Conference Meets Difficulty In Question of Guarantees
3 KILLED IN COLLISION. BOSTON GRASH

SERIOUS SITUATION FOLLOWS DEMAND OF THE BANKERS

MacDonald Calls Confederates Into Halted Consultation.
£40,000,000 LOAN
Plan Calls for This Assistance to Germany to Finance Scheme.

BY LLOYD ALLEN (United Press Staff Cor.)
London, July 22.—Leaders of the Allied conference, attempting to agree on a plan for application of the experts' report to solve the German reparations question, met hurriedly in Downing street today to discuss the serious situation which has arisen following a demand for better guarantees to safeguard the proposed loan to Germany.
News that the bankers did not consider sufficient the guarantees proposed by the committees of the conference caused consternation. Prime Minister MacDonald immediately got in touch with Premier Herriot of France, Premier Theunis of Belgium, and the Italian Minister of Finance, de Stefani, who heads his country's delegation to the conference, and the four went into session at No. 10 Downing street at 10 a. m.

British Cabinet Meets
The meeting of the "Big Five" at 10 Downing street, was informal and no communiqué was issued.
Immediately the allied statesmen had departed, the British cabinet met hastily at the Prime Minister's residence and it was understood the reported hitch in the conference was discussed.
Up to Bankers.
London, July 22.—(Canadian Press)—Delegates to the inter-allied conference called for the purpose of putting the reparations experts' report into execution today were busily engaged in determining the attitude of the financiers who will be called upon to advance a loan of £40,000,000 to Germany with which to finance the plan. Whether the safeguards that will surround this loan are sufficient, only the bankers themselves will be able to judge.
While no one in authority would attempt a prophecy as to the attitude of the great bankers, it is noted on all sides that the experts' report must stand or fall on the loan. Meanwhile, the atmosphere about the conference continues to be one of "hopeless anxiety," although there is a note of pessimism among certain elements.

The King's Greeting.
London, July 22.—King George, in receiving Premier Herriot of France, M. Thomsen of Belgium, and M. Theunis of Belgium, yesterday expressed an earnest hope that the allied conference on reparations would succeed. The King greeted the delegates in a body, but some of them will be received daily and the King will get in personal touch with as many of them as time will permit.
Says Hitch Serious.
The Daily Telegraph today declares that a serious hitch has occurred in the conference, due especially to the U. S. bankers being disinclined to guarantee the loan on the strength of guarantees embodied in the protocol framed last Saturday.
The Telegraph's diplomatic expert states that Premier MacDonald communicated the facts regarding the financial obstacle to the chief delegates yesterday who received the communication with keen interest and some feeling. This was the situation, it is said, which led to a prolonged meeting late in the afternoon of financial delegates with Sir Montague Norman, Governor of the Bank of England, and Thomas Lamont, representing the firm of J. P. Morgan & Company of New York.
The banks according to the Telegraph regard the political safeguard embodied in the mere association of a U. S. citizen with the reparations commission as "inadequate protection to the lenders," inasmuch as, in their opinion, the arrangement does not altogether insure an impartial majority on that body. If the protocol, it is said which they regard as ambiguous and

Groom Handcuffs Himself to Newly Acquired Bride

Baltimore, July 22.—Warned that practical jokers had planned to kidnap his bride, Charles F. Rasch, aged 27, North Kenwood Avenue, departed on his honeymoon yesterday to her.
Rasch married Miss Barbara Haubert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Haubert. The ceremony was performed at St. James Catholic church.
Entering a taxi to return to the bride's home, Rasch slipped a pair of handcuffs on his left wrist and the right wrist of his bride. When they left the house to take the Philadelphia boat on their way to Wildwood, N. J., the couple again were handcuffed together.

RECORD ENTRY FOR RACES AT CAPITAL

Expectation is Some of Classes Will Be Run in Two Sections.
Frederick, July 22.—Something new in harness racing, in the Maritime Provinces, is expected to be inaugurated at the Maine and New Brunswick circuit meeting, which opens here tomorrow. In the 216 class, the first race on the opening day's programme tomorrow, 21 horses are entered and the expectation is that that event will have to be raced either in two divisions, or else on an elimination plan such as has been adopted on the Grand Circuit. The other two events tomorrow—the junior free-for-all and the 216 class—have seven and 18 entries respectively.
The 222 trot and pace on Thursday also has a large entry list, there being 18 entered. Withdrawals may cut that class down so that all that remain can be started. The other races on Thursday also have good entry lists, the free-for-all having five, the 216 class ten and the 225 trot, nine.

