TO DRIVE BRYAN FROM CABINET

"Big Interests" After the Secretary of State

RAISE A WAR FUND

Washington Friends of His Make Charge—Systematic and Country-wide Attack, They Say, is Planned—Seek to Discredit Him

Washington, Jan. 12.—That the big "interests" have combined to underwrite a large fund to be used solely for the purpose of eliminating William J. Bryan from the councils of President Wilson, is the charge made here by some of the most intimate and ardent friends of the secretary of state.

It is said by these men that there is in existence positive proof of the making up of a "war fund" for financing a systematic and country-wide attack on Mr. Bryan as a member of the Wilson administration. While no names are mentioned, it is charged that most of the individuals, corporations and financial institutions, usually associated with the democratic use of the terms, "money trust" and "big interests," are lined up in the support of the combination against Mr. Bryan.

The object of the conspiracy, said to be generally financed, is asserted to be the discrediting of Mr. Bryan, both in Washington and with the people of the country, so as to make it impossible for him to retain his place in the Wilson cabinet.

Friends of Mr. Bryan, some of whom hold positions close to him, insist that part of the public has been poisoned against the secretary of state.

'BERG HALF MILE AWAY WHEN SEEN FROM THE INVENTOR

The Manchester inventor, Captain Butlin, from Manchester via Halifax, arrived in port last night and docked at No. 8 berth about ten o'clock this morning where she will undergo general cargo.

The inventor had a rough trip across the Atlantic and had the interesting experience of sighting a huge iceberg when about 100 miles east of Cape Race. The second officer was on the bridge at the time and a heavy fog covered the sea.

The steamer was going at a fair rate when the giant iceberg loomed up less than half a mile away. It towered more than 100 feet. The steamer's course was altered.

After discharging her cargo here, the Manchester Inventor will load for her return to Manchester.

POTATO FIGURES OF TIMELY INTEREST

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—The recent order of Secretary Houston, of the agricultural department, prohibiting the importation of potatoes because of certain foreign potato diseases, makes timely statistics showing the imports and exports of this food product for a long term of years.

Since 1900 there have been imported practically 87,000,000 bushels against 16,000,000 exported. The high record importation was in the fiscal year 1912, when 18,750,000 bushels came in, following a short crop here in the calendar year, 1911. Of these 12,500,000 bushels came from Scotland, Ireland and England.

Average import prices here ranged from forty-one cents in 1902 to 46.08 in 1907, while in 1912 the year of the big importation, it was fifty-two cents. While most of the importations have come from the United Kingdom, its production is less than that of this country, having been 281,000,000 bushels in 1911 against 283,000,000 in this country.

Harry Thaw Believes He Will Soon Be At Liberty

Early Release on Bail Expected and He Plans Visits to Friends—Not All Agree With Commissioners' Finding

(Canadian Press)

Concord, N. H., Jan. 12.—Believing that his early release on bail is practically assured by the report of a federal court commissioner that he would not be a menace to public safety, Harry K. Thaw today began making plans for visiting friends within the state.

By direction of counsel, neither Thaw nor his mother would comment on the finding of the commission, although the countenance of both indicated their jubilation. Thaw said that if the court should admit him to bail, he would not leave the state for the present.

He was to make his first visit at the home of one of his custodians, Sheriff Holman P. Drew, in Berlin. Drew arrested him near Colebrook, after his deportation from Canada. Thaw's tentative arrangements provide for a trip covering nearly every section of the state.

After counsel have had sufficient time to study the report of the commission, United States Judge Aldrich will give another hearing on Thaw's petition for admission to bail. The date for his hearing has not been fixed.

Opinions Differ New York, Jan. 12.—Attorneys, alienists and others who have been participating in the trials and insanity hearings of Harry K. Thaw, received with conflicting emotions the news of the commission report which decided that he is sane. Some expressed pleasure at his findings, other reiterated conviction that Thaw would be a menace if released on bail.

William T. Jerome who has continued to oppose every move to have him declared sane, refused to discuss the report. He said he did not care to discuss his next move to have Thaw returned to Matteawan.

Dr. Austin Flint, alienist who has repeatedly asserted that Thaw was insane, declared that he feared for his life if the release of the prisoner was granted without restrictions. Expressing a directly opposite view Doctor Britton D. Evans, superintendent of the New Jersey State Institute for the Insane, said the commission's report conformed with his testimony.

Doctor Russell, K. C. B., superintendent of Matteawan Hospital, expressed surprise. "I have no desire to comment on it for publication," he said. "I have said before that I believe Thaw is insane, and my very act of keeping him confined here is an expression of my belief that he was insane."

Thaw's Greatest Victory This decision of the commission which was appointed by Judge Aldrich to investigate the sanity of Thaw, is the most important victory won by Thaw in his fight for liberty since he escaped from Matteawan on August 17.

It is generally agreed now, that Thaw stands an excellent chance of being admitted to bail by Judge Aldrich, pending the determination of writ of habeas corpus sued out in his behalf. The attitude of the court has given much hope to Thaw and his lawyers.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 12.—Should Harry K. Thaw be admitted to bail and attempt to leave New Hampshire, Attorney-General Carmody will try to effect his arrest. The attorney-general will have the support of the government in any step he may decide to take.

"I certainly shall seek the arrest and extradition of Thaw, in any other state and his arrest in this state," said the attorney-general. "I have never acknowledged the validity of the proceedings before Governor Felker. Furthermore, I advised Mr. Jerome to protest against them. Thaw should be delivered to us at once."

The governor said he had left the entire Thaw case in Mr. Carmody's hands, general choice of follow would have his strongest support.

LARKIN INSULTS THE BRITISH FLAG

Captain White Leaves Dublin Platform on Hearing Words of Strikers' Leader

Dublin, Jan. 12.—Captain White, son of Field Marshal White, the defender of Ladysmith in the Boer war, addressed a meeting in a street here on Sunday, to protest against the appointment of a commission by the Viceroy to enquire into the rioting which accompanied the recent strike of the transport workers here.

Captain White, although an Ulsterman, organized a "people's army" some time ago, to defend the Nationalists against the Orange opponents of home rule. In his speech he denounced the police and accused them of shameful brutality. He strongly condemned, also, what he called the "abominable system of caste government."

Jim Larkin, the leader of the strikers, made a speech also, referring to Captain White, he said he was the son of the defender of Ladysmith of the British flag, "the dirty flag which is covered with more disease and degradation than any I know of."

Jim Larkin, the leader of the strikers, made a speech also, referring to Captain White, he said he was the son of the defender of Ladysmith of the British flag, "the dirty flag which is covered with more disease and degradation than any I know of."

A horse belonging to Arthur Rainshaw was taken to the boneyard today on the instructions of Mr. Wetmore. Rainshaw, who is only a boy, said he bought the horse a few days ago from a man named Livingstone, and that he paid $11 for it. The horse was very old and had no teeth. The case has been brought to the attention of the police, and the man who made the bargain with the boy may be brought to court.

SERIOUS CHARGE AND WILD SCENE IN THE PORTUGUESE SENATE

Lisbon, Jan. 12.—There was a tumultuous scene in the Senate on Saturday when Jose De Freitas rose to offer an interpellation in which he charged the premier, Dr. Alfonso Costa, with dishonesty and with having used his influence as a minister of the provisional government to favor his clients in his practice of law.

