SMASHING AUSTRIANS ALL WAY ALONG ON FRONT OF 125 MILES

Enemy Giving Way Everywhere—More Than 1,000 Square Miles of Territory Re-claimed in Last Week

Rome, Nov. 2.—The destruction of the Austrian armies continues apace along a front of 125 miles. On every sector of the long front the enemy is giving way before the smashing blows of the Allies.

When the Fadalto Pass was taken the way was opened to Belluno and the Austrian armies were separated. Simultaneously the Fourth Italian army renewed its fierce attack in the Monte Grappa region so as to hold there the nine divisions and reserves between Keltz and Fonzoso, endangering both points. The Quero-Fetere Pass was captured and the enemy is falling back, not attempting to defend himself.

In the Trentino the Austrians are seeking safety through the valleys of the heavy mountainous region around Trent. East of the Piave the Austrians are retreating precipitately toward the Tagliamento, especially hard pressed by the Duke of Aosta's army on the south.

MORE THAN 1,000 MILES OF TERRITORY. Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press.) More than 1,000 square miles of Italy's invaded provinces have been reconquered in the last week's fighting, but the greatest importance of the daring movement conceived by General Diaz is his success in separating the Austrian army occupying the Monte Grappa and Trentino regions from that on the Venetian Plain.

At the same time he is threatening the Austrian contingents holding the section southeast of the Piave, which may be enveloped or cut off by the Italians advancing toward Pordenone.

King Victor Emmanuel is always the first to share the danger with his troops. He divides his time between the Monte Grappa region and the section east of the Piave. His appearance always causes outbursts of enthusiasm. When recognized by his men they shout to him: "Viva the soldier king."

When liberated populations, with tears in their eyes, surround his automobile, they shout: "Viva our liberator."

MORE BIG SUCCESS ON ITALIAN FRONT. London, Nov. 2.—Troops of the tenth Italian army have crossed the Livenza River between Motta and Sacle and have established a bridgehead on the east side of that river, according to an official statement on operations on the Piave front issued by the war office here today.

British troops are fighting with the enemy. The Northamptonshire Yeomanry regiment has captured twelve machine guns and fifteen machine guns, and has established a bridgehead on the east side of that river, according to an official statement issued at the war office tonight.

Monte Mottog, Monte Baldo, Monte Longar, La Meletta Di Gullio, Sasso Rosso, Monte Shiz, and Lambara are in our possession. Three thousand prisoners and 200 guns were captured on the Ariano Plateau today.

Enemy resistance at Fidalto defile was overcome by our troops, who have entered Belluno. The third cavalry division has reached the plains north of Pordenone. The second cavalry is fighting hostile rear guards in Medva.

NO RETREAT SAVE BY MULE PATHS. Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press.) Allied troops have reached the Grigno, five miles north of Monte Liser. They are cut off the retreat of the Austrians in Trentino, except over mule paths in the mountains.

The heading flight of the Austrians continues on the Venetian Plains.

Retreat From Udine. Rome, Nov. 2.—The Austrians are retreating from Udine, about fifty miles east of the Piave, according to reports received here. They have abandoned a great quantity of war material in the town of Udine, which was Italian headquarters before the 1917 retreat.

Murderous Act. Italian Headquarters East of the Piave, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press.) Allied troops continue to advance. The fighting along this front is but one continuous skirmish.

An unusual incident took place when

London, Nov. 2.—According to a Bu despatch despatched to the Vossische Zeitung in Berlin, members of the crews of the entire Austrian fleet at Pola have mutinied, seized all the ships of various nationalities there and declared they will obey only their respective national councils.

Amsterdam, Nov. 1.—The navy department of the Austro-Hungarian ministry of war has published an imperial decree permitting all men who are not of South Slav nationality to return home on permanent leave, according to Vienna news received here. The decree orders the fleet, naval works and other naval property transferred to the South Slav national council sitting at Agram and

VALENCIENNES BOTTLED UP BY CANADIANS YESTERDAY

Lightning Blow Friday On Both Sides of City

MAIN ATTACK FROM SOUTH

Terrific Canadian Barrage to Crush Resistance Quickly and Save Lives of Allied Soldiers—Only Miracle or Early Retirement Will Save German Force

With the British Army in France and Belgium, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press.) Valenciennes today was bottled up as the result of a lightning blow by the British on both sides of the city. Only immediate retirement from the place or something in the nature of a miracle can save the German troops, who at noon had only a narrow gateway open to them for retreat toward the west.

The main attack at Valenciennes was south of the city, just above Pannars. The Canadians, who engineered the drive, were supported by one of the heaviest artillery bombardments of the war. The gunfire was terrific, and this made the going easy for the overseas infantry which followed.

The idea of the Canadians in using this great barrage was to crush the resistance as quickly as possible, so as to save Allied lives. The bombardment had the desired effect, for the opposition offered by the enemy was not strong, and the Canadians pushed rapidly through to their objectives, which gave them the whole of the railway line running south from Valenciennes.

The enemy's casualties were heavy and the little Rhonelle river was lined with German dead. About noon the enemy massed for counter-attacks from Soullain. According to the latest reports the Canadian artillery was dealing with the projected assault.

At the same time the Canadians attacked with other British troops and drove forward north of the city and forced a crossing of the Scheidt. Audenarde was gravely threatened today.

SOME LOCAL COUPONS FROM THE VICTORY BONDS

The other evening while the Victory Loan salesmen were busy in the lobbies of Imperial Theatre in connection with the outdoor programme a little bird flew into the building and perched first upon one thing and then another. It seemed quite at home and everybody took it as an omen of good luck. Later in the evening it was caught and caged, but in the morning released.