200 PASSENGERS SAFELY CARED FOR

Steamer Develops Engine Trouble in Lake Ontario—Towed to Landing.
Lewiston, N. Y., July 22.—Two hundred passengers of the steamer Chippawa were transferred in the middle of Lake Ontario last evening to a sister ship, the Cayuga, after the Chippawa developed engine trouble and had drifted helpless for more than an hour. The Chippawa left Toronto about 5 p. m.
Four miles out trouble developed. Temporary repairs were made and the steamer proceeded slowly toward the U. S. shore. The temporary rig failed to hold and in mid-lake the engine went to dead.
Signals were sent out by wireless without response from either shore. The Cayuga on her return to Toronto came in sight shortly after 7 o'clock.
The lake was calm and the side-wheelers were brought side by side after half an hour maneuvering.
The passengers were transferred to the Cayuga, but their baggage was left on board the disabled ship and the two steamers, lashed together, steamed slowly toward the mouth of the Niagara river.
The lake continued calm and the captain had no difficulty in making the narrow entrance of the river at Niagara-on-the-Lake.
The passengers of the Chippawa, due at Lewiston at 7 p. m., arrived four hours late and were taken on special cars to Niagara Falls.

COUNSEL WILL NOT ASK FREEDOM FOR LOEB AND LEOPOLD

Defence Attorneys Would See Them "Safely Incarcerated for Life."

HEARING TOMORROW

Plea of Guilty Admits Sanity of Youths, Says State Lawyer.
Chicago, July 22.—The fate of Richard Loeb and Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., kidnapers and slayers of 13-year-old Robert Franks, was placed in the hands of one man, John R. Caverly, chief justice of the criminal court of Cook county, yesterday, when they pleaded guilty. Apparently the only question remaining to be decided is whether they shall hang or be imprisoned for a double crime without parallel in this jurisdiction.
Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, reiterated his intention of asking the death penalty for the two college students.
Clarence S. Darrow and Benjamin Bachrach, attorneys for the defense, announced in court "safely incarcerated for life."
Courtroom Surprised.
"We have had no intention of trying to restore them to society," explained Mr. Darrow. "This is answered a question which had been widely discussed since the killing—whether the combined wealth of the two of the oldest and richest families of Chicago, estimated to have resources of more than $10,000,000, would be used to try to buy their freedom."

LAW STUDENT IS PUT UNDER ARREST

Is Charged in Connection With Case of Hochelaga Bank Bandits.
Montreal, July 22.—Casimir Rosen, who, according to the evidence produced at the recent trial of Tony Frank, Frank Gambino, Mike Valentino, Louis Morel, Leo Davis and Giuseppe Seratini, bandits convicted in the Hochelaga Bank collection car hold-up last April, was responsible for the securing of permits given under fictitious names to Gambino and Valentino to enter Bordeaux jail to visit one of their confederates before they were themselves arrested, was taken into custody here last night.
He was arrested on a warrant containing two charges arising out of the evidence at the trial and a third charge preferred by the city authorities. It was stated last night by R. L. Calder, K. C., crown prosecutor, that the charges made by the provincial authorities are attempting to defeat the ends of justice and doing public mischief.
In the course of the trial of the six bandits, it developed that Rosen who was employed in the office of Lyon W. Jacobs, K. C., one of the defence lawyers, had secured passes for Gambino and Valentino under false names.
When called to the witness stand during the trial, Rosen testified that he did not see anything very terrible in what he had done. He was son who presided at the bandits' trial, and who presided at his bandits' trial. Learning that Rosen claimed to be a law student, His Lordship remarked sarcastically that he had made a very good start in the profession.
SAYS JAMAICANS HAVE BEEN ILL USED
Great Britain Sends Protest to Cuban Government Regarding Laborers.
Havana, July 22.—Strong representations have been made to the Cuban Government by Great Britain, that Jamaican negroes, who come in thousands each year to Cuba to work in the sugar cane fields, have been discriminated against and ill treated. This fact becomes known today.
Correspondence has been going on since for some months between the two countries. A courtesy visit by the British bishop was called off and the British Government had declared itself dissatisfied with Cuba's reply.
Government officials estimate that there are as many as 85,000 Jamaicans in Cuba during the height of the cane season. The British charges include claims that the Jamaicans are mistreated in the quarantine station at Santia, have been discriminated against in the courts and even fired on at the slightest provocation by rural guards.

Once Worth Nearly A Million Dollars, Now He's Bankrupt

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, July 22.—Edward Brennan, of Cedar County, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, scheduling liabilities of $325,000.00, and assets of $16,250. He claimed exemption of $15,500.
Brennan bought ten large farms when the market was at top prices four years ago and was forced to unload when the slump came. The purchasers were unable to meet their obligations and the burden was shifted to him. Brennan, who formerly was rated at nearly a million, is reported to be without a cent except for the exemption he claims, which includes his home.