Senator De Freitas was greeted with jeers and insults, and the government senators left the house in a body, thus making it impossible to put the question of an inquiry to a vote.

OUTRAGE AGAINST JEWS

Odessa, Jan. 12.—At Skarshap a populous suburb of Loda, a fanatical mob on Saturday attacked the Jews and pillaged their shops and houses. Sixteen Jews and three Jewesses were severely injured. Troops who were summoned suppressed the disorders.

AFFAIRS IN ALBANIA REPORTED SERIOUS

Vienna, Jan. 12.—Private letters from Avlona depict Albania as the prey of famine and anarchy. Owing to lack of money, business is at a standstill, exports have ceased and imports are so small that the people face absolute starvation. Flour and meat are at exorbitant prices and other food can scarcely be obtained.

Mrs. Jane Roberts, widow of the first president of the Republic of Liberia, died in London on Saturday, at the age of ninety-four.

ONTARIO PREMIER IS WORSE TODAY

Sir James Whitney Suffers a Relapse

END OF POLITICAL CAREER

Friends and Doctors Have Told Him That Upon Recovering it Was Inadvisable He Should Go Back Into Politics

New York, Jan. 12.—Sir James Whitney had a poor night, and his condition this morning was less favorable. This was the text of a bulletin issued at 11.30 a.m. by Doctor Pym.

If Sir James takes the advice of many of his friends, among them members of the medical profession, he will decide not to enter politics again, when he recovers from his present prostration. This advice was communicated to Sir James, who has so far made no pronouncements.

The task of intimating to the premier that "it was inadvisable that he should go back into politics upon recovering" has been a very delicate one, but it appears to have been handled most deftly. His attendants were afraid that any suggestion of this nature would at once arouse him to a fury that would be highly dangerous, but at the same time it was felt that he should be discouraged from contemplating a return to his work.

Toronto Doctor's Opinion Toronto, Jan. 12.—Dr. Alexander McPherson returned yesterday from New York, where he was called to consult with Sir James Whitney's physicians.

"Sir James Whitney's condition is very serious," he said "and there is cause for the gravest anxiety. Beyond that, it is impossible to make any definite statement. Despite the terrible strain of the illness, the premier is looking well, takes food regularly and keeps up his spirits in a wonderful manner. At times, however, he suffers a great deal from mental wandering and it is impossible at present to suggest what may be the ultimate outcome."

Doctor McPherson added that unless there was a change for the worse it might be possible to bring him to Toronto in a few days. The bringing of the premier to Toronto would be a great step, and it is expected, a sick man for a long time. To take any part in the proceedings of the house at the coming session would be entirely out of the question.

New York, Jan. 12.—Lady Whitney, who kept constant watch while her husband appeared in a critical condition, went out on a walk yesterday. The weather was cold and decidedly squally, so that she vetoed a proposition to go for an automobile drive, but she strolled about the neighborhood.

CARVELL WILL CASE

Allegations Will Not be Filed and the Will is Proved

In the probate court there was an adjourned hearing in the matter of Shubert S. Carvell, shipbuilder. Adjudgment had been made for the payment of giving the opposing parties the opportunity of filing allegations should the will be proved. The opening of the case by Mr. Mullin, K.C., announced that allegations would not be filed, whereupon the will was pronounced to be proved by all parties.

Edmund Riley, coal dealer, was before Magistrate Ritchie in the police court this morning, charged with cruelty to animals. He was reported by S. M. Wetmore, secretary of the S. P. C., for driving horses which had been condemned by Dr. W. H. Simon, veterinary. Mr. Wetmore who had spoken to Mr. Riley about October 1, and asked to have the horses examined by a veterinarian. Since then, however, the animals had been used as before until a few days ago, when one of them was sent to the boneyard. Mr. Wetmore insisted that the other horse, which, if anything, was better than the one which had been disposed of, should also be put out of misery, and the case has been adjourned for a week to give Mr. Riley a chance to do so.

The magistrate warned him that he was liable to a fine of $50 for every horse he kept in such a condition.

A horse belonging to Arthur Rainshaw was taken to the boneyard today on the instructions of Mr. Wetmore. Rainshaw, who is only a boy, said he bought the horse a few days ago from a man named Livingstone, and that he paid $11 for it. The horse was very old and had no teeth. The case has been brought to the attention of the police, and the man who made the bargain with the boy may be brought to court.

VAUGHAN LACEY

At the Methodist parsonage, in High street, Rev. Henry Pierce, pastor of Portland Methodist church, on January 7 performed an interesting marriage ceremony when he officiated at the wedding of Emanuel Vaughan and Miss Julia Lacey. The bride was nicely dressed in brown with a white picture hat and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and lilies. Mrs. Marshall of Moore street and Wm. Flight of Boston attended. Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan will reside in Queen street. After the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall and a pleasant time was spent.

SNOWBALLING WARNING

Two boys were summoned to the police court this morning to answer to a charge of throwing snowballs in Sherif street on Saturday afternoon. A young man who had been struck on the arm while walking along the street said that he warned the boys that they would be reported if they struck him. The boys were allowed to go with their parents and were told that whenever they wanted to play with snowballs, they were perfectly at liberty to do so in any open or vacant lot but that they must not be thrown in the streets.

Estimates Larger Appropriations For 1914 at City Hall to be Before Council Today—Decrease in Police Figure

Estimates of the expenditures during the coming year for several of the civic departments will be submitted to the common council this afternoon as a basis on which to fix the appropriations for 1914. The estimates for the department of harbors and ferries will not be complete until this afternoon. In the others there is decrease of more than $8,000 of the police department, the sewerage department asks for the same amount as last year and the others show increases.

The public works department's appropriation last year was $89,000 and the expenditure $108,309.23. This year the amount asked for is $107,150.00.

In the water and sewerage department no appropriation is needed for the water service as it is more than self-sustaining. For sewerage $16,000, the same as last year, is asked. EMINENT WATER EXPERT MAY BE BROUGHT TO SAINT JOHN

Commissioner Wigmore Has Arranged With Clarence Goldsmith and Asks Council to Have Him Come

As the result of arrangements made by Commissioner W. W. Wigmore, St. John has the opportunity of securing the services of the most eminent consulting engineer on water services in America. During his visit to Boston Mr. Wigmore completed the arrangements and at the meeting of the common council this afternoon he will recommend that Clarence Goldsmith be engaged to make a thorough study of the local water supply and distribution system and to submit with recommendations.

Mr. Goldsmith is said to be practically the only man in the United States who specializes in such work and his operations have covered forty-five of the largest cities on the continent. At present he is engaged, under the National Board of Fire Underwriters of the United States, in supervising the installation of a high pressure water system in Boston.

If his recommendation is approved by the council this afternoon, Commissioner Wigmore will telegraph Mr. Goldsmith and the latter will leave for St. John immediately. All the available plans, profiles, contours and descriptive data regarding the local system were placed in Mr. Goldsmith's hands by the commissioner in order that he might familiarize himself with the works before coming here. If he comes his work here will chiefly consist of making tests. Since the time of their big fire the system has been reorganized and is now one of the most modern on the continent.

