Says This Is Why The Great Drive Has Been Delayed

Germans Destroyed Great Russian Woolwich and Allies Had to Lend All Aid to Czar

London, Sept. 16.—The Daily News today says it was through German treachery that the great Russian ammunition factory at Okhta, a suburb of Petrograd was blown to pieces some months ago. Okhta was the Russian Woolwich—the only munition factory in Russia.

Mrs. Belle Braman Drinks Carbohc; Is Critically Ill In Hospital

By drinking carbohc acid at the home of her mother, Mrs. Thomas Andrews, Erin street, this morning a few minutes after breakfast, Mrs. Belle Braman attempted to end her life, but at 2.30 this afternoon she was still alive in the General Public Hospital. Her condition, however, is critical.

STORY OF ATTEMPT TO BRIBE PRESIDENT OF 'LONGSHOREMEN TRUE'

O'Connor Says There Was Offer of $1,035,000 to Tie Up Shipments to Allies

New York, Sept. 16.—The New York Sun has secured an interview with Thomas V. O'Connor, president of the International Longshoremen's Union, on a story emanating from New York as to an attempt of European agents to bribe O'Connor with $1,035,000 if he would call a strike of 20,000 longshoremen, through Matthew Cummings of Boston.

Mr. O'Connor is in Toledo attending a district conference of 'longshoremen.' The story is entirely true, he said. The idea of the strike was to tie up the shipment of war munitions to the allies. Dr. Dumba, the Austrian ambassador, was indirectly connected with the deal.

Cummings said his scheme was that of the Irish societies working in conjunction with the German societies of the United States. I insisted that before I would go through with the deal I should know at once whence the money came.

Cummings turned to use a telephone, and the number he called, I learned a few minutes later, was in the office of George Sylvester Viereck, editor of the Fatherland.

HALIFAX M. D'S FOR BASE HOSPITAL

Dalhousie University Offers Base Hospital of 400 Beds LIKELY GO TO EGYPT

Ottawa Has Accepted Fine Offer—News of Maritime Province Events and Fighting Men at Home and Over Sea

Dalhousie University will furnish a base hospital for the front. Word came this week from Ottawa that permission had been granted to establish a Dalhousie Hospital of 400 beds. Hector MacLennan, Dr. Stewart and G. S. Campbell went to Ottawa to present Dalhousie's offer to the government. All that is now needed is permission from the War Office and then the Dalhousie base hospital will go forward with a rush.

Shot One German A letter received from David M. Slipp of Woodstock, says that date of writing his battery had been doing a lot of infantry relief work in advanced trenches. He says "The Germans I saw were of good physique but not possessing in countenance—long foreheads and very heavy brows. I met one sticking his head over the German trench and as we had orders to snipe all observers on sight, I let go at him with my rifle. He did not repeat."

THE SIXTY-FOURTH FOR ST. JOHN

Mayor of Halifax Says He Has Received That Information

Mayor Martin announced today that he had received information that the 64th Overseas Battalion, although composed of Nova Scotians, would be quartered this winter in St. John and not in Halifax.

LARGE QUANTITY OF AMERICAN PRODUCTS DECLARED FORFEITED

London, Sept. 16.—The British prize court today condemned the greater part of the American products forming the cargoes of four steamships. The products, valued at several million dollars, are declared forfeited to the crown.

AGAIN ADVISING AMERICANS TO QUIT MEXICAN DANGER ZONE

Washington, Sept. 16.—The State Department's advice to Americans to leave danger zones in Mexico was being circulated today, through the northern part of the republic and United States consuls were under instructions to quit their posts whenever conditions became threatening. The advance of Carranza troops into the northern states, making fighting imminent, and reports of lawlessness along the frontier were responsible for the measure.

WEALTHY MAN TAKES POISON BY MISTAKE

New York, Sept. 16.—Newman Erb, a wealthy financier and railroad reorganizer, who swallowed two poison tablets by mistake, is today confined to his summer home at Deal, N. J., calmly awaiting the outcome of the efforts being made by three specialists to save his life. He spent a comfortable night, is virtually free from pain and entirely unconscious.

ANOTHER GAIN

The St. John bank clearings for week ending this date were $1,374,801, corresponding week last year, $1,509,488.

Greek and Rumanian Troops on The Frontier; Bulgaria Asking Why

Stir in The Balkans—Turks Already Carrying Out Terms of Agreement With Bulgaria—Roumania Gets Ready

Rome, Sept. 16.—Because of the concentration of Greek and Rumanian troops on the Bulgarian frontier, the Bulgarian foreign minister has instructed the representatives of that country at Athens and Bucharest to request an immediate and definite explanation, as well as a Sofia despatch to the Giornale D'Italia.

Press despatches from Bucharest state that the Turks already have begun to carry out the provisions of the Turco-Bulgarian agreement. They have abandoned the barracks at Karagatch and Dyret on the right bank of the Maritima river, taking the guns and barbed wire to the peninsula. The Bulgarian prefect at Slava Zepora has gone to Adrianople to arrange to take formal possession of the ceded territory in the presence of Turkish and Bulgarian ministers on September 18. The Turkish vali of Adrianople has gone to Constantinople to obtain instructions from the Porte on the same subject.

London, Sept. 16.—An imperial decree will be issued on September 26, according to Constantinople advices received at Athens and transmitted by Reuters. The new frontier, it is said, will be traced by German staff officers.

French and British Have Deprived Her of Much in Africa

Paris, Sept. 16.—Fighting continually in Africa since last September along a front of more than 2000 miles. The French colonial troops, aided by the British allies, have obtained remarkable results," said Gaston Doumergue, minister of the colonies, to the Associated Press today.

BRITISH PRIZE COURT DECISION RELATIVE TO FOUR CARGOES

London, Sept. 16.—The British prize court today condemned the greater part of the American products forming the cargoes of four steamships. The products, valued at several million dollars, are declared forfeited to the crown.

FRENCH REPORT MUCH THE SAME AS ON EACH DAY RECENTLY

Paris, Sept. 16.—The French War Office this afternoon reported: "Yesterday witnessed fighting with hand grenades at the sapsides in the sector of Neuville. A bombardment of the suburbs of Arras brought forth a vigorous reply from our artillery. There was also fighting with mines in the region of Prise, in the department of the Somme."

INTO UNIFORM AT ONCE AFTER ENLISTING

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 16.—The department of militia is taking steps to recruit immediately after acceptance of uniforms. This course will be followed at all recruiting points throughout the country. It is found to have a beneficial influence not only on the men themselves but also acts as a stimulus to recruiting generally.

Beginning To Look Like a Change in Russia

Czar's Men Defeat Enemy at Several Points and Capture More Than 4,000 Prisoners—Germans Flee on River Stripa and Suffer Heavily

Petrograd, Sept. 16.—The following official communication was issued yesterday: "East of Kovel, Volhynia, on the River Stokhod, during our occupation of the villages of Gulevitcha and Roudka, and after stubborn resistance, we captured two officers, seventy-five soldiers and four machine guns. The enemy fell back toward the west on the front south of the Prijet, making at several places counter-attacks with strong forces and resisting obstinately."

Recent advices from Rome were to the effect that negotiations were under way for the formation of a new Balkan League, to be composed of Roumania, Serbia, and Greece. Bulgaria, it was said, was not included in the negotiations because of her agreement with Turkey, by which she will obtain territory along the Dedegatch railway. Montenegro probably would act in accord with the other three powers, as she already is arrayed on the side of the allies in the war.

MAN WHO SOUNDED CHARGE WHEN RETREAT ORDERED AND THUS SAVED THE DAY

Bugler Roland, Last Survivor of Battle of Sid Brabin, is Dead

Paris, Sept. 16.—Bugler Roland, sole survivor of those who took part in the battle of Sid Brabin, in 1848, in the French war of subjugation in Algeria, is dead. He was ninety-five years old, and was decorated a few years ago with the medal of the Legion of Honor. President Poineau, in a dinner given in his honor, on February 29, 1914, in this city, during the battle of Sid Brabin, while wounded and a prisoner, Bugler Roland was ordered by the 3rd of July, 1848, to sound the retreat at a critical stage of the battle in order to deceive the French troops. Without an instant's hesitation he obeyed the charge. In the clash which followed the French won the day.

LETTER FROM WALTER CAMPBELL OF THE 26TH

Walter J. Campbell, writing from East Sandling to Mrs. Campbell on August 26, says: "We have just arrived back after our four days march. We covered the south of England. This is our last bit of training here, as we expect to leave for France on Sept. 12 or 13. On our march we were served with cold food, while all the other battalions were enjoying hot meals. There is negligence on some one, due to that field kitchen we were promised. All the other battalions have theirs."

Triding Submarines

It is the surprise attack which in nearly every case enables a submarine to succeed in a hostile ship. Captain Turner of the Lusitania, for instance, might have avoided the torpedo fired at his ship by the German submarine had he known of its proximity, but a brief glimpse of a periscope was the only warning he received before the liner was struck. There are several manoeuvres by means of which a ship can detect a submarine. Several vessels have diverted torpedoes by swinging round their stern until it pointed in the direction of the under-sea craft. In this way the wash of the propeller has detected the torpedo from its course, and it has sped harmlessly past its mark. Another successful ruse is to stake up furnaces of a ship chased by a submarine, and thick black smoke belches from its funnels and envelops the vessel in a protective shroud. In this way the submarine gunners are confused, and cannot perceive the correct direction in which to send their torpedoes.

A speedy ship which follows an erratic zigzag course is a poor mark to a submarine. When a torpedo is dispatched against a fast traveling vessel it is directed to a point just ahead of its mark, and the craft literally runs into the death-dealing device. This obviously cannot happen, however, if a ship is swinging rapidly from side to side, and alternatively pointing the narrow expanse of its bows or stern to the under-sea marauder.

Ships in many cases now travel in pairs. A submarine seldom attacks a vessel unless it is alone, for it can only attack one at a time, and whilst it is launching a torpedo at its first mark the second vessel has an excellent opportunity of ramming the submarine, which can be located by the tell-tale periscope.—Weekly Scotsman.

The teacher was reading adages to the boys of the class. "Always remember this one," she said. "There is a tide in the affairs of men which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune." "Did all the multi-millionaires come in on tidal waves?" asked the class humorist.

THE FUNDS

A contribution of $3 from Mrs. Ina Brown Roberts has been received by Mayor Frink for Miss Warner's hospital. This is a most worthy object, which His Worship commends to the generosity of the citizens.

C. B. Allan, in behalf of the Patriotic Fund, today acknowledged receipt of the following donations—Friend, $10; proceeds of fair on grounds of J. T. Wilcox, Lancaster, per Miss Mary Wilcox, $20; W. H. Thorne & Co., Ltd., monthly unit peace is desired, $10; birthday gift from a young lady, $10; Hebrews Help.

