HOLY GHOSTS IN LEAKY SHIP

Big Yacht Owned by Shiloh Sect to Be Repaired Here--Followers of Mr. Sanford on Board--He Is Held for Trial in a Maine Town--The Charge Is a Serious One.

The yacht Coronet, from Portland (Me.), arrived at anchor at Fort Dalrymple yesterday afternoon with a number of the Holy Ghost and Us Society of Shiloh (Maine) on board, bound on a cruise along the Nova Scotia coast.

The captain came up from the yacht this morning to engage a tug to tow the vessel to the pier. The captain says his vessel is leaking, and will be placed on blocks here, after which the schooner will sail on her mission, whatever that may be. At noon today the tug Midland brought the vessel up into the harbor, where she is now at anchor in the streets.

In the past they have stood for horrors almost unbelievable upon the hillsides, they have been silent, or nearly so, when some of their number have sought to get loved ones from Sandford's control, they have done little when the families have been broken by the strange cult; they have done little when women and children have been made to fast to the point of cruelty, but the attack upon their schools is too much.

They are, therefore, now preparing to fight Mr. Sandford to a standstill. "It is Maine against Sandford for our schools, and I think Maine will win," is the way Mr. Crockett expressed it today. After each of Sandford's trials the establishment of the Holy Ghost and Us Society at Shiloh has undergone some change of government. The property once deeded to the Lord has since the man's death been used for a variety of purposes, including the support of a school, the maintenance of a church, and the support of a school at Shiloh, and to prevent it from carrying out its arrangements with the self-proclaimed King.

The petitioner in the suit to be filed tomorrow is David Crockett, jr., a farmer who has, so far, led in the fight to gain the public schools free from sectarian teachings. His counsel is L. A. Jackson of this place, and the petition will come before Judge Spear of the Supreme court at Auburn.

The effect of the petition, beyond what action the court may take, is big with possibilities, so far as Sandford, his followers and the rest of Maine's people are concerned, in that it will call to their attention the seriousness of Sandford's attack upon their schools being the last of a series of attacks upon the public schools.

It may also be stated incidentally, that the suit will probably serve to bring Sandford, his place, his people and his methods more clearly before the public than they ever were before, the attack upon their schools being the last of a series of attacks upon the public schools.

The last straw In the past they have stood for horrors almost unbelievable upon the hillsides, they have been silent, or nearly so, when some of their number have sought to get loved ones from Sandford's control, they have done little when the families have been broken by the strange cult; they have done little when women and children have been made to fast to the point of cruelty, but the attack upon their schools is too much.

HUMORS OF HISTORY--27.

Saxon justice was of a primitive order. The accused was tried by ordeal either of water or of fire. In the latter case he had to pick up a bar of red hot iron, walk three steps with it, and then drop it (this portion of the ceremony was always carried out to the letter). The hand was then bound up, the seal of the Church was placed on it, and if at the end of three days the wound was healed, the man was pronounced innocent.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Representatives of the striking teamsters have voted for a measure which promises more strength in the coming year. At a meeting of the joint council, a fund of $30,000 was pledged by the resources of the different affiliated unions and an assessment voted upon which, if held up, will mean an income to the strikers of $20,000 a week.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Shooting was reported by colored non-union men yesterday at Harrison street and Wabash avenue. Three wagons being driven south in Wabash avenue were surrounded at Harrison street by a large crowd who threw sticks, using broken bottles and other missiles at the drivers and guards. P. E. Carter, one of the colored guards, drew a revolver and shot Henry Schultz in the left side. Schultz ran for half a block when he fell. The crowd, thoroughly enraged by the shooting, closed in on the non-union men. Although two more shots were fired, the men were beaten fearfully. A riot call was sent in, and seventy police hurried to the scene and dispersed the crowd with vigor. Schultz was taken to a hospital. He will recover. Carter was arrested.