Commissioner Wigmore expects to be able to submit to the council this afternoon the answers to the balance of the questions asked by Commissioner McCutchen. Engineer Murdoch was at work on the answers this morning and hoped to complete them in time for the meeting.

NOT YET DECIDED ON NAVAL POLICY

(Special to Times) Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 12.—Everything is ready for the opening of parliament on Thursday. The halls of both houses are swept and garnished and the carpet has been securely tacked down in the senate.

Members are beginning to arrive and the drafting of the speech from the throne has been completed with the exception of the clause dealing with the navy. The government is still struggling with this problem and is hesitating between the $85,000,000 contribution of last year, policy of strict cost defence or nothing at all. It is said the first government caucus will be called the day after the opening. This is unparalleled in the history of parliament as the first caucus is almost always delayed until a week or ten days after the opening. It is believed that the early call of a caucus is due to a desire to get the party together on the naval question.

The government has its business well prepared and will have bills for the relief of Farmers' Bank depositors, for nationalization of highways, and international branch lines, consolidating the railway act, revising of shipping laws and of fisheries, regulations for redistribution, for cold storage for regulation of trust companies, amendments to insurance and penitentiary act and the estimates.

The private legislation is already beginning to come in. Mr. Burnham has already given notice of a bill to amend the election act and a bill to abolish titles. Robert Bickerdike is introducing a bill to abolish capital punishment. George Bradbury has given notice of bills on cold storage and to prevent the pollution of streams. It is understood that closure will be freely resorted to by the government.

REV. MR. McCUTCHEEN ALSO HAS OFFER FROM N. B. BIBLE SOCIETY

Asked whether or not he had decided to accept the call extended to him by the congregation of the First Baptist church in Montreal, Mr. McCutchen said today that he had not decided on anything definite. It is understood that he has also been offered the secretaryship of the New Brunswick Bible Society, recently vacated by the resignation of Rev. A. F. Newcombe. Mr. McCutchen said that he had not decided which position he would accept, or whether he would accept either.

LARGE INCREASE IN EXPORTS FROM HERE TO UNITED STATES

The quarterly report from the American Consul's office shows that the exports from St. John to the United States during October, November and December were valued at $761,209.42, as compared with $718,895.99 during the corresponding quarter in 1912, an increase of $42,313.43 for the quarter just closed.

Hendley, Walter Jinas, Peter McKinnon, Robert Lencashire, Joseph Hennessy, Bert Miller, Fred Beckwith, C. Fitzsimmons at Issue With Athletic Commission

WANTS TO BATTLE AGAIN

Asks Court For Injunction to Restrain Government Body From Preventing Him—Johnny Summers is Defeated in Contest in Australia

New York, Jan. 12.—The state supreme court will decide whether or not Bob Fitzsimmons, former heavyweight champion of the world, is too old to re-enter the ring with a view to winning back his title.

The state athletic commission has applied to the supreme court for an injunction to restrain the commission from enforcing its recent order prohibiting the former glove champion from fighting in this state. Argument on the application will be heard on Wednesday, when a representative of the attorney-general is expected to appear as counsel for the athletic commission.

Affidavits which Fitzsimmons filed with his application included two by "Mike" Donovan, manager of the New York Athletic Club, and A. J. Drezel Blidde, of Philadelphia, each certifying that the former fighter is in proper physical condition to re-enter the ring.

LOCAL MINISTERS ARE CRITICAL OF BOOK BY WINSTON CHURCHILL

At the Baptist ministers' meeting this morning besides Rev. F. S. Porter, who presided, those present were Revs. Dr. Hutchinson, Dr. McIntyre, Dr. Fickling, M. F. McCutcheon, H. R. Boyer, J. Archibald, F. W. Wentworth, and Wellington Camp. A review of the latest book written by Winston Churchill was read by Rev. Mr. McCutcheon. A discussion followed and it was considered that the writer was rather unfair in attacking the orthodox churches in his "In Social Reform" and this was pointed out not to be the case. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Rev. Mr. McCutcheon.

People Have Faith In Advertiser's Goods

Advertised goods of standard make are the most saleable goods. The public looks on them as something with a fixed and tangible value.

People reason that if a manufacturer is willing to spend money in advertising he has by that token faith in himself.

They know that all the advertising in the world will not make them keep buying an article unless it has merit—and they know that the manufacturer is figuring on the Repeat Sales for his profits.

A local dealer who pushes the goods a manufacturer is making known through the columns of the local newspaper is moving with the tide of demand.

He is swimming down stream and the going gets easier as he moves along.

The public follows the man who gives it what it wants when it wants it.

WOMEN WHO TOIL DAY AND NIGHT TO EARN ONE CENT

Crusade Against Sweat Shop In England

Even Babes Put To Work

(Times Special Correspondence.)

London, Jan. 11.—Down in the reeking East End of this richest city in the world, half-starved women and girls, whose workrooms are squalid dens in tenements, drive sewing machines as fast as their strength will permit from half-past five in the morning until eleven o'clock at night, all for the sake of earning a cent and a half, and sometimes less than that, for every hour they toil.

A woman brush-maker from the London slums recently told a select committee of the House of Commons that she was paid thirteen cents for filling 1,000 holes in the backs of hair brushes.

The cases mentioned are examples of the horrors of "sweating" in this country—horrors which a committee under Lord Dunsen some ten years ago declared could "hardly be exaggerated," and which have grown worse in the intervening time, but which one may hope to see at least mitigated in the near future.

Helping Them. Women like Miss Mary Macarthur, secretary of the Women's Trade Union League, have been working for years to focus public opinion on the squalid conditions which have succeeded lately in gaining powerful supporters.

At this gathering cabinet ministers, peers and prelates, captains of industry, and labor members of parliament listened to the stories of women workers from the latter's own lips, and nearly $4,000 was raised in behalf of the organization which is working to rid Great Britain of the evil which was described by Lord Lytton, the grandson of the famous Victorian novelist, as "this dry rot that is sapping the strength of the nation."

Hardly less ardent a fighter than the duchess in the recent campaign is John Galsworthy, a novelist and dramatist, who, besides inveighing against the new slavery with as much fervor as did Charles Dickens against the "Bumble-dome" of Oliver Twist's day and the abuses of the private schools of the Squeers type, has just contributed $500 to the funds of the National Anti-Sweating League.

Allied with these and with Miss Mary Macarthur are Lord Lytton, C. F. G. Masterman, the financial secretary of the treasury, J. R. Clynes, M. P., labor leader, and Sir Alfred Mond, proprietor of the "Westminster Gazette," one of the most influential newspapers in the country.

Amongst these two million female workers in England the highest average weekly wage is $8.50 and even this figure is reached only by reckoning in the Lancashire cotton industry which stands along among trades for women in this country so far as wages are concerned.

In the pottery trade employment is accompanied always by risk of lead poisoning. One would expect this risk to be accompanied by higher wages. Yet

CHANGING LONDON'S MAP AND MAKING CITY BETTER

ARCHDUCHESS NOW A NURSE

Greatest Town In World Being Rebuilt

(Times Special Correspondence.)

