Austen Chamberlain To Oust Law From Position?

Looking to Son of Joseph as Next Unionist Leader — Scottish Temperance Bill Compromise — London Invaded by Non-Militant Suffragettes

(Times' Special Cable) London, July 25.—Austen Chamberlain today celebrated at Highbury the close of one year of uninterrupted representation of East Worcestershire in parliament. Liberals join with the Unionists at Westminster in congratulating him. During the last year he has made remarkable progress in parliament and he is developing qualities of statesmanship which recall his father's best days. Parliamentarians today compare him with Bonar Law, his nominal leader and not to Law's advantage. "No one would be surprised if he replaced Law before many months."

Scottish Temperance A compromise has been reached over the Scottish temperance bill and when it comes before the Lords on Tuesday its passage is anticipated. The bill marks an enormous advance in British temperance legislation. The original proposal of a time limit of five years for licenses is compromised and it will be eight years. In place of a vote of thirty per cent of the electors being necessary before a non-license option may be effective the compromise will be thirty-five per cent. The majority necessary for adoption of no license will be fifty-five per cent of those voting.

JACKSON "HERESY" MATTER IS CLOSED

Plymouth Conference Decides It By a Vote of 336 to 27

London, July 25.—The Jackson "heresy" controversy may now be regarded as definitely closed. Yesterday at a pastoral session of the Plymouth conference, the views of the reverend gentleman were fully considered, and it was decided by a vote of 336 to 27 that the book did not in the least invalidate any matters of faith nor conflict with the standards.

They were of the opinion that Mr. Jackson's only desire in the general lecture was to create and maintain the authority of the Holy Scripture in the light of modern knowledge.

THE KRUPP SCANDAL

More Published About Arrest in Allegations of Bribery

Berlin, July 25.—The Tagblatt today publishes further details relating to the arrest of officers of the Prussian war office on a charge of accepting bribes from the Krupp company for an insight into official documents. It says that seven officers whose arrest was reported on July 16, actually were arrested, following information submitted to the war department by Herr Liebknecht, a socialist member of the Reichstag.

The paper says that Krupp's Berlin bureau was arrested simultaneously and that near 1,000 typewritten reports alleged to have been sent by the accused to the Krupps, were seized.

Herr Liebknecht, according to the Tagblatt, will be put on the witness stand when the trial begins, in an effort to learn where he obtained the material for the charges he submitted to the war department. A great number of other witnesses will be summoned to testify, according to directors of the Krupp company.

MACKENZIE-MANN PLANS FOR ROCHESTER TO TORONTO TROLLEY

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 25.—A through trolley service between Rochester and Toronto is planned by the Mackenzie Mann syndicate, which controls the Canadian Northern railroad, the Electrical Development Company, Niagara Falls Transmission Company and many other public service corporations. It was learned last night when the bond holders of the Buffalo and Rochester Railway Company applied to the public service commission for permission to reorganize the company and form a merger with other lines and transmission companies for a thorough service between Rochester and Toronto. Plans of a big Canadian syndicate were hinted at, but did not become known until today. The hearing on the application will be had in Buffalo next Thursday.

THINK RICH GIRL WAS MURDERED

Headless Body Found Afloat In Ocean

EXPENSIVE CLOTHING

Picked up By Fishing Schooner and Buried at Sea When No Trace of Identity Could Be Found — Evidently Young Woman of Good Family

Boston, July 25.—Circumstances seem to point to the fact that a young woman whose headless body was found floating atop the sea, midway between the southeastern part of Georges Bank and Brown's Bank, by Capt. Charles White's T. Wharf swordfishing schooner, was murdered. Captain White's men sighted the body on July 19. Sailing toward it they perceived that it was headless, and close investigation showed that the head had been severed from the trunk by means of a sharp instrument, welded evidently by some one familiar with at least the rudiments of surgery.

The body was that of a well-dressed girl of from 18 to 20 years of age. It was clothed in a black silk shirt-waist, black underclothing, corsets of an expensive make, fine quality of black silk stockings and high black buttoned shoes. There was also a remnant of a dark green skirt.

Attention of Captain White was attracted by the girl's hands, which were small, white, and very evidently aristocratic hands, and very evidently had been doing manual work. The appearance of the body was that of a girl of wealth.

The spot where the body was found, Captain White said, is directly in the path of trans-Atlantic liners, and also of some coastwise lines. It is the theory of the fishermen that the young woman was a passenger aboard some ocean liner or some coastwise line, and that she was murdered there, her head cut off and the body thrown into the sea. The body was found in a net which had been thrown overboard miles from the spot where the body was found.

So far as they were able to tell there were no signs of foul play upon the body, but it is possible that had there been any marks the salt water would have obliterated them.

A careful search was made by the fishermen for some clue to the girl's identity. Nothing on her clothing was found to have so much as the name of a dealer upon it, however, and this was well to do and had her clothing made to order.

There was nothing to indicate that the young woman had died a natural death and been buried at sea, no trace of any shroud being visible. The fishermen can conceive of no manner in which the young woman's head could have been severed from the side of her neck by a skillfully wielded knife.

WOMEN CANDIDATES FOR LONDON MUNICIPAL POSTS

London, July 25.—The women's municipal party, of which the Duchess of Marlborough has accepted the chairmanship, is a newly formed organization. Its object is to propose women candidates for the various London municipal bodies without regard to the party lines on which municipal elections have hitherto been fought here.

The women's municipal party claims to be non-partisan, but its pledges from its candidates that they will carry out the views of that organization on questions directly affecting the welfare of women and children. The party includes all classes of political opinions. The duchess may, if she wishes, support a socialist candidate.

Ex-King Receives Ring of Lead Made in Prison by Loyalists

London, July 25.—There is in London at the moment a sack of earth which was brought from Lisbon for ex-king Manuel to stand on when he is married to Princess Augusta Victoria of Hohenzollern at Sigmaringen, on Sept. 4.

The most prized wedding present which ex-king Manuel has received is a leaden ring, made and sent to him by the political prisoners in Portugal. The craftsmen who worked on the ring, including jewelers, secured the metal from the lead and pewter utensils which they used. The ring is engraved with the royal arms.

Before it was smuggled out of the prison, it was kissed in turn by all the imprisoned royalists.

INDIANS AT WESTFIELD

A rumor has in some way got abroad that there is sickness among the Indians at Westfield encampment. The Times is informed by a resident of Westfield that there is no truth whatever in the story.

THE WAR SITUATION IN THE EAST

(Times' Special Cable) London, July 25.—The concert of Europe is revealing its real impotence. There are constant conferences of ambassadors. Turkey's insolent defying of the powers is denounced daily by every newspaper in every great European capital, but Europe is today apparently further than ever from formulating an acceptable plan for common action against the Turk.

It is now anticipated that Rumania will conclude early peace with Bulgaria, and will use her forces to prevent Greek occupation of Sofia. If necessary Austria, with the consent of Russia, will move forces against Serbia to compel peace.

No solution of the Turkish problem is yet found. In Constantinople the government is faced by an army tasting the first victories after months of defeat and dare not suggest peace. The powers are apparently unwilling to give Armenia in order to compel Turkey to withdraw behind the Euxine line, the new frontier between Turkey and Bulgaria, as fixed by the treaty of London.

Turks, is today forced to recognize that for unbridled cruelty Christian Bulgars can rival the worst Turkish dog.

Women's Appeal to France (Canadian Press) Sofia, July 25.—The French minister here was requested yesterday by the Bulgarian women in Philippopolis, Eastern Rumelia, to send the following telegram to President and Madame Poincaré: "Bulgarian mothers, whose sons are in the battlefield, implore Madame and President Poincaré, with tears in their eyes, to save us from the Turkish massacres which threaten Philippopolis. Your intervention is our last hope. Accept our sincere thanks and eternal gratitude."

London, July 25.—A despatch to the Daily Express from Rome, says: "The powers have authorized Russia to occupy Armenia in order to compel Turkey to withdraw behind the Euxine line, the new frontier between Turkey and Bulgaria, as fixed by the treaty of London."

FOUR BATTLESHIPS TO BE STATIONED AT BERMUDA; BARBADOS RE-GARRISONED

(Times' Special Cable) London, July 25.—The Manchester Guardian announces that, in view of its opening of the Panama Canal, the British Admiralty and War Office have decided to re-create the West Indies as an effective naval and military station. Barbados will be re-garrisoned and the West India regiment increased and all volunteer forces strengthened. A squadron of four armed cruisers will be stationed permanently at Bermuda base.

Empress of Britain. The cadets will attend the annual meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association which is being held in Ottawa and will afterwards proceed to the militia training camp at Petawawa.

WEARING FURS IN LONDON

Blast From The North Sends Low Necks Into Shelter

London, July 25.—The early arrival of winter in London this week routed the summer caprices of woman's dress. With the first blast out of the north, with the maximum temperature hanging around fifty-three degrees Fahrenheit, and a chilling wind which seemed to have strayed into town as the advance agent of blustering November, the much talked of low neck took to the woods, or at least to the coils of the fireplace.

London is not alone in wintry conditions, as reports from the Peak of Derbyshire tell of a strong gale and a violent storm in the East Yorkshire woods, while North Sea passages yesterday were described as the roughest ever experienced in July.

Martin came from Anderson, S.C., and in March received $250,000 from the estate of his mother.

ST. ANDREW'S RIFLEMEN EASILY WON FROM CALAIS

Calais, July 25.—The Eaton Rifle club of this city, met the St. Andrews Rifle club at the Bayside range on Thursday and the match resulted in an easy victory for the Canadians. The last time the members of the Eaton club did any shooting was on Christmas Day, 1912, since which time they have not been practicing, and the outcome of Thursday's match was a foregone conclusion. The conditions were seven shots, Canadian military targets, distance 200 and 300 yards, prone. The individual scores were as follows:

FINN $1,000 BELONGING TO ONE OF ITALIANS BLOWN TO PIECES BY DYNAMITE

Kingston, Ont., July 25.—As a result of an accident several weeks ago when ten Italians lost their lives in a premature explosion of dynamite at Parham, along the line of C. P. R., while engaged in construction work, the Italian consul in Toronto interested himself in the case and has applied for administration, so that damage suits may be brought. The jury which investigated the case returned a verdict of accidental death. The men were blown to pieces. A fund was made near the scene of the fatality on Thursday when some workmen came across the sum of $1,000 in bills, belonging to one of the dead men. At the time of the accident quite a large sum of money was found at the scene.