At a meeting held in the Carleton street synagogue on Sunday evening, the matter of helping the war sufferers abroad was discussed, and a collection taken which netted $110. Addresses were given by Rabbi Rubenberg, Rabbi Amud and Rev. Dr. Mendelsohn of the Hebrew Congregation. It was decided to give $25 to the Russian Refugee Fund, but because of pressing needs at home, the matter was allowed to drop. It is now being revived, and a committee is to be appointed to canvass in its interests.

MAY BE HITCH OVER

INTERESTING MATTER IN THE BIG LOAN TO ALLIES New York, Sept. 16.—Members of the Anglo-French financial commission and American bankers working for the success of the proposed billion dollar credit loan to Great Britain and France, have somewhat different ideas as to the terms of the proposed loan.

The committee is reported to be of the opinion that the maximum rate which England and France will pay is five per cent. Many American bankers believe that the mammoth loan should yield at least five and one half. There is a difference of opinion as to the amount of the loan, and the terms of the loan.

EXTRACT SHRAPNEL BULLET FROM A SOLDIER'S HEART

Paris, Sept. 16.—Means by which he extracted a shrapnel bullet from the right article of a French soldier's heart were described to the Academy of Medicine by Dr. Charles Infroit. This surgical feat was accomplished by the use of a radiographic compass invented by the surgeon.

He told his colleagues that this instrument enabled the operator to locate foreign bodies in the tissues with mathematical precision and permits their extraction without injury to the neighboring organs.

RUSSIA CALLS MORE MEN TO THE COLORS

Petrograd, Sept. 16.—An imperial ukase today calls to the colors reserves of the Lithuanian, for instance, might have avoided the torpedo fired at his ship by the German submarine had he known of its proximity, but a brief glimpse of a periscope was the only warning he received before the liner was struck. There are several manoeuvres by means of which a ship can detect a submarine. Several vessels have diverted torpedoes by swinging round their stern until it pointed in the direction of the under-sea craft. In this way the wash of the propeller has detected the torpedo from its course, and it has sped harmlessly past its mark. Another successful ruse is to stake up furnaces of a ship chased by a submarine, and thick black smoke belches from its funnels and envelops the vessel in a protective shroud. In this way the submarine gunners are confused, and cannot perceive the correct direction in which to send their torpedoes.

THE WHEAT MARKET

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Better weather conditions northwest gave an advantage today to the bears in wheat. Extreme high vessel rates for shipments to Europe counted also against the bulls. Advancing quotations at Liverpool were only of temporary effect in steadying the market here. Opening prices, which ranged from 1-8 at 1-4 0' to a like amount up, with December at 97-8 to 94c, and May at 97c to 97-8c, were followed by a slight general upturn and then a decided sag.

MRS. JOHN C. BETTS

The death of Mrs. John C. Betts occurred this morning at her home, 114 Winter street, after a short illness. She was formerly Miss Sadie Williams, daughter of the late Samuel and Sarah Williams of this city. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. B. Jones of Winter street, and four brothers, Samuel of Quebec; Frederick of Phillips, Me.; Walter of McAdam Junction and Herbert Williams of St. John. The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon from St. Paul's church where the service will be held at 2.30 o'clock.

POLICE COURT

Charles Stackhouse, aged thirty-eight, a former employe of the London Life Insurance Company, was arrested yesterday on a warrant, issued a year ago, charging him with shortage of about $100 which he engaged as an agent for the company. The warrant was issued at the request of the Guarantee and Accident Bonding Company. In the police court today he was remanded. Three prisoners were dealt with on charges of drunkenness.

BURIED TODAY

The funeral of Miss Emma C. Bustin took place this afternoon from the home of her sister, Mrs. J. D. Howe, Elliott row, to Fernhill. Rev. Mr. Johnson and Mr. Lane officiated.

The funeral of Augustin Viger was held this morning from his late home in Colbrook to St. Joseph's church, Silver Falls, where Rev. A. J. O'Neill officiated. Interment was in the new Catholic cemetery.

BRIDE OF THREE WEEKS SLAIN BY BURGLAR

New York, Sept. 16.—Antony Tiochi, which opened a rear window of the house at 141 4th street, Passaic, N. J., and got into the dining room where he killed all the table silver in a cloth for removal.

Then he crept softly upstairs and took a pocketbook containing $800 from a closet where it had been hidden by John T. Tulsik, who is secretary and treasurer of several benevolent societies.

A slight noise awakened Mrs. Tulsik, a bride of three weeks, and on getting quietly out of bed, she came face to face with the burglar in the dark. A struggle followed, during which the intruder struck her several times, and she fell with the woman's throat three times. She fell dead without a groan.

Tulsik, awaked by the sound of his wife's fall, groped his way to the hall in time to hear the man running down stairs. He followed him, but could not get near him. The robber, however, was captured by the police soon after. He was hiding in a barn, but gave himself up without a struggle. The $800 was found in his pocket.

Tulsik refused to make any statement as the stronger position, because of its protection by the Dvina River.

KAISER WEEPS OVER "DECADENT FRANCE"

War's Result Will Be Purification of Germany, He Says.

Paris, Sept 15—A Basel despatch summarizes a recently published brochure by Anton Fendrich, the prominent Baden Socialist, describing a conversation with Emperor William at the general headquarters on the western front.

The emperor received the Socialist cordially and democratically in a garden. His bodyguard at headquarters were mostly Socialists, "fine fellows," the emperor said.

Herr Fendrich was greatly impressed with the emperor's sincere pacifism and also with the sorrow of his disillusionment regarding his royal relatives in England and Russia who "betrayed him at a moment of danger."

"The emperor," Herr Fendrich said, "related for half an hour horrible French atrocities. Carried away by the intensity of these proved facts, which leave no hope for decadent France, the emperor wept more than once at the shame of such demoralization of a once noble people, victimized now by a fixed idea."

The emperor said the result of the war would be the unification and purification of Germany for her historic task of serving as the heart of Europe."

Herr Fendrich reports that the emperor looked younger, fresher and more energetic than ever; his eyes were bright and his face was unlined by care.

BRYAN MAY GO ABROAD TO TRY TO END WAR.

Publishers of Foreign Language Newspapers Will Decide on September 17.

Philadelphia, Sept. 15—William Jennings Bryan has signified his willingness to go to Europe and attempt to bring about peace.

Whether or not he will go will be decided at a conference between the publishers of foreign language newspapers and himself in Washington on September 17.

The announcement of Mr. Bryan's decision was contained in a letter received today by the editor of an Italian newspaper from Dr. William Forgo of 1023 East Second street, Brooklyn, who publishes the "Forgo Guide" and heads a movement to have Mr. Bryan try to stop the war. The announcement was accompanied by an invitation to attend the conference.

"After the talk I had with Mr. Bryan," writes Dr. Forgo, "I am under the impression that, provided it develops at his meeting with the editors that his going abroad is advisable, he, himself, will for the love of the cause, not only sacrifice his time but will also pay his own expenses."

This was in answer to a number of the conferees who proposed that a fund be raised from which to pay Mr. Bryan a salary and his expenses.

Dr. Forgo's first correspondence with Mr. Bryan and some of the editors of foreign language newspapers started on August 17. Letters were not made public, however, until today.

Mr. Bryan's proposed trip will be for that of the president.

CANADA'S AVIATION SCHOOL IS BEING REMOVED TO BERMUUDA

Weather Conditions in Toronto Not Suitable for Winter Operations.

Ottawa, Sept. 15—The removal of the Canadian School of Aviation from Toronto to Bermuda has been necessitated by the fact that weather conditions make it impossible to operate there in winter with the past season being exceedingly wet, the work has been considerably interfered with. As the school was a private one, the militia department was not disposed to draw the grounds at Long Branch.

Aviator McCurdy has gone to Bermuda to pick out a site for the fall and winter school. It is expected to graduate about fifteen students per week out of the 200 enrolled. The government will pay transportation of the men to Bermuda and when they get certificates they will go to England for further training in military aviation.

The Evening Times and Star

A MEAN SLANDER.

Those persons who do not want to enlist or who wish to dissuade others from enlisting for overseas service are circulating the shameful falsehood that the English are keeping their own men back and sending the Canadians forward to be a target for the Germans, and that the Canadians are doing all the fighting.

The British casualties to Aug. 21 numbered 381,583, and included 4,965 officers and 70,292 men killed, and 9,973 officers and 241,986 men wounded, the balance being officers and men reported missing.

When we remember how small has been the actual number of Canadians in the trenches, in comparison with the total number of casualties, the falsehood of the story that the Canadians are doing it all is clearly perceived.

There is another evidence of its falsity. Lord Kitchener yesterday said that as new armies were trained in England they were sent across the Channel, and that no less than 210,000 men have lately joined Sir John French, and enabled him to take over from the French seven miles more of front. The great body of that 210,000 was made up of English troops. Only a few days ago there were still 40,000 or more of Canadian troops in England. Some of these have since gone over, including, it is said, the division which included the 26th Battalion from St. John.

It is true Canadians have been in the fighting, where they desired to be, for they are not cowards. It is true they have sustained heavy losses in proportion to their numbers in some engagements, and this has been featured in the news sent to Canada; but they have occupied a very small portion of the line against the German attacks which have been given as full accounts of the struggle along the other and longer portions of the line we would realize more fully the work done and the losses sustained by the other British troops.

The truth is that the Canadian troops were held back longer than they desired. They were eager to go to the front. The same eagerness is expressed by Canadian troops now in England. But they have been held back and trained, and made more fit for the struggle before being sent to the firing line.

What we want today is more men of their calibre—men who are not afraid to enlist, and who do not go casting about for excuses for neglecting the duty that thrusts itself into the consciousness of every man who is fit and free to strike a blow in defence of Canada and the Empire.

As to losses sustained by English troops, see the following London cable of yesterday: "Casualties today include 36 officers, fifteen dead; 2,869 men, 670 dead. The regiment suffering were the Sixth Royal Lancasters, Fifth Royal Irish, Sixth East Lancasters, Eighth Rifle Brigade, Eleventh Manchester Regiment, Fourth Royal Sussex, Sixth Border Regiment."

WHAT IS THE ANSWER? Men of St. John—men of New Brunswick—what is your attitude toward those other men—men you know—who are now in the trenches fighting your battles?

Do you profess to believe that they can perform the task without your help? Read what an Australian soldier writes to a friend in Adelaide—an Australian soldier in the trenches:—"It seems to me the more I see and think—and hear from those who know—that this war will never be ended until the most vigorous and most virile of our younger male blood is expended. It is all nonsense to think, as most do, and say that men are not needed, and that the war will soon be over. Men are needed—not to form an army to carry on when many, and probably most, of us are dead and stark in foreign soil, not next month, nor the next, but now. Great Britain, and, with her, her dominions—her people collectively and individually—will never, can never, win until she has made sacrifices unparalleled and undreamed of even by the most pessimistic. Mother and widows, too, must give their children, wives their husbands, sisters their brothers, sweet hearts their loved ones. All must go to the altar of sacrifice. I have almost got to think that the war of today is the most dangerous lunatic I have known not only a lunatic, but a traitor, to himself, to his country, and to the men who now lie heaped, and those who will lie heaped, in shallow graves in Flanders, in Belgium, in Poland, and in present fields by windy Troy."