COMPETITION FOR PAPAL MEDAL KEEN

Italian Women Start Nation Wide Contest For Modest Dress.
By FRANCIS REA (United Press Staff Correspondent)
Rome, July 22.—Colors less than three inches from the neck, sleeves which extend at least three inches below the elbows and skirts that are not more than seven inches from the ground—these are the tentative specifications for the dresses which will substitute modesty for ostentation in the competition for the medal which the Pope will bestow has opened with keen rivalry among the women of the various Italian dioceses.
Following a recent announcement of the papal office the Young Women's Catholic Union of Italy has inspired a nation wide contest for the medal. This will be awarded to the diocese which, in the opinion of the judges, best dressed and second, submits the most dress design in the name of modesty. Executives of the Young Women's Union will constitute the judges.
Interest is Keen.
Sketches are now being prepared for the contest. The judges will select that follow the simplest lines, but without necessarily being uniform in character. Besides the specifications enumerated, such concessions to individual taste as ruffles, laces and yokes, wide or narrow collars and ruffled cuffs may be admitted.
Girl members of the various unions were enthusiastic over the competition when meetings were held on Monday for the formal opening of the contest. This was especially evident in Milan, where scores of automobiles participated in the ceremonies, many of them decorated in dress and sending the cards to its 700,000 members, asking each to sign a pledge to observe modesty in attire. The pledge concludes as follows:
"Resolved, That I will observe in private and public life the standards of Catholic teaching, particularly with regard to dress, reading and entertainment."
The pledges are being mailed from the headquarters of the council in Washington, D. C. The national president is Mrs. Michael Gavin, of New York, who is a daughter of the late James J. Hill.
Mrs. Gavin said that not only were the pledges being mailed to members of the council in the States, but they were also being dispatched to Catholic women in Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, the Panama Canal Zone and the Philippine Islands.
The campaign probably will be made world-wide as the American council is affiliated with the International Union of Catholic Women's Leagues which has branch organizations in 33 countries.

President Cosgrave addressed the banquet of the U. S. advertising men, expressing the hope that they would tell the U. S. that Ireland is safe for tourists and business men.
De Valera was given a reception at the Mansion House, by thousands of his followers. Bearing little trace of his imprisonment, the Republican leader was deeply affected by the welcome.
He afterwards made a fiery speech in which he declared the republic had suffered a military defeat but not a political one.
Referring to the Ulster boundary dispute, he insisted "we will never sign away an inch of our territory."

Supposed Suicide Had Caused Mother's Death; Baker Returns From Wanderings

Philadelphia, July 22.—Herman Meiers, Jr., a baker, who was believed to have been drowned in the Delaware River, has returned after three months of wandering in the south. A body taken from the water had been identified as Meiers by his wife, mother and his eight children. The shock of his supposed drowning caused the death of his mother, Mrs. Herman Meiers.
A sequel to Meier's departure was the disappearance of Jacob Rice, his brother-in-law, who believed that he had caused Meiers to commit suicide in the river. According to Meiers, Rice refused to look for work, but expected him to support him, and it was this situation that drove him from home.
The baker's wife had been trying to collect insurance money so she could bury the body, but Meier's father refused to accept the identification and would not sign the necessary papers.
Meiers today called upon the Camden Coroner, told him of the mistake in identity, notified the insurance company not to send his wife a check, and began a search for his brother-in-law.

Saranac Lake, N. Y., July 22.—Canadian dairy farmers who daily bring their milk to towns on this side of the border are indignant because Federal agents are probing their milk cans with a long steel rod.

NEW EASTERN S. S. LINER COLLIDES IN FOG WITH TANKER

Surviving Passengers Take to Boats, But All Reported Picked Up.
ONE IS INJURED
Passenger Vessel Seriously Damaged—Survivors will Land Today.
New York, July 22.—Three persons were killed and one was injured when the Eastern Steamship Company's liner Boston was rammed by the oil tanker Swift Arrow off Point Judith, R. I., early today, according to J. A. Coates, vice-president of the company.
"All the passengers have been picked up," Mr. Coates said. "The City of Lowell has put in at New Bedford, Mass., with a number of the passengers."
The Fall River Line steamers Priscilla and Providence, reported by wireless that they would dock here about 3.30 p. m. daylight time, and that some of the Boston's passengers were aboard.
A radiogram said that a Colonial Line steamer, probably the Lexington, picked up some of the Boston's passengers.
Injured Man Landed.
Newport, R. I., July 22.—The first injured passenger brought ashore from the steamer Boston was C. Copeland, of Brookline, Mass. He was taken to a hospital suffering from a fractured left leg, fractured shoulder blade and internal injuries.
Officers of the coastguard cutter Acushnet said that they had seen the bodies of two passengers on the Boston which it had been impossible to extricate from the wreckage. They had heard an unconfirmed report that one man had jumped overboard and was drowned after his wife had been killed in the collision.
Copeland was caught in his stateroom when the Swift Arrow rammed the Boston amidships. It required two hours' work to get him out.
Towed to Port
Newport, R. I., July 22.—Struggling back after collision in fog with oil tanker Swift Arrow, the coastwise passenger liner Boston was being towed here today, a stricken ship, while some of her 600 to 800 passengers were lost in the mark in lifeboats. It was reported, but not confirmed, that four passengers were killed in the crash. Most of the passengers were aboard the Fall River liner Priscilla, bound for New York.
The Boston, only two months from her builders' hands on the Eastern Steamship Company's Boston-New York run, was off Point Judith soon after midnight, poking through the fog on her way to New York, when the Swift Arrow sank her nose in the Boston's side. The passenger liner was seriously damaged.
Take to Life Boats
Sinking seemed certain. The life boats were lowered overboard, passengers placed aboard and turned loose from the supposedly sinking vessel.
The quiet waters shrouded in darkness and fog, soon were alive with small boats, and their heaping groups of shipwrecked passengers, succoring vessels, among them the Priscilla, the Commonwealth, the New York, which is a sister ship to the Boston, and others, soon steamed up in answer to the calls, bringing their searchlights to play on the scene, and their crews to the work of rescue. Within an hour or two it was reported that virtually all had been rounded up, most of them on the Priscilla and that the loss of life was limited to the four who were killed when the two ships came together.
"Several Casualties"
The report of fatalities was first denied as unreliable, then partly confirmed with a radio message referring to "several casualties." An hour later came the word that several of the lifeboats, which had been thought had been accounted for were adrift in the waters of Block Island Sound, on which daybreak was just relieving the pall. At the same time, the Boston, on which only her Captain, A. W. Call, and the radio operator remained, sent word ashore that, with a hole in the hull on the port side, she had been steadily filling, and that the water had broken to the boiler room.