WHEN JENNY LIND SANG "AULD ROBIN GRAY"
 Jenny Lind used to dine at Lord Coleridge's, but he would never ask her to sing or allow anyone else to do so. On one occasion, however, the great vocalist asked Lord Coleridge if there was any particular song he would like to hear, and he suggested "Auld Robin Gray."
 "Never in my life," writes Stephen Coleridge, in his book of recollections, "have I heard anything so transporting and overwhelming. Tears were in her eyes, and sobs of anguish seemed to well up out of her heart; everybody in the great drawing-room rose and stood round in a wide, spell-bound circle; and when at last she had finished and stood with one hand on the piano looking at the floor in silence, all were too overcome for some moments to speak."

Showing Up The White Slaver

There is no kind of a scandal on the face of God's good earth more despicable than the "White Slaver." The very name itself suggests the gruesome individual it labels. In Pictorial Review for July there is a strong article, entitled "Frances A. Kellor, Caretaker of Immigrants," in which are told the methods employed by these men and their accomplices and the remarkably good work accomplished to their discomfiture by this one earnest woman with a mission. We quote as follows: "When she was but a student in the university she began to study the problem of the woman in the prison, and she printed a report upon her investigations. It was a dismal topic for a very much alive young woman; but Miss Kellor found it absorbing in interest. The condition of the people in the prisons led her to believe that there was something wrong with the labor situation, and soon after her graduation she began to study the problem of employment. The College Settlement of New York city gave her a fellowship, and under the auspices of the Woman's Municipal League she began an investigation of employment agencies. Dressed as an employe, she visited several employment offices and endeavored to become friendly with the girls who sat about the rooms waiting for positions. At first she was unsuccessful, as her difference in training was obvious, but she soon learned to talk in up-to-date slang about supposed mistresses and her acquaintance flourished. "The flippant greeting of the office manager, 'Well, sis, out of a job?' which at first had sorely tried her dignity, became a matter of course. When she looked too respectable to be a 'girl' in some of the cheaper offices, she became a mistress. Frequently she did not know which was the more impertinent until the office door closed behind her. "The main object of the majority of Cream the butter, add sugar gradually, milk, and dry ingredients mixed and sifted. Put some of mixture on an inverted dripping pan and roll as thin as possible to cover pan. Mark dough with coarse grater. Sprinkle with sugar and bake in a moderate oven. Before removing from pan cut in strips 4 1-2 inches long by 1 1-2 inches wide.

GERMANY'S WEALTHIEST DUCHESS

This is Theodora of Saxe-Weimar, wife of Germany's wealthiest reigning prince. She was married in 1910 and has one little daughter. Her husband, who was, until the birth of Princess Juliana, heir to the throne of Holland, is reputed to possess a fortune of $88,000,000.

TRUBLY POLITE

One of the ladies-in-waiting to the late Queen Victoria had a very bright little daughter about four years old, and of whom the queen was very fond. The queen invited the child to have lunch with her. Of course the mother was highly pleased, and charged the little girl to be very careful about her table manners and to be very polite to the queen.
 The little girl came home in high glee, and her mother asked her all about the luncheon.
 "Were you a very polite little girl, and did you remember to do all I told you at the table?" asked the proud mother.
 "O, yes, I was polite," said the little girl, "but the queen wasn't."
 "The queen wasn't?" said the mother.
 "Why, what did she do?"
 "She took her chicken bone up in her fingers and I just shook my finger at her, like you do at me, and said: 'Piggy, piggy.'"
 "Ladies' Home Journal."
 Ted—"If you make love to that girl you'd better look out for her big brother."
 Ned—"If there's any trouble it's more likely to be caused by her little brother."

NO NEED FOR THEM TO WORRY ABOUT HOUSE EXPENSES

(London "Tit-Bits")
 Princess Victoria Louise, the Kaiser's only daughter, is the richest bride that has ever married out of the House of Hohenzollern. The Kaiser and Kaiserin settled on her about £400,000, which is an unusually large sum. Part of this money will be paid over gradually, and the payments will not be completed till 1920. About £200,000 comes out of the Hohenzollern family trust, founded by the Prussian King, Friedrich William III. Hitherto no Prussian princess has ever received a dowry of more than £50,000.

The settlements made by the Duke of Cumberland are considerably larger. The duke's wealth is estimated at £7,000,000, including the £3,000,000 "Guelph Funds" restored to the Cumberland by the Kaiser twenty years ago. At Cumberland the Cumberland family lives very modestly, and large savings have been made out of their income.
 The case of the settlement on the bridegroom, Prince Ernest Augustus, is not known, but it is said that he will have an income of £200,000 a year which is as much as any German sovereign except the Kaiser has. The prince also is to get his wealth in instalments.
 On the death of his father, he will inherit practically the whole Cumberland wealth, bringing in an income of £275,000 a year. In view of this, the middle-class £150 house which the bride pair will tenant at Rathenow is the subject of amusing comments.

FINANCIALLY, there are just two kinds of men in the world: those who constantly figure upon the principal of their money and those who deal with the interest on the principal.

The one kind of man throws away ten dollars carelessly and says, "What's the difference. It is only a ten dollar bill." The other holds onto that ten and says, "Ten dollars is the interest at 5 per cent. on a capital of TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS."

One man figures on how much ten dollars will buy. The other man figures on how much it would cost him to buy ten dollars. A difference of principal and interest—that is all.

Yet the principal figure is not the principle figurer in life. Indeed he counts for very little except when he is spending that ten. No one comes to him with opportunities. No one considers him as a possible investor in anything good. Money always passes him quietly by.

One man figures on how much ten dollars will buy. The other man figures on how much it would cost him to buy ten dollars. A difference of principal and interest—that is all.

Yet the principal figure is not the principle figurer in life. Indeed he counts for very little except when he is spending that ten. No one comes to him with opportunities. No one considers him as a possible investor in anything good. Money always passes him quietly by.

And yet this is all a simple habit of mind. The difference between financial success and financial failure is only a little trick of the brain.

And the habit of figuring interest—the habit of figuring every dollar you spend as the interest on twenty times that amount at five per cent., is very easily learned.

Try it now in the personal things you are going out to buy. If you need a suit of clothes, look through the advertising in this paper. See where you can save five dollars in these Clearance Sales! And then say to yourself, "I am not merely saving five dollars by buying a suit of clothes from this advertisement; I am saving the amount which ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS WOULD EARN IF IT WORKED AT FIVE PER CENT. INTEREST FOR A WHOLE YEAR."

That's the thing that brings you to your wits. That's the thing that makes you stop and think. Now these good Clearance Sales are going on all through this paper. Merchants have to take their losses to reduce their stocks right now. You can save money on anything you buy. Your clothes, your shoes, your shirts, your household goods—all offer money-saving opportunities in these Clearance Sales.

Why, you can save the interest on at least FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS if you will only go at it right. And show me the man to whom five hundred dollars is not a capital worth considering? Interest—that is the thing to figure on always. And the way to save the interest on a lot of money is to watch the advertising in this paper day by day and do your buying from these Clearance Sales.

CHURCH RELICS

Interesting Discovery in Saint Sampson's in Guernsey

Believed They Were Placed There Nearly 400 Years Ago—Further Search is Being Made For Other Hiding Places

Between five and six o'clock last Friday evening the workmen employed in the belfry of St. Sampson's Church discovered a secret chamber about the south arch in which were a number of ancient altar ornaments and other relics, including a gilt altar crucifix.

The articles found are: A high altar crucifix and base. Base of a censer. Two altar candlesticks. A triple candlestick. Two wall socket candlesticks and part of another.

Other parts had also been damaged and soldered. The socket would have permitted its use as a staff for processional purposes, but it was noticed that it exactly fitted a base found with it.

The crucifix bears a good deal of ornamentation, but the other articles are of a plainer description. Only one of the candlesticks, a bracket one, is of a very ornamental character. It is shaped to represent a dragon and bears a shield. Another of the brackets has a dragon's head on it.

The secret chamber in which these articles was found is formed by an inner wall being built up inside the belfry on the south side. The space between the walls is about two feet, extending the width of the tower, and rising till the walls meet above.

Most of the articles were found Friday, but two were recovered Saturday. The articles were reached through a hole in the wall made by removing a large stone. They were no doubt placed in the chamber through this hole and the stone replaced. A floor had been made in the belfry of loose ground and this hid the stone covering the opening.

In order that a steel frame may be placed in the belfry workmen have been employed in removing this large quantity of loose earth. While thus employed one of the workmen found that a stone in the corner of the belfry was loose. He worked it away and the secret chamber was disclosed.

Further search is to be made for relics. The floor of the belfry consists of loose earth and this earth is being removed to make room for the steel frame work for the new tower. At the request of the members of the Society of Natural Science and Local Research this earth is to be carefully examined as it is removed. Small articles may be found in it.

The articles found on Friday and Saturday were in a cavity in the south wall of the belfry. This cavity will no doubt be further examined, but the search already made has proved that it is unlikely that any more large ornaments or rather large articles can be found.

It seems probable that there is, or has been some other hiding place for the ornaments, for those found are all odd, and only half a censer was found. Probably the other half was hidden at some other spot. The candlesticks and brackets are all odd ones, though it may be supposed that in the church they were in pairs. Possibly the corresponding candlesticks and brackets and the other half of the censer are hidden at some other spot, or the hiding place may have been discovered years ago and the articles removed. Measurements tend to show that there is no other secret chamber in the belfry walls, but it may be remarked that in the case in which the relics were found so cleverly constructed that the existence of so large a cavity was not suspected. A careful examination of the building may result in the discovery of some other hiding place.

PULP AND PULP WOOD

An interesting bulletin just issued by the department of the interior deals with the output of pulp-wood in Canada during 1912. The facts were compiled by Mr. R. G. Lewis, B.Sc.

The bulletin shows that there were 48 pulp mills operating in Canada in 1912, and that they consumed a total of 866,642 cords of pulp wood valued at $2,215,582.

The total cut of pulp wood for the year, however, was 1,846,910 cords, so that 980,268 cords, or more than half the total, were exported in an unmanufactured state to the United States.

Quebec produced 578,855 cords, Ontario 178,908, New Brunswick 82,041, British Columbia 85,087, and Nova Scotia 26,176.

There was a decrease in Ontario of 18.6 per cent. in the output of pulp wood, but in Quebec there was an increase of 48.2 per cent.

There will be a universal desire to witness the opening of this splendid house of entertainment, and the desire will be all the stronger because the first performance will be under the joint auspices of the Knights of Pythias and the Knights of Columbus for the benefit of the orphans.

When I'm preparing for my sleep in No. 24, I pause and listen to the sounds my neighbor makes next door.

He sits upon his creaking bed whose springs complain and June falls with a solid thump.

That makes me sit with straining ears and listen through the wall—I cannot move or think until I hear the other fall.