Are you optimistic—men of St. John and New Brunswick? Then in the view of this soldier at the front you are dangerous. Read what another Australian, wounded and in hospital, writes home:—"We hear out here that there is talk in Australia about conscription, compulsory enlistment of single men, but I think it is a lot of rot, for we do not want compulsory slackers out here. A volunteer is worth ten of them any day. The only thing we are wild about is seeing married men with children falling alongside of us, while there are thousands of single men who ought to have been in their place. What has Australia done? She has equipped and sent to the front more than 100,000 men, and is steadily sending more, and we know what her navy has done. And yet we find the Sydney Sunday Times saying:—"We will have to do better than this, and the sooner we realize that just now there is only one task before each of us the quicker the world will be at peace again. Canada, too, will have to do better. More men are needed, and needed now. We owe it to the men in the trenches. Do we not owe it also to ourselves?"

WOMAN'S PART.

The offer of a group of members of the Daughters of the Empire to aid in the recruiting campaign is what ought to be expected. There are hundreds of women in St. John who have husbands or sons or brothers at the front, and they have a right to hope and expect that for any reason their loved ones are compelled to fall out of the ranks there will be others ready to take their places and uphold the cause of Canada and the Empire. In Queens county last evening two ladies took part in a recruiting meeting. The tragedy of Belgium should appeal to women even more than to men. Do we want that tragedy repeated in Canada? Mrs. Brown, in the morning appeals she made in this city, emphasized the part women should play, and both she and Sergt. Knight told of what women in England are doing, not merely to encourage their men to fight, but themselves doing men's work that the business of the country may go on. There has been some lack of interest on the part of St. John women in the work of recruiting. Perhaps the men are to blame, for yesterday's meeting in the board of trade rooms very clearly revealed that there are still some business men who are indifferent. They should be shamed by the women.

CONCERNING ELECTIONS.

The Standard, incorrectly states the position of the Times in relation to the federal elections. This journal holds that they should be postponed until after the war, but as the supplementary article does not expire for another year there is no need of talking about it now, nor would there be any justification for postponement for two or three years after the war. While the war is on, we have no politics. When it is over, let the people choose their new rulers. Premier Asquith in the British parliament yesterday pleaded against "the sinister spirit of domestic strife." The St. John Standard today features an editorial page a despatch from Ottawa which forebodes an election campaign and an attempt to throw the responsibility for it upon the Liberals. If the Conservatives attempt to run a "flag" election, which would be equivalent to charging with disloyalty the Liberals whose sons are fighting in the trenches, they will deserve to be classed as German sympathizers.

TO AID RECRUITING.

The recruiting campaign which is now in progress should be made province wide, and should be kept alive until the end of the war. As long as the war lasts there will be need of men to fill the gaps in the ranks. There should be a recruiting officer for the province, to keep the machinery going, and he should be supported by voluntary committees such as that now existing in St. John. There is at present a lack of general organization, and a lack of the proper co-operation between the militia headquarters and the civilian committees which are giving their time and effort so earnestly to the task of stimulating recruiting in New Brunswick. The local military officers are doing their part, but there is no proper provincial head. A lieutenant in Halifax cannot attend to the recruiting movement in three provinces, and somebody should have the courage to intimate as much to Sir Sam Hughes, who has a habit of cutting through red tape when the necessity for it is brought to his attention. Proper organization prevents waste of energy and produces the best results. Such organization is at present lacking in this province, and the local committee may very properly invite a more satisfactory co-operation, which, when the conditions are stated will not be denied, since the militia department must be as eager as any individual to have the best results attained.

By all means let us have that Women's Volunteer Reserve Corps. A parade now and then of khaki clad women would remind the young men of their duty.

Do we need recruits? Lord Kitchener said again yesterday: "I am sure we all fully realize that the strength of the armies we are sending out must be fully maintained to the very end. To fulfill this purpose we shall require a large addition to the numbers of recruits joining. The problem of how to secure an adequate supply of men, and thus ensure the field force being kept up to its full strength, is engaging our close attention."

SHE RECOMMENDS "FRUIT-A-LIVES"

Mrs. Corbett Read the Advertisement and Tried It

ATON, Ont., May 14th, 1914. "I have used 'Fruit-a-lives' for Indigestion and Constipation with most excellent results, and they continue to be my only medicine. I saw 'Fruit-a-lives' advertised with a letter in which some one recommended them very highly, so I tried them. The results were more than satisfactory, and I have no hesitation in recommending 'Fruit-a-lives.'" ANNE A. CORBETT.

LIGHTER VEIN.

"The last thing you sent in was good," said the editor. "We all enjoyed reading it very much." "Well, in that case," said the youthful poet, "I take back what I said in the letter I wrote you yesterday about my determination never to send you any of my work again."

"Youngster (a minute later)—Uncle, the fortress is taken. Now let me have the quarter."

"Uncle—How did you manage so easily?" "Youngster—I offered the besieged 10 cents and they capitulated."

He was a sportsman, and recently, owing to the war, nothing had been coming his way but expenses. One day his daughter informed him in an unfeeling manner that if he did not give her a diamond bracelet worth at least $500, she would drop with the coachman.

"Come to my arms my darling child," he exclaimed, as the tears of joy coursed down his wrinkled cheeks. "Come to my arms."

"Do I get the bracelet?" she asked. "Of course not," he smiled gladly. "You get the coachman I owe him eight months' wages."

A young woman helping to poll a rural district to ascertain the political standing of the population, stopped at a big house where a cross-appearing woman answered her ring.

"Does Mr. Smith live here?" she asked.

"He does," was the answer.

"Could you," asked the girl, timidly, "tell me what party he belongs to?" "I can," answered the woman. "Take a good look at me," she went on, with her hands on her hips. "I'm the party he belongs to and the only one, see?"

PROUD TO KNOW THAT BOTHER HAS ENLISTED Letter From Halifax Soldier Who at One Time Was Reported Dead The following are extracts from a letter received by Mrs. Travers, of No. 379 Barrington street, Halifax, from her son, Driver Wm. Travers, of the Canadian Artillery, at the front. William was at one time reported dead, but it seems that in action he became detached temporarily from his corps and was missing at roll call. But he turned up later safe and sound: Dear Mother—You know if we never return what we died for. Of course, I know how you would feel—it is a hard thing for you to stand and see three sons out of your four in the ring. But keep up your courage, cheer up, there is a better day to come. If we do not meet in this world again we will all meet in the next. If brother Jack did not join what would everyone say to him when everything was over; why they would not look at him. So I am very glad he did enlist. I am glad to hear that so many of my chums are enlisting. We need them all, every one we can get. Give them all my best regards. I wish them good luck. I have gone through a lot of it myself and I wish them the same luck. Let them do and dare for the British flag. Long may it wave! Don't worry about us, dear Mother. Just think well on the fact if we boys and others didn't face the music where would our grand old Union Jack be. Some one has to protect it. When you write to Jack tell him I wish him luck and I am proud of him. NO ELECTION. NO ELECTION TALK (From the Toronto Star.) There ought to be no election during the war. There ought to be no talk

BARON READING'S NOTABLE CAREER

First Jew To Be Lord Chief Justice

PROGRESS HAS BEEN RAPID

Left School to Run Away to Sea—Studied Law After Failing as Broker—Heads Anglo-French Commission

Baron Reading, Lord Chief Justice of England, who is the head of the Anglo-French Commission now in New York for the purpose of adjusting the exchange rate between the two currencies, is a young man. He has had a most remarkable career, which might be accurately described by the much misused word brilliant. Rufus Isaacs was born in London in 1860, but tiring of commonplace life he ran away to sea, or, and shipped for Rio Janeiro. He sickened of this life, however, and returned home, where his parents were both able and anxious to give him a university education, which had been interrupted by his sailing career. The young man declined, and set up in business as a broker. This adventure was not much longer than his sailing exploit, and at the age of twenty-six he found himself thoroughly bankrupt, and with considerable liabilities which he had no means of meeting.

Nemesis of Whittaker Wright

About this time he had the great good fortune to meet Miss Alice Edith Cohen, the daughter of an American merchant, and he fell so love with her. On her persuasion he concluded that he would study law, though he felt at the time that he was too old to begin. However, he made a start, and it is said that the pair used to spend the time usually given to courtship, in the study of law books. Such a good student was young Isaacs that after a year's reading he was able to pass his law examination. He then married Miss Cohen and began to practise. His anxiety was not long deferred, and in a very short time he came to be regarded as an expert in the law concerning bankruptcy and as the possessor of a remarkable memory. He showed a most unusual talent in untangling knots formed by dishonest or unfortunate business men. His most conspicuous success was in the particular branch of his profession was his prosecution of Whittaker Wright, the notorious English exponent of "frenzied finance." Wright had involved with him so many persons belonging to influential and highly placed families that there was a general belief at the beginning of the trial that his witness would never be called. However, so strong and persistent was his examination by Isaacs that Wright broke down, confessed, and most dramatically ended his life in the court room.

Defended Bob Siewer

Another cause celebre, which showed that Isaacs was as brilliant in defence as in attack, was the action brought by J. B. Joel, a South African millionaire, and a prominent racing man, against "Bob" Siewer, the editor of a scurrilous racing sheet known as the "Winning Post." Joel accused Siewer of blackmail, and in the course of the trial most unsavoury details were brought out by both sides. However, Siewer was acquitted, thanks chiefly to his lawyer's skill. In 1904 Isaacs entered parliament as the Liberal member for Reading. About the same time he became acquainted with King Edward, with whom he used to play whist. The King, who well he might be said to have enjoyed Isaacs' participation in a game because of his equal mediocrity.

Swift: Rise in Politics

In 1909 Isaacs became solicitor general, and the following year was knighted and appointed attorney general. Subsequently he became a privy councillor, a Knight Commander of the Victorian Order, and was admitted to the cabinet. He was the first attorney-general who ever received this distinction. But a greater still was awaiting him, and that was his elevation in 1913 to become Lord Chief Justice of England. He is the first Jew to hold that position. The appointment caused unusual commotion since it followed closely an official investigation of which Sir Rufus was the subject, in connection with the speculation in Marconi shares. In some quarters it was held that his actions were incompatible with the high position which cabinet ministers are expected to live up to, but he was exonerated.