THEY BUILT WELL THOSE DAYS

What Tearing Down of Old Fredericton Building is Revealing.

The wrecking of the Park Barracks buildings in Fredericton, says the Mail, is proceeding rapidly. Among the smaller buildings are some of the oldest structures in Fredericton. It is believed the cottage at the corner of George and Regent streets dates from a century ago. During the process of wrecking its split board siding was exposed. At the time the house was erected lath as they are now known were not made. Instead boards were nailed to the wall and were quite sound, it would be impossible to obtain such timbers in this part of the province now, possibly not in the province at all.

Paris Correspondent of London Times Charges French Hostility Toward Americans.

(British United Press.) London, July 22.—The Olympic games are coming to a close in a cloud of international misunderstandings which seriously threaten their resumption. Athletic rivalries intensified by disputed decisions and direct charges of unfair judging and unsporting treatment of competitors will send the delegates from many countries home filled with angry resentment. The burden of most of this feeling rests upon the French committee and is found chiefly among the British and American participants.

SIMMS COMPANY PRESIDENT ANNOUNCES PROFIT-SHARING PLAN

Maritimes Urged to Have Confidence in Their Own Ability.

Two outstanding features marked the sixth annual dinner of T. S. Simms & Co., Ltd., and their male employees in Pythian Hall last evening.

Will Share With Firm's Employees

L. W. SIMMS.

That is to say, under this plan it will be possible for the employees eventually to control the business. The particular feature of the plan is that the members of the company stipulate that the original stock is not at any time to receive more from the industry than the regular stated dividend.

Through them a large corporation, handling many kinds of brushes, took on the St. John product, and made it a standard. Mr. Drewe said that having been through the Simms plant and having met the executive and the work-people, he could fully understand the high quality of goods produced and the reasons therefor.

Maritime Ability. The second feature of the evening was the speech of John Drewe, of Winnipeg, to the effect that the products of the Simms factory were not surpassed in quality by any produced elsewhere on the continent, and that the people of the Maritime Provinces should have the utmost confidence in their own ability to develop their industries in competition with the world.

Our Men in West. A. M. Belding chaffed Mr. Drewe as to his reference to Manitoba as the best province in the confederation. Mr. Belding recalled that in the seventies Manitoba was called the "postage stamp province," because it was a tiny square spot in the map of Canada.

Good Fellowship. Last night's dinner gave a fine illustration of the good comradeship that exists in the Simms plant. Almost the whole floor of the dining hall in Pythian Castle was filled with tables, and it was an inspiring scene when all were seated and the pleasures of the evening began.

Touching upon co-operation generally, he showed in a rapid review how the principle operated from the League of Nations down through national and community effort to the successful operation of a local industry, and claimed that as the principle of co-operation became more generally Apert altogether from his explanation of the partnership plan, Mr. Simms made a very interesting address on conditions generally. He expressed the view that business conditions will be better in Canada than in the United States next year. Some of the employees of the company had gone to the States during the last year, lured by the promise of higher wages, and letters have been received from some, asking if their old places were open if they should return. The slowing down of industry in the States was shown by the return of many Canadians to their old homes.

CLOSER TOUCH WITH WEST INDIES URGED

Trinidad Visitor Sees Fine Opportunity in Mutual Co-operation.

W. E. Grant, of Trinidad, British West Indies, a graduate of the University of Toronto School of Business Administration and Commerce, sees a wonderful opportunity for the development of trade between Canada and the West Indies.

country, with the only natural result, misunderstanding. There was misunderstanding of another nature, however. Until Canada and Great Britain adjusted their business relations there was little chance of the West Indies and Canada knowing just where they were.

Mr. Grant did not see why the parallel services of the Royal Mail line and the Canadian Government Merchant Marine should survive much longer. The Government owned the one and subsidized the other.

The situation summed up, said Mr. Grant, was that Canada depended on the West Indies and the West Indies depended on Canada.

C. N. R. Puts Immigration Officials on Halifax-Yarmouth Trains.

F. W. Robertson, district passenger agent of the C. N. R. with headquarters in Moncton, arrived in the city last night from Yarmouth, where he had been in connection with the placing of immigrant inspectors on the trains between Yarmouth and Halifax to assist in getting those going to the United States straightened away before they reached the boat.

The regulations set forth that the person must secure a consular visa, birth certificate, picture and other things. Sometimes it is necessary for him to return to his home town to get them.