The long delay gets on my nerves; my teeth together grate—It's awful that the cuss should make a nervous neighbor wait.

But one one boot hits the floor—O, sword of Damocles, Thy threatened fall was nothing when compared with things like these.

For I must sit with wide-stretched ears until, when hours have gone, it's plain my neighbor's gone to bed, and still has one boot on.

TIMBER FOR TELEGRAPH POLES

To Be Satisfactory It Must Have Durable Qualities

In 1911 the total purchases of poles in the United States by railroads and telephone companies amounted to 3,418,000 sticks of timber of these 2,402,736 or 70.3 per cent were purchased by the telephone and telegraph companies, 787,640 or 23 per cent by the electric light and power companies, and 227,624 or 6.7 per cent by the steam railroads.

The total number of poles purchased represents a decrease of 42.67% as compared with 1910 and of 820,720 as compared with 1909.

The preferred species of wooden poles have the general physical qualifications of durability in the soil, strength, lightness, straightness, a surface which will take charring readily, and comparatively slight taper. The various species of cedar combine these qualities in high degree.

Cedar poles are cut principally from the white cedar of the lake States, the red cedar of the northwest, and the southern white cedar of North Carolina, Virginia and New Jersey. Chestnut is cut principally in the Atlantic Coast States from Georgia to New Hampshire.

ENGLISHMEN IN TRAVEL

They Are Prepared For Any Emergency Even on Half-Day Trips

The equipment of the traveling Englishman is the eighth wonder of the world. He is ready for any emergency from cold to sudden death. I recollect once being in a compartment on the Paris boat train with an English family and their luggage, and I do not remember ever being so pleasantly entertained as I was on that trip.

As to the luggage, there were twenty-nine pieces of the hand variety which it took "Father" a half-hour to dovel into the racks while the train stood in the dingy station at Calais, and another half-hour to pry out when we reached the dreadful Gare du Nord.

This was only a detail, however, and I have never in my life seen a man work harder to get a family of three women comfortably settled. It was in vain that they protested against more wraps and rugs, against smelling salts and speckled fruit. Being a man, he knew so much better than they what they needed, and he gently but firmly had his way.

Finally he dozed off to sleep, resting audibly from his labors. He had taken off his great coat with its amazing capes and pockets, and as his coat tails became parted in his somnolent writhings I plainly saw a good sized holster protruding through the aforesaid coat tails, evidently strapped around his poorly waisted.

"Aha!" I said to myself, "there we have a mystery! My comrade, is perhaps as you see route to Germany." This holster—with its supposed brace of fire-arms—fascinated me unspeakably, and about it I built a lovely blood-curdling romance as we sped through the monotonous French country.

Finally my neighbor awoke, rosy and refreshed, and upon one of his daughters, asking him some questions about Paris, he unbuckled the holster, took it off, and while I watched with bulging eyes, opened it and calmly extracted—a guide book! What else that deceiving case may have contained I have no means of knowing—perhaps cigar sandwiches or a bottle of brandy.

RASH ON FACE HANDS AND ARMS

Skin Would Cope Over and Peel. Spots Large, Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Has Not Had a Mark on Her Since. They Also Cured Mother of Pimples on Face.

578 Gladstone Ave., Toronto, Ont.—"My baby's trouble began as a rash and the skin used to sometimes peel off and look as if it were going to get better, but would just come over again and peel. The spots were large and it used to make her face very red and inflamed all the time. It came on her face, hands and arms, and it used to make her restless at night. She got the rash in March and how I hated to see it on her little face and hands! I tried a lot of different things after that but nothing did any good. I saw the advertisement and sent for samples of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and it started to get better right away. I used them only about once a day, and in a little more than two weeks she hadn't a spot on her anywhere. She had it three months before I used the treatment. She has not had a mark on her since and she is two and a half years old now. Cuticura Soap and Ointment also cured pimples on my face."

(Signed) Mrs. McKnight, Jan. 8, 1912.

For treating poor complexion, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have been the world's favorites for more than a generation. CANAL DISPUTE TO THE HAGUE

To Decide International Rights At Panama

OTTAWA NOTIFIED

Firm Stand Taken by British Foreign Office Results in Diplomatic Victory - Sir Charles Fitzpatrick May Represent Canada

Ottawa, July 25.—That the question of toll exemption on the Panama canal and the discrimination which it would involve against foreign shipping will, despite the opposition of a certain section of the Democratic government of the United States, be submitted to The Hague for arbitration is a matter of definite knowledge at the capital.

The British protest, along with Canada's own particular case, will be heard before one of the regular arbitration tribunals in Holland. This is the terms conveyed officially to the government here, and it indicates that some definite assurance has been received from London to that effect.

The dominion government has received information from the imperial government to at once set about preparing briefs to be submitted to the arbitrators, and also to name commissioners who will work in concert with the British commissioners in handling the general case against exemption to American vessels passing through the canal. It is expected that the sittings will be held early in the new year and that all mercantile marine countries will be represented.

In the United States the situation is very complex. There are seven arbitration treaties, the ratification of the renewal of which are held up by the United States senate because of the opposition developed by those who took the advanced stand against what was called interference by Great Britain in the tolls problem. The plan was to modify the British treaty on which all the others hinged with a general amendment which would exempt not only the tolls but all canal questions, including armaments and defence. It is now considered almost certain that the senate will fail to do this.

Sir Edward Grey has taken a firm stand as to the interpretation of that particular clause in the Hay-Pauncefote treaty which dealt with the canal, then an industrial tragedy because of France's failure to complete it, and the United States government which took the initiative in international arbitration, cannot, it is believed, fail to accept the British foreign minister's suggestion that the matter be referred to The Hague tribunal.

CHINESE REBELS READY FOR PEACE

Shanghai, July 25.—The revolutionary cause here appears to be waning. Despite the large number of rebel reinforcements, the attacks on the arsenals by the southerners last night and today failed completely, and Dr. Wu Ting Fang, former Chinese minister to the United States, General Wen Tsung-Yao, and other prominent rebels, after a conference today, telegraphed President Yuan Shi Kai proposing a basis for peace negotiations.

It is now known that Su-Chow-Pu, in the province of Kiang-Su, is in possession of the northerners. The military governor of the province of Hu-Nan, one of the chief tea-producing sections of the empire, has proclaimed the neutrality of his district, and the military governor of Che-Kiang province, is firmly suppressing all propaganda against Yuan Shi Kai.

Gibbs—"That's a pretty rocky-looking umbrella you have there, old man. I wouldn't carry one like that."
Dibbs—"I know you wouldn't; that's the reason I carry it when you're about!"

AUSTRIA AND RUSSIA TO END BALKAN WAR?

London, July 25.—The important development today in the Balkan situation was a demand presented by the Austrian representatives at Athens and Belgrade for an immediate cessation of hostilities, together with a warning that Austria will not allow Bulgaria to be greatly humiliated.

It was declared in Vienna tonight that should Greece and Serbia still oppose an armistice, a Rumanian army acting as a mandatory of Austria and Russia, will prevent any attack on Sofia, and that Austria will take even more energetic steps, if necessary, to stop the war.

Should it be true that Austria and Russia thus have agreed to co-operate, the pressure exercised doubtless will be effective.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL DURING HOT WEATHER

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery and stomach troubles are rife at this time and often a precious little life is lost after only a few hours illness.

The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe. The occasional use of the Tablets prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if trouble comes suddenly—as it generally does—the Tablets will bring the baby safely through. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MR. HAZEN TO DAWSON

KING EDWARD'S OLD DOG NEAR END OF HIS DAYS

Caesar, the wire-haired fox terrier which was led as a mourner at the funeral of King Edward VII. of England, has nearly arrived at the end of his days. The dog has been very ill. Caesar went everywhere with the late monarch, and on his collar was inscribed "I am the king's dog; who are you?"

Since the sovereign's death Caesar has been a constant companion of Queen Alexandra, who has now commissioned George Frampton, a sculptor, to make a statue of Caesar.

It is safe to say that no dog that has lived in this generation has more ingratiated himself in the hearts of the British people, as a nation, than the rough-and-ready Caesar, which was said to get his master into more scrapes because of his scrapping and ungrudgingly proclivities than even the great affairs of state and the responsibilities of empire.

ERIOUS OUTBREAK OF SMALLPOX IN NEW ZEALAND

London, July 25.—The Times' Wellington, N. Z., correspondent cables that a smallpox outbreak of serious dimensions has broken out. There are forty-nine cases in the Auckland hospital, including thirty-nine Maoris. There have been ten deaths among the Maoris. No fewer than fifty-seven cases are reported from one Maori village.

Vaccination of the both races is proceeding wholesale and is enforced on all southward bound passengers.

"Tommy," said the careful mother, "do I actually see you playing with your soldiers on the Sabbath day?" "Oh, that's all right, ma," replied the young hopeful; "this is the Salvation Army."

THINGS WORTH KNOWING TO THOSE INTERESTED IN THE DRINK CURE

One year ago we opened a Neal Institute treating the drink habit at 46 Crown street, St. John (N. B.), to demonstrate to the public that we had a treatment that would cure all desire and craving for alcohol in three days time. Some few called it "kale" while others tried it with the remarkable result we cured several score of men and women. For the self-same reason we established a large central hospital at the Capital City Ottawa some two years ago, where we have every convenience. Shortly trained male nurses and graduate female nurses for women. Our twenty-two private rooms with electric fans, guarantees to the outside patient comfort and security while taking treatment. While the ride may seem rather long when starting, it is well for the public to know that it is not necessary for the patient to arrive here perfectly sober, inasmuch as we never cut a patient straight off from liquor. Another feature that adds to taking treatment away from home is the fact that a good long ment acts as a tonic, the fresh air, change of scenery and the knowledge that when one returns nobody will be a bit the wiser. Remember our fee or charge is $125 out of which we allow you transportation both ways with the understanding that we guarantee to return all money paid if the patient is not perfectly satisfied that all craving and desire for liquor has been destroyed when leaving the institute. If you have a loved one at home who is near and dear to you speak kindly to him and try and persuade him to take the Neal treatment.

There is no charge should the patient wish to stay with us a few days longer after completing treatment to make sure he is perfectly cured.

Louisville, Ky., July 26—Dying across the grave of her husband, in the family lot at Cave Hill Cemetery, Mrs. Olivia Hemphill, 22 years old, was found unconscious. An empty bottle which had contained poison was within a few feet of the woman. A cemetery guard carried her to the cemetery office, where she died a few minutes later.

A DELIGHTFUL TOUR (Bangor Commercial) After an enjoyable trip to the Bay of Chaleur and the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Blanding of Bangor have returned home.