Another interesting incident took place at the same kind of a meeting on Thursday evening. A farmer from up the C. G. R. line said he would take $200 worth of bonds but if he could sell a certain lot of poultry he possessed he would go another hundred. A commercial traveler happened to overhear the remark and being a keen salesman with a knowledge of the country and its people, went to the long distance phone and got in touch with a farmer in need of hens, etc. A dicker was made right there and the farmer bought the extra $100 worth of bonds.

PRACTICAL PATRIOTISM. The Sunday schools of the Presbyterian church have set out to buy Victory bonds to the value of $300,000. Influenza conditions will make the task a harder one than it would have been otherwise, and it was quite an undertaking to begin with, but those in charge are going ahead confidently. Not only will the schools in this way be performing a practical service towards winning the war, but the bonds so purchased are to be used for a most patriotic purpose. The intention is to use the income from the bonds for the purpose of establishing and maintaining boarding schools for the children of foreign parents, where they may be educated according to Canadian ideals and converted into real Canadian citizens.

In addition to the types of vessels for which contracts have been placed, plans and specifications for a larger type of 10,500 tons are in course of preparation, and it is expected that contracts for the construction of several vessels of this type will be placed in the near future at Halifax and possibly at Vancouver.

All the vessels to be constructed under the government shipbuilding programme will be built of steel.

ST. JOHN'S OPPORTUNITY.

It ought to be a matter of pride with the citizens of St. John to have the largest possible number of individual subscribers to the Victory Loan. It should be a community affair. All are alike interested in having the soldiers cared for during the period of demobilization, and in having prosperity in the country. To lead to the country at this time is to do the right thing. It is a method of doing one's part in the great crisis through which the world is passing.

THE SITUATION TODAY.

Events are moving swiftly in the war zone. The Turkish surrender is unconditional, and British mine-sweepers are clearing the Dardanelles. On the western front the Canadians have bottled up the enemy and its evacuation by the Germans is apparently a question of hours.

THE SHADOW OF DOOM.

The fate of Count Tissa is a warning to the war lords of Germany. They also remember what happened in Russia. The unbridled passions of a mob will not yield to discipline. Now that the eyes of the German people are being opened to the fate in store for their country as a result of the leadership to which they have so long given unquestioning obedience there is the possibility of terrible developments.

MELANCHOLIA.

The Standard this morning says: "Thursday marked the close of the provincial year. The financial statement to be submitted by the Premier government at the next session of the Legislature will probably make melancholy reading for the people of this province."

A NOBLE RIVALRY.

Rogersville was the first district in the province to subscribe its full quota of the Victory Loan. The little parish of St. Mary's, which not only subscribed its quota but has added a crown to the honor flag by increasing the amount by twenty-five per cent.

"Why when the bell rings I put on my hat and gloves before I open the door. If it proves to be someone I don't want to see I say: 'So sorry, but I'm just going out.'"

"But suppose it's someone you want to see?" said the second.

"Oh, then I say: 'So fortunate, I've just come in.'"

DEAD WILMERS 75 TO HUNDRED IN FEAR-FUL TRAIN CRASH

(Continued from page 1.) Immediately after the crash, the wrecked car burst into flames, adding to the terror of those who had escaped injury, and increasing the peril of those pinned in the wreckage.

Survivors of the crash crawled from the wreckage and ran through the tunnel, screaming and weeping unmercifully.

According to the passengers it became evident soon after the leading train left Brooklyn bridge that the motorman was unfamiliar with the line, which runs on the elevated structure south of the river.

New York, Nov. 2.—Announcement was made at 1:45 o'clock this morning that the strike of motormen and motor switchmen on the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company lines had been settled.

New York, Nov. 2.—With the death toll placed at ninety-eight by the Brooklyn police, rigid investigations were under way today by the commission, the district attorney and Mayor Hylan, to determine the blame for the wreck.

Interest centered on William Lewis motorman of the ill-fated train, who was arrested on a charge of homicide, after he had fled from the scene in terror.

Lewis admitted to me that this was his first run over a rail. He said he was going thirty miles an hour. No man should be allowed to run a train without at least three months training."

THE COMMON GOAL

Since the Canada Food Board's "Eat More Fish" campaign last year the general consumption of this meat substitute has increased 100 per cent, while in some districts it has gone up by 700 per cent. Even this increase does not bring us to the level of the pre-war per capita consumption of Great Britain and other European countries, however. Our goal must be a pound of fish a week for every one.

RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. Oscar D. Wetmore.

The death of Mrs. Oscar D. Wetmore occurred at her residence in Chicago on October 15. Mrs. Wetmore, whose maiden name was Catherine Patten, was a native of St. John and was in her early days one of the city's most beautiful women. Many of the older residents will remember the beautiful Miss Catherine Patten. She was twice married, her first husband being Douglas B. Stevens and at the time of their marriage, 1850, he was the superintendent of telegraph lines. In 1860 she married Oscar D. Wetmore, of Chicago. Mrs. Wetmore is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Kate Nicholas and Mrs. Emma Rose, two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mrs. Rose Nearen.

The death occurred on Thursday evening in the Parks Emergency Hospital of Mrs. Rose Nearen. Her husband is at present overseas and she is, in addition, survived by two children. Her sister, Miss Murphy, lies critically ill in the same ward. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, of 72 Smythe street. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon, and interment was made in the new Catholic cemetery.

George Chestnut.