HONORS HEAPED ON DR. OSLER

Celebrated Canadian Physician Dined at the Waldorf-Astoria by Professional Colleagues--Suggested Sweeping Change in the Management of American Hospitals.

NEW YORK, May 3.—A guest from so far away as Egypt was among the more than two hundred physicians who gathered last evening in the large banquet hall of the Waldorf Astoria to do honor and bid farewell to Dr. William Osler, hitherto professor of medicine at Johns Hopkins university and now about to depart for England to fill the Rogius professorship of medicine at Oxford.

Dr. Osler's hosts were among the great and noted physicians of America, and it was noted that many of them were past the age of sixty. Dr. James Tyson, of the University of Pennsylvania, aged 66, presided. Between him and the venerable Dr. Weir Mitchell, aged 74, sat Dr. Osler, himself past the age of sixty.

Dr. Osler's speech Dr. Osler said, responding to the tributes paid him, "I have but two ambitions in my life, first to become a good clinical physician; to enter that class which does no more for the country. The second has been to build up a great clinic in this country on Tuxton line, the kind that have made the German school of medicine the leader of the world."

A Reference to Age Of course the dinner had to contain some reference to age, that was expected. "Osler must be regarded as an anticipatory plagiarist," he said in one place.

The Crimson Slipper.

BY DORA LANGLOIS, Author of "A Bolt From the Blue," "The Kiss of Judas," "The Secretary's Dream," etc.

(Concluded) "I ought to be going, Mr. Herman," she said at last. "It was Mr. Herman again now. 'It's a little bit unconventional this visit, but the circumstances, and my anxiety, and—well, I suppose you'll be very kind upon me.'"

"That's most unlikely to happen," I exclaimed. We ought to get to Bowden at once, for Ellen Halladay may have gone there, and if you stop to change you'll miss the train."

STOP, WOMAN!

I nodded, with every intention of following the very plain hint (and well for us both it would have been if I had not forgotten it), then we both relaxed into silence till an unknown and quavering voice at my elbow roused me with the remark: "Would you mind closing the window? There's a draught on the back of my neck."

THE CAREER OF HENRY C. FRICK

Who Is Connected With the Equitable, the Steel Trust, and Several Railways, and Worth $50,000,000.

Some of the Fricks of Aargau, Switzerland, came to America early in the seventeenth century. From one of these came Henry Clay Frick. His paternal grandfather, Daniel Frick, was a blacksmith in the early days of Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania.

H. C. FRICK

In this country the great Connellville coke industry was born. Here young Frick worked patiently, saved his money, observed the early struggles of the coke makers and kept his own counsel. Even in those days he was grave and reserved in temperament.

Mr. Frick began to acquire small holdings of coal lands in the Connellville region and to essay attempts at coke-making in the sixties. In 1871 he organized the firm of Frick & Co. with Abraham O. Hunsman, one of his grandfather's partners, and Joseph Hart. He himself was the dominating figure in the company.

The Great Homestead Strike. All through that tragic conflict Mr. Frick stood his ground. He was not in the coal fields of the property, but his assiduous yielded the leadership to him.

A Giant Organization. In 1883, when the Carnegies were permitted to take an interest in this vast coke industry, Mr. Frick owned 3,000 acres of coal land and more than 1,000 acres.

It is a common criticism of Mr. Frick among those who know him and trust him that he is composed of shrewdness and obstinacy. There is in him something of the desperate personal tenacity of his ancestor.

Mr. Frick's first great stroke of business in the Carnegie industry was the purchase of the Duquesne steel works for a million dollars. The money was raised by an issue of bonds and within the year the plant was in operation.

Ministers, held in Plymouth Church since the death of Mr. Beecher, who withdrew from that body while charging wrongdoing against him. Dr. Henry A. Stimson, pastor of the Manhattan Congregational Church, made a touching allusion to Mr. Beecher and to the troubles that led to his withdrawal from the Association.