They went by rail to Van Buren, crossed the St. John river on the international highway bridge to St. Leonards, N. B., and continued over the newly-opened International Railway of New Brunswick to Campbellton, picturesque located at the mouth of the Restigouche river. By steamer they proceeded to the quaint resort town of Dalhousie, and then down the Bay of Chaleur and into the Gulf of St. Lawrence to Gaspe, 550 miles from Bangor, the steamer touching at more than a score of unique and picturesque ports along the Gaspé peninsula. Of the 1100 miles traversed in the journey 400 miles were by water. The scenery along the Gaspé peninsula is bold and impressive the crowning feature being the world-famous Percé Rock which rises perpendicularly from the waters of the Gulf of St. Lawrence nearly 300 feet, and rugged beauties of this interesting section of North America were greatly enjoyed.

IN THE HANDS OF MONEY LENDERS

Shylocks Get Young Men Into Their Clutches

SOME ENGLISH CASES

Hold Secret Over Heads of Victims and Extort Unwarranted Interest—Dead of Publicity is What Gives Them Their Power

(Chas. E. Hands in London Daily Mail) There is a story which a famous money-lender, now dead, used to tell which illustrates the human nature of both sides of usury.

One day—it was at the end of a black Assize week—a young officer came to negotiate a loan. The money lender, related to a titled family, and was kinsman with a very remote chance of accession to a very great nobility of immense possessions, but was in fact quite a poor man. He told how much he wanted—it was a four-figure sum—and what he wanted it for. The usual tale was written a check for the amount, handed it across the table and named his terms.

"You will pay me back and such sums as such such a date," he said. The young patriot fingered the document, a little surprised. "But, er—don't I have to sign something?" he asked. There was nothing to sign except the endorsement, he was told. "But then I don't quite see," he went on, "what security you have that you will get your money back?" "I have the security of the word of an English gentleman," said the money-lender, "and I want no better happy to oblige."

The young man went away with the check, settled his accounts on the Monday and resolved never to have anything more to do with betting. Before the date of repayment of the loan arrived the intervening heirs had died, the great nobleman had died, and the young soldier had succeeded to the title and estates and had discharged his obligations.

Judges of Character The money-lender, of course, was a judge of character. It did not occur to him to reckon upon his man. He was long to reckon upon his man. He was long to reckon upon his man. He was long to reckon upon his man.

Rev. H. E. Thomas, chairman of the St. John district, will officiate and will be assisted by Rev. J. J. Pinkerton. A site for a building has been secured through quarters of a mill from the works, and the building will be erected there in the near future.

CAUSED A SCATTERING About 2,000 people enjoyed the concert given by Temple Band on the King Edward bridge last evening until a deluge of rain came and even the music from Temple Band could not prevent them from scattering. The summer dresses and straw hats came in for a good drenching. People gathered in every doorway available nearby, and the boat in which Capt. Johnson was placed his hopes, is an auxiliary schooner with two masts carrying three sails with a three horse power engine, with which alone the George Washington is capable of making seven miles an hour. Capt. Johnson proposed to run his engine all the time whether there be wind to fill his sails or not.

The George Washington is a big patrol boat from the Portsmouth Navy yard and said to be the gift of Admiral Dewey's flagship Olympia at the battle of Manila in 1898. It is 28 feet long and five feet nine inches wide and draws only a foot of water. She is built for surf work like a life saver's boat and Capt. Johnson says he can beach her most anywhere. His only cabin will be a canvas one in the bow, like a spray hood.

A COLLISION Some excitement was caused in King Street at eleven o'clock this morning when a collision occurred between a sloven loaded with trunks and a street car. It looked like a serious affair and first fears entertained for the safety of the driver but fortunately he escaped. The wagon, which was owned by the Jenkins Express Company, was crossing King street to enter Canterbury and street car No. 88 was coming up the hill at full speed. The driver turned before the motorman could stop the car and the collision occurred. The driver was hurled from his seat but escaped uninjured. The sloven was somewhat damaged and the front of the car scratched.

CHARLES FOR MARATHONS; MOREY FOR FREDERICTON

Locals May Protest Use of This Pitcher by Capitals in Today's Game

The game with Fredericton at 3 o'clock today on the Marshalls grounds should be interesting and exciting. Charles will be on the mound for the Marshalls and the locals will be anxious to make amends for the loss of yesterday's contest. Fredericton intends to put Dave Morey (Brown, of their last year string), in the box for his initial appearance in the local league this year.

There is a possibility that if Fredericton pitches Morey this afternoon that the management of the locals may enter a protest before the game begins. The reason given is that Morey is not a member of the Fredericton club, but merely signed temporarily.

Next week will be a strenuous one throughout the league. The games scheduled are: Fredericton at Bangor; St. Croix at Fredericton; Fredericton at Bangor; St. Croix at Fredericton.

Monday—St. John at Calais; Fredericton at Bangor; St. Croix at Fredericton.

Friday and Saturday Bangor at St. Croix; Fredericton at Calais.

Saturday—Fredericton at Calais. Harry Dutton is playing first base for Bangor.

SEND DREDGE AWAY (Continued from page 1). With regard to the position of the Norton Griffiths dredging company Mr. Dineen said that they were entirely separate from the Norton Griffiths dredging company, and that they had no interest in the dredging company except as contractors employing them.

Mr. Dineen did not care to say anything regarding the nature of the controversy but said that he hoped the matter would be adjusted and the dredge would be back at work within a week or so. He would not say where the McMartin had gone except that it had not gone farther into Canada, from which it is taken that she is headed across the American border.

It was reported that the dredging company took the contract for the Courtney Bay work at a much lower price than the other bidders, and that the dispute arose from an attempt to secure an adjustment.

THREE GIVE LIVES TO LEPERS

Bishop Calls for Nurses, and 20 Volunteers for Duty, from Which They Never Can Return

Bishop Merel, of Canton, China, was recently requested by the Chinese government to take under his care 1,000 lepers. He applied to the Order of the Immaculate Conception for sisters to aid him.

As those who go to work among the lepers in any country can never return, the bishop's request, told them they were free to choose, and asked all who were willing to go to nurse the lepers to stand up.

Simultaneously the 20 arose, and on each young face there beamed a smile. The mother superior was surprised at the self-sacrifice, and no decision was made.

Later three were selected for the work. They are: Sister Francis, of Assisi; Miss Clara Herbert, Sister Mary Bernadette, Miss Alma Leiger, and Sister Raphael, Miss Malvina Biron. They sailed this week for China to spend their lives caring for those afflicted with this dreadful disease, of which they themselves probably will become the victims.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES New York, July 26—Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific, was elected president and director of the New Haven and Hartford Railroad yesterday.

Belle, Que., July 26—After twenty minutes' deliberation, the jury empaneled to investigate the deaths of seven victims of the Canadian Explosives Limited, explosion here on Thursday, returned a verdict of accidental death, without making any recommendations.

"Birth Strike" Proposed Berlin, July 26—A "birth strike" as a means of bringing about electoral reform in Prussia is reported to be under consideration by a socialist gathering. The father of the idea was Dr. Alfred Bernstein, who declared that most successful pressure would be exerted on the government if mothers would make some such announcement as this:

"We will bring no children into the world to become citizens of this state unless better rights of citizenship are accorded."

POLICE COURT
Two men charged with being drunk yesterday, were remanded in the police court this morning.

AT PARTRIDGE ISLAND
The brotherhood class of Tabernacle church are holding an excursion to Partridge Island today. The tug Neptune with two crews in tow left Reed's Point at ten o'clock this morning and will run hourly trips to the island during the day. St. Mary's band is in attendance, refreshments are served on the grounds and the usual games and sport enjoyed by the children.

COMPLAIN OF ROADWAY
Complaints are being received concerning the condition of the Millidgeville road which is said to be very uneven and rough in many places, and not conducive to gentle driving over its course. The road it is said, needs filling in many places. There is probably more traffic on the Millidgeville road this year than for several summers, as more people seem to be going to Baywater, McComick's Island, by St. Mary's for vacation. The automobile buses on the road are kept continually busy, and on Saturday and Sunday seas in them are at a premium.

BY A ST. JOHN MAN
The "Journal of Commerce," which makes a specialty of illustrated articles descriptive of Canada's great business industries, contains in this week's issue an able summary of "Canada's News Print Industry," from the pen of A. G. Lintyre, Editor of Pulp and Paper Magazine, formerly of St. John. The first part of the article, which deals in a general way with the industry, shows that Canada now produces more than 1,300 tons of news print a day and by the end of the year will be a daily production of more than 1,700 tons. The production increased 48 per cent. in 1912. The second part is devoted to a description of the newer and more up-to-date mills. The conclusion arrived at is that Canada will eventually dominate the news print trade of the world.

FERRY WORK BEING DONE WELL WITHIN AMOUNT ESTIMATED
Commissioner's Plan of Oak Sheathing Promises to Make a Good Piece of Work

When H. B. Schofield, Commissioner of Harbors, originated the plan of sheathing the piling at the approach to the ferry docks with oak plank, he had in mind a scheme which would make a great improvement in the ferry terminals. The work, which was begun a few weeks ago, is now almost completed and another day or two will finish it entirely. The original estimate for the cost of sheathing the piling on the northern side of the eastern docks was $4,750, and now that the contract is nearly complete, it appears that the actual cost will be well within the estimate, which in itself is something of an achievement in city work.

The appearance of the slime coated piles of various lengths standing in straggling lines at the entrance to the ferry docks has been picturesque, but hardly beautiful, and the sheathing will also make a much firmer buffer for the ferry steamers, and it is expected that its greater permanence will offset the extra cost as well as doing away with the inconvenience caused by frequent repairs.

During the first two weeks or so it was necessary to run the ferry-boat at night from Reed's Point in order to give the workmen an uninterrupted opportunity. Since then the work has proceeded without interfering with service. The work was done from a small scow, and this was removed from the slip as the boat approached. The time when the ferry boat was in the dock was not lost, however, as it gave opportunity to complete the work of fastening the bolts on the rear side of the piling. It is the intention of the commissioner to sheath the piling on the southern side of the slip as well, but this cannot be accomplished until some repairs have been made to the outer end of the Magee wharf which adjoins the floats and which is owned by the city. The piling on this side has been forced out of alignment, and it is believed that this has been caused by the wharf slipping. An examination is being made to ascertain the extent of the repairs to the wharf which will be needed and the commissioner hopes to get this work done before winter. It is hardly likely that the sheathing will be commenced before next spring.