The many relatives of George Chestnut, of Manly Valley (Pa.), were shocked a few days ago, when his brother, John Chestnut, of Passakeag, was informed of his sudden death at his home there after three days' illness of influenza.

Less than two months ago Mr. Chestnut gave his many friends here a surprise by visiting them after an absence of forty-five years. In early manhood he left his parental roof to seek his fortune elsewhere and settled in Pennsylvania, where he married Miss Harriet E. Snider. Through industry and prosperity he was able to retire from business a few years ago, being engaged in farming, besides running a large milling business.

Miss H. E. Holder.

The death occurred at Lunenburg (Sask.), on October 28, of pneumonia, of Miss Harriet E. Holder, eldest daughter of the late L. G. and Mrs. Holder, formerly of St. John, now of Lunenburg (N. S.). She is survived by her mother, five brothers and three sisters. The brothers are Leonard B., manager of the Lunenburg Machine Co.; Lieut. P. Victor, of the R. A. F., now overseas, and three young brothers at home. The sisters are Mrs. Laurence L. Hebb, Miss Clara, of the Royal Bank, and Doris, of the Bank of Montreal, Lunenburg. Miss Holder had been teaching in the west for several years and had many friends both in the

IN THE TRAIL OF THE HUN

THE LATE MR. KEITH

Kindly Remembered Here Because of Imperial Theatre Visits

SUCCUMBED TO PNEUMONIA

Head of Great Amusement Organization and Scholarly Man—Father Finnegan, Well Known Here, Close Personal Friend—Terms of Will

By the will of A. Paul Keith, the Imperial Theatre, St. John, and theatres at Montreal and Manchester, N. H., are bequeathed to Edward F. Albee of New York. A former St. John man, Robert G. Larsen, will be one of the owners of the B. F. Keith Theatre Co., which owns the Boston house and other theatres, according to the will. The stock of the company will be distributed among Mr. Larsen, Mr. Albee, Walter P. Cooke of Buffalo and Maurice Goodman of New York, while all rights to the Bijou Theatre in Philadelphia are left to the same persons.

The will contains personal bequests of more than $200,000, and a bequest of $25,000 to the class fund of the class of 1901 of Harvard University, of which Mr. Keith was a member. The latter sum is to be paid on the 25th anniversary of his graduation. The residue of the estate is left to His Eminence Cardinal O'Connell of Boston, to be used for charitable purposes and for the president and fellows of Harvard College in equal shares. Mr. Larsen was formerly a newspaper man in St. John and Boston, and for many years was press agent of the Keith interests at Boston.

It was largely through the personal visits of Mr. Keith that Imperial today graces King Square. The local management urged a new theatre upon the central executive in New York and Boston and upon these representations Mr. Keith came to St. John and looked over prospective sites. "That spot or none" was his judgement concerning the King Square location and at once wheels were set in motion to acquire the several parcels of land required.

Mr. Keith was a man of keen judgement and far-sightedness. He did not turn a deaf ear to the suggestions emanating from his local representatives concerning the erection of a new theatre and with his business partner E. F. Albee, decided to give St. John a theatre in keeping with Keith quality and quite as good as those erected in bigger and more profitable centres. The boldness of this enterprise has been repeatedly commented upon by business men but in spite of nearly five years of wartime connations the Keith house has "carried on" with the community as a whole, sharing its ups and downs and not relaxing. This spirit is a direct reflection of the mind of the late Mr. Keith who was into war work to his arm pits and never failed to agree with his partner Mr. Albee in co-operating in all St. John's efforts for war benefits or relief measures.

The deceased Boston magnate was officially known as president of the United Booking Offices, a corporation purveying talent and performers of all kinds—in other words Keith vaudeville. He succeeded his father, the late B. F. Keith, a few years ago as head of this large corporation. Besides providing vaudeville programmes for most of the important and higher class theatres in America and Canada, the Keith interests own a chain of houses of their own. In Canada the Imperial, Montreal, and the Imperial, St. John are owned outright by Messrs. Keith and Albee. In the maritime provinces all the Keith vaudeville acts supplied the territory circulate from the United Booking Offices, Boston branch. Some of the principal Keith houses are the Palace, New York; Keith's, Washington; Keith's, Boston; Expensive houses in Providence, Columbus, Portland, Lowell, and nearly all the important cities of the east and near west. The ramifications of the business include "big time" vaudeville at high prices, "family" vaudeville for small cities and "small time" vaudeville; Keith stock dramatic companies, du luxe picture houses, various hippodromes and combination picture-vaudeville theatres. An army of performers thousands strong is constantly proceeding on circuit and eight floors in the Palace Theatre Building, New York, are devoted to the executive staff, who direct the myriad details of this wonderful concern. Over this central headquarters E. F. Albee has immediate supervision, a man who has for more than a quarter of a century been one of the great factors in building up the corporation.

A. Paul Keith died at the home of one of his secretaries, E. M. Robinson in New York on Wednesday evening of pneumonia. He was ill but a few days. His unexpected death at the height of vigorous manhood is a great blow to his corporation and his friends. He was 43 years of age, unmarried and the only child of the late Benjamin F. Keith, father of vaudeville on this side of the ocean. In less than ten years father, mother and only child have thus been called away, eliminating the Keith name from the business though it will doubtless be retained in revered memory. Mr. Keith was a man of scholarly attainments, a graduate of Harvard, a typical cultured Boston boy. He was for a long time president of the Boston Athletic Association, an exclusive Back Bay club, also a prominent member of the Algonquin Club of Commonwealth Avenue, where he had his apartments in the Puritan Suites. Although an extremely busy man the vaudeville king was active in Boston's exclusive social sets and quite deservedly popular. He possessed a charming personality and was most gracious and helpful to everybody. His employees down to the least important regarded him as a big brother.