Mr. Frick's View. New York, May 2.—The Evening World reports that the Frick investigating committee summoned James W. Alexander before it today and asked him to resign his place as president of the Equitable Life Insurance Society.

Mr. Frick said that although he could not say for a certainty he would try to resign if Mr. Alexander would resign. Mr. Alexander did not resign.

Mr. Frick did not resign. Mr. Alexander did not resign. Mr. Frick did not resign. Mr. Alexander did not resign.

not a doubt of it. The athletes have taken four out of six from the champions, and the Washingtons are out of seven. Now come eight battles with the New York Americans, and unless the Bostonians put up a far different article of ball than they have so far they will not break even on the series.

THAT LUNCH CART
There has been some complaint made this morning in regard to the seating of a luncheon to W. H. Coleman for a luncheon was given.

Speaking of the matter this morning,
the mayor said some of the restaurant
business in the vicinity of King square
had complained that the wagon interfered with their business.

The wagon said he had issued an order to the proprietor of the restaurant to do business in St. John, but he had no authority to say where the wagon should be placed. If the people about the square object to the vehicle stopping there they should make a formal complaint to the police magistrate,
when he could order him away.

The wagon complained of is conducted in fish class style and in the same as are used in the office of the United States Shipping Commission. The vehicle is a regular place for quick lunches.

THE LOYALIST SOCIETY
The Loyalist Society met last evening.
The interesting papers were read by D.
E. York. Both were written by Gilbert
O. Best, of Boston, and will be published in the Loyalist Magazine. The longer of the two papers dealt with the life of Colonel Alexander Willard, who took an active part in the struggle for supremacy between the English and French.

The colonial was in command of a troop of British soldiers located at Basle Veve and Fort Beaujeu. Later he took up arms on the British side.

Col. Willard came to New Brunswick in 1764, where he received a grant of land.
He died in 1780. The second paper was on the Prescott family, some of the descendants of which are living at present in this province.

NEWS FROM NORTH END

A Wedding
A quiet but pretty wedding took place
this morning in Holy Trinity church, when Miss Nellie Neary was married to William Anderson. The happy couple both belong to this city. Rev. Father Walsh performed the ceremony in the presence of the relatives and immediate friends of the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left on a trip to Upper Canada.

An Accident
Henry Polkins of Central Hamperstead was in the city this morning accompanied by his young son Ronald, who met with a painful accident at his home a few days ago.

He was chopping wood and the axe slipped and struck his right leg, inflicting a painful wound just below the knee. The lad is being treated at the hospital.

Good Seed Trade
A North End seed merchant informed the Times this morning that this spring has been the most successful for years. A large amount of seed had been kept by the North End merchants until this spring.

The farmers from up river sent away
the whole stock of seed and had the seeds sent direct to their farms. This spring the merchants were assured that first class goods would be sent to them, and they sent word to the farmers. The latter did not send away for their seeds, but bought them from the North End merchants, who have thus far received no complaints.

Minor Notes
Fred McAlary, of the office staff of P.
Nase & Son, who for some weeks has been unable to attend to his duties on account of ill-health, left yesterday by the Crystal Stream for Humphrey's Landing, where he will spend a week.

Miss Lottie Holsted of Chapel street is confined to her home with pneumonia.
The fever recedes. E. Rose being attended.

A Times reporter was surprised this morning, when looking out of one of the back windows of the North End police station, to see about four feet of snow on the ground. The place is surrounded by Fort Howe and the buildings, and the sun has no chance to melt the snow. James Rawlin of Gagetown is in the city today. He reports the river to be very low in some places, especially at Upper Gagetown.

IMPOSING CEREMONY

Mgr. Sbarretti, Archbishops and Bishops Attend Consecration
of Mgr. Racicot.

MONTREAL, May 2.—(Special)—The consecration of Mgr. Racicot as titular Bishop of Pella, and co-adjutor to Archbishop Bruchet at St. James Cathedral, this morning, was attended by all the magnificent ceremonies in the ritual of the Catholic church.