MR. McLEAN TELLS COURT HIS STORY OF AUTO ACCIDENT

Allan McLean, who was knocked down and injured by an automobile in Market Square last Saturday gave evidence in the case against Axel Difeon, the chauffeur in the hospital yesterday afternoon. He said he had been about the city with Mr. Waters of Boston all day, and about six o'clock they were starting to cross Market Square to go to a restaurant. He heard an automobile horn toot and on looking up saw an automobile coming towards him at a fast clip. He tried to avoid it but it seemed to turn towards him as he tried to regain the street. He thought that if the car had turned towards the street it would have missed him. As it was it struck him in the side and the next thing he knew he was lying on the side, walk in great pain with a crowd about. He suffered much until he was treated at the hospital and for several days after. Lately he had been feeling much better.

L. Chester Brown's evidence in the same case consisted of a description of the accident as seen from the Royal Hotel. Axel Difeon made a brief statement merely explaining the reason for Mr. Moore's evidence that he had driven along Prince William street on the right hand side. The street was being repaired, he said, and it was necessary to cross over but as soon as he could he returned to the left.

GREAT PROJECT FOR OPENING OF THE NEW THEATRE

Keith & Albee Give Imperial First Night For St. John Orphans

A GENEROUS ACT

House Placed in Hands of Committee of Young Citizens From Knights of Pythias and Knights of Columbus and They Will Make Big Event of it For Catholic and Protestant Little Ones

The formal opening of the new Imperial Theatre, the magnificent modern playhouse erected on King square by the Keith interests, which in itself will be an event of great interest to the community, will be given additional importance as a result of the plans which are being made for the occasion.

As a result of a suggestion made by Walter H. Golding, local manager for the Keith interests, which has received the hearty support of his principals, the theatre will be handed over to a local committee for the opening night and a big local performance will be given, the total proceeds of which will be presented to the orphans of the city. The opening will take place about the end of August, the exact date to be announced later.

Recalls Lanegan Days
The erection of this theatre, which marks a new era in the construction of such edifices in eastern Canada, is a matter on which the citizens will be able to congratulate themselves as it will be one of the finest in the Dominion. To the older citizens it will be of especial interest on account of the fact that it is erected on the exact spot where Lanegan's Lyceum stood many years ago. This theatre, on whose boards trod many of the most famous players of former times, occupied a prominent place in the life of the city. The opening of the new theatre on the same site will recall fond memories to many of the older citizens when they proudly escorted their sweethearts to Lanegan's and found the attraction of their side in the auditorium of even greater interest than the performance of the stars on the stage.

Many of the old people, who had a hand for the opening night, drawn not only by the fine programme which will be offered but also by the fact that the pleasant memories of the Lyceum days are recalled. The opening night will be a matter of importance to the community and the citizens of prominence who will be willing to admit that they were not present on the opening night.

When the plans for the opening were under consideration Mr. Golding suggested that an entertainment by St. John people for local charity would be a fitting method for marking the occasion. It was Messrs. Keith and Albee were in the city recently the project was discussed and they gave it their warmest approval.

The theatre fully equipped, lighted and with the services of the complete staff will be free gift from the management to the orphans of St. John for the opening night. The idea was warmly welcomed by local men with whom support were given. In order to secure a committee representative of both Protestant and Catholic interests, Knights of Pythias and Knights of Columbus members were called to a preliminary meeting to discuss the matter and their representatives met last evening in the Keith suite for the first time.

The meeting was organized with the election of Walter H. Golding as chairman and Frank I. McCaffery as secretary. The production of an operatic performance had first been considered but that it was decided would be impossible owing to the difficulty which would be experienced in getting together a large number of people for rehearsals during the middle of the summer season, and also because the necessary expenses would reduce the proceeds for the orphans. It was finally decided that steps should be taken towards the arrangement of an entertainment to include a short dramatic performance by some of the best local talent, and a programme in which the best local musicians, both vocalists and instrumentalists, would take part. The full committee is not chosen and the names will be announced later. They will, of course, give their services gratis and gladly do so.

After the opening performance it is probable that an informal reception will be held and those present will be given an opportunity to inspect the whole theatre from top to bottom about 1,800 people. The full amount, less small necessary expenses incurred by the committee will be divided among the orphans of the city.

A resolution expressing the appreciation of the generosity of the theatre owners was adopted by the committee at their meeting last evening.

LIQUOR CASE AGAINST BRUSSELS STREET MAN

When Robert Charlton, who had been summoned to the police court this morning to answer a charge of selling liquor without a license, did not appear, Policeman Kane was sworn and said that Charlton told him he would "skip" rather than come up. George and Thomas Whitewick also gave evidence, and told of getting liquor from Charlton at his home in Brussels street, near Brunswick, about July 1. A vigorous effort will be made by the police to locate Charlton if he does not turn up.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS OF THE WEEK IN ST. JOHN

Tennis is the popular amusement at present in St. John and at the surrounding pleasure resorts. True, the official tournament is only just beginning, yet the courts are filled by players who are taking part in a number of preliminary games. It does not take much in the way of entertainment to get together the residents of town or country at this time of the year, but the tennis games are of real interest and are in themselves sufficient reason to attract a large number of spectators. There are many good players among the younger set in St. John some of whom rendered a good account of themselves recently in Fredericton. As the Fredericton ladies are here today at the golf club match, it is expected that the local players will continue to uphold the credit of the St. John tennis courts. The visitors will be entertained at luncheon at the Green Lantern today. On the grounds at 5 o'clock afternoon tea will be served under the supervision of a committee of ladies composed of Miss Lydia Kimball, Miss Jennetta Bridges and Miss Mary MacLaren. SYNDICATE BUYS EDWARD STREET LOTS; CONCRETE HOUSES ARE TO BE BUILT

Contract for the First One is Let—Good Progress at Work For The New Bridge—North End Notes

A syndicate composed of several prominent men of this city have purchased all the lots available in Edward street, which runs from Alexandra street to Harrison, and they now own practically all the building lots in that street. It is their intention to make this street a nice residential locality and they have already begun to build concrete houses. The contract for the first of these houses has already been let to Murray Long, of West End, and work will be commenced within a month. The building lots in this street run from 160 to 170 feet deep, and the houses will be built ninety feet back from the street, giving ample room for lawns or gardens, which would slope from the houses to the street, giving a very attractive appearance. It is the intention of the owners of the property south to petition the city to grade the street which, when done, would greatly relieve the traffic in Douglas avenue and make Edward street a popular thoroughfare. The foundation work in connection with the new bridge across the falls is progressing rapidly. The work is being done by J. McVey & Son. It will probably be completed next October, when the Dominion Bridge Co. will begin their part of the contract. There are about eighteen men engaged in the work at present, and this number will soon be increased to about fifty. Next week work will be begun on the concrete retaining wall which is to be built at the west end of the bridge. At the east end work has not yet begun, but the house and store formerly owned by Thomas Fishery, and which was recently bought by the local government, is being torn down and work will be begun there immediately. The fire bug scare fortunately seems to have died away. The North End department has not been called out for nearly two weeks, and the people in that vicinity feel much relieved. Residents of Chesley street have been complaining for some time of not having a sewer in that locality. It is now being carried off the surface water. After the heavy rains of the night before the ditches were pouring torrents of water into the street, and became choked later in the day until the street was nearly flooded. As a result of this John Borden, of New York, an eight-year-old boy, nephew of Thomas Carey, nearly lost his life by falling in the gutter while playing in front of his uncle's house. He was rescued by Walter Long, who happened to be passing.

where Mrs. Dow was seriously injured by being thrown out of her carriage when it hit a hole in the road near the car near the town.

MORNING LOCALS

The organization of a new club, having for its object, the advancement of the commercial interests of the city, independent of the board of trade, is being discussed. A meeting will be held in next week for further consideration of the matter. It is expected that, if successful, the new organization will have strong social interest and rooms will be secured in a central location where, during the summer months, noon luncheons will be served to the members. The police were on the lookout yesterday for a car belonging to a man named Moran, but it was learned the car had been driven to Chatham today and may be located in Chatham today. Moran is wanted in St. Stephen.

Mrs. G. Herbert Flood entertained on Thursday at Rothesay, at a handsomely arranged tea to which guests from the city went by automobile. The grounds around the charming country house are particularly attractive, and these were made use of, by the large number present. Inside the beautifully appointed mahogany tea table was decorated with masses of roses and lighted by was candles. Presiding thereat were Mrs. Will Green, of New York, in wisteria charm, with tulle hat trimmed with real lace. Among those who attended from the city were Mrs. F. E. Sayre, Mrs. Percy Thomson, Mrs. George McAvity, Mrs. Fred Schofield, Mrs. Stetson, Mrs. Herbert Scho-

The doctor was once called in to treat the spoiled child of the family. After his departure the mother returned to the room and told the child that the doctor had complained that he had been very rude to him. "O, mamma," replied the child, "he's just an old fogey! He got angry because I put my tongue out for him before he asked me—'You'd a Companion."

LORD DERBY THE HOST TO THE KING

British Lord Genius In Matters Of Finance

LONDON SOCIETY

Queen Mary Making Concessions To the Demand of Modern Fashions—News of Canadians in England and on the Continent

(Times' Special Correspondence) London, July 14.—Lord Derby, who is at the moment writing His Majesty's host, is the greatest magnate in the North of England, and he has interests in almost every industry of importance in that part. His word is law as chairman of the boards on which he sits; he is indeed a wizard in financial affairs.

At first he declined to be associated with newspaper reporters, but some time ago changed his mind and now he is a ruling spirit on the boards of some of the great and most successful of northern publications.

Every body knows at this hour of the day that a forecast of Lord Derby's declined with thanks the throne of Greece when it went abegging. As Disraeli said at the time, it showed how little imagination the Stankleys had. Lord Derby of that day replied:—"I would rather be a cock of the walk in England than king of any questionable country. I was born a John Bull and I shall die one."

The Stankleys always go for huge results, and will touch nothing small. They like to build up towns and villages teeming with industry for which achievement they would never hesitate to tear up, if it needs be, the most historic oaks in England. All Bolton belongs to them.

As for Lady Derby, she is as exclusive and charmingly "correct" as any matron who wishes to please the queen must needs be. Queen Victoria was godmother to her daughter, Lady Victoria Stanley, a nice girl who has been "out" some little time and has a holy terror of men lest they be paying her addresses for love of the immense fortune which will some day be hers. She is quite morbid on the subject.

The queen really is becoming more up-to-date in her attire. The other day when she was opening the new university buildings for women at Regent's Park she wore a skirt which was comparatively tight though she had vowed never in this world to give up pleats and fullness. The good looks of the queen are a matter of general comment. Always a fine woman, though her warmest admirers never regarded her as handsome, this season she has positively developed good looks. Some account for this in the fact that she is so happy. Every day she gives more and more the idea that she is at last in her element absolutely.