London, Jan. 11.—When Boston Hansmann in the middle of the nineteenth century rebuilt Paris, making it one of the most beautiful and convenient cities in the world, he had an easier task than that confronting the men who today are gradually rebuilding London.

But in spite of all this the Hansmanning of London is going on and the return after an absence of twenty years to recognize whole quarters, and a few days ago a colonial who was paying his first visit to London for a quarter of a century stood bewildered in the Strand gazing at the site of the old Clare market district where he had lived and on which is now rising a magnificent building which is to be the home of the Australian Commonwealth in the metropolis.

Since this conversation took place I have gone through the report of the select committee on home work, which set a short time ago, and pitiful reading most of the evidence given before it makes fairly representative are the statements made by seven women and girl workers of the London slums, one house-maker, three makers of baby linen, one aged carrier of rags, and one who earns a penny an hour, one shirt-maker and one shirt finisher. None of these seven women, toiling from morning until late would clear more than $2 a week, and all agreed that things are growing rapidly worse. Here is an instructive bit of verbatim testimony:

"What do you do for a living?" "I am a shirt-maker." "Then how do you manage to live?" "We do not live, often I have to go and sit at the machine all day without anything to eat."

"You cannot go without food indefinitely?" "I get a little bit of bread and that is all I do get."

"What do you believe to be the remedy?" "We believe that the remedy for much of it lies in the women's own hands," she replied, "if only we can get them to organize and insist on the appointment of trades boards to regulate payment, or, at least, agree on a minimum wage."

"What has happened in the chainmaking industry, which is centered at Bradbury Heath, is fairly typical. This was previously one of the most miserably paid callings in England, thirty-two links having to be made before a penny was earned. Now the rates have mounted by from fifty to a hundred per cent, and the women have a strong union which, apart from the trade board, can protect them from unfair treatment."

"It is illegal, of course, to pay less than the minimum wage fixed by these boards," she went on, "and where the law is broken prosecutions follow without delay. At Cradley Heath, for example, an employer was found to have paid three young workers less than the minimum rate. He was proceeded against and, as he had been captured red-handed, there was no excuse. Properly talking a serious view on the offence, the magistrate imposed fines amounting to $160. The result of this case reverberated through Cradley Heath, and evasion of the law suddenly lost its attractiveness. The same kind of thing has happened in other parts of England where, previously, there had been no penalty for sweating."

Archduchess Isabella. Vienna, Jan. 12.—The Archduchess Isabella, whose marriage to Prince George of Bavaria was dissolved last October, has since been working as a nurse in a hospital here. She says that it is her intention to devote her life to nursing and that she will soon go from here to Spain. Later she intends visiting Albania, where she will organize a public sick-nursing service.

But in spite of all this the Hansmanning of London is going on and the return after an absence of twenty years to recognize whole quarters, and a few days ago a colonial who was paying his first visit to London for a quarter of a century stood bewildered in the Strand gazing at the site of the old Clare market district where he had lived and on which is now rising a magnificent building which is to be the home of the Australian Commonwealth in the metropolis.

Since this conversation took place I have gone through the report of the select committee on home work, which set a short time ago, and pitiful reading most of the evidence given before it makes fairly representative are the statements made by seven women and girl workers of the London slums, one house-maker, three makers of baby linen, one aged carrier of rags, and one who earns a penny an hour, one shirt-maker and one shirt finisher.

"What do you do for a living?" "I am a shirt-maker." "Then how do you manage to live?" "We do not live, often I have to go and sit at the machine all day without anything to eat."

"You cannot go without food indefinitely?" "I get a little bit of bread and that is all I do get."

"What do you believe to be the remedy?" "We believe that the remedy for much of it lies in the women's own hands," she replied, "if only we can get them to organize and insist on the appointment of trades boards to regulate payment, or, at least, agree on a minimum wage."

"What has happened in the chainmaking industry, which is centered at Bradbury Heath, is fairly typical. This was previously one of the most miserably paid callings in England, thirty-two links having to be made before a penny was earned. Now the rates have mounted by from fifty to a hundred per cent, and the women have a strong union which, apart from the trade board, can protect them from unfair treatment."

"It is illegal, of course, to pay less than the minimum wage fixed by these boards," she went on, "and where the law is broken prosecutions follow without delay. At Cradley Heath, for example, an employer was found to have paid three young workers less than the minimum rate. He was proceeded against and, as he had been captured red-handed, there was no excuse. Properly talking a serious view on the offence, the magistrate imposed fines amounting to $160. The result of this case reverberated through Cradley Heath, and evasion of the law suddenly lost its attractiveness. The same kind of thing has happened in other parts of England where, previously, there had been no penalty for sweating."

Archduchess Isabella. Vienna, Jan. 12.—The Archduchess Isabella, whose marriage to Prince George of Bavaria was dissolved last October, has since been working as a nurse in a hospital here. She says that it is her intention to devote her life to nursing and that she will soon go from here to Spain. Later she intends visiting Albania, where she will organize a public sick-nursing service.

What Is It?

The usual cup of tea or coffee contains from 1 1/2 to 3 grains of caffeine, a drug which often produces aches, ails and discomfort; but the habit can be quickly overcome by using well-made POSTUM. One of the most pleasing features of this change from tea and coffee to Postum is the total absence of a sense of something missed. But more important is that "good all over" feeling of returning health; and it's the finest trade possible to quit tea and coffee and get well. Postum, made of prime wheat and a small per cent of New Orleans molasses, is a pure food-drink. It is wholesome and nourishing; and has a delicious, snappy flavour, but is entirely free from the drug, caffeine, in tea and coffee. Anyone can make a stand for the old fashioned fun that comes with health and the power to "do things." Suppose you try it!

"There's a Reason" for POSTUM

Postum now comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be boiled 15 to 20 minutes. Instant Postum—is a soluble powder. A scant teaspoonful stirred in a cup of hot water dissolves instantly. The convenience of Instant Postum is apparent. But, when prepared according to directions, both kinds are exactly the same. The cost per cup is about equal. —Grocers everywhere sell both kinds. Canadian Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Windsor, Ont.

A similar thoroughfare from north to south has been planned, utilizing existing streets in the centre of London as much as possible and joining them wherever necessary. A new section, however, is to be built from Stoke Newington to join the Cambridge road at Cheshunt and on the south side a new section will start from Southwark and join the Tonbridge road at Lewisham.

Many other short sections are planned to join and straighten out existing roads. Cost Many Millions All this, of course, will cost many millions and cannot be accomplished quickly. The only work actually in progress is the Brentford bypass road, but plans have been made by which the whole scheme will be carried out eventually at a minimum of expense. Local authorities and builders are no longer to hold sway unchecked and all new building schemes must be fitted in with the new road scheme. In the parts already built, as leases fall in and rebuilding is undertaken, the roads will be widened to the minimum laid down by the Board of Trade and when this has gone far enough in any one locality power will be taken to compel the remaining property owners to set back their buildings or sell them for demolition.

Already this process is in progress in Fleet street, in Piccadilly, in Southampton row and in East India Dock road. The new Board of Trade rules specify that main arterial roads shall be not less than 100 feet wide while connecting roads shall be at least seventy-five feet wide.