Mr. Robertson thought that the tourist travel, both by rail and boat, as well as by automobile, had this year been much greater than last.

BELIEVES ONTARIO WILL REMAIN DRY

F. M. Baker, alderman of the city of Toronto, a former chairman of Ward 8, the largest in that city, said in an interview last night that it was his personal opinion and he felt that it was the opinion of every thinking man that prohibition would be sustained in Ontario when the day, October 23, arrived for the vote.

A tremendous amount of good had been accomplished in the province during the years of prohibition, he said. No longer was there to be seen any intemperance in the streets. The working man was saving, and the merchants were benefiting by this thrift. That the men were saving had been verified by bank managers, in whose concerns many small savings accounts had been opened.

As far as business in Toronto was concerned, Mr. Baker thought that this fall would see a return to old conditions. Stocks were low in Toronto. The merchants were buying in many cases from hand to mouth. All the old stock which had accumulated had been gotten clear of. Business, he thought, was returning to that stage when business was business, namely, when a man had to sell an article, not simply have to offer it and have it taken. He had to get right down to hard tacks and put the sale across.

FIFTH LEAGUE ASSEMBLY DRAWS MOST IMPORTANT GATHERING OF NOTABLES. Meeting Has Been Summoned for September 1 at Geneva.

(United Press.) Geneva, July 22.—The fifth annual assembly of the League of Nations, which has been summoned this year for September 1, will witness the greatest gathering at Geneva of international forces, organizations and personalities working on behalf of the league, which has ever taken place.

Besides MacDonald, Herriot and Mussolini, all of whom have given assurances of their desire to attend this year's session provided their domestic situation permits, and to say nothing of Ras Tafari, prince regent of Ethiopia, who will attend virtually every national and international organization in the world which is working for the league, will have delegations present throughout the entire assembly.

Where the official delegations present at the assembly represent their respective governments, the delegations present from all of these national and international associations, represent the unofficial public opinion of their respective countries and the two combined are counted on to give this year an exceptional impetus and development to the league.

The United States while not being a member and while having no official delegate present will have more unofficial delegations and more representatives of league associations present than any other country.

The various U. S. organizations that have notified the secretariat of their intention to maintain delegations at Geneva throughout the assembly are the Council of the Federal Churches of Christ, the Non-Partisan Association for the League of Nations, the World's Peace Foundation and the Foreign Policy Association.

In addition the United States will have representation through several international organizations to which various American societies on behalf of the league belong.

Perhaps the most important of these is the Interparliamentary Union, which has been officially invited by the United States senate to hold its 1925 congress in the United States. The American member of the council of this organization for the present is Theodore E. Burton.

The Interparliamentary Union will begin its annual conference this year at Bern on August 22, but immediately following adjournment on the 28th, the entire conference will come to Geneva for an official visit to the secretariat and the assembly. A commission will then be appointed to remain at Geneva and follow the deliberations of the Assembly throughout its entire session.

The next most important international organization that will "sit in" on the assembly this year is the International Union League of Nations associations which has just held its annual congress at Lyons. The union consists of representatives from the various League of Nations societies in nearly all of the leading countries of the world, including several that are not members of the league, such as the United States, Germany and Russia.

League Union Helps. The union is supporting all of the work of the League such as mutual defense, and disarmament and urging an even more extensive activity of the league into such questions as reparations, and interrelated debts. The union will maintain its executive council at Geneva throughout the assembly in order to keep in touch with the league's work.

Finally, the latest international organization that will meet at Geneva is the University Federation for the League of Nations. This organization which was launched in France by the league groups of the various universities, has spread rapidly to other countries, especially the United States, Germany, Switzerland and Czechoslovakia. This university "international" will maintain an organization at Geneva throughout the assembly for the purpose of receiving groups of students from all of the leading universities of the world and placing them in touch with the work of the league.

Leaguers are confident that with this vast array of international forces in support of the league the latter will take on from this year a more extensive development, and influence than ever

Advertising is merely selling with the printed instead of the spoken words. If the "ink" copy isn't just right the want ad doesn't work and cannot do its work.

Mrs. Smith Doesn't Speak to Her Neighbor

Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Smith live side by side. They do not speak to each other. They have had no occasion to meet. They hardly know of each other's existence. Mrs. Smith desires to buy a piano. Mrs. Brown has a piano which she is anxious to sell. Is not that an interesting situation? If they wait long enough, some accident may bring these two people together so that they may make a deal.

GO STILL HIGHER
IN WALL STREET

Prices Continue to Mount—
Some New Highs Established Early.

New York, July 22—Stock prices continue to mount to higher ground at the opening of today's market with the rail and copper leading the advance. New 1924 high records were established in the first few minutes of trading by New York Central, Union Pacific, Peru Marquette, Great Northern Pfd., Mack Truck and Chile Copper. Initial gains, as a rule, were small.

Montreal Market.
Montreal, July 22—An advance of 1 1/2 points by Dominion Glass featured the first half hour's trading on the Montreal Stock Exchange this morning. This opened at 108 1/2, and quickly moved up to 109 1/2. Montreal Power and Canadian Industrial Alcohol were again first and second respectively in point of activity and were both steady at 174 and 31.