It was the Duchess of Portland, who is one of the best of the animal world, who put the queen against wearing even imitation ostrich in her hats. Hitherto Her Majesty has never donned a hat that was not decorated with the imitation ostrich, though, of course, on principle, she would never be induced to wear the real. The duchess pointed out to the queen that nobody among the ordinary public would believe that a lady of so called a position would wear an imitation, so the queen promptly, though much to her regret, she being particularly fond of ostrich, abandoned it.

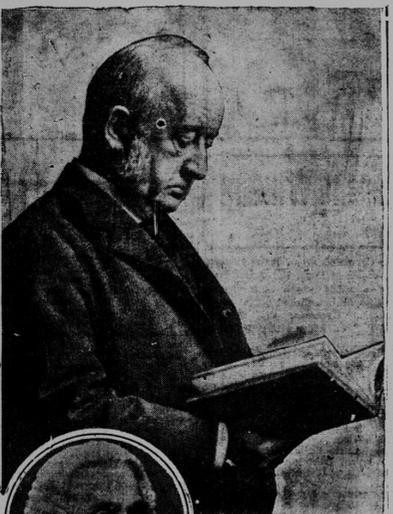

Donald Macmaster, K. C. M. P., will leave this week with the empire parliamentary tourists for Australia via Canada. His son, Donald, will go with him to stay with friends in Ontario, and will return later in the year to enter Cambridge University. Mr. and Mrs. Macmaster have taken another country house, "Merlewood," at Virginia Water and have recently entertained some of their Canadian friends. "Merlewood" is one of those delightful country homes which have such a charm for Canadian visitors. It has twenty-five acres of woodlands and grounds splendidly laid out, where golf and tennis can be played under ideal conditions. Mrs. Macmaster spends most of her time in the country, but occupies a great deal of that time in political work on behalf of her husband.

Mrs. F. B. Brown and Mrs. C. B. Macnair of Toronto, have returned from the Channel Islands and have taken a house in Ireland for the summer. Mrs. Peterson of Toronto, and her daughters, are staying in London for the summer. Later in the year they will go to the continent and Miss Marjory Peterson will stay in Berlin to study music.

Mrs. Hoffman of Toronto was the guest of Lady Tangey for the Henley Regatta. The Hon. Adam Beck is to return to Ontario soon. Mrs. Beck will stay in England for some months and they have taken a house in Derbyshire. Mrs. Willoughby Cummings, of Toronto, is to leave London soon for Ireland and will be the guest of Lord and Lady Aberdeen.

Miss Street of Ottawa, will spend the summer in the Austrian Tyrol. Mr. and Mrs. Barber of Toronto, and Miss Edith Barber, are spending a month in Devonshire. W. A. McLean of Toronto, is to leave for the continent next week. C. F. Bailey of the Department of Agriculture, Toronto, has arrived from the continent. Lord Glenworth, son of Lord and Lady Limerick, will leave next week for Canada, with the intention of following agriculture in Ontario. Sir George Doughty, M. P., will leave for a visit to British Columbia in connection with his interests there. Mrs. George Crompton of Montreal is spending the summer in the lake district. Mr. and Mrs. D. James of Thornhill are in Switzerland. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Learmont of Montreal have arrived and have paid several visits to Quebec House, West-Ham, General Wolfe's old home, which Mr. Learmont has purchased. Senator and Mrs. W. Gibson of Beauville, and Mrs. J. M. Eastwood of Hamilton, left London last week for Paris where Miss Evelyn Gibson has spent one last year. Mrs. E. R. Reader of Montreal has arrived in London from Paris. Robert Stoyth, of Berlin, is spending a few weeks in Ireland.

PRESENT AND FUTURE LORD CHIEF JUSTICES

LORD ALVERSTONE

Graphs on public sale represent him surrounded by his family—a very large one—in military uniform on horseback.

The Kaiser's Bad Arm The Kaiser supervises his own press-agent work. He has been known to have his photograph taken twenty times during an advertisement, and even the most skillful of royal press agents could hardly succeed in getting his royal master's salary raised. But it is a fact that practically all the sovereigns of Europe have, under one guise or another, men whose work is exactly that of the press agent. The royal press agent is never called by that name. Often he is called "the man in the white coat," and the work may fall also to the sovereign's private secretary.

The reason of the royal press agent's existence is simply that, for various private or state reasons, kings may want to be regarded in a certain light by their subjects. The only way to secure this is by skillfully booming the king's doings in that line and the distribution of photographs representing him in that light.

For instance, some years ago the rumor spread that the pale, stooping King Alfonso was excessively delicate, and was, indeed, dying of consumption. An idea borne out by most of the photographs that had till then appeared in the press. The Spanish throne is not a very safe one. The rumor that Spain was governed by a weakling was doing the royal prestige immense harm, and might indeed have endangered the existence of the throne. The rumor was doing harm, too, to the king's chance of a good marriage.

Plays Polo, Drives Motor-Cars So the king's secretaries and photographers started booming him as an athletic Newswaper all over Europe were flooded with pictures of the king playing polo, driving a high power motor car, shooting, riding, and doing while innumerable paragraphs began to appear telling stories of his physical prowess. This campaign still continues. Most of the photographs you see of Alfonso represent him in this light. Others are discouraged.

Much the same kind of booming has been done in the case of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, whose lack of inches is his greatest annoyance, though his fierce and military moustache is his pride. Photographs by royal photographers have been reprinted in thousands showing the king at the head of his military escort. He looks very impressive, the precaution having been taken to choose some of the smallest men in the army to act as his royal guard. By contrast he shows up well.

Another photograph boomed by the king's press agents shows him in a motor car, with sides, so low that his royal occupant's height seems well up to the average. The Kaiser has two great principles deeply at heart—one, that parents have a duty to the country to have large families, the other, the booming of the German army. So most of the photographs on public sale represent him surrounded by his family—a very large one—in military uniform on horseback.

They Boom Kings Monarchs Have Their Press Agents As Well as Music Hall Stars (Pearson's Weekly) It may be difficult at first to imagine what possible use royalty can have for a press agent. Kings hardly stand in need of advertisement, and even the most skillful of royal press agents could hardly succeed in getting his royal master's salary raised. But it is a fact that practically all the sovereigns of Europe have, under one guise or another, men whose work is exactly that of the press agent. The royal press agent is never called by that name. NEW YORK WOULD STARVE IN STRIKE

Serious if Railway Trains Were Not Able to Run

WOULD CUT OFF SUPPLIES

Large Wholesale Concerns Keep No More Than a Week's Supply of Beef on Hand—More Than 2,000,000 Quarts of Milk a Day

New York city's plight in the event of a strike of the men and conductors of the railroads east of Chicago would be serious. If trains ceased to run within a week there would be no fresh meat on the market and the milk supply would be cut off entirely almost at once. Together with this fact, the thousands of persons who utilize the railroads between New York city and the suburbs and summer and seaside resorts would be left without means of transit. Building and construction work would be tied up to a considerable degree and at the end of a week New York city would be suffering from a famine in all manner of foodstuffs.

It has been learned that the large wholesale meat concerns in New York city keep less than a week's supply of dressed meat in cold storage. Immense shipments arrive daily, and were this daily supply to be cut off even for a few days, the price of beef and mutton would become prohibitive. The advent of a strike which would stop the milk train service would cut off the supply of that commodity immediately.

Part of the work of Colonel Roosevelt's secretaries, too, when he was president, was to boom the "large family" theory. In one day fourteen photographs of the president surrounded by his family were taken. They were made public at intervals throughout the president's term of office. The Car of Russia is said to be the best-boomed man in Europe. He is particularly fond of being represented as a man of muscle. Photographs showing him rowing on the Neva were distributed all over Russia a few years ago, by his own order.

The late King Edward particularly favored those photographs and parading those photographs and parading those photographs showing him leading Minoru, the Derby winner, was typical of what he liked.

ENGLAND'S BIRTH RATE A RECORD LOW ONE

(London Chronicle)

THE REGISTRAR-GENERAL'S SUMMARY OF MARRIAGES, BIRTHS AND DEATHS IN ENGLAND AND WALES IN 1912 WAS ISSUED LAST NIGHT.

This shows there were: Per 1,000 of Population. Marriages 285,195 Births 872,767 Deaths 486,967

The birth-rate was the lowest on record, falling below last year's record by 0.8 per 1,000 and being 8.0 per 1,000 below the average for the preceding ten years. The death-rate was also the lowest ever recorded, and so was the marriage rate. The infant death-rate was 98 per 1,000 births, or 35 per 1,000 less than the rate in 1911 and 80 per 1,000 below the previous ten years' average.

In London there were 42,297 marriages, or 18.6 per 1,000 of the population. This rate is the highest since 1899. The birth-rate again fell and was only 24.5 per 1,000, the lowest since registration was established. Of the 100,650 notified births 2,272 were twins and 14 mothers gave birth to triplets. Shore-ditch and Finchbury had the highest death-rates.

For the first time a table is included, comparing the London statistics with those of various cities, not only at home but abroad. The following was the death-rate at the places mentioned: London 18.6 New York 14.1 Berlin 14.9 Chicago 14.8 Vienna 15.4 Edinburgh 15.7 Paris 16.8 Glasgow 17.6 Dublin 20.2 St. Petersburg 21.5 Moscow 24.3

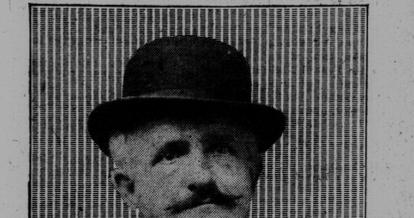

The birth-rate in New York of last year was 17.7 per 1,000, the lowest yet recorded. There has been a steady decline since 1899, when the rate was 26.4 per 1,000.

The sudden cessation of this supply to the city would cause not only material discomfort, but acute suffering.

Policeman—"Do you have to take care of the dog?" Nurse Girl—"No, the missus says I'm too young and inexperienced. I only look after the children."

DYING FROM GALL-STONES

Doctors Said Only An Operation Could Save His Life — "Fruit-a-tives" Enabled Him To Pass Nearly 200 Gall-Stones

J. B. Harding, Esq.

46 Grove Ave., Toronto, Ont., Jan. 10th, 1913. "I suffered untold agony from GALL-STONES, for the past three years, and tried many doctors without getting relief. I also paid $5.00 for one bottle of medicine which was useless. At times the pain from these gall-stones was so great, that I lost consciousness, and my condition was desperate. I was quite satisfied that I was dying and the doctors said I must be operated upon.