The process of widening and straightening may be hastened in the future by the decline in property values in the centre of London on account of the movement to the suburbs. During the last decennial census period the population of the County of London—central London—decreased from 4,688,267 in 1901 to 4,521,088 in 1911 and the process is going on much more rapidly now. In the same period the population of outer London increased from 2,048,185 to 2,729,673 and in the middle of 1912 it was estimated that there has been a further increase of 90,000.

Wrapped up in the reconstruction of London is the problem of carrying this great population to and from its home and business every day. The last accurate traffic figures available are those for 1911 which show that the steam and electric railways carried in strictly local traffic 486,398,785 passengers, the street railways 821,819,741 passengers and the omnibus companies 400,628,467 passengers. I understand that the omnibuses have just about doubled that figure since then, while the steam railways have lost slightly and the street railways have stood still.

Daily Hints For the Cook

Soft Sugar Cookies. One cup butter, or butter and lard, and two cups sugar creamed, two eggs, added and beaten in, then add alternately one cup milk and four cups flour, the latter sifted with two teaspoons cream tartar and one scant teaspoon soda. Handle as soft and as little as possible. Roll, not too thin, cut and bake in greased pans in quick oven.

Potato Salad. Cold boiled potatoes (that are dry) cut into dice shape, season with salt and pepper, onion cut up very fine also little celery if you choose and parsley. Then cut up fat bacon into dice shape and fry out nice and brown (but do not burn it) and add to the above. Be sure you have enough bacon for the amount of potato.

FATHER SAVAGE LECTURES IN C. M. B. A. COURSE, HIS TALK ENJOYED BY LARGE AUDIENCE

An able lecture on "Through the Holy Land" was given last evening in the rooms of the C. M. B. A. Branch 184 by Rev. E. Savage, parish priest of St. Bernard's church, Moncton, and his discourse was greatly enjoyed.

He spoke of the ancient countries allied closely in their history with Palestine and dwell at length upon the beauties of the different lands (the places of interest most prominent; and other features concerning the far distant east.) He described at length the sacred temples and historic lands, dwelt upon the beautiful natural scenery of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers, the picturesque Nile and scenes about Jerusalem. The lecture throughout was most interesting and appreciative.

R. J. Walsh, president of Branch 184 occupied the chair. Rev. Father Savage left this morning on a short visit to St. Andrews.

KEEN INTEREST IN NEW PUBLIC SCHOOL PLAN

System of Credits Which Bring Half Holiday For House Work Done at Home

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 12.—So popular has become the system of giving school credits for chores and household work performed by the pupils of Spokane county at their homes that County Superintendent E. G. McFarland is making a second distribution of the credit blanks. Mr. McFarland says that 80 out of the 176 schools of the county are now giving this credit and that new ones are adopting the plan each week.

"The teachers say the system has greatly aided their work," he said, "and the parents are delighted with it. Instances have come to our attention where children who could hardly be compelled to do any work before now eagerly perform the tasks around their homes and take the credits to school to get a monthly half holiday that is given for perfect records. Several schools have reported that not a pupil was tardy or absent during the month."

The system allows one or two credits for certain listed home tasks performed on school days. The perfect month's record consists of five such tasks performed every day, making twenty-five for each school week and 100 for each month. In conjunction with the work, which must be done cheerfully not under compulsion, the pupil must be at school every day and never be tardy. Parents fill out the blanks according to the excellence of the child's performance.

At the end of the term ten credits are given on examination so that a pupil who has done the entire work and never been tardy or absent will have a few credits to make up any deficiency in examinations. Another feature that Mr. McFarland is now extending is the giving of diplomas to each perfect pupil making a perfect year's record. He says that 1,000 such diplomas will have to be issued if the interest continues.

LONDON "TIMES" WITH LAURIER

Its Comment on Sir Charles Tupper's Commentation of Borden for Joining in Sir Wilfrid's Policy in 1909

(Halifax Recorder)

On the 20th of November, 1908, Sir Chas Tupper wrote to Mr. Borden, then leader of the opposition, a letter commending him for joining with Sir Wilfrid Laurier on a Canadian navy policy and urging him to continue to stand firm in that attitude. In the course of that famous letter, the veteran statesman said that he could not understand the demand for Dreadnoughts, and that a federal responsibility rested upon those who would disturb or destroy the compact entered into at the imperial defence conference and agreed upon unanimously in the parliamentary resolution of March 29 of that year.

The London "Times" was much delighted over the letter and said editorially:

"Sir Charles Tupper's letter should contribute to the strengthening of the concord between Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Borden on the naval question." The "Thunderer" reckoned without Borden.

Laurier's firm stand on the principle of autonomy in connection with naval matters won the warm editorial endorsement of the "Times" for in its issue of November 28 of that year, there appeared the following statement:

"Laurier's speech on the 10th contains the true ideal of naval unity. It is not derogatory to this lofty ideal to say as Laurier said on this occasion, 'Canada would have a navy and that navy would not go to the aid of the parliament of Canada chose to send it.' In the abstract such a proposition is indisputable. In the abstract it applies to any and every form of co-operation or contribution for the purpose of imperial defence, but in the concrete it is certain the same consideration and motives which have served to bring about the present situation will also serve to maintain and develop it."

Co-operation, not centralization, is still the true ideal of imperial unity. The centralizers are the separatists.

SAYS PROHIBITION IN MAINE HAS PROVED FUTILE

Hon. Cyrus W. Davis Gives Insight Into Working of Law

(Bangor Commercial)

Hon. Cyrus W. Davis, in the course of his speech at the Democratic meeting at Old Town on Thursday evening, gave an accurate insight into the workings of the prohibitory law as administered in this state and showed clearly how entirely futile such is in promoting the cause of temperance and sobriety.

Whenever there has been an alleged attempt at radical enforcement of the prohibitory law it has always been the case that the light drinks such as light beer, which has some three per cent less alcohol than Secretary Bryan's grapefruit juice, have been driven out and the sale of rum and whiskey increased. Much of the latter is of a very deadly variety, often manufactured on the premises and is handled with more safety in the secret places as light drinks can be more readily seized.

Under enforcement of the kitchen barrooms and low dives thrive on the lowest kind of liquor. Secretary Bryan's grapefruit juice has been driven out and the sale of rum and whiskey increased. Much of the latter is of a very deadly variety, often manufactured on the premises and is handled with more safety in the secret places as light drinks can be more readily seized.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use the Old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from a nearby druggist a 50 cent bottle of "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. It moistens a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous and you appear years younger. Agent—Wasson's 5 Stores.

FAMOUS GET-RICH-QUICK WALLINGFORD OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

Possibly the best known and most widely read of any series of short stories are those by George Randolph Chester, entitled "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford." The stories attained a popularity such as to demand a dramatization of them, the task was undertaken by Geo. M. Cohen, and so successful were his efforts that the play enjoyed a run of nearly two years in New York city. Of course, Mr. Cohen had to depart somewhat from the accepted idea of Wallingford inasmuch as Mr. Chester's hero was a middle-aged man with a family. This, of course, would never do for stage purposes as romance is one of the chief ingredients of dramatic construction, therefore, Mr. Cohen made his Wallingford a young man and unmarried. The particular adventure around which the play is built is the story of the carpet tack industry and is one of the most amusing of the Wallingford series.