A Fine Personality

Baron Reading is a financial as well as a legal authority, and since the outbreak of the war he has been working in the British Treasury in co-operation with Lloyd George and Reginald McKenna. Personally, the Lord Chief Justice is a man of striking appearance, tall, slim, graceful and extremely youthful looking. He is fastidious in his dress, and suave and eloquent in conversation. He probably represents the legal and political side of the commission, for with two such English colleagues as Sir Edward Hopkins Holden, Bank, and Sir Henry Bellingham Smith, president of the Bank of Turkey, to say nothing of Basil P. Blackett, the secretary of the commission, and Messrs. Mallet and Homberg, the French representative, even Lord Reading could hardly add anything to the financial knowledge and banking lore of the party.

ETHER FREEZING HAS MADE HER SKIN WHITE

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Dr. J. W. King of Bradford, Pa., told colleagues at a meeting how he turned a negro's skin white as the result of an accident. He treated a colored woman for lumbago by freezing the leg from the hip down to the ankle with ether.

"After a week or so," said Dr. King, she returned to my office and said: "Doctor, the lumbago is gone, but I think I shall have to prosecute you for mistreatment. You've done more than freeze my leg, you've made it white."

"The leg I had treated was perfectly white and is so to this day."

Some of the doctors present agreed that ether freezing had been known to remove the pigments in the skin, but said that Dr. King's case is unusual.

Hints for the Cook

Breaded Turnips.
Pare fine white turnips, boil in salted water until tender, cut into slices one-third inch thick, dip in fine dry bread crumbs, then in beaten egg and again in crumbs, let stand one or more hours, fry in deep hot fat and drain thoroughly on brown paper before serving.

Rhode Island Chowder.
Cook 2 three-inch cubes of salt pork, cut in slices with 1 large onion sliced in 1-2 cup water. Parboil 4 cups of potatoes cubes, add the liquor, from pork and onions, the juice from 1 quart of clams, the hard part of the clams chopped fine and 2 cups of boiling water. When potatoes are nearly done add 1 cup of strained tomatoes and the soft part of the clams and 1-4 teaspoon of soda, add 1 cup each of scalloped milk and cream, 2 tablespoons of butter and salt, pepper and softened crackers.

Pineapple and Coconut Desert
Turn the contents of a can of pineapple chunks into the serving dish, cut the pieces much smaller and sprinkle over them 4 tablespoons of shredded coconut. Mix thoroughly adding about a tablespoon of sugar. Cover closely and let stand in a cool place till needed. Over night will improve the taste and soften the coconut.

Plums in Batter.
Make a batter with 2 beaten eggs, 3 tablespoons of flour, a little more than 1 pint of milk and a pinch of salt. Remove the stones from 1 quart of large ripe plums, crack them, put the kernels inside of the plums again, mix the fruit with 2 tablespoons of moist sugar and stir it lightly into the batter. Turn it in a hot oven till done.

One-third cup butter, 1 cup sugar, yolks of 4 eggs, pinch of salt, 2 cups flour, sifted with 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 cup milk, Cream butter, sugar gradually then add egg yolks well beaten. Add flour alternately with milk. Frost with chocolate frosting.

Gold Cake
One-third cup butter, 1 cup sugar, yolks of 4 eggs, pinch of salt, 2 cups flour, sifted with 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 cup milk, Cream butter, sugar gradually then add egg yolks well beaten. Add flour alternately with milk. Frost with chocolate frosting.

Nut Pudding.
One cup each of molasses, chopped nuts and milk, 2 1/2 cups of sugar, 1 cup siccated raisins, 1 cup walnuts, 1-4 cup of eggs chopped, 1 grated nutmeg and 1 teaspoon of nutmeg. Mix and steam 2-3 hours. Serve with any sauce preferred.

Cream Scones
Sift together 2 cups of flour, 8 teaspoons baking powder and 1 teaspoonful salt, rub in 4 tablespoons of butter. Add 2 well beaten eggs and about 1-8 of a cup of cream. Roll 8-10 inch thick, prick, brush with white egg and sprinkle with sugar. Bake in a hot oven about 15 minutes.

Maple Mousse
Put in a saucepan 1 generous cup of maple syrup, stir into it the beaten yolks of 4 eggs, place over the fire and stir until the mixture becomes hot. The eggs will thicken the syrup. Take from the fire at once and stand in a pan of ice water. Beat with an egg beater until light and cold, then fold in 1 pint of cream which has been well whipped. Pour in a mold, pack in ice and salt, using more salt than for ice cream, and do not stir. Let stand four hours.

EXPLOITS OF ELAINE NEARING A CLIMAX

Gem's Mid-week Programme Shows Second to Last Installment—War Pictures of Great Interest

The great motion picture serial "The Exploits of Elaine," which has proved so fascinating to the patrons of the Gem Theatre, is drawing to a close. The final chapter will be presented next week, entitled "The Reckoning." It was seen in the presentation of the second last episode "The Devil Worshipers" yesterday that the conclusion was approaching, but many ask the question, "What becomes of The Clutching Hand?" The answer is contained in the final episode. The serial has been one of the most exciting and interesting which the Gem has shown, and the concluding chapters are being followed with particular interest.

The war pictures shown yesterday, presenting scenes of interest from the other side of the Atlantic, scenes showing the celebration of the first anniversary of war in England, the Essex regiment at Drill, Japanese nurses in English hospitals, Japanese sailors in Scotland, and other views, proved instructive and interesting. The Gem orchestra played an excellent programme, while an abundance of music prevailed during the showing of "White Wife Slept," in which Billie Reeves scored another great hit, making many laughs.

NON RUSTABLE D & A CORSETS

We have found in Canada hundreds of thousands of shrewd women who forgetting prejudice against "Home-Made" are constant purchasers of the "D & A" or the "La Diva" Corsets which they find economical, stylish, comfortable.

Their patronage has built up the factory of the Dominion Corset Company, an industry employing about 1200 hands under ideal conditions of comfort and manufacturing efficiency.

THE DEMON COMES BACK

(New York Times)

What history will describe as the Grape Juice Hiatus has come to an end. For 1914 the state department never once went on the water wagon, but in 1915 prohibition was introduced in its midst, and for two years diplomats invited to dinners given by its head were obliged to bring their beverages to the dinner table internally. This came officially to an end on Monday night, when the secretary of state entertained in honor of Senator Cardoso, the Brazilian minister to Mexico. It was not a denatured dinner. "Wine," announced Mrs. Lansing, "will be served at all diplomatic dinners where the secretary of state is host." The shade of Thomas Jefferson, the first secretary of state, who instituted the diplomatic dinner in this country and barred grape juice from the menu, lost the troubled look it had worn for two years and bore the glad news to the waiting congregation on the Stys. "This is the last of grape juice; I am content," said the shade of John Quincy Adams; and the shade of Webster murmured, "Sauterne and champagne, now and forever, one and inseparable."

It has been a question, ever since the state department went dry, why grape juice should have been selected as the substitute for what our prohibition friends described generally as "rum." It is not exhilarating and it seldom imparts conviviality. Nobody, after an evening spent with a flask of grape juice, feels disposed to join hands with the other diners and sing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." If what was desired was something that looked like liquor, ginger ale would make a much better substitute. In circles where invitations to the proprietor are too frequent to make acceptance safe and where declination is regarded with a hostile eye, he has been reputed to create the dilemma by pouring himself out two fingers of ginger ale—charging the customer the regular price for whisky, of course—and no one has ever known the difference. The resemblance of color to applejack, too, is striking, except in the subsequent nausea.

PRES. SHAUGHNESSY'S TRIBUTE TO SIR WILLIAM VAN HORNE

In an appreciation of the late Sir William Van Horne, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, says: "I first met him in 1880, when he became general superintendent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway. At that time I was connected with the purchasing department of that railroad. At the end of 1881 he accepted the appointment of general manager of the C. P. R. and came to Canada. A fortnight after coming here he asked me to accept the position of general purchasing agent of the company. From that time till the day of his death Sir William and I have been intimate business and personal associates, and although in recent years his interests have been in one direction and mine in another, there is, I feel sure, no person apart from the members of his own immediate family who is more grieved by his death than I am.

"Probably I knew him more intimately than anyone else. His was a great mind, a great heart, and a lofty soul. He had

To Quickly Remove Ugly Hairs From Face

(Beauty Notes)

Beauty-destroying hairs are soon banished from the skin with the aid of a delicate paste, made by mixing some water with a little plain powdered talc. This is spread upon the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed to remove the remaining delatone. This simple treatment banishes every trace of hair and leaves the skin without a blemish. Caution should be used to be certain that it is delatone you buy.

Kitchener Presses Home Need of More Recruits

Speech in House of Lords Reviews War Situation on all Fronts--Germans Have Almost Shot Bolt and Advance in Russia is Diminishing

London, Sept. 15.—"The Germans appear almost to have shot their bolt," said Earl Kitchener, secretary for war, today. "Their advance in Russia, which at one time averaged five miles a day, now has diminished to less than one mile a day."

Earl Kitchener's statement was made in a review of the war in the House of Lords.

"The response of the country to calls for recruits has been little short of marvellous," he said, "but the problem how to insure the field force being kept at full strength is engaging our close attention and will, I hope, soon receive a practical solution. I do not for one instant doubt that whatever sacrifices may prove necessary will be undertaken cheerfully by our people."

This was the only portion of Earl Kitchener's speech which might be regarded as a reference to the possibilities of conscription.

Regarding military operations the war secretary said: "For the last few months the front held by the Allies in the west has been practically unchanged. This does not mean that there has been relaxation of effective work on the part of the forces in the field, for the continuous local fighting which has taken place all along the line has called for the display of incessant vigilance."

POSITIONS MUCH STRENGTHENED.

"Meanwhile, our positions have been much strengthened, not only by careful elaboration of the system of trench fortifications that already existed but also by a large increase in the number of heavy guns which have been placed along our lines."

"The Germans recently on several occasions used gas and liquid fire."

"The enemy have bombarded our lines with asphyxiating shells but these forms of attack, lacking as they now do, the element of surprise have failed in their object and lost much of their offensive value, owing to steps taken by us to counter-act the effect of these pernicious methods."

"As new armies have become trained and ready to take the field considerable reinforcements have been sent out to join Field Marshal French's command. You will be glad to hear his opinion of these troops, communicated to me. He writes: 'The units appear to be thoroughly well-offered and commanded. The equipment is in good order and efficient. Several units of artillery have been tested behind the firing line in the trenches, and I heard very good reports of them. Their shooting has been extremely good and they are fit to take their place in the line.'

"These new divisions have now had the opportunity of acquiring by experience in actual warfare that portion of the necessary training of soldiers which it was impossible to give them in this country, and once acquired, will enable them effectively to take their place in line with the rest of the British army."

ELEVEN DIVISIONS.

"With these additional reinforcements, amounting to eleven divisions (about 310,000 men), Sir John French has been able to extend his lines and take over from the French approximately seventeen miles of additional front."

"Throughout the summer months the French have held their own, along their extended line of the front and in some places, notably near Arras and in Alsace, have made substantial progress."

SAW WHAT WAS BEING DONE.