"During one of these very severe, acute attacks, I was given some 'FRUIT-A-TIVES', and after taking a short treatment of this remedy, I passed gall-stones over an inch in length, and as many as one hundred and fifty or two hundred in number. 'FRUIT-A-TIVES' was the only thing that would relieve my pain. They are the greatest medicine in the world, and if there is any one in Canada, or anywhere else, that suffers from gall-stones, I say 'Let them take 'Fruit-a-tives' and be cured.'"

"If this testimonial will further the good work of 'Fruit-a-tives' publish it with my full authority." J. B. HARDING. Are you wondering how "Fruit-a-tives"—a medicine made from fruit juices, can cure Gall-stones? We will tell you. The Gall bladder is the reservoir for holding the Gall, or bile, secreted by the liver. If there is insufficient bile, then the bile in the Gall bladder is thick and easily forms stones. When the liver is weak, it secretes very little bile and then the Gall bladder is partially filled with a thick jelly-like mass of bile and thus forms into lumps or stones. "Fruit-a-tives" stimulates the liver to secrete more bile, and this increased bile softens the Gall-stones and by overfilling the Gall bladder, forces the passage of the stones through the Gall duct—and thus cures the disease. "Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit juices. By a wonderful process, the medicinal properties of certain fruits are greatly intensified—then valuable tonics and antiseptics are added and the whole made into the pleasant tasting tablets known in every section of Canada as "Fruit-a-tives." 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

The New Fable of What Transpired After the Windup

(Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

Once upon a time Ferdinand breathed right into Adele's translucent...

In the meantime the elated Lover had looked all the way to the University Club...

Possibly if she could be weaned away from her eccentric Relations and governed with a Firm Hand she would turn out O. K.

Love was merely a disinclination to continue eating Breakfast alone. He said a Good Woman was a Jewel...

The Course of True Love ran smooth for a couple of Days, and then came a Letter from His People, expressing the hope that he had picked out a devout Unitarian.

Having sponged every Blot from the Escutcheon and laid out the Labels for all Generations yet unborn, the incipient Benedick thought there would be nothing more to it except Holding Hands and watching the Calendar.

The only Speeches they wished to hear could have been constructed out of the 40 words of standard Baby Talk...

THE END The Curtain began to descend very slowly, with Ferdinand and Adele holding the Picture.

Herb said he had always liked the Girl, even if she had given a couple of his Best Pals the Whillykathrow.

He was strong for the Married State, but it was highly advisable to have the Girl analyzed by a Chemist and passed upon by a Board of Experts before a Bid was submitted.

At 11 p.m. he had explained Everything, repudiated many lifelong Friendships, deodorized his College Career, flouted the Demon Rum, and resigned from all Clubs.

He knew that Adele favored the Suffrage Thing and that she had read a Book on how to recover from a Dance by lying down and giving a Recitation...

Occasionally he saw her at one of the many Dinners decreed by Custom. They had to sit miles apart, with mountains of unseemly Victuals stacked between them.

She wanted Ribbons down the Aisle and little Girls sprinkling Posies, a Concert Orchestra buried under the Palms, and a few extra Ministers of the Gospel just to dress the Pulpit.

"His Rapture had rendered him fairly incoherent, and he was gurgling like an after-dinner Perculator, but he finally made it evident that he had been Hooked."

"Occasionally he saw her at one of the many Dinners decreed by Custom. They had to sit miles apart, with mountains of unseemly Victuals stacked between them."

HIS LOGIC. A lawyer once asked a man who had at various times sat on several juries...

ened a jurymen. This was the man's reply: "I'll tell yer, sir, 'ow I makes up my mind. I'm a plain man and a reasonin' man, and I ain't influenced by anything the lawyers say; no, nor by what the witness says; no, nor by what the judge says."

Most women feel that their love letters could be twisted into a successful novel.

Philadelphia, July 25—Edward Musse, an American born German of this city, who is now acting as a bartender at a Delaware Water Gap hotel, has just fallen heir to $250,000 from an eccentric German uncle who imposes on him tantalizing conditions.

As a matter of fact, I am going to marry a journalist, but I dare not tell them that. I know too well what they would say.

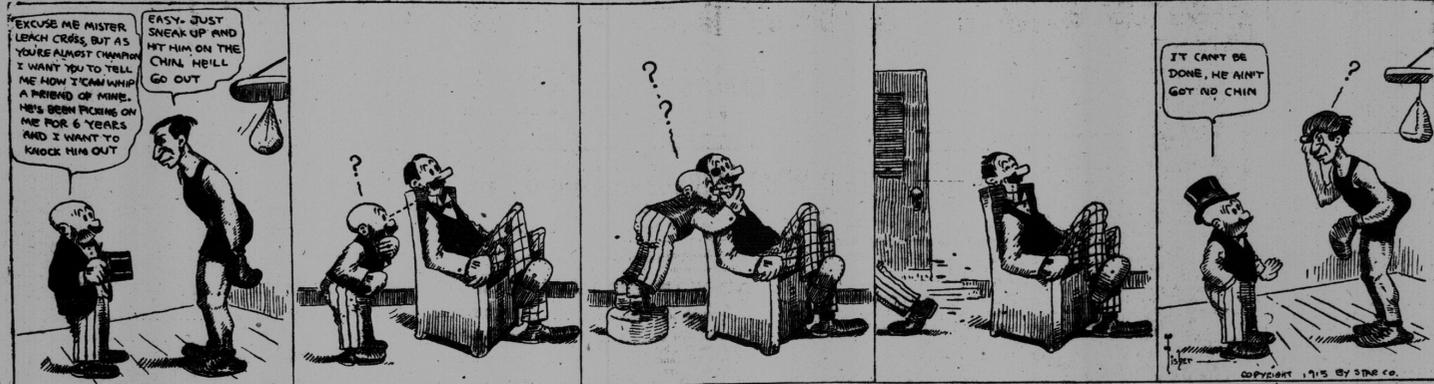

Blink (the wholesaler)—"Well, how many orders did you get yesterday?" Gink (the salesman)—"I got two orders in one shop."

THE HUSBAND QUESTION. Advice Given a Spinster and How She Finally Decided. (London Mail). I sat—the only spinster—in a drawing room full of married women. They were discussing their husband's callings.

FREDERICTONS TRIM GREEKS SIX TO ONE

Marathons Escaped Shut-out by Lonely Score in Ninth - St. Croix Defeated Bangor 9 to 7

After trimming the Pels twice in succession the Marathons got off their stride yesterday afternoon and dropped a game 6 to 1. Dederich, who pitched for Frederiction, was very effective, allowing but one hit until the eighth and holding his opponents to five safe ones for the whole game. Farbell again proved a pinch hitter with the necessary punch. He dropped a nice single in the ninth which had to do with the Greeks one tally. Waterhouse, O'Brien and Riley also did good work. Duggan's base running was a great feature. He stole home prettily in the fifth after drawing a base on balls and stealing second and third. Frederiction picked up their scores in different innings, tawing two in the first and adding single scores on timely hits and unimpaired errors in the fourth, fifth, eighth and ninth. The Greeks score came in the ninth on hits by Bien and Tachell, an error of Nolan's and Flaherty's long fly. Box score:

THE RING

Easy for Morris

Joplin, Mo., July 25.—Carl Morris, an Oklahoma heavy-weight, knocked out Al Benedict of Oklahoma in the fifth round of a scheduled fifteen round bout here tonight. Morris was never forced to exert himself, Benedict being at his mercy at all times, and going into clinches in preference to standing up and fighting.

A Trade On

New York, July 25.—A trade involving Pitcher Kahler and Outfielder Ryan of Cleveland and "Long George" McConnell, pitcher of the New York Americans, is being consummated. It is understood that Manager Birmingham has for some time been trying to secure McConnell and is willing to give Ryan and Kahler for him.

The Jinx

You may have the finest pitcher that has ever saved a pinch; You may have a catcher, strong and an umpire that's a cinch; You may have the best base-runners to boot—but what's the good of them? Every one will go to pieces when the Jinx breaks loose!

It can turn the finest pitcher to a veritable dab; Queer the best three-hundred hitter till he's useless to his club; It can turn your brain to cotton, and your spine to Charlotte Russe; And you and your grip going when the Jinx breaks loose!

It may be a cross-eyed fellow that you met that afternoon; Or a bat laid on the bias, or a boy who may be the smell of camphor, or the sight of a cabbage; But you're bound up against it when the Jinx breaks loose!

Yes, of course there are Jinx-killers, warranted to kill the Jinx. Neckties—loads of empty barrels—rubbing darters' woolly knits; Casting round a Kansas farmer, spilling hats, and chewing spruce; But the killers seem to wither when the Jinx breaks loose!

YACHTING

Cibou Won Bell Cup. Baddeck, N. S., July 25.—The race this afternoon was for the Gardner Bell memorial cup and was completed for the following boats: Scrapper II, of Baddeck; Gen and Yendys, of Halifax; Shirley and Cibou, of Sydney; Aeolus and Marton III, of Lunenburg; and Vato, of North Sydney.

The finish was exciting, the Gen coming in but a few moments ahead of the Shirley, the race between the Cibou and Marton III was interesting. The Cibou II, although first over the line by a series of mishaps, was in very poor position when clearing the eastern buoy but the careful and clever handling of her skipper, landed her across the finish line a winner by four seconds and gave her owner the honor of being the first to win the Bell memorial cup.

The corrected time is as follows: Gen, 2:32.48; Shirley, 2:35.84; Yendys, 2:37.58; Scrapper, 2:31.27; Cibou, 2:27.81; Marion, 2:27.35; Vato, 2:20.29; Aeolus, 2:34.22.

THE TURF

Selling Keene's Horses

An unusual event will take place in Madison Square Garden on the evening of September 2, when all the thorough-breds belonging to the estate of the late James R. Keene will be sold at public auction. It was made known a week or two ago that the remainder of the noted Casteion Stud would be put under the hammer but it was only a day or two ago that Solomon Hanford, executor of Mr. Keene's estate, decided to dispose of the horses in the big arena in New York City.

THE CLIMAX OF PLAY

Spills Climax of Play. The climax of this dramatic triumph was a huge run by Anson in the ninth. With two down and two strikes called, the old man made the full circuit, and slid in at the plate with a thunderous thump. They called it "A Runway Col," and it prospered—for a while. Then it curbed up and died with a margin on the losing side, but while it lasted it afforded loads of fun.

Long ago when the world was young and Anson was still an active star, Charley Hoyt, dead these many years, wrote a play specially as a vehicle for Anson. They called it "A Runway Col," and it prospered—for a while. Then it curbed up and died with a margin on the losing side, but while it lasted it afforded loads of fun.