CANADIAN MADE HUGE PROFIT ON CHICAGO MARKET

Arthur W. Cutten, Former Guelph Boy, Cleared
Up $1,500,000.

A profit of more than $1,500,000 in a few weeks is not bad. This is the amount which Arthur W. Cutten, Chicago made on his holdings of July corn which he unloaded at around $1.10 a bushel. In addition he cleared a half million on wheat in its recent advance of from twenty to twenty-five cents on Chicago and Winnipeg markets.
But this is only adding a fortune to his profits, as estimated in Wall Street, on the Chicago Board of Trade and the New York Stock Exchange since 1907 when he made his first killing. He has been over $500,000. As a speculator he ranks with the great James R. Keene. Alongside of him Jesse Livermore is a piker.
There have been times when this quiet man carried as high as 200,000 shares on margin on the New York market.
And every dollar of it was his own money. The most of Livermore's vaunted speculation is done with other people's coin.

Morning Stock Letter

New York, July 22—The broadening of the market to include copper and oil was the feature yesterday, these groups having been far behind the market and they still look like good purchases.
There is still some price cutting in oils,
but not as much as here they seem. It seems as though the Rubber and Tire industry has considerable turnover and should establish a movement yesterday. They should go higher now before stocks meet any reactions, but we would be careful in buying the leaders except on reactions. On small reactions, however, we would not hesitate to buy the leading industries and stocks. The leading back to some extent, but both the A stock and the common are bought at these levels. Buy N. Y. C. Atchafalca and N. Y. C. Pfd. and Texas Pacific Mop and Katy Pfd and Texas Pacific On small reactions. The leading can be bought in the same way.
It is about time for American Ice, Columbia and American Linseed Pfd. to move forward.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

Brokers' Opinions

New York, July 22—Houseman & Co. admit that there is no positive constructive news regarding the oils generally, but based on their action, we think it would be reasonable speculative policy to do some limited buying in them in order to establish a position for better news a little later on.

Current Events

$2,000,000, or $1.04 a share, and the half year.

THE WOOLLEN INDUSTRY

The Canadian Woollen Manufacturers' Association Bulletin says—
"Much interest is expressed by our mills in the proposed new woolen mill at Wabash, which is about 60 miles from Edmonton, as its success will demonstrate to the wool growers and Alberta business men behind the project the national advantage of developing in Canada a great wool producing and wool manufacturing country. For instance, the Edmonton Journal remarks: 'Some doubt has existed up to the present that the water supply in Alberta would be suitable for the treatment of wool for manufacture, but this doubt has been removed by the result of analysis of water from the site of the proposed plant. According to tests conducted, this water is eminently satisfactory for the purposes required.'"

YANKEES' LEAD IS ENDANGERED

Now Hold Top Position by Half Game Only—Yesterday's Contests.

New York, N. Y., July 22.—New York sits less securely on its American League throne today as a result of its first tussle with Detroit in a series of four games. The Tigers' 9 to 7 victory cut the Yankee lead to half a game.

In losing a 16 to 2 decision to Washington, Lyons of Chicago took more punishment than any pitcher has been forced to undergo in many moons. While Kulp mesmerized Philadelphia, St. Louis touched up Heimach and Hommel sufficiently to register a fourth to two triumph.

Boston resignedly accepted its ninth straight defeat as Cleveland nosed out a 2 to 1 victory in the last inning.

GREEKS FOUNDED OLYMPIC GAMES

Competition at First was Associated With Religious Festivals.

The Olympic games were founded by the Greeks in the year 776 B. C., says J. Howard Crocker, of the Canadian Olympic committee. The Greek had grown to consider athletics as an essential part of his life and education.

Competition was from the first associated with religious festivals and a chieftain's funeral was the occasion for a feast and games.

The chariot race, foot race, boxing, wrestling, throwing the stone or discus and spear or javelin, indicated the practical character of their games for preparing them for war.

The later history of Greece, above the fifth and sixth centuries, shows an organized list of events with athletic festivals at different seasons in various parts of the country.

It was at Olympia that the first stadium was built and the distance was one round the course or track, which was about 220 yards.

Other races were developed and competition included different distances, such as twice around and up to 25 laps or what was supposed to be three miles.

Here, not only running but wrestling, boxing, chariot racing, singing and poetry all became a part of the annual festival. The rivalry between cities was as keen as between individuals, and there was always some form of competition going on, but there is no mention of any gambling.

The Greeks kept no records and it is difficult to compare the ancient and modern ability, but a record of the athletic training was produced in the sculpture of about the fifth century, B. C., and shows the finest types of physical development the world has ever known.

A List of the Prizes.

A list of the prizes for some events is interesting. A wrestling competition would have as a first prize a tripod or urn valued at four oxen, and a second prize offered was a woman skilled in all manner of work.

Later the Pentathlon became a part of the contests, and competitors took part in all five events, which were jumping, running, discus, throwing the javelin and wrestling. About this time—800 B. C.—a festival was held every four years and no one was allowed to compete who was not of pure Greek descent on both sides or who had committed any ceremonial offense against the Greek God Zeus.