Mr. Mehary will have the role of the youthful Wallingford, while Mill Brandt will essay the clever tylist who exposes him and later becomes his bride. An excellent cast will be required for this production and the scenery will be most elaborate.

Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford will be the secure dramatic undertaking of the Thompson-Woods Stock Company to date.

RUN DOWN FOR YEARS

Strength Restored by Vinol

Strength and even life itself depends upon nourishment and proper assimilation of food, and unless digestion is good the whole body suffers.

Mrs. C. W. Busby of Moundsville, W. Va., says: "For years I was in a weak, run-down condition, and I could not find anything that would help me. Vinol was recommended and I tried it. Before I finished the first bottle I was better. I continued its use and am as well as ever. I have gotten several neighbors to take Vinol with the same result."

I know the great power of Vinol, my delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, in building up all weakened, run-down persons, after for chronic coughs, colds and pulmonary trouble, and that is why I guarantee to return your money if it does not help you.

THE LATE VISCOUNT ROSS

Viscount Cross, whose death was announced in the Times last week, had the distinction of defeating Gladstone in his own constituency over the Irish church disestablishment bill in 1886. The son of a prosperous commoner, he was educated at Rugby and Cambridge, entering both the legal profession and the political arena early in life. He was made home secretary in Disraeli's cabinet in 1874, and gained legislative amendments on industrial housing conditions, and also introduced the prisons bill, which transferred responsibility from local authorities to the imperial government.

As secretary for India under Lord Salisbury in 1886, he was created a viscount. Nine years later he was again included in the cabinet as Lord Privy Seal. He retired from politics in 1900.

A merchant in Pittsfield carries in his vest-pocket a small copy of all his accounts so that if his regular books were destroyed he could replace the figures. The notebook is regularly brought up to date.

MAILS MADE FAST TIME THROUGH PORT OF ST. JOHN

There has been considerable comment on the remarkably fast time made by the Royal George to this port and the delivery of her mails in upper Canada, and it is pointed out that it is simply another proof that St. John is the real winter mail port as well as freight port. The Royal George left Bristol at 9 p. m. on Dec. 31 and at 12.38 a. m. on Jan. 8 her mails were delivered in Montreal, that is, seven days, three hours and thirty-eight minutes after their departure from Bristol. At that, the Royal George was delayed nearly four hours on the trip. The mails arrived in Toronto at 8 p. m. on Jan. 8—remarkably fast time all around.

AMES' PICTURES LESSON OF WHAT CAN BE DONE IN BUILDING THE SHIPS HERE

Searching Analysis of Tory M. P.'s Address Before Canadian Club in Halifax

(Halifax Recorder)

Mr. Ames, M. P. for St. Antoine division, Montreal, is undoubtedly a pleasing and entertaining speaker, and his lecture before the Canadian Club was enjoyed by everyone on Monday night. The lecturer, moreover, was killing two birds with one stone, for while telling his hearers all about the wonderful mechanism of shipbuilding and ship-cruising, he was at the same time putting in a sly defence of Mr. Borden's centralization policy. His object may be summed up as follows:

"Here we see the mightiest navy ever constructed by man for the defence of any nation. Here we see the most tremendous battleships, the most powerful cruisers, the deadliest torpedo craft, the swiftest destroyers, the most effective submarines, the most perfectly indented men, the most gallant officers, a vast and complicated system complete in every part. Here we see great shipyards equipped with the most elaborate, intricate and costly machinery, wherein are built warships for all the world. Here are equipment and supreme skill. Here is courage backed by the inspiration of centuries of triumph at sea against every foe."

"If you need defence, here is where you get it in the future for money expended. Here is the place to install armament. Here is the place to get crews, here is the place to get officers, here is the place to procure courage, skill and resolution. Pay your money into the firm and leave the rest to the Admiralty, who manages all these things."

"Never mind bothering about your own shipyards, your petty naval beginnings, your feeble first attempts. First pay your money and others will protect your interests while you go your ways in peace under the wing of mighty England. Here you will get more protection for your dollar than it is possible to obtain in any other way." Such to all intents and purposes was the obvious plea of Mr. Ames' lecture.

With all due deference to the purely mathematical logic of such contentions, we most emphatically dissent from his conclusions. The picture of the great shipyards swarming with skilled workers the natural effect of making emer-gic Canadians deeply desire to see a similar industry in Canada. The picture of the gigantic battleship looming in its vast bulk from the water stirs us with a feeling of emulation till we long to behold a similar giant owned by us and guarding our own coast. The picture of the marvelously trained men and officers carrying on their work with such quickness and precision makes us burn with the desire to see a force of equally trained and equally brave Canadians, alert to guard our own special interests.

The pictures also remind us that the British navy in its present form of colossal Dreadnoughts, great cruisers and wonderful submarines, has practically been the creation of the last ten years—for the ships and building plants of that time were small and crude indeed compared with the present—and that the revolution in size and method has not been so much a growth as re-creation. Vast plants have also been constructed in other countries since then where there were no such plants at all before. And they can be constructed right here in Canada, in Halifax. The sight of the world policing naval force of the other country fills us with awe and admiration, but not with despair in our own resources and abilities. Rather does it fill us with a feeling of just pride and emulation, that we of the Lion's brood can learn to do and dare as the Lion has dared and done."

The whole series of Mr. Ames' pictures was an object lesson to Canadians, illustrating to them what they can do and what they should aspire to. Any people who permanently rely upon the skill and courage of others, even their cousins, for their defence, are a people who will fall short of the highest greatness. Canadian Dreadnought with British Dreadnought, Canadian seamen beside their British brothers, Canadian cannon roaring in consonance with British cannon against a common foe, should be the need arise—this is the only ideal worthy of a brave and self-respecting race.

MEXICAN FEDERALS FLEE TO TEXAS

Presidio, Texas, Jan. 10.—The Mexican federal army, with its nine generals, evacuated Ojinaga at 10 o'clock tonight. The rebel forces, under General Villa, immediately occupied the village.

General Mercedo, who was Huerta's chief military commander, crossed the river and surrendered to Major McNamara, of the United States army.

The defeat of the federal army followed only a few hours' fighting, in which the rebels, beginning at sundown, started to close in on the garrison with a cannon and rifle fire.

General Castro and General Mercedo, of the federal regulars, saw that the assault was to be nothing less than a massacre. The federals had left only fifty rounds of ammunition for each man. General Castro and Mercedo, therefore, gave the order to evacuate.

All the federal soldiers and their officers who could scramble to the American side did so. The others ran in all directions.

In the small city of Clearfield, Pa., have been registered two of the largest mortgages on record one for $200,000,000 and one for $167,000,000. The documents for each mortgage fill about 150 pages.

A man in Georgetown, Ky., recently had a shave and haircut for the first time in his life at the age of sixty-four.

GOT RID OF BRONCHITIS

The worst feature of bronchitis is the tendency to return year after year until the system is worn out and gives way to consumption, or other ravaging disease.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Lined and Turpentine owes much of its great popularity to the fact that it positively cures bronchitis, and this is about as good a test as can be made of a medicine of this kind.