"French trenches along the entire front have been developed and strengthened, and now everywhere present a network of almost impregnable fortifications. Of this I was able to satisfy myself during a visit lately to our Allies, at the invitation of General Joffre, when I was profoundly impressed with the high state of efficiency and morale of the French army. It was evident that officers and men recognized that the only possible termination of the war was to inflict on the enemy a thorough defeat, their resolution to do this was never faltering or lessened."

operation of retirement of the whole line over some 100 to 200 miles, without allowing the enemy to break through at any point, or by surrounding their forces to bring about a tactical position which might have involved surrender of a considerable portion of the Russian army."

INTACT AS A FIGHTING FORCE.

"Thus we see the Russian army remaining today intact as a fighting force. It doubtless has suffered severely from the hard fighting to which it had been subjected during recent months, but the German forces also had to pay a heavy toll for their advance into Russia, and who will venture to say, until the present grips are relaxed, which armies suffered more?"

"It must not be forgotten that Russia, with her vast territory, always has been able ultimately to envelop and annihilate large invading armies. In this she certainly is no less capable today than she was a century ago. As regards the net result, all that the Germans can place to their credit is that, at an enormous sacrifice, they have captured certain fortresses. By our recent experience shows that the best fortifications, and practically the only one that can effectively resist the new machinery of war, are those which can be quickly dug deep in the soil. Such trenches today form better defences than the most carefully fortified places, of which the engineers, until lately, were so proud."

"The Germans appear almost to have shot their bolt. Their advance into Russia, which at one time was carried out at an average daily rate of approximately five miles, has now diminished to less than one mile a day, and we see the forces, which they boastfully described as defeated and broken troops flying before them, still doggedly and pluckily fighting along the whole line, and in some places, indeed, turning on the jaded invaders and inflicting heavy losses."

STILL A POWERFUL FIGHTING MACHINE.

"The Russian army, far from falling out of the fighting lists, as Germany fondly hoped, is still a powerful and undefeated unit, and the determination and confidence of the troops, fortified by the increasing supply of munitions, have risen in proportion to the strain imposed upon them. In this momentous hour of stress his imperial majesty the Czar has taken command of his armies in the field. The enthusiasm created by his step will serve to concentrate all the energies of his officers and men on driving back the invaders and preventing them from reaching any vital portion of the empire."

"To sum up, we may fairly say that while the Germans have prevailed by sheer weight of guns and at immense cost to themselves, in forcing back the Russian front, nothing but barren territory and evacuated fortresses have been gained. Thus their strategy has clearly failed, and the victories they claim may only prove, as military history has so often demonstrated, to be defeats in disguise."

ITALY'S WORK TRULY REMARKABLE.

Dwelling on Italy's part in the war, Earl Kitchener said: "The achievements of the Italian army have been truly remarkable, and the manner in which heavy pieces were hauled into almost inaccessible positions on lofty mountain peaks, and in spite of great difficulties, evokes universal admiration."

"The Italian army now occupies strategic positions of first-rate importance. The gallant conduct of the infantry of the line in action has impressed upon their enemies the great military value of the Italian army, which the bold feats of Alpine troops, when scaling rugged mountain sides, were marvellous samples of successful enterprise."

ON THE GALLIOLI PENINSULA.

"On the Gallipoli peninsula, during operations in June, several Turkish trenches were captured and our own lines appreciably advanced and our positions consolidated."

"Considerable reinforcements having arrived, a surprise landing on a large scale at Sulva Bay was successfully accomplished on the 19th of August, without any serious opposition."

"At the same time an attack was launched by the British and New Zealand corps from the Anzac position, and a strong offensive was delivered from Cape Helles, in the direction of Krithia. In this latter action French troops played a prominent part and showed to high advantage their usual gallantry and fine fighting qualities."

"The attack from Anzac, after a series of hotly contested actions, was carried to the summit of Sari Bair and Chanak Bair, dominating positions in this area. Unfortunately, however, the disembarkation of troops in Sulva Bay was delayed to enable troops to support this attack. In the latter action French troops played a prominent part and showed to high advantage their usual gallantry and fine fighting qualities."

"The result was that the troops from Anzac were unable to retain their position on the crest of the hills, and after being repeatedly counter-attacked they were ordered to withdraw to positions lower down. These positions have been held by the enemy, and the line occupied by the Sulva Bay force, from a connected front of more than twelve miles."

"From the latter position a further attack on the Turkish entrenchments was delivered on the 21st, but after several hours of sharp fighting it was not found possible to gain the summit of the hills occupied by the enemy, and the troops being unsuitable for defense, the troops were withdrawn to their original position."

"Since then, comparative quiet has prevailed, and much needed rest has been given to our troops."

"In the course of these operations the gallantry and resourcefulness of the Australian and New Zealand troops frequently has formed the subject of eulogy in General Headquarters. It is not easy to appreciate, at their full value, the enormous difficulties and confidence of the troops, fortified by the increasing supply of munitions, have risen in proportion to the strain imposed upon them. In this momentous hour of stress his imperial majesty the Czar has taken command of his armies in the field. The enthusiasm created by his step will serve to concentrate all the energies of his officers and men on driving back the invaders and preventing them from reaching any vital portion of the empire."

"To sum up, we may fairly say that while the Germans have prevailed by sheer weight of guns and at immense cost to themselves, in forcing back the Russian front, nothing but barren territory and evacuated fortresses have been gained. Thus their strategy has clearly failed, and the victories they claim may only prove, as military history has so often demonstrated, to be defeats in disguise."

"The returns of the Registration Act, which will shortly be available, will, no doubt, give us the basis on which to calculate the resources of the country and to determine the number of men available for the army, after providing for the necessary services of the country, as well as those of our munition works."

"Whatever decision may be arrived at, in the full light of the facts before us, must undoubtedly be founded on military requirements for the prosecution of the war and the protection of our shores, and will be the result of an impartial inquiry as to how we can most worthily fulfill our national obligations."

"Although there has been a falling off in the number of recruits, I do not draw from this fact any conclusion unfavorable to the resolution and spirit of the country. On the contrary, I think now, as I always have thought, that the manner in which all classes have responded to the call of patriotism is magnificent, and I do not, for one instant, doubt that whatever sacrifices may prove necessary to bring this gigantic war to a successful conclusion will be cheerfully undertaken by our people."

"The canvass starts September 20. The families of our fighting men are hoping you'll stand by them!"

NEWFOUNDLAND'S ARMY OF PRIVATES

Two Thousand Men, Without an Officer, Sent to England--Private Patriotism Played Large Part in Organization

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—An army administered by a committee of business men and carried free by patriotic transportation companies, an army moreover without a single general, colonel or even lieutenant of its own appointing such is the contribution made in men by the little colony of Newfoundland to the cause of the empire. True, the army consists of but 2,000 men but considering the ratio of a very fair one to a little over 200,000 inhabitants.

Originally according to Hon. P. T. McGrath, a well-known newspaperman of the colony who is in the capital on departmental business, Newfoundland set out to raise but 500 men, so that its contribution of 2,000 goes far beyond its promise to the British War Office. It is probably the most democratic force which ever crossed the Atlantic, since it was dispatched to England for training without an officer of any kind, their appointment being left to the Imperial authorities. Two sons of W. D. Reid, the railway magnate of the colony, have gone as privates, and so did a stepson of the premier of Newfoundland, Sir Edward Morris. The contingent was trained in Scotland and is said to have been the only non-Scottish force ever allowed to garrison Edinburgh Castle.

The raising and financing of the contingent was left to a committee of representative business men to whom was turned over $1,000,000 borrowed from the Imperial treasury for the purpose. They are also administering the patriotic fund of $100,000 which was raised. The force will go eventually to Egypt and the Dardanelles. As the railway companies in Newfoundland carried both the soldiers and their effects free expenses were considerably reduced. Newfoundland has also contributed many hardy fishermen to the Canadian and Imperial navies and they are said to be of the very best class of sea-faring fighters. All this has been done in a country among whose inhabitants not twenty had ever heard of a shot fired in action previous to the outbreak of the present conflict. The war has not affected the colony to any extent. Its fisheries are prospering, the only cargo of fish lost being to a German vessel.

THE FIGHTING IN MESOPOTAMIA.

Of the fighting in Mesopotamia, Earl Kitchener said: "Reconnoissances have shown that the Euphrates was clear of Turks for a distance of sixty miles."

"Since this victory," he added, "there has been no further fighting on the Euphrates, Tigris or Karun rivers. Climatic conditions in this theatre of war have rendered the operations extremely arduous."

"As I have informed your lordships, some of the gunnery men we have prepared and equipped for the war are already in the field and others will quickly follow them. The response of the country to calls for recruits to form these armies has been little short of marvellous, but it must be borne in mind that the provision of men to maintain the forces in the field depends, to a great degree, on a large and continuous supply of recruits."

"The provision to keep up their strength during 1916 has caused us anxiety, which has been necessary and rendered more pressing by the recent falling-off in the numbers coming forward to enlist, although every effort has been made to obtain our requirements under the present system."

GREAT NEED FOR MORE RECRUITS.

"I am sure we all fully realize that the strength of the armies we are sending out must be fully maintained to the very end. To fulfill this purpose we shall require a large addition to the numbers of recruits joining. The problem of how to secure an adequate supply of men, and thus ensure the field force being kept up to its full strength, is engaging our close attention and will, I hope, very soon receive a practical solution."

"The returns of the Registration Act, which will shortly be available, will, no doubt, give us the basis on which to calculate the resources of the country and to determine the number of men available for the army, after providing for the necessary services of the country, as well as those of our munition works."

"Whatever decision may be arrived at, in the full light of the facts before us, must undoubtedly be founded on military requirements for the prosecution of the war and the protection of our shores, and will be the result of an impartial inquiry as to how we can most worthily fulfill our national obligations."

"Although there has been a falling off in the number of recruits, I do not draw from this fact any conclusion unfavorable to the resolution and spirit of the country. On the contrary, I think now, as I always have thought, that the manner in which all classes have responded to the call of patriotism is magnificent, and I do not, for one instant, doubt that whatever sacrifices may prove necessary to bring this gigantic war to a successful conclusion will be cheerfully undertaken by our people."

NEWFOUNDLAND'S ARMY OF PRIVATES

Two Thousand Men, Without an Officer, Sent to England--Private Patriotism Played Large Part in Organization

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—An army administered by a committee of business men and carried free by patriotic transportation companies, an army moreover without a single general, colonel or even lieutenant of its own appointing such is the contribution made in men by the little colony of Newfoundland to the cause of the empire. True, the army consists of but 2,000 men but considering the ratio of a very fair one to a little over 200,000 inhabitants.