Mr. Keith met numerous St. John people through Rev. Father Finnegan, Boston, who visits this city frequently. Father Finnegan has been Mr. Keith's spiritual advisor since his boyhood and has travelled extensively with him. Mr. Keith's benefactions through Father Finnegan have been generous and numerous and not confined to his own denomination.

Father Finnegan arrived from Boston at Mr. Keith's bedside in time to administer the last sacraments. A few months ago A. Paul Keith went to France and Belgium with E. H. Sothorn and others to pave the way for the present elaborate system of entertainment for the allied armies, a remarkable achievement in trans-scenic circuiting, and in which many performers circled in this city are participating. Mr. Keith was an ardent war worker and at the very outset of the struggle when the United States was painfully neutral, he led his Canadian managers to go the limit in co-operating with everything patriotic.

MAY BE A NAVAL FIGHT IN BLACK SEA

Old Russian Fleet Believed Effective Under German Ownership; Sweeping of the Dardanelles Begun

London, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press)—A large fleet of the latest types of British mine sweepers today began the tedious task of clearing the Dardanelles of mines and other obstructions. This work, together with other safeguards which the Allies consider to be necessary before the Allied fleet enters the tortuous waterway leading past Constantinople and through the Bosphorus to the Black Sea, will take several days, in the opinion of the British admiralty. A fortnight ago the Allied fleet tested the efficiency of the forts inside the Dardanelles by dropping a few shells on them. The reply of the Turks was quick and fairly accurate, showing that the fortifications are still probably in good shape. The fifty mile passage through the waterway is a veritable sea of mines and other obstructions, which it will require some little time to remove. In addition the mine sweepers will be hindered by the swift currents, which are stronger at this season of the year than at any other. The Allied fleet, it is believed, is sure to come to grips with the old Russian fleet in the Black Sea if the war continues a few weeks longer. There is every reason to believe that the Germans have put this fleet in good order. It consists of seven pre-dreadnaughts, two cruisers and twelve submarines, besides at least twenty-six other types of war craft. The enemy has the advantage of three good bases in the Black Sea—Odessa, Sebastopol and Nikolayev—but it is likely that they are short of ammunition. At Nikolayev four cruisers are being built. One of them is nearly completed. —BUY-VICTORY BONDS—

BRITISH CAPTURES IN THREE MONTHS ENORMOUS

Amount to 172,659 Germans, 3,957 Cannon, 17,000 Machine Guns, and Big Stocks of Stores

London, Nov. 1.—An official statement by the war office tonight says—"We have captured the villages of Maresches and Aulney and have reached the line of the railway in the southern outskirts of Valenciennes. Strong opposition was met with, particularly north of Maresches and the village of Aulney. There were determined counter-attacks by the enemy on the high ground west of the Presau-Valenciennes road. In spite of these attacks we maintained our positions on the ridge. This evening further counter-attacks developed northeast and north of Aulney. In the course of these operations we captured between 2,000 and 3,000 prisoners. "In October the British forces in France captured more than 48,000 German prisoners, including 1,200 officers. In the same period we captured 925 guns, including many heavy cannon, 7,000 machine guns and 670 trench mortars. "In the area of the enemy's retreat on

Ambassador Gerard Says:

"The German Armies were held only a few days, yet the delay of those few days changed the fortunes of the whole world."

The Belgian soldiers who held on those few days, died fighting. Their children are dying of slow starvation. It would be well to digest these two statements.

If we grasp what this situation means, we can SAVE Belgium—not by the sword, but by paying our debt in part.

A contribution of a few dollars, administered by the Canadian Bureau in Brussels, will restore health and strength to a little Belgian, now in the grip of pitiless starvation. Oh, it is hard to write calmly and sanely about a horror that is positively ghastly...

Growing children struggling along on a bowl of soup and two pieces of bread a day, furnished by United States loans to the Belgian Government. . . . Poor little mites, what hope is there in such a ration of building flesh and bone? No wonder Consumption and Rickets stalk through the stricken land.

Through the Belgian Relief Fund, YOU can help to alleviate this horror for at least one little sufferer. You needn't forego your three good meals a day to do it. Send in your contribution. Mark it "For the Belgian Children". And whatever you give, give quickly!

Make cheques payable and send contributions to Belgian Relief Fund (Registered under the War Charities Act) to your Local Committee, or to Headquarters, 59 St. Peter St., Montreal.

PLUCKY MISS CANADA.

(By Marjory MacMurety.) Canada is proud of her girls who are working hard because there is a war. The sun shines on no plucker girls than ours. Some of them are working for wages for the first time. Others have gone into the hardest paid work because they must keep step with the boys in France or Flanders. It may be the first money you have ever earned, girl with the ray envelope. Dad used to give you what you needed, and he is proud to know now that you have your own bank account. There are four hundred thousand wage-earning women in Canada. Buy your country's bonds for victory and for peace. "Do you understand, plucky Canadian girl, that when you take up your country's challenge to show what you can do, there is no record for a Victory Loan that your country may not achieve? Whoever else stays out of this great national campaign, Canada wants the backing of her girls who have worked for victory. It is not because you are likely to take a thousand dollar bond. Take a fifty dollar bond or a hundred dollar bond, and the boys will be home sooner because you have helped to loan the great guns you have helped to sail the fleet, you have packed the great ships with food, you have sent the trans ports over to bring them back, you have kept the factories, farms, shops, rail ways, mines and offices ready for them to share with you. "Plucky Miss Canada, this Victory Loan is the best investment you can make. For Canada, your own sake, the boy's sake, for the homes of all the boys and girls you know, make sure of the success of Canada's 1918 Victory Loan. —BUY-VICTORY BONDS—