Mr. W. H. Walker, Calmar, Alta., writes: "I am pleased to say that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Lined and Turpentine has done much good to myself, wife and children. My eldest girl, seven years, had bronchitis, and the doctor who attended her did not seem to do much good. We got Dr. Chase's Syrup of Lined and Turpentine for her, and she soon got well. We always keep this medicine in the house now ready for use, and find that it soon cures coughs and colds."

In fighting diseases of the throat and lungs half the battle is in having Dr. Chase's Syrup of Lined and Turpentine at hand to be used promptly. This is why many people prefer to buy the large family size bottle.

Harmless "Fruit Laxative" Cleanses Stomach, Liver and Bowels

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, fits of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in just a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of his little bowels and you have a well, playful child again!

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless fruit laxative; they love its delicious taste and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grown ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

and should have immediate efficient treatment with SCOTT'S EMULSION because physical power is reduced or the cold would not exist.

Drugged pills and alcoholic syrups are crutches, not remedies, but SCOTT'S EMULSION drives out the cold, warms the body by enriching the blood, and strengthens the lungs.

Nothing equals or compares with SCOTT'S EMULSION in building the forces to prevent bronchitis, grippe or pneumonia.

Avoid Alcoholic Substitutes.

TEN YEARS OF THE AEROPLANE

Great Development Since Wright's Little Flight

THAT WAS ONLY 12 SECONDS

Aviation's Progress in Decade Remarkable But Element of Safety Has Yet To Be Assured—In War and in Business

(New York Evening Post)

It was with a definite sense for the dramatic that Orville Wright chose the tenth anniversary of the now famous flight of twelve seconds over the North Carolina sand dunes to announce that the real problems of the aeroplane today, the question of automatic stability is on the point of being solved.

Improvements in mechanical invention do not always come from the hand of the original inventor. Yet it will seem the eternal fitness of things if the problem of making flight in a heavier-than-air machine normally safe should be solved by one of the men who made flight in a heavier-than-air machine normally possible.

The achievements of the aeroplane need not be rehearsed in detail. We have traced far from the first successful experiments at Kitty Hawk. The European seas have been forded by the aeroplane. The land area of Europe has been crossed from north to south and from the Atlantic to St. Petersburg. The Alps have been surmounted, and altitudes higher than the tallest of Alpine peaks have been attained. The aeroplane omnibus has carried nearly a dozen men with safety. At the present moment an ambitious airman is on his way from Paris to Australia by way of Indo-China and the East Indian land bridges. The conquest of the Atlantic is predicted for the near future.

Cost in Life has Been Great

But it has been a process of development not devoid of vicissitudes. With continuous improvement in the gasoline motor, the radius and lifting power of the aeroplane have advanced rapidly. The element of safety has not kept pace. It is a regular feature of the day's news that the story of another triumph of airmanship in the matter of distance covered or altitude attained, or a difficult bit of navigation accomplished, should be followed by another of the disasters such as have marked the present year. In the public mind the question has remained whether the achievements of the aeroplane are not, after all,

Frederton, N. B., Jan. 12.—Ex-Warden William McMullin, at Blaney Ridge Saturday afternoon, was assisting his nephew, John McMullin, to operate a gasoline engine and wood sawing machine. Young McMullin was caught by the belt and his arm was broken in two places. His uncle rushed to his assistance but lost his footing and was thrown against the saw. His right arm was terribly mangled just below the elbow. He was brought here and taken to Victoria hospital where his arm was amputated.

The temptations of the street are threefold. First the influence of the crowd, the influence of the crowd...

He believed that the children should be kept off the streets after dark, and advocated the revival of the curfew law as a means to this end.

The 4,000 or more liquor dealers in Canada are nothing more than parasites, living on the backs of the honest laborer...

Up to this point I have been speaking of playing managers who led winners. Look at the strain on the losers, Miller Huggins was flirting with the fringe of nervous prostration last summer because he is excitable by nature and he was losing and his players were sore and the owners were sore.

Illustrated Sermon Rev. Ralph J. Houghton gave the first of a series of illustrated sermons last evening. His subject was Great Hymns of the Church and Soul.

MATTY'S BIG LEAGUE GOSSIP

chus all night, awoke and saw a monkey sitting on the foot rail of his bed. It had deserted an organ grinder.

"If you are really a monkey," said the man, drawing a bead on the animal with a revolver, "then you are in a heluva fix, and if you are not a monkey, then get in a heluva fix."

All this discussion was to lead up to the personality of "Charlie" Herzog, who is preparing to manage the Cincinnati Reds.

There is one phase of big league baseball which many fans and ball players overlook in their calculations of a man's ability.

Chance and Fred Clarke were the two big successes of recent years as playing managers. Stahl was successful for one season when he won the championship for the Boston Red Sox.

Chance showed it by being forced to quit the game actively earlier than he probably would have done if he had been only a player throughout his career.

Chance has a nerve of tempered steel. He won with this nerve, but the great strain of playing and managing wore on him.

WHEN LONDONERS THREW AWAY BIG FORTUNE IN CANADA

Visit of Hon. E. G. Prior Recalls Story of the Fernie Coal Miners

(Times Special Correspondence) London, Dec. 31.—An interesting visitor from British Columbia is Hon. E. G. Prior, ex-premier of that province, who is under medical attention here.

He recalls his visit some ten or more years ago, when he was one of the owners of the coal mines at Fernie and came to London to secure money for development purposes.

Since then the mine has made 2,000,000 profit, and it is still by no means fully developed. There can be very few more such cases of fortunes thrown away.

The German South-West African diamond fields could, however, have been worked at one time for a few of the late President Madero of Mexico, to raise funds for his successful revolution.

Five Minute Cure IF STOMACH IS BAD "Pape's Diapessin" is Quickest, Surest Indigestion Cure Known.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too important to be injured by anything but a sure cure.

Pape's Diapessin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs, its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach troubles has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them if what they eat gives them lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eruptions of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapessin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes.

From the Channel Islands there will be a fairly large exodus of fruit growers and this movement will be in all probability extended to the neighboring coast of France.

Another interesting feature is that the eastern provinces will attract larger numbers than in previous years.

Don't pay any attention to what they say, Herzog. "Mace" would advise, "I don't care what they say about you. They can't manage my club for me."

Herzog is high strung and is one of those players who is always worrying for fear he is not making a success.

Any criticism from fellow players, even spoken in momentary anger when a man is sore, as he often is, rankles Herzog for days.

Then he was with the Giants for the first time in 1908, when the Cubs met and defeated the Giants in the one extra battle that was to decide the championship.

There is a famous play, which many may recall, which worships for a long time, although none of the Giants, not even McGraw, ever said anything to him about it.

Herzog is a fighting ball player and is going to try his temperament severely. They tell me that discipline is very lax among the players here, and Herzog will not stand for that.

McGLOAN-SULLIVAN

Norman L. McGloan of Montreal, formerly of St. John, general manager of the Trust Company of North America, and Miss Agnes, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sullivan, were married in Holy Trinity church this morning by Rev. J. J. Walsh. The ceremony was very quietly performed and the bride and groom were unattended. As the wedding party were leaving the church the coach in which Mr. and Mrs. McGloan were seated overturned on Canal street hill and Mr. McGloan received slight injuries which will detain him in the city for a day or two. The wedding trip will be to New York and the south. Mr. and Mrs. McGloan, who have the best wishes of a host of St. John friends for all happiness, will reside in Montreal.