Archbishop Bruchet was consecrating
Racicot, assisted by Archbishop Langevin
of St. Boniface, a nephew of Mgr. Racicot, and by Valery Enard of Valparaiso.

Mgr. Sbarretti, the papal delegate;
Archbishop Daham of Ottawa, Archbishop Begin of Quebec, together with a dozen bishops, as well as other church dignitaries of Montreal, and representatives of all big religious orders, and regular clergy
were present at the ceremony.

John Curran, one of the jail prisoners who has been very ill, was taken to the Alma House this morning.

Curran is a native of St. John, and is between forty and forty-five years of age.
Judging from accounts he has a good education.

He has been employed here as a bar-tender, in which capacity he was highly efficient.

He has been suffering from consumption,
and is now practically unable to do work of any kind. He has been in the Alma House several times, and only last winter left the institution in fairly good condition.

His relatives in St. John, and recently, came in for some money, on the death of a sister who resided in Boston.

Since his confinement to the jail he has faded so rapidly that the authorities feel it is advisable to place him in the institution referred to.

He has figured a number of times in police circles, and was accompanied on his journey by Turnkey Cunningham.

POLICE REPORTS
The police were called into the King's Daughters' Guild on Prince Wm. street, last night to eject a man who was creating a disturbance there.

Walter McKee, Wm. Heater and John Heater were reported for throwing stones
on Princess street yesterday.

The police were called into J. D.
Turner's restaurant, last night to eject
a man who refused to go when requested to do so by the proprietor.

A horse blanket found at the corner of Queen Square and Sydney street is in a dangerous condition and needs attention.

Henry Gregg has been reported for working in the city without a license.

The side door of Sovil Bros.' establishment was found open and secured by the police last night.

THE YACHTING SEASON

Great Series of Events on the R. K. Y. Club Calendar
for the Summer of 1905—The Quarterly Meeting Held Last Evening.

There was a largely attended and very enthusiastic meeting of the R. K. Y. C.
in their rooms last evening. From all indications the coming season will be the Club's history. Two new members were added to the ranks—W. L. McEwaine and Frank P. Vaughan.

The fixtures for the season were adopted
as follows:—
Season opens with a squadron cruise on May 24th.

June 17th—Class O race for a cup and three prizes, officers for the day, J. A.
Lalor, and A. Kimball.

Two-hull boat race for a pennant; officers for the day, S. L. Kerr and W. E.
Slaur.

July 1st—Squadron cruising race for four prizes, as follows—A pair of marines (gifted by W. H. Thorne) and a pennant; marine clock (donated by J. A.
Lalor); patent non-fouling anchor and a pearl's description to the "Buddler."

Officers for the day: Commodore Thomson, Dr. March, A. W. Adams and George E. Hagan.

This is the first race of this kind ever held by the club, and it promises to be very interesting. The boats will start at their moorings with all sail on deck,
and will get up sail after the signal gun
off the island, and will only start when the signal is given.

Mr. Belyea said that the fines imposed in many cases were too light, and that some day he would go a step further and impose heavier fines.

Mr. Baxter told the official that he had better be careful as such a step might be followed up by bloodshed; for it was not at all likely that the fishermen would stand for such treatment, even if justified
by law.

At this point the matter was dropped
for the present.

HE LEAPED TO HIS DEATH

An Evidently Insane Man Committed Suicide in New York.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Startling and laughing and brandishing a knife to keep off
all who would interfere with his suicidal purpose, an unidentified man about thirty years old, jumped off the coping of the entrance to the Fourth Avenue trolley tunnel at Park Ave. and 84th street today. He struck on his head and was instantly killed.

His condition at the moment for his jump,
apparently with the idea that an approaching car would crush him if his leap did not prove fatal. The moment he brought the car to a stop with the tender over the man, the car's bump had been enough to accomplish the suicide's purpose.