Unusual Responsibility

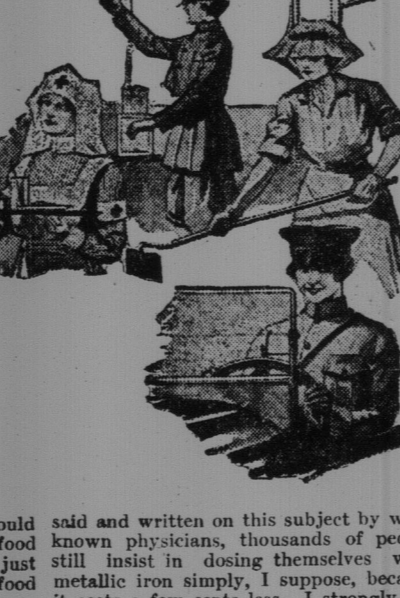

CONDITIONS brought about by the war have placed many women in positions of unusual responsibility, involving mental strain and anxiety.

Physicians Explain Why Women Need More Iron in Their Blood Today Than 30 Years Ago

Say Anaemia—Lack of Iron is Greatest Curse to the Health, Strength, Vitality and Beauty of the Modern Woman.

Less than a quarter of a century ago, little or no effort was expected of the average woman and her quiet pursuits demanded far less strength, energy and endurance than now.

Today there is not a woman but who stands ready to serve her country and do a man's work if needed. But to meet the strain she must be full of the life, vim and vitality that come from having plenty of iron in the blood.

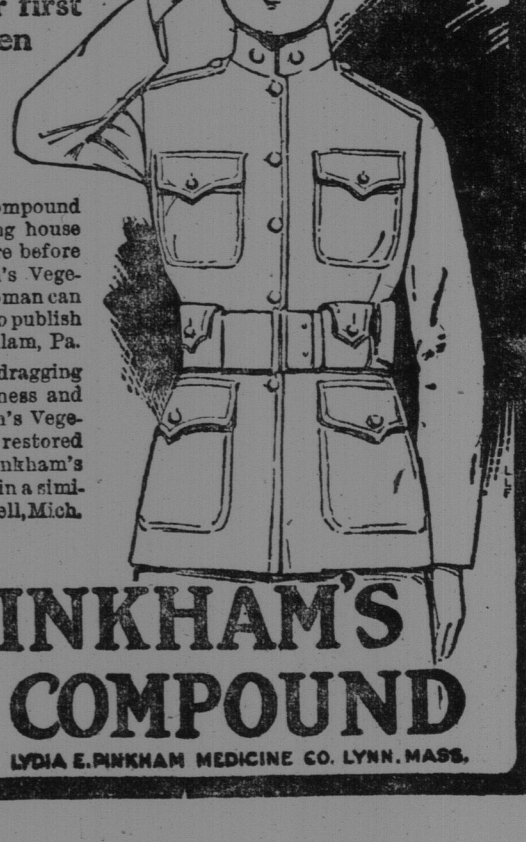

DR. FERDINAND KING, New York Physician and Medical Author, says: "Nuxated Iron—to supply the iron deficiency. Opinions of Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital; Dr. A. J. Newman, formerly Police Surgeon of Chicago, and other physicians who have thoroughly tested the value of Nuxated Iron.

Dr. A. J. Newman, Former Police Surgeon of Chicago, and former House Surgeon, Jefferson Park Hospital, Chicago, says: "It has been my particular duty during the past six years to assist in keeping Chicago's five thousand blue coats in good health and perfect fighting trim, so that they would be physically equipped to withstand all manner of storms and ravages of nature's elements.

Manufacturers' Note—Nuxated Iron, which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians, is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists.

SERBIA'S ATTITUDE

(Christian Science Monitor.)
The statement made by Mr. Pashitch, the Serbian premier, in London last week, in which he definitely restated the position of the Serbian government toward any future settlement of the Balkans, was worthy of a people who have endured so much in the cause of freedom. The Serbian armies, after four years of insupportable hardship or forced function, often more bitter than many hardships, are today driving their enemies before them in all directions and reclaiming their country almost as fast as they can march forward. It is significant, therefore, that Mr. Pashitch should choose this moment to reiterate the fact that the Serbian people and government stand by the famous Declaration of Corfu, agreed to by representatives of all the Jugo-Slav peoples, and "neither desire nor pursue, nor intend to pursue an imperialistic policy." Serbia does not even, as Mr. Pashitch makes it clear, intend to hold any unwilling section of the Serbo-Croat people to their bond. "Serbia considers it," he says, "her national duty to liberate the Serbs, Croats, and Slovenes, and when they are free, they will be granted the right of self-determination, namely, the right to declare freely whether they wish for union with Serbia on the basis of the Corfu declaration, or whether they desire to constitute small states as in the distant past."