At the time of the festival, the athletes were further required to make oath that they had been in constant and diligent training for a period of at least ten months. They then underwent a further training for thirty days in the gymnasium, under the care of an umpire. These gymnasiums were large enough in which to practice jumping, boxing, wrestling, discus, and everything that was provided for the comfort of the competitors, such as rubbing tables, steam and vapor baths.

On the eve of the festival all the athletes were taken to the temple to make oath that they would not cheat, took oath that their decisions would be just and not influenced by corruption.

The tribal exclusiveness in these games is claimed to have been the cause for developing loyalty and national solidarity.

Women Competitors.

On different occasions first married women and then maidens were permitted to compete in events arranged for them which were to be one-sixth less distance than the men's events.

The boys' races were this one-half the distance of that of the men, there being six events in all for boys.

At one time, probably about 400 B. C., standards of conduct at the games and the sportsmanship of the competitors rose to great heights. It was here that the laurel wreath became the prize for the national champion and the olive branch, as a symbol of victory, was placed in his right hand and his statue was erected on the Crissean Plain.

Later a form of professionalism, very similar to that of the present day, entered the realm of athletics. The specialist became prominent, and gradually the crowd gathered to see great feats by men of fame rather than the true national sport. So great was the impact, however, of sport upon the Greeks that even after the fall of their nation and they became subject to the Romans, athletics continued for centuries to be the chief form of amusement, and the Olympic festival was even conducted under Roman supervision.

A List of the Prizes.

A list of the prizes for some events is interesting. A wrestling competition would have as a first prize a tripod or urn valued at four oxen, and a second prize offered was a woman skilled in all manner of work.

Later the Pentathlon became a part of the contests, and competitors took part in all five events, which were jumping, running, discus, and everything that was provided for the comfort of the competitors, such as rubbing tables, steam and vapor baths.

On the eve of the festival all the athletes were taken to the temple to make oath that they would not cheat, took oath that their decisions would be just and not influenced by corruption.

The tribal exclusiveness in these games is claimed to have been the cause for developing loyalty and national solidarity.

Women Competitors.

On different occasions first married women and then maidens were permitted to compete in events arranged for them which were to be one-sixth less distance than the men's events.

The boys' races were this one-half the distance of that of the men, there being six events in all for boys.

At one time, probably about 400 B. C., standards of conduct at the games and the sportsmanship of the competitors rose to great heights. It was here that the laurel wreath became the prize for the national champion and the olive branch, as a symbol of victory, was placed in his right hand and his statue was erected on the Crissean Plain.

Later a form of professionalism, very similar to that of the present day, entered the realm of athletics. The specialist became prominent, and gradually the crowd gathered to see great feats by men of fame rather than the true national sport. So great was the impact, however, of sport upon the Greeks that even after the fall of their nation and they became subject to the Romans, athletics continued for centuries to be the chief form of amusement, and the Olympic festival was even conducted under Roman supervision.

NEWS NOTES GATHERED FROM WORLD OF STAGE AND SCREEN

Would You Be Famous?—Consider For a Moment The Fortune of These Stars of Yesterday

(By Gene Cohn)

New York, July 18.—Fame! How fleeting, how momentary! What a nothingness for humans to pursue! The thought springs from the fate of the old-time movie stars. In a day and a night nobodies, sprung into the white glare of electric lights, their names household words throughout the world.

And the next day—oblivion! Not quite that. A few stray "fan letters" struggle in from day to day. The illusory thread that holds an image of light and shadow on a screen to the affections of flesh-and-blood audiences is not completely broken once the image is removed.

Scratch your memory and certain names will loom large. Florence Turner, the "Vitagraph Girl," Maurice Costello, who turned millions of hearts upside down; Flora Finch, the laugh-provoking partner of John Bunny; Lillian Walker, with her dimples and long golden braid; Mary Fuller and Helen Holmes—a long parade of them march down memory lane.

Three of them met at tea the other day and talked of Fame, the fickle Jode.

"No, I don't believe the public is fickle—I know it isn't," Florence Turner, of the tragic face, tried ever so hard to hide unhappiness behind a smile.

"They haven't forgotten. They are not given a chance to remember. It's the producers, not the people."

"How do I know? How does any of us know? By the fan letters, of course. I often think that if someone would get all the old gang together there would be a huge public to greet them back. But—"

MAPLE LEAF PAINT

It Makes Good Because It's Made Good.
—the millionaire can't buy better paint anywhere.
—and the man who owns the humble cottage can't save money any surer way than with MAPLE LEAF.
MAPLE LEAF PAINT is the sum total motor-driven adding machine of paint progress when it comes to comparison with the old pot and paddle days I had to go through.
For the "old man" with his shirt sleeves up and nothing to do on a Saturday afternoon—but a little job of painting—there's nothing to it but MAPLE LEAF and follow the directions on the can. Perhaps he won't need my services, but here's my advice to him—go to it strong with MAPLE LEAF and the eternal smile will become a permanent feature on his face—for every time he'll look at the job he'll say MAPLE LEAF for mine every time.