MORE PRESSING NOW IS NEED, SAYS CHIEF

Annual Police Report Renews Recommendations

MORE MEN REQUIRED

"Citizens Calling Day and Night For Police Protection and I am Not in a Position to Give Them What They Reasonably Ask For and Expect"

The annual report of Chief of Police Clark to the common council was submitted at the meeting this afternoon. In opening the report, the chief writes: I have the honor, as chief of police of the city of St. John, to submit my annual report for the year just closed.

The records show the usual variety of law breaking, and while it is practically the same line year by year, yet it increases somewhat as time goes on. The general work is also increasing in the way of different calls and demands constantly coming to our notice, a large percentage of which, according to their nature, do not appear as a matter of record.

The several recommendations made in my report of last year I would renew, viz: Police signal system, pocket manual, pension, patrol wagon housed near the central station, and a sufficient increase of the force to enable me to place two officers on each beat by night, and one at least by day; also to shorten several of the beats which are now too long to be properly patrolled.

I see no reason for changing my opinion expressed in my previous reports and now find a greater and more pressing need for the above recommendations, and would respectfully ask that they be carried into effect.

The citizens are calling day and night for police protection, and I am not in a position to give them what they reasonably ask for and expect. The conditions (today) are as follows:

One officer on York Point beat by night and one by day; two officers on Market Square beat by night and one by day—a commercial centre, with eight banks, sometimes this beat has but one officer by night.

One officer on Sheffield street beat by night and one by day. On this beat I have been directed by the common council to always keep two officers by night. One officer on Brussels street beat by night and one by day. This is one of the largest beats in the city, extending from the corner of Waterloo and Union streets to the Mash Bridge, and taking in all the cross streets.

We have no police patrol east of Sydney street. Back Shore beat is without an officer day or night.

Duffin and Victoria beats have one officer on each day and night. I have no officer to fill the position of special duty by night, and no officer on call at central station, as directed by the common council. I have been forced to take the above officers to fill important beats, leaving the station without any officer to answer summonses, notwithstanding the order to keep a call officer in central station at night.

The apportionment of the force is as follows:

Southern Division: Twenty-eight officers, viz: chief, deputy chief, two patrol sergeants, one court sergeant, one sergeant doing patrol duty, one detective and sixteen patrolmen.

Northern Division: Fifteen officers, viz: two patrol sergeants and eleven patrolmen.

Western Division: Five officers, viz: One sergeant and four patrolmen. This in my opinion is out of proportion; one of the officers could do much better duty on St. John street (Water street so called).

During the year four officers discharged, four appointed, two suspended, four resigned and one death, that of Charles A. Wittien.

Received summer clothing for the entire force in August, and nineteen winter coats in March. In my opinion it would be more in keeping to have the summer uniforms delivered in May and the winter coats not later than February in each year.

Statistics for the Year

The chief submitted, as usual, carefully detailed lists showing the work of the force during the year. The total number of persons arrested was 1609, of which 890 were charged with drunkenness, 86 with stealing, 82 with assault, 69 for using profane language, 58 for lying and harboring, 35 for refusing duty on board ship, and 37 for resisting or assaulting the police.

Of the prisoners arrested, three were under ten years of age, 91 between ten and fifteen years of age, 425 between twenty and thirty years of age, and nine between seventy and ninety years of age.

Of the total number arrested 1358 were men, and 66 women. Three hundred and one persons sought shelter at the police station during the year, the number including one woman.

Of the number arrested during the year 872 were New Brunswickers, 111 Englishmen, 68 Scotchmen, 63 Irishmen, 76 Nova Scotians, 62 Americans, 20 Norwegians, 25 Russians and 22 Austrians.

April was the month showing the most arrests, 168 having been made in that month. October showed the fewest arrests.

Seventeen hundred and thirty-seven persons were summoned during the year for various offences, 889 for doing business in the city without a license, 94 for violation of the traffic laws, 71 for disorderly conduct, 723 for keeping dogs, 109 for having a license, and 46 for violation of the health laws.

Four hundred buildings were found open during the year and locked by the police.

Three hundred and ninety-four articles were found in the street.

There were 216 calls for police assistance by telephone.

Forty-two violations of the Liquor License Act were reported by the police.

Two hundred and twenty-one disturbances were suppressed.

MERCURY TOOK LITTLE EXCURSION BELOW ZERO MARK THIS MORNING

The thermometer took a sudden drop yesterday and before the mercury had stopped in its downward course it had reached half a degree below the zero mark. That is the official figure. This morning broke clear and bright with a full moon shining, but was very frosty and those who were stirring early were of the opinion that it was even colder than what the thermometer registered.

For January, up to today, St. John has enjoyed more seasonable winter weather than was experienced last year during the same period. The first twelve days of 1913 were almost spring-like and on the 12th the mercury climbed as high as 49 above and did not drop to the freezing mark all day. This year New Year's Day started an almost continuous cold spell, the temperature on the initial day of the year touching three degrees below during the early hours of the morning. On January 10, 1913, one-half a degree below was the lowest point to which the mercury dropped.

The highest temperature registered yesterday officially was sixteen above zero, about noon. The mercury began to drop then and at three o'clock it was at fifteen, at nine o'clock last evening it was eleven above, and between six and eight o'clock this morning reached its lowest point, half a degree below. At nine o'clock it had come up again to two above. Several thermometers about the city read three below early this morning and in some of the suburbs it was down to five and six. The prospects are for continued cold weather.

We have been more fortunate in having sleighing—and good going at that—ever since Christmas Eve, the cold weather being instrumental in preserving the slight snow fall that we have had. On Friday and Saturday three inches of snow fell and made the travelling good in the city and surrounding country.

SEVEN HUNDRED TO GO FROM NEW YORK TO SALVATION ARMY LONDON CONGRESS

Entire Second Cabin of the Olympic Chartered For the June 20 Sailing

New York, Jan. 12.—The entire second cabin accommodation of the liner Olympic for the sailing of June 20, was chartered on Saturday by the Salvation Army to convey 700 officers and soldiers to London to attend the international congress. Miss Eva Booth, head of the army in the United States, will be in charge, and will be attended by her entire staff, with four brass bands composed of 100 players.

About 10,000 delegates, representing fifty-four countries are to attend the congress. The New York contingent will be the largest that any foreign country more than 3,000 miles away will send.

SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION IN SIGNALLING IN MAY

Likely Will Be in New Armory — A Tribute to Local Officers' Efficiency

A school of instruction in signalling is to be opened in St. John in May, and the likelihood is that the new armory will be used for the purpose. The armory is now completed with the exception of furnishings and it is understood that these are to be put in position before very long. It should mark a new era in military history in St. John and cause an increased interest in affairs pertaining to volunteer service, as each regiment and corps in the city will have quarters in it.

It is somewhat of a distinct compliment in the announcement of the choice of instructors for the signalling school in that they are to be selected from the local corps, now known as No. 2 section of No. 6 company, but formerly known as No. 8 section of C. S. C. The school will open about May 4 and will continue for about a month. Sergeant Instructors Lindsay and Henderson will very likely conduct the school under supervision of Captain Powers.