Such a declaration from a country like Serbia, in the hour of victory, is full of promise for the future. It is in just accord with the spirit of the times, and it is one of the first great declarations from a sovereign state that it intends to depend solely upon the law of righteousness for the settlement of its future. It is a trust, of course, is never misplaced, but in the case of the Jugo-Slavs the result of their free deliberations is already practically in sight. For several years past, there has been a growing tendency amongst these peoples to draw nearer together. The ultimate union of Montenegro and Serbia was practically arranged and assured long before the war, and responsible Jugo-Slav leaders in all the districts through which the Jugo-Slavs are scattered have been coming to see with increasing clearness that, for many decades, they have been the dupes of that famous Austro-Hungarian policy summed up in the phrase, "Divide et impera," "Divide and rule." The Jugo-Slav, indeed, has no particle of faith left in the engagements or promises of the Hapsburgs or their misters. It is not, therefore, surprising to find that in a declaration such as that made by Mr. Pashitch, a declaration otherwise characterized by so much openness, one point should be regarded as finally settled, and that is the question of a compromise along federal lines, now being urgently pressed by the authorities in Vienna. Such a solution of the question, Mr. Pashitch points out, was rejected by the Corfu agreement, and it is quite clear that neither the Serbians nor any other of the Jugo-Slav peoples have the smallest intention of considering such a proposal for a moment. With the history of Croatia before them, it is hard to see how they could determine otherwise. Croatia before the war was, in theory, an autonomous state. It had its own Diet, its own special "Ban" or ruler, representing the king-emperor, and it had its own constitution and laws guaranteed to it by the "treaties and legal practices of eight centuries." In theory, Croatia's position was unmistakable and her autonomy unimpeachable; in practice, few peoples have been allowed less voice in the management of their own affairs than the Croats. Some years before the outbreak of the war, as the result of the notorious high treason trial at Agram, a trial which was subsequently shown to have been, from first to last, completely "organized" at Budapest, the constitution of Croatia was suspended. It remained suspended for over six years, and, during that period, the treatment meted out to the Croats by Hungary was one of the scandals of Europe; gross corruption, press censorship, and complete deprivation of civil rights obtained everywhere. With such an experience before them, it is not, surely, to be wondered at if to any proposal for a federal solution the Jugo-Slavs should return for answer a most emphatic negative.

In every way Mr. Pashitch's statement has cleared the issue, and it is peculiarly happy that such a definite statement of the "new diplomacy" should come from Serbia.

It is possible, therefore, that the Rhine defenses may be reached by the Allies early in the new year. If Germany still has the will to fight, nature will greatly aid her. The Rhine defenses are not a myth. For years prisoners of war have been constructing field works which the German military authorities believe will prevent the passage of the river or the penetration of German territory to the east of it. But the Rhine does not provide a defensive line for all the industrial cities of Westphalia. Some of the most important of them are west of that river, and are open to attack by an army holding the Valley of the Meuse. The front of such an attack would be relatively narrow and the Westphalian territory between the Rhine and the Dutch border might be held by a heavy concentration of enemy troops upon successive lines of defense which would involve heavy casualties for the attacking army and a prolonged struggle. But before the final stand on the Rhine and on the Westphalian frontier certain things must happen that cannot fail to reduce the enemy's powers of resistance. The iron mines of Lorraine, which now provide almost eighty per cent. of Germany's metal output, would be in the hands of the Allies. Germany could not hope to obtain from Sweden or Finland ores in sufficient quantity to make up for this loss. Her supply of munitions and war equipment, especially of tanks and heavy artillery, would be entirely inadequate to provide for a prolonged defence on that part of the front along which the Allies might hope to cross the Rhine or penetrate the Westphalian defensive system. There seems little reason to doubt that the Allied armies led by Foch, and overwhelmingly strong in guns, tanks, and aircraft, as well as greatly superior in numbers, can invade Germany by way of the Rhine next spring if the German people before that time do not voluntarily cast aside the military artifice which stands in the way of peace.

THE RHINE AND AFTER
(Toronto Globe.)
It is the opinion of military writers in France and Britain that the Germans, who are already threatened on the line of the Scheldt by the outflanking operations of Sir Douglas Haig's army in the Valley of the Sambre, will fight delaying actions only on the Scheldt while the main body falls back to prepared positions on the Meuse in which it is hoped to spend the winter. The Scheldt defenses have neither the continuity nor the strength required to hold up troops who found the Hindenburg line no effective barrier. Already Ghent is menaced by the Belgians and French, while British troops have reached the western bank of the Scheldt a few miles north of Tournai. To the south the pressure of Haig's third and fourth armies on the Sambre and of the Canadian Corps in the region of Valenciennes and the Forest of Mormal is so insistent that the enemy has been forced to give ground day by day despite the concentration of half a million men on a forty-mile front to resist the advance.
Present conditions warrant the belief that before the autumn rains make campaigning on the Belgian plain impossible the enemy will be driven back to the Meuse and Marshal Foch will be able to concentrate his attention upon the task of turning the line of the Meuse by operations in Lorraine east of that river. Climatic conditions have had much to do in determining the military programme of the Allies since the turn of the tide a little over three months ago. It was recognized that the Germans could be driven out of the semi-flooded country in the Valley of the Yser and Lys only in the early autumn, when the roads were firm and the ditches and canals almost empty. The bulk of this low-lying country is now in the hands of the Allies, and upon the evacuation of the line of the Scheldt and the Upper Oise all of it will have been redeemed. Leaving behind the region of marshes and sluggish streams, the Allied troops will press forward into a tract of land on the frontiers of France, Belgium, and Luxembourg, where winter campaigning is entirely practicable, and where the alternating ridges and ravines, clad with forests of evergreens, afford shelter for great bodies of troops.
In considering the practicability of winter operations in the Meuse region, it must be remembered that in February, 1916, the Crown Prince concentrated a large army with a very complete equipment of heavy artillery for the attack upon Verdun and the outlying forts on

EVERYBODY SHOULD LEND

Even to the Extent of Mortgaging the Future

The bankers' view of the Victory Loan is well set forth in the Monthly Commercial Letter for October issued by the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

"Everyone is called upon to lend to the Government to the fullest extent of their ability, to the extent of personal self-sacrifice, and even to the extent of mortgaging the future, for at this critical juncture when our men and our arms are victoriously pursuing the enemy from Belgium and France, no Canadian can afford to withhold the support given to the cause by the weight of his dollars, especially when the goal of triumphant and victorious peace is almost in sight."