INTENSE EFFORT ON TO GET BIG HOTEL

Sixty-six Men Begin Drive of Grave Importance to City.

Sixty-six of the business and professional men of St. John are out today on what many of them consider the most difficult task in their careers—the securing of $120,000 in subscriptions which, if they materialize, will mean the realization of the city's dream of a big, modern hotel. Each realizes that the time during which the objective must be reached is short and every effort is being made to impress this fact on the prospective investor.

The canvassers, while not communicative on the matter of the response which their drive has accomplished so far, indicate that they are meeting with varying receptions, many of them indicating that the true realization of the significance of this movement has not yet got home to many of the city's people.

It is said that some who would like to subscribe, are not willing to do so because they feel that any purchase made by them would seem so small. To this the answer is made that no small, and as the amounts subscribed are completely confidential, they have no need to worry on that score.

It is figured by the committee in charge that every $100 available will be needed to round out the sum required, and therefore there should be no hesitation on the part of serious-minded citizens in doing their part—no matter how small—in bringing the project to realization.

A fine example of the response described by the strength of the appeal is shown in a letter received from a St. John lady, now on a holiday. Realizing that the failure of the hotel plans would be a serious blow to St. John, she hastened to forward a subscription and to wish the citizens' committee every success in its undertaking.

BOTH WILL REMAIN ON ST. JOHN ROUTE

Dingley and Arthur Service Not Disturbed by Accident to Boston.

Word of the accident which befell the S. S. Boston of the Eastern S. S. Lines caused a stir here. It was thought by some that the company would have to withdraw the S. S. Prince Arthur and replace her on the Boston-Yarmouth route in a readjustment of their service. A. C. Currie, local manager, wired to headquarters in Boston this morning asking for details and to ascertain if any change would be necessary in the local service.

It was informed that the S. S. Calvin Austin would be withdrawn from the Boston-Portland route and placed on the New York run. This was taken to indicate that the S. S. Fuller, which had been assigned to the Portland run in place of the Calvin Austin and that no change will be made in the local service.

When the S. S. Governor Dingley arrived this morning the wireless operator informed a reporter from The Times-Star that he had picked up the S. S. call from the Boston about midnight. The accident, he said, evidently happened about two and a half miles east of Point Judith. He said he tried to get some particulars but was unable. At that time the Governor Dingley was about Moosepeak en route to this port via Eastport and Lubec.

Among the passengers were The Misses Bode of Reading, Mass., who are to spend a vacation with their cousin, Mrs. Likely at Onnetette, and H. D. Manks of Boston, who is visiting his brother D. M. COURT HOUSE TO BE READY BY APRIL 1

Plans of Architect Wilson Described—Tenders Close Aug. 7.

The plans for the restoration of the court house, prepared by Garnet W. Wilson, architect, have been approved by Warden Wigmore and the building committee of the Municipal Council, and tenders have been called for, to close Aug. 7.

The present freestone walls will be used, but the main entrance doorway will be enlarged and re-designed to suit a pair of doors and new vestibule. The window sashes will be of metal, with plain glass for the street front. The roof will be of copper. The interior construction is to be of steel beams and columns with flat arch terra cotta floors, and terra cotta fireproofing around all steel columns, etc., throughout. Finished floors are to be of cement, covered with battleship linoleum, except in the entrance lobby, where the floor and wainscoting will be of marble, with marble steps leading from the vestibule. The wainscoting in general is to be of Kenece's cement, with tiling in the toilet rooms. Plaster work is to be carried into the window jambs, making a sanitary and fireproof finish. The windows and doors of the council chamber and court room are to be enriched with heavy moulded trim and cap.

The decorative scheme will follow white and light buff for the ceilings, light buff for the upper part of the walls and darker buff for the wainscoting, with white enamel trim. It is the intention to furnish the large court room in mahogany, making a pleasing contrast against the white finish.

The heating will be by a single pipe low pressure steam basement system, with gravity returns, and the electric wiring will be in iron conduit with appropriate fixtures.

Floor Plans Changed.

The floor plans differ slightly from the former layout, being better arranged and also so that in the event of a future addition to the building the present layout would become part of the whole scheme as has been suggested for judges' chambers, law courts, law library and sheriff's offices.

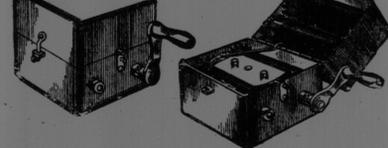

The ground floor will contain the council room, five judges' chambers, a judge's study, law library and toilet room; in the basement heating apparatus and fuel room.

It is expected to have the building closed in before the cold weather comes and the whole work completed by April 1.

The buildings committee of the Municipal Council met yesterday afternoon at the office of J. King Kelley, K. C. county secretary, approved of the plans and specifications and decided to call for tenders to close on Thursday, Aug. 7, at noon. The tenders will be opened at a meeting of the buildings committee at 2.30 p. m. that day.

Those present at the meeting were Warden R. W. Wigmore, chairman of the committee; Councillors Harding, Frink, O'Brien, Bowland and Corcoran.