Originally according to Hon. P. T. McGrath, a well-known newspaperman of the colony who is in the capital on departmental business, Newfoundland set out to raise but 500 men, so that its contribution of 2,000 goes far beyond its promise to the British War Office. It is probably the most democratic force which ever crossed the Atlantic, since it was dispatched to England for training without an officer of any kind, their appointment being left to the Imperial authorities. Two sons of W. D. Reid, the railway magnate of the colony, have gone as privates, and so did a stepson of the premier of Newfoundland, Sir Edward Morris. The contingent was trained in Scotland and is said to have been the only non-Scottish force ever allowed to garrison Edinburgh Castle.

The raising and financing of the contingent was left to a committee of representative business men to whom was turned over $1,000,000 borrowed from the Imperial treasury for the purpose. They are also administering the patriotic fund of $100,000 which was raised. The force will go eventually to Egypt and the Dardanelles. As the railway companies in Newfoundland carried both the soldiers and their effects free expenses were considerably reduced. Newfoundland has also contributed many hardy fishermen to the Canadian and Imperial navies and they are said to be of the very best class of sea-faring fighters. All this has been done in a country among whose inhabitants not twenty had ever heard of a shot fired in action previous to the outbreak of the present conflict. ### AN ENGLISH HOSPITAL TRAIN

The motor ambulance and the hospital train have proved themselves of immense value in the transport of wounded. The mortality among the severely wounded taken from the trenches would be distressingly high were it not for these modern conveyances which reduce to a minimum the shock and jar of movement so fatal to wounded men whose life hangs by a hair.

The British Red Cross, the richest and best equipped of all Red Cross societies, maintains several of these hospital trains. Their newest train has lately been on exhibition at Liverpool Street Station, London. The sum of $7,000 was realized by an admission price of sixpence. The train is made up of fifteen coaches and two luggage vans and has accommodation for 800 patients. The ward carriages have eighteen berths on each side, arranged in three tiers. The centre tier can be dropped down to form a comfortable sofa for patients who are able to sit up. All the carriages are lighted by electricity and provided with large electric fans. The train is a vestibuled train, a dust preventing device of the utmost sanitary importance.

There are an emergency operating room and a sterilising department and dispensary. Several small compartments with three berths each, are provided for officers and serious cases. The kitchens are fitted with coal ranges, aluminum cauldrons and other utensils, refrigerators and dressers arranged very ingeniously for the saving of space. There are also rooms for the storage of supplies, dining rooms for the medical officers, nurses and orderlies, cupboards for the soldiers' kits, wards for infectious diseases, in fact everything necessary to a well appointed hospital.

In cases where the firing line is near a railway, these trains can be run almost up to the trenches. In other cases for

ASQUITH TELLS OF WAR EXPENSES

Some $150,000,000 a Week Estimate for Future

SPEECH IN COMMONS

Not Far Short of 3,000,000 Men Have Enlisted For Army and Navy—Only Labor Now Needed to Complete Munitions Work

London, Sept. 15.—In his speech in the House of Commons, in which he asked for a further vote of $1,250,000,000, making $6,210,000,000 to date, Premier Asquith said that nearly 8,000,000 men had enlisted.

The growing expenditures for the war were emphasized by the premier, who said the average daily cost of the war from April 1 to the end of June was $23,000,000. Thus the total for this period is $2,880,000,000. There has been $1,250,000,000 in round figures to the Bank of England, $200,000,000 has been lent to foreign governments and $28,000,000 lent to the dominions.

Comparing actual expenditures since the last vote of credit with estimates, Mr. Asquith said there had been some abnormal items to disclose which would not be in the public interest, but at the same time he said that these were expenditures incurred for the purpose of financing necessary operations. Part of this amount was to be repaid in the course of a few months, and the remainder represented advances for future expenditures.

$25,000,000 Weekly.

Mr. Asquith estimated the weekly gross expenditure henceforth would not exceed $25,000,000. It was his opinion that the new vote would carry the country through to the third week of November.

These figures throw some light, in many terms, on the contribution we are making to the war," he continued. "I do not wish to say even that we are doing all we can, and all we ought, but at the same time I am constantly being made aware of whatever intention, but with the most mischievous effect, to belittle and discourage our efforts. I give some comparisons between peace and war figures. 3,000,000 Since War Began.

"Since the outbreak of the war, it will be found, an aggregate of not far short of 8,000,000 men have enlisted in the army and navy. Recruiting, on the whole, has kept up well, but I regret to say, in the last few weeks, has been falling off."

The Munitions Department.

Regarding the work of the munitions department, Premier Asquith said all that was necessary to complete this great and necessary task was an adequate supply of labor, unskilled quite as much as skilled. Recruiting, on the whole, has kept up well, but I regret to say, in the last few weeks, has been falling off."

The Situation in France.

Reviewing the military situation, Mr. Asquith stated that in France and Flanders the position of the British troops had been strengthened everywhere by large reinforcements of men and munitions, and that there had been a considerable extension of lines taken over from the French.

In the Dardanelles, he continued, the British had made substantial gains, though they had not succeeded in dislodging the Turks from the crest of the hills. The British now held a front of more than twenty miles.

In the east, Mr. Asquith said, the Russian army remains unbroken. He asserted that the superiority of the German was only in artillery and that their objects were still far out of reach.

"They succeeded in forcing back the line of our gallant ally and taking several forts," he said, "but all accounts show that the Russian retreat is being conducted in masterly fashion and that the Russian army is still unbroken."

"The assumption of supreme command by the Czar is the most significant proof that could be given to the unalterable determination, from highest to lowest, of the Russian people."

Loans to Allies.

Mr. Asquith said that the total of Britain's loans to other belligerents was $2,940,000,000.

He referred to the high total of casualties, and said that the proportion of those who recovered from wounds was large.

"This is a war of mechanism, organization, endurance," he continued. "Victory seems likely to incline to the side that can arm itself best and stay longest. That is what we mean to do."

OUR BUSINESS IS TO DEAL WITH THE PRESENT AND FORECAST AND PROVIDE FOR THE FUTURE.

He said, "AND IT MUST BE THE LEGITIMATE REQUIREMENTS AND HOPES OF OUR ALLIES, AND WE HAVE TO DISCHARGE THE BURDEN IMPOSED UPON A FAMILY OF FREE PEOPLE BY OUR OWN SENSE OF RESPONSIBILITY AND OUR STANDARD OF DUTY AND SACRIFICE."

"THE SITUATION IS A TESTING ONE. A survey of the past year calls for satisfaction at the great efforts and sacrifices made, and for regret that some mistakes and miscalculations have been made."

"IT WAS THE IMPERIOUS CALL OF DUTY WHICH FORCED US TO VINDICATE OUR NATIONAL HONOR AND ENLIST OUR WHOLE STRENGTH IN THE SACRED CAUSE OF FREEDOM. I HAVE NO DOUBT EITHER OF THE WISDOM OF OUR CHOICE OR OF ITS ULTIMATE TRIUMPH ON THE STRICKEN FIELD."

One thing, Mr. Asquith opposed was "the sinister spirit of domestic strife."

Must All Do Our Duty.

"WE MUST ALL BE READY TO GIVE AND TAKE AND TAKE AND GIVE," HE SAID, "AND IT MUST NOT BE SAID THAT IN THE GREATEST MOMENT OF OUR HISTORY OUR ARM WAS SHORT OF ITS STRENGTH BY ANY FAILURE"

MR. HOPPER REPLIES TO COMMISSIONER POTTS

St. John, N. B., Sept. 15th, 1915.

To the Editor of the Times.

Sir,—Commissioner Potts in his letter published in your paper on September 14 is misleading the public.

He states that the railway company's charter provides that the railway would pave between the rails and eighteen inches on each side. The company's charter does not call upon it to do any paving whatever.

By Acts of the Assembly 50 Victoria, Chapter 28, Section 10 reading as follows:—

"The company shall be bound to put the streets and highways between or upon which any of their works shall be executed, in as good a state of repair as they were previous to the commencement of such works, and to maintain in like good condition any portion of the said streets and highways situated for the space of one calendar month; and whenever a double track may be laid in any street or highway that does not exceed sixty feet in width the said company shall maintain and keep in good order and complete repair at all times, all such portions of said streets and highways between the outer edge of the gutters at the side of such streets and highways; and whenever a single track or level is laid in any such streets or highways, or such streets or highways shall be more than sixty feet in width, the said company shall maintain and keep in good order and complete repair at all times all that portion of such streets or highways on the track between the rails and to a distance of eighteen inches outside of said rails."

By Act of the Assembly 6 Edward 7 Section 6:

"It shall be lawful for The Saint John Street Railway Company to agree with the City of Saint John to pay to the said city an annual sum to be agreed upon from time to time, as a consideration for the city taking care of, repairing or paving the streets through or along which the rails of the said company may hereafter be laid and the removal of snow, ice, or other obstructions from the streets and sidewalks, and in case such agreement is made from time to time, while the same lasts and its terms are performed by the said company, the said company shall be relieved from all liability in respect to the care of such streets or any of them, or the removal therefrom of the leveling thereon of ice or snow."

The above agreement was entered into bearing date the first day of April, A. D. 1908, between The Saint John Street Railway Company and the City of Saint John for a period of ten years, and under this agreement the company is now paying the city $14,400 per annum to repair between the rails eighteen inches outside the rails and also to remove the same.

During the present year practically no work has been done between the rails or alongside the rails on any part of the city. In this connection I would call the attention of the public to the unapproved "paving" of this city.

Commissioner Potts states that under the old system of city government of which formerly he was a member, the dumped loads of sand, gravel, etc., alongside the railway station which was placed in such a way as to be available to vehicle and other traffic.

This is incorrect. More broken stone was placed upon the street along the track section under the old system than has ever been done under commission form of government, and the stone that was so broken was not done by rail.

The only case we know of where sand or gravel was dumped alongside of the street was during the very first of summer when the very first of sand was placed between the rails and alongside in the Marsh road from Cooper's Corner to the One Mile House and on Douglas avenue where recently the commissioner dumped loads of rubbish, sand, gravel and cobble stones to a depth of from nine to twelve inches.

In regard to Douglas avenue, last fall the commissioner of water and sewerage dug a trench to lay new water mains along the street, and the trench was opened up as far as the northern rail on the completion of this work the trench was filled in but not the commissioner of public works that nothing was done.

Without any notice to the railway company the commissioner of public works started to put on material and build up the road. After this was done and the material on each side of the tracks was from three to four inches higher than the rails, the commissioner put a large roller over this material, which naturally caused the old trench to settle which necessitated the street railway raising some of their joints or discontinuing running.

No material of any kind was placed between the rails and on the western end of Douglas avenue, the tracks will simply be a gutter for the street and this will in the event of a thaw and then freezing, such as constantly occurs, our cars will be unable to operate over this section.

Regarding the tie-up of the southern track on Main street where Commissioner Potts is changing the grade and charter reads 50 Victoria, Chapter 28 Section 9, as follows:—

"The said company in the construction of the said railway track or tracks shall from time to time conform to the grade of the various streets or highways through which said tracks or any of them shall run, and shall not change or alter such grades without the consent of the common council, the city council of the city of Portland and the council of the Municipality of the City and County of Saint John within their respective jurisdictions."

