DERBY FAVORITES

Looks Hard to Pick Winner in Next Saturday's Race at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., May 7.—As May 12, the date for the Kentucky Derby approaches, the more uncertain becomes the composition of the field which will try for the $200,000 classic, the richest stake for three-year-olds in America.

Seventy-six entries are in active training, but how many will go to the post and which will be wreathed with the usual horse show of American Beauty roses at the finish is puzzling students of thoroughbred performance today as much as it did when the entries were announced months ago.

The international aspect of the race—foreign bred horses being among the nominations—is arousing extraordinary interest. Turfmen associate the event with the premier racing fixture of the season.

Probably never before has there been an array of horseflesh so brilliant as that named this year. The field includes a cream of three-year-olds, the best of which in his Derby performance will acquire the undoubted title of champion for his age.

A survey of the candidates in training and the manner in which they are working, coupled with the possibility of a fast track, makes it probable the largest field that ever faced the starter in a derby will go to the post.

A. F. Macomber's candidates, headed by North Star III and War Star, remain the favorites and are encouraging their followers by their workout shows.

Five of this stable's seven entries are foreign bred, the only domestic animals being the Star Shoot colts, Star Master and Star Gazer.

Omar Khayyam, Ticket, the Green Form, Harry Kelly and most of the other formidable locally-trained eligibles have been racing at Lexington as a final preparation.

DUNLOP WRAPPED UP IN "DUNLOP" PACKING A prejudice for Dunlop Packing is one prejudice you can afford to have. Dunlop Packing gets right down to business at the start. It needs no coaxing to show what it can do in meeting abnormal service or severe tests—continuously kept up. Dunlop "LongLife" Square Spiral Piston Rod Packing is the Engineer's assistant, and a mighty faithful one, too, for, no matter how arduous the duties imposed, it is never wanting in efficiency. Economy of operation and Dunlop "LongLife" Spiral go hand in hand, because once the latter is put to work it will stick to the job indefinitely. Absorbs lubricants and ensures a constant contact of oil with the wearing surface. Just naturally adapts itself to all conditions and to any inequalities of the Rod or Stuffing-Box. Simply adjusted and without hammering. Remains tight without friction. There is no waste of fuel, no loss of power with Dunlop "LongLife" Packing. Dunlop "Globe" is another Spiral Packing we can readily recommend. "Sunset" (red) and "Admiral" (blue) Sheet Packings are also very popular in Canadian factories and mills. No matter for what purpose you require Packing, you will find the Dunlop Line more than measures up to your standard, because the experience of twenty-three years is back of Dunlop Rubber-Made Goods—Truly Canadian experience, too. MINERS TO ASK FOR DRASTIC SHAKE UP IN MINING MARKET INCREASED WAGES

Decided to Write to Operators to Obtain Joint Conference.

The following account of the recent miners' convention was received by the... Smith & Ames over their private wire yesterday: Cobalt, May 7.—The labor situation in this district was the most important and interesting matter up for discussion. In view of the high cost of living and in face of the "cannon" by the mine workers that action be taken by the organization, towards getting a living wage, it was the opinion of the convention that the mine owners should be asked to increase wages...

Big Dome naturally suffered from the decreased dividend rate, although a business point of view this course was the only one to follow and the maintenance of a disbursement which was not being earned would have been a more potent bear argument than the present cut. The stock made a new low for a couple of years at $13.00, rallying 1-8 on the close. In sympathy Hollinger broke thru its former low at $4.85, going back to $4.75. In the silver stocks Beaver was especially vulnerable under pressure, selling back 8 points to $2, and Flaming went off to 89 1-2, closing a little better at 89 3-4. Hargraves broke to 12, and Lorrain relapsed to 23 1-2. Otherwise losses in the Cobalt group were small. Just at the present time every new development seems to be taken as a bear argument in the mine stocks and this element have had an almost unprecedented period to their advantage, not will anyone say that any opportunity has been lost. However, the short interest is said to be large and generally growing and this fact in itself is a greater source of strength to the market.

ANOTHER FLURRY IN PULP SHARES

Eleven-Point Drop Followed by One-Point Rally—Local Market Dull.

A little flurry in the shares of the North American Pulp Company, shares by the way, which have no par value, was the feature, if such same could be called, on the Toronto stock exchange yesterday. These shares had dropped from 15 to 4, and thought they were time to begin activity again and sell a few more. The marketing involved a small advance to encourage buying. In the standard issues there was little doing. Prices were a shade firmer, but on any advance the market was plentiful supply, and any small outburst buying will make little impression until the weight of offerings is lifted. Sentiment is unusually depressed, and nothing but a real strong market on Wall street for several days will change conditions here. Business is pretty quiet in the hands of brokers, and any outside buying is confined to investors, who appear to have confidence in the future.

DOMES DIVIDEND CUT IN HALF

Directors of Dome Mines met in New York yesterday morning, and according to messages received by various wire houses, but the quarterly dividend on the stock from cents to 25 cents a share, payable June 1 to shareholders of record May 10. At the conclusion of the directors' meeting the following statement was made: "The action is taken in view of the extremely unsatisfactory labor conditions prevailing in the Porcupine mining district, which has caused curtailment of both development and production." The Dome dividend record to date is as follows: March 1, 1916... 10 p.c. $400,000; June 1, 1916... 5 p.c. 200,000; Aug. 21, 1916... 5 p.c. 200,000; Nov. 20, 1916... 5 p.c. 200,000; March 1, 1917... 5 p.c. 200,000; June 1, 1917... 2 1/2 p.c. 100,000. Total... 37 1/2 p.c. $1,600,000.

LITTLE REAL INTEREST.

Heron & Co. report: "The market strength in the early trading this morning, and the better tone in New York helped locally. The market became dull again late trading, and it seems difficult to start any real interest here."