"The nominal amount of the loan is $300,000,000 but it is hoped that it will be sufficiently over-subscribed to provide adequately for all the needs of the Government for the prosecution of the war for some time to come. A survey of our resources indicates the ability of the public to furnish the amount needed without material strain. Deposits by the public in the banks at the close of August amounted to $1,469,618,382, or $177,081,502 more than a year ago. The available funds of other financial institutions are somewhat larger than they were prior to the last year. These resources are larger than ever before in the financial history of the country and if our total subscriptions last year exceeded $420,000,000, the people are much better able this year to furnish the sum required."

"The news from the front is of a very encouraging character, thanks to the supreme efforts being made by our men, efforts, however, which may have to be sustained for an indefinite period until the foe is absolutely conquered. While ever here we place our trust in the men in the battle line, a trust that we have every reason to know has not been misplaced, on the other hand our men and their leaders over there depend on us for effective and adequate support in such matters as the Victory Loan. Out of total subscriptions of $421,194,960 to the loan issued a year ago, the government allotted $300,000,000 to subscribers and the whole of this amount was needed. Since then more men have been placed in the field and the cost of maintaining them there has increased substantially. Our men are doing their part as well as to arouse the admiration of the world and are thus placing on our

a list of six candidates, five of whom were men educators of national reputation. She succeeded Edwin C. Cooley and was the first woman to be selected superintendent of schools in one of the largest American cities. As head of the public schools of Chicago she was entrusted with the education of 300,000 children.

She inaugurated many important reforms, among these being the teaching of sex hygiene, the enlargement of the kindergarten course and increase in the scope of the vocational training department and simplification of the curriculum of the primary grades. She was aggressive and possessed great executive ability. She insisted upon the complete divorce of politics from the public schools and fought many successful battles in support of this principle.

In 1913 a faction of the Chicago school board planned to oust her from her position as superintendent. She anticipated the move by suddenly resigning. Mayor Harrison was appointed by the public to have her withdraw her resignation and return to her official duties although she was nearly 70 years old at the time. Mrs. Young declined to return unless her enemies on the school board retired. Mayor Harrison was obliged to accept the resignation of five trustees before Mrs. Young would again assume her official duties. She triumphed in every clash she had with the politicians in the school board affairs.

Mrs. Young was born in Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 15, 1848, and was brought to Chicago by her parents when a young girl. She graduated from the Chicago public schools and was appointed teacher in the primary grade in 1869 when she was 17 years old.

She was married to a Chicago merchant in 1868, but her husband died a year later and she returned to teaching. "I would rather teach than do anything in the world," Mrs. Young said on one occasion.

President William R. Harper of the University of Chicago, who was opposed to the appointment of women to important posts, made an exception in Mrs. Young's case and appointed her a professor in the department of pedagogy in 1899.

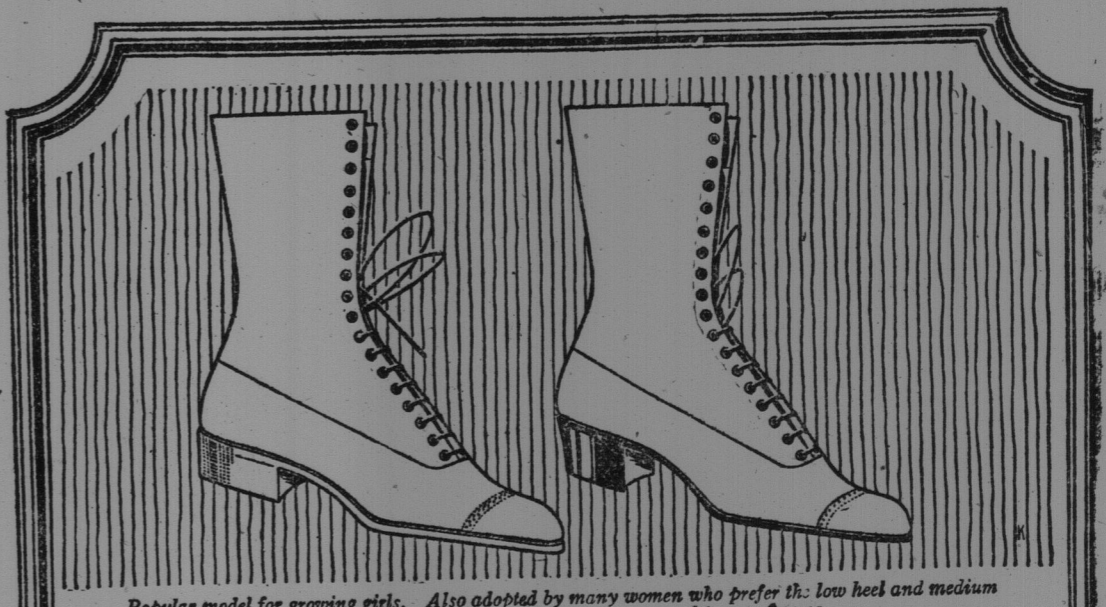

Mrs. Young at first declined to accept, saying: "I haven't a doctor's degree and I don't want to be teaching those who are working for their higher degrees when I haven't one myself."