WHERE WOMEN ARE SOLD AT AUCTION

Sale of Wives in European Dominions of Czar

MOST OF THEM CHRISTIANS

Open Market Held Every Three Months With Isolated Sales In the Interim—Wholesale Wedding to Their Tartar Husbands

(Times' Special Correspondence) St. Petersburg, July 14.—The putting up of eligible wives to auction is steadily practiced in the Czar's European dominions. The Kara Nogat steppe is the chief centre of this business, and most of the women sold are Christian Russians.

The Kara Nogat Tartars are remnants of a remarkable race. They took their name from their sovereign Nogat who in the fourteenth century founded an independent kingdom in the region of Peter the Great they migrated from their Volga home to the low-lying plain between the Black and Caspian Seas, and when the Russians subdued the Caucasus about 200,000 emigrated to Asia Minor and there mostly perished.

The women market is held every three months. In the intervals are only isolated sales. In the middle of January, April, July and October agents arrive at Karanagai with good-looking, auctionable women, mostly Tartars or Russians, Russians predominating.

The Christian women mostly belong to Russian settlements in the Caucasus, that is, to a highly intelligent and civilized class of Russia's population. The Nogat, Orenburg, and Astrakhan Tartars have nothing against this marriage by auction; it is recognized, they say, by the Shariat. The Christian Russians tolerate it out of poverty, and find consolation in the fact that the Tartars make good husbands, even though they require their wives to embrace Islam.

The auctions are carried on in what is judged by Tartar standards, is a perfectly orderly and decorous way. A week before the market the Tartars build at Karanagai a platform, which they decorate with flags, and with polished square pieces of Standard Oil petroleum tins. When preparations are complete there arrive the agents who bring batches of from four to ten girls.

More often than not the fathers of the girls also come, in order to see fair play, and to make sure of getting their money, for the beneficiaries are not the girls, but their parents. The agent usually takes 80 per cent of the sale price. The Auction.

The Tartar girls are sold without veils. They compromise with custom by holding the ends of their red headkerchiefs across their mouths. The Russian women are unveiled, but once purchased, their masters make them wear veils. When the preparations are complete, an iron shield is beaten in order to summon the bachelor Nogats from their work in the steppe. The girls mount the platform. The Tartars throng round, examine their faces, pinch them, dig fingers into them to make sure that they are fat. The Tartars consider that they are behaving well and decently because they never attempt to speak to the girls, the being forbidden by Mahomedan law. The women are then auctioned off one by one. Competition is keen. Prices run from $50 to $250. Sometimes the Tartars bid openly, paying from three to fifteen for a wife. The ponies mount the platform beside the girls, and the merits of both are compared.

The sale of Russian women is largely in the hands of the Astrakhan Tartar Muchmenoff, who speaks good Russian, and travels constantly round the Christian villages, seeking promising wives. Muchmenoff prefers to deal in widows, as he buys them outright and gets them relatively cheap. In South Russia a WIDOW HAS A BAD TIME; IF SHE HAS NO GROWN UP SONS SHE LOSES HER PARCEL OF LAND AND SHE FINDS IT HARD TO GET A SECOND HUSBAND.

Muchmenoff also buys Tartar women; and pays good prices for them. He is known throughout the Caucasus for his honesty, for his considerate treatment of his human goods and for his businesslike ways. He has formal documents for every transaction, which are published in the Moscow "Vedomosti."

The Tartar white slave market ends with an all-round wedding. The Tartars always marry the women on the auction day. Hospitality is often the result. The Russian wives, however, are looked on as inferior, because rich "sultans" prefer girls of their own race and faith. Those who have both Russian and Tartar wives expect the Russians to serve the Tartars. As a rule a Russian wife is sometimes carried through. The "sultan" Bari Vatazi, who owns a herd of 400 horses, this year caused a great scandal by his caprice in wives. He sold them in exchange for a Nogat girl.

St. Petersburg authorities regard these Asiatic conditions with indifference. The Nogat, like all Tartars, are politically "sound," and that is all St. Petersburg cares about.

HAIL STORM DOES GREAT DAMAGE IN KINGS COUNTY

Penobscot, July 25.—The crops in this section of Kings county were seriously damaged by a severe hail storm which swept across the valley at 1 o'clock today, leveling growing crops, breaking windows and leaving disaster in its wake.

The hailstones were of remarkable size, averaging about 1/2 inch in diameter, and some rivaled marbles. The brittle buckwheat stalks were cut cleanly to the ground and potatoes showed the same fate on some farms. Daniel Robinson estimates the damage to crops on his farm alone will be $500, so that in this vicinity the loss will amount up in the thousands of dollars.

The storm came up from the north-west, beginning at 1 o'clock and raging furiously for half an hour. Thirty windows in the lower Penobscot Baptist church were smashed and twenty panes were broken in the upper church, many farm houses suffering in the same way, especially those with westerly exposure.

CHICAGO ARSON TRUST INDICTED

Chicago, July 25.—True bills charging complicity in incendiary fires were voted today by the grand jury against Joseph Fish, head of Joseph Fish & Company, public fire adjusters and nine others, two of whom are reported to be women.

The action followed testimony of Mrs. Fannie Korshak, whose husband is now a fugitive from justice in connection with indictments previously returned by the grand jury as a result of its investigation into the operations of the alleged "arson trust."

Mrs. Korshak is said to have named Fish as one of the members of the alleged ring. The indictments voted today are said to be based on the jury's investigation of five incendiary fires by which the insurance companies were defrauded out of many thousands of dollars. Fish is wealthy, a member of a number of clubs, and one of the best known public fire insurance adjusters in the city. The indictments, it is expected, will be returned in court either tomorrow or early next week.

IS TO HAVE HIS OWN "SET" NOW

Prince of Wales Branching Out For Himself

HOSSESSES BUSY

They Want to Be Included Among Friends of Heir to Throne—The Present Arrangements For Young Edward's Household

London, July 12.—During the last few months the Prince of Wales, now within two years of his majority, has given evidence that he desires and means to have more lively associates and friends than those eminently well behaved but rather dull persons by whom he has been surrounded since he could walk.

His Royal Highness is forming a "set" of his own that gives promise of being livelier than the company he has been accustomed to. It must be made clear, though, that by "lively" one does not mean "fast" or anything more than healthy joy of life.

All the smartest hostesses are busy laying plans to get into the Prince's "set" and are making strenuous efforts to attract the favorable attention of the heir-apparent. One who will be a visitor to the Prince's household is the wife of Lord Vivian, Lady Vivian, a lady of some importance in the Prince's set and who is helping him to form it, is the wife of Lord Vivian, Lady Vivian, a lady of some importance in the Prince's set and who is helping him to form it.

The dinner took place when the guests consisted of half a dozen of the youngest, prettiest and smartest married women and about the same number of men. The prince went with Mrs. Mackenzie, her husband and the inevitable Mr. Hansell, his tutor. He himself remained in the study to attend to a letter. His tutor, Mr. Hansell, will remain as a sort of guardian.

Of his boy friends Lord Carrington, the son of the Marquis of Lincolnshire, is one of the prince's closest chums, and he will certainly occupy a conspicuous position in the future entourage of the prince. In Lord Carrington the prince finds a congenial spirit who does not at present take life more seriously than a jolly, clean-minded boy should, and who is as ready as the prince is becoming to enjoy it. Lord Carrington was especially chosen by Their Majesties as a playmate for the prince and his brother several years ago, and he was constantly invited to York Cottage and to Balmoral.

In those days young Carrington—who was Lord Wandsworth as his father, Lord Carrington, had not been elevated to a marquessate—a very serious sort of boy and, in Their Majesties' eyes, an ideal companion for the Prince of Wales. The heir-apparent is, by the way, intensely anti-semitic in his predilections, and this fact is greatly influencing him in the choice of his friends. It is well known, of course, that both King George and Queen Mary always viewed with dislike the close and intimate friendships King Edward had among the wealthy Jews in England, and the prince was brought up in an atmosphere that was decidedly anti-semitic.

The prince does not at present much trouble himself with such considerations. At Oxford not long since a dinner was given by the Bullington Club at which the prince was to be the chief guest of the evening; and among the undergraduates asked to meet the prince was the son of a very wealthy cousin of Lord Rothschild. When, however, the list of guests was submitted to the prince he asked that this proposed guest's name be omitted. His refusal drew on the prince a severe lecture from King George who told him that he must stand and reputation. It is true that the first hostess to entertain the prince at dinner was a Jewess, but, as already explained, Lady Neumann secured the prince's presence through the influence of Mrs. Mackenzie.

Dangerous Politics. The prince is beginning to take a keen interest in politics, a fact that will also influence him a good deal in the choice of his friendships, and in regard to this matter he is causing his parents some anxiety. He has been a rather constant attendant at the meetings of the union debating society at Oxford, and though he was strictly forbidden ever to speak there it is a matter of common knowledge that his sympathies are entirely with the supporters of the most exclusive Toryism and that he is opposed to all the ideas of democratic government which are now finding so wide an expression at Oxford.

The prince's idea is that England's hope lies in the foundation of a Tory party composed exclusively of aristocrats and free from all commercial influences, and there is a group of young men at Oxford who apparently hope to make the prince the center round which such a party will gather. In the present state of political thought in England it would be difficult to imagine a more dangerous position for the heir to the throne to occupy and the prince has been strictly forbidden to attend any function or gathering of any sort that is in any way of a political character.

SAW-MILL BURNED. Dulles, N. B., July 25.—The saw-mill, built recently by the Sydney Lumber Company to replace the one destroyed by fire about a year ago, is a complete mass of ruins, the result of a fire which broke out a few minutes before 6 o'clock this evening.

Two French savants, one of them Professor Pinard, of the Faculty of Medicine of Paris, and the other Dr. Barrier, inspector general of veterinary schools, have each made a will in which, with the consent of their families, they leave their bodies to be autopsied and dissected after their death by the faculty of Paris, before being handed over for cremation.

Don't Waste Half a Day Washing Your Hair! USE ELBER'S DRY SHAMPOO. Will clean your hair thoroughly, leave it soft, silky, glossy and full of vitality, and do it in fifteen minutes. Washing leaves the hair dry, hard, brittle, metallic and difficult to manage. It takes half a day to do it right, and costs much labor to dry it properly and untangle the snarls caused by scrubbing, toweling, rubbing and fanning. Save your hair, your temper and your time by writing to ELBER'S HOME PRODUCT CO., Windsor, Ont., for full, free particulars about this most delightful preparation.

A CRUEL FATHER IS SLAIN BY HIS SON. (Continued from page 12.) The origin of the fire is unknown. There is some insurance. F. McVoy, the manager, who arrived here from Campbellton, after the conflagration, is hopeful that within a week work will be started to erect a new and larger mill.

A woman can generally be depended upon to make a fool of a man, but sometimes she saves her trouble. Dangerous Politics.