You will note the words "in the construction of the said railway" which we contend does not mean that we are called upon to raise our rails when they are once laid to grade and kept to grade as given us.

Under our agreement with the city, the city is required to repair between the rails and eighteen inches on each side.

As Commissioner Potts is repairing the roadway, it was certainly the duty of his department to remove the old material between the rails and eighteen inches on each side and not to do any work.

He made no attempt whatever to do this work but without notice, and in the middle of the night, tore up our rails and laid concrete.

In Commissioner Potts' letter he states that the company whispered to the "Globe" I might say that there is more than a whisper on the streets that Commissioner Potts' sole action in treating the company's tracks and laying concrete was to try and place the blame on the Saint John Railway Company for work not being done in repairing Main street from Douglas to Cooper's Corner as promised by him, while the true reason is that the commissioner of public works has not sufficient money left even to pay his own salary and the salaries of the permanent employees attached to his department to the end of the year.

Yours truly,
H. M. HOPPER.

Another Letter.
Sept. 15th, 1915.

F. L. Potts, Esq.,
Commissioner of Public Works,
St. John, N. B.

Dear Sir:—

I this day have your letter dated the 11th, which was mailed on September 11th.

The company cannot consent to provide the foundation for the central portion of your street work in Main street. The matter involved in your letter is in junction proceedings.

With all deference, we submit, for your consideration, that our engineer reports the changes of grade on your plan are not only unnecessary, but do not improve traffic conditions, and in some cases are distinctly disadvantageous.

If you consider that this question is one that is open to argument, and I believe the company's position, to be so clear that his letter can be said against it, we are quite willing to have you proceed with the work, as in the case of Dock street and Main street; that is, digging up the tracks, laying your foundation, when we will relay the tracks at the new grade established by you after you have prepared the necessary foundation for your road at the new grade, then we will lay whatever part of the cost of this work (if any) that agreement with the city should fall on the company.

In this way, you can proceed with your work under precisely the same conditions as the work was done in Dock street and Main street, and you will have in addition the assurance that the city will receive from the company whatever proportion of the expense the court considers the company liable for.

We feel very clearly that the company is not liable for any portion of this expense, but since you seem to have the opposite opinion, we suggest the above method of settling the matter without putting the public to the inconvenience of the street being closed by anything but a patched street.

We wish to protest very strongly against the use of concrete as a paving material in the track section, although we do not admit this, but we would point out to you that by so doing, as is often the case, it becomes necessary to open the street to water, sewerage or gas purposes, or to any other purpose, and the result would be a patched street where the work could not be satisfactory.

We have been making enquiries and find that in other cities where the track section is being laid in concrete, the result is that the street is closed for a long period of time, and the public is inconvenienced.

We do not consider that it is good policy, either from the standpoint of the city, the people using the streets, the travelling public or The Saint John Railway Co., as the result must be in the end unsatisfactory to all.

THE SAINT JOHN RAILWAY CO.,
H. M. HOPPER,
General Manager.

THE 26TH TO FRANCE?

A cablegram was received in St. John last night by a near relative of one of the officers of the 26th battalion stating that the New Brunswick battalion was crossing to France.

Sergeant Grogory, of the 25th, has received word from his son, who was wounded in the second engagement of the Marne, that he has about recovered and after a trip in Scotland will take his place on the fighting line.

Lieutenant-Colonel Armstrong states that a few good men may be enlisted in the 3rd Garrison Artillery to be drafted as demand may be made to overseas units. This should be an opportunity for many a St. John young man who would get his first military training in his own home town.

Albert, N. B., Sept. 15.—Besides the seven men already reported as having enlisted, another has volunteered in the field Gannon, principal of the school at the school.

Nine young men enlisted yesterday in the recruiting at the Charlotte county exhibition in St. Stephen.

THIS IS DANGER TIME FOR FIRE IN THE HOMES

Hints to Household of Special Application During September and October

(From Commission of Conservation)

The season is fast approaching when cool evenings will demand the starting of fires in our homes. September and October have become known to firemen as the months when chimneys and flues cause the most trouble.

The following suggestions of a practical nature, faithfully followed, will do much to prevent damage to property and loss of life.

Stoves—Place a metal stove-board on the wood floor under the stove, and extending at least twelve inches in front of the stove. Protect all walls and partitions within two feet of any stove with a metal shield, leaving an air-space between the shield and the wall or partition. Do not hang clothes too near the stove or stove-pipe.

Pipes—See that the lengths of stove-pipe are well fitted together, free from rust holes and parted seams, free from holes and fitted perfectly into the chimney. Stove-pipes passing through partitions, walls, floors, attics and roofs are dangerous at best. Where these must pass through partitions, walls or floors, use a large, ventilated double flue pipe. You should examine the stove-pipes in the attic. They may come apart or rust. Pluff and spider webs are likely to gather on and around them, to be set on fire when you least expect it.

Chimneys—Chimneys should be built from the ground up, and never rest on wood supports. The settling of woodwork will cause cracks in the chimney. Nor should the chimney walls be used to support joists or other woodwork. Soft brick and poor mortar are not responsible for defects in the chimney.

Use a good quality of brick and cement mortar. Chimney walls should be at least eight inches thick, the flue of ample size and lined with fire clay or terra cotta. Never stuff up the flue holes with rags or paper, nor cover them with anything but a metal stock. Chimneys should be cleared frequently.

Attics—These should never be placed in wooden receptacles or bins, on wood floors or against wood partitions, walls, ceilings, or other woodwork.

Use metal receptacles only, and dump ashes away from all buildings.

Care—These matters are technical, but very simple and merely call for ordinary care. You cannot afford to be careless when the lives of your loved ones, and the property of yourself and neighbors are at stake. Let "Care and Caution" be the watchword and in this way assist in reducing Canada's enormous fire loss.

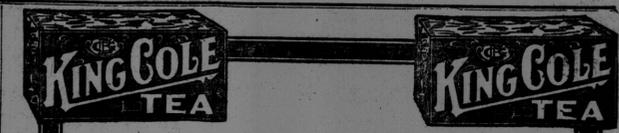

When the cost of tea at the gardens goes up beyond a previous limit, the packet tea merchants must raise prices to the consumer or lower their quality. The latter is often done by placing dust and foreign matter in the tea. Examine a packet of "SALADA" and see how free from dust it is compared with other teas.

ST. JOHN MAN IS THE FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT

At the final session of the Federal Directors' Association, yesterday, in the afternoon in the Dufferin sample rooms, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, F. E. Tuttle, Moncton; first vice-president, N. Lewis Brennan, St. John; second vice-president, A. B. Lauder, Hillsboro; secretary-treasurer, W. S. Chapman, Baie Verte; chaplain and editor, Mayor F. W. Wallace, Sussex; chaplain, Mrs. F. W. Wallace, Sussex; sergeant-at-arms, J. A. Le Couffe, Dalhousie.

The time and place of next meeting will be left to the president and secretary. A membership committee was appointed, consisting of F. W. Wallace, N. L. Brennan and A. B. Lauder.

Sales agents for Canada: Harold F. Ritchie & Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont. She made suitable reply.

Superlative Quality plus the money-back guarantee

WHEN KING COLE TEA first issued its protective guarantee to the purchaser, three years ago, offering to refund the whole of the purchase money for any package of KING COLE returned, there was a very good reason for this radical departure from usual sales methods. We greatly desired a very general trial of KING COLE TEA. Our faith in its quality was unbounded, but we knew the constant care given to its preparation, but we realized the possible doubt the public might have of a TEA then comparatively new, and so we decided to assume the risk of every trial, and pay back the full purchase price of every package of KING COLE that failed to please. No stronger surety of our good faith could be offered, and we felt confident because of the quality of KING COLE TEA that practically every trial would bring us a permanent customer.

Things have turned out just as we expected. Not one package has been returned. We have never had a request for "Money Back"—we have never heard of a complaint of "King Cole" quality, while "King Cole" sales have been growing steadily larger year by year.

Only exceptional quality could have made such a record, and to-day with more confidence than ever, we invite you to give this tea a test.

The "Money Back" offer is still open; every package is sold on that understanding. What better assurance of Tea value could you have, and what better encouragement to buy your first package of KING COLE TEA?

NO DEVELOPMENTS FOR TWO WEEKS, SAYS COUNT VON BERNSTORFF

New York, Sept. 15.—There will be no developments in the situation as regards the United States and Germany for at least two weeks, Count von Bernstorff said to newspaper men today in reply to a question.

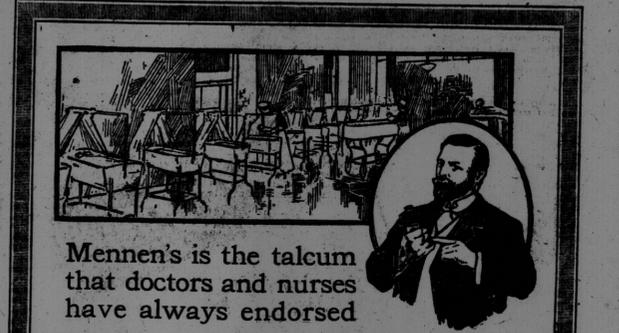

to present for a statement on his arrival here from Washington.

"You know," he said, "that I never see or talk to newspaper men. Anyhow, I will state this much. There will be no developments in the situation on which you seek light for at least two weeks. The negotiations are now going on and it will take at least a fortnight for anything definite to be stated."

Another French Loan.

Paris, Sept. 15.—Alexander Ribot, the French minister of finance, announced to the appropriation committee of the chamber of deputies today that the government would soon issue a large loan.

Mennen's is the talcum that doctors and nurses have always endorsed

FOR more than thirty-five years Mennen's Borated has been the standard of purity and safety in a talcum powder. Its purity, fineness of texture and correct medicinal properties have merited the endorsement of thousands of doctors, mothers and nurses.

The extreme smoothness of Mennen's is the result of applying the special Mennen process to only the finest talc. All impurities are eliminated. The finished product is impalpably fine and of unvarying quality.

For hives, rash, prickly heat, chafing and all the irritations to which the sensitive skin of your baby is subject, use Mennen's. Rub it in lightly, and notice how promptly the healing, soothing touch of Mennen's brings relief.

Mennen's Talcum can now be obtained in a variety of tins and perfumes, all made according to the famous Mennen formula, as follows: Borated, Violet, Sen Yang, Naranaga (a rich cream color) Fish Tint (not a rouge, but a delicate pink talcum), and Talcum for Men. For sale by more than 20,000 dealers. Send 5c for sample of any one variety, or 25c for samples of five.