"It's the woman we want and not the degree," remarked President Harper as he insisted she accept it.

Finally she consented to take the place on condition that she should first earn her degree. She left the University of Chicago in 1909 to become principal of the Chicago Normal School, a place she retained until appointed superintendent of Chicago's public schools in 1909.

She was president of the National Education Association in 1910 and 1911.

Fashion Bows to Necessity

It is absolutely necessary to supply our forces overseas with shoes—millions of pairs of them. It is difficult to appreciate what this means in connection with a strictly limited commodity like leather.

To this necessity, fashion must yield. We must be content with fewer superfluous styles which serve no useful purpose, but are created merely to look "different." These "extras" not only cost more in themselves, but their production tends to raise prices all along the line.

As Canada's largest manufacturers of shoes, we ask you to buy wisely, for service rather than merely for appearance. That is the only effective way to discourage the production of non-essentials. Look for the manufacturer's trade-mark on the shoes you buy. In that way you are assured of the best possible value at the price you wish to pay.

It is your privilege to secure better values for yourself, and at the same time contribute to the solution of the nation's shoe problem.

A report of the October activities of the Animal Rescue League by the president, Mrs. W. F. B. Respecting the sour milk, which arrived in the city a day or so ago, one prominent milk dealer stated that he did not believe that it had anything to do with the present situation nor that it was a means to an end. He explained that now as the cooler weather has come on some of the farmers, having exhausted their supply of ice or running low on ice, were not icing their milk as heavily as they should and with the prevailing damp weather, with a high degree of humidity, the milk soured.

Catholics Buncoed

Revolutionists in western Mexico have been profiting considerably by promoting religious celebrations among the people and appropriating the money offerings according to the Rev. Eugene Sigranes of San Antonio.

It has long been the practice for the people of the states of Sonora, Sinaloa and other states of Mexico to go to Magdalena, Sonora, by the thousands in October of each year to participate in the great feast in honor of the cherished St. Francis Xavier in the parish church. The Catholics present their offerings of money at the shrine of the church, and this usually amounts to a considerable sum in the aggregate.

They had big posters printed announcing the great feast. Programmes were sent broadcast giving minute information concerning the services in honor of St. Francis. They told the people that the holy sacrifice of the mass would be celebrated. The people were eager to hear mass, which had not been celebrated for two years, and they came to Magdalena by thousands. But no priests were allowed to celebrate the mass.

Rheumatism

Rheumatism has become so common nowadays that hundreds of people make no effort to rid themselves of its fatal grip, believing it to be incurable save in exceptional cases.

No greater fallacy exists. Sufferers from rheumatism can be relieved if the cause is remedied and removed. Let us examine the facts. The direct cause of rheumatism and kindred diseases is poisoning of the blood stream, through failure of the kidneys to filter and remove the impurities that are constantly collecting in the system.

Once the kidneys are out of order, the trouble starts. The poison-laden blood circulating through the system deposits its impurities in the muscles and joints, setting up infection, and Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, etc., follow. The first step necessary is to bring the kidneys to perform their natural function once again, and relief will be the immediate result. GIN PILLS do this, and they save weeks of fearful suffering if taken at the first indications of rheumatism.

GIN PILLS have been recognized as an assured relief to sufferers from rheumatism, backache, painful urination, brick dust deposits, and gravel. Thousands of testimonials bear witness to the fact that they save weeks of fearful suffering if taken at the first indications of rheumatism.

Comic strip 'Mutt and Jeff' by Bud Fisher, featuring two characters in a trench during war.

M C 2 0 3 5

It's silence and night and the smell of the dead

And horror's not from terrible things—men torn to rags
by a shell,

And the whole trench swimming in blood and slush, like a butcher's shop in Hell:

It's silence and night and the smell of the dead that shake
a man to the soul,

From Misery Farm to Dead Man's Ditch on a "no report" patrol.

Five men back to the trench again, with a one-star loot in charge,

Stumbling over the rusty tins and cursing blind and large.

Enter the trench log up to date by a guttering candle's flare !

"No report" (save that Hell is dark, and we have just been there).

CAPT. J. H. KNIGHT-ADKIN.

Can we be shaken to the soul ?

Are there elements in this war behind the lines to stir us to the sacrifice that we must make to keep our end up with those friends of ours who go out—some by night and some by day—but always some of them every day and every night—out into the hell of gunfire and mud and death ?

The men in France realize that our stimulus to sacrifice is less vivid than theirs.

But they expect of us that we shall do our share—that we shall cut deep, get into the fight in a great way, put ourselves mentally, physically, spiritually, into the great passion to win which they all feel.

We must alter the whole manner of our living and do all we do from full hearts—save every dollar we can save—realizing a dollar today is touched with a sacred trust in favor of our fighting men.

We must save till the great fight is won—save with a high consecration—with a pitiless self-examination.

In this way we do that which in the end will count for victory—something which can be mentioned in the same breath with what they are giving—because it is all we can do.

And it must be done persistently, honorably, from the heart, in a way that will let us take those men by the hand and look them in the eyes without flinching.

We Can't Do Our Part With Merely a Thin Superficial Sympathy For Our Men---We Must Buy Bonds to Our Utmost!