PROBLEMS WHICH RUSSIA FACES

Political Factions Wrestle With Difficult Situation NO SOLUTION IN SIGHT

Though Definite Arrangement of Domestic Position is Expected to be Reached During Present Week

Petrograd, Sept. 16.—Until Russia's domestic problem is solved one way or the other, it will in point of public interest continue to take precedence of all other aspects of the war. The position of some kind is expected to be reached in the course of the present week, but the situation is by no means an easy one to handle.

It is contended by advocates of extensive changes that the majority of the cabinet, including Controller M. Seretoff and Minister of the Interior, Prince Shcherbatoff, is on their side. Even this section of the ministry is not yet, however, prepared to accept the labor programme in its entirety, and it also points out that several of the main demands made by the Duma majority are already undergoing fulfillment. Thus a commencement has been made with the replacement of governors and the officials of local administration who were obnoxious to public sentiment.

What is said to be a minority of the cabinet seems to differ from the other section, not so much on the question of making specific concessions to popular feeling as on the question of the policy to be played by the Duma in carrying them into effect. This element in the ministry, which has its chief spokesman, M. Gorenyski, fears the interests of the empire may suffer through outspoken speeches at present being delivered from the rostrum of the representative chamber, and is consequently in favor of suspending the proceedings of that body. Above all, it seems to fear that the Duma may attempt to defend the bill that the present constitutional functions of the executive.

OBLIGATIONS ON ALL WHO STAY AT HOME

Two Important Points Featured in Speech by Hon. George P. Graham

(Halifax Chronicle)

In a speech at the directors' luncheon at the Toronto Exhibition the other day, Hon. George P. Graham, ex-minister of railways, dwelt upon two points touching the responsibilities of Canadians who remain at home. His line of thought was emphasized first of all that it was the duty of those of us who cannot fight for service abroad to see that the dependents of the men who go to the front are properly cared for. This is an obligation which must, in honor fall, it should be, as Mr. Graham says, "part of our piety and our conscience to see that not one of these folks for any good thing Mr. Graham then made a special appeal to the business men and more particularly to those who are engaged in manufacturing, which, we trust will be fruitful."

"Every man at home should lift and lift he feels it. We must not fall down at the point where we ought to stand up. Manufacturers should strive to keep money and are compelled by the Bank Act to safeguard it. But the men at the front are keeping the bullets singing and the whistles blowing and the bells ringing. The next few months will probably decide whether civilization, freedom and democracy are to triumph or fall, and every man must do his part to ensure the triumph of the right." (Applause.)

Mr. Graham did not ignore the fact that the supreme task before us at this time is to win the war and that to achieve the triumph of the cause of humanity we must be prepared to throw the last ounce of our strength into the balance. We cannot urge "business as usual" in the strict sense of the phrase, but every effort should be made to keep the wheels of industry turning; bankers and manufacturers should co-operate to keep the whistles blowing and the bells ringing.

THRILLING LIFE OF AMBULANCE DRIVER

Harvard Man Writes of Flying Along Streets With Shells Chipping Pavements

Harold B. Willis, Harvard '13, who lives in Cambridge, but has been in France with the American Ambulance Corps for several months, has sent to the Boston Globe another letter in which he tells some exceptionally interesting experiences and observations in his work among the injured. He says:

"Sleep is a difficult proposition these days, for the 'Boches' are shelling the town. The gun goes off, bang, bang, at our right, whistle (deverhead) and boom, boom, in the town at our left. Our safety lies in being of range. Shells land in right or wrong places, and yesterday 81 were killed and 82 wounded within a couple of blocks.

"I have visited a battery of heavy howitzers recently, which were 'troop' while we were there. There were a number of dead Germans about who cannot be buried until identification papers are taken by the proper authorities—same as with French dead. They were opening and lobulating the effects found on the bodies.

"A clerk made a memorandum of money found, etc. The average sum is $100.00. I have seen a pocket book with two francs (40 cents). All had pocket knives, photos of themselves in groups, with their sweethearts or wives and children. They had little correspondence.

REVISION OF SYSTEM OF CITY LICENSES IN ST. JOHN POSSIBILITY

Outcome of Petition From Moving Picture Houses on Matter of Recent Carnival Tax

The revision of the entire system of city licenses is a possibility, according to Mayor Frink. A petition signed by citizens interested in moving picture theatres has been presented at city hall, protesting against the low license fee charged for traveling amusement attractions, instancing the recent carnival shows which paid $10 a day while here. His Worship said that he had made some inquiries regarding amusement licenses charged in other cities and will continue his investigations to ascertain what are the average city charges. He has been informed that Montreal picture houses pay $200 per annum, in addition to a city tax of one cent on each ticket. In Ottawa the tax also is $200.

If he finds that the charges in St. John show a great discrepancy as compared with those in other places, the mayor may move for a revision of the entire schedule.

WELL DONE, McADAM

Much credit is due the ladies of McAdam for success in work carried on in support of the various funds collected and forwarded from that place. A committee consisting of Mrs. Henri, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Budd, Mrs. Fisher and Miss Annie Miller, was untiring in efforts towards securing for the children of the town, by basket socials and otherwise. Mrs. Allan Budd alone, by the sale of tickets for a beautiful pillow cushion made by herself, contributed $12. Much credit is also due citizens of St. Croix for their liberal contributions.

The contributions to the various funds were as follows:

The following letter speaks for itself: Ottawa, 30th August, 1915.

Dear Sir:

I beg to acknowledge and thank you for your letter of 27th inst., enclosing check for $1,000 the donation of the city of McAdam for the purchase of a machine gun for the 20th Battalion of the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

To provide the many gifts of machine guns the public are making, a large order has been placed and, upon delivery, which is expected in November, we will purchase and issue it as a gift of the city of McAdam to the 20th Battalion, now overseas. This will, however, be subject to military necessity which may arise from time to time.

Please convey to the citizens of McAdam, and accept for yourself, the grateful thanks of the government for this generous and patriotic donation.

Believe me, Yours faithfully,
(Sgt.) JAMES A. LOUGHERD,
Acting Minister.

WATCH AND ADDRESS AS HE LEAVES FOR WAR

Presentation to Elmore Eldridge of Sugar Refinery Staff—Some Colleagues Precede, Others Follow

Elmore Eldridge of the electrical department of the Atlantic Sugar Refinery, who will leave this evening to join the 64th, was honored by his associates at noon today when they presented to him a handsome gold wrist-watch and a congratulatory address. The address read, in part, as follows:

"Having heard that you have joined the overseas forces and are soon to leave us to go across the water, we want to take this opportunity to tell you that, although it is with regret we hear you are going, at the same time we are glad that as a co-worker with us in the sugar refinery, you have heard the call of your country."

"We want you to accept the gift we hand you herewith as a slight token of the esteem in which you are held by us. Of course you know that, without any doubt, we will all meet you over in France in due time, perhaps we will get there before you, although you never had the reputation of being slow, in any way."

Several men from the sugar refinery staff have joined the colors already, and a large number are planning to do so next week.

ROBICHAUD ADMITTED THAT WHAT HAD BEEN DONE WAS NOT RIGHT

The following is an extract from the evidence of M. J. Robichaud, M.L.A., before the Chandler Commission at Bathurst, under cross-examination by P. J. Veniot:

Regarding the work on the Lanquet road, Foreman John J. Robichaud was asked if Clement Lontaigne worked there and he said no, but he had worked on that road the year before, so Martin said to put his name down. Is that right?

Yes, Road Commissioner John A. Duguay had told me that he had forgotten to put in Clement Lontaigne's name for work done on the Lanquet road the previous year. I knew that the amount was due this man and took this way of paying him what was owed him.

Was it right for you to swear John J. Robichaud to the correctness of this account, when you both knew that this had been done?

No, it was not right.

Concerning the evidence the Bathurst Northern Light says:

"The evidence of the two members of the legislature, who were named in the charges preferred by Mr. Veniot is probably the most important that the commission has listened to and cannot fail to have great weight in the forming of his judgment. It is expected that his findings will be made public at an early date, and no doubt the government will then take such action as seems to fit the case."

The Micawbers

Like Dicken's quaint character, too many business men are prone to sit around and "wait for something to turn up."

And when it does it not infrequently has the shape and semblance of bankruptcy proceedings.

Live business men MAKE things turn up.

They assert their right to thrive, and do.

They recognize the value of newspaper advertising.

They employ it as an effective weapon and grow and prosper.

HUNTING SEASON NOW ON; SHOULD BE A GOOD ONE

Many Sportsmen Away on the Opening Day—First Moose and Deer Meat in Market

The opening of the big game season, which occurred yesterday, offers prospects of excellent sport for those who wish to seek the great moose in his native haunts. From every part of the province the reports indicate a plentiful supply of big game, and there will be more than enough to go around.

The number of local applicants for licenses so far has been large, pretty well up to the usual mark, but the local issuer of licenses has not yet had a single application from a non-resident sportsman. Of course it is early yet, as most of the visitors prefer to come somewhat later in the season when the colder weather has cleared the leaves from the trees and made the woods more attractive for hunting. At the same time the prospects for a large number of visiting sportsmen are reported as not being good.

Speaking of the outlook for the season, G. Simibaldi of Simibaldi and Ogden Smith, said that they had received some inquiries from former patrons, but the correspondence did not indicate that there would be a large number of visitors. All sorts of stories, he said, were being circulated in the States, of a nature calculated to keep the sportsmen at home. Some people have written to us asking if passports are necessary, as they have been told they are. Others have been told of difficulties which must be faced in entering Canada in wintertime, and of greater difficulty in getting out again. There are so many stories of this kind that the men are afraid that there will be so much red tape about a visit to the provinces that they are unwilling to undertake the trip. Of course there are a large number of German-Americans who used to come here who will not venture to enter Canada at all, and it is just as well; we get along better without them.

Promptly on the opening of the city market today moose and deer meat was on sale, two carcasses of each having been received and more was arriving during the day. One of the dealers coming from the provinces, saying that while it was in good order, it was not so fat or so good as the moose and deer meat which was usually represented the best, as they were usually the same specimens which had ventured out around the settlements and had fattened themselves on garden truck and other crops.

Every outgoing train yesterday carried sportsmen, headed in the woods either for big game or birds.

CONCERNING NEW FALL CLOTHES FOR MEN

Our 26 years' old record of serving Saint John men with satisfactory clothing can be accepted as a guarantee that we will be able to continue this satisfactory service during our 27th fall and winter season.

No concern could go on for 26 years selling more clothing than any other store—as we have done—unless there was a good reason for it.

There is a good reason—the best clothing for the money is the reason.

In our matchless variety of new styles you'll find everything that's worth while and nothing that isn't.

The use of standard dyed wools, the colors of which are guaranteed, is a distinguishing feature of the clothing this fall. In view of the scarcity of dye-stuffs and the consequent difficulty of procuring fast color fabrics this guaranteed color feature of our clothing should be a very important consideration with men who want the best of everything.

We hope you will satisfy yourself on these points of advantage by investigating.

Glad to show you at any time.
